The group will meet at the Wilson Drug.

Oilers Defeated By Hubbers 3rd Straight, 4 to 1

Lubbock—Timely hitting coupled with Len Heinz' eight-hit mound performance gave Lubbock's Hubbers a 4-1 triumph over the Oilers in the opener of a two-game set here last night.

Heinz, although outpitched by Pampa's George Payne who limited the Oilers to seven blows, was the route to notch his 17th win of the season against six setbacks.

Virgil Richardson, Lubbock first baseman, established a new W-T-M League putout record for first sackers handling 18 without an error to better the old mark of 16 held jointly by George Sturdivant and E. B. Palmer of Lamesa. Phil Kendall of the 1946 Lubbock club and Danny Ozark former Abilene first sacker now with the Fort Worth Cats in the Texas League.

Richardson also rapped a two-run homer in the eighth to ice the game against his former Pampa mates.

Lubbock took a two-run lead in the second frame when Jackie Sullivan singled and Payne walked. Richardson, the Hub skipper crossed the plate on Catcher Lloyd Summers' passed ball and wild throw at second in an attempt to cut down Richardson. A single to right by Clem Cole sent the Hubber first sacker in.

Summers belted a bases-empty homer in the third off Heinz to cut the margin to 2-1 but Richardson's blow in the eighth clinched the game for the Hubbers as Heinz blanked the Oilers through the last six frames.

The two teams square off in the finale Tuesday night with Paul Hinrichs (14-5) slated to face Pampa's 20-game winner Al Johnston.

Cards Defeat Braves; Brooks Slug Pirates

The WAY it LOOKS to Bob Bray

THIS COOL WEATHER AND numerous requests for the Harvesters grid schedule for the coming year have virtually pushed us into a mention of football.

A little late perhaps, but we heard that the behind the scenes verbal battle between Coach Tom Tipps and ex-mentor Otis Coffey, at the State Coaches' School became quite humorous. Tipps, who is confident but not over optimistic, like all football coaches from Honolulu to New York, would spend his spare time crying about how tough the competition was going to be this year.

Mr. Coffey, on the other hand, would stroll around the mentor's campus exclaiming the locals' size, speed, ability and experience, to the point that those who listened thought we should take this year's Harvesters edition to the Cotton Bowl.

Finally, it is reported, Tipps and Coach Aubra Noonan, too, gave up in complete despair. When someone would ask them how that 200 pound fullback was looking, one or the other would assume a worried expression and reply, "Two hundred pounds? I hope he hasn't lost that much. He weighed 360 during spring training."

JOHN BOND, RECENTLY EMPLOYED Gorilla coach, is seeking to fill three open dates on the boys' schedule. Any Class A or B clubs who are hunting games on Sept. 18, Oct. 9 or 16, are invited to contact Bond at the High School.

IT HAS BEEN REPORTED that over 100 Texas Tech Raiders will turn out for the opening session of grid training at Lubbock Sept. 1. Some boys from right around home that many of us remember such as Ralph Earhart, Lefors, and Bobby Williams of Phillips, will report for work.

JUST FOR THE RECORD, THE Harvesters will assume their familiar role as underdogs in district competition again this year—or at least that's what the men who should know, say. The coaches at the state convention named the ever powerful Amarillo Sandstrom to sweep the district for the 15th time of the two-million mark.

Cats Push Sports Back to 5th Spot With 2-1 Triumph

(By The Associated Press)

Shreveport has its sporting chance to edge into the Texas League's Shaughnessy playoff, but the Sports can't fiddle around.

A 2-1 defeat by Fort Worth dropped Shreveport two games back of fourth place Tuesday night after the Oilers divided with San Antonio.

San Antonio went 12 innings before taking the first game, 3-0, then Tulsa bounced back to win the nightcap, 4-3.

Dallas fattened its third place margin to three full games over Tulsa on 3-0, 14-1 decisions over Beaumont. Houston climbed back into the win column with an easy 8-3 victory over Oklahoma City.

Claude Horton weakened in the eighth inning and Fort Worth bunched three or five hits for runs in the eighth and ninth to enable Dwain Sloss to win his 16th game.

The seven-inning opener at Tulsa stretched five extra frames before Mace Control and Bill Scieszko came through with singles that scored all three runs.

Don Carlson stretched his streak of scoreless innings to 28 before San Antonio broke losses in the opening of a new Tulsa record. Jack Cassini also pitched his 49th and 50th bases before 33.129 fans.

The crowd failed to get ground on the Dodgers, who won a free hitting game from the Pittsburgh Pirates at Ebbets' Field 11-0.

Billy Jurges slammed a 10th inning home run into a three-hit inning to enable the Chicago Cubs to defeat the New York Giants 9-7.

Scoring five runs in the first two innings against Oscar Judd, the Cincinnati Reds whipped the Philadelphia Athletics 5-3 in a night game.

Three walks with the bases loaded forced in three Cleveland runs and enabled the Indians to defeat the Boston Red Sox 10-8.

Scoring four runs in the first three innings, the Philadelphia Athletics went on to defeat the Detroit Tigers 4-1 and have within a game of the third place Bengals.

Lefty Sam Zolcak won a pitcher's battle from Rae Scarborough as the St. Louis Browns won a 1-0 thriller from the Washington Senators.

DALLAS—(AP)—One Hundred and four teams will be in the Texas Interscholastic League Class AA Division this fall with 102 of them battling for District championships. The other two will be playing for the exercise and to have a fair chance of some other team in its District.

The Texas Professional Baseball campaign rolls into its final weeks. In fact, one league—the Longhorn—closes its regular season next Monday with the slogan in The Biggest Money play-off. Although this circuit has only six clubs, four will be in the play-off opening Sept. 3.

Three leagues end the regular campaign Sept. 7—the Texas, West Texas and Lone Star. Last to finish is the Big State League which plays until Sept. 14. The play-offs may run until the last week in September, this including the Dixie Series.

New Attendance Mark Sought in Texas Loop

DALLAS—(AP)—The Texas League is aiming for the largest attendance this year—the largest number of paid admissions in the 52-year history of the circuit.

The record of 1,562,567 set last season already has been smashed. In fact, that happened Aug. 13 when the League showed a total attendance of 1,600,005, Secretary Milton Price reported.

With 12 games playing dates left after Aug. 13, meaning around 100 games, and the games averaging better than 3,400, indications are that 1947 will come within 50,000 of the two-million mark.

Houston leads the way with 343,176 home attendance through Aug. 19 when the Buffs took to the road until Sept. 2. This is a new record for one club.

San Antonio, Beaumont and Tulsa are the only clubs behind last years attendance. The other five—Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, Tulsa and Oklahoma City are well in front of 1946.

SALT LAKE CITY—(AP)—Defender Ben Hogan led a field of 20 champions who turned in practice rounds yesterday at the Salt Lake County Club preparatory to the start Thursday of the Western Open Golf Tournament.

Paul Tyson, the Dean of Texas Coaches who resigned at Jesuit High School, Dallas, says he's not quitting the coaching game. "I just wanted to get back into public school work," he explained. "Since recent changes in the teacher retirement act I will be entitled to twice as much as first planned. I have kept my retirement in force all the time I have been out of public school systems."

In other words, Tyson, who this year plans to write a syndicated column on baseball, will be available for a coaching job and probably will be back at it by next fall. He has quite a few years to go before retirement as a teacher.

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—Information department: College alumni representatives of coaches and others interested in football have been beating a path to the door of a modest home in Portland for many months. The reason is that probably the finest prospect in all the history of the state of Oregon lives there.

His name is Pat Duffy and won't that name read swell in the headlines for Notre Dame in the future, folks! You know, the "fighting Irish" and all that. There hasn't been a good "Mick" Moniker at the old school for a long time. Young Duffy is a six footer, 190 pounds, 18 years old and only a high school junior. And he can do everything with a football except swallow.

Purple sage state. Reno proudly displays the slogan in The Biggest Little City in the World. The Nevada metropolis will back it up, too, for money, marbles or chalk. It is the liveliest spot on the map for its size, and its liberal tax laws have attracted a growing residential "millionsaires' row" that includes such permanent residents as Doris Duke and A. K. DOCTOR WOODWARD'S AMBITION By Elizabeth Seiferl

THE STORY: Pop Mean, hospital chief, chafes at the inactivity forced on him by a paralyzing stroke. He tells Dr. Malcolm Glenn, top obstetrical surgeon, that Woodward, the new staff doctor, is due to arrive soon. Malcolm is seized with migraine while operating and his brother, Dr. Martin Glenn, jumps into the breach. In the quiet household, Malcolm's daughter Niki brings her fiancée, Brina Cox, home with her after a party. When she sees the young lovers together, Malcolm's wife, reflects bitterly on how prosaic her own life has become.

DR. MARTIN GLENN sat behind Malcolm's walnut desk and made out the report of his brother's day of work. The handsome office was warm and quiet. The inner door stood ajar, for Malcolm was sleeping in there, dragged mercilessly against the pushing fingers of pain. Susan sat beside Martin, helping him. Now and then the doctor glanced down at her bright, pretty head on which the peaked cap rode like a paper boat. Frequently, the nurse rose, went to the door of Malcolm's room, disappeared through it. When she came out, Martin would look up questioning, and she would murmur reassuringly. "I hope it works," said Martin fervently. "It does seem as if someone should find a relief for migraine—if not a cure."

Martin was as big a man as his brother, but much darker in coloring. His hair was thick and black, his skin the color of walnut juice, his eyebrows bushy over brown eyes so dark they seemed black. He was ten years younger than Malcolm. Susan stood beside the desk, looking back to the door of Malcolm's room. "It isn't right!" she said intently. "That he should suffer so. He is so good, so kind. Martin tipped his pen on its round end, tried to balance it. "Malcolm's darned lucky. I wish somebody felt that way about Dr. Martin Glenn," he said. "You don't need it, the way he does. Dr. Malcolm—"

"All alone, poor goof. With a wife and three children, a nurse hypnotized into slavery to him, a whole hospital to jump at a word from him—not to mention his little brother—"

By EDWARD E. In the meanwhile the campaign is being pressed relentlessly, day and night, in two score or more languages.

MARTIN made a muffled sound in his throat; he set her aside, strode across the carpet to the fireplace, stood for a minute looking down into the rosy ashes. "I know you don't want to leave him," he said crossly.

He swung on her. "If you loved me—" "I do love you." "Then why don't you do something about it? You can!" "You know why I don't? For the same reason you don't go into research, as you want to do."

MARTIN rose to his feet then, put his hands on Susan's shoulders, drew her to him and kissed her. "My Susie," he said deeply. "My Susie."

He reached into the pocket of his jacket and took out a small heart-shaped box of white velvet. In it were two rings. Martin drew forth the one set with a gleaming stone. He reached for Susan's left hand. She drew back, her eyes troubled. "Oh, Martin, I—"

He seized her hand, pushed the ring upon the third finger. His mouth was set in a grim line. "I want my ring on your finger, Susan. I love you—I—"

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

(Editor's Note: This is the final pre-vacation column of Hal Boyle, who is closing up his typewriter for a holiday. While he's away Ari Edson, of AP's Washington staff, will carry on the Boyle column.)

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK—(P)—Our candidate today for the honor of being the harried American housewife's favorite "pinup boy" is Henry Paynter.
His distinction?
"I happen to be the only man ever annoyed enough to really solve the problem of uninvited guests," said Paynter modestly.
His household is no longer troubled by unexpected out-of-town visitors since he bought a mountain built a home on it and booby-trapped the approaches.
"Hank," a well known newspaperman and Air Force veteran with a sweeping mustache that looks like two B-29's taking off from his upper lip, reached this desperate solution only after long suffering.

Originally he and his wife lived in Greenwich Village, but finally moved out and abandoned the apartment to their many guests.
"We took an isolated place on Long Island," Hank recalled, but it soon became impossible to mow the lawn because of the guests draped on it.
"It was then I decided no one had every really put his mind to this chore," said Hank. "This time we bought a wooded mountain on a wild and lonely road. The telephone listed under my name is in a doghouse, where nobody can hear it ring. The one we use is unlisted."

Hank claimed he artfully concealed the roadway leading up to his house, an constructed a false one leading in the other direction through the woods.
"The false driveway," he said, "is fixed so that anyone trying to go off sideways down a cliff—not steep to cause fatalities, but guaranteed to take a car twelve hours to get out."
"The walk to the nearest telephone is one mile, and it is impossible to get out of the area without struggling for one hundred yards in any direction through the forest. Beyond that the path is sown with rattlesnakes and silent, deadly little copperheads.
"I am fair about it. There are warning signs—but the type of people I know isn't easily intimidated."
Along the driveway, he said, there also are boobytrapped benches that go boom if anybody sits on them.
Should any guest be hardy enough to win through to the house itself, Paynter said he had other surprises in store such as hidden phonographs in the bedroom that give the sound effects of mice arguing and a drunk chopping up a grand piano. And a light switch connected to a trap full of wasps!

4 Texas Business Failures Reported
AUSTIN—(P)—Four Texas business failures during July were reported Saturday by the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.
This compared with four failures in June and two in July, 1946.
Business failures for the year now total 24 compared with only 3 for the comparable period last year.
Average liability per failure was $88,000 in July compared with $67,000 in June and $17,000 in May, indicative of failures in larger-size businesses each month.

West Texas Bloc Against College Building Amendment

DALLAS—(P)—A solid bloc of West Texas counties extending from the Pecos River east to Clay and Jack Counties and south to Sutton, McCulloch, San Saba and Hamilton Counties, voted against the college building amendment in last Saturday's election, tabulations by the Texas Election Bureau showed today.
These counties centered around West Texas State Colleges, some of whose friends were bitterly against the amendment, contending that it favored Texas A. & M. College and the University of Texas.
The Election Bureau said that by the time all returns are in, there may be more counties giving a majority against the amendment than for it, although the total state vote favored the amendment by a considerable margin.
Returns available to the bureau early today showed that 113 counties were against the amendment to 114 in favor. Of the 25 counties not heard from early today, 17 are in areas that generally voted against the amendment and eight are in areas that favored the amendment. Two counties did not hold elections.
However, the bulk estimated 20,000 votes not reported to the bureau are in areas favoring the amendment, the bureau said.
South of the West Texas bloc, pro and anti counties were about equally divided as they were in the Panhandle. Counties west of the Pecos River and in the lower Rio Grande Valley generally favored the amendment. East Texas county majorities generally were for the proposal, although there was scattering of counties which gave majorities against the plan.

Daniel Is Commended For Stand Against Racial Discrimination

AUSTIN—(P)—Three University of Texas student clubs have commended Attorney General Price Daniel for his interpretation and clarification of Texas laws pertaining to racial discrimination.
At the same time spokesmen for the three groups said they considered the Texas laws ambiguous and would continue their effort in combating segregation of Latin-American children in Texas schools.
The Laredo Club, Alba Club and University Chapter of the American Veterans Committee had previously approved a resolution protesting an opinion by the attorney general's department. They said the opinion left a loophole for continued discrimination against Latin-Americans.

Ed Ibar, Jr., chairman of the Laredo Club Anti-Discrimination Committee, said yesterday that the earlier resolution was directed at ambiguities in the law rather than the opinion itself and therefore would not be rescinded.
The resolution issued yesterday quoted three points of clarification by Daniel on an earlier opinion that Latin-American children may not be segregated on a basis of their racial ancestry:
1. "Pedagogical reasons must not serve as a pretext to practice the segregation of children on subject matter other than those in which scientific tests, equally applied to all students, regardless of racial ancestry, have proved that special instruction is necessary."
2. "Separation for instructional purposes in those aforesaid subject matters does not justify inferiority in general educational facilities nor in the quality of teachers, but, if anything, calls for superior facilities and instructors."
3. "The grouping of children for special instructional purposes should be based solely on the result of special test, without reference to racial origin or social background."
The resolution said action would be continued, seeking "remedial legislative and judicial action to prevent such segregation which is a cancerous growth on our Democratic institutions."

Clark Resigns As Manager of Shamrock C of C

SHAMROCK—(Special)—The Shamrock Chamber of Commerce is looking for a secretary-manager following the resignation last week of Bob Clark who has accepted a position as head of the physical education department of the Odessa School system, effective September 1.
Clark announced acceptance of the job at Odessa Thursday. His employment by the school is a part of the program launched a few years ago which is expanding into one of the most comprehensive in Texas Class A Schools. The new post he will assume will also include coaching duties during the 1947-1948 school year. He will probably coach the Odessa "B" football squad according to a release from that city.
An outstanding athletic organizer and promoter when he accepted the Shamrock Chamber of Commerce management, February, 1946, Clark was a "natural" in the field of civic work and public relations during his year and one-half at the Chamber of Commerce post. Membership has grown and civic projects have flourished under his administration. In addition to his duties here, Clark is presently serving as president of the Texas unit of Highway 66 Association, and has represented his state at several regional and national sessions of Highway 66 delegates. He has somehow found time to serve as ex-officio manager of the Shamrock swimming pool and to lend his assistance to various child and youth programs which have been close to his heart since he began his coaching career 15 years ago.
Clark has served as vice-president of the Plains Commission of Amateur Athletic Union and chairman of its swimming committee. It was through his efforts that the first AAU Plains swimming meet was held in Shamrock this summer. Clark was director of athletics in Shamrock High School from 1942 to 1945. He developed top teams in football, basketball, track and tutored boxing teams which copied many honors in Golden Gloves competition.

School Heads Ask For Official Ruling

AUSTIN—(P)—Attorney General Price Daniel will be asked to rule on the constitutionality of the loss of accredited penalty to schools failing to comply with the new $2,000 minimum teacher salary law, State Superintendent of Public Instruction W. Woods has promised.
Submission of the question for a legal ruling was asked here yesterday by a delegation of more than 20 superintendents protesting to Woods against his interpretation that Negro teachers must be paid on the same salary scales as white teachers under the new law.
"They urged that they be permitted to consider efficiency along with training and tenure."
Woods told the educators that the law has been passed and he intends to comply with it. He said he could not approve any salary setup that showed racial discrimination on its face.
The protesting delegation was headed by Supt. H. W. Stilwell of Texarkana.

Circus Chaplain Conducts Sunday School and Church for Performers

"Burma" and "Doc" Waddell, the one and only circus chaplain

BY FRANK STEWART
NEA Special Correspondent
Ladies and gentlemen, introducing for the first time in your city the one and only circus chaplain in the entire world.
The ringmaster at Mills Bros. circus could easily make that announcement to the blare of brass horns under the big top.
One of Ohio's unique personalities—"only one of its kind in captivity"—is on the road again.
He is 84-year-old "Doc" Waddell of Columbus, "pastor" of the three-ring circus owned and operated by Paul, Jack, Harry and Jake Mills, Cleveland men.
And don't go worrying about his first name—the circus world knows him as "Doc" and nothing else.
Likewise, don't think this is a dream of a sawdust ring press agent. "Doc" Waddell is an ordained minister and licensed to preach by the Interdenominational Evangelistic Association and in the Methodist church.
Every year, when Mills Bros. start the season, "Doc" Waddell opens the program with prayer.
And what does a circus chaplain pray about? Well, "Doc" thanks the Almighty for the chance people have for amusement—for the opportunity folks get to laugh at the Texas Election Bureau showed today.

More than 20 years ago he got the idea to become a circus chaplain. People laughed at him—"Doc" told me. He tried to remind them there were chaplains in the army, hospitals, prisons and all kinds of places.
But the Mills brothers didn't snicker. They saw the merit in the idea. So every season now "Doc" goes out with the show. Sometimes he preaches in churches and often speaks before service clubs.
He has preached at county fairs and in night clubs. "Doc" Waddell, who was virtually reared under the big top, has been around and he wouldn't trade his circus pulpit for any job in the world.

WE, THE WOMEN Refusal to Keep House Equal to Non-Support
BY RUTH MILETT NEA Staff Writer

In a recent divorce trial a judge ruled that a wife making her husband do housework does not constitute cruelty. His decision denied a divorce to a husband who testified that his wife spent most of her time visiting with the neighbors and that he had to clean the house, make beds, cook dinner, and wash dishes after work.

If the law is going to let wives get by with that kind of behavior, the responsibility of their responsibilities, then what right have we to insist that a man earn a living for his wife?

In the eyes of society a husband charged with nonsupport is looked on as a complete no-good. Nobody blames his wife for divorcing him.

Why should we be more lenient with women? Isn't it as much the wife's job to be responsible for the house as it is the man's job to support her?

BOTH HAVE JOBS TO DO
A wife's refusal to take care of a home for her husband may not constitute cruelty in the legal sense of the word. But there ought to be some legal word for it, because it is as shameful as non-support.

Marriage is a partnership. And both partners have their jobs to do, if the marriage is to be successful. The wife who falls down on her side of the partnership is just as much a failure as is the husband who doesn't do his share.

PUBLICITY AND PATRIOTISM

The term "publicity build-up" is not ordinarily used in a complimentary sense. It is likely to call to mind an exaggerated fanfare for a new movie star or a new soap powder, or for some other person or commodity whose modest talents or properties scarcely warrant all the horn blowing and drum beating.

Nevertheless, it must be admitted that Americans have developed the technique of the publicity build-up to a remarkable degree. And it is a pleasure to observe its smooth operation in such a good cause as the year's tour of the Freedom Train, which begins Sept. 17, and the Year of Rededication that coincides with it.

The Freedom Train began as an idea in the mind of Attorney General Tom Clark, who thought that a traveling exhibit of great American documents might help reawaken American youth to their responsibilities as citizens and curb the rise in juvenile delinquency. He invited the assistance of leaders of business, labor, education, the arts, and fraternal, patriotic, cultural and youth organizations.

The idea caught on and gained its present proportions. Mr. Clark's advisers formed the American Heritage Foundation. Then the publicity campaign got under way. Experienced promotion and exploitation men were called in. Heads of newspaper and magazine publishers associations, of syndicates and radio networks made plans to co-ordinate their vast systems of communication.

One result of their efforts has already appeared in the form of a campaign book which goes to officials, newspapers, radio stations and civic and religious groups in every community where the Freedom Train will stop. And no disrespect to the purposes of the train's tour is intended when we say that the preparations are as detailed and elaborate as they would be for the world premiere of a $5,000,000 movie.

The book contains detailed publicity and advertising suggestions. There is material for every department of a newspaper. There are plans for special events and for the cooperation of churches, schools, retail stores, motion picture exhibitors, and so on.

The purpose of all this is to make every one of us conscious of the responsibilities as well as the privileges which are ours as inheritors of the legacy of American freedom.

This country's high tradition of democracy has been seriously challenged in the past six years, and is still challenged today. Every failure to live up to that tradition provides a little more ammunition for those who would discount or destroy it. There is a real need for most of us to try more actively and consciously to be good citizens and alert guardians of our heritage.

We have seen the power of publicity and propaganda in selling systems of government inimical to our own. Josef Goebbels did a dismayingly good job of it with the German people. The tightly controlled Soviet press and radio are doing a good job in Russia today.

It would seem, then, that the time has come to sell the responsibilities of American citizenship with banners and with shouting from the housetops. And it seems to us a wise idea to use all of America's precise, well-oiled publicity machinery to do it.

MIGRATION—"During the war," writes J. S. T. of Los Angeles, "there were many forecasts that the migration of war workers would cause a tremendous shift of the population. Have you any figures on these changes, showing whether they were as great as expected?"
Answer: A recent Census Bureau study, covering the period from April of 1940 to July of 1946, reveals that the flow of people to more seasonal than had been anticipated. Although many have returned to their former homes, it is believed that millions have obtained reconversion jobs and become permanent settlers in their new localities.

The most startling population increase was in the West, with California heading the parade. The western states gained an additional 3,338,000 people during the period listed.
California got an additional 36.2 percent, while Oregon and Washington were not far behind. Arizona showed a gain of 24 percent, Nevada 21.3 and Utah 13. Montana and Idaho, however, lost population.

SURPRISING—By comparison with the West's influx, almost all other states showed hardly any significant change, although there were surprising shifts within certain manufacturing commonwealths. The Northeast registered an increase of only 2.7 percent, as against a national jump in population averaging 5.3. The North Central area experienced a gain of 4 percent, while the South showed only 2.6 percent increase.

The Farm belt and Dixie suffered from the loss of young men and women seeking bonanza employment elsewhere. South Dakota lost 16 percent, while Nebraska, Missouri and many states below the Mason and Dixon Line.

Striking gains were made by such commonwealths as Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Texas, Virginia, Maryland and Connecticut, in addition to those mentioned above.

IMPRINT—The West's amazing growth will inevitably have a deep and permanent imprint on the na-

An Example of Man Made Laws
The Division of Industrial Welfare of California is setting a nice example of an American man made law. This Division of Industrial Welfare Commission, State of California, has the legislative power to set working conditions for minors and women. The commission has revised the original regulations effective as of June 1, 1947. As one reads these regulations, it is impossible not to see how far we have departed from the principles set down by the Declaration of Independence. These laws are absolutely discriminatory. Citizens of the United States are not all equal before the law as the writers of the Declaration of Independence intended them to be. This law discriminates against women and minors and makes it more difficult for them than men to get jobs. The law sets minimum wages, working hours, rest periods, and etc. for minors and women. It defines a minor as a male or female person under the age of 18 years. It prevents any woman or any minor from having the right to work more than 48 hours any week or eight hours any day without special permission of the Commission or in an emergency provided such overtime is compensated for in one and one half times the employee's regular rate of pay.

123 New Oil Wells Completed in Week
AUSTIN—(P)—There were 129 oil well completions and 22 gas well completions in Texas during the week ending Aug. 23, the Railroad Commission reported yesterday. The commission report said two wildcat oil wells and five wildcat gasers were drilled during the week.

Total average calendar day crude allowable as of Aug. 23 was reported as 2,513,282 barrels, an increase of 8,683 barrels over the allowable preceding week.

At the minimum wages, it is high that many people cannot earn the minimum wages, then they have no jobs in industry and have to work on the farm or as servants and take what they can get in an over-crowded field. The Commission thinks that it has taken care of this objection by saying that a permit may be issued by the Commission authorizing the employment of women or minors whose earning capacity is impaired by advanced age, physical disability, or mental efficiency at less than minimum wages. Such permits might be made upon application of employer or employee.

Of course this Commission could not tell how they can determine how much each handicapped person earned. They would have to have a flock of trained snappers and they wouldn't be able to know what the life of them set down.

And of course the Commission cannot be filled with men who believe and try to practice the Ten Commandments. It can only be filled with men who have socialist leanings; men and women who are middle-class, snappers and busybodies; men and women who do not believe in the competitive American system. The men and women on this Commission could not get the life of them set down, an impersonal eternal rule of conduct when they eliminate the competitive system. Employers and employees would have to go to them as they would in case of a handicap in order to determine what in their opinion was justice. These men and women hold themselves as a norm or a standard of right and wrong instead of the Commandments. "Thou shalt not steal" and "Thou shalt not covet." And they are coveting when they are by way of legislative acts taking away from men and women their right to freely make contracts. They are in short, stealing their labor to law, but according to the Ten Commandments or moral codes.

So They Say

Without a free radio, we will not have for long a free press. For an encroachment upon one is an encroachment upon all.
—A. D. Willard, Jr., vice president, National Assn. of Broadcasters.

What am I supposed to say? Don't shoot until you see the whites of their eyes? I did a lot of talking in 1944. I was the only one who did.
—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Making war is just like stepping on the other fellow's lawn. We don't do it—not just because there's a statute against it—it just isn't done.
—Warren R. Austin, U. S. delegate to the UN.

We have no shooting war these days, but we have in the world a powder-soaked gun trailing off into the darkness of an unknown match. Men of good will are trying to keep the two apart.
—Sen. Edward Martin (R) of Pennsylvania.

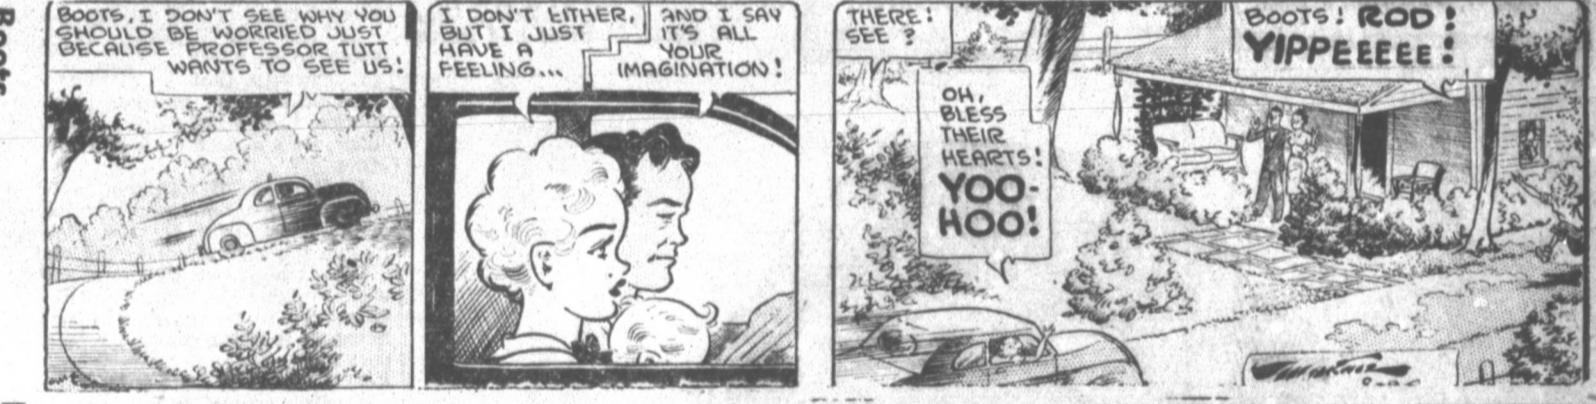

Installations in 1941. The increase in demand for Diesel fuel is 150 percent.
The use of "bottled gas" by consumers in rural and small town areas has become especially heavy. Consumption has increased by 208 percent over the 1941 volume.

There has also been a large shift from coal to gas, especially in homes. Since these changeovers were made during the war period, when both materials and labor for making new installations were in short supply, the oil and gas interests look for an ever greater business boom in the forthcoming years.

FULBRIGHT—Many correspondents have asked how they can obtain more information about the Fulbright, which provides that foreign countries may pay for purchases of surplus materials by financing the education and keep of American students abroad.

Answer: Write for details and a new booklet on this subject to Francis Culligan, Acting Chief, International Exchange of Persons, The State Department, Washington, D. C. He has had 12,000 inquiries or applications already.

You can't tell it by looking at the thermometer, but almost before you can wipe the sweat from your forehead it will be fall and schools will be open.

Many collegians will be working their way through various and sundry alma maters, and they'd do well to listen to the story of Joe Howerton of Corsicana.

Howerton worked his way through North Texas State College. Last year he made $567.75 at a part time job with a furniture company. He saved $562.25.

Asked what he did with that extra $5, he admitted that he has a few human weaknesses. He said he just blew it in.

Dick King, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde King of Stephenville, is returning to Oklahoma University this fall as society editor of the school newspaper.

He's the first male society editor in the 33-year history of the periodical. He is a Senior at Journalism, and worked during the summer for the Stephenville Empire-Tribune.

And at North Texas State again, there's Ray Womack, a track star. He attended summer school, and took home economics.

He sat each afternoon in a class filled with future housewives and teachers. He said he enrolled thinking he might need to know how to entertain and plan entertainments.

Do boys and girls from cities or villages make the best grades? Texas Tech says it's about 50-50, which proves nothing. But it does help fill space: Nine of 14 honor students this year came from towns of more than 5,000 population. But the four who received degrees with highest honors all came from towns of less than 4,000.

The highest ranking of all, Maxine Harp, came from Abernathy (Pop. 857).

Bonham High School exes met this year in a reunion, with every class since 1894 represented. It was the first reunion since 1940. The next will be held in 1952.

Law Dissolves Agrarian Party

SCFIA, Bulgaria — (AP) — Parliament passed a law today dissolving the Agrarian Party, chief opposition to the Communist-dominated fatherland front government.

Nikola Petkov, head of the party, is under death sentence for what the government said was plotting against the regime.

The U. S. State Department made it plain today that the United States planned further action on behalf of Petkov, despite a Russian rebuff.

The British Foreign Office announced in London that Soviet Russia has rejected a British-American request for consultation on Petkov's death sentence, holding that such consultation would be "interference in Bulgarian internal affairs."

A British Foreign Office spokesman, commenting on reports that the Bulgarian Agrarians would be outlawed, said "it would seem to be a good example of the 'gleichschaltung' (forcing into line) technique, of which there have been several examples in Germany since 1933."

The bill, which also would abolish the Agrarian youth organization, would deprive the Agrarians of their remaining seats in the Parliament.

The Agrarians now have 64 seats in Parliament. They elected 90 members in the October, 1946, elections in which the Fatherland Front Coalition seated 366. The opposition Luchba Socialists elected nine members.

Jester Studies Work of U. S.-Mexico Commission on Foot, Mouth Disease

MEXICO CITY — (AP) — Gov. Beauford H. Jester of Texas said Saturday the U. S.-Mexico Commission "is making substantial progress" and its methods constitute "a sound approach" in fighting the foot and mouth disease.

The Governor who came here Thursday from Guatemala with Mrs. Jester and their two children, E. M. Dealey, published of the Dallas Morning News, and Mrs. Dealey and others, returned yesterday to Austin after a short but intensive study of the dreaded disease which has crippled the Mexican cattle industry.

The Governor and Dealey spent two hours Friday night with the Secretary of Agriculture Nazario S. Ortiz Garza and his undersecretary for cattle, Oscar Flores. Flores and Dr. M. S. Shaiban, research scientist of the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry of the Department of Agriculture are the directors of the joint commission. Maj. Gen. Charles H. Corlett, representing the Secretary of Agriculture, is "co-ordinator."

Saturday forenoon the Governor spent with the United States section of the commission "to get a good picture of the campaign and to be sure I see it from both the U. S. and the Mexican points of view."

The present urgent need of the commission, the Governor said, he found, is more equipment. Both the Mexicans and the U. S. representatives told him but showed him a detailed list of the hundreds of things ordered.

"We ought to cut red tape and get things in here" the Governor said. "I do not doubt there are reasons for any delays in sending stuff here but the shorter the time taken to eradicate the foot and mouth disease, the less expensive it will be in the long run."

"The commission and its staff here are doing the job but it ought to be done more quickly. There has been substantial progress and the approach to the problem is sound but more technical personnel and more equipment are needed."

"The Mexican Secretary of Agriculture asked me to show a continuing interest in the matter and I shall because not only the United States but Texas especially is vitally interested in the success of this campaign."

"I talked with all the chief executives, U. S. and Mexican, and I am asking for more maps showing the affected areas and much data. North and southeast of the large infected area are strips where the disease is believed to have been stamped out but still are being watched. In the main diseased area there also are large spots apparently free from the disease. In this infected area the commission is attacking the various diseased spots while maintaining quarantines to keep the "clean" spots free of the disease."

Discussing the cost, the Governor commented that "a lot more money" must be spent in addition to the $2,000,000 appropriated by Congress.

"I am told," he added, "that the Secretary of Agriculture has authority to spend much more, that he has what amount to a blank check and I believe that blank check should be used because the more quickly the job is done, the better it will be and the less expense will be."

"I can see that much more money will be needed and if the Mexican share is too grossly in excess of Mexico it seems obvious to me that the U. S. government will have to complete the job. A loan earmarked for a specific purpose might be something for the State Department to consider."

In discussing with the commission its need for machinery, Gov. Jester got from it an itemized list of 75 jeeps, trucks, tractors and other things ordered recently which comprises 300 more jeeps, 42 cars, 2 (LCM) landing boats used in the war, 4 cabin cruisers and 8 outboard motorboats. The boats are to be used to patrol coastal and river points inaccessible by path for the heavy equipment used in slaughtering cattle and disinfecting farms.

The Governor said he was told that Mexico already had thrown about all her qualified technical men into the campaign but that more U. S. experts are on the way and many more are required.

State Adjutant Plugs For National Guard

AUSTIN — (AP) — Every town in Texas needs a National Guard unit to train its local boys in the event of military training being made compulsory, says State Adjutant General K. L. Berry.

"With such a unit already in a town, the boys could get their training right there and not have to leave home," he commented at a press conference yesterday.

He said he felt compulsory military training would become law.

"I can't imagine anyone who would be against it with world affairs such as they are at present," he said.

Berry said ten recruiting campaign supervisors will be called to temporary active duty to direct a campaign to enlist 3,225 Texans into the National Guard between Sept. 16 and Nov. 16, as a part of a nationwide drive for 88,888 recruits.

The present strength of the Texas National Guard is 5,112 officers and enlisted men.

Allocation for Texas Farm Tenant Purchase Program Is Reduced

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Farmers Home Administration figures Texans, enjoying a good share of agriculture's economic prosperity, don't need so much money now for the farm tenant purchase program.

This is apparent in a table released by the FHA's Budget Division, disclosing allocations it will make during the current fiscal year ending June 30, 1948.

Reductions are listed not only for Texas but for all states, reflecting the attitude of Congress, but the Texas cuts are much deeper than the average. The lawmakers appropriated only $15,000,000 for the farm tenant purchase operations in the 1947-48 period, as compared with $45,467,807 in the 1947 fiscal year ended last June 30.

The FHA Farm Tenant Loan obligations to Texans wanting to buy the land they have been working as non-owners amounted to $6,518,047 in the last fiscal year. The contemplated 1948 distribution in Texas for the same program is only $945,187.

While cutting down on the appropriations, Congress did for the first time authorize the FHA to insure private farm purchase loans up to 90 percent of the property's appraised value if the purchaser met the requirements of a direct loan.

To obtain a direct loan, the borrower must be an experienced farmer, an American citizen and have the recommended financial resources, including two farmers. He may repay the loan in 40 years, with 3 1/2 percent interest.

Contemplated allocations also were announced for two other programs administered by the FHA.

For water utilization loans in the state in the 1948 fiscal year the budget allocated $250,000, as compared with loans made last year aggregating $295,390.

The water facilities loan is primarily for drilling new wells, constructing small local reservoirs or stock watering ponds and similar uses.

Production and subsistence loans are the third FHA program and the contemplated 1948 allocation for Texas was given as $6,300,100. These loans to Texas farmers in the 12-month period ended last June 30 amounted to $9,393,219.

Loans of this category are intended to aid the farmer in changing from one type of farming to another. With proper approval, he can obtain up to $3,500 for five years or, if credit for seed and machinery only is necessary, he can obtain up to $1,000 for 12 to 15 months.
