Three Men Arrested

Store Burglary Is Cleared Up

Information received from a local dry cleaners yesterday resulted in three Pampa men being arrested last night on charges of burglary and theft of Dunlap's Department Store, 119 N. Cuyler, on the night of Sept. 5.

The three men are: Joe Henry Haines, 811 S. Gray; John Morgan, 810 Octavia; and Orso Frasier Jr., 513 Elm.

Chief of Police Jim Conner reported that the police department had asked all dry cleaning establishments in Pampa to watch for two men's suits and two ladies' coats that were reported taken in the burglary. A description of the clothes was left at each establishment early last week, Conner stated.

NLRB To Study Case Monday

By WILLIAM J. EATON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (UP)—The case of a cotton mill company accused of closing its doors rather than bargain with a union comes before the five-man National Labor Relations Board Monday.

The board will hear oral arguments—a rare occasion at NLRB headquarters—on charges by the Textile Workers Union of America against the now-defunct Darlington Manufacturing Co., Darlington, S. C.

The union wants the board to order the company to go back into business and rehire the 550 employees discharged when the plant closed about a year ago.

Right to Shut Down
The company contends it had the right to shut down when it pleased and disputes an NLRB trial examiner's finding that it was closed to avoid dealing with the textile workers.

The union won the right to represent workers at the mill by a 256-to-248 vote in a plant election conducted by the NLRB on Sept. 6, 1956.

By mid-November the employees were laid off and in December the mill machinery was sold.

The union filed charges against the company and the NLRB issued a complaint accusing the firm of unfair labor practices.

Found Company Guilty
The trial examiner who presided at a hearing on the complaint found the company guilty but refused to allow the union's demands for back pay or reinstatement of the discharged workers. Instead, the examiner ordered the company to proclaim that it would cease and desist from such practices.

Lefors Youth Hospitalized After Wreck

Tommy Joe Northcott, 20, of Lefors was hospitalized Friday night as the result of injuries received when his car overturned about eight miles south of Pampa on the Lefors highway.

His condition was reported as "fair" last night by attendants at Worley Hospital. He received multiple lacerations on the face and internal injuries.

Investigating highway patrolmen reported that the 1956 Chevrolet Northcott was driving overturned after he failed to make a curve. The officer reported that the curve was to the left and that the Chevrolet turned over after leaving the road on the right side. Northcott was heading for Pampa at the time of the accident.

The car received extensive damage, which the officers reported as being nearly total.

Progress On Boys Club Is Reported

"Great progress" has been reported on the local Optimist Club's Boys Club building under construction at the intersection of Barnes and Craven.

Johnny Campbell, club president, said, "Scaffolding has been erected and bricklayers from Pampa and Borger are laying the concrete."

Materials for the building thus far have been paid for by contributions from "800 Club" members. Campbell said, "Approximately $1,900 has been received for this purpose from 280 contributors. All labor has been performed without cost to the club and materials have been bought at cost."

The building program has reached the stage where local citizens can see visual evidence of a permanent building for boys, he continued. "This has been an un-realized dream for many years. The greatest need for the present is more $1 per month subscribers to the '800 Club'. The land is paid for and sufficient voluntary labor has been available. Local plumbers and electricians have volunteered labor free so that leaves us with the principal need . . . funds for materials."

The material cost of the building will be approximately $17,500. "Those who contribute can stand by and see their contributions put to use," Campbell concluded.

Bricklayers were working on erecting the walls of the structure Saturday.

Compromise Said Offered In Ike, Faubus Conference

Arkansas Governor Asks Year's Delay Of Integration

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House Writer
NEWPORT R. I., Sept. 14 (UP)—Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus met with President Eisenhower today in a conference of more than two hours during which the governor was reported to have outlined a compromise plan to settle the Little Rock school crisis by delaying integration for a one-year cooling off period.

President Eisenhower was said to have listened to Faubus' plan without making any commitments.

There was no hint of a compromise plan in the formal statements issued by either Faubus or the President after they talked alone for 20 minutes and in the company of their advisers for an hour and 50 minutes more.

Abide By Constitution
Faubus pleaded he would abide by the U.S. Constitution and by any "valid" court orders. Eisenhower said he recognized that Faubus had the "inescapable responsibility" of preserving law and order in his state. "I am gratified by his constructive and cooperative attitude at our meeting," the President said.

No mention was made of the National Guard troops Faubus sent to Little Rock's Central high school Sept. 2 to keep negroes from enrolling.

When asked whether he would withdraw the guard from the school Monday, Faubus said: "I'll have to take care of that problem when I return home."

Rites Set For Porter Youth

Funeral services for Larry Porter, 15-year-old sophomore student at Pampa High who collapsed while taking calisthenics Thursday, will be held at 3 p.m. tomorrow in the First Assembly of God Church, Rev. H. H. Woods, pastor of the Borger Assembly of God Church, will officiate and will be assisted by Rev. J. E. Neely, pastor of the local church.

Young Porter was pronounced dead on arrival at Highland General Hospital Thursday morning after he collapsed at the beginning of the physical education class. The class had been taking calisthenics for about three minutes when Porter told the instructor, "Coach, I can't do it anymore," and collapsed.

Porter had never been seriously ill and had been active during the past summer in swimming, skating, etc. The attending physician said the cause of death could not be established positively without an autopsy.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Porter, 853 W. Kingmill, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Garner, Rogersville, Ala.

Pallbearers will be Charles Warren, Jerry Foster, Richard Miller, Dewayne Stembridge, Braxton Harper, Billy Ray McDowell, John Campbell and Jerry Kelly.

Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery under the direction of Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

Two Pampans Accepted At Boys Ranch

Two Pampa youths were recently accepted at the famous Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, Northwest of Amarillo.

Robert Shaw, eight, and Doyle Morris, 13, are among the 255 youngsters who call Boys Ranch "home" and "headquarters."

Bobby bunks in the Courthouse. His chore job is cleaning the dormitory each morning and helping water the flowers and grass around the Courthouse.

He has endeared himself to everyone at the Ranch. He enjoys fishing, swimming and is an ardent television fan. He is a second grader at Boys Ranch Independent School.

Doyle is also making a rapid adjustment to Ranch life. He lives in Boot Hill Hall. Doyle keeps Boot Hill in neat condition and is responsible for general chores in his dorm.

Doyle likes hiking, fishing and horseback riding. Watching the boys prepare for the 13th annual rodeo which was held over the Labor Day week end was a great thrill to him.

Both boys are getting involved in their school studies and look forward to the new set of activities brought about by the fall and winter seasons such as hunting, hiking, football, basketball and wrestling.

Sunday morning finds the boys worshipping in the Ranch Chapel. Non-sectarian services are conducted every Sunday and the older boys take a leading role by leading a prayer or leading the singing. The boys are prepared for life and living with a sound Bible background. No interpretation is put on the scriptures—they are taught in an unbiased manner—so a boy can intelligently choose the church of his choice when he leaves the Ranch.

Winter In Early Visit To Top O' Texas

"Old Man Winter" made an early visit to the Top o' Texas yesterday as cold north winds and a thick overcast held temperatures to a chilly high of 59 degrees in Pampa.

The cold was accompanied by a light drizzle throughout the morning and afternoon with the clouds clearing shortly before dark. The drizzle and a shower Friday night resulted in a total of .12 of an inch being recorded by The News rain gauge.

FORT WORTH, Sept. 14 (UP)—The weather bureau issued a severe thunderstorm forecast tonight for a large area covering parts of Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas. It said:

"Scattered severe thunderstorms accompanied by large hail and locally damaging winds are expected over most of southeast and eastern Oklahoma, extreme west central Arkansas, most of north central and northeast Texas this evening and early Sunday morning, until 2 a.m."

"The approximate area is bounded by Abilene, Tex., Tulsa, Okla., Hot Springs, Ark., Palestine, Tex., back to Abilene, Tex."

"The severe thunderstorm forecast does include the Fort Worth-Dallas area. No warning has been issued for this area, just a forecast."

At least two tornadoes were reported Saturday night on a storm line stretching from North Texas into southern Oklahoma.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said a tornado hit Wichita Falls at about 6 p.m., causing considerable damage. Another funnel destroyed a farm home north of Konawa, Okla., about 70 miles southeast of Oklahoma City.

There were no injuries reported from either storm.

Damaged Service Station
The storm at Wichita Falls caused about $3,000 damages to a service station, and damaged a drive-in theater and one home. Up to one and one-half inches of rain fell at various points around Wichita Falls.

Jack Caviness of Wichita Falls, who took shelter in a building where the service station was damaged, said he thought the storm was a straight wind. But M. L. Crowe, owner of the station, said he thought it was a tornado, although he did not see a funnel.

The farm home of Claude Humphrey, who lived one mile north of Konawa, was destroyed by the Oklahoma twister. Strong winds also unroofed a house and blew down trees at Bethel, just west of Shawnee, Okla.

SAFETY AWARDS—Two divisions of the Cabot Companies were presented Certificates of Commendation from the National Safety Council at the annual barbecue of the Cabot Companies at Lake McClellan yesterday afternoon. Hugh Burdette, center, general manager, presented the awards to Shafer "B" Plant, represented by John M. Brown, superintendent of the plant, right, and to the Pampa Office, represented by O. M. Prigmore, director of Pampa Office, left. A total of 76 employees of Cabot received service awards at the celebration. (News Photo)

Egypt Rejects Israeli Plea To End War

By BERT L. MARSH
United Press Staff Correspondent
LONDON, Sept. 14 (UP)—Egypt today rejected an Israeli plea to end the state of war between the two countries. The Egyptians accused Israel of preparing for new aggression in the Middle East.

The Israeli peace bid was turned down in a statement here by Abdel Kader Hatem, information chief in the regime of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Nasser's aide told 500 delegates from 49 nations at the London inter-parliamentary union conference that "when Israel talks peace she means war. When she offers friendship she is preparing for aggression."

Egypt was replying to an Israeli appeal for peace with its Arab neighbors that was delivered in London Friday before the same conference by Israeli delegate David Hacohen.

The Israeli delegate had appealed "to our Arab neighbors to allow the still and small voice of peace to emerge from the din of tension and war preparations."

The Egyptian statement came amid these other Middle East developments.

1,000 Enjoy First Of 2 Cabot Picnics

More than 1,000 persons, Cabot employees and their families, braved chilling winds yesterday afternoon at Lake McClellan in a determined effort to enjoy the annual Cabot picnic and presentation of awards.

Because of the large number of employees, the annual picnic has been divided into two sections: the Cabot shops employees (to be held next Saturday afternoon) and employees in all other sections.

The latter group was guest yesterday when an afternoon of entertainment was followed by a barbecue and the presentation of service and safety awards.

Some 76 employees who have worked for Cabot from five to 25 years, received the service awards.

Certificates of commendation from the National Safety Council were presented by Hugh Burdette, general manager of the Cabot Southwestern division, to the Pampa Cabot office and to the Shafer "B" plant, west of the city. O. M. Prigmore, director of purchasing here, accepted the award for the Pampa office. John M. Brown, superintendent of the Shafer "B" plant, accepted the certificates for that group.

Service pins for the five, 10 and 15 year men were presented by Dudley Steele, general production superintendent of the Carbon Black plant, while the 20 and 25 year pins were given by Gene Greene and Bill Loving. Those receiving the 25 year pin were also given a watch and their wives a piece of luggage.

Fay Meador, assisted by Bill Kelly, emceed the proceedings. The barbecue was prepared and served by the Pampa Shrine Club under the direction of Paul Crouch.

Festivities were begun at 1 p.m. yesterday with free rides on boats and sheltand ponies followed by various contests including potato races, rolling pin throwing, horse shoe pitching, boat rowing and others.

Ten-year men included Sam Goodlett Jr., Robert Hart, George Gonsaulius, George Henderson Jr., Carl Anderson, Marvin Gray, John Holt Jr., Dewey Johnson, Alfred Overton, Robert Powell, Arthur Baker, William McKinney, Marcelene Nachlinger, Kenneth Reeves, Curt Beck, Burt Graham Jr., Phillip Powell, William Ridgway, Warren Ritter, Raymond Armstrong, Dale Burch, Jim Butcher, Marshall Glester, Charlie Hammons, Harold Hink, Rufus Johnson, Edward Klebrink, Aubrey Lane, Raymond Moore, Lonnie Powell, Wilburn West, Walton Barnett, Truman Lowrance, Homer Snider and Delbert Johnson.

Those with 15 years of service included Kit Audrey, Willard Henderson, E. J. O'Brien, D. W. Swain, George Adams, Garrett Bewley, Luther Gilreath, James

Adult Ed. Group Sets 1st Fall Meeting

The Adult Education Group of Pampa will have its first meeting of the fall season at Lovett Memorial Library Auditorium Tuesday night at 7:30.

The members of all groups, as well as persons interested in the program, have been invited to attend. Special welcome is extended to residents who have recently moved to Pampa.

At the August board meeting, Dr. R. M. Hampton, representative to the West Texas Council for Adult Education, reported the discontinuance of the Adult Education Department at Texas Tech. This was the result of exhausting of funds set aside for this work, it was reported. The executive board voted to continue Adult Education in Pampa, retaining membership with the West Texas Council for Adult Education.

The chairman of the board is Rev. David Zacharias, Westminster Presbyterian Church of Lubbock. The local group will operate as it has in the past, guided by an executive board, which consists of two members from each discussion group.

The members of the board are: Fred Sloan, chairman; Warren B. Cochran, vice chairman; Mrs. D. J. George, secretary-treasurer; D. R. M. Hampton, Bob Olson, Mrs. H. H. Hahn, Mrs. F. M. Culbertson, Mrs. J. L. Bain, Dr. T. J. Wright, and Mrs. Lillian Snow.

The following discussion groups will be available this year: American Heritage, Origin, use and study of words, Spanish, Mathematics, French, Jeffersonian Democracy, Great Books, Ways of Mankind, The Humanities, Sing Your America, U.S. & Foreign Policy, You and your Community, Great Religions of the World, and World Affairs.

At the Tuesday meeting, literature for each of these groups will be on display, and the schedule for the coming year will be set up. Any further information may be obtained from the Lovett Memorial Library or from any member of the board.

BOYS CLUB GOING UP—Bricklayers were hard at work Saturday morning on the Boys Club building being constructed by the Pampa Optimist Club. Labor on the project is being donated and progress is reported as "great" by club president Johnny Campbell. Left to right in the photo are, F. E. Wilson, A. J. Kirkham, Robert Jeffcoat and Walter Wells, all members of a Borger local volunteering work on the project. Pampa bricklayers also have been working for the club. (News Photo)

GRAY COUNTY Soil Conservation District News

By GLENN FLOYD Soil Scientist

Gray County Soil Conservation District cooperators remained busy last week.

Toy Tinsley has recently completed border irrigation systems on his farms. A border system consists of parallel borders spaced 20 feet or more apart. The area between the borders is leveled to permit even distribution of water. The border method is suited to many soil types and variations in topography, but best conditions are a moderately permeable soil sloping less than one foot per hundred feet.

Border irrigation is equally suited to broadcast crops such as alfalfa or small grains, and to cultivated crops grown in rows.

Construction of a concrete pipe system is under way on the Bill Stockstill place. With concrete irrigation pipe costly evaporation and seepage losses can be eliminated. Time and labor costs in irrigation can also be reduced.

The concrete pipe systems require little maintenance as compared to the work involved in keeping the open ditches in working order. Since the pipe system is underground, valuable cultivated land is kept in production.

Other work in the district includes 20 acres of field leveling being done at the H. C. Graham farm.

Sam Bowers, Laketon farmer, is in the process of building 7000 feet of diversion terraces and 3000 feet of erosion terraces.

An erosion control dam has recently been staked for construction on the Ed Gething ranch near Laketon.

Assistance in the planning and application of these practices was furnished by the technicians of the Soil Conservation Service assisting the Gray County Soil Conservation District.

'Lifer' Gets Parole

AUSTIN (UP)—John M. McKenzie, who has served 30 years of a life imprisonment sentence for slaying a San Antonio detective in 1927, has been granted parole.

Gov. Price Daniel, at the recommendation of the state Board of Pardons and Paroles, approved the parole of McKenzie to Tennessee, where authorities have agreed to accept his supervision.

McKenzie's brother in Memphis will provide a home for him, Daniel said.

The 54-year-old former San Antonio man was sentenced to die for the killing, but was ruled insane. His sentence was reduced to life, and he was later adjudged sane.

Stocks In Comeback At Last Week's End

By ROBERT G. SHORTAL United Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK (UP)—A strong comeback led by metal stocks enabled the stock market to finish higher on balance this week.

Sharp declines on Monday and Tuesday wiped more than $3,500,000,000 from sorely depleted stock values. However, good rallies on Wednesday and Thursday restored $4,100,000,000 to valuations. The market closed fractionally higher on Friday.

Trading picked up sharply, with sales averaging 1,810,249 shares on a daily average basis, against 1,369,793 shares the week before. That was the lowest for any week since November 1953.

The declines earlier this week reflected nervousness over the cloudy economic picture, warnings about the dangers of inflation and the Syrian crisis.

Dulles Helps Market

Assurances from Secretary of State Dulles that the Syrian situation will be settled peacefully helped to buoy the market on Wednesday. Also, brokers said, the market was ripe for a technical recovery following the recent decline.

The first increase in copper prices in a long while triggered demand for non-ferrous metals. Increases in production and incoming orders helped the steels. The aircrafts met some support following assurances that economy cuts by Congress will have no

Zenith Wins Suit

Gulf and Kerr McGee featured the oils with gains of seven and 4 1/2 points respectively. Zenith soared 12 following an out-of-court settlement of its anti-trust suit against Radio Corp. of America and other firms for a reported 10 million dollars.

Goodrich rose 2 1/2 and Goodyear 1 1/2 in the tires. Firestone countered with a loss of 1 1/2. Chrysler and Ford firmed in the motors but General Motors lost. Merck was up 3 1/2 in the chemicals and Eastman Kodak rose 2 1/2.

Major effect on defense spending

This year or next. Chemicals responded to the outlook for higher earnings.

The industrial finished higher in the week. However, the railroads were lower on balance, reflecting statements that they may be forced to quit the passenger business because of huge deficits, estimated in excess of 600 million a year, on passenger operations. Utilities closed the week about unchanged.

FROM ONE TO ANOTHER—Robert Keegan, Jr., 10, wears his Midget League cap in Chicago as he gets some pitching aid from his dad, the White Sox pitcher. The lad realizes that if his dad doesn't know what he's talking about, who does?

FOLLOWING TRADITION—This horse race in Siena, Italy, dates from medieval times as some hardy bareback riders break from the starting line. The town square and all windows facing on it are jam-packed with spectators who want to see the pageant. Every rider wears an ancient costume that represents a different sector of the city.

WHAT WENT WRONG?—Well, to begin with, the hook did. Edra Furlong has certainly landed a beauty in Cypress Gardens, Fla., where she was trying her luck with rod and reel. The hook landed in an embarrassing spot and Edra quickly discovered how a poor fish feels when dragged from its watery home and out into the world.

Pampa Scouts Enthusiastic Over Their Tour Of Europe

By BILL NEAL Pampa News Staff Writer Two of the three Pampa Scouts who recently returned from a nine-week tour which took them over Europe were quick to sing the praises of the beauty of Switzerland while the third, endowed with an entirely different taste, preferred a beauty in England. Don Curry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Curry, 1126 Charles and Bill Neslage, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Neslage, 1341 N. Russell, thought the landscape and climate of Switzerland were superb. And they are ready to take another trip to the Alp-studded land while Bill's older brother, taking a more sophisticated view of matters, prefers England. He liked the tea and crumpets... and as brother Bill said, "a girl there."

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) Hollywoodites Are Talking About: So this Loren going underwater again for a sequence in her new Paramount movie, "Houseboat." Sophia just completed "Desire Under the Elms" but one more underwater scene and maybe we'll have Sophia in "Desire Under the Water." Pat Boone rushing his three-year-old daughter Cheryl to the hospital on a false alarm. He thought she'd swallowed a large paper clip but a fluoroscopic examination revealed nothing. The paper clip later was found under a large chair. Hollywood night club comedian Don Rickles raving about the success of his new act. "But I had an audience last week that was a failure," he says. MGM's signing of Audrey Hepburn for a film version of "Green Mansions." Let's hope she gets a leading man her own age this time. Van Johnson signing up for another movie to be made in England. The film, "No Time to Die," goes before the cameras late this year. Cary Grant and Betsy Drake denying those separation rumors. Wanda Hendrix saying she's been asked to play herself as Audie Murphy's first wife in "The Way Back." Bet it never happens, but it's a new switch on Hollywood's hard-hitting film biographies. Someone asking disk jockey Dick Haynes, "How many people work in Hollywood film studios?" His reply: "About half."

Incidentally, Powell's widow was on hand for the event. Fred Jr., along with other American boys, gave a whip-cracking exhibition for the foreign Scouts. After the Jubilee was completed the trio, with their leader, W. O. Kindy of Guymon, Okla., and a Panhandle Scout, Harold Smith, set out on a detailed tour of Europe. They returned to Pampa Sept. 6. While in England, Leonard M. K. Brown, brother of Pampa's M. K. Brown, picked up the Scouts and gave them a first hand tour. Brown took the Scouts to see the Crown Jewels, Buckingham Palace, Westminster Abbey and other sights. Saw The Queen The Jubilee was held at Sutton Coalfield near Birmingham, England. Once, the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh made a short visit to the camp. Scouts from the various nations were almost all cordial in their relations with Americans, and none were actually hostile, the boys reported. Don was particularly impressed with the boys from South America, Africa and England, whom he said were "very friendly to us." But after the Jubilee, the highlight was definitely Switzerland. Bill said that the Swiss farmers put bells of varying tones around the neck of their cows in order to distinguish them. The tone of the bell served the same purpose as brands do in Texas. The boys didn't have a report on how the cattle rustling situation was handled, however. Streets Washed Another interesting feature of the mountainous land was that the Swiss washed their streets every morning at 4 a.m. The streams there, unlike the clear American water, was a turquoise color, Don said. Holland was also an impressive country, the boys said. Don found a friend there who guided the boys although he spoke little English. "They really wear wooden shoes and have the old Dutch windmills," he stated. While touring France, the Panhandle Scouts were guests of the American ambassador for a dinner party. Lace Makers In Belgium, the group saw intricate lace work being done by several old ladies, the youngest of whom was 78 years old. "They made the lace when they had spare time from working in the fields," Bill said. It took three years of apprenticeship before the ladies could make the elaborately designed lace patterns. While abroad, the Americans laid in an ample supply of stamps, coins and souvenirs for their friends and families. On the trip over, Bill and Harold Smith developed a case of seasickness while their colleagues, Bill Neal, staff writer Speaking of people, and if no one was why don't we... perhaps one of the most interesting observation points for a study of the Homo sapien nature is at a football game. There you catch all the passion, fury, fear, regret, agony, hate, satisfaction, ecstasy and shivering on a bench all rolled up into one concentrated blob. The only element of human emotion lacking is the sense of comfort. But it's worth it. I get more of a kick out of watching the spectators than the players. Friday night, I borrowed myself out to the sports department here and journeyed eastward to watch Wheeler romp over the tame Tigers from McLean. I got so interested in the people I almost forgot to cover the game. But anyway, there's about a half dozen stereotyped fans that never fail to show for the big game. First, and probably most amusing, is the mother of the hometown star (actually he only played two downs). In that desperate moment when all is at stake, above the roar of the crowd you can distinguish that warm motherly word of encouragement as she jumps up and shrieks, "Kill 'em." Usually emitted about three keys higher than her normal choir-singing pitch. Then there's her husband... more jovial and usually slightly pudgy. After a three yard gain by the star, he clenches harder on the cigar and punches his neighbor, smirking "How bout that? By golly," he helpfully continues through billows of gray smoke, "reminds me of our rugged crew of '32." And we are never allowed to overlook the self-appointed comedian who, apparently vaccinated with a phonograph needle earlier in his career, benevolently shares his gems of wit with the entire crowd via a leather-lunged running commentary on the game and other related incidents. Frequently he spends several days before the game preparing his bit of witicism to be used at appropriate lulls. But most colorful is the "come-prepared" man. Staunchly determined to derive the most from the affair, he also spent days gathering all possible articles that could be of use during a game. Carefully he anticipates all weather changes, seating arrangements, and unscheduled disturbances. Wagging a satchel or small suitcase, he takes three or four coats of varying weights, caps, sweaters, binoculars, thermos jugs of coffee (one black and one with cream and sugar), seat pads, at least three blankets (with complementary color scheme), pencils, programs, pads and his little black book of "1,000 Interesting Facts About Football." Ah, yes there's absolutely nothing like football season. But the moral to the story is: if you have a weak heart, just stay home and wait for the bull fights next summer.

STAFF NOTES

JOEL R. COMBS, managing editor Pampa just keeps growing. Now it comes out that "Our Town" is developing into a telephone hub. Did you know that the Pampa exchange handles all long distance telephone calls for (besides Pampa) Lefors, Miami, Stinnett, Gruver, Sanford, Fritch, and Skeltytown? Also Pampa handles some of the long distance calls from Borger, McLean, and Shamrock. George Newberry, Southwestern Bell office manager here, said this exchange will start handling everything from White Deer about Dec. 1. Newberry called his office a "toll center for this area." Another interesting phone item. The Pampa exchange handles about 2,700 long distance telephone calls each day. The local telephone company expects to finish an $85,000 "cable job" to the north part of town within the next 35 days and will add nine more switchboard positions about Dec. 1, at a cost of another $85,000. Newberry said Canadian, Shamrock, Wheeler and Mobeetie will be "cut in" to the local exchange by 1960. Neiman-Marcus has a "stopper" going in Dallas. They call it a "Mystery Box." The "Mystery Box" sells for $25 and is supposed to contain a minimum of $45 worth of you-never-know-what-you-buy-it. N-M's Warren Leslie said they sold 100 the first day. Stopped by to check progress on the new Boys Club being built by the Optimists? It looks good and they're a lot farther along than you might think they would be by now. Seem to have plenty of voluntary help, just need some more money. If you want to join the "800 Club" all you have to do is subscribe to a gift of $1 a month to the Optimists — and they will use the money to finish up the Boys Club building. There's no way around it. You've just got to admire those Optimists.

CHARLES CULLIN sports editor Pampa seems to be about average in its desire to keep up with surrounding cities in like sports as well as other ways. Many comments have been heard on the sidelines of the Harvest Festival during the past week about the way particular schools are "loaded" and seem to come up with good teams regularly through the years. It is well known that the finest sports programs today are those that have adequate training for the youngsters just coming into age and size to compete in supervised sports. Should Pampanians find fault in the years to come in their athletic systems, it might could have been traced to this fact. Young boys, however, are just now being given the opportunities a city the size of Pampa should be able to offer. Coach Frank Craig had 96 sixth graders report for the Pee Wee team last week, a number entirely too great for one man to attempt to coach. In partial answer, the coaches, Jack Lockett, Eural Ramsey, Dwan Lyon, Gene Chance, Norman Phillips, Dick Woldt and Frank Craig have volunteered their time on Saturday morning to train and work with youngsters interested in football. If Pampanians expect to compete with Amarillo, Lubbock, etc., in turning out fine, seasoned teams through the years, the need should be realized of the preparation and support that is necessary. And if local athletic teams are going to be on an average with those of the larger towns, we're going to have to start working with them when they're young.

FRED M. PARKER, staff writer With the recent starting of school, the people dealing with the safety of the school children are stressing safety. Elsewhere in the paper today is a reminder that motorists are required to stop for school buses that are loading or unloading students. This shouldn't have to be forced on the public in the way of law enforcement. Every motorist should feel it an obligation. It would be a heart-breaking task for those of us in The News department to have to cover a story where a student had been injured due to the thoughtlessness of motorists. Also dealing with school safety is the request of local law enforcement agencies to motorists to limit their speed in school zones to 15-miles-per-hour and not to pass in the school zones. Recently this writer has observed several motorists exceeding the speed limit near our schools while children were playing near the streets. The police departments would like for the people to obey the laws but if the drivers of the cars will not, the officers will stop the violators. Heard a fellow say yesterday

There Doesn't Seem To Be An Ideal American Girl

By CLARE COX
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (UP)—The new Miss America is being billed as a perfect home grown beauty, but actually, there doesn't seem to be one ideal American girl.

Some men like them fat, some thin. Some like them tall, and some short. Some prefer bosomy girls. Others go for the more flat-chested types — not exactly concave, but built more or less along Grace Kelly's modest lines.

And they are likely to change their preferences through the years. The bosom that catches the male eye today may be a bust tomorrow.

Hips Larger
Look at the new Miss America, Marilyn Elaine Van Derbur, for example. She stands 5 feet, 8 inches tall. Her measurements are 35-26-36. That means her hips are an inch larger than her bust. Jane Russell's hips do not go for dimensions such as that.

The first Miss America, a bathing beauty named Margaret Gorman, chosen in 1921, was a little girl, only 5 feet 1. She weighed 108 pounds and her measurements were a pear-shaped 30-25-33. There hasn't been such a tiny Miss America since — or such a flat-chested one.

Then there is the most famous Marilyn of them all, Miss Monroe, that is. She is regarded by many men as an ideal woman, but her measurements do not stack up with the beauty rule of the 1930's that called for hips and bust of the same dimensions and a waist 10 inches smaller.

Miss Monroe's measurements are 37-23-34, and she is 5 feet, 5 1/2 inches tall. Her hips are three inches smaller than her bust, and the difference between her waist and bust comes to more than a foot.

Fashion models, those skinny girls who stare hollow-eyed out of magazine ads, are supposed to be taller than the new Miss America, but not nearly so well upholstered, to become cover girls. The ideal fashion model's measurements are 32-22-32, according to the New York Dress Institute. That can be skimpy when a girl is 5 feet, 9 inches tall.

The Department of Commerce has come up with what it calls a "standard" American girl. She is a size 12, measuring 34-25-36, which is a bit on the hippy side and a long way from Jayne Mansfield. Miss Mansfield's 40-21-35 1/2 figure draws many a male ogler, but it poses a problem for her dreammaker.

As an example of how ideals change, along with the ladies, a 1924 list of the 10 most beautiful women in America, chosen by artists and photographers, included actresses Norma Shearer and Dolores del Rio.

Their measurements were not recorded for posterity. The accent was on the face, not the figure, in those days.

Huntz Hall To Appear As A Crooner With Debbie Reynolds

By VERNON SCOTT
United Press Hollywood Writer
Huntz Hall, pickle-nosed Bowery boy, moves up in class next month when he appears as a crooner with Debbie Reynolds on Eddie Fisher's television show.

"I'll be up with the carriage trade," says Huntz proudly. "This is a real step up the social ladder for me. I'm not knocking the Bowery boys, but I want to spread myself around a little."

The gangling, adenoidal Hall is king of slum kid actors. In the past 20 years he has made a fortune slobbering his way through 99 B-minus pictures.

"I've played three different characters, though," he said defensively.

"In the 28 'Dead End Kid' pictures I was 'Dippy.' Then the series was switched to 'The East Side Kids.' And in 26 of them I was 'Glimpy.' Now we've made 48 Bowery boy pictures and I'm 'Satch' in them."

Though he's 34 years old, stringy-haired Huntz still plays a juvenile delinquent in his late teens or early 20s. But his patience with playing a half-witted hustler has paid off. After 20 years he has finally reached stardom — No. 1 Bowery boy.

He was just one of the gang up until a year or so ago when bulldog-faced Leo Gorcey quit the Bowery boys clan. Now Huntz heads the billing.

"When we started out on Broadway in 'Dead End' in 1935 there were six of us," Huntz recalled. "The leader was Billy Halop. Pretty soon he's going to start a TV series with his sister Florence."

"Bobby Jordan, he played the kid with the long hair named 'Angel,' owns a piece of a bar out here and is playing character parts in movies. Gabe Dell played the kid with TB. He works in New York now on the Steve Allen show. Bernard Punsky — the one who played the fat kid — is a doctor."

More than 250 types of soil are found in Texas.

Home Payment Dip Soon Doubled

By EDWARD COWAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (UP)—An official of the United States Savings and Loan League warned prospective home buyers today not to expect lower down payment concessions in the near future.

There is little prospect of an early return to negligible or no down payments, Norman Strunk, the league's executive vice president, said.

But home-owning for the moderate-income family is not such a tough financial proposition as recently implied by the National Housing Conference, League President Roy Marr said in a separate statement.

Strunk said that tight-money conditions, the result of the Federal Reserve Board's anti-inflation policy, mean that the relatively easy financing of the immediate post-war years is not about to reappear.

Heavier Payments Likely
With the expected continuing tight supply of mortgage funds plus a trend toward larger and more expensive homes, Strunk said, even heavier down payments are in the offing.

He noted that the average home built today is larger and better equipped than earlier postwar models. This, plus higher construction costs, he said, has pushed prices up and made proportionately bigger down payments necessary.

Meanwhile Marr criticized recent statements by the housing conference which recommended more conservative home-buying practices than are usually pursued.

A conference study asserted that a family should spend no more than 20 per cent of its take-home pay on housing expenses, including monthly mortgage payments, insurance, taxes, upkeep and heating.

The rule-of-thumb usually advocated is 25 per cent.

The conference study also claimed that to afford a house priced at $11,450 a family needs an income of $7,156.

A ratio of two and one-half to one is generally advised for the relation between cost of the house and annual income.

Marr said these recommendations were "deliberate efforts" to impair the confidence of American families in their ability to buy homes. He said he did not know of a private home financing organization that requires an income of $7,156 to finance a home priced at $11,450.

The league represents a reported 4,300 savings and loan institutions. Their main type of investment is residential mortgages.

Marr said the 20 per cent expense-income ratio recommended by the conference "represents an attempt to introduce a revolutionary and dubious theory into American home financing practices."

Strunk suggested that although a substantial down payment may seem burdensome when the home buyer signs the check, in the long run it saves him money.

The larger the down payment the lower the mortgage, Strunk pointed out. And the lighter the debt, the smaller will be the accumulated interest payments.

In addition, Strunk said, if prospective home buyers put their money in a savings institution it will earn interest until it is used for the down payment.

HARVESTERS

Regardless of the wins or losses, if the Pampa Harvesters can keep playing the kind of game they played Friday night, there can be little room for disappointment.

Noticed throughout the grandstand and most commented upon was the spirit the team displayed throughout the entire four quarters, although losing the opener 27-7 to the powerful Austin Panthers.

Eight of the starting lineup played in AAAA competition for the first time and many of the eight went almost the length of the game in giving their opponents an able battle and proving that they have the potential power necessary to develop into a top-rate team.

THE OFFENSIVE machine, as is natural for an opening game, had rough spots but showed on the overall to be speedy and effective. Quarterback Gary Wilhelm looked good in engineering the team on several drives, which statistics bear out equalled the Panther's efforts.

At half time the Harvesters led El Paso 7-0 in yards gained rushing and led at the end of the game 122 to 116. Two other major statistics show that the score was no indication of the game played in that Austin led in total first downs by one, and both teams were forced into fourth down punts eight times.

In the backfield Don Bigham, Jess Ingle and Robert Langford looked strong and smooth during much of the Harvesters' offense. Bigham averaged 5.3 yards per carry and was followed closely by Langford with 4.4 and Ingle with 4.1.

THE HARVESTERS meet Arlington Hts. of Fort Worth next Friday and with more time to work out the problems and a little experience on the part of the new country in the starting lineup, things should look different on the scoreboard.

Area Games Area grid games Friday night brought about some drastic changes in the outlook of several teams.

The feared Perryton Rangers are either holding back or Coach James Peterson was telling the truth when he said graduation wiped out their 1956 championship team.

The Rangers managed a close 4-0 win over the Class A Canadian Wildcat, who were defeated last week by the Class B Wheeler Mustangs. This leaves Perryton somewhere short of the "power" attributed them earlier in the season. It was an opener, though, and too soon to judge.

Looking stronger than ever are Coach Louis Boynton's Wheeler Mustangs, who downed McLean 39-0 for their second win of the 29 season. They look to be on their way to a second district title, having yet to drop down to their own Class B to play a game.

Also looking good for their first clash of the season were the Lefors Pirates, who won a hard but decisive victory over the Shamrock Irishmen.

And the lads from White Deer proved again that they are out for scraps this season as they downed the Bronchos of Clarendon, 28-26. The Bucks battle Lefors next week in the game that will probably draw more inquisitive fans, scouts, coaches etc., than any other game in the area.

Press Box Rear Views EITHER THE Shamrock Irishmen have a lot of support from area papers or the damp weather fogged someone's goggles, but a large majority of the people who saw the game and a whole host of players were dead certain that it was the Pirates who won.

And Lefors' right end Stanley Coleman must have been disappointed when he read a morning paper yesterday and found that he was the star for the wrong team.

Had a pre-game article been printed, they might have had to draw a straw to see who belonged to which squad.

Seeking Honors TEXAS TECH Coach Dewitt Weaver makes a bid for optimism of the year honors when he sees a bright side to his 43 man squad.

"With that many, it doesn't look like we'll make any of our boys unhappy by leaving them at home on trips," he commented. "We're right down to a traveling squad."

Tech has five seniors.

Harvesters Drop Opener To Austin, 27-7

COMPLETED PASS—El Paso's big end, Al Humphrey, comes to the end of the trail as another end, Frank Snow, Pampa, pulls him to the ground. Humphrey had just snagged a 15 yard pass from quarterback, John Furman. Pampa's fullback and co-captain Robert Langford (31) closes in to assist in the tackle. Action took place in the first period.

HARVESTERS GAIN—Big gun in the Pampa ground game, halfback Don Bigham carries an El Paso defender with him on one of his more successful runs Friday night. Center Dick Watkins gives aid by pushing back a Panther tackler. Bigham's gains were devoted to a lost cause, however, as the visitors whistled to a 27-7 victory.

Pampa Holds Panthers In Tow Until Final Quarter Of Game

By CHARLES CULLIN Pampa News Sports Editor

The Pampa Harvesters held the powerful El Paso Panthers in tow for three full quarters only to be beaten out in the waning minutes of the game, 27-7, in their opener Friday night in Harvester Field.

Outrushing the Panthers in both halves, and dropping only one first down behind during the entire game, the Harvesters, lacking mainly in depth, finally went under to the "wrecking squads" of the heavily manned El Paso team. Both offensively and defensively the green cleavers proved their stamina and ability in turning in a hard fought game.

Neither team was able to score until early in the second quarter when El Paso gained its first TD. Later in the same period, Austin capitalized on a Pampa fumble of a fourth down kick to set up its second score. Pampa's touchdown came in the third period, while Austin was held scoreless until late in the fourth when they pushed over their final two.

Sparked by quarterback John Furman, the Panthers' first score came on the third play of the second period when Furman connected with Al Humphrey for a 28-yard pass to the Harvester 30-yard mark. Pampa's defense then tightened but four plays later halfback John Webb went over from the one-yard line. Furman kicked the extra point.

Recovery of a fumbled kick set up the second score for the Panthers when they gained possession on the Pampa four-yard line. Again the Harvester defense proved strong and Austin spent four plays gaining the scant yards necessary, with David Alvarez going over from 1/2 yard out. Furman's attempt to convert failed.

Harvester TD The Harvester offense began rolling in the third quarter when they gained two successive first downs in a 40-yard drive that ended in halfback Don Bigham carrying into the end zone. The drive started when quarterback Gary Wilhelm completed a pass to end Jess Ingle for ten yards, followed by a 12-yard run by Robert Langford and a six-yard gain by Jess Ingle. The scoring play went from Wilhelm to Ingle, who flipped a short running pass to Bigham going over from the ten.

Fourth Quarter Past midway in the final period, the Panthers scored their third TD of the night when a weak Harvester punt gave them the ball on the Pampa 30-yard mark. Three plays took Austin to the eight yard line, where Alvarez skirted right and for the score.

In the final two minutes of play, Austin again gained possession of the ball on the Harvester four yard line as a result of another Pampa kick, which was into a high wind, carrying the ball back behind the line of scrimmage. After three running attempts, which netted only three yards, quarterback Furman carried over guard for the score. Furman made good his third extra point attempt in four tries for the final point.

Harvesters Accounting for the yardage gained by the Harvesters were Bigham, who carried seven times for 49 yards; Ingle, who netted 31 yards in eight carries; and Langford, who gained 40 yards while Clovis Shipp carried one time for eight yards, in addition to a nine yard punt return. A stone wall defense thrown up by the Harvesters prevented two other strong threats by the El Paso team. Once in the first period, the Panthers penetrated to the seven yard line and again in the fourth, they reached the one yard line, failing to score either time. Bolstering the Pampa defense were Robert Langford, linebacker, and Dick Watkins, end. Others consistent in stopping the Panther onslaught were Paul Brown, Gary Matlock, Bob Arthur, Mert Cooper and Gary Peterson.

Quarterback Wilhelm passed nine times and completed twice for a total of 16 yards. The Harvesters led in yards gained rushing with 132, against 116 for El Paso. The Panther's Furman went to the air seven times, completing four for a total of 46 yards, to put Austin ahead in total yards gained with 163 against 138 for Pampa. Austin edged the Harvesters in first downs, 11 to 10.

Outstanding ground gainers for the Panthers were Furman, with 27 yards for seven carries; and David Alvarez, who stacked 51 yards in 13 carries with the ball. Webb gained 32 yards in 15 carries.

Recap Although the Harvesters lost the spirit and determination of the opener, spectators could not deny the spirit and determination of the squad in handling the El Paso team a hard fought battle. Coach Jack Lockett stated after the game that he and the other coaches were very proud of all the boys and the excellent game they played. He added that most of the team members started on the Harvester squad in the initial night, and with time and more experience should develop into a top-rate club. Being short on depth, Lockett added that he especially appreciated the good, hard game turned in by many of the team who were required to go the full four quarters.

Pampa will meet Arlington Hts. of Fort Worth in another home game next Friday, to begin at 8 p.m.

BULLETIN West Texas State defeated McMurry College, 20-7 in a game played in Canyon last night.

Phillies Drop Redlegs, 5-0 CINCINNATI, Sept. 14 (UP)—Robin Roberts, in the throes of his worst major league season, pitched the Philadelphia Phillies to a 5-0 victory today over the Cincinnati Redlegs, helped by a four-run outburst in the seventh inning.

Roberts gave up eight hits and no walks in pitching his second shutout of the season and winning his 10th game against 20 losses. Brooks Lawrence, the Cincinnati starter who was shelved in the seventh, suffered his 12th loss.

Senators Clout Athletics, 3-2 WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (UP)—Roy Sievers broke up another game today when he blasted his 20th homer to lead off the 10th inning and give the Washington Senators a 3-2 victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

Braves' Lead Cut To Four Games In Loss To Dodgers

Rivera's Eighth Inning Homer Leads Sox To Win Over Yanks

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 14 (UP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers clouted the first place Milwaukee Braves 7-1 today behind Carl Erskine who hadn't pitched a complete game in nearly a year.

The victory cut Milwaukee's lead to four games over the St. Louis Cardinals. It was the seventh loss in 10 games for the shaky first place Braves, who last year lost the pennant to Brooklyn on the next to the last day of the season.

The Braves' margin over St. Louis was their smallest since Aug. 9 when Milwaukee led by 3 1/2 games. Erskine, given a four run lead in the second inning, stopped the Braves on only four hits for his first victory over them since August, 1953, and his first complete game since Sept. 2 of last year.

Cards Blast Giants, 6-1 ST. LOUIS, Sept. 14 (UP)—Don Blasingame drove home three runs with a bunt, a home run and a single today to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 6-1 victory over the New York Giants and a fighting chance for the National League pennant.

Giants' pitcher Mizzell limited the Cardinals, who probably were making their last appearance here as the New York team, to six hits as the Cards won their eighth game out of their last 10 starts. Mizzell, continuing a strong comeback, won his eighth victory against 10 losses.

Pirates Fall To Cubs, 7-3 CHICAGO, Sept. 14 (UP)—Ernie Banks clouted three home runs to lead the Chicago Cubs to a 7-3 nightcap victory today after the Pittsburgh Pirates wrapped up the double header opener 8-1, on a two-run ninth inning circuit clout by Frank Thomas.

The victory was the only one for the last place Cubs in the four game series and left the Pirates with a 2 1/2 game hold on seventh place.

Wismer Says Giants Will Move To Minneapolis NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (UP)—Sportswriter Harry Wismer predicted tonight that the New York Giants will move to Minneapolis instead of San Francisco and that the Brooklyn Dodgers will remain at Ebbets Field next season.

Wismer, on his coast-to-coast NBC television program, cited his own "authoritative baseball sources" as the basis for his prediction.

The broadcaster also predicted that the first major league team to shift to the West Coast will be the Kansas City Athletics, probably in 1959.

Yanks Lead Five Games NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (UP)—Jim Rivera blasted one of Casey Stengel's patented "mastermind" maneuvers today when he belted a two-run eighth-inning homer to lead the Chicago White Sox to a 5-2 victory that cut the New York Yankees' American League lead to five games.

Right-handed Dick Donovan held the Yankees to seven hits in recording his 18th triumph, the highest victory total of his major league career.

Tigers Edge Orioles, 4-3 BALTIMORE, Sept. 14 (UP)—Harvey Kuenn's run-scoring double eliminated a two-run ninth-inning rally and gave the Detroit Tigers a 4-3 victory today over Baltimore after the Orioles won the opener of a double header, 3-1.

Ray Boone and Al Kaline opened the ninth inning with singles to drive Orioles starting pitcher Reuelver Kan' Lehman fielded Charley Maxwell's bunt and threw wild to first base, allowing Boone to score the tying run.

Three hits, errors by pitcher Lew Burdette and Hank Aaron and a walk produced the four Dodger runs in the second.

Snead Out In Front In Dallas Open

By ED FITE United Press Sports Writer DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 14 (UP)—Samuel Jackson Snead, the veteran West Virginia golfing warhorse, came roaring from deep in the pack today with a sensational PGA record-equalling 30-30-60 to explode into the halfway mark lead in the $40,000 Dallas Open golf tournament with a 36-hole total of 130.

The 45-year-old hillbilly who has come "of age" this year after 21 years of professional campaigning, rode to the fore on the strength of terrific pitching and putting away to a flying start with an eagle on the very first hole when he holed out with a wedge shot 75 feet away on the 403-yard par 4 hole.

Snead thereby matched a record held by seven others, Byron Nelson first turned the trick in 1945 at Olympia, Wash., and it was then equaled by Al Brooch in 1951 in the Texas Open at San Antonio, Bill Nery in the El Paso Open in 1952, Ted Kroll in the Texas Open in 1954, Wally Ulich in the Virginia Beach Open in 1954, Tommy Bolt in the Hartford Open in 1954 and Mike Souchak in the Texas Open in 1955.

All were made on par 71 courses of 6,200 yards or less, just like the hilly, 6,300-yard Glen Lakes par 36-36-71 course that Snead turned into a pitch and putt layout today.

Beach, Fla., who led the opening 36-32-70 because of a trio of three-putt greens to wind up in a tie for third place at 133 along with an unknown, Bill Parker of Tulsa, Okla., who tacked a 33-33-66 to tally onto his opening 67.

Still very much in contention at 134 were Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., who had a 32-34-66 today, Howie Johnson of Akron, Ohio, who posted a 34-35-66 and Al Bessalick of Grossingers, N.Y., who also hit the skids with a 44-36-70 after a 64 on his initial tour.

Suspicious Shooting But, the stupendous shooting of slamin' Sammy took the gallery of 8,500 by storm as he came storming out of the ruck into the limelight after wedging in that heartening angle that he used as his short iron left him birdie puts of only six feet on the second hole, five feet on the eighth and eight feet on both the 12th and 13th. But, he brought resounding with a flashy 68, skidded to a

Hillman Robbins Wins Amateur Golf Tourney

By OSCAR FRALEY United Press Sports Writer BROOKLINE, Mass., Sept. 14 (UP)—Twenty-five-year-old Hillman Robbins, a hockey tough teardrop from Tennessee, surged from behind on the final few holes today to win the U.S. Amateur golf championship with a 5 and 4 triumph over Dr. Frank (Bud) Taylor of Pomona, Calif.

The silent, dark-featured Alky Feres lieutenant from Memphis had seen a 4 up lead slide through his hands in the morning and he was 1 down as late as the 31st hole.

But then, in a day of sunshine and showers, he gathered all the strength in his 185-pound body for a winning dash over the demanding hills and valleys of the country club to wrap up this 87th annual championship.

From the 26th through the 29th holes, Robbins chain-smoked his way to four straight winning holes with two pars and a pair of birdies as a gallery of 1,500—including his father—watched in fascinated silence. He lost one back to the lead-pinned dentist to play 3 up with only six holes to go, but then won two in a row to close it out.

Robbins, in the process, thus proved once again that the country club was a "young man's course." For it was over these same fabled fairways that 20-year-old Francis Oulmet became the first amateur to win the U.S.

Longhorns In Squad Contest AUSTIN, Sept. 14 (UP)—The Texas Longhorn "Oranges," consisting of the first and second teams, defeated the "Whites" today 29 to 6 in a scrimmage that was closed to the public.

The Whites consisted of the Longhorns' third and fourth team units.

Bobby Lackey directed the second team Oranges to two touchdowns against the whites, going over himself from the one for the first score and tossing a 44-yard pass to Clair Branch for the second.

Joe Clements plotted the Whites to their only score, giving 33 yards in seven plays. He passed 15 yards to end Bill Germany for the score.

The final Orange score was made by the No. 1 unit under the direction of Walter Funder. Halfbacks Max Alvin and Mickey Smith and fullback Don Allen alternated for short yardage to the two where Smith went over for the score.

JAPAN EDGES CANADA DETROIT (UP)—Yuji Takenuchi's two-out 13th-inning double Friday night scored the tying and winning runs as Japan edged Canada, 3-2, in the opening game of the 3rd annual Global World Series.

Texas Favorites Take Friday Tilts

By UNITED PRESS Abilene's question-mark Eagles and the two clubs rated favorites to scrap for the Class AAAA state schoolboy football crown all came through with impressive victories in their openers Friday night. But the pre-season ratings generally came in for a rocking jolt.

For their 38th straight victory, while Corpus Christi Ray emptied the bench in a 33-0 rout of Houston S. F. Austin and the Amarillo Sandies humiliated Dallas Adamson 57-0.

Fearless Fraley's Facts From US Amateur Golf Tourney

By OSCAR FRALEY United Press Sports Writer BROOKLINE, Mass. (UP)—Fearless Fraley's fairway facts and figures from the U.S. Amateur golf championship:

of this tournament by Bob Ross of San Francisco. Dr. Deighton threw the horse-shoe away. Nobody expected 67-year-old Chick Evans of Chicago, the 1916 and 1920 champion, to win this one. But Chick did accomplish his purpose.

U.S. Golf Association officials are preening themselves over the fact four Walker Cuppers were in the semifinals of the Amateur and nobody would be surprised if they started reading the Racing Form and handicapping horses.

Actually they deserve credit for their Walker Cup selections—this TIME—for this was one of the toughest amateur fields in history. Of 198 matches which set up today's final between Bud Taylor and Hillman Robbins, 43 went the distance and 24 went to extra holes... which is a tipoff on how many fine amateur golfers there are in the country and how tough it is to pick the cup team.

Dad Missed One After Dick Chapman, the 1940 champion from Pinehurst, N.C., was knocked out when he failed to make a short putt, his 15-year-old son kept repeating to Mrs. Chapman: "I don't see how dad missed it."

Mrs. Chapman patted his shoulder and said softly: "Son, your father's not half the magician you think he is."

This tournament, if it did nothing else, completely cured British Walker Cupper Dr. Frank Deighton of being superstitious. The doctor carried a rusty horseshoe to these shores from Scotland as a good luck charm. He still had faith in its occult powers even after the British lost the Walker Cup matches. But then he was knocked out in the first round.

Jack Nicklaus, the 17-year-old Columbus, Ohio, golfer who enrolls at Ohio State this semester, is regarded by all hands as a definite fairway great of the future but has no plans for turning professional. He's going to study pharmacy—because, after all, his dad owns three drug stores in Columbus and a young man couldn't hardly ask for a better start in life.

Gordon Stott tells, rather red-facedly, about a parent-child tournament in which he played at his home club on Long Island with his 10-year-old daughter, Paula, as a partner.

Gordon hit the tee shot in the ninth hole into a trap. As they walked hand-in-hand toward the green, there a large gallery waited, he told her patiently: "Now don't get nervous, honey. You can blast it out."

"Sure, I can," she said with easy confidence. "Don't worry, pop."

So she did, knocking the ball about two feet from the cup. And then Stott blew the putt.

Pampa Gridders Begin Season With NTSC Freshman Squad

DENTON — Two Pampa gridders, Bill Kirby and Larry Hiron, are among 32 players now working out for the North Texas State College freshman football team.

Going into their second year of competition, the Eagles own a five-game winning streak with no losses on their record. The frosh team was formed in 1956 after

BILL KIRBY

LARRY HIRON

North Texas was voted into the Missouri Valley Conference.

The opening contest of a five-game slate is against the Abilene Christian College "B" team Oct. 3 in Denton. Last year Coach Kenneth Bahnsen's Eagles beat the ACC "B" team 27-7.

Other scheduled games for the Eagles include the Texas Christian University frosh Oct. 17 in Denton, Arlington State at Arlington Oct. 24, Hardin-Simmons University freshmen Oct. 31 in Abilene, and Cisco Junior College in Cisco Nov. 16.

Kirby, holder of five Pampa High School athletic letters, is working at tackle for the Eagles. While playing for Pampa, he was named on the all-district second team in football. The son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Kirby, 1207 East Kingsmill, he is majoring in business at NTSC.

Hiron, a 165-pound halfback, played his high school football at Panhandle High School, where he lettered three years. He earned four letters running on the track team. Hiron is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hiron, 1008 Varndon Drive.

Revolutionary New Fuel Stimulant*

NEW POWER NEW PERFORMANCE NEW ECONOMY

Something wonderful happens when you put Petrelab in your gas tank! You feel that extra pickup, that unbelievable surge of new power and performance, for Petrelab increases your horsepower, protects your engine while it dissolves harmful sludge. Remember too, that Petrelab is NOT an additive... Petrelab is a fuel stimulant that is industry proven.

By breaking down particle size of gums, sulphurs, resins, carbons and lead additives found in all gasoline today, Petrelab releases more horsepower per gallon from your present fuel. Petrelab reduces the size of these harmful particles, allows them to pass off in exhaust. Remember that Petrelab can save you 3c per gallon on your gasoline, no matter what brand you buy.

Every day that goes by, you waste gas, lose money when you do without Petrelab. Because Petrelab dares to do what no other fuel treatment does... and succeeds... the manufacturer wants you to try your first treatment of Petrelab absolutely free.

No coupons, no gimmicks, nothing to buy but your gasoline. Drive into any of the dealers listed below, fill your tank with regular gas, and ask for your free trial treatment of Petrelab. Check your mileage. Feel the difference! You'll know something wonderful has happened from your very first tank. Get the full Petrelab story from your dealer. If your favorite service station doesn't carry Petrelab, have them write us today. Try Petrelab. You'll be glad you did!

Pampan Wins Honors In Nat'l Championship Rifle Matches

Tony Welker, 435 N. Carr, recently returned from the National Big Bore Championship matches, held in Perry, Ohio, with a second place chalked up for himself.

Battery of the local Guard unit have 22 rifle teams. They enter state-wide matches during the winter.

Texas also sent a civilian team to the Perry matches, captained by Henry Hanky, secretary of the Texas State Rifle Association.

Welker shot for the Texas State National Guard Rifle team, which entered five matches as a team.

The team, shooting in expert reserve class, won second place in the Nevada Trophy Match. Utah won first spot. It also took third place in the Romanian Trophy Match, following Ohio and Oregon, respectively.

The national matches are sponsored jointly by the Army and National Rifle Association.

In Class A, defending champion Stinnet was idle, but Farwell ripped by Bovina 38-2; Big Lake whipped Fort Stockton 20-14; Hemphill trampled San Augustine 47-7; Kountze breezed by Bridge City 39-0 in a District 23 game; Pearsall downed Devine 20-14; George West beat Freer 19-13 and Bishop defeated Benavides 28-6.

In the individual matches, Welker got second place in the Members' Trophy Match in expert reserve class, and eighth place in the Coast Guard Trophy Match.

Welker is a member of the Pampa Rifle and Pistol Club and is classified by the National Rifle Association as an "expert" in small bore arms. He is also a certified instructor.

All guardsmen are eligible for the local rifle team, which is picked by try outs during the year.

Female Midgets To Battle In Tomorrow Night's Wrestling

GYPSIE ROSE

Females take over the wrestling scene Monday night when two midgets, Miss Gypsy Rose and Miss Doll Paige battle in a special event to take place before the semi-final match.

DOLL PAIGE

Gypsy Rose is the world's first midget girl wrestler, tipping the scales at 90 pounds and standing 43 inches tall. Her opponent, known as the "Blonde Bombshell," also weighs in at 90 pounds but carries a two inch advantage, being 45 inches in height.

For tomorrow night's main event, the Great Bolo will battle Ali-Bey in a two out of three fall match, with a one hour time limit.

In the second event, Art Nelson will grapple Danno O' Shocker in two out of three falls, with a 45 minute limit. John Tollas will clash with Kit Fox for the opener in a one fall match, limited to 20 minutes.

In last week's matches a main event tag team match with Art Nelson and Great Bolo opposing Ali Bey and Ali Pasha ended in a double disqualification. The semi-final between O' Shocker and Fox ended in a tie at the end of the 45 minute time limit.

The first event went to the Great Bolo over Ali Bey through a disqualification. Bey was ousted from the battle when he hauled a chair into the ring with him.

The wrestling is held each Monday evening at 8:30 at the Sportsman Club, sponsored by the Pampa Shrine Club. The Club is located one mile south of town on the LeFors highway.

Sugar Ray To Retire

GREENWOOD LAKE, N.Y. (UP)—If Ray Robinson beats Carmen Basilio Sept. 23, Sugar Ray will retire as undefeated middleweight champion within six months to become an actor, he indicated today.

"I have several offers from the movies, stage and television," the slender 160-pound ruler said, "and I'm considering them seriously."

But if welterweight champion Basilio, the 8-5 favorite, takes away Robinson's crown at Yankee Stadium, "then I don't know what I'll do. You know we have a contract for a return bout within 90 days, if I lose."

DAVY CROCKETT RIDES AGAIN—McLean's David Crockett (44) makes a determined effort for paydirt as a host of Wheeler players give hot but tardy pursuit. The 45-yard run, ending on the Wheeler 10, was the best effort of the night for McLean and even that was squelched because the young man on the extreme right is preparing to clip a Wheeler player. The Mustangs blanked McLean 20-0 in the game at Wheeler Friday night. (News Photo)

Peg O' Pampa

WE ARE ANXIOUS for the Fair to begin in Amarillo . . . it is such fun to go and to see the exhibits . . . but we remember when, as a child, it was all our parents could do to drag us around to see them . . . we thought it was stupid and awful that grownups didn't have any better sense than to like to see fruits and vegetables, and old canned stuff . . . and so on . . . it is amazing what the years added to our age can do toward changing some attitudes . . . young people think they will never change . . . we think it is a sign of maturity to recognize that we do and will change attitudes and ideas and likes and dislikes.

IT IS VERY QUIET on our block now, with all the children of age in school . . . but pandemonium breaks out after three-thirty . . . and then little brothers and sisters who have been home alone all day, except for Mother, can have someone to play and fight with once again . . . two sharp little first graders are Mike Sybert and Mike Vendrell . . . pals at home, too . . . according to reports, Fred and Bill Neslage and Don Curry had a grand time in England at the International Boy Scout Jubilee . . . friends of Mrs. A. D. Hills are hoping to see her out of the hospital soon . . . that new aerial ladder fire truck is a mammoth thing . . . it's a beauty . . . and fascinating to look at . . . Mrs. C. P. Farmer is back in town after a visit with her mother . . . named John Christopher . . . congratulations to them in Fort Worth . . . the W. R. Sligars have a new baby named John Christopher . . . Congratulations to them . . . we heard that Sara Westcoat is leaving Pampa . . . she is one of the nicest red-heads we have had around here . . . we saw lots of fine hats on Felt Hat Day way last week . . . glad we don't have to wear one, though.

BRACE YOURSELF . . . here comes the "joke" . . . Marshall L. Scott writes that, speaking of ways of avoiding saying "death," at the McCormick Theological Seminary (named for Cyrop H. McCormick) one must not refer to the "grim reaper" but only to the "international harvester!" . . . and here's one for the road . . . there is a lot of lively disagreement about small cars . . . and the fact that Americans are buying more and more of the small, economical foreign-made cars . . . the big car manufacturers feel that they are giving the public what it wants in bigger and bigger cars . . . but at the same time, they are going behind their own backs to make small cars in Europe and to import them themselves . . . so we suggest a compromise: the international model . . . a small, economical car with expensive roof-high tail fins, making 30 miles to the gallon in a good wind. But sidewise.

WITH THE EMPHASIS on fire prevention and safety . . . aided by George Robbins and Harvey Waters . . . we began noticing safety slogans reported in magazines . . . a lot of them put up by business men . . . a placard in the window of a San Francisco music shop reads: Drive carefully. This is our last harp . . . and a sign on an auto body shop towtruck states unequivocally: Two finishes for automobiles—lacquer and liquor! . . . and a mortician in Columbus, Ohio urges, "Don't insist on your rites!" . . . there is a good one in Pampa, too . . . near the Worley Hospital . . . that says Drive carefully . . . we need our beds for the sick.

RECENTLY . . . there were visitors in town . . . (no kidding!) . . . Beverly Brandt Ross was here visiting from California . . . with her adorable daughter, Gina . . . Beverly likes teaching in California, we hear . . . and so does her husband . . . and Beverly's brother, Floyd, and his wife, Norma (Pirtle) . . . were here with their new baby girl, Mary Lynn . . . it was a field day for the Grandmothers on both sides as they bet . . . and, of course, the Grandfathers, too . . . speaking of grandparents . . . Ruth Nienstiel has had various grandchildren and children around over the Labor Day weekend . . . Donna and Phyllis were both here with their families . . . also visiting for Labor Day were Marie and Raymond Harrah . . . report was that Marie was just looking wonderful . . . Leone and Loyal Davies are on a vacation trip . . . Mrs. Charles Norton is an attractive dark-haired woman . . . she has two cute daughters . . . we heard that Glenna Lewis and a couple of other pledges of Kit Kat Klub had to go through Hell week all by themselves, since they missed the regular time, because they were out of town . . . well, misery loves company is the old saying.

WE THINK, if anyone gives a hoot . . . that John Koontz is doing a fine job as acting City Manager . . . saw Hugh Peoples the other day . . . he is such a friendly person . . . good looking Hansford Ousley heads the meat department at the new Ideal grocery store . . . have you seen the display of Japanese items in the Library foyer . . . we found out where some of the paintings that were in the Library have gone to, also . . . Francis Hofess has them in her Shop . . . Adult Education groups are starting up again . . . there's going to be a meeting this coming week . . . and it ought to be about time for the Knife and Fork Club to begin their programs . . . and the Community Concert Association . . . think we will have to do a little inquiring around here . . . the Council of Clubs has had its meeting, so the Fall can officially begin, now . . . full steam ahead.

THE NEW Stephen F. Austin grade school is a real beauty . . . and has a wonderful group of teachers . . . new and "old" . . . don't forget to check on the progress of the new Junior High School once in a while . . . it is the most fascinating building that has gone up around here in a long while . . . speaking of building . . . we heard, and wonder if it is true that that huge, gorgeous house being built in the East Fraser addition belongs to the C. M. Jeffries . . . we've been watching its construction for a long while . . . we heard the Rusty Neef's are building, too . . . houses, houses, houses . . . At this rate Pampa will be a big city, before long.

THAT'S ABOUT got it for the week . . . the morning glories are glorious on a few fences around town . . . go out for a ride this afternoon and see them . . . and some pyracanthus berries are orange and Fall-like . . . football season and chrysanthemum season are upon us . . . and it's time to unpack the winter clothes so carefully and thankfully laid away last spring . . . now thankfully, we must admit, taken out of the mothballs. It would be terrible to live where there was no change of seasons to put spice in the wardrobe and in life!

As ever,
Peg

MRS. DON R. LANE

Woodwardia Fern, Gladioli, Candlelight Form Setting For Whitney-Lane Vows

Miss Frances Susanne Whitney and Don R. Lane exchanged wedding vows in the First Methodist Church in Elk City, Okla. on September 7 at eight o'clock. The double-ring service was read by Dr. W. C. Mathes of Tahlequah, Okla., amid a setting of Huckleberry and Woodwardia Fern forming a background for the baskets of pink gladioli. The vows were repeated beneath an arch covered with huckleberry and pink gladioli; the Prie Dieu was encircled with huckleberry and pink gladioli. Twenty flowers of honor were marked with candleholders holding pink candles and arranged with nosegays of Effie roses and leather leaf fern tied with pink satin ribbons. Twelve seven-branched candelabra holding pink tapers lighted the marriage scene.

Miss Whitney is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Whitney of Elk City. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Lane, 1214 Russell.

Tom Whitney, brother of the bride, organist, and Colbert F. Hackler, violinist, played "Intermezzo Sinfonico," by Mascagni; "To A Wild Rose," by MacDowell; and "Ave Maria," by Schubert. Mr. Whitney also played "Panis Angelicus"; "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring"; "Meditation on Thais"; Vocalist, Miss Sharon Sprowls, Elk City, sang "How Do I Love Thee" by Lippe; and "The Wedding Prayer" by Dunlap.

THE BRIDE Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a bouffant gown of pure silk Duponi. Re-embroidered Alencon lace studded with sequins and pearls formed the sabrina neckline above a slightly elongated basque bodice. Motifs of jeweled lace were scattered on the front panel of the skirt with side and back fullness falling into a circular sweep train. A full ballerina length veil fell from a crown of tiny seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white orchids, white roses and stephanotis tied with white satin ribbon.

ATTENDANTS Matron of honor, Mrs. John B. Johnson Jr., of Amarillo, wore a gown of Dior Blue taffeta with a very full skirt, the neckline formed a modified "V" front and a deep "V" back with a flyaway bow that extended in panels to the hemline of the skirt. She carried a bouquet of pink roses, interspersed with ivy leaves and tied with pink satin ribbon.

Miss Mary Margaret Wimberly, Washington, D. C., served as maid of honor.

Bridemaids were Meses. High Lampman and Jim Simon, both of Dallas and Miss Kay Winteringer, Shawnee, Okla. Their gowns and flowers were identical to the matron of honor.

Best man was Thomas E. Hartman, Norman, Okla. Wedding ushers were Harold G. Lowrey, Woodward, Okla.; William J. Alkey, Okla. City, Okla.; Clifton D. Blanks Jr., Ardmore, Okla. and Roy H. Lane, nephew of the bridegroom, Panhandle.

Lighting the candles were David Burr, Norman, Okla. and Robert D. Allen of Oklahoma City, Okla.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Whitney chose a light blue chiffon with full skirt trimmed with satin. She wore matching accessories. Mrs. Lane, bridegroom's mother, selected a champagne-colored lace sheath with matching accessories. Their corsages were of lavender orchids.

RECEPTION Friends and relatives were received in the church parlors immediately following the exchange of vows. The cake and punch bowl were placed on mounds of pink Effie roses and leather leaf fern. Table candelabras were entwined with string smilax and pink Effie roses. Reception hostesses were Meses Barbara Bellis, Cushing, Okla.; Anne Blackburn, Janice Kelly and Mrs. Bob Briscoe, all of Elk City.

For a wedding trip to Colorado, the bride wore a black and white nubby tweed suit with black accessories and a white orchid.

Mr. and Mrs. Lane plan to establish a home in Oklahoma City. Wedding guests from Pampa, other than the family were Messrs. and Meses. Walter F. Dean, Paul Carmichael, Bob Carmichael, and Mrs. Chester Thompson.

Conditioning Will Be Important Factor In Judging Garden Club's Fall Show

The Pampa Garden Club is announcing its Fall Flower Show, which will be held Sept. 28 from 12:30 p.m. until six in the Lovett Memorial Library.

All who wish to enter flower arrangements in the show must bring them between eight and 10:30 on the morning of the show, in order that they may be judged before the show is opened to the public.

In judging artistic arrangements or specimen blossoms "condition of material" is always considered and allowed a certain number of points in scoring.

To win a blue ribbon, material must be at its most beautiful stage of development and well-conditioned at the time of exhibiting. If bringing flowers a long distance, it is well to condition properly; then pack with care. Arrange flowers after they are brought to show. For a short journey, line boxes with waxed paper, allowing part of the large sheets to hang over the sides, which makes a double protection, conserves moisture and creates humidity. Flowers should not be crowded. Blossoms may be brought in metal containers, which hold water, if preferred.

Following are some instructions for various flowers:

ASTERS — Should be cut when 3/4 to fully open. Prepare a sugar solution using one teaspoon sugar to one quart water. Re-cut flowers under this solution and allow flowers to remain over night.

SPRAYS OF BABY BREATH — Should be cut when half in flower and stems should be conditioned in cold water over night.

BACHELOR BUTTONS OR CORN FLOWERS — Cut when fully open. Cut stems just below a node and condition in water over night.

BELLS OF IRELAND — Should be cut when stems have reached desired length. They should be cut in early morning or late afternoon. Coxcomb and Princess Feathers should be conditioned in cold water over night. Special care should be taken in the handling of dahlias. Cut when fully open. Remove any leaves likely to go below water level, for dahlias leaves deteriorate rapidly. Cut the small type dahlia and put in cool dark place over night; but the large type, after leaving stems for one or two hours in cold water, must be removed to pan containing two or three inches of boiling water for a few minutes, then place stems in a deep container of cold water and allow to remain over night.

MARGOLDS — Should be cut when about three-quarters open and they benefit by being allowed to remain out of water for a short time; then re-cut stems under water, just before conditioning them in cold water overnight. Zinc sulphate is known to retard decay of stems in water. Use one teaspoon of crystals to one quart cold water.

ROSES — Should be cut diagonally with sharp rose of pruning shears about one fourth inch above a leaf. The best time to cut is toward the last hours of daylight. Remove foliage from base of stem, then split stems and place in water overnight. Roses keep best in a quart of water with three teaspoon sugar and three tablespoons white distilled vinegar added.

HYBRID TEA ROSES — Should be cut when center petals are just separating from the bud. Globular buds should be more advanced. Put roses in water "up to their necks" and in extra dry weather keep in refrigerator. It helps to soak the roots of the rose several hours with slowly running water before cutting blossoms.

ZINNIAS — Should be cut when moisture content is high after a deep soaking of soil around the plant. They should be completely open, but centers tight. Remove lower leaves and plunge immediately in cold water for overnight.

PETUNIAS — When fully opened, cut, revive and condition overnight in a solution of four level teaspoons sugar in a quart of water. The foliage decays quickly, so be sure to strip stems below water level.

Flowers well conditioned before bringing to the show, stand a much better chance of being prize winners than blossoms gathered hurriedly and put in a container. There will be more information at a later date giving rules and classifications for the show.

RUTH MILLETT Wilkinson-Copeland Wedding Service Performed By Rev. Ronald Hubbard

"Why is it," asks a man who says he always reads this column during his lunch hour, "that a woman . . .

... will take at least 15 or 20 minutes to lead up to her reason for making a telephone call to another woman? Do women actually consider it bad manners to come right to the point when making a telephone call?"

"I will claim she hasn't a thing to wear when her closet is full of clothes, yet figure her husband ought to be pleased to wear his three-year-old blue suit and tell her how thoughtful she was to get it cleaned and pressed?"

"Never seems to mind having her husband comment on another woman's intelligence — unless the woman also happens to be good looking?"

"Always has to change her clothes before she can leave the house?"

"Hasn't the vaguest idea of what a minute is? When she says, 'I'll only be a minute,' she probably has in mind that she won't be gone longer than an hour."

"Is determined that she and her husband will never be the first to arrive anywhere? Since somebody has to be the first to arrive at any party, why is every woman determined it isn't going to be she and her husband?"

"Gets such a sense of accomplishment about just talking about reducing? It would seem to a mere man that what counts in dieting is the pounds lost. But women seem to get a noble feeling just from letting everyone know they are on a diet."

Rev. Ronald Hubbard of the First Presbyterian Church performed the double-ring service for Miss Vivian Caroline Wilkinson and Duane Copeland at their wedding on September 6 at 8:30 p.m. in the sanctuary. A fan-shaped altar bouquet of yellow gladioli, bronze mums and pom poms flanked with jade palms and spiral candelabra holding bronze candles formed the wedding scene. Pews were marked with double candelabra holding bronze tapers.

Miss Wilkinson's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Wilkinson, 815 N. Somerville.

THE BRIDE Mr. Wilkinson escorted his daughter down the white cloth-covered aisle and gave her in marriage. The bride wore a gown of pure silk ivory sheath fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and short sleeves outlined with lace and pearls. The empire waistline of the bodice was accented with a bow in front and eased into a bouffant skirt, which swept into a chapel train. Her Juliet cap of lace and pearls was attached to a finger-tip Veil of Illusion.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses intermingled with white pearl sprays.

ATTENDANTS Miss Reita Baker, of Waco and cousin of the bride, was maid of honor in a pale yellow bouffant organza gown with matching hat. She carried a Tailsman braided ring filled with miniature bronze and yellow chrysanthemums, autumn leaves and wheat.

D. J. Wilkison, brother of the bride, served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Richard Hankins and Bruce Campbell. Lighting the candles at the altar and pews, preceding the bridal procession, were Meses. Don Boddy and Richard C. Seawright, who wore dresses of cocoa beige cotton satin with rhinestone trim and black velvet accessories. Their wristlet corsages were of miniature bronze chrysanthemums.

For the wedding, the bride's mother wore a bead-trim, Skipper blue silk dress with matching beaded hat and a corsage of pink carnations.

Miss Shirley Larson registered guests in the foyer of the church. After a brief wedding trip, the couple are now at home at 1002 E. Francis. For traveling the bride wore a brown silk dress with black accessories and a white roses corsage.

Mrs. Copeland was graduated from Iowa State College and is now an instructor of Home Economics in Pampa Junior High School. Mr. Copeland was graduated from Radio Electronic School in New London, Conn., and is employed in the electric well surveying department of Halliburton Oil Well Cementing Co.

Miss June Bruce Become Bride Of B. Thurman By Candlelight

September 2 was the wedding date for Miss June Bruce and Boyd Thurman, who exchanged vows at seven o'clock in the First Assembly of God Church, with Rev. J. E. Neely performing the double-ring service under an archway covered with greenery and gladioli, palms and candelabra banked the altar. The center pews of honor were marked with candelabra holding white tapered tied with satin streamers.

Miss Bruce is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Bruce, 1200 Williston. The bridegroom's parents are Mrs. Anita Thurman, Lelia Lake, and the late Mr. Thurman.

Mrs. H. A. Yoder at the organ played traditional wedding music and was accompanied for Olean Miller, who sang "True Love." Miss Larcia Varvil, one of the bridesmaids, of Borger, sang "The Lord's Prayer." Kenneth Taylor played a trumpet solo, "Always," accompanied by Mrs. Yoder at the organ.

THE BRIDE

Escorted down a white cloth-covered aisle and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white Chantilly lace and tulle over satin. The bouffant floor-length skirt of tulle and lace was attached to a fitted bodice styled with a boat neckline edged with sequins and long sleeves which came to petal points over the hands. Her pill-box of encrusted pearls and sequins secured a finger-tip nylon veil of illusion. She wore a single strand of pearls with matching earrings.

Her bridal bouquet was a cascade of light pink roses arranged with white satin streamers on a white open Bible covered with white satin and lace. The Bible was a gift to the bride from her parents.

For something old, she wore her Grandmother Bruce's wedding ring which will be 80 years old in October, 1957.

September 2 also marked the wedding anniversaries of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Bruce and the bride's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace L. Bruce, 1128 Prairie Dr.

ATTENDANTS

Maid of honor was Miss Maretta Bures, who wore a ballerina-length pink taffeta dress with matching headpiece. She carried a white lace fan with one pink long-stemmed rose.

Misses Sherry Hyatt, Wanda Goff Richardson, Betty Overall, and Larcia Varvil were bridesmaids. Their dresses, headpieces and bouquets were identical to the maid of honor's.

Larry Williams served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Paul Bauman, Louis Neely, Charles Ritthaler, and Gerald Richardson.

Little Miss Sharon Bruce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Bruce and niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid and flower girl. She was dressed identically as the bride and carried a white basket of pink rose petals.

Steve Summers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Summers was ring bearer, wearing a white jacket and dark trousers. All of the male wedding attendants wore dark trousers and white jackets.

For her daughters wedding, Mrs. Bruce wore a gray two-piece suit with pink accessories and a pink rose bud corsage. Mrs. Thurman, bridegroom's mother, chose a navy blue dress with black accessories and a pink rose bud corsage.

RECEPTION

A host of friends and relatives were received in the City Club Room immediately following the exchange of vows. A white tiered-wedding cake decorated with pink roses and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom centered the white lace table cloth made by the bride's grandmother. Pink roses, net fans, and napkins of pink imprinted in gold with "Boyd and June" completed the table's crystal and silver appointments. Miss Phyllis Burrese served punch. Misses Pat Broadbent and Cecilia Miller presided at the cake service. Miss Ruth Mounce was guest registrar.

For a wedding trip into New Mexico, Mrs. Thurman travelled in a charcoal two-piece suit with pink accessories. She wore the corsage of pink roses, which centered her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Thurman attended Pampa High School. Mr. Thurman was graduated from Harper High School in 1955 and is employed by the Spicknall Enterprises of La Bell, Montana.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bride's parents in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wilson, 1221 Williston on the Saturday preceding the wedding. Wedding attendants were the honored guests.

A shower of gifts were given to the bridal couple by the many friends at the reception following the ceremony. Hostesses were Mrs. Alfred Oxley, Walter Hyatt, R. C. Davis, Finley Baumann, and E. J. Overall.

MR. AND MRS. ALBERT PEETS, LEFT, MR. AND MRS. SHERMAN G. COWAN

Double Nuptials Held In Parent's Home Solemnizes Vows For Bridal Couples

A double double-ring service united in marriage Miss Dorothy E. Lyles, Sherman G. Cowan; Miss Gwenda Lee Cowan and Albert Peets on Aug. 23 at eight o'clock in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman G. Cowan, 605 N. Somerville.

Miss Cowan and Mr. Cowan are the son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman G. Cowan. Miss Lyles is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Lyles, 303 E. Brownling. Mr. Peets' parents are Mrs. George H. Peets of Lexington, Miss. and the late Mr. Peets.

The double vows were solemnized by Rev. Charles Rhyme before a background of baskets of white gladioli, white carnations and daisies placed in front of the fire-place.

Miss Ruth Mounce, at the piano, played the wedding marches and was accompanied for Miss Beverly Rhyme as she sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

The brides' dresses were identically styled in white nylon with low, rounded necklines, cap sleeves and full skirts. Miss Lyles' nylon veil of illusion was attached to a coronet fashioned with pearl hearts. Miss Cowan's elbow-length veil of illusion was secured by a heart-shaped bonnet fluted around the edges with nylon tulle. They carried white carnations arranged on a shower of white satin ribbon tied in lover's knots atop a white Bridal Bible.

Miss Vivian Speigle served Miss Lyles as bridesmaid wearing a white sheath trimmed in pink with a pink carnation corsage. Bridesmaid for Miss Cowan was Miss Alma Hayne, who wore a white full-skirted dress trimmed in pink with a pink carnation corsage.

Best man for Mr. Cowan was Bill R. Lyles, H. C. Foster served Mr. Peets as best man. Jimmy Keough acted the wedding guests. Mrs. Lyles' mother, Dorothy, chose a light blue faille dress with which she wore a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Cowan, mother of both the bride and bridegroom in the double wedding, selected a light blue faille dress and wore a white carnation corsage.

Following the exchange of double vows, a reception was held in the Cowan home for friends and close relatives. Mmes. L. A. Houston and Charles Mobley presided at the punch and cake service. Miss Jeannie Ann Cowan was guest registrar.

For a wedding trip to Miami, Okla. and Noel, Mo., Mrs. Cowan traveled in a light blue suit and wore a white carnation corsage taken from her bridal bouquet. Mrs. Peets wore a light blue suit with a white carnation corsage for their wedding trip to Oklahoma City.

Mr. and Mrs. Cowan attended schools in Pampa. Mrs. Cowan has been employed in the Crestway Drug Store. Mr. Cowan is in the employ of the W&R Construction Co. They plan to reside in Dalhart.

Mrs. Peets attended school in Pampa and was employed by Wilson Drug; Mr. Peets attended schools in Mississippi and is planning to finish college in Waco, where they will make their home.

Among the guests who attended the Lyle-Cowan and Cowan-Peets wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Bill McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Earl O'Neal, P. D. Strickland, and Miss Jean Fish.

Miss Billie Ann Shaw, Tommy G. Wells Repeat Vows In Double-Ring Ceremony

(Special to The News)
 MIAMI — In a double-ring ceremony in the First Methodist Church Miss Billie Ann Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Shaw, became the bride of Tommy Glenn Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Wells, on September 8 at 4 p.m. Rev. J. V. Patterson, pastor, read the service.

The ceremony was performed before a setting of baskets of gladioli and greenery, flanked by white tapers in candelabras. The pews of honor were marked by white satin bows.

Miss Juanita Haynes, organist, played traditional wedding music for the ceremony. Miss Charlotte Christopher, accompanied by Miss Haynes, sang "Because," "Walk Hand In Hand," and "Oh Perfect Love."

Candlelighters were Bill Beck, cousin of the bridegroom and Eddie Wilson of Canadian, nephew of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore white Chantilly lace and tulle over satin, styled with a fitted bodice, scalloped neckline with long sleeves which came to a point over the hands. Satin covered buttons extended down the back of the bodice. The bouffant ballerina-length skirt of tulle was adorned with applique lace flowers. Her elbow length veil of French illusion fell from a coronet of seed pearls on satin. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid, ivy leaves and white satin streamers tied in lover's knots.

Miss Nelda Beth Crouch of Pampa, cousin of the bride; Mrs. James Orr of Canadian and Mrs. William Kitchen of Guyton, Okla., both sisters of the bride, attended her as bridesmaids. They were dressed in ballerina-length dresses of blue crystalline, styled with an empire waistline, bateau neckline and brief sleeves and full skirt. Their head-dresses were short veils of blue net. They carried cascade arrangements of white and white carnations with white streamers.

Flower girl was Miss Phyllis Kitchen, niece of the bride. Her dress was identical to those of the bridesmaids. She wore a white carnation wristlet.

Dewayne Wells, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Robert Shaw, brother of the bride, and Joe Johnson of Pampa. Jackie Bennett of Canadian, nephew of the bride, was ring-bearer.

The bride's mother wore a printed cotton with black accessories. Mrs. Wells dress was of navy blue chiffon, navy accessories. Their corsages were of white carnations. Mrs. Dewayne Wells registered the guests.

A reception followed in the home of the bride's parents. A three-tiered all-white wedding cake decorated with white roses centered a table covered with a white Italian cut work cloth flanked by white tapers. Mrs. Jim Crouch of Pampa, aunt of the bride, presided at the crystal punch bowl and Mrs. Bruce Riley, of Stillwater, Okla., cousin of the bridegroom served the cake.

For a wedding trip to Oklahoma City, Okla., the bride wore a gray cotton knit box-suit with red accents. He concluded his discussion with the quotation, "Tomorrow, and all that it means, is being carried on the feet of little children."

MR. AND MRS. ALLEN DEAN HOLTMAN

Ford Memorial Chapel Scene Of Vows Said By Miss Pat Knight, Allen Holtman

A sunburst arrangement of white gladioli and emerald foliage flanked with branched candelabra decorated the Ford Memorial Chapel in Lubbock, when Dr. J. Ralph Grant performed the wedding ceremony uniting Miss Patricia Ann Knight and Allen Dean Holtman on September 7 at seven o'clock. Dr. Grant was assisted by the Rev. J. T. Bolding.

Miss Knight is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie K. Knight of Lubbock. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Holtman, 525 Hazel. The bridal couple are students at Texas Tech.

Wedding music was provided by the bride's cousin, Johnny Biffle, organist and her uncle, Harold Biffle, soloist. Vocal selections were "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

THE BRIDE
 The bride's father gave her in marriage. Her princess gown of Chantilly lace and illusion net was designed with long petal-point sleeves and a portrait neckline studded with seed pearls. Cascading inserts of fluted illusion net accented the full skirt which terminated in a cathedral train. Her handmade silk illusion veil descended from a satin cap frosted with seed pearls. She carried a Bible arrangement of white and blue lace feathered carnations.

ATTENDANTS
 Attendants to the bride were her cousin, Miss Linda Smith of Stanton, maid of honor, and Misses Sue Rucker of Dallas and Beth Reed, bridesmaids. Featuring elongated bodices and bouffant skirts, their ballerina-length frocks were in peacock, turquoise and aqua, respectively. They wore matching headbands encrusted with rhinestones and carried cascades of white feathered carnations.

Candles were lighted by Miss Donna Gail Knight, sister of the bride and Miss Margaret Lynn Taylor, her cousin. Miss Sandra Knight of Wichita Falls, another cousin of the bride, was flower girl. Bruce Correll of Knox City, cousin of the bridegroom was ring bearer.

Eugene Beatty of Abilene served as his cousin's best man. Alton Ray Long of Fort Worth and Darrell Long of Abilene, also cousins of the bridegroom, were groomsmen. Completing the wedding party were ushers Dan Knight, George Biffle, both the bride's cousins, and Jackie Becker of Pampa.

RECEPTION
 White gladioli were featured in decor at a reception held in the chapel parlor. Members of the house-party were Mmes. L. M. Taylor, Harold Biffle, Judge C. Smith Jr. of Stanton, Marvin Harvey of Amarillo and Grady Knight, all aunts of the bride; Misses Marlemma Taylor, Jan Smith of Stanton, Barbara Wardlow of Killeen, and Martha Harvey of Amarillo, her cousins.

As a traveling ensemble, the bride selected a turquoise wool suit, black accessories and a white carnation corsage. After a wedding trip to Cowles, N.M., the couple are at home at 2105-14th Lubbock.

Mr. Holtman was graduated from Pampa High School and his bride was graduated from Lubbock High School.

The importance of the Eastern influence in fashion inspired the "Egyptian Princess" bere. This dramatic version of the back-swept fashion fits close at the back in a full, squared-off drape.

Miss Mary Ann McPeak, Joe Sparks Exchange Vows In Home Ceremony

The wedding vows of Miss Mary Ann McPeak and Joe D. Sparks were solemnized in a ceremony held in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. McPeak, 205 N. Zimmers, on August 31 at ten in the morning. Mr. Sparks is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sparks, 2130 Seventh, Lubbock.

The double-ring service was read by Rev. Glen Rosenfeldt, of Roscoe.

Mrs. Gwen Barrett Arthur, pianist, played the wedding marches and accompanied, Jack McPeak, brother of the bride, as he sang "Because" and "O Perfect Love."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length, princess style dress of white textured acetate topped with a lace bolero fashioned with a Peter Pan collar, three-quarter length sleeves and self-covered buttons down the back of bolero. A white satin hat complemented her dress. She carried a nosegay of white rose buds, surrounded by Margarite daisies arranged on a shower of white satin ribbon tied with lover's knots atop a white Bible.

Miss Sylvia Davis served the bride as maid of honor wearing a golden brown cotton-satin princess style dress. She wore a corsage of yellow baby dahlias.

MISS PEGGY MESNEAK

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Peggy Mesneak to Glen S. Parker Jr., is being announced today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mesneak, 1112 E. Francis. Mr. Parker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen S. Parker of Alva, Okla. The wedding is planned for September 20 in the home of the bride-elect's parents. (Photo, Clarence Studio)

GRACE FRIEND

Dear Grace Friend:

I am turning to you for help for I am faced with a problem that I cannot solve and it is evident that you are a mature person who can look at things objectively.

Two years ago I held a job that demanded much travel and much association with men. I was always most careful that no one could question my morals.

An important business matter required me to go to another country with my boss, who was a fine man and much respected. I was his executive assistant and we had adjoining suites in the hotel. One night we were entertained by his associates at a very pleasant dinner party.

Much to my later sorrow, I allowed him to come to my room to talk over the day's happenings. I believe it was actually a surprise to us both when one thing led to another and we spent the night together.

When we arrived home I was most remorseful and I told him it would be best if I resign and avoid any further temptation. He agreed and was most penitent.

I became a full time homemaker and now have a lovely little girl. I felt that God had certainly forgiven me and had given me a real chance again.

But now my wrong has come to haunt me. It seems that my former boss had an attack of conscience and told his wife about us.

She came to see me the other day and she said she is going to tell my husband. She has already told my best friend, who told her she must be crazy.

I went to my husband and told him what she has done, what she said to me. My husband never expressed one word of doubt about me, but flew into a rage at my former boss and wife. He refuses to believe them.

His trust in me has given me one of the greatest moments of my life, even though I betrayed that trust.

Grace, I feel that I will never allow myself to fall into temptation such as this again. I feel yet that God has forgiven me. But I am living a lie by permitting my husband to continue angry at this woman who insists that I confess everything to my husband.

So far I am refusing to see her, as she wishes to come to my home and hear me confess before my husband. I feel it will only hurt my husband so deeply that he will never be able to trust me again, even though he can trust me now.

If you would tell me what to do I will be thankful to you forever. I am praying that your answer will come soon, as I am most distressed about this.

Miss McPeak was guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower given in the Highland Baptist Church on Thursday evening preceding the wedding, with members of the Business Women's Circle as hostesses.

The bride's chosen colors of yellow and brown were carried out in the serving table's appointments. Yellow-tinted punch and white sheet cake decorated with yellow wedding balls were served.

Mrs. Rozie Davis served cake. Mrs. George Moore presided at the punch service. Guest registrar was Mrs. Betty Shelton. Mrs. H. H. Still made the flower arrangement for the serving table.

Cook's Hook

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Lots of fresh vegetables are waiting to enrich September menus. Here are a few garden suggestions:

1. Fresh Spinach and Bacon Salad: Raw fresh spinach mixed with crumbled crisp bacon, vinegar, a little bacon fat, salt and black pepper.
2. Snap Beans Polonaise: Whole snap beans cooked in salted water and served with soft bread crumbs browned in butter.
3. Sweet Potato Surprise Balls: Mashed potatoes wrapped around one-inch pieces of banana. Roll in cornflakes and bake.
4. Glazed Lemon Carrots: Shredded carrots cooked in a small amount of water. Add a little sugar, paprika, butter and lemon juice. Saute about 10 minutes, shaking pan to make sure each shred of carrot is coated.
5. Farmer's Chop Suey: Chopped onion, diced cucumber, sliced radishes, chopped fresh tomato, green pepper, shredded cabbage, salt and pepper with sour cream dressing.
6. Celery in Vinaigrette Sauce: Celery stalks cut in half, cooked in boiling salted water and served with vinaigrette sauce.
7. French Fried Cauliflowerettes: Cauliflowerettes dipped in a batter of bread crumbs and egg and fried in deep fat.

Sunday Dinner: Roast turkey, celery stuffing, giblet gravy, potato and onion souffle, glazed lemon carrots, green beans, rolls, butter or margarine, farmer's chop suey, fresh peach ice cream, coffee, tea, milk.

Leather hats for Fall have the suppleness of satin. They have a smooth sheen that contrasts attractively with the texture of town- and -country tweeds, and come in the same brilliant, stain-resistant colors as the new oversized plaids.

To wear with the Chanel-type suit; a pleated overblouse, banded at the low waistline, in orlon- and wool jersey. Handsome when you leave the jacket at home, too.

Descendants Meet In Jenkins' Home

Forty-two descendants of the late W. H. (Bill) and Edith Carter gathered in the home of M. S. Jenkins, 722 E. Locust on Sept. 8.

Members who attended the family reunion were Hayes and Bertha Carter, Stratford; Everett and Lois Carter, Mrs. Edith Smith, Verna and Mary; Lou Carter and daughter, Brenda Nell; Evelyn and Bob Wagner and children, Edith Ann, Wesley and Bill, all of Sunray; Verna Schroeder, Edith and David Miles and children, Larry and Sue Ellen, Heretford;

Also, Edna and Arlie McMillan and son, Kenneth; Jennie Mae McMillan and son Jay D., all of Amarillo; Veramae and Vernon Kettlewell; Emmett Jenkins' children, Quannah Faye, Gary and Georgia Ann; Viola and Weldon Bullard and children, Doris Ann, Kathryn, Martha, Patty Sue; Bill and Ricky Miron; Blanche and Miron Jenkins, all of Pampa.

Reunion next year will be held again in the Jenkins home on the first Sunday after Labor Day.

A schedule for the weekly radio programs on KPDN was discussed. Pupils of Mrs. W. H. Fuller began the year's programs on Sept. 14.

Fourteen members were present for the meeting. Of these the following new members were welcomed, Mmes. Paul Reimer, Jim Scott, Wayne Brown, and Morris Wilson.

Other members present were Mmes. Lily Hartsfield, Bill Watt, W. M. Cooper, H. A. Yoder, E. H. Lowrance, Dick Land, Bob Perkins, W. H. Fuller and Eloise Lane.

Wear your favorite color from head to toe this fall. But not all one shade, please. The shades can vary in a tone-on-tone effect.

One way to greet fall is in a costume all in one neutral shade ("beige") with one single accent in a striking color. Bronze might be the accent for beige.

Don't scream and run when you see the first gray stockings this fall. They're lighter on the leg and really very pretty with gray shoes.

Music Association Plans Year's Work

The Pampa Music Teachers Association met on Thursday for the first meeting of the new year.

Mrs. Lois Fagan, president, presided at the business session following the noon luncheon in the White Way dining room.

Yearbooks were given to members; the constitution was read and adopted. A committee was appointed to plan music for the ensemble

BRIDE OF EDWARD EARLE-SCHIEG—Repeating marriage vows in an impressive candlelight ceremony on September sixth in the First Methodist Church in Longview were Miss Glenda Estelle Floyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wright Floyd, Longview and Edward Earle-Schieg, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Earle Scheig, 1016 Canterbury Hill, San Antonio. Mr. and Mrs. Scheig are former Pampans, who lived here for 25 years before moving to San Antonio five years ago. The bride attended North Texas State College and the University of Texas. The bridegroom attended Pampa High School, where he was a member of the Harvester football team. He attended Southern Methodist University and University of Texas, where he was a member of Pi Kappa Alpha social fraternity. They will make their home in Austin. Wedding guests attending from Pampa were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Curtis and Mrs. Luke McClelland.

Manners

It is much easier for guests if their luncheon hostess at a restaurant or private club tells them where to sit. Place cards, set up beforehand, are even better.

A hostess should not say casually, "Just sit wherever you like." Furthermore, she should seat guests next to persons she thinks they will enjoy talking to.

The rage for fur, fake and real, is on this fall. Treat yourself to one of those cardigans of orlon with a veiling of leopard-printed nylon chiffon. Completely washable, of course.

Teen-agers who collect shirts will like the new lantern sleeves and mosaic prints for fall. These take best to very simple, straight skirts.

MATURE PARENT Goopy Snacks Add To Baby Fat Woes

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Writes a Mrs. G., "In your column you recently said that if a mother can't serve herself freely, her child may also resist serving her. This is helping me solve a problem of stubbornness in my daughter. But I don't always agree with you. I think you're away off the beam to say that parents shouldn't duplicate children's toys. We've saved a lot of friction between our two boys by doing just that."

If parents always agreed with everything this column says, I'd stop writing it. Indeed, it is the motive of this column to have you question everything it says. The idea is not to swallow any of the ideas it advances without first thinking, "Is what she says true and nourishing for me—or isn't it?"

I've never taken or given a psychological test. Behind me is no school of psychiatry, no therapist experience in mental hygiene clinics to comfort you with the assurance that what I say is safe to trust. Upon this column is no seal of endorsement by any authority that can spare you the obligation of judging it for yourself.

You're on your own when you read it. The only support you've got is your own response to it—your own knowledge of its truthfulness.

It is this column's lack of abstract, superior, not-to-be-questioned authority that justifies its existence in an American newspaper.

In our country, we all suffer from too much awe of professional authority. In parents, this awe is particularly foolish. As people who have to exercise their own judgment continually, we just can't afford to give so much awe to our child guidance experts that we forget to judge the worth of what they say.

Unfortunately, some of our experts encourage this awe instead of encouraging our judgment. The wise people aren't like that at all, of course. Writes Dr. Theodor Reik, student of Freud: "Nothing said to us, nothing we can learn from others reaches so deep as what we find in ourselves."

As to Dr. Hilde Bruch, that loyal friend to parents, she says, "What is needed is a philosophy of parenthood that will permit parents to recognize their own inner resources and capacity for judgment."

Goopy Snacks Add To Baby Fat Woes

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

The extra pounds sometimes called "baby fat" are frequently the bane of a teen-ager's existence. And there's only one way to get rid of them. Diet. This doesn't mean fad diet or liquid diet or pills. It means a sensible diet outlined by your doctor. And once you have it, you must stay with it. You must form the habit of counting calories if you want to rid yourself of that chunky, thick-waisted look. You'll have to give up cream sauces, fried foods, candy, rich desserts and between-meal snacks. Fine. It's better for your health and your skin as well as your figure. When the rest of the gang has double malteds and hamburgers, you'll have to have fruit juice. One way to keep yourself on a diet is to buy the dress of your dreams in the size you'd like to be and stick with your sensible diet until you can wear it. By that time, your food habits will have changed so much that you won't even want french fries.

Contrary to a popular notion, bright red lipstick will not enhance pale skin. It will only make white skin look whiter and pasty in the bargain. To lend color to a white skin, use the pink tone. Pink in liquid foundation, a tinge of pink in powder and definitely in rouge, a pink-red or blue-red lipstick. This will bring the needed glow to the skin and banish that tired, defeated look that women with very white skin so often have.

Getting ready for sound sleep (one of the best-known aids to beauty) is a gradual process of unwinding. It involves the reversal of the speeded-up process you use to get things accomplished during the day. Fewer women would complain of insomnia if they substituted a book for a late TV show, took a ram bath and drank a glass of milk in place of a quick stower and six cups of coffee. They'd also have more luck with sleep if they moved about quietly, saw to it that their bed covers were both light and warm, and kept the noise in their homes to a minimum. The American reliance on sleeping pills is the worst kind of habit. And it's a habit that doesn't take recognition of the fact that for centuries

Mmes. Trudie Farmer, Jimmy Jones were introduced as new members. Mrs. R. F. McCallip was welcomed as a visitor. During the business meeting, members voted to donate 35 cents per member to the portrait fund, to be used to hang the pictures of Dr. Moffett and Judge Sarah T. Hughes, past national B&PW Club presidents, in the national federation building in Washington, D. C. The building is to be dedicated on Sept. 22 at 2:30 p.m.

Mrs. Crowson announced that the club would be hostesses to the Senior Citizens meeting on Sept. 26 at 2:30 p.m. in the Lovett Memorial Library.

Sept. 22-28 has been designated

National Business Women's Week and special activities for the club are being arranged by Mrs. Gladys Jaynes, chairman. A district conference will be held in Plainview on Oct. 5-6, Mrs. Crowson announced.

Plans were also made for a rummage sale to be held on Oct. 11-12. Mrs. Alma Ash, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Gladys Howard, who spoke on career advancement. Mrs. Howard stated, "Choose your career early in life and work toward the goal of advancement. Take time for all things; take time to be courteous; take time to live; take time to smile; and take time to think of your fellowman."

Goodwill Home Demonstration Club Is Planning Achievement Fair In October

Mrs. LaDon Bradford, 402 Le-fors, was hostess to the Tuesday morning meeting of the Goodwill Home Demonstration Club. The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. A. P. Coombes, chairman, during which it was voted to hold Achievement Day on Oct. 3 in the home of Mrs. George Perkins, 1918 Christine. Other home demonstration clubs will be invited to attend the affair, which will be called Goodwill Home Demonstration Fair. Several booths will be set up, such as, dart board, wishing well, and exhibits. A door prize will also be given. The next meeting for the club, on Sept. 17, will be an all-day meeting to make preparations for the Fair.

Officers for the coming year were elected; they are, Mmes. A. P. Coombes, president; Leland Diamond, vice president; Boyd Maule, secretary-treasurer; and Johnny Johnson, council delegate.

Miss Helen Dunlap, county home demonstration agent, demonstrated some sewing tips by making a child's jumper dress. Some of the tips that she passed along were:

- 1) stay stitch with the thread just inside the seamline so that the garment will hold its shape. It is not necessary to stay stitch except on a curve; 2) in facings, when trimming the seam, trim the seam next to the garment shorter than the one next to the facing; 3) Clip all inside curves before turning; 4) To cut a true bias place the lengthwise threads of the material over the crosswise threads. The ends of the bias should be cut on the straight of the material; 5) When sewing the seams of a skirt start at the bottom and sew up.

Miss Dunlap also demonstrated how to put a pocket in the seam of a skirt and how to sew a zipper in without basting or pinning. Miss Susie Tucker, assistant County Home Demonstration agent, attended the meeting with Miss Dunlap. Coffee and cake were served following the meeting.

Members present were Mmes. Maule, Coombes, Bradford, Ray, Frasier, George Perkins, Leland Diamond, and James Smathers. The next meeting for the club will be with Mrs. Coombes, 1230 Frederic, on Sept. 17 at 9:30 a.m.

Rho Eta Chapter Of Beta Sigma Phi Make Plans For Annual Barbecue

Rho Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met in the home of Mrs. Jack Florence, 607 Powell, for its first regular meeting of the year. Business was conducted by Mrs. Charles Duenkel Jr., president. Mrs. Ray Jones gave a summary of the programs to be presented. Mrs. Vernon Bell, social chairman, announced Sept. 26 as the date for the chapter's Bar-B-Que to be held in the home of Mrs. Ivan Marlin Jr.

Mrs. Hart Warren was elected recording secretary to replace Mrs. Lloyd Walker, who has moved out of town. Mrs. R. D. Dunham who has transferred from Theta Pi Chapter in Amarillo, was welcomed into the chapter. Secretarial names were drawn.

Mrs. Jack Florence was named Valentine Girl to represent Rho Eta Chapter in the national contest.

It was announced that the area council meeting will be held in the Hill Hotel in Hereford on Sept. 20. Several members are planning to attend this meeting.

Mrs. Bob Armstrong and Bill Terry presented the program on "Parliamentary Procedure" and introduced Mrs. Thelma Bray, guest speaker.

Mrs. Bray stressed the fact that business meetings should not be so formal to the extent of being dull. It should be conducted in a manner as to be interesting enough to hold the attention of every one present. The correct way of stating a motion was given.

The sorority color of yellow was carried out with the yellow rose of Beta Sigma Phi being the focal point in the decoration. Refreshments of cake, coffee, mints and nuts were served during the social hour.

RHODES FAMILY REUNION—Ninety members of the J. B. Rhodes family held a reunion on August 31 in Lubbock, beginning with a gathering in McKenzie Park. A buffet dinner was served in the Matador Room of the Caprock Hotel. All eleven children of the Rhodes family were present together with many in-laws and cousins. Some of the brothers and sisters hadn't seen each other in 11 to 15 years. The last time all the family were together was in 1936, but plans are in progress for another reunion. Pictured here are, left to right, seated, Mmes. Lois Fagan, Pampa; Eunice Rice Rhodes, Corpus Christi; Thelma Winkles, Plainview; Lora Andrews, Bethany; Eula Patterson, Abernathy; standing, left to right, the Rhodes' sons, Clyde of Abernathy; A. M. of Tulsa, Okla.; O. D. of Petersburg; Olen of Albuquerque; Carl of Abernathy; and Joe of Albuquerque.

RUTH MILLETT

It's shortighted of any woman—To become so absorbed in the lives of her children that she quits making an effort to be a companion to her husband. It is difficult and sometimes impossible to re-establish a husband-wife companionship that has been neglected for years, though the wife desperately needs it after the children are grown and gone from home.

To demand her husband's sympathy, instead of working to command his respect.

To fill her life so full of club work or work so hard to keep up a certain "social standing" that she hasn't the time to be a good friend, a good neighbor, or a warm-hearted human being.

To let her particular talents grow rusty while she waits for the day when she will have time to pursue some interests of her own. Any talent that makes her a more happy or more interesting person shouldn't be neglected for years.

To try to keep her children dependent on her as long as she can, instead of leading them toward independence.

To neglect her own friendships which, if nourished, will mean more and more to her as the years go by.

To waste time in feeling sorry for herself or blaming others for her troubles, instead of putting her mind to making the best of any bad situation.

To spend her time criticizing other women, instead of working to correct her own defects.

To fail to get some pleasure out of each day.

To allow herself to become so self-centered that she lacks real sympathy for others.

B. M. Baker PTA Convenes For General And Executive Meetings

The first meeting of the new PTA year was held in Baker School on Thursday afternoon with Miss Exie Seagrath, character and spiritual education chairman, leading the opening prayer.

A past president's pin was presented to Mrs. J. H. Trotter in appreciation for her work during the past two years. Mrs. R. A. Mack was also presented with a president's pin, which she will wear during her current year in office.

John Evans, school principal, introduced new members of the faculty.

A movie on "Individual Differences" was shown.

Mrs. Elmer Darnell, membership chairman, gave a report on plans for the membership drive, which this year includes a coker party for the room in each grade that wins the membership contest.

A strawberry cake, baked and iced by Mrs. G. N. Gage was awarded to Mrs. M. A. Jones.

The B. M. Baker PTA executive board met Tuesday afternoon in the office of the principal, John Evans. A letter of resignation from Mrs. Preston Wallace, secretary, was read and accepted with regret by the board. Mrs. Wallace will be in the Horace Mann School district.

Mrs. Gage, civil defense chairman, told of the necessity for identification tags for parents and children. A City council report was given by Mrs. J. H. Trotter.

Delegates for the Youth Development Workshop to be held in Slaton on Oct. 3 were chosen as follows: Mmes. Trotter, Carlos Grissom, Boyd Bennett, Evan Jones, D. E. Martindale, Glenn Dearborn, Roy Jones, C. N. Gage, A. D. Selman, Warren Jackson, Elmer Darnell, R. A. Mack and Mr. John Evans.

Plans for Fun Night were discussed and the date has been set for Oct. 25. Mrs. Trotter will be in charge of food and Miss Seagrath and Mrs. Claudie Gallman will be in charge of the program.

Those present for the board meeting were Mmes. Gage, A. D. Selman, Preston Wallace, Warren Jackson, J. H. Trotter, Carlos Grissom, Boyd Bennett, Evan Jones, D. L. Martindale, Glenn Dearborn, Roy Jones, John Evans, and R. A. Mack.

Manners Make Friends

It's never good manners to ask a woman why she has never married. Don't do it even though you think you are wording your question in a flattering manner, such as, "How does it happen that an attractive girl like you has never married?"

Anyway you put it, the question is impertinent and almost sure to be resented.

If you wear a full-blown hat, be sure that your coiffure is moderately full beneath it. Otherwise, when you doff your hat you're apt to look like a pinhead. Don't try to cram a fluffy hairdo under a close cap either. Hat and hairdo should harmonize in build as well as in line.

Facts 'N Fallacies About Breakfasts

Many authorities contend that breakfast is the most important meal of the day. Are they right? Let's take a good look at some facts about breakfast and separate them from fallacies:

Fallacy No. 1: Toast and coffee are enough for breakfast.

Fact: An adequate breakfast should supply at least 1/4 of the day's food requirements. A breakfast of fruit or juice, cereal, milk, bread and butter meets the specifications. No less will do.

Fallacy No. 2: Only children need a good breakfast. Adults don't.

Fact: Everyone needs a good breakfast. Thorough study of the question has demonstrated that people of all ages feel better, work better, live better, fortified with an adequate morning meal.

Fallacy No. 3: The time it takes to fix breakfast is better spent catching forty extra winks.

Fact: It takes only about 10-15 minutes to prepare the basic cereal breakfast for which a few minutes of extra dozing is a poor substitute.

Fallacy No. 4: Skipping breakfast is a quick and easy way to reduce.

Fact: Foods eaten in the morning are more apt to be converted into energy than food eaten later in the day. Breakfast goes to pep — not pounds.

Fallacy No. 5: Breakfast costs more than it's worth.

Fact: In terms of cost for food value received, a cereal breakfast is inexpensive. A basic breakfast furnishes 1/4 of the nutrients needed each day for about 1-6 of the average daily food budget.

All of which means the authorities are right. Breakfast is far too important a meal to miss.

Elastic Stockings Now Glamorized

NEA Beauty Editor There are, in this country, some 8,000,000 women who need special stockings to give them support for the veins in their legs. This means that these women have a major beauty problem with which to deal. These women will welcome brand new elastic stockings that offer both great leg control and a sheer appearance. It was this lack of sheerness that made such hosiery unattractive in the past.

The new stockings are made of helanca yarn in combination with nylon-covered rubber. They are full-fashioned and full-footed. They are also lighter in weight than the elastic stockings of the past.

Usually, elastic stockings come in two sizes. The new hosiery comes in six proportioned sizes. Because they're both sheer and full-fashioned, they don't need an additional pair of stockings as camouflage, the makers say.

Fake fur hats are as newsworthy as those made of the real thing. Pile fabrics simulate beaver, seal, broadtail and leopards. But some milliners are also using exciting "synthetic" furs — these were usually born a humble bunny, but are printed to resemble leopard and even shaded in the soft greys of precious chinchilla.
