King-Led Negroes March on Courthouse

300 Join In Drive To Selma

SELMA, (UPI) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. today led 300 Negroes to the county courthouse, kicking off a massive integration drive in this tightly segregated city.

King and his followers, bundled up in heavy clothing, strode out of a church after a pep talk from the integration leader.

"We know we do not march alone. God is with us," King told the cheering congregation. He urged his followers to rigidly adhere to non-violence.

"We are tired of being at the bottom of the economic ladder and smothering in an airtight case of poverty," said King, who won the Nobel peace prize in November. The Selma drive is King's first all-out integration drive since he won the prize.

Shortly after King emerged from the church, Selma's public safety director, Wilson Baker, stopped him on the sidewalk and told King the Negroes could march if they confined themselves to groups of five or six persons at a time—and not in a solid line.

The Negroes converged on the courthouse to register to vote.

Aside from the Negroes walking to the courthouse, the city appeared to be taking the event calmly. There were few police in the vicinity, a marked contrast to previous Negro demonstrations in the city.

In his pep talk King told the Negroes: "let us be sure our hearts are right," he said. "Let us be willing to accept blows because it is better to be scarred in our bodies than in our souls."

"Let us say to Selma and Dallas County that we are through with segregation now," King said.

Prior to King's arrival earlier today, Baker had warned he would brook no violation of law and order in the city. His words were also aimed at two white extremist groups in the city who threatened to harass the Negro drive.

"I hope you understand we are simply trying to enforce the law," King said.

Mothers' March On City Tonight

Tonight is the night when Pampa's Marching Mothers make their annual house-to-house canvass in support of the March of Dimes fight against birth defects.

Pampa's residents are asked to turn on their porchlights between 6 and 8 p.m. and when a Marching Mother calls on them, to give generously.

Mrs. R. A. Mack, Mothers' March chairman, said that the visit of the Marching Mother seeking contributions to the March of Dimes has become a January tradition in our community.

Her appeal on behalf of the crippled polio victim and our response produced one of the greatest medical victories in history: the development of the vaccines which eliminated infantile paralysis as a threat to our children.

New the Marching Mother comes again, this time seeking our help in finding the answer to a tragic question: The question is "Why?" and it is one that millions of American women

Churchill Clings to Life

LONDON (UPI) — Sir Winston Churchill slipped peacefully near death today. His valiant heart faltered but his will to live persevered.

The pressures of a stroke, weakening circulation and old age sapped the 90-year-old Churchill's dwindling strength as he lay in a deep coma.

The hopes and prayers of millions around the world that he would rally dimmed with each medical report. Only the great warrior statesman's subconscious fight for life seemed to be delaying the inevitable.

Churchill's loved ones — his wife Clementine and their children—remained close to the family home at No. 28 Hyde Park Gate where he was under constant vigil.

The wartime prime minister was stricken Friday with a cerebral thrombosis.

A medical bulletin issued by Lord Moran, Churchill's physician and longtime friend, Sunday night said:

"After a restless start, Sir Winston has had a peaceful day. But he has lost ground."

An earlier report noted "some irregularity of the pulse."

Pressed by newsmen to expand on the bulletin, Lord Moran said simply: "it is not good. There it is."

Medical sources said the bulletins were indicative of a progressive inexorable decline.

A member of the Churchill household said there was "virtually no hope."

Sarah Churchill, one of two daughters, said her father was "sleeping peacefully" when she left the house shortly before midnight.

As dawn broke a small group of Londoners maintained a silent watch outside, waiting for news from behind the big black double doors at the end of the rain-soaked dead-end street.

Queen Elizabeth II led the nation in Sunday prayers for Churchill's recovery. The queen attended morning services near the royal estate at Sandringham and heard the Rev. Eric Turnbull speak of "the deep sorrow of the nation at the illness of one of its greatest men."

Similar prayers were offered in hundreds of churches throughout England — from Westminster Abbey to the parish at Westerham where Churchill worships when he visits his country home near Chartwell.

Investigators Start Tedious Job of Re-Assembling Tanker

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI) — Air Force accident investigators today began re-assembling, piece-by-piece, a KC135 jet tanker which crashed into a quiet neighborhood and killed 29 persons.

Victims of Saturday's crash included 7 crewmen and 22 civilians, one of them a woman carrying an unborn child.

Civilian aircraft industry specialists in all major systems of the Boeing Stratotanker joined the Air Force investigators in an effort to find out why the plane crashed.

Air Force Secretary Eugene M. Zucker ordered the investigation and the blue-ribbon crew went to work within hours of the crash.

Every piece of wreckage that searchers found was taken to a hangar at McConnell Air Base where the experts will try to re-assemble at least a reasonable facsimile of the plane.

Gen. David Wade, commander of the 2nd Air Force, was named director of the investigation. The board elected Brig. Gen. Murray A. Bywater, commander of the 825th Strategic Aerospace Division at Little Rock Air Force Base, as its president.

"Our job will be to re-create the sequence of events leading up to the moment of impact and to examine every piece of wreckage that might have contributed to the accident's cause," Bywater said.

Bywater said Sunday the crew might have realized it was going to crash seconds before the impact. Wade said it was possible to speculate on the cause of the crash but "the investigation is still not far enough along to do more than that."

Bywater said it would take up to three weeks to re-construct the aircraft.

First phases of the investigation indicated there was no fire or explosion in the aircraft prior to the crash.

House Demos Meet to Approve Committees

WASHINGTON (UPI)—House Democrats meet today to approve a slate of committee assignments that will underline their better than two-to-one control over the chamber.

The meeting of the 294 Democratic representatives is expected to ratify without challenge the assignments made last week by the committee on committees.

The assignments will place 71 new Democratic members on standing committees and make numerous changes in assignments requested by returning members.

Republicans, with a total of 141 committee spots to fill, have not yet decided on assignments. Their committee on committees hoped to finish the job today and submit their recommendations to the GOP membership for approval later this week.

A two-to-one ratio of Democrats over Republicans will be established on each of the 20 House committees, including the powerful Ways & Means and Appropriations panels, which until now has been unchanged for years.

Other congressional news:

Pollution: Calif. Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown was to testify during the opening day of hearings before the Senate Public Works Committee on a proposal to improve federal efforts to halt water pollution. The bill calls for $80 million in grants for research over the next four years.

Aid: The newly-elected Senate Democratic whip and House GOP leader indicated over the weekend they are both against U.S. foreign aid to Indonesia and the United Arab Republic. Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., and Rep. Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich., appeared together on a televised interview. They both commented on the controversy over aid to the two countries, where anti-American incidents have occurred recently.

Kremlin Leaders Eastern Allies Arrive for Parley

WARSAW (UPI) — The new masters of the Kremlin and their East European allies were arriving here today for a summit meeting which might produce major developments in East-West relations.

Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin and Communist First Secretary Leonid Brezhnev, accompanied by Defense Minister Rodion Malinovsky and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, were due here from Moscow after a two-day journey which was shrouded in secrecy.

Gheorghiu-Dej, Romanian party chief, heading a similarly high-powered delegation, also was due here after a two-day trip from Bucharest. Diplomats said the length of the journeys indicated the Soviet leaders may have met Gheorghiu-Dej and Polish Communist leader Wladyslaw Gomułka secretly before coming here.

Purchases Off As Poll Tax Deadline Nears

As the deadline for purchasing poll tax remains less than two weeks away, the county tax assessor-collector's office said this morning that only 400-500 have been purchased and only about 300 exemptions secured. The deadline for buying poll tax or securing exemptions is Jan. 31.

Only two elections, both local, are scheduled during 1965. The City Commission and School Board elections. There are no state or national elections set. However, a poll tax is not required to vote in a national election.

Jack Back, tax assessor, said there is always a possibility that special elections might be called on the local or state level.

During 1964, there were over 11,000 poll tax and exemptions issued.

In the last off-election year, 1963, there were 8,300 poll tax purchased in Gray County.

Back said that he expects the majority of poll tax buyers in the county to purchase them between now and Jan. 31.

He also reminded persons over 60-years-of-age that if they live inside the city limits they must secure an exemption. If they do not live inside the city, Back said, an exemption is not necessary.

The tax assessor also said that anyone who has reached their 21 birthday by Jan. 31 will receive their poll tax free. However, an exemption must be secured.

Poll tax may be purchased at numerous sub-stations over the county or anytime between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. five days a week in the tax office. Poll tax are $1.75 per person.

Warm Weather to Stay for Awhile

Pampa enjoyed warm and balmy weather over the weekend as thermometers recorded one of the highest readings this month on Sunday.

The temperature rose to 62 degrees in the afternoon and weathermen predict more of the same for at least the next couple of days.

Pampa's overnight low was 29 degrees and the temperature at dawn was 28 degrees.

The forecast for Pampa and vicinity called for warm temperatures today and tomorrow accompanied by clear skies. The high tomorrow was forecast at 65 degrees.

LOSING VOTES? — Gray County residents will be losing their right to vote on issues in an off-election year if current poll tax receipts are an indication of voters. Less than 500 residents have paid their tax and the deadline is 12 days away. Jack Back, county tax assessor, today urged voters to follow the example of L. B. Haggard, 321 N. Nelson, left, shown paying Mrs. Margie Gray, deputy tax assessor, his poll tax for the coming year.

Three Day Pre-Inaugural Bash Underway Today

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Democratic politicians from every state of the Union poured into the capital today to celebrate their election victory with a three-day bash culminating Wednesday in the inauguration of President Johnson.

For their entertainment, officials planned the most lavish and expensive inaugural festivities in history, beginning with a reception for distinguished ladies at the National Gallery of Art this afternoon.

Tonight, party leaders and big contributors will be guests of the Democratic National Committee at a gala in the National Guard Armory, featuring $1 million worth of free entertainment talent from Broadway, Hollywood and the television studios.

Tuesday there will be a reception for the governors of all states, a party in honor of Vice President-elect Hubert H. Humphrey, a dance for Young Democrats, and an inaugural concert in Constitution Hall.

— 500,000 Expected
The official swearing-in ceremony—which is the excuse for all the other hoopla—takes place outdoors at the Capitol at 10:30 a.m., CST Wednesday. It will be followed by the usual parade down Pennsylvania Avenue to the White House. Upwards of 500,000 people are expected to watch the parade in person, and millions more will see it over television.

Total tab for the three-day blowout will come to about $2.1 million, an all-time record and some $500,000 more than the cost of John F. Kennedy's inauguration four years ago. Not included in the total are the millions of dollars that will be spent by out-of-town visitors on transportation, hotels, new dresses, hairdos, cocktail parties and tickets to inaugural functions (tickets to the inaugural ball Wednesday night, for example, cost $50 a couple).

Although politicians predominated in the celebrating crowds filling downtown hotels to the brim, other Americans also were arriving by special trains, planes and chartered buses to participate in the quadrennial rites attendant upon the installation of a chief executive.

Among them were a load of visiting firemen from Chicago, who will march in Wednesday's parade; a troop of Indian scouts from the Wind River country of Wyoming, who brought their own trail dogs; and a delegation of Eskimos from Alaska, who received a form letter advising them to wear warm clothing.

The weather bureau threw a scare into officials by hinting at a possible repeat of the snowstorm which hit the capital on the eve of inauguration day four years ago. Snow fell during the weekend, and more was forecast for today. And even if it doesn't snow, the weather man said, it is likely to be quite cold. Sunday night, the temperature dropped to zero in the suburbs.

'Swingheart' Hair Fashions Will Be Worn by Milady This Spring

UPSWING COIFFURE — Gently bias in design, this new upswing coiffure reflects the mood of some of the most important couture collections for spring and summer. Designed by the official hair fashion committee of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, this little head features a hair that is shorter, lighter, brighter and younger for 1965. The upswing of waves and curls at the back is particularly welcome when there is a need to enhance a short stature.

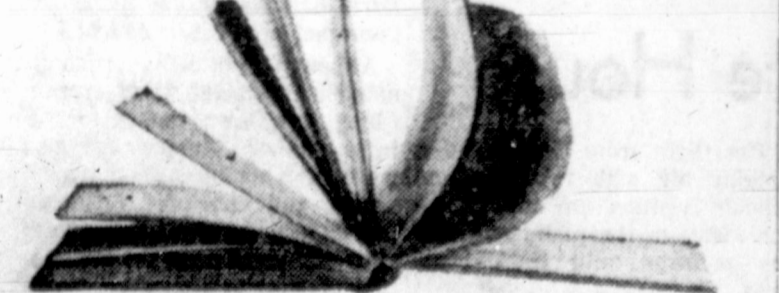

American women will swing and lighthearted hair styles that into spring with a "Swingheart" really swing when you move hair fashion, according to the official hair fashion committee of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association.

Yes, the word is "Swingheart," a descriptive term the hair fashion authorities of the beauty profession are using for their new spring and summer collection of gloriously carefree

The new "Swingheart" hair fashions will be shown throughout the nation in observance of the 11th anniversary of National Beauty Salon Week, Feb. 14-20, which is dedicated to more beautiful women.

Women will be glad to hear that the new styles really make good sense. Aside from being wonderfully feminine, they are refreshingly easy to wear, holding their lovely form under a gentle caress, as easily as in a soft breeze.

For daytime, the new collection features soft curves on smooth and airy coiffures of simplicity and casualness. Evening calls for more dramatic exaggeration with more voluptuous combing into waves and

WS Guild Begins Course of Study

Wesleyan Service Guild of First Methodist Church met Monday evening at 7:30 in the church parlor.

The business meeting was presided over by Mrs. Irl M. Smith, president. Plans were made for the next meeting to be held tonight in the home of Mrs. Libby Snotwell, 1312 Duncan.

Frankie White brought the moments of meditation. A new course of study on "The Church's Mission Among New Nations" was presented by Alma Wilson, who emphasized the fact that the road to freedom is by the cross. Question for study and consideration during the next few meetings is, "How can the missions be effective in the new African nations."

"Prayer by a Chief," was read by Ila Pool. Refreshments were served to 13 members by the hostess, Mrs. Smith.

Housewives Advised Not to Mix Cleaners

CHICAGO (UPI) — The American Medical Association (AMA) cautions housewives on mixing household cleaners.

The AMA cited the case of a Boston woman who cleaned her kitchen floor with a mixture of household cleaners, commercial bleach and vinegar. Shortly afterwards, the entire family became ill with nausea, headaches and dizziness.

The AMA said that in mixing the bleaches and the vinegar, the "home chemist" inadvertently released some chlorine gas in her small, tightly closed kitchen.

"The danger of mixing household cleaners is not a major health problem but is serious enough to warrant attention," the AMA said.

"Be very cautious about mixing two or more powerful cleaners, such as are used for ovens and toilet bowls; mixing them with each other or with household ammonia or vinegar," the AMA said.

2 THE PAMPA DAILY NEWS MONDAY, JANUARY 18, 1965 37TH YEAR

Dear Abby....
This Sailor Not About To Start Another Hitch

DEAR ABBY: When I started going with Earl ten years ago, he promised me that after he finished his 20 years in the Navy we would get married. Well, he's been out three years now, and he never says anything about marriage any more. He even placed his hand on the Holy Bible once and swore he'd buy me a ring, so when I asked him why he didn't, he said I talked too much. After ten years of going around together he decides I talked too much!

I found a book of matches in his pocket on which was written in his own hand, "Is there any way I can see you tonight?" I am sure he wasn't writing that kind of message to another man. I am 49. Do you think it takes a 41-year-old man ten years to make up his mind?

DEAR GLADYS: No, I think Earl finished one 26-year hitch and he's not about to go for a lifetime hitch just yet. The handwriting on the book of matches is clear enough. Don't wait for him to draw you any pictures.

DEAR ABBY: Why do you claim that you answer people's problems when you don't? This is the fourth letter I've written to you and it will be the last if you don't answer. Do you just throw a letter away if you can't think up a smart answer for it? My problems are a lot more serious than some of the stupid ones I have seen in your column. Does a person have to pay to get his letter in the paper? If you don't answer this one, I am going to quit taking the paper.

LONG-TIME SUBSCRIBER
DEAR SUBSCRIBER: Does your newspaper run a "tag" after each of my columns stating that I will answer all letters which include a self-addressed stamped envelope? If it doesn't, it should. All these letters are answered, but due to the space limited to me, only a few letters can be answered daily in my column. Sorry.

DEAR ABBY: My mother, dad, husband and I had a big argument and we want you to settle it for us. Every time we go out for dinner, my husband orders steak. He is left-handed and can't cut it properly, so he gives his plate to me and I cut it for him. My parents say that this is not proper, but my husband and I don't see anything wrong with it. What is your opinion?

LEFTY'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: Why your left-handed husband has trouble cutting steak is beyond me. But if he wants you to cut it and you are willing, it should be nobody else's business.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MOTHER OF SEVEN IN COLUMBUS: Television will never replace reading. Limit those children of yours to so many programs a day, or when opportunity knocks later in life they won't be able to hear it for the television's blaring.

Bone-Rattling Cold Grips Southern U.S.

By United Press International
Record-breaking, bone-chilling cold gripped the heart of Dixie today while a new storm spread fresh snow through the Northeast.

Californians were enjoying June in January. Hundreds of thousands of persons streamed to the beaches in mid-80 degree weather.

The blast of polar air sent the temperature falling to 39 degrees today at Miami, Fla., setting an all-time low. Tallahassee was shivering in 19-degree temperatures before midnight and Tampa was below freezing.

The weather bureau said it was receiving reports of heavy frost from the Tampa Bay area.

Up North, new snow swept across the eastern Great Lakes states and into the northern and central Appalachians. Amounts were expected to be considerably lighter than the weekend blizzards which tied up traffic and marooned countless persons across the Northeast.

New York City threw 3,500 sanitation workers into the battle against the weekend storm which deposited 5 inches of snow in the city. The temperature got no higher than 16 above Sunday and many New Yorkers took advantage of the winter weather to go ice skating.

Up to a foot of snow was on the ground in parts of Massachusetts, Rhode Island, eastern Virginia and northern North Carolina. The storm stranded 700 motorists at the intersection of Interstate 74 and 465 near Indianapolis, Ind., where high winds swept snow into six-foot drifts.

The four-inch snowfall in Cleveland, Ohio, cost Lloyd's of London a cool $6,000. The National Swimming Pool Institute opened its convention in Cleveland and had an agreement with the London insurance firm that if more than two inches of snow fell Lloyd's would pay $6,000.

Bitter cold accompanied the weekend storm, and the weather bureau said a new blast of arctic air won't make much difference. The mercury sank to 8 degrees below zero at Pittsburgh, Pa., Sunday, setting a record for the date. Emporium, Pa., reported 24 below and Massena, N.Y., had sub-zero temperatures—more than 80 hours.

In southern California, Sunday was a great day for clam diggers and surfers. Today promised to be even better.

The high at Los Angeles Sunday was 85 degrees, and thousands of swimmers headed for the beaches along the coast from Santa Maria to San Diego. Santa Monica lifeguards estimated at least 80,000 persons were on the beaches there.

The lowest tide in two years attracted more than 100,000 clam diggers to Pismo and Oceana beaches. At least 15,000 autos were parked on Pismo Beach itself.

Burglar Loots Used Car Lot

An electric drill, buffer, battery charger and air sander were reported stolen from Joe Taylor Used Car Lot and garage, 1505 Ripley.

The thief entered the building during the weekend by breaking through the front door.

Deputy Sheriff D. L. Day said the burglar apparently left through a back door and loaded the items in a car and drove off.

No estimate of the value of the stolen items was made.

Perryton Chamber Banquet Tuesday

E. O. (Red) Wedgeworth, Pampa Chamber of Commerce manager, will serve as the installing officer for the Perryton Chamber of Commerce tomorrow night.

Wedgeworth will officially install new officers and directors at the Chamber's installation banquet set for 7 p.m. in the Perryton Hotel.

George Lincoln Rockwell of the American Nazi party, said from his hotel room he had been asked to come to "Seima's aid" by the American State Rights Party (ASRP). He said he would run Mr. Coon (King) out of town.

Rockwell and his followers planned to show up in black-face costumes and harass the Negro groups.

Still another group, the National States Rights party led by Atlanta attorney J.B. Stoner, Kenneth Adams of Anniston and the Rev. Connie Lynch, planned to be on hand for the drive.

Stoner accused Rockwell of openly working with the FBI and trying to fool the white people of Selma. Stoner and Lynch were key organizers in segregationist protests in St. Augustine, Fla., last summer.

Rogers then read the article on the floor of the house and it was officially placed in the Congressional Record.

Rogers forwarded a copy of the Congressional Record to Mrs. Ormson this morning along with a letter which stated:

"It was my privilege to be able to commemorate the birthday of our friend 'Uncle Billy' Frost by placing in the Congressional Record of Jan. 17 your most excellent article about him."

Tiger of the Year

It had been asked about a charge that he spent too much time on "just innovations" like total job security and supplemental employment benefits and not enough on wage increases.

McDonald said Abel had been his personal choice as secretary-treasurer.

"I was somewhat disappointed in him," McDonald said. "But he took good care of the books."

McDonald said he did not think Abel had the qualities to be a good USW president.

"I had hoped he would be what I was to Phil Murray—my good right arm. But he wasn't. He has not demonstrated good negotiating ability," McDonald said.

"He was little or no help to me. He made no contributions to the Human Relations Committee meetings down through the years since 1960. He just didn't want to do it. He would rather take it easy than do hard, slugging work."

McDonald made it clear that he did not want to call a strike to back up contract demands but added he was not afraid of a strike. He said he had never called a strike during his 12 years as union president.

"The 116 day strike in 1969 was forced upon us by the industry against our will," he said. "So was the six week strike in 1956."

Soviets Warn U.S. They are Ready to Fight Over Viet

MOSCOW (UPI) — Russia has warned the United States about its willingness to go to the aid of North Viet Nam in the event of widespread hostilities in Indo-China.

The Communist organ Pravda declared over the weekend that U.S. and South Vietnamese provocations against the Hanoi regime threaten the outbreak of a big military conflict.

Soviet press reports said three U.S. jet planes strafed North Vietnamese territory and that American forces had given cover to a South Vietnamese raid against the North.

Investigation Asked Of Burned Churches

JONESBORO, La. (UPI) — The southern director of the Congress of Racial Equality Sunday demanded that Gov. John J. McKeithen fully investigate fires which gutted two rural Negro churches.

The Pleasant Grove and Bethany Baptist churches, both used for Negro voter registration rallies recently, burned to the ground early Sunday.

Thant Troubled Over UN Debt

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — Secretary General Thant planned to appeal to the United Nations membership today to help solve the financial crisis that is forcing the organization to borrow money to meet its bills.

The General Assembly, reconvening this afternoon from an extended Christmas recess, was under instructions from Thant to make its own decision on how to treat Russia's refusal to pay its U.N. debts until it is guaranteed its vote.

Thant said Friday night that the Soviets are willing to make a payment, but only after they get the right to vote in the General Assembly. The United States contends the Soviet arrears will automatically disqualify the Russians once the assembly abandons its no-voting moratorium.

The Soviets, he said, referred to voting rights as "normal procedure." It was not indicated how much of their $59 million debt they were willing to pay. But restoration of voting rights requires a minimum of about $20 million.

"The crux of the problem is whether the chicken comes first or the egg comes first," he said, "whether there should be normal procedures first and then voluntary contributions, or vice versa."

In the meantime, he said, the United Nations was in such bad financial shape that it would have to borrow money to meet current expenses. He did not say where the loan would come from, but in a past financial emergency the U.N. Children's Fund (UNICEF) has advanced money.

WAR ON POVERTY GETS BOOST

88 New Projects Authorized

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson has announced another advance in his war on poverty — authorizing 88 new projects for 33 states and Puerto Rico.

The projects will cost $101,960,782. They include the first loans to help poor farmers and creation of a nationwide network of summer jobs to assist high school students who want, but cannot afford, to return to school each fall.

Johnson announced this third batch of "war on poverty" projects Sunday, a few hours before he flew back to Washington.

No Decision Yet On City Manager

Mayor H. Raeburn Thompson said today no definite decision had been reached on a new city manager for Pampa.

The mayor stated last week city commissioners were considering a half dozen applications for the job. It was understood most of them were from city managers in other Texas cities.

Meanwhile the post is being filled by R. B. Cooke, public works director, who was appointed acting city manager, following the Jan. 1 retirement of former City Manager Harold Schmitzer.

Corporation Court Lists Nine Cases

A total of nine cases are listed on the trial docket for Corporation court tomorrow.

Tryouts Slated for Little Theatre Play

Tryouts will be held tonight at KPND by the Pampa Little Theatre for a three act play, "Ask Me No Questions."

Tryouts for the mystery start at 8 p.m. and will be held at the same time Tuesday.

Marie Jones, director and Jeannie Sells, assistant director, said the play calls for six women and two men in the cast.

Washington from his Texas ranch.

Since Congress authorized $784.2 million for Johnson's anti-poverty campaign, the administration has approved nearly 400 projects in every state at a cost of $221 million. Johnson has said he will ask Congress to double anti-poverty funds in the coming year.

The President, noting that the anti-poverty program was signed into law only 101 days ago, said in a statement: "We have brought nearly 400 transfusions of new opportunity to disadvantaged Americans in every part of this land. We have made a major and significant beginning to throttle want and elevate hope."

In the latest projects the Agriculture Department said 11 anti-poverty loans will be made to help low-income rural families in 10 states raise their incomes and better their living standards. They will cost $24,970.

The "neighborhood youth corps" projects, scheduled to start this summer, will provide up to 32 hours of part-or full-time weekly work for 50,000 high school students. Operated by the Labor Department, the new program will cost $200 million. No locations have been determined yet.

Also announced were four new youth corps projects in New Jersey, Massachusetts and Ohio, totaling $2,650,000, to provide part time jobs for youths in school and training for those out of school.

Final Services Set For Famed Actress

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — In a welling chorus of music she helped to immortalize, Jeanette MacDonald was to be paid last respects today in funera services attended by statesmen and movie stars.

Strains from some of her motion picture hits had been selected by her husband, Gene Raymond, to rekindle memories of her clear soprano voice and stylish performances.

McDonald, USW Hold Conference On Pact Talks

NEW YORK (UPI) — David J. McDonald took time out today from his campaign for re-election as president of the United Steelworkers (USW) to start work on a new contract with the nation's can industry.

He was scheduled to meet today with the presidents of USW locals representing 65,000 employees in the can and container industry for a pre-negotiation briefing.

I. W. Abel, McDonald's opponent in the bitter battle for the $50,000-a-year presidency, was to address an AFL-CIO legislative conference in Chicago today. Abel is USW secretary-treasurer.

McDonald said Sunday night in an interview on a Pittsburgh television station, "I do what the members want me to do" in contract negotiations.

He had been asked about a charge that he spent too much time on "just innovations" like total job security and supplemental employment benefits and not enough on wage increases.

McDonald said Abel had been his personal choice as secretary-treasurer.

"I was somewhat disappointed in him," McDonald said. "But he took good care of the books."

McDonald said he did not think Abel had the qualities to be a good USW president.

"I had hoped he would be what I was to Phil Murray—my good right arm. But he wasn't. He has not demonstrated good negotiating ability," McDonald said.

"He was little or no help to me. He made no contributions to the Human Relations Committee meetings down through the years since 1960. He just didn't want to do it. He would rather take it easy than do hard, slugging work."

McDonald made it clear that he did not want to call a strike to back up contract demands but added he was not afraid of a strike. He said he had never called a strike during his 12 years as union president.

"The 116 day strike in 1969 was forced upon us by the industry against our will," he said. "So was the six week strike in 1956."

College Football To Two-Platoon

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI) — College football fans can forget about the punter in the huddle on the fourth down purposely in order to stop the clock with a penalty and get in the defense before the ball was snapped.

There is a new substitution rule to eliminate all the different stunts that happened last year to stop the clock. In fact, stopping the clock won't do the coach any good from now on.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association football rules committee wound up a three-day meeting here Saturday by passing a "two-platoon" substitution rule.

The new rule, unlike last year's allowing unlimited substitution only when the clock was stopped, lets coaches put in a new team when he needs to most — when the ball changes hands and between periods.

The new rule, like the old, allows two wild card substitutions at any time during the game.

Last year, coaches would tell their punting teams to take too much time in the huddle on fourth down purposely in order to stop the clock with a penalty and get in the defense before the ball was snapped.

The committee earlier considered two major proposals and turned down both. It voted unanimously against a proposal to allow a team which is behind the option of kicking or receiving after scores and also against a move to allow a play-committee wound up a three-day meeting here Saturday by passing a "two-platoon" substitution rule.

The committee, during its meeting, approved proposal to raise the kicking tee from one to two inches.

It also stiffened the "brutality" rule under which a player previously could not intentionally butt or ram another about the head, neck or shoulders with his helmet. The rule was expanded to include the whole body.

High-Flying Bruins On Leave of Absence

By FRED McMANE, UPI Sports Writer

College basketball teams who dread meeting the top-ranked UCLA Bruins can relax for a while, because the Bruins won't be winning any more games for at least two weeks.

Mid-year exams are here once again, and the Bruins along with most of the other teams around the country, will take a two-week leave of absence from the court. By the time the Bruins return to action, their opponents will be hoping that they've cooled off a little.

The high-flying Bruins made it 13 wins in a row Saturday as they ripped Stanford 80-66 in an AAUW Conference clash.

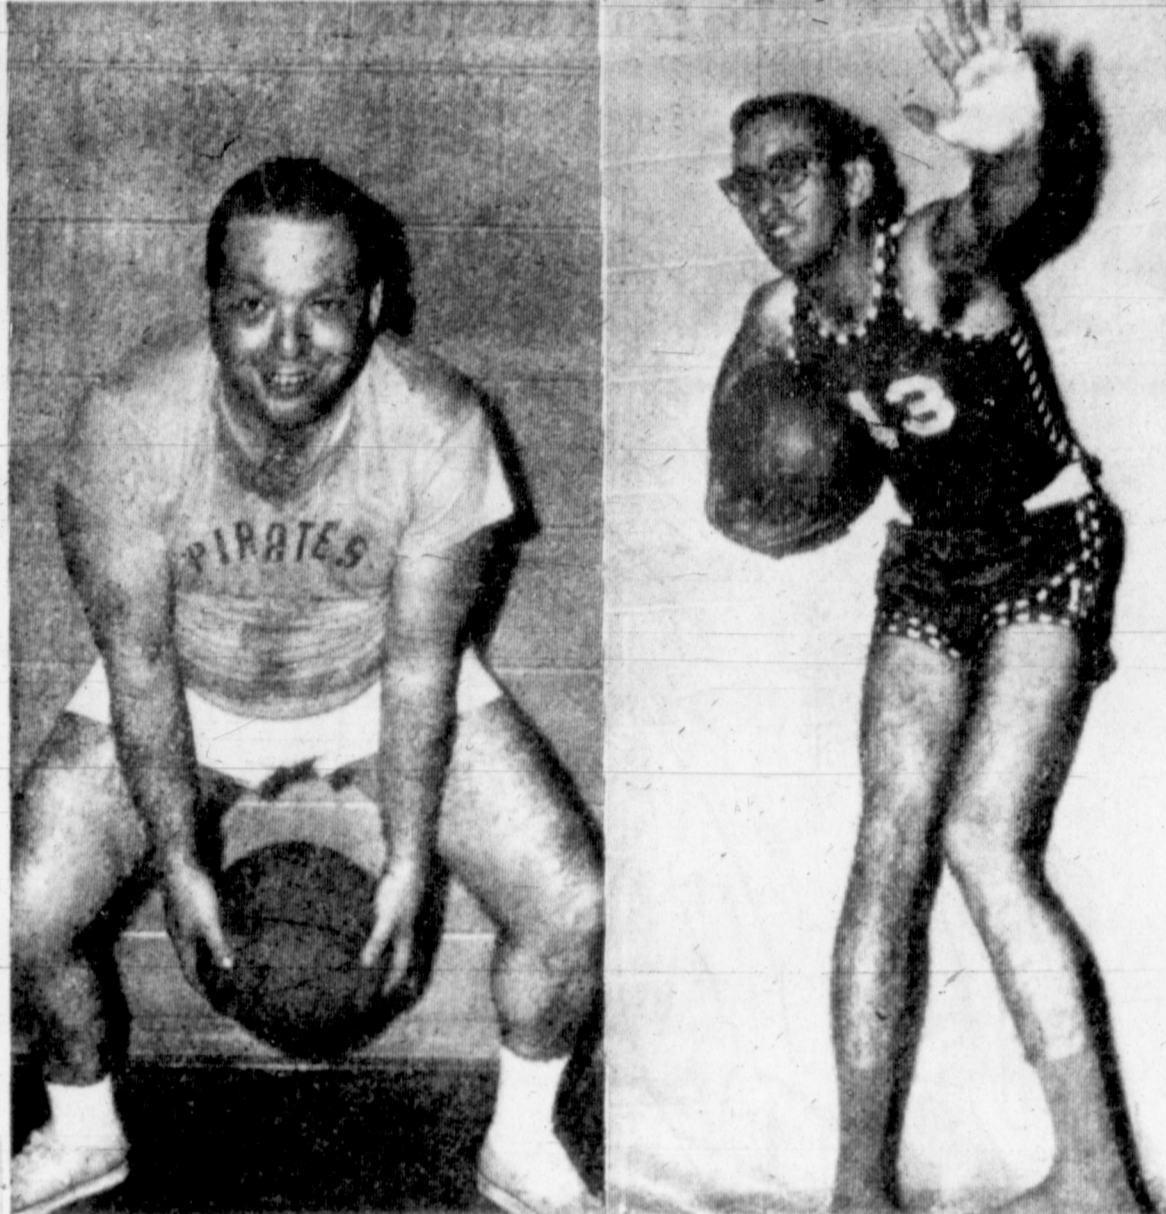

Keith Erickson took scoring honors for the winners with 27 points, but Stanford's Bob Powell was the game's high scorer with 22.

Top Ten Winners

Saturday was also a successful day for the remainder of the nation's top 10 ranked teams which saw action. Second-ranked Michigan routed Northwestern 90-68, third-ranked Wichita tripped St. Louis 75-64, fourth-ranked Indiana defeated Ohio State 84-72, fifth-ranked St. Joseph's (Pa.) crushed Lafayette 82-68, seventh-ranked San Francisco toppled Santa Clara 89-77, eighth-ranked St. John's bested Seton Hall 76-69 and ninth-ranked Davidson ran over Presbyterian 130-67.

Cazzie Russell provided the might for Michigan in its win over Northwestern. Russell equalled his collegiate career single game high by tossing in 36 points to lead the Wolverines to their second Big Ten Conference victory in as many starts.

Weekend Sports Tunney Jr. Seeking Boxing Commissioner

By United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — Representative John Varick Tunney says he'll ask Congress for a national boxing commissioner, and heavyweight champion Cassius Clay suggests that the fight game produce more white hopes.

Those were the two panaceas for the floundering fight industry presented Sunday night to more than 400 at the 40th annual dinner of the Boxing Writers Association in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Clay, who prefers to be called by his Black Muslim moniker Muhammad Ali, was cheered loudly when he declared that the distinction between Negro and white fighters certainly should be made in the heavyweight division, at least, for business reasons.

If Canada's George Chuvalo became challenger, he and I could draw $30-million," he said.

Young Tunney, newly elected California Democratic congressman and son of former heavyweight champion Gene Tunney, announced that he will enter a bill soon in the House of Representatives providing for a federal boxing commissioner and commission.

Tunney, 29, also was cheered heartily when he said: "There is no other way to achieve uniformity of regulations and their execution throughout the various states. We must have a national commissioner and commission."

Light heavyweight champion Willie Pastrano of Miami, Fla., was presented with the Edward J. Neil memorial plaque for "fighter of the year" because of his two title defenses on technical knockouts over Gregorio Peralta of Argentina and Terry Downes of England.

SWC Roundup

By United Press International

THE croaking of Texas Christian's Horned Frogs will be heard around the Southwest Conference basketball trail this week since all seven other league teams turn solidly to exam papers.

Coach Buster Brannon's young Frogs, who almost—but not quite—ended defending champion Texas A&M's shaky title hopes last week, skip downstate to Houston tonight to meet the Houston Cougars in the only game of the week involving a conference team.

TCU pushed A&M to the limit at Aggie land last week, but the Cadets pulled out a 72-71 decision that broke them into the win column for the first time against loop rivals and inspired them to a later 93-55 romp past Rice at Houston.

That gave the Aggies a 2-2 league record—the same as Baylor, which was humiliated 95-74 by Texas at Austin only to bounce back strongly at home with an 84-75 defeat of Arkansas.

Arkansas also is at 2-2—a full game behind pace setting Texas Tech and Southern Methodist (both 2-0)—after a 79-61 verdict over Rice (1-3) at Fayetteville. TCU and Texas got in a flashy warmup for its crucial Jan. 26 resumption of title play against SMU by whipping the strong Phillips semipro Oilers 141-91 at Lubbock behind the 42-point shooting of Norm Reuther.

The Tech-SMU game at Lubbock a week from Tuesday night will break the mid-term lull. Tech then plays TCU at Fort Worth and SMU meets Texas at Dallas on Jan. 30. The other four teams wait a bit longer before returning to league warfare.

Casper Loses Sudden-Death At San Diego

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — The 1965 PGA golf tour moved on to Pebble Beach and the Bing Crosby National Pro Amateur golf championships today—but it's doubtful that any of the shot-makers will use the Wes Ellis recipe for victory.

He tried to finish second and wound up in first place in the $35,000 San Diego Open golf tournament Sunday.

Ellis defeated Bill Casper, the second-leading money-winner of all time, in a sudden-death playoff for first place money of $4,850.

The victory came with a six-foot birdie putt on the first extra hole. But to get there, the skinny lad from West Caldwell, N.J., had to birdie the 17th and 18th also.

"When I go to 17 and heard Casper had a birdie there and was two shots ahead, I didn't think I had a chance," said Ellis. Even after I birdied the 17th with a 15-footer, I thought the best I could do was finish second."

The finishing hole is a par-three, 207-yarder. Ellis came up short, two inches off the green and 45 feet from the cup.

"All I wanted to do was get close so I could be sure of second place," he said.

What happened was that the ball rolled right in and Ellis was on the way to his first victory in five years and more than 60 tournaments.

Ellis shot a final round 65 for a 267 total. Casper had a final round 64 for 267 and all it got him was second place.

"It's hard to believe that you can shoot a 64 in the final round when you are near the top of the heap and still not win," said Casper.

But 64 was routine at the Stardust Country Club as the players ripped the course apart again under ideal playing conditions. George Knudson of Canada had a 64 for a 269 which was good for $2,000 and fourth place. Johnny Pott had 65 for 268, picking up $2,200 for third place.

Floating All-Stars Home In Houston

HOUSTON (UPI)—The American Football League's (AFL) floating All-Star game had a home today — at least for two years, perhaps the most orderly outcome of a disorderly week ended by the West All-Stars' 38-14 shellacking of the East.

Club owners chose Houston and Oakland, Calif., as tentative sites for the 1966 and 1967 All-Star games, at the final session of the owners' winter meeting Saturday. AFL Commissioner

Jog Foss said the sites were set pending completion of proper financial arrangements.

Hold Off Decision

The AFL owners also voted not to commit themselves on the problem of early contract signings of college players who still have eligibility, until a joint meeting can be arranged between the pro leagues and the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA).

The All-Star game, held Saturday in Jeppesen Stadium at Houston, was the anticlimax to a week of confusion that started when 20 Negro players voted to boycott a New Orleans appearance because of discrimination by taxi drivers and night club owners.

Foss ordered the game moved to Houston after conferring with AFL club owners.

John Hadl of San Diego led the West to a smashing victory with three touchdown passes in the transplanted All-Star game—played before a crowd of 15,446.

Art Allyn Slows Up Atlanta

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—The efforts of the owners of the Milwaukee Braves to move the National League team's franchise to Atlanta struck another snag Sunday. This time it was Arthur Allyn, owner of the Chicago White Sox of the American League.

Saying the proposed move was "without justification," Allyn told Lou Chapman of the Milwaukee Sentinel he would seek to marshal support of other American League owners to ask baseball Commissioner Ford Frick to nullify the shift.

The National League voted last fall to okay the move for 1966, but ordered the Braves to play their 1965 home games in Milwaukee in accordance with their contract for use of County Stadium.

"I have asked the American League to discuss the Braves question at our meeting in New York Feb. 1 with the hope of requesting the commissioner to veto the move," Allyn said. He said he had approached Frick on the subject at recent major league meetings in Phoenix and Houston, but had received little response.

"I suspect that the Braves owners signed their contract with Atlanta before looking at their obligations in Milwaukee," Allyn said. Now I wonder if they can get off the hook in Atlanta.

I don't know the facts, but I suspect that these fellows have spent so much money in the purchase of the club that they couldn't get enough of a return to support their investment.

But that's not the fault of the fans. It's their tough luck. The near 19 million people who have turned out for Braves games in the last 12 years have proved Milwaukee is a major league city.

Growth of Private Schools

Growth of non-tax-supported schools throughout the nation is demonstrated in a study of classroom teachers by the U.S. Office of Education. The study was of the total number of teachers and is designed to project the future demand for teachers in the tax-supported as well as private schools.

According to the study in School Life, the official journal of the Office of Education, the number of teachers in government schools in 12 years (1953-64) has increased from 1,037,000 to 1,625,000 or 56.8 per cent. During the same time teachers in private schools went up from 136,000 to 223,000, an increase of 64 per cent.

Uncluttered by Facts

It has long been claimed, especially by people who sell things to us, that the average American has the mental capacity of a 12-year-old. A recent survey by the University of Michigan indicates that this libels 12-year-olds.

The Great Society

When L.B.J. first sprung "The Great Society" on a perhaps confused electorate, the phrase sounded vaguely familiar. In checking we find the Library of Congress has a pre-World War I book with a title page "The Great Society." It was written by Abraham Wallas, an English Fabian Socialist.

By Frank J. Markey

Listening to a new recording of the old song, "The Man Who Broke The Bank At Monte Carlo," reminded us that Charlie Wells, the fellow who really did it, won $400,000 in three nights at the gaming tables. He invested a good portion of his winnings in the casino, quit gambling and pyramided his wealth.

Today's smile: We liked the one about the do-gooder organization that believed a Congo cannibal could be made into a civilized citizen through education. One was selected, sent to school, and taught the ways of modern society. Finally, his training over, he was put aboard a plane so that he could go back and teach his tribe how civilized people live. Soon after the plane was in flight the stewardess asked if he would like to see a menu. The Congolese replied: "No, just the passenger list."

McCone Warns Administration On Viet Nam: Military Problem Comes First

WASHINGTON — Central Intelligence Director Joan McCone is flatly contradicting the Johnson administration's pet thesis regarding the grimly deteriorating situation in South Viet Nam.

The most pressing problem there, McCone holds, is military and not political. Primary attention and effort should be concentrated on quickly achieving greater combat effectiveness against the increasingly more powerful and successful Communist aggressors, rather than laboriously trying to bring about a "stable government" among the feuding elements in Saigon.

These blunt views were voiced by the CIA head, due to be replaced soon, in his closed-door testimony before the Senate Armed Services Committee, which is conducting an extensive study of the ominous South Viet Nam dilemma.

While not directly challenging the administration's "stability first" policy, McCone left no doubt of his emphatic disagreement with it. "As long as the battle for South Viet Nam is treated as a political rather than a military problem," he told the senators, "there is little prospect of establishing a stable government in Saigon. That is putting the cart before the horse. The key problem is military and not political, and the sooner that is realized and acted on, the better it will be."

Graphicly underscoring his contention, McCone presented detailed reports on battle casualties and weapons losses in the past three years. The grim figures revealed mounting South Viet Nam losses in both men and arms. Last year approximately twice as many troops were killed, wounded and missing as in 1962, and nearly three times as many weapons were lost.

All Is Not Sweetness In the U.N.

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The United Nations, reconvening shortly in New York, stands at one of the most difficult cross roads in its 20-year lifetime. It has just had its first ominous withdrawal, Indonesia, the world's fifth most populous country.

Its dues-paying crisis, precipitated by the Soviet Union's refusal to get money up for peacekeeping operations it dislikes, has compelled — at least temporarily — a system of informal voting which disrupts orderly procedures in the 11-nation Security Council.

In the December debates over U. S. Belgian air rescues of hostages in the Congo, the racist mood so afflicted some African radicals that a few were heard to remark that the "inadvisability" of one African leader having two white consultants constantly at his elbow.

Corridor comment of this kind, often considerably more biting than even the sharpest of the radicals' formal utterances in the debate, has led some observers to argue that the general atmosphere at the United Nations is deteriorating in a welter of emotionalism.

One U. S. official suggests that an extension of this mood over a period of several years, a not inconceivable prospect in light of the growing numerical prominence of the Afro-Asian countries, could have a "serious impact" on the conduct of U. N. affairs.

Another American diplomatic source describes it as a "quite irrational force" in U. N. councils. Yet, despite the extremely turbulent air that is now jostling the United Nations, American officials are insistently hopeful that the now greatly swollen agency will keep its balance and will, in fact, resort to a number of strengthening mechanisms. We shall consider these in another column.

Notwithstanding this dogged confidence in the U. N.'s future, selected. The only decision so far made by the President is to replace McCone with a "name" rather than a "technician."

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

Question: Some time back you quoted Madison in "The Federalist" papers as saying the "general welfare clause" of the Constitution did not grant broad powers to the Congress. I have been unable to locate this in "The Federalist." Can you tell me where this is found?

Answer: No. 41 of "The Federalist" by James Madison explains the thinking of Madison, Hamilton, Jay and other writers of the Constitution on the so-called general-welfare clause. On Pages 282-3 of the 1942 edition of "The Federalist," by Tudor Publishing Co., New York, with introduction by Edward Gaylord Bourne, professor of history at Yale University, Madison wrote, in reference to section 8 (Powers of Congress):

"It has been urged and echoed, that the powers to lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts, and excises, to pay the debts, and provide for the common defense and general welfare of the United States, amounts to an unlimited commission to exercise every power which may be alleged to be necessary for the common defense or general welfare. No stronger proof could be given of the distress under which these writers labor for objections, than their stooping to such a misconception."

"Had no other enumeration or definition of the powers of the Congress been found in the Constitution, than the general expressions just sighted, the authors of the objection might have had some color for it; though it would have been difficult to find a reason for so awkward a form of describing an authority to legislate in all possible cases. A power to destroy the freedom of the press, the trial by jury, or even to regulate the course of descents, or the forms of conveyances, must be very singularly expressed by the terms "to raise money for the general welfare."

"But what color can the objection have, when a specification of the objects alluded to by these general terms immediately follows and is not even separated by a longer pause than parts of the same instrument ought to be so expounded, as to give meaning to every part which will bear it, shall one part of the same sentence be excluded altogether from a share in the meaning; and shall the more doubtful and indefinite terms by retained in their full extent, and the clear and precise expressions be denied any signification whatsoever? For what purpose could the enumeration of particular powers be inserted, if these and all others were meant to be included in the preceding general power?"

Nothing is more natural nor common than first to use a general phrase, and then to explain and qualify it by a recital of particulars. But the idea of an enumeration of particulars which neither explain nor qualify the general meaning, and can have no other effect than to confound and mislead, is an absurdity, which as we are reduced to the dilemma of charging either on the authors of the objection or on the authors of the Constitution, we must take the liberty of supposing, had not its origin with the latter."

From the West, the new countries' special whipping boy, they are not likely to get a sort of practical assistance they need if, as one diplomat says, "they come shouting and screaming at us" with condemnatory resolutions and other symbolic gestures.

4. The chance, only a faint threat today, that any redressing of the power responsibility balance in the United Nations might gravely disaffect many in the Afro-Asian group and cause them to seek their own counsel. Indonesia's withdrawal has broken the ice.

Pressure Growing for Law To But Brakes on Strikes

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The East Coast - Gulf ports longshoremen's strike will bring new pressures in Congress for a law to make industry-wide strikes or lockouts more difficult.

A primary objective would be the prevention of nationwide shutdowns which could cripple the economy. Industry-wide trucking, railroading, maritime shipping, aviation and steel and automobile manufacturing stoppages would be prime targets.

Some of President Johnson's advisers are known to believe that the economy cannot afford nationwide strikes in these key industries. Johnson has already made it clear he's going to stick very close to the steel negotiations in an effort to make certain there will be a settlement without a strike and without major price or wage increases.

Opposition to compulsory arbitration is strong in the administration, in Congress and in major unions generally. Samplings of U. S. industry leaders disclose the same opposition. Exception: There's a growing feeling in favor of compulsory arbitration among some leading rail, trucking, shipping and airline operators.

Rep. David Martin, R - Neb., has introduced his Bill 333 for the third straight session of Congress. Bill 333 would ban industry-wide bargaining, make local bargaining compulsory for both industry and unions. It also would make leather - bedding illegal.

Martin's bill isn't expected to get out of committee. But men who attempt to assess the feelings of the groups that form a majority in Congress sense that many senators and representatives are now determined to do something to prevent big strikes which could nullify economical effects of their unemployment and anti-poverty programs and cause enough economic discontent to endanger their own re-elections.

Belief is growing among some congressmen that industry-wide bargaining will have to go, and that it must be replaced by "area" or "regional" bargaining. Under this concept, industry and unions would bargain for a marketing region, provided the region did not include more than a certain percentage — say 15, 20, 30 or 40 per cent — of the specialists in the international field can enumerate very real and fundamental perils:

1. The severe crimp that could be put in the agency's vital peacekeeping function if some durable, trustworthy system of financing is not agreed upon by all the major member powers.

2. The notable malapportionment between strength of numbers in the General Assembly (with consequent influence on recommendations), and responsibility for peacekeeping, general financing, and other principal U. N. matters.

Exactly a year ago, Secretary of State Dean Rusk took account of this in a Dag Hammarskjold memorial lecture wherein he observed that a two-thirds Assembly majority could now be formed — in theory — by countries with just 10 per cent of the world's population contributing no more than 1 per cent of the U. N.'s assessed budget.

3. The prospect that many of the U. N.'s still - rising numbers, a wash in the emotionalism that gave spur to their new - found independence, could combine steadily to throw the Assembly's weight behind purely "symbolic" declarations almost totally unproductive of real "working gains" in the world's welfare.

A high proportion of the emergent, developing lands are badly strapped economically and can have no hope of enduring nationhood without the help of the advanced nations which, pragmatically, must include the Soviet Union.

HOME COOKING — Lewis Buffet at 2014 N. Hobart specializing in home cooked meals, fast service and reasonable prices.

able prices, offers the family a chance to eat out at low family rates.

Eating Out at Buffeteria Brings Real Treat

Taking the family out for lunch or dinner is always a treat. It gives the family a chance to get out and give a mother a break from cooking and cleaning up, plus saving her several hours of hot work.

But the best thing about eating out at Lewis' Buffeteria is the excellent home cooked food and low prices. It's not nearly as costly as you would imagine. The entire family can eat out at a cost almost as low as it would cost them for the same food prepared at home.

The food is always prepared in the same manner as home cooking. It is wholesome and delicious and folks have a choice of several wonderfully prepared meals. Everybody is sure to find exactly what he likes, because the choice is large and varied.

Full meals at Lewis Buffeteria are only $1.25 for evenings and Sundays, plus drink and dessert. Weekday noon meals are only $1. Tuesday is family day and meals are only $1 all day. Children under eight only 65 cents, and there is no charge for children under two.

You are in for another real treat when you order buckets or half-buckets of delicious fried chicken to go out. The cost of full-buckets of chicken, enough for an average family is only $3.50. Half-buckets are only $1.75. This includes rolls and salad.

Lewis Buffeteria is open daily from 11 to 2 and 5 until 8 evenings. Sunday they are open 11 a.m. until 2 p.m.

They are conveniently located at 2014 N. Hobart. Next time you plan to eat out try them. You'll like the atmosphere, the courteous service, the fine food and the reasonable prices.

Lewis Buffeteria is open daily from 11 to 2 and 5 until 8 evenings. Sunday they are open 11 a.m. until 2 p.m.

Pampan Named to Texas CROP Post

Joe T. Salem, a Methodist layman of Sudan, was re-elected chairman of the Texas CROP-CWS Board at the annual meeting of the board held in Austin and Paul R. Bowers of Pampa was named a board member.

Salem has served as Conference Lay Leader of the Northwest Texas Conference of the Methodist Church, and as a recognized leader in many capacities within his denomination. He also served as Chairman of the Church World Service Department of the Texas Council of Churches before the department was merged with the CROP Department to become the Department of CROP-CWS, which is also known as the Texas CROP-CWS Board.

The Board established 1965 goals at $100,000 in CROP commodities and cash, and 200,000 pounds in used clothing. It also set the week of October 24 to 31 as Texas CROP WEEK.

Other officers elected were: Robert B. Trull of Palacios as Vice Chairman, Rev. Barney Federwisch of Geronimo as Secretary, V. S. Marett of Gonzales as Treasurer and Bo Byers of Austin as Publicity Director. Other members of the Executive Committee will be Bowers, Russell Callan of Menard, J. C. Eiring of Plainview, Rev. Willard Rother of Brenham and Rev. Richard Kuretsch of New Braunfels. J. D. Prewitt and Dr. Dan Russell of College Station will serve as Special Advisors and the Hon. John C. White as Honorary Chairman.

Public Helps British Police

LONDON (UPI) — A 12-year-old girl flung a broken bottle under the tires of the getaway car of armed bank robbers.

Three truckers raced through crowded Piccadilly to capture a robbery suspect and cart him off to the police station in their truck.

A yacht designer smashed his new automobile against the stolen Mercedes of an escaping prisoner.

All over Britain the public, aroused by an unprecedented outbreak of underworld violence, was heeding the advice of a high Scotland Yard official to "have a go" when they saw a crime being committed.

Qualifies Suggestion

Assistant Commissioner Randolph Bacon qualified his New Year's Day suggestion that the public tackle criminals, however. He did not mean it to apply to everyone in every case. Alarmed civic organizations — with visions of unarmed citizens shot and beaten in vain battles — have in recent days qualified it still further.

But all the public seems to remember of what Bacon said is the war cry "Have a go!" and a variety of people have been taking long chances against experienced lawbreakers.

It started when Bacon called a news conference to reassure the capital that a wave of four killings and nine violent attacks — double the average for the holiday period — was under control.

Bill to Legalize Horse Racing May Win by a Nose

AUSTIN (UPI) — A bill to legalize horse race gambling may win by a nose in the 59th Texas Legislature.

State Rep. Maurice Pipkin of Brownsville intends to introduce the parimutuel betting measure next week. It would:

- Legalize gambling at state-regulated tracks on a local option basis.
- Provide, he estimates, somewhere from $25-$45 million a year to the state in licensing fees.
- Create a three-man Texas Racing Commission to oversee the state's tracks.

Poes Aready Battling

The battle to stop the bill has begun already. Rep. W. H. Miller of Houston reports a "dribble" of mimeographed form letters against the idea of horse race betting. He added, "I don't pay much attention to mimeographed letters."

Rep. J. E. Ward of Glen Rose said he had received some 50 letters against the proposal, some with post scripts voicing disapproval of liquor-by-the-drink, too.

One of the bill's most outspoken enemies, Rep. Bill Hollowell of Grand Saline, said, "unless the people of Texas rise up and do something now, they will have horse racing in Texas by September."

Hollowell said the battle will hinge on whether amending statutory law is all it would take to legalize betting.

"There is some question in my mind whether it would be legal under the constitution," he said.

Berry Enemies Numerous

In recent sessions, the racing bill has been the baby of Rep. V. E. (Red) Berry of San Antonio, a man who also likes to stand up and be counted with liquor-by-the-drink backers. His enemies on both measures are numerous.

It is no secret in the state-house that powerful interests back racing this time around, and Pipkin's early sponsorship of the bill indicates that its chances are better than fair.

CUT YOUR OWN TAXES

'Average' Out Big Year

By RAY DE CRANE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

You are in for a pleasant surprise when making out your income tax return if during 1964 your total income was considerably more than it had averaged during the four previous years.

This windfall income for 1964 could have come from a big promotion with a substantial salary increase, perhaps a sizable incentive bonus, steady work with much overtime after several lean years or even a clean-up made on a quiz show.

It's all due to a new feature in the Revenue Act of 1964 called "income averaging."

The big purpose of income averaging is to give a tax break to those persons with wide fluctuations in income, usually athletes, prize fighters, authors, actors and actresses. But the principle is not limited to these groups and the tax-saving feature may be used profitably by any taxpayer to whom certain basic rules, which we will explain, apply.

You are now permitted to average all types of income except capital gains, gambling profits, income from gifts and bequests and premature distribution received by owner-employees under a pension plan. With the tax rate increasing several points with each ascending bracket, the savings resulting from holding income down into a low bracket are readily apparent.

The rule is effective whenever taxable income for 1964 is at least $3,000 more than 4-3 of the average taxable income for the four previous years. This excess is termed averageable income. The tax on it is the tax on 1-5 of the averageable income multiplied by five.

To illustrate the workings of the new rule let's take a hypothetical case:

Tom Jones, a married man whose wife had no income of her own in 1964, has had an average taxable income of $9,000 for the four previous years. Last year, because of a new job on a commission basis, he had a taxable income of $32,000.

As we go through his income averaging procedure you will see how this one rule change has saved him $2,580. Here is how he determined his tax under the new formula:

1. Taxable income for 1964: $32,000
2. 4-3 Base Period Income (for 1964): $9,000
3. 4-3 Base Period Income: $12,000
4. Averageable income: $20,000

The tax on 1-5 of the averageable income ($4,000) is found this way:

Tax on $16,000 (4-3 of $9,000 plus 1-5 of $20,000): $3,500
Less tax on $12,000 (4-3 of $9,000): 2,420
Tax on 1-5 Averageable Income: $1,080

To find the total tax: $4,300 (4-3 of $9,000) + $1,080 = $5,380

SEEEKS COST CUTS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson wants every government department and agency to hunt for more ways to save money.

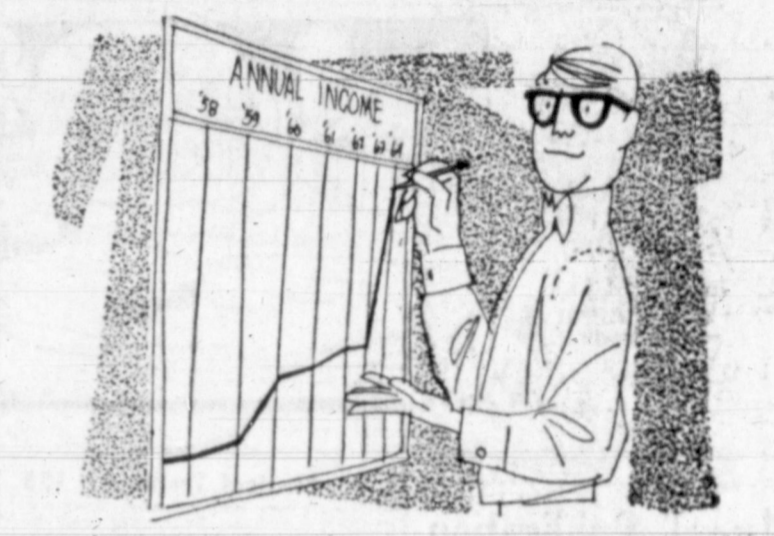

The President issued the order at his first cabinet meeting of the year. A White House spokesman said Johnson placed heavy emphasis on the importance of cutting government costs.

returns for those years you may obtain photostatic copies from the revenue director in the district in which you filed. He will charge you 50 cents for each page copied.

Because the taxable income figure changed from Page 1 to Page 2 of the returns during some years, to be on the safe side order copies of both pages for each of the four years. Should you need those copies, wait until the last moment. The revenue director and his dependents and personal exemptions have been claimed.

The importance of having available your taxable income figures for the four previous years is readily apparent. If

Two More Ways to Save on Taxes

There are two ways for taxpayers to take deductions on 1964 Federal income tax returns, Richard V. White, Administrative Officer for the Pampa office of Internal Revenue Service, advised today.

They can itemize medical expenses, charitable contributions, interest, taxes, and other expenses; or use the standard deduction (either the new minimum standard deduction or the regular 10 per cent standard deduction).

If a taxpayer is a homeowner paying interest and taxes, or if he had unusually large contributions or medical expenses during 1964, his tax may be less by itemizing deductions if they total more than the standard deduction or the minimum standard deduction. If they total less, it is usually better to use the standard deduction or the minimum standard deduction.

White added that where married persons file separate returns both husband and wife must claim the same type standard deduction. They should claim the type which is best for them as a unit.

The Optional Tax Table, shown in the instructions, must be used to determine the tax on incomes under $5,000 when either the regular or minimum standard deduction is claimed.
