Plans for the dedications of Pampa's two new sub-stations of the Fire Department have now been completed and were announced late yesterday afternoon.

Dedication of the south station, located at 1010 S. Barnes, will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday with Mayor Lynn Boyd presiding.

The program will consist of short speeches by Commissioners Bob Olson and R. K. Parsley, Fire Chief Ernest Winborn, City Manager John Kootz and Chamber of Commerce President E. L. Henderson.

The open house will feature free coffee, cookies and Royal Crown Cola, compliments of Bob Olson and the Royal Crown Bottling Company of Pampa, all day.

The ribbon-cutting ceremony will be by Mayor Boyd, Olson and Parsley. The Rev. H. M. Hutchinson, pastor of the Bible Baptist Church, will give the Dedication Prayer.

The dedication of the North sub-station will be given at 11 a.m. with Mayor Boyd again presiding and speeches being given by Commissioners Jack Vaughn and Ed Myatt, Winborne, Kootz and Henderson.

Ribbon-cutting ceremonies will be by Mayor Boyd, Vaughn and Myatt.

Refreshments will also be served at this station all day long and Rev. Woodrow Adcock, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will give the Dedication Prayer.

Names will be drawn for door prizes at 5 p.m. for three prizes at each station. Guests will register as they enter and do not have to be present to win.

Eight New Directors For Hotel

Stockholders of the Pampa Community Hotel Company elected eight new directors to replace those whose terms expire in 1957, at a meeting yesterday in the Cabot Auditorium in the Hughes Building at 2 p.m., according to George B. Cree Jr., president of the Company.

Nominees elected to take the places of the retiring directors were M. K. Brown, Frank Culbertson, E. L. Green Jr., H. O. Darby, Ed Myatt, E. Roy Smith, R. G. Hughes, and R. L. Pugh.

According to reports received on the meeting from Cree, no other business was brought before the board or meeting during the session yesterday which was primarily for the purpose of electing the new directors.

Construction Work Bid Dates Set

Late action by the City Commission yesterday consisted of the setting of bid dates for construction work.

Dec. 31 at 10 a.m. was set as the date for the opening of both bids, one to include construction of a chain link fence around the site of the new city water well near the intersection of McCullough and Barnes and the other bid for the paving of 25th from Charles to Duncan and of Duncan from 25th north to the city limits.

The new water well, located on the right-of-way of the Fort Worth and Denver Railway, has been completed and the specifications for the bidding will call for a chain link fence to enclose the 50 by 50 foot area.

The paving of the two streets has become necessary with the construction of houses in Frasier Annex No. 3, located north of 25th, between Duncan and the Perryton highway. The two streets are inside of the city limits and the city must share the cost of paving. All other streets in the new addition are presently outside the city limits and will be paved by the developer.

Barometric Indicator Installed

An automatic barometric indicator was installed in the local police station yesterday afternoon by the US Weather Bureau.

The indicator is designed to indicate any sudden drop in the atmospheric pressure in Pampa and such changes are to be reported immediately to the Weather Bureau office in Amarillo by telephone.

The instruments are being installed in various towns throughout the area and will enable the Weather Bureau to plot the movement of weather changes in the area, according to the men who installed the instrument here.

A record of the changes recorded by the instrument will be mailed to the Weather Bureau each week by the police department, according to John Kootz, city manager.

Army's 'Redstone' Test Successful

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UP)—An Army Redstone, the third missile of the week, blasted off in a successful flight from this test center Tuesday night and a host of observers resumed their watch for launching of a potential satellite-carrying Jupiter and an ocean-spanning Atlas.

The modified version of the short-range Redstone soared into space in a spectacular night flight, trailing a huge ball of orange flame that was visible for about four minutes before it finally became one of the millions of pinpoints of light dotting the cold, clear sky.

The successful firing of the Redstone, a junior version of the Jupiter intermediate range rocket, came after two smaller missiles were launched earlier in a week of accelerated activity after the failure of the Navy Vanguard to put a baby moon into orbit.

A ground-to-air Bomarc was launched Monday and an unidentified small missile, similar to the Bomarc, was sent speeding skyward trailing a slim streak of vapor Tuesday afternoon. Officials at nearby Patrick Air Force Base readily identified the Bomarc but refused to say what type of missile was fired Tuesday afternoon.

Rumors, none confirmed in the slightest degree, said a Jupiter C carrying a satellite might be fired this week.

While observers scanned the Cape Canaveral test center Tuesday they saw a huge Atlas un-

GIFT TO YOUTH CENTER

The Pampa chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America last night presented its annual gift to the Pampa Youth and Community Center. Shown receiving the gift is Dr. Joe Donaldson, right, president of the "Center's" board of directors. Howard Buckingham, president of the local Barbershoppers, made the presentation, which was a check for $75. Dr. Donaldson announced at the presentation that the Center had contracted with the National Fund Raising Service, Inc., of Dallas to conduct and promote a drive for funds to build the Center in the "near future." MOD Drive Plans Are Underway

Kay Fancher, chairman of the Gray County March of Dimes Drive, reported today that plans are well underway concerning the 1958 March which will be launched in Pampa on January 4.

A Commemoration Program will be held in Warm Springs, Ga., as the nation wide kick-off of the 1958 March of Dimes, the 20th anniversary of the campaign.

Jack O. Miller has been selected as Pampa City Drive chairman while Jim Wilks will be publicity chairman of the group.

Beginning on Saturday, Jan. 4, "Blue Crutches" will be on sale in a campaign to further funds. According to Fancher, no definite goal has been set for the drive but hopes are high for a successful campaign which will aid in the rehabilitation program.

The National Foundation reminded persons that a vaccine has been discovered and successfully tested and proved that polio can now be partially controlled; however those who have been crippled by the disease still have to be cared for, thus the fight is not over.

The theme for the 1958 drive, "Survival is not enough," stresses the idea given by the national headquarters.

Also, a main item on the program is research of not only polio but other virus diseases of the same nature which remain a science mystery.

Pampans were urged to give and at least have their own families inoculated against the dread disease. Those who are unable to obtain the vaccine through regular channels should contact the Welfare Office to receive information as to how and where the vaccine will be given free of charge.

Physicians have urged families to be inoculated with Salk vaccine to at least prevent an epidemic which is even now possible.

The board of directors of the Pampa-Lefors United Fund met in the United Fund office last night and heard a report of the progress on the current campaign by Warren Hasse, drive chairman.

The directors were unanimous in praising the work of the volunteers in the campaign, but the report indicated that a large number of the workers have not returned their completed envelopes to the United Fund office.

"The participating agencies of this fund drive are doing an excellent job in our community," Hasse said, "and we certainly want to keep those agencies doing the same good job." He continued by reporting, "The only way we can assure ourselves of this is to support the United Fund 100 per cent."

The board of directors are appealing to local residents to send in their donations to the United Fund office and are especially appealing for the volunteer workers who still have envelopes out and unworried to get them worked and into the United Fund office at once.

The amount of money raised and pledged as of this morning was $54,352, which is still short of the $60,000 goal to carry on the work of the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, Red Cross, Heart Association, Milk Fund and USO.

Hasse stated, "All of these organizations play a vital part in the life of our community and not one of us would want to live in a town that didn't have them."

Reports were given on final phases of the Pancake Supper and it was termed a success on the part of the Jaycee Club.

Jim Brown, chairman of the Public Health program, reported that he was still working through the Welfare Index that the committee might find needy families which the club could help through the Christmas season with part of the of the funds taken in by the recent Pancake Supper.

Reports given on the Mental Health program showed that it was moving slowly and that, according to Jaycee officials, people do not realize that there is a great need to care for and carry on research in the field of mental patients and cases.

To date, only a little over $100 has been netted in the drive that will provide more funds for the Mental Health Program of Texas. The Jaycees are giving persons who donate $1 or $2 a box of Christmas cards in return.

McElroy On Tour Of NATO Bases

MUNICH, Germany (UP)—Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy today made a lightning tour of the American "pentomic" divisions which form NATO's front-line defenses in West Germany.

McElroy flew here Tuesday night from West Berlin and met U.S. Seventh Army Commander Gen. Bruce Clark at 8 a.m. He planned to spend the day visiting Seventh Army units.

McElroy plans a visit to near-by Augsburg to see the Army's 280 millimeter Honest John cannon and the Corporal guided missile, both of which can be equipped with nuclear warheads.

The atomic cannon and the Corporal missile are the U.S. Army's main defense in West Germany for beating off any Soviet attack.

Will Fly To Paris

McElroy flies to Paris later this week for the NATO summit conference. He told reporters in Berlin Tuesday the conference would discuss the U.S. offer to set up intermediate range ballistic missile bases in Western Europe and stockpile nuclear warheads on the continent.

He also said an Anglo-American agreement on missile bases in Britain would be signed soon.

West German authorities indicated they would postpone a decision on whether to accept the missiles until the matter has been thrashed out by NATO.

Will Watch Troop Jump

McElroy leaves by train for Landstuhl Air Base near Kaiserslautern late today after watching a paratroop jumping exercise.

Charges Result From Two Accidents

Two collisions within the city limits last night resulted in the drivers of one vehicle in each wreck being arrested by city officers on charges of driving while intoxicated.

Wallace N. Black, 813 Campbell, was charged in County Court this morning with DWI in connection with the collision of his '49 Ford with a '61 Chevrolet driven by Kenneth D. Taylor, Pampa, on Barnes, 100 feet south of Spear, at 9:35 last night.

Black pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to three days in the county jail. Damages to the Ford were estimated at $100 and the Chevrolet met with damages estimated at $150.

Being held in city jail pending the return of District Attorney Bill Waters from Austin so that a felony charge of DWI can be filed against him is Billy Wayne Kinsey, 514 N. Russell.

Kinsey was arrested by city officers following the collision of his '49 Oldsmobile with a '56 Chevrolet, driven by Bill B. Jenkins, 408 N. Frost, at the intersection of Starkweather and Short at 10:21 last night.

Damages to the Oldsmobile were estimated at $350 and damages to the Chevrolet were estimated at $375.

The only other collision reported within the city limits yesterday occurred at 3:50 p.m. on Frost, (See CHARGES, Page 3)

Johnson Urges All-Out Effort In Space Race With Russia

DALLAS (UP)—Senate majority leader Lyndon B. Johnson said Tuesday night "we must live as though there will never be a tomorrow and everything must be done tonight" as he urged an all-out effort to beat Russia in the missile and satellite race.

Johnson, speaking at a dinner in his honor, said there is only one reward for the loser in the space race and that is destruction.

The Texas Democrat spoke earlier Tuesday at Waxahachie, Tex., saying the U. S. may have to junk the 40-hour week and go on a full, wartime mobilization to beat the Soviets.

He repeated the statement in his night speech saying: "We cannot produce the weapons of security—on time—if we think more of the 40-hour week or 'business as usual.' We can not achieve security if we are more interested in cutting taxes than we are in cutting the Soviet live in missiles."

Johnson said the only place we can overcome Russia's technological lead is in the schools and that there is a shortage of teachers of science and engineering.

"But we are still wasting tremendous sources of talent," he said. "How many retired doctors, engineers, seamen, pharmacists, laboratory technicians do each of you know in your own community?"

"How many of them would be capable of teaching single courses in mathematics or chemistry or physics to elementary and high school students? They could do it easily and eagerly—with a little guidance," he said.

Senior Class Play Ends

"The Grass Harp," by Truman Capote, was presented in its final performance as given by the Senior Class of Pampa High School last night in the high school auditorium with a little less than a full-house attending.

Attendance the first night netted an overflowing crowd which was altered somewhat, according to Helen Schaffer, director, last night by conflicting schedules.

Comments arose at the change of scenery which called for a tree-house to replace a dining room scene in the Talbo household. The play was a story about a family with "weird ideas" that faced a problem when a few members of the family decided to escape the dominating Verena Talbo, who owned and ruled the house, by moving into a tree house in the nearby woods. The complications that arose from the situation kept the audiences' attention keen.

Claudine Moorman acted as student director with Helen Schaffer acting as director.

Plans are now being made for a Thespian-Choir assembly which will be held Dec. 19 at 9 a.m. in the auditorium for the student body and again that night for the public. Miss Helen Schaffer will be in charge of the play, "He Set the Table For Himself," and Bill Hunt will be in charge of the choir activities.

Television In Review: 'Sgt. Bilko' Show Is Tops

Television In Review By WILLIAM EWALD United Press Staff Correspondent NEW YORK (UP)—This has been a sad season for the funny-bone.

Ernie Kovacs, one of TV's largest talents, no longer has his own show. Sid Caesar, who kicks off a pre-shrunk series on ABC-TV next month, hasn't been seen at all. Jackie Gleason has been playing golf.

What's on TV? Well, there's Red Skelton, but he's for specialized tastes — for specialists of about the age nine. Groucho Marx confined himself to that quiz show. There's George Gobel, but Lonesome George doesn't seem to take off anymore.

Silvers As Sgt. Bilko Is that all? No, thank goodness, that isn't all. There is still Phil Silvers — Sgt. Ernie Bilko and that wacky, wonderful CBS-TV platoon.

The Silvers' show is now in its third year. Tuesday night's episode was a typical episode in insanity. The plot was almost cynically absurd—a balloon excursion into the ionosphere, a Sgt. Bilko discovery that he is really a lieutenant, a mix-up over some back pay and some other narrative called too complicated to put into English. Algebra maybe. But not English.

Calls It Funny Anyway, it was funny. Silvers' Bilko is the most perfectly realized character in TV. And Silvers plays it with the casual ease of the blessed.

Bilko is a swindler, a liar, a cheat. He is a card sharp, a borrower of money, a wench-ogler and snorer of loud noises. But he is also endearing. That is Silvers' triumph.

Each Silvers show is a kind of small morality play in which evil gets its come-uppance and virtue emerges victor.

In Tuesday night's episode, Sgt. Bilko enlisted for three more years. Here's hoping he makes it as a 30-year man.

UN May Issue Approval On Suez Charges

UNITED NATIONS (UP)—The U.N. General Assembly appeared certain today to approve a resolution providing for a three per cent surcharge on Suez Canal tolls to pay off the $8400,000 debt for clearing the vital waterway.

The resolution drafted by four former presidents of the General Assembly along lines suggested by Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold will be debated by the Assembly in an afternoon meeting.

Observers predicted approval in spite of the expected opposition from Soviet Russia and the Communist bloc. The Russians have maintained that the cost of opening the canal be borne by Great Britain, France and Israel. Egypt blocked the canal during the Anglo-French invasion in 1956.

Dr. Robert P. McElroy, the psychiatrist, said he considered Eatherly to be insane on April 30, 1956, the date the post offices were broken into, but that he has made considerable improvement since that time.

"If he is able to maintain his improvement," Dr. McElroy said, "he should make adequate adjustment."

Eatherly flew a reconnaissance plane on the Hiroshima raid. He found the weather clear, then led the B-29 Enola Gay, which dropped the first atomic bomb.

Lumpkins admitted shooting Malone to Barnes, but claimed he did so in self defense.

Malone chased the two men in another car after they repossessed his auto. He passed them on the highway and was waiting for them when they arrived in Justin.

The collectors stopped and one of them got out and fired at Malone, killing him.

Denton County Sheriff Wylie Barnes said Lumpkins' companion, Thomas Gano, 29, will be charged with theft of the car that led to the shooting.

Lumpkins admitted shooting Malone to Barnes, but claimed he did so in self defense.

Lumpkins, who served time in a Louisiana prison for burglary, was charged with murdering Burnett Malone, 40, who followed Lumpkins and another finance company collector to Justin after his car had been repossessed.

Roy Lee Montooth, who is being held in a hospital for federal prisoners in Springfield, Mo., pending trial on the same charges, said he, Eatherly and Crews made two trips to the two post offices to steal money order blanks.

Since Eatherly was discharged from the service in 1947, he has spent most of his time in Veterans Administration hospitals' psychiatric wards for treatment of a "neurosis with psychotic manifestations."

Feeling of Guilt A psychiatrist at the Veterans Administration hospital in Waco, Tex., testified Monday that a feeling of guilt for taking part in the atomic raid on Hiroshima contributed to Eatherly's condition.

Labor Calls For Sizeable Wage Increase

By WILLIAM J. EATON United Press Staff Correspondent ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UP)—Leaders of organized labor called today for sizeable wage increases next year to offset a "deteriorating" economy.

The rally cry for more pay in 58 for 13,500 members of the AFL-CIO was sounded in a resolution of the federation's convention was almost certain to approve.

Key features of President Eisenhower's proposals to prevent union-management racketeering were blasted Tuesday by labor's hierarchy, which claimed marked progress in the AFL-CIO's own anti-corruption drive.

Meany Skeptical A "very skeptical" George Meany, federation president, warned that some items in the administration labor package might be used to put all union activity under government control.

The dip in business activity makes it twice as important that unions get big pay hikes to keep up consumer buying power, the resolution said.

Meany told the AFL-CIO general board to examine closely the administration program outlined last Thursday by Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell. He warned that some of the proposals would allow too much government interference.

Blasted Picket Curbs The AFL-CIO president blasted the program's picketing curbs which he said would give special protection to the "non-union... substandard employer" and infringe on the constitutional right of free speech. The proposal to require secret-ballot elections "bothers me very much," Meany said. It goes "pretty deep into the internal affairs of the trade unions themselves." He said the "new bureaucracy which they will call the office of the commissioner of labor reports" would be "only a very short step... to licensing legislation" for unions.

Johnson (Continued From Page 1) in the Soviet Union, Johnson said, and they will "buy time for us." He added: "but time-like most other things — is of no value unless it is put to use."

Johnson then issued a stern warning. "I am choosing my words with great care when I tell you that this country is in grave danger. It is a danger which will last for many years to come."

"The danger will be with us as long as we must react to Soviet achievements. It will persist to the point where once again the Soviets must follow our lead."

"And that point will not come until we have superior numbers of scientists, engineers and technicians who have an opportunity to realize their fullest capabilities."

Johnson quoted from Winston Churchill's wartime challenge to Britain in his speech at Waxahatchie.

"We will preserve our nation only if we are willing to take the steps that mean achievement. And those steps will require sacrifice—in the words of Winston Churchill, blood sweat and tears," he said.

"The sacrifices that are required are not too hard in view of the needs. But either we tighten the belt around our waist or the Communists will tighten the noose around our throat."

Man Cleared Of Post Office Burglaries

ABILENE, Tex. (UP)—A former Air Force major, who psychiatrists say is suffering from a feeling of guilt because of the part he played in the dropping of the first atomic bomb in Hiroshima, was cleared Tuesday of charges of breaking into two post offices April 30, 1956.

A U.S. district court jury found former Air Force Maj. Claude Eatherly, 39, innocent of the charges, but convicted Alvin D. Crews, 29, on the same charges. Crews was sentenced to two years in jail.

Eatherly, from Van Alstyne, Tex., pleaded innocent by reason of insanity, but the jury verdict read "not guilty" and did not expand on the reason.

Refused to Direct Opinion During the trial, Judge Joe Estes refused to direct an verdict on innocent or Eatherly, although he did say "the opinion of dis-fgpgv Estes refused to direct a verdict of innocent for Eatherly, although he did say "the opinion of disinterested experts in that Eatherly was unable to refrain from commission of the acts (with which he was charged) as the result of disease."

Roy Lee Montooth, who is being held in a hospital for federal prisoners in Springfield, Mo., pending trial on the same charges, said he, Eatherly and Crews made two trips to the two post offices to steal money order blanks.

Since Eatherly was discharged from the service in 1947, he has spent most of his time in Veterans Administration hospitals' psychiatric wards for treatment of a "neurosis with psychotic manifestations."

Feeling of Guilt A psychiatrist at the Veterans Administration hospital in Waco, Tex., testified Monday that a feeling of guilt for taking part in the atomic raid on Hiroshima contributed to Eatherly's condition.

Dr. Robert P. McElroy, the psychiatrist, said he considered Eatherly to be insane on April 30, 1956, the date the post offices were broken into, but that he has made considerable improvement since that time.

"If he is able to maintain his improvement," Dr. McElroy said, "he should make adequate adjustment."

Eatherly flew a reconnaissance plane on the Hiroshima raid. He found the weather clear, then led the B-29 Enola Gay, which dropped the first atomic bomb.

Lumpkins admitted shooting Malone to Barnes, but claimed he did so in self defense.

Malone chased the two men in another car after they repossessed his auto. He passed them on the highway and was waiting for them when they arrived in Justin.

The collectors stopped and one of them got out and fired at Malone, killing him.

Denton County Sheriff Wylie Barnes said Lumpkins' companion, Thomas Gano, 29, will be charged with theft of the car that led to the shooting.

Lumpkins, who served time in a Louisiana prison for burglary, was charged with murdering Burnett Malone, 40, who followed Lumpkins and another finance company collector to Justin after his car had been repossessed.

Bums Not Permanent In L.A. Yet

LOS ANGELES (UP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers may play in the Rose Bowl as a temporary site for 1958 baseball games, but President Walter O'Malley made it clear today that no definite decision has been reached on where the club will play next season.

O'Malley conferred Tuesday with Los Angeles Mayor Norris Poulson and other city officials on the steps necessary to convert the Memorial Coliseum to a baseball park for next year. Dodger officials have indicated they don't believe Wrigley Field here is big enough to accommodate anticipated crowds.

The Dodger executive toured the Rose Bowl, in nearby Pasadena, with New York Yankee co-owner De Witt Webb on Saturday. The bowl field, like the coliseum, is used primarily for football, but could be modified for baseball. Each stadium holds about 100,000 for the grid sport and conceivably could be adapted to seat at least half that number for baseball.

O'Malley confirmed that the National League club has not formally indicated its interest in the Rose Bowl to Pasadena officials. He said "everyone ought to know we are interested, but when developments justify a formal contract with the city we will make announcement that we have talked to them."

SMU's Mustangs Drop First Of Season's Basketball Tilts

By ED STITE
United Press Sports Writer
DALLAS, Tex. (UP) — Southern Methodist's three-times Southwest Conference basketball champions already have lost nearly as many games as they did all last season, but Coach Doc Hayes says "there's no use sittin' down at the side of the road and cryin' about it."

The Methodists, who carried a 21-3 season mark into the NCAA playoffs where they lost to Kansas in overtime, lost their opening games to Minnesota and Iowa, the latter also in overtime, with four sophomores trying to replace such talented stars as Jim Krebs, Bobby Mills, Larry Showalter and Bob McGregor.

"But, I can't complain," Hayes said after his young crew had bounced back to wallop Hamline in the third game. "Those boys have all the desire in the world and a lot of ability, but they're just not as big as the boys they have to match skills with on the floor."

"We'll Do All Right"
"However, there's no use sittin' down at the side of the road and cryin' about it. I think we'll do all right."

Hayes said he didn't mean by that to predict that SMU would win all of its remaining games, "but we're gonna try."

Hayes said Rick Herracher, the jack of all trades who was the "sixth starter" on the first of his championship clubs and who plays anywhere Hayes designates equally well, was "a solid anchor for my young sophs."

Herracher and Ned Duncan, the only other holdover, provide the poise to hold the young team in line.

Mostly Sophomores
Hayes has Wilbur Marsh, a 6-8 St. Louis, Mo. product who starred as a freshman point maker, filling the big shoes vacated by the 6-9 Krebs at center; Bobby James, a 6-5 Ruston, La., sharpshooter off the frosh team, works the front line along with Herracher.

Working with Duncan at guard are two more sophs, 6-2 Kim Nash from Hobbs, N. M., and 5-10 Max Williams.

Williams, who manipulates the ball with all the dexterity of the clowning Harlem Globetrotters, and Harlem Magicians, is a real crowd pleaser, but sometimes crosses up his teammates as much as his opponents with his behind-the-back passes and under-the-leg dribbles.

Williams "Good As Any"
But, despite his antics, Williams is, in Hayes' opinion, "pound for pound and inch for inch as sound a sophomore player" as he's ever seen.

Dempsey, Basilio Get Boxing Awards

NEW YORK (UP) — Jack Dempsey selection be debated here, even though you might make a case for Archie Moore or others. Because the September night at Yankee Stadium when Carmen won a merciless blood bath from Sugar Ray Robinson to capture the middleweight crown has to stand as one of the great fights of all time.

And, remember, the barbed-wire 117 lb man from Chittanooga won it.

Earning fighter of the year honors for an unprecedented second time, Basilio sets some sort of a record. He took it first in 1956 because of his two head-to-head battles with Tony DeMarco. In the first he captured the welter-weight crown and in the second he defended it. And both of those were dockside battles.

So it makes Carmen something pretty special, considering that fighters like Dempsey, Henry Armstrong, Joe Louis, Barney Ross, Tony Zale and Rocky Marciano were able to win the same honor but once.

So becoming the "fighter of the year" for the second time — a feat which none of those greats ever accomplished — puts Carmen in a class more or less by himself.

Nor will the justice of Basilio's self.

It is a prize-winning parlay for two men who, apart from size, were so much alike in iron-fisted savagery.

Dempsey's award is long overdue. Because wherever the Old Manassa Mauler walks he still is "master boxing" with a legendary fame which has grown instead of faded with the years. Actually his "long and meritorious service" has been to his own benefit.

Wins Blood Bath
For wherever he goes, spreading the boxing gospel and speaking in support of the sport, it has, as the saying goes, helped to keep his reputation "alive." Yet it has been an unselfish act which did not premeditate the accrued benefits.

Nor will the justice of Basilio's self.

Kiwanis Basketball Program To Get Underway Tomorrow

The Kiwanis-sponsored boys basketball program will get underway tomorrow night at 8:30 in four school gymnasiums, for all fourth, fifth and sixth grade students of Pampa.

An annually sponsored affair, the basketball program will be conducted in the Lamar, Baker, Sam Houston and Stephen Austin gyms every Thursday evening from 8:30 to 8:30 and Saturday morning from 9:30 to 12:00.

Under competent sponsors, and under the direction of the Pampa basketball coaches, all the eligible youngsters will have an opportunity to learn and play basketball each week at the designated times above. The program will run through the months of December, January and February.

Plans are for an inter-school schedule of regular games to be set up after the first of January, with equal grades from each school competing in organized games.

All boys of the included grades are invited to come out tomorrow night for the beginning of the program, reporting to either the closest school to their residence or the school of their regular attendance.

Kearns Sparking Tarheels To Nation's Top Ranking

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer
Tommy Kearns, a 5-foot, 11-inch "runt" by basketball standards, is the new "big man" for North Carolina's national champions.

A back-court sparkplug who starred in several key victories but averaged a modest 12.8 points a game last season, the stocky junior from Bergenfield, N.J., has developed into the Tar Heels' leading scorer. Kearns paced the team for the second straight game Tuesday night when he tallied 22 points in an easy 86-59 triumph over George Washington at Washington, D.C.

Tommy, North Carolina's No. 1 All-America candidate, now has scored 54 points in two games for a 27-point average. That's only a shade under the Tar Heel record of 27.9 per game set by the graduated Len Rosenbluth during the all-winning 1955-57 campaign.

North Carolina's 34th straight victory was never in doubt after the early minutes as the hard-driving Kearns kept the pressure on the Colonials, who appeared to suffer a severe case of stage fright. Pete Brennan, a 6-6 senior, and Lee Shaffer, a 6-7 sophomore, weighed in with 20 points each as the Tar Heels wound up with a 46 per cent shooting average from the floor.

Clemson, routed by North Carolina, 79-55, last Saturday rebounded to score a 63-59 triumph Tuesday night and hand North Carolina State its first defeat after three wins. Bowling Green beat DePaul, 82-69, Loyola of Chicago defeated South Dakota State, 85-54, and Richmond beat Washington and Lee, 75-65, to gain a three-way tie for first place in the Southern Conference, in the other top games on a light card.

Carver Set For Lubbock Encounter

The Carver Wildcats of Pampa will clash with the Dunbar High team of Lubbock in quest of their fourth victory of the season Thursday night in Carver Gymnasium at 8 p.m.

Coach Petty named as probable starters for the game R. Duke at center; Larry Cash and Robert O'Neal at guards and James Taylor and Elton Geary at forwards.

The Wildcats have lost only one game in four starts for the season.

Also announced was a tournament, scheduled for the Carver gymnasium, slated to begin at 9:30 a.m. Saturday. Participating teams will be Memphis, Quanah, Shamrock and Wellington.

Reapers Fall To Sam Houston

The Pampa Reapers suffered their first loss of the season yesterday afternoon as they fell to the Sam Houston Junior High in Amarillo, 46-24.

Ranking as high point man for the losers was Benji Richardson, who accounted for eight points during the game, followed by Allen Wise, who tagged seven points for the game.

In the first two encounters of the year, the Reapers downed Palo Duro of Amarillo and Elizabeth Nixon of Amarillo.

Composed of freshmen, the Reapers are coached by Pernik Scoggin.

Success Of Pioneers

We are enough of a believer in the Horatio Alger theme to get a thrill whenever we learn of some pioneer who starts in business in a small way and grows to great success. Such is the story of the Knott family of California.

If, and when a new "Hall of Fame" is established to honor those who have demonstrated how a combination of courage, determination, thrift and hard work is still the surest and best way to success, surely Walter and Cordelia Knott will be among those nominated by the millions who have witnessed the startling growth and development of Knott's Berry Farm over the past 30 years.

To thoroughly appreciate the accomplishments of Mr. and Mrs. Knott we recommend the five book written and prepared by Mr. Matt Gibson. To provide a short history the following is from the diary of Mrs. Walter Knott:

1920—"In 1920 we rented this farm and started planting berries. We built the little stand that was to serve so well in getting us off to a good start, and sold the berries we had grown to people passing along the road. For seven years we rented the farm and sold our fruit from the little roadside market.

1927—"In 1927 we were able to buy 10 acres of this farm. This was the year that we started on some of our present buildings and moved from the little berry stands. I began making fresh berry pies to sell along with light lunches of hot biscuits and home-made berry jam. Our first little tea room had only five tables. . . . While I was baking, the children helped out by serving our guests.

1934—"We call 1934 our 'chicken year,' because it was then that we first started our chicken dinners. The first day we served 8 dinners. New rooms had to be added each year and seating space jumped from 20 to 40, then to 70. By 1940, we had room for 300.

1940—"In 1940, we started Ghost Town. . . . We had high hopes that the people would take this bit of the Old West to their hearts.

1946—"We no longer had any doubts about Ghost Town. . . . Our farm had now grown from 10 acres to 200 acres. Seven dining rooms accommodated 880 guests at one seating. . . . this was the year we opened the Steak House.

TODAY—"It is hard to believe that there are 60 acres just for free parking. Our combined restaurant seating capacity is now 1,750. . . . We have 1,000 employees now, and they have helped us make the farm what it is. As my husband has said, 'Many of them are constantly giving of their knowledge and talent far beyond their workday duties.'

The philosophy of President Theodore Roosevelt was described in these words: 'I wish to preach not the doctrine of ignoble ease, but the doctrine of the strenuous life.' The Knotts have observed and followed this formula—they deserve to be congratulated!

BETTER JOBS

By E. C. Mollie Have We Become Brain Washed, Voiceless, And Captive Citizens?

In the last issue I was quoting from a manuscript written by Ted Ronald Lewis, San Angelo, Tex. It is a 25-page manuscript and is headed, "Have We Become Brain Washed, Voiceless and Captive Citizens?" I want to quote further from his manuscript:

"Do our schools any longer supply us with the necessary ideas of this highly technical, and atomic age supply of engineering and scientific brains? The fact is No! This nation of nearly one hundred seventy-two million people must import its finest scientific brains—this nation that led the world in scientific and practical inventions now finds itself almost devoid of original ideas and IMPORTS the new ideas and inventions necessary to our way of life. Why? It is not possible that our public schools, our colleges, and our universities are too busy with the problems of one world-utopia, and sociological advancement, and racial integration, with the result that little time, limited effort, and puny enthusiasm are spent on what are considered wasted efforts—the salvation of our own country, Communism under the cloak of the U. N. and its agencies is cleverly laying siege to our Government, our educational institutions, our churches, and our homes. Our national identity, our patriotism, our independence, and our Constitution are slowly, but inevitably being sucked dry of their virile strength, and ingested by that many-tentacled monster called the U. N."

"Mr. Von Braun, our foremost rocket expert, when interviewed on CBS Television network, stated that money was not the pressing object that we had about enough money, but that we had not entered into the rocket field soon enough; that both the Truman and Eisenhower administrations were to blame; that a project would be started, and then shut down. We know why. Mr. Eisenhower was operating his foreign policy, and our national defense under the aegis of U. N. peace and disarmament. Why is Mr. Eisenhower alarmed now? Because in the General Assembly of that strange hodgepodge of religious, political ideologies, scheming men, and weird machinations, called the United Nations, all decisions of policy are made. Up until now we have been able to blackmail and bribe enough of the 52 members of the General Assembly to win out on some issues most vital to our interests. How did we manage to bribe and blackmail enough members? By gifts of money from the American taxpayers' pockets, by loans, by military aid and grants, by every conceivable financial help, by economic gifts of our surplus. . . .

"Are there any more manifestations that we are preparing to trade down the principles of the Armed Forces Status Treaty? Is it a law of our land now? Yes, because it was signed as a treaty. Is it constitutional? Regardless of what the Supreme Court says, the Armed Forces Status Treaty is not within the Constitution of the United States. The treaty violates Article 5 of the Bill of Rights, and Article 3 of the amendments to the Constitution. Anything else? Yes! The Oath of Allegiance taken by our enlisted men and women in the armed forces has been changed? The enlisted military personnel now must take the military oath declaring his first duty and allegiance is to his Superior Officers and THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES NOT TO THE CONSTITUTION, AS HE PREVIOUSLY DID."

"The President of the United States can now use federal troops to enforce any agreement made under the United Nations Charter, for no military personnel any longer has the protection of the United States Constitution—except Commissioned Officers. . . . Russia coldly calculating, tenacious, and determined, mocks and taunts us as her leaders employ the U. N. as a sounding board for her ideology, and as a vehicle for her lies, her propaganda, and her disarming plans. For Russia knows that our leaders talk of their strength, but dream of One World, and are eager for disarmament, and are hopelessly lost in the web of treaties, and entanglements. . . .

"We have given 104 billion dollars of our money for peace and the war clouds are thick, and hang heavy over us. We owe more money than all the nations in the world, and are told how fortunate we are. The paid economists of the Government chide us for our fear, but other economists have told us that taxes over 25 per cent of our national income could destroy our freedom, and wreck our free economy; today our taxes are 32 per cent of our national income. That is the cost of our time bomb with the delayed action fuse which is our give-away program."

"Article 4, Section of our Constitution guarantees us 'A republican form of Government,' but to mumble the name of the Constitution, and to defy it in the name of the United Nations, and 'Law of the Land' is common practice, for we are devoid of moral right. We are brain washed, voiceless and captive citizens."

"American motor truck builders now produce more than 1,000,000 units per year, or about one-half the world's annual output."

Labor Unions' Abuse Of Individual Persons

By WESTBROOKE PEGLER

NEW YORK — In his Christmas message of 1954, Pope Pius XII inveighed against abuses of individual persons, human beings, by labor unions. He said, "Access to employment or pieces of labor is made to depend on registration in certain parties or in organizations which deal with the distribution of employment."

Phil Murray's outrage against American principles in dismissing Harry Bridges from the job of regional director of the CIO in 1948 because Bridges had given his political support to Henry Wallace, was a clear case in point. Bridges was, and is, president of the CIO Longshoremen's Union. He had been tried endlessly on "charges" of Communism in the public courts and Murray, had defended him passionately, even during a phase when Bridges was officially, legally adjudged to be a Communist. But now, Murray canned him from the post of CIO regional director for the West Coast because Murray was for Truman.

Murray then deliberately selected as Bridges' successor a criminal with a multiple prison record named Tim Flynn and arbitrarily imposed this thug upon millions of American workers as the West Coast strap of the CIO.

Continuing, Pope Pius XII said in his 1954, Christmas message: ". . . The proper function of labor unions. . . is the protection of the interests of the salaried workers within modern society, which is becoming more and more anonymous and collectivized. . . is not the essential purpose of unions. . . to protect the individual against collective irresponsibility of anonymous proprietors. . . How, therefore, can it be considered normal that the protection of the personal rights of the workers be more and more in the hands of an anonymous group, working through. . . of their very nature, monopolies? The worker, thus wronged in the exercise of his personal rights, will surely find especially painful the oppression of his liberty and of his conscience, caught as he is in the wheels of a gigantic social machine."

About 10 months before His Holiness wrote this comment I had interviewed in the Vatican a prelate who was advisor to the Pope on labor. I discovered, to my no great surprise, that this dignitary was ignorant of practical unionism in the United States. He expressed shock when I told him facts which have since been confirmed by the tedious repetitions of the McClellan Committee's stuck-whistle solo on the Teamsters' Union. I acquainted him with other flagrances of the racket.

He asked me to write a survey so that he could present this version to His Holiness for his enlightenment. When I published this interview, the monthly Jesuit Magazine called "America" carried a dispatch from Rome which said "Official sources at the Vatican" had "stated categorically that no Holy See official had been authorized to treat with anyone concerning union problems or personalities in the United States."

"The same sources had no knowledge whatever of the possible identity of the so-called 'official' mentioned in the Westbrooke Pegler story and they disavowed any Holy See association with Pegler

The Doctor Says

By Edwin J. Jordan, M. D.

MANY correspondents write to me asking for a discussion of the skin disease called psoriasis. Numerous studies of this curious disorder have appeared in the medical journals but it must be admitted that as yet the exact cause of psoriasis is not known and there is so far no sure cure. However, interest in its study has been speeded up by the formation of the Psoriasis Research Foundation at 44 Page St., San Francisco, Calif.

Although the cause is not known, there are some suggestive clues. Sometimes, for example, several members of the same family can be afflicted, though it has not yet been traced as a definite hereditary disorder. It is also known that psoriasis is often associated with certain kinds of arthritis with considerable frequency.

PSORIASIS, because of its peculiar appearance, is a source of a good deal of worry to those who have it. But although one physician has written me concerning serious complications from the disease, it is generally considered relatively harmless so far as life and general health are concerned. When psoriasis starts suddenly there is likely to be severe itching. In the more chronic cases (which are more frequent) there is little or no itching.

Those parts of the skin which have been involved for a long time generally become covered with a thick scale. When the scale is scraped off, tiny bleeding spots appear underneath.

MANY TREATMENTS are being used for psoriasis. Most of them produce good results the first time they are tried, but too often the improvement turns out to be only temporary and when it is repeated the good results that happened the first time fail to materialize.

The remedies most often used by skin specialists for psoriasis include ointments containing coal tar, exposure to ultraviolet rays (psoriasis is usually better in the summer) and X-rays. Almost every year, too, there is a report of some new and "better" treatment, but as yet there is none which has stood up and really does the job for everybody without any failures.

Some day the right treatment will come, but until it does, psoriasis will be discouraging to treat for patient and doctor alike. . . . that cost him his kingdom and his head. At sea, she proved to be top-heavy and sluggish in action against the Dutch. Brought to port for remodeling, she burned to the water's edge. Later ships given the same name were equally unfortunate, until Parliament, finally forbade any ship to be so christened. The recent sad mystery concerning the "Romance of the Skies" make one wonder if a similar jinx applies to laudatory names for ships of the air. . . . Russia may threaten to make the world run red with blood. But what is probably more important (to them), their own country isn't running red with borsch. Borsch is a beef soup that has long been a favorite delicacy of the Muscovites. According to Naum Jansy, a leader in authority on Soviet agriculture, a pound of borsch now costs fifty cents in Russia. Since the average Russian earns about $6.75 a day, this price is too high for him. Much has been written in the West about the evils of collectivized farms. But very little has been written about the main evil, which is that much of their produce isn't used to feed the hungry. . . . JACK MOFFITT

Russia, China Closer Now Than In Stalin Era

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Moscow's latest maneuver in Sputnik diplomacy has sharpened anxiety at Washington over the Far East problem. Party Boss Nikita Khrushchev and Mao Tse-tung have negotiated a closer contact than Stalin was ever able to arrange with Peiping.

In a cold or hot war, the alliance of these 800,000,000 people, not counting another 150,000,000 of satellite subjects, would make a formidable foe for the Free World's armies, air forces and navies. In the Korean "police action," as well as in Indochina, the Chinese peasants proved to be excellent, stubborn and hardened fighters. They won a stalemate truce in both engagements against Western troops.

The improvement in Sino-Russian relations occurred during the recent convention of Communist and Socialist leaders at Moscow, according to diplomatic advice. Khrushchev deliberately staged this meeting almost simultaneously with the release of the Sputnik moons so as to impress his visitors. It appears that he was only too successful in this venture.

In an address which did not receive the press notice it deserved, although it caused a deep impression and reaction in diplomatic circles, Mao Tse-tung declared that Communist progress in China depended almost entirely upon the assistance it received from Russia.

It was an abject surrender on the part of the Chinese chieftain. It served notice upon the West and particularly the United States, that in any World War III, the anti-Communist forces would have to fight on many far-flung fronts — in Western Europe, the Middle East, the Far East and Southeast Asia. During the Syrian-Turkey crisis, Mao had warned that he would support Russia in any clash in that region.

With Japan lagging in rearmament, and with the military alliance of SEATO only a paper organization, the Free World's Far Eastern frontier would be seriously menaced in a conflict so far from our supply bases. In fact, Pentagon experts entertain grave doubt that we could hold Japan, South Korea, Formosa or the Philippines. Even New Zealand and Australia might be endangered.

In view of the new Khrushchev-Mao Tse-tung rapprochement, it may be too late for the United States to reverse its non-recognition attitude toward the Communist regime in China. As Anglo-French diplomats have long feared and predicted, our policy seems to have driven the two dictators into each others' arms, with "of course," an assist from the Sputniks.

As a matter of fact, it would be politically dangerous for the Eisenhower Administration — or for any Administration — to recognize the existence of Communist China. It would split the GOP even more than it is divided now. Senator William F. Knowland of California, who is referred to in the press galleries as "the Senator from Formosa," has said that he would resign from the Senate to fight publicly any proposal for recognition.

As a matter of fact, it would be politically dangerous for the Eisenhower Administration — or for any Administration — to recognize the existence of Communist China. It would split the GOP even more than it is divided now. Senator William F. Knowland of California, who is referred to in the press galleries as "the Senator from Formosa," has said that he would resign from the Senate to fight publicly any proposal for recognition.

MORE FRIENDLY APPROACH — However, a more friendly approach to Mao will probably be pressed on Secretary Dulles at the forthcoming NATO Conference in Paris. The British and the French have toyed with the thought of accepting the unpleasant fact that "two Chinas" — Peiping and Formosa — actually do exist. Although Chiang Kai-shek apparently hopes to make his son his heir, there is no assurance that he can do so. A new and younger generation of Formosans may oppose the plan.

China is known to be in dire economic distress, despite Russia's helping hand. She lacks sufficient food, and has no solid industrial basis or transportation system. Faced with military and financial problems, it is extremely doubtful if Russia can provide the funds and materials needed for the country's development.

Only the United States and its Allies possess the resources to relieve China and to make it a viable nation. According to reports from diplomats, newspaper correspondents and businessmen, there is a vast reservoir of friendship and good will toward the United States among China's 800,000,000. They are not Communist-minded, regardless of the philosophy of the governmental hierarchy, or the new link with Moscow.

In view of these considerations, and in view of the pro-Chinese policy at London and Paris, the question of coming to terms with "two Chinas" will be a collateral topic at the Paris gathering of Western statesmen.

Mac's Car Breaks Down; Communication Try Fails

By HENRY McEMORE

VALENCE — When you know nothing about a language, less about gasoline motors, and your car breaks down in a small village where the language you don't know is all the people speak — well, you've had it.

The smartest thing to do is to swap the car for an apple or a bunch of grapes with the first person who passes by, and start off on foot for wherever you were going.

We were tooling along an off-beat French road yesterday, sixteen miles from nowhere, when our little German car suddenly went "kaput" after thousands of miles of rambling about without a murmur. . . . I got out and did the only things I know how to do when a car quits. I looked to see if the motor was still there. It was, so absence of a motor couldn't be the reason. I checked the gas. I poked my hand down into the tank and it came up wet to the wrist, so lack of fuel was not to blame. . . . Then I took the only other step I could think of. I found a good-sized rock by the side of the road and banged on the carburetor. I always do this, but I don't know why. When the motor wouldn't start after prolonged banging with the rock, I was done.

"It says there is something wrong with my car," I yelled. "Quit yelling," Mary called. "The man could be deaf, or he could be illiterate and not be able to read. You should be ashamed of yourself. And he might not be a Frenchman. Try another language on him."

I showed him the Italian. "Vi a qualcosa che non va nella vettura." The man shook his head some more. I gave him the Spanish. "Hay alguna averia en el coche." That stumped him, too. It also stumped me. What had I halted? The only known statue that could ride a bicycle? A mobile mummy?

Next time I get gas I'll ask for all the booklets in the place, right down to the new "chans" language. . . . BRANDEIS' WARNING Merchants & Manufacturers Assn. The primary mission of our Constitutional Republic is to preserve the proper balance between freedom and authority. . . . But federal government "do-gooders," perhaps unwittingly, are making assault after assault on this constitutional balance of freedom and authority. . . . Justice Brandeis, alert to the dangerous inroads, warned against "do-gooders": "The greatest dangers to liberty lurk in insidious encroachment by men of zeal, well-meaning, but without understanding. . . . The makers of the Constitution conferred, as against the government, the right to be let alone — the most valued by civilized man."

$95 Million Ditch Work Underway

NEW ORLEANS (UP) — Construction of a $95 million ditch to the sea began near the spot where 143 years ago this month British war ships scraped bottom while carrying troops to the Battle of New Orleans.
Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) and other dignitaries opened "Operation Outlet," the project is the Mississippi River - Gulf outlet which will produce in five to 10 years a deep - draft tidewater channel from New Orleans to the Gulf of Mexico.
The outlet will give this southern port — currently doing a $2 billion annual foreign trade — a second passageway to the sea about 40 miles shorter than the Mississippi River route.
The project was authorized in 1956 by Congress, which appropriated $625,000 this year to begin work.

The tidewater channel, to be built east and southeast of New Orleans, will allow shippers to reach the Gulf of Mexico after a 76-mile journey. New Orleans is 120 miles upstream by way of the meandering Mississippi.
The first 5 1/2 miles of the tidewater route will follow the present intracoastal waterway starting at the industrial canal, which connects the Mississippi and Lake Ponchartrain. From the waterway the channel will branch off southeasterly toward the Gulf and deep water.
The channel—with a minimum depth of 36 feet and a bottom width of 500 feet—will be a land cut except for 26 miles of open water.
In its straight shot path to the Gulf it will pass to the west of Lake Borgne where British ships anchored during the Battle of New Orleans in 1814.

I am four years old. I would like to have a dump truck and a helicopter. I would also like to have some candy, nuts, apples, and oranges. I have been trying to be a pretty good boy this year.
Love,

ON THE BEACH

Twenty-five days out of Melbourne—ten of them submerged—the USS SCORPION approached San Francisco. The Golden Gate bridge was down and nearby houses severely damaged. There was no evidence of human life. The radiation level was high.

The town of Half Moon Bay, though little damaged, also appeared uninhabited. But that night a jumble of radio signals tumbled from the SCORPION'S speaker.

The signals came from Santa Maria Island, near Bremerton, Wash. Commander Dwight Towers stood listening. "There's power there," he said. "Where there's power, there's people!"

New Commercial Flight Record

CHICAGO (UP)—A United Airlines DC-7 set a new Seattle-to-Chicago commercial speed record, breaking a mark set Nov. 30, according to a UAL spokesman.
The spokesman said the plane, carrying 22 passengers and a crew of five, chopped seven minutes off the previous record.
Capt. W. G. Whipple, Bellevue, Wash., said strong tailwinds over North Dakota enabled the plane to hit a top speed of 465 miles per hour. The flight was completed in four hours and 14 minutes.

Giles Clemency Hearing Monday

AUSTIN (UP)—A clemency hearing for convicted former Land Commissioner Bascom Giles will begin Monday before the State Pardons and Paroles Board here.
Rogan Giles, an Austin attorney and son of the former commissioner requested the hearing, to be held at 2 p.m.
Giles began his six-year term Jan. 10, 1956, after convictions in the veterans' land scandals. He would normally get out in January, 1959, if he serves his full term and receives credit for good behavior and other factors.
In a hearing last April, the board refused to extend clemency to Giles.

Colleges Awarded Cash Gift

SAN ANTONIO (UP)—The Santa Fe Foundation, Inc., has presented a $40,000 gift to 21 Texas colleges represented by the Texas Foundation of Voluntarily Supported Colleges and Universities.
The check for $40,000 was presented to Dr. James W. Laurie, president of Trinity University and head of the foundation, by O. H. Osborn of Galveston, acting vice president of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railway Co. Osborn said the donation was made in recognition of the serious financial problems confronting privately supported schools, and because of the "fine contribution these schools have made to the nation's welfare."

FORT WORTH (UP)—Bell Helicopter Corp. has announced a multi-million dollar contract to build H-13H helicopters for the Army.
Bell officials said the order, for an undisclosed number, was placed by the Air Force, which will administer the contract for the Army.
The helicopters will be built at the firm's Hurst plant between Dallas and Fort Worth.
The H-13H set a world endurance record last year for rotary-wing craft by flying 57 hours and 50 minutes without landing. It is used for training, liaison and reconnaissance.

A Christmas Story

Counterfeit Cash Said In Texas

HOUSTON (UP)—Secret Service agents urged Houston area residents and merchants to take a long look at any $20 and $100 bills they get during the Christmas rush.
Agent in charge Lane Bertram warned about a specific group of counterfeit $20 and $100 bills which are turning up in Texas and other parts of the Southwest. The bills are believed to have been made in France and Italy and brought to this country by seamen.
"Eight of the counterfeit $20 bills have been turned over to our agents since June," Bertram said. Bertram said the first of the $100 bills turned up in Texas in August, 1956, when a Dallas attorney, his wife and a pilot were Nine of the bogus $100 bills were found on the lawyer's body, Bertram said. Later, a farmer at Boonesville, near Dallas, found $25,000 worth of the same bills.

Most of the $20 bills, he said, have turned up in Galveston.
