Hope All But Abandoned For 87 Youths

POINTE DELGADA, Azores (UP)—Hope was all but abandoned today for 87 youths aboard the four-masted German training bark Pamir, hit by the full fury of hurricane Carrie and feared to have foundered in mid-Atlantic.

The 52-year-old square rigged ship apparently sank with all hands some 500 miles off the Azores. There were 35 crew men and 52 sea cadets aboard, all between 16 and 18. It was the first trip to sea for many.

Germany went into national mourning after a U.S. air force search plane spotted two lifeboats and one liferaft, all empty. The search for survivors continued throughout the night and today, but it was an almost hopeless task.

The faint hope for grieving families was that the ship had given the wrong position, and some experts said the ship could have been swept more than 100 miles beyond its reported position by the hurricane.

Five ships remained in the area searching for survivors.

Courthouse Hall Is Being Painted

Another step in the renovation of the Gray County Courthouse was in full swing today.

With the installation of the modern aluminum and glass double doors in the building, the patching of the walls indicated that painting should be done.

When paint was applied to the repairs, the condition of the remainder of the walls did not match, so the painters started today on the painting of the entire downstairs hall.

Feisel Of Arabia, Ike Confer Today

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
Crown Prince Feisal of Saudi Arabia confers today in Washington with President Eisenhower (11:30 a. m. e. d. t.). Middle East dispatches said the visit was the start of a Saudi diplomatic offensive to ease tensions between the United States and Syria.

Feisal is both foreign minister and premier of Saudi Arabia and his meeting with Eisenhower is the first of a series this week aimed at ironing out American-Syrian troubles.

On Wednesday King Saud of Saudi Arabia goes to Damascus for talks with Syrian President Shukri El Kuwatyli and other Syrian leaders. Unconfirmed reports in Jeddah, Saudi Arabia, said President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt may join them.

United Press correspondent Joe Morris reported from Cairo the entire Arab world was watching the Saudi moves carefully because of Saudi Arabia's role in the current tension. Saudi Arabia, which has long been linked with the west, has thrown its full support to Syria.

Because of Saud's recognized ability to work successfully with both the Arab nationalist powers and the west, Morris reported, Middle East observers believed he had the best chance of anybody to mediate.

By the time King Saud meets with Kuwatyli he will have had a full report from Feisal on his talks with Eisenhower.

Explosion In Mine Traps 11

BROWNSVILLE, Pa. (UP)—An explosion ripped through the Marianna shaft of the Bethlehem Steel Corp. mine at nearby Marianna today, trapping 11 men.

State Police Capt. Frank L. Garnow said contact was established with six of the men. There was no immediate word on the other trapped miners.

Trapped deep within the mine were nine foremen, a fire boss and a pumper. Authorities said

600 Students Are Ill At Texas A&M

By UNITED PRESS
An estimated 600 students at Texas A&M College are ill with the flu or upper respiratory infection.

Dr. C. R. Lyons, superintendent of the Texas A&M College hospital, reached at his home by United Press, said the "situation seems to be worsening. I don't want to estimate what the figure might be until I get to the hospital and make some checks."

He said there were 600 cases up to late Sunday but that a number of new ones came in during the week-end that hadn't been tabulated.

At San Marcos, Tex., Southwest Texas State, which closed at noon last Friday because of a flu outbreak, classes resumed today.

The flu outbreak has been most prevalent in East and Southeast Texas.

A flu outbreak in Michigan threatened to force the shutdown of schools in Port Huron, but state health officials cautioned there is no cause for alarm.

At least three other Michigan cities, Saginaw, Detroit and Frankenthum, have been hit by a wave of respiratory illnesses, he believed to be Asian Flu.

National health officials, meanwhile, reported at least 15 deaths so far in the nation blamed directly on Asian Flu or associated with it. The U. S. Public Health Service said most of the deaths were in California.

At San Marcos, Tex., Southwest Texas State, which closed at noon last Friday because of a flu outbreak, classes resumed today.

In Brilliant Color

Fall Has Officially Arrived

By UNITED PRESS
The fall season officially arrived at 1:27 a. m. today, and you could tell it, too, from the temperature.

An extra added attraction, nature put on another spectacular show shortly before midnight Sunday night when a brilliant display of Northern Lights was visible from much of North Texas.

A cold front spawned in Canada pushed through Texas the last few hours of summer, kicking off heavy rains from the Pecos Valley into East Texas, and extending down through Central and parts of southern Texas.

Up to nearly nine inches of rain fell through Central Texas from Waco to San Antonio Sunday. Forecasters warned of possible flooding on streams today in the San Antonio area.

rescuers would try to bring the men to the surface through the main shaft, a round-about route of about five miles because of small firms in surrounding runways.

Cause of the blast was not immediately determined.

The blast occurred at the portal of the mine in the tiny southwestern Pennsylvania community about seven miles west of here.

Capl. Garnow said a rope was lowered at least 500 feet down the shaft only minutes after the blast hit loose at about 5:10 a. m. est.

A note was attached to the rope, and when it was withdrawn the names of four men were written on it: Sprovis, Nelson, Masjesky and Kurpik.

A few minutes later, contact was established with two more trapped miners "by shooting down the smoke-filled shaft."

A rescue team began making an entry from a tunnel which runs parallel to the shaft, but police said they were hampered by dense smoke and fire. Workers on the surface attempted to establish telephone communications.

Authorities sent out for additional rescue equipment, including a hoist to replace the mine elevator which was destroyed by the blast.

Police said the trapped men apparently were about 500 feet down the shaft "because we lowered at least 500 feet of rope before we got a response."

Haitian Army Is Alerted

By JAMES CUNNINGHAM
United Press Staff Correspondent
PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (UP)—The Haitian army was alerted today for possible "trouble" when results of Sunday's first presidential elections since 1950 are announced.

You counting was underway and first unofficial results may be known during the day.

The balloting yesterday was orderly, in sharp contrast with the violence that has marred previous elections in this French-speaking Negro republic in the Caribbean.

Armed police and troops moved quickly to break up political arguments which threatened to erupt. Only a few scattered "incidents" were reported and only one death.

Gen. Antonio Kereba, head of the ruling military junta, said the voting was "generally calm" throughout the country.

An estimated 1,250,000 Haitians participated in the elections for president and a new legislature. Women voted for the first time.

The presidential race was between senator Louis Dejoie; Dr. Francois Duvalier, and attorney Clement Jumelle. All three are pro-American political moderates.

Their support among the largely illiterate voters is built mainly on individual personalities than on campaign issues.

Stolen Car Found; Suitcase Recovered

Investigations of theft cases and the recovery of stolen or lost items were the only cases reported by the police department this morning.

A car reported stolen at 9:30 last night was recovered in less than an hour by two local officers. The car, a 1953 Chevrolet, was reported stolen by Thomas Auwen, 1305 E. Frederic. He said the car had been taken from the 100 block of N. Cuyler between 7:30 and 9:30 last night.

Officers Dan Lewis and Bill Robinson located the Chevrolet in the 100 block of E. Kingsmill and stated in their report that the ignition switch had been torn from the dash and an attempt made to wire around the ignition. The wiring attempt was unsuccessful, the officers reported, and apparently the car was abandoned by the persons attempting the theft.

A radio stolen from a 1954 Ford Friday was reported at 10:08 yesterday morning. Jim Conner, chief of police, said that Tom Rose, owner of the Tom Rose Motor Co., 833 W. Foster, reported yesterday that the radio had been taken from the dash of the Ford while it was on his used car lot.

The radio had not been recovered today and Conner stated that the investigation was continuing.

A suitcase taken from a parked truck yesterday morning kept officers on the move yesterday. At 9 a. m. Eddie Fulgham of Clovis, N. M., reported that a suitcase was taken from his truck which was parked in the 100 block of N. Gray.

He had been told by an employee of a nearby service station that a man had taken the suitcase about 7:55 yesterday morning and had walked north on Gray. The driver found the suitcase later in the day in a nearby patch of weeds but the same man was seen by the employee of the service station.

Crown Prince Charles Leaves Palace For Exclusive School

By FRED PHILLIPS
United Press Staff Correspondent
LONDON (UP)—Nine-year-old Prince Charles leaves the courts of Buckingham Palace today for an austere but exclusive boarding school where his father, the Duke of Edinburgh, studied when he was a child.

The school is Chelms, 50 miles west of London, where Charles will face the stiff discipline and the boyish pranks of his schoolmates until he is 12. He is the first heir to the British throne to attend such a school.

When he is 12 he is to attend Eton which has produced many of Britain's leaders. There was no announcement of his plans after that, but many of Britain's past kings trained for the sea at the Royal Naval College at Dartmouth.

His education, which began last year by attendance at a day school in London, is partly of Queen Elizabeth's carefully thought out program of giving him a "normal" education that will more fully equip him as a modern monarch.

Most British sovereigns were tutored at home, and this is Charles' first experience away from the palace. He will have three vacations a year, one after each term, adding up to four months. But until he is 12 he will see little of Buckingham Palace.

Charles, Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip interrupted their summer vacation at Balmoral, Castle in the Scottish highlands last night so they could drive Charles to his first day at the Cheam school. A crowd of 300 persons gave him a cheer when he boarded the train at Aberdeen.

AEC Tests Off-Postponed 'Whitney' Shot

ANGEL'S PEAK, Nev. (UP)—"Whitney," the off-postponed "hard luck" nuclear test of the Atomic Energy Commission's operation Plumbob, sent a thunderclap across the Nevada desert today as it was exploded atop a 500-foot steel tower.

The device, finally detonated at the 22nd scheduled test of the summer series, had a yield estimated at the equivalent of 15,000 tons of TNT as it vaporized its tower and blossomed into a glowing ball of fire that faded within seconds after its firing at 5:30 a. m. pdt.

Sands of the desert at the Yucca Flat test site were sucked up into the air to form a towering stem for the familiar mushroom pattern that climbed rapidly in the early dawn.

The blast flashed over the desert floor with an eerie purple glow and fingers of the light touched the distant peak of Mt. Whitney, from which the blast was named, in California's Sierra Nevada mountain range some 120 miles to the west.

The flash was seen in all surrounding western states. It was clearly visible through light haze in Los Angeles and also was reported by observers in San Francisco.

White Students Walk Out
While children started marching out of the school, thirty to 50 students were in the first groups to walk out.

"Nigger, you're not going to pass here! Block 'em. Block 'em." the crowd yelled as they saw the decoys. By the time the battered photographer managed to get to his feet and escape, police had cordoned off the area with cars and motorcycles.

Mothers on the sidewalk started screaming "I want my children out! I want my children out!" A short, husky policeman ripped off his badge, yelled, "I quit!" and walked off to cheer from the crowd.

Photographers tried to take his picture but he lashed out at them with his nightstick, which he did not jettison.

Police Stand Firm
After the Negroes were in and the first excitement was over, the crowd began to quiet down. City and state police shoulder to shoulder, held them back.

There were still shouts of "come on out of there... let's go in and get 'em." Some of the police held tear gas guns ready, and members of the mob, eyeing them, contented themselves with shouting and cat-calling.

Night Police Chief Gene Smith, in charge of the guard at the school, personally charged three men back into the crowd with his club.

One of the Negroes with the photographer was kicked. He didn't run as fast as the others. He stood his ground after a preliminary start. Even after he was kicked he didn't run.

"Get a rope... hang him... kill the black S. O. B.," members of the mob yelled. "They're getting in the back door."

But by that time it was too late. The Negroes were in. They got through just before the last bell rang at 8:55 a. m.

A United Press reporter saw at least eight Negroes go in. The first white students to walk out said they saw four Negroes—three girls and one boy—in the principal's office.

Police stopped the battered Negro photographer in his flight. He showed them a working press card from a newspaper called the "Tri-Defender" and took up his flight again.

Up to shortly before school time 11:55 a. m. there was no certainty. See NEGROES, Page 3

City Hall Is Plagued By Pigeons!

Employees of City Hall have been running in and out of the building for the past few days. Research on the seeming confusion resulted in the fact that about 15 feathered creatures, pigeons, were causing the confused state.

The pigeons have moved in on City Hall and are roosting behind false walls under second-floor windows. The tactics of said pigeons are demoralizing the city employees and the officials are contemplating setting traps for the birds.

Photographer Acting As Decoy Beat Up

By BRYCE MILLER
United Press Staff Correspondent
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UP)—Nine Negroes, through a ruse, slipped into Central High School just before the last bell rang today and integrated it. A mob beat up a Negro photographer who acted as a decoy.

As the Negro students walked into the school, white students started a walkout. Thirty to 50 white students, who filled one study hall, marched down the front steps and joined the yelling mobs on the sidewalk.

"They're in, they're in," a white girl ran down the street, screaming.

"Let's go in and get the bastards out," her mother said. But there was no immediate attempt by a crowd of perhaps 500 to invade the school.

The ruse was set up by five Negroes, one a photographer, who sneaked toward a 15th Street side entrance to the school, while the crowd was surging through police barricades to get at the five decoys, the nine Negro students slipped in through an entrance on 14th Street. Nine had been scheduled to attend.

The four Negroes with the photographer ran, but the crowd caught the photographer, tripped him, stomped him, beat him and tore up his camera.

Wiretap Charges Put Another Hurdle In James Hoffa's Path

NEW YORK (UP)—Wiretap charges against James R. Hoffa today placed another hurdle in the path he hopes to follow to the Teamsters union presidency.

Hoffa planned to attend a teachers convention Sept. 30. Hoffa, his top lieutenant Owen Brennan and New York wiretap specialist Bernard Bates Spindel are accused of conspiracy in the wiretap case. They have pleaded innocent.

At the same time, leaders of the AFL-CIO assembly here to pass judgment on Hoffa and the teamsters. The 1,400,000-member trucking union faces ouster from the federation over charges that it is dominated by corrupt influences. Beck, Hoffa and other officials were cited out for violating. Tropical Storm 'Frieda' Eyes US Mainland

MIAMI (UP)—Freakish Frieda, sixth tropical storm of the season, set a wavering westerly course today and the southeastern mainland was alerted for possible storm warnings.

The Miami-weather bureau said in a 5 a. m. advisory the "broad and diffuse" center of Frieda was located about 500 miles east of Palm Beach, Fla. (latitude 27.0 north, 72.0 west). It was moving toward the west at about 10 miles an hour, with little change in direction or rate of movement expected during the coming 12 hours.

Reports from ships indicated an increase in the area of circulation.

"Winds are generally 30 to 40 miles per hour with about 200 miles to the north and east and 130 miles to the south and west of center, with a few scattered squalls up to 30 or 40 miles per hour," the advisory said. "A slow increase in intensity is expected during the next 24 hours."

The puzzling thing about Frieda was the way she formed. Instead of developing in the hot winds and shower squalls of a tropical easterly wave, the storm apparently sprang up on the lower fringes of a cold front moving down from the polar region.

The weather bureau also cautioned small craft near the Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico, Hispaniola and most of the Bahamas to stay in port because of heavy swells and rough seas kicked up on the fringes of the storm.

Reports early today indicated Frieda's top winds were 50 to 60 miles an hour in a few squalls near the center. Winds of 30 to 40 miles an hour fanned out 125 miles from the center.

Knife, Fork Club Meets

Charles Eagle Plume, anthropologist and interpreter of Indian lore, will be guest speaker for the Top of Texas Knife and Fork club tomorrow night.

The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. at the high school cafeteria.

An authority on early Indian-American history, Eagle Plume is the son of a French-Indian mother and a German father. He was reared in Montana and was graduated from the University of Colorado. At the outbreak of WWII he was studying for a Ph. D. in anthropology at Columbia University.

While in the service, Eagle Plume was an Army scout in the Pacific theater.

MRS. DOUGLAS WILLIAM RANDOLPH

Double-Ring Vows Are Solemnized For Miss Barbara Sheid, D. W. Randolph

A double-ring wedding ceremony was read on September 7 in Stamford's St. John's Methodist Church, which united Miss Barbara Ann Sheid and Douglas William Randolph in marriage. The minister, Rev. W. A. Appling officiated before an altar banked with white carnations and greenery.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, was gownned in white Chantilly lace and tulle over satin with a molded lace bodice designed with a bateau scalloped neckline and long tapering sleeves. The bouffant walk-length skirt was detailed with lace applique medallions in panels and worn over hoops and crinolines.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Lena Mae Sheid of Stamford and M. N. Sheid of Fort Worth. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Randolph of Skellytown.

She carried a white orchid with white carnations arranged atop a white Bible. On the orchid was a ribbon connected to the wedding ring of her grandmother. Miss Mary Mix Sheid served her sister as maid of honor wearing a yellow cotton-satin embroidered bodice and a cummerbund encircling the chiffon skirt. She carried a bouquet of yellow daisies and English ivy.

Hollis Rae Haynes, organist, played traditional wedding music. Miss Norretta Lovorn read Browning's "How Do I Love Thee?"

Chamber President States Women Are Assets To Economy

Phillip M. Talbot, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, says:

"When I was asked to write something for the very worthwhile occasion of National Business Women's Week, it suddenly occurred to me that the success of women in business and industry is no longer new."

"Simply to say that 'Miss or Mrs. Smith or Jones' has been promoted to an important position, while trying to make the point that this is remarkable because of the incumbent's sex, is almost absurd in these times."

"I am proud that my own field of retailing was among the very first to recognize the high potential of women in business. It was not the typewriter, which emancipated women, but the sales counter."

"A new study by the National Manpower Council significantly entitled, 'Womanpower,' notes that women have been gaining on men in many sectors of the economy."

"Not so long ago, the New York Stock Exchange reported that more than one-half of all stockholders are women, and the larger percentage held preferred stock. It may be that, in the long run we men will find we have been working for the ladies all along. I'm confident that this will not really come as news either. In brief, we have reached the point where it is possible and entirely natural for both men and women to accept women as executives, and as successful participants in our whole national economy. For this, the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, deserves much credit."

"Myself, and the Chamber of Commerce of the United States are happy to congratulate the Federation and to wish every success for this year's observance of NATIONAL BUSINESS WOMEN'S WEEK."

RUTH MILLETT

Somebody's darling daughter, age 15, thinks her parents don't trust her because they want to know where and with whom she goes out.

In her letter she says, "Most of the girls don't have such snooty parents."

Snooty is hardly a just word for parents who are concerned enough to want to keep track of where she is and who her friends are.

Loving could be a kinder and fairer word. Sometimes a teenager thinks that parents who let their children go and come as they please love and trust their children more than do stricter parents.

The reverse is true, of course. It's easy to turn a teen-ager loose, to feel no responsibility for what she does or what happens to her. It is much more difficult to try and guide a teen-ager through the difficult stage of growing up. Only parents who love their children try their hardest to help and guide them.

So don't, Miss 15, make any mistake about the reason for your parents' concern for your welfare and safety. They aren't being strict for their own enjoyment. They are only doing for you the things that you will thank them for when you are just a few years older.

If they loved you less they might take the easy course of letting you do as you please and taking the consequences of any mistakes you might make.

Instead, they are trying to make the road from childhood to adulthood less hazardous for you to travel.

ROLL-UPS

Let leftover meats become the feature of the evening in Roll-ups, a recipe from the new, Betty Crocker biscuit mix cook book. This quick easy and efficient way to use leftovers will leave the family asking for more.

Mix 2 cups chopped, cooked chicken, ham, veal, beef, lamb or sea food with about ½ cup gravy or white sauce. Make rolled biscuit dough. Roll into 18x9 inch rectangle. Spread with meat. Roll up beginning at wide side. Seal edges. Slice ½ inch thick. Place slices in well greased pan (close together for soft sides, apart for crusty sides). Bake 15 to 20 min. at 425 degrees. Serve with gravy or sauce. Makes 12.

Asthma and Hay Fever Relief Comes in Minutes ...and Lasts For Hours
Tiny Tablet Now Available Without Prescription!
 New York, N. Y. (Special)—Medical Science has developed a new, tiny tablet that not only stops asthma spasms, but brings relief to those who suffer from hay fever attacks. Authoritative tests proved this remarkable compound brings relief in minutes—and gives hours of freedom from recurrence of painful spasms.

This fast-acting formula is prescribed by doctors for their private patients who suffer from asthma or hay fever. And now sufferers can obtain this formula—without prescription—in tiny, easy-to-take tablets called Primatec.

Primatec opens bronchial tubes, loosens mucous congestion, relieves taut nervous tension, helps dry up nasal passages. All this without taking painful injections and without the inconvenience of nebulizers.

The secret is—Primatec combines 3 medicines (in full prescription strength) found most effective in combination for asthma and hay fever distress.

Exercise, neither overly-strenuous nor difficult, is the best way of getting and keeping a lovely figure. It's the only way to keep muscles elastic and body lines trim. Here, Hollywood actress Venetia Stevenson demonstrates three ways to a trim figure. She does a simple waist-twisting exercise (left) to whittle the midriff and keep bulges from accumulating. This can be done at odd moments during the day. Squatting exercise (center) is good for thigh line and back, helps develop poise and posture. Stretch exercise (right) prevents body slump and keeps you straight and tall. The actress finds this an easy exercise to do whenever she has a few spare minutes. Venetia Stevenson will next be seen in "Darby's Rangers."

Natural Antipathy Towards Exercise Prevents Attaining Trim Fitness

BY ALICIA HART
 NEA Beauty Editor

Most of us have a natural antipathy to exercise—possibly because it seems like a long, hard way to lose weight. It's a rough task to convince us that regular exercise is vital to our good looks and that weight reduction is not its primary purpose.

What we forget is that regular exercise makes us supple and graceful, firms muscles, and, above all, improves blood circulation. This last is more important than we realize, for it helps the body throw off waste and aids immeasurably in controlling weight.

Although regular exercise with out careful dieting may be a long-term way of over-all reduction, it certainly is a wonderful way to take care of spot problems such as heavy thighs and bulky waists.

And anyone who develops the habit will tell you how much better she feels because of it.

There is no need to go through a series of varied and difficult calisthenics each day. Just a few simple exercises are all you need to do. If you have unwanted bulges in certain places, be sure to include one exercise that will work toward eliminating them. If you are so fortunate as to be satisfied with your figure, devote about 10 or 15 minutes a day to those that will keep that figure limber.

Morning is a good time to exercise, for there is no better styer. And before you start, it's a good idea to stand before an open window and breathe deeply a few times.

To make regular exercising seem less of a chore, why not try it with radio or phonograph music? Remember, too, not to wear anything confining. Shorts and a halter, or even an old bathing suit are good for the purpose.

An old blanket placed on the floor is a good place to exercise. But if you feel like going out and buying an exercise mat, that's better still. When we've invested money in a project, our enthusiasm is not apt to dim so quickly.

I've used the term regular exercise. And regular is just what I mean. It takes only a few minutes each day, but carefully adhering to the routine is the trick that makes exercise the beauty wonder-worker it is.

Form the habit and don't skip even a day. You'll find that your figure will stay trim, you'll feel a glow of health and look prettier than you ever did before.

Win Today For Braves, A's May End Pennant Races

By CONNIE RYAN
United Press Sports Writer

This may be the last day of the 1937 major league pennant races—if Milwaukee and Kansas City win tonight, the final six days are simply for the formal records.

The New York Yankees, Chicago White Sox, Milwaukee Braves and St. Louis Cardinals all won single games Sunday, so the Yanks clinched at least a tie for the American League pennant, while the Braves held a five-game lead over the Cards with six games to go—and the Cards run into the Braves in a decisive three-game series starting tonight.

Yankees Need One

The Yankees, who are idle the next two days, need win only one game or the White Sox need lose only one to settle the AL flag.

The Chicago play at Kansas City tonight and at St. Louis, the strongly resented being called the Yankee "farm club," can win it for the Yanks by downing the Chicagoans.

Manager Fred Hutchinson named lefty Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell, who has won eight and lost 10, as the Cardinal starter in this "must-win" series from the Card point of view. The Braves, with a six-game winning streak and confident they will win their first flag since coming to the Midwest from Boston, named Lew Burdette (16-9) as their starter.

A'S Win Fourth

In yesterday's games, the Yanks beat Boston 5-1, when Red Sox pitchers walked four runs home in the sixth inning; the White Sox stayed "alive" by taking Cleveland, 9-5; Baltimore defeated Washington, 6-5; and Kansas City ran its winning streak to four straight by beating Detroit twice, 4-3 and 2-1.

Milwaukee went 10 innings to beat the pesky Chicago Cubs, 9-7; the tenacious Cards came from behind to trip the Cincinnati Reds, 7-5; Brooklyn beat the Phillies, 7-3; and Pittsburgh happily accepted four unearned runs to defeat the New York Giants, 5-1.

AAAA Top Teams Give Direct Comparison Of Power Friday

By UNITED PRESS
Corpus Christi Ray and Amarillo the two one-team Texas schoolboy football's Class AAAA ranks get a direct comparison of their strength this week, but the top game in the state will send Ray to Baytown against the fifth-ranked Ganders.

The comparison of the two top-rated outfits will come when Amarillo hits the road to meet San Angelo, a team that Ray blanked 27-0 last week end in upholding its No. 1 ranking.

Ray leaves home for the first time this week, too, having to play Baytown on the latter's home field, but that shouldn't be too much of a handicap unless the Ganders can show more punch than they did in easing by frustration Port Arthur last week.

These two contests are the standouts of the 101 game schedule involving the teams in the AAAA and AAA divisions, but there are several others of more than passing interest.

Defending state champion Abilene, for instance, puts its No. 3 rating and a 39-game winning streak on the line against Lubbock Monterey.

And, Austin's Maroons, ranked ninth, can compare themselves to Abilene when they take on San Antonio Jefferson, a team that Abilene whipped 26-13 two weeks back.

Terminated Dallas Sunset plays Dallas Hillcrest, the team that defeated Garland's high ranking in AAA circles.

Wichita Falls, which was pushing Abilene for No. 3 rank this time last week, will be idle licking its wounds after being knocked off by Breckenridge.

In AAA, top-rated Nederland catches Beaumont South Park, second-rated Graham will be idle, third-rated Port Neches plays troublesome Lufkin, fourth-rated Kilgore entertains Fort Worth Brewer and fifth-ranked San Antonio Edison meets McAllen.

Tonight's Wrestling

A six-man tag team match will highlight the Sportman Club wrestling tonight as Great Bolo, Art Nelson and Sky Low Low battle Red Funk, Country Boy and Dory Feather. The main event will go two out of three falls, limited to one hour.

In the second event, John Tollas will grapple Danny O'Shocker in another two-out-of-three fall struggle, with a 45-minute time limit.

Sky Low Low will be pitted against Red Feather in the curtain-raiser, which is scheduled to go one fall or 20 minutes.

The wrestling, sponsored by the Pampa Shriners, will begin at 8:30. Admission is $1.50 for ring-side; $1.25 for reserved seats; 90 cents for general admission adult and 50 cents for general admission children. The Sportman Club is located one mile south of town on the Lefors Highway.

Bisons To Little World Series

(International League)
MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 23 (UPI)—The Buffalo Bisons are en route to Denver and the little world series today as the International League's new champions.

The Bisons won the governor's cup playoffs, defeating Miami in the best-of-seven series, four games to one. The clinching game Sunday when Glenn Cox held the Marlins to eight hits as Buffalo won, 7-1. The Bisons had previously defeated Richmond, four games to two, in the semi-finals.

Denver, representing the American association, earned its berth by whipping Minneapolis in four straight games and St. Paul in six.

This will be Buffalo's first Little World Series appearance since 1936. Denver will be making its first series appearance.

Sporting Old Timers Are All Emerging With Top Honors

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, (UP)—If you see an old guy striding along kind of perkily today it's because in the sporting world, where the premium is supposed to be on youth, father time and three of his friends seem to be walking backwards.

They would be:

Casey (You're only as old as you feel) Stengel.

Fred (Never contradict your elders) Haney.

Archibald (Age before beauty) Moore.

And all the evidence isn't in yet. Because the way things are going, sometime tonight Ray (Children should be seen, not heard) Robinson figures in our creaking set to give a lesson in fistic manners to a sprout named Carmen Basilio. Moore, who admits to 41, started off "Old Man's Week" by slashing away 22-year-old Tony Anthony on Friday night to retain his world light heavyweight championship. It was, as they say in the first inning, only the beginning.

Corks Can Pop

Because tonight there can be champagne corks popping all around Stengel, Haney and Robinson. In the case of the first two gents, the celebration may have to be delayed a day or so, but ultimate triumph is his sure as rain during your vacation.

Stengel, who pulls the strings on a group known as the New York Yankees, could sit idly by and have the American League championship drop in his lap tonight or tomorrow. His second platoon—known as the Kansas City Athletics—can do this little chore by beating the second-place Chicago White Sox.

Otherwise, Case will wind it up for himself Wednesday against the Baltimore Orioles. At that time one of his "kids," 40-year-old Sam Maglie should be ready. Old Sal, who hobbled over from Brooklyn, already has won two and saved three and given all the youngsters on the staff time to rest.

This is the eighth pennant in nine years for the 66-year-old Stengel. But Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox couldn't hardly have been expected to beat him. After all, Al's only 49.

Over in the National League, Haney's Milwaukee Braves can wind it up tonight by defeating the second-place St. Louis Cardinals. Needing only to win one in the three game series, the Braves would seem to be "in" as easily as Old Fearless usually puts his foot in his mouth.

Haney Has Edge

Yet Fred Hutchinson of the St. Louis Cardinals shouldn't be criticized. This week, he's a dead duck. Hutch is hardly past 38. Haney has a tremendous edge the way things are going because he's 58.

The "Youth Will Tell" brigade is betting most of its chips on Basilio tonight as he tries to knock the middleweight crown off Robinson's elderly brow. Save your money, kids, the die is cast and old guy eyes are on the march. How can Basilio, only 30, hope to contend with a man seven or possibly eight years older?

Truth be known, it isn't all fish

SW Begins Glittering Intersectional Record

By ED FITE
United Press Sports Writer

The Southwest Conference's glittering intersectional record, built up on six victories and a tie on last week's opening program, seems destined to gather a bit of tarnish this week on the faraway sods at Atlanta, Ga. and Columbus, Ohio.

The remainder of the conference teams appear capable of staying on the victory side of the ledger this week, but Southern Methodist and Texas Christian will be firm underdogs against Georgia Tech and Ohio State, respectively.

Texas A&M should have little trouble giving all hands game experience against Texas Tech at Lubbock and the same pattern should be in vogue for Arkansas against Tulsa at Fayetteville.

Baylor might find itself being extended a bit, but should handle Houston at Waco, while Texas should be able to capitalize on the experience gained in beating Georgia last week to handle Tulane at Austin in the other game on the card. Rice will be idle.

SMU, which has made a habit of losing close ones to Georgia Tech in recent years, probably has a better chance than TCU of springing an upset.

The Methodists, unveiling an unexpectedly strong second unit in a fine compilation to newcomer Coach Bill Meek's stern coaching tactics, showed surprising offensive and defensive strength in handling the Big Bears of California 13-6 last week. And, Tech is

Basilio Carries 3-2 Odds In Bout With Sugar Ray

By JACK CUDDY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, (UP)—Welterweight champion Carmen Basilio is a solid 3-2 favorite to wrest the middleweight crown from Sugar Ray Robinson tonight in their modernistic ring spectacular at Yankee stadium.

Anticipated late support for 37-year-old Sugar Ray failed to materialize before weigh-in time today.

Despite the smaller stadium crowd, tonight's scheduled 15-rounder at 10:30 p.m. (e.d.t.) will be witnessed by more paying spectators than any previous attraction in history—sports or otherwise. Through the help of electronics, the fight will be shown on screens in 178 theaters in 135 cities in the United States and Canada, with more than 310,000 seats available. Sale of those seats could approximate $1,800,000.

Thanks to theatre TV tonight's battle of champions between slender, debonair Robinson, 37, and raw-boned, fist-scarred Basilio, 30-year-old ruler of the welterweight division, will not be televised to homes by radio (NBC) in the United States, Canada, Hawaii and some Latin American countries.

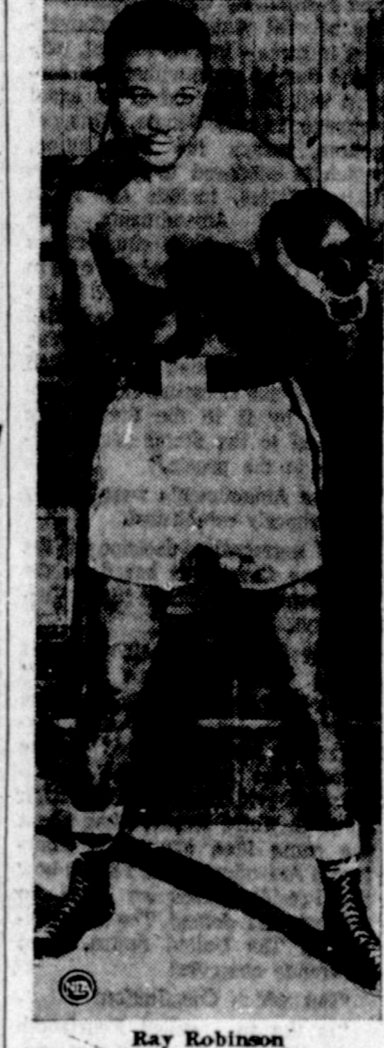

Thanks to theatreTV tonight's bout will be the richest in the careers of Robinson, the flamboyant New Yorker, and Basilio of Chiltanango, N.Y., the somewhat shy son of an onion farmer.

The betting, in which Basilio has been favored ever since the match was signed on June 28, apparently was more affected by Carmen's seven-year edge in youth than by Robinson's weight advantage of approximately eight pounds.

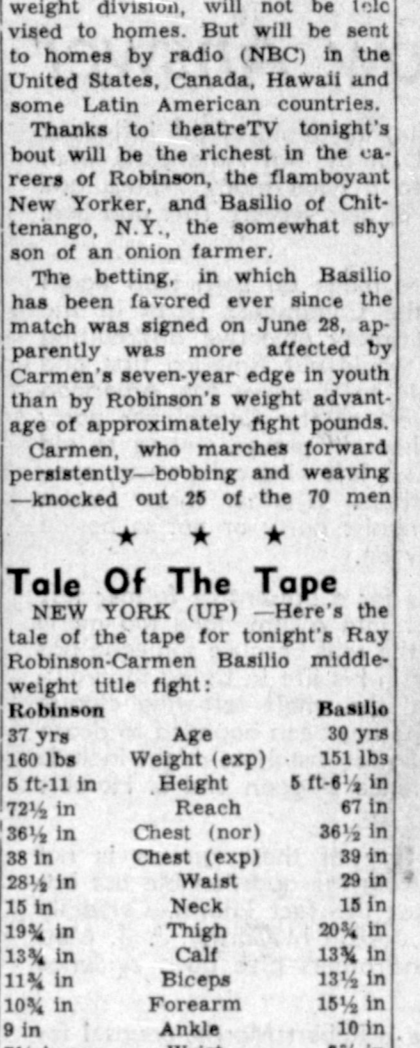

Carmen, who marches forward persistently—bobbing and weaving—knocked out 25 of the 70 men he met since he turned professional nine years ago. He won 51 bouts, lost 12 and had seven draws. He twice won the welterweight (147-pound) title, most recently on a ninth-round knockout over Johnny Saxton, Sept. 12, 1936.

Sugar Ray, who holds the record for winning the middleweight (160-pound) crown four times, will be making his first defense since he recaptured it from Gene Fullimer on a fifth-round knockout at Chicago last May 1.

Harvesters Begin Preparation For Tilt With Midland Bulldogs

The Pampa Harvesters begin today practicing for their Friday night game with the Midland Bulldogs, to be in Harvester Park at 8 p.m. Pampa now stands for the season at one win and one loss, having been downed by Austin, El Paso, 27-7 and defeating Arlington Heights of Fort Worth, 7-6.

Midland lost its Friday night tilt with the Palo Duro Dons 13-2.

Through last Friday's game, the Harvesters remained in the lead in most departments over the totals of their opposition. In yards rushing, Pampa rolled up 340 in the two games against 273 for the opposing teams. In first downs the Harvesters lead with 24 to 17 scored against them.

In passing, Pampa has a 222 completion average for a total of 45 yards, while allowing the opponents a 566 completion average for 46 yards.

Following the Midland game, the Harvesters will journey to Wichita Falls to meet the Coyotes, who though previously top-ranked, dropped to Breckenridge Friday night 20-6.

Lefties Know Answer

It is interesting to note, we think, of the influence that is still being carried on by two Americans who, during their lives, suffered a good many "slings and arrows." We are thinking of Sen. Robert Taft and Sen. Joseph McCarthy.

The attacks that were made on both men again point up the fact that the Communist party in the United States has as a primary objective discrediting and destroying those who would put America first and the efforts of these people to preserve the American tradition. And in this effort of the Communist party there are all too many "liberal" groups willing to aid and abet, groups that include left wing columnists, commentators, editors and others. Whether these people meaningly help the Communist party or not is beside the point—help them they do.

All that is required is for a present or former left wing public official to get into a jam, take too many sleeping pills or jump off the roof because someone has referred to previous events in his life in trying to evaluate his present status and the whole left-wing clique breaks into a chorus that he has been hounded to death or assassinated by smear. So for instances might include Harry Dexter White, Lawrence Duggan and E. Herbert Norman.

And inevitably the fury of these groups is not against the person committing the questionable act but against the one who makes the fact known. Certainly Martin Dies, Robert Taft, Joseph McCarthy, J. B. Matthews, Robert Stripling and others give good evidence that this is so.

The latest in this line is Robert Morris, counsel for the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, who developed information which was previously known about Mr. Norman during his student days in our country. At the time of his death Mr. Norman occupied a very sensitive position for the Canadian government in the Middle East. In all of the furor that his death caused the left wingers were not the least interested in getting at the facts but in doing their best to see to it that Morris was attacked and discharged.

Why presumably patriotic Americans should lean over backward to be protective towards so many people who have been engaged in a long line of questionable activities and bad associations, and at the same time be so quick to vent their fury against patriotic Americans who are trying to protect our country, is a mystery that only these people can solve.

'Low Tax' States

If taxes are to become the major differences between states, then certain of the sovereign forty-eight are going to become more desirable places to live than others. If taxes right now posed the only important difference in living and working condition, which states would be most desirable?

We'd have to begin with three, which top the nation in respect to low taxes. These three are Texas, Nebraska and New Jersey. Nebraska has no retail sales tax at all, nor does it have a state income tax. Further, until mid-September of this year it will not even have a state tax on cigarettes and its tax on gasoline is small. Beginning with mid-September, Nebraska will have a 4 cent tax on cigarettes and a 7 cent tax on gasoline.

New Jersey ranks right along with this, having neither a sales nor a state income tax, a 5 cent tax on cigarettes and a 4 cent tax on gasoline.

Texas comes out of this competition mighty fine, with neither a state income nor a sales tax, 5 cents per pack of cigarettes and 5 cents per gallon of gasoline.

There are, in addition to Nebraska, New Jersey and Texas, 13 other states which have no state income tax. They are Wyoming, West Virginia, Washington, South Dakota, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Nevada, Michigan, Maine, Illinois, Florida and Connecticut. However, to offset this favorable climate in the income tax field, all of these states levy a sales tax, ranging from 2 per cent in Wyoming, West Virginia, South Dakota and Nevada, to 3 per cent in most other states and 3½ per cent in the State of Washington.

There are 12 states in addition to New Jersey, Nebraska and Texas which have no state sales taxes but do have a state income tax. These states are: Delaware, Idaho, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Montana, New Hampshire, New York, Oregon, Vermont, Virginia, and Wisconsin. Of these, New Hampshire and Massachusetts lead off as the most desirable, having income taxes relating solely to dividends and interest and business incomes. Incomes of private workers are not taxed in either of these states.

As taxes continue to rise in all areas, the business of avoiding taxes wherever possible becomes more and more acute. If you are planning to move, this information, which has been provided by "Changing Times," the Kiplinger publication, becomes important.

It might be wise to procure a copy of this magazine, the August, 1957, issue, so that you may compare all of the various states to see where taxes are the least oppressive. Meanwhile, for our vote, we'd still have to nominate either Texas, New Jersey or Nebraska, as the best place to live and work in the United States on the basis of state taxes.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. Holmes

"Which Constitution?"

Since the people of the United States have been requested to honor the Constitution of the United States Sept. 17 it might be well to try to better understand what the Constitution actually means.

The conflict between Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas and President Eisenhower attempting to enforce the ruling of the Supreme Court on segregation brings up the question of whether the Constitution of the United States establishes a nation that disregards the Constitution of the states or whether it establishes a union of separate states.

Certainly the Constitution of the United States includes the amendments that were legally established and ratified by three-fourths of the several states or by convention in three-fourths thereof, provided that no state without its consent will be deprived of its equal suffrage in the Senate. This, of course, makes the Constitution, which is supposed to govern the United States, include the Ninth and Tenth Amendments. The Ninth specifies, "The enumeration in the Constitution of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people." The Tenth, "The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people."

These Amendments were legally and properly established.

The segregation decision of the Supreme Court was based on the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution.

James Jackson Kilpatrick, in his book, "The Sovereign States," points out very clearly that the Fourteenth Amendment was never really legally adopted in the manner set forth in the Constitution. David Lawrence, in "U.S. News & World Report" has about the same idea about the Fourteenth Amendment. He relates how the President took an oath to support and defend the Constitution of the United States. Then Lawrence observes:

"But which Constitution? Is the so-called Fourteenth Amendment, under which 'integration' is being forced today upon an unwilling population in the South, really a valid part of the Constitution?"

"The Southern States, after the war was over, ratified the Thirteenth Amendment abolishing slavery and this was accepted as legal by the Federal Government. Yet when the same legislatures in the South subsequently assembled lawfully and rejected in due form a proposed Fourteenth Amendment, all Southern members of Congress were deprived of their seats in the Senate and the House. Federal troops were ordered to take charge of these State legislatures. Puppet legislatures finally did 'ratify' under duress.

"The Supreme Court in the last 89 years has never ventured in a single instance to decide the issue of whether this 'ratification' was actually lawful.

"Why, therefore, are some of us so explicit and eloquent nowadays in sanctifying the phrase—the 'supreme law of the land'—as requiring compliance with the vague and undefined edicts of a Supreme Court that has plainly disregarded the illegality of the so-called Fourteenth Amendment?"

"Where in the Constitution is there any delegation of power to the Federal Government to put in jail parents who wish to persuade other parents to refrain from sending their children to mixed schools? Yet federal injunctions today seek to coerce these citizens and deprive them of their right to speak freely as guaranteed under the First Amendment of the Constitution."

Mr. Kilpatrick, in the book referred to above, brings up the same subject when he declares, "...that nowhere in Article III (of the United States Constitution) is the Court given jurisdiction over controversies between a State and the United States. That proposal was specifically advanced during the convention, and specifically rejected."

In pointing out that this is a union of states rather than a nation, Kilpatrick writes: "Finally, we may note in Article IV the provision for admitting new States 'into this Union' (not this Nation, but this Union)."

Then, discussing what the supreme law of the land is, he observes: "... Three things. First, 'this Constitution.' Secondly, 'laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof.' Third, treaties made 'under the authority of the United States.' That is all. No executive orders of the President. Not even judgments of the Supreme Court. The Constitution, the laws made in pursuance thereof, the treaties."

This move of increasing the power of the federal government and decreasing the supremacy of the states and of the people is the way all governments have, in the past, become more oppressive and tyrannical.

Reuther Tries To Expel Beck-Hoffa Teamsters

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Walter P. Reuther is the main man behind the movement to expel the Beck-Hoffa Teamsters' Union from the AFL-CIO organization. In fact, he is suspected by labor colleagues of supplying damaging evidence to the McClellan Committee. His anti-Beck is credited to his ambition to succeed George L. Meany as head of the parent body.

Although they have no special affection for the head of the Automobile Workers' Union — in fact, they dislike him and resent his aspirations in the labor and political field — David J. McDonald of the steelworkers and James B. Carey of the Electrical Union sympathize with Reuther's prejudice toward the teamsters' hierarchy. These are three of the most powerful units in the AFL-CIO.

PROBLEMS OF UNION LEADERS — It is not only the scandalous practices of Beck and Hoffa, as revealed by the McClellan Committee, which influence Reuther, McDonald and Carey, all of whom would like to succeed Meany. The three know that the Teamsters' Union's delegates, if controlled by Beck or Hoffa, will never vote for them to head the AFL-CIO.

There is also the serious, bread-and-butter problem of jurisdictional disputes and rivalries, which have prevented the AFL-CIO from becoming a real and operation merger at lower and local levels. It is not a united body of workmen. It is only a paper and headline coalition.

The teamsters insist on the right to organize the maintenance men — and there are many thousands of them in the automobile, steel and electrical industries — which employ Hoffa-Beck truck drivers.

Another group resentful of this demand are the Building Trades' Union, which naturally has to rely on Hoffa-Beck drivers for normal operations, and especially in support of a strike on a specific job.

But the four anti-Hoffa groups insist on the industrial union idea advanced by John L. Lewis when he organized the CIO. That is, that workers in an automobile, steel, electrical or building trades plant or industry should be affiliated with those respective unions, not with the teamsters.

POWER AND POLITICS — Thus, there are four powerful and dominating unions which have a selfish and political reason for expelling the offending teamsters at the forthcoming AFL-CIO convention.

It was only after he had consulted with Reuther, McDonald, Carey and building trades' officials that Meany issued his recent anti-Hoffa blast. It has been interpreted as a warning that Hoffa's election, as well as generous pensions to the discredited Beck, will result in expulsion.

DREAD PROSPECT OF BEING OUTLAWED — Faced with this array of AFL-CIO enemies, even Hoffa and Beck dread the prospect of being outlawed as the day of decision nears. They do not want to be branded as greedy, untrustworthy labor leaders by their own colleagues, and to be deprived of the legal rights and privileges granted them by Roosevelt-Truman

DRONES BEHIND THE CURTAIN

(N.Y. Daily News)

To hear Communists tell it, everybody in a Communist Country owns everything, and therefore everybody works happily for the general welfare. A couple of current news items throw a weird light on this contention.

For one, Red China's government is squeezing 300,000 "unproductive persons" out of Canton.

For another, Soviet Russia is setting up a system under which able-bodied drones, loafers, malingers and black marketeers will be tried at meetings of their fellow villagers or townsmen and deported to other areas for from two to five years when found guilty.

All of which would indicate that Milovan Djilas, Tito's onetime pal now in a Tito clink, says a mouthful in his book, "The New Class," recently reviewed here.

Djilas claims that actually the Communist minority owns everything in a Communist state, and that the big dispossessed non-Red majority therefore considers it only right and proper to steal, chisel, graft and slow down in every feasible way. That, adds Djilas, is the main reason why Communism is a flop and always will be.

MORE $$$ FOR NEHRU?

(New York Daily News)

India's Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru lets fall a broad hint that he'd like the United States to bail him out of his latest financial troubles with a loan of $500-600 million.

This character already has accepted considerable help from Soviet Russia, is reported negotiating more, and habitually favors Moscow over Washington in international disputes. Do we want any more Titos in our headline? Isn't one enough?

Besides, Nehru's India now has one big state — Kerala — with a Communist government, and there is no visible guarantee that

Mac Shakes His Fist At Radio Moscow

By HENRY McEMORE

ROME — Radio Moscow has a girl or her colleague could be Russian broadcast in English that comes on around midnight over here, and I wish to goodness never had discovered it on my portable.

I found it by accident. I was easing the dial around in search of the Armed Forces Network, which seems to share the same wavelength with half the operative tenors in Italy, when the announcement "This is Radio Moscow" came booming out loud and clear.

If the station really is in Moscow, then it must be a million-watt one, for the program is static-free and sounds as if the studio was no more than a pizza-width away. With every other program in Italy you get hums, crackles, pops and zizzles, but not with Radio Moscow.

The news broadcast is handled by a man and a woman. First one talks and then the other — and you shouldn't need but one try to guess what makes up 90 per cent of their subject matter. For better part of the hour they attack the United States without let-up, and manage to accuse our country of every crime from shoplifting to piracy on the high seas.

The victims of Uncle Sam are every country in the world. To hear the Russian announcers tell it, the United States spends its entire time plotting the ruination of all peoples, from Albanians to Zanzibarians. I say "Russian announcers" but I don't believe either the

Giants Face Legal Problems In Move

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

SAN FRANCISCO — Florida Southern College, at Lakeland, Fla., offers a foible called the school of baseball administration. This is a short-course in the legalistic whipsaws of the solemn absurdity called the American national game. It has been known to disabuse young minds of a rosy illusion that baseball is a joyous rite with a minimum of sordid materialism. The current thrust and parry between the New York Giants and the official governing body of the Pacific Coast League provide a classical case for this year's matriculants at Florida Southern. For that matter, the lawsuits impending here over financial rights to the monopoly of the San Francisco territory may ultimately out-clamor and out-smell the ugly plots of the old-time Tammany shysters who established the Giants, the Dodgers and the multi-million dollar tradition of the World Series.

The Coast League threatens to sue the Giants for jumping the local territorial claim of the San Francisco Seals. Except for minor details, the Coast League has a similar suit ready for filing against the Brooklyn Dodgers for invading Coast League territory in Los Angeles, if and when Brooklyn does "invade." Baseball law is promulgated by the governing body of this commerce, known as the National Association of Professional Baseball Clubs. All leagues and clubs that job organized professional ball agree to submit to those rules. They provide that a major league club may "draft" capture by invasion, any exclusive territory of any minor league club, provided that the invader offer just compensation.

The Coast League claims, however, that the arbiters of that compensation would be partial to the National League and the Giants. Therefore, the Coast League will refuse to abide by the law of baseball and will go to the public courts with a suit for damages. The Coast League will attack the jurisdiction of the National Association over great financial rights which are at stake in the smaller cities of the Coast League. They are Seattle, Portland, Vancouver, Hollywood, San Diego and Sacramento. With San Francisco gone, the league is reduced to a spectral memory. The plaintiffs will adduce many claims, expressed unwarily in happier days by magnates of the Seals, that San Francisco is the greatest minor league city of all. This is debatable, for the attendance in this year has been modest with a champion team and the weather is classified by practical showmen as bad. Many nights are cold and foggy and many of the customers who attend in daytime, even in summer, carry blankets and thermos bottles.

However, San Francisco certainly is "major league" in all cultural things and is, incidentally, the center of a strange development which has splattered the region with banks. The proposition has been established by law that persons who pay their bills in ordinary money invite suspicion of criminal guilt. So even bums in bars by drinks by check all over this region. A little less than one per cent of the gross business bounces. The congestion of western prisons is due substantially to this.

The proprietor of the Seals is the Boston Red Sox, a major league firm. The Red Sox' management has been strangely a u b m i s i v e under invasion by the Giants. Walter Mails, a retired major league pitcher, with elaborate courtesy guided me through the Seals' park, of which he is grand custodian, on an off-day recently. The management takes extraordinary pride in the luxurious appointments of the ladies' retiring rooms, one for customers, the other for female customers. In the absence of woman-kind this day, Mr. Mails swept doors open, tested plumbing and demanded whether I had ever seen a better ladies' rooms anywhere. He said nothing about the club's franchise, however.

The Boston club will submit and accept the compensation which is agreed upon. But the Coast League will have an interest at stake, for without San Francisco the other franchises lose gate receipts and property values. So the league will sue even though the Red Sox submit. The same may be said as to Los Angeles if Brooklyn "invades" there. Brooklyn owns the Angels' franchise and so will submit to it, but, again, the Coast League will resist.

Speculation casts an eye on Phoenix and Salt Lake City, but with little gusto in either case. Phoenix is a red hot town for soft-ball played by females with garish getup and nice appointments. Salt Lake is just too bush.

The president of the Coast League is Leslie O'Connor, who long served as assistant to the czar, Judge K. M. Landis, in the office of the National Commission. He is a lawyer in the public law days; in the best authorities that San Francisco is the greatest minor league city of all. This is debatable, for the attendance in this year has been modest with a

DO YOU WANT A HOME

THE HOME OF PAMPA GARAGE AND SALVAGE, 511 HUFF RD., 1 block west and 1/2 block south of Oiler Park, MO 5-5831. The new, larger lot enables Pampa Garage to give you the savings from greater volume, lower rents. Here you save even more than before—here you get used auto and truck parts that work like new parts, yet cost half or less than half the prices of new parts, yet cost half or less than half the prices of new parts. The stock includes parts from all late model cars, '49 to '55, like motors, generators, clutches, accessories, glass and thousands of others. To get your savings—with satisfaction guaranteed if the part is installed correctly—come to Pampa Garage, 511 Huff Rd., just off Highway 60.

You Can Save More At Enlarged Pampa Garage And Salvage Company

There now are 6 times the room and 4 times the number of parts at Pampa Garage and Salvage, 511 Huff Rd., just off Highway 60 and 1 block west and 1/2 block south of Oiler Park. Phone MO 5-5831.

This larger location enables Pampa Garage to handle more cars, to lower prices and to pass on to you the savings made from greater volume and lower rent.

On the lot now Pampa Garage has more than 325 late model cars, models produced from 1949 through 1957.

Silled mechanics of Pampa Garage work with Lee Roy McBride, owner and operator, to remove, clean and classify parts from automobiles.

Low Prices, Guarantees

These parts work as well as new ones, yet cost only half as much or less!

For example: new mufflers at wholesale prices. These auto parts, which work like new ones, bring you the savings and this guarantee: satisfaction if they are installed correctly.

Pampa Garage is open for your convenience from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. week days and is open Sunday.

Late Models

Parts available include those for all late model cars up through 1955 models. Selections include all parts: motors, transmissions, rear ends, wheels, tires, starters, bearings, generators, clutches, radios accessories — plus thousands of other parts.

McBride a skilled mechanic, and other mechanics remove parts from recently purchased cars, clean the parts, paint and identify them for resale.

For real savings get Pampa

Garage prices on tail pipes, gears and all other parts, and on windshields, windows, door glass. Every one is priced to move fast.

Buys Cars

McBride has been a resident of Pampa for over 20 years, and has been in the automobile business for the past 13 years. For more than a dozen years, he has operated Pampa Garage and Salvage.

His civic activities include work with boys in the Pampa Elks Club, of which he is past exalted ruler.

Pampa Garage and Salvage buys used automobiles and wrecked and burned cars. Call MO 5-5831 for your best price when you sell.

Come here first and save when you want parts for your car or truck. Pampa Garage and Salvage, 511 Huff Road, 1 block west and 1/2 block south of Oiler Park, MO 5-5831.

"Ain't no Max lives here—you got the wrong number; get it right!"

"He was annoyed," said our man, hanging up. The three took 15 minutes to finish the house drinks, and then our man said: "Now I will demonstrate exasperation."

He dialed the same number, got the same fellow: "Is Max there?" "Look you crazy out," the man shouted. "I told you there ain't no Max here. Cut out calling me, Buster, or I'll call the cops. Now get lost."

The three had another round on the house. "And now," said our man, please step over and I will show you frenzy."

He called the same number, heard the same voice answer, and upon our man asked: "Is Max there?" "This is Max. Are there any messages for me?"

Arguments On The English Language Getting Common

By DOC QUIGG

United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—What with societies, television programs, books, magazines, and various calculated rump movements at work on the problem of what the English language means when it says something, it is no wonder that arguments on the subject are getting as common as those about politics, sports, or the rectitude of scandal magazines.

The care and codding of the language has moved into the market place, the pulpit, and even, alas, the saloon, where once a man could drink his fill and say what he thought.

Nowadays he's in danger of being told that he may think he said what he thought but that actually if he had thought what he would say before he said it. Oh, well, anyhow the word he used was not the right one.

Three Gents Argue

And so it was, the story goes.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Roney, Phillips, are the parents of a boy weighing 9 lb. 5 1/2 oz., born at 3:30 p.m. Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Gipson, 1104 Seneca Lane, are the parents of a girl born at 7:30 a.m. Sunday, weighing 6 lb. 10 1/2 oz.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hopkins, Pampa, are the parents of a girl weighing 7 lb. 13 oz., born at 9:16 a.m. Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cole, 417 Purviance, are the parents of a girl born at 2:03 a.m. Sunday, weighing 7 lb. 5 oz.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Malone, 218 E. Francis, are the parents of a girl weighing 6 lb. 14 oz., born at 7:08 a.m. Sunday.

three gents got talking in a local bar one fuzzy evening and gradually got onto a loud dictionary. They talk about the niceties of word - turning got so boisterous that they were drowning out the juke box, a sin that finally made the bartender do a slow but white-hot burn.

"Gentlemen," he said, "please be so kind as to lower your voices below a bellow or I shall become so unhappy that I shall be obliged to escort each of you by the seat of the pants off the premises."

"Look, Gus," said one of the men, "that would be drastic action and you should not say you would be unhappy. What you mean is that you would be annoyed."

"Gus is Annoyed"

"No," said the second arguer, "I think what he meant to say was that he would be exasperated."

"You don't precisely have it," said the third. "To throw to the three of us, he'd need to be frenzied."

"What's the difference?" said Gus. "I say I'd be unhappy, and I say you'd be out on the street."

"Difference?" said the third man. "I will demonstrate the difference with a practical illustration if the house will kindly stop."

"Proceed," said the bartender, setting up three drinks.

"Let us first examine an example of annoyance," said the third man, and he led the group to the phone book, fingered a number, and called it.

They Seek Max

A sleepy male voice answered and our man asked: "Is Max there?" "Ain't no Max lives here—you

Davis Electric Keeps Address 26 Years

Davis Electric Company of 119 W. Foster is unique in the fact that it is Pampa's oldest electrical firm, and that it has remained at the same address for 26 of its 30 years of existence.

The firm was established in 1927 a few doors down the street from its present location, and it's present owner-partner, Mr. Robert (Bob) Burns was employed by the company in 1929. The business was moved to its present location in 1931.

Mr. Burns became a partner in the business in 1944 and purchased it outright in 1952. He then operated as sole owner until September 1954 when his son, Don Burns, was taken into the firm as a full partner. Mrs. Jessie Burns, wife of Mr. Burns Senior, fulfills the duties of office manager.

Davis Electric Company functions as general electrical contractors but they also specialize in house wiring and rewiring, overall electrical repairing and maintenance, and have a complete appliance repair department. They take pride in the fact that over the years their business and reputation have been built upon a policy of providing the highest type of service, materials and workmanship. No job will be turned out unless it is in absolute compliance with the National Electrical Code.

Adequate stocks of repair parts for most appliances are kept in the appliance repair department, and on the sales floor are large stocks of lamps, fixtures and electrical accessories of all types.

Strain Causes Wear

All these front end angles are interrelated. If one angle is just slightly out of line, it has a tendency to disrupt all the others and to put additional strain on every part of the front end system.

When the strain continues too long it results in abnormal wear of these parts. When parts are worn badly they become loose. Then it is almost impossible to keep the car properly aligned.

Hitting curbs and chuck holes too hard probably are the most common causes of misalignment. Often knee action units are knocked back and the wheels drag of scuff. Then tires quickly wear out.

Pampa Couple Buys Family Insurance Plan

Frank F. Fata, district manager in Amarillo for the Equitable Life Assurance Society, has announced that Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Hulleader, 1522 Williston, have become the first Pampa residents to sign up for Equitable's new "family style" method of insurance planning.

"The Hulleaders are keeping pace with one of the most important developments in recent life insurance history," Fata said in a statement. "The Equitable plan insures them both, as well as their six children, under one policy and for one premium."

Hulleader is associated with the Columbian Carbon Company. The Hulleader children are Haywood, Jr., 15 Jeffrey Don, 13 Debra, 6 Vicki, 5, and Nita Jean and Nina Joe twins age 4.

E. L. "Smiley" Henderson of 419 East Foster, was the life underwriter who sold the policy to the Hulleaders. He became associated with the Equitable in May of this year and has his office in his home, 419 East Foster.

GERMANS LOSING JOBS

HEIDELBERG, Germany (UP)—More than 450 German employees of the U.S. Army are expected to lose their jobs in the next five months due to budget limitations, Army headquarters today reported. Army officials expressed regret at the action and said they would do everything possible to find the released employees new jobs.

got the wrong number; get it right!"

"He was annoyed," said our man, hanging up. The three took 15 minutes to finish the house drinks, and then our man said: "Now I will demonstrate exasperation."

He dialed the same number, got the same fellow: "Is Max there?" "Look you crazy out," the man shouted. "I told you there ain't no Max here. Cut out calling me, Buster, or I'll call the cops. Now get lost."

The three had another round on the house. "And now," said our man, please step over and I will show you frenzy."

He called the same number, heard the same voice answer, and upon our man asked: "Is Max there?" "This is Max. Are there any messages for me?"

Hukill & Son Service Helps You To Smoother Auto Ride

Your smoother, more economical automobile ride starts at Hukill & Son Automotive Electric Service, 315 W. Foster, MO 4-6111.

Hukill has the Bear Machines that help take the bumps out of your ride. Machines include the big Bear Telaliner, Front End Aligner, Bear Wheel Balancer, Bear Tire Truer.

Hukill's Bear Aligner is the only machine of its kind in the Pampa Area. D. L. "Cooie" Sanders, front end man, uses it with other equipment to save time and labor bills for you.

All Interrelated

Wheel alignment is the system of interrelated angles of the axles, wheels, tire and component parts thereof to permit easy steering, safety and freedom from tire and front end parts wear.

Your car steers straight and turns corners without causing front wheels to slip sideways because all the wheels, axles and other front end parts are set at various angles, all interrelated.

When any of these angles are disturbed through wear, bad bumps or accidents the wheels may be thrown out of adjustment so that they no longer roll true, but rather drag or scuff. This dragging and scuffing causes tires to wear.

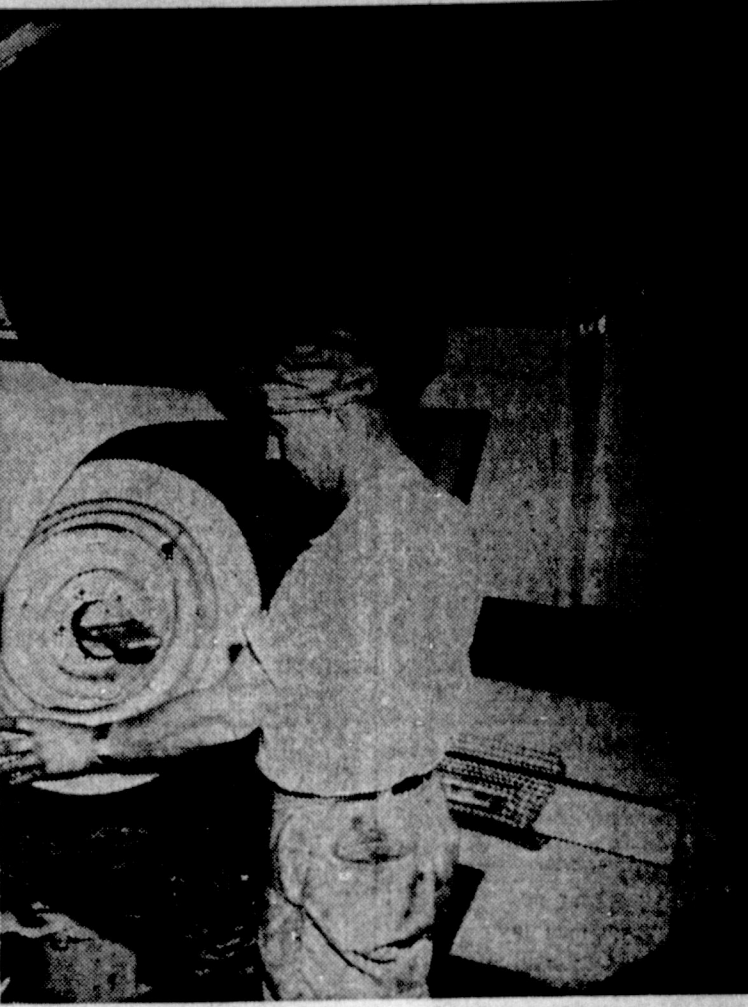

A tire dragging sideways — only 30 to 50 feet a mile — is having the tread scrubbed off just as much as if you were slicing it off with a big knife.

Strain Causes Wear

All these front end angles are interrelated. If one angle is just slightly out of line, it has a tendency to disrupt all the others and to put additional strain on every part of the front end system.

When the strain continues too long it results in abnormal wear of these parts. When parts are worn badly they become loose. Then it is almost impossible to keep the car properly aligned.

Hitting curbs and chuck holes too hard probably are the most common causes of misalignment. Often knee action units are knocked back and the wheels drag of scuff. Then tires quickly wear out.

MAKING ONE CHECK ON FRONT END ALIGNMENT — Front End Man D. L. "Cooie" Sanders makes one of his checks on the front end alignment of this car. Checks like this and with the big Bear Telaliner save you by cutting repairs, tire costs and by giving you better driving. Mechanics at Hukill & Son, 315 W. Foster, MO 4-6111, use the latest Bear equipment to help you to a better auto ride. Hukill & Son is tune up headquarters in Pampa. Since 1926 F. A.
