Hungarians Demand Red Evacuation

VIENNA (UP)—Rebellious Hungarian miners renewed demands today for the withdrawal of all Soviet armed forces from Hungary.

Restoration of coal production is a major factor in puppet Premier Janos Kadar's attempts to pull Hungary out of economic chaos. The government already has been forced to "draft" workers to dig the coal needed to get power-paralyzed factories working again.

Russian tank units moved across the center of the Hungarian capital after the curfew Thursday night. Reports from Budapest said there was no indication it was anything more than a shift from one barracks to another.

BULLETIN

BUDAPEST—UP—Police and Hungarian militia open fire today on thousands of workers shouting anti-Communist slogans in Budapest.

Reports reaching Vienna said workers at the key Tatabanya mines, 50 miles west of Budapest, listed the Russian troop evacuation demand in a resolution to the Soviet-imposed regime. The miners also demanded the withdrawal of armed Communist police guards from the pits.

The demands indicated the situation was not quite as rosy as the Kadar regime was trying to paint it for the outside world. The Red-controlled Budapest Radio made no mention of the continuing passive resistance among the workers.

'County Business' Talked At Meeting Of Lions Club

"County Business" was discussed by Judge Bruce Parker at the noon meeting yesterday of the Pampa Lions Club.

Judge Parker was introduced by Ralph Thomas, program chairman of the club for January.

The judge discussed various phases of the County's Business and informed the members of the club that the land at Perry LaFors Airport had been placed in the Soil Bank. He explained that the county had been spending money trying to start grass at the airport and that under the Soil Bank Program the county would receive about $3,800 per year for the next ten years and that the government would plant the grass.

He also discussed highways in the county and reported that progress was being made on the right-of-way for the road from LaFors to Bowers City.

55th Legislature In Short Adjournment

By LLOYD LARRABEE

AUSTIN (UP)—The 55th Legislature began a three-day adjournment today with bills on its three major problems—money, water and integration—already introduced in the first week's session.

Rep. Reagan Huffman of Marshall proposed Thursday that all members of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People be barred from public employment.

A separate bill sponsored by Rep. Jerry Saddler of Percilla and co-authored by Huffman, would set up a local option system on school segregation.

A $2 billion general appropriation bill and a package of long-range water conservation proposals were among measures introduced as the lawmakers closed their first week with a farewell speech by Gov. Allan Shivers.

Huffman's bill would require all employees of the state, school districts, cities and counties to submit a sworn statement on whether they belong to the NAACP. Any employee refusing to submit a statement would be "summarily dismissed" and any public officer employing an NAACP member would be subject to a $200 fine.

Saddler's bill would require all integrated school districts to re-establish segregation, and integrate only if agreed to by a vote of the people in the district.

Huffman's NAACP bill charged: "The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is so insidious in its propaganda and the fostering of its ideas designed to produce a Communist revolution in this country."

stant state of turmoil between the races, that membership in such organization is wholly incompatible with the peace, tranquility and progress that all citizens have a right to enjoy.

Increased spending for state government without the need of new taxes was proposed in a $2 billion general appropriation bill by Rep. Max Smith of San Marcos, who is serving as chairman of the House appropriations committee for an unprecedented third straight term.

The bill, drafted by the Texas legislative budget board, calls for spending of $2,040,615,911 from all sources for the biennium ending Aug. 31, 1959.

Expanded Highway Program—That figure, represents an increase of $298.5 million over current spending, but most of the increase was due to an expanded highway program. The highway program, totaling $725 million, is (See LEGISLATURE, Page 3)

Rioting Erupts In Bulgaria

By FRANZ CYRUS

VIENNA (UP)—Massive anti-Communist demonstrations erupted recently in Bulgaria, according to reliable reports here today.

Newly arrived travelers from the Bulgarian capital of Sofia said the most serious occurred Jan. 10 outside the Bulgarian army barracks at Plovdiv. Plovdiv, with a population of 125,000, is the second largest city in Bulgaria.

The demonstration was touched off by the arrest of three army officers by Communist secret police agents, the travelers said. Police, supported by tanks and armored cars, broke up the demonstration, they said.

The travelers said 20 demonstrators and policemen were injured in the rioting in Sofia, some 75 miles southeast of Plovdiv. Reports of a major demonstration at Dimitrograd, an industrial city some 20 miles south of Sofia, were published in regional Bulgarian newspapers.

The newspaper said the demonstrators shouted anti-Communist slogans they had picked up from "Western" broadcasts.

The newspaper Dimitrogradska Prawdva said townspeople "gathered in the street shouting nonsense they picked up from Western radio station."

"Many people no longer knew what they were doing, and let their tongues run too freely," the newspaper said. "While counter-revolutionary elements in Hungary tried to food Socialist (Communist) achievements in blood, some people in our town apparently have lost their heads."

Stage Is Set For Big Congressional Battle

Eden Resigns From House Of Commons

By WILLIAM SEXTON

LONDON (UP)—Sir Anthony Eden resigned his seat in the House of Commons today and was expected soon to give up his Conservative party leadership. Such a move would give Prime Minister Harold Macmillan a free hand in patching up the Anglo-American alliance.

Macmillan called in members of the Eden cabinet today for consultations, and there were indications he would form his new government by Sunday. Buckingham Palace announced the queen would return from Sandringham to London "for a short stay" then.

There was a possibility the ailing Eden was bowing out of British Queen Elizabeth offered Eden a political job. Reports said Queen Elizabeth offered Eden an exordium in the House of Lords and that he declined. The honor is always offered outgoing prime ministers.

In Commons Since 1923—Eden had represented Leamington in the House of Commons since December, 1923.

Eden still was technically leader of the Conservative party although a new chief will almost certainly be elected soon. The prime minister usually leads the party.

The announcement of Eden's resignation from Commons was made in the green and cream conference room of the headquarters of the Warwick and Leamington Divisional Conservative Association 87 miles northwest of London.

Chairman E. Claridge, flanked by Eden's agent John Devine, handed newsmen a copy of a letter from the former prime minister announcing his resignation. Eden said in the letter he was not "fit and able" to carry out his duties.

Slips In Unnoticed—Macmillan, who is reported planning to go to Washington soon to confer with President Eisenhower, apparently slipped into No. 10 Downing Street today unnoticed. His house next door to No. 11 has a connecting door.

First to arrive today to discuss a government reshuffle was Peter Thorneycroft, president of the Board of Trade and the equivalent of the U.S. secretary of commerce. Then came Heathcoat Amory, minister of agriculture.

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd drove up soon afterwards. His post has been mentioned as most likely to be changed. He is believed too closely identified with Eden's abortive Suez policy to fit in with Macmillan's peace-with-Washington drive.

Make TV Appearance—Political sources said Macmillan would publish the cabinet list after obtaining the queen's approval. He also will make a nationwide television appearance next Thursday when he is expected to pay tribute to Eden and issue a call for unity in the days ahead.

A crowd of some 50 persons gathered in Downing Street today despite the chilling cold to watch the cabinet ministers arrive for talks with Macmillan—and servants begin the task of removing the Eden possessions from the prime minister's official residence.

Macmillan was devoting most of today to revising his cabinet. But he already had taken up the break in Anglo-American relations with Sir Roger Makins, British ambassador to Washington from 1953 to last November, who spoke up for Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at the height of transatlantic friction last fall.

A Good Indication—The conference came barely three hours after Queen Elizabeth summoned Macmillan to Buckingham Palace to appoint him as successor to Sir Anthony Eden. American observers saw the conference as a firm indication of Macmillan's intention to restore British and American relations to pre-Suez unity.

Eisenhower's State of the Union Message Thursday gave Macmillan's plans a boost. The President said "America alone and unaided cannot assure even its own security."

—a reminder, in the British view, that America's most powerful ally in the long run still is Britain.

Diplomats believed President Eisenhower may already have been in personal communication with Macmillan and they expected prompt arrangements for "Big Two" talks on the alliance which was badly damaged when Britain invaded Egypt without informing Washington.

Macmillan also moved swiftly to end any sign of a rift with Richard Austen (Rab) Butler, the majority leader in the House of Commons who had long been regarded as Eden's heir-apparent.

and who had been favored to win appointment as prime minister. They spent half an hour in earnest talk Thursday afternoon and Butler said, "If my services are of value they will be at the prime minister's disposal." He was quoted further by a London newspaper as saying "I would certainly not desert the ship at a time like this."

Political observers predicted that Butler, the champion of moderate young Conservatives, might become deputy prime minister or foreign secretary in the new cabinet. Macmillan needs his firm support to unite the party that split over the Suez invasion.

Hospital Addition Is Near Completion

Construction work on the new addition to Highland General Hospital is nearing completion.

All of the masonry and millwork is completed, according to workers, and the painting is over 75 per cent completed while the electrical work is over 90 per cent complete.

Plans call for the starting of the laying of the tile flooring tomorrow. Late yesterday afternoon workmen were moving the new air conditioning unit into the basement. The large unit will be connected to the central heating system for the new wing and will supply cool air when needed.

Chet Lander, hospital manager, told The News yesterday that all of the furniture and equipment for the new 40-room wing has been received and is stored in the hospital. He stated, "as soon as the new addition is accepted by the Commissioners' Court, we will begin to place the new furniture and equipment in the wing. Within three days after the acceptance, the wing will be in use."

All of the rooms in the new addition are equipped with private rest rooms and four of the rooms on each floor have private baths. The closet and chest are built into the walls of each room.

A communication system is installed in each room, and is connected with the nurses station on that floor. The system is connected with the call lights and enables the patient to talk to the nurse in charge of the floor at any time.

Hotel Operations Committee In Management Discussions

Members of the operations committee of the Community Hotel Company of Pampa met with a representative of the American Hotel Company yesterday and discussed what that firm could offer.

The group selected Paul Crouch to be vice chairman and Joe Tooley to be secretary. George Scott had previously been selected to be chairman of the committee.

The committee will contact other hotel operating companies and obtain information as to the type of management each company can offer. As soon as all of the information is compiled, a report will be made to the directors of the hotel as to which firm, in the opinion of the committee, can do the best job for Pampa.

Directors of the hotel reported yesterday that a total of $44,000 had been paid in on stock subscriptions since the close of the campaign and that a total of $1,800 in new subscriptions had been purchased.

It was a broad hint that the time has come for Communists to close ranks.

Chou tip-toed around Poland's recent moves for independence from Moscow and emphasized that ties with Russia and other Communist countries were all-important.

"Your country has had many new, great achievements but also many difficulties which with great effort are now being overcome," he said on arrival at Warsaw airport.

"But to this end the unification of all forces is needed in the struggle against the anti-Socialist (anti-Communist) forces," he added.

"We believe that Polish workers and the broad mass of the nation will undoubtedly be able to overcome these difficulties. The Chinese people are glad that friendly relations between Poland and the Soviet Union have in recent days been further strengthened."

The entire Polish Politburo headed by Wladyslaw Gomułka, the state council headed by Alexander Zawadzki and the government headed by Premier Jozef Cyrankiewicz were on hand to greet the Red China leader, who referred to all as "dear comrades." He gave Gomułka first mention in his address although officially he is the guest of Cyrankiewicz.

Probe Of Nation's Financial System, Credit Recommended

By VINCENT J. BURKE

United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—UP—President Eisenhower set the stage today for a major congressional battle over high interest rates.

It was touched off by his recommendation that Congress authorize a citizen's commission to conduct a sweeping investigation of the nation's financial system and its credit policies.

The administration's so-called "tight money" policy, under which lenders are charging the highest interest rates in 20 years, was certain to be a central issue in such an investigation.

Congressional Democrats, mostly in the House, immediately served notice that they want Congress itself and not a presidential commission to make the investigation.

Bolls Down Issue—Rep. Wright Patman (D-Tex.) said the issue boiled down to this: "Congressmen who favor continuation of the Federal Reserve Board's 'hard money, high interest' policy, which it says is aimed at combating inflation, will favor the idea of a presidential commission."

Those concerned about the "damage" that "tight money" is doing to home builders, small businessmen and farmers, who are finding it difficult to obtain credit, will want the Democratic-controlled Congress to do the job.

Patman already has proposed such an inquiry by the House banking subcommittee which he heads. His resolution drew support from Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.), indicating it might be called up for an early House vote.

Patman said a presidential commission would be composed of (See BATTLE, Page 3)

Prices Up; Wages High

Ike Asks Avoidance Of Price Increases

By MAUREEN GOTHLIN

United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower's plea for business and labor to go easy on price and wage hikes comes at a time when prices have been rising almost steadily for a year and wages are at a record level.

Government economists said there is a possibility that wage contract settlements this year may fall, more or less, within the President's formula for holding the line against inflation. They were more uncertain on the price outlook.

In his State of the Union Message Thursday Mr. Eisenhower called on business to avoid unnecessary price increases, particularly those induced solely by high demand and material shortages.

He called on labor to keep increases in wages and fringe benefits "reasonably related" to increases in productivity—output per worker—do not cost management any money.

In the past year, wholesale prices have risen 4.4 per cent and consumer prices 2.4 per cent, following several years of relative stability. That stability, however, was due largely to declining farm prices which offset price rises in other fields.

The initial and unofficial reaction of labor economists to Mr. Eisenhower's productivity formula for wage increases was a flat "no." They said he overlooked labor's fundamental point in bargaining: Where profit margins increase, wages should go up, regardless of productivity.

14 Die In Plane Crashes

By UNITED PRESS

Fourteen persons were killed Thursday night in two separate crashes of giant U.S. Air Force planes.

Eight crew members of a $5-million B-52 jet bomber were killed when the plane apparently exploded in flight and crashed in rugged country near the U.S.-Canadian border in New Brunswick.

The plane, with a crew of nine, was reported on a shake-down flight from Limestone, Me., about 15 miles from the scene of the crash.

A spokesman said the plane was evidently "put in a position beyond its stress capabilities."

The pilot, 1st Lt. Joe L. Church, of Charlotte, N. C., parachuted to safety after finding himself thrown clear of the stricken craft.

Air Force spokesmen said ground parties had recovered seven bodies and were pressing a search for the eighth man, presumed dead.

Business, Finance Leaders Applaud Ike Proposal

By ROBERT SHORTAL

United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—Leaders in business and finance today hailed President Eisenhower's recommendation for a complete re-examination of the nation's monetary credit and tax policies.

They agreed that such a sweeping inquiry into the adequacy of the nation's financial position was long overdue, the last one having been made in 1908.

The President proposed the study of the fiscal and monetary system in an address before Congress Thursday.

Sentiments for such a study have been growing in recent months, particularly in view of the Federal Reserve System's tight money policy.

America's economy has undergone major social and economic changes in the 50 years since the famous Aldrich Monetary Commission made the last comprehensive study of financial institutions.

Additional changes followed the Senate Pecora investigation in the early 1930s. That inquiry resulted in the formation of the Securities and Exchange Commission and other banking reforms.

CANAPE PIE provides an excellent appetizer to begin any party meal. Easy to make, too.

Crisp, Crunchy Giant-Size Canape Is Wonderful Party Appetizer Idea

By GAYNOR MADDOX NEA Food and Markets Editor Here's a wonderful party idea—a giant-size canape pie, slightly reminiscent of Danish open-face sandwiches. It is simply a large circle of corn meal pastry decorated with a variety of fish, meat and cheese fillings, all garnished with cream cheese frills. The idea comes from Mrs. John P. McGrath of Pueblo, Colo., mother of the deputy district attorney—in other words, a busy housewife. She says, "Everyone loves the crisp, crunchy crust of the pie as the perfect base for spreads. Zesty cheese spreads, finely chopped chicken or turkey, minced stuffed olives and sliced egg yolks may be used for various sections of the pie, as well as the fish and meat pastes given here. "Make the Canape Pie several hours before your guests are scheduled to arrive and keep it chilled in the refrigerator." CANAPE PIE (Makes 2 10-inch pies) Corn-Meal Base: One cup enriched corn meal, 2 cups sifted enriched flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 3/4 cup shortening, 3/4 cup milk. Sift together dry ingredients. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add milk all at once, mixing lightly until dry ingredients are dampened. (Add a little more milk if necessary to make a soft dough.) Turn out on lightly floured board or canvas and knead gently a few seconds. Divide dough in half and roll out each piece to form a large circle, about 10 inches in diameter. Place each on a cookie sheet. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) for 12 to 15 minutes. Cool. Arrange the following toppings on the circles: Egg Salad: In the center make a 3-inch circle of egg salad. Place finely chopped parsley around edge of egg salad circle. Deviled Ham: Place around egg salad circle, a ring about 1 inch wide of deviled ham salad. Sardine Salad: Around ham salad place a 1-inch ring of sardine salad. Liverwurst Salad: Around sardine salad place a 1-inch ring of liverwurst salad. Using a pastry tube, outline rings of meat and fish with soft-ened cream cheese. Serve pie by cutting narrow pie-shaped wedges. Tomorrow's Party Dinner: Canape pie, chilled juices, broiled sirloin steak, scalloped potatoes with onions, Brussels sprouts with butter and chopped nuts, seeded rolls, butter or margarine, lettuce, green pepper and tomato salad. French dressing, chocolate soufflé, custard sauce, coffee, tea, milk. MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE Last summer the L's took their teenage daughter's best friend on a month-long family motor trip through Canada. For years, the girl had been in and out of their home. Then, last October, she was initiated into a sorority that neglected to invite her friend to join it. Since that time, she's not only avoided the L's but has cut their child dead at school. Mrs. L. writes, "I suppose there's nothing to do but feel sorry for the girl." Occasionally, by asking our PTA and school board to act on the fraternity system in our local schools, much can be done. If Mrs. L. will read the excellent article on this problem in a recent issue of Parents' magazine, she can discover what other parents and teachers are doing to outlaw these unbrotherly brotherhoods from their communities. According to it, the town of Marquette, N.Y., has made a unusually successful adjustment to fraternity-free schools. It went about the job of getting rid of them wisely. First, it took a poll of its citizens' opinions on school fraternities. It showed they didn't like them. Authorized by this majority disapproval, the school board adopted the effective regulation. To any junior or senior high school student who joins a fraternity, Marquette denies any school office, any school team membership, honor or award except his certificate of graduation.

Ruth Millett

A wife writes: "I married a man who enjoyed making me jealous and for five years he didn't have any trouble at all. I was in competition with every woman he met, agonized over the question, 'Does he really love me?' and in general was about as miserable and unhappy as a woman could be. Then I got fed up. One day I told him—something like this: 'I love you. But I'm not going to let you make me jealous any more. If you ever find anyone you want more than you want me, all you have to do is say so and you can have a divorce. In the meantime, I'll just assume you are married to me because you want to be. No more jealousy—and no more tears.' 'Well, it worked like a miracle. My husband quit trying to make me jealous, and even started in trying to make me happy. The reason I'm telling you about it is that I thought it might work for other wives, too.' It might at that. The man who deliberately tries to make his wife jealous does it because he enjoys her jealousy. And as long as she rises to the bait he'll go on baiting her. But let her decide she is fed up with worrying about him and never again intends to let him make her jealous and the game is up. A wife wouldn't even have to tell her husband her decision. Her changed attitude would be obvious enough. Why not give it a try, you wives.

Merten HD Club Mrs. Moore Hostess

The Merten Home Demonstration Club met recently with Mrs. Buck Moore, 507 Sumner. Miss Helen Dunlap, county HD agent, presented the program, "Dinner For The Family." Miss Dunlap advised to handle vegetables with care to save food and flavor; foods should be stored properly, and they should be cooked as quickly as possible with as little water as possible, and it is a good idea to eat some raw. In buying beef, there are five different grades of meat, Miss Dunlap stated: (1) U. S. Prime, best beef buy, taken from young animals. U. S. Prime beef will be bright red, firm, fine textured, with good marbling. (2) U. S. Choice beef is the next best buy. It has little less marbling, but high in eating quality. (3) U. S. Good, which has more lean to the fat, but is not as juicy. (4) U. S. Commercial is an older beef, darker red in color, less tender with no marbling. (5) U. S. Utility is the lowest grade beef to be bought. Plans were discussed for future meetings. During the social hour refreshments were served to Mmes. Jack Prather, T. G. Groves, V. ## Pampa Student Is Finalist In Scholarship Competition

A senior at Pampa High School has been named finalist in the National Merit Scholarship competition.

According to Principal L. J. Edmondson, the local student is among the 7500 highest scorers on nationwide college aptitude examination given to 162,000 seniors in 12,500 high schools on October 24.

The Pampa High School finalist is Tommy Allston son of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Allston, 910 Jordan.

Finalists now face a stiff three-hour college Board examination on January 12, plus intensive screening of their leadership and extra-curricular records by a selection board.

At stake are more than 700 four-year college scholarships, many of them sponsored by business and industrial corporations. Included are 100 Sears-Roebuck Foundation Merit Scholarships and nationwide programs sponsored by such companies and foundations as Pittsburgh Plate Glass, F. W. Woolworth, Standard Oil (Indiana), International Nickel, and many others.

The January 12 examination will be given in designated testing centers throughout the country, and at least 7,000 of the Merit Finalists are expected to survive this hurdle, according to John M. Stalnaker, President of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

"Every member of this group of 7,000 will have the highest potential to benefit from college training, and I wish only that there were Merit Scholarships for each of them. The response of business and industry in establishing Merit Scholarship Programs to help these students has been magnificent. But we will probably have 9 or 10 highly qualified students for every Merit Scholarship available."

In the final phase of the competition, the other accomplishments and the character of the competitors will be evaluated. About April 25, a fortunate 700 will become the Merit Scholars of 1957.

The runners-up will each receive a Certificate of Merit, attesting to their high ability; and all colleges and universities will be notified, enabling these students to be considered for thousands of other awards and prizes.

The 700 Merit Scholars choose the colleges they wish to attend. The value of each scholarship varies with the financial need of the student, ranging upward from $100 per year (minimum honorarium) to $2,200 per year or more.

The colleges chosen by the Merit Scholars will receive supplemental unrestricted grants averaging $2,000 per scholarship (over the four years) to help defray the actual cost of educating the students.

The Merit Scholarship Program is now in its second year. It was established in 1955 through basic grants of $20,500,000 from the Ford Foundation and the Carnegie Corporation of New York. The National Science Foundation and the Old Dominion Foundation have given funds for research work. In the first year, 556 Merit Scholars were named. They are now freshmen at 160 different colleges.

The program is designed to search the nation for those students most able to benefit from a college education, regardless of means. Once discovered, the students are supported in college by funds provided by business and industrial corporations, professional societies, and even individuals interested in helping students of high ability.

Some 23 of these groups financed Merit Scholars in 1956, and over 40 business organizations are planning to support Merit Scholars in 1957.

The competition is open to any public, private, or parochial high school in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico; and any high school senior may participate. Today's 7,500 finalists represent one half of one per cent of 1957's high school graduating classes - the best in each state.

Getting Rid Of A Pastor

The following is an excerpt from St. Paul's Methodist Newsletter: Methodist Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy has a step-by-step formula for committees to come to get him seeking advice on how to get rid of a pastor who is inefficient. We pass it along since not all such committees are Methodist.

1. Look him straight in the eye when he is preaching and say "Amen" once in a while. He'll preach himself to death within a few weeks.
2. Put him on the back and brag on his good points. He'll work himself to death.
3. Start paying him a living wage. He's probably been on starvation wages so long he'll eat himself to death.
4. Rededicate your life to Christ and ask the preacher to give you a job to do. He'll probably die of heart failure.
5. Get the church to unite in prayer for the preacher. He'll become so ineffective some larger church will take him off your hands.

Rhee Threatens North Korea Again

Foreign News Commentary By CHARLES M. MCCANN United Press Staff Correspondent President Syngman Rhee is threatening again to march his army into Communist North Korea.

The tough old chief executive of the Republic of Korea has made the unification of his divided country his major goal for 1957. He would like the Western Allies who fought in the Korean War to denounce the armistice which was signed on July 24, 1953. If that does not happen, he says, he may take on the North Koreans and the Chinese Communists himself.

Despite the odds he would face, the possibility that he may do so sooner or later cannot be ruled out. Rhee feels that his allies, involved in a cold war with Soviet Russia in Europe and the Middle East, have too long neglected the area in which the free world went into a hot war against Red aggression.

Officers Investigate Vandalism

There have been consistent reports of persons, presumably teenagers, shooting up the monuments in the Memory Garden Cemetery in the north eastern section of the city. The youths presently have been chased by land owners in the vicinity, officials reported, but as yet they have not been caught. Juvenile Officer H. A. Doggett, however, has been conducting an investigation in an effort to apprehend the boys.

County Judge Bruce Parker stated yesterday that in shooting up these monuments from the highway, as the boys have been reported doing; they are not only breaking the law of defacing property in a cemetery, but also that of shooting on a highway. He also noted that various other charges could be filed against the boys when they are caught.

PLAINVIEW — (Special) — Wayland Baptist College will be host Jan. 28-29 for the 35th session of the Panhandle Pastors' and Laymen's Conference, which will have three outstanding Southern Baptist personalities, Dr. James L. Dr. R. Earl Allen, Fort Worth, is president of the Conference. Stansel Clements, Lamesa, and J. L. Harden, Wayland College, are vice-president and secretary-treasurer. For the six sessions, which begin each day at 10 a. m., 2 and 7 p. m., other program personalities include: Rev. Joe Wilson, Floydada; Rev. I. D. Walker, Lubbock; Kenneth Hill, Littlefield; Rev. H. For the past 35 years the Panhandle Pastors' and Laymen's Conference, at Wayland College has brought together Baptists from Western Texas and New Mexico in large numbers for these series of sermons and Bible study. For several years some 1,000 Baptists have attended one or more of sessions which are open to everyone.

This year's speakers are among the leaders of the denominations. Dr. Sullivan, who will preach at the six sessions, served as pastor in Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi and Texas, before being called from the pastorate of First Baptist Church, Abilene, to take over the leadership of the Southern Baptist Convention as executive secretary-treasurer of the Sunday School Board. Dr. Sullivan is the author of "Your Life and Your Church" and of numerous articles in various publications.

Dr. Graves, who will conduct the Bible study sessions, is president of Golden Gate Seminary, having gone there in 1952 from the pastorate of First Baptist Church, Bartlesville, Okla. At Southern Seminary, Dr. Graves received the Th. D. degree with a major in English New Testament. ## Christian Science Service

The answer to mankind's great need of purity and regeneration will be emphasized at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson - Sermon on "Sacrament" is the Golden Text on Psalms (24:3-4): "Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? or who shall stand in his holy place? He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully."

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (241:23 - 27): "One's aim, a point beyond faith, should be to find the footsteps of Truth, the way to health and holiness. We should strive to reach the Horeb height where God is revealed; and the corner-stone of all spiritual building is purity."

First Methodist Sermon Topic

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

SAVE TAX HEADACHES NEXT YEAR There is no time like the present to start a procedure that will aid you with next year's income tax calculations. That is to maintain a record of your income and outgo. Such a record can be simple and brief but it may save you tax dollars and many hours of work in filling out tax forms.

The average man who works for a wage or salary doesn't have to concern himself about keeping books and records - at least so he thinks. His employer keeps a reliable record of his earnings and Uncle Sam looks primarily to the employer for information on his earnings and for the withholding of various taxes out of his wages.

But whether or not you run a business of your own, you have a partner who each year is claiming a substantial interest in your personal income. And the law requires that you keep books for him in case he ever asks for an accounting.

Perhaps you own your home or are paying it out in installments. It's likely that some day you may sell that house. When you do you'll want to be able to prove whether you realized a gain or a loss on that sale. If a gain in capital resulted, it probably will add to your income tax. If a loss was suffered, it probably will reduce your income tax.

You may have made certain capital improvements on the house while you lived in it, but unless you can show what out-of-pocket expense you incurred while making them, you may not get credit for them in your cost basis so as to prove that you had no capital gain or that you had a loss.

Or perhaps you received that little summer cottage on the lake as a gift from your father. If you ever sell it, you should be able to show Uncle Sam not only the cost of improvements you made on it while you owned it, but also what its fair market value was at the time Dad gave it to you.

It may be that you are receiving an annuity on an insurance policy. If so, do you know how much that policy costs you and how much of that cost you have recovered tax-free to date?

There are many kinds of transactions you enter into that may some day affect the computation of your personal income tax. The best proof of the cost of anything you've purchased is a receipted bill or canceled check. If one of these pieces of evidence relates to any transaction that may affect your income in later years, it's a good idea to keep it. You "partner" may some day ask to see it.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform - not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

FIVE MAKES A "CONGREGATION" - Rev. Louis W. West shovels snow from the front of his "world's smallest church" at Hudson, Mass. The 71-year-old minister built the tiny church in his spare time. Its guest book holds signatures of 4,800 visitors, and 25 weddings have been performed in it. The five-by-eight-foot church can hold a "congregation" of five people, including the minister.

The Pampa Daily News

One of Texas' Five Most Consistent Newspapers

We believe that one truth is always consistent with another truth. We endeavor to be consistent with truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, the Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

Should we at any time, be inconsistent with these truths, we would appreciate anyone pointing out to us how we are inconsistent with these moral guides.

Published daily except Saturday by The Pampa Daily News, Atchison at Somerville, Pampa, Texas. Phone 4-2800. Entered as second class matter under the act of March 3, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

By CARRIER in Pampa, 30c per week. Paid in advance (at office) $3.90 per 3 months, $7.50 per 6 months, $15.00 per year. By mail $4.50 per year in retail trading zone, $12.00 per year outside retail trading zone. Price for single copy 6 cents. No mail orders accepted in localities served by carrier.

Consistency

A friend of ours has noted that true knowledge begins with consistency. Of course, none of us is wholly consistent, just as none of us is wholly informed. As human beings we are deplorably fallible. Try as we will to understand all things and correlate all things, we fall far short of our goal.

At best, most of us attain a degree of proficiency in a certain line of endeavor or a particular philosophy of conduct. But there is so much we do not know. Occasionally we run across someone who is a veritable genius in his ability to acquire knowledge and to fit that knowledge into a workable pattern of practical thought. Such persons are rare.

A learned psychologist from Chicago University once told us that the genius was the man who made use of approximately five percent of his latent capacities, that the rest of us fall miserably short of even this paltry achievement. Most, he averred, use something close to a half of one percent of what they could use. This is rather a damning indictment against the human race as a whole. And yet, despite the unreliability of such random percentages, our own observations should make us aware of the abysmal lack of both knowledge and consistency which plagues mankind.

For example, at the moment there are great hordes of people in Europe and Asia who are completely convinced that those of us in the United States who support the free enterprise concept, are as little children when it comes to understanding the great truths of life. Free enterprise, they chide us, is as old-fashioned and unworkable as cave man life in the twentieth century. We should bestir ourselves and abandon this primitive conceit. Only as we advance to the point where we depend more thoroughly upon a ruling hierarchy, can we even claim civilization for ourselves.

But is this viewpoint consistent with the facts of life? Actually it is not. The money that is coming in great bales to sustain life in these purportedly advanced nations, is a portion of the surplus drained off our free enterprise economy by the men in power. Were it not for that surplus, the entire world right now would have reverted to medieval feudalism.

But the inconsistency of their complaint seems not to penetrate the allegedly august minds of our European and Asiatic contemporaries. They are still convinced that it is we, not they, who are the backward people. A current event should help to clear their heads of this illusion, but we doubt profoundly that it will. As sunken ships choked off the Suez Canal, oil moved into the number one position as an article of great demand in score supply. What happened?

Western Europe became again the beneficiary of American free enterprise. Fortunately, in this country oil production is one of the areas of production still relatively free. There is even a tax allowance, which while prejudicial in that it favors one type of production over another, permits the oil men a greater leeway in the management of their own affairs.

Would that this same freedom pertained in all enterprise.

But in any case, from the great free enterprise area of privately owned and operated oil businesses, from the fields and the wild-catters, through the refineries and the pipe-lines and the fleets of oil trucks, the giant entrepreneurs of the oil enterprise rolled up their sleeves and went to work.

Their first concern was to see that domestic demands and supplies were not impaired in any way. Their next was to expand production and distribution so that the great vacuum created in Europe could be filled by the surplus of American genius. In the last two months of 1956, oil production, U.S.A., increased 596 million barrels over the 1955 production peak. Total supply was boosted to an average of 9,375 barrels a day, the all-time high.

Thus, once more, and in a most tangible fashion, the allegedly backward and primitive American people, by means of free enterprise, stepped in to lift the curse of socialism and war from the backs of Europe's oppressed.

And what is our thanks? Nothing but the reminder that free enterprise is archaic and barbaric and ought to be replaced with the universal failure which is collectivism.

Right now the American people could stand a bit of consistency in the reasoning of their neighbors of other lands.

THE NATION'S PRESS

TROUBLE IN PARADISE

(N. Y. Daily News)

The Soviet workers' paradise, we mean. Obviously all is far from being alagazam there.

Maxim Z. Saburov has just been bounced as director of the current five-year plan (it has four, more years to run), and has been replaced by Mikhail G. Perukhin and six assistants.

The shakedown follows a five-day closed session of the Russian Communist Party's Central Committee, where the knocks and jolts in the Red industrial machine were discussed, no doubt bitterly. Those short comings are so serious that a cutback in building of new factories is ordered, with a red-faced admission that Russia lacks the resources to meet all quotas under the five-year plan as first outlined. The ruling comrades say they still hope for, but they don't promise, better living conditions soon for the wretched Russian people.

One major trouble in the Red paradise is that two important mills in its industrial machine were turned from assets into liabilities.

Hungary is supposed to be a big source of food for the Red Slave Empire, and Poland a big source of coal. But the recent upheavals in those countries have crippled them as producers of what they are supposed to furnish. Another Russia, and the effects are spreading far beyond Poland and Hungary.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon says, indeed, that Hungary has dealt international Communism a mortal blow.

That may be over-optimistic. Let's not gamble on it. We're convinced, though, that World Bank President Eugene Black is eminently right in saying his institution will extend no loan to Red Hungary—or any other $100,000,000 or any other sum.

Hungary isn't a member of the World Bank, to begin with, and hence isn't eligible for such a loan.

But even if the rules could be stretched or Hungary made a member, it would be idiotic for this or any other Western group to lend the present Hungarian government a dime.

Ill Results Of Pensions

Seldom Seen

Very few people see the ill results that come from pensions from private corporations or from the government. It is easy to see that the man who gets the pension can buy something with it. Then the conclusion is reached that a pension system is a good system. Quite often a man needs the money very badly when he gets a pension.

Who Pays Pensions?

What most people do not see is that the employer, if he is to stay in business, cannot pay the pensions. He either has to deduct it from the wages of those who receive the pensions or he has to try to add it to the cost of the product he is marketing. In most cases it comes out of the pay of the employee. The employer has to pay that much less in order to have a fund with which to pay later.

The big harm of pensions is that it tends to reduce the dignity of the person receiving the pension and exalts the party managing the pension. It makes an inferior and superior person. It makes classes. It makes men not equal before the law as they are before God.

Each and every man ought to get all he produces as quickly as practical after he has earned it. He ought to have the right to spend it and enjoy it or to save it and invest it or to give it away. This gives the worker individual responsibility. It makes him an individual unit. He is not a ward or a dependent of anybody. This develops his faculties. By trial and error he learns to judge values. He ceases to be a Charlie McCarthy.

Harm To Employer

On the other hand, when the employer gets to believing that he is wise enough to know how to plan the savings of his employees, he is tending to exalt himself; to classify himself as superior to his associate employees. And it is certainly no easy matter nowadays to handle savings so as to make them accumulate as rapidly as possible.

The employer who undertakes to plan the estate of his employees by way of pensions is inclined to be too conservative or too speculative. If he is too conservative and tries to put it into credits and annuities, as the dollar depreciates, as it has been for years, the estate of the employees depreciates rather than increases.

If we are having inflation at 4 or 5 percent a year and the interest rate is 3 percent, the pension fund is depleted 1 percent a year. In order to prevent inflation from depleting the pension fund, the manager of it is obliged to put it in equities or in real property. And this is too much responsibility for one man to have with another man's earnings. It tends to exalt that individual and at the same time weakens the employee's mental faculties. What men do not use they lose. And when the employee shifts his responsibility of taking care of himself and his family in non-productive years, he is not using his talent to the fullest.

Nature and God certainly intended all men to use their talents to the fullest. It is of the utmost importance that all men develop their faculties, not just some men. And pensions retard the development of pensions and exalt the managers of same. Remember, "He who exalts himself shall be abased."

"Social Security" Fraud
Of course the "Social Security," whose deductions increase the first of this year to 2 1/4 for both the employer and employee, is not really a pension at all. It is a fraud. The money the government compels the employer to deduct and turn over to the government is spent by the government. If an employer attempted to handle a pension fund the way the government is doing, he would go to jail. Of course, it is not even a contract because the "Social Security" law gives the Congress the right to revise or cancel in any way it sees fit.

There is but one question that by the time the younger people are old enough to receive pensions the dollar they get will not buy a toothpick or a drop of water. It is not planned on any theory of justice because some of the older people will get 100 times what they put in and the younger ones will get nothing.

In the case of a man and a wife both working, both pay but only one benefits. It is just plain unadulterated robbery.

The best way to develop a society is to develop the individuals in the society. And the best way to do that is to make each man responsible. The old truth as set forth in the Bible is eternal. It still is a law of nature. Man must live by the sweat of his brow.

The money would not go to help the tragic Hungarian people. It would be used by the Kremlin puppet premier, Janos Kadar, and his Red pals to shore up their regime. Plenty of it probably would go into Swiss banks, against the wishes of the people and his troops may have to duck out of Hungary in a hurry.

Red Cross-type relief, certainly provided there are ironclad guarantees against the Reds' stealing it.

But as for bailing Kadar's or any other Red Hungarian government out, we'd be crazy to do it. Our smartest guy just now is to let the Red Slave Empire stew in the juices of its increasing economic troubles, in the hope that its slaves will knock it over in due time.

Revealing Truths No Help Since The People Don't Care

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK — Pat Hurley's political memories are out in a biography, written by Don Lohbeck and published by Henry Regnery of Chicago whose "list" usually is either ignored by the "literary" police or smeared in malicious reviews and hidden under the counters of the bookstores. Great authors and their works are flung in the window displays of the shops.

Hurley's bill of particulars against the Roosevelt and Truman Administrations with extensions into the Republican Regime of the last four years is composed of stuff called trial material. The overall indictment has lain in the filing cabinets of oblivion for ten years. In detail, Hurley adds much to the case against the machine which betrayed the United States to Soviet Russia in Asia and double-crossed Chiang Kai-Shek. But it never will be tried because, as Lohbeck says toward the close, there is no public clamor for the truth and reclamation of the principles of American government.

Hurley became convinced toward the end of his embassy in China that Truman and Jimmy Byrnes, then Secretary of State, were "responsible for Communists obtaining information from his secret reports." But when he returned and learned the details of the Amerasia case, he "realized that Truman and Byrnes were mystified as to where the leaks came from." So Hurley condemned himself for false suspicions and hesitated "to take the step that would have accused the administration leaders of deliberately working against American interest and tradition." Moreover, because Hurley idealized the American concept of government, he relied on Congress "to launch a 'great debate'."

When Byrnes came back from the Moscow conference, however, Hurley decided that he had a moral and patriotic duty to fight for repudiation of the perfidies agreed to in the alcoholic orgies of the calculated Russian spies in Yalta. But the propaganda machine of the Administration and the pro-Communist cliques had now persuaded the public mind that Hurley's charges were mere personal complaints.

Some Americans, said to Hurley now, "if only you had exposed the secret agreement, things would have been different. You should have appealed to the American people." But, looking backward, Hurley replies that even if he had revealed the provisions of Yalta, nothing would have happened. When, in 1956, the betrayal which condemned young Americans of that time to death in Korea was made public, "scarcely a ripple appeared." The American people didn't care.

This story requires more mental concentration that it can receive from a people whose expenditures on public "education" stand in appalling contrast to their capacity to study books without sex and mentally to resist the diversions of the new Republicanism. There are a hundred such on the shelves but, as Hurley sadly concluded, the American people just don't care.

NEW YORK — When the MATS plane in which 71 Hungarian refugees and I traveled from Munich came within sight of the U.S. coastline, the pilot barked the DC-6's side and through the intercom said: "America, ladies and gentlemen!"

In our rush to one side, we almost tipped the plane over. I say "almost" because I beat the Hungarians to a window that afforded a good look at home. It was a cold, gray day, and the portion of the coast which we passed over isn't noted for its beauty, but it looked lovely to me.

Even from 5,000 feet in the air I believe I would have known it was the United States, even if I hadn't been told. The U.S. looks different, and I don't believe that is all due to imagination. There's something about the way the trees grow, the smoke blows, and the birds' laid out, that tell an American he is home, and nowhere else.

I'm telling you, the wheels sound different when they started spinning on an American runway! Not at all the same sound they made when they touch down at London or Rome or Frankfurt. Your heart starts spinning with them, and doesn't slow down for a good while.

One thing that always amazes me when I come home after a long stay in foreign countries is how quickly I feel perfectly at home — as if I had never been away.

It's almost instantaneous. One minute you're all filled with foreign sounds, foreign words, foreign sights, and the next you've shed it all and fit in at home again just as neatly as does the man behind the newsstand, who hasn't been away at all.

You don't feel like a stranger for a second. The papers and their headlines look just the way newspapers should, and you forget all about the "Zeitungs" and "Soirs" and "Expreses" you have been reading, or trying to read.

The people look so familiar that you are tempted to say hello and the walk up and shake their hands. The cut of their clothes is right (or seems right), they wear their hats on their heads the right way, and they walk the way it seems (to you) people should walk.

It's a most comfortable feeling, this coming home from abroad. It's like kicking off a new shoe and slipping your foot into an old slipper. Everything fits just right. The sound a train makes, the hub-bub of conversation, the signs over stores, and the action.

Yes, the action most of all.

Claim No Ulterior Motives In Richard M. Nixon Change

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Richard M. Nixon will soon become known as a roaring liberal and a world humanitarian, instead of a vindictive and reactionary partisan, as his enemies label him, at the pace he is now traveling on and off Capitol Hill. Rarely has there been such a political and personal transformation in American politics.

The Vice President's friends insist that there is no ulterior motive in this metamorphosis, and that the Californian is not grooming himself for the 1960 Presidential nomination deliberately and consciously. They say that he is simply rising and growing into new and heavier responsibilities, as so often happens with a public figure. They maintain that qualities always latent are revealing themselves under trial.

President Eisenhower's aides deny flatly that the White House has given Nixon the center of the stage for political reasons. They describe Ike as neutral in the 1960 contest. They advance logical reasons for the Vice President's current good fortune.

For one thing, the President's health forces him to delegate many important duties to the V.P., whose job would be a secure one. Secondly, F.D.R.'s failure to confide in Harry S. Truman on public affairs, and the latter's tragic mistakes in his early days in the White House, made a deep impression during and after World War II.

Finally, Ike has found Nixon to be capable of substituting for him, and an excellent liaison man with Capitol Hill. The No. 2 man has not yet fallen down on any of the missions entrusted to him, which is more than can be said of some other aides and Cabinet members.

Save for a less intimate personal relationship, Nixon is rapidly becoming for Ike the same sort of handyman that Harry Hopkins was for F.D.R.

It is probable that Nixon has to pinch himself every so often to appreciate the change which has come over him. And many of his Senate colleagues must do similar tricks to their anatomy as they observe and study the "new Nixon."

In urging American acceptance of a larger group of Hungarian refugees, the Vice President repudiated his former ideas and prejudices on this question. He voted enthusiastically for the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act, whose provisions were held to be so harsh that Truman vetoed it. The V.P.'s current attitude shocks his colleagues personally.

His performance in the anti-dilution fight was most enlightening of all. Once he was a key figure in the coalition of Southern Democrats and Republicans which enraged Roosevelt and Truman by blocking "New Deal" Fair Deal legislation, Nixon is probably the only member of Congress whom Truman hated personally.

But, although his comment was unnecessary and meaningless in its effect, the Vice President made it clear that he sympathized with the liberal block's effort to abolish anti-Communist laws, which is the South's only method of preventing enactment of Civil Rights Legislation. The V.P. knew, of course, that there was no chance for such a drastic change in the Senate rules.

Nixon has also taken steps to win over Senate Minority Leader William F. Knowland, who had threatened to seek the Presidential nomination in event that Ike refused to run again. For the second time, the V.P. has asked his fellow-Californian to swear him into office on January 20, and Knowland has agreed.

Governor Goodwin J. Knight, a potential 1960 rival, must seek reelection in 1958, and may not be a serious obstacle to Nixon.

Without even noticing it, you slip right back into the hurried pace of America, and it seems good. You move along the sidewalks, and duck across the streets with a sureness you never have in a foreign city.

When you get jostled you know to a hairbreadth whether it was your fault or the other person's, and you should say "Excuse me." You hoist yourself onto a lunchroom stool and it feels just right, you know just how the sandwich is going to taste, and you know just what sort of conversation to make with the waiter or waitress.

It makes sense to pay with dimes, nickels and quarters that feel right in the hand, and to handle folding money that looks like money, and not something suitable for framing.

You'll never know how good it is to get home to America until you leave it for a while. It's just the most comfortable country in the world.

Yes, the action most of all.

Pampa News Sports Editor

PINKY BRANSON IS GOING to the Southwestern League meeting to be held in Clovis Sunday and tell them Pampa will have professional baseball this year. Sunday is the deadline for stating intent to play and to file the league money and it appears that all 10 teams will open the season.

Branson may be the only one to represent Pampa at the meeting. He will leave Saturday afternoon. W. J. Green, president of the Class B league, will be at the meeting, as will other representatives of the other nine clubs.

I don't know exactly what will be discussed at the meeting except for a discussion of each club's problems and difficulties and ways to solve them. One item is sure to come up and that's the question of veterans.

The Southwestern League allows four veterans, four rookies and eight limited service players on each team. Several clubs want to change the veterans allowed to six or eight and they will be campaigning vigorously for its passage. Plainview, San Angelo, Midland and possibly one or two more would like to make the change but I don't believe they swing enough votes for the motion to carry by majority.

Many baseball men believe that a team with more veterans offer a better team and draw more crowd appeal. That could be true if the veterans were under 25 years of age and new to the league, but most of the fans are tired of seeing the same old faces from year to year.

A player who has had three years of experience is classified as a veteran. If the major league organizations supply this league with some of their young players, a few veterans may be included. A young veteran has more enthusiasm and is easier to work with. They are also cheaper to hire, thus reducing the expenses of a club.

DORY FUNK CALLED from Amarillo yesterday, wanting to let me know what a good match he and Rip Rogers were having here Monday night against Leo (The Lion) Newman and Tokyo Joe. Funk is the Southwest States junior heavyweight champion. He's been wrestling in the Panhandle and West Texas for many years and built himself quite a reputation. Dory and Bob Geigel are holders of the tag team championship but the latter is now in Iowa and Funk has been forced to get himself another partner.

"We've really got a good one cooked up Monday night in Pampa," commented Funk. "The two of us will beat Newman, Tokyo Joe and the referee if we are forced to," he added. And they may do it.

Dory has a son who plays football for Canyon High School and he's quite proud of him. The younger Funk weighs 180 pounds and he's only 18 years old. Dory and Geigel are planning on his going to the University of Iowa on a wrestling scholarship when he finishes school in one more year. Although Canyon High School has no wrestling team, Dory has been training him personally. Amarillo High School and Boys Ranch are the only two high school wrestling teams in the state.

NOTES FROM THE CORNER FILE. The United States Naval Academy needs badly a new football stadium and is asking for contributions. The Congress does not appropriate funds for projects of that nature and it must be built through public subscription. It will be known as Navy-Marine Corps Memorial Stadium. Contributions should be mailed to Memorial Stadium, Annapolis, Maryland. Twelve inches of new snow fell in the Santa Fe resort area last week and skiing conditions are reported as excellent. A party and movies are scheduled at Townhouse Motel on the Las Vegas highway Saturday night for all skiers. The rental shop has 250 pairs of skis and an instructor is available. A total of 37 Dodge farmhands made all-star teams in their respective leaves. Mel Ott will broadcast the Detroit Tiger games this season and act as unofficial coach.

Ranking Oklaggies Nipped By Bradley

By UNITED PRESS
North Carolina, the nation's No. 3 team which clashes with Clemson tonight, was handed first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference today, plus a warning it can't afford any slip-ups.

The Tar Heels gained undisputed possession of the top run in this tough basketball circuit when Duke, which had been tied for third, was upset by Maryland, 62-51, Thursday night.

At the same time, the victory by Maryland and another by Wake Forest, 66-50, in an intercollegiate game against Seton Hall stressed the tough opposition North Carolina faces in its league.

Duke, suffering its first conference loss after three wins, trailed Maryland by only 21-20 at halftime. But then Maryland started to roll in the second half, a session that saw John Macincik score 16 of his game-high 17 points, the 11th minutes left to play and Maryland led the rest of the way.

Wake Forest trailed Seton Hall by 11 points, 29-18, with three minutes left in the first half but fought back at Madison Square Garden to lag behind only 31-29 at halftime. After Seton Hall moved ahead to a 47-42 lead, Wake Forest ripped off 13 straight points and went ahead to stay with eight minutes remaining. Jim Gilley led the Deacons, ranked 14th nationally, to their 11th win in 14 games with 24 points.

In other leading games Thursday night: Bradley upset Oklahoma A & M, the nation's No. 8 team, in a Missouri Valley Conference game as 6-7 Barney Cable scored 20 points and grabbed 15 rebounds; Utah beat Denver, 84-70; and Montana dented New Mexico, 68-50, in the Skyline Conference; soph. Terry Penn's 30 points, including 20 of 21 free throws, led Virginia Tech to an 83-72 win over Citadel in the Southern Conference; Dayton trounced St. Francis of Brooklyn, 84-40; and 6-8 Jim Palmer of Dayton and 6-7 Al Inniss of St. Francis tied for scoring honors with 22 points each; North Carolina State nearly wasted a 20-point lead but defeated Florida, 63-58; Pittsburgh downed Bucknell, 64-49; and Rhode Island defeated Massachusetts, 71-63.

In addition to North Carolina, two other high-ranked teams will play tonight. Brigham Young, ranked 17th, will host Colorado A & M in the Skyline Conference and California, ranked 19th, will visit Oregon in the Pacific Coast Conference.

NCAA Schedules Business Talks
ST. LOUIS (UP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association dropped into its business session today, minus any spark that would breathe fire into the 51st annual convention which ends Saturday.

The coaches dominated the convention, partly because of the job-hunting angle which always associates itself with the affair. But the only new coach hired so far was Frank Broyles, who will go to Missouri from his backfield coaching job at Georgia Tech.

The track and field rules committee approved 11 new records, among them three set by Duke University's Dave Sime. Basketball people appeared but briefly at the convention, chiefly to discuss plans for the NCAA's first tournament for smaller institutions in its membership.

Capt. Tom Hamilton, athletic director of the University of Pittsburgh, outlined the NCAA's aims in behalf of President Eisenhower's physical fitness program. He emphasized the need for "immediate and sweeping action" in supplying the physical equipment and teachers to correct "grave deficiencies" in fitness among the nation's youth.

Hamilton said the NCAA would urge states to enact laws permitting use of tax funds for the support of athletic and recreation programs.

Comical Harlem Globetrotters Trim Bearded House Of David

The Harlem Globetrotters, masters of basketball wizardry and comedy, made their annual Pampa visit another one to remember last night at Harvester Fieldhouse by beating the bearded House of David, 64-56, before an almost-capacity crowd.

The score was incidental. It was the four quarters of sensational shots, comedy and capers in between—the starting and finishing whistles that amazed the fans. The crowd's reactions showed that the two teams gave them a fine show. Intermingled with the basketball game were some outstanding attractions at halftime, including juggler Mike Pickering, unicyclist Don Phillips, table tennis player Bob Anderson and Ted Bourne and trick rope and whip artists Bud and Rose Cretell.

The Northern unit of the Globetrotters, said to be just as good as the other two touring units by their advance men, used just about the same routines as in previous years but that took away nothing from their fine performance.

They used a basketball with a strip of rubber attached in shooting free throws, a diaphragm ball, a football and baseball routine (including a drop kick for midfield), a "piggy-back" cramming shot and many others to keep fans in a continuously jovial mood.

The House of David and other members of the Trotters played second fiddle to comic Stan (Chico) Burrell. The Globetrotter funnyman was the funniest part of the routine. Burrell was chased off-the playing a field by referee John Fox (a comedian in his own rights), he hid the ball under his jersey and faked the defense out of position to go in for an easy layup and he handed the ball to the House of David and asked one of their players to make the shot for him.

The art of basketball was only incidental to the Globetrotters. They played serious basketball in one quarter, which seemed to cramp their styles, but comedy reigned in the other three periods. Basketball took a back seat for their antics.

Andy Shepard put on a crowd-pleasing dribbling act that would put Bob Cousy in the shade. Chuck Bolton of the Globetrotters also distinguished himself as a comedian and player. Tom Gatske, former Texas Christian University player and a natural favorite with the fans, was the outstanding player for the House of David.

The Davids went along with the Trotter's comedy routine but most of the time they were playing basketball to win although their efforts were futile.

Russell Paces Celtic Victory

By UNITED PRESS
BOSTON (UP)—Bob Pettit, and Adolph Schayes each added another fine performance to his National Basketball Assn. record today, but only Russell was able to lead his team to victory.

Rebounding from a poor showing in his New York debut on Tuesday, Russell tallied 15 points, grabbed 23 rebounds, and batted away a dozen rival shots Thursday night to pace the Boston Celtics in a 95-91 victory over the Fort Wayne Pistons at Fort Wayne.

However, Pettit's 38-point, 29-rebound effort went for naught as his St. Louis Hawks bowed in overtime to New York, 82-84, and Schayes' 40 points were wasted as his Syracuse Nationals lost to the Minneapolis Lakers, 118-110.

In the fourth game Thursday night, Jack George and Paul Arizin scored 23 points each to lead the Philadelphia Warriors to a 112-93 victory over the Rochester Royals.

Pampans Seek 3rd Title Win

The much-improved Monterey Plainmen will be after their first District 3-AAAA basketball victory of the season here tonight at 8 when they meet the Pampa Harvesters.

Pampa's Shockers, winners of 15 of 16 games this season, will meet the Monterey B squad at 8:15 p.m. They play the Palo Duro B team here Saturday night at 7:00.

The Harvesters will be trying to bounce back into the conference, basketball picture after losing a heart-breaking 63-62 decision to the leading Borger Bulldogs here Tuesday night.

Pampa has won 2 of three district games this season to rank with Amarillo's Sandies in second place. Borger has a 2-0 mark. The Plainmen, coached by Dave Cook, have played only one district contest and lost that one to Borger last week.

Monterey started out the season by losing four of the first five games. Then the Plainmen marched back to take six straight victories before bowing to Borger, 66-64. Tuesday night they beat the strong Odessa Bronchos, early conquerors of Amarillo and Palo Duro, 82-71.

The Plainmen have won seven of their 13 games and have scored an average of 60.5 points per game while holding the opposition to 64 points per game. The Harvesters have averaged over 70 points per game and held opponents to 58.5 points per game.

Tallest man in the Monterey lineup is Dick Delike, 6-4 center. Three other starters stand 6-1: forward Mike Shipman, guard Blair Cherry Jr., and Tiny Godsey, a forward. Guard Dale Glaze stands 5-10.

Monterey's leading scorer is Dale Glaze with 196 points in 12 games. Glaze is an outside shooter and hits accurately on set shots instead of jumps. Denike relies on the hook and he's expected to be one of that city's finest bore he's through.

Glaze and Rex Vardeman, a jump shooter who has been out of action part of the time, are the only returning lettermen. Cook's team is described as another of his run-and-shoot squads.

The Harvesters will probably start Jerry Pope, 6-1, and Sam Condo, 6-2, at forwards; Tommy Gindorf, 6-4, at center; Dickie Mauldin, 5-11, and Bill Brown, 5-11, at guards.

Pope leads the Harvesters in scoring with 255 points. Condo has 215, Mauldin 205, Brown 196 and Gindorf 15.

'Pretty Boy' Floyd Came After Pal

Sultry Morning Greeted With The Crack Of Guns

EDITORS NOTE:
Nearly 24 years ago the crackle of machine gun and pistol fire sounded above the early morning traffic, hum near Kansas City's midtown Union Station. When it subsided five men were dead, two wounded and a new chapter was written in the history of crime. It was the abortive attempt by gangsters Pretty Boy Floyd, Verne Miller and Adam Richetti to spring their pal Frank Nash from his police captors. The author of the following dispatch, Margaret Plummer Richards, of United Press, was the only reporter there as slugs ricocheted a cross the board station plaza. The first of a two-part series, in which Mrs. Richards recounts her first big story, follows:

By MARGARET PLUMMER RICHARDS
United Press Staff Correspondent
KANSAS CITY (UP)—Two men lay sprawled beside the car, one of a long line of vehicles parked in front of the Union Station here. Rivulets of blood ran along the pavement, lengthening in a slow ooze. I stepped over them and onto the car's running board. In the back seat, crumpled like marionettes discarded by a child, were the forms of two men. Another was behind the steering wheel, his head resting on the back of the seat, his eyes open, and his thick, dark hair only a little matted. He looked dead. So did the others, but a uniformed officer, distraughtly a speech disjoined, was repeating "that one's alive. He's alive." There could be no question about yet another body, fallen beside the left front fender. That man was dead.

ultimately to be recounted in the halls of Congress and to play a part in enactment of legislation which strengthened the Federal Bureau of Investigation to its present powerful status.

Five killed
Five men were killed that morning, June 17, 1933: Raymond Caffrey, an FBI agent; Otto Reed, McAlester, Okla., chief of police; Frank Hermonson and W. J. Grooms, detectives on the Kansas City police force; and the man who had been their prisoner, crime lord Frank Nash, apprehended the previous day in Hot Springs, Ark.

Their killers escaped but in the end met death "as violent as theirs." Pretty Boy Floyd* in an Ohio court where he chose to "shoot it out" with officers.

Verne Miller at the hands of gangsters who dumped his mangled and beaten body on a Michigan highway; and Adam Richetti—in a gas cubicle at Jefferson City, where he was executed by the State of Missouri for his part in the horror of that sultry Saturday morning.

I began in astacatto burst, barely loud enough to be heard above the rumbling of hand trucks on the mail platform before the station, a burst that might have been only a popping of a string of "lady finger" firecrackers.

But in the next seconds, louder, single shots punctuated the traffic noise and I began to run toward the station, a block away. It seemed a long block and as my breath failed I slowed to a walk.

"You green cub," I told myself, "somebody probably is saluting a visiting governor."

Then I remembered seeing the news — three or them. They had been walking sedately beside the station and as the shots sounded they had broken into a near run, their habits flopping against their plan.

In a moment, the area in front of the station was filled with running people. Crowds flowed around the parked cars.

A wounded man, an FBI agent though he did not reveal it in that frenzied moment, leaned against the rear of the car. He survived, as did a more seriously wounded FBI man, who lay in the rear seat. Those two were R. J. Vetterli and F. J. Lasky. Still another FBI agent, Frank Smith, had climbed out, unscathed by the murderous fire.

Took Chance on Reporter
Men in overalls, in the uniforms of station porters, and in business suits rushed up in wild confusion and ran off again, shouting questions at each other. There were no answers in those first moments. Something had happened that wouldn't happen — not on a busy railroad station plaza in the heart of a big city on a busy morning.

My boss, the late Gerry Overton, didn't think it could have happened, either, on that first phone call.

"You mean to tell me," he said, "that four men — maybe five — have been killed in a machine gun fight in front of the Union Station — and just now?"

When I said yes, he told me to "go over the whole business again."

Still breathless and gasping, I recited it again. There was a pause and finally he said: "well, kid, I guess I got to ride with you some day and this might as well be it."

He was dictating the bulletin as he hung up. I ran back into the maelstrom of people questioning each other.

Tomorrow's dispatch will tell of a speedily formulated plot to free Nash, how it exploded into an unplanned massacre, and what trapped the men who laid the plan.

BITTER ONE FROM BRITAIN—This political cartoon, which appeared recently in the London Daily Express, indicates British Cartoonist Cummings' attitude toward U.S. policy in the Middle East, as announced by President Eisenhower. It shows the President leading a parade, carrying a banner bearing a parody of "Rule, Britannia." This version goes "America, America, America rules the waves. GI's never, never, never shall be slaves." Behind Ike marches Secy. of State Dulles, garbed in a colonial governor-general's uniform. Next, Vice President Nixon carries a banner reading: "The battle of Suez was won on the putting greens of Augusta." To the side, at left, Sir Anthony Eden waves a handkerchief. The overall caption is "But we, of course, are strictly noncolonial."

Some Hollywood Stories Pale Those On Screen

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD (UP)—The zany kidnaping of actress Marie McDonald adds another chapter to the shocking real-life Hollywood dramas that find the stars enact on the screen.

The beautiful Marie's story that she was forced at gunpoint to endure 24 hours of terror is the biggest "crime" in film town since the shooting of agent Jennings Lang by producer Walter Wanger in 1951.

"Hollywood shook with scandal when Wanger fired two slugs into the groin of the man he thought was stealing the love of his wife, Joan Bennett. Wanger and Miss Bennett reconciled following his release from prison. Lang's wife died of a heart attack and he later married actress Monica Lewis.

Robert Mitchum's arrest on charges of smoking marijuana in 1948 was another "scandal" that made headlines. The suicide of Carole Landis earlier that year was one of Hollywood's biggest tragedies. Her body was discovered by Rex Harrison.

Hollywood's first big "crime" was the 1921 death of showgirl Virginia Rappe at a wild party in San Francisco. The late Fatty Arbuckle, a top comedian, was tried for the crime and acquitted.

The 1922 William Desmond Taylor murder was — until Miss McDonald's mysterious case — Hollywood's biggest unsolved mystery. The Paramount producer — director was shot in his lavish bachelorette home after bidding good-night to the late star, Mabel Normand. Another glamorous beauty questioned in the case was Mary Miles Minter, whose love letters to Taylor were found in his home.

The Thelma Todd case in 1935 was equally as baffling. The blonde comedienne's bruised body was found in her monoxide-filled car in the beach home garage of her cafe business partner, Roland West. Was it murder, accident or suicide? Stars testified at a county grand jury investigation but authorities never did establish definite proof as to the cause of the death.

The shooting of director Thomas Ince in the '20's has never been solved.

Other tragedies were the death of Barbara Lamar from narcotics in 1924 and the suicide of Lupe Velez in 1944.

Paternity suits involving Errol Flynn, Charles Chaplin and Wallace Beery were other Hollywood

Good Bet Is Nixon Against The Field In '60 Elections

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—A good winter book bet today would be Richard M. Nixon against the field for the next Republican presidential nomination.

The political breaks have been going for the young man from California in the weeks since his reelection as vice president. The biggest break, of course, was the fact that he and President Eisenhower polled a record vote last November.

First Aid Class To Begin Next Week

Mrs. Libby Shotwell, executive secretary of the Pampa chapter, American Red Cross, reported this morning that an advanced first aid class will be held in the chapter's office in City Hall beginning next Tuesday at 7 p.m.

Their tally seems to have refuted the claims of Nixon's opponents that he would cost the ticket some millions of votes. Nixon's greatest political disadvantage is the fear of some Republican leaders that he would not be a prime vote getter on his own.

Lefors Tower To Be Cleaned

LEFORS — (Special) — At the regular monthly business meeting of the Lefors City Council held Monday night Jan. 7 at 7:30, plans were discussed to have the city water tower cleaned.

Identical doubts served to kill off the late Robert A. Taft's chances for the Republican presidential nomination.

"I like Taft, but—" was the way millions of Republicans backed into their explanations of why they wanted some other presidential nominee. These doubts will severely handicap Nixon.

Takes Filibuster Stand

To their further confusion, Nixon was given an opportunity last week to take a position on the Senate filibuster dispute. Nixon's position placed him right in the middle of the so-called liberal camp. Moreover, it placed him on record with Negro voters as one of those whose interpretation of Senate filibuster rules would favor enactment of far-reaching civil rights legislation at this session of Congress.

Mr. Eisenhower's selection of Nixon to investigate the situation of Hungarian refugees in Austria was a publicity jackpot. To the confusion of his left-wing detractors, Nixon returned from Austria a champion of relaxed immigration regulations.

Finally Believed His Eyes and Ears!

He has heard and read a great many wonderful things about this new 1957 Cadillac since it made its first appearance a few brief weeks ago — about its magnificent new luxury, for instance... its brilliant new power and responsiveness... its marvelous new handling ease... and its extraordinary new smoothness of ride.

And so, quite frankly, he began to wonder if it weren't all too good to be true. Could any motor car be as wonderful as this latest "car of cars" was reputed to be?

Well, he's decided to put his eyes and ears to the test today. And the verdict is unmistakable!

It's a joy just to lean back into those deep, soft cushions and look out over that graceful hood into the beckoning highway.

And what a revelation the car is to drive!

A curve in the road ahead? He simply follows it with the arc of his hands and the car responds with perfect obedience.

A hill in the offing? He just nudges the accelerator and the car sweeps up and over as effortlessly as if it were traveling the level road.

A stop light coming up? He presses his toe — ever so gently — on the broad braking pedal and comes to the smoothest, surest stop imaginable.

Yes, it's true what they say about this newest of Cadillacs. This is far and away the finest motor car ever to travel the world's highways.

How about you? Have you heard the wonderful things they're saying about the 1957 Cadillac? Well, the proof is in the driving — and the facts about Cadillac have never been more convincing.
