

NEW TAX-CUT FIGHT BREAKS OUT IN SENATE

Democrats Jolted as Wallace-Backed Candidate Wins

ALP Nominee Wins Congressional Seat

NEW YORK (AP)—The smashing, unexpected triumph of a Henry A. Wallace-backed American Labor Party candidate in a special Bronx Congressional election handed Democratic Party leaders a severe jolt today.

Third party strategists, on the other hand, were elated. Wallace himself, in Tampa, Fla., on a speaking tour, declared: "This proves that the so-called third party can become the first party in 1948."

Leo Isacson, the ALP nominee, captured yesterday's 24th District contest easily by rolling up more votes than his three opponents combined.

Third Party Big Threat To Democrats

The victory, and especially its size, was amazing to political observers who had eyed the election closely for a hint as to Presidential Candidate Wallace's power to win votes in this national campaign year. The Democratic candidate was expected to win handily, since the 24th District has sent members of that party to Congress for years.

Several large labor unions dropped out of the ALP last month after it endorsed Wallace's presidential candidacy. In 1944, the party provided more votes for President Roosevelt than any state-wide margin over Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in the battle for New York's 47 electoral votes.

Isacson, a 39-year-old attorney who will become the second ALP member of Congress, won 22,697 votes. Karl Propper, Democrat, got 12,578. Dean Alfange, Liberal Party, 3,840, and Joseph de Nigris, Republican, 1,482.

Wallace campaigned strongly for Isacson in the battle, assailing particularly policies of the Truman administration with respect to Palestine. The Bronx district has a heavy Jewish population.

The district is in the stronghold of Edward J. Flynn, Bronx County Republican leader and former party chairman, who put his organizations solidly behind Propper.

Mavor William O'Dwyer and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt spoke in the district for the Democratic candidate. O'Dwyer, in his talk, tendered an olive branch to Wallace, inviting the former vice president back into the Democratic Party. Wallace spurned the bid and commented the Democrats were "sent to death."

C. R. Baldwin, Wallace's campaign manager, hailed the election as "proof as Mr. Wallace has been saying for months that the people demand a new party, a third party led by Henry Wallace, dedicated to achieving peace, security and abundance."

"Mr. Isacson won," he declared, "because he campaigned on the Wallace program for outright repeal of the Taft-Hartley act, restoration of price control, expansion of democratic rights, an end to the Truman doctrine, defeat of universal military training and the Marshall Plan as presented to Congress, and full U. S. support for the United Nations, for progress at home and peace abroad."

Rep. Kirwan of Ohio, chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, admitted that the showing of Isacson was "surprising."

However, he said he was "astonished" by the "absolute disappearance" of the Republican Party in the district. GOP nominees got only 4 percent of the vote yesterday against 19 two years ago.

Leo Isacson, the Wallace-backed ALP candidate, received 56 percent of the vote. Karl Propper, the Democratic nominee, got only 34.9 percent. The Liberal Party made a four-way race.

Two years ago the Democratic candidate won out with 42.2 percent and the ALP man received only 7.2.

French Girl Is Being Sponsored By Girl Scouts

A conversation of June Dalton, TSCW, with her French instructor led to the sponsoring of a needy French girl by Girl Scouts of Troop 2.

The troop is now sending a box to Pierret LeFevre of St. Maximin, France, every week. The boxes have included many items to make the little girl's life a more comfortable one. Things sent have included clothing, food, ribbon, crayons, pencils, labels, shoes and a coat.

ENGINES SMASH AT HIGH DRIFTS—Attempting to ram through a 30-foot snow drift near Coldwater, Kans., two Santa Fe railroad engines smashed three times at the barrier before breaking through it, sending snow high into the air, left. The front engine stuck in the snow and had to be shoveled out by section crews during the ramming. Enormous drifts blocked rails and roads in Western Kansas wheat country.

Astronomers Fail to Find Life on Mars

MCDONALD OBSERVATORY, Fort Davis (AP)—The Green spots on Mars may be some lower form of plant life.

But they are not plants like the earth's trees and grass. Astronomers at McDonald Observatory last night failed to give a flat answer to the intriguing question of whether there is life on Mars but Dr. Gerard P. Kuiper, director of the observatory, listed several known factors for and against the possibility.

1. There is some water. 2. The temperatures are not too cold. Against: So far, it appears the deadly ultra violet rays of the Sun would kill any form of plant growth.

He said he hoped by March 1 he could be more definite on some phases of the immediate study which started in October and which is now one-half complete.

Classmates Aid Youth Who Lost Clothes in Fire

Eddie Mandas lost all his clothes except that he was wearing when the home of his aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Sullivan burned early last Wednesday. But his classmates in room 206 of the seventh grade at Junior High are taking care of that.

After the fire on the Sullivan lease five miles south of town all Eddie had left were his shoes, one shirt a sweater and his levis. Eddie's classmates in room 206 of the seventh grade instructor, and the students started to work this week replenishing Eddie's wardrobe.

Marshall Plan Is Involved in Scrap

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new tax-cut fight broke out in the Senate today over the idea for shuffling Marshall Plan bookkeeping.

Republican fiscal leaders insisted the way is now clear for passage of a tax-cutting bill this year. But they ran into an argument from Senator Byrd (D-Va) and other lawmakers.

The Republicans based their optimism on the plan approved by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to spread the first-year cost of the European Recovery Program over two government bookkeeping years.

The committee earlier had figured that cost at $5,300,000,000 for the 12 months starting April 1.

Briefly, the plan is this: Three billion dollars would be set aside for the Marshall Plan out of the surplus the government expects to have on hand when the present fiscal year ends June 30.

The administration figures that surplus at $7,500,000,000. It also figures that the surplus next year, that is, on June 30, 1949, will be only $4,800,000,000.

So, by charging $3,000,000,000 against this year's books, Congress can point to that much more in next year's budget for government spending, debt reduction and tax cutting.

The whole thing is a paper proposition. The actual amount of money involved would be the same. Senator Milikin (R-Colo.), chairman of the tax-writing Senate Finance Committee, sponsored the plan. He said it will improve chances for tax cutting. And he added the measure will take up a tax-cut bill as soon as it gets the Marshall Plan out of the way.

The House already has passed a bill to cut taxes $6,500,000,000 a year. Milikin's committee plans to start hearings on this bill Monday. It may pare the measure to $4,500,000,000 or $4,000,000,000 in a bid for the Democratic support needed to override an expected Presidential veto.

Meantime, the Senate was scheduled to open debate today on a related measure. It pledges the Republicans to hold federal spending in the next fiscal year to $37,200,000,000.

That would top $2,500,000,000 of President Truman's original budget estimate.

Horrid Atrocity Story Revealed

TOKYO (AP)—A woman has been charged with serving American aviators' livers at a Japanese officers mess.

She is Shigako Tsutsui, former Army nurse and the first Japanese woman slated for trial on war atrocity charges. She and 27 men co-defendants are accused of killing eight B-29 fliers in medical experiments.

Five of the men, who allegedly ate the livers served with liquor, are charged with cannibalism.

U. S. Eighth Army prosecutors said the stolid woman defendant made all arrangements for horrible experiments on the Americans. The charges including cutting open the heart of one while he still lived and attempting to stitch it up again. The fliers had not been named.

Allied headquarters said the experiments occurred in Kyushu Imperial University's medical school at Fukuoka. The prosecution says they began after Tokyo Army headquarters ordered local disposition of captive U. S. aviators.

It charged that livers of the fliers were served at a special lunch for army officers and hospital surgeons and that the dinners were fully aware of what they were eating.

Scout Drive Is Under Way

Ninety civic club members from Kiwanis, Lions, B&FW, Rotary, Jaycees, Presbyterian Church and the First Baptist Church met in the Palm Room at 7:30 this morning for a breakfast as the Boy Scout fund drive got under way.

Seven teams were formed and these general solicitation groups will work until tomorrow afternoon. A "report coffee" will be held between 4:30 and 5 p. m. tomorrow at the Palm Room at which time the teams will report to the council auditor.

L. N. Athison, advance gifts chairman, said over $1,000 had been contributed through the mail and that gifts were still coming in. The 23 workers on his committee will turn in a report by the end of the week.

Rev. E. Douglas Carver and W. B. Weatherford gave talks on the purposes and goals of the drive. R. M. Samples, general drive chairman, was in charge of the meeting. Scouts from Explorer Post 80 conducted opening exercises.

Prices Down But Business Falling Off

NEW YORK (AP)—Storekeepers complained today that despite price reductions business has dropped off more than is normal for the Lenten season.

Customer resistance is becoming more intense, retailers said. Day-to-day purchasing is becoming common.

Just two weeks after the big break began with a slump in grains, retail food prices appeared to be steadying.

Price tags in the corner stores weren't reacting as quickly to wholesale fluctuations as they did last week.

But there was no steady tendency in the Chicago commodity markets, where a $114 price war started most grains sliding downward again yesterday.

There was an air of uncertainty and a watchful waiting after the seesawing tactics of the commodity markets.

Senator Tobey (R-NH) said in Washington he thought "the edge is off the price problem."

But he added, his Senate Banking Committee probably will wait and see what happens before acting on anti-inflation measures.

After a two-day rally Saturday and Monday, wheat and oats fell yesterday in all United States markets.

Grains showed some strength as the Chicago market opened yesterday. But a wave of late selling in the wheat pits carried most grains down. Soybeans were an exception. They pushed ahead 4 to 7 cents.

Hog prices were mostly 25 cents a hundred pounds lower at Chicago yesterday, but wholesale pork was slightly higher in New York as much as $1 a hundred pounds higher in Chicago.

Cattle prices were generally somewhat higher, but wholesale beef was lower both at New York and Chicago.

Cotton prices for future delivery were $1.55 to $2.30 a bale lower in New York.

Wholesale butter prices were up as much as 4 cents a pound both at New York and in Chicago. Stocks were irregular on the New York exchange, and many leaders were stalled by light selling.

For the first time since Saturday, the Associated Press wholesale index of 35 basic commodities dropped. The index dropped 1.15 points and stood at 187.29.

Advice Given on Water Storage

ARLINGTON (AP)—West Central Texas has been advised to double its surface water storage capacity in order to safeguard the future growth of its population.

Marvin Nichols, Fort Worth principal, told a meeting of city engineers here last night that the 39-county West Central Texas area should increase the surface water storage capacity to catch flood waters.

Nichols said the area has at present about 2,500,000 acre feet storage capacity. He said it should have 5,000,000 to 7,500,000 acre feet storage capacity.

Extensive agriculture in the ground water section of West Texas (west of Howard County and north to Oklahoma) is creating a problem of water rights, he said. He said the area must eventually adopt regulations for water use.

Oil Production In Texas Same

TULSA—A nationwide broadcast scheduled for 2:30 p. m. (CST) Saturday, Feb. 21, will be devoted exclusively to the national oil situation. The program, broadcast by the Columbia System network, will be heard over 90 or more stations.

The entire half-hour program will consist of one-to-one spot interviews with men directly connected with petroleum.

Producers of the nation will be represented by H. B. Fell, Ardmore, Okla. In addition to being an independent producer, Fell is also executive vice president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America. He will be interviewed at Oklahoma City, which is both a state capitol and, to oil men, one of the nation's most important fields in marketing and labor divisions of the industry will also be represented by speakers elsewhere.

Questions to be discussed will include, are we running out of oil; will we continue to be short of fuel; can or should synthetics be developed, and how are our petroleum resources now as compared with past years? These and other points will be developed in the extemporaneous interviews during the oil broadcast as part of the Columbia System's "Cross Section U. S. A."

Certificates To Be Given

Sixty-four certificates will be presented by Frank Wilson, principal, to graduates of the retail training school at a banquet to be held Friday evening at 6:30 at the Palm Room of City Hall.

Special retail selling films will be shown, according to Miss Gertrude Spruill of the University of Texas, who has been conducting the classes here. The films are "Where Rainbows Begin" and "The Challenge Across the Counter."

High Peoples, chairman of the retail trade committee, will be emceed. Special dinner music will be presented by Mrs. Mae Foreman Carr. Vocal solos will be given by G. E. Branson, accompanied by Mrs. Carr.

Participants in the training clinic were urged to secure tickets through store managers or the Chamber of Commerce by noon Thursday.

Dixie Democrats May List Demands

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—The Atlanta Constitution says that Dixie Democrats may demand that Southern replace Tom Clark of Texas as U. S. attorney general.

The newspaper said that Clark is not regarded as a real Southerner since he has intervened in racial disputes.

The Constitution also said that a Democratic vice president nominee to counter President Truman's civil rights program.

The paper suggested Sen. Walter F. George of Georgia as the nominee. It also mentioned Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia and Former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes of South Carolina.

A committee from the Southern Governors' Conference will go to Washington Monday to discuss the President's civil rights program with Democratic Party leaders.

Baseball Chiefs Deny Charges Made by Brooklyn's Head Man

NEW YORK—Baseball's newest controversy—touched off by Brooklyn Branch Rickey's charges that the other 15 big league clubs voted to bar Negro players—look on the complexion of the old button game today. Everybody was asking: Documents, documents, who's got the documents?

The league's head man, Rickey, before midnight and refused to retreat in the face of a round of demands from top baseball men. The best evidence is the documents themselves. Rickey said: "Even today I'm not sure about the documents and what was in them."

The Brooklyn head said copies of a resolution to bar Negro players adopted unanimously by the club were taken back after the vote. "You can't find a copy of that resolution," he said earlier. "I've tried to get a copy, but people's attitudes tell me all were destroyed."

Several major league clubs executives insisted on such papers ever existed.

Alva Bradley, former president of the Cleveland Indians, declared: "As a matter of fact, I was the chairman of that meeting and we never discussed the subject."

Rickey made his charges in a speech Monday night at the annual football dinner of Wilkes-Barre (Ohio State University), a Negro institution.

He closed that meeting in question took place shortly after he signed Jackie Robinson, the Brooklyn Negro rookie star of 1947, but before Robinson had played a game.

He said copies of a resolution were handed out which read: "However, we intended, the use of Negro players would hazard all the physical properties of base ball."

I don't recall it. Rickey added in this speech. "I don't recall it. Rickey added in this speech. "I don't recall it. Rickey added in this speech."

Jack-Young Winner to Get Shot at Lightweight Title

NEW YORK—Jack Williams in a title bout is the surprise prize for the Beau Jack-Terry Young winner. Instead of just another show at Madison Square Garden, Friday's lightweight duel now of, tests rich promise.

Jack, the former Georgia showman, who will be making his 26th Garden appearance, probably will be at least a 1 to 2 favorite. Twice holder of the world 135-pound championship, the Beau will be scrapping for a third chance.

For Young the bout offers an unexpected opportunity. He was in line for a bout with Williams until he was upset by young Paddy Donnan on Jan. 30. He got the Beau Jack match because Donnan's cuts had not healed.

Young has a chance to earn a title shot if he can upset Jack's comeback.

All of these possibilities emerged from a conference yesterday between Frank (Blinky) Palermo, Williams' manager, and Sid Strauss, acting promoter of the Twentieth Century Sporting Club.

Palermo agreed that he would meet the winner in the Garden on one of three spring dates: April 2, May 21 or May 28. The bout already matched with Kid Gavilan of Havana, Cuba, a non-title go Feb. 27.

Williams became the first unopposed lightweight ruler in five years when he knocked out Bob Montgomery in Philadelphia last August. He won the NBA title in April of 1945 by stopping Juan Zuleta in Mexico City. Montgomery, however, had been recognized in New York and several states until he lost to the Treadon N. J. Negro.

The Beau's career peaked in one last fight, Feb. 22, when he was carried from the ring with a broken knee cap after losing to Tony Junco. He launched a comeback campaign Nov. 3 and has not lost. Among his victims were Humberto Zavala, Frank (Kid) Gavilan, Billy Kenner, Jimmy Collins and Johnny Bratton. Only Bratton, whom he stopped Jan. 23 in Chicago, was regarded as a real test.

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR. NEW YORK—P. When Humberto Sierra fights Willie Pep for the featherweight championship at Miami next week, it will be (as far as the records show clearly) the first time a Cuban boxer has had a title shot since the day of Kid Chocolate and Black Bill. Those are a couple of pretty good names to start on, though there's nothing in the records to show that Sierra belongs in the same class. His best win is a somewhat uncertain triumph over Randy Saddler last summer. . . . Kid Chocolate, you remember, earned New York recognition as featherweight champion back in 1933, when dual championships were common. But he couldn't stand up to the best fighters of the day. Freddie Miller went on to clear up the situation. Black Bill, another great little fellow, progressed as far as the final of a New York tourney to settle the flyweight championship, losing to Miguel Wolgast in 1930. If Sierra, known as a defensive fighter, fails to make the grade, Cuba still stands another chance. Kid Gavilan, hailed as the best fighter to emerge from Cuba since Chocolate, has a non-title date with lightweight champ Ike Williams. If he makes a good showing, Gavilan likely will earn a title match.

NICE CHAP, MAN. Boisterous Ben Chapman, the Philadelphia manager who has something of a reputation as being a tough guy, spends some of his spare time in the off season officiating basketball games. . . . This week's Sporting News relayed the story of Ben's working a somewhat rigged game between Alabama and Louisiana State. After some strenuous action under the basket, a couple of players started to rough it up a bit. . . . Ben stepped between them, grabbed the ball, and said: "I'll hold the ball if you fellows want to step down to the foul line and fight it out." . . . The collegians sheepishly admitted they'd rather play basketball and Chapman had no further trouble.

Baylor Clinches at Least A Tie by Downing SMU 51-49

NEW YORK—Baylor has joined the Oklahoma Aggies and California as the likely winners of three of the country's major collegiate basketball conferences.

Baylor clinched at least a tie for the Southwest Conference by nipping Southern Methodist last night, 51-49.

It was the Bears' 10th straight conference win. They now need to win only one of their remaining two league games to replace Texas as champions.

The Oklahoma Aggies, with two victories over St. Louis, virtually have regained the Missouri Valley Conference crown. California already conceded the Pacific Coast southern division title, is favored to whip whoever takes the northern division laurels in the playoff for the conference blue ribbon.

Baylor's win was a first-class thriller. At one time Southern Methodist trailed by 23-7, but staged a sensational rally in the second half. Doak Walker, of football fame, tied the score at 49-49 in the last minute only to see Odell Freeston flip in the winning goal for Baylor a few seconds later.

The Notre Dame eleven played before 571,327 last season.

INTRAMURAL CAGE PLAY ADVANCES INTO FINALS Intramural basketball went into its semi-final round last night at Pampa High School when the First Period Physical Education class earned the right to meet the Fourth Period class in the finals with a very convincing 30-10 over the Fifth Period quintet.

The First Period boys were never behind and led 13-4 at the end of the first quarter. As their lead advanced to 21-6 at the half-time winners really settled down to collect 7 counters and Ray Covall who got six.

Guard James Lewis led his First Period team to victory with 12 points. He was followed in the scoring by Thurman Weathered who collected 7 counters and Ray Covall who got six.

In one of the closest and evenly matched contests ever seen in this tournament, the Second Period B team nudged the Fifth Period B boys 24-21.

The Second Period team jumped to an early 8-4 lead at the end of the initial quarter and increased their lead to 18-10 at the half. The losing Fifth Period quintet made their best showing during the third quarter as they allowed the Second Period club only two points while collecting six themselves to bring the score up to 20-16 going into the final stanza.

J. L. Mitchell hooped 11 points to top high point honors for the evening although he was closely pressed for these honors by Corky Tennant of the losers who got 10 points.

With Aubrey Carlton and Eddie Isaacs paying the way, the Fourth Period "B" team whalloped the Third Period "B" team 32-15 for their semi-final victory and the right to meet the Second Period in the finals tonight.

Carlton and Isaacs scored 12 and 10 points, respectively, while the Fourth Period team had trouble getting their scoring started and led only 4-2 at the close of the first quarter. Their lead was increased to 14-4 at the half and they led 21-9 at the end of the third quarter.

Tonight's games are scheduled to begin at 7:30 in the High School gym with the Fourth Period B team scheduled to meet the Second Period "B" boys first and then this contest is to be followed by the finals of the A teams when the Fourth Period class engages the First Period class.

Jockey Johnny Longden rode 316 winners last year, approaching the mark of 324 set by Vincent Powers back in 1908.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR. NEW YORK—P. When Humberto Sierra fights Willie Pep for the featherweight championship at Miami next week, it will be (as far as the records show clearly) the first time a Cuban boxer has had a title shot since the day of Kid Chocolate and Black Bill. Those are a couple of pretty good names to start on, though there's nothing in the records to show that Sierra belongs in the same class. His best win is a somewhat uncertain triumph over Randy Saddler last summer. . . . Kid Chocolate, you remember, earned New York recognition as featherweight champion back in 1933, when dual championships were common. But he couldn't stand up to the best fighters of the day. Freddie Miller went on to clear up the situation. Black Bill, another great little fellow, progressed as far as the final of a New York tourney to settle the flyweight championship, losing to Miguel Wolgast in 1930. If Sierra, known as a defensive fighter, fails to make the grade, Cuba still stands another chance. Kid Gavilan, hailed as the best fighter to emerge from Cuba since Chocolate, has a non-title date with lightweight champ Ike Williams. If he makes a good showing, Gavilan likely will earn a title match.

DUCKS UNLIMITED HAS INSTALLED MEXICAN CHAPTER

NEW YORK—Ducks Unlimited international waterfowl restoration agency, has installed a Mexican chapter.

The Mexican chapter's prime concern will be the elimination of armadas, a man-and-gun combination used by commercial hunters. Selling of game birds is permitted under Mexican laws, Smith said, and is the incentive to the use of the armadas.

Market Briefs

WALL STREET
NEW YORK, Feb. 17—(AP)—Slowly recovering continued in today's stock market but many leaders circumspect enough selling on Monday's rally to put them in the minus column.
Mild irregularity ruled at the start. Dealings slackened appreciably as prices edged upward after midday. Commodities skidded and top advances running to a point or so for favored stocks failed to hold at the close. Transfers tapered to within the vicinity of 70,000 shares.
Republic steel retained 1/4 of a point on an increased dividend. Ahead were Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone, U. S. Gypsum and Johnson & Johnson.
On the offside were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Goodrich, Sears Roebuck, American Smelting, Northern Pacific, Great Northern Railway, Union Pacific and Illinois Central.
Yesterday's sharpest upswing in four months inspired some professional profit cashing on the idea that the bulge was mainly of a technical character in correction of the recent drop to average lows since last May. Unanimous approval by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on the European relief program helped prop sentiment.
Bonds did better.

OFFICE Nurse

By Adelaide Humphries

THE STORY: Janice Hilary, pretty, efficient young nurse, popular and handsome society doctor Eric Holbrook, runs his office for him. Eric and Janice have fallen in love—although Eric already has a wife (who is away) and Janice has a boy-friend (Dr. Archer). They continue on formal terms with each other at the office, meeting in out-of-the-way restaurants when they want to be alone together. They both know things can't go on this way indefinitely but put off doing anything about it. Janice is happy for a while—then she begins to feel the strain of the secret relationship. Her mother and people at the office remark about her looks. Janice realizes that she and Eric will have to come to some decision.

That same day Ben meets Janice outside her office. His friend Ed has dug up a lead on the possible whereabouts of Mrs. Melton's husband. Ben takes Janice along with him to Grand Central Station and they board a train.

XIX
ERIC HOLBROOK had never thought it could happen to him. He had always kept his life on the ground. Even as a youngster he had known the kind of life he wanted.

He had wanted to be someone important, someone people would look up to.

And now that his life was secure in that very niche of professional and social prominence he had so early set his sights on, he

Not that Eric thought of Janice as a swamp of any sort. He thought what he always had, that she was a nice girl, an extremely nice girl. Added to this, he now thought of her as someone apart from everyone else. She was not only a nice girl, and an efficient, invaluable office nurse, she was Janice—Janice, who had jolted him out of his complacency, awakening him to new horizons, stirring his blood.

It was unthinkable that he would offer anyone as nice as Janice a shoddy back-street romance. Their shared meetings, their love, had never touched anything so ugly as that. Eric respected Janice as much as he loved her. And aside from Elissa, he had never loved anyone else.

He had asked himself before what had happened to his marriage. Now he knew; he and Elissa no longer loved each other. The magic had fled. Nothing except habit and a mutual mild liking had taken its place. Why they scarcely spent three full months out of the year together!

I am not married to Elissa anymore, Eric told himself. Therefore he was free—in a way. Naturally he had to tell Elissa about it. He was sure she would divorce him. Then he would be free, and he could marry Janice.

He had not thought, until this morning when Janice had not appeared and he had become so worried, that it would actually lead to this end. He had deliberately avoided thinking where it was leading. But now that he saw it was as clear and as certain to him as his professional goal had been.

Elissa had written that she soon would be on her way home. He was glad. He would tell her his decision right away.

Thinking Is 'Left in Lurch' Says Official

CINCINNATI—(P)—Atomic Energy Commissioner Sumner T. Pike said today human thinking "has been left in the lurch" by atomic energy.

"There exists today a condition of international distrust in time of peace that is almost without parallel," Pike told a group of members of the National Education Association.

"The need for clear thinking and steady judgment is obvious. Those of you who are in educational work know probably better than any other group of comparable size that fear is no foundation for intelligent thought and understanding."

"It is dangerous to a democracy for its people to feel fear, for it is a producer of panic or, even worse on a wide scale, of escape from fantasy."

The cure, Pike said in his prepared address, is to teach the public "the potentialities of this great new resource."

When they understand it, he said, the American people will appreciate the "three great benefits of the atomic age." He listed these as:
New ways and materials to treat disease.
New sources of energy to help man "lift his load of drudgery and free him to develop further the mind and the spirit."

New methods to increase world food production so that it will not be outrun by increases in population.

The 101 Brand

The story of how the old-time 101 outfit of No Man's Land pioneered one of the most significant economic movements in the Southwestern range business.

By J. EVETTS HALEY
ILLUSTRATION BY H. D. BUGBEE

It is an almost forgotten fact that the real range significance of the 101 Brand had nothing whatever to do with the 101 Ranch Show. The 101 Brand that the Plains nurtured and knew was a genuine open range outfit. And in its life span on the Cimarron, in No Man's Land, it encompassed an epoch in Western history and pioneered one of the most significant economic movements in the Southwestern range business.

The story of its land reaches back to the days when it was bisected by the Cimarron Cut-Off of the Santa Fe Trail, to when it was nothing but an outlaws' holdout in No Man's Land, to when it first felt the gentle intrusion of Mexican sheepmen in the middle 1870's and to when its brand was adopted by Texans a little later.

To begin with, English financial interests rooted in London—then the money market of the world—formed the Western Land and Cattle Company, bought a ranch of 32,000 acres in the Flint Hills of Kansas, and converted it, in the handle down through the Cimarron sand hills for nearly fifty miles. The succulent significance of the summer range in Kansas had been known for years, since the days of the Texas Trail. The Flint Hills put a quick finish on cattle grown to virtual maturity in the cow country. And so with an eye for money, the 101 annually gathered its steers in No Man's Land, trailed them to Las Animas, shipped them to its ranch on Diamond Creek twelve miles north of Strong City and sold them as fat beef on the Kansas City Yards before grass withered in the fall.

But the long drought and deflation of the 1880's followed and the Western sold the 101 Brand in 1889. The new owners continued the old practice and began taking in thousands of Texas cattle shipped to Kansas for summer pasturage besides. And the movement from the Southwestern breeding grounds for fattening on the Flint Hills grass definitely got underway. Then the Rock Island Railway built through No Man's Land, farming settlers followed, and fragmentation of the 101 holdings came with men who gambled a living upon the probings of a plow. The 101 Ranch moved from its original location four miles southwest of Kenton, Oklahoma, to leased land four miles down the Rito Blanco from Dalhart and in 1897 became the 101 Cattle Company of Texas. It was dissolved in 1904 and in less than thirty years its course was run.

Towns have grown up over its spacious range and it is all but forgotten. The seasonal movement of beef to the Flint Hills of Kansas is now a tremendous economic venture, though never associated with the 101 Brand.

The most important feature of its entire history was its part in pointing the way to systematic and profitable use of the summer ranges of Kansas, and a great seasonal movement now made by fleets of trucks and trains of stock cars—a genuine range economy pioneered in part by the ingenious handling of the 101 Brand.

The story of a clash of cultures, of conquest of grass lands, of loss of earned and saved money, called venture capital, of inflation in values and deflation to failure, of unfortunate conversion to agriculture as a prelude to dust—the whole story is wrapped up in the hide of the 101 outfit.

How to increase your popularity

Jean Campbell was 16 and popular. When the telephone rang, it was usually for her. Dad often remarked that Jean was the telephoningest person he ever saw!

Then one day Dad overheard some folks talking. "If that Campbell girl would ever get off the line," one said, "some of the rest of us might get a chance to call."

At first Dad was angry, then embarrassed. "Look, Pet," he told Jean, "you can make yourself a popular number with the folks on our party line, too, as easy as pie."

"How?" asked Jean.

"Keep your eye on the clock," said Dad. "Tell the guys and gals there's a five-minute limit. And remember, no one can call YOU while you're using the line . . . or them either," he added.

"O.K., Dad," said Jean, "we'll give it a try."

And that's how Jean Campbell got to be more popular than ever!

La Rosa Sorority Pledges Introduced During Colorful Presentation Dance

The annual Presentation Dance at which the new pledges to La Rosa sorority are introduced was an event of Friday evening in the Palm Room at the City Hall.

For the occasion the room was decorated with red and white crepe paper ribbons extending from the center light to the walls ending in red and white hearts carrying out the sweetheart tradition. Dolls made of hearts were hung from the center light.

Pinkey Powell's orchestra played for the event.

Six new members were presented during the evening, each girl appearing from behind white curtains through a red and white decorated heart onto a green carpet, to be presented by her escort and to receive a corsage of red roses, symbol of the sorority, after which pictures were made.

After introduction of pledges by Betty Meall, she introduced Verda Ruth Elkins, president of the sorority and presented her with a corsage. Betty Myatt was assisted by Janice Doggett. During the ceremony the orchestra softly played the sorority song.

The pledges who were presented and their respective escorts were Barbara Radcliff and Gerald Matthews, Cornelia Cornelius and Robert McDonald, Ann Crossman and Jack Imel, Nancy Brummett and George Crossman, Nell Brummett and Neil Quattlebaum.

The best pledge, Cornelia, was presented with a special gift. Mrs. Cecil Williams, sponsor of the sorority, was introduced and presented with a corsage.

The song, "You Do," was dedicated to the new members. Approximately one hundred guests attended the dance.

Community Concert Association Opens Membership Drive for 1948-49

Today the secretary of the Pampa Community Concert Association, Mrs. Carl J. Wright, is mailing letters to all members of the organization requesting that they renew their membership by March 31. Blanks attached to these letters may be filled and mailed to Mrs. Wright. It has been announced that a new member for 1948-49 securing a membership before March 31 may attend the concert that evening as a guest of the association.

The Pampa Community Concert Association is strictly a membership concern with members in Pampa and surrounding towns. This year members have been in Canadian, Berger, Phillips, Miami, White Deer, Lefors, Groom and Kingsmill, as well as in the states of Oklahoma, Kansas and Ohio. The members in Kansas and Ohio were interested in seeing Pampa have good music and, as they are in the city a few times during the year, they are able to attend some of the concerts.

Back in June of 1944 the Pampa Community Concert Association was organized with the one idea of bringing fine music, by renowned artists, to Pampa. On March 3 the fourth season will close with the presentation of the Columbia Grand Opera Quartet. This week, Friday, Feb. 20, will be one of the outstanding concerts of the season, The St. Louis Sinfonietta.

During the four seasons Pampa residents have been fortunate enough to enjoy the artistry of pianists, Bartlett and Robertson, Walter Hauptzig, Zedel Skolovsky and Abbey Simon; violinists, Patricia Travers and Erica Morini; soloists, Alexander Kipnis, Jean Watson, Igor Gorin and Mona Paulee; dancers, Slavenska, Rosario and Antonio and Svetlova; as well as The Don Cossack Chorus, Nikolai and Joanna Graudan and The Bary Ensemble.

Recently the executive committee met with Donovan Witham, representative of Community Service, to plan for the 1948-1949 season. Mr. Witham will return to Pampa April 11 to aid in the membership campaign to be conducted that week. This campaign opens with the Workers Dinner on April 12 in the Palm Room and closes at noon Saturday, April 17. All that week new memberships are to be secured by the workers. Headquarters will be in the Southwestern Public Service building with Mrs. Carl J. Wright, secretary, in charge. Mrs. Roy E. McKernan is General Chairman of the Membership Campaign.

After the workers turn in their final reports at noon on Saturday, April 17, the money will be budgeted for the coming year and that evening the artists meeting will be held with the Executive Committee meeting with Mr. Witham. It is at this meeting the artists for the coming season are to be selected.

The Executive Committee is composed of Mrs. Roy E. McKernan, president, Mrs. Raymond Harsch and Mrs. J. W. Garman, Jr., vice-presidents, Mrs. Carl J. Wright and Mrs. John B. McCrey, secretaries, F. E. Imel, treasurer, and G. F. Branson, Mrs. C. P. Buckler, Mrs. Mel Davis, Mrs. Joe Fischer, Joe F. Key, Knox Kinard, McHenry Lane, Dr. Douglas M. Nelson, Mrs. A. A. Schuneman, Aubrey Steele, Charles Thomas and E. O. Wedgeworth.

Fair Enough by Westbrook Pegler

I desire to supplement an important historical document, the life story of Babe Ruth, a great American, which has been written for printing and moving pictures by Bob Considine.

The Babe came to New York from the Boston Red Sox in 1918 in a deal that was part of a disguised case of syndicate baseball. Harry Frazee, a theatrical fellow who came from Peoria, had acquired title to the Boston Red Sox and was selling down to the rich and extravagant angels of the New York Club a bunch of ivory on the hook, including Ruth, who were to win several pennants.

The rich and extravagant New York promoters, T. L. Huston and Jake Ruppert, had a chance and Frazee, a lot of money toward the purchase of the Boston team. He wrecked the Boston team, or, more pleasantly put, he transferred the best of a great club to New York.

A little later, an ignorant hill-billy who pitched well for the Giants got sore at McPhee and solicited a bribe to go fishing. This would have hampered the Giants seriously because he was more or less reliably good for several victories in the time to go over to the fishing trip. He was banished from organized baseball in perpetual disgrace. I took miscellaneous pleasure in pointing the parallel between the illicit and the licit, between the perjury of the alcoholic ignoramus and the civic service to New York of the distinguished sportsman who demolished the great Boston team and erected the great Yankees for sordid gain.

Ruth had hit an extraordinary number of home runs, 19, as I recall in the 1919 season. Would I be safe in saying that the previous record had been 12 by Cactus Cravath, of the Philadelphia Phillies?

In the early part of the 1920 season, perhaps about May, Fred Ferguson, then the manager of an affair called the United News, a news report known in the trade as the wine, woman and song service, had one of his ideas. He left word all over town for Ruth to telephone him, but Ruth had never heard of him. Atrud that someone else in the same business might have the same idea, Mr. Ferguson observed that the Yankees were playing in Philadelphia, and went down to Philadelphia and a half-dozen other Yankees on their knees in a room playing a game that is played with dice. The hotel was the Aldine, strangely infested with elderly ladies, and sedate enough to inspire. It had the finest trained research pushed and production and merchandising methods constantly improved in order to keep pace with the fast competitive tempo of these times.

Mr. Ferguson went crazy and cleaned out the crap-game, and with the prestige thus acquired, was able to impress the Babe with his importance and acumen. He made a contract assuring the Babe $1,000 for the season and $10,000 for his home runs, and containing a reserve clause binding him to wear the world series for us, in person.

Still further, Ruth was to authorize a weekly resume of the activities in both major leagues and an occasional prediction. And, he was to earn a net $5 for each home run, he was to send a wire after each game, telling us, in his own inimitable language, what the situation was at the time and what kind of ball it was.

He had hit about a dozen home runs without sending any such dispatches, and, as his spook, had imagined the situations and the types of pitches. But Mr. Ferguson got petulant, for he had a bargain, he wired the Babe demanding to know. And further broadcast on the night of Jan. 11, 1948, a statement obviously intended to intimidate the President of Mexico. He implied that the Mexican government would be sorry next time it came "hat in hand" to Washington for money if it did not cut us off the Mexican peninsula.

On the following Sunday evening, Winchell announced that the President of Mexico had agreed to "investigate" the anti-Communist speakers.

Last week we speakers objectionable to the Smear Bund received official word from the Mexican Ministry of Communications, which supervises Mexican broadcasting, that it had listened to recordings of our broadcasts and had found them not only acceptable, but in fact commendable, and had been in contact with the government in combating communism.

A few hours after we received this official statement, however, we received word that the State Department had lodged an official protest with the Mexican government through our ambassador to Mexico, Walter Thurston, formerly of the U. S. Embassy at Moscow.

It looked as if the State Department was forcing Mexico to silence free speech over the radio. Efforts of senators, representatives and private investigators at first received only denials from the State Department that it had lodged any protest with the Mexican government.

Probing in Mexico City and Washington brought out, however, that the State Department had turned over its offices to the Smear Bund for the transmission of private portents—protests from "Birkhead" and associates to the Mexican government!

Common Ground

By R. C. HOILES

"A Reverence for Life" "I was very much impressed by the phrase 'Reverence for Life' born in the mind of Albert Schweitzer. I saw this expression used in George Seaver's book on Albert Schweitzer 'The Man and His Mind'."

Mr. Schweitzer is a great organizer and doctor who went to Africa and built a hospital. He is a man of very diversified talents. Under the chapter of "The Ethic of Reverence for Life" Mr. Seaver quotes this of Mr. Schweitzer: "The ethic of Reverence for Life is the ethic of Jesus brought to philosophical expression, extended into cosmic form, and conceived of as intellectually necessary."

Mr. Schweitzer says he conceived this idea while he was traveling in Africa to bring medical help to the wife of a friend. Mr. Seaver relates it by saying: "Then there suddenly flashed upon his mind, 'unseen and unthought,' the phrase, 'Reverence for Life.' A simple phrase no doubt; and yet for Schweitzer it has proved the key to unlock the door of all philosophy."

Schweitzer will not even kill an ant if he can help it. He will not even walk on grass if he can walk on a cement or gravel walk. He does recognize, however, that it is unwise such as the world does not know, but I obtain from a leafiness which the world cannot give. I begin to learn the secret of spiritual self-assertion. I win an unsuspected freedom from the various duties of life. At moments in which I had expected to find myself overwhelmed, I find myself in an inexpressible and surprising happiness of freedom from the world, and I experience a certain clearing of my life-view."

Mr. Schweitzer was never content with his accomplishments. He realized the amount of work to do, and the necessity of effort. He says: "A good conscience is an invention of the devil. That seems to be true. Too many people are too well satisfied with their material property, and with what little understanding they have of God's laws. They sit idly by or content themselves with escapist literature or try to entertain themselves."

Mr. Schweitzer is not much for creeds. He says: "Acceptance of a creed is easy; pursuit of ideals is hard." "Dogmatic theology separates men from God. It speaks in hypocrisies, objective, exteriorized God, making Him wholly other from man, and in so doing of necessity worships, not God, but his own concepts of Him. It makes the man who believes in it a slave to his own concepts of God, and sets us to the tasks that He has to fulfill for our time."

Theology depends for its beliefs, practices and ethics to faith: sacred books, creeds, dogmas, history, tradition; its gaze is directed upon the past. Ethical mysticism cares nothing for the past, but is concerned with the world, now, in God, the great First Cause. The will-to-act and the will-to-love are one; in what relation the spiritual and the material life stand to one another, and in what way our existence is transitional and yet eternal. But he is able to leave these questions on one side, however painful it may be to give up hope of answers to them, in the knowledge of a spirit who exists in God through love he possesses the one thing needful.—'Love never fails; but whether there be knowledge, it shall be done away.'"

Mr. Schweitzer's work on "The Quest for the Historical Jesus" reviewed in this book reduces the Christian religion to a practical religion rather than one of creeds and sacred books.

Mr. Schweitzer is a man of strong opinion. He said: "Progress always consists in taking one or other of two alternatives, in abandoning the attempt to combine them."

The government of Mexico at first naturally took the protests as official. As this article is being written, however, the Mexican government has decided to use its own judgment as to the broadcasts under its jurisdiction.

I repeat the question with renewed interest: How many times have left-wing groups been able to make such use of government offices to further their own political program? Why should rightist Americans support a State Department that is a leftist agency?

news behind the news

By RAY TUCKER WASHINGTON — Gradual realization of the enormous power which will be vested in the administrator of the European Recovery Plan has won growing support for the Martin-Taft demand for the White House and State Department to the fullest degree. Closer study of the proposed setup has produced a change of sentiment even among many members originally committed to rigid and detailed control by the State Department.

The general manager of the foreign aid program will have almost unlimited economic power, if Congress finally grants the amount estimated by the administration to be necessary for immediate rehabilitation and long-term recovery. When experts here and abroad ascertain the amount and kind of goods required for the participating nations, they will funnel their orders through him. He will become a large-scale buyer of everything from cigarettes to heavy machinery.

INFLUENCE — Any man in such a position will be able to wield tremendous political and economic influence if he be so minded. He will be under pressure at all times to channel his purchases to friendly individuals and factions or to route them so that certain shippers will be benefited. Local politicians, if Jesse H. Jones's experience as head of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation is any guide, will be "on his neck" from the start.

CONTINUITY — The task of attracting able men as economic aides in this country and overseas is a presidential problem for divorce of the ERP from too many official and bureaucratic ties. Business and industrial leaders of the caliber required put up with red tape and government handiworks during the war out of a sense of patriotism, although they suffered from it. Few would want to give their services again under the same conditions.

Still a third reason for separation of management at the top. It is pointed out that should the administration lose the election next November, there might be a period of "chaos and uncertainty, if the operation were allied too closely to the State Department or any other government agencies.

RACIAL — President Truman's political advisers have been shocked and surprised by the Southern Democrats' revolt over official advocacy of anti-segregation legislation. They had anticipated a certain amount of grumbling from the John Rankin type of legislators, but they never dreamed that the reaction would assume such threatening proportions.

In their discussion of the question, White House confidants took the position that Mr. Truman was merely carrying to their logical conclusion the very racial policies which had been advocated and advanced throughout the government by F.D.R. and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. Although the late chief executive handled the problem rather warily, he permitted his wife and highly placed federal officials to get a pace akin to President Truman's.

"In view of the excitement already caused by the White House attitude, worried Democratic bosses are looking forward to the Supreme Court's decision on the question of segregation as it affects real estate covenants. The case was argued several weeks ago, and a ruling should normally be handed down before the end of the current session in June.

Anti-segregationists feel that their cause would have a better chance, if three Justices had not decided to retire from the case. They are Associate Justices Stanley F. Reed of Kentucky, Robert H. Jackson of New York, and Wiley Rutledge of Iowa. As practicing "liberals," the latter two men had been counted on to vote against segregation.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — (AP) — The Russian critic who denounced American jazz as dead and degenerate music has "flipped his lid and ought to come over here and spend a gig at the track."

That was one reaction today along Swing Street, the main stem of American jazz, where the hep-cats gather to soak up the latest jive.

The Soviet rulers are worried over the type of tunes the Russian masses like. Apparently no one has come along able to set the "Communist Manifesto" to music.

The Central Committee of the Communist Party bawled out Dmitri Shostakovich and six other Soviet composers of advanced Classical music for their "bourgeois jodeling."

This didn't worry the denizens of Swing Street as all seven composers are "strictly from long hair."

The man who started 52nd Street blowing fresh "riff" and "hot licks" in rebuttal was V. Gorodinsky, a Soviet music critic who came down with both heels on jazz, which he feels corrupts innocent Soviet youth.

Citing a Russian educator who complained that modern jazz was "grinding our will into hamburger," Gorodinsky wrote in a Soviet magazine:

"Modern bourgeois music does not awaken strong joyous feelings. On the contrary, it extinguishes and suppresses them. It does not carry one away with impetuous passions, but hypnotizes one with the dead cold mechanics of its rhythm and the poverty of its melody."

Here is Swing Street's answer: Lionel Hampton, bandleader and a top exponent of "bebop," the latest torrid development of jazz:

Man, that Mr. Gorodinsky has really flipped his lid and ought to come over here and spend a gig at the track. He's goofed but plectrum when he says our music is dead.

(Eds Note: One of our office boys who plays a saxophone translated this as follows: "The gentleman must have lost his mind. He would do well to spend an evening at the Savoy Ballroom in Harlem where excellent jazz is played. He is mistaken in his views on our music.")

Duke Ellington said jazz was "live, responsive, ever-changing and means freedom of musical speech."

JERRY'S SHARP Jerry Lester says there have been so many fights at Ciro's that Gillette is thinking about sponsoring the floor show.

Deanna Durbin will play a Washington, D. C., telephone operator in the next film, "White House Girl." But at the moment she's telephoning only Vincent Price. . . . Nominated for an Oscar: The Music Hall theater in New York, where popcorn eating is banned. Ah, Utopia.

Judy Clark insists she isn't marrying Guy Madison, or anyone else. . . . Reports from abroad have it that Charles Boyer is being offered a post in the Italian film industry that would make him the Louis B. Mayer of Rome.

The last laugh is on radio's Ellery Queen. Ellery had Jerry Devine, director of "This Is Your FBI" as the arch-murder detective on his program, and Jerry couldn't solve the Queen Mystery. Now Jerry is casting Ellery on his FBI show as a dumb cop who gets beat up by mobsters.

The Nation's Press

THE BRITISH PALESTINE PROBLEM (Truth, London, England) The British position in Palestine, had enough before our men were being shot down by only one side, is now unendurable; British troops and police have become sitting birds for both Jewish and Arab mobs who in their eagerness to protect each other from the other, this or something like it, is the pattern which has been repeated over and over again: Jewish terrorists throw bombs from taxis at Arab and British queues for buses, or otherwise fire their guard, British soldiers or police are at once rushed to the scene, by which time the infuriated Arabs are gathering to revenge themselves on the Jews. Because the presence of our men frustrates this purpose, the Arab mob, feeble and ugly as any other mob, visits its wrath on such Britons as it can isolate to kick or stab to death.

Unhappily, this treacherous attack from both sides is likely to be intensified as tension grows between now and next May, when the mandate will be surrendered. If the British Government could arrange for the surrender to March, with military evacuation on swiftly to follow, it would ensure that many excellent young Britons would remain alive instead of being done to death by evil crowds in Levantine streets. To get them out quickly would be a great service to the British nation and would more than compensate for such stores as might have to be destroyed.

Gracie Reports

By GRACIE ALLEN Goodness, I'd hoped I wouldn't have to write any more about long dresses and that 'New Look,' but now the safety man of the American Automobile Association claims it's positively dangerous for us girls. He says lady pedestrians were far safer at night when they always carried their legs encased in light-colored stockings.

Personally, I think it's bad enough that we girls have to dress to please the men and the fashion designers without having to dress to please Chevrolet and Lincoln Continentals. I don't want to go back to the horse-and-buggy days, but then, at least, we didn't have to dress to make the horses happy.

George thinks the best way to save lady pedestrians from auto drivers who can't see their stockings any more is to put up those old railway warning signs on street corners. Only instead of reading "Stop Look Listen" they'd say "Stop New Look Listen."

Under an ancient law, the only names permitted to be recorded in the civil registers of France as Christian names of children were those of saints in the calendar and those persons known in ancient history. Vestiges of this custom remain today.
