Israeli Troop Exit Plan May Jeopardize Doctrine

Egyptians Ready To Fight If Troops Stay In Country

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
Egypt hinted today that insistence on the Dullas plan to get Israeli troops out of Egypt might jeopardize King Saud's efforts to explain the Eisenhower Doctrine to other Arab rulers later this month.
Egyptian sources also said Egypt was ready to fight if Israeli troops continued to refuse to leave Egyptian territory. They warned that such a war might touch off a major Middle East conflagration involving the world's great powers.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was meeting Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban in Washington today to clarify certain points of his plan. The Israeli cabinet was reported to have accepted parts of it but to have raised "certain conditions."

The Dullas plan calls for Israeli withdrawal from the Egyptian fortress at Sharm El Sheikh on the Gulf of Agaba and also from the Gaza Strip. The United States would declare the gulf an international waterway in order to protect Israeli shipping, and would work to get United Nations forces to take over Gaza.

Washington dispatches said the State Department told Israel there was good reason to believe Egypt will go along with the Dullas proposal despite adverse statements from Cairo. But a flood of new critical comment came from the Egyptian capital today.

Cairo dispatches said the Dullas plan had raised "bitter feelings" in the Egyptian capital at a critical moment when Egypt's Arab bloc is scheduled to discuss the Eisenhower Doctrine. King Saud, King Hussein of Jordan, President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt and Syrian President Shukri El-Kuwatly are to meet in Cairo late this month.

The Egyptians said the Dullas plan acceded to most of Israel's demands at the expense of Egypt's sovereignty and "will not facilitate" King Saud's anticipated attempts to explain the Eisenhower Doctrine to the three other Arab leaders.

The United States, meanwhile, sent Saud an explanation of its plans to break the Egyptian-Israeli deadlock, hoping he would use his influence to win Arab support for the Eisenhower Doctrine. The American government also hoped he would take up the Dullas' plan.

Temporary 'Doctrines' Retreat
WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower today apparently still hoped to get Congress to pass a strong version of his Middle East doctrine.

However, the administration strategy involved a temporary retreat.
The Senate planned to begin debate Monday on a watered-down Democratic version of the doctrine.

The debate may be lengthy. But not because of the Republicans. The administration has decided to forego major opposition in the Senate in hopes of speeding passage and avoiding a possible disastrous fight.

Then the doctrine will go to a House-Senate conference committee to adjust differences between the strong House version and the weaker Senate version. It is there the administration indicates it hopes to get a doctrine closer to its wishes.

Other congressional news:
Civil Rights: The Senate Constitutional Rights subcommittee called Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. for more testimony on civil rights legislation. He was recalled amid clear signs that southern Democrats would use all possible roadblocks to prevent Senate action on a civil rights bill.

Movies: Chairman John E. Moss of the House Information Culture Department of threatening subcommittee accused the Agriculture Department of threatening to censor movies and TV films it assists in making. Moss calls for a complete explanation from Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson.
Racketeering: The Senate Labor Rackets Committee gave Teamsters Union President Dave Beck an implied choice: He can voluntarily turn over his personal financial records or take his chances on a subpoena. The committee was reported to be already issuing subpoenas for many other teamsters union officials.
Oil: Senate oil investigators temporarily halted hearings to study subpoenaed records of 16 big oil companies. The records of the companies were to be turned over to the investigators by tonight.
Farm: House Democrats accepted a GOP challenge for a floor fight over the soil bank program. The issue: Whether the program should be increased or restored to last year's level. The Democrats want it increased. The GOP wants last year's level.

City Politics Blossom

W. B. 'A' NEEL ... runs again

Two of the four city commissioners announced yesterday that they would be candidates for re-election to the commission in the April 2 election.

The two commissioners, Frank Dial, Ward 2; and W. B. 'A' Neel, Ward 3, filed with the city secretary shortly after Mayor Lynn Boyd filed for re-election at noon yesterday.

The other commissioners, Gene Fatheree and W. D. Varmon, told The News this morning that they would not seek re-election.

In announcing his candidacy for re-election, Neel stated, "I will stand on my personal record as a commissioner and upon the program of city development which is now in progress. It is up to residents of Pampa as to whether I am qualified for another term."

Frank Dial also reported that he was standing on his record and that "If I am re-elected I will continue to represent the citizens of Pampa to their best interests."

FRANK DIAL ... seeks re-election

In announcing that he was leaving the commission after six years, Varmon reported that he thought he should let a younger man with younger ideas represent the citizens. He stated, "I have served long enough for a man of my years."

Fatheree reported that he was stepping from public life because of the increased time he must spend in his business. He reported, "I believe that four years is long enough for any person to serve on the commission."

No other citizens have filed as candidates for either Ward 1 or 4 nor has any candidates filed in opposition to the three candidates for re-election.

The Gray County Unit of the American Cancer Society met Wednesday morning in Johnson's Cafe at 7 a.m.

Paul Klem, president, called on the committee chairman for reports.

Mrs. Roy McKernan, crusade chairman, announced that she had appointed Mrs. Roy Kretzmeier house-to-house chairman for Cancer Control Day, April 9th. Mrs. Kretzmeier was present and told of her plans for the canvass. Mrs. McKernan said Mrs. W. R. Campbell would be chairman of the radiothon on Sunday, April 7, at 2:30 p.m.

It was voted by the board to present a certificate of appreciation to Mrs. Oscar Redd as a tribute to Oscar Redd, a cancer victim who was a member of the board for several years.

One Fire Call Is Reported

An alarm was received by the local fire department at 8:15 p.m. yesterday when gasoline being used to clean paint from brushes and from hands became ignited by a heater.

The firemen reported that the gasoline was being used to clean up after painting a room in the residence and that the resulting blaze did minor damage to the wall and door facings.

The blaze was out when the firemen arrived, they reported.

Gray Co. Greeted Curfew Favorably

Comments heard in regards to the county-wide curfew on teenagers imposed by Judge Bruce Parker yesterday have apparently been favorable.

The curfew was ordered yesterday by the judge as a result of recent activities of teenagers after 2 o'clock practically every night. Under the order given by the judge—all teenagers must be home after midnight on week-nights and after 1 a.m. on Saturday nights.

Judge Parker told all law enforcement officers in Gray County to tell any teenagers found away from home after those hours to go home immediately and if they were noticed out after having been warned they were to be placed in jail. The officers could hold them in jail without contacting either himself or the juvenile officer, the judge reported.

The judge reported this morning that he had received numerous telephone calls from teachers, preachers, businessmen and parents since the announcement yesterday and that those who called praised the action.

Parker also stated that he had received calls from other towns in regard to his action to curb the late hour running around of certain teenagers and that all of those who called had been in accord with the action when the facts were made known.

Officials at McLean informed the judge this morning that several youths in that city had been staying out late and that now the authority had been given them to take action, officers in that town would see that these youths went home if found out after the curfew hours.

The only remarks the judge heard against the curfew, he reported today, were from two persons who reported that the hours on week-nights should have been 10 p.m. instead of midnight.

Upon hearing of the curfew, one local businessman stated that it was a good idea and that it had been suggested by a Grand Jury on which he was a member.

Other residents of Pampa were overheard yesterday afternoon discussing the curfew.

King Harry's Threat On Ike

WASHINGTON (UP)—The story of how King Harry I of Harrisonia made a threat on the life of President Eisenhower unfolded today.

Secret Service chief U. E. Baughman told the tale in newly-released testimony before a House appropriations subcommittee.

Baughman said a threatening letter signed by "King Harry I of Harrisonia" was one of 18,468 letters to the President examined by his staff last year.

This letter told the President that if he objected to the formation of a new state he would "have to reason with a 22 Winchester," Baughman said.

Agents investigated. They had little trouble tracking down the sender whose name actually was something like Harry Harrison (Baughman said he changed the name somewhat in his testimony).

Agents found that Harry, 12 years old, and his playmates had sent in breakfast cereal boxtops which entitled them each to a deed for a square inch of land in Alaska.

Harry and his friends decided to band together, form their own country and secede from the Union.

Baughman said the boy got off with a "severe lecture" from his mother.

"He did not realize the seriousness of his threat against the President and when the possible consequences were explained to him, he replied 'I surrender. I am now a citizen again,'" Baughman said.

Tickets For Minstrel Are On Sale Block

Tickets for the Lions Club Minstrel to be given at 8 p.m. on March 7 and 8 in the Junior High School auditorium are now on sale.

The announcement was made at the noon meeting of the Lions Club yesterday when members were given tickets to sell, by Dr. Joe Donaldson.

The price of the general admission tickets will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. Tickets can be obtained from any member of the Lions Club or at Richard Drug.

Donaldson reported that the Lions Minstrel was one of the things that the price had remained unchanged on during the past 20 years. The price this year is the same that was in effect when the first minstrel was presented in Pampa by the Lions Club.

Plans call for reserve seat tickets to be put on sale about March 1. All reserve seat tickets will be sold at Richard Drug and anyone who has purchased a general admission ticket can trade it in on a reserve seat after that date.

The program at the meeting yesterday was under the direction of Wynn Veale, program chairman for February, who presented the Ninth Grade Chorus from Junior High School, under the direction of Mrs. James D. Webb.

The chorus sang several numbers and Miss Shirley McCoy was featured as a soloist in one number.

Ralph Thomas announced that the Lions Club Junior Livestock Show would be held tomorrow and that judging would begin at 1 p.m. in the Show Barn at Recreation Park.

$1 Trillion Public, Private Debts In US

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 (UP)—The Chamber of Commerce said Thursday public and private debts in the United States total about $1 trillion—an average of $16,000 for each family.

The chamber, in a pamphlet on debt, said that since 1945 debt in the United States had doubled. In 1955 alone, it added, public and private debt increased by $60 billion.

"But it may be comforting to observe that on a comparative basis we do not appear to be more in debt now than at other times in our recent past," the report said.

It pointed out that the debt has shown no significant trend since 1929 in relation to gross national product—the yearly output of goods and services.

But, the chamber said, "it is well to temper the optimism of a prolonged boom with the sobering thought that a burden which feels like a featherweight during prosperity may feel like a ton of bricks in a depression."

He Went Back Home To His Scotland; But Died On Way

By DOC QUIGG
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—It was several months ago on a rainy, miserable day when I walked past the barber shop and into the No. 10 car in the bank of elevators in our building and said to Scotty, the veteran operator of No. 10:

"Bet it's a swell day right now in Scotland."
Scotty shot the elevator upward, turned a beaming face toward me, and said in his quiet burr: "Next spring, I'll be there."

He said it had been 33 years since he left—a lad of 25—his native Fifeshire, a maritime county between the Firth of Forth and The Firth of Tay, a place of lowlands, moors, and the Lmond Hills, of gorse and heather and green grass.

Finally, last year, there seemed to be enough money, and Scotty's promise of "some day" changed to "next spring," then this year: "I've got my ticket." It confided to Kuzmick: "If things turn out right, I won't be back."

Scotty sold the furniture in his apartment. He cleaned out his locker in our office building. He and Jean and their son Martin, now 26, boarded the Queen Elizabeth, headed home. As the liner came in sight of the British shore, Scotty died of a heart attack.

"It was always his desire to go back home," Jim said. "He went—but not as he desired."
Scotty was buried last Saturday in Valleyfield, where the cemetery is green, and soon, as the wind warms off Loch Leven it will be spring.

COLUMBUS (UP)—Columbus police finally got a telephone number that was easy to remember, Capital 1-1111. Today they changed it to Capital 1-1166 because they found children playing with phones always dial the simplest number—CA 1-1111.

Jordan has been more or less non-committal on the doctrine. But King Hussein personally is reported to approve it.

Push-Button Postal Service 'Practically Here'

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (UP)—Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield predicted Thursday that push-button postal service is practically at hand.

In his annual report to President Eisenhower, Summerfield said that new mechanical electronic improvements promise to bring on "revolutionary" changes in the handling of mail.

He said the time is not too distant when "next day delivery" of letters anywhere in the nation will be possible.

Summerfield said that by 1958, the Post Office will be using a new machine which reads addresses on letters and sorts them automatically. He also reported a new machine is being built to cancel mail electronically.

Summerfield said the Post Office Department handled 56,441,216,000 pieces of mail in 1956, about 20 million more than 10 years ago and more than double the total 1936 mailbag.

The postal chief noted that the record mail was handled with a relatively few more post offices than the department had back in 1877. He said this was possible because of advanced transportation systems and rural delivery.

Mrs. Foster also announced that the next meeting would be in the City Club Rooms with the District Governor, Edith DeBusk, as guest speaker. Amarillo and Borger Clubs will be invited to attend this meeting.

Mrs. Robert Vail spoke to the group on her trip to Europe. She asked questions of the members as to the phase of things they were interested in. She spoke on education in comparison with our public schools. She stated that there were no finer schools anywhere than those of England, but they were for the exceptional child only.

She stressed that the English boys and girls were so very well behaved and that there were no juvenile delinquency problems there, as we have them in America. She stated that the reason for this was because the children were under the control of the parents more than our American children are.

They walk to school and none had cars to ride in, and, of course, that took care of a large problem parents have in this country.

She spoke of her visit to France, Italy, and Spain, and Switzerland. Mrs. Vail said that in Switzerland there was no poverty, no illiteracy, no standing armies, and many things that are a real problem in other countries.

To show their appreciation for the talk, the club presented a Valentine gift to Mrs. Vail.

Sunshine HD Club Donates To MOD

The Sunshine HD Club met with Mrs. J. R. Taylor, 1068 Varnon Drive, and heard a program on "Main Dish For Family Meals," given by Miss Helen Dunlap. A pot roast with vegetables and gravy was prepared with the thought of providing a good meal without spending a lot of time in the kitchen.

It was announced that the club had raised $10.00 from a coffee given Feb. 1st; the proceeds were given to the March of Dimes Fund.

Mrs. Tudor Henry was elected THD chairman. Mrs. J. R. Taylor was elected delegate to the Amarillo District meeting April 4th.

Coffee and cookies were served by the hostess to Mmes. Cordie McBride, Betty Harper, Tudor Henry, Jim King, J. C. Blasingame, and Miss Dunlap.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. G. H. Murrain, 1037 S. Clark at 1:30 p.m. Feb. 22.

Pampa Altrusa Club met in the Pampa Hotel dining room with 34 members present. Mrs. Margaret Payne played dinner music while the members gathered. The group sang, "We'll Serve As the World Goes By," after the invocation. The tables were decorated in a Valentine motif with red and white carnations gracing the head table. The two side tables were centered with valentine trains filled with chocolate mints. One mist held the lucky number, which was drawn by Mrs. Elma Vanderburg.

New Deal Remains

The Crypto New Dealers who call themselves Eisenhower Republicans have taken over the vestige of the old GOP and in another four years they should be able to equal the dismal last months of the second Truman administration.

Comparing Eisenhower and Truman, you can't help have more respect for little Harry. He wasn't much, to be sure, but he never claimed to be. He was the product of a political machine that taught a strict quid pro quo and Harry was never known to honor an enemy or desert a friend. Even Alger Hiss and Dean Acheson.

He came into power at a time when a great many voters couldn't remember the day when Franklin Delano Roosevelt wasn't President of the United States. He acquired a ready-made official family and he did nothing to alter its purpose or politics.

Harry Truman was a New Dealer, a partisan, a below-the-belt alley brawler, a consort of thieves and badwads, a protégé of felons.

But Eisenhower was the fair-haired one. Fresh, Clean, West

BETTER JOBS

British Peer Says
"U. N. Cannot Work"

One of the most rational analyses of the United Nations was recently made in the British House of Lords by one of its members, Lord Cherwell. This speech was reproduced in the "U. S. News & World Report."

The magazine says Lord Cherwell, who is 70, is one of Britain's foremost scientists and a leading spokesman for the Conservative Party in the House of Lords.

He explains in the article how people like to shift their own responsibilities of making moral decisions to some other person or group. Lord Cherwell seems to think that is one of the reasons that made United Nations acceptable to most people. But let Lord Cherwell speak.

"I intend to deal mainly with one particular matter, the United Nations Organization, which I think ought to be analyzed, and at which I shall not be able to throw quite so many bouquets as most speakers seemed to do. Like the noble Viscount, Lord Bruce of Melbourne, I hate living in a fool's paradise, and though, like everyone else, I wish U.N.O. (United Nations Organization) could work, I have come reluctantly to the view that, in its present form, it cannot. It is composed, of course, of men full of the best intentions, and its admirers are equally well-meaning. But I cannot help feeling that people tend to over-estimate its power for good and to underrate its potentialities for evil. We know all too well nowadays how easy it is for people to fall victims to phrases, to be hypnotized by slogans, and I am afraid that that is what is happening in the case of U. N. 'Send it to U. N.' is becoming a sort of incantation. In many quarters it seems to be treated as a shibboleth. You have only to mouth the words and go through the ceremonial and all will be well.

"There are obvious psychological reasons for this curious attitude of mind. During the war many men in the forces positively revelled in the fact that they did not have to think out the consequences of their actions and that all they had to do was to obey. It seems to me that something similar is happening on a bigger scale. People in authority—and in democracy we are all involved—have to make decisions, and sometimes terrible decisions. How tempting to unload this burden!

"If slavish obedience to U. N. is regarded not merely as respectable but positively meritorious, what a splendid way of escaping from these awful responsibilities! I cannot help feeling that some sort of subconscious longing of this sort may be at work in many minds.

"We are often told that U. N. is the only hope of the world for avoiding war, and therefore, that we ought to believe that it must and will succeed in this laudable object. I wish I could see the logic of this. One might just as well say that if a man is only winning a football pool all right-thinking people ought to believe that he will do so.

"Somehow, the proponents of U. N.'s infallibility have managed to persuade themselves that anyone who does not put his complete faith in the Organization is not anxious to maintain peace—in fact is almost a warmonger. Some of them have reached a hysterical state of mind in which merely to question whether U. N. will succeed in establishing peace in the world is considered wicked. No doubt I shall incur their severe displeasure, for what I intend to do is to attempt to analyze dispassionately the utility and value of this important—said 'important,' not 'important'—organization.

"First, what is this superbooby to which we are to confide our fate? U. N. consists of some 79 nations, supposed to be sovereign and independent, though in some cases this is a somewhat dubious claim. They range from the giant powers, Soviet Russia and the United States, to tiny entities like Panama and Iceland. The population of the biggest is more than 1,000 times greater than that of the smallest. The discrepancy in wealth and power is far more than ten-thousandfold.

"Yet in the Assembly, which is the ultimate governing body of U. N., each has an equal vote. Thus, barely 5 per cent of the world's population can carry the day against the other 95 per cent; and 10 per cent could claim a two-thirds majority in the Assembly. Or, to put it another way, half the population of the world is represented by four delegates. What is more, these nations are represented in the Assembly by any group of body or individual which may succeed in seizing power.

"There is, it is true, a so-called Credentials Committee. But it does not appear to be at all strict in making the delegates show that they represent the views of the majority or of any properly elected or selected government. Anybody who has seized power—I believe, for instance, Mr. Kadar in Hungary—can, and does, send a delegate to vote on his behalf. In fact, it is even worse than I have said, for these sovereign, independent nations vary enormously in their standards of education and outlook. Some are the most highly civilized and educated countries on the planet. The inhabitants of others can scarcely read or write. Yet no attention is paid to the fact. Only recently, there was a very close vote for the vice presidency of the Assembly, between (I think

Lewis Collects And Trustees Approve Or Refuse Pensions

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

CHICAGO — I have told you that John L. Lewis has collected more than one thousand five hundred millions of dollars from the consuming public through a tax now temporarily stabilized at forty cents on each ton of coal produced in practically all of the American mines. And that this is not a public trust but a private charity administered by Lewis and his old friend, Josephine Roche, as trustees with absolute power to grant or refuse a pension. Each individual miner must come to this fund in the status of a beggar.

I think you will be surprised when I tell you further that from 1946, when they began to hand over their donations to the fund, starting at the rate of five cents a ton, down to 1954, the mine owners violated the income tax law by subtracting this money from their income as a deductible business expense.

Donations to charity by corporations may not exceed five per cent of their gross income. These donations have far exceeded five per cent. To swear to a false statement in a tax return to obtain a financial advantage is a crime. The Internal Revenue has been a willing accomplice in these crimes because it has refrained from pressing the issue. A man who represented the fund at the Internal Revenue in many official negotiations is willing to testify that a chief counsel during the Democratic regime knowingly permitted this conduct to go unchallenged out of deference to the political power of John L. Lewis. He said the counsel said to him: "Why don't you get Lewis to let Congress to change the law so that these deductions will be legal?"

Accordingly, a law was eased through in 1954, granting deductibility to coal operators only, and it was Italy and Liberia—Italy, one of the oldest and most civilized cultures in history; Liberia, a small, artificial state which has been in existence barely a hundred years, and very few of whose inhabitants have any conception of the outside world.

"This is the Assembly, as I have said, the ultimate governing body of U. N. We were recently told that it is 'the highest tribunal in the world,' whose decisions all must obey without hesitation or question. As I have said, and, I hope, shown, the constitution of this body is utterly indefensible. If the vote of each nation were weighted in accordance with its population, there might be some semblance—though a very poor semblance—of logic in it. But this is not so, for the vote of 400 million Indians or 160 million Americans is equated to the vote of 4 million Bolivians or 100,000 Icelanders. Icelanders are admirable people, but I do not think the discrepancy between their culture and ours is as great as all that. And, of course, the 600 million inhabitants of Communist China have no vote at all. I do not suggest that weighting votes by populations would turn the Assembly into a tribunal. The long and short of it is that justice cannot be found by counting the votes, however weighted, of interested parties."

Move To Understand South Attitude Has Been Proposed

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — A movement to obtain Northern and Western support and understanding for the South's anti-segregation attitude has been proposed by numerous newspapers and members of Congress from Dixie. It actually amounts to an appeal from the Supreme Court's famous decision to the people and their elected Representatives to State Legislatures.

Jack Kilpatrick, editor of the News-Leader at Richmond, Va., has urged this "grass roots" maneuver. It was Kilpatrick who first suggested that Southern states adopt "interposition" resolutions in protest against the Supreme Court's rulings with respect to schools and transportation.

Eight Southern states have officially adopted that course, and Texas and Tennessee are expected to do so at current legislative sessions. The "interposition" declarations range from Alabama's proposed use of force to mild protest in North Carolina.

In commenting favorably on the Kilpatrick plan to invade other sections, an editorial in the Shreveport (La.) Times says: "Mr. Kilpatrick points out that virtually every State Legislature outside the South meets this year. He urges that Southern states send delegations from their Legislatures to appear before the Legislatures of non-Southern states and convince them that the real fight now is to preserve their state rights, and not merely the South's segregation."

The Supreme Court's overriding of State sovereignty in other than racial matters may lead to a more sympathetic response to the South's difficulties. It has stirred criticism in legal and judicial circles as well as among affected politicians. As recently noted here, the Supreme Court has invalidated sev-

Failure To Climb The Family Tree Due To Disinterest

By HENRY McLEMORE

MUNICH — Like most Americans I never have climbed very high in my family tree.

This failure to explore the top branches is not because of fear of what I might find up there, but because I have never been particularly interested. If my forefathers got to America on the Mayflower, well, bully for them! But if they had to hitchhike, that's all right too.

On the other hand, most Europeans who can afford it, keep shimmying up their genealogical redwood until the top most twig has been identified. They can't understand the indifference of Americans toward ancestors, and quite a few of them make it their business to interest Americans in such matters and then, for a fee, satisfy their curiosity.

I have had several letters offering to search archives and roam cemeteries to establish the identity of my forebears, all on a cost-plus basis. One agent said he had already started a search on my behalf, and in the very first week discovered the exciting fact that there was a McLemore in the court of one of the early Electors of Bavaria.

This eager genealogist — who wants pay from here on out — also said that, while he couldn't guarantee it, of course, he was almost certain that I had the right to a splendid coat of arms and a heroic family motto.

Should I turn this bloodhound loose on the trail of my past? There would be the danger of learning that the early McLemores in Europe were a sorry lot who wore tin patches on their armored pants, or who were always falling in a mote and drowning when loaded with mead.

On the other hand, there is no denying that a coat of arms would look good on the door of the station wagon I hope to get some day. Like other Americans, I imagine, I have always been a bit envious of those people who have houses and farms with names to put on the sides of their wagons. But with a coat of arms on mine I could snoot the owners of "Gunpowder Road Farm," "Hazelnut Acres," and "Lazy Susan Ranch."

A crest would dress up my stationery, too. Even a sheet of onion skin seconds, which is what I use, would be impressive if decorated, say, with a crest showing three snarling panthers, upright and clawing, on a field of lilies of the valley. Of course, it wouldn't be so splendid if it turned out that my crest didn't have panthers at all, but armadillos timidly pulled back in their sewing baskets, and resting on a field of Bermuda grass.

I'd like a family motto very much — and a noble ancestor to toast. Think of the touch that would be added to family dinners if we all could raise, lift our iced tea in a drink to Baron Fritz McLemore, and then say the family motto as something like "I bet better to ride a mule with unsullied plume than mount a charger with dishonored feathers."

The Doctor Says

By EDGAR P. JORDAN, M. D.

A mother writes that her doctor says her child has a slight murmur of the heart, but that it "could disappear at any time."

I presume the doctor used the term "slight" in order not to alarm the mother. Actually, the loudness of the murmur is of much less importance than what has caused the murmur and where it is located.

Our understanding of heart murmurs is much more accurate than it was a generation ago. Then it was all too common to put a child to bed for weeks or months when any kind of a murmur was heard. The idea was that rest was beneficial. This resulted in making unnecessary invalids out of some children.

The important thing about a heart murmur is to find the cause, where it is located, whether it is progressing and like matters.

In some children, for example, the growth of the heart and the valves inside the heart do not keep pace with each other, so that the valves allow a small amount of murmur to be heard over the region of the valve.

This kind of murmur is not due to disease and tends to disappear as the youngster grows older. It is generally called a "functional" murmur.

But heart murmurs can be serious. Among these are the ones which result from abnormality of the heart valves present at birth or those caused by disease.

The valve deformities present at birth are fairly rare and can usually be discovered quite early. The term used here is congenital heart disease. Some cases can be corrected by surgery.

Most of the valve troubles which cause murmurs in youth are caused by rheumatic fever. Even these, however, can be so mild that nothing serious ever develops.

Rheumatic fever injures the heart valves by causing growths on the lips or cusps of the valves so that they cannot close completely.

If the damage to the heart valves has been severe, the murmur may mean that physical activity has to be curtailed. However, in many cases the growths are small and not active. Even though they have produced enough damage to cause a murmur to be heard, the heart is able to do its job without trouble.

An accurate diagnosis of cause and degree of damage must be made. The mere presence of a murmur in the heart is not enough. Nor does it always mean that ordinary exercise has to be eliminated, or that there will be any serious interference with life or health.

Certainly parents should avoid any feeling of panic merely because a child has been found to have a heart murmur.

Pampa, Borger In Playoff

Harvesters Add Fire To Plainview Freeze, Win 36-24

By DICK COLLINS
Pampa News Sports Editor
A playoff awaited the Pampa Harvesters and Borger's Bulldogs today following the two teams' important victories which closed out the regular season of play in District 3-AAAA last night. The Harvesters had to stage a rally in the last half to overcome a posturing Plainview staff and beat the Bulldogs 36-24 in Harvesters Fieldhouse while the Borger squad was gaining an easy 76-61 victory over Palo Duro's Dons at Amarillo.

Officials of the two schools were scheduled to meet today to decide the site and date of the sudden-death contest which will decide the District 3-AAAA champion. The situation is exactly the same as it was last year when Borger beat Pampa here and the Harvesters in turn defeated the Bulldogs there. Pampa then won the playoff from Borger to take the northern half but Borger reportedly prefers a flip of the coin. Tickets for the game will probably go on sale late this afternoon or Saturday morning at the school business office in the city hall.

Last night's game was far from exciting although it was close until the opening minutes of the second half. Coach Bob Clindaniel's Plainview team used the same style of freezing play it did against the Harvesters and Borger earlier in the season.

Wilhelm In Semifinals Of GG Meet

FORT WORTH — The annual Texas Golden Gloves tournament reached the semifinals here today with three Amarillo regional representatives, including Pampa's Gary Wilhelm, facing Friday night opposition.

Webb, Rivers On TV Bout Tonight

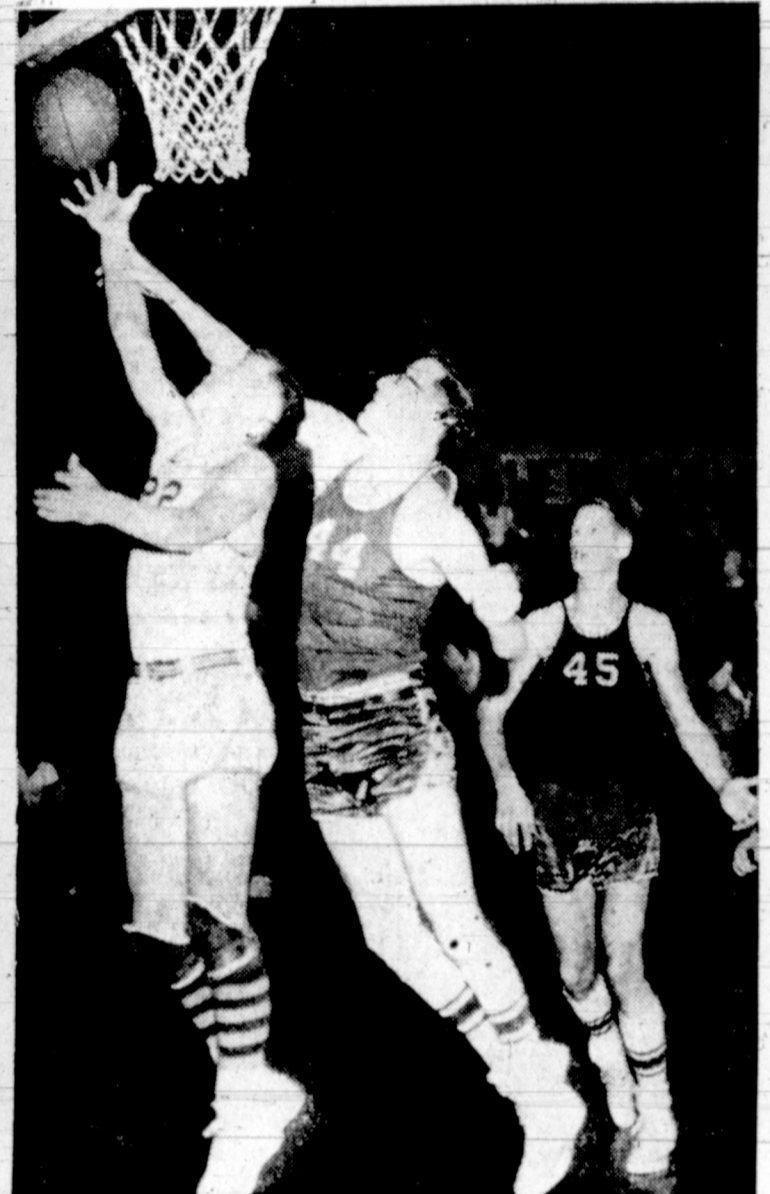

NEW YORK (UP)—Spider Webb of Chicago, hottest contender in the middleweight division, seeks his 68th straight victory tonight in a 10-rounder with Neal Rivers of Las Vegas, Nev., at Madison Square Garden.

It will be televised and broadcast nationally by NBC at 10 p.m. EST.

Webb, ranked fourth among 160-pound contenders, and Rivers, eighth, are making their Garden debuts in a bout designed to boost the winner toward an ultimate title shot. Each believes he can beat champion Gene Fullmer.

The 25-year-old Spider, an exceptionally balanced boxer-puncher, is favored at 13.5 because of his skill, punch and ruggedness.

MIAMI, Fla. (UP)—Willie Hartack, the nation's leading jockey the past two seasons, ran his 1957 victory total to 34 Thursday at Hialeah Park when he accounted for three winners. His latest streak gave Hartack 11 victories in three days. Thursday he scored on Baltimore ($9.20), Lady Beaver ($3.80) and Eds Day ($4.10).

Cage Teams Boost NIT Tourney Bids

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press Sports Writer
Dayton, runner-up in the National Invitation Tournament four of the last six years, boosted its bid for a return trip to that court carnival today along with two other hopefuls — Manhattan and St. John's.

A 97-53 victory Thursday night over Regis College gave Dayton a modest 15-7 record for the season. Off to a bad start in a rebuilding season, Coach Tom Blackburn's Flyers now have won eight of their last nine games, including the last five straight, in an 11th-hour bid for glory.

Manhattan, St. John's and St. John's, likely to represent New York City in the Madison Square Garden post-season carnival, each registered a solid victory at that arena Thursday night to enhance its prestige.

Manhattan, winner of the Holiday Festival Tournament Christmas week, pushed its record to 11-5 with an easy 93-78 victory over New York U. as Angelo Lombardo led the way with 34 points. Danny Knapp scored 27 in a vain effort for the Violets.

Maiva And Donovan In Pampa Ring

A pair of newcomers, Prince Maiva and Doug (Iron Jaw) Donovan, set the Pampa Shrine Club wrestling card at the Top of Texas Sportsman Club Monday night.

The two new faces will appear in the semifinals event which is scheduled for two of three falls with a 45-minute time limit.

The main event features a Southwestern State tag team championship bout between tuffists Dory Funk and Rip Rogers against the Great Bolo and Leo (The Lion) Newman. The main event is set for 90 minutes and the best of three falls.

Rogers goes against Newman in the 70-minute, one-fall opener. Tommy Phelps will serve as the referee.

Mike Souchak, who ripped this Brackenridge course apart two years ago when this tourney was last played here, could do no better than a 7-2 in the opening round. He had a 60-68-64-65-237 in his march to the 1955 title and a PGA record for 72-holes.

Grady Wallace Seeks Scoring Lead Tonight

NEW YORK (UP)—Grady Wallace, hottest of the three arch-rivals in that blazing battle for the national basketball scoring championships, gets his chance to regain the No. 1 spot tonight.

The six-foot, five-inch South Carolina star currently stands third in official figures confirmed by the NCAA today, but 36 points against Virginia tonight would move him right to the top ahead of Chet Forte of Columbia and Will Chamberlain of Kansas.

Forte, the five-foot, nine-inch "Jet," has an average of 30.18 points per game to hold the edge on his two Goliath rivals, Chamberlain, who had been in front all season until Feb. 6, now stands second at 29.94, and then comes Wallace at 29.90.

After Wallace gets his shot tonight, the others play Saturday-Forte against Dartmouth and Chamberlain against Missouri.

There's no secret to Forte's success — the hard-driving little Lion draws many fouls and is the nation's best free-throw shooter. He's canned 89 per cent of his charity attempts, compared to .893 for Jackie Murdoch of Wake Forest and .892 for Dave Ricketts of Duquesne, who recently set a major-college record of 42 straight.

Ray Downs of Texas has a hairline lead in basket shooting with a .5714 shooting average to 5709 for Al Inness of St. Francis of Brooklyn.

Chamberlain remains the rebound leader with 261 percentage to 240 for Alex (Boo) Ellis of Niagara.

Forte's 45 points Wednesday against Pennsylvania enabled Columbia to regain the national team scoring lead, with an average of 17.5 points per game to 87.2 for West Virginia.

The Oklahoma Aggies, perennial defense champions, are on top again in that department with an average of 53.2 points allowed per game to 53.5 for California.

Carver Entering State Cage Meet

The Carver Wildcats will be at Prairie View College near Houston today and tomorrow for the Classes A and B state Negro basketball tournament.

The Dragons recently won the District 1-B title in a tournament at Childress. Coach C. E. Petty's Wildcats will take a 19-5 season record into the tournament. Finals are set for Saturday night.

Expected to start will be Maurice O'Neal, 5-11 guard; Bill Parker, 5-11 1/2 guard; Don Proctor, 6-1 1/2 center; Elton Geary, 6-2 forward; and Virgil Lynch, 5-9 forward.

Texan Joe Ed Black Jumps To Early Texas Open Lead

SAN ANTONIO, TEX. (UP)—A dozen players were bracketed along with Cary Middlecoff at 67, including three young collegiate amateurs—Rex Exater and Frank Wronson of the University of Houston and Juan Estrada, a second rounder of the $20,000 Texas Open Golf Tournament started today.

The measure was hot and heavy and Middlecoff was the early starter today.

Veteran Ed Fajdel of St. Andrews, Ill., and another unknown, Bob Hay of West Hartford, Conn., were a stroke back with 65; and such talented campaigners as Johnny Palmer, Jimmy Demaret and Elmer Wallup and young Wesley Ellis Jr., were only two strokes off the pace with 68.

White Deer Seeking 1-A Title Tonight

WHITE DEER (Special) — The White Deer Bucks can win the District 1-A basketball championship at Gruver tonight but they will be hard-pressed by the resurgent Stinnett Rattlers as the conference action goes down to the final wire.

The Bucks go into tonight's game against the Greyhounds needing a victory to sew up the title. A loss would throw them into a tie with Stinnett if the Rattlers get by their final test tonight.

Coach Sam Christy's White Deer team lost its only district game last week to the Rattlers although Stinnett has lost two conference games this season to the Bucks and to Sunny.

White Deer finished district play against Gruver but the Bucks have two more games scheduled, meeting Shamrock on Feb. 19 and 22. They will meet the District 1-A champion, Clarendon, in bi-district play if they win tonight.

The Carson County school, composed of White Deer and Skellytown students, faced a crisis last week when big A. J. Alford, 6-3 forward, was forced out of action with the mumps and the rest of the team was exposed to them. It is doubtful that Alford will see action against Gruver but he will be ready for playoff competition should the Bucks get past the Greyhounds.

White Deer has a 6-1 district record and the season mark stands at 17-6.

Paced by Alford, a junior, and 6-6 senior center, Earnest Reusch, the Bucks have scored over 100 points this season for over 60 points per game. Reusch has averaged about 20 points in each contest.

Other members of the squad are Don Essary, John Parsons, Buddy Stevens, Jerry Mills, Arlen Kaiser, Brantley Laycock, Ronnie Cade and Ellis Knight. Coach Christy, who is in his third season with the Bucks, has started Alford, Reusch, Essary, Stevens and Parsons throughout most of the season with Mills as the sixth man. Manager of the team is Alton Hill.

Janet Gaynor Breaks Long Retirement To Make Movie

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Hollywood Writer
HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Janet Gaynor, one of Hollywood's few living legends, has broken an 18-year retirement from movies and returned to the screen to play what she is in real life—a chic mother of a teen-age boy.

OPENING A LONG-AWAITED LETTER AND BLURTING OUT ALL THE HIGHLIGHTS BEFORE THE WIFE HAS A CHANCE TO READ IT--

How to make three out-of-town phone calls for the price of two

By making your Long Distance calls station-to-station, you can take advantage of bargain rates—about 1/3 lower than for person-to-person calls. This means you can make three out-of-town calls for about the price of two. Start the station-to-station habit with your next Long Distance call... and save money.

Here's how easy it is to make a station-to-station call
• Just tell the Long Distance operator:
• The city you're calling
• The telephone number you're calling
Like this: "Chicago... SKYline 4-9981"
• If you don't know the number, just give the operator the name and address of the party you're calling, and tell her: "Please make this call station-to-station."
That's all there is to it. The operator will give you the number to jot down for future use... and your call will be charged at the lower station-to-station rate.

request for a revision of insurance and securities laws, the resolution said in part that... The Legislature should obtain as speedily as possible complete information on needed changes in the insurance laws and the manner in which the insurance industry is being supervised and regulated in this state.

The resolution added that "the entire insurance industry... has been damaged immeasurably by the activities of a few companies."

A proposal to liberalize the law allowing voters to oust public officials was introduced in the Senate Thursday.

It is a proposed constitutional amendment to reach public officials not covered by present law. Specifically exempted would be legislators, the governor and the judiciary, already covered.

Tuition Hike Bill
House members opened debate on a bill calling for doubling tuition fees at state-operated colleges and universities from the present $50 a year to $100 for resident students. Out-of-state and medical students also would pay higher fees.

Other legislative developments:
A bill to boost state employee retirement benefits was introduced by Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas. It would remove the $180 ceiling on contributions of state employees to the retirement fund, and place the limit at five percent of his annual salary.

A resolution expressing regret at the "untimely death" of George Sessions Perry, Rockdale, Tex., author, was adopted by the Senate.

Sens. Floyd Bradshaw of Weatherford and Ray Roberts of McKinney introduced a bill to allow construction of dams on private property to impound up to 200 acre-feet of water—without obtaining a permit—for irrigation use. Such dams are now limited to domestic and livestock use.

A spokesman for Harry Bridges West Coast Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, which was expelled from the CIO several years ago on the grounds that it was Communist-dominated, said his group "reserved the right" to strike in sympathy with the ILA.

The threat of a fuel crisis as a result of another waterfront strike, the 15-day-old walkout of tugboatmen, was eased somewhat Thursday when four-ocean-going tankers arrived with 16 million gallons of oil.

TWIN TRACTION...
a Studebaker-Packard FIRST
so good other cars will copy it

WHAT IS IT? Twin-Traction Differential gives you new pavement-gripping traction and new safe control impossible with conventional differentials. The secret lies in the fact that the Twin-Traction Differential delivers the major part of the engine's power to the rear wheel with the best traction—instead of the wheel with the poorest traction (as in a conventional differential). The result—roadability that's better in six important ways:

1. In ice, snow or mud, Twin Traction gets you out of spots where cars with conventional differentials would "spin their wheels."
2. In highway driving, it protects against skids that might otherwise occur when one rear wheel hits a slippery spot.
3. On sharp turns, it improves roadability by applying the major driving force to the inside rear wheel. This also tends to compensate for over-steering.
4. On rough or washboard roads, it reduces the rear-end bounce, sidesway or swerve which results from a fast-spinning wheel suddenly hitting the pavement again.
5. When one rear wheel goes off the pavement onto a soft shoulder, Twin Traction directs the driving force to the other rear wheel, assuring safe, positive control.
6. In ordinary driving, Twin Traction cuts tire wear by assuring more positive traction.

Test it, yourself, today. See your Studebaker-Packard Dealer for a demonstration drive!
