McNamara Says US Must Make Its Stand in Viet

Ballistic Missiles in Future for Red China

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said today the United States must continue its struggle to halt Red expansion in Asia and has little choice but to make its stand in South Viet Nam.

In a statement prepared for delivery before the House Armed Services Committee, he described the situation in Viet Nam as "grave but by no means hopeless."

McNamara's strong stand on Viet Nam highlighted a wide-ranging review of world affairs which also spelled out American conditions for a NATO nuclear force and conceded that Red China "in time" could produce ballistic missiles with hydrogen warheads.

But for the near future, McNamara said, he doubted that the Red Chinese would start overt aggression against their neighbors because they had shown "great caution when confronted with a determined display of military power."

McNamara also said that nearly 80 million Americans would be killed in an all-out nuclear attack on U.S. cities even if $25 billion were spent during the next five years on shelters and anti-missile weapons.

In the absence of such a shelter and anti-missile program—so far not even proposed—he

Merchants Urged To Attend Meet On Sunday Closing

Officials of two businessmen's groups today urged attendance at a meeting called for 10 a.m. tomorrow in Jackson's Cafeteria to discuss Sunday closing of Pampa business places.

Lou Troja, president of the Coronado Center association, and J. C. Roberts, head of the Downtown Businessmen's group, appealed to owners and managers of business houses to take part in discussion of the problem.

Representatives of the Pampa Ministerial Alliance, pressing for the Sunday closing, are expected to renew their appeal at tomorrow's meeting.

Roberts said today he understood approximately 40 businessmen already had indicated they planned to attend the discussion session.

It also was announced that the meeting will be open to anyone wishing to express views on Sunday closing.

Texas Escapees Foiled in West Coast Bank Robbery

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Two Texans who escaped from the Van Zandt County jail Feb. 7 robbed a branch of the Bank of America of $27,312 Wednesday, but they had gone less than a block before they were surrounded by police.

Jerry Gillingham, 25, of Dallas, who once took a course on burglar alarms before robbing a Dallas discount store, and James Daugherty, 21, of Canton, Tex., were arraigned before U.S. Commissioner Richard Goldsmith, who set bail at $50,000.

Their attempted robbery and arrest came about the same time the pair were indicted in Canton for burglary and assisting each other escape from the jail.

The pair escaped after Daugherty's brother smuggled a gun into the county jail. They locked the sheriff and a deputy in a cell and sped away in a late-model car. They had not been heard of until Wednesday, when they walked calmly into the bank.

Gillingham and Daugherty told police they had "cased" the bank. As other employes arrived, they told them to "just stand where you are—stay at your posts," and made them scoop up money into a canvas bag.

Then the bandits waited uneasily for the vault's time-lock to open at 8:30, and ordered manager Fred Cravens to fill their bag.

But telephone calls were their downfall. A bank employe phoned to report that she was sick, and teller Mary Ann Evans, who took the call, whispered: "robbery—call police."

The employe did. At the same time, bookkeeper

Susan Johndrow ducked out the back and ran next door to call police herself.

Meanwhile, Gillingham and Daugherty finished gathering up the loot and walked calmly along the door of the bank and down the street to their car, unaware their plan had failed.

"They were real cool," said a barber who saw them go by. But their composure didn't last long. As they climbed into their auto, four police patrol cars quickly blocked their way.

"You could see the surprise in their faces," said Police Chief John Fabbri.

Selma Night Marches Threatened by King

By United Press International. Negroes have threatened to resort to night marches at Selma, Ala., in an effort to depose Sheriff James Clark.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. told a Negro rally Wednesday night that the voter registration campaign was being broadened to bring pressure on Selma's white power structure to remove Clark. Negroes planned another march on the Dallas County Courthouse today in addition to a boycott of white merchants.

King said "things won't be right in Selma" until Clark is removed. The sheriff has been militantly opposed to the desegregation drive and has used cattle prods and nightsticks to disperse demonstrators.

King said "the time is getting near" for night marches, which would be the first of his Alabama campaigns. He indicated, however, he was reluctant to take such a step except as a last resort.

In New York Wednesday, 300 high school students picketing the education board for more public school integration attacked on-looking university students and 100 policemen were called in to break up the fighting.

Officers rounded up 68 students and placed 12 of them under arrest.

Police at Moultrie, Ga., have arrested 354 Negroes within the past two days during demonstrations protesting "deplorable" school conditions.

One-hundred and 24 persons, mostly parents, were arrested Wednesday for marching on the jail to protest the earlier arrests of Negro student demonstrators.

Elsewhere: Jackson, Miss.: Negro witnesses were scheduled to tell the U.S. Civil Rights Commission today more about alleged racial bombings, burnings and other violence in south Mississippi last year.

Atlanta: Lester Maddox, who closed his restaurant rather than serve Negroes, said Wednesday he has leased the business to two former employes who will reopen Monday to "all orderly individuals and groups."

South Viet Troops Halt Guerrilla Move

SAIGON (UPI) — A guerrilla offensive southwest of Saigon fell apart today in the face of a strong show of force by Vietnamese troops.

The successful government operation was reported amid charges by Communist North Vietnamese coastal installation early this morning.

The Hanoi regime called the alleged raid "a new, extremely serious act of provocation by the United States and its stooges." A Hanoi broadcast heard in Tokyo said two of the ships were damaged when they were intercepted by North Vietnamese patrol boats.

Although the North Vietnamese protest was bellicose, it made no threats of retaliation. Hanoi said the International Control Commission was informed of the incident in a note which called it "a gross encroachment" and an "impudent violation" of the Geneva agreements of 1954.

The Viet Cong offensive which crumbled today began Wednesday in the Mekong River Delta 35 miles southwest of Saigon when a guerrilla battalion attacked a government outpost near My Tho.

Military reports today said the guerrillas apparently elected not to stand and fight when the government struck back with a large-scale helicopter airlift of Vietnamese reinforcements.

A U.S. military spokesman reported today that government forces were unable to reach the bulk of a sunken 100-foot Communist warship along the coast 235 miles northeast of Saigon.

The spokesman said heavy fire from Viet Cong units entrenched along the shores of a cove where the vessel was sunk Wednesday stopped troops trying to reach it.

The steel-hulled craft, largest encountered in the 10-year guerrilla war, was disabled by six Vietnamese air force fighters-bombers after it was spotted by an American helicopter pilot.

He said police confiscated circulars and other literature proving that a conspiracy to overthrow the Indian government and replace it with a Communist regime was being aided by Red China.

Russians Due Crisis Report

MOSCOW (UPI) — Premier Alexei N. Kosygin will make a television report to the Russian people on his trip to the Communist countries of Asia by the end of the week, reliable sources said today. It will be his first "fireside chat" since taking office.

Western observers in Moscow said Kosygin may outline Kremlin policy on the Viet Nam crisis and give an inkling of the military aid the Soviet Union promised North Viet Nam following retaliatory American air strikes against the Hanoi regime.

Kosygin recently returned to Moscow from visits to North Viet Nam, Communist China and North Korea. Moscow and Hanoi have announced agreement to strengthen North Viet Nam's "defense potential," but no specific measures have been disclosed.

Soviet leaders usually appear before the nation's viewers following a trip abroad. But Kosygin's report to the people will be his first since former Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev was ousted last October.

(It has been reported unofficially in Saigon that Soviet ground-to-air missiles already have reached North Viet Nam.

Authoritative sources in London said Wednesday Russia has indicated its willingness to take an "active part" in a meaningful peace conference on Southeast Asia can be arranged. The sources based the report on informal diplomatic exchanges involving Moscow.

(Some quarters in the West have been calling for the "neutralization" of Southeast Asia as a way out of the impasse. However the Russians did not propose reconvening the 1954 Geneva conference on Indochina, the sources said.)

The Moscow observers said in his report to the nation Kosygin also may outline Soviet policy in Asia. Recently the Soviet premier demanded that the United States pull out of South Viet Nam.

Work to Start On State Remap

By WILLIAM HAMILTON. AUSTIN (UPI) — Two Senate subcommittees were expected to begin work today on three proposals to reshuffle the state's congressional and senatorial districts.

Sen. Louis Crump of San Saba, chairman of the Senate committee on districts, Wednesday named the two groups to look into two bills on congressional redistricting and one on apportioning the state Senate.

Crump named himself to head both groups. He picked Sens. Martin Dies Jr. of Lufkin, Ralph Hall of Rockwall, Abraham Kazen Jr. of Laredo and George Parkhouse of Dallas to debate bills by Crump and Kazen redrawing the state's 23 congressional seats.

Sens. Criss Cole of Houston, Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo, Bill Moore of Bryan and Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi were named to work on senatorial redistricting. Dies and Sen. J. P. Word of Meridian have proposed the only bill on Senate reapportioning so far, calling for 31 statewide seats.

In the House, Rep. Bob Eckhardt of Houston filed a new approach to House reapportionment. He divided the state into six regions and introduced a resolution calling for meetings on a regional basis by all House members.

The regional groups would come up with recommendations for their area and report to the House committee on districts, which would finally debate a bill before reporting it to the House floor.

Wednesday, the House approved a proposed "Little Hoover Commission," patterned after the postwar federal watchdog group, to look for ways of cutting waste in state government operations. A similar measure pends in the Senate.

Beatles Become Millionaires in Just One Minute

LONDON (UPI) — Beatles John Lennon and Paul McCartney became millionaires today 60 seconds after stock in their music firm officially went on sale.

That was all the time it took for brokers to announce that the public had bought $5.4 million worth of stock in the company.

The books for applications in Northern Songs Ltd. opened at 10 a.m. (4 a.m. CST) and closed one minute later. A spokesman said Beatles fans, ordinary investors and market gamblers had "substantially oversubscribed" the stock issue.

A total of 1,250,000 shares were offered for seven shillings ninepence ($1.09) each.

Stock exchange sources said the shares were expected to sell for about nine shillings ($1.26) when they are traded on the floor of the London market for the first time Feb. 26.

John and Paul personally own shares in the company worth $1,680,000 at the issue price.

Stock exchange sources said it was impossible to estimate how much money the public was prepared to gamble on the continued songwriting success of the Beatles but the issue may have been oversubscribed as much as ten times.

This would mean a $54-million vote of confidence in the long-haired composers who parlayed electronic guitars and "yeah, yeah, yeah" into world fame and fortune.

The oversubscription was the more remarkable because of criticism by many financial editors of the fact the main assets of Northern Songs are 56 Lennon and McCartney songs. These will bring in at least $1,540,000 in the year ending in April and at least $1,120,000 in the following year, according to the company prospectus.

But after that buyers of the stock are, in effect, gambling on whether the Beatles grow up into another Rodgers and Hammerstein of songwriting.

TINY ALBANIA CAUSING TROUBLE

U.S., Russian Showdown Averted in UN

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — Albania, Communist China's tiny European satellite, today remained firm in its aim to bring about a showdown between the United States and Russia in the General Assembly.

The assembly was in recess until 2 p.m. CST today as the result of some hasty parliamentary maneuvering to head off the vote Albania demanded Tuesday.

Further maneuvers—possibly including an indefinite recess—were reported in preparation.

Resumption of voting would call into question the right of the Soviet Union, France and 11 other nations to vote without paying their U.N. debts, which they have refused to do.

The United States has said it is ready to bring up the question of these nations' right to vote.

But informed sources said both the United States and Russia now seem to want to settle the issue in off-stage negotiations while the assembly has a long recess.

Albanian Ambassador Halim Budo shattered this plan when he arose in the assembly Tuesday and demanded that it get down to voting.

Most delegates were convinced he acted in the interests of Communist China, to expose the weaknesses of the United Nations and to disrupt relations between Moscow and Washington.

Assembly President Alex Quason-Sackey appealed to Budo Wednesday not to press his demand for a vote, the sources said. But Budo was adamant, agreeing only to consult his government once before. An indefinite recess would avoid the voting issue, but it would leave unfinished makeshift budget arrangements and the filling of posts on the Economic and Social Council.

Johnson, DeGaulle Aide Slate Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI)—French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville begins today a series of talks which may lead to a summer meeting between President Johnson and French President Charles de Gaulle.

The immediate purpose of the French minister's discussions with Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk, however, was to review policies on Viet Nam and other critical issues on which the two historic Allies differ sharply.

Couve's first scheduled session was with Rusk and other State Department officials. The French minister is scheduled to see Johnson Friday morning.

Johnson is understood to be anxious to meet De Gaulle this year and willing to make a trip to Paris to do so. Officials said nothing specific had been planned as yet but Couve's talks here could well set in motion arrangements for such a session.

Couve is reported ready to urge that the United States give careful consideration to De Gaulle's views on Viet Nam. The French president believes that problem can only be solved by an international conference, including Red China, to "neutralize" divided Viet Nam as well as the other parts of what once was French Indochina.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
India's 1961 census disclosed that in the huge sub-continent there are 845 different languages and major dialects.
Of this polyglot, Hindi and its dialects are used by something less than half of the population, mainly in the north. Among them all, the single unifying factor has been the English language, an inheritance of years of British colonial rule. Particularly this applied to the civil service.

The great diversity of language made hopeless the task of unifying state and national administrations without a common denominator.

And so it was that the constitution of 1950 directed that English should be the official language for the first 15 years and on Jan. 26, 1965, should be replaced by Hindi.

Associate Language
In 1963 Parliament passed a law saying that non-Hindi speaking states could, if they wished, retain English as an "associate language" for another 10 years. But it failed to appease the fears of millions of Indians who feared loss of their jobs to Hindi speakers or the resentment of those states proud of their own native tongue.

Rule by riot not being uncommon among the explosive Indian population, it was not too surprising that on Jan. 26, in the state of Madras in the south mobs began taking to the streets.

Madras is a Tamil-speaking state, a language used by about 34 million.

Attack Communications
The rioters attacked trains, burned stations and cut telephone lines in an attempt to halt communication.

The mobs seized two policemen and burned them alive. Seven persons burned themselves to death in protest suicides.

The riots then spread to Mysore and Kerala states where students attacked trains and post offices and stoned Hindi teachers.

In Calcutta where Bengali is the principal tongue, student demonstrators smashed windows of bookstalls and burned Hindi books.

For mild-mannered Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri the language riots were just one of many burdens but they threatened to have widespread repercussions.

Neither the Indian president nor some members of Shastri's cabinet approved of his handling of the situation.

Strains Ruling Party
The rioting put new strains on the ruling Congress party, already bursting at the seams as result of the loss of former Prime Minister Nehru.

In Kerala state elections are scheduled for next month, and the Communists who made political profit out of the food riots of last November seem likely to make further gains out of the language riots.

Kerala is the only Indian state where the Communists ever have held power. They were in office from 1957 to 1959.

It is a tragedy of India that Nehru left it with a heritage of 17 years of democracy but failed to solve any of its other major problems.

The greatest of these is a faltering economy unable to feed India's exploding population. Hand in hand are inflation and mounting unemployment.

With all of these facing him, Shastri seemed ready to compromise on the language issue.

McNamara

(Continued From Page 1) would not yield to pressures to produce nuclear weapons. McNamara repeated President Johnson's offer of last fall to support non-nuclear countries facing a nuclear threat. "Struggle Continues Unabated" Summarizing McNamara's remarks that the struggle against communism's spread continued unabated and added: "We have long recognized the arms race continues and we weapons multiply and become more swift and deadly, the possibility of a global catastrophe, whether by miscalculation or design, becomes ever more real."

The dilemma cannot be solved by piling up more armaments, he said. He said America and Russia had a "common interest" in seeing that nuclear weapons were never used. Therefore, he said, the United States would pursue every step that might lead to peaceful understanding with Russia.

"And we intend to stand fast against the presently implacable animosity of Communist China until that nation, too, realizes that its security and progress can be better served by a more peaceful policy," McNamara said.

Regarding a multi-lateral nuclear force for NATO, the defense secretary said that the United States now had "no fixed time-table."

He said that any agreement the United States enters into or an allied nuclear force must hold open the door to French participation.

"Mr. Santa Fe" retires

Santa Fe Agent Plans to Retire

AMARILLO (Sp) — E. Kancher, division freight and passenger agent for Santa Fe Railway at Amarillo, has announced he will retire Feb. 28 after nearly 50 years of railroad service. The widely-known traffic official, whose friendships run the gamut from office boys to governors and corporation presidents, will be honored by his associates at a reception Feb. 26 in the Herring Hotel, Amarillo.

Born at Philadelphia, Kancher was raised in New Orleans where he took his first railroad job with the Rock Island in 1913. He enlisted in the U. S. Army in 1917 and spent the following two years in England and France.

After his discharge in 1919, he took a sales job with an automobile agency until the latter part of 1920 when he became city freight agent for the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient railroad at El Paso, Tex. In the years between 1923 and 1925, Kancher served in a freight traffic sales capacity for the Missouri Pacific and International Great Northern railroads, until he was named special representative of the president of the KCM&O at Kansas City in September, 1925. When the Santa Fe acquired the Orient line in 1928, Kancher went to Lubbock, Tex., as division freight and passenger agent. He was transferred to Amarillo in 1936.

Whenever he goes the immediate greeting is "All the way with E.K.," and he has become known as "Mr. Santa Fe" in the states he travels. In his years with the railroad he has been instrumental in locating numerous industries along the lines of the Santa Fe.

Kancher plans an active retirement and is presently considering several offers of employment.

'64 Fire Losses Higher Than '63

Although there were fewer fire alarms, Pampa's 1964 fire losses were approximately $13,000 higher than in 1963. Fire Chief Ernest Winborne today issued a comparative report showing losses totaling $122,738.50 in 1964 compared to $109,376.03 in 1963.

Local fire departments answered 315 alarms last year and 285 in 1963.

There were 245 fires in 1964 and 266 in the previous year. Residential fires led the list with 73 last year. There were 89 house fires in 1963.

Pampa had 29 commercial fires in 1964 against only 15 the previous year.

Grass fires were fewer dropping to 16 from 42 in 1963.

The 20 false alarms turned in last year showed an increase of nine over 1963. Chief Winborne said the Dec. 23 fire at the Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral home was Pampa's biggest fire of 1964. Loss in that fire was estimated at more than $50,000.

County Officials Get Briefing on Their Problems

County Judge Bill Craig and County Commissioner Joe Clarke of Lefors returned last night from College Station where they attended the three-day seventh annual County Judges' and Commissioners' conference on the Texas A&M campus.

Judge Craig said today the theme of the conference, which opened Monday, was developed around problems of current concern to county officials.

Primary purpose of the meeting was to give participants a better understanding of the problems they must handle in discharging their responsibilities.

The more than 400 officials attending the conference from 160 Texas counties heard an address Tuesday by Gillis W. Long, assistant director in the Office of Economic Opportunity.

As a representative of President Johnson, Long spoke on "The Economic Opportunity Act of 1964 As Another Resource for Counties."

The conference was sponsored by the County Judges' and Commissioners' Association and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

County Officials Get Briefing on Their Problems

County Judge Bill Craig and County Commissioner Joe Clarke of Lefors returned last night from College Station where they attended the three-day seventh annual County Judges' and Commissioners' conference on the Texas A&M campus.

Judge Craig said today the theme of the conference, which opened Monday, was developed around problems of current concern to county officials.

Primary purpose of the meeting was to give participants a better understanding of the problems they must handle in discharging their responsibilities.

The more than 400 officials attending the conference from 160 Texas counties heard an address Tuesday by Gillis W. Long, assistant director in the Office of Economic Opportunity.

As a representative of President Johnson, Long spoke on "The Economic Opportunity Act of 1964 As Another Resource for Counties."

The conference was sponsored by the County Judges' and Commissioners' Association and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Physicists have produced a temperature many thousands degrees hotter than the surface of the sun.

Motorists Urged To Keep Alert

Pampa Police Chief Jim Conner urged motorists today to "stay alert to avoid accidents."

Conner said that too many motorists day-dream at the wheel and are either injured or killed in car accidents. "Not paying attention is one of the main causes of accidents," he concluded.

ENMU Choir Director Conducts Clinic Here

George Umberson, director of choirs at Eastern New Mexico University, Portales, N.M., was in Pampa today conducting a clinic for Pampa High School choral students.

The Pampa students will perform for the Southwestern Music Educators' Conference next week in Oklahoma City, Okla.

Insurance Information

Available for Veterans

All veterans of World War II and the Korean conflict who believe they are eligible to purchase the new GI insurance beginning May 1, can get full information at the Veterans Administration regional office in Lubbock, R. H. Todd, Jr., acting manager, said today.

Those who can, may visit or telephone the office nearest their home while those who live at too great a distance may write for a printed information sheet, outlining the provisions of the new law, Todd said.

McLean Hospital

Open House Sunday

An open house will be held Sunday at the new McLean Hospital from 2 to 5 p.m. The hospital, which is an annex to Pampa's Highland General Hospital, was completed in January and is a 20 bed structure.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — Tessel, Bergman, Cumming & Co. says the market is overvalued and could continue the rally begun last Friday. However, it warns that any worsening of the Southeast Asia crisis could have a sudden and severe effect on the market indicators.

The firm says traders may utilize any rally to take profits or to hedge their positions with short sales. Investors, it says, might consider liquidating weak positions and wicking into stronger groups.

Business Highlights

LEXINGTON, Ky. — U. S. District Judge MacSwainford held the first Security National Bank & Trust Co. in contempt for failure to dissolve its merger as ordered by the Supreme Court last April. The judge fined the bank $100 a day pending full compliance to undo the merger of First National Bank & Trust Co. and Security Trust Co. in March 1961.

NEW YORK — International Railways of Central America filed suit in Federal Court against the United Fruit Co. seeking triple damages totaling $507 million. The complaint alleged that when United Fruit controlled the road it obtained low freight rates and in other ways deprived the carrier of revenues. The line is presently controlled by Trans Caribbean Airways.

NEW YORK — A syndicate headed by the Bank of America won $100 million in California water development bonds. The winning bid will mean an annual net interest cost to the state of 3.497 per cent. The sale brought to $350 million the amount of bonds sold to finance California's water development program.

Family, Friends Pay

Final Respects to Nat

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Comedian Jack Benny today eulogized Negro singer Nat King Cole as a "nice man (who) knew how to live — and knew how to make others glad they were living."
Benny's moving tribute to his friend and fellow entertainer was delivered in St. James Episcopal Church, where Cole's family and 600 friends and newsmen were gathered to pay their final respects to the singer.

Dear Abby.... Professional Help Is Needed, He's too Calm

DEAR ABBY: We have three sons, 13, 12 and 10. I am worried about our eldest boy. He is about the same size as his 12-year-old brother. In fact, they are often taken for twins. The two younger boys gang up on the older one who just stands there and lets them beat him up. He doesn't cry, or hit back or even ask for help. This doesn't seem normal to me. I know all brothers fight sometimes, but this is no fight. He won't even try to defend himself. He is a good student and a very quiet, obedient boy. Could something be wrong with him? I can't figure it out.

MICHIGAN MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: Don't try to "figure it out." Ask your family doctor (or pediatrician) to recommend someone who specializes in child behavior problems, and take the boy there. Something is wrong with a boy who will not defend himself, or retaliate when attacked. P.S. And while you are about it, find out what is making unprovoked aggressors out of the other two boys.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is divorced, has two small children and receives no help from her former husband. (He has remarried and left the state.) I have been taking care of her children days while she works. She makes very good money, but I have a small pension and don't take anything for helping her. My daughter is very quarrelsome. She curses me and the children and treats me like a hired hand. She has been getting me so nervous and upset lately that I can't eat or sleep right, and my health is beginning to fail.

I have had a proposal of marriage from a very nice man I've been going with for two years, but he wants me to promise him that after we are married I will not take the responsibility of caring for my grandchildren any more. He says that is the only way we can be happy. I care a lot for this man, Abby, and I want to marry him. But is it fair of him to make me choose between him and my own flesh and blood?

HARD TO DECIDE
DEAR HARD: Marry the man. If your daughter had to face the responsibility of rearing her own children, she would find a way. You have earned happiness. Help yourself.

DEAR ABBY: The letter from the Pennsylvania minister prompts this. If he knows that those who go to heaven don't need prayers, and those who go to hell don't receive them, then he knows a lot more about inter-personality communication than for their patients!

Only COMET, the Modern Rice, is both Vitafied and Enriched to protect your health while dieting. That may be one of the reasons hundreds of doctors have requested thousands of copies of the COMET RICE DIET for their patients.

More than 90% of those who reported that they followed the COMET RICE DIET faithfully state that they lost a pound a day, yet never were hungry. Weight reductions range from a few pounds to more than one hundred pounds, according to some users. Of course, some did not like the Diet. COMET makes no claims, no guarantees. See your doctor before dieting.

If you would like to try the COMET RICE DIET to see if you can lose weight without being hungry, send a COMET RICE Box Top and your name and address to:

Sexy, Short Hair Is Really In

NEW BOYISH SHORT CUT -- Gerard of London greets actress Susan Hampshire (top left) to begin a hair-raising tale in his beauty salon she never encountered playing opposite Albert Finney in the movie "Night Must Fall." Gerard styles her hair in his new boyishly short cut. Filling in with the crisp short hair will be curved lips, more pink or clear red shades in lipstick and subtle rouge. At night, Gerard decrees wigs for even more feminine hairstyles.

By ALICIA HART
Beauty Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK -- "There are," the slender man in a gray shirt with white collar and cuffs said, "two pacesetters in world hair-styling -- Vidal Sassoon and myself."

With this modest appraisal of the situation in haute coif, Gerard of London proceeded to unveil his look for spring during his first visit in the United States.

To explain his new hair and make-up styles, Gerard continued to indulge in what seemed on the surface unadulterated British chauvinism.

"London hairstyles are the hairstyles of the world," he said. "Just to set things straight before the Paris fashion couture showings, London is taking her rightful place as a design leader. Paris restates two months later what London already has done."

A quick check with NEA fashion editor Helen Hennessy and others taking the pulse of the dizzy world of haute couture revealed that, "Yes, London with Jane Jane and Jean Muir is setting a new, vital fashion pace."

Also backing up Gerard's claims are such fashionable heads as Jane Fonda, Zsa Zsa Gabor, Mrs. Paul Anka (an heiress-model), Signorina Ferragamo (shoes), Nancy White of Harper's Bazaar, and the princesses Ira von Furstenberg, Soraya and Irene of Greece who trip regularly to his Carita Salon.

More specifically, London's place in the world of fashion will be, Gerard prophesied, in young people's fashion put within reach of the average person. This trend to the youthful look is the current inspiration for Gerard, who created his new design for Yardley of London to follow the feeling and line of fashion for spring.

"There is a throwback to the 1940s in fashion. However, long hair will be dead as a dodo," Gerard said. "I capture the feeling of a long hair silhouette with short hair."

Gerard's short hairstyle for day will be boyish but softened for evening wear with switches and wigs. Short hair has been playing tag with fashion for several seasons now but Gerard's cut is soft, not blunt or shingled at the back and, "broken up a bit." It also will be flat to the head.

"It must be so well cut," he explained, "that when the hair is dry and brushed, the style will be there without setting." Also important to Gerard's creation is the fringe as the British call bangs. Bangs will be heavy and the eyes underplayed, oval and without hard, black eye make-up.

With this style he emphasizes the lips with brighter pinks and clear red lipsticks and adds more color with a subtle use of rouge or foundation.

There is a definite reason for

RUTH MILLETT

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
There's a reason why women in the business areas of American cities usually look well dressed.

Those who don't, don't hold their jobs, or else hold down small ones without much chance of ever moving up.

But the American housewife has no standard of on-the-job dress.

You see too-fat and too-thin and too-old housewives working in their front yards, doing their marketing, going to beauty shops, etc., in shorts.

You see housewives stepping out of fancy cars with their hair in pin curls.

You see young housewives wearing jeans, when the job doesn't call for jeans at all.

You see housewives working all day and running out-of-doors in trailing nightgowns.

In fact, looking around at the housewives of America as they go about their duties at home and in public, you can see almost any kind of get-up.

Isn't it about time that housewives woke up to the fact that even as a working woman is careful to dress in clothes suitable to business because she represents her company, the housewife represents her family?

Certainly women who think they can look any old way simply because they are housewives aren't representing their families in a very flattering light. So how about housewives setting a few standards of working dress? They've got the best "boss" a woman could have. And they ought to dress properly when they're doing their jobs.

Scouting Scoops

By LINDA CHASE
GS Troop Two

Troop One with the help of Mrs. W. J. Felter, is working on "My Troop's Badge." This week they elected new officers. Elected were Daffodil Patrol leaders, Kattily Reeve and Cathryn Roots; Lilly, Patrol leaders, Joanna Rattliff and Sherri Ross; Pernie Fallon, scribe and Patsy Kelly, treasurer.

Troop Four went through Southwestern Public Service offices last week. Mrs. Prince gave the troop a cooking lesson.

Mrs. Richard Stowers' Troop 26 elected new officers as follows: president, Susie Stowers; treasurer, Rebecca Secrest; secretary, Becky Tinsley and patrol leaders, Sherry Jones and Mimi Miller.

Mrs. W. I. Jordan's Troop 92 started cooking lessons at Southwestern Public Service Company Tuesday.

Troop 14 had a bake sale to earn the money for the books used in the first aid course they are taking.

There are many and varied activities among the troops in Pampa. Troop 35 had a slumber party last Friday night. Troop 36 made a step toward earning their Dabbler Badge by making and painting figures of clay.

Troop 19 made a visit to Doll Hospital where Mrs. Lloyd Larame showed them dolls of many shapes and sizes and also some Bisque doll heads that were at least 75 years old. Troop 22 enjoyed a visit to Police Headquarters, just to look. They weren't in any trouble, and also to the Red Cross Headquarters. The girls in Troop 126 are learning to knit.

Troop 80 has done a good deed by repairing all the cots at Camp Mel-Davis. They also washed, swept and mopped the rest of the building so it now shines. Why not help our Council keep the camp as neat and clean as possible? Remember to clean up when you leave and help to keep the camp shining.

Mrs. Brown Hosts Ruth Class Meet

GROOM (Spl) -- Ruth Class of First Baptist Church held a regular monthly meeting recently in the home of Mrs. Beadie Brown with Mrs. Billy Cornett as co-hostess. The hostesses served a plate lunch to 12 members.

Mrs. Les Driskill, president, called the meeting to order. Mrs. Viola Harrell gave the devotional. Mrs. Bob Milton gave the secretary's report.

Those attending were Meses, Viola Harrell, Corrine Wheeler, John Hickox, Charles Fields, Bob Milton, B. F. Patterson, Jim Wall, Claude Schaffer, Thelma Pool, Les Driskill, H. C. Swank, Esta Byles and the hostesses, Mrs. Beadie Brown and Mrs. Billy Cornett.

4-H Club Given Cooking Lesson

Top O' Texas 4-H Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Billy Cox for a cooking lesson. A one-two-three-four cake with icing was made by the girls.

Attending were Judy Cox, Susan Hunt and Mignon Nickel.

This Chicken Banishes Monotony

ORIENTAL CHICKEN: Banishes menu monotony.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Broiler-fryer chickens are so abundant and such an economy buy, they appear on family menus often.

To avoid monotony, therefore, you need several different recipes for them. That's why this somewhat unfamiliar way of preparing them may be very welcome, especially for a special dinner party.

- ORIENTAL CHICKEN
(4 servings)
- 1/4 cup corn oil
  - 1 (2 1/2 pound) broiler-fryer chicken, quartered
  - 1/2 cup orange juice
  - 1 teaspoon ginger
  - 1 teaspoon salt
  - 1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
  - 1 (8-ounce) can pitted ripe olives, halved
  - 1 (5 1/2-ounce) can water chestnuts, sliced
  - 1 cup white wine
  - 2 tablespoons corn starch
  - 2 tablespoons water

Heat-corn oil in skillet. Add chicken and cook, turning as needed, until browned on all sides. Reduce heat; stir in orange juice, ginger, salt and garlic salt, then add olives, water, chestnuts and wine. Cover and cook over low heat until chicken is tender, about 30 minutes. Remove chicken from skillet and keep warm. Blend corn starch and water; mix into liquid in skillet. Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce is thickened and a clear yellow. Arrange chicken on serving plate; pour sauce over chicken, or serve in separate sauce dish.

Special Occasion Bavarian Recipe

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
For a special occasion, something particularly delightful to look at as well as to eat, try this unusual Bavarian recipe.

To make it requires little time and no skill.

- PINEAPPLE EGGNOG BAVARIAN
(8 servings)
- 2-3 cup sugar
  - 1/2 teaspoon salt
  - 2/3 teaspoon nutmeg
  - 2 envelopes plain gelatin
  - 1/2 cup milk
  - 1 (4 1/2-ounce) can crushed pineapple
  - 3 eggs
  - 2 tablespoons lemon juice
  - 1 teaspoon rum or brandy flavoring
  - 1 cup whipping cream
  - Canned pineapple slices for garnish

Stir together 1-3 cup sugar, salt, nutmeg and gelatin. Add milk, undrained crushed pineapple and beaten egg yolks. Cook over hot water, stirring now and then, until mixture thickens and coats a spoon. Remove from heat and stir in lemon juice and flavoring. Chill until mixture thickens and beat in remaining 1/3 sugar until stiff peaks form. Beat cream until stiff; fold egg whites and cream into pineapple mixture. Turn into 1 1/2-quart mold. Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with slices of pineapple, if desired.

Food Buying Guide

The following guide to the nation's best food buys for the weekend was prepared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Attractively priced and abundant supplies of red meats, colorful fresh fruits, and plenty of vegetables await this week's shopper.

Broiler-fryers, beef roasts, beef steaks, and fresh pork roasts are tops in red meat buys. To round out the protein purchases, eggs, canned pink and chum salmon, fish sticks, and fish portions await the shopper in good supply. Eggs are especially abundant.

Better vegetable buys include cabbage, carrots, lettuce, squash, and sweet potatoes. Celery, green and dry onions, and tomatoes are especially plentiful, says USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service.

Bananas, lemons, and oranges are in good supply this week. Grapefruit and apples, are particularly abundant.

repeat) in this order: lasagne, ricotta, Mazzarella, mushrooms and sauce. Sprinkle top layer with Parmesan cheese. Cover with aluminum foil and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 20 minutes, then remove foil and bake for 10 minutes more (30 minutes in all). Makes 4 to 6 servings.

For a Crowd—This recipe can easily be doubled or tripled.

Sure, Let Them Drink That Milk

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Q—My active 18-year-old son is a big eater. But he also drinks large quantities of milk every day. Shouldn't he cut down on the milk?

A—At the U.S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., most of the midshipmen (about the age of your son) drink three quarts of milk a day—that's approximately twelve 8-ounce glasses. Cmdr. J. P. Tice, Midshipmen's Commissary Officer, reports they get steak twice a week and pot roast once, and hamburgers and beef balls and spaghetti frequently. Besides milk, their favorite foods are steak, French fries, corn, peas, spinach and ice cream. Therefore if your son is very active, it would seem you have no need to worry about his eating habits.

Q—What is the best way to keep fresh milk and cream?

A—Store in refrigerator at about 40 deg. Milk and cream are best stored only 3 to 5 days. Keep covered so they won't absorb odors and flavors of other foods. Rinse bottle or carton under cold, running water, dry and refrigerate as soon as possible after delivery or purchase. If milk is delivered to your house, make arrangements to keep it from standing in a warm place or being exposed to sunlight. Exposure to sun impairs both flavor and riboflavin content of milk.

Tasty Sauces Add Much to Fish Dish

A whole fish, stuffed and baked, is one of the most attractive ways to serve fish. If you want to bake fish satisfactorily, don't bake it too hot an oven, and don't bake it too long. To reduce these hazards use a moderate baking temperature of 375 degree F. to 400 degree F. Cook only until the fish flakes readily and loses its transparency. Brush well with fat, or top with a sauce, before cooking.

However, fish steaks and fillets, are also delicious when baked, particularly when served with an unusual sauce.

MUSHROOM CHEESE SAUCE
3 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
6 oz. can sliced broiled mushrooms

1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1/4 teaspoon Kitchen Bouquet
4 oz. American cheese, cubed

Melt butter in small saucepan. Stir in flour. Add milk and contents of can of mushrooms. Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens and boils. Remove from heat. Stir in mayonnaise, pickle and seasonings. Heat carefully and pour over hot fish. Makes about 1 1/3 cups sauce.

Pour sauce over fish steaks or fillets. Bake in hot oven, 400 degree F., until fish is tender, about 30 minutes. For variation add 5 oz. can shrimp, drained, to sauce before pouring over fish. Makes about 1 1/4 cups sauce.

HOT TARTAR SAUCE
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1-3 cup milk
3 oz. chopped broiled mushrooms
1-3 cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons chopped sweet pickle
1/4 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper

Melt butter in small saucepan. Stir in flour. Add milk and contents of can of mushrooms. Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens and boils. Remove from heat. Stir in mayonnaise, pickle and seasonings. Heat carefully and pour over hot fish. Makes about 1 1/3 cups sauce.

Sporting Sidelines

By JEFF COHANE

THIS DEPARTMENT slightly puzzled by conflicting reports out of Haltom City. According to sports scribes from the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and Press, Haltom City's Barry Williams and Larry Messer are 6'4" and 6'3" respectively. According to an official roster given out by coach Ronnie Stevenson, the pair are 6'5" and 6'4 1/2", respectively. Question is whether the coach downgraded the boys to the newspapers originally, or upped them to worry the Harvesters. Coach Terry Culley of Pampa figures that the best thing to do is to plan playing them as if they were the bigger size and hope that the scribes were right in the first place.

Surprised, but gratified, that the Buffs picked TCU to host the game. Frankly I was sure that they would choose their own gym, which seems like a cross between an old movie theatre and a rebuilt warehouse. It makes Amarillo's "snake pit" look like a coliseum!

Incidentally, everyone keeps talking about the Sandies going to a new fieldhouse next season, but can't find anyone to certify that the ground has even been broken yet. With Amarillo's fantastic winning streak in their private little Break Hole of Cutcutta, they'd be crazy to move!

SOBBIN' JACK YORK, the crying man of Groom, is really putting it to the G! Swami. Although he has been heckled severely by this column, we didn't really think he'd be that dirty, but reports coming out of Groom say that the sobbin' One is not only rounding up a team of former pros to play the Pampa Newsboys next Tuesday night, but that he has bragged that "I guarantee that our referees will be worse than Wheeler!" I think the Newsboys better go armed.

CHARLIE PRICE, former Harvester now at Howard County JC, was in for the weekend following a basketball game against Frank Phillips. The tall former all-district was very pleased with himself and the team, having scored 17 points in his first start recently. HC is one of the leading jaycee cage outfits around and coach Buddy Travers thinks more than somewhat of Charlie. The big blond is hopeful that Ropes Roper and Larry Lewis will join him with the Jayhawks next season, when he figures to be a regular starter. Another of his former teammates, Danny "Rock" Heil is the leading scorer for rival FPJC, and Charlie admits the he pair gave each other a rugged time of it under the boards.

Still another ex-Harvester goes off to college soon, as Gary Sikes, last of the '63 bi-district champs, is to get a scholarship to West Texas State, becoming the first Harvester to go to the Canyon school.

DUNK PORTER, Wheeler's all-state griddy, confirmed the report that he had signed with Oklahoma State. Dunk at first said he didn't really sign. . . . It turned out it was a pre-enrollment application. The Dunker says that he is not definitely committed and might change his mind, but he talks like he has been thoroughly brainwashed Okie-wise.

Speaking of OSU, this scribe and a crew of area coaches, including Lawrence Overcast of Miami, Everett Dollar of Allison and Don Johnson of Briscoe figure to head down to Norman March 8 to see the OU-OSU cage clash and especially the freshman game. Leaping Lonnie Richardson, the former Allison all-state, currently leads the Frosh in scoring and in rebounding, quite a feat for a 6-1 1/2 boy playing alongside 6-6ers.

Celtics Near 7th NBA Crown
 By United Press International
 The count-down in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association has reached six — the magic number that will clinch the Boston Celtics' seventh consecutive division title.

With a 52-12 record and 16 games remaining, the Celtics lead the second-place Cincinnati Royals by 1 1/2 games. Six more victories will give the Celtics 58 for the season — more than the Royals would have if they won all their remaining 17 games.

The Celtics continued their methodical count-down Wednesday night when they defeated the St. Louis Hawks 121-114 and the Royals suffered a 125-114 setback at the hands of the Baltimore Bullets. The Los Angeles Lakers whipped the New York Knicks 118-98 in the other game.

Sam Jones scored 32 points and John Havlicek had 31 to spearhead the Celtics' attack. It was the Celtics' seventh win in eight games with the Hawks this season and gave them a 14-3 two-season edge. Zemo Beatty scored 33 points for the Hawks.

Big Field In AAU Indoor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Six Olympic champions, including 10,000-meter titlist Lt. Billy Mills, head an impressive field taking part in the opening day of the 77th annual National AAU men's and women's indoor championships at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

The track and field competition, marking the first time that the men's and women's indoor championships have been combined into a single meet, will conclude Saturday night.

The other Olympic titlists who will be taking part in the 13 finals scheduled for Friday include Edith McGuire of Tennessee State (200 meters), who will race in the 200-yard run. Mary Rand of Britain (broad jump), Iolanda Balas of Romania (high jump), Tamara Press of the Soviet Union (shot put) and Ralph Boston (broad jump). Boston won his gold medal in the 1960 games at Rome while the others won at Tokyo last year.

However, the meet will lose some of its glamour if Tommy Farrell of St. John's, who set the world indoor half-mile record last week, scratches from the 1,000. He also is listed for the 600 on Saturday night and Redmen Coach Steve Barthold said Wednesday that Farrell "definitely will not double."

Casper Pick in Tucson Open

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — Massive greens are the biggest obstacles facing pro golfers in today's start of the $46,000 Tucson Open which appears tailor-made for putting master Billy Casper.

A total of 144 pros and 10 amateurs tees off in the first round over the 7,200-yard par 72 Tucson National Golf Club course. Tricky winds and undulating, fast greens averaging 11,000 square feet pose the biggest problems over the 72 hole tournament.

"There's going to be a lot of three-putting on those greens," said last week's Phoenix Open winner Rod Funseth of Spokane. "It'll take a super-putter like Casper to win this tournament."

With top 1964 money winners Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus absent, the 33-year-old Casper of San Diego remains among the favorites. He earned nearly $100,000 as the No. 3 money winner on last year's professional golf association tour.

Eighth Grade Results
 Lee and Phillips 8th grade teams took wins in the YCC Junior Tournament yesterday, while St. John's of Berger upset Pampa, 26-25 and Lee B upset St. Vincent's, 21-13.

The Lee Johnny Rebs romped over St. Laurence of Amarillo, 45-16 as Gary Parrish and Jim Hollis canned 16 points each.

The Pampa Reapers went down to a stunning upset as Hal Keyser put them ahead, 25-24 with 15 seconds left, only to have Bill Felker bucket for St. John's with five seconds to go. Frank Chavez hit 19 for the winners. Keyser had 12 for the Reapers.

Lee B held St. Vincent scoreless in the third quarter for the win as Dick Tracy hit 13 markers.

Phillips led all the way in a 26-11 win as Kelley Cooke scored 13 points, Phil Long had 10 for the Reaper B.

Eighth grade and seventh grade winners go into action tomorrow beginning at 4:30 p.m.

Balanced Blue Devils Trample South Carolina

By LEONARD A. GRANTO UPI Sports Writer

Duke has the imponderable factor that every college basketball coach wants for his team — balance.

Balance is the quality that keeps the defense honest, that provides a sparkplug when one is needed, that enables a hot shooter to break loose.

Fifth-ranked Duke tromped South Carolina 87-59 at Columbia, S. C., Wednesday night, paced by sophomore Bob Verga and junior Steve Vacendak. Verga exceeded his 20.8 points-per-game average with a 27-point performance from his guard position while Vacendak scored 19, his season's high.

Jack Marin usually paces the Blue Devils, but he had a cool night and scored only 15. Balance provided the manpower to pick up the slack.

Notre Dame's 6-foot, 8-inch center, Walt Sahn, was too much for a short but game Bowling Green squad at Bowling Green, Ohio, and the Irish romped to an 88-72 victory.

The game was close until there were less than five minutes left in the first half. Notre Dame scored 16 straight points to take a 20-point lead at intermission and the regulars sat out most of the second half.

Sahn scored 24 points and contributed mightily to the 56 rebounds the Irish captured.

Army dropped Massachusetts 82-67 at West Point in a game that was close in the first half. The Redmen, paced by Clarence Hill's 25 points, closed the gap from 13 to four just before the half and trailed by only seven at intermission, 36-29. Mike Silliman topped the Cadet scorers with 18 points.

St. Louis wrested second place in the Missouri Valley Conference from Louisville at Louisville with a 70-63 conquest of the Cardinals, who made only 28 per cent of their floor shots.

Louisville's Joe Leitke was ejected after intentionally fouling Rick Rineberg, who was in the process of driving for a layup with three minutes left. Gary Garrison of the Billikens threw a punch at Leitke and drew a technical foul for his trouble, but only Leitke was ejected.

Seattle U Players In Point Shaving

SEATTLE (UPI) — Two Seattle University basketball players, one a star guard and the son of a minister, were under arrest today on charges of agreeing to accept bribes to shave the point spread of a game.

The FBI Wednesday night charged Charlie Williams, 21, of Tacoma, Wash., Seattle's captain and chief engineer of its fast-break offense, and utility guard Peller Phillips, 21, of Detroit, with conspiring with a Chicago cafe owner to control the point spread in Seattle's Jan. 22 game with the University of Idaho.

The incident was the third major bribery - game fixing scandal to hit collegiate basketball in 14 years.

J.E. Milnes, the FBI's special agent in charge here, said Williams and Phillips conspired with Leo Casale, 24, owner of the Action-Go-Go lounge in Chicago, to trim the spread in the game Seattle won from Idaho, 89-72. Casale was arrested at his motel apartment in Chicago Wednesday night.

Before Williams and Phillips were taken into custody, they were expelled from the university and their loss crushed Seattle's hopes of winning a post-season tournament berth.

The FBI complaint said bribery was involved in the conspiracy but it did not indicate the amount or if it actually were paid.

There was no immediate indication if the case was an isolated one or if the scandal might mushroom to other campuses like the New York-centered gambler corruption of collegiate basketball in 1951 and 1961.

In 1951, the sport was rocked by a scandal which brought to light a total of 86 fixed games in New York's Madison Square Garden and arenas in 22 other cities. Eighteen players and 13 fixers were convicted.

The big names involved in the 1951 game-fixing included the nation's leading scorer, Sherman White of Long Island University, and University of Kentucky stars Ralph Beard and Alex Groza.

I-3A Playoff Here Friday

Perryton and Tulia will play in the first round of the District 1-AAA basketball playoffs at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Pampa at Harvester Fieldhouse.

Dumas, which drew the bye, will play the winner at 7:30 p.m. Saturday for the district title and the right to advance into the state playoffs.

If Perryton wins Friday's battle, the game will be held in Pampa. The West Texas State Field House in Canyon will be the site of the district championship game Saturday if Tulia advances into the finals.

Perryton, Tulia and Dumas tied for first place with 7-3 records in district competition.

Officials of the three schools met yesterday in Pampa.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Curb Individual Rights

In the realm of conflicting ideologies, there is often a belief expressed that social doctrine of any kind is superior to individualism. From the first moment a baby comes into the world until the last moment an adult lives, the individual will be related in some way to others of his kind. And the theory grows that individualism is somehow hostile to this fact.

The infant, the child, the teenager, the adult, all are conditioned to some degree to live together. Obviously, some degree of conformity to group mores is essential.

Indeed, a great deal of stress is placed upon the necessity of the individual to "fit in" to group pattern; to submerge his personality; to recognize the wants or needs of others; to control his rather boundless ego — in a word, to socialize.

The problem is to detect the natural laws which govern the affairs of men. If a man organizes his various efforts in conformity with natural law, there can be little likelihood that he will go far astray.

Of importance in the past, individualists have held to the central theme that the hallmark of their belief lay somehow in their unwillingness to cooperate with anyone for any reason. Let a person become totally non-cooperative, self-centered, dogmatic, and we are prone to say of that person that he is a real "rugged" individualist. In point of fact, he might be little more than stubborn, and narrow.

What should be emphasized is that a society of true individualists will be a society organized around the theme of voluntary cooperation. It will not consist of isolated human beings, on guard lest by some word or deed they betray a lack of individualism. Rather, it will consist of very warm and human people who recognized that their own chances of happiness and well-being relate specifically to their ability to mind their own business and to assist their fellow man on a voluntary, cooperative level.

Spending Money at Home

Whenever anybody voices disapproval of the government's "pork barrel" projects somebody invariably says, "but the government's sending all that foreign-aid money overseas where it does us no bit of good. Why shouldn't it spend some at home where we can benefit from it?"

Now this is a good question, and we believe we have the answer. Why should the government send "all that money overseas"? It shouldn't. Why should not the money be spent at home? It should, but not by the government.

Spending money anywhere should be done by the people who earned it. If you want to go to Europe to spend your dough, go ahead, you will hear

Sentiments on Relief

As a constant taxpayer, we wish Mrs. Beula Ward of Phoenix, Ariz., were getting some of what we pay in relief checks. But Mrs. Ward won't have it that way.

Each working day, she helps her invalid husband into a wheel chair and pushes him to the place where she works as a cleaning woman. She brings him home at night the same way. The round trip is 16 miles. She would rather do this, she says, than accept welfare.

Yet, when the voters have tolerated being taxed for welfare, it is in the very name of people like the Wards who are having good for himself. For the individualist to walk rough-shod over any other person who stands in his way, is for the individualist to betray the true doctrine of individualism.

Were the individual true to the concepts of individualism, he would have to recognize the concept that every individual is of as large a value to himself, as the individualist is to himself. And for the individualist to remain true to this belief, he cannot infringe the right of any person, lest by so doing he is self-defeated.

The socialist does not recognize a doctrine of individual human rights. He cannot, to the mind of the socialist, a "right" is merely what a given government or group in power says it is at a given moment. Good is seen only in relation to groups. And it is implicit in all socialist doctrine that the values of the group are so important that whatever value an individual might have which is non-conforming must be made to conform. Thus, individual values must forever be sacrificed on the altar of socialist expediency.

To prepare for a society of individualism, while social cooperation is mandatory the only compulsion that can be admitted is the kind of compulsion each individual will inflict upon himself. Each person must be free to search out and obtain his own highest values, without infringement of the value of any other.

The great human paradox is found here. We are individuals. We are born that way. But we cannot long survive if we do not. How can we retain our separate and distinct set of values and, at the same time, work with others, voluntarily, who have values other than our own?

"I quit school when I was sixteen," is the simple and sole message on a sign currently posted in subway cars in New York City.

This soft sell with the obvious grammatical error is intended to impress youngsters with the folly of dropping out of school. Unfortunately, slogans some times have a way of backfiring. One cynical letterwriter to the newspaper pointed out that if only illustrated the sad state of education.

"If, after 10 years of schooling," he asked, "a boy or girl hasn't learned the difference between 'was' and 'were,' how can you justify any additional investment in his or her education?"

no objection from us. If you want to build dams and create power which you hope to sell for profit, that's your business. If you give your money away, or pour it down a rat-hole, that is still your business. But when the government robs you and us and pours our money down rat-holes, as it does daily, then we holler, we raise objections, we protest and finally, of course, we pay — but never cheerfully. We pay only because the government has the power, though not the "right," to rob us, or do us in if we refuse to be robbed.

Yes, we favor spending money at home, or anywhere else, so long as it is spent by the one who earned it, or by whoever he gives it to voluntarily.

One example of reckless driving is a girl trying to hammer in a nail.

The Secretary of Labor has conceded that there are whole families for whom relief has become a way of life, into the third successive generation. We have been told to the point of boredom of the countless women who augment their relief income by producing illegitimate children.

Investigations by the Government have shown huge percentages of persons are on the relief rolls who have no legal claim to be there.

But not the Wards. God bless them.

Around the World

By ROBERT MORRIS

Laos Coalition Government
The declining fortunes of General Phoumi Nosavan, the pro-Western anchor of the make-shift government of Laos, once again testify to the futility of that hydra-headed political monster the coalition government. As I write this, General Nosavan is being hunted down in the deep recesses of his country.

Laos came into being in 1954 after the French disaster in Indo China. It entered the UN in 1955. At the outset, its government was strongly pro-Western, and under John Foster Dulles' foreign policy, received from us substantial economic and military aid. General Nosavan was Defense Minister, and the dominant force in the government.

But, as Soviet influence in the country grew through infiltration, subversion and guerrilla warfare, the dread Pathet Lao gained political power. By 1961 the State Department had changed its policy from support of a Western-oriented Government to an effort to create a coalition with the Communists having real power in the ensemble. This, of course, had led to disaster in Poland, Yugoslavia and in China, but the timid men of the State Department pressed on.

The loyal Laotians, under Nosavan, balked. The coalition was heavily weighted in favor of the Communists. The Western anchor had little more than a quarter of the seats in the Cabinet. The Communists and the left-leaning "neutralists" dominated. When the Loyalists refused to submit, the State Department cut off economic assistance and military aid until they did.

General Nosavan contended that the proposed agreement would result in the United States and its supporters in Laos giving up military and political activity while the Communists would move on in their conquests as if no agreement existed.

This fear has been amply borne out. The Pathet Lao has continued its aggressions, and the Loyalist Laotians have been completely outmaneuvered and disarmed. In desperation, they tried a coup. Now they are being hunted down. By their defense of their country, they have become the outcast "rightists" and the United States and its information outlets have transferred the "Loyalist" label to Souphanouvanna, leader of the left-leaning neutralists.

Meantime, the country is being used as a Communist corridor to Viet Nam, and powerful forces call for "neutralization" in South Viet Nam. They do not even advert to what has happened in Laos. We are told, over and over again, that the Communists are mellowing and that they are being weakened by the vast cleavage between the Russians and the Chinese.

The same newspapers which tell us of the disasters in Laos tell us grimly that the Pathet Lao and the Viet Cong are moving remorselessly ahead. They tell us, too, that Kossygin is promising missiles to Hanoi. And lest this awaken us from our complacency, we are assured that there are advantages to this: it is sharpening the rivalry in Asia between Russia and China.

But I read on. The Soviet Union is promising more help to the Viet Cong and Peking, digesting its gains, is calling for the "overthrow of the fascist, dictatorial government" of Thailand, obviously the next target.

The script is the same that I have read a score of times before. The Communist actors' mouth the same lines. But then, so do the men in the State Department.

of hundreds of cases each day. The Secretary of Labor has conceded that there are whole families for whom relief has become a way of life, into the third successive generation. We have been told to the point of boredom of the countless women who augment their relief income by producing illegitimate children.

Investigations by the Government have shown huge percentages of persons are on the relief rolls who have no legal claim to be there.

CALLUSED HEART

Editor:
In its youth the United States was spiritually and physically beautiful. In its government and in the soul of its citizenry there was a sweet simplicity.

The nation had some of the awkwardness of a teenage adolescent. It was in no sense a sophisticated nation. There was something of the raw country backwoodsman in its speech and manner, yet wisdom gleamed through like the sheen from a fresh-whetted ax. The young nation's hands were rough and callused. She held her place among the sophisticated nations of the world with arms that were like steel tendons, backed by a heart that knew no fear.

The callused hands were a symbol of an inner strength, for they implored the heavens while the knees became callused from kneeling before the God of heaven. The nation became a mighty warrior and protector of righteous causes among the world of nations, until at last no nation on earth could match her beauty and strength.

With the growth came great knowledge which, mixed with the magic ingredient of freedom, lifted the nation's material abundance above anything ever known on earth. With the abundance, pride and selfishness soon arrived. Next in the destroying army came complacency, soon followed by its big brother apathy, who in turn was followed by first cousin, dependency, who had a large family of little tykes named Gimmie.

The nation's citizenry became intellectual with a blase sophistication. The citizenry talked glibly of income per capita and of everyone's right to a high living standard without mention of whether the individual was industrious or slothful.

The hands became soft without calluses and the knees were unbending standing in pride among materialism. Yesterday, today, and tomorrow the blood of our nation's youth will pour out in the jungles of Viet Nam and other remote spots around the world, but our blase sophisticated citizenry will shed no tears.

The new United States citizen will rest his soft pudgy hands on his pot belly while sitting in his stuffed TV chair watching an intellectual snob cajole him with puny little facts and figures depicting the nation's high standard of living.

Not wishing to sell the new-type citizen short, I would be the first to admit that he still has the calluses like citizens of old, but the calluses are now in new places. The calluses formerly on the knees have moved up to his fat posterior. The soft hands have donated their calluses to the heart, and locked all the tears within, so the nation's citizenry can no longer weep for its fallen warriors in places like Viet Nam.

A nation that replaces the spiritual with materialism and cannot cry... is already dead, it only awaits burial and the communists have promised to take care of that.

Pull Up A Chair

By Frank J. Markey

Telephone numbers, which have led to such frustrations as area codes and digit dialing, were born just 85 years ago with a New England physician as obstetrician. During an epidemic at Lowell, Mass., Dr. Moses Greeley Parker realized that if the city's four operators succumbed, telephone communications would cease. He proposed using numbers instead of the names to identify the 200 subscribers so that substitutes might quickly learn to operate the exchange if necessary. His idea was adopted and those 200 numbers now number 81 million growing daily. There's also a little known postscript: Dr. Parker invested about $300 in Dr. Bell's telephone and died years later leaving many millions.

Today's smile: A motorcycle officer waved a speeding car to the side of the highway and said to the sweet young thing driving it: "I clocked you at 70 miles an hour." "Oh," she exclaimed to her chum, "isn't that wonderful! I only learned to drive yesterday."

Superstitious persons are particular as to when they cut their nails. In fact there's an ancient rhyme that goes something like this: "Cut them on Monday, you cut them for wealth; cut them on Tuesday, you cut them for health; cut them on Wednesday will bring you good news; cut them on Thursday, a new pair of shoes; cut them on Friday will only bring sorrow; cut them on Saturday, see your true love tomorrow; cut them on Sunday, your safety seek. The devil will have you the rest of the week." Maybe it's better just to file them.

Question Box

QUESTION: "Why were the McGuffey Readers discontinued for use in tax-supported schools? With patriotism, Christian principles and teaching of great poems and such, these fine readers far excel anything the elementary school has to offer today."

ANSWER: It is impossible to determine why anyone takes a specific course of action. One can only guess at what is behind the thinking of the educators.

However, the removal of books which taught individual responsibility, patriotism, and principles appears to be associated with the national trend away from self-control and self-responsibility. Many persons associate this with the spread of Fabian (gradual) socialism. However, it should be pointed out that government schools are socialist schools, if socialism is government ownership and control of the means of production.

The early tax-supported schools were financed and controlled largely by local people. But when they expanded school systems to include state support, they brought in state control. Now the move is toward increasing federal financing, which must include federal control.

If the state and federal agencies are going to control the schools, they need to eliminate anything which helps individuals to think for themselves and to be self-reliant and responsible for their own welfare. If young people truly believe in self-responsibility, they obviously will realize eventually that their education is their own affair and not that of some governmental agency.

Until parents regain control of their schools, by removing them from state compulsion, the trend will continue.

The whole trend in schools cannot be recited in the limited space here. For further study, we recommend a reading of such materials as "Schools — Government or Public?" by the Rev. T. Robert Ingram; "The School Question from a Parental, Non-Sectarian Stand" by Zach Montgomery; "Our Japanese Educational System," from "The God of the Machine," by Isabel Paterson; "Keynes at Harvard" and "The Great Deceit" by the Veritas Foundation; "Suffer Little Children" by Max Rafferty; and "Progressive Education is REducation," by Kitty Jones and Robert Olivier.
