Tech Faculty Accuses Board

LUBBOCK (UP)—The Texas Tech faculty charged the school's board of directors Tuesday with violating the principles of academic freedom in firing three professors.

looked upon by the faculty with grave concern," a resolution passed at the teacher's meeting said. "Such procedures jeopardize the status of every active and competent member of the faculty," it added. "Standards pertaining to tenure and the request of the faculty tenure have been violated."

In the first faculty meeting of the fall semester, some 500 pro-fessors voted to ask the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools to investigate.

The faculty also approved creation of a committee on faculty tenure and policy, to be guided by the standards set by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The three professors, Doctors Byron Abernathy, Herbert Greenberg and Per Stensland, were dismissed at an executive meeting of the Texas Tech board of directors in July. The board later refused to disclose reasons for dismissing them, or to review the case or hold an open hearing.

RALEIGH, N.C. (UP)—Democrat National Chairman Paul Butler ended a two-day meeting with southern party leaders here Tuesday with a strong attack on President Eisenhower's handling of the Little Rock integration stalemate.

Police Haul 'Dead' Man Off To Jail

The telephone rang at the police department last night and the voice of a man, plainly excited, could be heard throughout the station as he told the dispatcher there was a man on W. Brown that was dead.

Two of the officers were at the station at the time and they hurriedly jumped into their patrol car and raced to the scene.

Sure enough, there was a man lying on the sidewalk that in all appearances was dead. The officers knelt beside him to see if he was breathing.

After the officers sobred up after smelling the man's breath, the "dead" man was taken to the city jail and charged with being intoxicated.

At Party Meeting
Butler predicted that the civil rights issue will come up in the next national convention and that the party will call for supplemental legislation on the subject. He foresaw no new civil rights legislation in the next congressional session.

He reported that the meeting here, first of six such regional conferences across the country, laid the groundwork to counteract "Operation Dixie," the Republican vote drive in the South.

The GOP may enlarge and expand its "hunchheads" in the south, Butler added and said there would be threats of their electing more congressmen and local officials.

There was, Butler said, some discussion of a third party movement during the closed meetings. "I do not deny that there will be some defection and dissatisfaction but I believe we can continue to get along," he said.

"I think I should make it perfectly clear that I feel the Democratic Party nationally will not consider" the threat of a third party as a cause for changing its policy, he said.

New Orleans Hit By 8-Inch Deluge

NEW ORLEANS (UP)—Tropical storm Esther smacked the hurricane-battered Louisiana coast with winds of up to 64 miles an hour today.

Coastal residents, warned of the danger of high tides, fled in plenty of time to escape the kind of disaster that hit the same general area earlier this year, killing almost 500 persons.

Esther was a sopping wet storm that had dumped eight inches of rain on New Orleans in 24 hours before the center neared this city. The storm center was expected to pass over New Orleans about noon today and continue over Mississippi and Alabama.

The weather bureau at New Orleans said the storm center was 100 miles wide and that the disturbance would cause torrential rains of up to eight inches in parts of Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana.

Not a Hurricane
"Esther had all the potentialities of a hurricane, but it never developed into one," a weather bureau forecaster said. Hurricanes are rated on winds of 75 m.p.h. or more.

The tropical disturbance, spawned in the Gulf of Mexico, slowly moved shoreward at the rate of 10 miles an hour before striking the Louisiana coast, hard hit by hurricanes during the 1957 season.

By the time the disturbance reaches New Orleans, weather bureau officials say winds will have diminished. There was not expected to be much damage except from flooding.

Streets in New Orleans became rivers today because of the deluge and more rain was forecast. Tides, pushed by winds, flooded all sections in the direct storm area.

Miss Elzie A. Johnson, 40, and her mother, Mrs. Ida B. Johnson of Buras, La., received minor injuries when Miss Johnson lost control of her car during a blinding rain in New Orleans. The two women said they fled in advance of the storm and were en route to Meridian, Miss. Neither required hospitalization.

Southeast storm warnings were extended to Pensacola, Fla., but were lowered west of Morgan City. Tides three to five feet above normal were expected along the southeast Louisiana and Mississippi coasts today and along the Alabama coast by tonight.

Precautions against flooding were urged. Up to eight inches of rain was expected in southern Louisiana and Mississippi.

Local 4-H Sets Halloween Party

At a meeting of the Gray County 4-H Council in the Extension Service offices in the Court House last night it was decided to hold an areawide Halloween party on Oct. 26.

The party will be held at the Akin barn, located 15 miles southwest of Pampa on the Celanese Road. The council decided to invite members of 4-H Clubs from surrounding counties to attend the party.

ROUNDUP TIME ON TOMATO FARM—Virtually stretching to the horizon, acres and acres of tomato plants form a neat pattern at the B & L Farm Company in the Homestead-Redland region near Miami, Fla. B & L, the world's largest grower of tomatoes, has developed this unique monster, center, to help harvest the crop, which covers some 8,000 acres in an 18-mile-long strip. The only part of the harvesting operation done by hand is the actual plucking of the fruit from the vines. The pickers spread out in front of the machine and dump the tomatoes onto the massive conveyor belts, stretching 165 feet on either side of the central unit. As the tomatoes roll to the center, they are graded and sized, and rejects are discarded. Each of the devices requires a crew of 107 men.

Amarillo Wants To Stop Cars, Landscape Streets

AMARILLO (UP) — Civic and business leaders in Amarillo are throwing their support behind a proposal to bar all traffic from eight downtown blocks and convert the area into a landscaped shopping center.

The plans call for Polk Street to have a series of malls from 2nd to 10th Avenues. Fish ponds and water fountains would be surrounded by trees and flowers where now a heavily-travelled main street exists.

Cost of the concrete plazas and park area is estimated at $50 per front foot for merchants and building owners. Petitions of interest were signed by many of the property holders affected, and approval of the plan for blocking long parks will be sought from the city commission.

Sponsored by COC The idea for the redevelopment of downtown Amarillo is sponsored by the city planning department and the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce. When the scale-model of the completed project was shown to a group of interested business leaders, reaction was described as "the most enthusiastic in the city's history."

The only immediate objection came from a few automobile owners, wary of closing the eight downtown blocks to vehicles.

In addition, cross streets in the immediate area would be made "no parking" areas. All parking places would be lost on eight blocks of Polk Avenue and 320 others would be eliminated on adjoining streets.

Advocates of the beautification project contend that a new parking lot on Polk will make up for all the places lost on Polk, plus an extra 163 spaces. Other parking projects would presumably be built to accommodate the cars that could no longer park on the side streets.

Shrubs to Replace Bricks Filling in from curb to curb with concrete and garden areas, the plan would create a continuous flow of foot traffic in each block. Bricks would be torn up and grass, trees, shrubs and flowers planted.

B. R. Barfield, chairman of the Civic Development Committee of the chamber of commerce, said he had many calls from interested citizens and "I have never seen anything like the reaction we are getting."

Typical of the reactions was that of the president of the city Garden Club, Mrs. Grady Noble. She said: "I think it is marvelous if the out-of-town people can find sufficient parking. Of course we are always interested in beautifying Amarillo."

Reappraisal Of Phone Strike Asked Today

NEW YORK (UP)—A federal mediator called on negotiators to reappraise their positions today in the three-day strike of telephone equipment installers that has partially disrupted long-distance service across the nation.

Walter Maggilo of the U.S. mediation and Conciliation Service met again with representatives of the striking Communications Workers of America and the Western Electric Co., in an effort to break the deadlock.

At the end of a negotiations session Tuesday, Maggilo reported "no significant change" in the positions of either the company or the union. He then urged both sides to reappraise their positions.

About 23,800 telephone equipment installers went on strike at 6 a.m. Monday to back demands for a wage increase and improved fringe benefits. An estimated 150,000 non-striking telephone operators, members of the CWA, have refused to cross picket lines set up by the equipment installers.

Only minor delays have been reported in long-distance service, however. Operators crossing picket lines have been supplemented by supervisory personnel, pressed into switchboard service at the outset of the strike.

Local service has been virtually unaffected by the strike. The strike's greatest impact was on communications projects in the 44 states where the striking installers are employed. Work has been halted on an estimated 9,000 projects, including the new nationwide long-distance automatic dial system.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (UP)—Entire herds of cattle and acres of cotton fields were destroyed as a result of a six-day eruption by Cerro Negro Volcano, officials said. Jaycees Plan Local Projects

Color slides taken in Japan were shown yesterday in the weekly Jaycee luncheon in the Palm Room of City Hall.

Showing the slides were two Amarillo Marine reservists, Capt. Wickman and Sgt. Stagg. Two new members, Jimmy Higgins and Kelly Draper, were inducted into the club, and a club social was planned for tonight. The party is planned for 7:30 p.m. at the City Service Recreation building.

A report on the Berger work conference was given. A board of directors conference, was also held yesterday morning with the Jaycees to discuss details of forming an Auxiliary Police organization.

Jaycees members met Monday night with five Pampa dentists to start the ball rolling on the county welfare clinic. Originally started by the Jaycees, the project has been taken over by the county. Underprivileged children may have dental care otherwise unavailable to them through the program. Starting date this year has been set as Oct. 2.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Sidney Lazard of New Orleans and Dr. John Fisher of Dallas won both the Men's Pairs and the Open Pairs at the Texas Regionals. Today's hand shows Sidney on trump.

He decided to open a dummy. It seemed most unlikely from the bidding that this lead could cost him a trick and any other opening had elements of danger.

East won with the ace and promptly returned the deuce of hearts. South played the king. Sidney won with the ace and returned the jack.

Naturally, South won that trick with the queen. His next play was to lay down the king of clubs. Then the six of diamonds was placed on the table and it was up to Sidney to come through with the winning play.

An unthinking player might well have ducked that diamond-lead but not Sidney. He took a little time to count the hand. John's deuce of hearts lead had shown four so that declarer was marked with three cards in that suit. It seemed most likely that he held at least seven spades so that left only three cards for the minor suits. The club king had already shown up so he could not hold more than two diamonds.

If he held exactly two diamonds and the other one was the king it was necessary to play the ace to block him out of dummy. Sidney did play the ace and eventually declared, but to lose his six of hearts and go down one trick.

I asked Sidney what he would have done if South had played the king instead of a low diamond. He replied that he had made up his mind to play declarer for seven spades, three hearts, two diamonds and a club and therefore would have let the king of diamonds hold and shut declarer out of dummy that way.

INCOME UP—Personal income in 1956 was about 7 per cent higher than in 1955 in nearly every state, according to a report from the Office of Business Economics, U.S. Department of Commerce. Per capita personal income in 1956 amounted to a record $1,940 for the country as a whole. By states (see Newsmap above) average incomes varied from $2,858 in Delaware to $964 in Mississippi. In addition to Delaware, others in the top rank—all with per capita incomes of more than $2,350 in 1956—were Connecticut, New Jersey, Nevada, New York, Illinois, and the District of Columbia. The Territory of Hawaii (not shown) had a per capita income of $1,773. Personal income measures the current income, before taxes, from wages and salaries, income from unincorporated enterprises (including farms), net rental income, dividends, interest, and such other items as social insurance benefits, relief and pensions.

Blind Wife Recovers Sight After Accident

FORT WORTH (UP)—A 20-year-old blind wife of a Carwell Air Force Base airman recovered her eyesight today after being kidnapped and thrown out of an automobile.

Mrs. Virginia Minks was found by police lying on a downtown street with her hands taped behind her back. When they put her in an ambulance, Mrs. Minks exclaimed: "I can see."

She had been accidentally blinded July 3 in an automobile accident. A doctor said it was a "psychological blindness" and Mrs. Minks was shocked out of it.

Police said Mrs. Minks gave this account of her experience: A man knocked on the door of her trailer home about 8 p.m. Tuesday. He told Mrs. Minks he had some news from her husband Ervin, who is on temporary duty in Maine.

When she let the man in, Mrs. Minks said he pressed what felt like a pistol to her stomach. He taped her wrists and then forced her into an automobile, and they drove around for about four hours.

She said the man did not try to rape her, but did tear her blouse and fondle and kiss her. Then he threw Mrs. Minks out of the automobile, where police found her. She was treated at a hospital and police began a search for her kidnapper.

French Beavers Begin Building

ST. VERNAN, France (UP)—French beavers who haven't done a lick of work in 200 years are amazing the French who thought the animals had become too civilized to care about dams and things.

Turns out they are now as busy as American beavers. Fascinated French zoologists said the beavers lived on the fast-flowing Rhone River for two centuries without even thinking about building a dam.

Then along came some humans who built a big concrete dam and gave the beavers ideas.

You Won't Need To Buy Outfit This Fall Unless You Want To Dress Fashionably

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor
NEW YORK (NEA) — My first new dress for fall is black with a very full, wide skirt slightly longer than the length I usually wear. Paris would hate it. But I like it so it's mine.

It was the direct result of staring at too many pictures of the new Paris fashions. By February, my dress may be just a quaint fashion curio but I figure I can raise some money on it by selling it to a costume museum. In the meantime, it's all mine and it isn't up to the knees.

It looks as if Paris has finally lost its buttons. For some years now, we've been getting revivals of the 1920's in some form. This year, Parisian designers didn't bother with inspiration. They've simply copied fashions of the 1920's line for line, button for button and bow for bow. Skirts are up to the knees.

Dresses are straight and shapeless or they have belts somewhere down around the hips. The beaded Charleston dress with rhinestone straps is back in for evening wear.

The fashions of the 1920's were probably the ugliest ever. Women who saved dresses and suits from this period to drag out for the laughs now and then can stop laughing. They need to buy a thing this winter — unless they want to be well dressed.

Several of America's top designers see the new Paris nightmares much as I do. They say: Roxane of Samuel Winston: "My opinion of most of the new Paris fashion ideas wouldn't look well in print! I do not design in terms of 'trends.' I design clothes that people can wear and in which they can feel happy."

Mollie Paris: "I feel that Mrs. Gross Leader For WSCS Study

The Women's Society of Christian Service of Harrah Methodist Church met recently for the second session of the study, "Christ, the Church and Race." Mrs. P. D. Gross is the study leader.

Members giving talks and reports on the study were Mmes. O. M. Butler, Burl Brown, and G. O. Hall. Mrs. Bill Gray was in charge of the worship service.

All ladies present took a personal prejudice test and an interesting discussion followed. There were twenty ladies present. The next meeting will be held Sept. 19 at 7:30 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall.

change is the essence of life and therefore I look with interest upon any real change in fashion. I do not believe that either designers or the public can be forced into unbecoming changes. Shorter skirts will be right for some women and wrong for others. I hope that American women have developed enough taste to judge such things for themselves."

Pauline Trigrere: "Any fashion news is good news but like any other news is often exaggerated at the beginning. I believe American women will continue to look at everything and select what is best for them. Incidentally, I hope that my ideas will please the majority."

Cell Chapman: "Fashion is a means of making women prettier or it cannot be fashion. I do not go to Paris and prefer to concentrate on developing my own ideas. However, I feel that all designers think more or less in the same terms on any given season. This year, I agree that skirts are a trifle shorter and hiplines rounded. I will never agree with fashion that discards the waistline."

Adele Simpson: "Many of the Paris collections launched important ideas and every collection contains beautiful clothes. As a designer, I enjoyed seeing the work of other designers just as a painter enjoys going to an art exhibition. I believe the straight, loose dress will be accepted by young Americans and by chic, slender women. I also believe that shorter skirts are on the way in for everybody."

Suzy Perette: "Paris and New York both introduced exciting and charming new silhouettes for winter. As always, there is a new

Freshening Up The House For Fall? Let Chemicals Lend A Helping Hand

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer
Freshening up the house for fall? Let chemical and mechanical aids lend a hand in the hard-to-clean areas, such as carpets and upholstered furniture.

If your own efforts to clean a rug have met with indifferent success, you might like to check your methods with those of the experts. Marion Wade, founder and chairman of the board of a professional home furnishings cleaning company, maintains that the proper preliminary vacuum cleaning can spell the difference between a fresh-looking carpet and a blotchy one.

Before you apply any solution, you should put a clean bag in the vacuum, face the nozzle squarely on the rug pile and vacuum slowly and thoroughly. It should take longer to vacuum up the loose grit and dust than it does to scrub in the solution that will pick up the atmospheric soil embedded in fibers.

For success it's also important to follow manufacturers' directions exactly. Some of the newer solutions foam up and crystallize the soil as they dry. This foam should not be rinsed off but allowed to dry and the powdery residue vacuumed up. Drying time varies, but it's usually wise to let the carpet stand overnight.

Take as much furniture off the carpet as you can. Be sure to use blocks of waxed paper under the furniture legs to protect the carpet from rust or dye stains.

These emulsifying solutions can also be used to clean upholstery. In this case you'll want to test an inconspicuous spot for colorfastness.

You can scrub a solution into a carpet with a brush or sponge. One new aid made especially for the purpose has a sponge brush attached to a long hollow handle into which the solution is poured. When the user adjusts the release, solution flows into the sponge, is picked up by the brush bristles and worked into the carpet fibers.

On the other side of the sponge brush are plastic bristles. These are used to comb up the pile after the carpet is clean.

If you have new carpets and furniture, or if yours have just been professionally cleaned, you probably feel strictly no-hum about overall cleaning. It doesn't pay to feel too smug, I found out. Scarcely had I finished admiring the color and beauty of our old carpet after its biennial professional cleaning when the dog galloped a trail of tar and mud across the surface.

Spot cleaning is an ever-present part of homemaking. Numerous home remedies are available to speed the removal of spots. But spots are of so many different kinds and types that no one can handle them all.

One of the most helpful of the new kits has a variety of spot-removing liquids to banish over 50 types of stains. A cardboard dial gives detailed directions for each procedure. It's all packaged in a cardboard carrying case which also includes a sponge, brush and tissues.

Braves Clip Giants, 3-1; Cardinals Blast Dodgers

Trowbridge Hurls Five Hitter For Seventh Victory Of Year

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer

Joe Adcock and Hank Aaron appear ready today to give the Milwaukee Braves the one-two punch that'll eventually stiffen the St. Louis Cardinals.

Coming through when they were needed most, big Joe and the 11th defending National League batting champion took care of the Braves' offense, all by themselves Tuesday night in a 3-1 victory over the New York Giants that kept Milwaukee's lead at three games. It was a vital victory because the run-happy Cardinals wallpiped the Brooklyn Dodgers, 12-5, for their 10th triumph in their last 12 games.

The Braves didn't increase their lead but they gained something just as precious — time. They're still three games in front — and now the Cardinals have only 10 games to make up in the margin.

Adcock, injured most of the last three months, hammered his first homer since June 9 with a male aboard in the second inning and also collected two singles. Aaron tied Ernie Banks for the major league home run lead with his 41st in the eighth and also smashed two doubles.

Trowbridge Notches Victories
Bob Trowbridge, young right-hander who has allowed only five earned runs in his last 35 innings, pitched an air-tight five-hitter to gain his seventh victory for the Braves while rookie Curt Barclay was tagged with his ninth loss.

The Cardinals, driving down the stretch like the old Gasbouse Gang of the 1930s, poured over seven runs in the seventh inning to clinch their victory over the Dodgers. A double by Don Blasingame and a bases-filled triple by pinch-hitter Irv Noren were the big blows of the frame which brought Larry Jackson his 15th win. Danny McDevitt took the loss for the Dodgers — his fourth against six wins.

In the American League, the New York Yankees whipped the Detroit Tigers, 7-1, and increased their lead to 6½ games with only nine to play when the Baltimore Orioles called to defeat the Chicago White Sox, 7-5, in 10 innings.

The Cincinnati Redlegs beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 9-5, and the Chicago Cubs defeated the Philadelphia Phillies, 7-1, in other NL games while the Boston Red Sox shaded the Kansas City Athletics, 9-8, and the Cleveland Indians beat the Washington Senators, 7-3, in other AL games.

Hank Bauer touched off a six-run eighth-inning rally with a homer as the Yankees routed southpaw Billy Hoft. Bobby Shantz turned in a four-hitter and contributed a two-run single to New York's big inning to win his 11th clinch.

Pierce Loses Heartbreaker
Billy Pierce, trying for his 20th win, carried a one-hit, 5-1 lead in to the eighth inning when the Orioles rallied for four runs climaxed by Gus Triandos' two-run double. The Orioles won it against rookie Barry Lattman in the 10th on Joe Durham's single and Bob Nieman's homer.

Homers by Bob Thurman and George Crowe sparked the Redlegs to a five-run outburst in the sixth and helped Joe Nuxhall win his 10th decision and fourth of the year over the Pirates. Roman Mejias and Frank Thomas homered for the Pirates who saw Bob Friend suffer his 18th loss.

Moe Drabowsky scattered seven hits and knocked in two runs with a homer and double to win his 11th game for the Cubs. Jack Sanford, 17-game winning rookie, suffered his eighth setback.

Ted Williams' pinch homer tied the score and Billy Klaus singled home a second run as the Red Sox rallied in the eighth to top the Athletics and Ray Narleski pitched a nine-hitter for his 11th victory as the Indians handed the Senators their 89th loss of the year.

Clarendon Broncs, 28-24; and Groom battled to a 7-7 tie with Sunray.

Lefors
Outstanding in the Pirates' win over Shamrock was Stanly Coleman. Lefors end, who galloped 90 yards for a touchdown on return of an Irish kickoff. Also exceptional was Tommy Johnson, quarterback, who stood out with a 28-yard romp off tackle in the opening minutes of the game for the Buccaneers first score.

White Deer also outstanding for White Deer was Alton Hill who raced for one touchdown and two extra points, along with a 54-yard run to set up another TD.

Wheeler vs. McLean
In the Mustangs victory over the Wildcats, Jim Porter, Wheeler halfback, proved his value in ripping off gains up to 20 yards offensively and bolstering the defense as a staunch linebacker. Also sparking the strength in the strong Wheeler defense was guard Joe Hyatt, who aided in a majority of the Mustang tackles.

For the Wildcats, David Crockett proved a powerful offensive threat, highlighting the evening with a 45-yard run that ended on the Wheeler ten-yard mark. On the line was Jerry Biggers strengthening the Wildcat defense.

United Press Grid Ratings

By ED FITTE
United Press Sports Writer

DALLAS (UP)—Last week's wave of upsets brought a shake-up of the United Press Texas High School Football Coaches Board Class AAA ratings, but it also served to strengthen Nederland's hold on the No. 1 spot.

The 16 coaches making up the UP board kept three of the upset victims in the top 10, but the week's results produced a flood of votes for scattered teams and 32 teams were mentioned in the balloting.

Nederland, however, gained five first-place supporters and wound up with 12 votes for the No. 1 spot to boost its point total to 146 from the 125 it received in the pre-season ratings.

Graham surged up from fourth to second with 97 points, Port Neches for a tie for fifth with San Antonio Edison into third place with 89 points while Kilgore moved up from ninth to fourth with 80 points.

Below that there was a sharp drop in support, fifth-ranking San Antonio Edison getting 55 points, Kingsville 46, McKinney 44, Garland 41, Andrews 37 and Breckenridge 32.

Kingsville and Garland polled one first-place ballot each and Port Neches got two.

Garland and Andrews were both beaten last week and dropped from the second and third spots, while Breckenridge held onto 10th despite being tied by Sweetwater.

The top members of the second 10 weren't far behind Breckenridge in the matter of points with Snyder showing up with 25 points despite being upset by Borger, Levelland polled 24 points, San Benito 22, Del Rio and Sweetwater 17 each, Brenham 16 and Palestine 14.

Only two of the top 10 teams appear in any particular danger this week. But, 10th rated Breckenridge ties into Wichita Falls, the No. 4 team in Class AAAA, and Nederland invades Tyler, which is rated 17th in the AAAA division.

Outstanding Players Named For Last Week's Grid Games

Last weekend brought about many surprises and hard battles in area grid action, in which many new names came to the top and some others remained in the spotlight.

Class "B" Wheeler scored their second win of the season in downing McLean, 20-0, in one of the more decisive games of the week.

Also looking strong in an opening game were the Lefors Pirates as they downed the Irish of Shamrock, 20-7.

The Perryton Rangers edged past Canadian in their opener, 6-0, while Panhandle went under to Childress, 32-7. White Deer remained undefeated through their second game as they downed the Clarendon Broncs, 28-24; and Groom battled to a 7-7 tie with Sunray.

Lefors
Outstanding in the Pirates' win over Shamrock was Stanly Coleman. Lefors end, who galloped 90 yards for a touchdown on return of an Irish kickoff. Also exceptional was Tommy Johnson, quarterback, who stood out with a 28-yard romp off tackle in the opening minutes of the game for the Buccaneers first score.

White Deer
As the Bucks of White Deer moved to their second win of the season, A. J. Alford, end, scored their first touchdown when he took a 20-yard pass from Courtney winner of each half will determine the conference championship.

The Reapers are coached by Norman Phillips and Gene Chance. Next game will be Sept. 26 here at 3:45 p.m. for the first conference

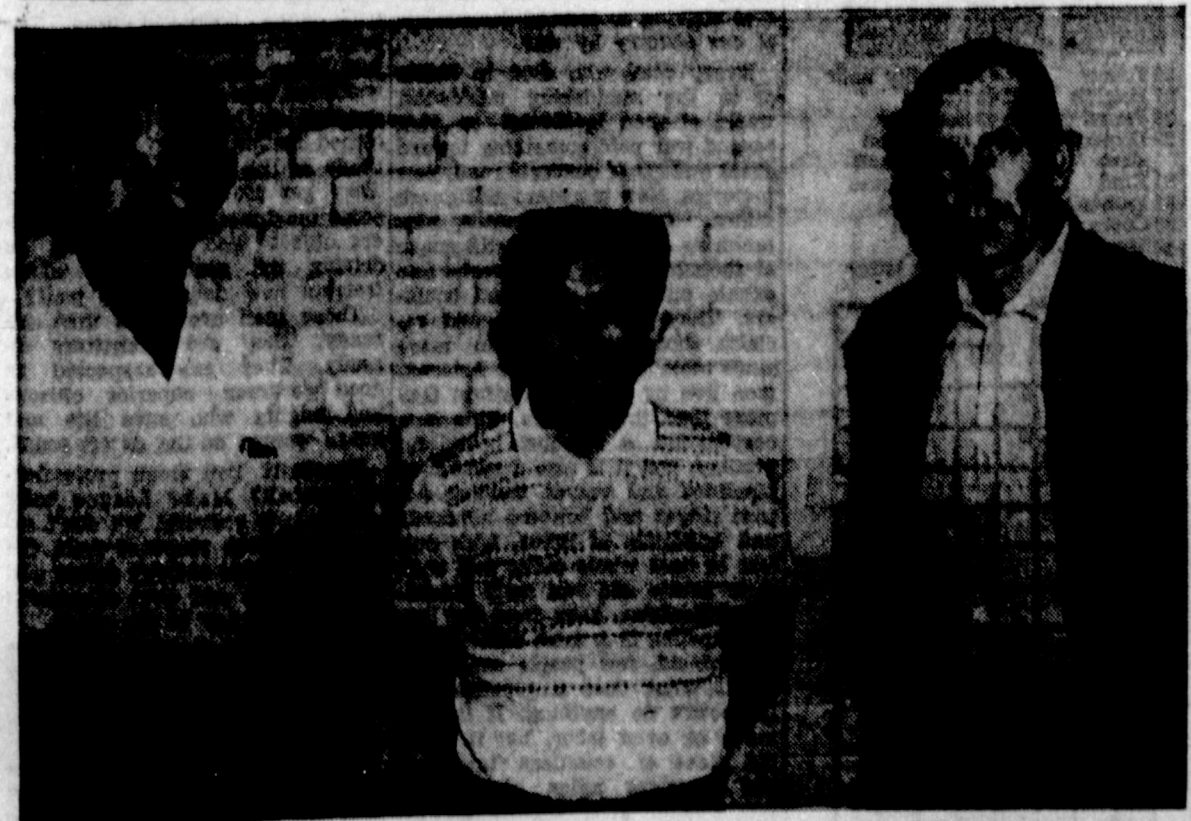

White Deer also outstanding for White Deer was Alton Hill who raced for one touchdown and two extra points, along with a 54-yard run to set up another TD.

Wheeler vs. McLean
In the Mustangs victory over the Wildcats, Jim Porter, Wheeler halfback, proved his value in ripping off gains up to 20 yards offensively and bolstering the defense as a staunch linebacker. Also sparking the strength in the strong Wheeler defense was guard Joe Hyatt, who aided in a majority of the Mustang tackles.

For the Wildcats, David Crockett proved a powerful offensive threat, highlighting the evening with a 45-yard run that ended on the Wheeler ten-yard mark. On the line was Jerry Biggers strengthening the Wildcat defense.

Richard Drug won 3; Poole's Drive In won 1.

Smith's Shoes won 3, Deluxe Cleaners won 1.

-Inconsistency

As we view the political scene, it seems to us that at this particular moment of history, the rightists, those who wish a diminution in the power and greed of government, are in a sorry state. The sadness of their plight is that they are long on hope and short on both money and know-how. They tend, because they feel the rightness of their cause, to be overconfident. Yet the results of the past twenty-five years of their efforts, if viewed dispassionately, ought to disabuse their minds. The whole political story from the first days of F. D. R. to the present moment, is a long story of their defeats.

What seems to us to be true is that the rightists have simply failed of an accurate analysis of their own situation.

So we would like to suggest to dedicated rightists that the time is not ripe for successful political action. This is not to say that some political action should not be taken. But the rightists, in taking what action they do take ought to have in mind that theirs is a rear-guard performance. They are in retreat, and like proud Roland, their best weapon is their own horn of despair. They can delay the grand rush toward totality under government control and confiscation. But they cannot defeat it. It is beyond their capacity at the moment.

Thus, it seems that the soundest and most rewarding efforts they could make now would be in an area other than political. We have, in recent past, attended many a conservative rally of political or near political intent. What we have seen is both heartwarming and discouraging at the same moment.

Right wingers are not left wingers. They do not take kindly if at all to political discipline. They think for themselves. They are in arms against a veritable sea of troubles. And each one picks his own salient on which to make his stand. But unified action? It is virtually unknown.

There are conservative fronts against the United Nations, against the income tax, against federal aid to education, against government intrusion in the mental health field, against foreign aid, against foreign meddling, against the draft, against Republicans, against Democrats, against communists and socialists, against a host of other things. But the worst of it is, these brave and sometimes foolhardy conservatives are not consistently against their own real enemy, excessive government.

Those who oppose federal housing, for example, frequently favor social security, not infrequently favor the federal aid to education, repeatedly back socialism in our schools, if only the socialism is locally administered. And the enemies of the communists are all too prone to favor bigger government, more expensive government, more ruthless government, if only that government can be used to catch or oust communists. These persons, with the best of intentions, do the worst thing possible. They aid and abet socialism, even as they nominally give support to anti-socialist programs.

How can political action be successfully prosecuted by such an untrained, disunited, conflicting group of hopefuls? The answer is, it cannot. And if momentarily some political gain could be obtained, what would it matter? In short order the new political power wielders would be off and down the road, boosting for more socialism on some other front.

Clearly, a program of education is indicated. And the persons most sadly in need of such a program are the conservatives themselves. Until a conservative can understand the true nature and the true meaning of socialism, he will inevitably side in somewhere with socialism. He will, in fact, if he is not careful, end up backing a socialist program of conformity, in order to fight socialism. In this case, the cure would be as bad as the disease.

It is time the conservatives got rid of their optimism. They are in for a long hard fight and the biggest part of that fight is with themselves. When a conservative really understands the nature and the character of the enemy he must oppose, then true progress can be made politically, but not until this becomes a fact. Any political frontal effort at this time is foredoomed to failure. A premature attack with weak and untrained forces is bound to result in non-success. And it provides the added detriment of loss of hope and loss of morale.

The Doctor Says

By EDGAR P. JORDAN, M. D.

With schools open for the fall term risk of whooping cough rises rapidly. A single child with whooping cough entering school can spread the disease to most of the rest.

Children from one to 10 are most likely to be attacked. But older children, adults and infants under six weeks old can catch it. It is particularly serious for tiny infants and old people. Vomiting often accompanies whooping cough. When small children get the disease they may become thin simply because they are not getting enough food.

The time between exposure and appearance of symptoms varies from four to 20 days. It is usually about 10. At first the symptoms seem like an ordinary cold, with slight fever, running nose, watering eyes and slight cough. After a week or 10 days the cough begins to become worse and the typical paroxysms set in.

The fit of coughing usually begins with a series of 15-20 forced short coughs without breathes in between. The child may get blue in the face and then take a deep breath of air which sounds like a whoop. Several fits of coughing may come one after the other until a small amount of sticky mucus is coughed up. This brings temporary relief. When vomiting occurs, it usually comes at the end of the whoop.

Whooping cough carries some danger to life, particularly in infants and old people. The coughing spells place the lungs under severe strain. Pneumonia can develop. Asthma, bronchitis and other lung complications are fairly common.

The whooping cough patient should be kept away from others who might become infected. Rest in bed, good nursing care and special attention to nutrition—is especially if there is vomiting—is necessary. Some of the antibiotics appear to be of considerable benefit, particularly when given early.

Prevention is best. The vaccine against whooping cough gives considerable protection to children. It is usually best to begin these injections early in life, since there is little or no inherited resistance.

Why Union Member Quits Union

"The Freeman" magazine for September has a letter written by a union member to the president of the union telling him why he resigned from the labor union. The article was under the heading of "A Declaration of Independence." It was written by Elwood P. Smith. The magazine has this introduction to the article:

"Elwood P. Smith, a young engineer with Boeing Airplane Co. in Seattle, began seriously studying moral, economic, and political philosophy about a year and a half ago. This letter is evidence that he has 'done his homework' remarkably well."

The letter was written to Dan N. Hendricks Jr., President of the Seattle Professional Engineering Employees Assn., at Seattle, Wash. It reads as follows:

"Dear Sir, 'I wish to inform you that I am discontinuing my membership in Seattle Professional Engineering Employees Association. In order that my reasons for this action are properly understood, I would like to explain the basis upon which this decision was reached.

"I would first like to commend SPEEA for its 'new look,' its attitude of cooperation and good will toward management. In this light SPEEA reflects the type of organization to which I would like to belong, and which I believe could perform a valuable service to both management and the engineering profession.

"My objection to SPEEA stems from an entirely different consideration, that of its being a protected organization under the Wagner Act, as modified by the Taft-Hartley Law. Under this legislation SPEEA is technically in fact a labor union, and granted certain powers by law in employer-employee relationships. As such, and I think you will agree with me, SPEEA is, by legal definition, a labor union, regardless of what high aspirations it may have in the way of professional status and recognition.

"Recent study on my part has brought me to a re-evaluation of the moral and economic validity of the labor movement. An examination of the historical background of the labor movement is most enlightening in this respect.

"We are, of course, forced to look at history through the eyes of historians. This introduces a seemingly incalculable margin for possible error, the interpretation of historical events by the historian. Opinions involved in the relating of events must, of necessity, reflect the judgment and experience of the historical writer, which accounts for the divergent opinions we so often find as to the fact and the interpretation of history.

"I believe that such historical interpretation of the events that gave birth to the labor movement is a case in point. The early Industrial Revolution era was a time of extreme hardship for the laboring man, when he was faced with most toriously poor working conditions, long hours, and low pay. Conditions of work were, by our present-day standards, intolerable. Such, I believe, in fact, contested by virtually no one.

"One must be careful, however, in evaluating cause and effect. We are told, and it is the classical interpretation of our day, that these were arbitrary and unjust circumstances, capriciously visited upon mankind by unrestrained capitalists who submitted humanity to unbearable indignities in their power and greed for unearned profits. This is an off-thought story which, in one form or another, we have all heard many times. The justification for the rise in the labor movement is based upon this interpretation of events, and the continuation of the labor movement is similarly defended upon the proposition that, given the chance, economic power in the hands of the unscrupulous would again exploit the laborer and reduce him to the status of a mere pawn of the entrepreneur.

"Looking Beneath The Surface" "We must remember, however, that basic and fundamental causation for a given phenomenon often lies far below the surface. For example, it is very easy to conclude that the crash of the stock market caused the depression of the early thirties. We completely ignore the root of the problem, however, by failing to ask, 'What caused the stock market to crash?'

"To evaluate fully the circumstances in question, we must carefully consider the whole story. What were the conditions of employment and the relations of the laborer to society prior to the Industrial Revolution? What was the impact on the status of the laboring man in economic relationships caused by the Industrial Revolution? It is in this light that we find that the classical interpretations have grossly ignored so much relevant data as to completely distort the fact.

"Rather than being a time of idyllic conditions of peace and good will, of happy economic circumstances in which the common man enjoyed a relatively stable and useful life, we find that the pre-industrial era was a time of infinitely worse conditions. There was virtually no place for the common man. Instead of widespread opportunities for gainful employment, there was a bare minimum of subsistence for most of the populace. Many were doomed to debtors' prisons, workhouses, or communal relief. Even under the relatively democratic freedoms of pre-industrial England, life was but slightly improved over that which existed under former autocratic and totalitarian despots." (To be continued)

Hank Wants Insurance To Cover Missile Danger

By HENRY McLEMORE

ROME — First thing tomorrow morning, soon as I finish my coffee and spaghetti, I am going out and try to buy myself some Intercontinental Ballistic Missile insurance.

There must be such a thing, because in one of the Rome papers the "Help Wanted" column has been asking for salesmen to try their hand at the stuff.

With the Russians claiming such a rocket, and with such a man as Khrushchev running Russia, there is an outside chance that one will come swooshing down in my neighborhood. A man might as well play it safe.

I don't expect to be struck by lightning, but I certainly wouldn't be without lightning insurance. Call me super-cautious if you will, but I am a great believer in being covered. If I should get hit on the road at a deer crossing, I could collect. And if I should be overcome by smoke at a home barbecue, which is a risk a man runs every time he goes to one, there would be compensation.

I'm covered from A to Z, literally, because one of my policies protects me if, while visiting a zoo, the animals break loose and anything from an armadillo to a zebra bruises me. All-round coverage is a good feeling. Sometimes I almost wish the days wouldn't be so peaceful.

I suggested to a friend of mine who is visiting in Rome, Jim Heneghan, that he buy a policy at the same time I did, but he said he had lost interest since reading a statement by a London scientist right after the Russians said they had an intercontinental missile. The Londoner, Jim said, was a man of world-wide repute, and so probably couldn't hit the broad side of a barn with it, had to be taken seriously.

riding along in our car, or playing a game of tennis, or downtown shopping for a shirt. But there is always the possibility of a lucky shot by some Ivan, and it could be my luck to have the lucky shot land right in my hip pocket. And then it would be nice, when I got back on my feet and dusted myself off, to have that policy at hand.

And while I'm about it, I think I'll take out a policy against coffee and spaghetti for breakfast. There's no guarantee that that combination won't get me.

The Nation's Press

EISENHOWER TAXES (Chicago Tribune) President Eisenhower, at his press conference on Tuesday, described congressional reductions in his budget requests as "mostly eyewash," amounting to a billion dollars or less. Other estimates have ranged from 4.9 to 6.3 billion dollars, the these have recognized that because of the huge backlog of unspent appropriations voted in former years, actual spending during this fiscal year will not be reduced by any such amount.

The American political stage has rarely presented a performance as inconsistent and farcical as the behavior of Mr. Eisenhower and his palace guard on the budget during the last six months. It was introduced as a measure that had already been pared to the bone.

BID FOR A SMILE

The little girl was taking her piano lessons very seriously. In the heat of the summer afternoon she went over and over the same exercise. After a time the family dog raised its head and began howling as the piano bled.

Finally the father called to the girl: "Dad — What are you doing?" "Daughter — I'm practicing on the piano." "Dad — Well for heaven's sake, play something the dog doesn't know!"

Shortly, Congress was invited to find economies where it could. When it developed that substantial economies were possible, each spending department with frantic warnings that the very survival of the nation was being imperiled.

Now Mr. Eisenhower says that all of the reductions that he pronounced so dangerous only a few weeks ago didn't amount to much, anyway. In particular, he emphasized, the reductions won't make a tax cut possible, unless further economies are effected and federal revenue mounts still higher.

In recent years tax collections have mounted to unprecedented totals. In the fiscal year that ended in June they were 6.5 billion dollars greater than in the fiscal year in which Mr. Eisenhower took office, and if trust fund collections, mainly for social security and highways, are included, 12 billions greater. But the Eisenhower administration has always been able to find means of spending the money.

There is only one way to give the nation substantial tax relief. That is to cut taxes and require the executive department to get along on what comes in.

General Disapproval Of Ike's Policies Exhibited

By RAY TUCKER

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. — The conservative dislike of certain Eisenhower policies, which flared in the recent Wisconsin election, is shared by several hundred businessmen and bankers in convention at this resort. They range from industrialists and financiers to asphalt manufacturers from Southern, Border and Middle Western states.

Their antagonism toward Federal spending and extension of New Dealish and paternalistic ventures is sharpened by the fact that business has become "spotty," especially in the smaller cities, towns and rural communities. The reaction to this slowdown of activity after a decade of "prosperity" apparently accounted for the stay-at-home vote in normally Republican districts in Wisconsin.

The fact is that "Eisenhower prosperity" begins to show signs of fraying around the edges. And there is no great or warm enthusiasm for the men at Washington, including the President, to offset this economic disillusionment. It must be admitted that the hero-President has not generated the devotion which F.D.R. inspired among his adherents.

ADMINISTRATION DETACHED — There seems also to be a belief that the Administration's key figures are not too deeply concerned with the problems or troubles of local interests or communities — Roosevelt managed to convince them that he was worried over them. Both the policies and the personalities of the government impress them as being too detached and indifferent.

There is resentment concerning the Eisenhower-Dulles preoccupation with foreign affairs, especially as it is reflected in heavy overseas spending. Contrary to Administration arguments before Congressional committees, these bills contribute only slightly to profits and employment in this country, whereas they do act to keep taxes high.

In fact, according to statistics inserted in the Congressional Record toward the close of the recent session, the annual $3 billion appropriation for foreign loans and grants is responsible for only 900,000 jobs in the United States.

FROM ISOLATIONIST AREA — As a corollary to opposition to international generosity, these bankers, businessmen and industrialists do not expect war or serious difficulties with Russia. It should be noted, however, that most of these convention visitors come from an area not famous for its internationalistic sentiment. It was Taft territory when the late Ohio Senator was alive.

This businessmen's revolt against the Republicans — or against "modern Republicanism" — may be only a temporary and passing defection. But if it should persist, and it undoubtedly will in the event of a possible economic decline, it could be dangerous for the GOP in 1958 and 1960.

It could mean a heavy gain of Democratic seats in both House and Senate. It could force the Republicans, no matter who their Presidential candidate may be, to repudiate "modern Republicanism" in the 1960 affair.

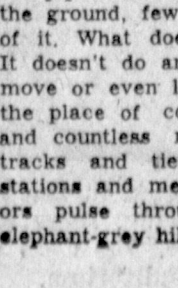

WHAT PROXIMITY ELECTION SHOWS — The GOP can ill afford to lose these once faithful customers. For detailed analyses of the Wisconsin returns in the Proxmire-Kohler contest show clearly that the Democrats retain their popularity among the labor, nationality (German and Polish), farm and colored elements.

Ike's retention and expansion of New Deal benefits have not disabused these groups of the realization that it was F.D.R. who inaugurated them, and Truman who exploited them.

Even the Negro wards, despite the Administration's insistence on a much stronger Civil Rights Bill, voted for Senator Proxmire.

Thus, if the solid and conservative businessmen, who can afford the $40-60 a day rate at their convention hotel headquarters, desert the GOP or even return here to golf and fish and bridge on Election Day next year and in 1960, the Republicans are sunk!

New West Has Eye To Future

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

SAN FRANCISCO — The power of the future, stirring awake in this new West, is plain to all who have eyes to see and ears to listen and the intelligence to comprehend a miracle. The jabber who acclaims the coming-to-town of a dejected, second-rate New York club, as though this were a great event in the development of the Pacific states, is only amusing. Nothing Nothing would be lost if no western city ever should be acknowledged as a "Major League" center.

Nothing more substantial than innocent fun and the turnover of a few million dollars will be gained by this transfer of the Giants to a great new stadium which is massive, to be sure, but the mere flip of a pebble by a shapeless colossus blundering into being.

The new West, including the Southwest and Northwest, is to a large extent a dividend on the second war and may be a down payment on the net profit from the next one. The basis of this industrial development was the "War effort." If the next war should not come, then, anyway, much of the new achievement of American people will have been hurried into being by American minds and bodies striving in fear of destruction of our country by war.

Every man who died in battle or in the maddening accidental waste of men incidental to that second war paid something toward great sweeps of concrete road, new factories. Now monsters still gnash mines, new communities, new factories. Now monsters still gnash at mountains and grind rocks and exhale pulverized ores and boulders. They fill in valleys and reclaim shores. They fly in man-made meteors. In southern Arizona, men live by El Paso Natural Gas more than they realize. This is a corporation, a regional heat and prodigy. But it is also a system of pipelines and valves winding across ridges and bottoms hundreds and hundreds of miles, with outlets to heat whole cities and cook their meals and run their smokeless industries. Seen from the air, the pipeline is a faint scratch. On the ground, few people see much of it. What does a pipeline do? It doesn't do anything. It doesn't move or even labor, but it takes the place of countless tank-cars and countless miles of railroad tracks and ties, signal towers, stations and men. Fluid and vapors pulse through it from the elephant-grey hills of the desert to the American people of this new West.

Their jobs are largely passe and becoming more so. The freight train is on borrowed time. The real worth of the right of way is just being discovered. Would the workmen who might be paving the grading on high-speed, privately-owned freight roads on the old roads on the old roadbeds object? They get $50 a day for running some machines. Would the freighters object who would soon be driving the nimble rigs where freights now dawdle and wait?

Those men are teamsters, already. They are Union men, ready. They are respected as good workmen, superior citizens and knights who save life and guard women on the desert roads.

Baseball? You mean professional baseball? Major League ball? Well, help yourself, but don't expect too much response from the new West. This country drives and flies up into and over mountains to fish and play in the wilds.

These people make personal use of their sea. They golf. And they also watch television, and relatively very few like to go to professional baseball and football. But the real business of this new West is the future. Not even that inflation, whatever we may then use for money, can frustrate the elephant-grey hills of the desert to the American people of this new West.

Bigamist Gets Term In Barn

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (UP)—Walter Bennett, 32, a convicted bigamist, cannot expect very congenial companionship for the next year as a result of the sentence awarded him for his crime.

He was ordered Monday to sleep in the barn for one year on the condition that he remain there.

farm where he lived with his second wife, Wilma, and their three children, Judge Cyrus M. Palmer imposed the punishment when he was faced with a dilemma.

It would be illegal to send Bennett back to his second spouse. But the jurist was told if he sentenced the bigamist to prison the second wife might die of a heart condition. Palmer ordered Bennett to the barn with the animals as a solution. He stipulated that he would work the farm to support his second family.

Bennett was married to his second wife in 1952 while he was still married to Madelon Murin, a French girl. His first marriage took place in 1946 while he was serving with the armed forces in Germany.

His first wife came to this country with their daughter and started divorce action. When the divorce becomes final, Bennett's second marriage may be approved by the court. His sentence to the barn would also be suspended.

The U.S. federal government holds nearly 60,000,000 acres of land in trust for American Indians, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Prestige Of Reds' Khrushchev Dims

Foreign News Commentary
By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
Nikita S. Khrushchev's prestige as the No. 1 man in Soviet Russia's collective leadership seems to be dimming.
His recent victory over Georgi M. Malenkov, Vyacheslav M. Molotov and Lazar M. Kaganovich in the ruling Presidium of the Russian Communist Party has failed to strengthen his personal position.
On the contrary, it has seemed to make it more apparent that he is not a "strong man" of the Joseph Stalin type.

White Says Prosperity Is False

VICTORIA, Tex. (UP)—Agriculture Commissioner John White today accused the U. S. Department of Agriculture of painting a "false picture of farm prosperity."
In a speech prepared for delivery at a civic club luncheon, White said Agriculture Secretary Benson's "financial balance sheet covering U. S. agriculture during 1956 would indicate—on the surface—a great and prosperous year for the farmers. But the true facts about the plight of agriculture and the cost-price squeeze are covered by misleading propaganda."
White charged the federal agency figures were "bloated and distorted by the treacherous factor of inflation."
"This inflationary trend in the value of farm assets has given the secretary a potent propaganda weapon," he added.
"Although farm assets increased by $8,400,000,000 over 1955, inflation accounts for the gain of $8 billion. Only six-tenths of a billion dollars was actually gained by the farmers in assets convertible to spendable income," White said.

$20 A Week Is Added To Family Budget
By ROBERT SHORTAL
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—The price spiral which has taken place during the postwar period has added around $20 a week in costs to the average family's budget.
Inflation has increased the cost of almost everything that Americans buy. It now takes $1 to buy what 50 cents would have bought in 1939 or what 80 cents would have bought in 1949.
Consumer expenditures give a good idea of the damage wrought by inflation. Between 1947 and 1956 consumer spending for goods and services jumped 102 billion dollars to 267 billion dollars. However, economists estimate that 45 billion dollars of the increase reflected higher prices.
This means that only 57 billion dollars went for additional goods and services. The rest was needed just to stay even.
Economists point out that the 45 billion dollars absorbed by the higher costs means that postwar inflation placed a tax of almost $300 on every man, woman and child in the country.
Many Americans have been able to improve the living standards despite this inflationary spiral, principally because their incomes have increased at an even faster pace.
However, Dr. Marcus Nadler, consulting economist to the Hanover Bank of New York, said a growing segment of the population has found that our unprecedented prosperity is only "a mirage."
He said this applies not only to those living on social security benefits, pension funds and other fixed assets, but also to those wage and salaried individuals whose incomes have not kept pace with the climbing cost of living.
Biggest Item, Food
The biggest item in the average family budget is food including tobacco and alcoholic beverages, accounting for about 22.5 cents out of every dollar spent. Americans spent $56,400,000,000 for these commodities in 1956, an increase of 48.8 per cent over 1947.
Next on the list is housing and operation of the household, taking around 26 cents of each dollar. This expenditure rose 75 per cent to $68,900,000,000.
Third biggest item is transportation, including the purchases of

Officials Study Crimes Against Stations
Crimes against service stations ranging from teenage pranks to brutal murders are being studied by officials of Texas Service Stations, Associated, as the first step toward a statewide program of greater service station security.
Employed to guide the program is an experienced South Texas lawman, former DeWitt County Deputy Sheriff C. E. "Charlie" Clark, now of Austin. Even as he undertook his new duties effective Sept. 1, the second service station murder in a matter of months occurred in San Antonio.
"Service Stations are prime targets for both professional and amateur criminals," TSSA State President, Hugh Adams of El Paso, stated in announcing the employment of Clark. Adams added, "Service stations have become 'sitting ducks' because it is easy for the criminal to get in, get the money, and get away."
Valuable preliminary guidance was obtained by TSSA Executive Secretary Joseph J. Malec at a recent Austin conference with Colonel Homer Garrison and other top officers of the Department of Public Safety, who have pledged their full cooperation and support of the project.
Clark will work closely with the Department of Public Safety, and local officers throughout Texas in an attack upon the station crime rate which now counts one station robbery among every ten business places robbed. "Service station robberies have increased 56.3 per cent nationally in the past six years," Clark revealed after his initial survey of available statistics. "And, for each ten station robberies, one or two operators are injured, some seriously."

WASHINGTON (UP)—A Federal Communications Commission examiner has recommended award of VHF Channel 5 at Lubbock, Tex. to the Texas Technological College.
Hearing Examiner Millard F. French recommended the grant after C. L. Trigg, operator of KOSA-TV at Odessa, Tex. withdrew from the channel contest.
The college proposes to furnish Lubbock with an educational non-commercial television broadcast service. It reimbursed Trigg $25,000 for expenses he incurred in the proceedings.
Meantime, two Lubbock commercial television stations, KCBD-TV and KDUB-TV, plan to donate $30,000 each to the college for construction of the new station.
French found that the station was legally and financially qualified to run the station on a non-commercial basis.
In the process of development, and San Antonio will be the site of the first city-wide meeting for operators and attendants on Sept. 30.
