Contract For Paving Let By Commission

The contract for paving 40 units of unpaved streets in Pampa was awarded to Ray Boswell at a meeting of the City Commission yesterday afternoon. The bids had been opened by the commission at 10 a.m., yesterday but a delay resulted in the awarding of the contract when the commissioners requested a check on the bids submitted by Boswell, of Pampa, and Don Baker, of Borger, the only other bidder. Tabulation results showed that the bid of Boswell was $175,585.64 instead of the $174,358.92, which the bid stated. The bids are based on a unit price for each yard, or other measurement of materials, and the extension for the total estimated job was in error. The bid submitted by Baker was changed from $173,556.32 to $173,556.41 when a three-cent error was discovered. Even though Boswell submitted the high bid, it was the opinion of the commissioners that his bid was the most advantageous to the city as the bid called for a caliche base while the bid submitted by Baker called for a sand and gravel base. The ventilation of the dressing rooms in the new swimming pool, being built on Crawford, was discussed and the commissioners authorized John Koonz, city purchasing agent, and "Jiggs" Cook, city director of public works, to advise the contractor to provide the type of ventilation that is best suited in the opinion of the two men. A change in the controlling of stock, tools and gasoline at the city warehouse was also discussed and the commissioners approved a plan to place a man in charge of stock control. The commissioners learned that under present operation procedures, there is no control on stock, tools checked out or on the filling of city vehicles at the gas pumps. It was pointed out that city employees have been placing gas in the cars they use and sometimes tickets are not made out charging the gas to the department using the vehicle. It was decided to transfer a man from another job to handle the stock control duties and, if necessary, hire a man to fill the job he is now doing. In general discussion, the commissioners also talked of the pay rates of city employees and of shortages of personnel in some departments. No action was taken on either of these items.

Incest Is Charged In Wheeler

A charge of the crime of incest upon his 17-year-old daughter was filed against Jimmy Lee Clark, 56, of Wheeler in the District Court at Wheeler last night, according to Bill Waters, district attorney. Waters reported that two daughters of Clark had reported the incident to Sheriff Bus Dorman of Wheeler County late yesterday and that after Dorman learned of the case the district attorney was notified and he went to Wheeler. The case was investigated by Dorman and Waters last night and the charge was filed against Clark early this morning. Sheriff Dorman could not be contacted by phone this morning to learn if Clark had posted bond or the amount of the bond. Waters stated that before he left Wheeler this morning Clark had been placed in jail. The case will be presented to the Wheeler County Grand Jury at the next session of the jury to determine what action will be taken by the court, Waters concluded.

Bible School Planned For Handicapped

A vacation Bible school designed for children physically handicapped or otherwise unable to attend the regular church school will be conducted at the First Baptist Church July 15-19. This Bible school for exceptional children is something new in our church program. Bob Strobe, educational director said. The school, for children six years and above, is scheduled for 8:30 to 5 p.m. each day next week. A faculty has been selected and will follow a special course of Bible stories, character stories, memory work and handicraft. It will be free to all children. "We want everyone knowing of any exceptional child to urge the parents to send the child to this Bible school regardless of the family's faith," Strobe said. More information can be had by contacting Strobe or phoning the church office.

Windows Are Broken In New House

A report that a large number of windows were broken in a house in the north part of town was being investigated late this morning by H. A. Doggett, juvenile officer. Doggett reported that the broken windows were reported to Sheriff Rufe Jordan and that apparently the vandals are the work of teenagers. In making the report, Doggett stated, "The parents of teenagers in Pampa need to wake up and control the activities of their children. If they do not stop the vandalism and burglaries by the teenagers in Pampa the parents of those responsible will be in court one of these days with their children." The exact number of windows broken had not been determined late this morning and Doggett was still continuing the investigation.

The Building and Architect Committee of the Pampa Community Hotel Company will meet at 4 p.m. today in the Pampa Chamber of Commerce conference room to hear sub-committee reports. E. R. Cantrell, architect, will meet with the group and building plans are to be discussed. Cantrell recently revised his original plans when it was learned they would cost considerably more than the maximum price set for construction. C. P. Buckler, is heading the committee. Man Is Fined After Shooting On July 4

Leo Samuel, owner of the Owl Bar, 405 Maple, pleaded guilty to an aggravated assault charge and was fined $100 and court costs in County Court yesterday afternoon. Samuel shot Lucius Dinkins, 406 Oklahoma, with a snub-nose .38 pistol in the bar about 11:30 p.m., July 4. The shooting occurred after a heated argument between the two men. Dinkins was hit just below the heart, but is apparently on the road to recovery. He attended the court session yesterday. Attending physicians said no vital organ was injured. Samuel said that he shot Dinkins after the latter had pulled a knife, lunged at him and bit him (Samuel) on the shoulder. Dinkins was rushed to Highland General Hospital immediately after the affray in a private car.

Three Places Are Burglarized Here

Two young boys from Skellytown were arrested at 1:10 this morning as they were burglarizing the Top o' Texas Drive In Theatre, 2115 N. Hobart. The two youths, one 15 and the other 12, were arrested by a city officer after they had broken a plate glass window in the front of the concession stand at the theater the officer stated. The boys had thrown a large rock through the window. The arresting officer reported that the two youths were "loaded down with candy, ice cream and gum" when apprehended and that he removed them from the concession building through the window they had used to enter the building. Following the arrest, the two boys were taken to the police station and turned over to H. A. Doggett, juvenile officer, who placed them in jail over night. The boys told officers that they had ridden their bicycles to Pampa from Skellytown last night. No hearing was held this morning in regards to the burglary by the two youths due to the absence of County Judge Bruce Parker, who is judge of the juvenile court. Judge Parker was getting a "check up" at a local doctor's office. In addition to this burglary, two other burglaries were reported to the police department this morning. One of these burglaries took place at a local business and the other happened at a private residence. The business entered during last night was the Goodyear Shoe Shop at 115 W. Foster. C. C. Raines, owner, reported to the police this morning that his shop had been entered during the night. Officers investigating the break-in reported that the burglars had broken the glass in a back window, had opened the window and entered the building. The store had been ransacked but the officers reported that Raines could find nothing missing this morning. Mrs. J. B. Hinkle, 806 E. Brown, reported at 5:05 this morning that someone had entered her house through the unlocked front door between 7 and 9:30 last night and had taken her billfold from the couch in the living room. She stated that the billfold was found near the hedge this morning by her husband and that $30, one $20 bill and one $10 bill, was missing from the billfold. Late this morning, the officers were continuing the investigation of the burglaries at the shoe shop and the private residence in an effort to learn the identity of the burglars from clues left at the scene. The officers reported that they believe that the same persons are responsible for these burglaries that were responsible for the recent rash of burglaries which have included barber shops, other businesses and private residences during the past three weeks.

Secret Papers Tell More Of Girard Case

By NEIL MACNEIL, United Press Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON (UP)—The secret Defense Department file on William S. Girard shows that the Army specialist third class claimed he fired from the hip and over the head of the Japanese woman he killed. Girard also said he did not believe the empty cartridge he fired would hurt anyone even if it hit them. He acknowledged he knew the grenade launcher he used to hurl the cartridge like a missile was accurate and that it would fire an empty shell "quite a ways." But the file also contains a sworn statement by Girard's Army buddy, Specialist 3-c Victor M. Nickle, that Girard fired from the shoulder after aiming directly at the woman. Nickle, who was with Girard when Girard fired the fatal shot, also said he and Girard first coaxed the woman and other Japanese civilians close enough so Girard "could take a shot at them." A copy of the secret Defense Department file—10 pages in all—was made available to the United Press today.

In Prague

Khrushchev Starts Visit

By HENRY SHAPIRO, United Press Staff Correspondent PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (UP)—Soviet Communist Party Leader Nikita Khrushchev began a nine-day visit to Prague today by accusing the West of trying to start a "counter revolution" in Czechoslovakia and other Eastern European Communist countries. "But this, comrades, will never happen," Khrushchev told a cheering crowd. The Soviet party chief looked fresh and buoyant as he swung down from a special train at the central station wearing a jaunty new Panama hat. Bulganin Looks Tired In contrast, Premier Nikolai Bulganin appeared tired and drawn after their 24-hour "whistle stop" trip across Czechoslovakia from the Soviet border. Bulganin's eyes were bloodshot as with great fatigue. Khrushchev told an elite and respectfully attentive audience that the West planned to "regenerate" Germany "in the role of shock force in the preparation of a new war." "We must be vigilant," Khrushchev said. "There is a constant danger of war as long as imperialism exists." The crowd in City Hall Square had been matched only once before this year—when American Olympic athlete Harold Conolly of Boston cut through Iron Curtain red tape to marry his Czech Olympic sweetheart, Olga Fikotova. The globe trotting Soviet glad handlers arrived by train at 9 a.m. (4 a.m. e.d.t.) at Prague's Central Station and were greeted by a crowd of 200,000 which packed the square in front of the station. Czech Communist Party leaders including President Antonin Zatopecky were in the reception committee. Czech and Soviet flags decorated the entire city. There were huge banners proclaiming "Long live Russian-Czech friendship." Troops and police lined the Russians' route. Bulganin and Khrushchev arrived in Czechoslovakia from Lvov in the Ukraine where they had flown from Moscow. They immediately set out on a whistle stop campaign through the eastern provinces like two electioneering politicians. They kissed small girls, received bouquets and made speeches from railroad cars. If it comes from a Hardware Store, we have it. Lewis Hdw. (Adv.)

Bulganin May Fall Himself

By DONALD J. GONZALES, United Press Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON (UP)—Experts piecing the recent Kremlin shake-up together said today Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Soviet Communist Party boss Nikita Khrushchev apparently failed to see eye-to-eye at an important stage of the party's power battle. If Bulganin made a miscue the old Bolshevik may barely have escaped being purged himself. Some evidence indicating a recent change in Bulganin's stature in the Soviet Communist Party hierarchy has been detected even though he is now in Czechoslovakia on tour with Khrushchev. Bulganin has been eased out of first place in outlining Soviet industrial policies and progress at Communist Party Central Committee meetings. The Tables Turned In July, 1955, and again in December, 1956, Bulganin gave important reports on Soviet industry and management at Central Committee meetings. (See BULGANIN, Page 3)

Mrs. VanSickle 2nd '57 Traffic Fatality

Pampa's second traffic fatality of the year occurred at 7:20 last night when Mrs. Iva Stevens VanSickle, 35, 404 Graham, died as the result of injuries she received in a collision at 6:05 p.m. yesterday. Officers reported that Mrs. VanSickle was driving a 1952 Mercury and at the time of the collision on Brown, 70 feet west of Gray; she was going west. The Mercury struck the back of a 1957 Chevrolet truck, owned by Monarch Lumber Company and driven by Argues Elmo Poole, 1057 Varnon Dr., according to the officers. The collision occurred, the officers stated, as the truck was attempting a left turn into the driveway of the Monarch Lumber Company. Police said the driver of the truck was making an "illegal left turn across the double stripe" and that as the front of the truck crossed the stripes, the Mercury driven by Mrs. VanSickle struck the back of the truck. Apparently Mrs. VanSickle was blinded by the sun, the officers reported, as she made no apparent effort to stop and there were no skid marks. The young son of Mrs. VanSickle, Terry Lee 2, was in the car at the time of the collision. The officers reported that he was thrown into the windshield by the impact. The woman and her son were taken to Highland General Hospital for treatment and Mrs. VanSickle died approximately an hour after arrival. The youth was treated for minor cuts and injuries and was released. The first traffic fatality in Pampa this year occurred on Jan. 28 when Patrick Edward McPheet, 47, 508 S. Ballard, died as the result of injuries he received when struck by a car in the 400 block of W. Brown. Both of the traffic fatalities occurred in the same block of W. Brown. Funeral services for Mrs. VanSickle will be held at 3 p.m. Thursday in the Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home chapel. The Rev. E. Douglas Carver, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will officiate. Pallbearers will be Neil Herd, Raymond Jennings, W. M. Mitchell, Charles Ingram, Earl Bitch and J. B. Rose. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery. Survivors other than the one son, Terry, are the husband, Clyde F. VanSickle of Pampa; a father, O. S. Stevens of Dallas; three brothers, Eddy Ray, Charles and Orso, all of Dallas; and a sister, Miss Helen Stevens, also of Dallas.

GOP Grabbing The Ball In Rights Issue

By DAYTON MOORE, United Press Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON (UP)—Senate Republican leaders, figuring they have grabbed the political ball on the civil rights bill, took steps today to hold onto it. They asked GOP senators to keep any questions or doubts they have inside the Republican family and not commit themselves to amendments as yet. These moves were reported by Republican senators who declined use of their names following Tuesday's conference of all Senate Republicans. The GOP leaders, it was reported, think the Republican Party now has established its claim to sponsorship of the civil rights bill and will reap credit for its passage if it breaks through an expected filibuster and reaches the White House. After Negro Votes This in turn, they believe, will mean further gains for the GOP among Negro voters who began deserting the Democratic standard for the GOP ticket in 1956. In order to maintain this position they feel they must maintain outward unity behind the measure. The Senate today was debating a motion by Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) to consider the House-approved version of the administration's civil rights bill. The bill provides for a bipartisan commission to investigate alleged violations of voting rights and study "legal developments which constitute a denial" of civil rights, a new civil rights division in the Justice Department, authority for the government to seek injunctions or other civil court action against conspiracies to deprive persons of their civil rights, and the same authority to halt violations or threatened violations of Negro voting rights by private individuals as well as public officials. Filibuster Still To Come Senate leaders hoped for a vote on Knowland's motion this week-end or early next week. The expected favorable vote would clear the way for a long drawn-out debate—or filibuster—on the bill itself. Summary Of Issues WASHINGTON (UP)—Summary of main issues in the Senate debate on civil rights: Purpose of Bill To protect the civil rights of persons within the jurisdiction of the United States. Proponents contend its primary purpose is to protect voting rights of Negroes in the South. Opponents claim its language is broad enough to permit use of troops to enforce racial integration in schools and other public places. Basis For Fight Supporters contend the legislation is necessary for protection of constitutional rights of all Americans regardless of race. Opponents contend it gives the federal government, in the person of the attorney general, "autocratic" powers to enforce civil rights as he sees fit and break down the southern social system based on separation of races. Jury Trial The bill would empower the attorney general, through civil law procedure, to obtain federal court injunctions against violation or anticipated violations of civil rights. Persons disregarding such injunctions would be liable to a fine and jail sentence by a federal judge without a jury trial. Opponents contend this would be perverting the civil laws to deprive persons of their constitutional right of jury trial.

Graham To Hold Rally In Wall Street

By ALBIN KREBS United Press Staff Correspondent NEW YORK (UP)—Evangelist Billy Graham tackles "big money" today, precisely where he hopes his words will have their most pointed effect—in the heart of the Wall St. financial district.

The North Carolina Baptist minister holds an outdoor rally at Nassau and Wall Sts., on the steps of the U.S. Subtreasury Building, where George Washington delivered his historic first inaugural address.

Graham's 25-minute talk to the men of high finance was not to be his first on how "money corrupts," as he puts it. He has said repeatedly in his Madison Square Garden sermons that materialism "is the greed for and love of money" is one of America's great failings.

He has also said that "the accepted rule in business today is lying and cheating, stabbing competitors in the back, all for the sake of making more money."

Graham announced Tuesday night before his Garden sermon that "there's a good possibility" he will conduct a short crusade in Buffalo, N.Y., this fall, as a "logical follow-up" to his New York Crusade.

He announced also that he will conduct a crusade in Charlotte, N.C., in the fall of 1958. Graham has lived in Charlotte and maintains his home in Montreat, N.C.

militee meetings. Khrushchev apparently barely survived the December meeting when Mikhail G. Perukhin was put in charge of a new Soviet industrial set-up.

When the Communist leaders met again in February, however, Khrushchev overturned the December decisions. Bulganin has not been the prime spokesman on industrial matters since the December meeting.

There is evidence Bulganin is more conservative than Khrushchev. At Leningrad last week end Bulganin delivered a much milder speech than Khrushchev. He also referred to Georgi M. Malenkov, Vyacheslav M. Molotov and Lazar M. Kaganovich as "comrades."

Malenkov, Molotov and Kaganovich now may face expulsion from the Communist Party and even criminal charges following their ouster from their Kremlin posts, officials here believed.

They said if Khrushchev moves to liquidate any of the three it would indicate he was bidding for absolute power on the Stalin pattern. Thus far Khrushchev has not sought to take over the life-and-death power held by the late Josef Stalin.

But he has packed the Communist Party's high command with his own supporters in a move to choke off further opposition. He increased the top presidium from 11 members and 7 alternates to 15 members and 9 candidates members.

Of the 24 new members, 6 were Khrushchev's direct subordinates on the Communist Party secretariat. Seven others were regional party leaders.

Mary Martha Unit Has Social Meet

(Special to The News)

LEFORS The Mary Martha Sunday school class of the First Baptist Church met recently in the civic center for their monthly social with Mrs. Albert Stokes as hostess.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. David Robinson. Plans were made to paint the classroom, incorporating the help of their husbands. New curtains will also be made to complete the redecorating.

Secret pin gifts were exchanged and refreshments of cake and punch were served.

Members present were Mmes. Albert Stokes, David Robinson, Luana Hill, Frank Cooksey, and Billy Keith.

The loose suit jacket and the belted suit make the No. 1 and No. 2 suit silhouettes for fall. The loose jacket may be semi-fitted, boxy or straight. We show the belted suit with its companion coat (left) in green tweed by Davidow. The four-button belted suit has longer jacket that's gathered and bloused at the back. Front has large patch pockets and scarf neckline. Many of the new suits come with their own overblouses.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

After breakfast 12-year-old Joyce went upstairs to get ready for Sunday school. When she came down she was wearing her new red-and-white-check dress—and some of the bright scarlet lipstick her aunt had recently given her.

Her mother said, "You'd better wipe that red off your mouth. You can't wear lipstick to Sunday school."

"Then I won't go to Sunday school!" Joyce flashed back. She was running back upstairs when her father took over, ordering her to wipe her lips and go out to the car. She obeyed, but so resentfully that her obedience was as disagreeable as her disobedience had been.

This was because Joyce believed that obeying her parents was doing them a favor, that it had no connection with her own safety.

She was wrong. At 12, Joyce hasn't developed the moral strength required to withstand the sharp disapproval she'd incur by wearing lipstick to Sunday school.

Why wasn't she told this? Why hasn't she been taught the truth: that obedience is not a favor to her parents but the preservation of her self-uncertain self-assurance?

Her mother and father themselves have not registered the peril of incurring too much disapproval.

They know the peril of incurring too much physical danger. So when Joyce was three, they found it easy to explain that she mustn't play with scissors lest she cut her hand. They knew that she hadn't developed the physical controls required to manage the scissors safely.

But at 12, when she wants to play with more sharp criticism than she has the moral controls to manage safely, they're not ready with the truthful explanation of why she mustn't.

They don't say, "You can't wear lipstick to Sunday school lest your self-respect get cut up too painfully."

The secret of teaching obedience to older children is teaching it as moral self-protection.

To so teach it, we ourselves must be aware of the peril of incurring more hate than we have love to overcome. All children have experienced the pain inflicted by intense disapproval. They appreciate obedience only when it is shown to be protection against this pain.

Loose Jackets Make Big Suit News This Fall With Relaxed Silhouettes

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor
NEW YORK (NEA) — Relaxed. That's the word that's fitting about as descriptive of the new fall suits.

It's a word that fits well. This is the season of the loosened suit jacket, of the belt, of wool jersey. The loose jacket, lightly shaped or straight, appears in the collection of every top designer.

Next in importance comes the belted suit, either single or double-breasted and sometimes bloused at the back. It may be collared in fur, have a coat as companion or be both casual and elegant. In any form, it's the No. 2 suit-silhouette this year.

Wool jersey, in heavier weights and in tweed, knit and ribbed effects, is an important suit fabric for all. The Chanel influence has played a large role here just as it has in the actual jacket line—boxy, straight or semi-fitted.

This is the year of the fur-trimmed suit for daytime wear. You can name your fur—and your fur color—and have it. Black furs are high fashion whether they're black on black (mink on broadcloth) or black on wool in one of the amethyst, bronze-green or flame tones. Winter navy takes to fur trim, too.

Most skirts follow slim lines but many of them are notched at either side of the hemline to reveal an attached underskirt of the same fabric. Some designers show the skirt with pleats all around, manipulated to hang straight and free. Skirts are shorter, not longer. But they are not drastically shorter and only one house is showing some knee-length designs.

Overblouses in chiffon, wool jersey, silk, satin or lightweight polyester are natural companions for the suit with straight jacket.

Girls who are still using their old, stiffened petticoats for wear under full-skirted dresses should take a look at the new petticoats. These are soft, made of fabrics like batiste. They give skirts a gentle, not a ballooning, fullness.

Local Members Of Rainbow Assembly Receive Appointments In Dallas

At the 34th annual grand assembly for Rainbow Girls held July 2-3 in Dallas, Tex., Miss Shirley Hankhouse, past Worthy Advisor of Pampa Assembly No. 95, received an appointment as Junior Member of the Grand Examining Committee. Miss Rose Helen Fields, past Worthy Advisor of White Deer Assembly No. 123, was appointed as Junior Member of the Grand Records Committee.

Five thousand Rainbow Girls convened in Dallas for the grand assembly.

Mrs. V. C. Whitfield, program director for the assembly, pointed out that one of the most important benefits for the members of the organization is learning to work together. Through working with their adult advisors, Mrs. Whitfield said, the girls learn to appreciate what adults do for them.

Character forming, she adds, is a major purpose of the order. The several offices in the organization emphasize and develop various traits. First are faith, hope and charity, exemplified by the prominence of the Bible in the ritual of the Rainbow meetings and the charitable projects of the local assemblies.

Other symbolic offices in the Rainbow program are love, religion, nature, immortality, fidelity, patriotism and service.

The grand assembly opened Monday evening with addresses of welcome by Mayor R. L. Thornton and Paul Turney of Sonora, most worshipful grand master of the most worshipful grand lodge of Texas AF&AM, and Mrs. Mildred Harris of Houston, right worthy conductress, general grand chapter, Order of the Eastern Star.

A memorial service followed by election of officers was held on Tuesday, at which time Misses Hankhouse and Fields received their appointments.

An initiation service was conducted on Tuesday evening following the annual banquet. On Wednesday evening, a twilight installation service was held for the newly-elected officers, followed by a reception and dance.

Miss Sylvia Grider was a member of the Grand Choir at this session.

Members and their advisors attending from Pampa were Misses Shirley Hankhouse, Sylvia Grider, Sharon Summers, Kristi Brown, Kay McMurray, Maynette Loftus, and Marianna Perkins. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Grider, Mmes. Howard Brown and Crystal Hankhouse, from the White Deer Assembly, Miss Rose Helen Fields and Mrs. Charles Fields.

"I've killed a child—"

Just by taking a foolish chance.

No one expects to meet death on the road. No one expects to cause it. Yet, last year 40,000 Americans died in traffic accidents.

Most of these deaths can be prevented—with your cooperation.

Here's how you can help:

1. Drive safely, courteously yourself. Observe speed limits, warning signs. Where traffic laws are obeyed, deaths go DOWN!
2. Insist on strict enforcement of all traffic laws. They work for you, not against you. Where traffic laws are strictly enforced, deaths go DOWN!

Kitchen Curtains Is Topic For Goodwill

The Goodwill Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. George Perkins, 1918 Chris Cole, recently. A short business meeting was conducted by Mrs. A. P. Coombes, president.

Mrs. Worth Nelson gave an illustrated program on "Kitchen Curtains" using samples furnished by Miss Helen Dunlap, county Home Demonstration agent.

Mrs. Nelson said, "Kitchen curtains should add color to the room or add to the color scheme. They should be light and airy and should not close out much light. Color combinations should be with either related or complimentary colors."

"The spirit of the room," Mrs. Nelson went on to say, "is determined by the texture of the curtains. The size of the design is determined by the size of the room. Curtains with a figure or plaid should be used in a kitchen with plain walls."

Mrs. Nelson explained that some of the qualities to look for in a curtain are: color fastness, shrinkage, fire, soil resistance, easily laundered, resistant to flexing and drapes nicely. "In selecting curtains, one should determine whether the curtain is to let in as much light as possible, or to cover up window."

Those attending the meeting were Mrs. Clifford Dunham, a guest; Mmes. Boyd Maule, Johnny Johnson, A. P. Coombes, George Perkins, Worth Nelson, Tandy McGlohon, J. M. Hahn, James Smathers.

Refreshments of cookies, nuts, punch with lime sherbet and ginger ale were served.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Boyd Maule, east of city, on July 16.

DODGE outpulls "other two" low-priced trucks!

CERTIFIED PHOTO. Dodge provides 1550 lbs. pull (3 x 400 gauge reading).

CERTIFIED PHOTO. Truck "C" starts 1440 lbs. pull (3 x 400 gauge reading).

CERTIFIED PHOTO. Truck "F" gives you 1440 lbs. pull (3 x 400 gauge reading).

Here's the scientific way to measure the actual pulling power a truck can deliver to its rear wheels. All three low-priced trucks were hooked up, one by one, to a special dynamometer truck. Each was comparably equipped and test-loaded.

Super-sensitive gauges inside the dynamometer truck register the maximum pull of each truck at 10 m.p.h. Insets in photos above show actual gauge readings in each case. To convert these readings into pounds, simply multiply them by three.

The results are conclusive evidence that Dodge Power Giants give you a third more pulling power than either of the "other two" low-priced makes. And this is just one of a series of tests that prove Dodge is the best truck of the low-priced three.

American League Defeats National, 6-5, In All Star Tilt

Wrong Guessing, Second Guessing Is Story Of Game

By ED SAINSBURY
United Press Sports Writer
ST. LOUIS (UP)—Wrong guessing and second guessing told the tale of the All-Star Game, a 6-5 win for Casey Stengel's American League team to break a two-game victory streak by Brooklyn Dodger manager Walt Alton and the National League.

Stengel didn't want to start rookie right hander Jim Bunning of Detroit Tuesday. And he wanted to keep Boston's Ted Williams in left field for offensive punch. He wanted to open the game with Cleveland's veteran Early Wynn, and he would have, except that Wynn pitched seven innings Sunday against Stengel feared he would be tired.

So Bunning was the standout of the 12 hurlers who appeared. He retired nine men in order and got credit for the win when his mates got two runs in the second inning. Wynn gave up three hits and two runs later in 1-3 of an inning. Stengel partially carried out his strategy with Williams. He let the Boston star step to the plate four times, and he walked once and went out three times. Then, nursing a 3-2 lead, he put Chicago's Minnie Minoso into left field for defensive purposes.

Minoso started both on offense and defense. He rapped a double off the right center field wall in the ninth inning to drive home Al Kaline of Detroit with what proved to be the winning run.

Defensively, Minoso turned in two key plays. When the National League was threatening to tie in the ninth inning, Hank Foiles was on second base after a single and a walk to Gus Bell.

Don Mossi struck out Eddie Matusz and Ernie Banks lined a single to left to score Foiles easily. But Minoso played the ball expertly and when Bell tried to go to third base, Minoso threw perfectly to Frank Malzone for the second out as Banks took second.

Stengel brought in his own Yankee reliever, Bob Grim, when Gil Hodges pinch hit for the National League, and Grim threw only two itches. The first was outside. The second was lined to left field, where Minoso made a short run to catch the ball and the game.

"If Williams had been in there," some onlookers said, "he wouldn't have made that throw and he wouldn't have caught the ball."

Alton Second Guesed
Alton was the target for the second guessers. Why didn't he order Mathews to bunt with no outs, two runs in, the typing runs on first and second?

"How'd I know Banks would hit?" the Dodger manager asked. "If I had, I would have."

National League starter Curt Simmons, appearing in the All-Star Game for the third time, was the losing pitcher as he gave up a single to Mickey Mantle, a walk to Williams, a single to Vic Wertz and a walk to Yogi Berra in the second inning. Then with one run in, Lew Burdette came in. And though he got two men out, he walked Harvey Kuenn to force in another score.

Bill Skowron doubled in the sixth, advanced on Jack Sanford's wild pitch, and scored on Yogi Berra's single.

In the ninth, Billy Pierce began the winning surge with a single and he got to second when Red Schoendienst bobbled Gil McDougald's grounder for an error.

At Leads Series 14-10
Nellie Fox sacrificed and both runners scored on Kaline's single. Mantle struck out, the only American League to do so, but Minoso's double was the finishing punch.

The National League netted two runs on singles by Willie Mays and Ed Bailey and Gus Bell's pinch double in the seventh off Wynn.

Then their rally fell short in the ninth. Stan Musial walked and Mays drove him home with a triple and scored himself on Pierce's wild pitch. That set the stage for Foiles to bat for Bailey and keep the chase alive.

It was the second victory in the last eight games for the American League and the 14th overall against 10 National League victories.

Pampa Roadrunners Belt Perryton Pioneers, 9-8

The Pampa Roadrunners broke an eighth-inning tie to edge a win over the Perryton Pioneers, 9-8, last night in a game played in Oil-er Park.

Blasting off to a big start the Roadrunners stacked up eight runs in the first inning with five hits off Pioneer hurler Baker before Perryton put John Burton in for mound relief. In a complete circuit of the batting order, lead-off man Bobby Seitz pelted two singles in the first inning.

Perryton managed one tally in the third inning and three in the fifth, but staged their biggest rally of the evening in the seventh when they tied the score at 8-8 with the help of a timely triple blasted by left fielder Savage.

Unable to score since the first inning the Roadrunners pushed over the winning run when Taylor and Secret both drew walks and a sacrifice play by pitcher Reynolds broke the tie.

Starting on the mound for Pampa, Max Molberg allowed six hits, three walks and 3 of the Perryton runs, while striking out five batters. Reynolds came in for relief in the sixth inning and pitched the remainder of the game, striking out three men while allowing three hits, two walks and the remaining five Perryton runs.

In the first inning Pioneer pitcher Baker allowed five hits, one walk and seven runs while striking out one man. He was relieved in the initial inning by Burton who pitched the remainder of the game and had six strike outs, allowing three hits, 11 walks and two runs.

The Roadrunners gained their runs off eight hits and left 13 men on base. Perryton managed nine hits with nine men left on.

It Begins With You

We are indebted to Leonard Read, president of the Foundation for Economic Education, and at one time head of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, for a bit of homely philosophy.

In discussing the problem of socialism, nee communism, in this country Read gives short shrift for the reformers and organizers who seek to impinge their will upon the minds of others: Read's contention is that we can only get rid of these alien philosophies when enough individuals, separately and individually, undertake to so live their lives and conduct their thinking that as individuals they will not in the slightest degree become a party to socialism or communism.

This enthusiastic devotee of individualism suggests that in acquiring a course of wisdom and thus, wise action, influence is one thing and pressure another.

"No person should be subjected to the pressure of conversion," he counsels. "Each person should think and move as if toward a philosophy of freedom as his own wisdom and conscience permit him to go, freely and of his own violation, and not because he is a party to some organization which is exerting coercive pressure, even intellectually, upon him."

To support this thesis, Mr. Read gives us this illustration.

Let us suppose that you are a member of a golf club. Some 200 persons belong. As a member, you are enthusiastic about good golfing, and it pains you considerably to see duffers on the green. However, in a brutally frank analysis of yourself, you are compelled to the conclusion that you are probably the biggest duffer of them all. What degree of welcome do you think you would have if, in your spare time, you solicited each member of the club, exhorting him to play "scratch" golf? Since it is apparent to all that you, yourself, are a duffer at it, what chances do you think you would have in trying to convert others to be better golfers? Wouldn't the others shy away from you? Wouldn't they believe you to be a pest? And wouldn't you in fact be a nuisance and a bore?

However, instead of working on the other players, trying to get them to improve their respective games, suppose you set out to improve your own game. And let us suppose, still further, that after diligent concentration you finally worked your way up in the ranks and down in total scoring. Suppose that finally you arrived at the place where Ben Hogan, Sam Snead and others had nothing on you. What happens then?

Obviously, at that point you do not need to proselyte in the name of golf. The other golfers, well aware of your proficiency which they would have observed, inadvertently, would beat a path to your door. Instead of your going to them, they would be coming to you.

No one can possibly learn anything from a person, however good his intentions may be, who himself doesn't know and demonstrate the thing he wants to teach. But once such proficiency is real and tangible, it is altogether likely that others, also anxious to improve themselves, will, in freedom, elect you as their teacher. For in the end, the student should select the teacher, not the teacher the student. All that the teacher can do is to conserve his own energies and those of his students, by demonstrating provable techniques and methods.

Additionally, the would-be superior golfer has made a great contribution to "scratch" golf. Instead of trying to tell others what to do, he has himself learned what to do. This improves the overall standard of the golf club by at least one "scratch" golfer. Yet all of his exhortation and urging, prior to his own proficiency, would have contributed nothing to the overall effectiveness of the club.

It is an interesting and instructive position Mr. Read takes. We think he is right. If you are tired of socialism and communism, begin with yourself. Learn the meaning and the intent of these alien philosophies so thoroughly that you employ self-discipline to the degree that you do not in any way give aid and comfort to them. If you do this, others will flock to you to learn what you do and how you do it. At that point, you no longer have to worry about the overall effort. It will succeed because there will be many who in themselves strive for the same thing you might have urged them to strive for. And as each person understands and weans himself away from the lure of "something for nothing" a ideology, the freedom ranks will expand.

In the end it must be that the man who really understands what freedom means, will himself find a way to be free.

The Doctor Says

By EDGAR P. JORDAN, M. D.

Judging by correspondence addressed to this column it is astonishing how many people are troubled by adhesions, or think they are.

It certainly is possible for adhesions (particularly in the abdominal cavity) to cause symptoms. However, if a person has vague symptoms it is too easy to feel that they are the result of adhesions.

They appear as slightly elastic fibers under the microscope. This is called fibrous tissue and the body tends to respond to any infection or injury by forming it. This response is not related to the particular nature of the damage, but is merely nature's attempt to heal.

If a patient has acute appendicitis and the appendix has ruptured, spilling the infection into the surrounding tissue, adhesions will often form. Other internal infections may also be followed by the formation of adhesions.

Adhesions may or may not produce complications later on. The fibrous tissue has a tendency to contract. Thus if adhesions have formed around a loop of the intestine, they may draw tighter and tighter, preventing the free flow of intestinal contents. This, in turn, can produce trouble and may require an operation to cut these bands of fibrous tissue and free the partly strangled intestine.

What to do for adhesions depends on where the adhesions are located, what normal structures of the body they surround and what this contraction is doing to the organs involved.

For some obscure reason some people tend to develop adhesions more easily than others. This raises a difficult problem because in such people new adhesions are likely to form even after old ones have been cut out.

The question is often raised as to whether there is any medicine which can be taken by mouth or injected which will dissolve the adhesions without resort to surgery. Unfortunately, this cannot be done. If the symptoms produced by adhesions are severe enough to require treatment the only thing which can be done is surgery.

The other question which quite commonly arises in connection with adhesions is whether they can turn into cancer. The tissue which goes to make up adhesions rarely, if ever, becomes cancerous.

But one must always be as certain as one can be that any symptoms which are being blamed on adhesions are really the result of their action rather than the result of some hidden cancer.

President McDonald On Steel Price Rise

The last thing that union labor brass hats want the public to know is that wages are paid by the consumer of their employer's product rather than by their employer.

United States Steel Corp. has announced a $6 per-ton increase in the price of steel starting July 1 to enable them to pay the increased wage going into effect on that date.

David J. McDonald, president of the steel worker's union, says: "Based on the corporation's own figures of total employment and hours worked, and of shipments of finished steel found in the most recent financial report issued, U.S. Steel could absorb the cost of the wage increase for the remainder of 1957, reduce steel prices by $6 a ton instead of raising them by that amount, and end 1957 with the greatest net profits after taxes in the history of the corporation."

If Mr. McDonald knows so much about the cost of producing things and what profits should be, why does not he, with others, produce steel for less rather than criticize those people who have had experience in raising total wages by adding to the wealth of the world. Mr. McDonald, and all other labor officials are parasites on society who create no wealth but live on the sweat of other people's brows. In fact, they are largely responsible for long periods of unemployment and keeping total production down and thus total wages down.

It is absurd for a man who has had no experience in producing wealth to be setting himself up as an authority on what wages and profits should be. Anyone who knows anything about the free American private enterprise system knows that no individual knows what prices and values should be. For any individual to set himself up as an authority on what prices should be is in effect to admit that he is a dictator at heart, that he is a law unto himself.

There can be no true value, no fair wages, no fair profits unless all people are permitted to help establish fair wages and fair profits. This, of course, McDonald and all unions refuse to admit. Their method of getting their men a fictitious wage is to threaten to strike and make the tools idle and the men idle and yet profess that they are not hurting anybody and benefiting all workers. How absurd and irrational can parasitic labor leaders be!

Profits

Mr. McDonald doesn't point out in his statement that profits are now figured in 40-cent or 50-cent dollars. He seems to think that the man who sacrifices and furnishes the tools should be paid off in the same number of 50-cent dollars as he expected to get on his investment on 100-cent dollars when he put his money into the enterprise. While McDonald expects the workers who have not saved and sacrificed in order to add to the wealth of the world, to get their wages increased not on a voluntary basis of supply and demand, but by collusion and coercion and blackmail.

McDonald doesn't explain that the statements made by the United States Steel and other corporations that he uses are the statements required by the federal government, that they show more profits than actually exist, because the federal government does not permit the corporations to set aside enough reserve to replace the tools that are worn out. Then to replace these tools the corporation has to dip into what is called "profits," which are not profits at all, to keep their plant in equal operating condition.

It would, indeed, be difficult for McDonald or any parasitic labor leader to tell the difference between their ideas of justice and fairness, other than degree, than those people who practice the law of the jungle. In fact, labor unions' method of arriving at wages is to practice the law of the jungle. If the employers do not agree, which the steel companies did, to rob their customers and thus reduce the real wages of their customers, then the unions simultaneously quit and idle millions of workers and billions of dollars worth of tools.

As this column has repeatedly said, labor unions never created a nickel's worth of wealth and have prevented billions of dollars worth of wealth from being created. Thus the total benefits that come from production have to be less than they would be if there were no collective bargaining labors and unions. And if one group of workers gets more than it earns on a free market basis, other workers must get less. In other words, when they take a bigger piece of pie from the same size pie, there is less pie left for other consumers.

The manufacturers of steel, like all other producers, have to earn a profit to benefit those who have sacrificed to furnish the tools. If they do not, they cannot get the capital, and if there were no capital, most of us would starve to never finished jobs, never added to the wealth of the world, to be selling hate and falsehoods and covetousness against those who have made it possible for wages to constantly increase, is certainly about as much nerve and gall and enmity as it is possible to think of. As this column has repeatedly said, about all there is in success is what to believe and who to believe.

If we want to know how to produce wealth and distribute it fairly on a free market basis, go

U. S. Organizes Show Of Strength To Keep Peace

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — The current reorganization and regrouping of American military, naval and air forces throughout the world, especially in the Far Pacific, results from top secret decisions made at the recent three-day conference of leading Army, Navy and Air strategists with Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson at the Quantico Marine Base. Now it can be told without violating security regulations.

It was decided there that the United States would stage such a worldwide demonstration of strength and readiness that it would disabuse both Russian and Chinese Communists of a thought of offensive action against the most exposed outposts of the free world.

The danger spots pinpointed were South Korea, Formosa, Southeast Asia and the Middle East. Besides arranging to place all our Pacific forces under the single command of Admiral Felix R. Stump, and to rearm South Korea units with modern weapons, it was decided to strengthen the Seventh Fleet off Formosa and the Sixth Fleet, now patrolling Eastern Mediterranean waters.

Russia, China and their satellites are now ringed completely by the most powerful and awe-inspiring land, water, air and atomic armadas.

GROMYKO'S COMPLAINT — Only a few weeks ago, Andrei Gromyko, Deputy Foreign Minister, called a special press conference — the first of its kind in several years — to complain bitterly against this encirclement. He referred specifically to General Lauris Norstad's testimony before a Congressional Committee that the U.S. NATO, American and Allied forces could devastate Russia with atomic bombardments.

The Kremlin and Mao Tse-tung also protested the Quantico decision to rearm United Nations troops in South Korea with postwar jet planes, tanks, communications equipment, artillery, machine guns, rifles, etc. Still a third objection was made when Ike ordered the Sixth Fleet to the Middle East to get the anti-Communist-Egyptian attacks on King Hussein in Jordan.

MOSCOW — PRIPPING M A Y PROTEST — In view of Moscow's demonstrated concern over this closing of the ring, it is expected that Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin on a Western proposal to set experts to work on details of an inspection system to enforce the ban on atomic and hydrogen weapons tests.

"To bring experts together is a waste of time."

to those who have been successful in doing it, and not to a leach on society like McDonald who lives by the sweat of other men's brows without creating any wealth himself.

The columns are open to any man who believes that wages are not paid by the consumers of what organized labor produces, to refute the above.

Stassen About Ripe To Buy Brooklyn Bridge

By HENRY McLEMORE

NEW YORK, N.Y. — I have a new game I play called, of all things, "Harold Stassen."

Every night before I go to bed I write down on a slip of paper what I think Mr. Stassen's next disarmament proposal to the Russians will be.

Then, next morning, I check with the newspapers to see how close I came.

If I'm anywhere near right I dig my bomb-shelter a foot deeper.

From where I sit, it looks to me as if Mr. Stassen is determined to win the Nobel Peace Prize for himself — even if he gets blown up by a Russian bomb on the way to Stockholm to receive it.

He gets more trusting of the Soviets every day. Someone is going to sell him the Brooklyn Bridge if he keeps on the way he is going. He appears ready to buy anything.

Of course, with diplomacy being what it is, Mr. Stassen might know something about the Russians the rest of us don't know. He might have discovered a streak of sweetness and kindness in them that justifies his suggestion that the U.S. and Russia lay down their arms and fall into an international embrace.

If so, shouldn't he tell us about it? Our knowledge of Russian maneuvering leads most of us to suspect Russia's leaders. Most of us wouldn't trust them as far as we could throw Messrs. B and K fully loaded.

Before Mr. Stassen goes much farther, why doesn't he reduce the relations of the U.S. and Russia from an international scale to a neighborhood scale? It might be a good idea.

Russia lives just down the block from the U.S. say. Outwardly Russia is a good neighbor and wants to be friends. The only thing that holds the U.S. back is the knowledge that in Russia's basement, Russia has six or seven neighbors locked up and chained. When the confined neighbors try to get out, Russia beats them with a buggy whip, starves them, and kills off the most rebellious ones.

When the U.S. questions Russia about these slaves, Russia says, "It is none of your business just so long as I act all right with you. Forget about those worthless souls, and let's shake hands."

That's a pretty mean neighbor to have as a friend. And to accept the hand of such a neighbor would make the U.S. a pretty mean, heartless fellow, too, if there is any such thing as decency left around.

Economically, the U.S. would benefit from friendship with Russia, I suppose, but morally I can't see it coming off so very well.

The same with China. Okay, so what if Mao Tse-tung, not Chiang Kai-shek, is the ruler of China's millions? What kind of a rule is it? Hitler ruled Nazi Germany, but that didn't mean we had to accept him, and sell to him, and seek his favor.

Many Americans are still disgusted with Spain because of its tie-up with Fascism, but these same Americans apparently aren't disgusted with China's tie-up with Communism. And one is 20 years old, and the other is as alive as the present second.

If it makes sense, then my head needs a going-over.

Fair Enough

Beck's Loudest Accuser Is Also Guilty Of Same

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

One of the charges against Dave Beck is "misappropriation" of union funds. Dave Dubinsky, the perpetual president-dictator of the Garment Workers' Union, is Beck's loudest accuser within the union racket. Dubinsky recently paid himself the most elaborate and revolting homage, and at the expense of his subjects, that anybody has dared express in his own behalf since the heyday of Adolf Hitler. Senator Barry Goldwater, of Arizona, hammers away on the obvious fact that "misappropriation" does not necessarily involve larceny. This should not need repeating, but I have been yelling it up for more than 20 years without result.

Dubinsky's henchmen insist endlessly and without provocation that he never stole a dollar. They protest at least enough, if not indeed too much. Why do the friends of an honest man feel obliged to go around bawling "Dubinsky is not a thief?"

But is he innocent of "misappropriation?"

Dubinsky runs a propaganda paper largely devoted to laudation of Dubinsky. I recently cited a typical, nauseating tribute to himself.

On March 1 and editorial entitled "Happy Birthday" said Dubinsky had recently "celebrated his 65th birthday in the modest manner on which he insisted."

The next sentence said he was "a great American" whose birthday should have been marked by "fanfare." In closing expression of that modesty, Dubinsky wished himself "continued good health" for many years, though many of his subject-victims would settle for much less.

The masthead of this paper, amusingly called "Justice," names Dubinsky as president and general secretary-treasurer, and one Leo Stein as "editor."

The front page of "Justice" for Feb. 15 was arch and sly. This one showed Dubinsky in the center of a group on board the U.S.S. Antietam, a carrier off Miami. He had binoculars. An unfortunate vice-admiral, E. W. Claxton, and a four-striper named W. A. Thorn were there "watching" American servicemen risk their lives in a political show ordered by an itinerant Secretary of the Navy named Thomas. Thomas soon hit the bricks back to California without answering a demand for the full roster of unioners whom he had invited on board to degrade patriotic servicemen by putting them through such a "demonstration."

Another in the picture was William F. Schmitz, recently elevated to the grand national headquarters of the AFL-CIO job trust after a career as president of the Bakers and Confectioners' Union. You have read recently that his filthy racket is infested with bums who give themselves Cadillac and that one of them had a pet prostitute on the union payroll for "organizing duties" of an unusual nature. On information and belief, I insist that the routine activities of a prostitute are not of an unusual nature in the union racket, especially at convention time. But all this aside, if you were a Navy man or a Marine how would you like this patriotic duty thrust upon American servicemen by order of the Pentagon with court-martial and disgrace for the alternative?

Now I come to the 25th anniversary of Dubinsky's presidency, celebrated at Madison Square Garden on June 13, again with the true, typical modesty of this Socialist tick on the corpus of American workers. There was not only the regular semi-weekly edition of "Justice," with a top-line reading "25 Years Dubinsky Presidency—ILGW Progress," but a slick-paper job in rotogravure, 20 pages of expensive cuts and text, all in praise of Dave Dubinsky, at the expense of subjects who well might hate his very tripe. There were tributes from Eleanor Roosevelt, Herbert Lehman, George Meany, A. A. Berle and Senator Irving M. Ives, smeared all over the back page. Berle is a New Deal nobody who last year was named "no place for nationalism in the Twentieth Century" American workmen had to pay for this political propaganda too.

Page one is a massive, "human-interest" study of the modest man at his desk. I counted 22 other photos of Dave in the same supplement, plus a school in China paid for in the sweat of American toolers but named for the glory of Dubinsky. There was also a banner for Adlai Stevenson, with Dubinsky standing just below.

In further humiliation of the American armed forces, "Justice" for May 15 has a big picture on page one showing Dubinsky with an Air Force General and seven other officers. The cutlines said "Pres. Dubinsky signs papers making available millions in ILG funds to finance homes at Stead Air Force Base, Nev." He now has more than 300 million to So perhaps "misappropriation" would be hard to prove. He had a million - and - a quarter to flip away to one foreign country for a hospital; almost a million more to another foreign country for a nautical school for children with no ships to go to sea in.

$600 Million In Payments For Soil Bank This Year

By G. LORD P. GODWIN
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—The government has contracted to pay about 600 million dollars this year to soil bank farmers who agree to take surplus crops out of production.

Yet government reports indicate this year's production of wheat, cotton, corn, rice and tobacco will be a bumper crop—comparable to the record output of 1955 and 1956.

Taxpayers naturally are asking: "How come? . . . what happened to the soil bank program that was supposed to reduce production 20 per cent?"

The Agriculture Department says the soil bank is working. "We're breaking even on it," a department official told the United Press. "We are not adding to the surplus which is costly any way you look at it."

"If the government hadn't agreed to pay farmers for taking land out of production of basic crops, early crop reports indicate they would produce far more this year than last. The surplus would have increased, our price support losses would have gone up, and we'd have the stuff in bins running up storage charges."

Not Getting Bigger
"But with the soil bank, our surplus is not getting bigger."

As to why production this year is likely to be large even with 28 million acres in the soil bank, the official said:

"Moisture conditions changed . . .

zard M. Kaganovich, the other two members of the "Big Three," have been linked with some of the offenses attributed to Malenkov.

Last Of 'Bolsheviks'
What seems to put Malenkov on the spot is the fact that he is the youngest of the three, one of the new generation of Soviet leaders.

Molotov and Kaganovich are survivors of a past generation. Molotov is 67. He is the last of the "Old Bolsheviks" who had already reached the top at the time of the 1917 Revolution. Kaganovich is 48. Both have been on the down grade since the death of Josef Stalin.

But Malenkov is only 55. He is one of the new generation of Communists who are able administrators and technicians as well as politicians. Some people regard him as the brainiest of Russia's big men.

If Khrushchev and the rest of the victorious leaders in the Kremlin dispute decide to follow up their present charges by formal legal action, they may or may not spare Molotov and Kaganovich.

But Malenkov will remain a potential danger as long as he remains alive.

May Be No Change
Khrushchev and his colleagues may be doing some serious thinking about their proper course.

If they shoot Malenkov or put him in prison—possibly with the other two—it will be a confession that the Communist system in Russia is no different than it was in Stalin's day.

The so-called "collective leadership" which was supposed to usher in a new day in Russian Communist policy will have been exposed as a fiction.

It will be clear evidence that a dictatorship is essential in Russia, even if there are several "collective" dictators instead of one.

But from reports now leaking out of Moscow, there are strong indications that Malenkov, Molotov, Kaganovich and Dmitri Shpilov, who was purged from the Communist Party—Friedrich—with them, really did make a bid to oust Khrushchev as the No. 1 collective leader by replacing him as first secretary of the Russian Communist Party.

There are indications also that for a time they had hope of succeeding.

overnight in the Great Plains. The drought broke. Growing conditions are more favorable now than they have been for some time. The yield is going up. There has been a trending increase in yield for years. Farmers are using improved varieties of seed, better fertilizer, and better insect control methods."

Department officials usually consider wheat the No. 1 surplus problem.

If the 10 million winter wheat acres and the 2,500,000 spring wheat acres in the soil bank had been planted, the crop would have been increased by about 236 million bushels.

The extra production would have gone under price support loan and eventually would have been taken over by the government. It would have cost the government $2 a bushel, or 472 million dollars. The Treasury would have to pay about 6 cents a bushel to borrow the money to pay farmers.

The Commodity Credit Corp. would have had to pay about 16 cents a bushel to store the wheat. If the CCC sold the wheat abroad, the subsidy would have been about 72 cents a bushel. Administrative costs and other expenses would bring the total loss on the wheat to about $1 a bushel. The sale abroad would net about 236 million dollars. The loss would have been the same.

As it is, under the soil bank, the government has contracted to pay farmers about 231 million dollars to keep some 13 million acres of wheat land out of production.

So, give or take a few million, the department figures the government is about breaking even—without having a wheat surplus to store and overhang the free market.

The example for wheat, according to the department expert, works similarly for cotton, corn, rice, and tobacco. He figures the soil bank is a good deal.

Ken Murray Is Playing Both Ends Against Middle In TV

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Ken Murray substitutes today for vacationing Aline Mosby as Hollywood columnist.)

By KEN MURRAY
Written For The United Press
HOLLYWOOD (UP)—It requires no crystal ball gazer to predict that the television trends this fall will include heavy emphasis on (a) Western, and (b) flying adventure series.

I figure the best hedge against inflation is to ride both trends. I've got a foot in each bandwagon and I'm sitting pretty—unless the bandwagons take off in two different directions.

"El Coyote Rides" is a Western telefilm series which Ken Murray Enterprises is producing in association with RKO-Teledjio, and "Sky Dogs" which I am producing for NBC, combines the K9 Corps parachuting dogs with the adventures of Civil Air Patrol flyers.

Galloping or zooming, I've got them!

Outlive Us All
As far as the Western is concerned, it will outlive us all.

There are perfectly good reasons for this, all of which, you may be sure, are exploited to the hilt in "El Coyote Rides," which is the story of Bat Masterson, famed frontier peace officer, and his daughter, Jane.

One of the factors which makes the Western deathless is the physical action in which it abounds. Another is the scenic backgrounds which it offers.

Another great dimension of the Western is that in it all moral values become quite clearly drawn. There is never any question as to which characters are on "our" ball team.

Westerns Film Well
And, of course Westerns "film" well. That is, the things that make for good Westerns are visual, pictorial things—stuff you can get with a camera, as the technicians say.

Still another reason the Western will be with us forever is that horseback riding has more exciting razzmatazz than any other form of locomotion or travel.

There is something static about pushing a button and zooming at the speed of light in an interstellar space-ship. There is nothing static about riding a galloping horse. Brother, there is action!

I understand the comics have just about had it on television.

"I've got a tip for Sid Caesar, Herb Shriner, et al: Become a TV producer, or, failing that, at least learn to ride a horse."

Texas In Need Of Rain Again

AUSTIN (UP)—Despite a soaking, wet spring, recent hot, dry weather has left most of Texas in need of rain for development of crops, the U.S. Department of Agriculture has reported.

The report said that, with the temperatures in most areas pushing above the 100-degree mark, some crops were wilting, and most of the top moisture left by the rains had gotten away before crops sent down roots.

Most of the state's late corn and sorghums, dryland cotton acreage, and established and seedling grass were in need of rain.

The report said, however, that sub-soil moisture was still available from the spring rains, and that the dry weather had been ideal for baling hay, combining wheat and cultivating row crops.

Wheat harvesting was either at or past the half-way point in the High Plains area, lower valley sorghum harvest was nearly over, and the coastal bend milo crop harvest was moving along.

Malenkov Will Be 'Lucky To Survive'

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
Georgi M. Malenkov will be a lucky man if he is not shot as the result of the big Russian Communist Party purge.

It is evident now that Malenkov is regarded as the most dangerous of the big three "anti-party" men involved in the dispute among Soviet leaders.

Charges amounting to criminal conspiracy have been made against him by Nikita S. Khrushchev and other victors in the dispute.

If these charges, made in speeches, are not followed by formal prosecution, it surely will mean that there has been a radical change in Communist Party procedure.

Vyacheslav M. Molotov and Lazar M. Kaganovich, the other two members of the "Big Three," have been linked with some of the offenses attributed to Malenkov.

Last Of 'Bolsheviks'
What seems to put Malenkov on the spot is the fact that he is the youngest of the three, one of the new generation of Soviet leaders.

Molotov and Kaganovich are survivors of a past generation. Molotov is 67. He is the last of the "Old Bolsheviks" who had already reached the top at the time of the 1917 Revolution. Kaganovich is 48. Both have been on the down grade since the death of Josef Stalin.

But Malenkov is only 55. He is one of the new generation of Communists who are able administrators and technicians as well as politicians. Some people regard him as the brainiest of Russia's big men.

If Khrushchev and the rest of the victorious leaders in the Kremlin dispute decide to follow up their present charges by formal legal action, they may or may not spare Molotov and Kaganovich.

But Malenkov will remain a potential danger as long as he remains alive.

May Be No Change
Khrushchev and his colleagues may be doing some serious thinking about their proper course.

If they shoot Malenkov or put him in prison—possibly with the other two—it will be a confession that the Communist system in Russia is no different than it was in Stalin's day.

The so-called "collective leadership" which was supposed to usher in a new day in Russian Communist policy will have been exposed as a fiction.

It will be clear evidence that a dictatorship is essential in Russia, even if there are several "collective" dictators instead of one.

But from reports now leaking out of Moscow, there are strong indications that Malenkov, Molotov, Kaganovich and Dmitri Shpilov, who was purged from the Communist Party—Friedrich—with them, really did make a bid to oust Khrushchev as the No. 1 collective leader by replacing him as first secretary of the Russian Communist Party.

There are indications also that for a time they had hope of succeeding.
