Civil Rights Suffer Major Setback

FIVE OF SEVEN GUILTY

Jury Charged With Compromise Edict

CHICAGO (UPI)—Three women jurors in the "Chicago Seven" trial held out for acquittal of all defendants until a final vote in the hotel late Tuesday night, the Chicago Tribune reported today.

The jury Wednesday returned its verdict, finding five of the seven defendants in the five-month trial guilty of individual, by crossing state lines to incite riots at the 1968 Democratic National Convention. The jury found the seven men innocent of conspiring to incite riots.

The jury began deliberations Saturday and went over 30,000 pages of testimony before its vote in the Palmer House Hotel was taken, with the permission of U.S. District Court Judge Julius J. Hoffman, the Tribune said.

The Tribune said that after the jury left the Federal Building Tuesday and had dinner at the hotel, it resumed deliberations in a conference room available to them.

Three of the 10 women on the jury had wanted to acquit all of the defendants, but changed their minds for the midnight vote, the Tribune said.

"We had given up but then all at once we got together," jury Foreman Edward J. Kratzke told the Tribune.

All of the jurors were physically and emotionally exhausted after five months of the hectic trial.

The verdict in the trial had just come in Wednesday and defense attorney William M. Kunstler was telling how the defense attorneys and the "seven" felt about it.

"This is the last thing we wanted," he said. "We wanted an acquittal or conviction of all. We did not want this terrible compromise."

The "terrible compromise" Kunstler referred to was this: All seven of the defendants found innocent of conspiring to incite riots at the 1968 Democratic National Convention, but five of them found guilty individually of crossing state lines to incite riots, and committing various substantive acts in doing so.

When the court clerk read the jury's verdict, the five defendants found guilty embrace the two—John Froines and Lee Weiner—found innocent of all charges and congratulated them.

The "seven"—and their attorneys, Kunstler and Leonard I. Weinglass—already had been sentenced to jail for contempt by Judge Julius J. Hoffman, who said he never had seen such unruly defendants, or lawyers, in his courtroom.

The "seven" were jailed over the weekend, but the judge stayed the sentences against the two attorneys until May 4 so they could handle appeals.

The verdicts—delivered to a courtroom cleared of all spectators except newsmen—meant the controversial anti-riot provisions of the 1968 civil rights law would not be challenged in any appeals.

IN PHILIPPINES

US Embassy Defenseless Hostage Against Riots

MANILA (UPI)—The Philippine government apologized today for Wednesday's student invasion of the U.S. Embassy but said the anti-American sentiment behind it may be warranted.

Foreign Secretary Carlos P. Romulo issued the apology shortly after U.S. Ambassador Henry A. Byroade delivered an official protest citing the lack of police protection afforded the embassy during the attack by 1,000 students.

"The embassy is being treated as a defenseless hostage, routinely available for physical abuse by any sector of the society with a grievance," Byroade said. It was the strongest official protest ever lodged with the Philippine government.

Romulo's apology note said the government would investigate the delay in police response but that "it may be well for the American Embassy to ponder such legitimate grievances" as voiced by the students.

There must be cause for the public indignation expressed, Romulo said.

Romulo himself has expressed dissatisfaction recently with treaties allowing the United States to maintain military bases in the Philippines.

He warned there may be more anti-American demonstrations this weekend and appealed to American officials to "sift the grain from the chaff and not be swayed by untoward emotions of the moment."

Byroade delivered the U.S. protest to Romulo after ordering the American Embassy closed until Tuesday so work crews can repair the estimated 100 broken windows and patch up areas charred by flames.

The protest said it was "common knowledge" the demonstrators were going to march on the embassy, that U.S. officials asked for protection 10 hours in advance but that no Philippine policemen appeared until the "wanton vandalism" was 45 minutes old.

An embassy source said it took a personal telephone call from Byroade to President Ferdinand E. Marcos before the police were dispatched to disperse the mob of about 1,000. Twenty-three persons were hurt.

It was the largest outburst of anti-Americanism in the Philippines since World War II. U.S. Marine guards at the embassy used tear gas against the mob before the Philippine riot squads arrived, but to little avail. The students already were inside.

The nine-year-old Embassy Building, in a palm tree-sound compound on Manila Bay, was badly scarred, its guard house smashed and partially burned, its furniture in shambles, its walls charred by flames. Cleanup crews wore gas masks against the lingering tear gas fumes.

Byroade said in addition to the formal protest, he expressed to Romulo "my concern over what seems to be a growing tendency to forget that an embassy here has the right to expect the same degree of courtesy and protection that the people of the Philippines would expect to be accorded their diplomatic missions abroad."

Instead, he said, "in stark contrast to the well-merited worldwide Philippine reputation for consideration and hospitality towards guests, the embassy is being treated as a defenseless hostage."

other activities" for 10 years.

The Justice Department did not identify the other activities.

Any agreement reached will have to be approved by district court in Pittsburgh.

The Justice Department filed suit in Pittsburgh last April against LTV because of the Dallas company's majority stock control of Jones & Laughlin Steel, the sixth largest U.S. steel producer.

The suit has yet to be tried, but LTV agreed to entry of a preliminary injunction limiting its acquisition to 81 per cent of J&L and stating it must maintain the steel company as a separate corporate entity until the suit is decided.

LTV Proposes Test For Nixon's Action Against Conglomerates

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Lang-Temco-Vought, Inc., is discussing a proposal with the federal government under which it would dispose of its interests in several major companies and keep control of Jones & Laughlin Steel, the Justice Department announced Wednesday.

The LTV case is the first major test of the Nixon administration's antitrust action against conglomerates.

In the proposal under discussion, LTV would sell its interest in Braniff Airways, Inc., and the Okonite Co. or all its interest in Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. in three years.

The proposal also would prohibit LTV and its subsidiaries from taking part in "certain armament of inmates to watch over fellow convicts as "a capitalistic system with some of the worst features commonly attributed to Mafia techniques."

Details of such practices have scandalized the prisons since the fall of 1966. In January, 1968, three human skeletons were gouged from a damp pasture at Cummins. Former Supt. Thomas O. Murton said they were murdered under previous administrations.

Paid employees of the prison "are only nominally in charge of the situation," Henley said. "Trustys could take over in a moment."

Vote Harbinger Of Change Of Direction

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The modern civil rights movement, born in 1954 and nurtured by Congress and the courts, has suffered its first major setback in a Senate vote hailed by Southern leaders as the harbinger of "a change in direction."

It'll have to be done gradually, and with more consent on the part of the parents, black and white," Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., said of future school integration.

"We opened a new gateway," Stennis said. He credited growing Northern distaste for school integration as the primary factor in his 56 to 36 victory Wednesday. Stennis won with support from 11 Northern Democrats led by Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., and including Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont.

"There's a conservative movement under way in this country," warned Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., leader of the defeated Senate liberals. "There's a fear about being courageous on racial matters."

Mondale said Stennis' amendment would slow Southern integration rather than speed integration of Northern schools.

Significantly, debate during the final days included few of the fervent pleas for support of black aspirations that characterized Senate civil rights debates of the 1960s and '60s.

Even in endorsing a rival amendment over Stennis', the White House said it was doing so to "give validation to de facto segregation in the South in the same measure that it is constitutionally permissible in the rest of the country."

The rival was defeated, 48 to 46, with Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., turning florid as he thundered, "Amend for the Northern cities."

Arkansas Prison Farm Declared 'Cruel And Unconstitutional'

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—Ruling that mere confinement at the Arkansas Prison Farm was "cruel and unusual punishment," U.S. District Judge J. Smith Henley declared the state's prison system unconstitutional Wednesday and threatened to close it.

Henley ordered immediate action toward "overhaul" of the penitentiary and said it should be completed by mid-1971 when a maximum security unit is to be completed at Cummins Prison Farm.

"The start has got to be prompt," the judge said in a 44-page opinion. "The handwriting is on the wall and it ought not to require a Daniel to read it."

"Unless conditions at the penitentiary farms are brought up to a level of constitutional tolerability the farm can no longer be used for the confinement of convicts."

He ordered Correction Commissioner C. Robert Sarver and the Board of Correction to give him by April 1 a plan for the "overhaul."

He refused to rule unconstitutional the forced labor of inmates without compensation or use of armed trusty guards, but he had few good words for the system.

The judge characterized the arming of inmates to watch over fellow convicts as "a capitalistic system with some of the worst features commonly attributed to Mafia techniques."

Henley referred to extortion, forcible homosexual activity and liquor traffic as common at the prison.

Details of such practices have scandalized the prisons since the fall of 1966. In January, 1968, three human skeletons were gouged from a damp pasture at Cummins. Former Supt. Thomas O. Murton said they were murdered under previous administrations.

Southern Filibuster May Delay Civil Rights Role

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Southern filibuster may delay the Senate's consideration of two important civil rights matters—the voting rights extension and the Supreme Court nomination of G. Harrold Carswell.

During an acrimonious meeting of the Senate constitutional rights subcommittee Wednesday, Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., the chairman, said he would have "detailed comment" when the voting rights bill reaches the floor next week.

Since the voting rights bill is scheduled to reach the floor in advance of the Carswell nomination, Ervin's "detailed comment"—he did not use the word "filibuster"—would have the effect of delaying both.

The Judiciary Committee, which has considered the Carswell nomination for three weeks, is under a March 1 deadline to send a voting rights bill to the floor. Ervin's subcommittee has been unable to meet and now, with the deadline eight days away, he is angry.

The House has passed a bill sponsored by the Nixon administration. It would amend the present law which operates chiefly in Southern states to give blacks the protection of the federal government in securing their voting rights.

Under the Nixon revisions, blacks would have to sue in court if they thought local changes in voter qualification laws worked against them. Now Southern states must get prior approval of the Justice Department before changes in voting laws can become operative.

Civil rights advocates oppose the administration bill, because they said it would force long, drawn-out suits on blacks. They prefer a simple five year extension of the present law.

The Nixon measure also provides for uniform national qualifications for voting in presidential elections and for absentee voting in such elections. It also abolishes literacy as a qualification for voting.

Cutback Forces Amarillo Helium Plant To Close

AMARILLO (UPI)—A cutback in federal helium research, part of a cost reduction program, will close down the Amarillo Helium Plant, eliminating 130 jobs by June 30, it was announced Wednesday.

The annual payroll reduction will be about $1.3 million, according to Paul Mullins, general manager of helium activities. "The reductions will begin in about six weeks," he said, and are expected to be accomplished by the end of the fiscal year, June 30.

He said the Amarillo plant would be reduced to only a shipping point. Helium extraction and purification operations are being consolidated with the government's Exell plant about 30 miles north of Amarillo. Mullins said consolidating the plant's would save the government about $4.5 million a year.

Breaks Ice In City Council Race

The ice was broken today on filings for two city commission seats to be filled in the April 7 city election when Arthur J. Rohde, 56, a retired post office clerk, tossed his hat into the ring for Ward 4 city commissioner.

Rhode filed his papers of candidacy shortly before 11 a.m. with City Secretary Stanley M. Chittenden.

He is seeking the Ward 4 post now held by Clyde Carruth. Carruth will not be a candidate for re-election.

The other seat to be filled at the April 7 election will be in Ward 2, now held by Hugh Burdette. Burdette has not yet indicated whether he will seek re-election. Deadline for filing will be March 16.

Rohde, who retired from his post office job last year, resides at 912 S. Sumner.

Lubbock Incurs Costliest Fire

By MIKE WESTER
LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI)—James R. Landry, the manager of a warehouse destroyed in the costliest fire in Lubbock's history, said today he will operate at full strength in temporary headquarters across the street from his old fire-gutted building.

Officials hoped to begin investigations today into the fire. They wanted to learn whether an explosion caused Wednesday's blaze or whether the fire touched off the explosion.

The fire, which burned out of a control for 3 1/2 hours, caused smoke damage to buildings 1/2 miles away in the direction the wind was blowing. But a private residence, 100 feet away from the burning warehouse, was not damaged.

All Records Destroyed

First estimates placed the damage at between $3 million and $5 million. Landry said it may be "days or even weeks" before a closer estimate could be made since the fire destroyed all the records and the stock inventory lists.

Included in the loss, however, was the $500,000 building and a $1.5 million computer that was installed only a few days before the fire.

Landry said the warehouse would begin operations in a temporary building across the street from the old warehouse. He said it would take 30 days to get back in full operation.

The warehouse stored perishable foods, drugs and paper items. It was an independent warehouse not connected with any store chain.

Employees Keep Jobs

Landry said all 100 employ-who worked at the warehouse would keep their jobs and would begin with rebuilding the stock supply.

The gutted Maples-Planter warehouse was housed in the same building as the warehouse which supplies the White Swan food store chain. The two warehouses were separated, however, by a firewall.

George Ferguson, division manager of White Swan, said his 45,000 square foot warehouse suffered smoke and water damage and some minor damage when the fire came through an open door.

Ferguson said his employees would clean the warehouse today and begin loading trucks again Friday.

No one was killed or seriously injured in the fire. A few firemen underwent quick oxygen treatment for smoke inhalation. But no firemen were hospitalized.

Winds gusting to 10 miles an hour hampered the firemen. At one point the winds blew flames 100 feet into the air. Fireman said aerosol cans exploding because of the heat also hampered their operations.

The fire was reported at 5:45 a.m. Wednesday.

Gerald Sirpless, who lived in the resident 100 feet away, said an explosion shook his home early Wednesday morning.

"We kept hearing something crack and pop," Sirpless said. "At first we thought it was a train passing by. But then we looked out and saw the light. Immediately we knew it was a fire and the whole top of the building was blazing."

Prize-Winning Cattle Slated For Show Here
Two registered herds, both owned by members of the Top of Texas Hereford Breeders Association, won honors at the Dixie National Livestock Show in Jackson, Miss., this week.

The grand champion bull of the show was shown by Born and Sons, of Follett, while the grand champion female was entered by Breeding and Caldwell, of Miami.

The Dixie National is an official Register of Merit show.

Both firms will have cattle entered in the Top of Texas Hereford Breeders Show and Sale here March 9, 10, and 11.

Yard Fire Burns Fence
Police believe careless smokers who tossed a lighted cigarette were responsible for a yard fire at the home of Lowell Beckham, 2101 N. Russell, yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Beckham said the fire destroyed two tiers of the backyard fence.

District's Voc-Tech Request Unaffected By Nearby School

Possible establishment of a vocational-technical school at Amarillo would not affect Pampa School District's status in seeking a vocational-technical program for Pampa High School, according to Supt. Dr. James F. Malone.

Questioned today on the possibility of a technical training facility at Amarillo Air Force Base operated by Texas State Technical Institute, Dr. Malone said "that should not affect our request, because that's for students who have already graduated or who have dropped out of high school."

The Pampa program, to establish a comprehensive vocational-technical school on the high school level, has been approved except for matching funds. When funds are available, from Texas Education Agency to match the $80,000 approved by voters in the school district's 1969 bond issue, the program could be established, he said.

"We have been discouraged on matching funds for this school year, because the program is caught in the political switch from Democratic to Republican Party. The board may have to decide how long we can wait before we go ahead and use the $80,000 we have available locally from the bond issue," he said.

"If matching funds are released, we would have $160,000 to work with, and could be leaving money on the table if we go ahead. Right now, we are just waiting on word from the agency on matching fund status, but we do have an Occupational Advisory Committee working to study the community and school district's needs for vocational-technical training.

"Using the Amarillo base as a vocational-technical school will not hurt our program. I believe it would help those students who drop out of school, if it is established like James Connally Tech, because a dropout student would still be able to get his high school diploma and receive occupational training," Dr. Malone said.

Police Chief Receives Threat

ORANGE, Tex. (UPI) — An uncovered undercover agent has been placed under constant surveillance because of threats on his life.

Police Chief L. C. Jones said a member of his force masqueraded as a student to learn the identity of high school pupils involved in a dope ring. But the students learned who the undercover agent was and police had to rush their timetable.

Jones said Wednesday the identity of the undercover agent was withheld because of threats to his life. Jones said the agent was still a member of the force.

Five students were arrested and charged Tuesday as a result of the undercover investigation at Stark High School. Jones said the students came from prominent families and were between the ages of 15 and 18.

The students were released Wednesday on bond or in the custody of their parents.

The students were arrested at the high school and Jones said he has received numerous calls criticizing the police's actions.

School Supt. Tommy Huff said the arrested students did not go to school Wednesday as agreed upon between school officials and the parents. Huff said school action was pending the results of an independent investigation.

The police chief said the undercover agent learned a drug operation was headquartered in the neighborhood. He said the drugs were transported to the area by persons in the higher echelons of the operation than that to which the students belonged.

"The big ones got away but the students had learned the identity of our undercover man and we had to go ahead and make the arrests Tuesday," Jones said.

Speaker Gets Confidence Vote From Demos

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Speaker John W. McCormack, bolstered by a confidence vote from fellow Democrats, says his party is "in excellent shape in the House." But discontent continues to rumble.

At a caucus Wednesday, Democrats voted 192 to 23 to table a "no confidence" resolution directed by Rep. Jerome R. Waldie, D-Calif., at McCormack and other House Democratic leaders.

McCormack afterwards defended Waldie's right to ask "honest questions" about House and party procedures. "The Democratic party always has its differences of opinion but when election time rolls around we unite for the benefit of the people," McCormack said.

"I think the party is in excellent shape in the House." Still ahead, however, was a move by other youngish liberals to modify the seniority system, made almost sacred by tradition. Under it, committee chairmanships automatically go to majority party members with longest unbroken tenure.

For lack of time, the DSG plan did not come up at Wednesday's caucus, and its backers immediately filed a request for another caucus in the near future.

Highlights 'And Sidelights From The State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD

Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Tex. — A sharp cut in welfare and medical assistance payments, to be effective April 1, was announced by the State Board of Public Welfare.

Board said the unprecedented increase in assistance rolls, the decrease in federal medical aid funds and the constitutional spending ceiling required an average $11 a month cut in the Aid to Families with Dependent Children program and a 20 per cent slash in medical.

Board member Louis R. Sarazan of Fort Worth said there is no alternative.

Sarazan and board member W. Kendall Baker of Houston warned that further cuts may be in the offing before the end of the fiscal period next year.

Board ordered the lowering of AFDC payments from 75 per cent to 66 per cent of budget needs. Average AFDC family now draws $120.37 a month. Reduction would reduce this to $109.34.

Earliest and loudest protest came from Texas nursing home operators who claimed Medicaid outlay shrinkage would put 95 per cent of them out of business.

Texas Nursing Home Association termed the situation of "crisis" proportions and urged Gov. Preston Smith to take immediate action to summon lawmakers into special session for emergency aid appropriations.

Texas Medical Association

charged the federal government has "promised more than it can deliver" in the health care area and is, in effect, asking providers of services to take a loss.

LAND PROGRAM FOLDS—Texas' 20-year-old veterans land program has folded. Through it more than 41,000 Texas veterans had purchased land under low interest, long-term-pay provisions. It was a victim of high interest rates.

Veterans land board said that since the prime interest rate has been raised to eight and a half per cent, veterans' bonds, with a constitutional four and a half per cent ceiling, simply could not continue to attract investor capital.

More than 1,000 applications on file will be processed, but no more can be accepted until the interest rate binds easier.

COURTS SPEAK—An insurance company can be required to foot the damage bill for accidents that occur before a policy is actually written—if the contract already had been made without either applicant or company knowing of a loss, or an impending loss—the Supreme Court has held.

Supreme Court told a Dallas trial court that it should not have granted summary judgment against a couple suing General Motors Corporation on a claim that a faulty balljoint unit on a pickup truck caused an accident in which a woman was injured. Trial court held there was no defect.

In a divided verdict, the High Court held that Austin contractors cannot collect another $17,000 which all parties agreed is due them over and above the $864,000 contract for library and science building additions at Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos.

Third Court or Civil Appeals held fast on its January 21 ruling invalidating the Alcoholic Beverage Commission's proposed tough rules for private drinking clubs, including guest care restrictions.

ANTIQUITIES RULES—State Antiquities Committee, charged with regulating those who dig for historic treasures in the state, has set its rules and issued its first permit.

Rules require that any person or group seeking to excavate or salvage an archeological or historical site obtain a permit from the Committee. Supervision by a trained archeologist, recording and publication of results and a scientific manner of working are the major points stressed in the rule.

Committee deleted from its rules a proposal that beachcombers and arrowhead hunters would have to get state permits. They will, however, be required to make reports on their discoveries. Explorers would be required to stop work immediately once a permit is cancelled.

First permit went to the Lower Plains Archeological Society for a salvage project at Big Spring, West Texas State University has agreed to sponsor the project.

APPOINTMENTS—Marvin Shurtet of Petersburg was named chairman of Texas Water Development Board by Governor Smith.

Smith also announced these recent appointments:

Texas Tourist Development Board—Charles Horan Jr. of Fort Worth.

Texas Library and Historical Commission—William H. Gardner of Houston (reappointment) and Frank Prescott Horlock Jr. of Houston.

Texas Turnpike Authority—John P. Thompson of Dallas (reappointment) and Albert Williamson Rollins of Arlington.

Texas Mass Transportation Commission—R. C. Jordan of Amarillo, Joe Lewis of Waco, Clyde Rice Malone of Austin, Dale Reiser of El Paso, James W. Keay of Dallas and Eugene Maier of Houston.

Texas Conservation Foundation—Reagan B. Cates of Victoria, Charles Schreiner of Kerrville, Edo J. Urbanovsky of Lubbock, Glenn Biggs of Austin, Michael Giles Rutherford of Houston, Harry Lee Tension of Fort Worth, William James Hendrickson of Wichita Falls, Ralph D. Churchill of Dallas and Jack Stone of Wells.

Southern Interstate Nuclear Board—Howard R. Drew of Fort Worth.

Lower Concho River Water and Soil Conservation Authority—Joe Breisig of Paint Rock, William Robert Loveless of Eden (reappointments) and Floyd Franke of Millersview.

Dr. Jimmy Allen of San Antonio, Harris County District Atty. Carol Vance and Dr. Nolan Estes of Dallas were named by Lt. Gov. Ben Earnest to Crime and Narcotics Advisory Commission.

COLLEGE MONEY—Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System has voted to cut back on requests for increased higher education funds.

Board adopted a four per cent faculty salary increase for the 1972-73 biennium. But this was below the 7.9 per cent increase recommended by the Board's staff and the 8.1 per cent increase requested by the institutions.

Staff asked for $206.3 million more for state senior colleges over the biennium, apart from salary increases. Board approved $166.8 million in additional funds.

STATE KINDERGARTEN—Texas Education Agency has begun working out the details of setting up state-supported kindergarten programs in all Texas public schools. Last Legislature authorized implementation of the program in a stair-step approach over the next seven years, with underprivileged children having first chance.

TEA said the major problem is finding 1,500 kindergarten teachers for the 1970-71 school year and 7,000 teachers by 1977-78. They estimate it will cost the state $10 million the first year to implement the program.

JOB PROJECT LAUNCHED—New public service careers project seeks to open job opportunities in government to disadvantaged Texans and upgrade skills of state employees.

Governor Smith asked 12 key state agencies to cooperate, emphasizing a mutual policy of non-discrimination regardless of racial backgrounds or sex.

U.S. Department of Labor training funds are sought for Texas.

Smith expressed concern that over one fourth of the state's employees are separated from their jobs each year, while the positions remain vacant for months and half a million Texans seek work opportunities.

DEMOS TO MEET—State Democratic Executive Committee will meet in San Antonio March 9 to certify names of statewide candidates for the May 2 primary ballot.

Committee will also:

Decide the hour and place of the September 15 Democratic state convention.

Establish a ratio for the number of delegates from each county or senatorial district convention to the state convention.

Select site and hour for a May 12 SDEC meeting to canvass the first primary results and consider any other business.

SHORT SNORTS—Texas Restaurant Association has dropped the name "waitress" from its vocabulary and designated 1970 as the year of the "sales hostess".

Texas Education Agency received a $52,000 federal highway safety grant for evaluation study of driver education programs.

Former House Speaker James A. Turman of Gober took over as statewide campaign manager for U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough.

Interim Committee on Natural Fibers and Textile Development targeted an added billion dollars in new Texas economic activity from fibers (cotton, wool and mohair).

Houston was called on by the Texas Water Quality Board to explain why its sewage treatment quality is not up to the conditions of its permit.

New cigarette tax increase provided $3.1 million more last month than in January, 1969.

Texas Consumer Credit Commissioner Frank Miskell will keep his $30,000-a-year job following the unanimous rejection of his resignation by the State Finance Commission.

SIX RESCUED
BREST, France (UPI)—The Liberian freighter Nicolas P. sprang a leak and sank in the Gulf of Gascogne Wednesday with six of its crew and several sailors from the tugboat Arctic. The Arctic's men had boarded the Nicolas P. to try to rescue its crew when the Liberian vessel sank. Six of the Nicolas P's crew were rescued.

Wall Street Chatter

Selling pressure since the first of the year has not been as severe as it was when the market's successive lows were made in 1969, but the willingness to buy on weakness constantly has deteriorated, W. E. Hutton & Co. says. Part of the decline in demand is traceable to the uniform bad experiences investors have had with stocks for the past year or so, but there are other deterrents. One is the gradual dawning of the idea that not something temporary. An historically interest rates are other is that inflation has ceased to produce higher and higher profits because it has produced higher and higher costs. Another is that the next bull market will be "an entirely new ball game with new players, new fans, and new bats and new balls," the firm says.

A period like the present, when news is unsettling, and many investors are sitting on their hands waiting for a clear sign that stock prices are ready to trend upward again, may be a period of investment opportunity.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Now that Alvin is retired, he's at home all day, but that's not my problem. There is a young woman who rents the apartment directly across the hall from us, and her claim to fame is that she is "44-34-42" — or something like that.

DEAR ABBY: My dearest friend whom I love very, very much is addicted to diet pills and sleeping pills. She goes to two different doctors and gets prescriptions from each.

NAMELESS FRIEND: DEAR FRIEND: Tell your friend that you will give her three days in which to tell her doctor, and if she does not tell him, you will, because you love her too much to stand idly by.

ALVIN'S WIFE: DEAR WIFE: I suggest you forget it. Your locked-out neighbor was probably more embarrassed than Alvin.

Low-calorie apple mousse.

Chocolate Apple Mousse Offers Low Calorie Idea

Low-calorie fruits and syrups have helped bring dessert within the reach of every dieter today. Often desserts that look so high in calories actually belong in low-calorie brackets. Here's one that looks rich, yet it's a blend of ingredients that produce only about 66 calories per serving. This Chocolate Apple Mousse relies on low-calorie canned applesauce combined with another low-calorie specialty, chocolate topping.

LOW-CALORIE CHOCOLATE APPLE MOUSSE
1 can (1 lb.) low-calorie applesauce

1 cup low-calorie chocolate topping
1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
1/4 cup water
3 egg whites, stiffly beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
3 marshmallows, cut into halves.

Combine applesauce and chocolate syrup. Soak gelatin in water for five minutes. Place gelatin mixture over low heat and stir until dissolved. Stir into applesauce mixture. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in egg whites and vanilla. Spoon into sherbet glasses.

MAIN COURSE IDEA

Shorten All-Day Cooking Time To Half-Hour With Soup Recipe

OAK BROOK, ILL. (Spl) — a main course for a cool weather meal. Flavor differences can be achieved by using smoke flavored bacon 'n sausage, or regular brown 'n serve sausage. An eight-ounce package of sausage is the meat of the meal. Only a tossed green salad or cole slaw and thick slices of toasted French bread are needed to complete the meal.

QUICK SAUSAGE POTATO SOUP
Yield: 5 servings (1 cup each)
1 package brown 'n serve sausage links
1/2 cup chopped onion

1/2 cup sliced celery
1 package scalloped potato mix
2 cups water
2 cans (10-1/2 ounces each) cream of celery soup
1 cup milk

In a 3-quart saucepan or Dutch oven, brown sausage links according to package directions. Remove sausage. Drain on absorbent paper. Sauté onion and celery in sausage drippings until tender. Add dehydrated sliced potatoes, if needed, reserving seasoning mix. Add water. Cover. Simmer 20 minutes until potatoes are tender. Slice sausage links into Penny-size pieces. Add cream of celery soup, milk, seasoning mix, and sausage to potato mixture. Blend to smooth consistency. Heat to serving temperature, approximately 8 minutes, adding additional milk.

Two medium, fresh potatoes pared and diced may be used in place of the dehydrated potatoes. Follow same directions omitting the 1 cup milk and adding 1 cup grated Cheddar cheese when the sausage is added.

Short ribs a la bistro pleases male tastes.

Add Variety, Economy To Menu With Short Ribs Cooked In Oven

Short ribs of beef are versatile and economical cuts that have a hearty beef flavor. These may be barbecued or baked when a meat tenderizer is used.

A special, substantial dish for masculine tastes is short ribs a la bistro. The ribs are cooked in a Dutch oven, well-seasoned with tomato sauce with tomato bits, wine and herbs. Serve with boiled potatoes and a green salad.

SHORT RIBS A LA BISTRO

- 6 large, meaty short ribs
- instant meat tenderizer
- 2 cans (8 oz. each) tomato sauce with tomato bits
- 1/2 cup water
- 1/2 cup dry red wine (optional)
- 1 medium onion, thinly sliced

1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon basil
1 bay leaf
3 tablespoons flour
minced parsley

Sprinkle short ribs with meat tenderizer as label directs. In Dutch oven, brown ribs well on all sides. Add tomato sauce with tomato bits, water, wine, onion, salt, basil and bay leaf. Simmer, covered, until meat is tender (about 1 1/2 hours). Remove meat to warm platter and keep hot. Remove bay leaf and skim fat from sauce. Blend flour with 1/2-cup cold water; stir into sauce. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Spoon some sauce over meat; pour rest into sauce boat to pass at table. Sprinkle ribs with parsley. (Makes 6 servings).

Pro Golf Tour Trots Over Texas Fairways

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—The golfing tour, minus many of the game's glamour names, trots into Texas today for the first time this year for the $100,000 San Antonio Open.

That makes things just that much easier, however, for the season's surprise top money collector—Pete Brown.

Brown, winner of the San Diego Open earlier in the year, has already won 50 per cent more money in a month and a half of 1970 than he did in all of 1969.

The $31,871 he pocketed in the six tournaments of this year puts him more than $4,000 ahead of second-place Lee Trevino.

Although the tour's top two money winners will be present this week to test the winter-brown fairways of the 7,000-yard, par 35-35-70 Pecan Valley Country Club layout, only two other members of the top ten on the money list—No. 3 Bob Lunn and No. 10 Dave Hill will be in San Antonio.

That leaves the tournament without the likes of Billy Casper, Gene Littler, Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer or Julius Brees.

Doug Sanders and Dale Douglass, the No. 7 money winner, also have withdrawn because of similar wrist injuries.

Royal Joins Pro-Am San Antonio Open

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—Darrell Royal, coach of the No. 1 college football team in the country last year, coached the No. 30 team in the San Antonio Open Pro-Amateur Golf Tournament Wednesday.

"I've only played golf two times since the football season ended," Royal said, and then went out and shot an 81 over the par-70 Pecan Valley Country Club course.

He was paired with professional Al Geiberger and two other amateur golfers from San Antonio. They had a best ball of 64, nine strokes behind the winning team headed by Jack Ewing.

There was none of the pressure on Royal Wednesday that had been there during the climactic games against Arkansas and Notre Dame.

But there was no shortage of "Royalsms."

"They give me an eight handicap, and that is not way enough," he said. "I'll probably get three or four pars at the most." He wound up with eight pars.

Taking as much time over his shots as Julius Boro, Royal rambled in a par on the first hole, but then suffered a double bogey and four straight bogeys before registering five straight pars.

On the eighth hole he drilled his tee shot into the woods, it hit a tree and bounced neatly back in the fairway.

"You have to expect something to happen every now and then," he said. "If you can't play good you have to get lucky."

On the long par-4 ninth Royal sliced his tee shot into the tenth fairway, hit a low three wood through a group of spectators, chipped over a mound to within six feet and sank his putt for the par.

"That's always the way I play the ninth hole," he said. At the 16th, a par-3 affair, Royal gave one of his amateur partners some advice.

"Don't hit that six-iron," he said. "I could hit the green with a soggy newspaper. Hit a seven-iron."

His partner took his advice and shanked his shot into a tree.

"Oh well," Royal said. "At least when I give advice on the golf course no one holds me to it."

The post-season banquet circuit has kept Royal off the golf course. But he said that is going to change. He already has a match lined up with his football and golf rival—Arkansas coach Frank Broyles.

"We plan to get together three or four days for the Masters," Royal said. "And I imagine we will play some then."

Boro won over this course in 1968 when it hosted the PGA championship. But the long, narrow layout will bear little resemblance to the one that tested the world's best golfers two years ago.

Not only are the fairways brown with a layer of dead winter grass, but there is not a leaf on any of the hundreds of mesquite trees that line the course. That gives the rolling course a rather somber appearance, and the cloudy and cool weather expected for the opening round will not brighten things any.

But that will still be better than the conditions which greeted the golfers a year ago in this tournament.

The opening round began under a tornado alert, and at noon a black cloud swept the course cutting visibility to 50 yards. Giant hailstones fell, an inch of rain came down in 30 minutes, and winds blew down a television tower.

No one was injured, but to a man the golfers who were playing at the time said it was the most violent storm ever to strike a golf course while a tournament was in progress.

Tournament officials accepted winter dates this year, rather than have no tournament at all. The San Antonio tournament's spot in the spring tour was filled during the squabble last year between the PGA and the Players Association.

Grand Jury Clears McLain Jury Not All In—Kuhn Next

NEW YORK (UPI)—Donny McLain stood cleared by a U.S. grand jury today leaving his future in the hands of Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn.

The 25-year-old Detroit Tiger pitcher was not charged and was declared "free to go as he pleases" Wednesday after voluntarily testifying before a special U.S. grand jury in Detroit which is investigating an alleged nationwide sports betting ring.

"I know of no reason for McLain not to show up for spring training on Friday," said James Brickley, U.S. attorney for Eastern Michigan, after McLain's testimony. McLain is scheduled to report to spring training along with the other Tiger pitchers and catchers in Lakeland, Fla., Friday.

In New York, however, Commissioner Kuhn refused to maintain a discreet silence to give McLain a clean bill of health as far as baseball is concerned. That silence led many baseball executives to suspect that Kuhn, using the precedent of Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis' 1921 decision barring eight Chicago White Sox players from baseball for life, might take disciplinary action against the pitcher.

"Regardless of the verdict of juries," said Landis in the same night the players were acquitted, "no player who throws a ball game, no player that undertakes or promises to throw a ball game, no player that sits in conference with a bunch of crooked players and gamblers where the ways and means of throwing a game are discussed and does not promptly tell his club about it, will ever play professional baseball again."

One factor that could sway Kuhn from following Landis' precedent is that McLain has not been accused of being involved in any allegedly thrown games.

Brickley said McLain was "very cooperative" with U.S. Assistant Attorney James Ritchie and the grand jury in Wednesday's appearance. The 23-member federal panel has been hearing testimony from sports figures and gamblers about an alleged nationwide betting ring that came to light New Year's Day.

Shula Shifts To Coach Miami

MIAMI (UPI)—The Miami Dolphins went to the Baltimore Colts to get Don Shula to replace George Wilson as head coach, but they had to give him a "substantial" chunk of the ball club to do it.

Shula said he "would not be truthful" if he didn't admit that financial considerations had a great deal to do with leaving the head coaching job at Baltimore to be vice president and coach of the Dolphins.

Exact terms of the contract were not disclosed other than mention that "substantial ownership" went with the coaching job. But it was reported to be a five-year, $70,000 contract which would total more than a half-million dollars.

"I think this is a tremendous opportunity for me to continue to coach and also to become active in ownership—something I've always wanted to do," Shula said.

The ownership clause puts Shula's contract in a class with those of Washington Redskins' Vince Lombardi and the Washington Senators' Ted Williams. Both were lured to their jobs with part ownership offers.

Under the merger of the American and National football leagues, both Baltimore and Miami will be members of the Eastern Division of the American Conference of the NFL.

"I look forward to the intense rivalry this engenders with the Baltimore Colts," said Dolphin managing partner Joe R. Bole. The Colts will play one exhibition game in Miami and the teams meet in two regular season contests on a home and home basis.

Shula said he regretted replacing Wilson, under whom he served from 1959-62 as an assistant coach for the Detroit Lions.

Sports Summary

OTTAWA (UPI)—Boston Bruins defenseman Ted Green is completely recovered from head injuries suffered in his stick-swinging fight with Wayne Maki, but he will have a plate implanted in his skull in minor surgery Friday for protective purposes.

Green's doctor, neurosurgeon Dr. Michael T. Richard, said Wednesday news reports mentioning a steel plate being set in the hockey player's skull after the fight last Sept. 21 were "invented."

"There has been no plate in his skull, but we are going to put one in there, for protective purposes, in the operation on Friday," said Dr. Richard. He said he had not decided whether the plate to be used will be steel or plastic. It will replace the piece of skullbone broken by Maki's stick and removed during subsequent surgery.

OAKLAND (UPI)—The Oakland A's, who open their spring training camp at Mesa, Ariz., Friday, number only 23 players under contract today, and among the missing are Reggie Jackson, Rick Monday and Sal Bando, the club's top hitters.

Celso, of Santo Domingo, hit .274 at Peninsula of the Carolina League last season. Schuchter, of Phoenix, is considered one of the most exciting fielders in the organization, Richardson said.

Armbrester, a native of Nassau, the Bahamas, posted a .271 average at Peninsula last season and again exhibited the skilled base running that has given him 61 stolen bases in two years.

Pampa Cagers Face Coronado Here

By JIM BURNHAM
 News Sports Correspondent

Tomorrow night the Harvesters will play host to the Coronado Mustangs. With three straight wins behind them, the Harvesters will be trying for four in a row.

The Mustangs, tied with Pampa's 3-4 district standing, upset Berger Tuesday night 61-60. Berger hitherto had been undefeated in the second half of play. It was Berger's fifth loss this year.

Coronado galloped past Pampa 55-45 Jan. 20 at Lubbock. In that contest, only one Pampa cager, Jim Gallman, had a score in double figures. He had 12 points. Pampa had an overall bad night, shooting only 41 per cent from the field.

Pampa has been averaging better than 46 per cent for the season.

Pampa, with a 12-14 season and a 3-4 district mark, has won three straight, starting with a win over Caprock, and working its way through Tascosa and to the Lubbock Westerners Tuesday.

The Harvesters put down a late rally from the Westerners to end the contest Tuesday night with a 70-62 victory.

Gallman scored 25 for Pampa and raised his district average to 19.4 points. Sophomore Mike Edgar pumped in 19 for a strong second to Gallman.

Coronado is 8-21 for their season, next to the lowest in the 4-AAA district.

South Just Beats North In Carolina Cage Action

By United Press International

The third-ranked South Carolina Gamecocks waste away a nine-point halftime lead Wednesday night, but managed to hang on for a 71-69 victory over eighth-ranked North Carolina State behind the shooting and ball handling of John Roche.

Roche scored 36 points and took charge of controlling the ball late in the game as South Carolina remained unbeaten in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Giant Artis Gilmore and substitute Chip Dublin provided the offensive punch for straitlaced Jacksonville to score an 83-81 revenge victory over No. 11 Florida State. Gilmore blocked eight shots, got 21 rebounds and scored 19 points, and Dublin came off the bench to get nine of his points and give the Dolphins a 40-23 lead in the first half.

The Seminoles handed Jacksonville its only defeat 89-83 last month.

In other games involving the top ten, Rice University scored 32 points and got 13 rebounds to lead Duke to a 79-76 overtime victory over 10th-ranked Davidson and No. 4 St. Bonaventure got only 16 points from Bob Lanier but still crushed St. Francis of New York, 87-57.

Elsewhere, 13th-ranked North Carolina defeated Maryland 90-83, LSU (Pete Maravich 37 points) beat Georgia, 86-86, West Virginia edged Penn State, 55-57.

Hawks Widen Western Lead

By United Press International

The Atlanta Hawks are getting a little help from their Eastern frien in their bid for the National Basketball Association's Western title.

The top three teams in the West took on Eastern rivals Wednesday night, and only the division-leading Hawks managed to win. Atlanta beat the Cincinnati Royals, 139-125, in overtime, while the Baltimore Bullets defeated the Los Angeles Lakers, 117-105, and the Boston Celtics edged the Phoenix Suns, 116-113.

In two other games, Milwaukee defeated San Francisco, 109-102, and San Diego beat Seattle, 122-119.

Joe Caldwell pumped in 41 points and Lou Hudson added 25 to provide the Hawks with the fourth victory in their last five games. The victory put Atlanta a 2 1/2 games ahead of Los Angeles and 8 1/2 in front of both Phoenix and idle Chicago.

One factor that could sway Kuhn from following Landis' precedent is that McLain has not been accused of being involved in any allegedly thrown games.

Brickley said McLain was "very cooperative" with U.S. Assistant Attorney James Ritchie and the grand jury in Wednesday's appearance. The 23-member federal panel has been hearing testimony from sports figures and gamblers about an alleged nationwide betting ring that came to light New Year's Day.

MVC Representatives To Tour West Texas State University

CANYON, Tex. (UPI)—Representatives of the Missouri Valley Basketball Conference are scheduled to visit West Texas State University this month to evaluate the school as a potential conference member.

Dr. James P. Cornette, president of WTSU, said Wednesday the conference representatives will review the school's academic and athletic facilities Feb. 28.

An MVC official said no decision on WTSU's entry will be reached before the next conference meeting in May in Des Moines, Iowa.

The WTSU Buffaloes have been an NCAA independent since the Border Conference was dissolved in 1962.

DIMAGGIO served Finley as a vice president and coach the last two years, then decided not to renew his contract.

"I didn't like all that traveling," DIMAGGIO said at the time.

Now, though, he will join the A's in their spring training camp at Mesa, Ariz., Friday and will stay with the club until the regular American League season gets under way.

"I'll work in every phase of the game but only 1/2 the duration of spring training," Joe said. "This was by my own request and Charlie agreed."

There is speculation that DIMAGGIO, a member of baseball's Hall of Fame, soon will join Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn as a special aide.

Joe refused comment on his future plans, except to say that he wants to devote more time to business interests.

Rockets Gain First Place In ABA West Div.

By United Press International

The miracle came true for the Denver Rockets Wednesday night when they took over first place in the Western Division for the most amazing comeback in the brief history of the American Basketball Association.

The Rockets were last with a 9-19 record when they got Joe Belmont to take over as coach two months ago. Since making the change Denver has rolled up a 23-4 record.

Rookie Spencer Haywood, the league's top scorer, got 31 points and veteran Larry Jones added 28 to make the miracle happen with a 118-107 victory over the Los Angeles Stars. The win enabled Denver to move a half game ahead of idle New Orleans with a 32-28 record and 5 1/2 points.

The Rockets jumped off to a 37-24 lead in the first quarter, hitting 17 of 19 field goal tries, but Los Angeles rallied behind George Stone and Mack Calvin to cut the lead to 59-53 at halftime. The Stars cut Denver's lead to two points 86-84 in the third period, but Jones got 14 of his points in the final 12 minutes to ensure the victory.

In the only other ABA game Wednesday night, Billy Melchionni, who scored only five points in regulation play, accounted for baskets on two fast breaks and set up another in overtime to give the New York Nets a 116-110 victory over the Pittsburgh Pipers.

New York took a 102-90 lead with 13 seconds left, but George Thompson scored a three-point field goal with four seconds remaining to throw the game into overtime. Melchionni scored four points and set up Levern Tart for two more in the first 90 seconds of the overtime, and the outcome was never again in doubt.

Tart got 33 points to be high scorer for New York, which got its 10th victory in the last 13 games.

DALLAS (UPI)—The Dallas Cowboys announced Wednesday the signing of their third round draft choice, Denton Fox of Texas Tech.

'Power Back To The People'

"Nixon and his 'lying White House' toured the Midwest, seeking to learn what the people in the heartland think about crime, pollution and urban problems. In what the President called a series of 'historic, unprecedented meetings,' Nixon and much of his Cabinet conferred in Indianapolis with mayors of nine medium size cities throughout the nation. Then the Nixon party flew to Chicago for meetings with Midwest governors. Let's get the power back to the people," the President said.

But actions speak louder than words, the saying goes. Contradicting the President's words were the following items on the same front page:

"An attack on consumer frauds was mounted by Caspar W. Weinberger, recently chosen by President Nixon to head and strengthen the FTC. He said the agency's 11 regional field offices will get consumer advisory boards composed of governmental and private representatives who will strive to eliminate consumer abuses."

"Attorney General Mitchell denied that the Justice Department tried to interfere with freedom of the press when it subpoenaed reporters' notes and unused television news film."

"Uniformity spreads in the White House. Waiters in the mess have been issued red sport coats bearing the presidential seal. Earlier trend-setters: the new formal wear for the White House police, flight jackets for staffers traveling on the President's plane. An insider wonders if all White House aides will be next to suit up."

"Commerce Secretary Stans with some White House help, shooed down the Council of Economic Advisers' scheme for loosening present voluntary

Way To Bridge The Gap

Sometimes, we older members of the just-passed generation wonder what's happening to our young.

They don't conform to the ways and things that we used to conform to. They wear their hair long, their skirts short and don't "dig" what once was dug. In short, they aren't following their leaders.

Maybe we ought to give them a little more attention. Look through their talk and their dress, maybe, and see what is going on in their hearts. Give 'em a chance. Go as far as you can go.

That seems to be what Landrum R. Bolling, president of Earlham College, Richmond, Ind., is saying in a recent issue of the Earhamite, via the Wall Street Journal.

Here is what he had to say: "For some time now I have been compiling my own secret set of rules on How to Survive and Be Happy Though Surrounded by College Students. I pass them on to the Earham alumni family, not as an infallible guide, but as a set of suggestions for the preservation of civility and sanity. Here they are:

"1. Listen. You won't learn much from young people if you do all the talking. You'll be surprised at how much sense they talk, however senseless they may look.

"2. Keep smiling. A large percentage of us of the older generation unconsciously or deliberately glare, sneer or frown when we look at college students. Most of them are remarkably perceptive; they know when we're hostile. It is difficult for most people, young or old, to communicate with others who are clearly antagonistic.

"3. Do not ask them why they look the way they do. If they can't explain it to their parents, they can't explain it

Seniority Bunk Is Just Bunk

By BILL KENNEDY

Ain't it fun to have one Alabama senator in Washington who speaks for the people back home instead of pimping for the National Democratic Party? And wouldn't it be nice if we had two of them?

Freshman Senator James Allen hasn't won many battles for us; nobody else has won one for a Deep South state lately either. But in his dealings with the "Washington Crowd" he has certainly been on Alabama's side of just about every question. He may have stepped off on the wrong side of some issues I do not know about, but I think he has voted the way the majority of the state's voters would want him to on just about every roll call.

And he has not "shut up and sat down" the way Washington wants freshmen senators to do during their first terms. On the contrary Allen has sounded off loud and clear on almost all the issues that importantly affect our state and nation. All of which debunks the claim by professional senators running for reelection that "seniority" is so all-fired important. The old pros in the U.S. Senate and House would have us believe that "seniority" is sacred. If you listen long enough, they will convince you that, after you have been there awhile, your vote counts for a lot more than that of a freshman; while the truth of the matter is, a first-term senator's vote is counted the same number of times as a "senior" senator.

All they are really saying is, "If you send me back to Washington enough times, I'll outlive some other old goat and get to be chairman of this or that committee. Look what the States of Louisiana, Mississippi, Georgia, South Carolina and Alabama during this past year." If those important committee chairmen from the South COULD do so much for us, they certainly should be fired by the voters, because they have not done it.

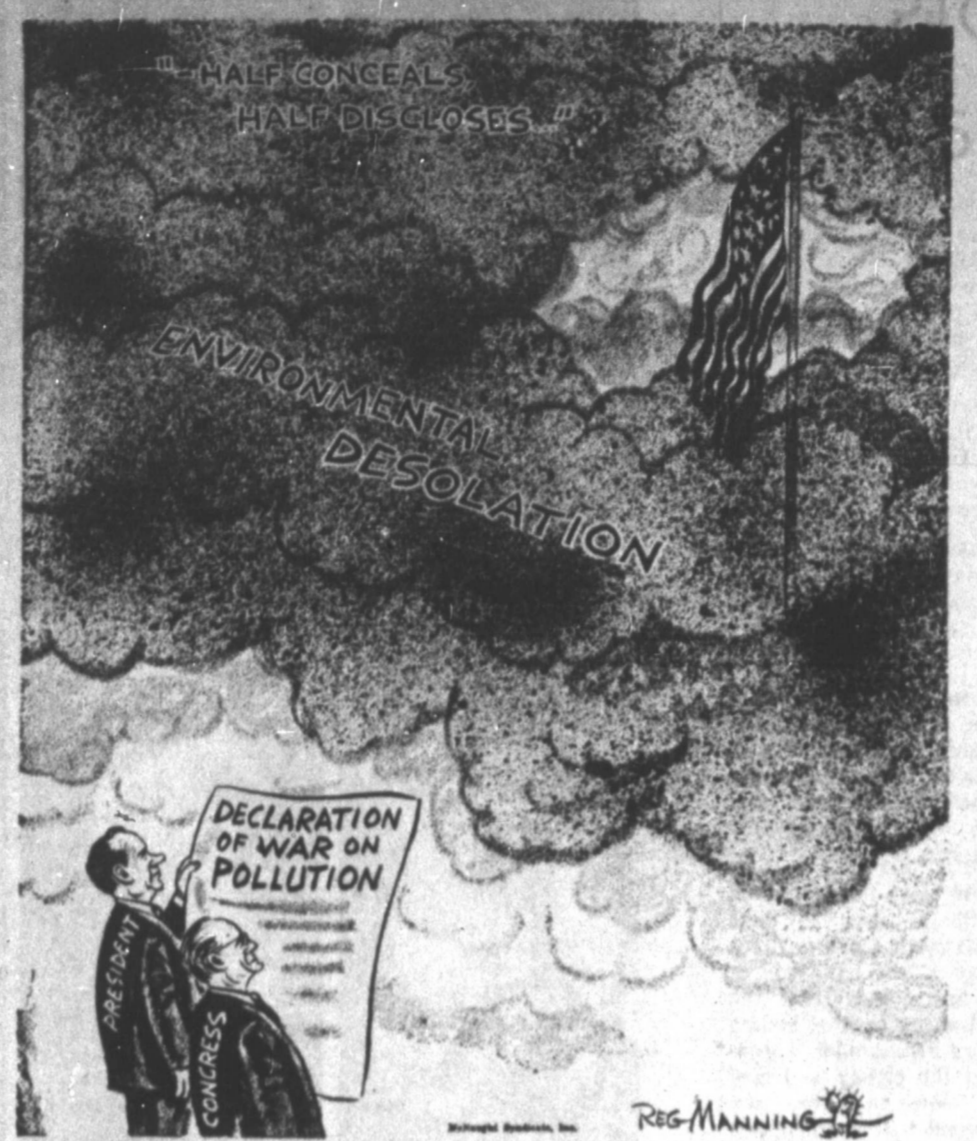

Two of my least favorite southern senators, Gore of Tennessee and Sparkman of Alabama have been getting reelected for several terms now on that old battle cry of "seniority." That's mainly because this is all they had to run on back home; they had followed the national party line in Washington against the best interest AND THE WISHES of a majority of their constituents in the two states. Yet the voters swallow all this malarky time after time and they get sent right back to join what Senator Allen calls the "Washington Crowd." And they will probably survive with the same old trick again. Lister Hill got away with it in Alabama until he was too "senior" to run again.

It is not true that "seniority" makes a senator. Many other things do. Robert Kennedy was one of the most influential men in Washington—AS A FRESHMAN. I have long been of a mind that no man should be permitted to make a career of lawmaking. A man who packs his belongings and his family and moves to Washington to live out his life never expects to come back home and live with what he has done.

The only way to remedy this is to limit the number of terms a congressman or senator can serve. If there were a limit of one term only, we just might get somebody besides a professional politician to run for the office.

STRAIGHT TALK

Morality And Education

By TOM ANDERSON

JUPITER INLET, Fla.—I read in the paper that it's going to be chic this year to have babies out of wedlock. Vanessa Redgrave and Mia Farrow are both farrowing bastards this year. And so are 300,000 other American mothers. I suppose that's an all-time high — or low, depending on how you look at it. For many years, several hundred thousand illegitimate parents in this country have given birth to children, but this is the first time any ever bragged about it — except those who are breeding for a government check, of course. This is a further step in the "emancipation" of women. (Prostitutes are even more "emancipated" — they do it for profit.)

Some squares still think, however, that it is not necessary to become a prostitute to become emancipated. And the more thoughtful realize that man will not continue to marry and make a house for such women. Why should he? And so, the State takes over both mother and children — and the rest of us — which is exactly what the amoral collectivists, who are taking over us and the world, want. Freedom cannot live after the family as we know it is dead. Freedom cannot outlive morality.

Once again J. Edgar Hoover warns that the nation's high schools are being targeted for attack by the New Left. And once again the same people who tread anarchy, insurrection and treason could never flower and flourish in America's colleges say: "It can't happen here!" But it is here, and in our high schools.

So you don't have any children of high school age? Neither did thousands of enslaved Cubans, who right up to the very end scoffed at talk of "enslavement." Virtually all of the Liberals, including the New York Times' Herbert L. Matthews and the Cox's newspapers' Ralph McGill had assured them that Castro was no Communist, but was the George Washington of Cuba.

The latest "Black Manifesto" was decreed not by James Forman but by three federal judges who ordered the Federal Government to quit giving tax exemptions to white private schools and to the money donated to them. To be consistent, these politicians in judicial robes would have to rule against virtually all tax exemptions, for the fact is that about 99-44 — 100 of the clubs, businesses, homes and individuals in this country — probably including the three alleged judges — discriminate daily in their homes, play and work, on the basis of race, creed, color.

An alleged humorist who writes an unsigned column of pick-ups called "Potomac Fever" says, "Les Maddox calls for a mass boycott of Georgia's public schools. After all, why should he be the only one around with a fifth grade education? Well, just a few years ago we also had to endure the "uneducated" Winston Churchill. And, of course, there was Abraham Lincoln who popped out in the third grade, I believe.

Formal education, particularly government schools (formerly known as public schools), is the most over-rated thing since John Kennedy.

Governor Lester Maddox, school or no school, is an educated Christian gentleman and that's probably more than can be said for the "writer" who collects "Potomac Fever," although I don't know him.

How could I? His column is anonymous. I don't know whether it's because he lacks the courage to sign it, whether he can't write his name or whether he's afraid of being sued for Plagiarism.

President Nixon pointed to the effete snobs and told Spiro Agnew "Let's you and them fight."

The Doctor Says

By DR. W. G. BRANDSTADT

Abnormal Palm Lines No Indication of Disease

A mother writes that her infant son appears to be healthy and strong but that he has a so-called simian crease on his right palm. His left palm is normal. Having heard various rumors, she is concerned about the possible significance of this.

In normal palms, what the palmists call the head line and the heart line, although separate and distinct, do not extend across the entire palm. In many, but not all, victims of mongolism, these lines may be replaced by a single line that does traverse the whole palm. This is the simian crease. This and other abnormal lines are also seen in some children with leukemia and those with defects due to German measles in the mother during pregnancy. Incidentally, mongoloid children are highly susceptible to leukemia.

Since abnormal palm lines are also seen in a small proportion of normal children, they are not a positive indication of any disease. They should, however, cause your doctor to be on the alert for early signs of mongolism or leukemia.

Q — My 4-month-old daughter's right arm and leg are much larger than her left. Our doctor calls this localized gigantism. He says that it is rare and that nothing can be done for it. What do you think?

A — This developmental abnormality, sometimes called hemihypertrophy, is indeed rare. For some unknown reason, the victim is usually a girl. The difference between the two sides often becomes less as the child grows older. When the difference is great surgical repair is recommended. This is done in multiple stages and should be started before the child reaches school age.

Q — When my granddaughter was a baby, the doctor told us to have her lie on her stomach as this would help her to burp. I believe that, when babies sleep on their stomachs, they breathe the same air over and over and that this results in a lack of sufficient oxygen for the brain. Now she is mentally retarded and I blame the doctor.

A — Sleeping on the stomach is the preferred position because, if an infant spits up any food, she will not inhale it and have a fit of choking, which might lead to aspiration pneumonia or a lung abscess. There is no danger of her not getting enough oxygen this way. There are many causes of mental retardation but sleeping on the stomach is not one of them.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

House Probers Ready To Study My Lai Incident

WASHINGTON — The special House Armed Services Subcommittee is all set to launch its probe of the alleged My Lai incident.

The date and a list of witnesses will be announced by Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La., chairman, shortly. Reports that the four-member panel was dragging its feet and that public hearings were unlikely are unfounded. The subcommittee has every intention of making a thorough investigation.

Lt. William Calley Jr. and other principals will be offered unlimited opportunity to testify. The probers particularly want to question his accusers about financial aspects involving the case. The subcommittee has information of a highly sensational nature.

Subcommittee Chairman Hebert has a long record as a hard-hitting investigator. As a freshman congressman, he and the late President Kennedy (then a member of the House) conducted a sweeping probe of the District of Columbia police force that resulted in a complete reorganization. Later, Hebert and then-Rep. Richard Nixon, R-Calif., played leading roles in the famous Hiss-Chambers expose.

Hebert came by his investigating skill and zeal from extensive training and experience before being elected to Congress. He was a crusading reporter and city editor on New Orleans newspapers. His most notable probe was into the remnants of the Huey Long Machine, which sent a Louisiana governor, the head of the state university and others to jail. The sensational expose became known in press annals as the "Louisiana scandals."

When newsmen asked Hebert what he intended to do as head of the My Lai probe, he replied, "I propose to separate the facts from fancy and let the chips fall where they may."

Another forceful member of the committee is Rep. Samuel Stratton, D-N.Y., who has conducted a number of hard-hitting investigations. The most recent was his sweeping inquiry into the Army's muddled and costly main tank battle program. It resulted in a 39-page report scathingly denouncing this grossly mismanaged project. Top Pentagon officials and generals are still smarting under Stratton's blistering findings.

CAUSE AND EFFECT — There was a little-noticed aftermath to the spectacular premature publication of President Nixon's tightly guarded budget message — scooped by a Washington newspaper three days before it was slated for release.

That leak cost the job of James L. Harrison, $38,500 head of the giant Government Printing plant that publishes the Congressional Record and innumerable other official documents. A quiet investigation put the blame at his doorstep and he was axed.

Harrison, one-time clerk of the Joint Congressional Committee on Printing, was appointed Public Printer by President Kennedy in 1961. He continued to hold the job under President Johnson and President Nixon — although a Democrat. But the widely publicized leak on the budget message did him in. Following is the backstage account of how that happened:

Reportedly, a copy of the President's message was slipped to a member of the Senate Finance Committee. He in turn gave it to a friend on the Washington paper — who considered himself not bound by the release date and broke the story.

It was a dramatic scoop, but it also dropped the ax on Harrison.

Under the law, the Public Printer, while confirmed by the Senate, holds office at the "pleasure of the President." His resignation can be asked at any time. No time was lost in asking for Harrison's after the premature publication of the budget message. The fact that he was a Democratic hold-over accelerated the ouster — which was publicly announced as "retirement."

It was — after a fashion! PREDICTION AND CON DEMNATION — New chairman of the National Labor Relations Board will be Edward B. Miller, leading Chicago labor attorney. That's the inside word in knowledgeable administration quarters. They are saying the appointment is "just about wrapped up."

For several weeks, every issue of the Congressional Record has carried a three-paragraph insertion by Rep. William Scherle, R-Iowa, calling the attention of his colleagues to the hundreds of U.S. prisoners of war in Communist hands. Asks the persistent Vietnam is sadistically practicing spiritual and mental genocide on over 1,400 American prisoners of war and their families. How long?"

Nixon De-Fangs Detractors

By PAUL HARVEY

Have you ever seen anything like the way President Nixon has de-fanged his detractors? In my own recollection, which dates back to F.D.R., there has never been such applause from both sides of the aisle in an election year.

If President Nixon has not excited his proponents he has not stirred up his opponents, either.

He has even former Vice President Hubert Humphrey holding his coat. Humphrey, characteristically at his political best on the attack, is saying such things as, "I'll stand with the President even if things go bad."

Humphrey expects more and more American combat forces will be brought home from Vietnam this year, most of them by the end of this year.

Realistic, he recognizes that this will certainly be a politically popular accomplishment. He says critics of the President's Vietnam policy might have that limb sawed out from under them before November's election.

If disengagement is accomplished this year, Mr. Humphrey wants to be able to say that he, too, told us so.

But he says further that if the withdrawal gets snafued, for whatever reason, he, Humphrey, is not going to turn on the President and blame him.

"If they're going to put you up against the wall, Mr. President, I'll be there alongside you."
