NO ALTERNATIVE OFFERED

Cairo Rejects U.S Proposal For Policing Suez Cease-fire

By United Press International
Cairo said today it has rejected an American proposal whereby Egypt and Israel would be responsible themselves for policing a Suez Canal cease-fire under the U.S. plan for bringing peace to the Middle East.

The semi-official Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram, edited by the Egyptian information minister, Mohammed Hassanain Heikal, neither gave details of the rejection nor disclosed what President Gamal Abdel Nasser had in mind as an alternative.

He quoted Nasser that he holds only one chance in 200 for peace through the American settlement plan, but "Even this one-half of one per cent I cannot afford to ignore... We cannot afford to miss any opportunity for achieving Israeli withdrawal from occupied Arab territories."

The United States was reported to have proposed that Israel and Egypt could watch each other for any violation of the cease-fire, with American and Soviet spy ships in the Mediterranean helping out in monitoring each side's movements.

Diplomatic sources in Jerusalem said Israel was under pressure from the United States to approve this "self-enforcement" plan despite its fears that the Egyptians will use the force to build up its Suez line. Israel has rejected the use of U.N. troops as enforcers.

Egypt's rejection of the proposal and Israel's apparent hesitance tempered optimism within the Nixon administration that the three-month cease fire as called for in the U.S. peace plan could be in effect within the week, followed by negotiations.

Still another factor hampering the peace efforts, the Arab guerrilla movement, summoned its leaders together in Amman Thursday to discuss the division in their ranks over Egypt's and Jordan's acceptance with Israel of the American peace proposals.

ONE OF TWO CONTESTANTS to win the all-around buckle at the XIT Little Britches Rodeo in Dalhart Thursday was Punkin Kelley, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wells, 1032 Crane Rd. Miss Kelley won first in goat tail tying, third in goat tying and fourth in barrel racing. Winning in all three events allowed her to win the all-around buckle — an award only two of the 104 entrants received. (Staff Photo)

Board Suggests Combining Two Railroad Jobs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A presidential emergency board has recommended that the jobs of fireman and brakeman be merged on diesel freight locomotives, eliminating one man from freight crews.

If the railroads and the United Transportation Union (UTU) both agree to the board's finding it would bring to an end 11 years of discord and intermittent strikes over the emotional issue.

The railroad industry immediately said it was "grateful" for the commission's findings and was ready to return to the bargaining table. But Charles Luna, president of the UTU, refused to comment on the report.

The board said the two sides were "on the very threshold of settlement" of the nation's oldest labor dispute. It said they had agreed to most of the issues in principle.

J. P. Hiltz, chairman of the National Railway Labor Conference, which represents rail management, said he was "very grateful to see that the commission found, like all other neutral bodies that have examined the problem, that firemen are not needed on other than steam engines."

Diesels took over most freight and passenger service on the nation's railroads in the early 1950s. Only a handful of steam locomotives remain today, most of them on tourist lines or for excursions and historical displays.

If the board's recommendations are carried out, the average freight train crew will be reduced from five to four — an engineer and a fireman-brakeman in the engine, and a conductor and a flagman riding the caboose. Passenger trains would not be affected because firemen are needed to tend the boilers which provide steam for heat and air conditioning.

The jobs of the 20,000 remaining firemen would be eliminated through attrition, retirement, dismissal or promotion. Another 18,000 firemen jobs already have been eliminated.

Praised In Europe As Base For Peace

MOSCOW (UPI) — Foreign Ministers Andrei A. Gromyko of the Soviet Union and Walter Scheel of West Germany today initiated a nonaggression treaty praised as a foundation for relaxing tensions and building a lasting peace in Europe.

It was the climax to the most significant diplomacy between the old World War II foes in 15 years. Diplomatic sources said the Soviets agreed to accept a West German disclaimer that the document constituted a surrender of the right to eventual German reunification.

Scheel and Gromyko initiated the four-page document beneath the crystal chandeliers of a marble hall in Spriodonov Palace, a room built by czars and used by World War II allies in planning strategy against Adolf Hitler.

"The goal we set before ourselves has a great political importance," Scheel said. The treaty will help relax tensions and provide the prerequisites for building a lasting peace in Europe.

Gromyko praised the treaty and said bargaining over a 10-day period had been tough. He said the Soviets were as glad as the Germans that it was over.

In a statement released as he prepared to board a plane for Bonn at Moscow airport, Scheel added, "With this treaty a new page will be turned in relations between the Soviet Union and the Federal Republic of (West) Germany."

He said he was convinced the two states were now moving toward changing "mistrust into trust, confrontation into cooperation."

It was the first major fruit of West German Chancellor Willy Brandt's policy of reconciliation.

FOR OWN PROTECTION

U.S. Providing Air Cover In Cambodia

SAIGON (UPI) — The U.S. command is providing close air support for Cambodian troops but calling it interdiction to conform with President Nixon's directives, military sources said today.

The United States insists the intent of the missions is to protect U.S. and Allied troops in South Vietnam by destroying Communist capabilities, and any benefit to the Cambodians is merely coincidental.

Interdiction operations may have an ancillary effect which benefits the present government of Cambodia but the purpose of our interdiction is to protect Americans and Allied personnel in the Republic of Vietnam," the Command said.

The military sources said Washington agreed to provide close support for the Cambodians but only if it were labeled interdiction to avoid criticism that the U.S. role in Cambodia was being expanded.

Post Office Only A Few Days From Being Independent Agency

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. Post Office is only a few days away from being removed from politics, the Congress and — possibly — the complete breakdown its critics have been predicting for the past three years.

The House completed congressional action Thursday on an historic bill to transform the post office into an independent postal agency. President Nixon was expected to sign the bill into law next week.

One of the first results will be a raise in the cost of first-class mail from six to eight cents, probably by next January, and increases of one-third in the cost of other classes of mail. But Postmaster General Winton M. Blount, who will lose his cabinet status one year after the law takes effect, promised "better service for the American people."

The tall, spare Alabama businessman told reporters he had given "no thought" to taking on the job of directing the new "U.S. Postal Service." But he did not rule it out.

The reform bill gives the nation's 750,000 postal workers an 8 per cent, $637 million pay raise, plus the right to collective bargaining. Passage of the bill — which Blount confessed seemed impossible 18 months ago — was spurred by

New Mexico Solon Seeks Ways To Kill Caterpillars

SPRINGER, N. M. (UPI) — U.S. Rep. Manuel Lujan, R-N.M., said he would carry 100 sick caterpillars to Washington this week and find "a natural enemy" to replace the controversial pesticide toxaphene in eliminating grass-eating range caterpillars.

Lujan and state agriculture commissioner Dallas Rierson toured northeastern New Mexico rangeland Thursday and said apparently a disease has hit 100 of the caterpillars to the Agriculture Department's experimental laboratories in Beltsville, Md., and request that

"Nobody yet knows what causes this fatal illness in the caterpillars," Lujan said. But if we can identify the virus or parasite — whichever it is — and develop a strain in the laboratory, we can eliminate the range caterpillar by natural means, without resort to toxaphene or other chemicals."

Lujan said he would take about 100 of the caterpillars to the Agriculture Department's experimental laboratories in Beltsville, Md., and request that a crash program be started to find the origin of the caterpillar disease.

Lujan, Rierson and newsmen walked through the fields of grass not yet sprayed with toxaphene on the Dub Martin ranch near here after circling the range in a private plane.

After the tour, Lujan said it was too late to try and check the caterpillar infestation, but hoped the analysis of the insect disease would prevent a similar occurrence next summer.

Toxaphene, a non-soluble, residual pesticide, has been protested by Texas officials who claim its use could pollute the water in Lake Meredith near Borger, and contaminate drinking water to 11 Panhandle cities.

Lujan, who saw areas of the range infested by caterpillars, said he "wished everyone who is against spraying could see these thousands of acres of once-prime grazing land crawling with millions of caterpillars and destroying the range for possibly generations to come."

"I am just as concerned as anyone about environmental protection, but it is heartbreaking to see two million acres of meat-producing grazing land being destroyed before your eyes when there is a proven, effective way to stop the disaster," he said.

Area ranchers told Lujan they had cut their cow production back up to 20 per cent as the caterpillars ate their way across the five-county area.

AFTER CONFRONTATION

Long-Hair Banned From Disneyland

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI) — Disneyland officials banned all long-haired youths from the magic kingdom following a confrontation between police and 300 "undesirables" that culminated in the park closing six hours early Thursday night.

Twelve young persons were arrested on charges stemming from the evening skirmish between nearly 100 officers and the participants in a so-called "National Yippies Day."

Proclaimed by the underground press, the long-hair invasion was to observe the anniversary of the first atomic bomb attack on Japan. During the day the group of dissidents marched into "frontierland" singing the Mickey Mouse Club song and obscene chants. They took over "Tom Sawyer Island" and eventually ran off all the tourists. They displayed a Viet Cong flag from the fort on the island and chanting "legalize marijuana," unveiled a flag embellished with a dark green marijuana leaf.

history of the park, came after the group of hippie-type youth, described by officials as "undesirables," marched up "Main Street" — chanting and singing and attempted to enter several shops en masse.

The officers, wearing facial shields and carrying gas masks and batons, moved in and in some cases forcibly removed the group from the park.

According to advance notices of "Yippies Day" in the underground press, the long-hair invasion was to observe the anniversary of the first atomic bomb attack on Japan. During the day the group of dissidents marched into "frontierland" singing the Mickey Mouse Club song and obscene chants. They took over "Tom Sawyer Island" and eventually ran off all the tourists. ### Gore Wins Demo Primary Nomination

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Sen. Albert Gore, a vigorous opponent of the Nixon administration's Vietnam policy, won renomination for a fourth term Thursday in the Democratic senatorial primary.

His victory set up a confrontation in November with a strong backer of the President, Rep. William Brock, who ran away in the three-man Republican primary.

Gore, 62, defeated Hudley Crockett, a former administrative aide to Gov. Buford Ellington, and two political unknowns—Herman Frey and Stafford Adress. Brock, 29, a millionaire candy maker who gave up an almost certain fifth term in Congress to seek Gore's seat, easily turned back former cowboy movie star Tex Ritter and J. D. Boles.

In the governor's contest, attorney John J. Hooker of Nashville won the Democratic nomination in a six-man race, and Dr. Winfield Dunn, a Memphis dentist narrowly beat Nashville industrialist Maxey Jarman in the GOP battle.

With 2,306 of the state's 2,495 precincts reporting, Gore had 245,646 votes to 216,359 for Crockett. Brock led Ritter 181,009 to 48,635 with Boles a distant third at 4,515.

WILL MEET REQUIREMENTS

Skelly-Shafer Plant To Remain Operative

Cabot Corporation officials announced today that despite a resolution passed by the Texas Air Control Board, Wednesday stating that the corporation's Skelly-Shafer plant at Skellytown would not be given an extension of time to reduce particulate emission of carbon black, the plant would not be required to close.

Bob Lincecum, environmental control co-ordinator for Cabot, said that due to technological breakthroughs Cabot expects to replace a portion of the channel blacks now being manufactured at the Skellytown plant with furnace blacks, thus reducing the particulate emission rate long before the Dec. 31, 1972, deadline granted Wednesday. Lincecum said the furnace blacks would produce less pollutants and the emission rate would be reduced to a point where the company would be in compliance with Board regulations.

Cabot has been granted extensions in the past because the company has met certain requirements for the extensions.

Lincecum said, however, the resolution passed Wednesday called for reducing altogether pollutants of the type created by the Skellytown plant.

Bush, Price To Stop Here On Area Tour

Texas Senatorial candidate Rep. George Bush and Rep. Bob Price of Pampa will stop here for a breakfast at 7:30 a.m. Saturday in the Citizens Bank and Trust Company Hospitality Room.

The breakfast will begin the second day of a two-day tour Bush is making of the 18th Congressional District under the direction of Price.

The public is invited to attend the continental breakfast which will last until 9 a.m. There will be an opportunity to question both Congressmen, Warren Fatheree, Gray County chairman for the George Bush for Senate committee, said Friday.

The tour started at 7:30 a.m. with breakfast in Plainview. The Congressmen then stopped in Littlefield and Hereford before coming into Pampa tonight.

After the breakfast, Bush and Price will leave for the XIT Rodeo in Dalhart. They will also visit in Dumas, and Stratford before concluding with a dinner in Borger at 8 p.m. Saturday. Sunday they will return to Washington, D.C.

Nerve Gas Shipment Being Loaded

ANNISTON, Ala. (UPI) — Vaults containing World War II nerve gas are being loaded aboard a freight train for their controversial shipment through Georgia and the Carolinas.

The Pentagon announced Thursday that similar vaults would be loaded aboard a train today at the Blue Grass Arsenal in Lexington, Ky.

A total of 418 of the vaults will be shipped by train from the two arsenals to Sunny Point, N.C., where they will be loaded aboard an old ship bulk-towed 282 miles off the coast of Cape Kennedy and sunk in 16,000 feet of water.

The shipment is expected to roll through Georgia next Monday and Tuesday.

Meanwhile, Mayor Ronnie Thompson of Macon, Ga., who has vowed to barricade railroad tracks outside his city to halt the train, said he would arrive at Anniston today to inspect Army safety precautions regarding the shipment.

Phone Directory Delivery To Begin On August 12

Delivery of the new Pampa-Skellytown-Lefors telephone directory is scheduled to begin August 12.

George Newberry, manager for Southwestern Bell, said that approximately 15,550 directories will be mailed to customers in the three towns.

The new book will include 63 pages of joint Pampa-Skellytown alphabetical listings, and three pages of listings for Lefors. The number of pages are the same as in the current directory.

The directory also will include 146 pages of classified advertising.

Automobile Mainly Immobile Object

NEW YORK (UPI)—For all the problems, convenience and fortunes it creates in the name of mobility, the automobile is a rather immobile object.

It has been estimated that the 110 million autos in the United States spend 95 per cent of their lifetime in a parked condition. Because of that, and man's emotional attachment to his car, the parking industry is a $5 billion-a-year operation.

Auto parking concerns such as APCOA of Cleveland, a subsidiary of ITT, Kinney Parking Systems of New York, Auto Parks, Inc. of Houston and Meyers Parking Systems, Inc. of New York, part of the Hertz operation, are in boom times.

A Fact Of Life

That's why a Ronald J. Lenney, president of Meyers, almost choked over a salad the other afternoon in relating how some cities, like New York, discourage driving in the city. "Some people feel so strongly about driving that they'll do it regardless of fines and parking restrictions," said Lenney.

"Why not accept this fact of life, and accommodate to it, rather than force them to ride on subways, buses and trains?" Lenney, whose firm has 200 parking operations ranging from small apartment houses to a 6,000-space facility at

Century City in Los Angeles, cited cities which are accommodating. He noted that San Francisco's Yerba Buena complex, fed by a terminal on the new Bay Area Rapid Transit System, includes a 4,000-car garage. "So, who's right? San Francisco, which accommodates to the car despite a subway terminal, or a New York which preys on cars?"

Business Expands
He noted also that the Cincinnati city fathers provided parking facilities at most shopping centers and that Meyers alone is building four new parking facilities in Philadelphia, a city which might be tempted to discourage cars because of its narrow streets. Human emotions are weighed heavily in the planning of parking facilities, according to Lenney.

"The man, for instance, hates to see his car parked mechanically even though he understands the economics of it," said Lenney. "It goes against his grain, almost like watching his kids get a beating."

Women don't mind that but they have a thing about parking where they can see their cars. Lenney told of a Cincinnati shopping center which offered inside parking or parking outside in the blazing sun for the same price. "Believe it or not," he said, "I watched women insist on the sunny parking just so they could come out every now and then and physically check their cars."

ALIBI REJECTED

CENTRALIA, Ill. (UPI)—Nancy Atchison told police that because her car's brakes failed she hit the rear fender of another car, continued for a block and sideswiped a tree, traveled another block, made a left turn, hit a stop sign and finally was halted by a brick wall at a cleaning store.

Police gave her a ticket Wednesday for leaving the scene of an accident.

Huntley Disavows Remarks About Nixon Attributed To Him

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former newscaster Chet Huntley has told President Nixon he is sorry and "terribly embarrassed" about remarks attributed to him in a recent issue of Life magazine.

Huntley wrote a letter to Nixon on July 14, shortly after Life quoted the ex-newscaster as saying of the president: "I've seen him under many conditions. The shallowness of the man overwhelms me; the fact that he is President frightens me."

The letter, a copy of which was obtained by UPI, said: "My dear Mr. President;

I want you to know that I am terribly embarrassed about some remarks attributed to me in the current issue of Life magazine. How the reporter had the audacity to make me responsible for the alleged statements is something I cannot understand.

I just hope you know me well enough to appreciate that the statements do not sound like me and that I am more sorry about them than you will ever know.

Sincerely,
Chet Huntley"

7,680 CARS WRECKED

HAWTHORNE, Calif. (UPI)—The wreckage of 7,680 cars was scattered on the San Diego Freeway Wednesday but two highway patrolmen cleared it away.

The wrecked vehicles were toy racing models which fell off a delivery truck.

JEANE DIXON

SATURDAY, AUG. 8
Your birthday Saturday: Involvement is the keyword for the coming year. Whatever you are and have achieved is subject to expansion from within the depths of your own unconscious nature, with fresh energy becoming available. Success brings added authority. Emotional experiences are now more strongly felt. Saturday's natives are perennial students, often good teachers of art and science.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): You have more weekend activity than normal. Get an early start so there's nothing to change or correct later. Enjoy a sociable evening.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Put things in order. Get ready for a period of increased activity when you will not have many idle moments. Express your real feelings constructively.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): There is so much temptation to do the pleasant things that you may neglect essential chores. You will need a little extra cash, so stick with your budget.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): This promises to be a fortunate, productive day in personal matters. Pleasant cooperation is available from unexpected directions. Keep an open mind.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Pursue those activities most important to you. Short journeys, visits, reunions all bring the chance to settle longstanding questions. Stay on the move!

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Hold fast to Friday decisions. Arrangements become more convenient as the day wears on, but take the more important matters first.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Round up potential collaboration. Press forward on all projects, then take a rest for meditation. Late evening brings a cheerful mood.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): A sustained search for hidden information is rewarded. Many things have been neglected which could be put to good use; ponder the possibilities.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Your tendency is toward fun and social activity. Stay with your plans. The evening is mixed, comes in two sets of unlike episodes, finishes well if you will be patient.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Diligent attention produces unusual results — you catch on to things that had escaped previous notice. Rest a bit before an evening of social contacts.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Consultations with experts are strongly favored. Give the information time to sink in before acting. Next week will be soon enough for most matters.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): You may find yourself in the middle of group efforts, holding stakes, refereeing discussions. Avoid taking sides or getting too involved.

Washington, D.C. Mystic 'Reads' Fortune For Feminine Paychic

WASHINGTON (UPI)—What does seeress Jeane Dixon do when she wants her own fortune told?

Hal Gould, a man about town who claims to have "psychic vibrations," says she calls on him for a look into the future.

Gould originally planned to be a minister like his father, the Rev. Leslie Gould of Trinity Baptist Church at Lewisdale, Md., but gave up the idea before he was ordained.

Now he is making a name for himself on the Washington party circuit with his political and romantic predictions.

His stock went up when he successfully forecast trouble for the Apollo 13 moon flight.

In looking over the scene, Gould predicted Tricia Nixon "will very soon assume a responsibility she has not anticipated and will conduct it with such great charm, ability and intelligence that she will become one of the most admired women in the world."

The President's 24-year-old daughter, he added, will not get married in the near future.

As for First Lady Pat Nixon, who shares the same birthday with Gould—March 16—the psychic soothsayer has a clipped: "No comment." But he adds she is "one of the most darling women."

President Nixon, Gould said, will be re-elected and "by the end of his first term he will have resolved his problems with youth."

His "vibrations" also tell him Nixon's daughter and son-in-law, Julie and David Eisenhower, will "have lots of children and be very happy."

He also predicted that Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis will live with her husband, Greek shipping tycoon Aristotle Onassis for the rest of his life, regardless of the rumors you hear."

"She's very happy with him, happier than she was with President Kennedy," Gould said.

As for Mrs. Dixon, Gould said her "entire life will change in two years."

"She has to learn a lesson," he said. "She will become more spiritual, reaching people in new ways."

Gould hopes to write a book and call it "Cross my Palm with Silver."

Plastic Measuring Cups Make Mini Flowerpots

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR-POLLY — Many of those colorful plastic measuring cups from coffee cans were given to me for use in my kindergarten class. I had the children make "mini" floral arrangements in them for Mother's gifts. I broke the handles off first. A small piece of modeling clay was placed in each and then tiny artificial flowers stuck in to make very attractive little arrangements. How about mini arrangements as place markers for a shower or dinner party or to go on the tray of an invalid or other sick person?

—MRS. L. K.

wearing out my floor. Any suggestions?

—BETTY

DEAR POLLY — I have put on some weight across my tummy so when I put on my long-waisted bra it rolled up and was uncomfortable. I solved the problem for myself and several friends by cutting four hooks and eyes off an old bra and then sewing the four hooks to the bottom of the bra, the four eyes to top of my panty girdle. They hooked together. One stays down, the other stays up and there is no more getting cut in two.

Journalism Students Attend Tech Workshop

Eight Pampa High School journalism students are attending a journalism workshop at Texas Tech University sponsored by the Tech Journalism Department and Southwestern Council of Student Publications.

Miss Elizabeth Hurley, PHS journalism sponsor, was selected as a staff workshop member for the week of sessions in student newspaper and yearbook production. Kay Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.G. Foster, 1925 N. Dwight, was chosen as workshop editor.

Others attending the sessions, which end today are John Whitsell, Lee Losher, Debbie Parker, Jill Donaldson, Vanessa Arthur, Jim Burnham, and Lonnie Ward.

About 300 are attending from 75 high schools in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Louisiana.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Although this is terribly involved, I'll try to make it brief. I am married and have a child a year old. At the time I became pregnant I had four promiscuous affairs going at the same time. I told Vic (not his real name) we had to get married because he was the one I knew would make the best provider. (None of the men knew about the others.)

Abby, Vic has been a wonderful husband and father and I've grown to love him very much. Now, my problem: I've always had the feeling that he wasn't the father. This was confirmed recently when I found out Vic's blood type and also my child's.

I could never hurt my husband by telling him the truth, but this guilt is destroying me. It is becoming harder and harder to live with this on my conscience. I am the luckiest woman in the world, and should be the happiest, but I am miserable. What do you suggest?

DEAR MISERABLE: Professional counseling. You'll probably learn that you are "miserable" because you feel you aren't entitled to so much happiness, and deserve to be punished instead. But since "fate" has not punished you, you are determined to punish yourself by not permitting yourself to enjoy your good fortune.

If your counseling is successful, you will then learn that regret is the cancer of life, and there is nothing you can do about your past.

You have wisely rejected the idea of "confessing all" to your husband. Such a confession would only punish him and increase your feeling of worthlessness.

I suggest that you do everything within your power to build your self-esteem. Try hard to be a first class wife and mother so that you can feel deserving of your good fortune. I think you can do it. Please try. God bless.

DEAR ABBY: My mother, age 57, lives alone and leads a very active social life. She has a good job with 30 days vacation each year, which she spends on trips to various places with an extremely likable man she has known for a long time.

My children are growing up, and Mom doesn't pull any punches about where she goes, with whom and so forth. How do you teach children right from wrong when "Granny" is so open about this relationship?

WORRIED MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: Your children are exposed to a grandmother who obviously lives her own life in her own way and isn't ashamed of it. If this is "wrong" her "sin" is indiscretion, and your children will noodle it out soon enough. There is nothing you can do about it. If they think less of Granny because she vacations with a man who isn't her husband, Granny will have to take the mark-down, which will be Granny's problem.

DID YOU KNOW that four varieties of cranberries account for over ninety per cent of all the cranberries grown in North America? The big four are the Early-Blacks, standard variety along the Atlantic Coast; the Howes, produced on the East Coast; McFarlins which originated in New England but now almost exclusively in the West, and the Searles, first planted near Wisconsin Rapids in the year 1894.

White Deer Girl Attends Computer Training Program

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — Linda Jean Cornette of White Deer, Texas is one of 30 high school seniors spending the summer on the University of Tennessee campus in Knoxville participating in a computer and statistics training program.

The students, chosen from 120 applicants, are in the upper 5 per cent of their high school class and have had three years of high school mathematics. In the UT program, they are studying at the level of an average college sophomore or junior.

The program, sponsored by the National Science Foundation, is one of 110 such projects in science and mathematics offered throughout the nation.

"Although there are several mathematics and computer courses, ours is the only course offering probability and computer simulation as the major portion of the program," said Dr. Robert A. McLean, associate professor of statistics and director of the UT training program.

"The course offers material that is seldom found at the high school level," he said. "This type of program gives the student a preview of certain types of applied mathematics.

In addition to the formal study, the students receive an exposure to the use of applied mathematics in various fields of science.

Our Battered Republic

Democracy is a very popular word these days. Everybody is using it.

Mao Tse-tung is the despotic ruler of the "people's Democratic Dictatorship".

U.S. senators protesting the brutal treatment of prisoners of war addressed their letter to the "Democratic Republic of Vietnam" — in Hanoi.

A few years ago "Make Mine Democracy" was the theme of the Camp Fire Girls in the U.S.

In every case, "democracy" and "democratic" are used to mean that the decisions of government are made by the people: "majority rule".

Since we have made such a fetish of the word, it is surprising, perhaps, to learn that the Founding Fathers managed to — write the Declaration of Independence and the U.S. Constitution — both of them — without once mentioning it. The Founding Fathers seldom used the word at all, and when they did, it was, usually, to make the point that that wasn't what we had.

What we had, they said was a "republic". That, too, has developed into a most confusing term. Don't the USSR and Communist China claim they're as republican as you can get?

Essentially, what our forefathers meant was that they had established a government more limited in its powers than any the world had ever known; that it was the servant of the people, and not their master; that it existed to protect the unalienable rights of the sovereign individual; that these rights preceded government, coming from a higher source, that they existed and would continue to exist whether there was a government at all, but all men being saints, it was necessary to set up a government to protect those rights.

Those rights were specified: "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. (Happiness was not guaranteed — but each individual had the right to try for it in any way he chose, so long as he didn't trespass on the rights of others.)"

Some people had to be selected to manage the government, to serve as referee in conflicts of right with right. There had to be some elections. But the Founding Fathers no more depended upon universal suffrage to defend person liberties than they did the English Parliament.

And if their descendants depend upon the ballot to protect freedom, they may as well live in Russia as in the United States. Even 18-year-olds have been voting in Russia for 50 years. It's a privilege granted by Article 135 of the Soviet constitution: "Elections of deputies are universal: all citizens of the USSR who have reached the age of 18, irrespective of race or nationality, sex, religion, education, domicile, social origin, property status or past activities, have the right to vote"

They vote in England, too, but a former dean (Clarence Manion) of the College of Law of the University of Notre Dame contended that the popularly elected socialist government of England had "withdrawn more privileges and immunities from great masses of Englishmen and imposed more compulsions upon them than any one of the most despotic English kings would have dared to decree".

It isn't voting per se that gets us — and Englishmen — into trouble. It's what the people are privileged to vote on that's dangerous; or, in both cases, what elected representatives are privileged to do to us.

Suppose, for instance, that we are privileged to vote on a government subsidy for ourselves — and we do, all the time, through our representatives in Washington and in Sacramento. To approve the subsidy is to favor taking some money from some people and giving it to other people. If our neighbor happens to be flush, why don't we pull a rod on him, when we happen to know his pockets are loaded, and demand our subsidy? That's stealing, of course, but so is the government subsidy. We wouldn't think of doing the former, but in the latter it's all legal, and so our conscience isn't bothered.

The subsidy is wrong, because it is immoral. The source of the moral law is the same as the source of our unalienable rights.

We use the term "right" in the same sense that it was used in the Declaration of Independence. It is a principle, a functional attribute, natural to all men. The Bill of Rights in the U.S. Constitution relates to that concept.

Should the government of a free people have the authority to write a citizen to support something which he believes is unwise, is immoral and against his conscience? If, for instance, we believe that the welfare laws create dependence upon government, that they are destructive of personal responsibility that they result in slothfulness, that they destroy initiative and industriousness, is it right that we should be coerced into supporting welfare recipients? If the Selective Service Act represents a form of involuntary servitude — and even here conscientious objectors are exempt — so is the coercion that makes us work and pay for something we cannot in conscience, support.

Thus a part of our liberty is taken from us, and the threat to the remainder increases — even though we have liberty of the ballot box, the Bill of Rights, the Declaration of Independence, and the U.S. Constitution and its system of checks and balances, all of which pay homage to the individual — not "society", not the group, not the tribe, not the state — but to the individual, whose moral claims are unalienable rights.

No wonder the world thought the American colonists had gone crazy. Never before had the individual been considered anything more than a part of the whole — the tribe, the group, the state.

There wasn't, in those early American days, a lot of sentimental palaver about the "democratic process" as the key to maintaining freedom. The founders did not put much trust in the ballot. They set up a system that called for the election of the President other than by direct, popular vote, and that system continues to exist. How wise they were to foresee — and to try to forestall — the emergence of such powerful personalities as Franklin D. Roosevelt and his Harry Hopkins, whose advice was "tax, tax, tax; spend, spend, spend; elect, elect, elect."

The tax-spend-elect theory has been put to the test and proved. We have reached the stage at which elections amount to a kind of public auction in which the candidates bid for votes. The one who promises the most in special privileges stands a good chance of getting them.

Is that the eternal vigilance required to maintain a free land? Alas, too many people think so. Give them the ballot and the Bill of Rights and the vigil is over.

Freedom is something that has to be nourished. Each generation is put to the test. Each generation must, in a manner of speaking, earn freedom, or they will lose it. This is what Benjamin Franklin meant when he said we have "a republic, if we can keep it." It is easy to lose — easiest of all though the beguiling appeal of universal suffrage.

The checks and balances of the legislative, the executive and the judicial departments can fail to function as intended. The judicial can amend the constitution, rather than uphold it. It can, it does and it will unless the people are vigilant and refuse to permit it.

Question Box

QUESTION: Private enterprise can't seem to provide a public transportation system and make enough money out of it to keep operating. The poor can't afford automobiles and many elderly people are no longer able to drive. Yet these people need transportation — to find jobs, to get to and from work, to shop, to send their children to school, to be able to get to a doctor's office, etc. How are they to be able to get around if the state or the county or city does not provide some kind of transportation.

ANSWER: We do not know how many people there are who need and desire some kind of transportation other than a private automobile, nor do we know what they might be willing or able to pay in exchange for such a service.

We do know that there is not sufficient market for the old, traditional forms of mass transit because the companies who have attempted to provide it have not been able to do so profitably. And where a political agency has taken over the service, it could not continue without subsidy by the tax payers.

But in areas where private enterprise is more nearly free to operate without the strangulation of governmental controls, it is able to provide services and products for a relatively small market and enable those who service the small market to earn a living in it. A good example of this is the manufacture and distribution of specialty items of any kind — from special diet foods to chocolate covered ants, from pop sticks to dune buggies, and diaper services.

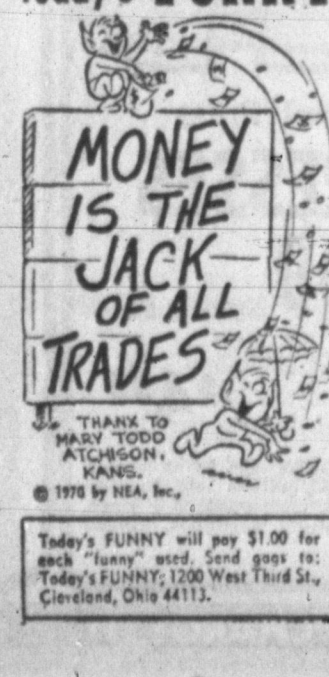

But the field of public transportation has been so regulated, controlled, and oppressed by so many government bureaucrats from the ICC and PUC to the local municipality, that the entrepreneurs in this field have been unable to adapt to changing times and needs. They have not had the freedom to make the changes necessary to keep their costs down and at the same time improve their product as a business must do to survive. The long, involved process of having to get bureaucratic approval of every step they wish to take adds nothing to their ability to serve their market. What it does do is to hamstring them and add greatly to their costs.

The decisions on how best to operate their business is taken out of the hands of those who must operate it and put in the hands of others who know nothing about it. "Is this any way to run an airline? Or a railroad? Or a bus service? Or a taxi service? You bet it's not!"

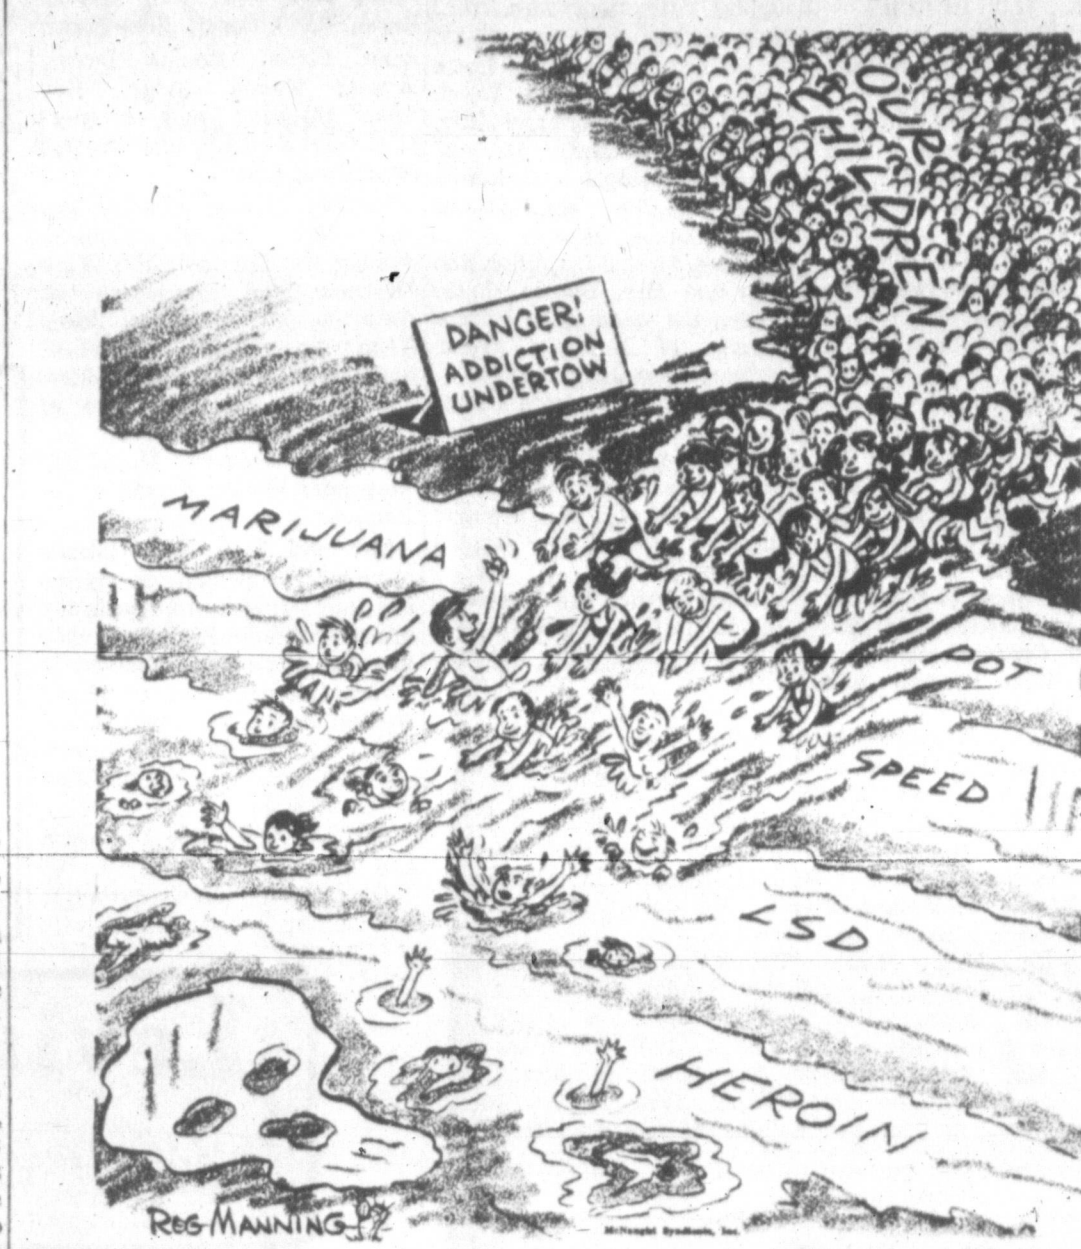

The advocates of a tax-supported, politically-controlled, rapid-transit system apparently don't see that they are going to freeze us into a system that is already obsolete and incapable of adequately serving even those who wish its services. In effect, they are asking those who created the mess to take total control and make sure it stays a mess.

What is needed is to get rid of the oppressive regulations of all political agencies and let some good old Yankee ingenuity come to grips with the basic problem of supplying new ways to satisfy people's desires while earning a living in the process. There is no limit to what free men can accomplish.

STRAIGHT TALK: Silent Majority -- Part II

By TOM ANDERSON

How did we get to the brink of disaster, revolution and dictatorship? The so-called "liberals," aided and abetted by the silent, stupid, yellow, short-sighted, ignorant majority brought us here.

The Silent Majority is not really silent of course. It prattles constantly, about the weather, food, sex, which channel to watch and Jackie and Onassis.

History, good and bad, has been made not by silent majorities, but by vociferous, dedicated minorities. Whether we win or lose this titanic struggle for freedom depends on whether the dedicated minority working for what is right and good is more powerful and more effective than the dedicated minority working for what is wrong and evil.

What can you do? Break silence! Get noisy. Get informed. Get involved. Get ready. Do the best you can, where you are, with what you've got. Work — in your church, PTA, political party, join an effective pro-American, anti-Communist organization. And, instead of golf, take up another beneficial, invigorating and more relevant sport — target practice.

The term "silent majority" is far from new. It was used more than a century ago. It meant those who were dead. And, after a fashion, it still does. The Silent Majority won't save us from war, dictatorship and slavery! The Silent Majority has never saved any nation.

The Silent Majority sat by and saw Him crucified. The Silent Majority permitted the reign of terror in the French Revolution. The Silent Majority watched as the Christians were burned at the stake. The Silent Majority sneered when Patrick Henry pled: "Is life so dear or peace so sweet as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery?" The Silent Majority watched as the street demonstrations in Germany were taken over by a little unknown paper-hanger and corporal named Adolph Hitler.

The Silent Majority is yellow, and always has been. History is determined by dedicated minorities. And even by inspired individuals. Only a few proclaimed: "He is the risen Lord!" Only a few defended the bridge at Concord. Only a few signed the Declaration of Independence.

Enough dedicated ants can destroy an elephant. "There's a clever young fellow named Somebody Else. There's nothing that fellow can't do."

He's busy from morning till late at night. Just substituting for you. You're asked to do this, or asked to do that. And what is your reply? Oh, why pick on me, Get Somebody Else. He'll do it much better than I.

You've a worn-out excuse on the tip of your tongue. Too busy, too something-or-other. When the truth of the matter

The Doctor Says

By DR. W. G. BRANDSTADT

Douching Neither Causes Nor Prevents Cancer

Q—You simply don't want to bother. So much to do in this weary old world. So much, and the workers so few.

And Somebody Else is all tired and worn. Just substituting for you. 'Tis that this faithful old Somebody Else Gets a much-needed vacation.

Suppose you start substituting for him and build up your own reputation. You of the famed Silent Majority, when will you come down out of the grandstand and get into the game? When will you rebel? When it's too late? Thousands of American youths have trained in Cuba to become efficient revolutionaries who, when the time comes, can take over our country and your children.

What are you going to do, if in 1972 you hear a radio alert saying that a mob of 700,000 people are milling around the White House and will soon sack it? That the President and the Congress are virtual prisoners and have signed a bill "nationalizing" all essential means of production? That Congress later passed an "Equal Property Act" making all citizens equal owners of all property? That United Nations forces have taken over to "restore order"?

What will you tell your children — if they're still alive? Some head-buriers are still saying: "But protest is necessary and healthy! We are just going through a phase. It won't last."

They refuse to believe it. Like the drunk on the Titanic who said, as he heard the crunch: "I ordered ice — but this is ridiculous!"

Mt. Fujiyama, an extinct volcano, is the highest mountain in Japan. The World Almanac says that its white-capped peak, which is 12,388 feet high, is revered as sacred and has been a favorite subject of Japanese art and literature.

JOHN GOLDSMITH Volunteer Armed Force Feasible, BUT — ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON. — While some lawmakers publicly sing its praises, military spokesmen are privately voicing their concerns about President Nixon's plan for an all-volunteer armed force.

Not surprisingly, since the volunteer force is the stated policy of the commander-in-chief, all the armed services are officially endorsing the plan. There are plenty of "buts," however, when Pentagon spokesmen talk to congressional committees behind closed doors.

Some of the service spokesmen are now stressing the need for a "phased" elimination of the military draft. The idea would be to ease away from the selective service system as increased pay and other improved incentives demonstrate that they can attract volunteers in the numbers needed.

Concern is also expressed about the effect of what the Pentagon calls "zero draft" on the military reserve forces. In the absence of a military draft, reserves would still have to provide manpower for emergency mobilization.

Just as the existence of the draft has pushed many volunteers into the regular armed services, military manpower experts say the draft has been instrumental in meeting the manpower needs of the reserve forces.

Here are the views of military spokesmen as stated under questioning in still secret congressional testimony:

ARMY — Gen. William C. Westmoreland, chief of staff: "We support a peacetime all-volunteer force and we would like to see this concept work. However, in order to bring about an all-volunteer peacetime force the size of the armed forces will probably have to drop to a level of about 2 to 2.5 million men."

AIR FORCE — Maj. Gen. Edward A. McGough III, deputy chief of staff for personnel: "The Air Force has not had to use conscription. We estimate that about 50 per cent of our current enlistees are draft motivated. Elimination of the draft could therefore create a problem. However, our past experience indicates that we will have less problems in recruitment and retention than the other services."

NAVY — Vice Adm. Charles K. Duncan, chief of naval personnel: "I think an all-volunteer Navy is feasible, but only if certain essential steps are taken. We must be careful that we take no irrevocable step which could cause force levels to fall below those recommended by the National Security Council."

Power Shortage Is Critical

By PAUL HARVEY

Can a nation run out of gas? New York state gas supplies are so low the Public Service Commission calls the condition "critical."

In New York, at the same time, Consolidated Edison is having to buy electricity from as far away as Tennessee, and if it stays hot through August, these emergency supplies may not be enough.

Similarly in Chicago, electric and gas companies, recently competing for customers, are considering curtailing services to the customers each already has.

Rural communities are similarly threatened. Could the world's most powerful nation wake up some midnight powerless?

Peoples Gas Company calls for gas rationing this summer or else we can expect "cold homes and closed factories next winter."

Part of the problem is that Edison electric, to retard pollution from its coal-burning generators, wants to buy more gas; but Illinois would face a natural gas shortage even without that.

Three-hundred northwest-side Chicago homes were plunged into darkness for three hours one night last month when a heat-wave caused an air-conditioner overload. Edison says these mini-blackouts are "a normal occurrence during heat waves."

The President's office of emergency preparedness says the areas most likely to face acute shortages of power extend from New York to Georgia and into Alabama and Mississippi.

The National Rural Electric Co-Operative Assn. says we face the most critical power shortage since World War II, "maybe the males in case of a national emergency.

"In summary, we support a phased program whereby draft calls are reduced contingent upon the ability to attract and retain the quality and number of personnel needed. This requires adjustments within the Army to make military life more attractive and support from Congress to provide the resources for improved benefits and incentives."

"A viable all-volunteer force cannot be achieved and sustained unless it can both attract and retain the required dedicated personnel. This will require significant improvements in compensation easing the housing problem and generally improved conditions of service. I am apprehensive concerning our ability to maintain a combat ready reserve force. We believe that achievement of the all-volunteer reserve force will be every bit as difficult as reaching our goal for the active force and will present a separate but related problem."

"The Army believes that the success of a peacetime all-volunteer force hinges upon the size of the force to be maintained and the adequacy of future funds to support required actions."

"In view of the uncertainties of the future, we believe that the draft authority and selective service machinery should be maintained to allow for registration, examination and classification of draft eligible new volunteers."

Commission calls the condition "critical."

Right now two of New York City's biggest generators are out of commission: the White House has had to authorize the diversion of up to 300,000 kilowatts of power from the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Sporadic brownouts are bad enough but an energy economist for the Chase Manhattan Bank predicts a serious energy shortage by 1980 unless drastic measures are taken to increase domestic energy supplies.

By then, for domestic industry and household use, we'll need a billion cubic feet of natural gas per day; at today's rate of growth we'll have only 52 billion cubic feet.

Without exaggeration, an electrical power emergency hangs over the United States, another manifestation of the too-many-people problem.

Technology may yet rescue us. The chairman of the Federal Power Commission says there is enough geothermal steam just a few thousand feet down under the crust of the earth to become an "inexhaustible source of energy."

The Atomic Energy Commission is right now exploring that possibility.

Eventually perhaps nuclear power can bail us out if we can pay development costs and learn some safe way to dispose of "hot waste."

Meanwhile, we are approaching a crisis where some of your household conveniences — including air-conditioners — might have to be shut down for the duration.

General Manager Says Bell Telephone Plant Damage Heavy

"Hurricane Celia's damage to Southwestern Bell's telephone plant, may exceed $8 million," T.O. Gravitt, general manager for the company's San Antonio operating area, said today.

Gravitt toured the coastal storm area Wednesday and in Corpus Christi said, "In this city we have more of a rebuilding job than a restoration job."

The telephone general manager said he was arranging for still another 200 telephone craftsmen from Houston, Dallas and Oklahoma to augment the forces already at work on the storm damage.

The additional telephone crews will start moving toward Corpus Christi while arrangements are being made to feed and house them. Four hundred telephone men and 75 operators arrived in the storm area Monday night and Tuesday. The company has 312 cots in the coliseum for the plant men who began work on telephone restoration job at daylight Tuesday. Food and water have been trucked in, and telephone repair supplies are being shipped by air and truck from Western Electric warehouses in Houston, Dallas, New Orleans, Omaha, Chicago and Phoenix.

Although more than 5,000 phones were put back in service Tuesday, there are still 87,301 phones out of order. Of these, 78,500 are in Corpus Christi, representing 62 per cent of all telephones in that city.

Emergency telephones have been placed at selected outdoor sites in downtown Corpus Christi for public use.

Long Distance capability has been restored to all Southwestern Bell exchanges except Mathis and Rockport. Every effort is being made to get these two towns back on the Long Distance network today.

The normal complement of more than 350 Long Distance circuits serving Corpus Christi are in service, and callers are now experiencing few delays in calling out of this stricken area.

Those attempting to call in to Corpus Christi or nearby points are experiencing delays because of the tremendous volume of calls being placed. Lines also are tied up as people make repeated attempts to reach telephones out of service. Long Distance service improved noticeably by Wednesday noon and should become more nearly normal by mid-day Thursday.

Stefan Kramer, Amarillo watercolorist, will give a day-long demonstration, beginning at 10:30 a.m., Aug. 12, at Hotel Borger.

All artists who demonstrate and exhibit at the festival galleries, (at several locations in downtown Borger) will be honored at a reception at 4:30 p.m. Aug. 12 at Hotel Borger. Mrs. Guy Crawford, Borger, is chairman.

Demonstrations will be presented Aug. 13, also at Hotel Borger, with Barbara Clifton, Borger, scheduled at 10:30 a.m.; Jo Willerton, Borger, at 1 p.m.; Jan Hudlow, Estelline, at 2 p.m.; Mrs. C.C. Holmes, Borger, at 3 p.m.

"Swingers' Night," to begin at 8 p.m., Aug. 13, Mr. and Mrs. E.J. Kucera, Phillips, will present a program of folk dances; a mystery dancing couple will be featured; and square dancing on the street will be enjoyed.

Mrs. W.R. Low, Phillips, will give a demonstration on painting at 10:30 a.m. Aug. 14, at Hotel Borger. Other programs of interest to artists and art buffs include the following: Ronald Howerton, Dalhart, 1:30 p.m.; Mary Hamilton Mitchell, Amarillo, 2:30 p.m.; Roseylee Palmer, art instructor at Frank Phillips College, Borger, 3:30 p.m.

Gravitt said that cooperation of municipal, relief and other agencies gave added incentive to the telephone people who manned their positions during the storm, despite personal losses and problems.

Arts; Crafts Festival Scheduled In Borger

A full schedule of activities of interest to all age groups is promised at the Third Annual Magic Plains Arts and Crafts Festival to be held Aug. 12 through 15 in downtown Borger.

Outstanding area artists will give free demonstrations of their skills during daytime hours, and other activities stressing the fine arts will be offered with no charge on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evening.

Entertainment after 7:30 p.m., Aug. 14, "Pillow Sittin' Night" will include programs of songs by girls from Borger Branch, Gristown, U.S.A.; of dances by Boy Scouts trained in authentic Indian dances, wearing colorful costumes; of vocal music by James and David Tollett, Borger; of band music by Borger and Pampa teenage groups.

Activities on Saturday, Aug. 15 will include a demonstration of woodcarving by T.C. Donnell, Borger, at 10:30 a.m. at Hotel Borger; a parade featuring mobile hobbies at 11 a.m.; the crowning of two preschool-age entrants as Master and Miss Happiness—a demonstration by Don Ray, Canyon, at 1:30 p.m.; and entertainment for teenagers from 1 p.m. to 3:30 p.m., to include band music, performances by dance students and twirlers, by members of Borger Boys Club, and by Kathleen Jackson, folk singer.

All during the festival Judge Roy Bean, portrayed by a Borger comedian, will hold court on Main Street.

A highlight of the festival will be the drawing for a painting by Stefan Kramer at 4 p.m. Aug. 15, at the 500 block, on the mall, in Borger.

Eastern Attorney General Opposes Marijuana Jailings

TRENTON, N.J. (UPI)—Attorney General George F. Kugler Jr. says he is opposed to jailing anyone for possessing marijuana and called such a practice "ludicrous."

The state's chief law enforcement officer said Wednesday jailing these offenders is impractical "because we don't have enough places to keep these people."

"I don't think jail is necessarily the place for a marijuana user," Kugler said.

BASIC TRAINING

Today's newspaperboys—tomorrow's leaders. Statistically, that's how it stacks up. In view of this, your newspaperboy is on the first chapter of what will probably be a success story. Not that he's destined for the Hall of Fame—but he might be. For example, Dwight D. Eisenhower, Herbert Hoover, Eddie Rickenbacker, Thomas Edison, Joe DiMaggio, Walt Disney, and Bob Hope all started as newspaperboys. Newspaper route experience helps mold those special character ingredients so necessary for success in any field: self-discipline, punctuality, getting along with people, responsibility. And all the hundred and one other character-makers that are built into the management of a newspaper route. The newspaperboy is skillfully guided by men trained and experienced to bring out his talents. This combination could well be the most important training in his life. In the long range picture, the money he earns on his route almost seems like a fringe benefit. Although only one boy in ten ever gets a crack at a newspaper route, our Circulation Department people are always glad to talk it over with youngsters and parents. If you have a son or know a boy who might profit from newspaperboy experience, we'll be happy to hear from you.

Television In Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—There is a word in one of the Bonanza programs prepared for the new season that found its way right up to the desk of Herminio Travassos, who is vice president in charge of broadcast standards at NBC-TV, the network that is censoring the word.

What everyone wanted to know was could they use the word.

The plot of this particular segment of the prime-time western concerns in part a young boy who overhears a conversation in which he discovers his parents were not married and he is stigmatized by a seven letter word that might look something like this in an unadorned cross word puzzle:

The boy discussed the emotionally wounding discovery with another youth Dramatist. The writer and producer felt there were grounds for using the blunt term for illegitimacy.

It may not these days seem a very daring word in some places, but NBC believes that Bonanza's huge family audience of tens of millions imposes on the network a special responsibility to be ultra certain about offending viewers. And so the word was passed to Travassos among a host of new season problems such as complaints from ethnic groups, spelling the hidden double entendre in laugh-in scripts and discouraging commercial makers from slipping a flash of bosom or buttock into skin cream and sin advertisements.

"We decided it was a very interesting and educational use of the word and we passed it," said Travassos, whose impeccable credentials include the fact he is an elder of the Brentwood, Calif., Presbyterian Church. "It is not used as a dirty word."

The fact that one of the series so I took it out."

HOUSTON (UPI)— Charles Davis of West Columbia, who runs the 100-yard dash in 9.9, scored twice in a record 35-point spree in the second quarter to lead the south All-stars to a 35-19 victory over the North in the 36th annual Texas High School Coaches football game Thursday night.

Dallas-Fort Worth pitcher Wayne Garland threw a four-hitter and scored the winning run in a 2-1 victory over Amarillo Thursday night.

The Spurs' Steve Green went 4-for-4, scored the first two runs and pitched the last two innings in the second game of the series. Garland threw a four-hitter and scored the winning run in a 2-1 victory over Amarillo Thursday night.

Don Rose of Memphis allowed Arkansas only three hits in a 2-0 victory that pulled the Blues to within three games of the Texas League's Eastern Division lead.

The Blues scored once in the second inning on a Curtis Brown home run and picked up an insurance tally in the eighth.

Albuquerque won its sixth game in a row and its second straight over El Paso, the only team with a chance of catching the Dodgers in the Western Division, by a score of 6-1.

The win lifted the Dodgers eight 1/2 games ahead of El Paso with only a month left to go in the season.

Back in the Eastern Division, San Antonio lost 7-6 to Shreveport in a hard-slugging thriller, but remained a strong contender, still two games out of first place.

It was the Braves' favor, 5-4, going into the top of the ninth, but Arkansas scored twice for a one-run lead. Then in the bottom of the inning Shreveport scored two runs off reliever Joe Stover for a heroic finish.

Rematches are in order tonight with Albuquerque again at El Paso, Amarillo at Dallas-Fort Worth, Arkansas at Memphis and San Antonio at Shreveport.

Yankees Coming Back At Tigers' Expense

By NEIL HERSHBERG
UPI Sports Writer
There still is a race in the American League's East Division—for second place.

With the Baltimore Orioles nesting comfortably in first place, the Detroit Tigers and the New York Yankees are the two combatants for runner-up.

The Tigers invaded Yankee Stadium Thursday night as both "contenders" met for a twilight doubleheader.

Tiger Jim Northrup's sacrifice fly scored Mickey Stanley with the winning run in the opener as Mike Kilkenny outduelled Mel Stottlemyre in a 2-1 contest.

But Yankee Jerry Kenney scored the winning run as pinch-hitter Thurman Munson was grounding into a double play to give New York a 7-5 victory over the Tigers and a split of the twinnbill.

The Tigers, considered by many before the season

Pine Bluff Challenge For Pampa All-Stars

By BEN KECK
Sports Writer

If the Pine Bluff, Ark., All-Stars hold off starting Billy Burleson against the Pampa All-Stars in the third game of the double elimination Babe Ruth Regional baseball tournament Monday, Pampa may have a chance of winning their first tournament game.

If not, Pampa stands a good chance of losing on Monday. Burleson led his team to a 10-0 state championship win last Friday as he faced 22 men striking out 18 of them.

Pampa sports some good pitchers, and nine of the 15-man All-Star team had pitching experience during the season. But none of the Pampa Babe Ruth League teams showed any indication of the single-man strength that Burleson has given Pine Bluff.

Rick Musgraves, Roy Hendricks, and Randy Kitchens have more pitching experience than other Pampa players, but none have shut-outs recorded in the scorebooks.

But even if Burleson does start against Pampa, there are some underlying factors that could surprise anyone—including the Pampa All-Stars.

Pampa coaches aren't saying who will start against Pine Bluff. One coach described it as a sort of psychological warfare—not against Pine Bluff, but for Pampa.

"If one of our pitchers knows he's to start, he'll get nervous and won't be able to concentrate," the coach said.

"Besides, these boys can play just about any position we want them to play," he said.

That is the second factor that, although not realized, could be a great help to Pampa. The team is versatile. There are no specialists to get tired or bored, as specialists are known to do.

If Pampa can beat Pine Bluff Monday, that will put the host team one step closer to the Babe Ruth World Series in Brawley, Calif. But if the home town All-Stars are defeated, they become one step closer to a second defeat and elimination from the tournament.

The Pampa team, despite the enthusiasm, has the disadvantage of not having played for a state championship. The team is automatically qualified for tournament play by virtue of being the host team.

Teams from five states: including Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Louisiana, and Arkansas, will begin arriving in Pampa on Sunday and will be treated to a banquet at Optimist Boy's Club Sunday night.

Action gets underway at 3:30 p.m. Monday with Albuquerque facing defending regional champions, Tulsa.

The second game will put the East Texas team of Flax against undefeated New Orleans at 6 p.m., and Pampa will square off against Pine Bluff at 9 p.m.

The West Texas team from the Tri-Cities League at Denver City will face the winner of the Albuquerque-Tulsa game at 4 p.m. Tuesday.

Tournament tickets may be purchased for $5 at Newt Secrest Insurance Co.

Namath's One Star That Won't Fall On Alabama Saturday Night

Someone Wants To Play Ball

By United Press International

Believe it or not, there are some quarterbacks who want to play pro football this year.

One who wants to very badly is Greg Cook of the Cincinnati Bengals.

Cook was the rookie of the year in the American Football League last season but saw limited action the second half of the campaign because of a sore arm. The sore arm has been acting up again, but doctors have informed coach Paul Brown that the trouble will go away gradually.

Cook can't wait to get into action. The Bengals open their exhibition schedule Saturday night at home in the new Riverfront Stadium and Cook is excited about it.

"I've gotta play in that first game in the stadium," said Cook, who attended college in Cincinnati. Brown plans to start Sam Wyche at quarterback but he said that Cook would see some action.

One Bengals' player who won't get into the game, however, is No. 1 draft choice Mike Reid. Reid has a twisted knee and will be replaced by another rookie, Bill Trout.

The Bengals also placed veteran defensive back Charlie King on waivers Thursday. King was one of the original 40 players who made up the Bengals' squad in the allocation draft.

In other developments, tackle Ernie Ruple left the Pittsburgh Steelers' training camp, saying he was quitting football because he had lost interest in it. Ruple, 25, was beginning his third season with the Steelers.

Veteran place-kicker Tommy Davis of the San Francisco 49ers became a free agent when he was placed on waivers and no team claimed him. Davis, 35, is free now to make his own deal with any club. He holds the National Football League record 234 consecutive points after touchdown and has averaged 44.7 yards per punt during his career.

Donn Brumm, veteran defensive end for the St. Louis Cardinals, was released after he failed the club's physical examination. Brumm was the second Cardinal veteran to be released in as many days for failing to pass the physical. Ken Gray, a 12-year-veteran guard, was let go Wednesday.

Jacque MacKinnon, a tight end acquired by the Green Bay Packers during the off-season, announced his retirement. MacKinnon, 31, told coach Phil Bengtson that he just did not feel like playing football anymore.

The Denver Broncos cut offensive tackle Bob Hunsperger from the squad. Hunsperger, a free agent, played in the military but had no college experience.

Unhappiness is just a thing called Joe.

That's the general feeling in the pro football training camps of the New York Jets and the Minnesota Vikings these days.

The Jets' controversial quarterback, Joe Namath, and the Vikings' outspoken signal-caller, Joe Kapp, haven't reported to camp yet and they are causing their teams' problems.

One Joe's Unwilling... Namath's many outside interests have made him lose interest in football while Kapp is not satisfied with the money the Vikings wish to pay him for the 1970 season.

The Jets, therefore, will visit Al Woodall is expected to Birmingham, Ala., Saturday night for a preseason game with the Buffalo-Bills, without Namath, and the Vikings will take on the New Orleans-Saints at the Hall of Fame Game in Canton, Ohio, minus Kapp.

Kapps, in fact, has stated his days with the Vikings are over.

Other Wants Enriching... He played out his option last season and as such is a free agent. The Vikings don't seem too concerned over the 32-year-old quarterback's take-it-or-leave-it demands for a $1.25 million, five-year deal. They'll go along with veterans Gary Cuozzo and Bob Lee and test Bill Cappelman from Florida State against the Saints.

Joe Namath

play most of the way for the Jets in their game at Birmingham.

This was a hurry-up-and-get-ready week for NFL veterans who were uncertain last Sunday about this weekend's exhibition action. But the Owners and Players Association settled their differences and Saturday's night's 10-game schedule became a reality.

In other games, Kansas City help in the bullpen, that's where I belong. Everybody is pitching in now and we're going all good."

In other National League action, San Francisco belted Cincinnati 9-3, Chicago topped Montreal 4-2, St. Louis blanked New York 3-0, Houston topped San Diego 8-6 and Atlanta rapped Los Angeles 4-1.

Los Angeles, Dallas is at San Diego, Washington at Cincinnati, Chicago at Houston, the New York Giants at Green Bay, Baltimore at Oakland and Miami against Pittsburgh in Jacksonville, Fla.

Most men are promoted when they do a good job.

But with Bruce Dal Canton of the Pittsburgh Pirates it's just the opposite.

Normally a reliever, Dal Canton has been placed in the starting rotation in recent days to ease the strain on a pitching staff hobbled by injuries.

The 28-year-old righthander has responded by winning three straight games. Thursday night he went the route for the first time as he beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 8-3, in the second game of a doubleheader. The Pirates won the opener, 4-0, behind the six-hit pitching of Dock Ellis. The sweep increased their lead to 2 1/2 games in the National League East.

The reward for Dal Canton's fine performances? The bullpen, according to Pirate manager Danny Murtaugh, "Bruce will get one more start," says Murtaugh. "Then who knows what will happen. Steve Blass, who has been on the disabled list with arm trouble, will throw 15 minutes of batting practice tomorrow and if the doctor says he's okay, then he's back in the starting rotation."

Dal Canton, who gave up only six hits as he notched his

Defense Department Tells Draft

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Defense Department announced today that draft calls for the final four months of the year will summon 39,000 more inductees, with the 1970 total the lowest since 1964.

In addition, Selective Service Director Curtis W. Tarr said it now appears that draft-eligible youths with a lottery number higher than 195 probably are sure of being exempt from military call-up.

Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird told a news conference that the draft quotas for the Army will be 12,000 each in September and October, 8,000 for November and 7,000 for December.

The total number of draftees for the year will be 163,500—the lowest since 1964 prior to the first landing of U.S. combat units in Vietnam when the draft total was 107,500. The number called in 1969 was 289,900.

Tarr instructed draft boards not to induct draftees with lottery numbers above 195 in September and said he expected the same ceiling to prevail for the rest of 1970.

He had placed a similar ceiling of 195 on the call-ups for August.

Laird said the sharp reduction was made possible by "the success of the Vietnamization program," and withdrawals from Vietnam, which so far have reduced U.S. forces by 133,000 men.

The same factors are credited with making possible a reduction in the total number of men in the armed forces from 3,461,000 a year ago to about 3,100,000 at present and to a projected 2,900,000 by next July.

The 1970 draft was originally estimated at 250,000 men.

Laird also reported that U.S. casualties in Vietnam for the last five weeks have set a new low for a five-week period since 1965.

The total killed in action for the five weeks was 359, the lowest since the five-week period beginning Dec. 26, 1965, he said.

MOSCOW (UPI)—A Soviet magazine said Wednesday United States business was the loser in Henry Ford II's decision not to build a truck factory in the Soviet Union. An article in the magazine "USA" said Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird scuttled the plan for a Ford factory in Russia.

Ford Announces Tentative Prices

DETROIT (UPI)—Ford Motor Co. announced Wednesday that tentative prices of its 1971 models are being set 5 per cent above 1970 cars and its compact Maverick will get a 6-per-cent-price boost.

The increases, which would total more than $125 a car when models go on sale this fall, was announced in a letter to dealers. The company also said it no longer will offer an optional five-year, 50,000-mile power train warranty in 1971.

Quotes In The News

PACIFIST ON DRAFT BOARD
REDDING, Calif. (UPI)—A pacifist minister, recommended by Gov. Ronald Reagan and approved by President Nixon, is the newest member of the Redding Selective Service board. The Rev. John V. Albright, who believes the draft should be abolished, said Wednesday he was "going to give the widest possible latitude to my conscience, but I'm going to uphold the law."

MAY PROTEST TO U.S.S.R.
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The State Department says it is considering lodging a formal protest with the Soviet Union over the conduct of a Russian vessel during an American missile launch earlier this week.

The Russian ship cut across the bow of one U.S. ship and nearly collided with a destroyer after the launch of a Poseidon missile from an American submarine off Florida. The Soviet ship also made an apparently unsuccessful attempt to recover some of the debris after the launch.

CENSUS EVERY 5 YEARS?
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Another census in the works? Well, no, not right now. But maybe in 1975.

With all the returns still not in from the regular decennial 1970 census—and of those that are, some still in dispute—the Census Bureau would like Congress' permission to get ready for "another nose count" in five years.

Chances are congress will give its assent, though no action is in prospect at the moment.

The problem is that when the Constitution provided for a head count every 10 years the populace was not forever switching jobs and barreling over the country, let alone retiring to Southern California.

These days folks are on the move, and the vital population counts become obsolete fast.

CEMETERY AUTO BAN
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Army has decided to ban most car traffic—except funeral processions—from Arlington National Cemetery starting Nov. 1, leaving visitors the choice of walking or riding a new trolley. Too many traffic jams have developed on the cemetery's winding roads.

ANTI-NO DEPOSIT
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Joseph P. Viorito, D-Pa., has introduced legislation designed to outlaw the interstate sale of beer and soft drinks in throw-away containers. He said if the problem is not tackled in this decade "we will end up being literally buried under our own garbage."

"None of the contingencies, none of the plans are going to surface until the United States gets something in return."

PHNOM PENH—A Cambodian spokesman, announcing that Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops had attacked four and eight miles from Phnom Penh, but were repelled.

Hollywood In Review

By VERNON SCOTT

UPI Hollywood Correspondent HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Pianist Roger Williams will open 200 music centers across the country in the next year and a half to teach young and old to play the 88 under a new and speedy method.

Williams' credentials are flawless. In addition to being one of the finest pianists in the country, he has sold more albums (17 million) than all other living pianists combined. Six of them were gold record winners.

An articulate man with an easy manner, Roger is dismayed that more pianos were sold in the United States in 1920 than in 1969.

Pianos Now Cost More
Thanks to radio record players, television, rising popularity of the guitar and the increasing cost of even small pianos, fewer persons are buying the instrument or learning how to play it.

"We hope our International Music Corporation will change that," Williams said.

"In my 15 years as a professional piano player, I've had dozens of courses of piano instruction presented for my endorsement. I looked at many teaching methods.

"But you can't get any specific teaching method across because every teacher has his own individual ideas.

Roger's new schools eliminate teacher error through the use of the Decker computer console system. Students visit the music center, wear earphones and watch a video screen.

"The computer is a short cut," the musician went on. "In three weeks a student can play 'Autumn Leaves' with both hands.

"Our method can teach a student to play the piano as well in 39 weeks as he would in five years under the old system of sitting down beside a teacher.

Half-hour Practice
"At the end of each lesson at the center, the student has absorbed the right material and mastered it. Then he is given a book of all he has learned and practices a half-hour a day before the next lesson."

Some of Williams' new enterprise will be franchised. The first of his centers was opened last May in Greenville, S.C.

Williams said the first month's lessons cost $25, with each successive month costing an additional $25 until the course is complete. Any time a student chooses to quit, he may do so at no extra charge.

"We don't intend to turn out Rubenstein's, of course," Williams said. "We want people to play the piano for their own enjoyment."

Mainly About Wheelers

Mr. and Mrs. George Bowden of Lavern, Calif. are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cleo

The Coy Bradstreets and family spent a few days in Oklahoma City. Coy is attending a mechanic school there and the family is making a vacation trip while he is in school.

The Carol Warrens returned home from a two weeks trip to points in Six Flags, Denton, and Platt National Park, in Sulphur, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Elliott of Sayre, Okla. and Mr. George Bowden of Lavern, Calif. visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Johnson in the Kelton Community.

There will be a Stovall Reunion at the Thompson Park (Area 63) in Amarillo on August 9. All their friends in the Wheeler and Pampa area are invited to attend. Services will start at noon and Rondell Stovall, a grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. A.F. Stovall will give the devotional. The basket lunch will be served at 12:30 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyce Farris spent the weekend in Amarillo with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Farris, their son, Shannon, and their daughter, Mrs. Carolyn Mulkins. They also visited Mr. Farris' sister Mrs. Elizabeth Boehning.

The James Beasleys of Pampa spent Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Henson and Debbie.

Miss Carol Gandy of Plainview spent the week here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Gandy and Mike. Miss Gandy is secretary to the president of Wayland College there.

SCS News

By EARL D. LEWIS

We have a good many acres of old cropland in this area being seeded to native range grasses. Glenn Dawkins, east of grama and bluegrama. Glenn hundred acres of sideots grama dn bluegrama. Glenn McConnell seeded more than 20 acres east of Pampa. When these small seedlings first come up, they are subject to being killed by hot dry weather.

The best way to insure a good stand of native grass is to have a good seedbed for these grasses. To have a good seedbed, a dead litter cover must be left on the surface of the soil by sweeping existing weeds and grasses, by planting a non-seeding variety of forage sorghums, or by seeding some type of sorghum and shredding to prevent seeding. If the litter is too tall (more than one foot high), it should be shredded to 6 to 10 inches.

The following year, the grass can be seeded directly into the dead litter. This litter protects the soil from wind and water erosion, cuts down on losing moisture by evaporation and gives shade to the small tender seedlings. It also keeps the ground at least 20 degrees cooler during hot days.

Now is the time to seed non-seeding sorghums if you plan on seeding native grasses next year. With the price of land as high as it is, one cannot afford to have less than a good stand of grass.

The Soil Conservation Service strongly recommends the right kind of seedbed for the type of grass being planted.

Agriculture Department Asked For Action Against 'No-Pest Strip'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) said today it had asked the Agriculture Department to require a warning against use in kitchens or dining areas on labels of a bug-killing product, "No-Pest Strip," made by Shell Chemical Corp.

The proposed action also would ban use of no-pest strip in restaurants, an FDA spokesman said.

The agency said its action was prompted by determination that the product left pesticide residues in food when used in kitchens or dining rooms.

Shell said its own tests showed the product was safe. No-Pest Strip emits a vapor containing an insecticide called DDVP, the FDA said. The product now is labeled to warn against contamination of "food, water and food stuffs," an FDA spokesman said. The proposed additional labeling would say
