Local Boy Dies In Car Crash

Mother, Sister In Poor Condition

A Pampa youth was killed and his mother and sister critically injured Friday evening when their car struck a bridge eight miles east of Sayre, Okla., on highway 152.

Dead is Gene Luster, 8, who died when the car struck the bridge after the driver, Mrs. Wanda June Luster, lost control after hitting a wet spot on the pavement following a rain storm.

The Elk City News reported that Mrs. Luster was pinned in the wreckage of the automobile. She was listed in very poor condition late yesterday by the attending physician.

Mrs. Luster suffered from broken bones in the face, chest injuries and both arms and legs were broken, according to reports from Elk City.

The skull of her 18-month-old daughter, Sharon, was cracked in the accident. She also listed in very poor condition.

Another son, Rickie, 6, was not injured.

The car was demolished, according to the Elk City newspaper, when it struck the end of the bridge railing after hitting the wet spot on the highway.

COLD VACCINE AT LAST

Dr. Winston Price, Director of Division of Medical Ecology at Johns Hopkins School of Hygiene and Public Health in Baltimore, Md., holds a rack of test tubes containing JH (or the common cold) virus. He isolated and perfected a vaccine for the virus that has been 80% effective in treating cases of the JH virus.

Israel's Charge Of Illegal Arrest Nixed

MOSCOW, Sept. 21 (UP)—The Soviet government today rejected as a "provocative fabrication" an Israeli diplomat's charge that he was seized illegally by Russian police and asked to spy for the Soviet intelligence service.

A statement by the Soviet foreign ministry's press department said that Eliyahu Hazan, an attaché at Israel's Moscow embassy, was detained "momentarily" on charges of passing out anti-Soviet literature.

The Israeli foreign ministry charged in Tel Aviv Monday that Hazan was abducted, questioned for 26 hours and threatened with death unless he agreed to spy for Russia. Hazan, his wife and baby girl returned to Israel this week.

Asked to comment on the Israeli charges, the Soviet foreign ministry said that "the whole story was a provocative fabrication."

The ministry's press department charged that Hazan was guilty of "impermissible conduct, directed against the interests of the Soviet Union."

It accused the Israeli attaché of "dissemination of anti-Soviet propaganda, distribution of illegal anti-Soviet literature and attempts to use certain Soviet citizens for purposes not connected with official diplomatic activities."

In denying the Tel Aviv reports, the press department gave the following Soviet account of the incident.

It said Hazan was caught in Odessa Sept. 7 in the act of handling anti-Soviet literature to a Russian citizen.

According to the Soviet statement, he refused to show any identifying document and was then detained for one hour, questioned and released upon showing his diplomats card.

The last of the two annual Cabot picnics was held yesterday afternoon at McClellan Lake.

Blessed with a warm, bright afternoon, the Cabot shop employees had a much better time of it than the remainder of the Cabot workers who braved chilling winds last Saturday.

Beginning at 1 p.m. yesterday with free boat rides, the affair concluded last night with Walt Disney color cartoons. A barbecue, prepared and served by the Pampa Shrine club was served at 5 p.m.

Company service awards and National Safety Council awards were presented at 4 p.m. Recipients of the company's service awards were named in last week's story.

Violence Feared If LR Negroes Attend Class

Ike Appeals For Peaceful Integration

Oppose Extremists President Declares

NEWPORT R. I., Sept. 21 (UP)—President Eisenhower stepped into the Little Rock school integration dispute today with an appeal to the city's white parents to vigorously oppose any violence by "extremists" seeking to keep Negroes out of the city's Central High School.

The President issued two statements on the Little Rock crisis. In the first, he said removal of troops from Central High Friday night was a "step in the right direction" and called for peaceful integration of the school.

In the second, the President outlined the events of the last 24 hours in Little Rock and then called for "sympathetic understanding" toward the nine Negro children who have been barred from Central High since the opening of the fall term Sept. 3.

Two-Sentence Statement

Eisenhower's first statement, consisting of two sentences, was issued by the summer White House shortly before the Little Rock school board met to issue an invitation to Negro children to enroll at Central High whenever they want to.

The school board action was taken as a result of removal of Orval E. Faubus, under a federal court injunction forbidding the use of soldiers to prevent integration of the school.

The second White House statement was released by Press Secretary James C. Hagerty after the President finished a round of golf and conferred by long distance telephone with Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr.

Hagerty said there was no "direct evidence" that violence might occur when Negro students are allowed to enter the school Monday, if they want to.

"Reports of Violence"

"But there are reports of such violence in some quarters," Hagerty said.

In his statement, the President said:

"The sincere and conscientious efforts of the citizens of Little Rock prior to Sept. 2 show that they are persons of good will and feel a responsibility to preserve and respect the law—whether or not they personally agree with it. I am confident that they will vigorously oppose any violence by extremists."

"All parents must have a sympathetic understanding of the ordeal to which the nine Negro children who have been prevented from attending Central High School have been subjected. They and their parents have conducted themselves with dignity and restraint."

"Everytime there is a wage increase, the administration screams, 'look at that horrible increase—it caused the inflation.' But the administration never faces up to the real cause of inflation, the vast number of increases in the price of steel and certain other basic commodities that always go ahead and lead the inflationary spiral," he said.

In an apparent indirect reference to President Eisenhower's hobby of golf, Yarborough added:

"Frankly, I don't know how we are going to get the Republican administration concerned about this grave problem. If the green fees went up each month at the exclusive clubs like groceries at a corner store, perhaps inflation would become everybody's business."

Yarborough, who endorsed pay-raise legislation for federal employees, said backers of the bill were "blocked, and shunted, and stalled and ignored, and yes, even this too—vetoed—at every turn of the road."

Hussein's Reign In New Danger

By DONALD J. GONZALES United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (UP)—Well informed diplomats said today a new Middle East crisis may be touched off in Jordan by Syrian-inspired terrorism and impending home-front political decisions.

External and internal challenges to King Hussein's authority were causing anxiety here and in other allied capitals. But officials said trouble may be averted if the British-trained Army remains loyal to the king.

These diplomats see some stabilizing factors in the uneasy situation including the king's determination to stand up to internal opposition as well as Syria and Egypt, the merchant class which fears Syrian pro-letariat control, and the steady flow of paychecks to the Jordanian army.

But the overall outlook is said officially to be uneasy and will continue to be so for a long time.

Recent delivery of American arms was designed to discourage Jordan's political opportunists. A test of the king's popularity, however, will come next month when the Jordanian parliament must be called into session or dissolved.

The United States has a heavy political and strategic stake in Jordan's future. This country is providing Jordan with 10 million dollars in military aid, and 20 million dollars more in economic aid. The total is more than one-third of Jordan's budget.

Syria's trouble-making in Jordan—and Lebanon as well—was reported to be well-documented here and in other western capitals. Experts said Egypt also is known to be behind some of Jordan's affairs and is regarded as a dangerous by-product of Russia's efforts to stir up trouble in the Middle East through arms deliveries.

OSLO, Norway, Sept. 21 (UP)—Crown Prince Olav, 54, became king of Norway today when he officially informed the cabinet of the death of his father, King Haakon VII, and swore allegiance to the Constitution.

The prince became King Olav V after the death this morning of the 85-year-old king who had reigned since 1906.

Among the last words of the old king, who remained lucid to the last, was his instruction to his son to "give my regards to the cabinet."

Rites Set for Oct. 1

Olav set Tuesday, Oct. 1, for his father's funeral. The entire nation was plunged immediately into mourning for the old king who became a hero with his opposition to Nazi Germany in World War II.

The new king, who lived in both the United States and Britain during his World War II exile from Norway, handed his written pledge of allegiance to the cabinet. The constitution provides that the successor to the throne should make this pledge to the parliament. But the cabinet accepted it instead because parliament is in recess.

Olav had carried out his father's official duties for the last two years. Haakon broke his hip in a fall in 1955 and had been in failing health ever since.

MIAMI BEACH, Sept. 21 (UP)—Teamsters President Dave Beck refused today to answer the powerful AFL-CIO Executive Council's charges of corruption in his huge union until they are reviewed by the teamsters convention here.

In a letter to AFL-CIO President George Meany, Beck denied charges by the ethical practices committee of the AFL-CIO that the teamsters union is dominated by corrupt influences. But he declined an "invitation" to appear before the council about the matter.

"We emphatically deny the validity of the so-called findings of the committee," Beck said. "We assert that there is no basis national union does not meet the standards for ethical union practices set forth in the AFL-CIO constitution."

Beck fired off the letter as the teamsters prepared for their convention starting here Sept. 30. The convention will be highlighted by election of a new president to succeed Beck.

Guard Ordered Out; 9 Negroes 'Invited'

By PRESTON McGRAW United Press Staff Correspondent

LITTLE ROCK, Sept. 21 (UP)—The Little Rock school board, concerned by the possibility of violence Monday if nine Negroes start classes at Central High School, told all outsiders, including working newsmen, to stay out of the building.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus ordered the National Guard away from Central High Friday night, three hours after Federal District Judge Ronald N. Davies put him under injunction to stop interfering with Central's desegregation.

President Eisenhower, in Newport, R. I., called upon the people of Little Rock to oppose "any violence by extremists." He urged them to have a "sympathetic understanding" of the ordeal suffered by the Negroes.

Persistent Reports

There were persistent reports—no concrete evidence—that violence will occur Monday. But both the school board and police took note of it and made plans to prevent trouble.

School Supt. Virgil E. Blossom, after a meeting today of the school board, said that he wanted no adults, including newsmen and excepting only employees of the school, inside the building for the first few days next week.

He said that an hour after school opens Monday, he will hold a news conference at his office and disclose how the 1,800 white students at Central High receive the Negroes, if they appear Monday.

The Negroes have not announced whether they will go to Central Monday, although they are already registered.

Injunction Filed

Judge Davies' temporary injunction was formally filed today with the clerk of U.S. district court. It amplified his brief verbal order Friday.

The injunction, as filed today, forbade Faubus, Adjutant General Sherman Clinger and Lt. Col. Marion Johnson of the National Guard to obstruct the integration of Central High with troops, threats or coercion, or from discouraging the Negroes by any other means.

Blossom said Central High is open to the Negroes and they can start attending classes whenever they want to.

Youth Chunks At Hostile Barber Shops

SAO ANTONIO, Sept. 21 (UP)—A 19-year-old barber was charged today with hurling rocks through the windows of nine barber shops because, he said, they wouldn't raise their prices from 75 cents to $1, same as his father's shop charged.

Jesus Anguilano and a companion, Conrado Salazar, 19, were booked on charges of malicious mischief. Salazar said all he did was drive the car.

289 Texas Wells Drilled In Week

AUSTIN, Tex., Sept. 21 (UP)—Texas oilmen brought in 289 wells this week, hiking the year's total to 11,465, the Railroad Commission reported today.

The comparable total a year ago was 12,071.

Gas well completions numbered 41 for the week and 1,423 for the year, compared to 1,299 a year ago.

Dry holes totaled 160 for the week and 5,532 for the year. Wildcaters drilled 14 oil wells, one gas well and 96 dusters during the week.

The total average calendar day oil allowable as of today was 3,202,182 barrels, up 10,045 barrels daily from last week.

Air Force Captain Convicted For Sellout To Reds Attempt

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (UP)—A fumbling, probably lily, spy and espionage and a sharp-eyed U. S. counterespionage officer filled the secrets-selling plans of Capt. George H. French, the Air Force disclosed today.

The pursuit and capture of the convicted strategic air command officer was brief and simple. He supplied all the evidence himself.

On the night of last April 5, an Air Force spokesman told United Press, French "tried to deliver a letter—personally—to the Soviet Embassy. The letter was intercepted. It never got into the hands of the Russians."

French was not arrested at the time.

Some one—the Air Force refuses to say who—saw the Air Force officer surreptitiously "deliver" the letter in a way which did not involve use of the mails and did not get it into Russian hands.

The implication, which the Air Force did not deny, was that French dropped or deposited the letter somewhere on the embassy property, assuming it would be found. An alert counterespionage policeman must have seized it.

"The Russians were never involved," the spokesman said.

"The letter was turned over to the FBI," he continued. "It stated the kind of information he had to sell and said he could be contacted at room 1877 of the Hotel New Yorker."

"He set his price at $27,500, which is not much when you consider what he had to sell," the spokesman added.

"The letter didn't detail what information he was offering—just that it was valuable military information and had to do with weapons."

"The next day, I believe, French was visited in his New York hotel room—by the FBI instead of the Russians."

This ended his vacation, and probably his career.

His arrest was not publicly announced. After five months of Air Force investigation, the 36-year-old officer was brought to trial in a court martial at Barksdale Air Force Base.

"He asked for a closed court martial and waived the right to have civilian counsel," the spokesman said. "Most of it would have been closed anyway because of the kind of information involved."

Famous Indian Authority To Be K&F Club Guest

Members of the Top o' Texas Knife and Fork Club will have as guest speaker at the next regular meeting, Charles Eagle Plume, interpreter of Indian lore, anthropologist and authority on early Indian-American history. The affair will be held at 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday, in the high school cafeteria here.

Eagle Plume, the son of a French-Indian mother and a German father, was reared in Montana and was graduated from the University of Colorado. He was studying for a Ph. D. in anthropology at Columbia University when World War II broke out.

As an Army scout he served three years in the Southwestern Pacific.

Tickets are on sale at Thompson Hardware Store. Deadline for purchase of tickets is tomorrow at 1:00 p.m., according to J. W. Gordon Jr., president of the local club.

Christmas Parade Date Set Dec. 3

The Chamber of Commerce sub-committee planning Christmas activities met yesterday morning and decided to change the date of the annual Christmas parade.

Originally scheduled for Dec. 6, the parade will be held on Dec. 3. Reason for the change of dates was a date conflict with a band contest scheduled on Dec. 6 at West Texas. By changing the date, a large number of bands from this area could be secured, E. Q. Wedgeworth, chamber manager said.

General plans for Christmas decorating were also worked on by the committee, and several new features were discussed.

The sub-committee, composed of Morris Silver, Leon Gilbert and Charles Cook, met with Cameron Marsh, assistant principal of Pampa High School.

Smoke in a house at 303 N. West resulted in the only alarm received by the fire department yesterday. The alarm was received at 1:30 p.m. when an occupant noticed the smoke. Upon arriving at the address the firemen discovered that the smoke resulted when an iron caught fire earlier in the day.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
South was pleased with the dummy and the opening lead. He let the jack of clubs run around to his queen and led a spade. He finished the jack and East won with the king and returned the deuce of hearts.
South won with his king and led a diamond. Dummy's queen fell to East's ace and another heart came back. South won that trick and played a second spade. When West showed out South saw that he was going to have a real trouble picking up his ninth trick. He could count three hearts, two clubs and the diamond and saw to possibility of getting any more tricks in those suits. Hence, he needed three spade tricks and that meant that he would have to end-play East.
South did it quite simply. He cashed dummy's ace of hearts and led a diamond to his king. Another diamond play gave East a chance to cash two tricks in that suit but declarer simply discarded the nine of hearts and three of spades from the dummy whereupon East was thoroughly employed.

East muttered something about luck but there was no luck involved. South was my son Jim and he had counted the hand out as follows:
East obviously started with only one club. He also held five spades. His heart play showed either three or four hearts. If he held three hearts he would also hold four diamonds which was the actual case.
If he held four hearts the diamonds would have to break three-three. If West won the third diamond lead he would be down to put dummy's back in with the ace. Then a fourth heart lead would throw East in for the same endplay.
If East won the third diamond he could cash his last heart but again would have to lead the spade to dummy.

Famed Criminal Lawyer Dies

SAN ANTONIO (UP) — Clifford Mays, 46, one of the state's outstanding criminal lawyers, died at his home today after a long illness.
He practiced law in Fort Worth until three years ago when he moved to San Antonio to become president of Tribble Outdoor Advertising Co., after his father-in-law, who founded the firm, died.
Mays represented scores of murder suspects all over the state during his career as a criminal lawyer. None was ever executed, and only one went to prison.

Members of the Pampa Rifle and Pistol Club have a common bond, love for guns, but the interests of the members vary beyond that point.
Some of the members only like to fire the weapons for perfect scores, others like to work on guns, some like to collect guns, some like to reload ammunition and a very few like all of the various aspects of the sport of shooting.
THE LOCAL gun club was formed in October of 1951 with approximately 40 members. Since that beginning many of the members have moved away, including many new members throughout the years, but the addition of members has brought the membership up to 55 at the present time.
Membership in the club is not limited to Pampa residents. The club's roster includes people from Amarillo, Panhandle, White Deer, Canadian and Lefors.
NOR IS THE club limited to members of the male sex. Women are welcome and in some towns women are better shooters than most of the men, according to reports of men who have shot in matches against women. However, the local club has only one woman as a member and this minority is represented by Mrs. Inez Carter.
The club is affiliated with the National Rifle Association and the object or purpose of the club is "the encouragement of organized rifle and pistol shooting among citizens of the United States, resident in our community, with a view toward a better knowledge on the part of such citizens of the safe handling and care of firearms, as well as improved marksmanship."
THE FIRST concern of the club is safety in shooting and it is an outstanding record that of all the clubs affiliated with the NRA, there has never been a person injured at a sanctioned shooting match in the United States.
The Pampa Club maintains two shooting ranges for use of members of the club and law enforcement officers. The indoor range, for use by pistol and small-bore rifle shooters, is located at Recreation Park. This indoor range provides four shooting positions and moveable targets. The term "small-bore" is used in reference to 22 caliber rifles.
THE OUTDOOR range, for large-bore, .30 caliber, shooting, is located about 1 1/2 miles east of Hoover on the insurance due to the safety stressed when shooting.
The ranges are used by other groups for shooting but only when supervised by a member of the club.
ALL LOCAL law enforcement officers are allowed to use the indoor range for pistol practice and some of the officers are expert shooters. The local police department uses the range when officers are shooting their monthly qualification course.

In addition to the two ranges, the club owns equipment for loading practically every size of cartridge. The equipment includes primer removers, primer installers, case resizers, powder measurers and dies for placing the bullet in the case.
This reloading equipment is under the supervision of Less Newman and is available to every member of the club.
THE RELOADING of bullets is not only an advantage from the standpoint of loading for specific purposes but also a saving. The average cost of a .30 caliber hunting shell is 21 cents while the case can be reloaded at a cost of from eight to ten cents.
The club is connected with the army program of Civilian Marksmanship, through NRA, and the Director of Civilian Marksmanship provides free ammunition and other items to club members who fire the prescribed qualification course. Shooters who are NRA members can also obtain surplus rifles and other items from the same source.
Through this program the rifle and pistol clubs throughout the country are helping to train a group of crack rifle shots in the event of a national emergency.
THE PROGRAM of the club also includes a junior group that teaches teenage shooters gun safety and supervises the firing of small-bore rifles by the youngsters.
The club is informal and has only one official meeting a year, for the purpose of electing officers. This does not mean that the club is inactive. Every week end throughout the summer members will be found at the outdoor range and during the colder months there is seldom a night when the boom of pistols and rifles cannot be heard coming from the indoor range.
The club is open to any resident of the area who is interested in shooting. Anyone interested can contact one of the following members for information about becoming a member.

NEW YORK (UP) — TV quiz shows have escalated an army of citizens from obscurity to dizzy heights.
Most tumble back into nowhere again. But not Tina Robin.
Miss Robin, a 19-year-old blonde from Newark, N. J., carried off $30,100 from NBC-TV's "Hold That Note" last March after identifying a series of tunes over a five-week stretch.
"Hold That Note," a fairly clumsy piece of TV furniture, has since been dispatched to the boneyard—the victim of a mercy killing by NBC. However, Miss Robin, a pretty trim piece of furniture, has gone on to fame, fortune and other engagements.
An Explosive Package
A singer, Tina (her press agent gleefully refers to her as "T.N. Tina," but no reasonable citizen would hold that against her) was earning $38.50 a week in a Newark five-and-ten cent store before she landed on "Hold That Note."
In her words: "I wasn't doing so hot."
However, during her tenure on the quiz show, Tina sang two lines of "Blue Suede Shoes." Her robust attack on this cultural entry so enchanted the audience that Tina was given the chance to sing "Some of These Days" on a subsequent show.
That did it.
"I got a recording contract with Coral Records," recalled Tina who scales in at four-foot-eleven. "And after I got off the show, I got bookings in Cleveland, Baltimore, Detroit, Kansas City, Boston, Washington and the Roxy Theatre in New York."
She's in demand on Canadian TV and last month I was on the Vic Damone CBS-TV show. Now Steve Allen wants me for his

Adenauer Win On Favorable Side Of Big News Ledger

Foreign News Commentary
By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
The week's good and bad news on the international balance sheet:

Tough old Konrad Adenauer, chancellor of West Germany, won a big victory in a parliamentary election.
Adenauer's Christian Democratic Party and its allied German Party won 277 seats out of the total of 497 in the Bundestag, controlling house of Parliament, for a four-year term.
This gives Adenauer a majority of 67 votes over the combined opposition — the Socialists with 169 seats and the Free Democrats with 41.
It was a victory not only for Adenauer but for the Western Allies. It was a corresponding defeat for Soviet Russia.
Russia had campaigned openly and savagely against Adenauer in its propaganda broadcasts because he has brought West Germany into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and because he is a bitter foe of international Communism.

Premier Liang Pibul Songram of Thailand was overthrown as the result of a military coup carried out by a group of army officers. Internal political issues brought about Pibul's fall. But the overthrow was an unwelcome development. Thailand is one of the eight members of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization. SEATO's headquarters are in Bangkok, the capital of Thailand. Pibul was firmly pro-Western.
The United States had strongly supported Pibul. Field Marshal Sarit Thanarat, who led the coup, is represented also as being friendly toward the West. But he and those associated with him may be influenced by a strong tide of "neutrality" which has been apparent in Thailand in recent months.

The life of France's 22nd post-war government was threatened on the issues of Algeria and farm price controls.
Premier Maurice Bourges-Maunoury sought desperately to work out a compromise that would win the support of his minority government by disputing Conservative and leftist on a home-rule plan for Algeria.
The conservatives wanted the plan strengthened so as to safeguard French control over Algeria. The Socialists demanded enactment of the plan as written.

If Bourges-Maunoury got over the hurdle on Algeria, he was faced by another fight on his system of farm price controls, which he imposed last month as a curb on inflation.
Farm interests, which have powerful representation in Parliament, demanded that the controls be scrapped.

The United Nations General Assembly opened its 12th annual meeting in New York.
On its program for discussion were disarmament, Russian intervention in Hungary, a Communist and "neutralist" demand that Red China be admitted to membership.

ship, the future of Cyprus and the Algerian rebellion.
Secretary of State John Foster Dulles opened debate with a warning that Soviet Russian ambitions in the Middle East might lead to aggression.
He asked the assembly to approve Western disarmament proposals, introduced at the recent conference in London, in hope that the pressure of world opinion might induce Russia to accept them.

So Nixon came out smelling like Rose in rights issue
In dealing with Faubus but for the fact that the vice president long since has been firmly on record with respect to civil rights and Negroes.
Denounced By South
He supported last January the effort in the Senate to curb filibusters by changing Senate rules. The proposal lost, 55-38. Nixon and Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif.) were chief administration strategists in the Senate maneuvers over the 1957 civil rights bill. Southern senators resented and denounced Nixon's show of sympathy for Negro voters.

As of now, Nixon equally with Knowland, would be likely to attract Negro votes if either were nominated by the Republicans for president in 1960. Whether Eisenhower would attract or repel Negro voters is a matter of less importance because he will not be a candidate again.
It is possible, therefore, that to say the Republicans have not made much political hay in the civil rights pasture is to overstate the case. The President may have made much or any. Nixon and Knowland, however, may wind up with a full barn.

Equally strange is the fact that Vice President Richard M. Nixon has escaped, so far, blame for whatever the administration's critics dislike in Eisenhower's handling of Faubus. Nixon has been the administration whippingboy, especially in the area of rights and the alleged violations thereof.
There has been over the years a substantial effort to get rid of Nixon before he could get his name on top of a Republican presidential ticket and, maybe, be elected. He probably would be taking a public licking now for any administration sins of omission.

'Don't Do It Yourself'

By ALFRED LEECH
United Press Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO (UP)—Efficiency expert E. A. Cyrol contends that most do it yourself projects are a "waste of time and money."
Cyrol, a time-motion expert who is retained by several big manufacturing companies, has a new motto: "Don't do it yourself."
In Cyrol's considered opinion, a man should spend his time "doing what he can do best."
"If you're a writer, for instance, hire a carpenter to build the basement shelves and spend your spare time writing free lance," Cyrol advised.

Bigger Dividends
Do it yourself projects might be all right as a hobby, Cyrol conceded, but the time might better be spent in "improving your earning power."
"Night school, for instance, could pay bigger dividends," he said.
Cyrol cited the case of a man who worked for a large firm and came up with a good idea on materials handling. But the company policy would not permit employees to pursue such ideas on company time.
So Cyrol told the fellow to work out his plan at home, write it up and present it.
"I told him he'd probably get a bonus, a raise, or maybe even a good promotion," Cyrol said. "But he couldn't spare the time. He was fixing his attic or something."
Time is Money
Actually, Cyrol said, if you figure costs accurately you don't save as much as you think on do it yourself activities.
"And if you figure in your time," he said, "you may be losing money. After all, your time should be worth something."
Furthermore, he said, on most household projects you'll get a better job from a professional.
There is the authentic case of a man who writes a widely-read do it yourself column. The fellow took his own advice and tried to fix the pump on his washing machine.
He did, but the pump squirted water into the motor.
A new motor cost him $36.

Pilot Found Fit Before Mishap
MADISON, Wis. (UP)—Northwest Airlines officials said Thursday night a pilot who died of a heart attack while at the controls of a plane with 67 persons aboard had been found physically fit two months before.
The pilot, Capt. Alfred H. Lohmar, 51, was stricken Thursday while on a Minneapolis to Chicago flight. Co-pilot Arthur J. Steadman, 33, brought the big DC-8 down safely in an unscheduled landing at Madison.

Louie Repeats Charges; Calls Aid 'Menace'
FARGO, N.D. (UP)—Jazz trumpeter Louis Armstrong today blasted his traveling manager as a "funky" and "a menace to the colored people" and said no one speaks for Satchmo except Satchmo.
Pierre Tallerie, the manager, stated yesterday that Armstrong's criticism of President Eisenhower was made in a moment of exasperation and that Armstrong "loves Eisenhower and feels he is doing all he can" in the Little Rock school crisis.
The famed ambassador of jazz earlier this week charged President Eisenhower with being "two facéd" in allowing Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus — "an uneducated plowboy" — to run the federal government.

Later, he reaffirmed his statement that the "government can go to hell" with its plans to send him on a good will tour of Russia.
Tallerie's subsequent statement, made in Fargo, N.D., yesterday was the subject of an interview held after Armstrong's concert in Fargo last night.
Armstrong, flanked by five other musicians in his combo, said Tallerie "doesn't particularly care about the colored people. He's trying to make me look like a fool to my own people."
The 57-year-old musician said he knows his own mind.

Tickets For CoC Banquet 'Going Fast'

E. O. Wedgworth, manager of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, today urged all persons interested in securing tickets for the annual chamber banquet to make their reservations as soon as possible.

"Tickets are going fast. More than half are already sold and we are making many reservations daily," he said.

Last year the tickets were sold out one week before the event. Date for the banquet this year is Oct. 15.

Dwight Havens, manager of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce in Washington, D.C., will be the principal speaker. Officer and directors for the coming year will be presented at the banquet also.

They are to be installed on a week earlier, Oct. 8, at a meeting at the Country Club. Jack Lacy will be the installing official.

3 Plead Guilty In DWI Cases

Three driving while intoxicated cases were heard yesterday in County Court and three pleas of guilty were entered.

All three offenders, in turn, were handed the same fine and sentence by Gray County Judge Bruce Parker. The trio were all arrested earlier in the day Saturday; one by the local police, one by the highway patrol and the other by the sheriff's office.

Two men; L. H. Hooper and Ray Paulk, are Pampans and the third, O. W. Wyatt, is a Shamrock man. Each was fined $100 and court costs and given a three-day jail sentence.

Perryton Church Starts Fund Drive

(Special to The News)

PERRYTON — Thursday evening at 8 a dinner was held by the members of the First Christian Church as a beginning of the building campaign and fund drive to raise $75,000 for a new sanctuary.

Hostesses for the dinner were Meses, Jud Skaggs, R. T. Correll, Charles Cunningham, Rex Clark, Jim Anderson, Roy Johnson, Bob Urban, J. C. May, Leon Schrader, Deb Riley, Earl McGarraugh, Woods King, Harvey Kile, A. K. Wilson, Claud Schell and C. E. Harr.

The First Christian Church, with Rev. Joe Frederick as their pastor, has a membership of 418 and the present building was built to accommodate around 300 people. It has not been decided whether the new building will be built on the present location or if a new site will be purchased.

Drew Ellis is general chairman of the drive and others serving with him are Ray Thomas, Spencer Whipple, Jim Anderson, Robert D.

the students is the same as it has always been," Blossom said. "The school is open and whether they come or not is up to them."

Faubus, who called out the guard at Central High School Sept. 2 — school started the next day — said he would have enjoyed attending the injunction hearing Friday, but was advised not to.

"I would have enjoyed it, but we were advised by lawyers and judges in telephone calls from all over the nation what we would have done," he said.

"We would have been in the position of submitting to the federal court and if we had done this we would have jeopardized the constitutional right and independence and sovereignty of any sovereign state."

Faubus maintains that he sent the guard to Central High because there had been a heavy sale of guns and he had received reports of impending bloodshed. Judge Davies said Friday he believed Faubus' fears were groundless.

No Indication From Negroes

There still was no indication whether the Negroes, now that they can enter Central whenever they want, will try to start school Monday, Central High has been open since Sept. 3.

Mrs. L. C. Bates, president of the Arkansas chapter of the NAACP, who will decide when the students will start school, was not at home. Her last word was that she was not sure when the Negroes will start school.

At Newport, R.I., President Eisenhower, who had taken a personal hand in trying to settle the impasse between the federal government and Faubus, said his withdrawal of the troops was a "necessary step in the right direction."

"I am confident that the citizens of the City of Little Rock and the State of Arkansas will welcome this opportunity to demonstrate that in their city and in their state proper orders of a United States court will be executed promptly and without disorder," the President said.

Reports that could not be pinned down circulated that bitter segregationists among the 1,800 white students at Central High may start trouble Monday morning or incite a walkout of 400 to 600 white students.

Police Chief Marvin Potts sent a special detail of 10 policemen to Central High Friday night.

'Peppy Crew' Leads Yells For Pampa High School Student Body

By BILL NEAL
Pampa News Staff Writer
If the Pampa Harvesters don't have a good year it won't be because they lacked support from their cheerleaders.

Practicing before and after school every day, the peppy crew of seven has polished numerous spirit-raising yells for their team.

Frank Sinatra's Iron Man stunt, completing eight half-hour telefilms in 15 days. . . Warner Bros. film version of the Broadway hit, "The Pajama Game." It's the top film musical of the season. . . 20th Century-Fox "unquiescent" its entire Cinema-Scope backlog of films for eventual use on TV. Those BIG pictures will be cut down for livingroom size.

"And tell all the parents to come out, too. The attendance was pitiful at that last game," chimed in sophomore cheerleader Wendell Ridgway.

Barbara Stanwyck, another TV holdout, deciding to join the television series rush. . . Bill Kennedy's story about a wealthy Hollywood playboy who called in a private eye and asked him to check on his girl friend while he went to Palm Springs for the weekend. The detective said O.K., but asked him whether he should call him at the desert hotel if he found the gal was cheating.

MISS GORMAN, a brown-eyed brunette, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Gorman, 822 E. Craven. A senior in high school, she is 17 years old and is serving her second year as a member of the group. Pat plans to attend McMurry college in Abilene next year and major in religious education.

Johnny Carson, ex-CBS-TV comedian, headed for the hosting job on the daily matinee TV show, "Do You Trust Your Wife?" . . . Joe E. Lewis' latest: "I believe in moderation, so every night I get moderately drunk."

RIDGWAY, a 15-year-old sophomore serving his first year as a cheerleader, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Ridgway of 824 E. Berry. The crew-cut blond wants to study to be an engineer when he graduates, but hasn't decided which college he will attend. He is also a member of the Harvester baseball team.

Natalie Wood again denying altar plans with Bob Wagner. But he will be on the same train late this month when she goes east to start filming, "Marjorie Morningstar."

ONE 17-year-old senior girl leading in the rallies is Joy Vandenburg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vandenburg, 1615 N. Russell. Miss Vandenburg, a friendly brunette, expects to enroll at Texas Tech next year where she will major in physical education. She plays volleyball for Pampa High School. Miss Vandenburg is also on the pep team for the first time this year.

Lee Remick, the baton-twirling friend of Andy Griffith in "A Face in the Crowd," becoming the wife of TV director William Colerian in New York. . . Jimmy Stewart's wordage about an 18-city trek to help sell his UT movie, "Night Passage":

ANOTHER first year leader is Betty Sprinkle, a cute brown-haired sophomore. Miss Sprinkle is the 15-year-old daughter of Mrs. Helen Sprinkle, district clerk. Her ambition is to attend Texas Christian University, although she hasn't decided what to major in yet.

'Reception Ltd.' Is Answer To A Busy Woman's Prayers

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UP)—This week in Manhattan:

Three young New York men opened a business which is the answer to every busy woman's prayer. It's sort of a maid, butler, shopper, handyman, baby-sitter service all in one.

The idea of "Reception Ltd." is to be errand boy for people too busy to do such chores as shopping for gifts, writing letters to the folks, hunting for an apartment.

Running this partnership are Harold Buckley, a sometime actor from Connecticut; Richard McCabe, an Ohioan, and Whit Payton, an Illinois native, both in public relations.

All Kinds of Service
They will answer the phone, forecast the weather for your vacation spot (courtesy of some aid from the U.S. Weather Bureau), stand in line for tickets for "My Fair Lady" or other hits, give advice on etiquette, make restaurant reservations.

They will send flowers on an anniversary—remember the anniversary for that matter—rent a mink coat for a special occasion, keep a duplicate key in case you get locked out of your residence, like care of baby, dog, cat or parakeet, get you a maid, do your Christmas shopping, write thank you notes and give advice on what to wear when and where.

"We stuck our neck out on offering fashion tips," said Buckley. "First day we were in business, a lady called to say she was leaving for Spain and what clothes should she take."

"I told her I'd check around and call back. She said she didn't have time. . . for me to go ahead and guess."

Did Just That
"I did. Told her to take pastel cottons for day and dark linens for night. Whether I'm right remains to be seen. . . we may lose the client when she gets back."

Eventually the trio plans to cater to any one, anywhere who wants an errand done in New York. The charge for the general service is $25 a month, which puts the organization on 24-hour call. But the client naturally also foots the bill for maid, theater tickets, plane reservations or what-have-you.

"The idea grew out of conversation at a party," said Buckley. "We all were talking about how little time people have for chores. There are similar services in Paris and San Francisco, we since have learned."

Barnard College reported this week that college women think their education was well worth the four years of study and exams. Its alumnae association sent questionnaires to 10,200 grads from the first class, 1893, through 1955. Fifty-six per cent, or 5,757, of the alumnae answered. Only 23 graduates said if they had their lives to live over, they would have skipped college. Most of the graduates have, or have had, careers. Seventy-seven per cent married, most of them to college graduates.

In the fame-is-fleeting department, Irene Dunne, a new member of the U.S. delegation to the United Nations General Assembly, had to present credentials to get to work this week. A couple of UN security officers failed to recognize the veteran motion picture star when she showed for a meeting.

NEW YORK (UP)—Fleet Nasrullah, who won three of his four starts at Hollywood Park this summer, will make his eastern debut today in the six-furlong Anticipation Purse at Belmont Park. Alhambra, an invader from Chicago, also is entered in the tune-up for next Saturday's futurity.

Norway King Dies In Sleep

By BORGE MORS
United Press Staff Correspondent
OSLO, Norway (UP)—King Haakon VI of Norway died in his sleep today at the age of 85, plunging into sorrow a nation which had idolized its monarch for saying no to Hitler and traitor Quisling in the face of certain defeat.

He was the world's oldest reigning king and had ruled Norway since it won independence from Sweden in 1905.

Stolid Norwegians, hearing of his death by word of mouth, radio and black-bordered newspapers, stopped in the streets, bowed their heads, removed their caps and wept.

The Danish-born king had been suffering for more than two years as a result of a hip fracture which never healed fully because of his age.

In the last few days a respiratory ailment put him on the critical list and doctors prepared the plan for the end. His heart stopped at 4:35 this morning (11:35 p.m. e.d.t. Friday).

Crown Prince Olav, Haakon's only child, automatically became king and swore allegiance to the Norwegian constitution at an extraordinary cabinet meeting at the palace this morning.

When Norway broke from Swedish rule in 1905 to become an independent nation, the young Danish prince was asked to ascend the throne of Norway.

He agreed, but only on condition the people accept him. In a pleb-

Crisis Again Descends On French

By ARTHUR L. HIGBEE
United Press Staff Correspondent
PARIS (UP)—Premier Maurice Bourges-Maunoury called France party chieftains back into session today in a desperate effort to avert the worst political crisis since the end of the war.

He met in the cream and gold Salon Blanc of the Hotel Matignon with 19 representatives of all political parties except the Communists and the right-wing Poujadists in another session aimed at averting disaster.

The deadlock was over his giving home rule to Algeria and over his measures to end runaway inflation. Failure, or even continuation of the political deadlock could bring down the government and perhaps end the postwar fourth republic.

iscite that November, he got 1 per cent of the votes.

When the military forces of Hitler's Germany invaded Norway April, 1940, King Haakon and his family were forced to flee.

Hitler sent his ambassador to see Haakon in person and ask him to return to Oslo as puppet king with the infamous Nazi Norwegian army Major Vidkun Quisling as prime minister.

26th Year Of Broadcasting 29th Year Of Broadcasting

By VERNON SCOTT
United Press Hollywood Writer
HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Jack Benny, he of the blue eyes and 26th year of broadcasting Sunday night when he returns to the video waves with his first show of the new season.
Unlike other firmly established stars, the famed tightwad makes no claims of a "revamped format" or "big surprises." He will continue spoofing the stungy dead-beat he invented on radio in 1932.
"I guess 25 years of continuous comedy shows makes me the dean of the funnymen," Jack alighed, drawing on a fresh cigar.

"And looking back through hundreds of shows, I can't come up with any formula for success. I can't even account for the fact that my show has stayed in TV's top 10 the past seven years when other shows folded."
The comedian, dressed in pajamas, slippers and bathrobe, lolled on his bed. It was noon and he'd just completed a script conference.
"Maybe it's because my writers have stayed with me. Sam Perrin and George Balzer have been writing for me for 16 years. Hal Goldman and Al Gordon, the 'new kids,' have been at it for eight years.

"Then again, my cast has played a large part in the longevity of the program," he grinned. "Don Wilson has been with me since the old 'Mjello' days — 25 years ago. Rochester has put in 21 years and Dennis Day is working on his 19th. The important thing is that I've used them all sparingly. Audiences haven't tired of them."

Questions About Catholicism Interesting To Non-Catholics

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP) — Judging from inquiries made at a new "Catholic information center" here the questions about the Roman Catholic faith that are most puzzling to non-Catholics are:
—The church's stand on birth control.
—The claim that the Catholic church is the "one true church."
—Praying to the Virgin Mary and to saints.
—Belief in the infallibility of the Pope.
—Telling Catholics what books they may read or what movies they may see.
Two priests — the Rev. James Kerins and James Coen — operate the information center located in downtown Washington.

Expounded Teaching
They have expounded Catholic teaching on the five points mentioned hundreds of times since they opened their unusual offices. The center is sponsored by the local Roman Catholic archdiocese. Kerins and Coen conduct each interview in a friendly, conversational manner. They have no "set answers" for frequently-asked questions. The answers given below should therefore be considered only as an outline of some major points they would make if you walked into the center to ask one of the "favorite five" questions.
Q—Why does the Catholic church condemn any "artificial" birth control technique?
A—Contraception violates the natural law put into human nature by God. It involves the satisfaction of a natural instinct in such a way that the clear natural aim and purpose of the function are frustrated. The obvious purpose of the conjugal act is the procreation of children. It is God's only way of continuing the human race. That conception of children may not in any individual case occur is due to nature itself, and therefore ultimately to God, the author of nature. What the church opposes is deliberate, artificial interference with nature. It does not teach this merely as a disciplinary law applied only to Catholics. Contraception is as seriously wrong in itself for the most primitive savage as it is for the most pious Catholic.

Q—Why do Catholics contend there is only "one true church" — the one headed by the Pope?
A—The New Testament records that Christ said to Peter, "upon this rock I will build my church." From the very beginning of the church's history, Peter clearly exercised authority as single head of the Christian church. And there is abundant testimony in the earliest centuries that the bishops of Rome who succeeded Peter were accepted as the authoritative heads of the church.
Q—Why do Catholics pray to the saints, and particularly to the Virgin Mary?
A—Catholics do not worship Mary or the saints, because worship belongs only to God. But they believe that Mary, the mother of Christ, and the Saints, who lived lives of virtue far beyond the goodness of other human beings, have influence with God. There is abundant historical testimony that prayers to Mary and to the saints have often been the means of obtaining from God special favors or even miracles.
Q—Do Catholics really believe that the Pope — a human being — is "infallible"?
A—The infallibility attributed to the Pope should not be confused with his holiness, or moral perfection. Nor does it mean that every time the Pope speaks, he is divinely safeguarded from error. The Pope can make a mistake. It is only in certain circumstances — when the Pope speaks to the whole church, as the successor of St. Peter, on a doctrine of faith and morals — that the Holy Spirit will prevent him from making any mistake.
Q—Why are Catholics forbidden to see certain movies, or to read certain books?
A—The wrong kind of books and movies can bring serious harm to souls because they induce people to commit sin and to violate God's law. Any parent with even a bit of common sense The church, in performing her job of eternal watchfulness for souls, properly warns her children against these very real dangers to their eternal welfare.

Sports Roundup

By CHARLES CULLIN Pampa News Sports Editor

HARVESTERS

The Pampa Harvesters overcame many of their opening game rough spots and proved their ability Friday night as they downed the fired-up Fort Worth team.

The Arlington Heights coach said after the game that if the Yellowjackets had played against Texas City like they did against the Harvesters, their 6-0 defeat would have been vastly different.

In addition to ranking as a top running-back and a strong defensive man, Don Bigham proved to be an adequate kicker, something the Harvesters needed badly in their tilt with El Paso. Don booted the ball five times for a total of 67 yards. In running he carried the ball 13 times for a total of 67 yards. His average gain per carry for the two Pampa games is 5.55.

Area Teams

TWO AREA TEAMS dropped from the ranks of the undefeated Friday night as Wheeler went down to Stinnett, and Lefors lost to the powerful White Deer Bucks. In defeating the Pirates, White Deer gained its third straight victory of the season and appears more than ever as the team to upset defending champion Stinnett. The Bucks have one of the largest teams in their district, averaging 170 pounds per man in both the backfield and line. Panhandle seems to have lost out as a contender for the 1-A crown, so it looks like the Bucks may be on their way.

Wheeler, as a Class "B" team, suffered little loss of prestige in their defeat. Many thought that if the Mustangs' quarterback, Harold Crossland, had not been injured the outcome of the game would have been different. The Raiders didn't score until after Crossland left the game. Under coach Louis Boynton, in his first year at Wheeler, the powerful Mustangs should move on with ease. Their only real threats may be either in Turkey or Matador.

JERRY DANIELS

As the Pampa Shockers downed the Dumas "B" team Thursday night 28-6, a new name came to the front in the grid scene. Halfback Jerry Daniels played the first school football game of his life and turned in an outstanding game. Daniels is a hard running, swivel-hipped back, and accounted for one of Pampa's touchdowns and one point-after score. He ran numerous gains of eight, ten and twelve yards during the evening, never slackening in his drive of hustle. With more experience and weight, this boy will become one of Pampa's outstanding athletes. Jerry is the son of J. C. Daniels of Pampa.

Red Raiders

EVEN IF TEXAS TECH's and Texas A&M's pre-season rankings were reversed, the chances are the Red Raiders would have difficulty taking the Aggies Saturday.

Highly-regarded Texas Tech teams have suffered setbacks at the hands of Texas A&M in the past, so there's little doubt that the Red Raiders, with only eight 1956 lettermen in uniform, will have their troubles against an Aggie team listed in all the major top tens.

AS FOR GOOD TECH teams that were toppled by mediocre A&M squads, the most recent example came in 1953. Tech's national scoring champions and eventual Gator Bowl winners suffered their only loss, 27-14, to the Aggies, who wound up with a 4-5-1 mark. Pistol Pete Huddleston was A&M's big gun.

But as early as 1932, when Pete Cawthon produced Tech's first national scoring champions, a team that compiled a 10-2 mark, an Aggie squad that won only three other games all year, blanketed Tech 7-0 in Amarillo by virtue of Frenchy Domingue's 37-yard run and short plunge.

A&M'S ONLY TRIUMPH in 1949 was by a score of 26-7 over Del Morgan's team that gained a 7-4 record and a bid to the Raisin Bowl.

In all, Tech has managed only three wins in 15 games with the Aggies in a series that started in 1927 with a 47-6 A&M win. These wins came as Morgan's teams beat A&M 6-0 in 1946 and 20-14 in 1948 at San Antonio, and as De Witt Weaver's 1954 team triumphed 41-9 at College Station over Bear Bryant's first Aggie squad.

College Grid Scores

Table of college grid scores including Texas vs Georgia 7, Houston vs Miami Fla. 0, TCU vs Kansas 13, etc.

JARRIN' JESS—Harvester halfback Jess Ingle (45) skirts end for an eight yard gain in Friday night's tilt with the Arlington Heights Yellowjackets. Pampa end Paul Brown (82) is pictured at right. Reds Dampen Card Hopes In 10-Inning, 9-8 Win

Defeat Drops St. Louis 5 Games Behind Braves

CINCINNATI, Sept. 21 (UP)—Roy McMillan's first home run of the year, a two-run two-out blow in the 10th inning, gave the Cincinnati Reds a 9-8 victory today over St. Louis, all but killing the Cards' pennant hopes.

The defeat dropped St. Louis five games behind Milwaukee, with only seven games to go. The "magic number" for Milwaukee was reduced to three — any combination of Milwaukee victories or Cardinal defeats which add to three.

The Cardinals fought bitterly all the way and had taken a one-run lead in the top of the 10th inning before McMillan's blow turned Herm Wehmeier from hero to victim. Wehmeier, the eighth Card pitcher, opened the 10th with a single, took second when Don Blasingame walked, and went to third on Al Dark's sacrifice. Bobby Smith was walked purposely and then Del Ennis scored Wehmeier with a long fly.

Right-hander Bob Buhl scattered eight hits in registering his 18th victory, his ninth in a row, while extending the Braves' winning streak to five games and reducing their pennant-clinching "magic number" to four.

At least one day today when Ted Williams hit the 15th grand slam home run of his career to help give the Boston Red Sox an 8-3 victory.

Williams clouted his homer during a six-run second inning uprising against Bob Turley. The Red Sox slugger's grand slam total is second only to the major league record of 23 hit by Lou Gehrig.

the field to a big statistical advantage. It was Milstead, the heralded sophomore from Tyler, Tex., who scored the final Texas A&M touchdown from two yards out. It came with 55 seconds on the clock after Maryland had scrapped back to trail by only one point at 14-13 with seven minutes left.

But, Milstead and Wright took turns helping guide the victors to a lop-sided 24-123 yard rushing margin and helped Osborne hit half of a dozen passes for 97 yards to only meager three yards the Terps gained on only one completion in seven attempts.

Game Ends With Pampa's Gridgers Near 2nd TD

Hard running halfbacks Don Bigham and Jess Ingle powered the Harvesters from behind in the second quarter to down the Arlington Hts. Yellowjackets, 7-6, Friday night in Harvester Park.

Operating on a mighty defense, the Harvesters humbled the larger team in every department, allowing the Fort Worth offensive machine to threaten seriously only one time during the game.

Both teams were held scoreless through the first period and eight minutes of the second. Fort Worth halfback Jim Sprinkle then broke the deadlock when he took a Pampa punt and galloped 54 yards to give the Jackets their short-lived lead. The extra point attempt went bad due to a high center. The Harvesters were fast to retaliate, however, as on the next series of play they moved the ball 60 yards to the Fort Worth four-yard mark.

Don Bigham then ploughed over right guard for the tying score. Bigham followed on the next play over the same guard position for the winning extra point.

PAMPA FALTERED once during its touchdown drive at the Fort Worth 20-yard line when they faced a fourth-down and six situation. It was then Jess Ingle who pulled the team through with a 20-yard romp around end to set up the needed score.

Defensive Battle The only serious threat from the Fort Worth team came early in the third period when they drove from their own 26-yard line to the Pampa ten. The Harvester defense tightened then and held the Yellowjackets to a scant five yards in four running plays.

It was a defensive battle all the way as neither team was able to penetrate the opposing 30-yard mark during the entire first period and halfway into the second. Pampa was unable to gain a first down until their scoring drive, which netted four from their own 30-yard line to the Fort Worth goal.

At the half Pampa led in first downs six to three and in yards rushing 93 to 75.

IN THE FOURTH quarter Pampa controlled the game but was unable to penetrate until the waning minutes when they drove from the 49-yard line to the Fort Worth three, where a fumble cost them possession of the ball. On the second play after, however, Jess Ingle intercepted a pass on the 30-yard line and raced back to the Yellowjacket 15, and on the next play ran ten yards to the five-yard mark. The game ended before another play could be run.

BOLSTERING THE STRONG Pampa defense was Don Bigham and Robert Langford. The main strength in the line was Dick Watkins, Gary Peterson, Bailey Clements and David Holt.

Pampa's hard driving backfield rolled for 218 yards rushing during the evening, with Langford, Ingle and Bigham sharing in the top gains. Bigham accounted for 67 yards in 13 carries, Langford had 60 yards, also packing the ball 13 times, and Jess Ingle gained 55 yards in eight carries. Quarterback Wilhelm packed the ball 27 yards in nine times plus gaining 29 yards with two completed passes.

For the Yellowjackets, it was a fullback Buddy Robinson who carried the bulk of the Fort Worth offense with 70 yards in 20 carries. Larry Leonard gained 47 yards in 12 tries and Jim Sprinkle raced 20 yards for five times with the ball.

Halfback David Terry had his leg broken in the third period of the game, but reports were that the break was not too serious, although he may be sidelined for the season.

THE HARVESTERS emerged considerably better in the punting department than they did in their first battle as Bigham kicked five times for a 41-yard average. Fort Worth also punted five times, having a 29-yard average.

Head Coach Jack Lockett stated after the game that he and all the coaches thought the boys played a good hard game, and that they were all proud of them. He added that the Arlington Hts. team also turned in a hard-fought game.

The Harvesters next tilt will be against Midland, Sept. 27 in Harvester Park at 8 p.m.

West Texas Buffs Trample Tech, 19-0

LUBBOCK, Tex., Sept. 21 (UP)—West Texas State spoiled Texas Tech's home opener for the first time in the 22-year history of the series, taking a 19-0 victory over the Red Raiders before 22,000 fans here tonight.

The Buffaloes outplayed a pair of Tech errors into third-quarter touchdowns and notched a third tally at the start of the fourth quarter to ice their sixth victory in the series.

The Raiders, threatened only once, reaching the one-yard line with one second to go. Before that, their deepest penetration was the Buffs' 46-yard line.

Halfback Bob Raffill scored the first touchdown, taking a 38-yard pass in the end zone from halfback Ronnie Mills in the third quarter. Fullback Bob Wheelchel crashed a yard for the second touchdown and end Tommy Coffey converted.

Coffey scored the final touchdown, taking a six-yard pass from Mills and running five yards for the score with 2:30 of the fourth quarter gone.

Tech's only threat came with seconds remaining. Quarterback Floyd Dellinger passed 34 yards to halfback Norman Blocker at the Buff six. A pass interference gave Tech a yard to go with one second left. A rush failed as time ran out, but the Buffs were off-side. Dellinger tried a sneak, but was stopped on the two-yard-line.

West Texas held an 18-0 edge in first downs and gained 271 yards rushing to 138. Tech led in the air with 73 yards to 65.

Score by quarters: West Texas State 0 0 13 6-19 Texas Tech 0 0 0 0-0 Scoring: West Texas State, Touchdowns—Raffill (38, pass from Mills), Wheelchel (1, run), Coffey (11, pass and run from Mills). Conversions: Coffey.

enough yardage while gambling on a fourth down situation. The Mustangs line, although outweighed by an average of 18 pounds per man, fought Cal's heavier troops to a standoff most of the day which was a disappointing one to many in the crowd of 45,000.

However, the Bears started off in the first period as if they had a cinch. One of Dunn's few errors came when he bobbled the ball while attempting a handoff to fullback Ray Masters and Art Forbes recovered on California's 49.

The Bears then drove consistently through the lighter Mustang line and Jack Hart put them ahead by scoring from two yards out. But Gary Weber, a 192-pound Mustang guard, slipped through to block quarterback Joe Kapp's attempted conversion.

BULLETIN (UP)—FORT WORTH, Sept. 21 (UP)—A last second 24-yard touchdown pass from Bob Marshall to John Letcavitt in a torrential rain tonight gave Kansas a 13-13 tie with favored Texas Christian University.

Baylor Bears Slip Past Villanova, 7-0

United Press Sports Writer By LESTER STROTHER WACO, Tex., Sept. 21 (UP)—The Baylor Bears, the 1957 Sugar Bowl champions, came alive in the third quarter tonight to recover a fumble and go 28 yards for the game's only score to turn back the Villanova Wildcats, 7-0, before 20,000 fans in Baylor Stadium.

It was a case of two well-drilled, husky lines fighting a great defensive battle the rest of the way.

Neither Doyle Traylor, Baylor's first string quarterback, nor Bill Magee, Villanova quarterback and the East's top passer last year, could get their teams on the move.

Second Stringer A second stringer, quarterback Louis Humphrey, a Kilgore, Tex., junior, had to come off the bench and call the signals that brought Baylor its third-quarter score.

Sooners Take Easy Win Over Pitt, 26-0

By JOHN CARROLL United Press Sports Writer PITTSBURGH, Sept. 21 (UP)—The devastating Oklahoma Sooners rolled to a surprisingly easy 26-0 rout over the stumbling Pittsburgh team today to serve notice they intend to keep their No. 1 national football ranking.

Coefficient Bud Wilkinson's wrecking crew, running its record winning streak through 41 games, struck for one touchdown in the second period and three more in the third.

Oklahoma's deceptive offense first paid off early in the second period when junior Jackie Sanderfer took a pitchout from quarterback Carl Dodd and passed 12 yards to end Joe Rector in the end zone to climax a 51-yard drive. Dodd converted.

Two Pitt fumbles set up a pair of Sooner touchdowns with less than four minutes gone in the second half. Oklahoma wound up the scoring with its fourth touchdown later in the third quarter.

Dennis Morris, Sooner fullback from Tulsa, dropped on quarterback Bill Kallden's fumble on the Pitt 19 and three plays later classy Clendon Thomas, the country's top scorer last year, knifed off-tackle 13 yards and a score. Thomas shook off three potential tacklers on his way. Dodd, first-string quarterback from Norman, kicked the second of his two conversions.

On the first scrimmage following the kickoff, Pitt halfback Dick Haley fumbled and Dodd recovered.

Villanova had the ball on its 26, when fullback Jack Devereaux fumbled and Baylor right half Arthur Beall recovered.

Humphrey sent left halfback Dick Clark through right tackle plied up two and Clark three, for a first down. Fullback Bill Dennis plunged over the middle for five, and again for three, to the 10.

Villanova was penalized five yards for holding. Clark covered two yards, to take the three, and then plunged for the touchdown. Humphrey held and Beall converted. That was the scoring.

Scoring Opportunity It looked as though Villanova would score after taking the opening kickoff. The Wildcats drove to the Baylor two yard line in 23 plays. But the Baylor line held, and Villanova fullback Dave Parr, a senior from Baltimore, fumbled and Traylor recovered for Baylor.

ered. In four plays Oklahoma had its third touchdown as Dodd fired a 17-yard strike to co-captain Don Stiller as 58,942 predominantly Pitt fans wailed.

Panthers Bewildered The two quick touchdowns apparently bewildered the left Panthers. Before their period ended, Oklahoma boosted the score to 26-0 when second string quarterback David Baker of Bartlesville, Okla., combined with halfback Dick Carpenter of Breckenridge, Tex., for a 31-yard scoring pass.

Wilkinson, who said earlier he was stressing defense this year, made good his promise. The Sooners displayed a solid defense to blend with their shock-troop offense that went four teams deep.

So powerful was the Oklahoma defense that Pitt crossed the mid-field stripe only twice and never penetrated beyond the 47-yard line.

The final outcome could have been much worse for Pitt because Oklahoma had two touchdowns called back by penalties and blew two other scoring chances.

The statistics favored the Sooners, 20 first downs to nine and 310 net yards to 87.

Score by periods: Pittsburgh 0 0 0 0-0 Oklahoma 0 7 19 0-26 Oklahoma scoring: Touchdowns—Thomas (12, pass from Sanderfer), Thomas (13, run), Stiller (17, pass from Dodd), Carpenter (31, pass from Baker). Conversions, Dodd 2.

TD PASS—Everybody tries to get into the act, as White Deer's A. J. Alford (33) gets set to haul in a 26-yard touchdown pass from the Buck's quarterback Courtney White. The play originated during the second quarter when the Buck's faced fourth down with 16 to go for a first. Lefors' Tex Nolan (25) makes a futile attempt to get a hand on the ball. The hard-running White Deer machine outplayed the Lefors Pirates for a 20-7 victory. (News Photo)

Mustangs Defeated, 12-0, By Top-Ranked Stinnett Rattlers

(Special to The News) STINETT, Sept. 21 — The Wheeler Mustangs dropped from the ranks of the undefeated Friday night as they fell to the powerful Stinnett Rattlers, 12-0. The Mustangs were injured through the loss of quarterback Harold Crossland in the third quarter, who left the game with an injured leg. Battling to an 0-0 deadlock until midway in the third, Stinnett's Robert McFarren raced 33 yards for the first score of the game. The second score came late in the fourth when it was McFarren again, blasting over from the Wheeler 15 to climax a 28-yard drive.

Crossland, who was not able to do extensive running after his return to the game in the final period. Roy Reger led Stinnett in ground gaining, along with McFarren. Stinnett led the Mustangs in first downs, 15-9, and in net yards rushing, 224 to 184. The Rattlers completed five of nine passes for 55 yards, while Wheeler connected with two out of seven for 27 yards. Class "B" Wheeler had previously defeated Canadian and McLean and have yet to meet a team in its own conference. The Mustangs are defending regional champs, and if anything, improved their standing in battling the top-ranked Rattlers to the slim 12 point margin. Coach Louis Boynton's charges meet Erick, Okla. there next Friday, and play their first district tilt at home Oct. 4 against Quitaque. Basilio Leaves Training Camp SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UP) — Well-known champion Carmen Basilio broke camp today and prepared to retrain for New York, where he fights Sugar Ray Robinson Monday night. His party, on a special railway car, will include his wife Kay; two of his brothers, Paul and Joe; co-managers Joe Netto and Johnny DeJohn, and trainer Angelo Dundee. They will take up quarters at an undisclosed hotel, to which they will bring their own drinking water and their own food, to be prepared by Kay. "I'd like to go to that Yankee ball game Sunday," said Carmen. "But I guess I shouldn't, so I'll stay around the hotel." He clowned through a brief session of warmup sparring with Lee Owens Friday in his final boxing drill, and said he was in peak physical condition at 151 pounds.

White Deer Rolls To 20-7 Victory Over Lefors Pirates

By JOEL R. COMBS Pampa News Managing Editor LEFORS — White Deer High School's football team scratched a place that had been itching for a long time Friday night. It beat the Lefors Pirates, 20-7. White Deer's win came exactly 13 years after the last previous win. There has been a tie or two mixed in, but no White Deer victories for 13 long years. And the Bucks did it high fashion, too, as their powerful ground attack outlasted and outdid a game, young Pirate crew. White Deer racked up 18 first downs in the game to Lefors' nine and controlled the ball throughout most of the game. It was a scoreless first quarter, with the Bucks controlling the offense for all but four downs (five, except for a 15 yard penalty which nullified a Pirate punt and consequent recovery of the ball when a Buck back fumbled). Two minutes deep into the second, however, the determined White Deer aggregation pulled in front when Halback Courtney White tossed an aerial to end A. J. Alford for the score from 26 yards out on a fourth down, 16 yards to go for a first, situation. The extra point try was short. After the Buck score, Lefors came back with determination and carried the ball back to White Deer's 35, racking up three first downs on the way, before having to give up the ball on downs. And then the Bucks scored again, setting up the 45 yards back to Lefors' goal in short order. Full-over from eight yards out. Classy tailback White picked up the extra back Alton Hill carried the pignkin point on a plunge and that wrapped it up for the first half. After the intermission, when both Lefors and White Deer bands entertained, the Pirates came back strong, taking the kickoff and marching down to score. Tommy Johnson, Buccaneer quarterback, toted the ball over from the three yard line after eating up most of the yardage on the way himself on keeper plays. James Wartner, halfback, scored the extra point. The score at the end of the third quarter was 13-7, White Deer. In the fourth, the Bucks chalked up their final tally for the evening, with Hill scoring on a plunge from two yards out after a sustained march. White again added the point after. The Bucks tried six passes in the game, completing one, while Lefors got off four aeriels, also connecting on one. Both teams got an interception with quarterback Don Essary latching on to one for the Bucks and halfback Tex Nolan getting the Lefors intercept. Lefors fumbled twice, losing once. The Bucks didn't miscue. Both teams were penalized a total of 30 yards. A. J. Alford, end, Courtney White, tailback, and Don Essary, quarterback, were game captains for White Deer and Billy Fulton, fullback, and Jimmy Gotcher, guard, captained Lefors for the game.

Bronchos Edge Past Shamrock In First Victory Of Season

(Special to The News) CLARENDON, Sept. 21 — The Clarendon Bronchos gained their first victory of the season Friday night as they edged the Irish of Shamrock, 14-7. The Irish began the scoring early in the initial period when Donnie Dodgen plowed over center three yards for the touchdown. Wilburn Tyler ran over for the extra point. The Bronco attack started rolling late in the same period when Johnny Morrow raced 55 yards for the first Clarendon TD. Carl Evans booted for the extra point. In the second period, Clarendon again went on the move and Richard Vallance romped 21 yards around left end for the score. Again it was Evans who converted for the point after. Shamrock is still looking for its first win of the season, having previously dropped to McLean and Lefors. The Irish, however, are in a building process with a young and inexperienced team, and have yet to play their first district tilt.

Panhandle, McLean Battle To 13-13 Tie

(Special to The News) PANHANDLE, Sept. 21 — The Panthers of Panhandle battled the McLean Tigers to a 13-13 tie Friday night as their defensive wall strengthened in the final minutes of the game to stop a strong Tiger threat. Jerry Biggers of McLean scored the first touchdown of the evening when he powered over from the Panhandle two-yard line. The extra point attempt failed. The Panthers returned in the second period when Ted Addington raced over for the first Panhandle tally. In the waning moments of the first half, McLean came back when Jim Rice rolled over the second score, with David Woods adding the point after. The Panthers gained their second in the final quarter when Jimmy Rogers connected with an aerial to Monty Bell from the Tiger 19. As the game neared an end, McLean's David Crockett romped 53 yards to the Panhandle four yard line, but the Tigers were held from pushing over for the needed tally. McLean led in yards gained with 225 to 182 for Panhandle.

Rockefeller Stuck Out

NEW YORK (UP) — Nelson A. Rockefeller, a giant in the business world, apparently has struck out in his pinch-hit role to keep the Dodgers in Brooklyn. The multi-millionaire philanthropist has increased the sum he would be willing to invest to buy the land for a new Dodger ball park from two million to three million dollars. But Walter F. O'Malley, president of the Brooklyn club, isn't interested. Rockefeller's newest proposal was revealed by Mayor Robert Wagner Friday during a last-ditch meeting at City Hall. O'Malley attended the session but left about one hour before it adjourned, brushing off all questions by reporters.

Perryton's Rangers Fall To Canyon Eagles In 20-7 Tilt

(Special To The News) PERRYTON — The Perryton Rangers held the Canyon Eagles under rein for three full quarters, but lost out in the waning minutes of the game, 20-7, Friday night in Ranger Field. Sparked by quarterback Harold Shiftlett and end Howard Swink, the Rangers scored in the second quarter and penetrated to the Canyon one-yard line once and within the ten twice during the game but were unable to push over the needed TDs.

Canyon opened the scoring with six minutes remaining in the first quarter when Leonard Miller plunged over right tackle from the five yard line. Quarterback A. L. Pruitt ran over for the extra point.

After two exchanges of the ball, the Rangers capitalized on a Canyon fumble on the 30 yard line and an aerial from Shiftlett to Swink brought the Rangers into the game. Swink booted for the extra point to end the half, 7-7.

In the third quarter, Pruitt connected with Miller to cap a 55 yard drive and push the Eagles in front, 13-7. In the fourth quarter, Canyon became the opportunist as they recovered a Ranger fumble and Miller went over from the four for the final TD. Eddie Boydston plunged for the extra point.

Canyon led in first downs, 13-10, but dropped behind in the aerial battle with 29 yards gained to 39 for the Rangers. Perryton punted four times for an average of 34 yards, and Canyon booted 3 times for a 36-yard average.

The Rangers won their first tilt over Canyon, 6-0 last Friday night, and will meet Clarendon at home, Sept. 26.

Bribery Offer To Sugar Ray Will Be Checked

NEW YORK (UP) — The New York State Athletic Commission will investigate Sugar Ray Robinson's bribery - offer charges at a public hearing, but not before Robinson defends his middleweight crown against Carmen Basilio at Yankee Stadium, Monday night.

Chairman Julius Helfand announced that a commission meeting on Monday morning will set the date for the hearing, at which "Robinson will be called as a witness to testify under oath."

At a press conference Friday, 37-year-old Robinson said he could have become a very rich man if he were dishonest.

He said, "I've been offered hundreds of thousands of dollars by hoodlums to throw fights when I was favored at 4-1, 5-1 and 6-1. But you know I was always too honest and too egotistical to lose."

Why hadn't he reported those offers to the boxing commission, as the law requires?

He said he didn't because it might have involved a man "who is now very prominent in boxing," and because he didn't want to "create a spectacle," and because "I'm not looking for trouble."

Britton scored three of the four touchdowns for Groom, while Willard Smith accounted for the final. Gruver pushed over one score in the first period and its final two in the fourth.

John Hart began the scoring and gave Gruver the first lead in the game as he went over from the three yard line midway in the initial quarter. Groom retaliated fast, however, as Britton plowed over from the five, followed with the extra point booted by Leon Anglin.

Again in the second quarter it was Britton who went over from the five to end the first half, 13-6.

In the third period Britton raced 35 yards for the third Groom TD and Willard Smith plunged nine yards a few minutes later for the final. Anglin kicked both at the final extra points.

Coming alive in the last quarter, Richie Fletcher powered over from the one for the second Gruver score, and in the waning minutes, John Hart went into the end zone from the one.

Groom opens its district in two weeks against Claude there, having an open date next Friday. The Tigers dropped their first game, 27-7 to White Deer, and tied Sunday, 6-6 last week.

Ageless Archie Keeps Rollin'

By HAL WOOD United Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Like Old Man River, Archie Moore, aged 40—something, just keeps rollin' along.

In fact, he was talking about a "comeback" in the heavyweight division today after giving the audacious young challenger, Tony Anthony, a terrible shellacking Friday night and finally scoring a technical knockout in the 7th round.

"But that was one of my better fights last night," he said. "I'm in real fine condition. Maybe before I try the heavyweights we might give that young fellow from Canada, Yvon Durelle, a shot at my title. After all, he fought a draw with Anthony and deserves it."

Crowd Of 7,500 Archie was hardly puffing after he completed his chore against the 22-year-old Anthony before a slim house of about 7,500, who paid $60,000.

However, millions more watched the bout on television. It was a fairly close battle for five rounds while Moore set up a "previously devised" plan of battle. Then the roof caved in. That came in the sixth round. The pace apparently had started to slow up when the fury of Archie's potent fists broke loose.

He battered the bewildered young foe around the ring from one side to the other. But the superbly conditioned challenger wouldn't go down.

Saved By Bell Late in the sixth round, Archie stepped back waiting for Tony to fall. But when Anthony stood up, Archie reached out with a light tap to the chin and the boy toppled backwards. He was saved by the bell after the count reached five.

The seventh was the beginning of the end, Archie Moore, with the spring of youth in his legs, and the attitude of an angry bull, tore after his weakened foe. He finally knocked him to the canvas with a flurry of blows.

Referee Mushy Callahan then stepped in to mercifully stop the slaughter at 2:49 of the round.

The landowner remains the key person to be considered in developing improved hunting for more people in Texas. Profit motives, such as occur under the shooting preserve system, have been successful in encouraging him to protect and improve the wildlife supply on his property. No longer does he feel obligated to supply hunting to his friends, neighbors and city visitors without compensation.

The enjoyment of the out-of-doors through hunting is a prized American heritage. Nearly a million Texas citizens go hunting each year. To most of them it is a principle of outdoor recreation, to perpetuate this privilege is to keep a large segment of people

Pampa Boys On NT Squad

DENTON — Two Pampa grid-ders, John Darby and J. N. Wright, are among 40 varsity players now working out for North Texas State's first year of Missouri Valley Conference football competition

Cosch Odus Mitchell's Eagles open a tough ten-game schedule against Texas Western College in El Paso Sept. 21. The defending Border Conference champion, Texas Western won nine games in 1956 and lost only to North Texas.

The Eagles will open their home season and their Missouri Valley slate against Oklahoma State University in Denton Sept. 28. Other opponents will be Drake University, Abilene Christian, University of Tulsa, San Jose (Calif.) State, Trinity University, University of Chattanooga, Youngstown University, and McMurry College.

Darby played halfback for Pampa High School before graduation in 1954. He was a late-season starter with the 1956 Eagle team which compiled a 7-2-1 record. He also earned a letter on the NTSC track team. The 160-pound halfback is

Mobeetie Hornets Power Past Channing By 66-6 Margin

Coach Paul Kitchens' Mobeetie Hornets powered to a heavy 66-6 victory over Channing Friday night in their first conference tilt of the season.

The Hornets racked 14 points in the first quarter, 20 the second, and the remaining 22 in the final half as they established themselves as one of the top powers in the six-man conference.

Paced by Ferrill Baird and Paul Hathaway, who romped for three TDs each, the Hornets had little trouble in gaining the win.

Channing gained their lone score when they capitalized on a Hornet fumble to seize the ball and race 40 yards for the score.

Scoring for Mobeetie were Bill Graham, halfback, with two touch-downs; Lewayne Hogan, quarterback, one touchdown and six extra points; Archie Scribner, end, one TD; and Baird and Hathaway with three scores each.

This was the Hornets' first conference game of the season, and they journey to Miami next Friday night for their second.

Head Coach Paul Kitchens is in his first year at Mobeetie.

RANGERS FILL ROSTER PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UP)—The New York Rangers signed Hank Ciesla, Gerry Foley, Guy Gendron, Jack Evans and Larry Cahen Friday, completing their roster for the 1957-58 National Hockey League season. In an intra-squad game, Camille Henry scored twice to lead the "Blues" to a 2-2 tie with the "Whites."

son of Mrs. Gladys B. Darby of 909 Fisher St. A frequent starter on last year's conference co-champs, Wright completed 20 of 44 passes for three touchdowns. He has earned two letters at the Eagle quarterback post. Wright is married to the former Marcheta Hall of Pampa.

Michiko Hamamura Makes Her American TV Debut

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP) — Michiko Hamamura, a Japanese chick who looks like Audrey Hepburn and sings like Harry Belafonte, made her American TV debut Wednesday.

Miss Hamamura, who is 19 and has fawn-like eyes, pitted on to Patti Page's "Big Record" show a one-hour rumbly devoted to all types of music. Miss Hamamura's contribution was kind of all-types by itself — she sang West Indies work chant, "Banana Boat Song," in Japanese-type English.

It marked a first for American television.
Doesn't Speak English
"She doesn't understand a word of English," explained her interpreter, Dr. Osamu Mabuchi, who works for a firm connected with RCA Victor in Japan. Miss Hamamura nodded and smiled enthusiastically.
"She learns calypso by listening to Harry Belafonte records. Her interpretations sound very much like his, but she outdoes him in Japan," continued Dr. Mabuchi. "She listens to a Belafonte record once—that's all she needs to learn the words. She can learn any song just by hearing it."
Miss Hamamura (Americans in Japan dubbed her Audrey-San because of her resemblance to Audrey-San Hepburn) sold 100,000 copies of "Banana Boat Song" in Japan, a feat roughly comparable to running a four-minute mile in shower clogs.

Miss Hamamura, who was dressed in a tight-type brown dress, a striped sash and sandals, rolled her extraordinary eyes and muttered a few words.

"She says she was born in Osaka—Japan's second largest city," said Dr. Mabuchi. "She says she has one younger brother and her father has an iron works in Osaka. She says she has been singing since she was 15. She is very popular in TV and radio in Japan."

"She says she likes America and she likes Patti Page very much. She likes her hotel room which has American television. She doesn't like American food. Except lobster. She says in Japan the old type music is dying out. She has her own TV show in Japan."

Has American Favorites
Miss Hamamura smiled again. "Ed Sullivan," she said. "She likes Ed Sullivan," said Dr. Mabuchi. "Nat Caw," said Miss Hamamura. "She likes Nat Cole," said Dr. Mabuchi. "Erna Fitzgerald," said Miss Hamamura.

'FUNNY FACE'

In a scene from the musical "Funny Face," Audrey Hepburn and Kay Thompson deliver a lesson on how to be lovely in song and dance while Fred Astaire salutes their obvious qualifications. The Paris-filmed picture is Audrey's song-and-dance bow. It is in Vista-Vision and Technicolor. The movie starts today and shows through Tuesday at the LaNora Theater.

On April 23, 1929, three members of the Amarillo Business and Professional Women's Club met with 16 prominent business and professional women in Pampa for the purpose of organizing a Pampa B & PW Club. Mrs. Lillian Jordan was elected temporary chairman, and the organization was completed at a dinner meeting April 29, 1929. Thirty-six charter members were enrolled. Mrs. Jordan and Mrs. Vera Lard are the only active charter members at the present time.

The purpose of the Business and Professional Women's Club is to bring about a spirit of cooperation among business and professional women in all causes tending toward the up-building of the city, to good citizenship, civic pride, and in the support of public welfare. The object is to promote the interests of business and professional women. The motto is "Better Business Women For A Better Business World." The club is non-political, non-sectarian, self-governing, and self-supporting. Only women who are actively engaged in business or the professions shall be accepted as members. Although members retiring from business may continue their membership, if they desire. In the early years, many special entertainments were held that have become annual events; such as, Mother's Day Breakfast, Christmas Party, Fall Round-Up, and the annual observance of National Business Women's Week, with special emphasis on some observance each day of the week.

Following the purpose for which it was organized, this club has cooperated with the Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development in many special projects.

One of the more recent projects of this club is the three year nurses' scholarship given to a senior girl graduate. Miss Wanita Anderson who was awarded the 1957 scholarship, is now attending Northwest Texas Hospital School of Nursing in Amarillo.

The club has a full year scheduled for 1957-58 with a membership of 78 business and professional women.

MRS. JERRY E. LUNSFORD

Miss Lois Schneider, Jerry Lunsford Repeat Vows In September Ceremony

Miss Lois Schneider, in an early September ceremony, became the bride of Jerry E. Lunsford. The double-ring vows were repeated before Dr. E. Douglas Cerver in the First Baptist Church on Sept. 6 at seven o'clock before an altar banked with baskets of white gladioli and candelabra.

Miss Schneider is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward O. Schneider, 601 E. Kingsmill. The bridegroom's parents are Mrs. Helen Lunsford, 417 Peager, and the late L. G. Lunsford.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina-length dress of white Chantilly lace fashioned with a low scalloped neckline edged with pearls and three-quarter-length sleeves; the fitted bodice eased into a bouffant skirt. The bride's bonnet was of white grosgrain pleated ribbon attached to a shoulder-length veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of white roses tied with streamers of aqua and white satin ribbon arranged atop a white bridal Bible, a gift of the bridegroom.

Wedding attendants for the bride were Miss Dolores Dickinson of Tucumcari, N.M., maid of honor, and Miss Jo Ann Miller, bridesmaid. They wore identical dresses of aqua crystalline styled with bouffant skirts and draped necklines, which formed cap sleeves over the shoulders. They carried nosegays of white carnations.

Neil L. Jolly, Lubbock, served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Edwin K. Schneider, brother of the bride, Jim Lunsford, brother of the bridegroom, and Jim Keel was groomsmen.

The bride carried out the traditions of something old, an old dollar bill; something blue, a garter; and a lace handkerchief borrowed from her mother.

Miss Eloise Lane played traditional wedding marches and was accompanied for Miss JoAnn Jones as she sang, "O Promise Me."

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Scheider wore a slate blue Arnel faille dress with matching hat and white gloves. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Lunsford, chose a gray-blue cotton and dacron dress with black accessories. The mothers' corsages were of white carnations.

Guests were received, following the exchange of vows, in the lower dining room of the church. Miss Barbara Lunsford, sister of the bridegroom, played piano selections during the reception. Mrs. Jerry Lane sister of the bride, presided at the guest registrar.

Friends who assisted with the serving at the reception were Mmes. Frank Gargile, D. S. Miller, Bob Rial, Marion Roberts, James Culpepper, Jack Clark, Don Pumpfrey, Mrs. Sue Scherer, and Mary Kennedy.

For a brief wedding trip, the bride travelled in a cotton and silk striped sheath dress with black accessories, and she wore the white roses corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Lunsford was graduated in 1957 from Pampa High School, where she performed as twirler for the band for three years and is presently employed as bookkeeper for the Motor Inn Auto Supply Co. Mr. Lunsford was graduated from Pampa High School in 1953; was in the Marine Corps for three years. He is attending classes at Frank Phillips College, Borger, while employed for Cabot Carbon Co.

They will make their home at 1113 Terrace.

Miss Smith Feted At Birthday Party

Miss Gail Lee Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvis V. Smith, 1008 Huff Rd., was honored with a party on her seventh birthday recently.

Games were played and favors were nut-cups filled with pink and white mints. Balloons imprinted with "Happy Birthday" were also given to each guest.

Cake, ice cream and Kool Aid were served.

Guests were Donna Smith, Linda

Scarborough, Linda Sue Johnson, Angela Roush, John Hardy King, and Mrs. John-A. King.

As outdoor playtime loses to shortening days, it is time to consider storing things. The person who scrapes and washes his barbecue pit or grills now will have less work to do next summer.

St. Paul Methodist 'Day Apart' Rites

The St. Paul Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service met in the Fellowship Hall of the church on Wednesday morning.

Special music provided by Mrs. Bill Sargent and Mrs. Joe Autry, who sang, "I Know Not What The Future Hath," accompanied by Mrs. W. O. Kiser at the piano, opened the meeting.

Devotional, "Living In Expectancy" was presented by Mrs. Charles Norton, who stated that living in expectancy and hope was part of our Christian heritage. Silent meditation and prayer followed.

Business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Joe Autry, president, as the minutes were read and approved and the treasurer's report was given. Ms. Autry announced that cars would leave the church at 9:30 a.m. on Sept. 24 for the "Day Apart" services to be held in Phillips.

Further plans were discussed for the bazaar to be held Dec. 5. Mrs. R. A. Newton was welcomed as a new member.

Meeting was adjourned with prayer by Mrs. Kit Autry.

During the social hour, a surprise birthday shower was given Mrs. Burgin Watkins.

Hostesses for the Wednesday morning meeting were Mmes. Joe Autry, W. O. Kiser, and Bill Matejowsky.

The next meeting for the group will be Oct. 2 at 10 a.m. in the Fellowship Hall.

Members attending were Mmes. R. A. Newton, Paul Stewart, W. O. Kiser, Charles Norton, Joe Autry, Kit Autry, E. S. Scholl, Bill Matejowsky, W. F. Gaines, A. N. Rogers, S. T. Holding, Jack Miller, Burgin Watkins, Bill Sargent, Sam Steadman, and Audra Cary.

Presidents' Coffee Planned Tuesday

Twentieth Century Clubs' Presidents' Coffee will be an event on Tuesday's social calendar, beginning at 9:30 a.m., in the Lovett Memorial Library.

Presidents, who will be honored at the affair, will be Mrs. Jack P. Foster, Twentieth Century Club; Henry Rose, Twentieth Century Forum; J. W. Edminster, Twentieth Century Culture; H. C. Grady, Twentieth Century Allegro; and Lee Moore Jr., Twentieth Century Cottillon.

Wes Izard of Amarillo will be the guest speaker on the topic of his European travels. Mmes. Izard, Lillian Snow, and Doris Wilson have been invited as special guests of the club.

Mrs. H. H. Hahn will be toastmaster and Mrs. J. R. Strobbe is to give the invocation.

Twentieth Century Culture Club will act as the hostess club with the following members in charge of preparations: Mmes. Rufe Jordan, program; L. J. Zachry, decoration; Michael Wilson, menu; E. L. Henderson, invitations; Doyle Osborne, general chairman.

Woodrow Wilson Parent-Teachers Unit Hears School Health Program Outlined

The Woodrow Wilson PTA met in the school auditorium Thursday afternoon at 2 p.m. with Mrs. Weldon Trice, president, presiding.

H. A. Yoder, principal, introduced the twenty-one teachers of the school. Woodrow Wilson has four new teachers this year, it was announced.

Mrs. Owen Johnson gave the devotional.

Joe Whitten sang "Gold Mine In The Sky" and "You Never Walk Alone," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Calvin Whatley. Mr. Whitten then asked the group to join him in the songs, "Battle Hymn of The Republic," "Dixie," and "Home On The Range."

Mrs. W. L. Veal, school nurse, outlined the school health program, consisting of visual, hearing, and oral checks, tuberculosis patch tests and trying to prevent the spread of disease.

During the business session,

Mrs. S. M. Goodlett Jr., program chairman, gave the program outline for the year, which was approved and accepted.

Mrs. K. L. Green, city council representative, reported on the election of Mrs. Buster Eublett to the office of City Council president and on the Youth Development Workshop to be held in Stinnett on Oct. 2.

Mrs. E. E. Henderson, membership chairman, reported a membership of 222 to date. She also announced that Miss Oleta Martin's first grade room won first in the room count. Mrs. W. A. Rankin's third grade room won second and Miss Pearl Sapugh's first grade room won third.

Mrs. C. O. Pryor was elected historian to replace Mrs. Ross Buzzard, who has moved to another school district.

The next meeting for the group will be held in the school auditorium at 2 p.m. on Oct. 10.

Pampa Art Club Has Luncheon

The Pampa Art Club met with Mrs. Ervin Pursley, 1801 Christine at 1 p.m. on Tuesday for a salad luncheon.

A short business meeting was conducted, during which year books were given to members and plans were made for the new club year.

Members present were Mmes. O. W. Appleby, Roy Chisum, J. T. Cornutt, A. C. Cox, Loyal Davies, H. L. Gregory, Fred Hart, W. L. Heske, A. C. Houchin, Loretta Killingsworth, James McCune, W. Purviance, C. G. Shirley, R. H. Nestiel, J. R. Spearman, and two guests, Mmes. John Parker and Ralph Chisum.

And I'm sure they all must share the same secret of successful living in the later years of life. They all must know that as the years go by it takes a little extra courage and a little extra effort to meet each day's challenges.

The recent marriage of Miss Gloria June Tackett to Bob Dwane Marlar is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Tackett, 932 S. Wells. Mr. Marlar is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Marlar, 708 N. Wells.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Judge Burk Rawlins in Carlisbad, N.M. Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Smith, Pampa, were the couple's attendants.

The bride was graduated from Pampa High School in 1956 and is employed by the Bell Telephone Co. The bridegroom was graduated from Pampa High School in 1955; attended Texas Tech for two years; and is now employed by Windsor Weij Servicing Co.

Mrs. Marlar was honored recently with a bridal shower given by the women of the Hobart Street Baptist Church and also one given by the employees of the Bell Telephone Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Marlar are now at home to friends at 413 N. Hill.

Special Services Conducted During Week Of Prayer

(Special to The News) LEFORS — The Women's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church climaxed their week of prayer program with a coffee Friday morning in the home of Mrs. J. D. Halley with eleven members present.

Mrs. W. W. Cody, prayer chairman, led the Mary Hill Davis Week of Prayer study on the theme, "In Our Vineyard," with the following topics studied on the different days of the week: Latin American Scholarship, City Mission and Rural extension, Southwestern Seminary Scholarship, Latin American Church Loan, and Budget of Woman's Missionary Union.

Mrs. Charles Earhart was hostess to the group on Tuesday with twelve members present.

The group presented a special program at the prayer meeting services in the church on Wednesday evening. The devotional was given by Mrs. Earhart. A trio consisting of Misses Margie Nichols, Pat Berry, and Paula Cumberland accompanied by Miss Amy Earhart at the piano presented special music. On the program also were Misses Becky Burreas, Geneva Hill, Barbara Cody and Mrs. Kathrine Nichols.

For the prayer service on Thursday evening, the group met in the home of Mrs. Luther Berry with thirteen members present.

Members attending at least one meeting during the week were

Meckler-Matthews Vows Announced

The marriage of Miss Carolyn Roberta Meckler to Gerald Louis Matthews was performed by the Rev. James J. Conroy in St. John's Church on Sept. 14 at 2:30 in the afternoon, in Deer Park, Ohio.

Miss Meckler is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Meckler of Deer Park, Ohio.

The bridegroom's mother is Mrs. J. P. Matthews, formerly of 111 S. Starkweather.

The bride wore a dress of white taffeta, trimmed with a lace yoke and tapered sleeves of lace. The bouffant skirt was trimmed with a six-inch row of lace. Her Juliet cap, studded with sequins and pearls, secured the shoulder-length veil, which was edged in lace to match the dress. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Mrs. Lorraine Ferone, bride's sister, served as matron of honor wearing a gold silk dress with clear plastic accessories and a small turquoise feathered hat. Her corsage was of white carnations trimmed with gold.

Best man was Daniel Ferone, the bride's brother-in-law.

The bride's mother wore a toast-colored linen sheath dress with brown accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations trimmed in pink.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. J. P. Matthews, formerly of Pampa is now residing in California. His family was represented by his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stewart. Mrs. Stewart wore a sheath dress of fall tones of brown, beige and gold. Her corsage was of carnations trimmed in pink.

After a honeymoon trip to Penrynville Forest State Park, Mr. and Mrs. Matthews will reside at 3832 Woodford Road in Silverton, Ohio.

PORK TENDERLOIN AND CARROTS
The meat is delicious in flavor, it has no bone — every bit is edible — and it is easily prepared for four or forty.
Pork tenderloin is usually thought of as a deluxe party food, for the meat is the most tender of all pork cuts, it is small, and it is often priced higher per pound than other pork cuts. Accounting for its high price is the fact that the meat is delicious in flavor, it has no bone — every bit is edible — and it is easily prepared for four or forty.
An unusual cooking ingredient for pork tenderloin is carrot, yet the earthy vegetable gives a delightful flavor to the sweet meat.

Miss Ingram, Richard Spiers' Vows Solemnized In First Methodist Church

The chapel of the First Methodist Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Connie Ingram and Richard Dee Spiers on Sept. 7 at two o'clock with the Rev. W. W. Adcock performing the double-ring service before an altar banked with greenery and flanked with cathedral candelabra holding white tapers.

Miss Ingram is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ingram, 2128 N. Sumner. Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Spiers, Kermit, are the parents of the bridegroom.

Wesley Bruce, at the organ, provided traditional wedding music. Vocalist was Mrs. Bobby Spiers, who sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's father gave her in marriage. She wore a pale aqua slipper satin gown with low rounded neckline and short fitted sleeves. The bodice featured an empire waistline with a full circular skirt. A close fitted, white feathered hat secured her elbow-length Veil of Illusion. She wore opera-length gloves and carried a dozen white roses arranged with a shower of white satin ribbon tied in lover's knots atop a white prayer book. Her only jewelry was a single strand of crystals.

Miss Betty Lytle, cousin of the bride, of Andrews, served as maid of honor, wearing a winter-white tulip sheath with a black lace picture hat and opera-length pink gloves and pink vinyl slippers. Her corsage was of white split carnations.

Bob Spiers, brother of the bridegroom served as best man. Wedding ushers were Ritchie and Jimmie Gardner.

An antique gold-colored silk suit was chosen by the bride's mother Mrs. Ingram. With which she wore a white feather picture hat, amber shoes and white accessories. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Spiers, wore a beige lace dress with brown accessories. Their corsages were of white split carnations.

A reception was held in the parlors of the church immediately following the exchange of vows. An orchid aster centerpiece flanked with white tapers in brass candlesticks formed the centerpiece for the serving table. A white and orchid cake was served by Mrs. Jack Hankla. Miss Janna Harvey presided at the punch bowl. Miss Judy Ellis was guest registrar.

For a wedding trip to Raton, N. M., the bride wore a navy silk sheath with black and white accessories and the white roses corsage from her wedding bouquet.

Mrs. Spiers is a graduate of Pampa High School this past spring and will be employed in Lubbock. Mr. Spiers will be a senior student at Texas Tech this year, where he is studying business management and is a member of the Double T Club. He graduated from Kermit High School in 1954. They will make their home at 1611-Sixth, Apt. 2, Lubbock.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. W. R. Thorpe Sr., Kermit, maternal grandmother of the bride; Miss Betty Lytle, Andrews, cousin of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Spiers, Kermit, parents of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Spiers, Odessa, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

Frankfurters are a ready-cooked meat. If planning to heat them, however, there are a number of ways — simmering, broiling and roasting. When the franks are stuffed they are usually broiled or roasted.

RUTH MILLETT

In the book "Utopia 1976," in which Morris L. Ernest attempts to predict what life will be like in that year, he says the husband of the future will share more in homemaking chores.

I don't know how his other prediction will turn out, but I suspect that with this one he has hit the nail on the head.

Among teen-agers, it is plain to see that the male is being tamed at an early age, not by "mom" but by his steady girl friend.

From 14 on, the boy who dates knows exactly what is expected of him. He conforms to the pattern without any sign of rebellion.

If he likes a girl, the only way he can be sure of getting dates with her is to ask her to go steady. So he settled down to one girl at a time.

Once he is going steady, he meekly observes all the rules that govern going steady among his own crowd.

That probably means that he telephones his girl either once or twice a day at a set time. He takes her out a certain number of evenings a week.

He writes her every day if he is out of town. He remembers all special occasions with a gift. He gives her some symbol to wear that announces to the teen-age world that he belongs to her.

Boys who can be that domesticated at 14 aren't likely to balk much a few years later at whatever kind of marriage pattern their wives set up.

If they are expected to spend their free hours mopping floors, looking after children etc., I can't see them suddenly rebelling on the grounds that they are men and homemaking is a woman's job.

No, I think they'll ease into the role of partner in housekeeping without a struggle. They may even think it's Utopia!

Mrs. West Gives Topic For Guild

St. Margaret's Guild of the Episcopal Church convened Thursday evening at eight in the Parish Hall.

Mrs. William E. West presented the program on the missionary work of the Episcopal Church among the Dakota Indians.

Members present were Meses. James O. Harris, Bruce W. Scott, Charles Bruce, Brock W. Scott, Bill Ragsdale, Paul Hinton, R. O. Mitchell, J. R. Reeve, Jack D. Cooper, William J. Felter, C. R. Howard, H. R. Ziller, S. K. Moot, William E. West, George H. Roraback.

Miss Kathy West was a visitor. Cookies and coffee were served during the social hour by Mrs. Charles Bruce assisted by Mrs. Ross Shaw.

The next meeting for the group will be Oct. 3 at 8 p.m. in the Episcopal Parish Hall.

MORE SPACE FOR LIVING

Are you enjoying all the comfortable living that is possible in the space you have? If not, you can decorate to get more space without going to the expense of adding on any more rooms, or pulling down any walls.

Start with a plan . . . a plan that helps you get the most from every inch of available space. Make one room perform the duties of two—or even three. Choose furniture that is scaled to your room-size and that can serve more than just one purpose. Sleep sofas and fold-back buffet tables, for instance. Experiment with furniture arrangements until you find the arrangement that makes the best use of your wall and floor space, that gives the room a feeling of openness and spaciousness. Choose wall colors that will give the effect of opening up the walls—pale, cool, receding colors are best for this purpose.

In the living room sketched above, additional wall space has been improvised to provide a roomy corner for sectional sofa, table and lamp.

Ordinary close poles (1 1/2 inch in diameter) add interest to an old-fashioned archway, form an interesting room divider, and provide needed wall space for the corner grouping. Woodwork and poles were painted to match the walls for an unbroken color effect.

Peg O' Pampa

WHEN WE WAKE UP in the morning, it will be the first day of autumn . . . sometime, while we are sleeping to-night, the equinox will do something to the equator . . . Peg wasn't paying too much attention in school the day this technicality was discussed . . . but, anyway, tomorrow it will be officially fall . . . and a whole new season of exciting activities will be opening up . . . Peg has heard that the 4H clubs are already planning a Halloween Party . . . and for some time Altrusa Club members have had Christmas cards for sale . . . Aleith Curry is working on a clever idea for Christmas wreaths . . . that Peg does hope she will pass along to her friends . . . when you stop to think about it . . . it really isn't too early to begin planning for a well-organized Christmas . . . but who ever has one? . . . that last-minute "busy-ness" is part of the fun of it all . . . but here, late in September, Peg is planning on having everything done by December 1st . . . and then plans to sit back and watch the "hassle" . . . wanna bet?

A LOT OF FAMILIAR faces are missing in the teen-age crowd . . . and doesn't the college gang leave a vacancy . . . when they exodus back to their schools? . . . Saw cute Rhona Finkelstein back in town briefly this past week from the OU campus . . . where she has pledged the Alpha Epsilon Phi sorority . . . and down at Texas Tech, Dorothy Ayers has been pinned by Alpha Phi . . . Eueleen Moore will be a Delta Gamma, after pledge activities . . . Friends of Jessie and George Newberry are lamenting the news that they will be making their home in Fort Worth soon . . . Wonder if Louise Fletcher bought that beautiful red jersey dress that she was trying on in a local shop recently . . . would be very becoming with her brunette attractiveness . . . and Peg fell in love with the white brushed-fur hat that Mildred Cook wore recently to the El Progresso luncheon . . . Heard that at a recent Don Loper Showing in Dallas . . . at the Civic Opera Benefit . . . that the designer presented his traditional mixture of joviality fashions . . . champagne and roses . . . in a fashion show held in the Empire Room of the Statler Hilton . . . contrary to Paris trends . . . Mr. Loper expressed his delight in again "making women look like women" . . . waistline where it belongs . . . skirts at a flattering mid-calf length . . . suit jackets, according to preference . . . newest fur being the short white chinchilla wrap . . . now can't you just hear the "jingle bells" . . . and with Christmas just 81 shopping days away . . . The Fashion Coordination Institute of New York City is stressing pin magic this fall . . . they say a pin, imaginatively spotted is potent fashion magic . . . on a velvet bandeau, they dress up any hairdo and bring a sparkle to pretty eyes . . . placed at the slit in a skirt, they dramatically accent a pretty leg . . . or used at the new low-cut back or to hold a necklace or scarf in place . . . Shucks, Ma'am, we Pampa belles have been doing that for ages.

OF STICKS AND STONES . . . Peg will be so happy when the Cook Street bridge is open for traffic again . . . She never realized how many times she used that bridge until it was closed to traffic late this summer . . . It seems . . . and she is sure that it only seems that way . . . but everywhere she goes, it leads across that bridge . . . it is going to be such a wonderful bridge, though, so much wider for cars to pass . . . with safe side-walks for the school children to use . . . Peg thinks it rates a Big Opening, when it is ready for use again . . . How about spanning it with a bright red satin ribbon . . . and invite Mayor Lynn Boyd to clip the ribbon and be the first citizen to cross in his car . . . in sort of a formal, official opening . . . The Optimist Club is really coming along with their Boys Club building out on Barnes and Craven . . . a building that is designed to build men . . . Peg is constantly amazed at the civic awareness and concern that clubs like the Optimists show for their community . . . we wouldn't be quite the town we are without them . . . Johnny Campbell and Newt Secrest are a couple of the Optimists that Peg knows who are spear-heading the project . . . there are many others, too . . . which is evident in the success of the beginning . . . Peg wishes that she had asked the name of that cute little Girl Scout from whom she bought a ticket to the Girl Scout Round-Up and Barbecue to be held Friday . . . she was so mannerly and official-looking in her green uniform . . . There's plenty of time to attend the Harvest-Midland football game afterwards . . . Have your ticket yet? . . . Better hurry . . . Speaking of Johnny, as we were a few sentences back, have you seen his new offices out on Francis . . . really look lush and plush.

JUST AROUND TOWN . . . briefly . . . with Peg . . . Saw H. A. Yoder hurrying to a committee meeting in the City Hall the other morning . . . he is such a genial person . . . do you have the feeling when you are driving down North Ballard that you are going to leave the street at one point and ride off on the top of all those soft green leaves on trees that extend almost to the street level, when you are approaching them from one level . . . Peg does . . . Most of Peg's friends are planning to don their autumn costumes for the Presidents' Coffee, honoring all presidents of the Twentieth Century Clubs, on Tuesday morning in the Lovett Memorial Library . . . bet there will be some um-um hats there . . . Saw adorable little Debbie Carter watching her big brother play football at the Junior High Game the other afternoon . . . Isn't the city park so forlorn-looking until about four in the afternoon . . . pool emptied, swings still, unless a breeze sways them a bit . . . teeter-boards tilted to an unused angle . . . business picks up again, though, around four.

JUST SO WE will have a little bit of everything included this week . . . let Peg pass on a delightful recipe that a friend gave her this week . . . Try stirring chopped roasted almonds . . . minced parsley . . . and chopped pimento into hot buttered rice . . . really gives it a party-like touch and a glamorous look . . . A flying couple . . . Sandy and Ed Williams report a delightful vacation in San Parish trends . . . Mr. Loper expressed his delight in again tittle . . . viewing the lush fruit basket of America . . . and the intrinsic beauty of Carmel-By-The-Sea . . . Hope you have been by to view the refreshing look of the Raymond Harrah new home . . . in the Georgian tradition . . . the plan is skillful and has the elegance of the Georgian Style . . . the handsome unusual gold shells on the white wall-paper in one bath with all gold and white accessories is most striking and luxurious-looking . . . With all of the delightful weather we have been having . . . and can look forward to having for the next few weeks . . . it is no wonder that Pampa papas take to the skies . . . via kites . . . with their young sons, as we observed recently, when Dr. George Snell was seen with his two handsome sons flying a kite . . . miles into the air . . . perfect kite weather . . . fall or spring, it's nice in Pampa and even nicer to be

Your Peg.

B&PW To Honor 'Woman Of Week'

Mrs. Elsie Gee was chosen at a recent meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club as secretary of the Week. Mrs. Gee will be guest of honor at the social functions planned by the club during this week.

Mrs. Gee, who is now serving as secretary of the United Fund, resides at 428 Hill with her husband, Emmett. They have one son, Richard, who is married and lives in Midwest City, Oklahoma. The Gees have one red-haired granddaughter, who is "the apple of their eyes."

Born in Storm Lake, Iowa, Mrs. Gee came to Pampa in 1953 and was employed as secretary to the Gray County Wheat Growers, Inc. for 17 years. Her husband was manager of the incorporation, until he retired when seriously injured in 1947.

While her son was in school, Mrs. Gee was active in PTA work. They are members of the Christian Church and Builders Sunday School Class.

She has been an active member in the Business and Professional Women's Club since 1943, having served as a board member for several years and has been chairman of the rodeo decoration committee, since it was organized.

Members of the Business and Professional Women's Club are proud to name Mrs. Gee as their "Business Woman of the Week."

MRS. ELSIE GEE

1 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons flour
1/4 cup water
Parmesan cheese
Shape sausage into 12 patties and brown slowly over moderate heat, draining off drippings. Add tomato juice, green pepper, celery, pimiento, onion, sugar, and pepper; cover and simmer 1 hour. Remove sausage to platter. Blend flour and water and add into liquid. Cook, stirring, until thickened and serve gravy over sausage. Sprinkle with cheese.

See, nuts and candies were served during the social hour. The club will meet next week Mrs. Charles Bailey, 1322 Kinmill on Oct. 2 at 7:30 p.m.

Parent Education Club Convenes For Brunch And Planning Year's Activity

Parent Education Club started its year's activities on Tuesday with a brunch in the home of Mrs. Z. B. Deer Jr., 1300 Hamilton. Mrs. Jack Osborne was co-hostess.

Autumn fruits and copper service were featured on the table.

The program was divided into three parts: Mrs. Myron Marx Jr. spoke on the reasons for and the advantages of being a member of the Texas Federation of Women's Club. "We are together in our ideas and our ideals. As an individual club, we stand alone. United in federation, we are a strong potential force," Mrs. Marx pointed out.

Mrs. Tom Rose, immediate past president, reviewed the basic rules of parliamentary procedure.

Mrs. Rose also reminded members of the responsibility of membership in a club. Acceptance of some responsibility for the growth and accomplishment of the group, regular attendance and willingness to serve on committees, were a few of the responsibilities suggested by Mrs. Rose.

Mrs. Fred Vanderburg presented a legend of the beginning of the Blue Bonnets in Texas. She told the story of a little Indian girl, who offered her beloved doll to the Great Spirits to help break a terrible drought. The Gods were deeply moved and sent the lovely Blue Bonnets and life-giving rain.

Mrs. C. R. Hoover, project committee, reported that two record players, two ear phones, and two jacks are to be installed in Lovett Memorial Library for the use of Pampa's exceptional children.

"Mothers, class-room teachers, the school nurse, and Red Cross Grey Ladies are privileged to check out this equipment for use in their work with exceptional children," she said.

Mrs. Hoover also reported that a television set is to be purchased and installed in Mrs. Ralston's class for exceptional children. These pieces of equipment were purchased with funds raised by the club with their tour of beautiful homes last May.

Mrs. Jack Osborne and Mrs. Horton Russell were welcomed into the club as new members.

Twenty members were present.

Now is a good time to clean and air a clothes closet. While shifting summer clothing to make way for fall and winter items, take everything out of the closet. Wash it down with warm suds. Rinse and let dry. A fan will speed drying and aid in airing the closet faster.

Home wading pools for the children need frequent scrubbing. Drain the plastic pool and wash down the sides and bottom with hot suds. Use a hose to rinse and refill with clean water.

First Fall Meeting Held By Sorority

Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority met Thursday evening in the Council of Club rooms for their first fall meeting. Mrs. Gwen Gray, president, presided at the business meeting.

Year books for 1957-58 were presented to each member by Mrs. Charles Robinson, chairman of the year book committee.

Mrs. Yorel Harris reported on Welfare Index Organization. It was agreed by members to sponsor a needy family at Christmas time.

Mrs. H. C. Payne was elected as corresponding secretary for the ensuing year.

Mrs. John Nutting was appointed chairman for the party the club is to give the Senior Citizens in the Lovett Memorial Library, Jan. 23.

Discussion was held on the presenting of the Audimeter to Gray County School System. This will give the schools two Audimeters, both presented by the E.S.A. Sorority.

Busy Bee HD Club Chooses Officers

The Busy Bee Home Demonstration Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Elmer Williams. After the regular business, election of officers for 1958 was held.

Elected to serve are Mmes. Leon Osborne, president; Elmer Williams, vice president; Harold Collins, secretary; Oluf Bertrand, treasurer; Franklin Poe, reporter; Dale Buch, parliamentarian.

Plans were completed for entering articles in the Carson County Fair, and various places for the yearly club tour was discussed.

A demonstration on making earrings was given by Mrs. Elmer Williams and Mrs. Jay Phillips. Each member then made her own.

Miss Carolyn Sue Lane, Bill Lewis United In Marriage In Church Rites

Dr. E. Douglas Carver performed the wedding ceremony that united Miss Carolyn Sue Lane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lane, Skelly Kingsmill Camp and W. T. (Bill) Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Lewis, Dial, on Aug. 29 at 7:30 p.m. in the parlors of the First Baptist Church. Baskets of pink and white gladioli, candelabra with white tapers formed the setting for the exchange of double vows. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white nylon lace over taffeta fashioned with an empire waistline and bouffant skirt inserted with nylon pleats. The fitted bodice was styled with a low scalloped neckline and tiny scalloped sleeves. She wore a fingertip Veil of Illusion and carried a bouquet of pink and white split carnations. Miss Bessie Lewis, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor wearing a pink dress of nylon and acetate. She carried a bouquet of pink and white split carnations. Karo Riddle, cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man. Miss Eloise Lane provided wedding music at the piano, playing "Because," and "The Wedding Prayer."

HEARTY BISCUIT IDEA CELEBRATED FRANKS

Great-grandmother baked biscuits by the dozens, but sometimes modern cooks forget how delicious a homemade biscuit can be. In this recipe, we suggest adding canned dried beef to the biscuit mixture. As this requires only half of a two and one half ounce can of dried beef, prepare a double batch of biscuits and freeze some for later use. These hearty biscuits are a tasty accompaniment to breakfast eggs, a luncheon salad, or soup for supper.

Pampa Rebekah Lodge Planning Auction And Tacky Party For October Project

Pampa Rebekah Lodge met Thursday evening in the IOOF Hall with Mrs. Bernice Ladd, noble grand, in charge. Members reported ill in the hospital were Mrs. T. Burba, Ruby Wylie, and Jesse Connor. Will Ward, father of Mrs. Ariens Bill, was reported to be in the Wellington Hospital. Bill Wilson has gone home from the hospital, but is still ill at home, after a long stay in the hospital, it was reported. Announcement was made that the Panhandle Circle is to meet here on Sept. 28. Each member is requested to attend and bring sandwiches. Further details may be secured from Mrs. Ladd. A cheer basket of gifts was delivered to Mrs. Katie Beverly, member of the lodge, who is unable to attend meetings, but is still remembered by the lodge. Mrs. Pearl Casika, advisor of the Theta Rho Girls Club, announced that the Theta Rho and Junior Odd Fellows were planning a hayride and dance and requested chaperones for the affair. Mrs. Ision Cooke was initiated into the lodge by having the degree of Rebekah conferred on her by the degree staff.

El Progresso Has Autumn Luncheon

An autumn luncheon in the Pampa Hotel Pine Room opened the club year for the El Progresso Club recently. Mrs. D. V. Burton gave the invocation. "Blue Prints For Tomorrow" was the theme for the luncheon and for the year's course of study. A blue and white color scheme was used in the luncheon appointments. Place cards were blue-prints of the state of Texas. The social committee was hostesses for the luncheon, Mmes. Harold Wright, Bob Banks, Glen Radcliff, and Elmer Fisher. Mrs. Tom Perkins, club president, extended a welcome to the members and an especial welcome to a new member, Mrs. Jesse Clay. Mrs. W. R. Ewing, parliamentary, reviewed the club's constitution and by-laws.

Junior High Parent-Teachers Convene For Business And Open House Meeting

The Junior High PTA executive board met Thursday morning at nine in the cafeteria with Mrs. E. E. Shelhamer, president, presiding. Reports were given by each committee chairman on the progress of their committees. Mrs. James Lewis, announced that the District Youth Workshop would be held in Stinnett Methodist Church on Oct. 3 at 9 a.m. Mrs. W. W. McCloy, Stinnett, is chairman of the workshop with Mrs. Lewis as co-chairman. They attended a week's workshop this summer in Austin led by state workers. Mrs. Fred Cary of Pampa will be on the adult panel discussing "Youth Bill of Rights." There will also be a youth panel participating. Mrs. Lewis announced that plans are being made for the state convention in Galveston in November. A bus will be chartered for the trip. Coffee and cookies were served during the social hour. Members attending were Mmes. Jack Nickols, E. E. Shelhamer, J. R. Holloway, Bob Andis, Elmer Darnell, Siler Hopkins, Howard Sims, Robert Red'ell, Kenneth McGuire, Lester Jones, Bill Tidwell, William Leonard, Ralph Delashaw, Lloyd Carlisle, James Lewis, Bob Gordon, Paul Brown, and Warren Woodard. OPEN HOUSE The Junior High Parent Teacher's Ass'n met Thursday evening in the auditorium. Mrs. Shelhamer presided at the meeting and conducted business. Mrs. J. R. Holloway gave a brief summary of the year's program.

Fun 'N Food To Be Features Of Girl Scout Outing

A program presented by Brownie and Intermediate Scouts will highlight the Round-Up Barbecue of the Top of Texas Girl Scout Council, to be held at 4 p.m. Sept. 27, in the County Bull Barn. The event is open to anyone who is interested. Tickets, selling for $1.00 per person, may be purchased from any Girl Scout or from the Girl Scout office, City Hall. The barbecue, being prepared by the Pampa Shrine Club, will be served from 6 to 6:45 p.m. The program will begin at 7 p.m. and close at 7:45 p.m., so those attending may go to the Harvester football game. The program, under the direction of Mrs. Tony Smith, will include a grand march of all Girl Scouts and their leaders, followed by a flag ceremony. Brownie Scouts will present a singing game, "The Bear Went Over the Mountain," and the Intermediate Scouts will give a skit entitled, "Three Blind Mice." Troops from Skellytown will present several Indian dances. The Scouts learned during their Day Camp this summer. "Taps" will close the program. Committees for the event include Mrs. E. J. Griffin Jr., general chairman; Mrs. Bob Andis, food; Mrs. V. C. Moore, tickets; Mrs. Doris Wilson and Mrs. Fred Neslage, publicity; Mrs. Tony Smith, program. "Purpose of the barbecue is to acquaint people with our Girl Scout program," stated Mrs. John Holt Jr., Council president. "All Girl Scouts and their families, any girl interested in Scouting and her family, all adult workers in Girl Scouting and the general public are invited to attend."

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
When Greg was first told his parents were going to have a baby he showed no interest. It was he regarded their news a just another one of those hopelessly mysterious adult decisions which it's silly for children to even try to understand. However, a couple of days later when his mother was undressing him for bed, he suddenly asked "What's this baby going to be?" "Where are you going to get it?" Now all his mother needed to say was, "It's growing inside of me now. When it's big enough, it will let me know and get itself born." But instead of giving him this casual, simple answer, she sank down on his bed—and began an anxious, long-winded explanation of the physiology of birth. Why do some of us feel it necessary to give children more sex information than they ask for? Well, I think our talkativeness is a holdover from our childhood when we rushed to tell Mommy "everything" lest she imagine we'd been up to something naughty. I think that some of us do feel a little naughty when we are required to tell our first child how we begot our second one. We become defensive, not only because we're forcing displacement on him, but because that displacement is the result of our sexual activity. So when Greg asks us how we're getting the new baby, we feel pretty much the way we felt when Mommy used to say, "Who tore up that book?" We're as anxious to retain his good opinion of our innocent intentions as we were to retain Mommy's. Let's watch this childish impulse to tell "everything" to small sons and daughters. It's part of American parent's fear of claiming any privacy for himself. If we don't get on to this fear early, it can betray us, not only by making us overtalk sex too soon to children, but by making us uncomfortable with any experience we can't share with them. It can do all kinds of destructive things to us, from keeping us at home every night when we would be seeing our friends, to neglect of our retirement plans. We've no more right to try to share everything with children than we have to demand that they share everything with us.

Goodwill HD Club Has All-Day Meet

The Goodwill Home Demonstration Club held an all-day meeting on Tuesday in the home of Mrs. A. P. Coombes, 1230 E. Frederick. Mrs. Coombes, president, opened the meeting with the club prayer. Miss Helen Dunlap, county HD agent, gave a demonstration on making a child's house-coat. She stressed stay-stitching on curved seams and to always follow the grain of thread. While placing the curved collar on the garment, she clipped the seam as she machine basted. She illustrated a short method of placing the straight collar; such as used on boy's shirts. With this method she machine stitched the top side of collar to neck seam for a more durable finish. She said, "One should always stay stitch the back side of collar to outside seam to prevent it from turning up in the back." She also demonstrated the making of a V-neck without a collar, on which she used stay-stitching. The club made further plans for its Fall to be held Oct. 3. Members spent a portion of the day wrapping gifts to be used in this event. The white elephant gift was won by Mrs. LaDon Bradford. Luncheon was served at the noon hour. Coffee and cake was served by the hostess. Members present were Mmes. Leland Diamond, John Johnson, LaDon Bradford, Boyd McAule, George Perkins, James Smathers, Roy Frasier. There will be a special meeting Sept. 25 at 10 a.m. in the home of Mrs. Perkins, 1318 Christine.

Rigidity

Harry Overstreet is supposed to be an expert on the mind. He is one of the "intellectuals" who frequently employs his pen on behalf of the Parent-Teachers Association. In 1952 he published a book entitled "The Great Enterprise." The theme, of course, has to do with the great task to which Mr. Overstreet and a number of other pseudo-mentalist assign themselves. This is the task of eliminating mental illness by all manner of psychiatric practices.

There are a couple of quotations from the book which are deserving of some attention:

Page 110: "Thru clinical experience, we have now come to recognize the invariable characteristic—that sick condition of the mind we call neurosis: namely, rigidity."

Page 115: "In other persons, the rigidity is found in several areas. In each of these we can predict that the individual will respond with trigger quickness and in exactly the same way. Sometimes, it appears, such persons have constellations of prejudice areas. A man, for example, may be angrily AGAINST RACIAL EQUALITY, PUBLIC HOUSING AND TVA, FINANCIAL AND TECHNICAL AID TO BACKWARD COUNTRIES, ORGANIZED LABOR, and the preaching of SOCIAL RATHER THAN SALVATIONAL RELIGION (emphasis added). These intense dislikes, though they may seem to crop up separately, suggest a personality orientation. They add up to a kind of collective evidence that the man has identified himself, for his own ego reasons, with certain individuals and groups that have power and prestige; and that he is emotionally on the defensive against anything that would close the status-quo gap between his group and lower groups. He is less disturbed emotionally by evidence that people are in need than by evidence that they are trying to get something for nothing; are being pampered.

"In some people the areas of rigidity are so numerous and continuous that we can only speak of these individuals as prejudiced persons. Try as we may, we can scarcely open up a subject that does not top their permissive automatic 'againtness'. Such people may appear normal in the sense that they are able to hold a job and otherwise maintain their status as members of society, but they are, we now recognize, WELL ALONG THE ROAD TOWARD MENTAL ILLNESS" (our emphasis again).

To our rigid viewpoint, Dr. Overstreet is himself well along the same road. We could paraphrase his delineation by saying: "Such as Dr. Overstreet and the various groups he represents respond with trigger quickness and in exactly the same way whenever ideas contrary to their own are introduced. It is their unvarying view that when a minority opinion is expressed, the person expressing it is ill. Such a person must agree with them, or indeed he can only be the victim of some mental aberration. Such a man as Dr. Overstreet, for example, will be angrily opposed to voluntary choice of associates, opposed to private ownership and to private power companies. He will vigorously resent any intimation that the people of foreign countries ought to make their own way without tax assistance from the United States. He tends to sneer at anyone who points out the rascality and the racketeering of union bosses; and he is utterly beside himself whenever salvational religion rather than social religion is preached. These intense dislikes, though they may seem to crop up separately, suggest a personality orientation with the Marxist orbit. They add up to collectivism and a type of collectivist evidence that the man has identified himself, for his own ego reasons, with certain individuals in government, and certain groups of socialist persuasion which have power and prestige; and that he is emotionally on the defensive against anything that would recognize the natural differences between people in his group and higher groups. He is less disturbed emotionally by evidence that people are trying to get something for nothing, in other words, to steal, than he is by the evidence that persons who have many wants tend to satisfy their wants if they are left to provide for themselves.

"In some people, such as Dr. Overstreet, the areas of this rigidity of attitude are so numerous and continuous that we can only speak of such persons as intensely collectivist minded and prejudiced against all else. Try as we may, we can scarcely open up a subject that does not top their permissive automatic 'againtness' as it relates to individual initiative and self-determination. Such people may appear normal in the sense that they are able to hold a job and otherwise maintain their status as members of society. It is even true that we may find a great many of them employed in government and also working for such government controlled agencies as the government schools, the PTA, the NEA and other non-productive organizations. In this type of employment they find a balm for their sensitive egos which can brook no argument and little in the way of evidence which reduces their flimsy pretenses to ribbons. However, we must not condemn them. We must recognize instead that they are well along the road toward mental illness. They need kindness and sympathy, and most of all a course in basic economics."

Physician, where is thy couch, that thou mayest heal thyself of excessive rigidity?

BETTER JOBS

Explaining Fallacies Of Labor Unions

In the last few issues I have been reporting a letter written by Elwood P. Smith to the president of a labor union as to why he was withdrawing from the union. The letter explains that labor unions are not based on the precepts of Judeo-Christian ethics. They violate the Golden Rule and the Covenanted Commandment. They have become strong because voters have not thought through the end results of any group of people taking away from an individual his God-given right to use his conscience. These beliefs resulted in laws that give special favors and privileges to organized labor groups. Mr. Smith concludes his letter in this manner:

"When government extends its coercive power to the granting of favors, however, freedom must necessarily suffer. Governments can grant favor to one group only by equal denial of favor to another group. If it granted equal favor to all, how can it be considered a favor?"

"It is a matter of historical record that we have all too often sought short-range goals of economic advantage without considering the long-range effects of the policies pursued. Disruption of the market for short-range advantage of one group has invariably resulted in economic disadvantage in the long run as the market seeks to adjust to the artificial strain placed upon it.

"We would both agree, I am sure, that management has no right to exert coercion in the market, something that it cannot do without trespassing upon the rights of individuals, something it cannot do lawfully without government favor to permit such trespass.

"It is my firm conviction, however, that two wrongs never under any circumstance, make a right. I must, therefore, deny that any individual, or group of individuals, has the right to exert coercion on any other individual or group of individuals. Yet, this is precisely what our current labor legislation is designed to do, to grant government favor upon 'organized' labor by permitting it to exert coercion upon the market for labor. This is as morally wrong as any other form of coercion.

"From a purely economic standpoint, it is as futile as it is wrong. The standard of living, rather than being raised, is merely shifted from one pressure group to another; in aggregate it is actually lowered because of the waste in manpower, the loss of production, and overhead costs of supporting all of the economically unproductive machinery necessary to implement and control such coercive powers.

"Does this mean that I deny the right of labor to organize? Certainly not. Labor has every right to organize by voluntary contract, but its justification for so doing and its entitlement to recognition should be based upon its ability to contribute to the economic good. The only proof of positive economic contribution can be by the voluntary acceptance of the market of value received. Where coercive power exists, it is impossible to determine to what degree acceptance is voluntary and to what degree it is forced.

"It is in this light that I cannot further justify support of SPEEA. I cannot by free choice belong to an organization which derives its coercive law. To do so is to give tacit support and approval to laws that I consider morally wrong. Should SPEEA renounce all rights under these protective laws, disaffiliate with any similarly protected organization, and base its justification for existence upon free and voluntary acceptance of the value that it may be capable of contributing to both management and its members, I shall be most happy to rejoin and give SPEEA my full support. Under such voluntary association without protection of coercive law, it could not exist except that it should be capable of making a worthwhile contribution to all parties concerned.

Yours very truly,
Elwood P. Smith."

Behind every scandal story there's a human interest story. I learned that more than 25 years ago when a national magazine published a snuff account of a star from our town. The star died and my editor told me to find out everything good about the girl and to publish it. I found enough good to publish a full page feature article that was printed not only in our own paper but in all the papers of a syndicate. Some months later, after my first child was born, our doorbell rang. When I answered it, I found a beautiful, elderly woman standing on the threshold. She handed me a package.

"It's a dress I've made for your little girl," she explained. "I wanted to do something for your daughter because you've been kind to my daughter, Jeanne Eagles."

I heard a long winded speech by a double-dosed professor the other

'Big Business' Rakes In Most Of Subsidies

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — "Big Business" has been equally responsible with late-coming "gimme groups" — farmers, labor, veterans, do-good humanitarians — for the recent Congressional contention that the United States today is a "one-third socialized" nation. President Eisenhower's Eastern friends and backers must share the blame with Roosevelt-Truman reformers.

Two of the richest government grants to industry and railroads, of course, have been high and exclusive tariffs and gift of land needed to open up the West in the late 19th century. Both were necessary to build up a fresh, new and thriving country. They were not generally included in today's list of subsidies of a socialistic nature because of their historical importance.

But the farmer-labor grievances against tariff-protected costs of what they had to buy, as well as against farm-to-market railroad rates, gave birth to such political movements as the Populists, the Bryanites, the La Follette and the Progressives.

ADVANTAGE FOR INDUSTRY — None of these parties achieved national political power, although many of their principles are now law, with the support of both major parties. But campaigns and cartoons condemning the Eastern bankers, who profited from financing the railroads and industries, left a rankling sentiment throughout the West.

In these Westerners' opinion, it is now their turn to receive the same sort of favors from Uncle Sam that the so-called "interests" have enjoyed for so many years. To this extent, the seeds of a "one-third socialized" society were planted long before Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower. Moreover, they are still sprouting in the form of current benefits to "Big Business" of a socialistic nature.

Industry, for instance, has enjoyed the benefit of fast tax write-offs for new plants and equipment since before World War II. Through this means the government tends to freeze and control the nation's industries to a limited degree.

WORK — It is obvious that the great corporations so favored because of their contribution to national defense can shift to the manufacture of peacetime goods if and when the crisis over defense work commences ever ends. Meanwhile, they enjoy the lion's share of defense work and dictate to thousands of subcontractors.

Federal power projects are now estimated to generate at least 15 per cent of the nation's electricity. They enjoy such special treatment every day. He said that if time proved that Americans have been over-alarmed about Communism, Earl Warren will be regarded as a fine man. All that's very true. But if Communism in America should turn out to be like Communism in Russia, China, Poland, and Hungary, there will not be many who feel grateful to Earl for helping open the door for it.

Moreover, maritime and aviation firms have received billions in direct subsidies, mostly because of their national defense and commercial value, but also because of the differential in domestic and foreign costs for labor and materials. It is, in reality, another protective tariff.

LATEST FORM OF SUBSIDIZATION — It is true that all these industries pay taxes. But they do not begin to match the money spent on their behalf by the Federal government.

The latest form of subsidization involves Federal purchase of minerals for stockpiling purposes. Because of a war measure, Administration efforts to terminate or reduce these transactions were blocked by mining interests on Capitol Hill. It is almost impossible to check this socialistic trend. And pending before Congress are measures to accelerate it.

In view of these Federal subsidies, a Supreme Court statement is alarming. When a litigant argued that he was not subject to Federal regulation of his business, the high tribunal declared: "It is hardly lack of due process for the government to regulate that which it subsidizes."

In layman's language, if you accept money or other benefits from Uncle Sam — and who doesn't these days? — you give him a — None of these parties achieved mortgage on your freedom.

Every form of transportation besides the railroads — trucks, water carriers, pipelines and airlines — are federally subsidized to the extent of untold billions. Uncle Sam builds and maintains such facilities as highways, rivers, harbors, docks, navigation aids, airports and radar systems. The Government fixes their rates and safeguards them against new competition in its selective grant of franchises.

The basis of insurance, automobile or otherwise, is one of experience. Where there are many accidents in an area, auto insurance premiums are higher and where they are less, the rates are reduced. Thus everyone who continues to drive carefully and safely is contributing to saving lives and limbs and also cutting insurance rates.

Union Members, Like Slaves, Have No Rights

By Thurman Sensing

FREEDOM FOR UNION MEMBERS

Slaves quite often have many privileges, but when it comes to rights they have none at all. The same observation can be applied quite generally to members of labor unions. It is a reflection on the people of a free nation that this situation is allowed to exist.

There is only one way in which the slavery of unionism, as now practiced in this country, can be abolished — and that is by abolishing compulsory unionism in all its forms. As long as the union gets members by compulsion and not on its own merits, the labor bosses can fix the rules to suit themselves.

It is galling to a sincere and patriotic citizen who is a member of a labor union to live under such domination, and the Labor Law of the land should be amended to free him from it. Making compulsory unionism in any form illegal on a national scale would not only free the union member from labor boss control, it would also protect all workers and would be one of the best things that could happen to the welfare of the nation as a whole.

The situation outlined above is perhaps understood better by labor union members than by the public at large. In fact, better even than by some members of the Congress. One of the senators on the committee investigating labor practices said recently that union members themselves could do a lot to clean up the practices which his committee had uncovered if they would only "stand up for their rights."

But if he were asked to define these rights, that is, the rights of members within the labor unions, he would have a great deal of trouble doing so.

It is true that in some labor unions the members do have the privilege — not the right — of voting for their union officers, and that if things don't go to suit them, they can "throw the rascals out" and get some more; officers, that is, not rascals — we hope.

But in other labor unions they have no such privilege. The membership of the Teamsters Union, for example, did not put Mr. Beck in office. And it is not the membership who could have put him out. A sort of governing board of Teamster Union bosses will discuss the election of Mr. Beck's successor very soon — and the dues-paying members won't have anything to say about it.

In some labor unions the member has the privilege — not the right — of learning what becomes of the money collected in dues. In others that is not so at all; the financial affairs of the union are all a great mystery to the members. A union member with the brassiness to walk into union headquarters and ask for information about the finances of the union would not only not learn anything, he would probably not ask again!

As it is, if the labor bosses decide to back one political party and help finance the political party, they have the power to do so even though many of their union members may favor and vote for the other party and even though many of their members would desire that the union take no stand for either party. And if the union bosses decide to donate large sums of money to such organizations as the N.A.A.C.P. or the A.D.A. or any other organization, they can do so without asking the members their desires in the matter — even though it is the members who are furnishing the money.

In some labor unions the members have the privilege — not the right — of deciding whether to go out on strike. In others the order to strike simply comes down from above, and whether members like it or not they are on strike.

It is very clear to anyone who seriously studies the matter that most union members live under dictatorial control, that for Congress to simply pass laws to regulate their position and welfare funds — as now seems might be the only result of the committee investigation, if even that — is not going to help them much.

Texas Railroad Commission Reports Six Deep Intents

Six of the 30 intentions to drill filed in the Pampa office of the Texas Railroad Commission last week were for depths over 5,000 feet.

Three of the deep intentions listed were for wildcats.

Here are the statistics:

AMENDED APPLICATIONS TO DRILL

Gray County (East Panhandle)
Skelly Oil Co. — Webb "A" No. 19 — 1680 from N & E lines Sec. 62, Blk. 25 H&GN, 4 mi. NW Kellerville, changing field designation for gas well completion.

Hansford County (Hansford)
Pan American Petroleum Corp. — L. W. Mathews No. 2 — 1980 from N, 2080 from N & E lines Sec. 35, Blk. 4-T, T&NO, 3 mi. NE Hansford, amending location.

Applications to Re-enter
Ochiltree County (Paul Harbaugh-Atoka)
M. A. Machris — P. A. Harbaugh No. 13-147, Blk. 147, Blk. 13, T&NO, 22 mi. S Perryton, no depth given (811 Midland Bldg., Midland).

Applications to Deepen
Collingsworth County (Wildcat)
K. E. Jennings — Ethel Clements, et al No. 1 — 960 from S, 330 from E lines S. c. 48, Blk. 10, H&GN, 5 mi. SE Wellington, deepen to 3500.

Hansford County (Hansford-Morrow)
Humble Oil & Refg. Co. — Hansford Gas Unit No. 17 well No. 1 — 1980 from S & E lines Sec. 118, Blk. 4-T, T&NO, 6 mi. SE Spearman, deepen to 8500.

Oldham County (Wildcat)
Phillips Petroleum Co. — Locke "A" No. 3 — 860 from N, 1980 from E lines Sec. 18, Blk. 2, I&GN, 9 mi. NW Miami, PD 6500.

Wheeler County (Panhandle)
Baker & Koch, et al — H. L. Hise No. 2 — 990 from N & W lines Sec. 55, Blk. 13, H&GN, 8 mi. E Shamrock, PD 2200 (Box 190, B&K).

NATION'S INDUSTRIAL ACTIVITY SPEEDS UTILITY GAS USE

SOURCE: AMERICAN GAS ASSOCIATION

Industrial sales of the gas utility industry increased in 1956 three times faster than the nation's industrial activity. While the industrial activity index was rising 2.9 percent, industrial gas sales climbed 9.4 percent to 38,687 million therms.

Texas-To-Pacific Crude Oil Pipe Line Outlook Remains Bleak

Weekly Oil Column By HARRY WILSON SHARPE United Press Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (UP)—

The outlook for government approval of a hundred million dollar crude oil pipeline from West Texas to the Pacific Coast is as bleak as ever.

The United Press made a new check of official sentiment on the project after the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association decided it should be pushed. The producers long have harbored ambitions to invade the lush California market which could absorb millions of barrels of surplus Texas-New Mexico output to replace tanker imports.

Defense Mobilizer A. Gordon Gray, whose approval is required, is still against the proposal, a spokesman said, and he "foresees no change in that position." The interior and defense departments whose desires could influence Gray's office, also are still opposed.

Standard Also Opposes Add to this the formidable opposition of Standard Oil of California and other big West Coast oil interests and the obstacles seem insurmountable.

The project has been in the talk and investigative stage for more than three years. Pushing it hardest is the firm that would build it—West Coast Pipeline Co., Dallas, which says it would be an essential national defense asset and therefore warrants government underwriting and tax concessions.

The company has been knocking on official doors here in hopes it can get a green light but has found only a few receptive ears. Among these were chairman James Roosevelt (D-Calif.) of the House Small Business subcommittee which investigated oil marketing abuses; chairman Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) of a Senate anti-monopoly subcommittee, and Victor R. Hansen, the Justice Department's trustbuster.

No Measures Planned But neither committee plans legislation related to the project nor can the Justice Department initiate action, Hansen did tell Congress, however, that the government's efforts to break up allegedly monopolistic control of the California market could be aided by the pipeline.

The department has anti-trust action pending against California Standard and others. West Coast pipeline officials have charged repeatedly in testimony before Congress that California oil interests have conspired to block the project.

Rep. Roosevelt touched on the subject in a report on his most recent small business hearings. He said the House should investigate the economic feasibility of the project as it relates to the welfare of oil jobbers and independent filling station operators "and irrespective of military necessity."

Supply Tight He said "a case study" shows California produces only two-thirds of the oil it needs and that its crude is of a lower quality than Texas crude. He said that in an emergency the tight supply would become lighter but that the West Coast pipeline could, if built, ease this with 60,000 barrels a day.

Sure hate to see George Newberry and family leave Pampa. George has been a fixture around these parts for, lo, these many years. (In other words, I don't know how long, for sure.)

Newberry is the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company manager for this area. Clyde K. Dickerson will take his place here in the near future.

GEORGE is one of the most popular men in town. Everybody seems to know him. You know, someone once said that a person only gets teased if he is liked. If that's true, George is well-liked, very much so.

Everyplace he goes, someone boos him, and then laughs and pats him on the back. He is constantly told he is not wanted here and there, and is then promptly invited to attend just about every civic function. Maybe he is teased hard because he takes it well.

ANYWAY, GEORGE will be missed here. I'm sure that his replacement, Clyde Dickerson, will be a "fine fellow" too. Am anxious to meet him.

Newberry has been named Collection Supervisor for Southwestern Bell's Northwest Division. He will be headquartered in Fort Worth.

YOU SURE get old fast, don't you? And some of us look even older than we are. I won a little sponge elephant at the Tri-State Fair last week when a carnival fellow guessed me to be four years older than I am.

He guessed me young for the way I felt about that time, though. He said I was 29 and I felt about 99.

I had the pleasure of escorting some of our local high school teenagers to the fair that day after they had performed on "Teen Time" on KFDA-TV.

THOSE YOUNG UN'S rode every wild vehicle on the carnival lot and didn't even begin to act like they were going to turn green. I watched them ride a "Roller Sky Fly High" or some such animal. Then when I began to feel old. They wanted to ride something else and I wanted to throw up.

There were five of 'em, Billy Hassell, Don Darling, Barbara Lunsford, Nancy Stephenson and Linda Skewes, and they really "lived it up."

Why don't I get a kick out of such things anymore? Do you?

I heard the classic introduction last week. (I meant to mention it in last week's notes, but forgot. However, due to the complete originality of the whole thing I think it's still worth putting down.)

ANYWAY, THE FIASCO occurred during the weekly Jaycees luncheon. A visiting official in the Texas Nurses Association was in Pampa, and one of the Jaycees decided it would be appropriate if she would speak to the club on what their association was doing to provide an adequate number of registered nurses.

However, on meeting day, that particular member was not present and in his absence, President Johnny Campbell made the mistake of asking one Charlie Wilkinson, local barber and teller of tall tales, to introduce the program.

UNDAUNTED, Wilkinson bubbled forth with, "Well, we have these two ladies here for our program today. I don't know who they are, or what they are going to do—but I hope they know more about what they are doing than I know about what I'm doing."

THAT'S ALMOST as bad as the sadist who was called upon to introduce a comedian and complicated with, "Mr. here is supposed to be a comedian. Say something funny for us now."

IT SEEMS LIKE about the most popular thing to do these days is to get traffic tickets. Local motorists have been falling all over themselves thanking the local police while getting pinched for mistakes with the auto.

One out-of-town motorist who was awarded a boo-boo certificate wrote to Chief Conner (enclosing the fine) and said, "I would like to commend your policemen for the courteous manner in which they gave me the above mentioned certificate."

ACCORDING to Lt. Denny Ross, another motorist who was in the process of receiving the glad tidings, "w.a.s., so overjoyed by it all, that he gave the two arresting patrolmen cigars, and even thoughtfully enclosed one for the police chief."

It's funny the amount of courtesy a police badge seems to generate.

During the more exciting moments of grid seasons, many fans become nervous, angry and occasionally violent, but are usually taken in stride by those near. These outbursts of excitement are not always limited to fans, however, as the referees and coaches unintentionally get into the act.

In Thursday's game between the Reapers and Sam Houston of Amarillo the visiting coach became wrapped up in his team's confusion as to their goal line defense. He ventured onto the field ten yards and could not make himself heard so he marched on to the scene of the fray. While Pampa was in the huddle he began leading his boys about by the arm and spotting them in the most advantageous places. One official stepped over apparently to caution the coach and nearly found himself playing right end. The trip ended in vain, however, as Pampa went over for the score.

An incident related by one of the coaches last week tops them all for officiating maneuvers. In a recent game a referee blew a quick whistle on a play and discovered immediately that the ball was in the arms of another man who was rounding the far end. A few boys stopped, the coaches became aroused and the ref knew he was in a spot. Doing a little quick thinking, he turned, and dashed to the sidelines where he grabbed the microphone and announced to the crowd, "Whoever has that whistle on the sideline better keep it quiet."

A NEWSPAPER reporter must know a "bunch of things" in addition to being able to write a story or column.

For instance, the reporter who covers what in the newspaper business is known as the "violence beat," composed of the fire department, police department, highway patrol and sheriff's department, must also be an amateur lawyer.

This reporter must know a little about most of the criminal laws so that he will know what the officers and lawyers are talking about. He must also know this so that he will give the proper wording of the charges.

THE VIOLENCE reporter must also be familiar with the "item" code used by law enforcement officers on the police radio. The code has ten as the first number followed by any number from one to 99 and each of these numbers mean different things, sometime taking the place of several sentences.

Reporting on other news is also like being a walking reference book at times. The reporter must maintain a knowledge of all developments on the various beats and must be able to recall this information at a moment's notice when writing a story.

ONE THING for sure, when a reporter starts out in the morning he or she doesn't know where he will be before the day is over or what types of story he will be writing. It could be anything from a murder to a tea party anywhere in the circulation area of the paper.

The following is a letter received this week from a visitor to our city, Mrs. Ernest L. Tilley, which I would like to share with you, as it illustrates what we Pampans know and as a visitor sees us:

"This is my second visit to your city, and I feel I owe an apology to someone, so I am making it to you, as I read your daily paper and enjoy it very much."

"But this is what I want to say. A year ago, I went home not thinking too well of your fair city. So much wind and dust, and being a member of a garden club. I saw no flowers, no blooming shrubs, no grass, no nothing that would attract a gardener, but I did think your buildings lovely, including the new hospital on Hobart, and lovely homes excellent."

"But this year, everything is so beautiful, flowers, shrubs, grass and trees."

"My home in Memphis, Tenn. is well-known for beauty from God's nature, but I do assure you, I'll report a far different story this year to my garden club members."

"Also, I'd like to add this. Your people are so nice and friendly. I was taking my daily walk, and three of your lovely ladies stopped and offered to give me a lift. The third, I accepted and explained to her why I was walking. They were too nice to miss the opportunity in talking to one of them."

"So, please excuse me for past thoughts and I promise to continue to be a yearly visitor to your city, as long as my daughter and son-in-law are there... maybe longer. Thanking you, Mrs. Ernest L. Tilley."

Shilks, Mrs. Tilley, all we need is a little rain to be the Garden Spot of the World.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—Outgoing Teamsters President Dave Beck, in saying the union was ready to stand alone and split from the AFL-CIO if the labor group tries to tell the Teamsters how to run their own affairs:

"John L. Lewis was able to stand alone with his (United Mine Workers) union—and in my judgment so can we if necessary."
