Ike Sees Continued Prosperity In 1956

Predicts Nation's Economy Will Top $400 Billion Mark

By DAYTON MOORE

WASHINGTON — (UP)— President Eisenhower Tuesday confidently predicted continued prosperity in 1956 with the nation's economy topping the $400 billion mark.

But, in his annual economic message to Congress, he warned against complacency toward this "unprecedented prosperity." He said government, management and labor must be alert to possible threats of recession and inflation.

Mr. Eisenhower proudly reported the nation "reached the threshold of a $400 billion economy" last year. He boasted of the "practical attainment...of the cherished goals" of full employment, rising incomes and a stable dollar. Most economic activities reached new record peaks last year, he said. More Americans worked and made more money than ever before. They also spent a record amount on autos, television and other goods and services that make for better living.

The gross national product—the total of goods and services produced—rose from $360.5 billion in 1954 to $387.4 billion last year. It now is at an estimated annual rate of $397 billion, "if not higher."

Personal income jumped by $15.5 billion to $303.1 billion. Corporate profits at $43.2 billion showed a gain of $9.2 billion.

The average number of employed persons increased by about two million, totaling about 63.2 million last year. Unemployment declined.

Wages, Production Up
Average weekly earnings of industrial workers went up $3.79 to $79.90.

Industrial production climbed 11 per cent over 1954. Industrial plants "increased markedly" their expansion expenditures to meet increased consumer demand. Construction spending increased $4.7 billion to a new high of $42.2 billion.

Falling income of farmers and high unemployment in economically depressed industrial spots were about the only matters for gloom in Mr. Eisenhower's report. He urged quick action by Congress on his new programs designed to ease their economic plight.

Farm Income Dark Spot
Gross farm income, he said, dropped $1.2 billion in 1955 to $33.3 billion.

"Taking recent development all together," he said, "it is reasonable to expect that high levels of production, employment and income will be broadly sustained during the coming year, and that underlying conditions will remain favorable to further economic growth."

But Mr. Eisenhower warned that increasing installment buying must not be permitted to get out of hand. He said that, on the whole, it has been "highly beneficial to our economy." But he said unbridled, excessive use of it might have serious effects on the economy.

District Attorney Says

'No Negligence' In Train Wreck

LOS ANGELES — UP—The district attorney investigating the deadly Santa Fe train wreck here said Tuesday he had found no evidence of criminal negligence in the 71-mile-an-hour smashup which killed 29 persons.

S. Ernest Roll, the district attorney, said he planned no criminal action of any kind at the present time and indicated a mechanical failure may have been responsible for the wreck.

A thorough investigation was planned before Feb. 3 when an inquest will be held and all evidence presented to a grand jury. Tentative plans were made for at least three other official investigations.

'Nothing Happened'
There was some evidence a "dead man's control" emergency device failed to function when the train left the track as it hurtled around a dangerous curve at 71 miles an hour.

Fireman Homer Smith said the engineer, Frank Parrish, threw the train into emergency "and nothing happened."

The emergency device would theoretically stop the train automatically. It is controlled by a pedal which the engineer must keep depressed with his foot at all times while the train is in operation. Should an engineer collapse, he would fall away from the pedal and release the stopping mechanism.

Had 'Hazy Feeling'
Parrish, 61 said he blacked out before he came to the dangerous curve. He told investigators he had no recollection of releasing the dead man's control pedal.

The engineer said he had "a hazy feeling of seeing an orange glow" just before he blacked out. There are orange groves near Parrish's San Bernardino, Calif., home but none where the accident happened.

School Addition Plans Approved

The school board of education met yesterday noon with B. R. Cantrell, architect, to approve plans for a six-room addition to Lamar Elementary School. The plans were approved as presented to the board, and no changes were indicated.

The board will let bids on the contract for construction work to the extension at the next meeting scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 9, at 7:30 p.m.

The six-classroom addition to the present building will be constructed at a proposed cost of $96,500. The board will receive bids for construction work immediately.

Yorel Harris of Roswell, N.M., who is now serving as director of field service for the Roswell Council was chosen as the new Boy Scout Executive yesterday during a meeting of the Selection Committee at 5 p.m.

For the following month the president of the Adobe Walls Council, R. J. Rust of Phillips, will conduct the affairs of the council.

Drafting Begins On Farm-Aid Bill

WASHINGTON — UP—The Senate Agriculture committee Tuesday began drafting a bill to put more money into the pockets of the nation's financially-squeezed farmers.

The Democratic-controlled committee had two immediate problems to solve:

Decide on how to finance the soil bank program proposed by President Eisenhower.

Decide on what to do about the demand for a "compromise" price support plan made by Committee Chairman Allen J. Ellender (D-La.).

Ellender wants to support some top quality crops at 90 per cent of parity. The problem is finding a yardstick to define quality.

The administration wants to keep the support program flexible. Payments now range from 75 to 90 per cent of parity.

Other action in Congress:

ECONOMIC
The President sent Congress his annual report on the nation's economic health.

DEFENSE
The House Military Appropriations Committee passed a bill.

Poll Tax Booths To Be Set Here

Booths where Pampans may pay their poll tax will be set up Wednesday by the Pampa League of Women Voters in the First National Bank and in the Citizens Bank and Trust Company. The booths will be open during banking hours. The service will be maintained through Jan. 31.

In addition to the banks, League members will be located in the Combs-Worley and Hughes Building lobbies and in Furr Food Store during the next week.

Mrs. Azelle Loftus, voters service chairman, is in charge of the booths. She is assisted by Mrs. Isla Campbell, poll tax chairman.

Author Tells How U.S. Can Regain Losses In Far East

The "Oriental Mark Twain," Dr. No-Yong Park — reviewed the critical conditions in Asia today, recounted ways to regain lost ground in the Far East, and outlined foreign policies of the U.S. last night before a large crowd at the Top of Texas Knife and Fork Club meeting.

Dr. Park was introduced by Ralph Thomas as the author of "Squint Eyed View of America," who was born in Manchuria of Korean parentage. He attended the University of Nanking, the University of Tokyo, graduated from the University of Minnesota and received a degree from Harvard University.

The speaker began by indicating that China represents one-fifth of the world's population and by stating his belief that a better understanding of the Chinese is essential to a better understanding of world conditions. "Displaying typical wit," Dr. Park said, after reading from a passage of his book, "Although I write it, I think it's a terrible book, I hope you have the book banded from your city, so everyone will read it."

He continued by indicating the relative strength and position of countries in the Far East, including Afghanistan, Pakistan, India, Burma, Siam, and Indo-China. Singapore is still a beachhead of Communist power, he said.

In the largest Moslem country in the world and the Communist country, Indo-China, the Communists are making headway by trickery, deception, and infiltration, and by telling the people that there is no recognizable difference between Islamism and Communism, said Dr. Park. "Even Australia is now being threatened by vast circling movement of Communism," he said.

The three policies open to this country in dealing with the alarming trend of Communism in Asia, as outlined by the speaker, are: (1) escaping from the evil, (2) compromising with the evil (co-existence in peace at any price) and (3) avoiding the evil by combative measures. He favored the last course.

Freezing Rain, Snow Forecast For Panhandle

Snow and freezing rain was predicted for upper Texas Tuesday night and rain was expected to spread over much of the state as a new cold front moves in.

Fog and drizzle covered much of upper Texas Tuesday ahead of the cold front. Heavy clouds hung over the entire state.

Forecasters said no severe temperature drops were expected with the cold front, but it was expected to bring increased cloudiness and precipitation.

Fog and drizzle extended from the Panhandle down the Red River into Northeast Texas. Moisture was reported at Texarkana, Dallas, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls, Childress, Amarillo and Dalhart.

Occasional rain was predicted Tuesday and Tuesday night for all sections but the southern tip of the state. Snow and freezing rain was predicted back of the cold front in West Texas and the upper section of North Central Texas Tuesday night and Wednesday.

Temperatures early Tuesday ranged from 29 degrees at Dalhart and Amarillo to the 40s in Central Texas and 50s along the coast.

Bounty Money

TAYLOR, N. D. — UP — Leland Brand of Taylor, his Piper Cub airplane and his shotgun are making life miserable for a lot of coyotes. Brand bagged 42 of the animals and one fox in a little over one month of hunting in the area. The current bounty reward is $5 per coyote and $3 per fox, meaning Brand will receive $213 for his work.

Author Tells How U.S. Can Regain Losses In Far East

The substance and heart of Dr. Park's message was brought out in his explanation of the methods for regaining "lost ground" in Asia in world affairs. Incidentally, he pointed out that in "The White Man's Peace," which he wrote eight years ago, the Korean war was predicted along with the rearmament of Germany and Japan.

The second method for recovery of lost ground indicated was an understanding of the people, "the starving millions of Asia," and their policies. The Communists entered the Korean War with the top secrets of the U. S., he said. "While they seemed to know everything, the free nations seemed to know nothing," explained the speaker. He indicated our mistakes in dealing with the Manchurian sanctuary and by fearing Russian intervention in the war.

The bluff of Communist Russia in the Far East is to be recognized as a bluff, he said, indicating that the nation fears Communism to the extreme in the shaping and forming of foreign

Farm Prices Predicted To Be Up Some

WASHINGTON — UP—The Agriculture Department said Tuesday farm prices in the early months of 1956 will average somewhat above the low levels reached in December.

Prices of most farm products have "firmed slightly" in recent weeks with the passing of the season-marketing peak, the department said in its publication, "The Demand and Price Situation."

Cash receipts from farm marketings in December were tentatively estimated at $2.7 billion, down 15 per cent from November but only about 2 per cent below December, 1954.

Receipts from livestock and products were about $1.3 billion and crop receipts were estimated tentatively at $1.4 billion. Both estimates show the usual seasonal decline from November.

December's tentative estimate plus the previous 11-month total gives a preliminary total of $29.2 billion for 1955 cash receipts, down 3 per cent from 1954. The department said this figure may be revised in March when more information on marketings becomes available.

Prices received by farmers declined each month during the last half of 1955 and in mid-December both crops and livestock products averaged 7 per cent below a year earlier.

The department said price declines during 1955 were "large"—28 per cent for hogs, and "substantial" for some feed grains, oil seeds, potatoes, and cattle. On the other hand, prices of eggs were substantially higher than in December, 1954, and moderate gains were reported for other poultry products, commercial vegetables, and tobacco. Dairy products averaged about the same.

The drop in farm product prices during 1955 reflects the 3 per cent rise in farm output to a new high as well as big carryover stocks of several major crops, the department said. Crop production in 1955 was up about 4 per cent and output of livestock products was up about 2.4 per cent from a year earlier.

City Sets Bids For Vehicles, Equipment

The city commission this morning set bids for vehicular equipment, seat coating and topping and pumps.

The commission set Feb. 14 the date for accepting bids on a one-half ton panel truck, two one-half ton pickups, one front end loader, three three-quarter ton pickup trucks (one with a stake body, two two and one-half ton trucks (cab and chassis only), and one two-ton truck.

On Feb. 21, the commission will accept bids on two submersible pumps to be used in water wells now under construction.

On Mar. 6, the commission will accept bids on seal coating and topping streets under the current paving program.

The discussion on paving methods was continued this morning. The commission had earlier given City Manager Fred Brook the go-ahead on obtaining information concerning benefits to the city of contracting paving work.

Brook said, "In 1946 or '47, the city, having access to sandy loam near the municipal dump grounds, decided to do its own paving using a soil-cement type of base. Due to the enlarged program, however, and other benefits to the city, the contract method will now be used."

Bids for options on three types of base will be submitted by contractors, soil-cement, calcium gravel. Contractors may bid on any one, all three or any combination of the three and the city will (See CITY, Page 3)

Miami Boy's Steer Wins At Amarillo

Bill Breeding, 14-year-old Miami boy, won the grand championship steer award at the Amarillo Fat Stock Show yesterday with his 880 pound whiteface "Little Joe."

"Little Joe" won the coveted award in competition with 99 Herefords and 39 Angus from three states.

Breeding's steer won over one of the classiest fields ever to be entered in the Amarillo show. Breeding was hand pressed for the win by Norman Lynn Burk's Angus, Burk, a Tulsa boy, is 14 also.

The grand champion's ration, which got him to the perk of perfection for the show, was fed under the direction of Bill Breeding's dad, Earl, a former county agent.

Esther Williams To Become Actress On Dramatic Ability

By ALINE MOSBY

HOLLYWOOD — UP — Esther Williams has tossed away her swim suit and ear plugs to be a dramatic actress because, she said Monday, dry emoting is "much safer."

The tall, willowy actress for 21 pictures in 10 years at MGM — was the queen of the back stroke who, smiling and every hair in place, plowed through gardenia-covered waters while orchestras played from under the lily pads.

But behind those gay scenes, she says, lurked death.

"Those big production swimming numbers were dangerous," Esther declared. "People got hurt doing them. In one picture, I had to dive off a helicopter."

"In my last MGM musical, 'Jupiter's Darling,' they had to get a pupil, a man stunt diver to jump off a cliff — it's strictly dramatic," she said. "I've wanted to do this for a long time. The situations are dramatic but the woman still is well-adjusted in my other pictures so the transition should be easy for audiences."

"Most of Clothes Off"

"I don't care if I never see another floating wax gardenia. I'd rather be chased by police cars as in this movie than to start the picture with most of my clothes off."

Esther still plans to swim in pictures — but when "it's part of the plot," such as escaping from the villain. She's also free now to make business deals. Besides two more outside films this year, she's marketing a "moisture balance" waterproof makeup and combination ice rink-swimming pools for the wintry east.

She insists her switch to a new career has nothing to do with MGM financial report that "Jupiter's Darling" was not a money-maker last year.

Three North Dakota counties are among the top 10 in the U. S. in potato production. They are Walsh fourth; Pembina, sixth; Grand Forks, seventh.

Newspaper Says Press Must Share Blame For Scandals

LAREDO, Tex. — UP — The Laredo Times said in a front-page editorial Sunday that the "distinction of being the most corrupt state in the nation must be shared by the newspapers of Texas for their lack of integrity."

The editorial said: "The insurance scandal in Austin merely points out to the public the fact which has always been known by most of the politicians in Austin, and that is that state agencies have been for sale at a price in Austin for many years."

"It's a well known fact that Austin is riddled with corruption, probably greater than any other city in the nation. The land department scandals were merely samples. And when you consider that judges in Austin have had the finger of guilt pointed at them and when a defense has been made of these judges, the defense has vanished."

"Source of Political Payoffs" "For many years the handling of insurance companies in Austin has been a source of political payoffs not only for members of the legislature, but for others."

"It's a shame that a few senators and a few representatives, when elected to office immediately go on the payroll of some special interest or of some special corporation. What this isn't the general rule, yet it is a widespread activity of many of the appointed and elected officials in Austin."

"In 1951 this newspaper became fed up with people in Austin bragging that Austin was as open as Reno or Las Vegas, Nev., and gambling was never more than a block away, with open prostitution protected by district attorneys and grand jurors."

Refused Advertisement

"This corruption was so great at that time the newspapers in Austin refused a perfectly legal advertisement demanding that this situation be cleaned up, because these newspapers were, unfortunately, more interested in increasing their advertising inches than in looking after public honesty."

"Certainly not all the various branches of government in Austin are crooked, nor a majority of them. But it has long been known that the enforcement agencies in Austin protected the gambling and dope smuggling agencies in Galveston, protected the gambling in Corpus Christi and the gambling in Dallas. And Corpus Christi, Galveston, Austin and Dallas for many years were the No. 1 cesspools of crime and corruption, with the newspapers and law enforcement agencies in these towns standing around and pointing their fingers at other communities in order to hide the shame of Corpus Christi, Galveston, Austin and Dallas."

'Deep-Rooted Corruption'

"This corruption in Texas is so deep-rooted that bought and paid for politicians have become so solidly entrenched that it's time for the public to wake up and clean up those four rotten communities, rotten compared with the counties in the rest of the state which have been ore than reasonably free from organized crime in partnership with state agencies and from newspapers which pay more attention to increasing volume than to increasing the health of their communities."

"Just think! This insurance scandal and land office scandal have brought great shame and disgrace to the entire state of Texas, and probably there's hardly an agency in Austin without a high degree of equal crookedness."

"The distinction of being the most corrupt state in the nation must be shared by the newspapers of Texas for their lack of editorial integrity in refusing to print honest and truthful criticism of situations which have been so evident for so many years."

Doctors Have Hopes For Attack Victim

MARSHALLTOWN, Iowa — UP — Doctors had high hopes Monday for a two-year-old girl who was originally attacked and left in a freezing house where her temperature fell 38 degrees below normal.

Vickie Davis' 60.8 degree body temperature was believed to be the lowest ever recorded in a human who survived. Nevertheless her temperature climbed into the fever brackets and then returned to normal.

Meanwhile, police posted a 24-hour guard over the bedside of the child's grandmother, Mrs. Fred Davis. The woman, whose body temperature fell to 74 degrees, has been in shock and has not been able to tell authorities what happened.

Mrs. Davis and the little Negro girl were found early Saturday in the grandmother's four-room house shortly after the temperature at Marshalltown had hit 24 degrees below zero.

Both were unconscious and the child had been criminally assaulted. The stove in the house had gone out, leaving them unprotected against the cold.

The house had been ransacked and was spattered with blood. There was no sign of forcible entry into the house, however.

Police said early Monday that their main hope for catching the attacker lay with Mrs. Davis. The guard was maintained at her bedside in hopes that her memory would suddenly return.

The woman regained consciousness late Sunday, but said she couldn't remember what happened. Police refrained from telling her of the attack on her granddaughter.

Little Vickie showed a more dramatic recovery. She took nourishment and recognized her parents, who hurried to Marshalltown from their home in Milwaukee.

Doctors said Vickie was in "good condition." They believed they would not have to amputate any of her toes, even though they were frostbitten.

Mayor Calls Dallas One Of Cleanest

DALLAS — UP — Dallas Mayor R. L. Thornton Sr., said Monday "I think we are one of the cleanest cities in the country."

Mayor Thornton, commenting on an editorial by the Laredo Times which alleged Dallas was one of four cesspools of crime and corruption in Texas, said, "I don't know of any corruption in Dallas."

The Laredo paper also charged that gambling in Dallas had been protected by law enforcement agencies. "If we have any gambling in Dallas," Mayor Thornton said, "it's the minimum and not the maximum."

Thornton also came to the defense of Texas newspapers accused by the Laredo Times of having a lack of editorial integrity and given a share of the blame for corrupt state practices. "I don't think the editorial policies of our Texas press has encouraged crime and corruption. Those I have read have been constructively."

Soviet Russia Moving Into African Continent In Big Way

By CHARLES M. McCANN
 United Press Foreign Analyst
 Soviet Russia is moving into Africa, the world's second largest continent in a big way.
 It started with the deal under which Communist Czechoslovakia is supplying Egypt with arms.
 Next the Kremlin established relations with the new kingdom of Libya, which lies between Egypt and French North Africa on the Mediterranean Coast.
 Now relations are being established with Liberia, the Negro republic on the West Coast.

 Great Britain is already getting alarmed at the possibilities.
 Advice from London say the British government is sounding out other countries on the possibility of holding an international conference on the defense of Africa this spring.
 Discussions With President
 Prime Minister Anthony Eden is most likely to discuss the situation with President Eisenhower when they meet in Washington next week.

 Africa is a comparatively new field for Communist political and economic penetration. It is a rich field. For the Western allies, it is a dangerous one.
 Africa is still rightly called the dark continent. Civilization came to it thousands of years ago. But civilization has yet to penetrate large parts of it where bow and arrow and spear are the standard weapons.
 Africa's 200 million people are scattered over an area of about 11,840,000 square miles. It is the greatest remaining colonial area.
 Six Independent Nations
 There are but six independent nations in it—Egypt, Libya, Ethiopia, the Sudan, Liberia and South Africa—with populations totaling about 63 million. Of these, Egypt, 6.

Libya and the Sudan have attained independence since the end of World War II.
 Africa's remaining colonial peoples are getting more and more restive. Witness the Mau Mau revolt in British East Africa, the little-mentioned riotous unrest in the French Cameroons in West Africa, and the open revolts in French North Africa.
 It is evident that the Kremlin has decided to exploit this rich field.
 There are indications that Libya may be made the center for Russian penetration in Africa.
 Incidentally, the United States has a big Air Force base there just outside of Tripoli, the capital.
 First Diplomat Arrives
 Russia's first ambassador to Libya arrived in Tripoli on Jan. 6. It is interesting to note that he is Nikolai I. Generalov, a Soviet diplomat of first rank.

 Generalov was ambassador to Australia when Vladimir Petrov, his third secretary, surrendered to the Australian secret service and asked asylum.
 Documents which Petrov handed over disclosed that he was the chief of a big spy network, operating from Generalov's embassy.
 Generalov personally was implicated. But it is hard to believe that he did not know what was going on. His appointment as ambassador to little Libya may be significant.
 Michigan, famed for its car production, also leads the nation in production of cereal foods, machine tool accessories, salt and furniture for public buildings.

Trying To Clean State, Shivers Says

AUSTIN—UP—Gov. Allan Shivers said Monday "we are trying to clean up any and all sore spots that might turn up anywhere in Texas."

The governor made his statement in commenting on an editorial in the Laredo Times, alleging "the insurance scandal in Austin merely points out to the public the fact which has always been known by most of the politicians in Austin, and that is that state agencies have been for sale at a price in Austin for many years."

The editorial also identified Austin, Corpus Christi, Galveston and Dallas as "four rotten communities" and said it was time they were cleaned up.

No Comment from Mayor
 Austin Mayor Tom Miller said "no comment."

The governor said: "We are trying to clean up any and all sore spots that might turn up anywhere in Texas. We know there are some, though not as many as some critics would like our citizens to believe. We have taken and are taking action wherever positive evidence of the need for action is given us."

"I hope that the writer of the editorial will send us all the evidence he can, so that we can act on the situations which he claims exist. I hope further that he will urge his readers and all other Texans to do the same. We want evidence, not politically motivated charges, and we will act when the evidence is produced."

Has Friendship of Editor
 "The writer of this editorial should surely feel free to communicate his criticisms and evidence to me, for I have had and appreciated the friendship of his editor, William Prescott Allen, for many years and only last Christmas received the following telegram from him:

"Because you have put principles above politics you have brought re-credit to Texas. Whatever your future political desire may be you can count on us to join you. Because of your fearless action, you have become Texas' all time great governor."

By JANE KADINGO
Pampa News Women's Editor

THERE ALWAYS COMES A TIME, and particularly in the winter, when a woman takes a long, dissatisfied look at everything she has to wear, and wonders what to do about it. There is an infallible way, however, to give a quick lift to a jaded wardrobe, and one which seldom fails. Buy a hat in a rich color to add a new touch to the suit you were so attached to early in the fall, or for the afternoon dress you found so appealing when you could hardly wait to buy it, or for the slim line coat you selected for its high style.

A HAT to brighten your current clothes will be able to go places on several different occasions during both the day and evening, and may be non the less attractive for this versatility.

The real story both now and for the Spring is one of color. This can scarcely be too greatly emphasized, for a variety of different shades have suddenly become popular. They run the gamut from pale pinks and beiges to deep rose and persimmon, pale lemon foam to tawny orange. Blue in many vivid shades is also important.

If you have taken time to study yourself, you must be conscious of the colors most becoming to you. If you look well in red, then buy a hat in the new "more hat style" perhaps of panama or in satin finish straw, or in ball-bunt. Pink in a new flowered petal hat, a tabourine or dome shape looks lovely now with either fur or fabric coat. If it is your color, then by all means, try this type of hat.

You do not have to confine yourself to the usual conventional range of color currently accepted as "bright," however, since many color variations are being featured for Spring. Yellow, orange, apricot, persimmon, pomegranate red form one important group, which widens the range of color choice to brighten your wardrobe. Matching accessories of gloves, scarves, bags and shoes help to play up this vital color story. Even the most timid of women should not be afraid to select at least one new shade to add interest to her winter clothes, or to complement her new Spring costume.

RAINBOW ORGANZA in different shadings on fine straws achieve lightness with substance in both the yellow and blue groups. Yellow, beige and bright blue are all highly significant for Spring. In the blue family, a periwinkle shade suggests the deep blue dusk of early evening. In this shade, a small, smart hat of panama, trimmed with velvet, or the same shade combined with white in a pillbox or an oriental look is attractive. Or your new choice may be a profile hat of exotic straw of blue as deep and fierce as an Eastern sky. Or again, a softer, mystic blue in a handsome bell cloche of delicate straw with a chiffon band and long scarf accented by a fine rhinestone ornament on the band and at the end of the scarf — made by a master hand — may give you just what you are looking for.

Or, if you are a disciple of the pink, rosy, peach or coral tones, you may find a shocking-pink in a beautiful cloche with lavish Roman stripe ribbon wound around the conical crown, or a thimble cloche of golden beige, trimmed with a coral and pearl band on gold with coral ribbon ends on one side. Coral is a favorite to go with the new beige and "French Bread" tones now so popular in clothes and accessories. Turquoise fits in well here, too.

Temper the number of hats to your pocketbook — buy one, two, three, or a half dozen. They do not all have to be expensive hats, but choose them carefully. The silhouette should be one which really does something for you, and the color, one which is both pleasing and becoming. You will find this makes for a complete mid-winter lift, as cheering as a sea-change or an airplane trip to a different climate.

Manners Make Friends

Ask for an ash tray if you need it. That is far better than using a flower planter, stepping on your cigarette or using the saucer under your cup for an ash tray.

It's best to look around for an ash tray before you light up.

Optimist Fighters Win Seven In First Night Eliminations

Fight Card Tonight To Include 16 Fights

A good crowd was on hand to watch the Pampa four, Wellington two and Dumas one, of the 14 fights eliminations of the Pampa District Golden Gloves.

Larry Byrd, Dumas, and Billy Thompson, Memphis, led off the second annual Optimist-sponsored Golden Glove Tournament with a fast and furious 60-pound fight that had the crowd yelling throughout.

Byrd won a close decision over Thompson with a stiff left jab and a good right that caught the mid-section several times.

John Ironmonger, Pampa, and Robert Tillman, Borger, took up the fight in the 65-pound class with Ironmonger relying mostly on counterpunching. Tillman was the aggressor most of the way but the decision went to Ironmonger.

James Branch, Wellington, and Carroll Hudson, Borger, squared off in the 75-pound bracket with Branch coming out strong in all three rounds. He continued to punch his way to a close decision over Borger's Hudson.

Donnie Shipp, Pampa, and Mike Hudson, Borger, fought in the second 75-pound bout of the evening. Johnson was the taller of the boys and Shipp was unable to land over his reach as both boys missed repeatedly but Donnie Shipp came through with a TKO in 21 seconds of the third round.

Raul Ramirez, Pampa and Gene Ervin, Dumas, tangled in the 118-pound division. Ramirez faced the first southpaw on the card in the shifty Ervin. Both boys were out for the win in the first round and both boys landed well.

Ramirez had Ervin hanging on in the second and came up with a knockdown and the first knockout of the card.

Joe Dunn, Pampa, and Roy Brown, Borger, came in in the 80-pound class with both boys fighting it out toe to toe for the first minute and then fighting cautiously. In the third round seemed unable to land and Brown won the decision.

Clark Morse, Pampa, met Durwood Williams, Borger, in the 90-pound class for the last fight before the intermission. Morse kept most of his punches to the midsection while Williams aimed for the head. Williams scored with a knockdown in the second and Morse was unable to answer the bell for the third round.

Dickie Wills, Pampa, and Dick Morgan, Memphis, both 90-pounders, met in the eighth bout of the card. Both boys had good punches but Wills seemed to land the better blows although Morgan landed more. He lost the decision to the hard punching Wills.

Leon Sutton, Borger, and LeRoy McEwan, Dumas, tangled in the 95-pound division for one of the shortest fights of the night as Sutton won by a TKO as the bell sounded to end the first round.

Gary Wills, Pampa, and Phillip Wiggins, Borger, fought it out in the 112-pound division as both boys seemed to be feeling in the first round then got down to business in the second and third. Gary Wills punched his way to the decision in the last round with his stiff left jab and right crosses.

Larry Powell, Pampa, and Greg Brown, Borger, met in the second 112-pound bout on the card with Powell taking the aggression early. Powell came back to take the second round by a wide margin and the third also to take the decision.

James Snyder, Pampa, and Arthur Brown, Borger, clashed in the 126-pound division of the tournament. Snyder kept Brown dancing along the ropes most of the time but didn't stop his punching. Brown was the aggressor in the second while the third found both boys fighting hard for the win. Brown took the decision by a very close margin.

Richard Conner, Pampa, and Austin White, Wellington, were the first novice fighters on the first-night card.

The boys met in the 147-pound class and seemed to be competent fighters for the novice class. Both fighters landed fast and hard but Conner was the aggressor in the second while the third found both boys fighting hard for the win. Brown took the decision by a very close margin.

Weather Good For Winter Olympics

CORTINA, Italy — UP — Weather conditions were excellent for Olympic athletes practicing here Tuesday, two days before the official start of the 1956 winter Olympic games.

The temperature at 7 a. m. was 22 degrees. There was 10 inches of snow in the village and 20 to 30 inches on the ski slopes outside.

CORTINA, Italy — UPI — Figure skating champion Tenley Albright, America's big hope for a gold medal in the winter Olympics, planned to give her injured ankle further tests Tuesday under the watchful eye of her doctor-father.

Dr. Hollis Albright of Boston supervised his daughter's latest workout Monday and admitted the courageous New Englander was only doing "about one tenth" of what she could because of tape on her ankle.

Dr. Albright said the wound is healing well now without any sign of the Olympic figure skating competitor should be ready for the start of the Olympic figure skating competition next Monday.

CORTINA, Italy — UP — The first man to break through the "sound barrier" in figure skating is going all out to grab the 1956 Olympic title by showing the most sensational jump ever seen on an ice rink.

He is Ronny Robertson, 18, of Long Beach, Calif., and the jump will be a so-called "triple axel" — three and a half turns in the air during a breath-taking "atomic spin."

No skater in the world has ever succeeded in performing this triple jump in competition — the dream of every champion.

"It took me one year of hard work to get the triple axel down pat," Robertson, last year's world championship runner-up said.

"Sometimes I had more than 100 falls during my nine-hour a day practice for the triple axel."

TREVISIO, Italy — UP — The Olympic flame, symbol of international sportsmanship, was scheduled to leave here Tuesday on the final leg of its journey from Rome to Cortina D'Ampezzo, site of the winter Olympic games.

All night long, the flame burned in a huge iron brazier in the center of Treviso's main square, guarded through the hours of darkness by two athletes of this city.

The flame was lit Monday at the ruins of the Temple of Jupiter on ancient, historic Capitoline Hill in Rome. From Rome it traveled by plane under air safety regulations.

After a parade through Venice, a relay of runners, each racing one kilometer, carried the torch down the old Napoleonic highway from Venice to Treviso.

The journey from here to Cortina is 130 kilometers (85 miles).

Injured Ski Champ To Witness This Year's Olympics

MUNICH, Germany — UP — Pretty Jill Kinnmont of Santa Monica, Calif., using her wheelchair as a "magic carpet," neared the land of her dreams Monday-Cortina, Italy.

The plucky Californian, who was the 1954 U.S. ladies slalom ski champion but suffered paralysis of both legs and one arm when she hit a tree at Alta, Utah, during the 1954-55 winter season, is en route to Cortina to witness the Olympic games from her wheelchair.

Her dream of at least being at the site of the event, even if she couldn't compete, began coming true when friends back home collected funds to finance her travel to Cortina.

She arrived in this Bavarian capital Sunday and will continue her journey toward Italy Monday.

"My daughter liked the air trip to Germany very much," said her mother, who is accompanying her. "It will be real medicine for her to have the chance to see her friends and former rivals in Olympic competition. I think Cortina will be a great thing for her."

Dayton Gains On The Frisco Dons

By UNITED PRESS Dayton's towering Flyers, who ran their unbeaten string to 14 games while top-ranked San Francisco was idle, gained ground in the contention for the No. 1 United Press college basketball rating Tuesday and Illinois took over third place.

North Carolina, upset conqueror of arch-rival North Carolina State, made the most important jump in the ratings, to No. 4 from 11th place. The Tarheels were the only newcomers in this week's top 10 teams chosen by the 35 outstanding coaches who comprise the United Press rating board.

San Francisco, which has put its 39-game winning streak in storage for two weeks while it takes time out for mid-year examinations, was picked No. 1 by 30 coaches — the same as last week. However, the West Coast Dons' point total fell off six to 339 and their lead over Dayton dwindled from 49 to 32 points.

Flyers' Vote Total Climbs Coach Tom Blackburn's Flyers attracted three first-place votes and an unusually high second-place total of 307 points. By defeating Villanova and Xavier of Ohio last week, Dayton achieved the season's longest winning streak. The Flyers' next test will be a tough one — against 10th-ranked Louisville.

San Francisco, which now has led the ratings for eight straight weeks resumes competition next Saturday night against California. The Dons will set a major college record for consecutive victories if they beat California, guided by their old coach, Pete Newell.

Illinois (10-1) and Kentucky (10-2) each moved up one notch to the third and fourth rankings, while North Carolina State slipped to fifth following its second setback in 15 games. Temple, with an 11-0 record, followed North Carolina, with Vanderbilt, Southern Methodist and Louisville completing the top 10 group in that order.

Vanderbilt, SMU Slip Temple advanced two places from last week, Vanderbilt (13-1) and SMU (13-2) each slipped two notches, while Louisville (15-1) remained in 10th.

With points distributed 10 down to 1 for votes from first to 10th places, here is how the teams lined up behind Dayton: Illinois 214, Kentucky 196, NC State 173, North Carolina 128, Temple 92, Vanderbilt 77, SMU 60 and Louisville 55.

Duke, idle last week, lost its place in the top 10 and dropped from a tie for tenth place to the No. 11 ranking this week. Utah was 12th, with Holy Cross and Iowa tied for 13th. Next came UCLA, Cincinnati and St. Louis; Alabama and Marquette were tied for 18th place, and Stanford was 20th.

Others among the 34 teams who received votes were: Indiana, Iowa State, Ohio State, Oklahoma A&M, Seton Hall, George Washington, Rice, St. Francis (Brooklyn), Canisius, Oklahoma City University, Colorado, Brigham Young, Xavier (Ohio) and Purdue.

Harvester Cagers Meet The Sandies at Canyon Tonight

The Pampa Harvesters are now in Canyon and are getting a short workout before the all-important game tonight with the Amarillo Golden Sandies.

The game will probably decide the second place team in the district, as the Sandies dropped a close game to the potential district champion Borger Bulldogs.

Most scribes are giving the Borger quintet the edge in the northern half of the district because of their impressive pre-district record but that means little to the other three teams in the 1-A district.

The team that wins the district this time will be able to say it was the last to win the 1-AAAA district championship since the district is in its last year.

Next year the two Lubbock and Amarillo schools and Plainview, Borger and Pampa will comprise the new district 3-AAAA in both football and the cage competition.

Tickets are now on sale at the school business office for the game set at West Texas State fieldhouse tonight. The game that gave the Harvesters the 1953-54 district championship was played at the WTS fieldhouse and it was crowded.

Almost 500 tickets were still available for the game late Monday afternoon while 500 tickets were made available to the Pampa high school students.

Only a few tickets were sold and they were located midway of the court on the north side of the gym upstairs. The student tickets are on the same side but at court level.

The Sandies will be going into the game with an eight-four record for the season and with one district defeat. The Harvesters, on the other hand, will boast a 15-4 record for the season with one district win, that being over the fourth-placed Lubbock Westerners.

All Green and Golden fans are asked to make the short trip to Canyon and help boost the McNeely cagers on to their fourth consecutive district championship.

The Harvesters have played 19 games thus far in the season while the Sandies have played only 12. The Green and Golden have averaged 67.4 points per game with a total of 1271 points while their opponents have dumped in an average of 56.1 points with a total of 1067.

The Amarillo Sandies have averaged counting for 65.1 points per game with a total of 782 points while their opponents have counted for 696 points for an average of 58 points per game.

The Green and Golden offense then should be two points better than the Sandies while their defense is averaging two points better also. That would give the Pampa five a four point advantage over the Amarillo five of their opposition had been the same.

Larry Powell, Pampa, and Greg Brown, Borger, met in the second 112-pound bout on the card with Powell taking the aggression early. Powell came back to take the second round by a wide margin and the third also to take the decision.

Calhoun Is Heralded As Top Contender

NEW YORK — UP — Trainer Charley Goldman Tuesday hailed unbeaten Rory Calhoun of White Plains, N. Y., as a "bright young prospect for the middleweight crown," after directing him to his 17th straight professional victory in a sensational TV fight at St. Nicholas Arena Monday night.

Goldman, trainer of heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano, was in Calhoun's corner as the muscular 21-year-old Negro was staggered seven times but came on to win another unanimous decision over bomber Jerry Luedee of New Haven, Conn., in one of the most bruising slugfests ever staged at St. Nick's.

Calhoun, who had taken a four-round verdict over brown-haired, 22-year-old Luedee in a preliminary at Madison Square Garden on Nov. 26, 1954, had the tired Connecticut dynamiter floundering in the late rounds from left hooks and over-hand rights to the head.

Luedee, scaling 164½ pounds to Calhoun's 160½, bled from the nose after the third round; and Calhoun's left eye was badly swollen. It was Luedee's 20th fight, and the only two defeats against him have been registered by Calhoun. He was an underdog at 17-5.

Dayton U. Sets Grid Interviews

DAYTON,

JIM CRACKS

By JIM DFAN

A FEW WEEKS ago, a skinny gray cat wandered up to our house and in short order was made a member of the family in good standing. We were pushovers at the time, having just lost a cocker spaniel to an automobile.

We made a big effort to determine if anyone had lost a pet in our neighborhood. No one had. The cat seemed like a "quality" breed. He was silver gray, solid color all over; he looked like a Maltese, and we were told by friends that he was such a breed.

We named him Pharaoh, and he soon took over the domicile with all the arrogance of a supreme monarch. . . the name fitted.

We were feeling quite proud of our pet. He had an air of dignity about him. . . why you could tell he was a real high class animal!

Then last Saturday I had to take him to the Vet for a pill, and while I was there, I was to find out his approximate age and just what kind of a cat he was. . . maybe he was Blue Persian instead of Maltese.

Dr. Nicholl gave him the pill, said he was about two or three months old and that he was just a cat.

"Got enough Persian in him to give him long hair, but if you want to classify him, you'll just have to call him cat."

I got the impression that Pharaoh didn't hear the doctor. When he returned to the house, he continued pace around his domain in his same grand manner.

He took his favorite perch atop the big drum table in the living room and watched the world go by outside, a picture of contentment.

And if the fact that he is 'just cat' doesn't bother Pharaoh, it bothers his 'family' even less.

It brings to mind a passage in one of the favorite poems I have read. . . from Don Blanding's "Vagabond House." It goes like this. . .

"There'll be driftwood powder to burn on logs, And a shaggy rug for a couple of dogs— Boreas, winner of prize and cup, And Mickey, a lovable guttier pup. Thoroughbreds, both of them, right from the start, One by breeding, the other by heart."

There's a difference between dogs and cats, of course, but the point is the same here. A cat will endure the love and affection of humans, but will give none in return. You give him a home and provide his food and he will let you pet him and let you pretend he's "yours." But in reality he gives up none of his individuality.

The dog is a different breed. He yearns for attention and affection from humans and will give himself completely to his master, returning real devotion for each kindness received. But in doing so he gives up much of his individuality and freedom. Love is a costly luxury for the dog, and it's often much the same with humans.

THE POET'S NOOK

In keeping with the opening theme of this week's idle chatter, let me quote you poem that seems rather appropriate. It has much food for thought, and cat lovers should nod in assent throughout the reading of it.

I AM THE CAT
"In Egypt, they worshipped me— I am the Cat.
Because I bend not to the will of man
They call me a mystery.
When I catch and play with a mouse,
They call me cruel.
Yet they take animals to keep
In parks and zoos, that they may gaze at them.
Nay, more, they persecute their own human creatures;
They shoot, the hang, they torture them.
Yet dare to call me cruel.
Could they but see themselves
As I, the Cat, see them.
Those human creatures, bereft of all freedom,
Who follow in the ruts others made
Long ages ago!
Who have rings in their noses,
Yet know it not.
They hate me, the Cat,
Because, forsooth, I do not love them.
Do they love me?
They think all animals are made for their pleasure,
To be their slaves.
And, while I kill only for my needs,
They kill for pleasure, power and gold.
And pretend to a superiority!
Why should I love them?
I, the Cat, whose ancestors
Proudly trod the jungle,
Not one ever tamed by man.
Ah, do they know
That the same immortal hand breath to me?
But I alone am free—
I am THE CAT.

SNO SNOW, BUT STILL FUN—The sunny South may not have too much snow, but it has its "snowmen" just the same. At left is a west Texas-style one made of tumbleweed. It was created in El Paso by Ralph Rettig. The "snowman" at right was found in Cypress Gardens, Fla., keeping company with shapely Mary Lou Morris. He and the "snowballs" are made of plastic.

Brave Bachelor Newsman Writes Song Of Marriage

Editor's Note: The UP's European feature writer, Bob Musel, has also written the lyrics to a song which last week was ranked this nation's No. 5 favorite among disk jockeys.

By ROBERT MUSEL

LONDON —UP— You have to admire the nerve of a bachelor who writes a song about a wedding ring with leap year looming up?

All right, so don't admire me. But I wrote "Band of Gold" which is creeping into the Hit Parade and one of my editors, who likes to think of me as a hard-bitten newspaperman, demands how come I write sentimental lyrics.

"Interview yourself," he ordered, "and get me the real inside dope."
(In the cable there was a comma between inside and dope, but it was obviously a transmission error.)
So I took myself to an expensive restaurant on my expense account and, after a fine dinner, I turned the charm on Musel the song writer.

"Money"
"How wonderful to write songs about heaven, home and mother not to mention love. What inspiration, what burning flame drives you on?"
"Money," said Musel the song writer.

Musel the reporter pressed relentlessly on.
"I suppose you spent years studying counterpoint, atonality and the pentatonic scale, eh?"
"Can't read or write a note," said the song writer. "Neither does my collaborator, Jack Taylor. We whistled the tune and a friend wrote it down."
"Your publisher," I persisted. "He must know music."
Musel the song writer laughed

He's Tone Deaf

Howie Richmond! Tone deaf. The way he picks hits is a mystery. Do you know he was one of Grace Kelly's first boy friends but he claims he didn't realize she was pretty until he saw her in the movies.

"How did he spot 'Band of Gold'?"
"Well, Jack played it to him on the piano using only the black keys because he plays by ear. Howie wasn't very impressed. But he kept calling me up, saying 'Sing that opening phrase again.' I sang it while maharajahs started back in alarm and then Howie began yelling 'We got a hit, we got a hit.'"

"Did you use any influence to get the song over?"
"Well, I once knew a movie press agent named Ruth Morrow and I told her she should be in show business herself. Amazing coincidence, for who should Kit Carson turn out to be but my very own protegee, Ruth Morrow. She recorded the song for Capitol."

Michigan leads all states in owner-occupied dwelling units with a 68.2 per centage. The national average is 55.0 per cent.

VFW Post Observing Special Week

The National VFW has set aside this week for the purpose of letting the public know what the V.F.W. is doing as a non-profit non-partisan, non-sectarian organization devoted to ideals of peace and freedom for the country.

Pampa Post No. 1637 is observing the week by conducting a membership drive under the leadership of Bill Abernathy. Cards are being sent out to contact new and old members in connection with the drive.

A Dutch lunch will be held by the local post tonight at 7 p.m. in the VFW Hall. Jones Seitz is in charge of arrangements for the dinner. All VFW members are invited to attend.

A new motion picture, "The Magic Bond", will have its world premiere over a large number of the nation's television stations during National V.F.W. Week, Jan. 22-28. The film will be shown on KGNC - TV tomorrow between 12:30-1 p.m.

The film is the story of the American soldier, from the Spanish-American war to the war in Korea. It is narrated by Bob Conerside, news columnist, TV commentator, and former war correspondent.

"We want people in all walks of life to know how we strive to honor the dead by helping the living, through the rehabilitation of our disabled comrades and the assistance that we can render the widow and orphans of veterans in our communities and at the VFW National Home," says National Commander Timothy J. Murphey. He added, "people everywhere should realize that the VFW represents a mighty, nationwide volunteer effort to preserve and defend the kind of freedom that is known only to the People of the United States."

Air Link Proposed For Houston And Amsterdam

HOUSTON—UP—Gen. I. A. Aler, president of KLM Royal Dutch Air Lines, proposed Monday to link Houston with Amsterdam, Holland, by direct air route and said one-plane service by early summer was a "possibility."

Aler, top executive of the almost state-owned Dutch airline which operates in 68 countries on both continents, said he was in Houston to "mobilize" promoters of the proposed service.

Coincidentally, Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands was expected to arrive in Houston at 3:40 p. m. Monday on a tour of the United States. However, Aler said the prince's visit had "no connection" with the proposed air service.

Action Underway
Aler, at a news conference, disclosed that his government has taken steps to obtain authority from the U. S. State department and the Civil Aeronautics Board to make Houston a stop on its Los Angeles, Calif., air route to Amsterdam by way of Montreal, Canada, and Shannon, Ireland.

"Inclusion of Houston in KLM's network," Aler said, "will provide this city (Houston) and Texas itself, with fast and frequent passenger and cargo services, to all important cities along the Near and Far Eastern routes of KLM up to Tokyo and Sidney, to South Africa, in addition to services to every important city in Europe."

Aler said the "ever-growing traffic flow between Texas and Europe makes the establishment of one-plane connections imperative." He said Houston's trade with the Netherlands represents 20 per cent of the Texas city's commercial traffic with the outside world.

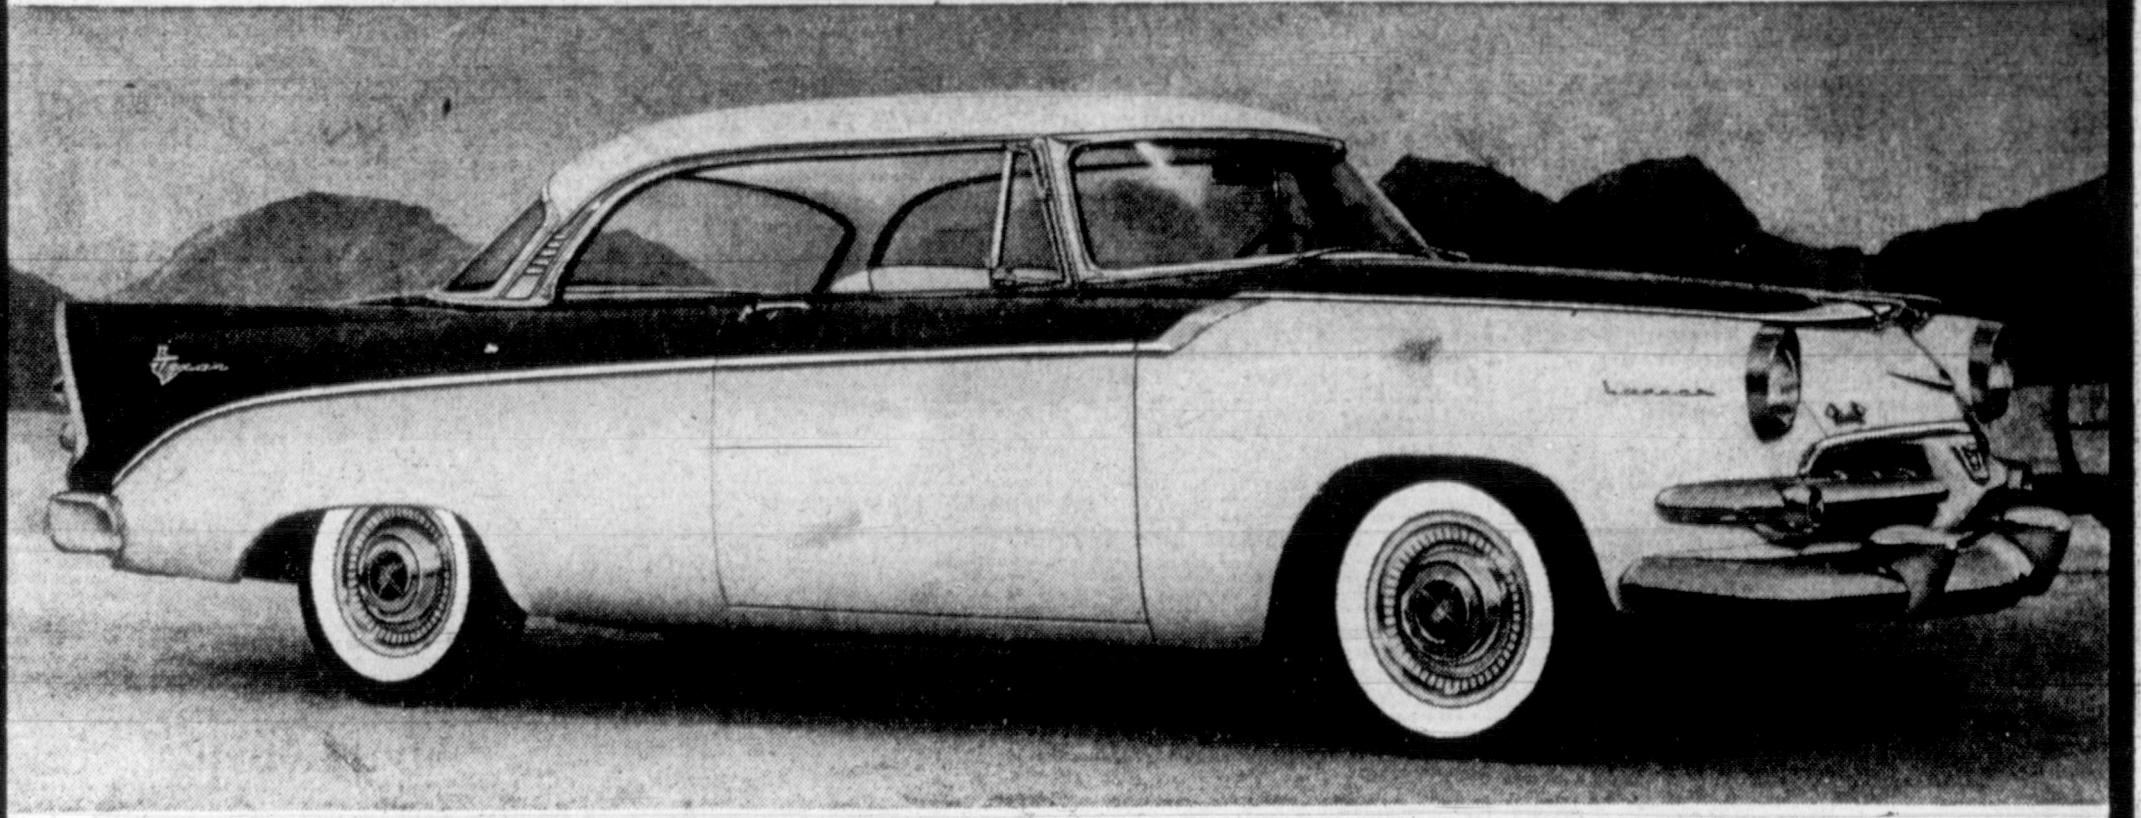

"New Phase in Progress"
"Because of the rapid increase in Houston's population, and that of Texas as well," the general said, "a new and vital phase in the industrial development of the entire region is in progress."
"A direct connection between Houston and the Netherlands will be the first of its kind with any European country and, in some ways, has a historic parallel when in 1836, the Netherlands was the first nation to recognize the Republic of Texas."

Aler said passengers boarding 60 passenger KLM DC-6B planes in Houston could fly to Amsterdam, Holland, in 22 hours by way of Montreal and Shannon, Ireland. The sleeper trip, round-trip, would be $950. Tourist rate, round-trip would be $700.
