County-Wide Curfew Set On Teenagers

A curfew was placed on Gray County teenagers this morning by Bruce Parker, county judge, as the result of a case brought into Juvenile Court this morning which involved six boys and two girls caught by local officers at 4 o'clock this morning.

Judge Parker told The News this morning that the new curfew would apply to any teenager caught away from home anywhere within Gray County after midnight on week-nights and after 1 a.m. on Saturday nights.

He stated that he will issue orders to all law enforcement officers in the county to place all teenagers in jail if they are caught out after this hour. The teenagers will be stopped by the officers and told to go home, he reported, and if they do not do so immediately the officers will have the authority to place them in jail without notifying the judge or juvenile officer.

Judge Parker also told The News this morning that in the future all Juvenile Court cases would be open to the public and that the press could publish the names of any teenager that is brought before the court for a hearing.

In making the announcements this morning Judge Parker stated, "The time has come when we must try more drastic measures if we are to stop the juveniles from running loose all night."

As the result of this morning's hearing, Sandy Osborne, 14, was ordered sent to the State School for Girls by the judge. He reported that his decision was based on the past history of the girl's activities. Her mother, when asked by the judge today, said that she had stayed out all night so many times that she couldn't count them. (See COUNTY, Page 3)

First Elections For Macmillan Government

LONDON (UP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's new Conservative government went into its first elections test today with the possibility of losing a seat in the House of Commons.

The by-election, held in the normally Conservative London suburb of North Lewisham, was the first since Sir Anthony Eden stepped out as prime minister. The election will fill a vacancy created by the death of Sir Austin Hudson, a Conservative.

There were indications the economic troubles, oil rationing and loss of national prestige that resulted from Eden's venture into Suez might bring the first Conservative defeat since North Lewisham was set up as a voting district in 1948.

The borough gave the Conservatives a narrow margin in the 1955 general elections, but the Socialist Labor Party went into today's balloting a slight favorite.

The candidates provided an odd contrast to the usual pattern of upper-class Tory facing middle-class Labor.

The Conservative candidate, Norman Farmer, is a self-made man who attended local grade schools and has lived in the borough all his life. Labor's Niall MacDermot has an upper crust rugby school and Oxford University background. He was a lieutenant-colonel in World War II and joined the Labor Party only last year.

On Tuesday, the FFA and Live-stock Judging Contest, as well as the judging of Hereford breeding cattle, will be done by Bob Brandenberg of Amarillo.

On Wednesday, the Junior Live-stock Sale will be held starting at 9:30 a.m. with the Hereford Breeders Sale taking place that afternoon starting at 1 o'clock. Auctioneering for these events will be done by Col. Walter Britten of College Station.

Officers of the sponsoring association are F. Jake Hess, president; Clyde Carruth, vice president; E. O. Wedgworth, secretary; and Frank M. Carter, treasurer. Directors are A. B. Carruth, Wayne Maddox, Ted Alexander, J. P. Callihan, George Coffee, Tommie Potts, C. E. Vincent, LeRoy Born, Gordon Whittener, Ralph Thomas, Dr. M. C. Overton, Jr., and Paul Dauer.

Israeli Cabinet Accepts American Troop Exit Plan

Action Is Reported To Be Subject To 'Conditions'

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

The Israeli Cabinet was reported today to have accepted subject to "certain conditions" the American plan to pull its troops out of the Gaza Strip. But it rejected demands it give up the Gaza Strip.

Informed sources in Jerusalem said the Cabinet met today and decided to ask Ambassador Abba Eban to seek further clarification of the American stand on navigation of the Gulf of Aqaba, Sharm-el-Sheikh, a fortress on the gulf, was used by Egypt to blockade Israeli shipping.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles offered to guarantee free navigation of the gulf if Israel would pull its troops out of the former Egyptian base in the southern tip of the Sinai Desert.

The Israeli sources would not elaborate on the "certain conditions" of withdrawal but indicated Eban would sound out Dulles further on just how the United States would guarantee free navigation. The gulf is Israel's outlet to the Red Sea.

MAYOR LYNN BOYD ...to run again

Mayor Boyd To Run For Re-Election

Mayor Lynn Boyd told The News this morning that he was seeking re-election to another term as Mayor of the City of Pampa.

In announcing his candidacy for re-election the mayor made the following statements:

"I am filing with the city for re-election as mayor, and if elected will use my best efforts to complete the many projects that have been started, and are due to be started for the good of the city—such as water and sewer extensions, underpass and right-of-way for same, and many other improvements that are in the making.

"It appears that the improvements that a city undertakes move very slow and I won't say that anyone in particular is to blame, but when you are doing things for the city you have to comply with all the laws that govern the operation of a city. Your City Commission has started many improvements and have more to start, and for that reason I am announcing for re-election, and if elected hope to be able to complete these many projects within this year to where we will have sufficient facilities to take care of the growth of the city. If elected I will use my best efforts with the members of the City Commission to keep up with the fast growth that our city is undergoing."

Senate Action On Runoff Bills Due

By O. B. LLOYD JR.
United Press Staff Correspondent

AUSTIN (UP)—Senate action is expected Monday on the highly controversial Pool bill to provide a runoff for the special U.S. Senate race and the Herring bill, which would do away with the April 2 election.

The bill, authored by Rep. Joe Pool of Dallas, would provide for a runoff between the two highest men if no candidate receives more than half of the vote. Austin Sen. Charles Herring's proposal would eliminate the election and continue interim appointees Sen. William Blakley in office until the term expires January, 1959.

Wednesday, the Senate unanimously adopted a resolution urging President Eisenhower to force foreign oil imports into the U.S. back to their 1954 level.

The resolution, by Sen. William

Oil Firms Warned To Slash Prices

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney warned major oil companies today to cut back prices and speed up emergency shipments to Europe or face possible federal regulation.

O'Mahoney issued the warning as the Senate subcommittee investigation that he heads summoned Secretary of Interior Fred A. Seaton to testify this morning.

O'Mahoney said he had no specific legislation in mind — "not for the present anyhow." He said he would not recommend any until after he has "looked at all the facts."

"We want to talk with the big oil interests which volunteered to accelerate fuel shipments abroad," he said.

He said some oil company officials may be called in next week. The subcommittee plans first to take further testimony from government officials.

O'Mahoney is particularly interested in getting testimony from M. J. Rathbone, president of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey. He made no secret of the fact that he was asked that Rathbone invited reporters, including a NUMBER FROM WASHINGTON, to New York to a press conference Wednesday.

Rathbone, head of the nation's biggest oil company, said oil shipments to Europe have more than met their target.

He said the oil industry now is aiming to supply Europe with 100 per cent of its industrial and home heating fuel requirements instead of the lower goals originally set up.

Rathbone also said the recent 25-cent a barrel price increase that swept the oil industry was "overdue." He said the increase would have come even if there had not been a Middle East crisis.

"It would be much better," O'Mahoney said, "for them (the oil officials) to come before Congress with open minds instead of talking things over behind closed doors and holding 'executive press conferences' out of hearing of these committees."

S. Fly of Victoria, said excessive importing was "not only limiting the amount of all available for Europe but endangering the future of national security."

Water Amendment Passes
A constitutional amendment to create a $100 million fund to aid local water conservation projects was passed by a House Constitutional Amendments committee with an amendment which its author said would hike interest rates and cost state and local governments an additional $60 million. It is sponsored by Rep. Leroy Saul of Kansas.

His proposal provides for a $100 million bond issue by the state, with provision for issuance of another $100 million by a two-thirds majority.

It would create a Texas water Development Board to make loans to local agencies to aid construction of dams and reservoirs. Aid would be limited to a third of the cost of a project or a maximum $5 million to a single project.

State credit would be pledged against the bonds and payment would be given first priority from the state treasury.

The amendment tacked to Saul's bill provided any deficit would be paid from state funds, and would boost interest rates about one per cent on both state and local bonds.

Aid For Handicapped Voted
Among 12 bills passed by the House Wednesday were:

A proposal by Rep. Criss Cole of Houston allowing a blind or otherwise handicapped person to select an assistant of his own choice to help him in preparing his ballot.

A measure by Rep. Menton Murray of Harlingen providing persons shall be eligible to vote in bond elections who are property taxpayers citizens and rendered their property for taxes within the required period.

Paris Rep. Amos Martin's bill allowing absentee ballots to be counted any time on election day after the polls open. Absentee ballots under the present law may not be counted until after 1 p.m. election day.

A bill by Rep. Walter C. Schwartz of Brenham setting up a system of grading eggs in Texas.

Man Fined On Check Charge
A Pampa man was fined on two counts after pleading guilty to both charges in County Court this morning.

The man, Charlie McPherson, 48, of 640 S. Gillespie, was fined $25 plus costs on a charge of aggravated assault on his wife, Maggie. McPherson was sentenced to three days in jail and fined $100 plus costs on another charge of driving while intoxicated.

In lieu of those costs and fines, the defendant is now reposing in the Gray County jail.

School Bill Okay Seen Capitol Hill News

WASHINGTON (UP)—A United Press survey showed today that House Education subcommittee will approve a $3.6 billion federal school construction bill.

The $3.6 billion program — proposed by the Democrats — would be spread over a six-year period. The administration has proposed a $1.3 billion program spread over four years.

The survey showed that the vote on the larger program would be 6-1 in the subcommittee.

The survey also showed that any proposal to tie an anti-segregation amendment to a school construction bill would be rejected.

The subcommittee has completed two weeks of hearings on school construction legislation. The hearings are expected to continue another two weeks.

Other congressional news:
Doctrines: The Democratic-controlled Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees approved a softened version of the Eisenhower Doctrine. Republican senators looked to the White House for a sign on whether to fight when the doctrine reaches the Senate floor for debate next week.

Civil Rights: A Senate subcommittee called Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. as the first witness in hearings on civil rights legislation. Chairman Emanuel Celler of the House subcommittee studying civil rights legislation said his subcommittee will start drafting a bill Feb. 27.

Oil: Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney warned oil producers to speed up emergency oil shipments to Europe. (See CAPITOL, Page 3)

New Residence Permits Issued

Three permits for the construction of new residences in Pampa have been issued by the city engineer's office this week.

A permit was issued to Bill J. Williams for the construction of a residence at 2201 Beech. The cost of the dwelling was estimated at $20,000.

A permit for a residence to be constructed at 2118 Beech was issued to E. V. Ward with an estimated cost of $15,000.

Another permit for a $15,000 residence was issued to White House Lumber. This residence will be constructed at 2142 Aspen.

Open House At Hospital Is Set

Tentative plans call for an open house in the new wing of Highland General Hospital Monday between the hours of 3 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m.

The plans for the open house were announced yesterday afternoon by C. C. Lander, hospital manager.

The plans depend on an announcement made by B. R. Cantrell, architect for the new addition, that the work should be completed Friday and that he will meet with members of the hospital board and with Bruce Parker, county judge, at 1 p.m. Saturday when a final inspection of the new addition will be made.

The new wing has already been accepted by the County Commissioners Court and as soon as it is accepted by the hospital board the furniture and equipment will be set up in the new wing, Lander reported.

Lander told The News that if the new wing is accepted Saturday the beds and other furniture will be set up Saturday afternoon and equipment will be moved into the wing on Sunday. Final work will be undertaken Monday morning with the making of the beds and the checking of equipment.

Patients will be moved into the new rooms on Tuesday morning and the wing will be put in full operation, Lander concluded.

No plans have been made for a dedication ceremony because the corner marker will not arrive for several weeks, Judge Parker stated.

Tax Collector Seeks License Plate Owners

County Tax Collector Jack Back has asked that persons owning license plate numbers AU-7037, AU-7250 and AU-7251 contact him as soon as possible.

The reason for this, Back said, was a discrepancy in the papers and receipts they now possess. The plates were issued last week.

Former Member Of Gang Jumps Prison

MCALESTER, Okla. (UP)—James Edward Skinner, 24, who was a member of the Hurbie Franklin Fairris gang which was convicted for the murder of an Oklahoma City detective, escaped from McAlester State Penitentiary Wednesday night.

Prison officials said Skinner, formerly of Dallas, was discovered missing when a check was made of the cells at 7:30 p.m. Skinner was serving a life sentence for the murder of Detective Bennie F. Cravatt in an attempted supermarket robbery in Oklahoma City in 1954.

Police and highway patrolmen said this morning that no trace of Skinner had been found. He apparently made his escape while on his way to the prison school. The school is located outside the main prison walls, but is enclosed by a brick wall.

Found Pole Against Wall
Prison officials said they found a pole leaning against a wall and a hole cut in a cyclone fence outside the wall.

Prison guards and police searched the bomblands around the prison with bloodhounds Wednesday night.

Oklahoma City officers received word of the prison break at 11 p.m. Wednesday. Some prison officials said Skinner may have hitched a ride with a motorist after his break.

Raymond C. Price, a third member of the gang convicted for Cravatt's murder, is also serving a life term at McAlester. Fairris, the trigger man, was executed Jan. 18, 1956.

Trouble Maker
Warden H. C. McLeod said Skinner was an "incorrigible" prisoner and has served several terms in solitary. He had been separated from Price in an effort to halt trouble-making.

Skinner, Price and Fairris were captured after a gun battle at the Jones Boys grocery in Oklahoma City. The trio had kidnaped store officials and forced them to tell the safe combination.

When the young gangsters returned to the business to loot the safe, police had been alerted and were waiting in the store.

Cravatt was inside the store and as he and Fairris fought, Cravatt was shot.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18th DISTRICT:

Texas Gets Lambasted

Texas has been taking a lambasting of large proportions for the last several months. It presently appears that there is more to come. Actually this all started with the closing of the Suez Canal, believe it or not. It was about that time that crude oil prices were slightly raised. This was the first raise in crude oil prices since 1933, although all other commodities had been raised several times. Nevertheless, a vicious attack was immediately made upon Texas. Columnists, cartoonists and commentators began to portray our great State as a scoundrel and a blackguard. Several European countries have taken up this same hue and cry and Texas continues to catch it from all quarters. To listen to some of the charges that are being made, one would think that the entire continent of Europe was fraying to death, and that Texas had cornered the entire fuel market and was refusing to make it available to the cold and hungry. In fact things have gotten so bad that in some quarters the "Texan" has replaced the bogey man for scaring children. One fellow told me that children on the streets here in Washington looked at him with such fear and trembling that he had replaced this Texas Stetson with an Ike Homburg.

Texas has been in the publicity spotlight for a long time. A ny state with all of the good features with which Texas is blessed, is bound to be in the spotlight now and then. However, a lot of publicity has been of the unfavorable variety. Many people have been led to believe that Texas has more than its share of loudmouthed, illibred, impolite and discourteous blackguards, and that all of them have at least 10 oil wells, Cadillac, 3 swimming pools and a police dog. The reason they think that Texas has more than its share of this type of individual is because they don't realize how big Texas is, and that there are only a few of these kinds of folks, relatively speaking, and relatively speaking doesn't mean kinfolks.

As one good Texas Congressman, the Honorable Paul Kilday of San Antonio, pointed out, the proof of the gentility of Texas people is definitely proven by the fact that the head man in this country today who tells you how to be polite, which spoon to pick up first, when and when not to wear a red tie, where to seat your guests when company comes for dinner and a few other niceties, is none other than a Texan. He is Mr. Wiley Buchanan, the newly appointed chief of Protocol (the rules prescribing etiquette in ceremonies of state). (Some of these rules are all right for local use).

However, the good things never come out. It seems that people would much prefer to gossip about bad points than good points. The release of the picture "Giant" helped the situation. Although I haven't seen the picture (and as far as I know now I don't intend to) the reports coming to me indicate that its viewers are going away feeling that Texans are uncouth and given to a vulgar display of wealth. I have heard that the story upon which this picture was based, was written in a spirit of vindictiveness. It is my personal opinion that neither the book nor the picture were designed to display Texas in the best light, but I can assure the author and the producers that Texas is big enough to take them both with a grin.

Getting back to the reason behind these unfair and vicious attacks on Texans, I would suggest that all of those who are so willing to criticize Texas should first gather together the true facts. Texas is not causing anyone to be cold or hungry, nor is she denying oil, that she has available for sale, to anyone. The truth is that Europe is short only 200 thousand barrels of fuel oil per day. At the present time, this country is importing almost 900 thousand barrels of oil per day. If about 30 percent of the oil being imported into this country could be diverted to Europe, the situation would be alleviated. Such action would also help to solve an economic problem that is becoming very serious to independent producers in this country.

It might also be pointed out while we are speaking of criticism and truth, that there has been a rather unusual display of wealth by some visiting dignitaries to this country. Reputed tips of $20 thousand to a ship's crew, gold watches to waitresses in a Washington restaurant and the purchase of cashmere clothes (including cashmere bathrobes at $185 per robe) from a local Washington store would indicate that there might be two sides to some of these problems. At least Texas isn't seeking Foreign Aid.

These Modern Inventions

A local shortwave radio operator who lives out in Virginia was having a conversation via short wave with Frank Storm, Jr., of Amarillo, last Sunday. The fellow in Virginia called me on the telephone and I had a good conversation with Frank by talking over my telephone through the Virginia man's radio. Then Frank would talk over his radio to the Virginia radio and his voice would come over the phone wire to me about 10 miles away.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

Just The Relevant Facts, Ma'am

The tests of truth and relevancy which courts apply are stricter than those which we use in daily life. As a rule we don't put a man under oath. We don't cross-examine him if his story fails to hang together. We don't jail or fine him if he lies to us. But we do these things in court.

Why is that? Because we think everything that takes place in a courtroom is important. Your property, your personal or civil rights—even your family's welfare or your life or liberty—may rest upon the truth of testimony in court.

Eager as courts are for facts, their tests fall short of those of science. When a scientist doubts the outcome of an experiment, he need not rely upon somebody else's word. He just repeats the experiment in question.

But not so in court. The acts told of in courts cannot be lived over again, for the court to see first hand. For example, you cannot bring back and ask a dead man whether he signed a will or whether the accused killed a man. We cannot re-do a murder; we can only get the witnesses to tell what they know first hand.

To protect each party, there are a number of safeguards. One of these is that we put the witness under oath on pain of penalties for lying. Another is that we cross-examine the witness.

The relevancy test is still another example. Evidence which does not meet the test may be excluded from consideration in determining the facts of the particular case, upon objection by the opposing attorney.

Evidence is "relevant" only when it legitimately tends to answer some question of fact involved in the controversy or case at hand.

Lawyers may seem always to be objecting to testimony. They have a duty to their clients and the court, to see that the judge and jury hear only what is true and relevant under the law.

If a lawyer protests, the judge may rule out some kinds of facts and tell the jury to ignore them. Sometimes too, some facts seriously break the rules of evidence. Then the judge declares a "mistrial" and orders a new trial.

He does this when the testimony is so unfair as to put the rights of the accused in danger. He does this also to protect the public.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Governor Griffin's Proposal Attacked As Shabby Device

By N. C. CHRISS
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 ATLANTA, Ga. (UP)—Gov. Marvin Griffin's move to impeach six justices of the U.S. Supreme Court, including Chief Justice Earl Warren, was attacked today as a "shabby device."

Griffin's lieutenants planned to introduce formally in the Georgia House of Representatives today a resolution accusing Mr. Warren, Justices William O. Douglas, Hugo Black, Felix Frankfurter, Tom Clark and Stanley F. Reed of "high crimes and misdemeanors."

At least three other states were expected to join in Georgia's move in retaliation for decisions outlawing forms of segregation in the South. They are Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana.

Desegregation Not Mentioned

The resolution does not mention desegregation decisions handed down by the Supreme Court. But most of its citations concern participation of the justices in decisions which sponsors considered "soft" toward Communists or illegal usurpation of states rights.

President Jacob S. Potofsky of the Sidney Hillman Foundation attacked the resolution for mentioning Douglas' acceptance of a $1,000 foundation award.

The resolution said Douglas and Black accepted "awards of money and things of value" from Communist front organizations while members of the court.

It referred to a dispatch published by the New York Times reporting the presentation of the Sidney Hillman Award to Douglas citing him as "one of the most steadfast guardians of our individual liberties."

Claims Smear Campaign
 Potofsky called this "a perfectly shabby device" to "smear" Douglas by calling the foundation "as

The girl was the only one of the group that is still attending school, according to their own statements in court this morning.

One other girl and six boys were also in Juvenile Court this morning. A boy, 14, admitted that he was with the Osborne girl and that he was not in school. The judge placed him on probation and stated that the next time he was caught by the officers in any offense, he would also be sent to a state school.

The remainder of the group caught was informed of the new curfew and were advised that stiff measures would be taken if they were caught by any officer in the future.

Two of the boys are in the service and advised the court that they were due back at their bases before the end of the week.

Big Texan From 'Big D' Has Big Plan

WASHINGTON (UP)—A big Texan from "Big D" has a big plan for ending the South-west's big drought.

But the plan is too big even for Texas to put it into effect without some federal help.

So Dallas engineer Al Boerner, who thought up the plan, has arrived in the nation's capital with maps and models to explain it all to congressmen and government officials.

Boerner proposes construction of a 1,500-mile pipeline to carry water from the Great Lakes to Texas. The pipeline would have four tubes, each 24-feet in diameter.

But Boerner said moving water from the Great Lakes 1,500 miles wouldn't be practical unless some thing else helps pay the cost.

Therefore, he proposes:

- Construction of a toll super-highway on top of the underground pipeline with removable center strips so it can be quickly converted into a mighty airstrip.
- Shipping bulk cargo through the pipeline by packing it in watertight capsules.
- Use of the pipeline by the Navy to transfer submarines from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico in "complete security."

Boerner said a "shotgun estimate" on cost of the project is about $7 billion.

Stengel Is Back At His Old Stand

By UNITED PRESS
 Casey Stengel was back at the old stand today, leading Yankee ball players on the field and not the least bit concerned that four of his top pitchers are balking at salary terms.

Stengel officially opened the Yankees' rookie school at St. Petersburg, Fla., and the varsity battersmen are due to report there to him in less than two weeks.

Right now, though, Don (Perfect Game) Larsen, Johnny Kucks, Tommy Byrne and Tom Sturdivant are among the 17 Yankee players who are unsigned.

The Yankees raised their signed total to 24 when they announced the receipt of contracts from outfielders Norm Siebern and Bob Martyn, both candidates for the left field job.

Vic Wertz, who came back from a polio attack to lead the Indians in slugging last year with 32 homers and 106 runs batted in, signed his contract for an estimated $25,000.

Second baseman Nellie Fox, who batted .296 with the White Sox in 1956, agreed to terms after receiving a slight raise over his last year's salary.

Outfielder Gale Wade was the 32nd member of the Cubs to agree to terms, while the Red Sox announced the signing of shortstop Milt Bolling and pitcher Russ Kemmerer.

Pitchers Saul Rogovin and Ron Negray accepted terms with the Phillies, making a total of 20 players they have signed, while the Tigers announced the signing of catcher J. W. Porter.

Only rookie Curtis Barclay remains unsigned with the Giants, they announced, following the receipt of signed contracts from infielders Daryl Spencer and Foster Castleman and pitcher Jim Constable.

Pitcher Mike Fornieles became the 26th member of the Orioles to sign his contract.

ELECTRONIC "MOON" BEAMS — Diagram above shows how radio signals will be used to take a "fix" on the man-made "moon" the U.S. will try to launch into space during the International Geophysical Year (July, 1957—December, 1958). As it orbits around the earth at 18,000 miles an hour, the 20-inch satellite will transmit a faint radio signal which will be picked up by super-sensitive, multi-antenna ground receivers called "Minitrack." The receiving equipment will compare the time required for the same signal to reach each of the antennas at Minitrack sites. Eleven such stations will be set up in a "fence" running north and south in the Western Hemisphere. Data obtained will enable scientists to predict quickly where the speeding artificial moon will go next and aim their cameras and other instruments accordingly.

UN Is Due For Long, Maybe Chill Look By The People of America

A UNITED PRESS EXTRA
By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—Considerable evidence is accumulating that the United Nations is due for a long and maybe chill look by the American people.

This organization of 80 member nations was accorded a special place among the generally accepted pillars of freedom and representative government along with religion, good works, free public education, home and mother.

Now a magnificently reared 12-year-old, the UN more likely than not must prove title to the special place freely accorded it at its inception in 1945. The earliest and sharpest complaint against the United Nations was in protest against the use to which the Soviet Union was permitted by the UN Charter to make of its veto power.

...Egypt on Israel use of the Suez Canal.

Considering the foregoing, Knowland made a statement which, also, is remarkable: He said that on its record so far, no free nation "dare risk its security on the United Nations' ability to function effectively."

If so, there soon will be many to urge that the UN does not justify its existence, to say nothing of qualifying as an anchor-man for U.S. foreign policy. That is the vital role assigned the UN by Presidents Truman and Eisenhower, in turn.

Farmer Could Not Pay Bills Without Some Extra Income

By BERNARD BRENNER
WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (UP)—The average American farmer could not pay his bills without extra income from an outside job, an Agriculture Department survey indicated Tuesday.

The survey showed that farm spending on "family living" items such as food, clothing and shelter averaged $3,309 per family in 1955.

Department records show that net cash farm income for the average farmer in 1955, plus an allowance for the rental value of his home, was $1,928—less than 60 per cent of the family living expenses.

The gap between farm income and living expenses was covered largely by farmers' earnings on part or full-time jobs in business and industry, agriculture department economists said.

$1,220 Per Farmer
Income from these jobs was estimated at $1,220 per farmer in 1955.

The family living cost survey was made by the Agriculture Department and the census bureau early last year. It disclosed a wide gap between the living standards of large and small-scale farm operators.

Farmers reporting gross sales of $10,000 a year and more spent nearly $1,100 for food in 1955—about 25 per cent more than farmers reporting gross sales under $1,200.

Large-scale farmers also spent about twice as much as small operators for housing, clothing, recreation, education and insurance, the survey indicated.

Food Expenditures
The family living study showed that the average farm family spends only about half as much for food as the average city family—$833 on the farm and $1,600 in the city. But in addition to food covered by these figures, the average farm family eats about $600 worth of vegetables, eggs and other foods produced at home.

Agriculture Department economists said the gap between net farm income and farm living expenses probably narrowed last year, because net income increased slightly. But they said there was still a sizeable spread between the average farmer's living costs and his earnings from sales of farm products.

The gap is greatest on farms with sales of less than $1,200 a year, which covers about half of the total farm population. These small farms produce only about two per cent of the nation's food and fiber crops.

Bats, chipmunks, jumping mice and woodchucks are the only mammals in New England which truly hibernate during the winter months. Bears, though commonly regarded as hibernators, sleep fitfully, emerging to forage on warm days.

Confused Election To Be Televised Saturday Night

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Hollywood Writer
HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Nominations for the most confused election in history will be televised Saturday night—and the producers of the show are placidly expecting "screams and complaints."

For the first time, the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences will televise its nominees because NBC feels you armchair critics are anxious to compare your list of favorites with the industry voters.

But this will be one awards show on which the nominations will be sandwiched between entertainment, instead of vice versa.

This means only the 10 "personality" nominees out of 25 categories will be announced on the program. The other nominees will have to wait and read about themselves in the newspapers.

"Every nominee who isn't mentioned on the show probably will scream but we feel the entertainment should come first," explains producer Alan Handley.

Because the networks think this industry salute "rises above any other consideration," NBC got rivals CBS and ABC to send over their stars, making the show one big happy family variety program.

Phil Silvers, Danny Thomas, John Daly, Jane Wyman, Peggy King and Kukla, Fran and Ollie will appear.

Ed Sullivan, president of the TV Academy, was scheduled for a speech but his sponsor objected, a state of affairs that brought more headaches and complaints on Handley's head.

Meanwhile, back in the TV Academy offices, west coast chapter officers Johnny Mercer and Bob Longnecker are up to their button-down shirt collars in more complaints.

Trying to print a nomination ballot for 7,000 eligible programs is chaos (the Motion Picture Academy oscar race has to deal with only about 300 movies). This year the TV nomination categories were cut from 42 to 29, which helped eliminate much of the confusion.

"We had to televise the nominations this year to get money," Longnecker admits. "Our ballotting expenses are so heavy. We even sent booklets to academy members to keep by their TV sets so they could list their favorite shows of the year. Now people complain they can't remember the shows they liked—because the maid threw out the booklets!"

INTRIGUING—A sure eye-catcher is this creation by British spectacle frame designer Unger, which lives up to its name—"Intrigue." Supposedly flattering to strong personalities, it features a continuous curving line around the eyes.

Texas Legislature Committees Get Trio Of Measures

AUSTIN (UP)—A trio of measures, two calling for a shakeup of Texas' congressional districts, were in the hands of legislative subcommittees today.

The other is a constitutional amendment to allow the Legislature to enact laws regulating the affairs of a specific county, city, or school district.

Two bills were sent to the subcommittee by the Senate Legislative, Congressional and Judicial Districts committee Wednesday.

One calls for a new 18-county 22nd district in South Texas and another gives Harris county a second congressman.

The bill calling for a second congressman in Harris county is sponsored by Sen. Searcy Bracewell of Houston, a candidate in the U.S. Senate special election.

Congressman-At-Large Martin Dies, also a U.S. Senate candidate, is currently filling the position of 22nd congressman.

Bill To Redistrict State
Republican National Committee man Jack Porter of Houston, in endorsing the bill, said that if the "congressional redistricting" approaches equalization "the second congressman" will have to land in Harris county.

The other bill would redistrict the state in general and add Denton county to District Four, Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn's district.

The measure, sponsored by Sen. William S. Fly of Victoria, would increase District Four, the smallest in the state, from about 227,735 to 269,100, but it would still be the state's smallest, according to Fly.

Differ On Ninth District
Fly and El Campo Sen. Culp Krueger differed on lumping Galveston with eight other counties in a proposed ninth district. Krueger proposed Galveston and Harris counties make up a single district.

The House Constitutional Amendments committee sent to subcommittee Dallas Rep. John Crosthair's bill.

Walt's proposal to repeal the law prohibiting Legislature from enacting local laws, except those in the nature of game or fish laws.

Opponents said it would give Legislature control over local government, but proponents said lawmakers get around the constitutional law against local legislation by enacting "bracket bills," general in nature but which can apply to only one city or county because of their population bracketing.

Army-NG Feud Revives Idea Of Making Guard Civil Defense Outfit

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Talk of transforming the National Guard into a "home guard" for the guided-missile, nuclear-weapon age has been revived.

Defense Secretary Charles Wilson's controversial crack about the Guard being a draft-dodging scandal during Korea, plus the Guard's big fight against the Army's order that its enlistees be forced to take six months' active duty training have reopened the question.

Both Congress and the Pentagon are studying the possibility of assigning the National Guard to civil defense as its primary mission. Even within the Guard there are a few experts who are willing to consider this new role, in light of the current fight.

Traditionally, the Guard has fought against any effort to relegate it to anything but a side-by-side combat force with the other services in time of war.

A Guard spokesman says: "This may be partly an emotional attitude but the Constitution and the laws make us a full-fledged combat outfit and that's what we intend to remain."

Wilson's former assistant secretary for manpower, John A. Hannah, was among the first top officials to challenge this concept. The politically powerful Guard was able to beat his ears down before he got very far with his civil defense plan.

In the meantime an important step has been taken in this general direction by the Guard. It now means 97 anti-aircraft batteries in 11 different states. Most significant, it is doing the job 200 million dollars per year cheaper — 60 per cent less — than regular Army units do it.

The inherent economy of the National Guard on such a job is the fact that Uncle Sam is not paying full salaries to all the Guardsmen on this duty. Nor does the Army have to feed, house, entertain, provide medical care or transport these men the way it does regulars.

Guardsmen man these batteries as part of their normal duty. A start has been made toward training Guard units to take over some Nike missile bases this year. But the experience points up a growing difficulty of Guard training for offensive missile warfare.

Dietrich Rocks Into Sands Hotel
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UP)—Marlene Dietrich rock 'n' rolled onto the stage at the swank Sands Hotel Wednesday night wearing a dazzling 10-foot long swan-down wrap and a gown dotted with 27,000 diamonds.

The famed actress, who once vowed that rock 'n' roll wouldn't get the best of her, amazed a capacity audience as she made her debut here in the flashy attire. She kicked up her heels and, in an Elvis Presley manner, opened a three-week engagement at the hotel by singing "Look Me Over Closely."

AUSTIN (UP)—The body of Capt. Robert E. Chase of Los Angeles, Calif., was recovered Wednesday from the cockpit of his plane which crashed into San Antonio Bay near Matagorda Island Monday.

McDonald May Remain Steelworkers Prexy

PITTSBURGH (UP)—David J. McDonald was in line for his second four-year term today as president of the 1.2 million member United Steelworkers Union.

An unofficial tally of the union's first contested presidential election Tuesday showed McDonald won handily, but he was prevented with a surprisingly strong protest vote.

His only opponent Donald C. Rarick, a rank and file steelworker who campaigned in a limited area for only four months with hardly any organization and with funds donated by men from the ranks, received an unexpectedly good sized vote.

The latest United Press tabulation of unofficial returns from about 750 of the union's 2,700 locals gave McDonald 148,515 votes and Rarick 63,330.

Big Locals Unreported
Many of the union's big locals were not represented in the count. Additional substantial returns were not expected to be announced by district headquarters, which mail the ballots to international headquarters here for the official tabulation by elected tellers.

No date was announced for the official tabulation, but the union constitution requires the results be announced by May 1.

Rarick showed his strength in Pittsburgh and other Pennsylvania steel centers and areas such as Youngstown, Ohio, and Buffalo, N.Y., where he did most of his campaigning.

It appeared he also may win in District #18 here which includes McDonald's "home" local.

Dues Key Issue
The opposition to McDonald and his international administration was sparked by a $2 a month dues increase voted by the USW convention at Los Angeles last September. An international Dues Protest Committee was formed with Rarick as chairman. Later the committee put Rarick up as a candidate for president.

Rarick hurled charges of "union racketeering" in his campaign and demanded "return of the union to the rank and file."

"I guess this is the end of our bridge club—three of 'em came wearing the same hats!"

Here's a gay suggestion for that Valentine party your teen-agers have suddenly decided to toss.

LEMON FLAKE VALENTINE CAKE
One package instant lemon flake cake mix, beat 'n eat frosting, red candy hearts.

Prepare cake mix according to package directions, baking in two heart-shaped 8-inch layer pans. Cool.

Spread beat 'n eat frosting between layers and over top and sides of cake. Outline edge of cake with double row of red candy hearts, or decorate as desired.

BEAT 'N EAT FROSTING
Two egg whites, unbeaten; 1 1/2 cups sugar, 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar, 2 teaspoons vanilla, 1/2 cup boiling water.

Combine egg whites, sugar, cream of tartar and vanilla in mixing bowl; mix well. Add boiling water and beat at high speed of electric beater or with sturdy egg beater, until mixture will stand in stiff peaks - 10 to 12 minutes.

Makes 5 cups frosting. If desired, tint pink with a few drops of red food coloring.

NOTE: Store cake uncovered to prevent frosting from becoming too soft.

SWEET STRAWBERRY PUNCH
(Makes 2 1/2 quarts, or about 20 servings)
One package strawberry soft drink powder, 1 cup sugar, 2 cups pineapple juice, a tablespoon lemon juice, 2 quarts water with ice cubes.

Combine all ingredients. Stir until dissolved.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Boiled tongue with herbs, creamed mustard sauce, parsley potatoes, spinach with hard-cooked eggs, seeded rolls, butter or margarine, beef and onion salad, lemon flake Valentine cake, coffee, tea, milk.

Here's a super way to surprise the family at the next dinner meal - serve a rolled beef pot-roast. Beef pot-roasts are dishes you can come back to again and again. Some of the pot-roasts you'll find in this meat dealer's display will be arm and blade, heel of round, standing and rolled beef rumps.

Beef pot-roasts combine so well with many different foods. Vegetables and fruits are a natural accompaniment for this popular beef cut.

A boned and rolled pot-roast is especially popular with the man of the house. It's so easy to carve. Mom will find this beef cut a must on her market order now since beef is so plentiful. It's one of the most economical beef cuts available.

Whatever type of pot-roast you may purchase, the cooking method is the same - braising, a slow moist heat method of meat cooking.

Pot-roasts may be cooked either in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) or simmered (cooked slowly) on top of the range. The seasonings as well as the cooking liquid all lend individuality to this versatile meat cut.

In addition to salt and pepper, cloves, caraway seeds, dill or bay leaf can be used for seasoning. Water is the most common liquid used for braising but for variety, some homemakers use diluted vinegar, condensed soup, or tomato juice.

These braising liquids provide wonderful gravy stock.

This recipe for Rolled Beef Pot-Roast is the basic recipe for any pot-roast.

ROLLED BEEF POT-ROAST
3 to 4-pound rolled beef pot-roast
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
Salt
Pepper

Brown meat on all sides in lard or drippings. Season. Add water, cover tightly and simmer in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) or on top of the range.

Golden Meat Loaf Real Menu-Saver

Potatoes can bake while the meat loaf is in the oven, and at serving time complete the menu with tomato slices, rolls and a beverage.

Meat Sandwich Combinations
A sandwich should be a tasty blend of flavors. Here are a few sandwich suggestions that will perk up noon or evening appetites. Combine sliced bologna, mustard and lettuce or you might like to combine sliced meat loaf with pickle relish, sliced hard-cooked egg and salad dressing.

Another luscious combination is ground salami mixed with pickle relish, chopped hard-cooked egg, chopped celery and salad dressing.

Negotiators See End To Strike

NEW YORK (UP)—Negotiators and federal mediators forecast today an early end to a two-day logshoremens' strike that has crippled dock operations from Maine to Virginia.

Spokesmen for the striking International Longshoremen's Assn. (ind) and the New York Shipping Assn., agreed that only clarification of several minor issues stood in the way of a settlement of the strike that has tied up 150 ships, idled 45,000 longshoremen and stranded tons of cargo on piers and in ship's holds.

The disputants, who met separately with federal mediators

Watered-Down Recording Is Searched For

NEW YORK (UP)—Housewives in suburban Great Neck dutifully obeyed during the past week when they answered their telephones and were told:

"This is a recording... your water will be turned off for 15 minutes... fill up your bathtub, your sink and all receptacles that hold water."

And, as often as not, they have later helped jam the Citizens Water Supply Company's telephone switchboard, now overflowing with demands for an explanation.

R. M. Grieve, vice president of the company, has asked Nassau County Police to help in the emergency.

He wants them to find the person who is making the "recorded" calls and causing the housewives a lot of back-breaking tub and bucket filling, and the water supply company a great deal of embarrassment explaining about how water service is as normal as ever and no shutoffs are planned now or in the near future.

UN To Debate Red Charges

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—Informed sources said the United States will vote today for a full debate on the Soviet Union's "abusive" charges that U.S. foreign policy shows "aggressive tendencies."

The General Assembly's Steering Committee scheduled a meeting to decide whether to prolong the current session by placing the Russian charge on the already-crowded agenda.

The sources said even though the United States and other Western nations considered the Soviet accusations propaganda, the U.S. will vote for the debate to give the Eisenhower Doctrine for the Middle East a full airing in the world body.

The assembly originally had hoped to adjourn by Feb. 15 but the Hungarian and Middle East situations threw the schedule off balance. The assembly has at least another week of routine work.

The Steering Committee planned to meet Wednesday but had to postpone the session until this morning because of prolonged voting on the Algerian question in the main political committee.

The General Assembly was summoned to meet this afternoon to take final decisions on the Political Committee's actions on Algeria and disarmament. There was no indication when the assembly would take up the Middle East question again.

Misleading. The term "patent medicine" is misleading in that medicines are not patented. They may be protected by patenting the process of manufacture and trade-marking the name.

WRONG FLAG—Issued in commemoration of the recent Melbourne Olympics, this Dominican Republic postage stamp has stirred up a philatelic fracas. The stamp shows Korean runner Kee Chung Sohn winning the marathon in the 1936 Olympics in Berlin. It brought a squawk from the Republic of Korea because of the Japanese flag in the upper left corner. Korean officials demand the flag be removed. Korea was under Japanese rule in 1936 and Kee Chung Sohn competed as a member of the Japanese team.

LISTENING TO THE OLD-TIMER TALK UP A STORM ABOUT THE GOOD OLD DAYS... THANK AND A TIP OF THE HATLO HAT TO TOMMY DENVER, COLO.

Russia Developing Diplomatic Drive

Foreign News Commentary
By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Soviet Russia is developing a big diplomatic campaign in an obvious attempt to weaken Allied defense cooperation.

Last Friday Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin sent a letter to West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer holding out hope of German unification if he would abandon his ties with the Western democracies.

Now Foreign Minister Dmitri T. Shepilov has sent notes to the United States, Great Britain and France outlining a six-point proposal on policy toward the countries of the Middle East.

The Soviet government also has asked that the foreign ministers of the United States, Canada, Britain, France and Russia attend personally a disarmament conference to be held in London next month.

New Plan Expected
It is reported in London that Russia intends to announce some sort of a new disarmament plan at that meeting.

While this campaign is being pursued, the Soviet government is making threats to Britain, France and other countries that they will be targets for atomic weapons if a big war breaks out.

It looks as if the campaign may be the brain child of Shepilov, who succeeded Vyacheslav M. Molotov as foreign minister last June 1 and is spoken of as a coming man in the Soviet ruling circle.

Shepilov went to the foreign ministry after having been editor in chief of the newspaper Pravda, the official organ of the Russian Communist Party.

He was not a newspaper man. He was put into his new post after a long career as a Communist propagandist.

Handsome, disarmingly friendly, more than six feet tall, he is decided contrast to the dour Molotov.

A Cover-Up Plan
Shepilov's campaign—if it is his—undoubtedly is aimed partly at covering up Russia's own embarrassments in its relations with its fellow Communist countries in Eastern Europe.

But it probably is aimed also at taking advantage of a period in which the Western Allies, believing that the danger of a third world war is increasingly remote, are trying to reduce defense spending.

Bulganin's letter is unlikely to get very far with old Adenauer. Under him, West Germany is certain to maintain its ties with the Western Allies. Nor is Adenauer the man to believe that Russia has any intention of agreeing to the unification of Germany.

It appears unlikely also that Shepilov's note to the United States, Britain and France is likely to deceive the governments of those countries.

Would Frustrate Doctrine
The six points Shepilov outlines would have the effect of frustrating the aims of the new Eisenhower Doctrine for the Middle East while leaving Russia free to engage in subversive activities.

The note calls for the "liquidation of foreign bases" in the Middle East, meaning United States bases.

Rio Grande Suit Will Take Time

EDINBURG, Tex. (UP)—Attorney General Will Wilson believes it will take "three or four years" to settle a ponderous water rights suit affecting more than 500,000 persons along the Rio Grande.

Wilson, who conferred here Wednesday for several hours on the suit, told some 40 attorneys involved that it should be divided into several segments to speed up rulings.

Wilson was accompanied by two assistants and Sen. Hubert Hulse of Brownsville.

The suit involves water rights along the Rio Grande from Fort Quitman near El Paso, to the Gulf. Almost 100,000 persons are involved. Five water districts in Hidalgo and Cameron counties are plaintiffs.

Four judges have been disqualified from trying the suit because they or their relatives held property in some of the districts concerned.

Wilson said an appropriation would have to be provided by the Legislature for a fund for the water suit to pay the judge.

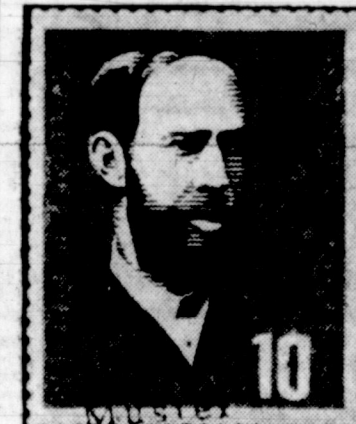

Wilson said the suit would "set water rights" and would require state-wide precedents regarding water rights" and would require "at least half the time of any judge who undertakes to try it for the next several years."

Seek Identity Of Fire Victims

By LADD KUZELA

United Press Staff Correspondent COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa (UP)

Authorities sought today to identify two of 14 persons killed when flames flashed through a 75-year-old frame convalescent home, trapping many of the victims in their beds.

Ten persons were injured in the blaze Wednesday afternoon, but only one was reported in critical condition. Eight others were hospitalized.

There were 48 persons in the building when the fire broke out. The nursing home housed 32 patients. Most of those who fled uninjured were employees. Three children of an employe also escaped injury.

Two Victims Unidentified The search for more victims was called off early today—when one of the missing patients was found wandering about in a daze some 13 hours later.

The woman, Annie Orme, about 70, had been listed among the victims. She was found by Council Bluffs police trying to enter a home near the nursing home. Mrs. Orme told authorities she had spent most of the time in a nearby woodland. She suffered exposure and shock.

The bodies of two victims were still unidentified. Officials believed the unidentified bodies were those of Mrs. Mathilda Luchow and Mrs. Rose Cochran, both patients.

Authorities theorized the fire was touched off by an elderly woman patient when her cigaret touched a plastic window curtain.

License Had Expired The fire broke out while many of the patients and employes were finishing lunch. Miss Cleo Clark, an employe, said she heard the cry of "fire!" and dashed to a room where 15-month-old Kim Patten was sleeping.

"I picked him up and made for the back door," she said. "It felt like there were flames all around me. My arms were burned and Kim's eyebrows were singed."

The fire quickly swept through the nursing home, whose patients ranged in age from the 60s into the 90s. The top two floors of the three-story structure crashed into the basement.

Iowa Public Health Commissioner Dr. Edmund Zimmerer said the building's nursing home license had expired last July 1 and was not renewed because of "certain deficiencies."

Civil Service Posts Open

High-level openings for financial analysts, grade GS-12, exist in the Housing and Home Finance Agency's headquarters at Fort Worth, the Civil Service Commission announced today.

The position pays a starting salary of $7,570 a year and is permanent with reasonable opportunity for advancement.

Experts in the field of business, bank, and mortgage loans will in most cases qualify as financial analysts. HHFA especially desires experience in municipal finance and administration, including origination and marketing of municipal bond issues. However, college graduates with appropriate degrees may be accepted as trainees, at starting salaries of $3670 to $4525.

Present HHFA activities involve the processing and administering of loans to colleges for student and faculty housing, to local communities for planning public works, and for the rehabilitation of urban slum areas. The Fort Worth office has jurisdiction over HHFA operations in eight Southwestern states.

Interested persons may file written application with Housing and Home Finance Agency, Room 2000, 300 West Vickery, Fort Worth. Necessary forms may be obtained at most Post Offices and at any office of the Civil Service Commission, or at HHFA in Fort Worth.

Jack Benny To Celebrate His 39th Birthday Again

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Hollywood Writer
HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Jack Benny celebrates his 39th birthday again Thursday—because staying 39, he said today, "keeps me young."

The comedian who has won more continued success on radio and TV than any other entertainer actually will be 63 on Valentine's day. But to his millions of fans, and Benny himself, he's still 39—a happy legend he began on his radio show back in 1945.

"People should forget birthdays and their age," reflected Benny as he sat in his Beverly Hills office on the eve of the occasion.

"If it weren't for observing birthdays, you couldn't keep track of your age. It would be wonderful if a person couldn't. Some people feel old just because of those numbers that are pinned to him."

"You don't look older to people who see you all the time. I really feel 39—just as I forgot my right name as soon as I changed it to Jack Benny. I do the 39 gag so much on my show that I don't picture myself as much older."

Benny first used the age gag in 1945 on radio when he announced he was 36. He was 37 for a couple of years and finally moved to 39 where he stayed. Since then the age joke—along with gags about his Maxwell car and his gold-filled vault—has become a national legend. Once a Texas newspaper headlined, "Temperature Hits Jack Benny Age—39."

The gentle, amiable comedian realized the importance of his 39th birthday two years ago when he planned to turn 40 on his CBS-TV show. It was to be a national event, an hour program bringing together all the entertainers who have worked with him, from Frank Parker to Phil Harris.

But a Boston newspaper talked Jack out of it.

"Someone sent me an editorial they printed," said Jack, parking his feet on top of his desk. "It begged me not to grow older."

"Their reasoning was that it has been a great help to a lot of people who now can figure that when they get to be 39 they won't get any older, either. And so they don't get older."

"I usually don't heed critics. This was the first time I ever listened to a newspaper. We cancelled the show and I'm still 39."

A little learning has its hazards. East had read that a valuable defense against the Blackwood convention is the double of the response to tell partner what to lead.

Hence, when North responded five hearts to show two aces, East was right there with a booming double to tell his partner to open a heart against the final contract.

South had already made a terrific overbid when he tried Blackwood. With an opening bid just above a minimum he should merely have bid game in spades and not considered a slam. Now, he was further encouraged by the heart double and jumped to the slam.

West wanted to open a diamond. The jack-ten-nine combination looked mighty good to him. Still his partner had asked for a heart lead and West dutifully led the queen.

The heart opening was the only lead to give South his contract. It did not matter whether East won with the ace or ducked. Declarer was able to restrict his hearts to one loser and with the drop of the queen of trumps he had no losers anywhere else.

That's double was pointless. He did have the ace of hearts but he also held the king of clubs and the queen of diamonds. Instead of asking for a heart lead he should have wanted West to open normally.

Children Develop Fever After Falls

Why should a fall cause a child to have fever? How can colds come from falls?

You might go a little further and wonder how your body keeps its temperature at 98.6 in the winter as in the summer.

Your body is an electrically controlled unit. A fall can disturb the electric distribution system and alter any complicated series of electrochemical actions anywhere in the body.

Irritated nerves can make the nasal mucosa inflamed and hot and you'll call it a head cold. If the irritated nerves increase in number the inflammation spreads down the throat and laryngitis is the name attached to these symptoms.

Patients of the Miller Chiropractic Clinic bring their children in at the first sign of a cold or fever.

Close questioning invariably reveals that the child had had a fall or other jolting experience shortly before.

An infant, whose head is allowed to wobble around and snap back and forth on its neck, sustains minor injuries to the nerves in the neck that can cause fever, colds, and upset stomach.

When spinal corrections are made these infants and children make astonishingly rapid recovery.

New born infants have been brought to the Miller Chiropractic Clinic suffering from convulsions, Asthma, jaundice, skin rash, vomiting, continuous crying and coma.

In every instance our X-Rays disclosed an injured spine about the neck and head area.

In every case to date - the convulsions have ceased, and the vomiting, Asthma, crying etc. have stopped in a very short time after corrections are made to restore alignment and remove central nerve interference.

Don't just sit and watch your baby suffer. If it does not respond to the usual treatments, hurry to Miller Chiropractic Clinic before its too late.

Investigate for health's sake.

Varietas Study Club Hears Washington Topic After New Officers Are Elected

Mrs. Lee Harrah, 405 N. Frost, was hostess to the Varietas Study Club Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. J. R. Spearman, president, presided at the business meeting. The club project for the year was discussed by Mrs. J. G. Doggett, project chairman. Other chairman presented reports. Members answered roll call with Bible quotations on assigned topics.

The annual election of officers was held, and the following officers were elected for the year 1957-58: Mrs. W. A. Waggoner, president; Mrs. George Sims, vice-president; Mrs. J. G. Doggett, secretary; Mrs. Dow King, treasurer; Mrs. Ralph Thomas, parliamentarian; Mrs. H. T. Hampton, library chairman; and council of clubs reporter, Mrs. J. R. Spearman.

The afternoon's program was presented by Mrs. Sherman White. Her topic was "The City of Washington in Trouble" and was a discussion of the civic life of America's capital city. She presented the good and bad points, stressing the fact that Congress controls every detail of the city operation; that a large percentage of the people who work in the city do not live in it; and that it is becoming more congested every year. Club members who assisted Mrs. White in a question and answer panel were Mrs. King, Doggett, J. E. Kitchman, and H. P. Dosier.

At the previous regular meeting, the club was privileged to hear a lecture by Mrs. W. Purviance. Her topic was "Travels Abroad" and was a travelogue on her recent trip to Europe with her husband, Dr. W. Purviance, when he attended a medical meeting there. She accompanied her talk with colored pictures and pamphlets which illustrated the various spots of interest. She discussed the scenic beauties of Copenhagen and other European cities and countries, the customs and traditions, the comparative wealth and culture, the types of food served in each place. Her enthusiasm and charm of presentation gave the illusion of a trip to Europe to each member present.

Before marriage he laughed and told her she was cute when she was mad. After marriage he yells right back at her.

Before marriage he was going to spend his life trying to make her happy. After marriage he assumes Mrs. Irene Mullinax's grandmother, Mrs. Hayes, was reported ill. Mrs. Inez Carter was reported in Baylor Hospital in Dallas. Mrs. Mae Eita Powers is in the Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo.

Mrs. Hazel Jay announced that the International Banquet will be Feb. 26. The speaker will be Mrs. Vada Waldron, a missionary, visiting in this city.

Dr. Cylvia Sorkins will be the guest speaker at the Amarillo Club meeting on March 15th in the Herring Hotel. The Amarillo Club has extended an invitation to the Pampa Club to attend.

The blood typing program conducted by Mrs. Anne Chapman, technician, was completed last night with more B&PW members taking advantage of this opportunity.

B&PW membership now stands at 59. Eleven new members were voted into the club at the meeting last night.

A recent column on what a world of difference a few years of marriage make in a woman's attitude brought forth the cry from readers, "Men change just as much." Sure, they do.

Before marriage the man was pleased that she was always the best-dressed girl at a party. After marriage he declares she spends every cent he makes on clothes.

Before marriage — if they were in school together — he helped her with math. After marriage he can't understand why she can't keep a checkbook straight.

Before marriage he found her helplessness amusing. After marriage he is impatient because she can't seem to decide anything for herself.

Before marriage her constant chatter put him at ease. After marriage he wishes she would be quiet long enough for him to read the paper or would let him listen to his favorite TV programs without interruption.

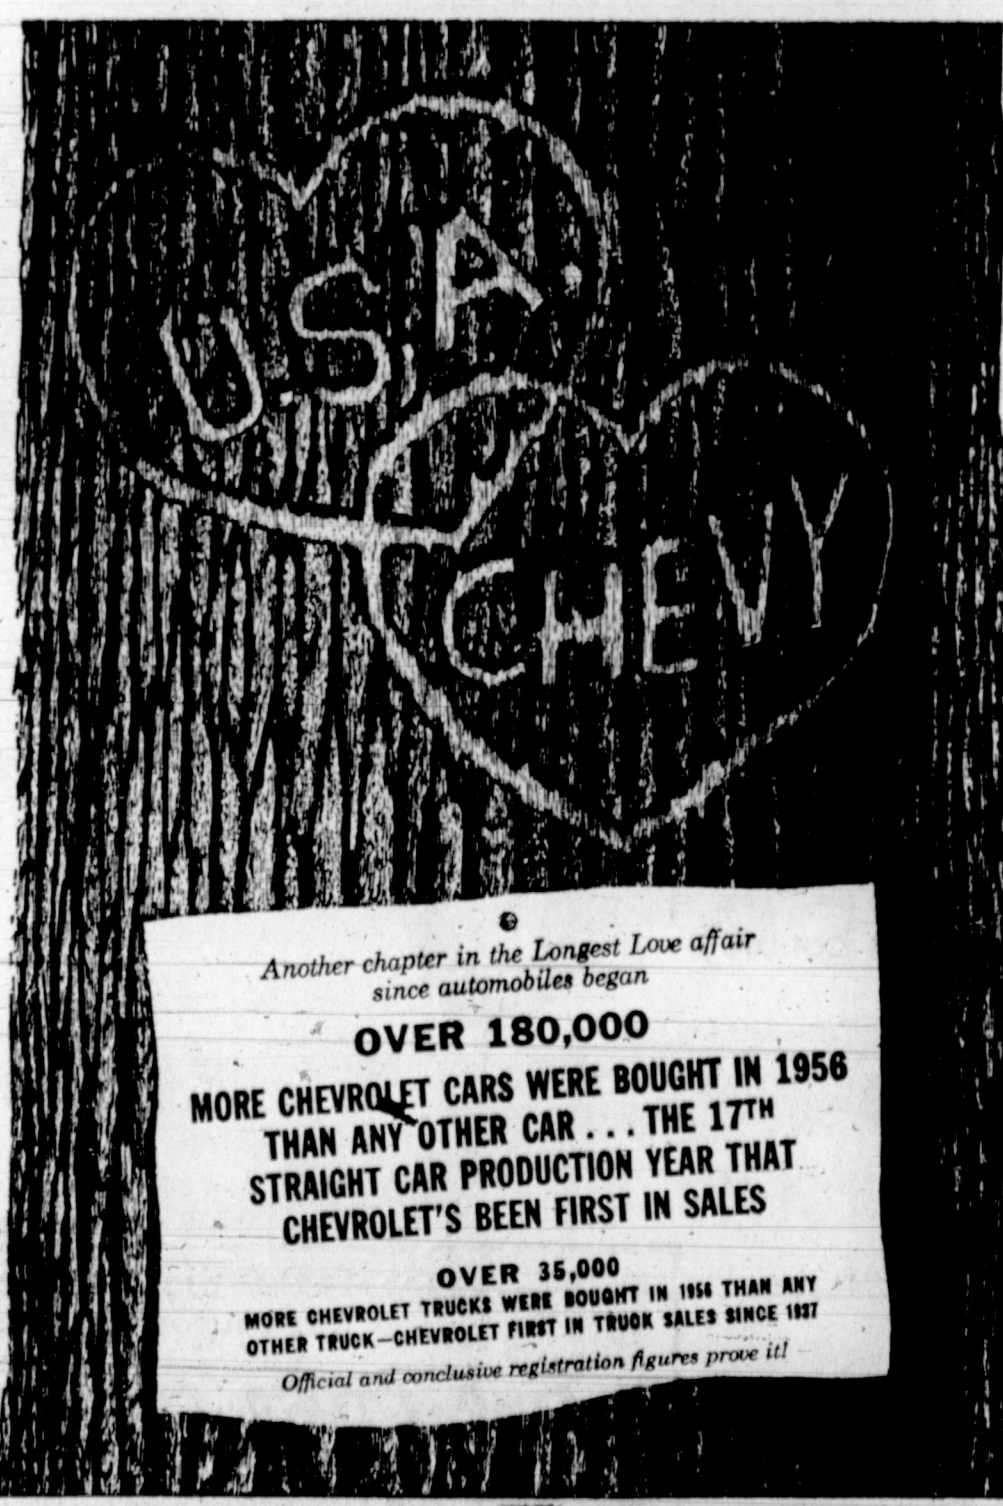

Before marriage he couldn't get enough dates with her. After marriage the bright spot of his week seems to be his evening out with the boys.

Before marriage he jumped to light her cigarettes and open doors for her. After marriage he doesn't move from his easy chair when he sees her struggling into the house with a big sack of groceries.

Before marriage her interest in every detail of his life was flattering. After marriage he wishes she would allow him a little privacy.

Before marriage he thought she was wonderfully understanding because she always seemed to sense when something was wrong. After marriage he says impatiently, "Will you quit fussing over me?"

Patrolmen Positions Now Open

Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, has announced that an opportunity now exists for young men between the ages of 21 and 35 to join the ranks of the Texas DPS as Texas Highway Patrolmen. Garrison said student patrolmen would receive three months of intensive training in all phases of traffic enforcement and related fields at the department's Law Enforcement Academy. After graduating they will receive further training for six months under the guidance of experienced patrolmen. The state police director said applications for the positions will be received at Highway Patrol offices throughout the state until March 1. Applicants will take examinations March 11. Qualifications necessary to apply include: a high school education, or its equivalent; of good moral character; good physical condition, and a minimum of five feet, eight inches in height with weight proportionate. Col. Garrison pointed out that the Patrol Training School held at DPS headquarters in Austin is of the best in the nation and gives young men a substantial back ground for all future jobs in the law enforcement field.

Republican Senators Look To White House

By WARREN DUFFEE
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—Republican senators looked to the White House today for official signals on whether to wage a floor fight to strengthen the watered-down version of the Eisenhower Doctrine approved by two Senate committees. The President's Middle East resolution cleared the Democratic-controlled Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees by a 20-to-8 vote Wednesday, but only after its language was sharply modified. The resolution now goes to the full Senate for debate next week. There were indications, both here and at the temporary White House at Thomasville, Ga., that Mr. Eisenhower might settle for the watered-down resolution rather than risk weakening its international propaganda impact by prolonging Senate debate. President Reported Pleased White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerly said in Thomasville that both the President and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles were pleased with the committee's action but that the language of the revised resolution needed further study. Democrats on the two committees who succeeded in softening the language of the proposal voiced confidence that the full Senate will go along with the change. The committee vote on the specific issue of rewording the resolution followed straight party lines, with 15 Democrats supporting the change and 13 Republicans opposing it. The Democrats, led by Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey (Minn.) and Mike Mansfield (Mont), substituted for Mr. Eisenhower's original wording a statement that the United States is "prepared to use armed forces to assist" any Middle East nation threatened by

Autopsy To Be Performed On Author

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UP)—A coroner performs an autopsy today on the body of magazine writer George Sessions Perry, found in a river about two miles from his home. TYRINGHAM, Mass. (UP)—Tyringham declared itself a Hale town Tuesday. Miss Alice Hale was elected town clerk. Her father, Arnold, was named a selectman. Her brother, Donald, was re-elected tax collector. Uncle Willis was named assessor. Another uncle, Harry Loring, was elected a selectman. LONDON (UP)—Tax driver Eli Perry was fined one pound by Magistrate Paul Bennet Tuesday, for speeding. Bennet recalled that he'd sentenced Perry 22 years ago for driving too slowly. "You're slowly getting used to traffic conditions," the magistrate said. The coroner was expected to rule whether the 46-year-old author committed suicide when he vanished from his home in Guilford, Conn., Dec. 13. Perry's body, clad only in socks, was found Wednesday lodged against a bridge abutment in the East River, a small stream that divides the towns of Madison and Guilford and empties into Long Island Sound. George Heinfeld, assistant police chief at Madison, identified the author's body. Heinfeld, a friend of Perry's, said the author may have been "impelled to obey the voices he said he heard from time to time telling him to dive into the river and swim until he reached the North Pole." Heinfeld said Perry "looked remote" before his disappearance and had been "depressed." He said the author had a nervous breakdown and suffered from arthritis. He said Perry had been an out-patient at the Middletown State Hospital. Heinfeld quoted Perry as telling friends: "The best thing I can do in this depressed state is either jump into the river and swim to the North Pole or run into the woods until I drop." The six-foot, six-inch tall author was a frequent contributor to the Saturday Evening Post. He and his wife originated the "Cities of America" series for the magazine. Perry was born in Rockdale, Tex. He was a war correspondent during World War II and won the National Book Award in 1941 for his novel, "Hold Autumn in Your Hands."

HAND-Y BALLHAWKS - Very few basketball teams' starting line-ups can master the trick of holding a basketball in an extended hand, as shown above by the Carver Wildcats. Pampa To End Season Action Here

The Pampa Harvesters close out their regular season of basketball play tonight at Harvester Field house by meeting the Plainview Bulldogs in a game that will probably be an anti-climax to the District 3-AAAA race.

The Harvesters are deadlocked with Borger's Bulldogs for the 3-AAAA lead and both must win in order to gain a chance at the championship. In that event, a sudden-death playoff would probably be held Saturday night at Canyon.

A defeat by either team would almost throw the other quintet out of the race. Pampa could win the title outright with a win over the hot and cold Plainview team while Borger was losing to Palo Duro at Amarillo. The same situation would prevail with a Borger win and Pampa loss.

Pampa has the best chance of winning tonight since the Harvesters will be playing on their home court. On the other hand, Borger is meeting Palo Duro in the latter's gym and the Dons have lost only two games in two seasons there.

The Harvesters may have a tough time with the Bulldogs. In the last meeting with Plainview the Harvesters won a narrow 47-44 changing to hold his own. Wilhelm continuously pecked away at Flores with his speedy left hook and Flores caught one square on the jaw to go down.

Flores took the required eight-count and got back up. But the referee took a look at him and decided the match had gone far enough. The match was only 42 seconds into the second round.

McFarland, the southpaw stylist, fought his usual fight of stalking his opponent and landing hard right hooks and straight lefts when he saw a good opening. It was a clear-cut decision over the Abilene fighter.

Wilhelm meets Bobby Dickens of Greenville on tonight's card. McFarland battles Joe Martinez of Austin, Johnson takes on Buster Maloney of Houston, Martin tangles with Armenog Perez of Corpus Christi and Lunsford has tough Charles Milton, a tournament favorite from Fort Worth, as his opponent in the heavyweight bracket.

The tournament continues through Saturday night at which time the finals will be held and champions crowned. Fort Worth is setting an early pace for the team championship. The Fort Worth boxers won one and lost one last night.

Wilhelm Smashes Out TKO Win In State Gloves Meet

FORT WORTH - Lightweight Gary Wilhelm of Pampa and representing the Amarillo region gained his first state Golden Gloves tournament victory here Wednesday night in Will Rogers Coliseum with a spectacular second-round technical knockout over Fred Flores of Harlingen.

Wilhelm's state tournament debut was a dazzling one. The 16-year-old Pampa fighter, who has won several district and regional titles, was one of two Amarillo representatives winning fights last night in the second round.

Welter Bill McFarland, who scored narrow decision over Pampa's Kenneth Wood in the regional finals, decided Richard Ferrell of Abilene for his first tournament victory. The Amarillo region has lost three fighters since the meet opened Wednesday night but five Panhandle boxers remain in the running.

Featherweight T. B. Baca was the only Amarillo loser last night. Baca, unopposed in the regional tournament, lost a decision to Gaspar Sanchez of El Paso. Left in the running are Wilhelm, McFarland, Merrell Johnson, James Martin and Bill Lunsford. Johnson, Martin and Lunsford have not seen action as yet but they will fight tonight.

Flores gave Wilhelm all he could handle in the first round. The Rio Grande Valley boxer, eight years older than his Pampa opponent, used his nine years of ring experience in the first round to hand Gary a series of punches which immediately brought the crowd to its feet.

But Wilhelm, always boxing cool and collected, deflected many of the punches and he did plenty of ex-

Texas Open Golf Meet Underway

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., (UP) - Little Gene Littler opened defense of his Texas Open golf crown today, but neither he nor anyone else in the 160-player field was an outstanding favorite in the 36th renewal of the oldest stop on the winter tour.

Only once before has a champion ever been able to repeat in this affair - and that was back in 1928 - before many of the young stars of the present touring brigade were born - when Wild Bill Meihorn did it.

The field is going to find that Brackenridge Park's neat little 6,490-yard layout has been removed from the pitch-and-putt class that formerly made it an easy prey to recordhunting pros.

Practice rounds indicated that instead of the 264 average which has won this tournament over the past 10 years, the lion's share of the $20,000 prize money Sunday will likely be taken down with a 268.

This compares with the 257 record which Mike Shouchak set in winning here in 1955.

Seven former winners, including Littler, are in the field. They include top money winners Doug Ford, Jay Hebert, Bill Casper Jr. and Dow Finsterwald, who edged Don Whitl in a playoff Monday for the Tucson Open crown.

Joe Brown Successfully Defends Lightweight Crown

Pounds Out TKO Win Over Smith

By CHARLES TAYLOR
MIAMI BEACH (UP)—Jubilant Joe Brown, fresh from a TKO victory in his first defense of the lightweight crown, aimed at some "fast, big money" today in a May title bout with southpaw Kenny Lane.

Canadian And NFL Hope For Title Playoff

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—The National Football League and its former arch rival, the Canadian Professional Football Council, looked today to a future that might see a playoff meeting of their respective champions.

Bert Bell, NFL Commissioner, and Ralph Cooper, Canadian council president, met informally here Wednesday to discuss mutual problems, including claims to player rights which often made the leagues court opponents.

The upshot of the meeting was agreement by the commissioners of pro football on the North American continent that there were "no major differences, nothing which can't be ironed out" facing the two leagues.

One vexing problem aired was the status of Don Owen, Mississippi Southern tackle claimed by the NFL's Pittsburgh Steelers and the Canadian league's Montreal club.

Bell said that Owen had agreed to an offer from Pittsburgh, but signed with Montreal for better financial terms. However, Owen received no money from either team and then returned to sign with the Steelers.

Bell said he had approved the Pittsburgh contract but added "now, we must get a legal opinion." Meanwhile, Pittsburgh and Montreal club officials are trying to thrash out the matter, Bell said.

The confab between Bell and Cooper took place with turnstiles still clicking in their ears from profitable 1956 seasons. The NFL had its fifth straight record year at the gate and seven of nine Canadian teams finished in the black.

The two league directors looked ahead to games at the pre-season level.

"The last inter-league meeting was a game between New York and Ottawa in 1952," Cooper said. "But there's a good chance of the teams playing more and more games against each other in the changes that might be possible."

Bell agreed and also nodded as the sent when it was suggested a world series game between champions of either league could be a fact in the future.

Brown received $15,924 for stopping ex-champ Wallace (Bud) Smith in the 11th round of their return title fight Wednesday night before a sellout crowd of 4,129 at Miami Beach Auditorium.

It was the first purse for lanky Joe of New Orleans since he won the 135-pound crown from Smith of East Orange, N.J., last Aug. 24. And, although it was the largest of his career, he said, "That's peanuts compared to what I'll make—now that Smith is out of the way and my right hand is in good shape."

Lane Logical Opponent
Truman Gibson, executive secretary of the International Boxing Club, said, "Since Brown wants to make money in a quick fight, his logical opponent is Kenny Lane—a good puncher who can really test the champion's chin."

Champion Brown, 30, registered his eighth straight win Wednesday night when Dr. Alexander Robbins examined Smith in his corner after the end of the 10th round and waved his hands to signify that the bout was stopped. Smith was bleeding from a cut inside his mouth, and he claimed he had been unable to see properly from his left eye after a blow in the fourth round.

Little Chet Forte Hits For 45 Points

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press Sports Writer
A record-busting 45-point spree catapulted Chet (The Jet) Forte, the "champion of the little man," back into the national basketball scoring lead today ahead of seven-foot Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain.

Five-nine Forte of Columbia needed a whopping 42 points in Wednesday night's tussle with Pennsylvania and he did it with three free throws to spare in a 93-75 triumph, smashing three scoring records and tying the Ivy League single-game record.

With 513 points in 17 games, the Little Lion now boasts an average of 30.2 points against 29.94 for Chamberlain of Kansas and 29.90 for six-five Grady Wallace of South Carolina.

Tourney Hope Rise
Forte's feat helped keep alive Columbia's hopes of an NCAA Yale in the Ivy League or through tourney berth through overtaking Yale in the Ivy League or through a member-at-large berth.

The "David vs. two Goliaths" scoring battle once again overshadowed another of North Carolina's close brushes with disaster. The nation's No. 1 team and only major unbeaten squad managed to push its record to 20-0 but only by an eyelash in a 72-69 win at home over Wake Forest.

It was the fourth straight squeaker for the Tar Heels and the fourth straight game in which chunky Tommy Kearns saved the bacon. Wake Forest, ranked 14th nationally, had rallied from an 11-point deficit to trail by only 68-67 with 64 seconds left when the five-11 Tar Heel junior from Bergenfield, N.J., took charge. His two free throws with 45 seconds left boosted the edge to 70-67.

After Carolina added a free throw and Wake Forest a basket, Kearns dribbled for 13 seconds before being fouled and added the final point with just one second to go.

Canisius Upset Victim
Bradley, the nation's No. 5 team, gained a tie with Wichita for first place in the three-cornered Missouri Valley race by whipping St. Louis' zone defense, 76-70. Jack Minnits of St. Louis took scoring honors with 20 points, but his team dropped to a 7-2 mark while Bradley moved up with Wichita at 7-1.

Seton Hall scored the biggest upset, 102-87, over 11th-ranked Canisius as speedy Dick Gaines hit for 34 points. Eighth-ranked Louisville scored 40 points in the first 12 minutes and cruised to a 99-79 win over Marquette despite Mike Moran's 29 points.

Country's Top Racers In Meet
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UP)—Nearly 200 of the nation's top stock car drivers gunned their sleek vehicles up to speeds of well over 100 miles per hour today in the qualifying trials for the weekend's three big NASCAR races.

One hundred drivers whizzed along the five-mile beach straightaway to determine starting positions in Friday's 125-mile race for sportsman and modified cars.

Between 30 and 40 raced against the clock for positions in the 160-mile race for late model convertibles Saturday and 60 competed for positions in the 160-mile Grand National for late model closed cars Sunday. The Grand National is the finale of the two weeks of annual speedweek competition here.

Wednesday's competition saw one track record fall as John Zink Jr., of Tulsa, Okla., gunned his regulation 487 Pontiac to an average of 136.570 miles an hour. This was six miles an hour faster than the old Class 6 mark set last year.

League-Leading SMU Not Buying Early Tourney-Planning Theory

DALLAS (UP)—Although fourth-rated Southern Methodist boasts a two-game lead with four to play in the Southwest Conference basketball race, Coach Doc Hayes won't buy the theory that he should start planning now for an NCAA playoff with Kansas.

"I know the tendency is to consider us 'in' as conference champs," Hayes said today after his team had whipped Texas to avenge the only league loss suffered this season.

"But I don't go for that sort of thinking and I certainly hope my players don't either," he added. "I don't think the conference race is over by a helluva lot."

The 79-56 triumph over Texas was SMU's seventh in eight league starts and its 17th against three losses for the season. And, coupled with a 95-70 upset of Rice by Baylor the same night it shoved SMU within two victories of at least tying for its third straight championship and a berth in the regionals here next month.

"Baylor sure helped us," Hayes said, "but I'm telling my boys to concentrate on our own work and pay no attention to what is going on around us. We can't depend on the other teams to win the title for us."

"I'm not even thinking about the playoffs and won't until we nail things down — and that might well be the final night of the regular schedule (March 2) when we play Arkansas up there in the hills."

Hayes is a firm believer in the theory that anything can happen in basketball and is looking forward only to next week's clash with cellar-bound Texas A&M—and possibly just a little bit ahead of that to a road game against Rice at Houston.

"But the other morning, I read in the Lubbock paper where we were favored by 20 points, or just about as many as we wished to beat Texas Tech that night," Hayes said. "That night we got beat 68 to 67."

If he can win both of those games next week, he admits he might consider taking a gander at Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain and SMU would meet Kansas in the opening round of the regionals if both win their respective titles.

"But we still have four games to go — the two toughest ones away from home against Rice and Arkansas (the only clubs with a chance to overhaul SMU) — and it's not time yet to worry about Wilt The Stilt."

THE PAMPA OILERS SIGNED THEIR FIRST PLAYERS TO THE ROSTER YESTERDAY TO OFFICIALLY GET THE SEASON UNDERWAY.

Now that league payments have been paid and players have been signed, linked with the nice, warm weather, baseball season seems to be at hand.

Two rookies, Henry Francis Jr. and Alex Triggs, returned the 17 signed contracts to Oiler business manager Ben Niblock yesterday.

Both are rookies and from Shreveport. Francis is an infielder and is 24 years of age. Triggs, 21, is an outfielder. The two played in the National Baseball Congress tournament in Wichita last year.

Several other contracts have been returned and are expected to arrive here next month and, spring drills will start early in April.

All seven of the current members of the Class B Southwestern League have managers. They include Cross, Tony York of Ballinger, John Weij of Midland, Bert Haas of Clovis, Jodie Phipps of Carlsbad, Thurman Tucker of Hobbs, and Art Bowland of Plainview.

RADIO STATION KPBN will broadcast the NASCAR (National Association of Stock Car Automobile Racing) races from Daytona Beach, Florida, this week end.

The convertibles will run Saturday and the air time will start at 1:35 p.m. and continue through 3:30 p.m. Stock car finals are set for Sunday with broadcast time at 2 p.m. and to continue through 4 p.m. The broadcasts will be continued past those hours if necessary. Carroll Shelby of Dallas is one of the outstanding entries in the meet.

ELMER WILSON, former Pampa High School and Texas Tech halfback, was passing out cigars the other day. He was happily informing everyone that his wife had presented him with another little cheer leader but he had hoped to get started on a backfield.

BOBBY MORROW

By ED EITE
United Press Sports Writer
DALLAS (UP)—Bobby Morrow, the Olympic sprinter who has never been called back for jumping the starter's gun and who is cited by track authorities as having one of the most perfect get aways, says it is his start that needs the most improvement.

The little, handsome Rio Grande Valley farm boy won world acclaim by taking both the 100 and 200-meter dashes and anchoring the winning sprint relay team at Melbourne.

But he spends a major portion of every workout trying to improve a starting block technique that is the envy of most of his speed-conscious rivals.

"That's the part of my racing form that needs the most improvement," he said. "I work at it constantly. I'm not normally a fast starter so I practice at least 20 starts every workout."

His, Bettered Record
"If I can improve my start, some day I may be able to run the 100 in 9.1 or 9.2 seconds," he said.

Bobby Morrow Works Daily On Start

That's the part of my racing form that needs the most improvement," he said. "I work at it constantly. I'm not normally a fast starter so I practice at least 20 starts every workout."

His, Bettered Record
"If I can improve my start, some day I may be able to run the 100 in 9.1 or 9.2 seconds," he said.

Actually, Morrow has been clocked in both 9.1 and 9.2, but excessive tail winds kept those marks from being recognized as records.

Morrow concentrates at the start of a race on not jumping the gun and he's one of the few competitors among the cinder path genies who has never been called back for a false start.

Overhauls Leader
He admits grudgingly that being so deliberate puts him at a disadvantage against some of the faster starters like Ira Murchison and Dave Sime. But it is to the Abilene Christian College junior's credit that he has the track speed to overcome that slow start.

In the Olympic 100-meter, for instance, Murchison was a good four strides ahead of Morrow after the first 20 meters, but Morrow was going away at the finish and many observers figured his final 80 meters in that race as the fastest ever run.

Morrow's coach, Oliver Jackson, and many other track fans think that Sime — noted for his jumping start — beat the gun last spring in the Drake Relays in the only major 100 Morrow has ever lost.

Morrow smilingly admits he's anxious to meet Sime again this season and get a chance to avenge that defeat.

But at the present, that rematch doesn't look like it will come until June, when both Morrow and Sime will be competing in the NCAA championship in Austin.

Meanwhile, Morrow continues to work on his start, mindful that the nearest thing to a false start he's ever made was when he got a "caution" in the Olympics for "shaking" in his starting blocks.

"I was just scared then," he admits.

BETTER JOBS By R. C. MOILES

Let's See Whether It's "A Damnable Lie" J. H. Vernon, Methodist minister, Cahoon, Colo., writes that my articles listing "What Tax-Run Schools Dare Not Teach" are "a damnable lie."

Soil Bank Grab

What is the element in the human outlook that brings forth a sense of clever accomplishment when one is able to get something for nothing? Or, more particularly, what is the factor in human thinking which marks as cleverness and success getting something for nothing from the federal government?

Like all forms of government subsidy, the greatest harm is never done those who pay the bill but rather to those who receive the loot of political spoils by diminishing their sense of personal responsibility.

There is really nothing more disquieting than to witness the traditional backbone of America, the farmer, slipping into the shackles of dependence with such great ease and little conscience.

It is most heartening, also, to hear the extent of the adverse comment around Pampa by many citizens concerning the Court's action of climbing into the trough. The objections are not abstract and can be summed up with the words that the action "was wrong in principle."

The age-old argument, that eases the conscience which attempts to defend accepting government hand-outs, is that "everyone else is doing it and we might as well get ours." Admittedly, this point is taking the day but it disintegrates when examined in the light of Judeo-Christian moral teachings.

The Doctor Says

The world food situation is critical. According to an article in a recent issue of The American Journal of Clinical Nutrition, the world cannot exist in peace if half its people are well fed and the rest starving.

There is a remarkable and grave unevenness in present day food production and rates of population growth. Residents of North America have been fortunate, this region of the world supports about 7 per cent of the world's population and the rate of increase in agricultural production in North America has pretty well kept pace with population increase.

No Revision In Corrupt Practices Act Expected By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON—No drastic revision of the Corrupt Practices Act to prevent excessive election expenditures is anticipated at the current or future sessions of Congress.

Here are a few striking examples of this growing gulf between the politico-economic "haves" and "have nots."

Hankerings

MUNICH—When I return home and the reporters from the trade journals press me at the airport as they always do, and the man from the Herbe and Spices Journal wants to know what impressed me most in Europe this time, I am not going to fumble for an answer.

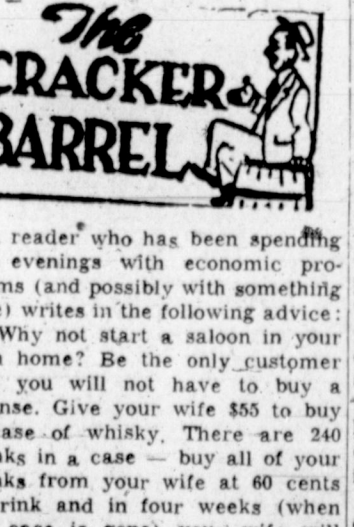

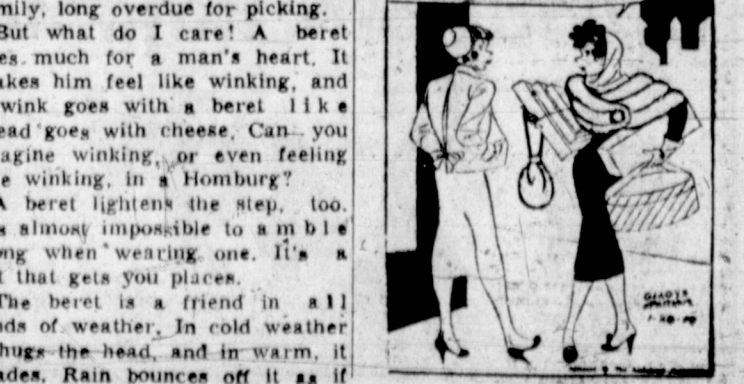

Freedom Of Dress For Males Is What Impressed Me Most

I will answer, "That's what impressed me most, sir."

The beret is generally acknowledged to be the most available piece of headgear ever devised, as well as the most practical, but at home men wear it only if they are (1) artists, (2) going on a cruise, or (3) dressed for a costume party.

But it begins to appear now that to avoid an atomic war means to avoid war (period). And most responsible people seem to be aware of this too.

PICTURE SPORTS NEWS

AROUND THE WORLD

SPILLING THE BEINGS—Walt Adamuske of St. Francis, in Brooklyn, goes after the ball as teammate Lester Yellin and Don Lane, of Dayton, hit the floor during their fracas in Manhattan. The Dayton team was the victor with a final 84-80.

SHE'S FIGHTING BACK—National slalom champion Jill Kinnmont, who broke her neck nearly two years ago in a skiing accident, is watching other skiers in action from a ski-equipped wheelchair at Mammoth Mountain, Calif. Her former coach, Dave McCoy, is pushing the gal who is doing her best now to beat the partial paralysis that confines her.

CUTTHROAT CAPTOR—Because she tips the scales at a mere 90 pounds, Maxine Barnes may be having trouble hefting that big 16-pound cutthroat trout she caught in Nevada's Walker Lake. The fish put up a 45-minute fight after Maxine hooked it, but it's the largest catch so far this season, so she felt her efforts were rewarded.

SEA RIDDLE—When is a two-piece swimsuit a one-piece swimsuit? When it's a one-piece suit with its own matching stole. Done in a zig-zag pattern stretch yarn that hugs and slims the body, the black and white suit has solid black trim at neckline, shoulder straps as well as on the stole which also makes a pocket for any beach gear.

WITH A PURPOSE—Helen Olsen, who's Miss Cold Prevention Week, doesn't mind the cold weather in New York's Central Park. Her title, which may make more sense than most, means that the best way to stay healthy is to eat well, rest well, and dress to the weather.

OOPS!—It's a predicament for a young racer on the beginner's slope at Sun Valley, Idaho, as those tricky skis start going in opposite directions. The lad is from nearby Ketchum, a mile from the resort where similar children have been learning to ski for the past 20 years.

OH, DEER!—Charles Nourse, of Springfield, Vt., is sizing up his trophy through binoculars and eyeglasses. He wanted a better look at the horns of a deer he killed. Nourse waited 34 years to bag his first deer, a small 100-pound buck.

SUBMARINE SHUTTERBUG—Keith Korolden, a cameraman in Miami Beach, isn't equipped for underwater photography, but that didn't stop him from snapping Elaine Cravey in a swimming pool. Korolden made the photo through the viewing window of a local hotel when he photographed contestants for "Queen of Miami Press Photographers."

COLD WAR—Linesman Bill Morrison has a tough time breaking up a hockey game free-for-all which seems to have been started between Lou Fantinato (8) of the New York Rangers, and Bert Olmstead, second from right, of Montreal. This took place during a game at Madison Square Garden which the Canadiens won, 3-2.

PIGSKIN PRACTICE—Two of the nation's outstanding All-American quarterbacks, Stanford's John Brodie, left, and Notre Dame's Paul Hornung, demonstrate their pass-tossing style to airline stewardess Ellen Forsythe, in Honolulu, T.H. The pigskin stars were in Hawaii for the annual Hula Bowl game there, so it wasn't all play and no work.

FIRST TIME OUT—Red Wing captain "Red" Kelly tightened the skates on tiny Karen Delugas before he and Marty Pavlich gave her the first skating lesson in Detroit. Struck by polio when she was three, Karen now weighs only 48 pounds at 5½, but she's a small bundle of determination, and fell down on the ice just four times.

RISKY BUSINESS—Before making his 46th high dive into a river to raise money to build homes for his poor parishioners, Father Simon is shown being interviewed at Nogent, France. He jumped from a 110-foot tower into the icy waters of the Marne River for a thrill-seeking crowd which donated to the good cause for the privilege of seeing the 43-year-old priest take the risk. Resembling a bird in flight, Father Simon is soaring through the air at right. He says he's too nearsighted to see the water from atop the tower, and for that reason has no fear of the jump.

DOGGONE BIG "DOG"—Hot dogs are no exception to the tradition that everything is bigger in Texas. Here six-year-old Ann Pietzsch, of Dallas, looks over the "world's biggest hot dog" displayed at the opening of a local food chain store. The giant wiener is six feet long and weighs 40 pounds. Its eight-foot "bun" weighs 30 pounds.

Honey-Type Singer Just Walks In And Gets A Job

By DOC QUITT
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—A 19-year-old honey type named Dolores Rodomista is so square that she thinks you can walk right in on Broadway and get an audition just for the asking.

She doesn't know you have to have an agent. She doesn't know what percentage an agent gets or what his duties are. She doesn't know what a songplunger is.

Matter of cold, hard fact, she can't read a note of music and can't play a note. However, she's been singing since she was four, and starting out with Italian songs her immigrant grandfather taught her.

She Lands Job

So... without an agent she walked into the Green Room of the Hotel Edison and asked band leader Henry Jerome for an audition. Jerome had been auditioning professional singers all day. Dolores was the last to show up. He told her to go ahead and hold her.

Dolores began singing. Jerome listened. He thought: "Hmmm." He listened some more. He thought: "Well, well, well." She sang a couple of songs, and then, as she recalls: "He told me right away that I had a job. He just said, 'we want you to start whenever you're ready to start.'"

Dolores has been singing with Jerome's band for three weeks, and sometimes, she says, she can't believe she's getting paid for doing what she most wants to do: "Sometimes I feel guilty getting the check."

Mother Meets Her

A Lesson Learned

UPSALA, Sweden (UP)—Police searched today for two inmates of an institution for juvenile delinquents who were out for driving lessons when they stole the car from their instructor.
