Governments Delay Public Peace Talks

PARIS (AP) — The semi-public Vietnam peace conference, deadlocked for four years while parallel secret negotiations made headway, was indefinitely suspended today by agreement of the four delegations.

There was no immediate explanation for the decision to suspend the conference. But it evidently was linked with progress made in the secret negotiations.

The United States said before today's session broke up that there are "grounds for encouragement" in the search for an end to the Vietnam war.

U.S. delegate Hayward Isham told newsmen at the end of the 174th session: "Both sides in the plenary agreed that liaison officers would meet in order to fix the date of the next meeting. We bid you farewell for the moment and we will let you know in due course."

ed to meet as usual next Thursday but the United States and Saigon delegations refused to set a new date.

Contrary to Hanoi's usual practice, however, North Vietnam did not protest the suspension and agreed to let the liaison officers set the date for the next meeting.

"Negotiations have made progress in the judgment of both sides," Isham said, adding that "continued determination and seriousness" remain necessary for further progress.

Isham called on the delegations to avoid the polemics that have marked most of their previous sessions and make "the constructive effort necessary for restoring peace."

He said some of the benefits of serious negotiations, such as President Nixon's halt in attacks on North Vietnam, have already become apparent. He added:

"Achieving the full promise of negotiations depends upon the effort, attitude and will of both sides."

North Vietnam's acting chief delegate at the conference,

Nguyen Minh Vy, said recent disappointments of the hopes for peace call for "vigilance to prevent further last-minute reversals and to put a stop to warlike ambitions."

The acting head of the Viet Cong delegation, Dinh Ba Thi, told newsmen: "While American planes, including B52s, are intensifying their bombing raids against South Vietnam, the Saigon authorities are continuing to put unrealistic and unreasonable obstacles on the way to peace."

Two of the government's final three witnesses testified before the morning break that the $106,000 note at the Sharpstown State Bank had never been paid.

One witness, representing the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., said that in fact, the NBL pension fund assets used as collateral for the loan now total only $85,000 and the bank note with interest stands at more than $125,000.

The other two defendants in the case, Akins and Sam Stock, both former NBL officers, pleaded guilty to single counts in the indictment and were separated from this trial.

Both are awaiting sentencing and were summoned here as government witnesses.

However, much of Stock's testimony on cross-examination Wednesday appeared favorable to the defendant's contention that Sharp, not Osorio, ordered the transactions in dispute.

Stock served with Osorio as a trustee of the employees' retirement fund but indicated that he believed the stock-loan deals were executed under order, and with financial guarantees, from Sharp.

OSORIO TO TESTIFY Attorneys Set To End Case Against Osorio

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — U.S. Attorneys were poised to end their conspiracy-embezzlement case against John Osorio today and the defense disclosed it will call him as a witness.

The government was expected to call its final three witnesses including Donald Akins, a co-defendant in the case but not on trial here.

It was uncertain, however, when Osorio would take the stand in his own behalf. Most signs pointed to Friday.

Osorio, 50, is accused of conspiracy and embezzlement of money from the National Bankers Life Insurance Co. pension fund.

Among other things, he is expected to testify that he acted only at the command of Frank Sharp, the Houston promoter who emerged as the key figure in the Texas stock fraud scandals.

Sharp owned controlling interest in National Bankers Life.

The charges against Osorio involve the use of the pension fund assets as collateral for loans of $641,250 and $105,000 used to purchase NBL stock and a spin-off security, Master Control, Inc.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Watergate political espionage trial was stalled today while opposing lawyers argued over whether the content of wire-tapped phone conversations could be used as evidence.

U.S. District John J. Sirica signed an order ruling that the names of persons whose telephone calls at Democratic party headquarters were said to have been bugged, as well as the content of their conversations, could be aired in court.

An immediate appeal was taken to the U.S. Court of Appeals by lawyers for Democrats seeking to have the conversations kept confidential.

The government insists it must give at least some indication of what was in the conversations in order to illustrate the motives behind a break-in and alleged wiretapping at Democratic National Committee headquarters last summer.

But some of the Democrats listed as overheard on the bugs complained that they were the innocent victims of wiretapping and shouldn't be further embarrassed by having their private conversations revealed.

Meanwhile, defense lawyers were listening to tapes of a Los Angeles Times interview with Alfred G. Baldwin III about the role Baldwin said he played as monitor of the wiretapped phones and what he heard over the bugged lines.

The legal sidelay brought the trial to a halt in the midst of Baldwin's testimony.

Year-Round Daylight Saving Time Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional boosters of a plan to extend Daylight Saving Time to a year-round basis say their chances are better than ever because of increasing crime and the nation's fuel shortage.

The extra hour of daylight on winter afternoons would hamper purse snatchers and muggers who prey on late-afternoon pedestrians and it would reduce the use of electric lights in office buildings, they say.

Rep. Craig Hosmer, R-Calif., planned to introduce in the

Nixon Begins Festivity

WASHINGTON (AP) — A reception for Vice President and Mrs. Spiro T. Agnew this evening followed by a "salute to the states" signal the official start of President Nixon's second-term inauguration festivities.

Nixon, who is returning to the capital after six days at his Key Biscayne, Fla., home, will arrive too late to attend two receptions scheduled for tonight. His wife, Pat, is scheduled to pinch-hit for him at both events.

The President and Mrs. Nixon will drop in on three inaugural concerts Friday night. They will also make appearances at five inaugural balls following Nixon's taking of the oath of office at the noon-hour ceremony Saturday at the Capitol.

More than 180 of the estimated 300 surviving Medal of Honor recipients from as far back as World War I will be honored at the inauguration beginning with a luncheon today and at a banquet and the inaugural balls Saturday.

IN BILL DEBATES Houses Move To Wipe Out Government Secret Sessions

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Both houses of the Texas legislature took a quick step Wednesday toward wiping out secret sessions of governmental bodies.

In a surprise action Wednesday night the House State Affairs Committee cleared for floor debate a bill that would revise the 1967 "open meetings" law and make it tougher on officials who keep the public locked out while dealing in the public's business.

The measure was the first cleared by either house for final debate in the 63rd Legislature.

Earlier Wednesday the Senate adopted a revised set of rules that pried open a little more the executive sessions held on governor's appointments. From now on the committee sessions on nominations will be open, the full Senate debate will be secret, but the final public vote will be public. Presently the final vote is secret also.

Gov. Bill Hobby also won his first test of power when senators voted 25-4 not to take away the lieutenant governor's authority to appoint committees. The new Senate rules name all committee chairman and appoint all committee members including a certain number of members who were on the same committee last session. Opponents wanted a seniority system, similar to that adopted by the 4th special session last year.

"We have surrendered the independence of the Senate to the lieutenant governor," said Sen. H. J. Blanchard, Lubbock. "These rules do not constitute reform, they are mainly a re-enactment of the rules that we have been criticized for in the past years."

Hobby immediately announced his appointments to the nine committees and six subcommittees. He said they represented a good geographic cross section and "the continuity of service is an obvious asset, which is reflected in my assignment of senior senators."

The portion of the rules that opened the final vote on nominations was adopted after an effort by Sen. Bill Moore, Bryan, to close all consideration of nominations failed 14-16. An amendment by Sen. Oscar Mauzy, Dallas, to make public both the debate and vote on nominations failed 23-7.

Another amendment by Mauzy to limit filibusters to 24 hours failed 25-5.

Members of the House State Affairs Committee were told Wednesday night that the open meetings bill revision was supported by the Texas Associated Press Managing Editors Association, the Texas Association of Broadcasters, the Texas Daily Newspaper Association, the Texas Press Association, the United Press International Managing Editors Association and the Texas Association of Sigma Delta Chi.

"We feel the law needs to be strengthened," said Jack Douglas, managing editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, who spoke as president of the Texas AP Managing Editors Association. "We feel this bill will help the news media fulfill their responsibility to keep the public informed."

Rep. Carl Parker, Port Arthur, House sponsor, said the revised open meetings act was needed because the 1967 act was being bypassed, at least in spirit, by many city councils, county commissioners and other governmental bodies.

The House committee recommended passage of the bill on a 14-7 vote after an effort to send it to subcommittee failed 12-8.

The same committee sent a bill that would open most official records to the public to a subcommittee for three weeks study.

Also sent to subcommittees for further study were three of Speaker Price Daniel Jr.'s reform package. One would set up new ethical standards for public officials and legislators including disclosure of all income sources for those making $15,000. Another would revise the state's lobby control law and empower the state ethics commission to enforce it. The third would tighten campaign contributions and expenditures.

Guest List Swells For TML Meeting

The expected guest list for tonight's Texas Municipal League Region II banquet in the M. K. Brown Memorial Auditorium and Civic Center continued to grow today.

City Manager Mack Wofford said this forenoon arrangements have been made to accommodate as many as 250 persons.

The quarterly meeting of the regional TML group is being held outside Amarillo for the first time. It will open with a social hour at 6:30 p.m. and dinner at 7:30 p.m.

State Sen. Max Sherman of Amarillo, who will be introduced by City Manager Wofford, will be the banquet speaker. The senator's subject is expected to deal with current legislative matters affecting Texas cities.

A brief business session is scheduled to elect TML Region II officers for the coming year.

Councilman John Colquitt of Dalhart is current president of the group and will preside at tonight's banquet.

Mayor Milo Carlson of Pampa will give the welcome address. Guest delegations will be introduced by David DeWald of Amarillo, Region II secretary.

City Manager Wofford will introduce those at the head table and Aubrey L. Jones, Pampa tax assessor-collector, will give the invocation.

Delegations from practically all cities and towns in the Texas Panhandle are expected to attend.

At the conclusion of tonight's program guests who wish will be taken on tours of the new civic center building.

City Still Removing Its Debris

City Manager Mack Wofford said today the street and parks departments still are studying effects and costs of Pampa's ice storm and severe winter weather.

Work still is continuing in removal of debris caused by the ice storm of early November. Wofford said.

Street department workers during the past week have been checking damage to streets brought on by the recent heavy snowfalls and freezing temperatures.

Chuck holes and broken pavement in all sections of the city will have to be repaired.

Damage caused by nearly eight weeks of unusually severe weather is expected to bring debris removal and street repair costs higher than in many years past, according to the city manager.

DON'T ASK PSYCHIATRISTS Who's Sane? Who's Insane

By LEIF ERICKSON
Associated Press Writer
STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Who's sane? Who's insane?

The psychiatrists and staffs of mental hospitals cannot be trusted to tell the difference, declares Prof. David L. Rosenhan, a Stanford University psychologist.

Rosenhan says he and seven other sane investigators arranged as a test to be admitted as schizophrenic patients in 12 different mental hospitals, yet none of the eight was found to be sane by hospital professionals.

But Rosenhan says it was "quite common" for actual psychiatric patients to correctly identify the "pseudopatient" imposters.

"The fact that patients often recognized normality when staff did not raised important questions," Rosenhan observes.

Rosenhan reports on the findings of the study in an article in the Jan. 19 issue of Science magazine.

Rosenhan said he and his seven colleagues eventually were released as "schizophrenics in remission," despite their best efforts to convince the hospital staff of their sanity.

"We now know that we cannot distinguish insanity from sanity," Rosenhan declared.

"We continue to label patients 'schizophrenic,' 'manic-depressive,' and 'insane' as if in those words we had captured the essence of understanding," he wrote.

"The facts of the matter are that we have known for a long time that our diagnoses often are not useful or reliable, but we have nevertheless continued to use them."

Rosenhan, who also teaches law at Stanford, said he and the other pseudopatients were shocked and horrified by their experiences.

But, he said, they did not blame the hospital staffs.

"By and large, they were well-intentioned people, and in no way do we want to malign them," he said.

"The hospital itself imposes a special environment in which the meanings of behavior can easily be misunderstood," Rosenhan said the pseudopatient group included a psychiatrist, a pediatrician, a painter, a housewife, a Stanford psychology graduate student and three other psychologists.

He said they gained admission to hospitals in California, Oregon, Pennsylvania, New York and Delaware by feigning symptoms of schizophrenia.

"The uniform failure to recognize sanity cannot be attributed to the quality of treatment facilities. While there was considerable variability between them, several are considered excellent," Rosenhan reported.

"Nor can it be alleged that there simply was not enough time to observe the pseudopatients. Length of hospitalization ranged from seven to 52 days, with an average of 19 days."

"All pseudopatients took extensive notes, publicly. Under ordinary circumstances such behavior would have raised questions in the minds of observers, as in fact it did among patients."

"Nursing records for three pseudopatients indicate that the writing was seen as an aspect of their pathological behavior."

Antiwar Rally Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip Hart and the Rev. Philip Berrigan head the speakers list for an antiwar rally which sponsors say is expected to draw tens of thousands for President Nixon's second inauguration.

Organizers say talk of a Vietnam cease-fire and a halt in the bombing of North Vietnam have not dampened enthusiasm for a weekend of antiwar activity, which has been endorsed by more than 30 members of Congress.

Nearly all the divergent groups planning to demonstrate emphasize peaceful mass protest as a means of pressuring Nixon to begin his second term with a quick end to the war.

Jerry Gordon, coordinator of the National Peace Action Coalition, said about 1,000 volunteer marshals will be trained to keep order at the rally on the grounds of the Washington Monument.

Predicting tens of thousands will travel to Washington Saturday, Gordon said Wednesday.

"The momentum which had been developed has not been slowed by the temporary end to bombing above the 17th Parallel."

MOD Contributions Total Fund Grows

Revised total for the Mother's March of the National Foundation, March of Dimes, reached $3855 24 today, said Mrs. Mary Howard, Mother's March chairman.

Contributions will still be accepted by mailing a check to the National Foundation in care of the First National Bank.

Mrs. Howard awarded a $50 gift certificate donated by Doug Coon from Behrman's and Gilbert's to Mrs. Greg Warden, who headed the Sam Houston Elementary School district.

Mrs. Warden collected the second largest amount of money turned in by a district and had collected 11 blocks herself.

The other certificate was given to Ann Briggs, 1111 S. Nelson, for her work in the Lamar School district. She called on 32 houses and received contributions from every one of them.

Bob Finney, city campaign chairman, reminded Pampans that the Bucket Brigade will be out in full force this Saturday from 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Local civic clubs will man corners throughout the business area of Pampa for the day.

Cameron Marsh announced plans for all elementary school children to join in the fight against birth defects. The

Corona Jury Continues Deliberations

FAIRFIELD, Calif. (AP) — The jury in the Juan V. Corona mass murder trial headed into its second week of deliberations today still struggling to break an 11-1 deadlock.

The last word from the jury was an inquiry Tuesday about the legal definition of "reasonable doubt."

The jury also reported at that time that it was divided 11 to 1, but did not say whether the majority favored conviction or acquittal on the 25 counts of first degree murder against Corona, a Mexican national who is a farm labor contractor.

The case went to the jury of 10 men and two women last Thursday morning after 14 weeks of testimony from 116 witnesses. Nearly 1,000 pieces of evidence and 2.3 million words of testimony were presented in the complex circumstantial evidence case.

One-Term Limit For Speaker Gets Opposition In Committee

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A key item of House Speaker Price Daniel Jr.'s "reform" program met opposition in committee Wednesday as two members questioned the need for a one-term limit on Daniel and all future speakers.

Reps. Jim Vecchio, Dallas Democrat, and Ray Hutchinson, a Dallas Republican, both challenged the one-term limit bill at a hearing before the House Rules Committee.

The measure was referred without objection to a subcommittee which has instructions to report back within three weeks.

"Isn't it possible that a speaker could be removed by a majority vote?" asked Hutchinson, law partner of former Speaker Rayford Price.

"Oh, yeah, and I could jump over the moon," replied the bill's sponsor, Rep. Neil Caldwell of Angleton, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.

Vecchio said he could see no reason why a speaker who was doing a good job should not be returned for a second term.

Daniel has promised to serve only a single term, regardless of whether the bill passes.

The current drive for a limitation on the number of terms a speaker serves resulted from the immense power that concentrated in the speaker's office when Gus Mutscher held the post in 1969 through 1971.

Mutscher was convicted last year on charges that he conspired to accept a bribe from Houston promoter Frank Sharp.

"I felt before I ever heard of Frank Sharp that the policy should be that a man should not return as speaker because I have seen an erosion of the integrity of the House. And I have been here only 12 years... I know this House has declined by every standard," Caldwell said.

"I believe that if it hadn't been for Sharpstown, and if Gus Mutscher hadn't decided to make some other move, he could have been speaker for 10 years..."

Vecchio asked if Caldwell would accept a two-term limit.

"That would not be a bad half loaf," Caldwell replied.

Rep. John Wilson of LaGrange, who is not a member of the committee, spoke against the bill. He said the House should not impose a one-term limit on "a leader who might be very well qualified."

Caldwell predicted that many business lobbyists would oppose his bill because having a wide open speaker's race every two years would "cost them some money" and because under some previous speakers "they have had their way in the House."

The committee approved a bill putting into the law books a current House rule limiting the power of conference committees. Such committees, composed of five representatives and five senators, are appointed when the two chambers pass different versions of the same bill.

The measure would, with certain exceptions, prohibit conference committees from adding material that was not contained in either the House or the Senate version.

Carl Braubach, research director for the Texas Manufacturers Association, said the general appropriations bill written by a conference committee in 1971 contained items costing over $200 million more than either chamber had approved.

New House rules require subcommittees to report within three weeks.

Agricultural Loans Show Increase Big

Amount of money loaned for agricultural production soared in the local area served by the Canadian Production Credit Association in 1972, according to Gene Hanks, vice president of the PCA's Pampa office.

Hanks said his association loaned more than $95-million to farmers and ranchers in a six-county area, an increase of more than 22 per cent over the $77 million recorded by the PCA in 1971.

Canadian PCA is one of 33 similar Texas associations which collectively in 1972 extended more than $1 billion in short and intermediate term credit. This was the first time in PCA's 40-year history that the associations surpassed the $1 billion figure in one year, Hanks pointed out.

Canadian PCA makes loans in Gray, Hemphill, Lipscomb, Ochiltree, Roberts and Wheeler counties. The organization is owned and operated by local farmers and ranchers who are member-stockholders.

Police Check Drug Suspect

Pampa police stopped a car in the 100 block of W. Foster last night on routine patrol and the officer said in his report that he smelled suspected marijuana.

The trunk of the vehicle was locked with a padlock and the 18-year-old Panaman driver refused to allow a search without a warrant. A vial of suspected substance and an "alligator clip" with a burned tip were recovered.

The car and the driver were taken to the police station, where the youth told officers he had a pipe for smoking marijuana in the trunk but did not have the key.

According to the report, he is on probation from a sentence for breaking into a clinic here. Police said he told them if they would let him go, he would not "do dope anymore."

Because of the probation "hold," he was released without bond pending action by the district attorney, officers said.

1972 Second Best In Industry Growth

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Last year was the second best in Texas history for industrial growth, the Texas Industrial Commission said Wednesday.

The commission said 385 new plants were located in Texas in 1972, short of the record of 411 set in 1969.

"Efforts to stabilize the economy through wage and price controls are working. Texas' growth last year indicates the overall economic picture is much brighter," said commission chairman Chester C. Wine of Corpus Christi.

Oil Allowable Set At 100 Per Cent

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Railroad Commission set the February statewide oil allowable at 100 per cent today, and the chairman pledged to work during the next two years to try to "stimulate" the domestic industry.

In ordering all-out oil production for the 11th consecutive month, chairman Jim Langdon noted that President Nixon had increased foreign crude oil import allowables by 51 per cent Wednesday.

Langdon praised the outgoing chairman, Byron Tunnell, for "calling attention to the growing shortage of fuel and energy" during Tunnell's two years as head of the three-member commission.

Major purchasers of Texas crude oil asked for 3,781,462 barrels of crude oil a day in February, a decrease of 7,119 from this month.

Ten of the 14 major buyers asked for the same amount of oil in February as January, three sought less and one asked for more oil next month.

The U.S. Bureau of Mines forecast for February demand for Texas crude was 3,500,000 barrels a day, an increase of 40,000 from January.

Langdon said two Texas bus lines have run out of diesel fuel and one major motor transport company is having difficulty getting enough fuel for its trucks.

In the next two years, he said, "we expect to try to stimulate our own domestic capacity and not get in the position we're in right now. We are going to try to get some incentives to restore the domestic industry" so it will be "nearly self-sufficient."

Langdon said tanker rates are so high that the "cheap" foreign heating oil is expected to cost two cents a gallon more than a comparable oil produced in this country.

The shortages in the United States are nearly world-wide, and there will be a "great deal of competition" for energy on the world market.

Langdon said that as of Jan. 12, Texas' crude oil stocks totaled 90.8 million barrels, a decrease of 4.5 million from a month ago and a decrease of 1.6 million from a year ago.

Nixon Ends Import Limits On Fuel Oil

WASHINGTON (AP) — Acting to alleviate a winter fuel shortage, the Nixon administration has ended import limits on heating oil and boosted total oil-import quotas east of the Rocky Mountains by more than half.

George A. Lincoln, director of the Office of Emergency Preparedness, Wednesday announced the decision to suspend controls on imports of widely used No. 2 heating oil through the first four months of this year, but said fuel-oil supplies will remain tight all winter.

Oil industry sources said, however, the move should head off any serious shortage through the rest of the cold season.

Lincoln also said the administration has increased the East Coast total import quota for 1973 by some 915,000 barrels a day, raising the 1972 quota of 1,785,000 barrels a day by about 51 per cent.

The West Coast import quota for crude oil was boosted from the 1972 level of 717,000 barrels per day to 800,000 a day for 1973.

Lincoln said the moves might encourage importers who were saving their allocations to release them now.

Under the present system, importers are allocated shares of the total quota by a formula based mainly on their past imports.

Lincoln said the administration is considering other major changes in the oil-import system, including the possible auctioning off of additional quotas beginning in 1974.

In predicting the continued shortage, Lincoln said domestic refineries started hiking their production too late. He also cited bottlenecks in the distribution system, environmental restraints and a lack of natural gas as contributing to the overall shortage.

Lincoln said refineries raised fuel-oil output by 5 per cent in the last two months, after the administration pointed to serious shortages in an 11-state region from Colorado to Ohio hit by a cold wave.

Oil Allowable Total Grows

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Railroad Commission announced Wednesday that total average calendar day oil allowable in Texas as of Jan. 15 was 3,895,218 barrels a day, up 12,066 barrels a day from the Jan. 1 figure.

The commission said the U.S. Bureau of Mines forecast a demand for Texas crude oil in February of 3,500,000 barrels daily, up 40,000 from the bureau's forecast for January.

Nominations by major purchasers for February total 3,530,317 barrels a day, the commission said, and an additional demand totaling 243,145 barrels daily makes a grand total of 3,781,462, down 7,119 barrels a day from the comparable January figure.

The commission reported a total of 128 oil wells and 84 gas wells have been completed this year through Jan. 15, compared with 175 oil well completions and 42 gas well completions for the same period a year ago.

The commission said 453 wells have been plugged, including 111 dry holes.

Twelve wildcat gas wells have been drilled this year—4 each in San Antonio's No. 2 district and the Corpus Christi district, and 2 each in the Houston and the Midland districts. Five wildcat oil wells have been drilled—3 in the Houston district and 1 each in the Corpus Christi and the Lubbock districts.

US Scientists Grateful For Russian Craft

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Manned Spacecraft Center scientists say they will be grateful for whatever new information they can obtain from Luna 21, the unmanned Russian moon lander.

"It's nice because we are basing a lot of our interpretation on a few landing sites, so the more points we can get the better," said Dr. Grant H. Heiken.

The Soviet spacecraft landed in an area just north of the site where Apollo 17 landed. The area is in the northeast region of the moon.

"You can say one thing for sure," said Dr. Robin Brett, "no matter where they landed, as long as it is a new site, we are going to learn more about the moon and that's good."

Dr. W.R. Muehlberger, a geologist who is on loan to the center from the University of Texas, said the Russian landing "will extend our detailed analysis of rocks to where they are."

"Everything we learn is another bit of information to stick into the puzzle about the moon," Muehlberger said.

Jurors Considering Verdict For Young

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — District court jurors deliberating the fate of accused killer Fred F. Young Jr. resumed efforts to reach a verdict today.

They received Young's case shortly after midnight Wednesday and halted deliberations at 11 p.m. without reaching a verdict.

Young was tried in the slaying of 3-year-old Leslie Bowman last January at Kountze during a robbery of an antique shop owned by Mabel McCormick, who also was killed.

He already has been convicted of murdering Mrs. McCormick and assessed a five-year probation sentence.

A companion, Dennis Ray Anderson, pleaded guilty to the murder of Mrs. McCormick and is serving a life sentence.

Prosecutor Curtis Owen told the jury Wednesday to dismiss Young's defense that he only loaded antiques into a truck and that Anderson killed the Bowman child. In his final arguments, Owen called Young and Anderson "two cool-hand Lukes."

Defense lawyer Joe Goodwin said, "With Young, we're not dealing with any great brain or brave person. Anderson committed the crime and Fred, in his stupidity, stood there like a ninny and loaded the antiques like Anderson told him."

Owen told the jury, "Young's testimony reminds me of some Hollywood production. When we begin to crowd him on what happened to the baby, he gets out of it by saying he 'flipped out' and can't remember."

Anderson also is charged with the child's death but has not been brought to trial.

Aviation Committee Discuss Proposals

Members of the Aviation Committee of the Chamber of Commerce met Tuesday in the Chamber of Commerce office and came up with several new ideas and suggestions, including an improved sign program at the Amarillo Airport directing people from the airport to Pampa.

E. E. McDowell, committee chairman, said a number of strangers have become confused and ended up in Dumas or Borger in trying to get to Pampa.

A committee was set up composed of Ray Rodgers, Milo Carlson, and McDowell to confer with officials at the Amarillo Airport and the State Highway Department to see what can be done to remedy the situation.

The committee also went on record inviting All Texas Air Tour for an overnight rendezvous stop on their 1973 tour through Texas. The overnight stops in the Panhandle usually are alternated between the various cities in this general area with good airport facilities and overnight accommodations.

The possibility of some type of air show for late summer or early fall was also discussed and it is possible that the Thunderbirds or Blue Angels might be secured for such a show. The matter is being explored through Congressman Bob Price to see what is available.

It was also suggested that Pampa might be able to secure some static displays of surplus aircraft equipment that could be placed at the local airport to stimulate local interest in aviation.

It was pointed out in the meeting that Pampa's local airport facilities are above average for similar cities, with three paved runways capable of accommodating most any of the commercial type planes that would be landing here.

Public hanger space and shop facilities also are available locally for most any type of airplane repair. The public is being encouraged to visit the airport and see what is being provided in the way of air transportation at the local level.

Attending yesterday's meeting were E. E. McDowell, chairman; Ray Rodgers, Jr.; Milo Carlson, Harold Burris, Gene Imel, Ralph Prock, Joe Cree, Clarence Swindle, Red Hawkins, and E. O. Wedgworth, local chamber manager.

Texas International Notes Small Loss

HOUSTON (AP) — Texas International Airlines reported a net loss from airline operations in November of $159,000, compared with a $1.1 million loss in November 1971.

Francisco A. Lorenzo, president, attributed the improvement primarily to a 12.1 per cent reduction in expenses, achieved in large part to a decrease in miles flown. Total revenues were up 2.6 per cent.

Lorenzo said initial indications are that December was profitable for the first time since 1965.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Thursday, Jan. 18, the 18th day of 1973. There are 347 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1788, the first English settlers arrived in Australia.

On this date: In 1534, the Spanish conqueror, Francisco Pizarro, founded Lima, Peru.

In 1778, the English explorer, Capt. James Cook, discovered the Hawaiian islands.

In 1782, the American statesman, Daniel Webster, was born in Salisbury, N.H.

In 1919, the World War I peace conference opened at Versailles, France.

In 1943, in World War II, the Soviets announced they had broken the long German siege of Leningrad.

In 1952, anti-British riots broke out in Egypt.

Ten years ago: The De Gaulle government in France was insisting that Britain be barred from the European Common Market.

Five years ago: Singer Eartha Kitt had a White House confrontation with Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, telling the First Lady that American youth was in rebellion because of the Vietnam war.

One year ago: A U.S. Coast Guard icebreaker was escorting two Soviet fishing boats toward Adak Island after they were caught operating within U.S. territorial waters off Alaska.

Today's birthdays: Cary Grant is 69. Danny Kaye is 60. Muhammad Ali is 31.

Thought for today: If wishes were horses, beggars might ride — English proverb.

Sisters Keep It Together In The Army

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — In what spokesmen say may be an Army first, three Salt Lake City sisters are to be sworn in next Monday as members of Women's Army Corps.

The sisters — Wanda Lee, 22, Paula Marie, 20, and Pamela Louise, 18 — are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Norris Weimer.

Brig. Gen. Mildred C. Bailey, director of the Women's Army Corps, will come to Salt Lake City to administer the enlistment oath, the Army recruiting offices said.

The sisters will report to Ft. McClellan, Ala. next Tuesday for basic training and then will go to Ft. Gordon, Ga. for a 10-week course in communications.

Wanda, a graduate of Brigham Young University, has been working in Provo for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints Paula completed three years at BYU, and Pamela attended Ricks College, Rexburg, Idaho, for a year.

Wanda is credited with interesting the other two in joining the Army. "I'm a good recruiter," she said.

WORRY CLINIC

By George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D.

Adam is the type of rugged parishioner who competes in business to gain a profit. And competitive American profits have financed all our churches, schools, colleges, hospitals and luxurious living standards. So beware of anti-establishment clergymen!

CASE W-908: Adam F., aged 34, is an automobile salesman. "Dr. Crane," he began, "I finished college and even took one year in Notre Dame's Law School.

"But nobody ever had explained to me the difference between this Republic vs. a Democracy until you did it in your column!"

"Also, I admire the way you defend advertising, selling and our American 'free enterprise' system."

"A lot of sissy liberals now condemn our economy and say the profit system is all wrong."

"In fact, a bishop in my own church recently addressed our entire congregation, saying: 'What horror has the world come to when it uses profit as the prime incentive in human progress!'"

"And competition as the supreme law of economics!"

"Dr. Crane, why do churchmen seem to be devoid of understanding of human psychology?"

MYOPIC MINISTERS
Business is a game, much like football, golf, bowling, etc.

It has certain rules of fair play that must be obeyed, or Uncle Sam will act as the umpire and figuratively throw a player off the field.

But in all games, competition furnishes the zest and motive force!

Rivalry is the essence of our American system!

And the goal in every game is to beat the opposing team by running up a better score!

All virtuous clergymen thus should zealously try to increase their memberships each year and zoom the contributions of money from their parishioners!

"Profits" in business competition are even more essential "scores" than touchdowns in football!

For business firms cannot play the games, where there are no dividends!

Business MUST win, since defeat means bankruptcy!

"Profit or Loss" in our superb "free enterprise" system means dividends vs. bankruptcy!

Analyze the living standards of Socialistic Britain and Communistic Russia or China.

They veto profits, and regard advertising or selling as "capitalistic vices."

Winston Churchill said the real vice is business losses!

How many of our bleeding heart do-gooders try to emigrate from America to Russia, China or even England to live? Why?

virtue of our capitalistic (competitive) system, for her athletes are godsend to WIN.

Such "winning" is synonymous with "profits" in business!

Russia is thus very inconsistent in striving to obtain Olympic gold medals, while refusing to admit that very same evidence of victory (profits) in business competition!

Furthermore, Russian and British systems violate basic laws of psychology, for virile people have an inherent possessive trait that makes them want to gain and then hold on to their winnings!

Many clergymen who now preach Communistic ideas, have so little competitive spirit they need big shots of testosterone!

They lack St. Paul's competitive spirit!

Bishop Sheen, Rabbi Samuel Silver, Dr. Peale and Billy Graham certainly don't show "horror... at the profit incentive."

"They are virile, so they like to compete and thus beat last year's goals!"

Send for my booklet "How to Save Our Republic," enclosing a long-stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover printing and postage costs when you send for one of my booklets.)

How Fresh Is 'Fresh'?

By Virginia Knauer

Special Assistant to the President and Director

White House Office of Consumer Affairs

How many times have you bought a carton of soured milk? A loaf of stale bread? Or wondered just how fresh those fresh eggs were?

Well, there is a way to determine the freshness of the food you buy. It's usually called "open dating."

Look for open dating. Many food products on your grocer's shelves have coded date information about their freshness stamped on the container, but deciphering this information can prove next to impossible. Fortunately for consumers, many chain food stores and/or food processors are now labeling their perishable commodities with "open dating"—actual dates, not coded messages, that can be understood by shoppers.

Open dating can help you to shop harder by telling you how fresh a product is. Freshness is your assurance that the product is of the same quality when you are ready to buy it as it was when it was processed or packaged.

Bacteriological changes, though, are common to all food products. These alterations—or the deterioration of quality that comes with age—can cause a minor flavor change. Or a considerable loss of vitamin content. Or even spoilage.

Age is not the sole cause of these food changes. Other factors are proper temperature controls, handling procedures in warehouses and in the stores and what you do when you get the product home.

While open dating is a good shopping tool, it is important to understand that a variety of systems are used by different neighborhood stores or food processors to convey freshness information. Does the date printed on the package refer to the pack date—the date of processing? Or is it the pull date—the last date a product can be offered for sale?

Is it maybe the final date the product will have the same quality as the day it left the plant?

Or the expiration date—the last time the product can be used.

Obviously, to get the most from open dating, consumers need to know which system of dating is being used for a given product.

If your store is still playing the "coded numbers game" with its freshness information, or if it isn't telling you what the open date means, urge the manager to do something—such as telling food processors and food trade organizations that consumers want and need simplicity and uniformity of freshness dating.

The food industry's interest in the standardization of open dating terms has increased in recent years, but the adoption of voluntary programs on behalf of consumers has historically gathered more momentum when you and other consumers have spoken out.

Sweet-Sour Pork Cuts Calories

Apricot-skillet chops is American version of sweet-sour pork.

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

Fat Porky Pig has gone to a reducing salon, courtesy of pork breeders and marketers, without losing any savorness. This is important to those who enjoy eating pork but are concerned about weight-producing calories. Those who enjoy the Oriental combination of sweet-and-sour pork will find making and eating an Apricot-skillet pork an enjoyable experience. To keep scallions crisp and preserve texture of the apricots add them at the last, just before serving.

APRICOT-SKILLET CHOPS

- 1 can (17 ounces) apricot halves
- 4 cured loin pork chops, 3/4-inch thick or 1 1/4

Gourmet Oriental Way

Oriental dishes prepared at home help stretch the food budget dollar, add to the reputation of the cook as a gourmet chef and please family and guests. An Oriental Beef and Sugar Peas dish is simple and requires much less chopping of ingredients than called for in many Far Eastern dishes.

ORIENTAL BEEF AND SUGAR PEAS

- 1 beef flank steak
- 1 tablespoon cooking oil
- 1 (7 1/2-ounce) package fresh bean sprouts or 1 (1-pound) can
- 1/2 pound fresh sugar peas
- 1 bunch green onions
- 1 (10 1/2-ounce) can consommé
- 3 tablespoons soy sauce
- 1 teaspoon slivered fresh ginger root (or 1/4

- 1 pound fully cooked ham steak
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 2 tablespoons light brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon grated orange peel
- 1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1 teaspoon dried mustard
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice
- 1/4 cup dark seedless raisins
- 1 cup sliced celery
- 1/4 cup sliced scallions

Drain apricots, reserving syrup. If using electric skillet preheat at 350 degree setting. Fry pork chops (or ham) in butter on both sides until lightly browned. Place chops on warm serving platter and keep warm. Mix cornstarch and sugar; add to skillet along with peel, seasonings and lemon juice. Blend in reserved apricot syrup; cook, stirring constantly, until sauce boils 1/2 minute. Add raisins and celery. Reduce heat (skillet setting to 225 degrees) cover and simmer mixture about 5 minutes or just until celery is crisp tender. Add apricots and scallions. Simmer just until heated through. Pour sauce over pork chops and serve with hot noodles or rice. Makes 4 servings. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Recipe For A Long And Vigorous Life

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Here's a proven formula for living long, happily and productively. Walter M. Ringer of Minneapolis, 86 years old, chairman of the board of Foley Manufacturing Co., vigorous, tall and handsome, explains: "I'm careful of what I eat. Never too much at my age. I exercise every day—15 minutes in my room in the morning, then to my club downtown where I swing Indian clubs for 20 minutes and swim 15 minutes. "New things are important to keep the mind active. Never cease being interested in new ideas, new ways of doing things. Always look ahead. "A happy family, of course. That's what mine is. I have five children and 25 grandchildren. We are all used to hard work. "The Foley Manufacturing Co., owned by the Ringer family, manufactures 200 items—for kitchen-use. The Foley food mill is one of their best known. Spoons, pans, graters, long-handled measuring spoons, rolling pins are among the others. "Today people are doing their own work. There are no more servants. So they are interested in good utensils to prepare food. That explains in part why we sell more utensils today than ever before. Yes, I know about the use of prepared foods. But not every woman wants them or uses them. She likes to prepare her own. "Take our new two-cup metric system measuring cup with an orange juice squeezer attached to top. We saw one like it in Sweden. You realize that within 10 years the metric system will

For All Yogurt Fans: Their Own Cookbook

Why do so many people eat yogurt today? That's a modern question that needs an up-to-date answer.

Yogurt has been around a long, long time. In fact, for centuries. Eastern peoples seem always to have lived on it. Scads of Americans, however, have discovered this custard-like cultured milk item only within the last few years.

Statistics reveal that around 22 per cent of North Americans eat it. It is most popular in the west, then on the eastern seaboard. Southerners apparently have other foods they prefer.

Why do people eat it? Because they like it. That is the outstanding reason given. There are those, of course, who want to lose weight. A cup of plain yogurt—made from partially skimmed milk, has 125 calories. Made of whole milk, it has 150 calories. Flavored yogurts have more calories.

If you see a young woman walking down the street at noon with a cup of yogurt and a spoon, she is probably eating her lunch. Thousands do just that because yogurt makes a complete noon meal. It contains protein, fat, carbohydrate, calcium, iron, vitamin A, thiamine, riboflavin, niacin and ascorbic acid. And it is not fattening unless it tops off a too-high daily caloric intake.

Which may explain why girls and women from 17 years up are the greatest users. Men like it, too, but not quite so enthusiastically. Last year over 100,000 tons of yogurt were sold in the United States. So let's call it a booming year for the lactic stuff.

Most people use it as a complete luncheon, for between meal snacking and as a dessert. The most popular flavor is strawberry, then blueberry and raspberry. Plain yogurt follows next.

Its smooth and slightly acid way adds subtlety to many cooked dishes. Southern fried chicken in yogurt gravy is one rich suggestion. It comes from "Yogurt Cookery, Good and Gourmet" by Kay Shaw Nelson. She believes it's the first yogurt cookbook. If you are a yogurt fan, then study her more than 250 recipes.

"I avoid," she says, "the stories about the wonders of yogurt—that it can restore vitality, prolong life, cure insomnia, improve the complexion, relieve sunburn, ulcers and stomach aches and serve as an antidote for food poisoning and excessive drinking. But I do know that the piquant taste of yogurt will be an addition to appetizers, entrees, soups and desserts," she says.

"It is, of course, excellent for digestion and definitely improves the condition of the intestinal tract. It is given to the elderly, too. But the reason for its growing popularity is simply that people like it. That's the answer most people give. So when people like a food—just like it—you can be sure its popularity will grow. That's why I think my book "Yogurt Cookery" will be welcome.

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. Pork Blade Steaks.

Q. Where do they come from? How are they identified?

A. Pork blade steaks are cut from the Boston shoulder. Most include the flat blade bone; others are boneless.

Q. How are they prepared?

A. By braising or broiling indoors or out. To broil, place steaks, cut 1/2 to 3/4 inch thick, on broiler rack or grill 3 to 4 inches from heat. Broil at moderate temperature until well done, 20 to 25 minutes, turning and brushing with barbecue sauce occasionally, if desired. To braise, brown steaks (whole or in strips), add seasonings and small amount of liquid, cover and cook slowly until well done, 40 to 60 minutes.

Winter vegetables alone or in combination with almonds score.

Winter Menu Brightener

A variety of vegetables available during winter months helps add color and flavor to the simplest meal. Preparing fresh vegetables is not too time-consuming and the difference in taste from canned or frozen products is well worth a little more effort. Shop your supermarket or vegetable stand for parsnips, carrots, onions, yams, sweet potatoes, yellow squash, pumpkin or turnips for a very special Glazed Almond Vegetable dish.

- 1 tablespoon granulated sugar
- 4 servings cooked fresh vegetables

Melt butter in 10- or 11-inch skillet. Add almonds and cook, stirring, over medium heat 1 or 2 minutes. Stir in sugars and continue cooking briefly until they appear to melt. Add cooked vegetables to pan and heat, stirring and turning gently, until glazed and hot through, about 3 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Suggested vegetables:

Parsnips or carrots: Purchase 1 pound for 4 servings. Trim and scrub; pare if you like. Drop into 1-inch boiling salted water in large saucepan and cook, covered, 15 to 20 minutes or just until fork-tender (not mushy). Drain.

Onions: Peel and trim 12 small white onions (about 3/4-pound) or four 2- or 3-inch yellow onions. Boil gently, covered, in 1-inch boiling salted water in saucepan about 30 minutes or until tender.

Yams and sweet potatoes: Allow 1 1/2 to 2 pounds for 4 servings. Cut large ones in half and cook, covered, in 1-inch gently boiling salted water in saucepan about 30 minutes or until tender. Plunge into cold water until cool enough to handle and peel off skins. Cut into quarters or halves, or leave whole if not too large.

Yellow squash or pumpkin: Allow 2 pounds for 4 servings. Remove seeds and string parts, pare off rind and cut into large chunks. Cook, covered, in 1-inch gently boiling salted water for about 10 minutes or until barely tender (they will soften quite a bit while being glazed).

Turnips: Allow 1 pound for 4 servings. Pare thinly and cut into slices, chunks or sticks. Cook, covered, in 1-inch gently boiling water for 10 minutes or until fork-tender.

WHIPPED FARINA PUDDING

In Sweden they call this dessert Klapprot and make it with lingonberry juice.

- 2 cups cranberry juice cocktail
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/4 cup farina
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/8 teaspoon salt

In a 2-quart saucepan bring cranberry juice to a boil. Sprinkle in sugar, then farina, stirring constantly. Boil gently, stirring constantly, for 10 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in vanilla and salt. Turn into large bowl of electric mixer. Beat at high speed just until mixture is light and fluffy and holds very soft peaks—about 10 minutes. Do not overbeat or mixture will be too stiff. Turn into individual serving dishes. Chill. Serve with whipped cream, light cream or milk. Makes 1 1/2 cups—4 servings.

Liberalized Child Care and Dependent Deductions

By RAY DE CRANE
(Ninth in a Series.)

Among the many changes affecting the 1972 income tax return, nowhere was Congress more generous than in the greatly liberalized provision for deductions for child care and dependent care.

Those who will be chiefly helped by these changes are widowers and working wives with small children, a working wife who must hire a babysitter to look after young children while the mother works and unmarried sons or daughters who hire a nursemaid to look after an incapacitated parent.

Taxpayers with an adjusted gross income of $18,000 or less may be eligible for a deduction of up to $400 a month.

Where total income is beyond the $18,000 figure, the deduction is reduced 50 cents for each dollar beyond $18,000.

Married taxpayers can claim the deduction only when they file a joint return.

To be eligible for the deduction, you as the taxpayer must provide more than one-half of the cost of operating a home which includes a dependent child under the age of 15, a disabled dependent of any age, or a wife or husband who is unable to care for himself because of either a physical or mental condition.

The allowable deduction consists of such household expenses as the employment of a maid, housekeeper, cook or babysitter who takes care of a child, disabled dependent, or a handicapped wife or husband to permit the taxpayer to work and earn a living. They also include expenses outside the home for the care of a child or children under the age of 15.

the-home expenses would be fees paid to a nursery school or a day care center. Such expenses are limited to $200 a month for the care of one child, $300 for two, or $400 for three or more.

Educational expenses for a child in the first grade or beyond are not proper outside-the-home expenses.

Cut Your Own Taxes 1973

The deduction is computed on a monthly, rather than an annual basis.

In making your report, list by month expenses first inside the home (in the second instance only for children under 15). This total of expenses then is subject to these reductions:

1. For children under 15, no reductions.

2. For disabled dependents the amount by which the dependent's gross income plus any non-taxable disability payments exceeds $750 a year.

3. For a disabled spouse, by the amount of any non-taxable disability payments.

4. After these reductions, the remaining expenses — or $400 monthly, whichever is smaller — are reduced by one-half of the excess over the $18,000 adjusted gross income figure, if any.

Whenever such a claim is made a Form 2441 must be attached to your Form 1040.

Tax Credits For Parents Challenged

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A suit has challenged a 1972 California law that gives tax credits to the parents of pupils in private schools on grounds that it would unfairly benefit religious-related schools, particularly Roman Catholic schools.

The suit filed Tuesday in U.S. District Court asked that the law, which provides personal income tax credits up to $125, be declared unconstitutional and enforcement halted. The law was to begin after Dec. 31, 1972.

The suit contends the tax credits will benefit schools controlled by churches or religious groups that "teach, propagate or promote a particular religious faith."

The complaint notes that 409,421 children were enrolled in nonpublic California schools as of Oct. 1, 1971, and 351,425 of these attended religious-related institutions. Ninety per cent attended Catholic schools, it said.

The state Franchise Tax Board which collects taxes was named defendant. Lawyer Henry Clausen of San Francisco said the plaintiffs expect to go to court today to seek a temporary restraining order to prevent state acceptance of income tax returns listing private school credits.

Officials May Have To Hoof It

WASHINGTON (AP) — A senator who runs to work wants to let the air out of the tires of one of the capital's most coveted prestige symbols—the chauffeur-driven limousine.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., has told heads of a dozen agencies whose budgets are reviewed by his Appropriations subcommittee to expect all-funds for chauffeurs and limousines to be cut off.

"In view of the stringent fiscal straits in which we find ourselves, the cutbacks for low-income housing and programs to aid low-income farmers, and the controls placed on the wages of American workers," the limousines should stop rolling, Proxmire said.

"It is absurd for the secretary of HUD and four of his assistant and under secretaries to be chauffeured around Washington at the same time the agency has frozen funds for public housing," Proxmire said.

Each day, Proxmire runs the 4.8 miles from his home across town to the Senate. He says the streets are overrun with government limousines "toting faceless officials to and from their place of residence and their offices."

He said that most of the officials can easily afford to drive their own cars or hire a taxi "to get officials to the (Capitol) Hill or to cocktail parties around town."

"In dire need," Proxmire added, "walking would both save funds and improve the health and efficiency of key members of the government."

Proxmire said he served notice of his plans to the following departments and agencies reviewed by his subcommittee:

The Department of Housing and Urban Development, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, National Science Foundation, Veterans Administration.

ON LEGISLATIVE ISSUES

Manufacturers Group Slates Joint Meeting

AMARILLO—The Texas Manufacturers association will hold a joint Panhandle-South Plains Chapter membership meeting in Lubbock at 2 p.m. at the Carriage House Wednesday, Jan. 24.

The theme of the joint conference will center around current legislative issues which will affect the West Texas business community and which are expected to come up during this year's 63rd legislative session. In addition, T.M.A.'s legislative program for '73 will be outlined to the membership.

T.M.A.'s president Bill Gray, said, "T.M.A.'s legislative program includes five major proposals for increasing effectiveness of the state's current and out-moded money management system."

Phase II of T.M.A.'s Texas Budget Reform plan will be presented by Burford Tunnell Clark Equipment Lubbock. Tunnell's presentation will point out problems in the current system and five major proposals that T.M.A. will present to the legislature to correct them.

T.M.A.'s 1973 state chairman Norvell W. Harris, president and chief executive officer, Miether Machine Works, Odessa, will present "T.M.A.'s Role in 1973-As the Chairman Views It."

James W. Yancy, Jr.

No Home Rule

Emperor Taberius ruled Rome from his residence in Capri during the last decade of his life. His orders were signaled by semaphore to a lookout station on the Sorrento Peninsula, and thence from peak to peak to the capital almost 125 miles away.

Consumer Glossary

By Virginia Knauer

Special Assistant to the President and Director
White House Office of Consumer Affairs

Some of our consumer problems arise because of words—legal terms used in leases, contracts of sale, credit arrangements and the like. Consumers sometimes get themselves into trouble—usually financial trouble—because they don't know the meaning of these words.

To avoid costly mistakes, be sure you understand and agree with whatever you are asked to sign. Remember, it's your money.

Here are some important terms that appear frequently in documents dealing with the legal rights and obligations of consumers:

Amortization—Gradual payment of debt.

Assignee—Someone to whom a right or property is assigned or transferred.

Attachment—Legal seizure of property for payment of debt.

Bill of Sale—Document that shows transfer of ownership of personal property.

Chattel—Movable personal property.

Chattel Lien—Creditor's legal interest in borrower's personal property that borrower has put up as collateral.

Collateral—Things of value pledged as security on a loan to be sold by the lender if the loan is not repaid.

Cooling-Off—In some areas, consumers can legally cancel purchase agreements within a specified number of days. This right is often limited to purchases made from door-to-door salesmen.

Deed—Written document that transfers ownership of real property.

Default—Failure to carry out legal obligation.

Foreclosure Proceedings—Court action to allow the sale of mortgaged property to pay mortgage.

Real Property—Buildings and land.

Security Interest—Interest in or right to personal property that secures payment of a debt or performance of some other obligation.

Usury—Lending money at a higher interest rate than the law allows.

Liabilities—Debts or obligations.

Lien—Claim on property as security for a debt.

Negotiable Instrument—written payment obligation that can be transferred by endorsement or delivery, such as a check.

Personal Property—Any possession other than land or buildings.

Principal—The amount of money invested or borrowed as distinguished from interest or service charges.

Promissory Note—Written evidence of a debt; a legally binding promise to pay a specified sum of money at a specified time or according to a payment schedule.

Repossession—Action by legal owner, such as a merchant, to reclaim merchandise from purchaser who has not met conditions of installment contract.

Real Property—Buildings and land.

Security Interest—Interest in or right to personal property that secures payment of a debt or performance of some other obligation.

Usury—Lending money at a higher interest rate than the law allows.

WAR IS SUCH A WAY OF LIFE in South Vietnam that these two Tay Ninh youngsters don't seem to pay any notice to the soldier equipment beside them.
