Mrs. Roberts, 28, is 95 per cent paralyzed with polio and has only the use of her neck, throat and jaw muscles. She spends her days in a bed especially equipped with a chest respirator. Her teacher, therapist Mona Fieldman, holds the painting for her.

United Press correspondents around the world look ahead at the news that will make the headlines.

COMING UP
Atomic experts in Washington predict that in addition to its lead in missiles, Soviet Russia also will beat the United States to the atom-powered airplane. Russia's will fly by early 1959, they believe. Barring the unexpected, the United States will not have one before the early 1960's.

Meantime, the experts look for the Russians to take several rocket shots at the moon around January, 1958. Because of difficult guidance problems, most of them would miss. They would get caught in the moon's gravitational field, whirl around it and return to earth. But there's a good chance of scoring at least one direct hit.

INGRID
Friends of Ingrid Bergman say that despite her own repeated denials, she will return to Hollywood in the new year and plunge into movie and possibly television work. Ingrid is being cautious about commenting in public on her future because, under her separation agreement with Roberto Rossellini, she is pledged to keep their three children in Europe until they are 18 years old.

One Important Ingredient For Television Stars—Brains

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Now that I have this chance to do a guest column, I'll answer a question that has been asked me by many people many times.

Is beauty of face and figure enough for a young girl to succeed in show business today? No, it is not. A pretty girl must have not only appeal in the eter-

Marion, former Chicago White Sox baseball manager, offered to buy the Lakers last year and move them to Kansas City. But a Minneapolis civic group raised $150,000 and bought the franchise to keep the team in Minneapolis. However, the Lakers have lost their first six games this season. Attendance is bound to suffer if it continues to flounder. The Lakers, once world pro basketball champions, are not likely to last out the season in Minneapolis.

performer doesn't dare "blow a take" once in a while.

Actors Need Know-How
But, the same "bit" or "action" may be shot from several angles which is time-consuming, and that's exactly why production can't hold still for consistent errors in performance. Young players today have to develop know-how quickly and easily for the sake of speed and a budget far below motion picture appropriation.

Since time immemorial, a pretty girl has been a treat to the eye, but acceptance of the "beautiful, but dumb" is no more.

You won't find the simpering beauty with the vacant, blue-eyed baby stare and the pouty, bee-stung lips. She went out with rolled stockings and the marathon dance.

No, Betty Boop doesn't work here anymore.

Foster Dulles well predicts he will resign within six months at the outside. Incidentally, this diplomat regards American Middle Eastern policy as a complete failure, and he holds that Dulles is largely to blame. There have been numerous reports that Dulles would resign for one reason or another. Washington answers each time that Dulles likes his job and very likely will keep in until President Eisenhower goes out in 1961.

TITO
The tip-off on President Tito's illness is due soon. The hatched job on Soviet Defense Minister Georgi K. Zhukov was cooked up while Zhukov was visiting Yugoslavia. After his ouster, Tito cancelled a proposed visit to Moscow, pleading an attack of lumbago. If he remains in Belgrade after the imminent end of the rainy season, people will figure he's really sick. But if he motors off to his mountain home or his retreat on the Adriatic, they will figure his illness was diplomatic.

Unless the fortunes of the Minneapolis professional basketball team take a sharp turn for the better—and there is little hope that they will—look for it to be sold and transferred to another city, probably Kansas City. Marty

CROWD

(Continued From Page One) and walked from the stage to Temianka's gentle chiding as he addressed the audience, saying: "Mr. Libove will be back, so don't worry. He has gone to get his music."

The first movement of the quartet emphasized the usual delicacy of their targets faster, anywhere else of this great French composer of the romantic era, as if swung to and fro with an almost effeminate tone only to be displaced in the second movement with a snappy and lively melody sparked by almost continuous pizzicato from violin and viola alike, and a few genteel pecks by Cellist LaPorte. The slow and graceful mood returned in the third movement as Debussy settled down to his usual genteel self that has covered most of his works with an almost undecipherable charm. Debussy evidently tired of this as he flashed into a brilliant, but still somewhat sentimental mood, as a finale to the quartet.

The audience would not yield its grip on the program and encircled the artists back and in payment received one of the finest quartet numbers ever written — the "Andante Cantabile" by Tchaikovsky. A number generously sprinkled with pipe organ like harmonics from the viola and cello.

AGAIN, the Paganini String Quartet submitted to the wants of the audience to play a movement from a Mendelssohn quartet — a scherzo. This rapid fire movement is one that will quickly separate the amateur from the professional as the deft bowing in it kept all of the artists on their toes. It, too, brought the cello out in its full glory to prove to the doubting that string quartets can put life into notes, and do not play the type of music that is far above and beyond the understanding of the average music listener.

As is usual, the artists asked Concert Association President Lang and reporters what kind of an audience they had. Their apprehensions were eased by Dr. Lang who explained roughly the audience make-up. During the intermission, Temianka told reporters the Pampa audience was one of the finest he has played to in many a month. Second Violinist Libove complimented the auditorium as well as the audience saying it was a very comfortable place.

One of the things appreciated very much by the quartet was the behavior of the children sitting down front.

Optimists See Film; Talk Work

Bob Barrett provided the program for last night's meeting of the Pampa Optimist Club, held in Poole's Steak House.

Barrett showed the group films and 35 mm slides of the Boy Scout river trip he participated in last summer. The journey, which took place down a Missouri river, covered many miles and Barrett provided an interesting narrative, illustrated by the films and pictures.

In the line of business for the meeting, the Optimists had reports on their current projects, and made plans for the forthcoming week.

Christmas tree sales have reached 1,000, including the combined efforts of both Boy Scouts and Optimist members, and should reach the goal of 2,000 set by the club during the early part of December.

In line with the boxing program, the group had a report on sales of book tickets, which will be used for the home matches. The books contain ten tickets each and are being sold for $5.

A progress report on the Boys Club, now under construction at the intersection of Barnes and Craven, was given and it was announced that the curbing around the building would begin today. Also beginning today will be the concrete pouring in the interior of the building for showers, locker rooms, etc.

An open house is currently being planned for the early part of December, which will allow all persons in Pampa to visit the Boys Club and view the work that has been done by the club.

President Johnny Campbell said that with the work being done presently at the Boys Club building, all members were urged to help whenever possible, either

THE SPRING membership round up was set for the first week in April following a discussion by those present.

Work Plans

It was decided that letters would be sent to members of the chamber asking for suggestions on plans of work for the coming year. In connection with the work program it was also decided that a meeting of the directors and all committee chairmen will be held on Monday, Nov. 25, to discuss plans of work for the coming year.

THE HOLDING of a "Football Banquet" was brought up by Johnny Campbell, who explained that in past years the chamber, in conjunction with the Quarterback Club, has sponsored the banquet. It was the decision of the directors that the Sports and Recreation Committee should make arrangements for the banquet.

The possibility of obtaining bidistrict and district championship games for Pampa was discussed. It was reported that the chamber

The third and final reading of Ordinance 482, providing for the annexation of two blocks in the Jarvis-Sone No. 2 addition, was approved.

Other Business

In other action this morning the commission approved the payment of monthly bills of the city in the amount of $22,840.79 and bills of Lovett Memorial Library, for books, in the amount of $255.92.

An increase in the amount of petty cash of the tax office was approved. The petty cash fund was raised from $75 to $125. The approval came on a request due to the lack of funds to make change during peak tax collection periods.

The final action by the commission, before adjournment this morning, was the approval of the payment of $4,250 to H. H. Heisel for the drilling of the water well at the site of the new booster station on the Lefors highway.

Aggies, Sooners, Auburn Remain Top Three Teams

A&M Faces 15th-Ranked Owls In Top SW Game

By NORMAN MILLER
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UP)—Texas A&M, Oklahoma and Auburn, the nation's three perfect-record college football powers, retained the 1-2-3 ratings of the United Press board of coaches today in the extremely close race for the national championship.

Michigan State, Iowa and Ohio State, the three titans from the Big Ten Conference, remained in contention right behind the top three following a weekend in which the leaders won as expected. The first six rankings were unchanged from last week.

Tennessee advanced three notches to No. 7, followed in order by the service academies, Navy and Army, with Duke this week's newcomer among the top 10 in the 10th ranking.

Only 57 points separated the first four teams this week. Texas A&M was the No. 1 choice of 14 members of the 35-man United Press rating board; Oklahoma received eight first-place votes, Auburn six and Michigan State five.

Rarely have four teams been in such close contention for the top rating at such a late stage of the season. In points, distributed on a 10-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis for votes from first to 10th places, the Texas Aggies led with 307 out of a possible 350; Oklahoma had 287, Auburn 256 and Michigan State 250.

Iowa and Ohio State, each with one first-place vote, followed with 228 and 184 points, respectively. Tennessee had 116, Navy 82, Army 79 and Duke 44.

A shakeup in the top 10 may be expected next week following battles between some of the ranking powers.

Top Defense Made Football A Throwback To The Game

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UP)—Versatile defenses have made college football a throwback to the game as it was played 50 years ago, veteran Ossie Solem of Springfield College contended today.

Solem should know. Because Ossie currently is in his 38th season of collegiate coaching with an overall record of 160 wins against 119 losses and 20 ties.

That makes the tall, silent, white-haired man the active dean of college grid coaches.

"The big trend has been toward ball control," he explained as he prepared to send his Springfield team against undefeated Hofstra. "The main reason is that the defense has become so versatile and most of the time you're facing a nine-man line. It's a throwback to 50 years ago because now you can throw only enough to maintain the ball."

Has Lost Twice
Ossie's team isn't unbeaten this year, having lost two of seven games, but the pre-World War I team against undefeated Hofstra. "The main reason is that the defense has become so versatile and most of the time you're facing a nine-man line. It's a throwback to 50 years ago because now you can throw only enough to maintain the ball."

he grins. "We weren't doing too well at Drake in 1921 and were trailing 7 to 0 in one game when one of the boys found a penny on the field and flipped it to me."

The boy said happily: "Here's a lucky penny. Watch us go now."

Drake did, too, scoring 15 points in the next few minutes to win the game. After that, before every game the players would "find" a "lucky" penny for Ossie. They didn't lose another game that year and the following season went unbeaten.

"I was kind of relieved when we finally lost a game late the following season," Solem recalls. "My coat pocket was bulging with 'lucky pennies' the kids had found and they were getting to be quite a nuisance."

Won Captaincy
Before coaching at Drake, Ossie had taken a brief whack at practicing law with his brothers in Minneapolis and then enlisted in the Army at the outbreak of World War I, emerging two years later with the rank of captain. After one year at Luther College, he took over at Drake and subsequently moved on to Iowa, Syracuse and Springfield.

There is something spiritual in Ossie's facial serenity and the

Minor Leagues Take Problems To Frick

NEW YORK (UP)—Minor league officials discuss their franchise headaches with Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick again today but problems were snowballing so fast that a solution was said to be a month away.

Officials of the Pacific Coast League, American Association, and Texas League were slated to meet with Frick this morning.

It was learned from a high baseball source, however, that the franchise switches being forced by the transfer of the Dodgers to Los Angeles and the Giants to San Francisco are becoming so complex that they won't be settled until the winter major-league meetings in Colorado Springs, Colo., in December.

Brown To Meet Cantella Tonight

HOUSTON (UP)—World's lightweight champion Joe Brown takes on Nicaragua's Kid Centella in an overnight brawl tonight to warm up for his title date with Joey Lopez Dec. 4.

Tonight's 10-rounder heads the Tuesday night boxing card in city auditorium but isn't expected to draw more than a $5,000 gate. Fans look on the main event as an "exhibition."

But Centella, the left hook artist from Managua, has a potent punch and could put a crimp in Brown's championship plans if he connects.

Centella sports a 21-14 pro record and has kayoned Ralph Durand, Maxie Documen and Carlos Chavez among others. Brown's last fight was with Lopez last July when Lopez held him to a surprising draw.

Brown's title defense against Lopez will be in Chicago.

Both Brown and Centella weigh in at about 135 for tonight's fight.

Greasy Sliding At 64 Years

Whatever Happened To... EARLE (GREASY) NEALE
By UNITED PRESS
One sport at a time never was enough for Earle (Greasy) Neale. A major league outfielder for nine years, he continued to coach football. One season, he spent the summer with the Cincinnati Redlegs and the fall directing a brilliant Washington and Jefferson eleven that wound up in the Rose Bowl. In 1949 he was "pro coach of the year" for his job on the Philadelphia Eagles but after 36 years of coaching the string ran out when the Eagles dropped him in 1951.

Archer Gains Garden Bout

NEW YORK (UP)—Welterweight Jimmy Archer, a fighting stevedore from Pier 88, will get his first main event at Madison Square Garden, Dec. 20, for scoring his 12th straight victory Monday night at St. Nicholas Arena.

Archer, 22, won his second consecutive split decision over Tony DeCola of Brooklyn in their return TV 10-rounder. Jimmy took the first split verdict over 21-year-old DeCola in the same ring on Sept. 30.

Archer weighed 148 pounds; DeCola, 147.

Matchmaker Billy Brown of the International Boxing Club, which has no apparent connection with little St. Nick's, was at the ring-side Monday night, and signed Archer for a Dec. 20 fight against an opponent to be agreed upon later.

Tax District Says Customer Singing In Tavern Taxable

By DOC QUIGG
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—"There is a tavern in the town—and there my true love sits him down—and drinks his wine as merry as can be..."

But if he breaks into song, tak tak, the joint may have to pay federal cabaret tax—even if he is just a customer and is singing such a customer-type melody as the old-timer quoted above.

There are so many alarming items abroad nowadays that this one—a shocker to all us golden voiced tavern singers—has been generally ignored. And yet, here it is, as quoted from the middle of a long tax roundup in the Wall Street Journal:

Songsters Taxable
"Impromptu songsters of tavern customers may constitute entertainment for purposes of federal cabaret tax enforcement, in the view of the Philadelphia Internal Revenue District."

The item added that the tax sleuths there desire to collect the 20 per cent excise tax from small neighborhood bars, many of which feature soloists who are patrons.

As a man with an uncontrollable talent for bellowing, and a voice loud enough to be heard from here to Schenectady, your correspondent herewith enters a vigorous protest against being shushed from mellow song in the fear that the place will be taxed as a cabaret.

Closed, maybe, for noisily laying waste to the quiet of the night—that I can see happening. But being taxed for furnishing entertainment? Any tax sleuth who contends that the usual impromptu songfest at the usual saloon is entertainment for anybody but the singers has no respect for the meaning of words.

Usually Empties Joint
Usually the impromptu vocalizing has the effect of emptying the joint of all other customers, of causing windows to slam and dogs to howl for blocks around.

It is recorded that Nikita S. Khrushchev, in response to a compelling lyric urge from within, rendered a solo at a Moscow party one might last week. None of the dispatches of the culture-heavy correspondents present at the party described the head... As of the moment of going to press, Khrushy is still in office. ... where you are; if you keep on... there is no other way but down... People will stand only so much... suffering before they rebel.

Radio Announcers Of Old Are Doing Okay On Television

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—The eyes have it since the advent of TV, but that doesn't mean the ears have had it.

So believes Frank Gallop, an announcer whose mellow tones have been caressing the nation's tympani for more than 20 years. Gallop, an alumnus of such radio shows as Milton Berle's, "gang-busters" and the New York Philharmonic, currently works for television's Perry Como.

Gallop owns the mystery voice that booms out during the frag station breaks on the NBC-TV Como Show.

"Everybody keeps asking what's happened to the old time announcer," said Gallop, "well, the answer is nothing has happened to him. He's still with us on TV. The picture hasn't killed him at all. In fact, he's making more money than ever."

However, Gallop confesses TV has made work harder for the announcer. "You can take the 'Stella Dallas' Show I used to do on radio as an example," he said. "I'd walk into the studio 20 minutes before airtime, look over my copy and that was it."

"On a television show like the Como hour, we work far harder. Unbelievably harder. There have been times when we've worked far into the night just blocking out camera moves."

Many of the new announcers spawned by TV are curly-haired, dimpled and darling, but Gallop points out that good looks alone won't sell a sponsor's product.

"One of the biggest fallacies about the television announcing business is the belief that we just walk out there, pick up a piece of paper and start reading and that's all there is to it," said Gallop.

Product of Hard Work
"How untrue that belief is. You'll find that every successful announcer is the product of long years of work. A voice that has authority and ease is not something you can develop overnight."

"I can name you two handfuls of old time announcers who are still working hard — fellows like Ben Grauer, Hugh James, Ed Herlihy, Don Wilson. I could tick off dozens more. They're working and will continue to work because they've labored long and hard to develop a flow that sounds effortless."

"That's why all the dimples and wavy hair in the world don't mean a thing if those looks aren't backed up with experience. That's why even 'Ghoul' Gallop goes on and on."

Gallop, a former bond salesman from Boston who got into the radio business back in 1934, is rarely seen on camera on the Como Show. Strangely enough, he likes it that way.
