Lengthy Laos Crisis Talks In Prospect

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk flew home today to prospects of long negotiations with Russia on Laos.

Rusk, returning from conferences of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) in Bangkok and talks with India's Prime Minister Nehru, was to land at noon at Andrews Air Force Base near here.

As Washington awaited an official Soviet reply to a British-American call for a cease fire, officials were becoming more convinced that Russia's answer, when it came, would be neither yes nor no, but probably a hedged "acceptance" requiring careful study of qualifications and pitfalls.

Unless unforeseen developments precipitate a military showdown, officials looked for protracted negotiations and saw slim chance of an immediate final settlement.

The United States continued to hold the implication of use of force over the Laos crisis, but carefully avoided any open threat or ultimatum which might make Russia balk at cease fire negotiations.

A "substantial U.S. and British military force" was poised within striking distance in case the current lull in the civil war in Laos should be broken by a new Communist offensive.

Informed sources said Russia was doubtless under pressure from Red China not to "give too much away" in the situation. This was apparently partial reason for President Kennedy's decision not to press Russia too hard on the matter, and for the mild resolution of the SEATO powers in Bangkok.

MOSCOW (UPI)—The communique issued at the end of this year's meeting of Warsaw Pact nations was the most moderate document of its kind since the

Storm Leaves Pampa With Slush Problem; Many Trees Damaged

Pampans found themselves wading in riverlets of slush this afternoon in the wake of a seven-inch overnight snowfall that came down slowly through most of yesterday and piled up through the night.

The weatherman said this forenoon the snow was general throughout the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles and was heaviest in the Pampa area and to the northeast.

Pampa registered from 7 to 8 inches of snow on the ground at daybreak and received from it about .77-inch of moisture.

The wet, heavy snow caused hundreds of dollars damage to trees throughout the city. The accumulating snow on tree limbs proved too much and city streets this morning were littered with broken trees and branches.

City Manager John Kooz said the snowstorm will cost the city some $5,000 before all the debris is cleaned away.

A crew of 130 workers from the street and parks departments was out at 7 a.m. with 25 trucks working in all sections of the city.

Maintenance equipment also was clearing the downtown streets of snow, but the sun was doing the fastest job of removing the snow from streets and sidewalks. At the same time it was creating miniature lakes in the streets and pedestrians were having difficulties crossing streets in downtown intersections.

City Manager Kooz said the problem of water in the streets was caused by cars parked at curbs making it impossible for workers to remove snow from the curb and open a passage for the water to flow away properly.

The city charter, the city manager pointed out, requires property owners both in business and residential areas to remove ice and snow, slush and debris from their sidewalks.

"The city is doing a big job in this respect," he said, "but we also would like to have cooperation of property owners in getting the streets and sidewalks clear of snow and fallen tree limbs."

City police said five minor accidents were reported during the snowstorm. None of them resulted in serious injury. Police Chief Jim Conner said the accidents were the result of skidding in snow at street intersections and all wound up

Aides Like Gains Made By Kennedy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress took a springtime breather today with President Kennedy's lieutenants generally pleased with action so far on his program.

The legislative machinery—which has been churning faster than usual for this time of year—won't crank up again for at least another 10 days. The lawmakers were off on their annual Easter vacation.

Democratic leaders and White House aides were more than satisfied with the speed with which Congress has acted on Kennedy's legislative program in the 10 weeks since he entered the White House.

Four of the 18 measures which Kennedy placed on his initial list of "priority" bills on Feb. 21 already have cleared Congress. Prospects were good that Congress would complete action on at least two or three of the other measures before the end of April.

So far Kennedy has suffered only one major legislative reversal. The major set back came Friday when a coalition of House conservatives defeated by one vote an administration-backed minimum wage bill. But administration strategists are confident that Congress will wind up approving a measure much more to Kennedy's liking than the conservative-backed bill the House passed.

In fact, some Kennedy backers were saying today that the one vote defeat may turn out to be a blessing in disguise. They said it had served the purpose of convincing liberal House Democrats—some of whom have had a poor attendance record on non-record votes—that they must be on the floor in force, if Kennedy is to win his cliff-hanger battles with the House's coalition.

DENTON, N.C. (UPI)—An Air Force B52 jet bomber with eight crewmen aboard apparently exploded in flight Thursday night and crashed in flames near a group of rural farmhouses, scattering fiery wreckage over several acres.

A spokesman at Dow Air Force Base, Maine, where the giant Strategic Air Command bomber was based, said one crewman was known dead, two survived and five were missing.

Nine Are Killed In Two Crashes On State Roads

WELLINGTON, Tex. (UPI) — Two cars crashed headlight to headlight early today and killed six persons, four of them members of one family. There were no survivors.

The Department of Public Safety said the victims were Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Sherwood, about 60, and their two sons, Ray Presley Sherwood and Harley Gene Sherwood; William (Bill) Gay of Cushing, Okla., driver of the second car, and a companion, John L. Smith of Meeker, Colo.

Sherwood and his sons had a ranch near Wellington. Jimmie Kelso, owner of Kelso Funeral Home where the bodies were taken, said the two Sherwood boys were unconscious but alive when ambulances arrived, but died within minutes after they reached a hospital.

There were no witnesses to the crash. Both cars were demolished.

DAYTON, Tex. (UPI) — Two automobiles collided head-on at high speed late Thursday night when one of them started to pass a third vehicle. Three Houston men were killed instantly and two others were critically injured.

Dead were Richard Turner, 37; Charles H. Burrell, 28, and Max Laverne Brewer, 37.

The three were employees of Shell Oil Co. and were returning to Houston from New Orleans, where they worked every other week.

The car, driven by Turner, was four miles west of Dayton on U.S. 90 when an oncoming car driven by Joseph Coleman, 33, also of Houston, pulled out to pass.

The two cars collided head-on and the impact hurled the dead men's car about 40 feet from the roadway.

Coleman and a passenger, Charles Henry Haak Jr., 30, another Houston man, were critically injured.

Christians Of Nation Plan Easter Services

By United Press International
From a lonely cave on the rugged coast of Maine to the deck of an aircraft carrier in San Diego Bay and an Hawaiian Beach, American Christians will gather Easter morning to rejoice in an age-old cry.

"Christ is risen."
Most Americans will worship at Easter service in the church of their choice. Churches across the nation scheduled extra services and masses to accommodate the worshippers.

Millions of other Christians planned to attend sunrise services on mountaintops, in natural outdoor amphitheaters, in cemeteries, or under huge man-made crosses.

Many of the services were second or third generation affairs, some were expected to draw up to 100,000 worshippers.

The oldest continuous Easter sunrise service of its kind in the East was planned on the parade ground of Ft. Hamilton in Brooklyn. The service, an institution since 1802 and once attended by Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson, probably will be the last at the present site. The fort is being rebuilt to make way for the approaches of the Verrazano-Narrows Bridge.

Among the sunrise services being held for the first time is one in McCormick Place, Chicago's vast new convention hall on

Judge Plans Death Case Appeal
FORT PIERCE, Fla. (UPI) — Joseph A. Peel Jr. will ask for a new trial on his conviction as the employer of the Chillingworth assassins, and an equally dissatisfied prosecution will try to put the ex-judge in the electric chair.

The dapper, 37-year-old Peel was found guilty Thursday on accessory to first degree murder charges by a 12-man jury in the St. Lucie County Circuit Court. But the panel recommended mercy, making a life sentence mandatory.

The former West Palm Beach city judge was convicted of ordering ex-convict Floyd (Lucky) Holzapfel and Negro moonshiner George (Bobby) Lincoln to carry out the 1955 abduction and murder of Circuit Judge and Mrs. C. E. Chillingworth.

Trial Judge D. C. Smith postponed sentencing of Peel pending filing of motions for a new trial on April 14, and further argument of the motions on April 28. Peel was certain to ask for a new trial and had 90 days to appeal the

Honesty Termed Need In Dealing With Tax Issues

"A little more statesmanship and less demagoguery" is needed in the search for a tax measure in the State Legislature at Austin.

Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo told his audience at a Congressional Action Breakfast meeting in Coronado Inn this morning.

The breakfast club attendance was cut down to 35 or 40 persons because of the heavy snowfall.

Senator Hazlewood made the trip from Amarillo this morning and arrived at the Coronado only a few minutes late for his scheduled appointment.

The Amarillo state senator dealt entirely with the state's tax problems in his 30-minute address.

"We have all types of tax bills introduced," Hazlewood said, "and they run all the way from a tax on every kind of part you could use on any kind of a machine or moving mechanism to a 55 tax on dogs."

The senator said the big trouble is that there is not enough honesty in approach to the tax problem.

"They're afraid to face the issue," he said. "The thing resolves itself into a very simple solution. This, he stated, merely involves the question of whether the taxpayers want to pay for the services they are demanding and the services that are needed."

"You just have to pay the Pied Piper," Hazlewood said.

For the most part, he stated, it has to be either a sales tax or a state income tax if Texas is to raise the money which they say is required to take the state out of the red.

Footsteps Of Christ Followed

JERUSALEM, Jordan (UPI)—Pilgrims from around the world walked today in the footsteps of Jesus Christ along the "Way of Sorrow" through this ancient Holy City to Calvary where he died on the cross nearly 20 centuries ago.

Christians paused to pray at the stations of the cross on the dusty Via Dolorosa marking the significant events during Christ's crucifix-burdened journey to His death.

Laos Prince Wants Arms Aid Stopped
LONDON (UPI) — Laos "neutralist" ex-Premier Prince Souvannaphouma called on the United States and Russia today to halt shipments of military aid to opposing forces in his embattled homeland.

Souvannaphouma told a news conference that if the United States would stop shipping arms to the forces of pro-Western Premier Prince Boun Oum he would retract his request for Soviet aid to the Communist rebels.

He solicited Soviet aid late last year, shortly before his government was overthrown by pro-Western forces.

The prince pledged he would not permit Communists to control Laos and said he would be the first to fight them if they tried to take over the country. He said Hanoi and Peking had agreed that Laos should be neutral.

Pampa's School Election Slated For Tomorrow

Voters go to the polls tomorrow to elect two school trustees for three-year terms in the Pampa Independent School District.

Candidates for the posts are John Gikas, D. E. Holt, R. D. (Jimmy) Wilkerson and O. F. (Ot) Shewmaker.

Two are to be elected. There will be just the one voting place — Pampa Junior High School, 126 W. Francis St.

The polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

County Clerk Charlie Thut said the 382 absentee ballots cast in the election, a record, indicated interest was high in the school race and that tomorrow's voting more than likely would be a heavy one if weather conditions permit.

Hearing On Judge Delayed One Day
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The hearing on the nomination of Reynolds G. Garza to be United States district judge for South Texas was postponed from April 8 to April 7, Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., announced Thursday.

Eastland, chairman of the Judiciary Committee, said Sen. William Blakley, D-Tex., will act as chairman of the subcommittee which will consider the nomination.

Negroes Stage Protest Rally
JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—About 800 Negroes met Thursday night to protest alleged "police brutality" in anti-segregation demonstrations here this week.

They sang, marched, prayed and cheered speeches by integration leaders, including Clarence Mitchell, director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People's Washington bureau.

The protest rally was scheduled by the NAACP after 100 Negroes were chased from the city courthouse Wednesday.

U.S. Fishermen Fined In Mexico
MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Two Texas fishing boats caught by a Mexican patrol vessel fishing in Mexican waters have been fined $800 (U.S.) each by the Maritime Ministry, it was learned here Thursday.

The vessels, the Ramon Ace and the Lucy Rae, and their captains are being held at Tampico, Gulf Coast port, pending payment of the fines, according to a ministry announcement.

Bomb Blast Kills Mayor In France
PARIS, France (UPI) — Two bombs believed set by rightwing extremists today killed Mayor Camille Blanc of Evian, the resort city on Lake Geneva where France is to start negotiations with Algerian rebels next Friday.

The explosions, 15 seconds apart at 3 a.m., shattered the front of Evian's Hotel Beau Rivage, home of the mayor.

Flying debris ripped into his shoulder and face. He was rushed to a hospital but died shortly afterward. His wife was injured.

Autos Almost Buried — Pampa motorists had plenty of work to do this morning digging their cars out from under the heavy snow. The cars pictured above belong to Fred J. Laminack, 1100 block of N. Duncan and present a scene typical throughout the city. There were about 7 inches of snow on the ground when Pampans awoke this morning but the sun was fast melting it away. (Daily News Photo)

Project Mercury Not Top Space Trip Goal

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Project Mercury is the kindergarten of the American man-in-space program. Although it may cost up to half a billion dollars, and jeopardize the well being of seven healthy, intelligent and highly skilled young men, it is small potatoes compared to what the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) has in mind for other young men in the latter part of this decade.

Before another 10 years are over, NASA hopes to be launching men on missions which may take weeks or months to complete.

The first manned Mercury flight, expected very soon, will last about 16 minutes. It will take an astronaut, bedded down on a contour couch in a Mercury capsule on top of a Redstone rocket, to an altitude of about 115 miles and drop him into the sea about 290 miles down-range from Cape Canaveral, Fla. His top speed will be around 4,000 miles an hour.

The next big item on the Mercury program will see an astronaut boosted into orbit around the earth by an Atlas. This could happen before the end of this year. Kicked into orbit aboard his capsule at a peak velocity of 17,400 miles an hour, the astronaut will whip around the earth three times and come down after a ride lasting 4½ hours.

For about six minutes in the Redstone hop and for the entire time he is aloft in the orbital ride, the astronaut will feel as though his weight were zero.

Man has always been "a one-g animal"—that is, from the beginning he has always felt the earth's gravitational tug on his bones, muscles and organs.

Will he be able to function in the absence of that constant pull when his speed of motion in space is such as to cancel the sensation of weight?

Scientists feel in their bones that men can endure this and other discomforts of space travel and still perform like men—intelligently, courageously, quickly, enduringly. But they still are not sure.

The Russian dogs Belka, Strelka and Chernushka, all of whom survived orbital trips, and the American chimpanzee Ham, who dipped a toe in space aboard a Redstone-boosted Mercury capsule, proved that animals, at least, can stand weightlessness for brief periods.

The Mercury program may prove that men can endure weightlessness for several hours. But what about the long-term effects. This is a question that only experience can answer. It is the big unknown of manned space flight.

After Mercury, NASA has scheduled Apollo, a program to send men around the moon and back in 1969 and to land men on the moon, and bring him home again, in 1971.

Between Mercury and Apollo, however, there must be much additional research on the effects of weightlessness. NASA plans, starting perhaps before the Mercury program ends in 1962, to put chimpanzees and monkeys into orbit for periods ranging from two to 14 days.

Then, before any Apollo missions are undertaken, human astronauts will be put through practice orbital flights of increasing duration.

Of course, it just possibly might turn out that even the brief Mercury rides will prove man incapable of longer sojourns in space. If that should be the case, scientists say, the sooner we find out the better.

12 Anti-Castro Rebels Claimed Seized In Cuba

HAVANA (UPI)—The government announces the capture of 12 rebel terrorists in Havana, including the son of a top Cuban exile leader now in Miami.

Major Raul Castro's Armed Forces Ministry said a 10-member terrorist group was seized in a downtown apartment two others, including 24-year-old Alfredo Sanchez Echevarria, were captured after a running gun battle on Havana's seafront Malecon Drive. Sanchez Echevarria is the son of Aurelio Sanchez Arango, a former minister of state who went into exile in the United States last year. Head of the political group known as the Triple-A, Sanchez Arango is one of the foremost leaders of exiles in Miami.

Authorities said Sanchez Echevarria and a companion, Pedro Fuentes Cid, 22, exchanged shots from their car with military police until bullets punctured the car's tires and it smashed into an abutment.

Reliable sources said the shooting took place Monday night. Both youths are charged with terrorism, promoting an armed uprising, and plotting to assassinate Prime Minister Fidel Castro and other government leaders. Each charge carries the death penalty.

The ministry said their automobile was loaded with weapons including four submachineguns, and five automatic rifles, two pistols and large quantity of ammunition. Two women were among the 10 arrested in an apartment in the old section of Havana, the announcement said.

Original manuscript of the diary of Samuel Pepys, in six volumes, is at Magdalene College, Cambridge, England.

Alpine Workers Off Soup Spoon Line, In Plants

BOLZANO, Italy (UPI)—Fewer and fewer young men are wearing "soup spoons" in their hats—they prefer to work in factories.

And the disappearance of this traditional symbol of the job-seeker in the Alpine foothills is causing bad feelings among the German-speaking inhabitants in this northern Italian area that once was part of the Austrian Tyrol.

In past years at the spring and fall markets held in the main towns—Bolzano, Merano, Bressanone and Bressanone—young farm workers would gather on a special corner near the cattle and farm equipment displays. To show they were looking for work they stuck soup spoons in their hats.

Farmers needing laborers looked the young men over, felt their biceps and offered the men of their choice a contract—food, lodging and a small salary in exchange for spring plowing, sowing or harvesting.

If the workers accepted the offer they handed their spoons to the farmer—that was the contract, signed and sealed. And nobody ever broke his word.

But now more and more factories are springing up in the area and available farm labor is becoming scarce.

The factories, usually run by Italian companies with Italian capital—as distinct from local capital—offer benefits not yet available to farm help.

These include medical insurance, one month's extra pay per year—the famous 13th month—paid vacations and severance pay. In addition many of these factories offer cut-price meals in their canteens and, in some cases, even accommodations at reduced rentals in blocks of apartments the factory owners construct.

And more important than all these—though they are important enough—there are higher wages and an eight-hour day. The farmers, 90 per cent of whom are German speaking, cannot meet the competition and their resentment at losing their labor is one of the sore points in the local political situation.

Instead of being able to go away to college, the farmers' youngsters now have to stay at home and work. And the tragedy for the farmers is that the offer of training in factories at full salary is attracting even their own children.

Concern Voiced About Activities Of Birch Society

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Justice Department today expressed "concern" over the anti-Communist John Birch Society and congressional leaders spoke of an investigation.

The Justice Department refused to say whether it is investigating the semi-secret society, but a spokesman said a "growing number of inquiries the Justice Department has received about the John Birch Society has made it a matter of concern to the attorney general."

Vice Chairman Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., of the Senate internal security subcommittee said he would bring up the possibility of investigating the arch-conservative group at the subcommittee's next meeting.

Dodd did not say whether he would press for a full-fledged investigation of the Birch Society.

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said his Senate Government Operations Committee has no plans to investigate the society because it has no jurisdiction. The committee and its permanent investigating subcommittee, also headed by McClellan, have broad investigative powers but only in matters affecting government activities.

America Losing War With Reds, Dean Manion Tells Texas Group

Quoting J. Edgar Hoover, Dean Clarence Manion told a Pamhandle audience last night in Amarillo that: "We are at war. We have been invaded. We are losing the war."

Manion, former dean of the law school at Notre Dame, said that the situation of our country is desperate, both internally and with reference to Soviet threats.

Internally, Manion stated, one of our greatest threats is the 750 billion dollar national debt which hangs over every household of America. "We have jeopardized our future by endeavoring to buy our way to prosperity and by trying to buy 'friends' overseas."

Concerning the constant pressure of communism throughout the world, Manion spoke of the seriousness of the situation in South and Central America.

At a luncheon held yesterday in Amarillo, Dean Manion warned of the internal communist conspiracy, stating that it was foolish to ever identify a person as a communist, unless exposed by the arm of the government, because the only persons who know who communists are are other communists. "There is, in reality, no such thing as a card-carrying communist. All communists are a part of a conspiracy where identification, even among members, is usually limited to only a few people with whom they must work. The only practical way to identify a person who is supporting the goals of communism is determine whether or not that person responds to the discipline of communism."

In the question and answer period, Manion was asked about the John Birch Society, of which he is an advisor. much and has been too much tendency in Austin to tax business. He said 39 other states have a higher per capita tax than Texas, but Texas ranks first in the nation in business taxes. There has been an increase from 18 to 38 per cent in business taxes in Texas since 1950, he added.

Senator Hazlewood pointed out that the $189,000,000 tax bill that went into effect last September now finds the state $100,000,000 in debt only five months later.

In summing up, the senator said: "There are no two ways about it. Everybody is trying to dodge the tax facts. If we want services we will have to vote taxes to pay for them."

Senator Hazlewood was introduced by Don Beaman, chairman of the Legislative and National Affairs Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

with bent fenders and dented auto bodies as the principal damage.

While Pampa got a 7-inch snowfall, it was much lighter to the west. Amarillo had only about 2 inches with .53-inch precipitation. Several inches fell at Guymon, Okla.

Weather officials said this noon lines were down from the Canadian and Perryton areas. Dalhart had two or three inches of snow. East of the caprock the precipitation was in the form of rain.

Bus schedules were back to normal this afternoon. The Oklahoma City bus, due out of Pampa at 7:40 a.m. was two hours late. Bus Terminal officials said there had been no schedule trouble since.

Officials of both Southwestern Public Service Co. and Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. said the heavy snow had caused some line trouble but nothing of a serious nature insofar as local service was concerned either with the electric utility or the telephone company.

Pampa schools were not affected by the storm. The annual Easter vacation period started with the close of school yesterday and classes will not resume until Tuesday.

The official weather forecaster said this noon that the snow apparently is over for at least a few days. The five-day forecast contains no indication of snow.

The immediate forecast today calls for fair weather through tonight and tomorrow with rising daytime temperatures. The high this afternoon was expected to reach into the mid-40s with a low around 28 tonight and a high of 52 tomorrow in Pampa.

The document, they said, is relatively conciliatory and leaves the door open for East-West negotiations and a further easing of world tensions. The communique was published Thursday night.

Diplomats noted its brevity, the conspicuous absence of threats against the West and the paucity of rocket rattling.

This, they said, was in sharp contrast to last year's communique which devoted one third of its text to threatening unilateral action on Germany. This time the communique merely urged the necessity of peace treaties with the two Germans.

No deadline was indicated, despite the fact that the conference was held under the chairmanship of East German Communist Leader Walter Ulbricht, who has repeatedly urged the signing of a peace treaty as soon as possible.

MATURE PARENT

Last year as usual she bought two of those fascinating red net Christmas stockings which toy manufacturers stuff for children—the kind marked "BOY." But last Christmas eve she opened them before laying them beside the beds where her 4- and 6-year-olds would see them first thing in the morning.

She removed several of their less attractive items, and in the space left in each stocking placed a hard-boiled egg packaged in shining paper and tinsel. Then she added little wedges of bacon and chicken sandwich, also festively wrapped in ribbed silver foil.

Her solution to the Christmas morning breakfast problem was a magnificent success. Nobody had to say, "Finish your cereal — just one more bite of toast before you open your presents."

In the excitement of discovering whistles, false mustaches, bags of marbles, her two little boys gobbled up their eggs and sandwich wedges without any awareness that they were ingesting nourishment.

I wish I'd heard of this ingenious method of getting food into the young on Christmas morning in time for you to use it yourself this year. I didn't. But while our minds are still full of memories of our youngsters' Christmas, I suggest you make a note of my friend's method on your new calendar for December, 1961.

Because eating is a terrible problem for children on Christmas morning.

The word "disinterested" simply doesn't describe a child's feeling toward food on Christmas morning.

The stuff just doesn't exist. He's not quite here on earth. He half suspects he's heard the jingle of reindeer bells in the night and is not quite sure that the drum he has yearned for won't vanish if he touches it. Like fairy gifts faded

Dear Abby...
Love Me...
Love My Daughter!
ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I need help with an important decision. I am 44, have never been married and can give a woman a first-class home with no money worries. I have been seeing a good-looking divorcee of 46. She has a 12-year-old daughter who is spoiled, moody and hard to handle. This woman claims she loves me and wants to marry me. She knows her daughter resents me but she's offered to send the girl to live with her grandmother during the week and we will keep her on the weekends. I don't think I could stand her on weekends, but I do want to marry this woman. What do you think of this deal?

DEAR WAITING: This woman appears to be looking for a "deal" for herself. She has offered to shift the responsibility of raising her daughter to the child's grandmother. In my opinion, a woman who treats her own daughter this way would probably treat her husband worse. Wait a little longer.

ing away, so may the still undiscovered glories that await him.

In this suspended state, the stomachs of little boys and girls just cannot respond to fruit juice, cereal, scrambled eggs and glasses of milk.

But if we make food part of the Dream instead of making it ordinary and earthly, Christmas morning breakfast can be worked in with a minimum of agony for everyone.

DEAR ABBY: We have on our farm a cow that hates women. This is a beautiful cow with soft brown eyes and a gentle manner, but she won't let a woman come within thirty feet of her. She is very friendly to men whether she has seen them before or not. When we have company, we have to warn all the women about her. Is there an explanation for this? Maybe one of your readers who knows about farm animals can explain it to me and help me out.

FARMER
DEAR FARMER: Perhaps a local veterinarian can psycho-animalize her for you. In the meantime, I will print your letter and milk my readers for any information I can get about psy-cow-logy. (Forgive me? I couldn't resist it.)

DEAR ABBY: Have you or any of your readers ever heard that it was bad luck to be married on an odd-numbered date such as the 5th, 7th or 9th? My daughter plans to be married September 9th, and my mother is all up in the air about it. She says we should change the date to an even number or we'll have bad luck.

The date is set and the church is spoken for. I wonder if we should go to all that trouble to change the date and all the arrangements just because of what my mother says?

MRS. M.
DEAR MRS. M.: Stick to the date you originally selected. I have never heard of the superstition about odd-numbered wedding dates — but I HAVE heard of one about changing the wedding date once it's set.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "MODERN MOTHER": Granted, your daughter CAN be trusted, but why place such temptations in the path of a healthy, lovely 18-year-old girl? She has no business on an overnight ski trip with her "steady"—unchaperoned.

Yes, Abby will answer your letter personally if you write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Did You Know That It Is Easier On The Budget To Be Slender?

ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Did you know that it's far easier on the budget to be slim? This is true for several reasons. Plump or fat people eat more, of course, and thus spend more for food. But that's just the beginning.
The prettiest clothes and therefore the biggest fashion bargains come in small sizes. A woman who is really overweight has to pay more for clothes that are neither here nor there in relation to fashion. Her shoes wear out faster and must be repaired and replaced often. The same thing is true of lingerie and foundation garments. Hosiery, too. And the upholstered furniture in her home won't last as long or look as well.
For people who are careful about money, this alone should be an incentive to lose weight. Invariably, the woman who loses weight begins to look both younger and prettier. If she is careful about the rate at which she takes off weight and takes care of her skin while she diets, she should find many rewards awaiting her at the end of her diet.
One of the biggest mistakes any woman can make is to get the notion that hats should be "amusing" or "conversation pieces." This frequently results in a mature face beaming under a load of purple poppies or cute bunnies' ears. Such hats will stir up conversation all right, but none of it will be complimentary.

A hat should do just one thing for you: make you look pretty. If it doesn't, don't buy it. It should not make you look hard or chic in a hard way. It should, for yourself and others, add a bit of charm. It should be the right color to set off your skin and properly proportioned for your height and weight.
And once on, you should be able to forget it, aside from knowing that you DO look prettier wearing it.
Lipstick - smeared teeth can ruin the prettiest smile. So whenever you apply lipstick, check to make sure there are no smears. And check again after you have finished a meal.
Blotting lipstick with a cleansing tissue is one sure way to avoid lipstick smears. Allow about ten minutes for the color to set, then blot. Lipstick is usually set for three or four hours after that.
VEILS ADD GLAMOUR
Cage veil go on and on from one fashion season to another. This spring, they're done in colors and trimmed with butterflies.
RED-HOT GLOVES
Those stretch nylon gloves in short or long lengths now come in red-hot colors: orange, mauve, purple, or pink.

Youthful Approach To Spring Seen In Junior-Young Junior Collections

The "older" set may yearn to be young in the spring, but little girls sigh for that seemingly-distant day when they'll be grown up.
This season, fashion has good news for both. The youthful, easy styles that are pleasing the grown-ups adapt readily to a grade-schooler's wardrobe.
To flatter a little girl and her wishes are such adult fashion copies as: sleeveless, collarless dresses with "spaghetti" tie belts and bows; culotte, for suits, dresses sportswear; suits with newsy, side-closing jacket and pleated skirts; capes for coats, collars and costume jackets; and lots of the popular tweed, checks and knits.
Exciting colors and brilliant whites sweep through the whole range of fashion, and the girls get their full share. Among the notables are orange, the purple family, bright pink and intense strawberry. Peaches, mint flavor girls' dresses.
A favorite color combination shows gray with yellow or lavender. Splashy prints are abundant. Contrast trim on solid color appeals to the girls.
Suits lean to knits, for practicality with or without a coat. Cardigan necklines show off blouses with stand-up "band-master" collars.
For the girls whose tastes are classic, fabrics, colors and details provide the spring excitement. Simple single- or double-breasted coats have impact in white, sometimes bound in color, or adorned with jumbo buttons, brass buttons, velveteen.
Party styles in dresses stress the beauty of embroidery on sheers. Other dress news to note included: two-piece tailored types, in white or colors; with ruffles, eyelet, gingham

SEERSUCKER BACK
A fabric that hasn't been around for awhile is making a comeback in resort wear. It's seersucker. But it's much more sophisticated than when last seen around.
Begin your after-five beauty treatment with a thorough face washing to remove the day's grime and stale make-up. Applying fresh make-up over old can only produce a patchy look and skin problems as well.
Once you've applied fresh make-up, combed your hair and donned sheer stockings, white gloves and your jewelry, no one will know that are slightly understated than hour day.
It's far better, remember, to go straight from the office in clothes that are slightly understated than it is to turn up in the morning in a cocktail dress and rhinestones. Nothing is more jarring to the nerves of others than frillery in the morning.

A big, roomy handbag provides grooming solution for the woman who works. Outside pocket holds cosmetics and other portable beauty necessities.

Be Prepared For Last-Minute Bid

ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Last-minute invitations are the lot of each of us. And it's the wise woman who doesn't make a practice of turning them down.
For the last-minute invitation may develop into an evening far more pleasant than one long planned and anticipated.
If you work, such an invitation means that you go directly to cocktails, dinner or the theater from your office. So it's best to be prepared.
In your desk, you should have a pair of clean white gloves and some fresh, cobwebby hose. A sparkly pin and matching earrings are essential.
Equip yourself with a handbag large enough to hold emergency beauty equipment.
Begin your after-five beauty

Many Millions Regard 'Christ Is Alive' First Methodist Sermon Subject

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

On a spring morning about 1,930 years ago, a detachment of Roman soldiers escorted a young Jew to a hill outside the city of Jerusalem and nailed him hand and foot to a T-shaped wooden cross.

He died in agony three hours later.

His friends and followers, who had expected him to establish a kingdom, fled into hiding. They were so afraid for their own lives that even the boldest of them, a fisherman named Peter, hotly denied that he had ever known the man who was executed.

Had the matter rested there, the world would never have heard of Jesus of Nazareth.

But it has heard of him, insistently, for 20 centuries. And there are today some 800 million people around the globe who call him Lord.

The existence of the Christian church is visible, historical evidence that something happened to the disciples of Jesus. It transformed them overnight from demoralized, terror-stricken fugitives into men who gladly risked death to establish a new religion throughout the Roman empire.

What happened?

Religious liberals, who look upon Jesus as a great human teacher, have one explanation.

The disciples, they say, underwent a subjective, inward experience which convinced them that Jesus was still with them in spirit. This reassurance gave them renewed faith and the courage to go forth and proclaim to the world Jesus' indestructible message about the redemptive power of love.

This explanation appeals to people who do not believe in miracles.

But it has one great disadvantage. It completely contradicts the story which the disciples themselves told.

That story has been preserved, in vivid detail, in the written records of the early church, which are now called the New Testament.

These records make it clear that the disciples were not speaking figuratively or symbolically when they said that Jesus rose from the dead. They were speaking as literally as men ever spoke about an actual, physical event, which took them totally by surprise, and which none of them was able to believe until he had seen the evidence with his own eyes.

It is equally clear, from the very naivete of the written records, that the disciples did not invent the story of the Resurrection as a sort of logical capstone to their theological suppositions about Jesus. It was the other way around. The event came first, and it was only in the awesome light of that event that these rigorously monotheistic Jews could believe that Jesus, whom they had known as a very human person, was indeed "one with God."

One often hears that the "modern scientific mind" has great difficulty in accepting the physical resurrection of Jesus as a historical fact.

But there is nothing "modern" about the difficulty. The apostle Paul encountered precisely the same attitude in 56 A.D. when he preached to the sophisticated Greeks in the great Mediterranean trading center of Corinth.

The Corinthians were proud of their reputation as a cosmopolitan people, willing to tolerate any religious belief from oriental mysticism to the temple prostitution cult of Aphrodite. They were ready to welcome Christianity too, if Paul would only admit that his fantastic story about a resurrection was just another myth, full of symbolic value but not, of course, really true.

But Paul, who was as well versed in Greek thought as anyone in Corinth, refused to modify his story to make it more palatable to politely skeptical intellectuals. In a letter to the Corinthians, he insisted that the resurrection of Christ was not an allegory, but a literal "fact" which was witnessed by more than 500 persons "most of whom are still alive."

"This is what we proclaim: That Christ was raised from the dead," said Paul. "And if Christ was not raised, then our Gospel is null and void... and we turn out to be lying witnesses."

"Hearts Aflame" Topic Of Sermon

Woman In Church

Dr. Cordelia Cox, well-known Lutheran church social welfare expert, has been named to a special consultant post with the Council on Social Work Education. This is the standard setting body for schools of social work in the United States and Canada. Miss Cox is currently serving as executive secretary of the Lutheran Welfare Council of Metropolitan New York. She will take over her new duties on May 1, and have headquarters at 345 E. 45th St., New York City. The newly-created position involves organization of "social welfare service" study programs for undergraduates in more than 100 colleges maintaining membership in the CSWE.

A gift of endowment funds from Mrs. Daisy Yen Wu will establish and assure the continuation of two annual scholarships at Tunghai University in Taiwan. The first of these, the Yen Tse-King Memorial Scholarship, in memory of Mrs. Wu's father, is to be awarded to a junior or senior woman student preparing to be a physician. The second, the Wu Hsien Memorial Scholarship, in memory of Mrs. Wu's husband, is to be awarded to a junior or senior student of either sex excelling in chemistry of the biological sciences. Mrs. Wu, a graduate of Gilling College, was a member of the staff of Peking Union Medical College.

Fourteen young women students at Randolph - Macon Woman's College, Lynchburg, Va., are members of the college's new course on "Africa South of the Sahara" — one of the first classes of its kind at any women's college. After four months of probing for facts on living conditions, customs, folklore, etc., each of the fourteen juniors and seniors is expected to be an "authority" on at least one tribe and country, and each should know a great deal about the whole continent. Dr. Shirley Strickland, instructor, sees "greater understanding of what is happening in Africa" as a key to helping its people help themselves. She adds, "We need to appreciate their pride in independence. It's difficult to separate fact from myth. There are more than 800 tribes and languages in Africa. Historical information is spotty, and the research that has been done is difficult to obtain." More sociologists and anthropologists are needed here, she believes, to unravel many mysteries and help Western powers act intelligently.

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

THE REV. WILLIAM E. WEST

Colossians 3:1-8

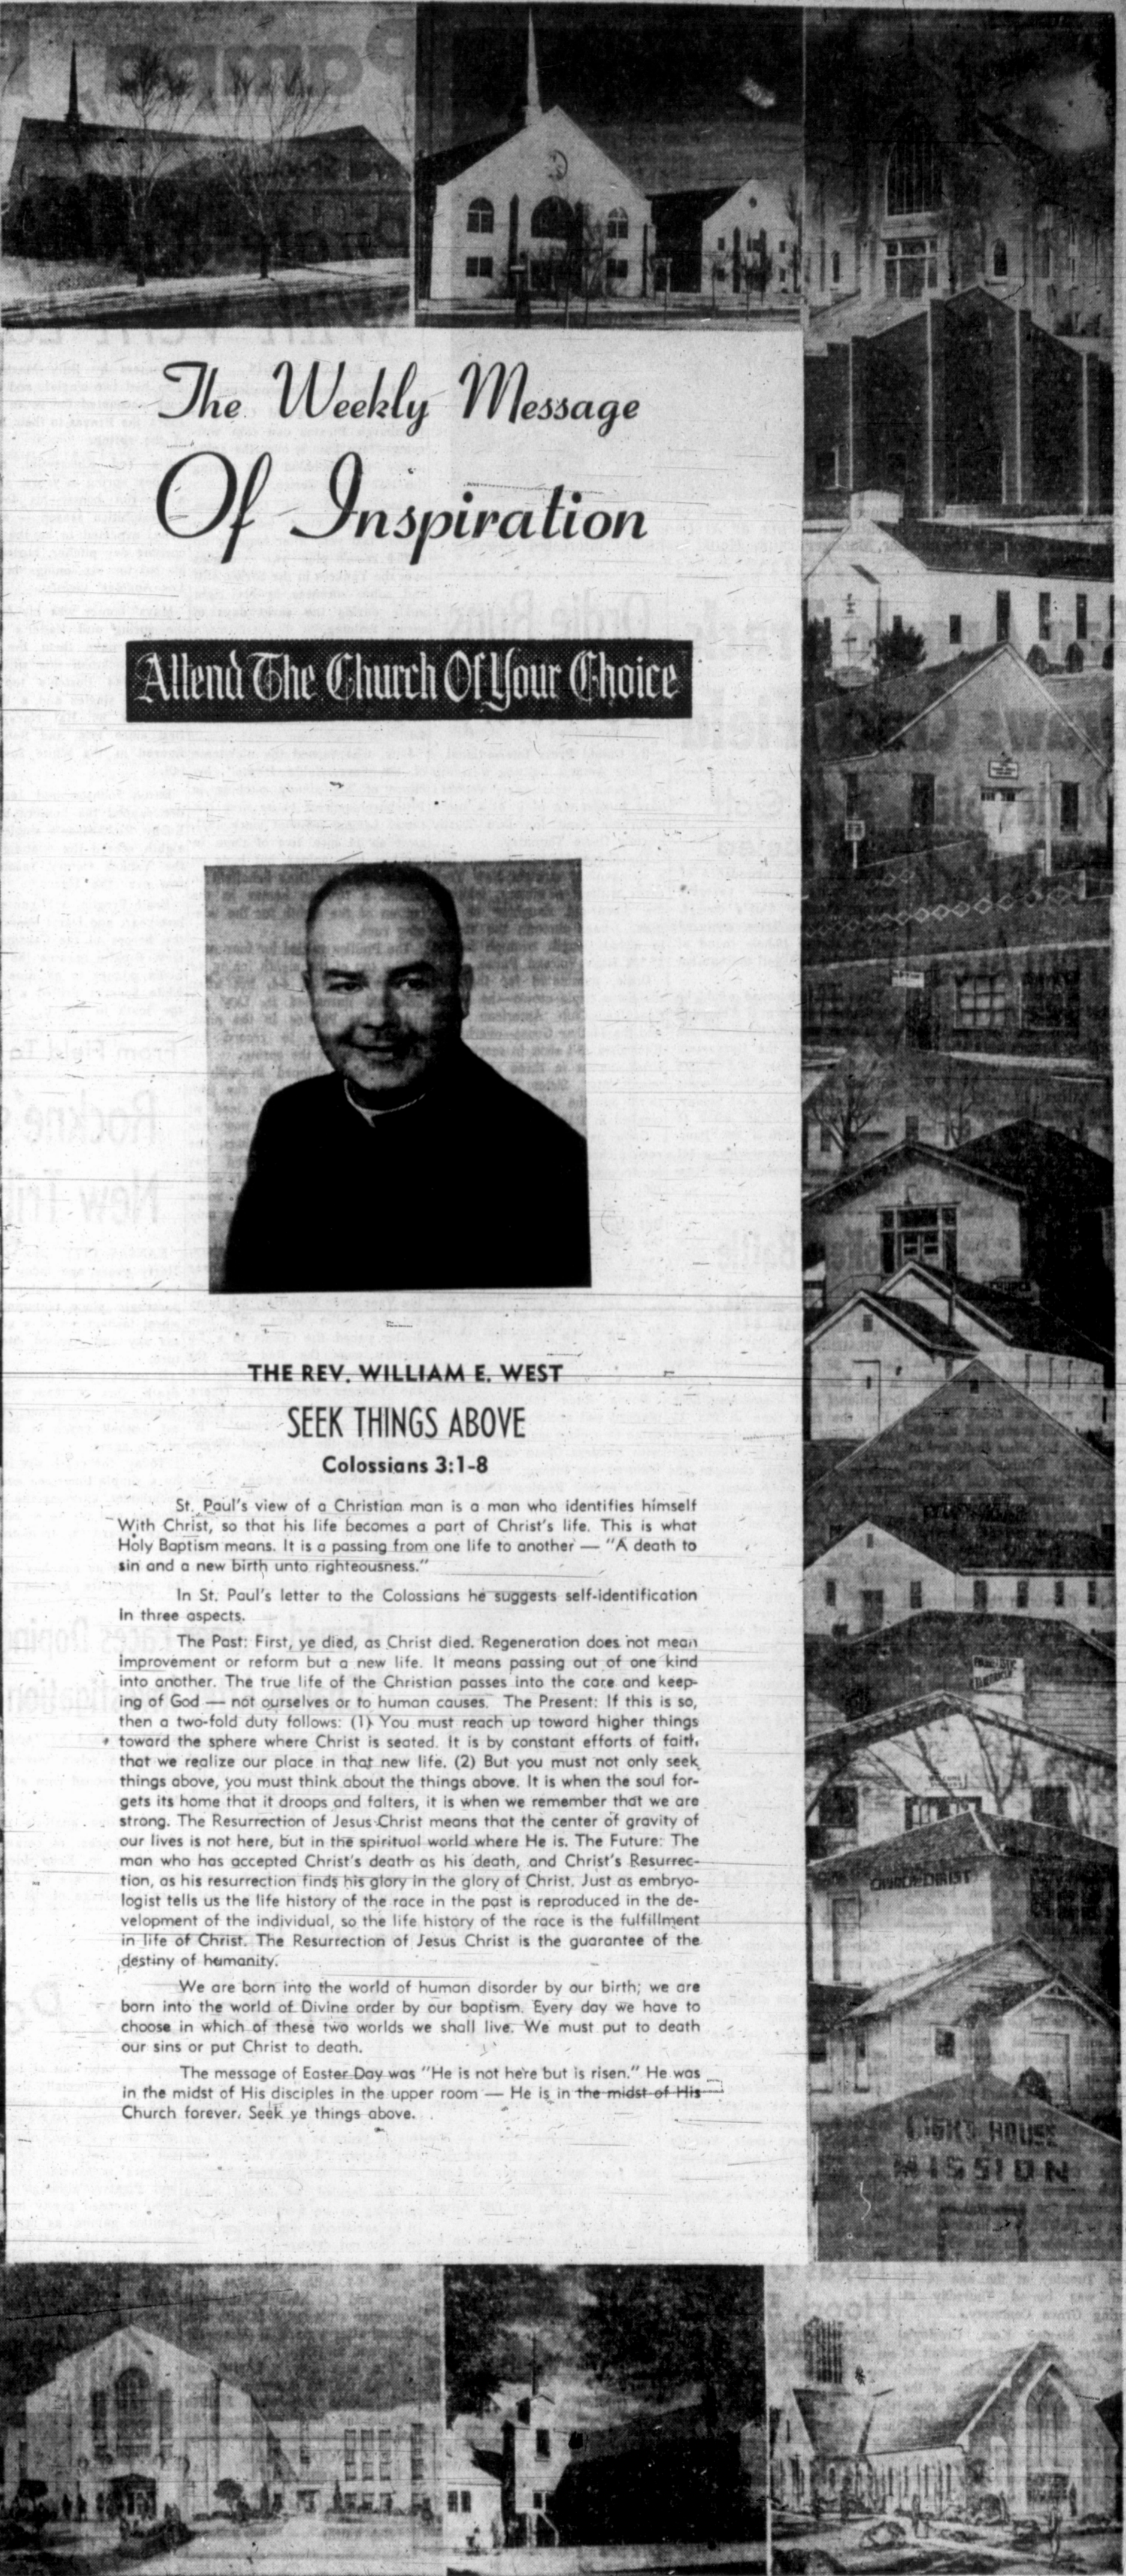

St. Paul's view of a Christian man is a man who identifies himself with Christ, so that his life becomes a part of Christ's life. This is what Holy Baptism means. It is a passing from one life to another — "A death to sin and a new birth unto righteousness."

In St. Paul's letter to the Colossians he suggests self-identification in three aspects.

The Past: First, ye died, as Christ died. Regeneration does not mean improvement or reform but a new life. It means passing out of one kind into another. The true life of the Christian passes into the care and keeping of God — not ourselves or to human causes. The Present: If this is so, then a two-fold duty follows: (1) You must reach up toward higher things toward the sphere where Christ is seated. It is by constant efforts of faith that we realize our place in that new life. (2) But you must not only seek things above, you must think about the things above. It is when the soul forgets its home that it droops and falters, it is when we remember that we are strong. The Resurrection of Jesus-Christ means that the center of gravity of our lives is not here, but in the spiritual world where He is. The Future: The man who has accepted Christ's death as his death, and Christ's Resurrection, as his resurrection finds his glory in the glory of Christ. Just as embryologist tells us the life history of the race in the past is reproduced in the development of the individual, so the life history of the race is the fulfillment in life of Christ. The Resurrection of Jesus Christ is the guarantee of the destiny of humanity.

We are born into the world of human disorder by our birth; we are born into the world of Divine order by our baptism. Every day we have to choose in which of these two worlds we shall live: We must put to death our sins or put Christ to death.

The message of Easter Day was "He is not here but is risen." He was in the midst of His disciples in the upper room — He is in the midst of His Church forever. Seek ye things above.

Pampa, Plainview Tangle

Snow Puts Harvesters On Road For Contest

PLAINVIEW — Pampa's snow-plagued Harvesters, unable to play in Pampa today, switched sites here and went for their second conference victory and fifth in a row at 4 p.m. today against Plainview's Bulldogs.

Coach Deck Woldt, in announcing the change in schedule, also said that tomorrow's Pampa-Tascosa game, scheduled for 2 p.m. in Amarillo, probably would be put off until Monday due to similar snowy conditions there.

Plainview carried a 4-4 record in today's game, after losing 5-4 to Lubbock in Plainview Tuesday. The Bulldogs held a 2-1 lead going into the last inning only to see Lubbock score three times and then hold off a home rally to eke out the victory.

Pampa dumped Amarillo, 6-1, in its district start Tuesday in Amarillo as the Harvesters combed starter Dale Luke for 10 hits to back up Mike Clark's two-hit effort.

After Unimpressive Spring Narleski Quits Club Over Unknown Role

LAKELAND, Fla. (UPI) — The Detroit Tigers, beset by holdout troubles earlier in the spring, faced more trouble today when pitcher Ray Narleski quit the club in a huff over his under-manned status.

The 32-year old Narleski, who didn't pitch one inning last year because of a ruptured disc, left for his home in Haddonfield, N.J., Thursday night because the Tigers wouldn't tell him whether or not he had made the club.

"I've been down here for seven weeks trying to make this club," Narleski said shortly after a conference with Rick Ferrell, the Tigers' director of player personnel. "They should have a pretty good idea about me, but everytime I talk to Ferrell he beats around the bush."

The Tigers paid Narleski $18,000 for sitting out 1960 but transferred him to their Denver roster. He was invited to the club's early camp this spring in the hope he could make the club, but in five appearances the former star reliever gave up 11 hits and seven runs in 12 innings.

Braves Spank A's Pirates Triumph With Vern Law

By JOE SARGIS
United Press International

Fans of the World Champion Pittsburgh Pirates can stop worrying—Vern Law is over the ankle injury that hobbled him during the 1960 World Series.

Law, voted the Cy Young Award as the major leagues' top pitcher last year after hanging up a 20-9 record plus two victories over the Yankees in the Series, still had some soreness in his right ankle during the early days of spring training.

However, he appeared in fine fettle Thursday when he became the second Pittsburgh pitcher to hurl nine innings as the Pirates whipped the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-4.

Law, who earned the nickname of the "predictable Pirate" because of his steady pitching in Pittsburgh's drive to its first National League pennant since 1927, gave up 10 hits, five of them in the last two innings, but hung on long enough for Dick Schofield to smack a two-run homer in the bottom of the eighth for the winning runs.

The Phillies rallied for four runs in the top of the eighth inning to tie the score at 4-4, but after Schofield unraveled it, Law got rid of the Phillies in the ninth without damage to record his third victory of the spring.

Vern also chipped in with a bases empty homer in the fifth to build up Pittsburgh's lead at that point to 3-0. He now has pitched a total of 24 innings, the same number Bob Friend has turned in. Friend is the only other Pirates pitcher to go the route thus far with the NL opening only 10 days away.

Elsewhere around the majors, the Braves routed the Kansas City A's, 8-2, the Angels nipped the Vancouver Mounties, 3-2, homers by Willie Mays and Tom Haller paced the Giants to a 7-5 victory over the Red Sox, the Twins nipped the White Sox, 4-3, the Yankees shaded the Tigers, 5-4, the Cardinals edged the Dodgers, 2-1, and the Orioles' "B" squad beat the Richmond Virginians, 6-5.

The Indians-Cubs game at Tucson, Ariz., was called off because of wet grounds, while the Orioles-Reds game at Miami, Fla., was canceled out of respect for the late Powel Crosley Jr., Reds owner who died on Monday.

San Angelo Track Draws Crack Field

Dumas Star Heads Pack From Area

SAN ANGELO (UPI) — A small but classy field of schoolboy teams gets the San Angelo Relays under way with what sponsors hope will be a rather healthy whack at the record books.

At least five schoolboy standards appear in danger and nearly as many more may not be able to withstand the assault of the university athletes when they take over Saturday.

There are only 27 high school teams entered but such stalwarts as Dumas hurdler Del Cochran, Snyder hurdler-sprinter Jesse Crawford, Del Rio sprinter Jimmy Allen, Midland pole vaulters Bob Penn and Ted Teagarden and sprint relay teams from Odessa, Del Rio, Dumas and Snyder could provide new records.

Finals are due today in the schoolboy field events and the 880-yard relay, but other finals are to be staged Saturday afternoon when Baylor, Texas and Abilene Christian renew their seasonal feud for team championships in a field that also includes Southern Methodist, Texas Christian, Texas A&M, North Texas and Texas Tech.

Major threats in the university division come from shot putters Jon Fry and Buddy Tyner of Baylor, vaulter Dexter Elkins of SMU and milers John Cooper of North Texas and John Lawler of ACC.

Ordie Runs To Victory

By United Press International

Eddie Arco, fighting a slump at Aqueduct this year, couldn't have broken out of it at a more opportune time for Dan Darby Farm's Ordie Thursday.

The 45-year-old master, who had a string of 20 straight New York races without a victory, whipped the 3-year-old daughter of the great Swaps through the stretch to a half length triumph in the $7,500 High Voltage Purse.

Ordie, nominated for the filly division's triple crown—the Acorn, Coaching Club American Oaks and the Mother Goose—overhauled Exceed, a 15-1 shot, in scoring her first success in three starts this year. My Sister Kat finished third in the six-furlong event, clocked in 1:12 3-5.

Ordie paid $12.30 for $2 as Arco picked up his fourth victory in 47 outings at the Big A for 1961.

But at Lincoln Downs, jockey Bill Skuse, the perennial leader on the New England circuit, continues to roll along. The 22-year-old Canadian-born rider booted home three more winners while Red Cricket returned $6.20 in chalking up a half length triumph in the Western Purse.

George Gibb rode the victor over the five furlongs in 1:00 flat. Bowie Race track's weather-plagued and accident-prone season came to a close under sunny skies with Restless Cloud capturing the featured six furlong race. Bobby Corle pitched Restless Cloud to a $7.20 payoff in 1:11 4-5.

3-4A Golf Canceled

With an over-abundance of early spring snows covering Pampa Country Club's course, Coach Weldon Trice canceled today's second 18-hole round of the District 3-4A golf tournament here.

Trice said the round would be rescheduled here next Thursday at 11 a.m., making three straight days of golf as the Harvesters and other members of 3-4A re entered in the two-day Sandie Relays which begin next Friday.

Tascosa is leading after 18 holes of play with a 308. Pampa is in sixth place with a 331 13 shots off second-place Monterey 318.

Golfers Battle In Azalea Tilt

WILMINGTON, N.C. (UPI) — A field of 90 golfers tee off today in the "new look" $12,000 Azalea Invitational golf tournament here.

For the first time in the 13-year history of the spring tournament, the sponsoring Wilmington Athletic Association changed the format of the tournament.

Instead of a 72-hole, four day tournament, the event took on a new look — 54 holes in three days. The final round will be played Sunday.

A total of 70 pros, most of them now touring the circuit, had accepted invitations for the tournament and the amateur division was limited to 20 players.

Defending champion Tom Nieporte of Bronxville, N.Y., was back to defend his crown and two former champs — Jerry Barber and Jimmy Clark — were scheduled to tee off in the tournament. The three will be fighting to become the first Azalea Open champion to win the event twice.

DeWitt Takes Redleg Post

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI) — Bill DeWitt, who has been banging around major league front offices since the old St. Louis Browns folded, was given complete charge of the Cincinnati Reds today.

DeWitt, the chief executive officer of the Reds as vice president and general manager, was given full control of the club's operations following a meeting Thursday of the board of trustees of the Crosley Foundation, principal stockholder of the National League baseball team.

The delegation of authority, which means that all decisions concerning the Reds will be handled by DeWitt, was handed down in accordance with the wishes of the late Powel Crosley Jr., who died Tuesday at the age of 74 and was buried Thursday at Spring Grove Cemetery.

Mrs. Stanley Kess, Crosley's daughter, was named president of the Crosley Foundation, which plans to turn all profits of the baseball operation over to charitable, educational and scientific endeavors.

About 200 persons attended the quiet burial service of the Episcopal Church, including Warren Giles, NL president; DeWitt, and Cincinnati Mayor Walton Bacharach.

Tracksters Stay Home

Coach Dwaine Lyon early today canceled Pampa's track entry in the annual Duncan, Okla., relays which are slated to open tomorrow morning.

"We just didn't feel like making the trip out of here with a foot of snow on the ground," Lyon said this morning. "The weather may be alright there, but we don't want to chance it."

Pampa's next meet activity comes next Friday and Saturday when the Harvester enter the annual Sandie Relays in Amarillo.

Texas Dumps Hood, 5 To 2

AUSTIN (UPI) — Texas pulled out its big guns in the eighth inning Thursday to break open a tight ball game and pound Fort Hood 5-2 in a non-conference baseball game.

A triple by Bill Bethas and a homer by Pat Rigby accounted for three runs and sealed the victory for the Longhorns.

Texas' Tom Beleher won an excellent pitching duel from Walter Karmel.

From Field To Turnpike Rockne's Friend Seeks New Tribute To Coach

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Thirty years ago today a Transcontinental and Western Airlines passenger plane plummeted cartwheel fashion out of a gray Kansas sky and crashed into a pasture.

It carried eight persons to their death. One of them was Knute Rockne of Notre Dame, the greatest football coach in the history of the game.

Today, the crash site is marked by a simple limestone and granite monument, carrying the names of Rockne and the seven others who were aboard the tri-motored Fokker.

Perhaps no one has done more to perpetuate Rockne's memory than Dr. D. M. Nigro, a Kansas City physician who was Rockne's classmate at Notre Dame and the last man to see him alive on the ground.

Nigro had met Rockne at Kansas City's Union Station a few hours before the crash when the coach arrived from Miami, Fla., where he had been vacationing. Nigro drove Rockne to the airport and put him aboard the plane headed for Los Angeles where he was to help with a movie titled "The Spirit of Notre Dame."

"About two hours later," Nigro recalls, "I received a call from the airport master who knew me and knew that I had put Rockne on the plane. He told me of the crash."

Nigro relayed the news to Rockne's two young sons who were students at Kansas City's Pembroke School and together they drove to the crash scene near Bazaar in Kansas' rolling Flint Hills country.

Nigro later founded the Rockne Club of America to perpetuate the memory of his friend and is now spearheading a drive to move the monument from its present location near Bazaar to a service area on the Kansas Turnpike where it would be seen by thousands of motorists every year.

Famed Trainer Faces Doping Charge After Investigation

NEW YORK (UPI) — Hirsch Jacobs, who has saddled more winners than any trainer in the history of American horse racing, today faced a possible doping charge.

The 56-year-old trainer admitted Thursday night he has been questioned by New York racing authorities because Keep Ideals, a filly trained by Jacobs, failed to pass a saliva test after winning the second race at Aqueduct March 23.

The saliva analysis reportedly showed traces of coramine, or stimulant, in Keep Ideals after her winning race but Jacobs denied knowledge of the doping.

Hitting Good, Pitching Staff Improved

EDITORS: This is the 11th of 18 dispatches on the 1961 prospects of the major league teams.

SARASOTA, Fla. (UPI) — The Chicago White Sox finished third last year and manager Al Lopez is sure they are going to make up for it by winning the 1961 American League pennant.

He bases his confidence on his claim that, he has the best pitching in the league and points out that last season the White Sox led the league in both hitting and fielding.

Lopez won't find many who will agree with him on his pitching claim or that he has the batting power of the favorite New York Yankees. And if the White Sox hold a defensive edge over the Baltimore Orioles, who finished a notch ahead of them last year, it is a slender one.

But Lopez says he isn't worried about anything—not even the fact that some of his key performers are nearing the end of the base-

Hungry White Sox Pose Threat

made a habit out of beating the top teams, especially the Yankees.

To get McLish the White Sox gave up among others, third baseman Gene Freese, a good hitter but no standout in the field.

Lopez is counting on McLish and Pizarro, although both have been pounded pretty hard in exhibition games, as regular starters along with the 41-year-old Early Wynn (13-12), Billy Pierce (14-7), Bob Shaw (13-13), Herb Score (5-10), Frank Baumann (6-3).

That leaves 40-year-old Gerry Staley and 36-year-old Turk Lown for relief.

Three rookies have an outside chance of making the hurling staff. They are Alan Brice, 10-7 with Lincoln; Winston Brown, 12-14 with Sacramento and Ed Crapcho, 6-2 at Mobile.

There is age—perhaps too much—in catching, the infield and outfield.

ABC Teams Stay Same

DETROIT (UPI)—There were no changes among the leaders at the American Bowling Congress tournament Thursday night as booster teams occupied the lanes throughout the evening.

The booster squads will be the only active bowlers at the tourney until Sunday night when regular team play resumes. The Classic teams will not be back on the lanes until Monday.

Earlier in the day, Rich Schmitt, a 29-year-old packing house brander from Waterloo, Iowa, wore the label as top star in minor events play.

Schmitt took over 10th place in regular all-events with a total of 1876.

Idle Boredom, Liquor, Local Punks Blamed For Wild Melees In Florida

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI)—The sign at the outskirts of town reads: "Welcome to Fort Lauderdale." And underneath in small letters that almost seem an afterthought, it says: "Have Fun."

As the Easter weekend approached, the small word "fun" worked itself from a trickle of pleasure to a throbbing migraine headache for this lovely, palm-fringed, town-in-the-sun.

At mid-week some wag stuck a sign up at the city jail entrance saying: "Where the Boys Are."

It was entirely correct. The girls who were arrested were sent to another jail. About 400 students have been arrested. More than 200 male students were in jail Wednesday.

The trouble is a compound of idleness and boredom—but it has been catalyzed by a mixture of local punks and pug-uglies and yellow, beer-sourly high school youths. The police allowed them to take over a state highway paralleling the beach in bottle-throwing, firecracker-popping melees for two nights and then, weary of trying to be nice, slapped them down.

Police barricaded the roads leading to the beach area and screened out the carloads of local light-seers and high schoolers. They let no knots of persons congregate except at a roped-off section of highway set aside for college dancing—a mile and a half north of the spot of the riots. And so, comparative—but tense—quiet was brought to the night in the strip "where the boys are" from the place called the Elbow Room (beer and whisky) to the apartments named—so help me—Casa Loita.

By day, the scene has been good. Thousands of college students on the brown-yellow sand and sidewalk. A pale moon riding high over the Atlantic. Sunburns and garish attire—sweaters, blazers, jackets with names of a myriad colleges and student societies. One little brunette with a sweatshirt lettered "U.S.A. Drinking Team." Students singing in groups.

And most of these kids are not rioters, although many of them have got themselves worked up in the bars on beer and spirits during the long afternoons. Most of them just "went along with the mob" to watch.

This town is sorely troubled at the moment. But it is not a town engulfed by trouble or taken over by young fry on the loose. Fort Lauderdale and environs comprise about 80 square miles. There are 500 miles of streets. The student trouble has been in one beach area of only about six blocks.

Fort Lauderdale has an 85,000 permanent population, which swells to around 150,000 at the peak of the winter season. It is used to influxes, but as editor and publisher Jack W. Gore of the Fort Lauderdale News says: "You can't stick 15,000 kids in a six-block area and not have trouble."

"There are a lot of phonies in there, and a lot of high school punks looking for trouble. Ninety per cent of these college kids are good kids. They live on the beach, taking a rest from exams. Most of them come by car. They leave a lot of money here, when you figure they come and go over a period of four to five weeks and stay five days per kid."

Police Chief J. Lester Holt, 45, a square-jawed former infantryman and professional welterweight boxer, said emphatically that the police patience "is wearing a little thin."

Holt said 40 per cent of the people in the Monday-night mob were "residents of this county," that someone "could well have been killed." He said he was against giving the students a beach where they could drink: "If someone gets drowned, who will have condoned it?"

On the beach, a carload of girls from Michigan State pulled to a curb. "It's a shame, like Newport," said straw-skimmered Sheila Slimon, 19, of Grosse Pointe, Mich. "It's too bad, the majority disapprove it," said Leigh Campbell, 20, of Fowlerville, Mich.

Asked what caused the mob, Doris Anderson, 20, of Chicago, said: "Too much drinking—they want to let off steam. We were here last week and it wasn't bad at all—very nice."

The girls drove down in 35 hours in the convertible of blonde Diana Bob, 21, of Detroit, who said seven girls were living in one apartment a mile and a half inland: "We've been living for 50 cents a day apiece for food—been buying all our food and cooking it. We spend the afternoon at the beach and go back and cook again. Usually we find someone to take us to breakfast. How? They find us."

Carl (Butch) MacCartee, 20, (he has a butch haircut) a Duke University sophomore, said this was his third trip here and that "this year too many came at once—also, you only got so much money and you don't want to take a girl to the bar at night, you want to take 'em on the beach."

That nothing-to-do theme is the alleged cause of the trouble. The students in previous years have been parties on Jade Beach, a privately owned beach seven miles to the north, and on the municipal beach at Dania, the next town to the south. But Jade Beach was closed this year, and Dania prohibited the students.

Fort Lauderdale does not allow parties at night on its public beach, and there can be no beer drinking on it at any time. Drinking is in the bars. They, too, began closing when the Sunday riot started.

The well-dressed gunman tricked diamond dealer David Ansel, 37, into letting him into the locked, 10th floor office about 4:40 p.m. He forced Ansel to open the safe, grabbed four white envelopes containing cut and uncut diamonds, and ran.

Then the thief apparently shed his mask and mingled with home-bound office workers on 47th Street, between Fifth and Sixth Avenues.

A criminal operating even more like the fictional society thief Rafi, fled into singer Eartha Kitt's room at the Hotel Plaza and stole $20,000 worth of furs and jewels, police reported early today.

Ansel said the stolen gems were worth at least $900,000 wholesale. This would be well over $1 million retail.

The FBI entered the investigation on the possibility the stones had been taken across a state line. Police searched the 16-story building floor by floor.

In Monday's theft, an unmasked gunman stole about $47,000 in gems from jewel dealer Emanuel Hirschberg just as Hirschberg was closing his office in the same area.

Gem Thief Gets $1 Million Haul From N.Y. Store

NEW YORK (UPI)—Police and the FBI today sought the rush-hour robber who stole more than $1 million in diamonds from a midtown gem dealer in what was described as probably New York's biggest jewel robbery.

It was the second diamond district holdup in two days. Police said the general build of the gunman in each robbery was similar, but yesterday's jewel thief wore a grotesque full-face Halloween mask, and they could not say whether it was the same man.

The well-dressed gunman tricked diamond dealer David Ansel, 37, into letting him into the locked, 10th floor office about 4:40 p.m. He forced Ansel to open the safe, grabbed four white envelopes containing cut and uncut diamonds, and ran.

Nehru And Rusk Near Accord On Laos Plan

NEW DELHI (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru conferred for two hours and 10 minutes yesterday and Nehru announced afterward they were "very largely in agreement on Laos and The Congo."

Rusk spelled out some of these views later at an airport news conference — a cease-fire in Laos must precede any diplomatic negotiations; the United States would be willing to sit down at a conference table with Communist China to discuss Laos. Laos must be truly neutral.

The only hint of possible difference came in Rusk's assertion the United States would back Prince Boun Oum as premier and Nehru's tendency to blame him for tactics that had driven some nationalists to the Communist Pathet Lao guerrillas.

President Kennedy recently asked Nehru, one of the world's leading neutralists, to use his personal influence with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev in seeking a peaceful solution to the Laotian crisis.

Rusk stopped in New Delhi en route home from the Bangkok SEATO foreign ministers conference which ended with a moderately-worded warning to the Communists to bring peace to Laos or face "appropriate action" by the Allies.

Nehru earlier expressed approval of the moderate tone of the resolution but Rusk said he did not discuss it in a meeting at Nehru's parliamentary office and lunch at the prime minister's residence.

Nehru told reporters as he and Rusk emerged from his parliamentary office that he had discussed "in the main, Laos and The Congo."

Asked about the Indian and American view of Laos, Nehru said: "I think we agree very largely on the approaches to these problems."

Rusk added that the talks had been "very useful—certainly from our point of view."

Nehru was asked if he had any word from Moscow on the British proposals to end the Laos fighting by calling an immediate cease-fire. He said he had no hint. Then he hesitated, looked somewhat thoughtful and added: "There is a vague hint sometime ago. He did not elaborate. The Indian ambassador to Moscow, K.P.S. Menon, conferred at

Politics Block Report On Vice, Solon Declares

AUSTIN (UPI)—Rep. Tom James of Dallas late yesterday claimed a House investigating committee report on vice conditions in Jefferson County was being withheld for political reasons.

Rep. Menton Murray of Harlingen, chairman of the committee, had told House members that the report would not be ready next week. He made the announcement as the committee filed a report on its investigation of uranium promoter John Milton Addison.

James, a member of the committee, rose on personal privilege to say that it was Murray's vote that kept the report on Jefferson County vice conditions from being made at this time.

James said earlier the report would be highly critical of Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, a candidate in the April 4 U. S. Senate special election.

Murray said the report on Jefferson County would be followed by a breakdown of the committee's investigations of crime in Amarillo in about two weeks.

"I was told I would be sitting on a powder keg...now the fuse is getting short," Murray remarked.

Murray said he would accept the entire responsibility for the committee. "I have tried to be honest and fair," he said.

Woman Files Suit Against Hospital

HOUSTON (UPI)—A lawsuit seeking nearly $2 million in damages was filed this week by the former director of Hedgcock Hospital, and Rehabilitation Center against the present operators of the institution.

The suit, filed by Mrs. Neil Harris Stone, seeks a total of $1,793,802.

Mrs. Stone claims the hospital, certain directors and unnamed corporations conspired to break her employment contract and tricked her into resigning with the unfilled promise of another position as a "community relations and fund-raising expert."

The hospital, "John Doe Corporations" and George A. Butler, president of the board were named in the total of three suits.

Rabbits are said to be one of the oldest living mammals on the North American continent.

Sale Of UN Food Stopped In Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—Congoese authorities called off an announced sale of U.N. food supplies to the public today when the United Nations command registered a vigorous protest.

The Otraco Transport Co., Congolese port and river authority, had announced that 10 tons of bacon threatened by spoilage would be removed from the warehouses in Matadi and sold to the public.

The United Nations declared the Congolese had no right to sell the supplies shipped here for the U.N. Congo force.

A Victory Over The Reds

"Operation Abolition" has had a large public showing here in Pampa and some who saw it still are reeling with astonishment.

That's good. Let's hope their awakening didn't come too late.

There is among some people a feeling that already the time has passed when the great tide of Marxist influence in the United States could be stemmed. But the results that the film itself has produced represent a victory snatched from the hands of the Communists.

The Communist Party of the USA acted with unusual indiscretion in so hastily congratulating the operators of the San Francisco demonstrations for their attempt to discredit the House Un-American Activities Committee and thereby give it another shove towards abolition.

The Reds and those who sympathize with their efforts to disband the committee were jubilant. But only for a short time.

The film and its showing before millions of Americans who simply couldn't believe that it could happen here have had a most encouraging effect.

All the caterwauling about foul play aimed at the film's editors can't erase that terrifying image of hardshelled Reds roping in the dupes to do what the subversives themselves could never hope to accomplish alone.

Out of sequence or not, the truth of the individual scenes is sufficient proof of what was going on, and all the anguished cries of "it ain't necessarily so" aren't going to change the opinion of the great majority of people who see the movie.

The committee is trying to find out who is hacking away at the republic's foundation and their methods of operation. The principal purpose is to gather information to be used as a basis for recommending legislation to deal with the country's enemies. In this particular instance the committee was concerned with the Communists and their knowing or unknowing helpers. One of the charges against the committee is that it has subpoenaed witnesses on hearsay and gossip. Rep. Donald L. Jackson of California, a member of the committee, has this to say about that charge:

"The great majority of witnesses summoned to appear by the House Committee on Un-American Activities have been previously identified under oath by one or more witnesses as part or present members of the Communist Party. In the rare instances where a witness is subpoenaed where a witness is subpoenaed for appearance without an identification, the subpoena is preceded by many weeks and months of investigation by staff investigators and a determination has been reached that the individual concerned has information or documents in his custody which are essential in the development of a clear picture in a given area of investigation."

"Only a few of the latter type of witnesses have been called to testify during the past 10 years, and the purpose for which they have been called is clearly stated to them at the opening of the hearing by the chairman of the committee or subcommittee. It is also made clear why the information believed to be in the possession of the witness is relevant to the general investigation."

J. EDGAR HOOVER, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said "The Communist attack on the HCUA in San Francisco was in line with a longstanding party aim to destroy not only the HCUA, but also the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee and every other 'enemy' seeking to expose the threat which Communist activities represent to the internal security of this nation."

Here are some additional excerpts from Hoover's report on the San Francisco demonstrations: "The first objective of the party was to fill the scene of the hearings with demonstrators. The second was to incite them to action through the use of mob psychology."

"One of the recipients of a subpoena was Douglas Wachter, an 18-year-old sophomore at the University of California."

"Party officials decided to build a major part of their plan of attack around Wachter. Immediately after receiving a subpoena, Wachter proceeded to the University of California campus to organize student demonstrators. Mickey Lima, chairman of the Northern California District of the Communist Party, instructed Roscoe Proctor, a member of the district committee, to also contact certain students at the University of California and enlist their support. Lima was assured that student support would be forthcoming from Santa Rosa Junior College. His contact at San Francisco State College, the son of a current member of the Sonoma County Communist Party, was equally enthusiastic in promising support."

"On the evening of May 6, 1960, party leaders held a meeting to assess their progress and plan further activity. Mickey Lima stated that the activity on the campus of the University of California and the other campuses had begun to pay dividends — students were beginning to call for demonstrations and picket lines to greet the HCUA."

"At a party meeting on the night of May 20, 1960 (after the hearings had ended) Archie Brown disclosed how the party intended to use a followup campaign with campus students as the target. He stated that the party planned to emphasize 'police brutality' as a rallying cry to attract the sympathy of student groups."

"The Communists demonstrated in San Francisco just how powerful a weapon Communist infiltration is. They revealed how it is possible for only a few Communist agitators, using mob psychology to turn peaceful demonstrations into riots."

THESE ARE SOME OF THE salient statements in the Hoover report. There are some ministers and teachers and others who claim to be better investigators — at least more honest investigators — than J. Edgar Hoover, but don't take their claims too seriously.

It takes no great amount of perspicacity to understand why ministers and teachers are special targets of communism. Pastors have great influence over their congregations. God's representative on earth is not so suspect when it comes to evil-doing. He has much more influence than the average person. Naturally the Reds would like to enlist him in their cause.

The teacher has great influence among his students, and young people, sprouting wings of independence, are easy to lead in a revolt against tradition.

The threat to the nation is principally internal. The Communists do not plan a massive military assault against the US — not now, anyway. In the first place, we're pretty strong militarily ourselves. And in the second place, and more important, so far the Reds haven't seen the necessity of conflict when their goal can be accomplished without it. They figure that when the takeover comes, they'll get the country with all its industrial wealth intact.

Everybody's Money

By MERYLE STANLEY RUYKESER

Perhaps the occasional corrective movements and shapeouts in the stock market help to dramatize common sense and mature judgment. Like milady's clothes, securities are subject to cycles of fashions.

When the public becomes seized with a predilection for glamour and growth propensities in stocks, it tends to become overenthusiastic and to capitalize future possibilities so extravagantly that, in effect, the buyer cedes the expected benefits to the seller.

Since, in dynamic competitive America, it is impossible to stand still, it is constructive to put a valuation on growth expectancy. But there should be continuous combing among various categories to determine whether these desirable qualities can be acquired advantageously.

In this area, the good electric utility company shares, especially in the rapidly growing areas of the West and South, should not be forgotten. Many such shares give a reasonable income return while offering promise of future growth.

The expectancy is that the electric utility industry as a whole will continue to double its plant, its kilowatt hour sales, and gross income every decade. An analysis discloses that in terms of price-to-earnings ratios, representative electric utility shares compare very favorably with outstanding industrial stocks.

Analysts anticipate that in the coming decade this industry will grow more rapidly than business as a whole, and that this fact will be reflected in higher earnings and in bigger, dividend distributions. While industry was characterized by recession, the electric utility industry in 1960 reported a 6.5 per cent increase in revenues.

The facts of life are driving cost-conscious industrialist increasingly to cheap mechanical energy—electricity — as a means of economizing on expensive human energy at high prevailing wage rates. This is not bad for labor but is a sensible approach to making American industry competitive and thus providing job security for human workers.

Perhaps the world can be compensated in part from current tragedies in trouble spots, such as the Congo, if some lessons are learned. The Congo has become an immense experimental station for testing the practical consequences of emotional economics and politics.

"Foreigners go home" has been the slogan, but the International Monetary Fund points out that the financial result has been loss of economic resources. It says: "The departure of European civilians was responsible for a considerable decline in net holdings of gold and convertible exchange."

The Fund adds: "It would appear that only an early resumption of economic activity can prevent serious deterioration of plants and increasing shortages of goods. Moreover, unless stocks of imported consumer goods, which were practically exhausted during the second half of 1960, are replenished, steep price increases cannot be avoided. Government finances, also, can be relieved only by the resumption of production and a solution of the country's political problems."

Only the Soviet Union, which is in the conflict business, enjoys observing the deterioration which is taking place. Congo's rights were granted before its citizenry was trained to accept responsibilities.

Of course, Belgium is a dirty word in the Congo, but the fact remains that such economic discipline as existed was provided by Belgian civil servants and businessmen.

It would be constructive if we could convey to the so-called backward nations the fact that, though this country was founded through political revolution, our pioneers also had the self-discipline and thrift needed to convert the wilderness into an advanced civilization. And this pioneering was done without undue technical assistance and economic aid from overseas, although in due course, when hard-boiled British, Dutch and other money-lenders found our people credit-worthy, they did make loans.

It's heartening to witness new freedom being born, and the truest expression of friendship is to talk candidly about what it takes in self-help and self-discipline in order to convert freedom into an opportunity to achieve material well-being.

Up to now, too much attention has been given to what counsel is palatable to hot heads rather than to what is fundamentally true and

That Empty Feeling Again—

Pegler Says:

There's Big Difference Between Rags, Riches

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. — There is a terrible contrast between riches and absolute destitution in the desert. The quaking winos with sores on their bodies, the unemployed veterans of World War I who travel the highways by thumb, are a familiar element of the shifting population.

The Papago Indians live in mud-and-wicker huts called hogans on their reservation close by the San Francisco Giants' training farm for minor leaguers at Casa Grande. The Papagos could live "better" if they desired, for there are ponies and cattle in their fields and they ride in good enough cars. A few miles to the east of the Giants' place, which was opened only recently, there is a strange huddle of muddy old canvas and sheet metal junk formed into a stove and a shelter. A bent woman puffers around wearing a sun-bonnet.

Walter Averill, of the Giants' office in the camp, was until recently the owner and editor of the Casa Grande Dispatch. When I mentioned this desolate hovel far out of town and with no apparent source of water, he said:

"I do not know the lady, but the old man has been camping there for years and he is very independent. He does not talk freely to strangers. He owns a little patch there and he believes it is valuable. I do not know where they get water. Some of those people haul in water in drums."

Eloy, on the highway from El Paso to the Pacific, is the center of a crop zone of unbelievable richness. Most of the laborers are Negro migrants. They make big wages while they tarry in the fields and in the bars of the town. But amid the squalor there are more slightly local citizens of conventional appearance who would be typical of almost any decent crossroads. There is gambling, but when some Tucson reporters tried to make something of it a few years ago there were close onto killings at the height of the local indignation.

Driving the last few miles to the Giants' camp toward evening, I came upon a figure so forlorn that I broke the rule against helping hikers. He got in with a little brown paper sack and let his head loll. His face was bluish from exposure, probably years of it, but the bag contained his razor and soap and he was shaven clean. He was going "to the ocean."

That is 500 miles west at a guess. Why didn't he ride the Southern Pacific freight? Too fast to hitch onto along through here and the truckmen don't lift hikers any more. It is against the insurance. I apologized for turning off at the Giants' and he perked up slightly at hearing that this was the Giants' camp. He was from Melrose, Mass., his name was Sullivan and he remembered seeing Bill Carrigan and the Boston Americans, long ago. He was planning to lie up in a culvert or ditch for the night.

I gave him a dollar. He threw a little wave as I wheeled. (Mr. Ruykesser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with stamped, self-addressed envelopes should be sent in care of this newspaper. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column.)

London Times Is A Monkey On His Back

By HENRY MCLEMORE

ROME, Italy — My willpower has finally met its match in the London Times.

I have been trying to give it up for three months, not only to save the 11 cents or so a day it costs me on the Italian news stands, but because of a score of other reasons.

I am tired of pictures of the Royal family, of which there are at least three or four a day, as well as stories of how the Tottenham Hotspurs are doing at soccer and the Old Harrovians at squash.

Also, I am surfeited with trials of vicars accused of romantic affairs with Curate's wives, of recipes for left-over-marrows, of articles by "A Country Correspondent" describing the winter behavior of the triple-crested grebe, and the financial statements of the Bank of New South Wales, Barclay's, and Rotes Motors.

Yet I continue to buy the Times every day. It's a monkey on my back. I am hooked by The Old Thunderer, and the Letters to The Editor are the reason.

There is a battle raging between readers right now on why port wine is always passed to the left, and I can't quit the Times until I find out which side wins. And as soon as this battle of the port is finished, another will be joined, and so on, and on and on.

Do you know why port is always passed clockwise? Do you care? There are thousands of Englishmen who know and care, and all are writing to the Times. Here is a typical letter:

"Sir: Miss Hammer, whose letter you published today, thinks witchcraft the incentive that causes the port to be passed 'with the sun.' But I have drunk port in Salisbury, Rhodesia, in all the Southern Hemisphere, and it was still passed to the left. I realize that from November 12th to January 30th the sun is south of Salisbury, and I drank my port there during that period. But I heard nothing to suggest that from January 30th to November 12th it would be passed the other way — to starboard, so to speak. Nor did I hear that the port stayed still when the sun was directly overhead. I don't believe, witchcraft or no, that the sun is involved."

"Perhaps the direction is that of the vortex when the water runs out of a tub. (Yours faithfully, Reginald Bennet, House of Commons.)"

Equally typical is this one: "Sir: The reason is simple. Passing it to the left places the bottle next to the neighbor's glass, ready for him to fill his and pass it on."

Other readers say it is because Nelson lost an arm and had to pass port to the left (why?), and others are dedicated to the theory that passing it to the left in the right hand "leaves the left hand free to draw, if necessary, your neighbor's attention to its arrival and obviates the nudge with the elbow when going to the right."

This controversy will rage about a month and then some reader will write the editor his explanation of the invention of the side saddle, and the pen wielders will be off again.

The Doctor Says:

DR. HAROLD T. HYMAN

New Jersey health officials have just completed a study of a recent epidemic of sleeping sickness that is transmitted to humans by mosquitoes who have themselves gotten the infection from sick horses (equine encephalitis).

From examinations of bloods, taken from survivors of the disease and from near relatives and neighbors, they have discovered that many persons suffered the familiar manifestations of sleeping sickness (inapparent infections).

For the most part, those with inapparent infections merely remembered some vague illness that came and went without attracting particular attention. Nevertheless, their bloods showed that they'd developed an immunity to the infecting virus that was just as powerful as the immunity developed by those who had had the full-blown disease and had the good fortune to be counted among the survivors.

Let me explain why and how this observation is of importance to you. At least two of the summer diseases you are apt to encounter in your community or wherever you spend your vacation are also apt to cause several inapparent infections to a single one that's recognizable for what it is.

More specifically, for each youngster or adult whose skin turns yellow in an epidemic of catarrhal jaundice (virus hepatitis) or who develops muscle weakness or paralysis in an epidemic of polio, there are several who have merely an inapparent infection—a "summer cold," a "touch of gripe" or an attack of "the trots."

The inapparent illness passes with or without medical observation. A few aspirins. Or a good cleaning out. And that's all there is to it.

Fortunately for the person and unfortunately for the community, that's not all there is to it. For, while the convalescent from an inapparent attack of equine encephalitis is not much of a threat to members of the household or community unless he happens to be bitten by a mosquito who then "hitch-hikes" the virus to the next person that's bitten, those who have inapparent attacks of virus hepatitis or polio continue to excrete the pesky bug in their bowel movements. To be sure this does them no harm. They're just as immune as if they'd had the full-blown disease and recovered.

But, if they're not careful to scrub their hands thoroughly after each evacuation, they may "hitch-hike" the virus to members of the household and neighbors. In complete innocence of the threat they pose, they have become what health officers call "carriers."

Most students of epidemics agree that the innocent carrier is a greater menace than the obviously infected person who, because of frank signs of the disease (jaundice, paralysis) is under strict medical supervision.

Two Institutes Planned At TCU

FORT WORTH — Two special institutes for church leaders will be held at Texas Christian University's Britte College of the Bible in June.

The first program will be a two-week session on "The Minister, the Church and our Changing Society," scheduled June 6-16. Purpose of the Institute is to help ministers guide their churches in meeting the challenge and opportunity of rapidly changing religious and ethnic relationships in local church and community, against the background of social change in the nation and the world.

Principal lecturer for the Institute will be Dr. Gordon W. Loyjoy, visiting professor of sociology, Guilford College and Woman's College, University of North Carolina. Dr. Harold Lunger, professor of Christian ethics in TCU's Britte College, will be Institute director.

A four-day Pastoral Care Institute is planned for June 27-30, with Dr. Seward Hiltner as special lecturer. Dr. Hiltner is professor of pastoral theology, the Federated Theological Faculty, University of Chicago.

Along with Dr. Hiltner's lectures, the program will include a series of psychologically oriented sermons, a meeting with the Fort Worth General Ministers Association, and a number of case study seminars.

Dr. Charles Kemp, distinguished professor of pastoral care in Britte College is Institute director.

Rocket Plane Zooms To New High Record

EDWARDS AFB, Calif. (UPI)—The X15 rocket zoomed Wednesday to a world altitude record of 160,000 feet, carrying test pilot Joseph A. Walker to a dark, unexplored frontier 30 miles above the earth.

Striking along a path similar to one made by a ballistic missile, Walker was subjected to weightlessness for 90 seconds at the top of his climb. Engineers said it was the longest period of weightlessness ever recorded, but Walker apparently suffered no ill effects.

Walker, 40-year-old test pilot engineer for 16 years with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, broke the altitude mark of 136,500 feet set by Maj. Robert White on Aug. 12. The X15 also holds the unofficial speed record of 2,905 miles an hour.

Ground control kept saying on the radio, "You're looking good, Joe."

At one point ground control suggested a change in his course, and he replied, his voice quavering, "I can't do anything about course for a while."

When he was around the 150,000 foot mark he said, "It's nice dark blue up here. I do have time to look around."

On the way down, after hitting 160,000 feet, Walker said, "Good heavens — we are shaking to pieces here."

35-Year-Old Death Case Now Solved

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (UPI) — When Peter Fry, 45, died after being found badly injured outside a speakeasy here on Jan. 12, 1929, police questioned the few owners of automobiles in the neighborhood.

Among them was Charles Kucsan, a steelworker and owner of a 1928 Star roadster.

Kucsan was released after questioning and police listed Fry as a hit-run victim.

Yesterday, district attorney George J. Joseph said Kucsan, now 53, had signed a confession that he deliberately ran down Fry 32 years ago because he thought Fry had cheated him at cards.

According to the confession, Kucsan, enraged, walked out of the speakeasy where the game was in progress and waited in his car for Fry to come out.

"I aimed the car at him," Kucsan was quoted. "I wanted to knock him down and scare him."

Authorities said an anonymous letter received about two weeks ago led to Kucsan's arrest at his far in nearby Bath.

They refused to give the exact contents of the letter but said Kucsan's former wife had confirmed the story.

Kucsan was held without bail and taken to Lehigh County prison to await further action.

Senators Strike Farm Aid Funds From Money Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate passed and sent to the White House yesterday a $1.6 billion supplemental money bill that was stripped of nearly $2.9 billion earmarked earlier for the farm program.

The Senate had voted the extra farm fund, but House-Senate conferees took it out. The House passed the compromise catch-all money bill late Wednesday.

Included in the bill were funds to get into initial operation several of President Kennedy's key anti-recession programs approved by Congress within the last week.

In all, the bill carried appropriations for a wide range of government functions to tide them over until the end of the current fiscal year, which closes June 30.
