

Here's A List Of TV's Worst Dressed

United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—Elvis Presley, who soon may be doing a right dress in the Army, is guilty of a wrong dress in TV.

Like About Ben Adhem, Presley's name led all the rest today as Irving Heller's Manhattan trailer and sartorial handicapper, compiled his list of the 10 worst dressed men in television.

"Presley is one of the most deplorable cases of bad dress I've ever seen," said Heller. "Without a doubt, he is the worst dressed man ever to appear before the TV cameras.

"I am not knocking his talent, but I feel he is doing a disservice to the cause of dressing among teen agers by his example. He does not look neat, dignified and clean-cut the way a young man should."

Heller, who gained a measure of distinction a few years back when he referred to Arthur Godfrey as "a wet leabag with legs," also picked the worst dressed show on TV — "What's My Line."

"The men on 'What's My Line' look like pallbearers," said Heller. "The women are dressed beautifully, but the guys look like they're getting ready for a funeral."

As a result of this questionable distinction, "What's My Line" contributed two candidates to Heller's list — John Daly and Bennett Cerf.

"You would also have to rate high on any worst dressed list Sid Caesar and John Cameron Swayze," said Heller. "Caesar has massive shoulders and those suits he wears just accentuate them. Swayze probably owns more clothes than any man on TV, but doesn't seem to know what to do with them.

"I've seen Swayze wear a plaid suit with colorfully patterned tie and a flower in his lapel," moaned Heller. "He just looks too busy."

Hal March Best Dressed

"Wally Cox (terrible) and Dave Garroway (puffy)," also make the roster. "You can add onto that list Jimmy Durante, Liberace and Steve Allen," said Heller.

"Duran — awful. And Liberace — gaudy. As for Steve Allen, he looks like a man who's been

Polar Expedition Is Successful

MCMURDO SOUND, Antarctica (UP)— Operation Deepfreeze II, the U.S. Navy phase of the world's greatest polar expedition, came to an almost unbelievably successful conclusion today.

With six international geophysical science bases and one naval air base established, the Navy-controlled operation quits Antarctica today with its job "100 per cent completed."

Five bases at the South Pole, Marie Byrd Land, Filchner Ice Shelf and Cape Hallett have been built during the past four months and are fully in operation.

Scientists assisted by Navy men are preparing for a year of scientific observations beginning July 1 and the long darkness of the Antarctic's winter night.

The huge U.S. venture involved more than 3,500 Navy, Air Force, Marine and Coast Guard personnel along with a fleet of 12 ships and 40 airplanes.

Evicted Family Of 15 Appeals For Dwelling

By DAVID SMOTHERS
United Press Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO (UP)—A family of 15, forced to separate after they were evicted, has appealed for someone to sell or rent them a home so they can be reunited.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Emlund said a week-long search of the city has failed to turn up anyone willing to rent to such a large family.

It isn't that they don't have the money, the Emlunds said. Instead, there just appears to be no place in Chicago for them.

"People just don't seem to like kids," said Mrs. Emlund, who is trying to care for 10 of her children at a Salvation Army shelter.

One Son In Army

Her husband is staying with friends, along with two of his sons. Another son, Louis, 22, is in the Army, but is due to return home soon.

"We've never been separated like this before," Mrs. Emlund said. "All I want is to keep my family together."

"It seems like refugees from foreign countries come here and find jobs and houses ready and waiting, but people who have lived here all their life can't."

The mother said she and her family lived and grew for 15 years in a five-room duplex apartment on Chicago's West Side. They were cramped, but there was a yard outside for the children to run and play.

Emlund, a union painter, brings home $125 a week and it was enough to pay the bills, although his hunt for a new home now has cost him a week's wages.

The apartment building was condemned recently and new owners look it over with plans for a complete remodeling. The Emlunds were ordered to move.

After fighting the case in the courts, the family lost and got a five-day notice to move.

In the meant me, Mrs. Emlund and her husband were called to Memphis, Tenn., by the death of her mother, Mrs. Minnie Dilard.

When they returned last Monday, their belongings had been moved into the street and their home was locked.

MISSILE OVER THE MEDITERRANEAN—A supersonic "Terrier" guided missile rockets aloft from the U.S. cruiser Boston, marking the first time such a weapon has been fired over the Mediterranean. This action was part of the Sixth Fleet's "Green Epoch" maneuvers, the greatest display of naval might seen in the area since World War II.

Ingrid Bergman Honored By The Motion Picture Industry

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Ingrid Bergman, who last year broke a self-imposed exile and made a triumphant comeback to Hollywood films, has been honored by 14,000 motion picture industry workers with an Academy Award nomination.

Miss Bergman's victory against the bitter controversy that raged over her marriage to Italian director Roberto Rossellini appeared complete Monday night when the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences named the Swedish actress one of 20 players nominated for the 29th annual Oscar derby.

Newcomer Named

Miss Bergman, the star of "Anastasia," will compete for the world's top acting honors with newcomer Carroll Baker of the controversial "Baby Doll," and three veterans like herself—Katharine Hepburn of "The Rainmaker," Nancy Kelly of "The Bad Seed," and Deborah Kerr of "The King and I."

Miss Baker's nomination came for her first starring role. She had been seen on the screen only once before, in a supporting role in "Giant."

The male nominees are Yul Brynner, "The King and I"; the late James Dean, "Giant"; Kirk Douglas, "Lust For Life"; Rock Hudson, "Giant"; and an Englishman considered a dark horse-surprise nominee, Laurence Olivier, "Richard III."

Oscars March 27

Supporting actresses who snared coveted nominations were Mildred Dunnock, "Baby Doll"; Eileen Heckart, "The Bad Seed"; Mercedes McCambridge, "Giant"; Patty McCormack, "The Bad Seed"; and Dorothy Malone, "Written on the Wind."

Actor Dick Shawn On Brink Of Something

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—Dick Shawn, comic, singer, dancer, actor and writer, is on the brink. "My only problem is," said Shawn today, "the brink-of what?"

Shawn a 29-year-old alumnus of Buffalo, N. Y., and the borscht belt, currently is being romanced by NBC-TV. The network wants Shawn to front a situation comedy.

Steve Allen wants Shawn for a series of summer guest shots on his own NBC-TV Sunday show. CBS-TV's "Playhouse 90" is mulling over a Shawn script, "Elvis Is A Nice Name," in which Shawn would star. And nightclubs, some of them dangling $7,500 a week, also are making a pitch.

Show Business Character

"NBC has offered me two formats for a series," explained Shawn. "One is about a show business character and I've turned it down. I felt it wouldn't sustain after the first two or three weeks.

"The second one, I like better. It's a Ring Lardner series, 'You Know Me, Al.' I'd be a baseball player. The thing I like about it is it doesn't depend upon gags. And they would shift the locale around."

Although Shawn has knocked around in the funny business for eight years, he has hit it big only within the past three seasons. He has limited his TV work to occasional spots on the Ed Sullivan show and a couple of Max Liebman spectacles.

TV Murder on Routines

"TV is murder on routines," said Shawn. "I've got six strong routines, but how often can I go on doing them in TV? In nightclubs, I can do them for a long time without worrying about over-exposure, and I have no problems with money in clubs either — I can pick up $7,500 a week anytime in Las Vegas.

"The trouble is, I'm past the guest shot stage now on TV. I've reached the point where I have to tackle a series of my own. But it could be the kiss of death. Even a hit series runs only two, three years. Then the public is tired of you.

"At 33, I might have had it. The only people that last in this TV business are the Lawrence Welks, the Liberaces. If you're going to make it, you have to keep grinding at them. You gotta have that June Allyson smile."

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—"Noah's Ark" will be replaced March 5, on NBC-TV by an anthology series which is now on its fifth title change. The series previously has been called "Impact," "Impasse," "Crisis" and "Impulse." The latest title is "Panic."

Traffic Signs Important Says Safety Prexy

"Traffic signs, signals and markings are silent policemen," E. C. McFadden of Dallas, vice president of Employers Casualty Company and president of the Texas Safety Association, told motorists today in discussing this month's traffic safety program. The campaign is part of the year-long national "Back The Attack On Traffic Accidents" program, sponsored by the Texas Safety Association and National Safety Council.

"All signs should be observed the same as if a traffic officer were stationed with every traffic sign," he said.

The safety expert explained that the purpose of this month's program is to focus attention on traffic signs — called "Signs of Life." The program is designed to encourage recognition and observance of all traffic signs in an effort to cut down traffic accidents.

"In four out of five fatal accidents, one or more driver violations are reported," he said, "and many of these involve the deliberate or unintentional disregard of traffic signs, signals and markings.

He advised motorists to learn the sign shapes and know the meaning of each one so they can be recognized at once. The six signs, shapes and meanings are:

OCTAGON, The Stop sign, is yellow with black letters. It means come to a full stop and be sure the way is clear before proceeding.

RECTANGLE, white with black lettering, states the law, including speed limits, parking regulations and turning and passing regulations.

DIAMOND, warning, yellow with black lettering, warns of school zones, curves, side roads, intersections and other hazardous conditions ahead.

ROUND, yellow with Black X and RR. That identifies a railroad-highway crossing ahead.

CROSSBUCK, the tall white railroad crossing sign stands at the crossing itself.

TRIANGLE, the newest sign, is yellow with black lettering and means yield right of way. This sign requires drivers to give the right of way to cross traffic by slowing down and being ready to stop if necessary.

McFadden cautioned pedestrians to know and obey all signs, signals and pavement markings. These include traffic lights, a D signals and crosswalk lines at intersections.

"The pedestrian and motorist share responsibility in preventing pedestrian accidents," he said.

 cases suspending other policemen indicted.
 "I just came in as chief last night and it is difficult to make any immediate decisions on that without talking with the city commission," O'Neal said.
 Mayor Norvell said he suspended Livingston to "restore confidence in the police department" and that O'Neal will report directly to him rather than Commissioner Jones, an elected official.
 The indictment of Bulloch brought this statement from Harmon Phillips, managing editor of the Tribune:
 "We had noted the probable trend of the grand jury several weeks ago. At that time we discussed the entire matter with Mr. Bulloch and made an independent inquiry. We have complete confidence in his integrity."

Two Fined In Court Here

Two cases were tried yesterday in County Court resulting in a $100 fine and a jail term for one and a $1 fine plus costs for the other.
 Joseph Brown of Oklahoma City, Okla., was fined $100 plus costs and given three days in jail after pleading guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated.
 He was arrested by a sheriff's deputy and constable, both operating out of McLean, as he drove through that city heading south on U.S. Highway 66.
 In the only other case tried yesterday Joseph Brown of Pampa was fined $1 plus costs after pleading guilty to a charge of swindling with a worthless check.
 The charge was filed by the Lewis Shamrock Service Station on a check for $10 dated Dec. 7, 1956.

 Police Lt. W. L. Bartley, in charge of guards at the tunnel, said the explosion "shook" him and the tunnel.
 "It sounded like a dynamite explosion at first," he said. "I can see smoke going out of sight in the sky but I can't see any fire."
 All available ambulances and fire trucks were rushed to the scene.
 The blast cracked a wall of a building at a used car lot a quarter of a mile from the plant, Bill Hurley, car lot manager said.

 a U.S. withdrawal plan, but American officials said there was "no chance" the United States would change its mind.
 U.S. delegates to the United Nations said also they would not request another postponement of the General Assembly's Middle East debate scheduled for 3 p.m. EST today.
 The Afro-Asian bloc of 27 nations was ready with a resolution calling for sanctions against Israel for its continued defiance of the U.N. resolution demanding "immediate" withdrawal.
 The United States has not asked for sanctions—President Eisenhower spoke only of "pressure" by the United Nations in forcing Israel to give up the Gaza Strip on Sharm El Sheikh which controls the Gulf of Aqaba.
 The United States previously told Israel that in return for withdrawal it would work to assure Israel freedom of navigation in the gulf and would work to send United Nations forces into Gaza.
 There have been persistent reports Egypt was blocking full clearance of the Suez Canal until Israel withdraws from Aqaba and Gaza.

 After he had finished his address, the judge was asked by one of the mothers present why he had made the curfew midnight instead of 9 o'clock or 10. In answer to this Parker said: "Some communities roll up the sidewalks at nine o'clock. Pampa is not that small a town, and I do think that a happy medium should be reached. Midnight, I feel, is that medium." He concluded by adding that if parents wanted their children to be in before that, it was up to them and not the law to see to it that they are.

(Editor's Note: Here's the last of a six-part series in a new concept of weight control—re-education of eating habits instead of tricky diets, an every-day program of nutrition instead of fads. Working with NEA's food editor for this article is Dr. Charles Glen King, executive director of the Nutrition Foundation and nutritional consultant to UNICEF.)

By GAYNOR MADDIX, NEA Food and Markets Editor. NEW YORK (NEA) — The longer you have been overweight, the harder it will be to get back to what you should weigh. That is why it is so important to avoid putting on weight in early life, why it is vital to the health and good looks of young people to learn menu patterns that will prevent them from getting fat. So warns one of our most distinguished researchers in the field of nutrition, Dr. Charles Glen King, executive director of the Nutrition Foundation.

"Obese people who have occasionally lost some weight find it easier to reduce than those who have never lost any unwanted pounds," he added, again stressing the importance of a better diet pattern for Americans, who are rapidly becoming a nation of the overweight.

He pointed out, too, that as a rule, fat children have fat parents. That usually means that mama and papa like to overeat and that the child has picked up the habit and shows the result. Just plain overeating is far more serious than we realize. There is every evidence to prove that a diet packed with unneeded calories is also packed with hazards not only to personal attractiveness, but to health and longevity. King, who is also professor of nutrition at Columbia University and nutritional consultant to UNICEF, is convinced the solution to overweight, now a national problem, is the readjustment of our way of eating to modern life and what we have learned about food values.

"Faddism is no solution to overweight," he stated with emphasis. "Most of the 'wonder' diets so popular are not the answer. In the first place they are expensive. They are impractical in normal family living and fail to re-educate the obese into eating and enjoying a balanced diet and sticking to it permanently."

He defined a balanced diet as including everyday foods from four groups: 1) Good protein, such as meat, fish, eggs, dairy products. 2) Citrus fruits, such as oranges, grapefruit, lemons; also tomatoes. 3) Whole or enriched cereals in some form. He says hot breads in variety belong in this category, despite the bad reputation they have wrongfully gained. 4) A good variety of the usual vegetables and fruits, with emphasis on the intensely yellow and green ones.

GLAMORIZED with purple plums, this puffy omelet makes an unusual breakfast taste treat. It's fine for lunch or supper, too.

Unusual For Breakfast Or Dinner Spicy Purple Plum Puffy Omelet

By GAYNOR MADDIX, NEA Food and Markets Editor. Canned purple plums are on the list of February's plentiful foods. So are eggs. So why not combine them into a colorful and delicious fruit omelet for breakfast, lunch or supper? SPICY PURPLE PLUM OMELET (Makes 4 servings) One teaspoon cornstarch; 2 cup plum juice; 1 can (No. 2 1/2) purple plums, pitted and drained; 1 tablespoon lemon juice; 6 eggs, separated; 6 tablespoons water; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 2 tablespoons salad oil; 1 tablespoon granulated sugar; 1/4 teaspoon each cinnamon, nutmeg, mace. In saucepan, combine cornstarch, plum juice, plums and lemon juice. Cook gently, stirring, until mixture thickens and clears; keep warm. Beat egg whites with water until stiff but not dry. Beat egg yolks with salt. Fold yolks into whites. Heat oil in 10-inch skillet; pour in omelet. Cook over low heat until well puffed. Then bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 15 minutes or until surface feels dry and omelet is firm in center, springing back when pressed lightly. Remove from oven. Sprinkle with sugar and spices. To remove from pan: Run spatula around edge of pan. Cut down center of omelet, at right angles to handle, only part way through. Tip handle up, and with aid of spatula, fold over half over lower. Tilt pan over platter until omelet rolls out on platter. Serve with whole plums.

All smart wives know that a wife can sell her husband on almost anything if she waits for the right moment. She doesn't, for instance, talk about any big purchase during the weeks when he is working on his income tax, or the weeks afterward when he is still feeling poor from having paid it. On the other hand, if he is busily and happily sorting out his tackle box and dreaming of going fishing, she knows that any idea she suggests is likely to meet with a tolerant, "Sure; if that's what you want, it's okay with me." She doesn't wait until he is in his easy chair before mentioning that there's a movie she would like to see, but tries to catch him before he has had a chance to relax. If he is sweating over a do-it-yourself project, she not only doesn't bring up any subject she doesn't want vetoed, but also makes herself scarce until it is time to come out and admire the finished project. When he is grumbling about having to go to the Browns, she knows better than to ask him whether or not to accept an invitation to the Whites, even if it is two weeks away. If he is on a thrift binge — and most husbands go on them at odd intervals — she doesn't bring out any ideas that will cost him money. Like the smart wife she is, she knows he'll stop her talk when he decides to trade the car or buy a bigger outboard motor. She waits for his penurious talk to turn to "We can't afford not to..." reasoning. There's always the possibility that she can create an expansive mood by the tried and true method of feeding him his favorite meal before saying in an offhand manner, "I saw an ad in the paper for..."

PEPTIC ULCER HAS REMOVEABLE CAUSE

An open sore located in the stomach or small intestine is like a cold sore on your lip only it's called an ulcer. Ten percent of our men folk have ulcers. Medicine men do not know the exact cause, their books say, so the orthodox treatment is to reduce your diet to fit a sick stomach and make it mild for the same purpose. Even usually, perhaps maybe, they hope nature might heal the ulcer. If not... the surgeon cuts out a piece of stomach on which the ulcer is located! Why not cut a chunk of your lip out when you get a cold ulcer? Now, let's get back to their hope that nature might heal it. Why not do something to help nature? How about clearing the nerve lines to the ulcerated part of the stomach? Hot irritated nerves cause inflammation and plates that become ulcerated unless corrected and allowed to cool down and become normal. This is not just a theory. It is provable in practice. Here is a stomach ulcer case of four years standing. The only reason the man came to The Miller Chiropractic Clinic was to escape the knife, after nature and bland diets and alkaline powders and pills failed to heal the ulcer. Starvation diet (not ulcers) had reduced this man from 200 lbs. and he still had his ulcers when he got to us. To shorten the story... we dismissed him in four months, without ulcers or any other discomfort, able to eat thick steaks and back up to 190 lbs. No. 1846

If a man violates man's law, we send him to prison and point the finger of scorn at him. If he violates nature's laws, we take him to the hospital and send him flowers.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

THE HARRAH METHODIST CHURCH

THE LAND WE LOVE.

"Blessed Is the Nation Whose God Is the Lord; and the People Whom He has Chosen For His Own Inheritance."—Ps. 33-12.

God has given us a pleasant land, a land blessed with Intelligence, Liberty and Christian Faith. This Country of ours is a goodly Heritage. Its providential beginning, splendid history, varied and expansive domain glorious institutions, beautiful forms of governments and exalted national spirit have every patriotic citizen proud of our country and of our flag. We have every reason to be proud. Our victory in war and our triumphs in peace have been worthy of our civilization. With all our defects and sins, our progress growth, popular education, citizenship, civic righteousness, and love for liberty place us high among the nations of the earth. We have a vast domain of which we may feel proud and also a national spirit which is worthy to make us rejoice. A spirit which represents love of freedom and sympathy for the oppressed who are struggling for liberty and justice in all lands; while a sense of fraternity binds every part of our land, north, south, east and west in closest union.

We believe it was wise forethought of our forefathers who subscribed these precious freedoms and all of us should feel keenly our obligations of helping protect and advance them.

One of the facts that this theme should fix in our minds is that the founders of our republic recognized God. The last sentence of our Declaration reads "And for the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge." When the continental Congress was organized, Benjamin Franklin, although not a church member, suggested that the services be opened with prayer. At Valley Forge, He who led our little army, George Washington, was found in the stillness of midnight on his knees, supplicating the God-of-Nations to save his country which lay bleeding. In that struggle for independence the colonies put their trust in "Him who had guided another nation with a cloud by day and a pillar of fire by night." Heaven forbid that we should ever abandon the faith of our fathers.

"Blessed Is the Nation Whose God Is the Lord."

REAL TALL STORY

Washington's Chuck Stobbs Asking Raise

By JOE SARGIS United Press Sports Writer Southpaw Chuck Stobbs put in a real busy summer and winter for the Washington Senators, so now he wants them to "spring" for more dough.

The hard-working, 27-year-old Stobbs, who won 15 games for the seventh-place Senators last season and then served as a good-will man by making speeches and plugging ticket sales this winter, turned down another contract Thursday after a lengthy talk with club President Calvin Griffith.

At Vero Beach, Fla., site of the Dodgers' training camp, veteran Sal Maglie and rookie Bob Darnell were the only pitchers missing as Manager Walt Alton sent his battersmen through their first string drill. Other Dodger players are not due until March 1.

COACH CLIFTON MCNEELY HAS GONE TO FORT WORTH

For three days of basketball business and he may bring back a lucky coin with him. A neutral site is almost ruled out now for the Harvesters' bi-district game with Poly High School of Fort Worth.

There's now a possibility that the Fort Worth school may play in Harvesters Fieldhouse without a flip of the coin. Fort Worth officials may agree to come here. If not, a coin may be flipped for the home site.

McNeely, who left yesterday and plans to watch Poly and Sunset in a non-conference game at Fort Worth tonight, will meet with Pampa superintendent Knox Kinard and the Poly officials Saturday morning to discuss the game. The game would probably be played Tuesday.

The Poly fans are either lacking in confidence of Parrots or they are trying to make the Harvesters overconfident. They are saying that Poly hasn't a chance against Pampa. Poly's assistant coach, Tommy Taylor, told me in Canyon Saturday night that the Parrots did not have a chance with Pampa if the Harvesters play like they did Tuesday night against Berger.

Taylor, a graduate of Poly and TCU, later told Pampa coaches in a joking manner that the Parrots may as well forfeit their game if the Harvesters play as they did against the Bulldogs. But that's the usual comment from a rival coach.

A Fort Worth sports writer also believes Poly cannot beat the Harvesters although he has not seen them play.

SPORTS WRITERS who took part in the Pampa News' pre-season poll came out pretty good in their prognostications. Although they raised a few in the middle, the top teams and the cellar-dweller were right on the button in the over-all ball.

Fate May Square Things For Former Hurling Star Shantz

By OSCAR FRALEY United Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (UP)—Fate may square things this season for little Bobby Shantz.

Through four heart-breaking years he has been one of baseball's most pitiful figures. Once the top player in the American League, a mysterious arm ailment made him a bust with a last place ball club.

But being "through" may have given him an otherwise forlorn hope of playing with a pennant winner.

The New York Yankees acquired him this week in their 13-player deal with the Kansas City Athletics. It figures to be some time beyond the playing lifetime of currently active performers before the A's win a pennant. You can't make the Yankees any less than a prohibitive favorite.

Could Help Yanks And the figures indicate that Shantz could stick with the Yankees and, conceivably, play an important part in their pennant destiny. The theory in baseball is that, while the sore left arm which won a league leading 24 games in 1952 never will regain its durable magic, he still can be an effective performer for three innings.

WELL-ROUNDED WELCOME HOME—The clink of castanets welcomes Egyptian soldiers repatriated from Israeli prisoner-of-war camps who are among the crowd in a canteen at Tel El Kebir, Egypt. The actual prisoner exchange is taking place in a buffer zone near the eastern border of the Sinai desert.

Economic Unity Is Purpose Of Plan

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Six European countries have decided to work out a plan for economic unity which statesmen have dreamed of for many years.

The prime ministers of France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg agreed Wednesday to establish a customs union which they hope eventually will lead to a virtual merger of their economies.

They also agreed to establish a pool for cooperation in the use of atomic power for peaceful purposes.

"We have taken a major step toward a united Europe," Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany said after the meeting of premiers in Paris.

Climax Of Long Talks
Negotiations for the customs union took 20 months to complete.

These negotiations, however, were the fruit of plans which date back to the end of World War I.

If the present plan works out, the countries concerned will establish a common market which will serve 160 million people.

Later, it is proposed to bring in 11 other countries, extending from Iceland to Turkey.

The new plan can not compete for headlines with the more dramatic developments in world politics.

Its complexity is shown by the fact that it will not be put into effect until next Jan. 1 and that experts say it will take 12 to 15 years to reach its culminating stage.

A Key Move
But assuming that the plan works—and the countries involved seem to be determined to make it work—it is one of the most important moves in years in international cooperation.

Eventually, it is hoped that the whole farming and industrial product of participating countries will be merged.

It is calculated to raise living standards as well as to end economic rivalries.

Statesmen and economists who have long dreamed of such a plan have pointed out that economic rivalries sometimes lead to wars.

The official name for the new plan is "Common Market."

Shortened to "Euromarket"

This has been shortened technically into "Euromarket" in keeping with the modern tendency to apply trick words to simple things. The atomic pool is called "Euratom."

The prime ministers who reached the agreement in Paris intend to meet in Rome next month—possibly as early as March 10—to sign a formal treaty incorporating the common market plan.

Then experts will start the long, tedious job of working out the details. These details will include the gradual abolition of tariffs and customs duties which the countries now impose on the products they exchange.

The customs bloc will rank in importance with those of the United States, Soviet Russia and the British Commonwealth.

But its great significance lies in the fact that it is a big step toward the unification of Europe.

NEW YORK: Abba Eban, Israel's ambassador to the United States, on his country's refusal to withdraw troops from Egyptian territory:

"Israel is seeking not to annex an inch of anybody's territory, but only is seeking to strengthen her own security."

WASHINGTON: Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson told the Senate the revised version of President Eisenhower's Middle East doctrine:

"... serves notice to the Communist world that they are opposed not just by one man or just one branch of government."

Jacoby On Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

A Portland, Ore., correspondent writes in part, "There must have been something wrong with our bidding of this hand. The club slam was there for the bidding, but we wound up going down two tricks at three no-trump. Were we both at fault?"

The answer to his question is that South and only South was to blame for the debacle.

His opening club bid and one no-trump rebid were eminently correct. My quarrel is with his bid of three no-trump.

After his partner's jump to three clubs, South should have realized two things. The first was that although he held only fifteen high card points, those points represented ace-king, ace, ace and that a club slam was possible. The second was that he held no heart stopper and that his partner was undoubtedly short in one red suit.

South had at his disposal a very simple bid which would have taken care of both these matters. All he had to do was bid three diamonds.

New Star Tommy Sands Says Sadly, 'I'm Still Lonely'

By ALINE MOSBY

United Press Hollywood Writer HOLLYWOOD (UP)—A lonely nine-year-old boy decided to become a singer so he could meet girls and be happy. After 10 years success has arrived—but, Tommy Sands says sadly, "I'm still lonely."

"Show business represented girls and happiness to me," the 19-year-old new singing sensation said. "But I've been working in Hollywood eight months and still haven't had a date. I never meet any girls!"

He thought a minute and added earnestly, "This sounds sappy—but being in show business is a very lonely life. You're around adult people and sometimes I think of other kids going to college..."

Tommy, the first bright new TV find of 1947, is headed for stardom and more girls than he can handle. He was just a little known singer until he won his first acting role as a rock 'n' roll star in a drama on Kraft TV theater, "The Singin' Idol" a few weeks ago.

Television can bring fame overnight, and in Tommy's case it was a matter of hours. His natural acting in the story (that had the earmarks of the life of Elvis Presley) brought calls and scripts.

With a heart stopper North would have bid three no-trump.

As it was, North would have bid four diamonds. This bid would have completed the picture of his hand and South would have been sure that North held a singleton heart.

With this information South could have closed the bidding by jumping to the easy six club contract.

from every Hollywood movie studio. TV entertainers rushed to sign him for guest spots—he'll be seen on Tennessee Ernie Ford's NBC-TV show tonight. And Tommy's recording of his song from "The Singin' Idol" is pushing the million sales mark.

Tommy's life story could be a TV script itself. He was born in Chicago, the product of a broken home.

"As my parents were always having trouble and separating, I lived a lot on my great uncle's farm near Shreveport, La.," he said.

"My only playmates were two children who lived in the woods nearby. I used to set up an orange crate in the yard and preach a sermon to them. I wanted to be a preacher. I was very lonely so I lived in an imaginary world."

"One morning I was lying in bed and heard some fellow playing his guitar and singing on the radio. He sounded so friendly and happy. I thought if I played a guitar I would be happy, too."

"I learned on a cheap guitar and then I got my mother to buy me a $70 guitar. Each week I made a $10 payment."

After the clerk handed Tommy his guitar, the nine-year-old marched into a radio station and got a singing job. At 10, he appeared on Chicago television. When he and his mother moved to Houston, Tex., he sang on TV there.

Col. Tom Parker, Presley's manager, heard Tommy sing in a Houston nightclub and signed him. Tommy toured with Parker's stage shows for three summers, often playing on the same bill with Elvis.

CHICAGO: Everett R. Clinchy, head of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, predicting the possible "re-emergence" of the Ku Klux Klan in the South:

"If the southern people are afraid of intermarriage let's assure them that mixing at the polls and in schools or restaurants does not lead to intermarriage."

NEW YORK: F. R. Kappel, president of American Telephone & Telegraph Co., reporting that the record 1956 net income of more than $750 million of the Bell Telephone System was inadequate to finance future expansion:

"The Bell companies are applying for rate increases in many states and will vigorously pursue this program."

WASHINGTON— Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.), on Secretary of State John Foster Dulles forbidding American newsmen to visit Communist China:

"We can't have a free press, unless reporters are free to go wherever they please. I think it is deplorable that Secretary Dulles is flouting the First Amendment."

last year "because I was too young and just wasn't ready for big things." But Parker got Tommy the job in "The Singin' Idol" after Presley turned it down.
