CROWD QUIET—All was quiet this morning at Little Rock for the second day school. Bayonet-bearing soldiers of the 101st Airborne Division maintained a perimeter of federal military authority. Arkansas troops replaced the seasoned Army paratroopers at Central High School today.

Governors Await 101st Troops Patrol Central Hi Campus

ATLANTA (UP)—Weary southern governors were back home today, standing by for a conference with President Eisenhower on removal of troops from Little Rock.

The governors ended their annual conference at Sea Island, Ga., by drafting a request to the President that he meet with them in an effort to find some "constructive solution" to the current school integration crisis. Eisenhower responded a few hours later, agreeing to talk with a committee of five governors.

Significantly, Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus was not included in plans for the parley.

Gov. Luther Hodges of North Carolina heads the conference separately or jointly, seeking the withdrawal of federal troops from Arkansas at the earliest possible moment.

There was dissent from Gov. Cecil Underwood, who said matters in Little Rock were no affair of the governors and the resolution was merely a "grandstand show" for the benefit of Faubus. Underwood's was the only vote against the resolution, the other 11 expressing full support of it.

Developments at Little Rock changed the entire tone of the governor's conference, which had not been scheduled to take up the racial question at all. Other business—Industrial development, conservation, election of officers—was carried out, but it was backstage to the Little Rock crisis throughout.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UP)—Nine Negro students returned to Central High School under paratroop guard today for their second day of integrated education.

All was calm at the school. Fewer than 50 white bystanders could be seen on the sidewalks outside the three-block radius where bayonet-bearing soldiers of the 101st Airborne Division maintained a perimeter of federal military authority.

The largest single group consisted of nine teen-age boys standing on a corner.

There were no demonstrations, not even shouts, as the Negro children drove up to the main entrance of the school in an Army station wagon, escorted before and behind by jeepsloads of troops.

About 100 white students watched silently from the steps or the lawn as the Negroes walked into the building, preceded by two paratroopers and followed by three others. The white youths followed them inside, and the bell rang for classes to begin.

First Concrete Poured On Hobart Drain

The first concrete has been poured on the drainage ditch "outfall box" being constructed in connection with the Hobart Street Underpass.

A ditch will be constructed to carry rain water away from the underpass and a 1,000-foot long covered "outfall box" is being built to carry the water to a draw through Priest Park which eventually empties into Red Deer Creek.

Work is being done first on the north end of the "outfall box" where it will cross Montague street, north of the St. Paul Methodist Church.

Raymond Kinsey, construction superintendent for Austin Bridge Company, which is doing the work, said this morning that the firm would lay about 40 feet of concrete a day after getting away from the end, which is causing some delay because of additional work which must be done.

He estimated it would take about five weeks to complete work on the "outfall box."

Work on the box can be done all through the winter, Kinsey said, but construction of the underpass itself will probably not get started until at least late in January.

A detour railway will be laid around the site of the underpass when construction gets underway. Motorists will also use a detour, Price Road, which will be paved when the underpass work starts.

County Auditor Ray Wilson will make his third quarterly report to the County Commissioners early in October.

Wilson said this morning that the report will include expenditures through September and that those expenditures have been "about normal" so far this year.

New Budget Filed
County Judge Bruce Parker reported this morning that the county's new budget has been filed with Robert S. Calvert, State comptroller, in Austin.

In other county action, Parker reported that flood relief money from the federal government has not yet arrived.

Gray County was slated to get approximately $59,000 in flood relief money following heavy spring rains which washed out bridges and caused extensive damage in general. Parker said the money had been expected before now and repair of bridges and roads had caused at least one commissioner, Oscar Tibbets of McLean, to run short of funds. However, the shortage has been made up through other county departments.

Lake McClellan
On the Lake McClellan project, Parker said that he had not yet received confirmation that the property would be offered to Gray County as it was earlier to the City of Pampa.

Parker, acting upon the request of interested citizens, had asked the US Forestry Service for the same "deal" which had been offered to the city. Congressman Walter Rogers wired the judge about two weeks ago that the request had been approved but the Forestry Service has not, as yet, officially informed Parker of the decision.

Several petitions have been circulated and signed requesting a county-wide bond election to pay for needed repairs to the dam at the lake, one of the stipulations made by the government when it offered the lake to the city. It would be pointless to call such an election, Parker said, unless the government made the offer to the county. The city had earlier decided against taking the government up on the offer.

The embattled Negro students were in classes at Little Rock's Central High School, mob action was at the disappearing point under the weight of Army paratroopers and inflamed tempers seemed to be subsiding.

Additionally, the President was prepared to sit down with a committee of five southern governors sometime early next week to discuss their desire that federal troops be withdrawn from Arkansas "at the earliest possible moment."

Faubus Not Included
According to present White House thinking, however, the President will not include Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas in his conference with southern governors. He met here Sept. 14 with Faubus and was disappointed at the results of their meeting.

The southern governors conference Wednesday set up a special committee of the governors of North Carolina, Maryland, Tennessee, Georgia and Florida to seek a conference as soon as possible with the president and Faubus, together or separately.

Collins Elected Chairman
Collins named the committee after being elected chairman of the Southern Governors Conference. The Florida chief executive is considered a moderate by his fellow southerners, so far as integration is concerned, but Collins was among those who criticized Eisenhower for using federal troops in Little Rock.

In a resolution drawn up Wednesday the governors said:

"The situation in Little Rock, Ark., is a matter of grave concern. It is imperative that a constructive solution be found."

"A committee of this conference, appointed by its chairman, should request a conference or conferences with the President and the governor of Arkansas.

While the little convoy was en route to the school, Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus announced that he will address the nation tonight by radio and television to present his views on the use of federal armed force to integrate Central High.

Faubus said he will speak over the radio and television networks of the American Broadcasting Co. at 8 p.m. est. He will deliver his 30-minute speech from the studios of television station KATV in Little Rock.

The well-disciplined professional of the 101st, who proved Wednesday their ability to cope with any threat of mob action, resumed their vigil around the high school at dawn.

They took over from members of the federalized Arkansas National Guard who had stood duty overnight while the weary paratroopers slept in a pup tent bivouac in the high school football field.

The guardsmen were not the same troops who only a week ago barred Negroes from the school on orders of Gov. Faubus. Two companies from Little Rock were involved in that earlier action. The troops on duty Wednesday night came from other Arkansas cities.

False Alarms
Rumors and false alarms of racial clashes kept police busy and nerves edgy through the night. But Little Rock was gradually calming down.

An hour before school opened, reporters counted only four spectators standing at the corner of 14th and Schiller streets, the intersection where a head was bashed, an arm was slashed, and numerous arrests were made Wednesday. Fewer than 50 people, other than reporters and photographers, were on the sidewalks within a three-block radius of the school.

The nine Negro children who attended classes under a troop escort said they felt "safe" about returning today. A 10th, Jane Hill, said she would join them.

Police revealed belatedly that the "fire drill" which emptied the high school of students for about an hour Wednesday resulted from an anonymous telephone tip that a time-bomb had been placed in (See LITTLE ROCK Page 3)

Uprising In Red China Is Reported

By BRUCE MUNN
United Press Staff Correspondent
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—Dr. Hu Shih, considered the greatest living Chinese philosopher, told the United Nations today that anti-Communist student movements responded in every part of China—"from Mukden to Canton, from Shanghai and Nanking in the east to Chungking and Chengtu in the west."

Hu set a U.N. precedent in delivering Nationalist China's major policy speech. Never before has a scholar of his stature spoken for a country in the assembly and never before has such a speech been made by anyone other than a high government official.

Thousands of students participated in demonstrations against the Communist government, he said. Communist Party officers were beaten up in student riots which were suppressed only when the Peking regime realized the growing gravity of the situation.

Hu quoted news reports that eight student ringleaders were executed at Hangyang in June and others leaders given prison sentences of 5 to 15 years.

"It is absolutely untrue that the Communist regime in China has won over the mind and the heart of the young... and the recent student revolt in China furnishes us with the best proof that, after eight years of absolute rule and ideological molding, the students in China are almost unanimously in opposition to the Communist Party and government."

Clothes Fire Reported Today

Clothes being washed in gasoline in the bathroom of the residence located at 301 N. Davis resulted in an alarm for the local fire department.

The firemen received the alarm at 7:32 this morning and reported that light damage resulted to the interior of the bathroom before the fire was extinguished.

Police To Get Uniforms Cleaned Free

Uniforms of members of the Pampa Police Department will be cleaned by the city.

The announcement was made yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the employees of the department by John Koonz, acting city manager. In the past the police personnel have paid for the cleaning of their uniforms.

Koonz also informed the policemen that the city would provide their uniforms, which has been the policy in regards to the uniforms of the policemen. In the past the city has given the women a $20 a month clothing allowance which will be discontinued.

The new policy on uniforms becomes effective on Oct. 1 at the same time the increase in pay becomes effective.

Two Strikes Against Big Missile Now

By CHARLES TAYLOR
United Press Staff Correspondent
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UP)—There were two strikes today on the Air Force's huge Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile. The second firing of the Atlas failed at 15,000 feet, Wednesday.

Scientists were examining the shredded pieces of the Atlas which was exploded after drifting to one side and tilting back toward the ground. The test was another attempt to match Russia's claimed firing of an ICBM.

There was no official word from anywhere, but indications were that both civilian and military authorities were not altogether displeased with the result of Wednesday's operation.

Officials indicated that "a great deal of information was gained from the firing and that other attempts would definitely be made to fire an Atlas."

It was also learned that the cause of Wednesday's failure was not the same as that which caused an Atlas to be destroyed shortly after launching June 11 here.

The 5,500-mile range Atlas, streaked upward 15,000 feet from the Air Force missile test center here before halting its flight, apparently due to a failure in the propulsion system. The 90-foot long Atlas hung in the air, drifting sideways and tilting earthward; then was exploded in a sheet of orange flame.

Hoffa May Face Committee Again

WASHINGTON (UP)—There is a 50-50 chance the Senate Rackets Committee will put Midwest Teamster boss James R. Hoffa back in the witness chair this week to answer new charges, committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said today.

Kennedy said Hoffa's recall to testify, if it comes, would be in the next few days. However, he said Hoffa definitely would not be summoned next week when he seeks election as president of the nation's largest union at the Teamster convention starting Monday in Miami Beach.

The committee called various associates of Hoffa to testify today as it continued to peck away at the stocky labor leader's financial operations.

Bad Day For Hoffa
Wednesday was a bad day for Hoffa. The AFL-CIO Executive Council told the Teamsters to boot him out of any union office in 30 days or face possible suspension themselves. A federal grand jury in New York indicted him on five perjury counts in a wiretapping case.

There was committee testimony which was denied—that Hoffa got payoffs from Detroit restaurant owners and made loans to a Wayne County official who negotiated restaurant contracts.

Kennedy told reporters the committee has evidence of other financial arrangements between Hoffa and other government officials in Michigan, "elected and otherwise." However, he said the committee would not dig into the matter during the current hearings.

The committee said Hoffa paid $170,000 in legal fees and salary for union officials indicted for extortion or dynamiting, including $85,489 paid to the wives of four Pontiac, Mich., officials who went to jail in an extortion case.

John Leyhan, secretary-treasurer of Greenfield Mills Restaurant Co., Detroit, testified he over-

Hollywood (NEA) — Exclusive-David Ladd, son of Alan Ladd, by Yours: "The King and Four Queens" missed the critical jackpot as a movie for Clark Gable but was better than a royal flush for him at the box office. His 10 percent share of the gross profits just hit $400,000.

Ex-President Harry Truman isn't the only celebrity who has been surprised by fans proffering $1 bills instead of autograph books. It's happening to movie stars, too. Autographs or minor writing on currency is not a violation of the law, according to the Treasury Department."

Little Rock Dispute Only A Beginning

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—The dispute over racial integration of Little Rock's Central High School is no more than a preliminary incident in the developing contest over the educational comingling of white and Negro children. It is not likely to establish a quickly effective precedent.

The showdown will not take place in Little Rock, no matter how President Eisenhower applies federal force unless, perhaps, he should proclaim martial law to place a military governor in charge. Arkansas is a border state, evidently substantially divided on integration of the schools.

The showdown will come—if at all—in a wholly southern state such as Virginia, South Carolina, Georgia or Mississippi. Virginia, for example, has erected a bulwark of state law against integration. There is no token integration in Virginia as there is in Arkansas.

Interview With Byrnes
South Carolina law is similar. U. S. News and World Report recently interviewed James F. Byrnes, former associate justice of the U. S. Supreme Court who later served as governor of South Carolina. He was asked if South Carolina would close its public schools to frustrate integration.

"It is already the law of the state," Byrnes replied, "that, if a student be transferred from a Negro school to a white school

Price Support Cut May Be Requested

WASHINGTON (UP) — Southwestern farmers who grow extra-long staple cotton will probably ask Congress to authorize another cut in their federal price support rate next year, informed sources said.

The unusual request is expected to come from the Supima Association of America, representing farmers who grow the long fiber cotton. The group's leaders were reported anxious to meet competition from Egyptian cotton, which is currently selling 4 to 5 cents per pound below the U. S. support price.

J. Clyde Wilson of Buckeye, Ariz., president of the Supima Association, said that the group would like to see the support bill instead of "no." These state laws and any others, of course, must stand or fall before the Supreme Court. Thereafter, events in Little Rock, wherever they may lead, probably would be duplicated in greater stress in the deep South.

Price Support Cut May Be Requested

WASHINGTON (UP) — Mrs. Willie Jean Irvin, 20, was not surprised when she received three tickets following her first attempt at driving a car. But she was ticked after a 10-minute drive in which she negotiated a U-turn in a neighbor's newly-seeded lawn, jumped a curb and rolled along a sidewalk until she cracked a concrete fence and ploughed into a two-story house, knocking it from its foundation.

Wilson did not discuss with Benson the likelihood that the Supima Association will request a cut in price supports next year. He told the secretary, however, that if U. S. prices become competitive next year the acreage cut will prove unnecessary. Benson made no commitment but asked for a memo on the case, a source said.

Extra-long staple cotton is grown largely in Arizona, New Mexico, California and Texas. Production this year is estimated at 95,500 bales — a small proportion of the total U. S. cotton crop currently estimated at 12,713,000 bales. The long, silky fiber is used in shirts and high-fashion fabrics.

FBI Notes 'Crime Boom' During 1957

WASHINGTON (UP)—FBI records showed today that crime boomed in the United States during the first six months of 1957. FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said more major crimes were committed during the first half of the year than in any similar period on record.

Hoover said reports from 3,023 police departments across the country indicated there were 1,399,670 major crimes in the six-month period. That would be an average of about one crime every 11.2 seconds.

The FBI chief said this rate represented an 8.4 per cent increase over the rate for the first six months of last year.

Hoover said that while the bulk of the nation's crimes occurred in cities, rural crime is increasing more rapidly than city crime.

the building. The children returned after a search disclosed no explosives.

President Eisenhower scheduled a meeting in Washington next Tuesday with a delegation of southern governors who asked to meet with him and discuss "the withdrawal of federal troops from Arkansas at the earliest possible moment." Eisenhower broadened its subject matter to cover "the problems of school integration."

Faubus was not among the five governors invited.

Police were plagued nightly by phony riot calls. Squad cars dashed off to investigate scores of reported fights between whites and Negroes. Most of them proved baseless. The few actual disturbances were of a minor nature, authorities said.

When the militia took over guard duty at Central Wednesday night, about 500 troopers marched to the Central football building after close-order drill.

No Little Rock troops were among the Guardsmen at Central. Faubus used two companies of Little Rock troops for 18 days at the start of Central's school term to keep Negroes out.

Faubus, who returned to Little Rock from the southern governors' conference in Georgia, because he supposed his presence would have a "quieting effect," announced that he will make a television and radio report "to my people and the nation" tonight. He did not announce the time.

President Eisenhower snubbed Faubus in agreeing to meet next week with a committee of southern governors who want him to withdraw federal troops from Arkansas at the earliest possible moment.

The nine Negroes were taken to school Wednesday in an Army station wagon with a jeepload of troopers in front of it and another jeepload behind. The same convoy returned them after school was dismissed to the home of Mrs. Lucius C. Bates, president of the Arkansas chapter of the NAACP.

There their parents picked them up, chattering about their first day in a previously all-white school and took them home. An Army officer made plans with Mrs. Bates to pick them up at her home and take them to school today.

The Negroes said they ate with white students. One girl said she was standing in line in the cafeteria and a white girl came up to her and asked her to come over to their table.

Government Aims To Political Reconstruction South Again

By LYLE C. WILSON
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 WASHINGTON (UP)—The up-road over racial integration in Southern schools has diverted attention from the fact that the federal government is moving again toward the political reconstruction of the South.
 Such action is implicit in the 1957 civil rights bill. The federal government is committed again and aggressively will undertake to enable Southern Negroes to vote.
 This 20th Century effort is more likely to succeed than the treat-"em-rough methods used by congressional sealots against the beaten South in trying to establish the Negro politically during the years immediately after the civil war.
 Events have been overtaking
 the political South for some time, slowly at first but now with increasing momentum. Franklin D.

 Roosevelt in 1936 broke the back of Southern conservative influence in the national conventions of his party.
 He did that by obtaining repeal of the 10-year-old convention rule by which a Democrat was required to obtain no less than a two-thirds majority of the delegate votes to win the presidential nomination. That rule enabled a minority of Southern delegates to prolong the 1924 Democratic national convention through 103 ballots in a successful veto of the nomination of Alfred E. Smith, of New York.
 Twelve years later, the veto rule was dead. The South was powerless or nearly so in the nominating conventions of the party which dominated every Southern state.

Industry Makes Difference
 Meantime, scattered industrialization of the South was concentrating in such states as Alabama large numbers of voters who sometimes thought more like Democrats than like Democrats in neighboring Mississippi.
 Southern politicians tried in 1948 to re-assert their political power by a third party bolt in nomination of Harry S. Truman.
 That strategy had to fail unless the Republicans could make a credible showing against Truman outside the South, which the Republicans were unable to do.
 More recently, Southerners have tried to establish themselves politically by voting for Republican presidential nominees, notably for President Eisenhower.
 That got them not much other than disappointment and a Supreme Court they don't like. Except in Congress, the political South has been ousted from the policy-making seats of the mighty.

Washington, D. C., Is Over The Hump In De-Segregation

By LOUIS CASSELS
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 WASHINGTON (UP)—Education officials believe the district of Columbia public school system is over the hump in the biggest desegregation job yet undertaken.
 Schools in this capital city, where Negro students outnumber white students by a 7 to 3 ratio, are now in their fourth year of completely integrated classes at all levels from kindergarten through high school.
 "We still have many problems,
 as all schools have," Superintendent Robert M. Corning said.
 "But we are gradually solving them. On the whole, we feel that desegregation has gone unusually well here."
 His appraisal was seconded by a high school principal, Mrs.
 Elva C. Wells, who told a House investigating subcommittee last year that integration had produced serious disciplinary and academic difficulties.
 Student Behavior Improved
 Mrs. Wells said student behavior has improved considerably since then, and the average level of academic achievement has risen "substantially." About 65 per cent of the students in Mrs. Wells' school — Roosevelt High — are Negroes.
 (The overall population of the District of Columbia is about 56 per cent white, 44 per cent Negro.
 The proportion of Negroes in the schools is higher than in the general population, school officials said, because the average Negro family has more children than the average white family. Moreover, many white residents of the district are unmarried government workers.)
 Dr. Charles E. Bish, principal of McKinley High School, said teachers and students of both are getting "adjusted to the new situation." The results of this more "relaxed" atmosphere are showing all along the line, he said.

 Teachers Are Encouraged
 "Our teachers report encouraging forward strides in the quality of the work that the students are doing," he said.
 Bish said McKinley students seem to be taking a "greater interest" in academic achievement this year. He cited, for example, a higher enrollment in classes in languages, science and higher mathematics.
 "We still have some disciplinary problems," Bish said. "Some teachers feel there is more general noisiness and loud talking in desegregated classes. Tardiness and absenteeism are higher than before integration. But as for insolence, unruliness, fights and other serious misconduct—we just haven't had any real trouble of that kind."
 Sex No Problem
 He knew of no instance in which a student brought a knife or any kind of weapon to school.
 He said sex "has not been a problem."
 Miss Margaret Pepper, executive assistant to the superintendent of city schools, said her office has received "to or three reports at "annoying" girls of another. She said no sexual attacks or "serious moieties" about boys of one race molestations" have been reported.
 The house subcommittee which investigated local schools last year was headed by Rep. James C.
 Davis (D-Ga.) Davis and three other southerners on the subcommittee issued a report urging that district schools be re-segregated.
 They said integration had drastically lowered academic levels.

For example: The policy-making arm of the Democratic National Committee is an advisory committee which this week spoke its mind on the Arkansas integration dispute, denouncing Eisenhower for inaction and Gov. Orval E. Faubus for his use of the Arkansas National Guard.
 Three Southern advisers dissented but 15 of 25 went along with National Committee Chairman Paul M. Butler. The chairman summed it up by saying that the Democratic party firmly supported the Supreme Court's integration decision and "expected Democratic governors to enforce them."
 Whether Butler and his associates were stating policy for the Democratic South remains to be seen. In plain sight is the fact that many Southern Democrats now in congressional policy-making seats probably are marked for ouster. They are the powerful committee chairmen consistently re-elected by Southern constituencies in which Negroes soon will be a considerably political force.
 Southern like taps for Southern conservatives.

 al of National Guardsmen from

Polish Occupation Issue Is Expected

Foreign News Commentary
 By CHARLES M. MCCANN
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 The future of the East German territory now occupied by Poland is likely to become a big issue before long.
 West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is expected to take the first step soon toward eventual establishment of formal diplomatic relations with the "independent" Communist Polish government.
 When that time comes, the status of the 38,900-square-mile area of Germany east of the Oder and Neisse rivers will become a topic for discussion and for negotiation.
 The territory has been occupied by Poland since 1945. Then, at the States, Great Britain and Soviet Potsdam Conference, the United Russia put the rich territory under Polish administration pending the conclusion of a final German Peace Treaty.

 Twelve years later, no such treaty has been signed. But Russia and Poland regard the Oder-Neisse line as the permanent frontier. The East German Communist puppet government has formally "recognized" the area as permanently Polish. It lacks any authority to give such recognition,

Green Pepper-Celery Sauce Adds Right Flavor To Perfectly Seasoned Salmon

Savory and satisfying — that's this piping hot salmon loaf. Bake it in an old-fashioned fish mold for a different looking loaf! It looks lovely decorated to resemble a fish. But cooked in a mold or a loaf pan, it's a perfectly seasoned salmon main dish made refreshing with lots of lemon juice.

The green pepper-celery sauce is just right for the salmon. Canned celery soup is diluted to make the easy sauce which has lots of cooked, garden-fresh green pepper!

MENU
Salmon Loaf
Celery-Green Pepper Sauce
Buttered Beets
Waldorf Salad
Hot Muffins
Floating Island Custard

INGREDIENTS:
2-3 cup uncooked white rice
1 teaspoon salt
1 1/3 cups water
1 pound can of salmon
Evaporated milk
2 tablespoons grated onion
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1 egg, beaten
1/2 teaspoon black pepper
3/4 cup chopped green pepper
3/4 cup water
3, 10 1/2 oz. can condensed cream of celery soup

METHOD: Put the rice, salt and

1 1/3 cups water in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil over a high heat. Turn the heat down low. Cover with a lid. Simmer over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat but leave the lid on 10 minutes.

Drain the juice from the salmon into a measuring cup. Add evaporated milk to make 1 1/3 cups liquid. Flake the salmon. Add the milk mixture, onion, pimiento, lemon juice, egg, black pepper and cooked rice. Mix well. Thoroughly grease a glass 9" x 5" x 2 1/2" loaf pan holding at least 5 cups with shortening or salad oil. Use a greased fish mold which may be placed in the oven, if desired. Pour in the salmon mixture. Place in a preheated 350 degree F. oven. Bake about 55 minutes or until a knife inserted in the center comes out almost clean. This is a moist loaf. The loaf will brown around the edges and pull away from the sides of the pan. While the loaf bakes, make the sauce. Cook the green pepper in the 3/4 cup water about 7 minutes or until tender. Stir in the celery soup. Season with salt and pepper if desired. Heat until very hot. Add a small amount of water until the sauce is the consistency desired.

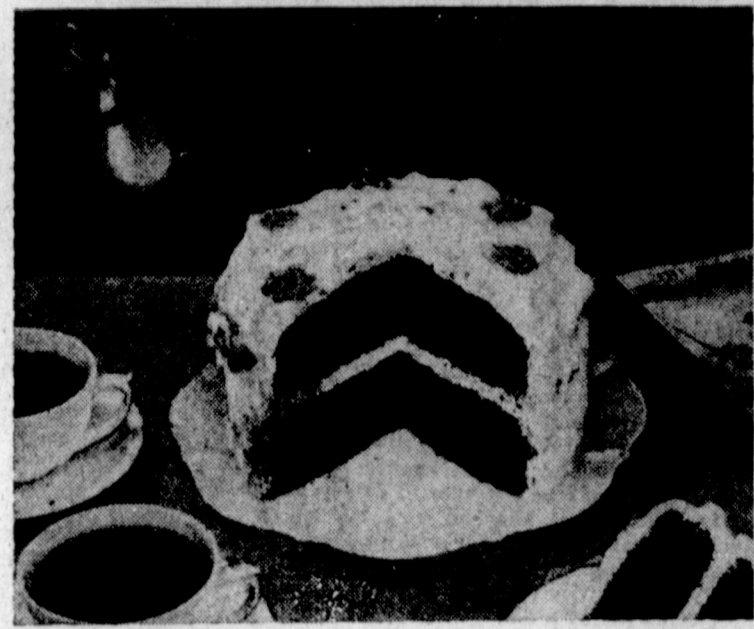

When the loaf is done, remove

Breakfast Swirls Pineapple Glazed

1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup pineapple juice
1/2 cup Kellogg's All-Bran
1/2 cup milk
1 1/2 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1-3 cup shortening
1 tablespoon butter or margarine, melted
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon

Combine butter, 1/2 cup of the sugar, and pineapple juice. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until sugar has dissolved and mixture has boiled about 2 minutes. Spoon into bottoms of 12 greased muffin cups. Combine All-Bran and milk; let stand until most of moisture is taken up. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse corn meal. Add All-Bran mixture, stirring only until combined. Turn dough out on lightly floured board; knead gently a few times. Roll out into a 12 x 8-inch rectangle. Brush with melted butter; sprinkle with mixture of remaining 1/2 cup sugar and the cinnamon. Roll up like a jelly roll; cut into 1-inch slices. Place cut side down in pineapple juice mixture. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) about 20 minutes.

Lemon Nesselrode Frosting Marries Flavor Intrigue To Devil's Food Cake

It might seem a far cry from Sagamore Hill, home of Theodore Roosevelt, our 26th President, and Dromedary Devil's Food Mix. Yet a popular recipe with the Sagamore Hill family at the turn of the century now serves as the inspiration for Dromedary's Devil's Food Mix.

Rich, moist and chocolaty, this recipe was so good that Edith Roosevelt took it with her when the family moved to the White House. Dromedary received the rights to this precious recipe in return for contributions to the Theodore Roosevelt Memorial Foundation — a member organization of the National Trust for Historic Preservation.

In keeping with its search for the best of the treasured, historic recipes in our country's past, Dromedary has revived national interest and pride in our legacy of good foods. How fortunate we are to be able to serve up delicacies inspired by those that pleased presidents and diplomats, the famous and discriminating.

So easy it is for us now with the Dromedary Mix to serve up a perfect cake. Each package comes wrapped in gold foil to keep it "mixing bowl fresh." Also for our convenience are free pan liners, marked to fit 8 or 9 inch cake pans. And for the aid to the small family, the White, Yellow and Devil's Food Mixes in the Dromedary box come in twin packs so we can bake one layer at a time if we wish. Surely a convenience that many a lady of earlier days would envy. For delightful variation on the traditional white or chocolate frosting with Devil's Food, we suggest a light airy and delicious Lemon Nesselrode Frosting — a new and intriguing marriage of flavors.

LEMON NESSELRODE FROSTING
3 egg whites, unbeaten
1 1/2 cups sugar
1/4 cup water
2 teaspoons light corn syrup
1 teaspoon lemon flavoring
1/2 cup candied cherries, or other candied fruit
1/2 cup walnuts water and corn syrup in top of double boiler. Beat with rotary or electric mixer until sugar is dissolved. Place pan over boiling water and beat constantly 7 minutes until mixture stands in peaks (5 minutes with electric beater). Remove from heat. Add lemon extract and beat until mixture is thick enough to spread. Chop cherries or other fruit, reserving three or four for decorating. Chop nuts, saving three or four. Blend chopped nuts and fruits into cooled frosting. Enough to sandwich and frost 8-inch layer cake. Decorate with remaining fruits and nuts.

BROILED CINNAMON TOAST
Invite the neighbors in for impromptu mid-morning coffee and quickly put a pan of broiled cinnamon toast in the oven for a surprise. Cut slices of enriched bread into 1-inch strips. Brush with melted butter or margarine. Sprinkle with cinnamon-sugar mixture — 1/4 cup sugar and 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon. Place on baking sheet and broil until browned on top, about 2 minutes. Turn and brown on other side.

PORK PATTIES WITH CARROT SAUCE
1 whole pork tenderloin (about 1 1/2 pounds)
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 cup bouillon
1 large carrot, grated

Cut tenderloin crosswise into two-inch thick slices. Flatten slightly with meat hammer or edge of heavy plate, then brown in hot fat in heavy skillet. Add seasonings, bouillon and carrot; cover and cook over low heat 45 minutes, or until meat is tender. Remove meat from skillet and thicken drippings, 5 to 6 servings.

Egg Noodle Ring Snap To Prepare

Sometimes the things that look the hardest to do are the easiest. A case in point is this Egg Noodle Ring which would seem to require a lot of skill but actually is a snap to prepare and turn out.

The beauty of an egg noodle ring is that the center may hold all sorts of tempting fillings. You might have chicken a la King or creamed turkey after Thanksgiving when the holiday bird has had his day. Other excellent "centers" are meat balls in tomato sauce, lamb curry, buttered carrots and small white onions, beef stew, or lobster Newburg.

This ring makes an especially handsome appearance on a buffet table, but don't wait until you have company. Pamper your family, too. It's so easy. Why not have an egg noodle ring for dinner during National Macaroni Week, October 17-26, when macaroni, egg noodles and spaghetti are being fed?

MEATY BISCUITS

1/4 cup lard

EGG NOODLE RING
1 tablespoon salt
3 quarts boiling water
8 ounces medium egg noodles (about 4 cups)
3 eggs, beaten
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add noodles so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Combine noodles and remaining ingredients; mix well. Press into well-greased 8-inch ring mold. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 45 minutes, or until firm. Unmold. Fill as desired.

1/2 cup dried beef
1/4 cup milk

Sift flour and baking powder and with a pastry blender of two knives, cut in lard until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Crumb dried beef and add to mixture. Stir in milk only until dough clings to fork. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead gently 6 or 7 times. Roll out dough 3/4 inch thick and cut with a 2-inch biscuit cutter. Place on a greased baking sheet and bake at 450 degrees F. 15 to 18 minutes or until a delicate brown. Makes 1 1/2 dozen biscuits.

Dinner for Baby-Sitters Is No Chore

When it's your night out, neither you nor the baby-sitter wants to spend a lot of time on the preparation of her dinner. Make it easy on yourself, and easy for her, by providing a luscious frozen chicken pie — from the grocer's freezer.

Ready to cook and eat, each pie is a generous 8-ounce serving of savory chunks of chicken and smooth rich gravy in a tender flaky crust. You might stock your freezer with turkey and beef pies, too. Then, there are three kinds to choose from!

All the baby-sitter needs to do is bake the pie in its pan for about 40 minutes in a (425° F.) oven. Out it will come, golden brown and crisp outside, succulent and steaming within. Along with the chicken pie, your teenage helper can have shoe-string potatoes and a pretty molded salad (from what you've prepared for the family's dinner next day). For dessert, regardless of her age, she'll enjoy a piece of "Glamour Girl" Angel Cake. You can make this in jigtime, using a packaged mix. Bake it either in a large tube pan, or in the individual angel cake pans now available.

To make Jellied Fall Fruit Salad: Prepare 1 package lime-flavored gelatin, adding 2 tablespoons vinegar with the cold water; chill until slightly thickened. Fold in 1/2 cup chopped celery, 1/2 cup coarsely chopped apple, and 1/2 cup seedless grapes. Pour into 4 to 6 individual molds or a square cake pan; chill until firm.

To make Glamour Girl Cake: Prepare angel food cake from your favorite mix. Fold a few drops of red food coloring and 1/2 teaspoon peppermint flavoring into the batter. Bake in large tube pan or in individual angel cake pans. Frost with white frosting; sprinkle with crushed peppermint stick candy.

Versatile Oats-Lock In Flavorful Juices

As versatile as the weather! Rolled oats can find a way to the table for any meal of the day. For dinner try using oats in Ham Loaf Supreme to lock in all the flavorful meat juices. Complete your meal with the following menu.

Ham Loaf Supreme
Scalloped Potatoes
Green Beans with Onions
Cranberry Salad Squares

1 pound ground veal
1 cup Quaker or Mother's Oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked)
2 eggs, beaten
1/4 cup chopped onion

1 cup milk

Combine all ingredients thoroughly and pack firmly into a loaf pan. Shape as a loaf by pressing down at edges and rounding up in center. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 1 1/2 hours. Let stand 5 minutes before slicing. Makes 8 servings.

Fluffy Horseradish Sauce: Fold 2 tablespoons horseradish into 1 cup whipping cream, whipped. Serve on hot ham loaf.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas
A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

SCHOOL SEGREGATION
With schools opening for the fall semester, the matter of segregation is back in the headlines in Texas and elsewhere, and some school boards may now be pondering upon a law passed by the 55th Texas Legislature.

By now everyone knows that the Supreme Court of the United States has decreed that segregation of public school pupils by race is unconstitutional. Since the Court's decision, however, the Legislature passed House Bill 65. The constitutionality of this law has not as yet been tested.

In effect the bill provides for local option elections to determine whether dual school systems shall be continued or abolished. It prohibits any board of trustees or any school authority from abolishing its dual school system (desegregating or integrating) prior to an election on the question. A prerequisite to such an election by petition filed by at least 20 percent of the qualified electors residing in the school district.

The election is to be conducted in a manner similar to elections for school trustees. It can be called on the same date as a school trustee election if the petition was filed within 90 days of the trustee election. Otherwise the election must be called within 60 days after the petition has been filed. Subsequent elections upon the same questions cannot be called within 2 years of any prior election.

Under this law those schools which integrated during the 1956-1957 term are permitted to continue integration unless this system of operation is abolished by an election held in the manner mentioned above. Another provision under a section of the law dealing with integrated schools is that a student shall not be denied transfer from one school to another because of race or color.

The bill provides that if a school district should desegregate without first being authorized to do so by an election of the qualified electors residing therein, then the district becomes ineligible for accreditation and ineligible to receive any Foundation Program Funds. In other words, it loses State School Support funds.

The same penalty is placed upon a school district, already integrated, which fails to segregate its schools after an election calling for such action.

A fine of not less than $100 or more than $1,000 is provided for any person guilty of violating any of the provisions of this Dual School System Law.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Erle Stanley Gardner To Plunge Into Television
By VERNON SCOTT
United Press Hollywood Writer HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Erle Stanley Gardner plunges into television this month with two shows—"Perry Mason" (CBS) and "The Court of Last Resort" (NBC) — both of which he had refused to have televised in the past.

Gardner held out for the right financial arrangements and the exact presentations he had in mind.

"They were after me seven years for the 'Mason' series and ten years for 'The Court' would until I felt that they'd do accurate, truthful jobs."

Gardner sipped a cocktail in the Brown Derby and turned up the volume on his hearing aid before embarking on an explanation of his "Court."

"This isn't a do-gooder outfit," the 70-year-old writer rasped. "We are simply a group of men trying to establish facts in the interest of justice. It's just as important to us that every guilty man is punished as it is that innocent men should go free."

"We're not trying to prove anything except that the layman has abdicated his responsibility of the administration of justice to lawyers, judges and police departments."

Why has the successful mystery writer (56 Perry Mason books alone) dedicated himself to acting as a watchdog for justice?

Decorates Pink Men's Room As Haven With A Twinkle In Her Eye, Designer

By AILEEN SNODDY
NEA Staff Correspondent
SOUTH PASADENA, Calif. (NEA) — There's more betwixt a house and its bathroom than a burning night light. The house's complete color scheme may stem from this room.

The woman who says that color in the home is set by the decorative scheme of the bathroom is teased about a pink men's room she designed for an aircraft plant. But Margaret Hargreaves ignores derisive snorts. She directs her seven-day week at Custom Color in South Pasadena with a knowing twinkle in her eye. She explains her role as color stylist to mean color designing or engineering.

"I use the scientific and mathematical approach to harmonize a British architectural firm, she said. A former department store decorator and color consultant for a British architectural firm, she has considerable experience in applying these methods. So much so that she has a night, day and Saturday staff.

So far this year she has worked out color for interiors and exteriors of 23,800 homes in 50 housing developments in California.

The bathroom theory gets a workout in these homes. "I use bathrooms, coordinated with asphalt roofing shingles, to key these home colors for a practical reason. These are the materials that have to be ordered first."

Color engineering is very important today, she stressed. Color alone is not effective. It is the way it is used in harmony with something else — the overall effect. She believes color is more important than food, which opinion recalled a color experiment with food. Diners lost appetites over such items as green steaks and purple green beans.

Margaret Hargreaves

With an "Ugh!" for the green steaks, she added, "Many unhappy marriages are due to color... and color can cause more family arguments..."

Why is color sweeping the country? Mrs. Hargreaves feels it is the influence of the West on the East. Fixtures, floor coverings, vinyl tiles, for example, come from all over the country. These are designed to fit the tastes of the West.

"I use bright colors, for example, in sunny climates to keep the sun from eating up the color," she said.

And the pink men's room? "It is really coral and gray with pepper and salt walls," she explained. "I designed it for Northrup in Hawthorne."

"Women, you know, have colorful ouches in which to smoke, take off their shoes and relax. But for men, no such thing. Stark, steel gray or some such dull color has been their lot."

"Industry, however, is getting wise to the relation of color and circle chairmen drew the cap-fatigue. So I did the 'pink men's room' as their relaxing haven."

ROUND-UP BARBECUE—Left to right, Mrs. V. C. Moore, ticket chairman, Mrs. Ed Griffin, general chairman, Mrs. Tony Smith, program chairman, and Mrs. Richard Zimmerman, program co-chairman, conferred this week on progress of the Girl Scout Round-Up Barbecue to be held tomorrow evening in the County Bull Barns. Serving will begin at 6 p.m. Girl Scouts are preparing skits, which will be given at 6:45 p.m., terminating in time for those wishing to attend the Harvester-Midland football game. Fishers Of Women Swing Back Into Regular Lunch-Time Theme For Group With These Strictly Nutritious Soups

The Hobart Street Baptist Church, Women's Missionary Society, met recently for a Royal Service and installation of officers. An executive board meeting was held preceding the service presided over by Mrs. Mage Keyser.

Following the executive board meeting, a luncheon was held in the Fellowship Hall. White and orchid, WMS colors, were used in the luncheon appointments. Mrs. H. H. Stull made the centerpiece for the serving table.

After luncheon, the group assembled in the chapel for a devotional given by Mrs. Roger Hedrick. Mrs. Keyser, outgoing president, was presented with an electric skillet in appreciation of her year's term in office.

Mrs. Jeff Moore, Borger, who used as her theme "Bells" for the installation of WMS officers, pinned a bell, tied with white and orchid satin ribbon, on Mrs. Arnold Hall, new WMS president, who, in turn, pinned bells on each of the incoming officers.

Mrs. Harold Beckham, outgoing vice president, presided during the drawing of names for new circle members. Using the theme, "Fishers of Women," member's names were placed in capsules in shells on a table covered with a fish-net over a blue cloth; miniature fish and shells covered the cloth. New members were formed with the new chairmen closing the meeting with prayer.

Back to School... is that the cry ringing with youthful exuberance in your house these days? Are there great plans concerning clothes, books, course schedules and deep sighs that summer is no more? Well, it's also time for mother to make a few plans of her own concerning lunches for the School-Agers. After a few months of lighter appetites and carefree "help yourself when you want it" lunches, it takes a little effort to get back into the swing of regular lunches again. To help get you started whether you pack lunches or feed those sharpened appetites at home, here are two recipes for quickie mushroom soups that are not only highly nutritious but are strictly delicious.

SHRIMP MUSHROOM SOUP
10-oz. can Frozen Shrimp Soup
6-oz. can sliced broiled mushrooms

In closing circles composed of new members were formed with the new chairmen closing the meeting with prayer.

and heat until cheese is melted and well blended. Serve with grated cheese or minced parsley sprinkled over the top. Makes 4 servings.

CHEESE MUSHROOM SOUP
3-oz. can chopped broiled mushrooms

1-3 cups boiling water and mushroom broth
1 chicken bouillon cube
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1-3 cups milk
1/2 cup Parmesan cheese
1/2 cup light cream
1/2 cup teaspoon onion salt
1/2 teaspoon celery salt
1 egg yolk, beaten
1-3 cup heavy cream or croutons
Drain mushrooms and combine broth and water to make 1-3 cups. Bring to boil in saucepan and dissolve bouillon cube. Make cold water paste of cornstarch and add to bouillon, stirring constantly. Continuing to stir, add milk, cheese and cream in this order. Add seasonings and mushrooms and blend into mixture. Just before serving, add beaten egg yolk to hot soup, stir and pour into 4 individual heatproof soup bowls. To add final touch, whip heavy cream and place a mound in center of each bowl or float croutons on top of soup.

STAINS WILL "SET" DURING WINTER STORAGE

Storing those summer washables for next year's use is part of Fall housecleaning, so be careful of the stains and soil says American Institute of Laundering. If allowed to "set," most stains and soil will be almost impossible to remove next year. And to prevent mildew, store that summer clothing in a dry place.

Rain Marrs SW Practice

By UNITED PRESS
Rain marred Southwest Conference squads' practice Wednesday, even driving one club completely out of the area.

Coach Bear Bryant, weary of being forced to practice inside after two days of rain, backed up his Texas Aggies and went to San Angelo.

The Aggies will work out there today and Friday in preparation for Saturday's game in Lubbock against Texas Tech.

The University of Texas worked out in a steady drizzle, working on kicking and pass defense. Coach Darrell Royal was impressed with the booting of sophomore quarterback Bobby Lackey.

Baylor Coach Sam Boyd said after Wednesday's workout "This is the best scrimmage we've had all fall." The Bears worked out against the freshmen, with half-back Bobby Peters scoring two of the varsity's seven touchdowns on runs of 70 and 30 yards. Dobbie Craig ran 70 yards for a touchdown and Larry Hickman scored on a 60-yard run.

Harvesters Battle Midland Tomorrow

HARVESTER TACKLES—Bolstering the Pampa line at tackles are Gary Peterson at left and David Holt. Peterson is a senior at 170 pounds, and Holt, also a senior, carries the heaviest weight on the line at 200 pounds. The Harvesters encounter the Midland Bulldogs tomorrow night in Harvester Park at 8.

Pampa Gridders Battle Heavy Team In Third Tilt Of Season

By CHARLES CULLIN
Pampa News Sports Editor
The Pampa Harvesters wound up their heavy practice yesterday in preparation for their tilt tomorrow night against the Midland Bulldogs.

Head coach Jack Lockett announced that the team has had one of its best weeks of practice, and should be ready to give the Bulldogs a good game. In mentioning last Friday's game, Lockett added that there were still plenty of mistakes to be worked on, but that the team had improved, and were in better shape.

Pampa lost the opening game of its season to Austin High of El Paso, 27-7, but rebounded last week to defeat Arlington Heights, 7-6.

In their 1-1 record thus far in the season, the green-clad gridders have succeeded in proving superior in most departments over their opposition. Pampa has gained a total of 540 yards rushing to their opposition's 273. The Harvesters have led opposing teams in first downs, 24 to 18, and in total yardage, 385 to 320.

In the backfield, Jess Ingle has accounted for 89 yards with a 5.56 yard per carry average; Don Big-ham has 107 yards with a 5.35 yard average and Robert Langford has accounted for 100 yards a 5.24 yard per carry average.

Midland

The Bulldogs have dropped their first two games of the season, losing to Lamesa in the first, 7-6, and to Palo Duro in the second, 19-2. They have a weight advantage on the Harvesters, averaging 180 in the line and 185 in the backfield. Overall speed of the Bulldog backfield should be less than Pampa, but they are sparred by a 187-pound hard running fullback Don Boyce. Boyce is a junior and is the leading ground gainer for Midland.

Probable starting lineups are:

Harvesters		Midland

Non-Conference Tilts On Tap For Twelve Area Grid Teams

No conference games are on slate for 12 area teams as they swing into action again tomorrow night. Only the White Deer Bucks remain undefeated, having rolled over Groom, Clarendon and Lefors in the first three games of the season. Teams with only one defeat marring 1957 progress are Wheeler, Panhandle, Lefors, Perryton and McLean.

Little can be gleaned this week in discerning district powers as the games on tap are a mixture of classes, along with two tilts in Oklahoma.

White Deer vs Canadian
The powerful Bucks will host Canadian in a battle that should amount to the fourth victory for the strong Bucks. Canadian has dropped its first two games, the first to Wheeler, 13-6, and the second to Perryton, 6-0.

Perryton vs Clarendon
The Rangers of Perryton host Clarendon tomorrow night, seeking their second win of the season.

Having won a close game over Canadian, 6-0; and dropping to the Canyon Eagles, 20-7. The Bronchos have won one out of three games thus far, downing the Irish of Shamrock, 14-7 and losing to Stinnett, 21-7 and White Deer, 28-26.

Lefors Pirates
Lefors will journey to Wellington tomorrow to battle the mighty Sky-rockets, after falling to White Deer last Friday 20-7. Wellington dropped their first game to Floydada, 12-6, and downed Memphis, 20-0, last week.

Wheeler vs Erick Okla.
The mighty Mustangs have lost only one game this season, to the Stinnett Rattlers, 12-0. In their first two games they defeated two class A teams; Canadian, 13-4 and McLean, 20-6. The Mustangs are defending regional champions.

Panhandle vs Memphis
The Panthers of Panhandle will journey to Memphis tomorrow in an attempt to hand the Cyclones their fourth straight loss. The Cyclones have dropped to Tulsa, 20-12; Crowell, 20-6 and Wellington, 20-0. Panhandle lost its opener to Childress, 32-7 and tied McLean last week, 13-13.

Three Pampa Teams Have Grid Action Slated Today

Three Pampa teams go into action today as the Shockers, Reapers and Planters all have games scheduled.

The Shockers go for their second victory of the season as they host the Perryton "B" team tonight in Harvester Park at 7:30. Composed of high school sophomores, the Shockers won their first game last Thursday against the Dumas "B" team, 28-6.

In the second tilt of the day, the ninth-grade Reapers take on Berger this afternoon in Harvester Park at 3:45. The Reapers have won their first two games, downing Bowie of Amarillo, 6-0 and Sam Houston of Amarillo, 20-13. Today is the first conference game for the team.

In the only out of town game for the weekend, the Planters will journey to Perryton to battle the Junior Rangers this afternoon. The Planters lost their first game last Thursday to Berger, 37-0.

Shamrock vs Hollis
The Irish of Shamrock are looking for their first win of the season as they host Hollis, Okla., tomorrow night. The Irish have lost to McLean, 7-6, Lefors, 20-7; and Clarendon, 14-7.

McLean vs Stinnett
The McLean Tigers stand little chance of doing themselves good as they clash with the powerful Rattlers of Stinnett. The Tigers have one win, one loss, and one tie, and Stinnett has two wins for the season, over Clarendon and Wheeler.

Head Coach Roy Curry and 18 of his Arlington Heights players became ill and cancellation of Friday's game with Longview was announced.

The Blinn-Southwest Texas B squad game was cancelled when eight members of the Southwest State crew came down with flu.

IBC Monopoly Goes To Court

NEW YORK (UP) — Dispelling any uncertainty, promoter Jim Norris stated definitely today that an appeal of the monopoly decision against the International Boxing Club will be taken soon to the United States Supreme Court.

That move doubtlessly will permit the IBC to stage a return Carmen Basilio - Ray Robinson middleweight title fight next year. Sugar Ray hinted Wednesday he would try to recapture the crown.

It was while Norris was discussing the possibilities of a return Basilio - Robinson match that he disclosed the appeal. His disclosure was made at St. Clare's Hospital, his quarters for nearly a month because of a heart condition. He is expected to leave the hospital Monday.

Meanwhile, Robinson — who lost the middleweight crown to Basilio at Yankee Stadium last Monday night — broke his silence and told reporters, "I have a contract for a return title fight. And I suffered no injuries that would prevent my fighting — hardly a mark."

But he refused to be pinned down to a definite announcement that he will try to recapture the crown — for the fifth time.

Sox May Rehire Al Lopez

CHICAGO (UP) — The White Sox were expected to announce today the rehiring of manager Al Lopez to pilot the Chicago club in the 1958 baseball campaign.

A meeting was scheduled this morning by Vice President Charles A. Comiskey and John D. Rigney "for an important announcement." But it was generally believed the meeting would reveal that Lopez had signed a new contract.

Lopez, who piloted the White Sox to a second-place finish this year, has never finished lower than second in any of his managerial efforts.

Dallas Hangs On In Playoffs

HOUSTON (UP) — Dallas again attempts to stay alive in the Texas League playoffs tonight.

The Eagles, trailing three games to one against Houston in the final round of the playoffs, will probably send either Joe Kostany or Dick Malbauer against Houston's Tom Hughes.

The two clubs were rained out Wednesday night for the third time in the best of seven series.

Braves Provide Generous Split

MILWAUKEE (UP) — The Milwaukee Braves have made what they call a "real generous" split of their expected near-record World Series money, with full shares to the regulars who have been with the team all year.

Red Schoendienst, their "take charge" second baseman, also was given a full share, one of the regulars said. Schoendienst came to the club June 15 from the New York Giants in a trade for Danny O'Connell, Bobby Thomson and Ray Crone.

The players voted Wednesday to divide the money into 33 full and equal shares, with some of these broken into quarters and halves for distribution to players who saw only brief service during the year.

Perryton, Clarendon Play Game Of Week

The Perryton Rangers will host the Bronchos of Clarendon tomorrow night for the tilt selected as the "Area Game of the Week."

Both teams have been previously defeated this season, but have met some of the top regional powers. Clarendon has been defeated two times to Stinnett, 21-7 and to White Deer, 28-26. Both White Deer and the Rattlers are top powers in district 1-A, with Stinnett defending the state championship. In its third game of the season, Clarendon downed the Irish of Shamrock, 14-7.

Perryton opened its season with a win over Canadian, 6-0, but dropped last Friday to Canyon, 20-7.

The Rangers are defending district 3-AA champions.

Sparking the Ranger offensive attack will be quarterback Harold Shiftlett and end Howard Swink. The two connected for 39 yards in the game last Friday night. For the Bronchos, Johnny Morrow and Carl Evans are top powers in the offensive strength.

Larsen Back In Swing As Series Time Draws Near

Hurls Yankees To 5-1 Victory Over Baltimore

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press Sports Writer

Don Larsen, super-hero of last year's World Series but a "forgotten man" this year, suddenly is keynoting the Yankees' pitching staff as it drives to reach a peak for next week's classic.

From the hysterical glory of his perfect game against the Dodgers last fall, the hulking Larsen faded far back into the shadows during the summer months as he was whacked time and again and expelled to the bullpen. But it's almost Series time again and Larsen is firing bullets.

The big fellow made his final pre-Series tune-up a dilly Wednesday night by fanning nine batters in seven innings to lead a 5-1 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

In the second game of the two-night double-header, the Orioles nipped an eased-up Whitey Ford, 4-2.

Shantz Gets "Practice"
Larsen, whose last effort was a 3-0 shutout, this time allowed just four hits in the seven frames he worked. Then a manager Casey Stengel let Bobby Shantz get in two innings of "practice" in which he allowed one hit.

Ford, who found it "hard to bear down" now that the pennant is clinched, gave up four hits in eight innings but lost when the Orioles broke a 2-2 tie in the ninth with a pair of runs on Billy Gardner's bases-loaded single.

The defeat of Ford, his probable opening-game hurler in the Series, didn't worry Stengel much because his pitching is sharper now than it's been in a long time. For the final three games in Boston starting Friday, Stengel plans to work two hurlers per game — Bob Turley and Shantz Friday, Tom Sturdivant and Bob Grim Saturday, and Art Ditmar and Johnny Kucks Sunday. Then it's off until Wednesday when Ford probably will face the Braves.

Bob Buhl, a certain Series starter for the Braves, absorbed a 4-1 loss Wednesday to the St. Louis Cardinals, who thus clinched second place in the National League.

Musial Boosts Average
Buhl carried a 1-0 lead into the eighth inning, thanks to a run-scoring fly by Johnny Logan, but then was bombed for four runs on six hits. One of the singles was a pinch-hit single by Stan Musial, who boosted his average to .351 for a near-lockup on the NL batting crown.

In the only other National League game Wednesday, the Chicago Cubs scored six runs in the second inning and then held on for a 7-5 win over Cincinnati as the Redlegs' top-late rally included Frank Robinson's 29th homer.

In the American League, the Cleveland Indians clinched six homers, including the 27th and 28th for ex-polio victim Vic Wertz, to beat the Kansas City A's, 9-7; southpaw Billy Hoest of the Chicago White Sox, 5-0, on five hits as Red Wilson's homer led his eighth-inning support, and Frank Malzone's two homers led the Boston Red Sox to a 1-4 victory over the Washington Senators.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UP) — Sweden's Dan Waern, who has broken four minutes for the mile four times, today turned down an invitation to compete in the United States this winter because of the pressure of business, but said he probably would accept later "if they still want to see me."

Los Angeles Wavers At Final Adoption Of Bums Invitation

LOS ANGELES (UP)—The Los Angeles City Council, which last week with a huzzah by a vote of 11-4 adopted a proposal to offer the Brooklyn Dodgers a home here, today was reported wavering on final adoption of the invitation.

Sources close to the Council said that unless the councilmen are engulfed in a flood of enthusiasm for major league baseball it may not swing the necessary 10 votes to adopt an ordinance giving Brooklyn President Walter O'Malley a 300-acre tract in Chavez Ravine as a site for a 10-million-dollar stadium to house the ball club.

Spearheading the opposition to the proposal as it now stands was Councilman John C. Holland. He gained strong support for his motion that before the city finally agreed to give O'Malley the site he wants the city to get an appraisal of the land's value and also of Wrigley Field, the baseball park of the Dodger-owned Los Angeles club which the city would receive in exchange.

Observers said that members of the City Council have been deluged with letters from persons objecting to the granting of the site to O'Malley while proponents were lulled into believing that the exchange was all but made when the Brooklyn Dodgers a home here, today was reported wavering on final adoption of the invitation.

Seat Of Injustice

"My meaning will be most clearly seen if we turn to the highest form of injustice in which the criminal is the happiest of men, and the sufferers or those who refuse to do injustice are the most miserable . . . that is to say tyranny, which by fraud and force takes away the property of others, not little by little but wholesale; comprehending in one, things sacred as well as profane, private and public; for which act of wrong, if he were detected perpetrating any one of them singly, he would be punished and incur great disgrace . . . they who do such wrong in particular cases (outside the protection of those who govern) are called robbers of temples, and men-stealers and burglars and swindlers and thieves. But when a man besides taking away the money of the citizens has made slaves of them, then, instead of names of reproach, he is termed happy and blessed . . . by the citizens . . . having achieved the consummation of injustice . . ."

The above quotation appears in Plato's Republic. It is taken from a speech by Thrasymachus, an articulate Sophist. The wording is difficult, but the meaning is clear. A man who practices his crimes singly and outside the protection of the government, runs a great risk and will be called ugly names. Whereas, a man who practices his crimes collectively and against the public generally, under the protection of the government, or even as the government, will be declared the happiest and most blessed of men, even though in the process he enslaves the citizens.

Unfortunately, we live in a time wherein this truth has largely been forgotten. And nowhere is this lapse of memory more apparent and more important than in our own country, the United States.

We are suffering from a disease which could be called dependency. Our reliance upon one another, an essential in the market place, has caused us to mistake both the nature and purpose of interdependence. Reliance on others is based on trust. And in the market place it causes us to depend upon persons who provide us with certain goods and services which are exchanged for our own energies through a medium called money. This interdependency within the market place is fine and worthy. Here, we truly see that men need one another. No man lives for himself alone. Each of us, to be happy and successful, must render some service to the general good. And in that rendering, we receive in turn, those things on which we place a value high enough so that we exchange what we have willingly with the things others have.

But an interdependence in the market is one thing, a dependence upon government is quite another. For if we turn to government as suppliant we are turning to a use of force whereby others can be compelled and in the end, we too will be compelled. This we once knew.

When America came into being, the danger of excessive power in the hands of our governors was generally known. The concept of limited government was made basic in the law of the land. And as a result, with the government enchained and harnessed within a carefully delineated framework, the American people actually secured a large measure of freedom and went to work honestly and diligently to roll back the wilderness and to establish the great productive economy from which we have all benefited hugely.

Now we live in days marked by a thirst for security. And in seeking security, we falsely have concluded that security is a matter of being made safe by a use of force. Hence, we have turned to government and asked of it that it expand its own functions, abrogate its limitations and provide for all of us from the cradle to the grave.

But government, while it poses as the throne of justice, must be, in fact, the acme of injustice established on a giant scale. Government cuts across the desires and actions of men, limiting, controlling, regimenting, taxing, enforcing and if necessary, imprisoning and killing. It commits all the crimes there are; yep because it does commit these crimes in a universal manner in which no one can surely be spared, we claim the government is good, and fancy ourselves secure.

Real security is found only within one's self. Treasures laid up can be taken away. Laws which seem to protect, can and do inflict harm. It is certainly time for us to abandon our dependence upon government. By means of such dependence, our freedom and our security are being diminished hourly.

The Doctor Says

By EDGAR P. JORDAN, M. D.

Each year many people are told that they have anemia. What is often not clear to them, however, is just what this means.

This is not surprising because anemia is not a single disease but rather a symptom. It may be the result of any one of several different causes and comes in several degrees of severity.

In all kinds of anemia there is a less than normal number of red blood cells or hemoglobin (the latter being the coloring matter of the blood) or both. Thus, the physician counts the red cells according to a definite system and formula, and also measures the hemoglobin.

There are roughly four and one-half to five million red blood cells in each cubic millimeter of blood normally. (There are more than 16,000 cubic mm. to a cubic inch). The average for women is slightly less than for men. The red blood cells contain oxygen and hemoglobin, both of which are necessary to maintain health and life.

One kind of anemia is known as primary or pernicious anemia. The cause of this condition is complicated but now it can be successfully treated in almost all cases. Other forms are known as body. If a person loses more blood than can be reformed, anemia develops. If the bleeding is sudden and profuse the difficulty can be remedied promptly by stopping the hemorrhage and giving a blood transfusion.

When the bleeding is slow it is necessary to find where the bleeding comes from and to stop it if possible. If the anemia is severe, transfusions or iron preparations may be needed.

Another kind of anemia is fairly frequent in women between 30-50. The cause of this anemia is a deficiency of iron. It probably results from defective diet and poor absorption due to disturbances of the stomach and intestines. This causes a feeling of weakness, shortness of breath, nervous symptoms, dry hair, sore tongue and paleness.

Anemia may result from the failure of the organs which make the blood to manufacture adequate quantities. Here the difficulty lies principally in the bone marrow and is much like the anemia which comes from certain poisons.

There are many other forms of anemia. All of them should be recognized as a sign of something serious. When found, the cause should be tracked down and appropriate treatment employed promptly.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. Hollis

Union Printer's Letter, With Answer

I want to quote for a few days a letter from a union printer who has asked several questions and drawn several conclusions. The letter, therefore, will be in installments. The letter was written by R. B. Burwell, 203 E. St. Andrews Pl., Santa Ana.

I am always glad to get letters, privately or for publication, from individuals who believe I am advocating something that is unfair and injures them or anyone else. I have no desire to injure anyone. Quite often those who think I am injuring them believe so because they evidently think they own or have a monopoly on their jobs, whether or not they are benefiting those they are exchanging with as much as others are willing and able to benefit them.

They quite often fail to think of the other person's needs as well as their own. They are, it seems to me, violating the Love Commandment, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself" — not better or less, but as.

I know of no better way of throwing light on controversial questions than a free and open discussion of them.

Mr. Burwell writes:

"Anent your fulminations concerning unions I would appreciate your answering some questions."

"1. Do you agree with Emerson, as set forth in his 'Law of Compensation,' that we get what we deserve and deserve what we get, or as the Bible so succinctly expresses it: 'As ye sow so shall ye reap?'"

"If you do; then it follows that you admit that some businesses deserve to be unionized."

My Answer

I most certainly agree with Emerson and the Bible as quoted above. St. Paul, who said, "Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap," was referring to the spiritual or the things that are not seen, as well as material things. Emerson had the same idea expressed in different words. And they were referring to the laws of God or nature rather than the laws and acts of men. They saw, which Mr. Burwell evidently does not, that God or nature would correct man's errors better than other men would correct them. This is undoubtedly what Jesus meant when he said, "Resist not evil." And by "resist" he meant, do not try to retaliate, do not try to intimidate, do not try to get revenge, to blackmail, to persecute men whom they have offended by you. This is what Jesus had in mind when he said: "Ye have heard that it hath been said, Thou shalt love thy neighbor, and hate thine enemy. But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you: That ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven; for he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and on the unjust."

He evidently knew that it was not wise or safe for individuals to hate and try to punish any individual for doing what that particular individual thought was wrong. Nor, of course, was this admonition of Emerson and St. Paul and Jesus limited to material reaping. It included the spiritual and the unseen. Jesus expresses this idea when he said: "For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? And his own self-respect, his own confidence, his own integrity by temporarily getting a material reward? He is a loser by so doing. Jesus expressed the same thought when he said: "But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things (material) shall be added unto you." In other words, if you respect the inalienable rights and the God-given rights of every other individual, not just some individuals, then you will have more material blessings than you have by only respecting and reverencing and having allegiance to some individuals who were lining up with you or your group to exploit and plunder other individuals. With this interpretation, that is certainly what Emerson and Jesus and St. Paul meant by their statements.

It does not follow, as Mr. Burwell contends in his third paragraph above, that some businesses deserve to be unionized. God or nature, through the consumer and through his employees, will better take care of the employer who tries to cheat his customers, his employees, or his stockholders or partners in business. Than can be done by his employees trying to injure him. They can do this without threats of strikes.

Then Mr. Burwell's second question is: "2. If not, then do you believe that life is just a damned if you do, damned if you don't proposition; with no reward for decency?"

Since I believe that men reap what they sow, I need not answer that question.

His question No. 3 is: "If you deny this also, how then do you correlate your denial to the statement contained in question 1?"

I do not deny the statement in question 1 when it refers to God or nature rewarding or punishing. Men, of course, make errors and they reap some things they have not sown. Socrates and Jesus did not sow acts that warranted their murders. These were the acts of ignorant or selfish and vile men.

Trains In States Should Adopt European System

By HENRY McLEMORE

ROME — Few American businessmen talk "poor month" as much as do the railroads. To hear them tell it, they're never more than two jumps ahead of the sheriff and hardly have enough money in the bank to pay off a farmer when a train hits a cow.

I am not an expert on railroad management, and have never been asked to leave my day coach seat and join the executives in their private car hooked onto the end of the train. But I like railroads, and have for a long time. My first boyhood ambition was to be a train butcher and stroll through the aisles selling those glass pistols and miniature brakemen's lanterns filled with candy.

It would be good to see the American railroads get on their financial feet, and I believe I have a suggestion which would aid them in that direction. The suggestion is this: Quit insisting on providing a seat for every ticket sold and adopt the European method of selling tickets as long as they hold out.

European railroads look upon the New World scheme of a seat for every ticket holder as a form of customer pampering that is ridiculous. They make this guarantee only in first-class carriages, and even then one must pay an extra fee to guarantee a seat. In second-class carriages, which are 99 per cent of the people ride, buying a ticket is a pure gamble insofar as getting a resting place is concerned.

Over here no one sees anything wrong in the selling of 500 tickets for a train that has seating space for no more than half that many. Nor do you hear any complaints from the patrons who have to stand, say, all the way from Naples to Munich.

Even standing room is often a premium. It has been on trains where I could elbow no more than one square foot of room to call my own, and in it I not only had to get myself but my luggage as well.

It is not at all unusual for one to travel for two or three hours jammed in the passageway so tightly that to light a cigarette or scratch a tickle is impossible. Usually one has the end of a ski stuck in one's ribs, or the sharp end of a suitcase pressing relentlessly against a knee.

Europeans don't travel light. Apparently there is no limit to what they may carry on a train. If they have a ten-foot square of window glass to get to the next town, they hop a train. And they nearly all wear massive rucksacks on their backs, stuffed to the breaking point, and from which dangle enough cooling utensils to prepare a meal for ten or more.

The selling of tickets as long as there is a ticket left, adds excitement to traveling. Catching a train is no cut-and-dried procedure. To catch a four o'clock train in the afternoon one should leave for the station around noon, even if one lives next door to the depot. For no matter how early one arrives, one will find a crowd already waiting for departure.

Shuffling for position starts a good two hours before the train pulls in, with everyone's trying to

COUNTERATTACK ON ECONOMY

(Washington Report)

Congress may have been in a budget-cutting mood this year, but there is little indication that the federal agencies are greatly impressed. They are proposing new spending which will make the 1958 federal budget seem like the headwaters of a major stream.

A good example appears in the 1957 annual report of the Interior Department's Missouri Basin Field Committee. This report shows that the Bureau of Reclamation proposes to spend in the Missouri River Basin as much money in the next six years as all of the Basin Project has cost from its beginning in 1945 up to date. The total comes to nearly $600 million through 1958.

For the peak year of spending (1961) total outlays of $128 million are proposed. More than three-fourths of this is scheduled for reclamation project construction, and about 13 per cent ($17 million) would be for federal power transmission lines. The balance would go for operation and maintenance, investigations of new projects and general administrative expenses.

The proposed amount for 1961 is double any previous year's appropriation for Missouri Basin projects.

Reclamation in the Missouri River Basin has taken about one-third of all Bureau construction funds during the last five years. It might be assumed that future budget requests for other Bureau projects would be in proportion to the big increases proposed for the Missouri. The Bureau is authorized to operate only in the 17 so-called western reclamation states.

If Bureau of Reclamation budget increases portend similar plans in other federal agencies, Congress can look for more record-breaking budgets in the years ahead.

Wilson's Defense Cuts May Endanger Nation

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Pentagon secrecy and shortsighted politics prevent the American Congress and public from realizing how far the United States lags behind Russia in preparing for a possible World War III. Although they dare not speak out publicly for fear of a court-martial, experts confide that the situation is "tragic."

In a farewell order, since he leaves office soon, Defense Secretary Wilson instructed Army, Navy and Air aides to hold down overall national defense spending to $38 billion. Only two months ago, members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff told Congressional Committees that they would need at least $45 billion to $50 billion to build an adequate defense force.

In early July, Wilson sent directives to all research laboratories and shops to accelerate every program then under way. These involved every military weapon and development from radar to rockets — in fact, almost all the devices which have come into play since World War II.

CANCELS ORDERS SUDDENLY — In early September, he cut back or cancelled the work which he had regarded as so essential only two months before. The only reason was the Administration's anxiety to set a reputation for economy.

Wilson has also rescinded millions of dollars in contracts for new planes. Most dangerous of all his economies, he has forced the elimination of the two D.E. W. war ing systems designed to signal a sneak Russian attack on the Western continent across the top of the world — the Polar wastes. CALCUTTA, India (UP)—State-owned stores will release limited quantities of American rice to help Hindus here perform their biggest festival, the worship of the prosperity Goddess Durga, the governor of Bengal announced today.

Hindus will use only the finest quality rice in the ceremony. They consider Indian rice varieties too coarse.
