

Tshombe to Reject Cease Fire Plan

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—Premier Moise Tshombe is expected to reject a U.N. Security Council appeal for a cease-fire with the Congolese rebels and the dismissal of his white mercenaries, observers said Saturday.

Tshombe has made it clear in recent conversations that he fears his army would collapse without the whites and that only the rebels would benefit from a cease fire.

The Congo entered 1965 still torn internally by the strife that has paralyzed it since independence in 1960. The turmoil worsened in 1964 with the withdrawal of the United Nations peace force and the spread of the rebellion. Tshombe recently was asked about a cease-fire.

"What do you think would happen then?" he replied. "The rebels would use it to get reorganized and when they are strong enough they will break it."

"I know... because I did the very same thing in Katanga when the United Nations was fighting us there. When the water was up to our necks we asked for a cease-fire and later we were stronger than ever," he added.

Almost a million persons in the nation suffer from epilepsy.

Jaycees Honor Five Young Texans As Outstanding in State for 1964

DALLAS (UPI)—Presidential aide Bill Moyers of Marshall, Tex., was one of five "Outstanding Young Texans of 1964" named Saturday by the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Also in the select group were Charles T. (Chuck) Doyle, 30, of Texas City; Dr. James H. Granberry, 32, Lubbock dentist; Clifton H. Howard, 36, Irving, and William I. Marshall, 33, San Angelo.

State president Jim Reese of the Jaycees said all had "demonstrated that success in our free enterprise system is still available to these individuals who strive to achieve."

The five young men will be honored at a dinner at San Angelo on Jan. 9.

Judges were Fred Conn, president of San Angelo Standard-Times, Joe Dealey, president of the Dallas Morning News; Dr. Walter Kerr of Tyler, executive director of the National Youth Foundation, and Thomas S. Mackey of Texas City, general manager of the Wah Chang Corp.

Doyle is manager of labor relations for Union Carbide chemicals, a city councilman and active in the American Academy of Management. Granberry is active in the Lubbock county dental health program, and is financing a continuing research grant to the physiology department of the Baylor University College of Dentistry, which he attended.

HELP CELEBRATE

PALM DESERT, Calif. (UPI)—Former President and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower plan to help their grand-daughter, Susan, celebrate her 14th birthday tonight.

The celebration for Susan, eldest of the four children of John Eisenhower, was scheduled for the dining room of the Eldorado Country Club.

The John Eisenhowers plan to return to their Valley Forge, Pa., home by plane New Year's Day.

Red Cross News

By LIBBY SHOTWELL
Executive Secretary

This is the first release of news from the Red Cross in 1965. All in all we had a very good year in Gray County in 1964.

Eighty trained Red Cross disaster workers are on the job in the flooded areas of the North West states and others will join them as the need arises.

A letter from Dick Strayer, Panhandle of Texas field Representative for the Red Cross, states that he has received word to report to the West Coast and prepare to stay until the rehabilitation work is completed. Strayer lives in Amarillo and while he had many plans for this month for local area chapters, emergencies take a preference.

In disasters such as the floods in California, Oregon, and other western states, the Red Cross sets up emergency shelters, feeding stations, and communications and clothing stations. All this of service is given free of charge and there is no repayment to the Red Cross of any money given in a disaster. Most of the Red Cross expenditures in a disaster is spent during the rehabilitation period when families are put back into their homes or new homes are built for them.

The Gray County chapter is losing the services of Sgt. and Mrs. O. F. Kreimeyer who are moving from Pampa to Amarillo where Sgt. Kreimeyer will accept the post of administrative assistant at headquarters of the Texas ARNG. Sgt. Kreimeyer served two years as a director on the local Red Cross Board as well as helping the chapter with transportation to the R training Center parties, delivering materials and helping in every way possible. Mrs. Kreimeyer has served as Home Service chairman, and in 1964 was Gray Lady chairman on our Red Cross board. Mrs. Kreimeyer has been a Gray Lady since 1957 and has given more than 1,500 hours of voluntary service.

Roscoe Mounce and Frank Gonverse, James Robert King and W. C. Puryear, all first aid instructors for Red Cross are teaching safety work to the employees at the Celanese plant. A film "Mouth to Mouth Resuscitation" was shown to the men on Dec. 29. Films and demonstrations will continue this month at the plant.

New Tax Head Fond Of Writer's Quote

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — We have a new director of Internal Revenue who is fond of quoting Shakespeare.

After his recent appointment as the nation's tax chief, Sheldon S. Cohen told newsmen that his philosophy of life and tax collection could be summed up by following quotation:

"This above all: To thine own self be true."

Cohen added that "if everybody lives by it, we won't have any trouble."

I think it is splendid that the collection of our income taxes, and the examination of our tax returns, will be in the hands of a man who admires Shakespeare.

It was Shakespeare who wrote, "the quality of mercy is not strain'd, it droppeth as the gentle rain from heaven." Perhaps Cohen will embrace that quotation, too.

Find A Line

He likewise will find in Shakespeare a line to the effect that "it is all men's office to speau patience to those that wring under the load of sorrow."

Let us hope that Cohen will keep that in mind when we next reach "the uncertain glory of an April day" — specifically, April 15.

In fact, the works of Shakespeare abound with quotations that could be applied to the payment and/or collection of taxes. He could well have had form 1040 in mind when he wrote, "confusion now hath made his masterpiece."

Nobody ever summarizes tax deductions better than Shakespeare when he wrote, "you shall seek all day ere you find them, and when you have them, they are not worth the search."

I feel certain that most tax inspectors are "learned and authentic fellows." But the one who audits my returns appears to be "a snapper-up of unconsidered trifles."

No Loophole

He leaves me "no hinge nor loop to hang a doubt on." His policy is: "Be sure of it; give me the ocular proof." In short, "he is a great observer and he looks quite through the deeds of men."

To receive a letter challenging your tax return is to receive v' a'e froeh ee utafnslanest words that ver lobbed paper." For then it is "forever farewell th etranquil mind" "d farewell the tranquil mind!"

I always read the instruction sheet carefully but "it was Greek to me." This causes me to "commit the oldest sins the newest kind of ways."

When these little slip-ups occur, I shall hope that Cohen, being a Shakespeare fan, will not "make a star-chamber matter of it." But I doubt there will be much change.

As Shakespeare said, "all his successors gone before him have done it; and all his ancestors that come after him may." Which means that "some of us will smart for it."

Catholic's Have Top News Story

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — The new Roman Catholic Mass in English was chosen today as the ranking story of 1964 by the people who report, write and edit religious news.

The annual top 10 poll of the Religious Newswriters' Association gave the Mass in English 204 of a possible 300 points. Use of modern language in the Mass was authorized by the Vatican Council in 1963. Association members supply religious news to United States and Canadian press associations and newspapers. Vatican Council developments also dominated the next three stories selected.

The religious liberty issue at the Vatican Council, marked by Pope Paul's rejection of the plea of liberal bishops for a vote at the 1964 session, drew 167 points.

Tied for third at 157 points were the declaration of Jews, absolving them of the death of Jesus; the deicide charge and collegiality, the concept of bishops sharing in the government of the church.

The Vatican Council birth control debate was fourth with 143 points.

The longest papal journey — the Pope's flying visit to India — won fifth place with 130 points.

Other leading dispatches were:

6—Participation of churches in the U.S. civil rights movement, 105 points.

7—The Vatican Council's decree on Christian unity—permitting Roman Catholics to pray and worship with other Christians in certain specified circumstances, 74 points.

8—Vital tie between allowing mature married men to serve the Roman Catholic Church as deacons (56 points) and award of the Nobel Peace Prize to Negro civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King (54 points).

9—Massacre of Dr. Paul Carlson and other Christian missionaries by Congo rebels in Africa (48 points).

10—Triple tie: Setback to the Blake-Pike plan for six-way Protestant union, (37 points); Pope's visit to the Holy Land, (36); churches' involvement in the U.S. presidential campaign, especially mainline Protestant opposition to Sen. Barry Goldwater and his extremist supporters (35).

MARINER PLOWS ON
WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Mariner 4 spacecraft has traveled more than one-seventh of its journey to the planet Mars.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) announced Sunday that the spacecraft, launched Nov. 28 from Cape Kennedy, Fla., had traveled 50 million of the 325-million-mile flight, and was operating normally. It is expected to fly by Mars next July 14.

SIGN AID AGREEMENT
SEOUL, Korea (UPI)—South Korea and the United States today signed a $45 million aid agreement for 1965.

The agreement obligates the United States to provide South Korea with surplus farm products for that amount during the year.

LONG EMPLOYMENT

Recently I had a visit with Alan T. Jefferies, field inspector, Texas and Southwest Cattle Raisers Association, District 15, Headquarters Clarendon. Jefferies is 76 years of age and could easily pass for a man of age 60. He has been employed with this organization for 49 years, almost one-half of a century. He says there is more cattle rustling going on today than 49 years ago and too, they are much harder to catch even with two-way radios and all the modern facilities we have today. The general public and cattle rustlers in particular have come to respect the sign showing that a rancher is a member of the Texas and Southwest Cattle Raisers Association.

HINN SOYBEAN

I have been advised by Earl H. Collister, director, High Plains Research Foundation, Plainview, that certified henn soybeans will be available to producers that will agree to reproduce them for certification. The price is $8.00 per bushel. See me if you want to make an order.

FUTURES TRADING IN BEEF

Probably nothing has happened or will happen in the beef cattle business as significant as the futures market in the trading of choice slaughter steers. No doubt other classes of finished cattle as well as dressed beef will follow. Many people believe this will give much more stability to the cattle market, cutting out extreme highs and lows. Let's hope it doesn't stabilize it at present levels.

THIS AND THAT

Uncle Sam recently announced the discontinuance of the purchase of choice beef. In making the announcement, they reported the requirements for the 1964-65 school lunch program had been purchased. Total purchases amounted to two hundred million dollars, in their effort to support prices of beef. There is a heap of a lot of beef.

John McHaney, extension economist, Texas A and M, says there will be a further two to three per cent increase in beef production in 1965. John says fat cattle prices should hold near current levels into early 1965, however large increases in fed cattle marketing later in the winter may push prices down. He also states that a plentiful supply of feeder cattle will exert a downward pressure on prices.

John is our pessimistic economist, but he has a good record on hitting trends.

WHEAT NEED

MINNESAPOLIS (UPI) — At the present rate of world wheat consumption and population growth, the United States will need to increase its wheat production by 300 per cent in the next 25 years — even if American farmers are to provide only a fourth of the world's needs, according to H. Robert Diercks, an official of Cargill, Inc., grain exporter.

1965 Beef Crop Should Indicate Big Increase

COLLEGE STATION (SpI) — The 1965 outlook for beef production shows a likely increase of two to three percent over the past year.

The number of cattle and calves on January 1 will be up slightly from last January's mark of 106.3 million head," reports John G. McHaney, economist for Texas A&M. "This growth was slowed by an increase in slaughter and a decrease in live animal imports. A large part of the overall gain will be in calves from last year's calf crop."

Marketings of fed cattle in the first half of '65 will depend largely on the number placed on feed this winter. Large numbers of calves are available for feeding and if profitable feeding margins persist, placements in the first quarter of the coming year may be large again.

Fed cattle prices should hold near current levels into early 1965," McHaney says. "However, large increases in fed cattle marketings later in the winter may push these prices down."

Stocker and feeder shipments into the Corn Belt States were up 17 per cent in July and August and 21 per cent in September from a year earlier. Many of these cattle did not go directly into feedlots but to stalk fields. Some will be put on feed as soon as cleanup operations are completed.

"Since feeder cattle are plentiful, their prices will continue under pressure in early '65," the economist estimates.

The demand for stockers has also been less, since wheat pastures in some areas of the U.S. have been developing slowly.

County SCD News

By DALE R. BURRIS

One of the best methods that can be used by Gray County cattlemen to increase profits and reduce feed bills is proper range use. Proper range use can best be defined as "take half of the grass and leave half of the grass." Proper use is essential to obtain the most beneficial use of any tame pasture or native range. There are several reasons why proper use is essential for maximum results.

Proper use is directly related to the food manufacturing processes of forage grasses. Grass has the unusual ability to produce its own food. This process occurs in the green leaves of the grass in the presence of sunlight and chlorophyll. Food is manufactured in the leaves and transported through a vascular system similar to blood veins and is stored in the root system. Food is stored during the fall and used the following spring for regrowth. Since the food of grass is manufactured in the leaves it is necessary for forage grasses to maintain at least 50 per cent of their leaves in order to produce enough food.

Since leaf surface effects food production, and food production affects food storage, the amount of leaf surface on a plant affects the depth of the root system. Plants with healthy leaves will have healthy roots. A deep root system allows a plant to be more drought resistant and make more efficient use of moisture than a plant with a short root system.

Proper use effects the weaning weights and the selling grade of calves. Experiments have shown that calves weaned from cows on pastures that had been grazed below the proper use height, the calves weaned lighter in weight and graded lower than calves weaned from cows on pastures where proper use was maintained. These experiments were conducted with similar cows and bulls so that no inherited differences would be involved.

The lower 50 per cent of forage left on the ground after proper use is obtained is not wasted forage. The litter protects the soil from erosion, reduces evaporation, adds organic matter and minerals, increases water absorption, and retains a

Range Treatment Stops Poisoning

Research shows that proper management is still the best way to reduce the threat of livestock poisoning by plants on the range. USDA says. The cost of eradicating poisonous plants on ranges would be prohibitive.

Almost all poisonous plants are unpalatable to livestock and they are eaten only when no other feed is available. Exceptions include arrowgrass, lupine, larkspur and locoweed.

Reasons why livestock eat the unpalatable plants include low feed intake caused by overgrazing, drought, trailing or trucking; perverted appetites caused by a deficiency of salt, phosphorus or other minerals; the tendency of animals to eat anything available immediately after getting water, especially if they have been without water

PRETTY AGGIE — Cindy Davis of Fort Worth combines beauty and brains with an unusual vocational goal at Abilene Christian College. She is a junior animal husbandry major with a 3.26 grade average out of a possible 4.0. Her husband, Del of Abilene, is also a junior agriculture major at the college with a B-plus average. Abilene Christian College offers the bachelor of science degree in five areas of agriculture.

1964 Marked Start Of Futures Market

This past year may be remembered by brokers as the year cowboys invaded the trading floor.

The Chicago Mercantile Exchange began a system of beef cattle futures trading this year, and, without getting dirty boots or a sunburn, anybody with the money can become a cattle trader.

The biggest users of the new marketing device are expected to be traditional livestockman-producers, feeders, dealers and slaughterers, according to Ed Uvacek, a Texas A&M University livestock marketing specialist.

"Owing cattle always involves risks of death losses, sickness and price fluctuation," Uvacek said. "Futures trading allows some of this price risk to be shifted. It minimizes the effects of price changes and guarantees a price level."

The trading unit of the system is 25,000 pounds of USDA Choice grade live steers in one of two weight ranges. One is 1,000 to 1,150 pound steers that will yield 61 percent of this weight in carcass. The other is 1,151 to 1,300 pound steers that will yield 62 percent.

As in grain trading, a delivery month is specified in the contract. Cattle futures contracts can be made for April, June, August or October delivery to stockyards in Chicago or Omaha.

A commission rate of $36 is charged by the commodity broker for buying and selling a contract.

Nov. 30 was the first day of cattle futures trading. Uvacek said that trading started with tremendous activity and enthusiasm. At the end of the first week, contracts closed for April at $23.40 per hundred pounds; June, $23.65, August, $24.05, and Oct. $24.40.

Futures are not the answer to all the problems of the beef business," Uvacek said. "They will, however, provide the opportunity for hedging against the severe price fluctuations that are common in the industry."

IMC Planning Rome Office

HOUSTON — IMC Drilling Mud, International Minerals & Chemical Corporation, will open an office in Rome next month, reflecting an expanded program of raw materials procurement for drilling mud operations.

Alexander H. Baldo will head the office in the new position of Assistant Manager of Production - European Operations. He will be concerned principally with the procurement of barite, both through spot (cargo) purchases and production from IMC facilities.

Baldo, a graduate of the University of Missouri School of Mines has participated in a wide range of mining projects in the United States and overseas for the past 15 years, most recently with F. H. Linneman, Inc., Denver. Projects included water diversion tunnels, construction of underground missile silos, and all phases pertinent to the mining of surface and subsurface metallic and non-metallic ores.

Order Restored in Argentine Jail Riot

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (UPI)—About 60 convicts rioted Saturday in the huge Villa Devoto Prison here, setting fire to mattresses and other furnishings before prison guards could restore order.

Quality in Planting Is Good Insurance

Money invested in quality planting seed is good crop insurance. The use of the best seed of adapted varieties is basic to successful farming, says R. J. Mears, Texas Agricultural extension service agronomist. Now, is the time, he adds, to make arrangements for needed seed for planting the 1965 crop.

Youth Resting After Leg Amputation

(LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A 16-year-old boy who ran away from home because he would rather die than have his cancerous leg removed spent a quiet day in the hospital following the amputation surgery. Surgeons performed the two-hour operation at Orthopaedic Hospital Thursday on Ronald Esker, of Panorama City, Calif. The surgery was "well tolerated" according to doctors who described the youth's condition as "good."

The left leg was removed above the knee, and well above the cancerous area, surgeons said.

Baker ran away from home less than two weeks ago when he first heard the operation was imminent.

Dr. J. Vernon Luck, famed medical director of Orthopaedic Hospital, said, "without amputation of his affected leg, Ronnie would be sure to die within a year or two."

New Senators Biographies Are Interesting

Here are capsule biographies of the eight new senators in the 89th Congress:

Robert F. Kennedy: Declared himself a "New Yorker by choice" when he announced his candidacy for the Senate from New York. He had to. The 33-year-old brother of the late John F. Kennedy had not lived in New York long enough to vote himself. Kennedy's defeat of Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., makes him a force to be reckoned with in Democratic politics. The former attorney general's election marks the first time in U.S. history that a single family had produced three senators in one generation.

Joseph D. Tydings: Followed in his father's political footsteps to defeat Republican Sen. J. Glenn Beall for one of Maryland's Senate seats. The 35-year-old stepson of the late Sen. Millard E. Tydings was an early supporter of the late President John F. Kennedy, who encouraged him to make the race against Beall. A seven year veteran of the Maryland Legislature and former U.S. attorney for the state, he conducted his campaign along Kennedy-type lines, complete with whistle stop train tours and "teas for Tydings."

Walter F. Mondale: 36, takes over the Senate seat vacated by Vice President Elect Hubert H. Humphrey. One of the youngest senators in Minnesota history, Mondale won a two year term in 1960 as state attorney general after serving briefly in the post as an appointee of the then Gov. Orville Freeman. Two years later he was re-elected by one of the biggest margins ever given a Minnesota candidate for state office.

R. BRASS: 46, a five term veteran of the House, won election to the unexpired portion of the term of the late Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn. In so doing, the Democratic lawmaker from Pulaski proved that his voice for the civil rights bill was no political handicap in Tennessee. A gray-haired six-footer, Bass and his wife, a former model, worked as a campaign team. He defeated Gov. Frank G. Clement to win the nomination for the Senate.

Paul Fannin: 56, takes over the Arizona Senate seat of his political mentor and longtime friend, Sen. Barry M. Goldwater. Fannin had never sought a public office before and he bucked a Democratic tide to win election as governor in 1958. He breezed home twice more, in 1960 and 1962, before making his bid for the Senate after Goldwater won the GOP presidential nomination.

Joseph M. Montoya: 49, who never had lost a race in his 27 years in politics, kept his record clear by defeating Republican incumbent Edwin L. Mechem for the Senate seat from New Mexico once held by the late Dennis Chavez. A strong liberal, Montoya began his political career before he was 21 when he ran successfully for the New Mexico legislature. He served seven years in the House prior to his Senate bid.

He said the handsome, dark haired teen-ager would be walking within two months or boost shortly before the operation Thursday by a visit from Patty Hundlee 17, whose left leg was amputated 2 1/2 years ago, also to stop the spread of when it happened to me," the pretty, Flintridge, Calif. teenager said. "I needed a lot of answers ahead to a future that can be pretty, happier than he may realize."

DRESS REHEARSAL MOSCOW (UPI)—Moscow's operetta theater held a dress rehearsal Saturday of a Russian language version of "My Fair Lady." The musical will open Monday night for a repertory run in the theater. It is the first time "My Fair Lady" has played in Moscow.

Pampa Wins Tourney

Pampa pulled steadily away in the second half Saturday night to win the annual Top O' Texas basketball tournament, 81-61 over Lawton, Oklahoma.

The victory powered the Harvesters to their ninth straight Top O' Texas tournament win.

Lawton played it close in the first half but fouls got them in trouble, early and they were never the same team in the last two periods.

The Wolverines' 6'6" center Benny Wiggins went off the court at halftime with four fouls and wound up the night with 12 points, far below his 15.8 average.

Lawton forged into an 18-11 first period lead on the heavy shooting of Wiggins and Chuck Large, who paced the Lawton scoring with 21 points.

Unitas Chosen Player of Year

NEW YORK (UPI)—Johnny Unitas, the mastermind quarterback who revived the Baltimore Colts this season, Saturday was chosen the Player of the Year for 1964 in the National Football League by United Press International.

The 31-year-old Unitas was the overwhelming choice of the 42 writers on the UPI panel which determined the selection. He received 29 votes compared to five for roommate Lenny Moore and four each for Jimmy Brown of the Cleveland Browns and Johnny Morris of the Chicago Bears.

It marked the second time Unitas has won the outstanding player award, a feat only three other N.F.L. players have achieved. Unitas also was Player of the Year in 1959, when he led the Colts to the world championship. He joins Otto Graham ('53-'55), Y. A. Tittle ('57-'62) and Jim Brown ('58-'63) as two-time winners.

The Colts rebounded from a third place finish in 1963 to win the Western Conference title of the N.F.L. with three games still remaining on the schedule. They lost the championship to the Cleveland Browns.

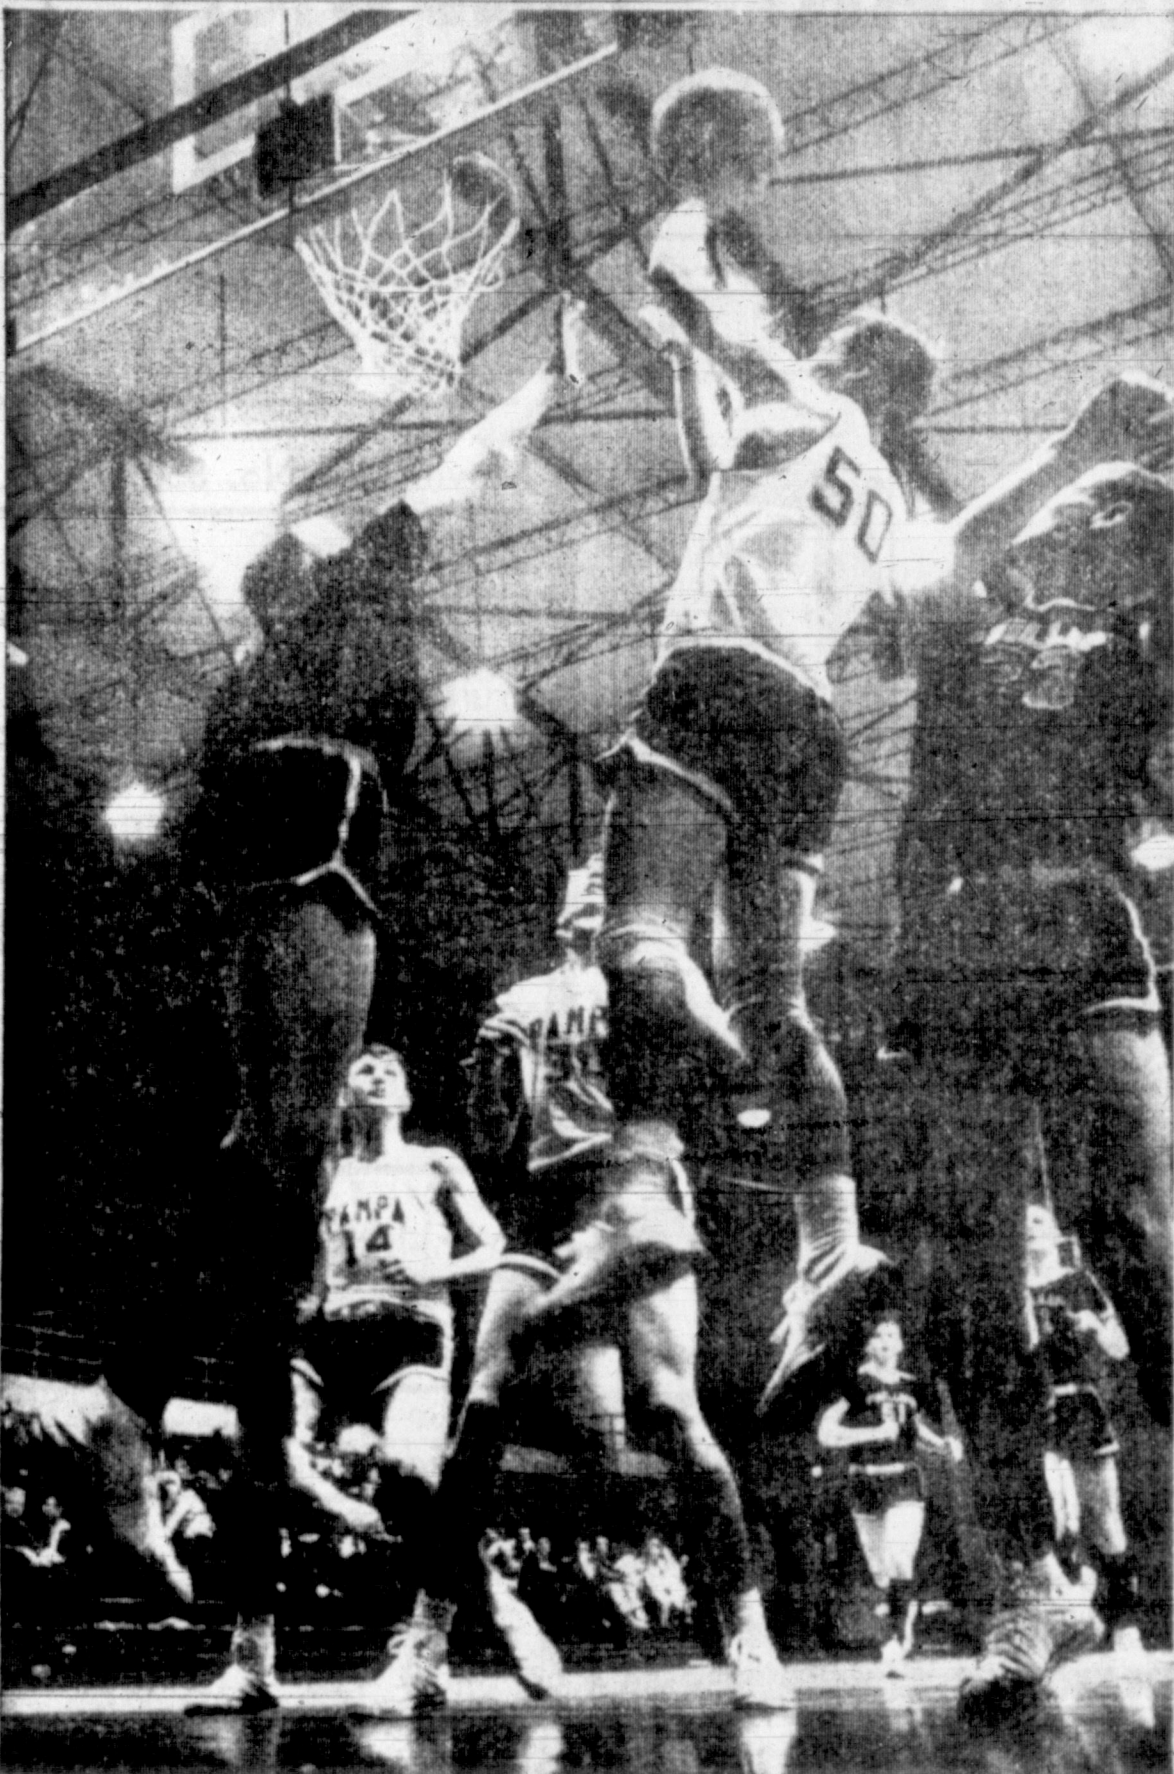

In the Colts surge, Unitas guided the League's most explosive offense, which topped the circuit in points scored (331), touchdowns (41) and total yards gained (3,333).

Unitas ranked fourth among the League's passers, although he threw less this season than in any of his last five seasons.

Palmer Favored In LA Open Golf

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The richest tour in the history of professional golf will get under way on Friday when the $70,000 Los Angeles Open, one of the stalwarts of the circuit, rolls into action.

The favorite, naturally, will be Arnold Palmer, who was edged in the big money race during 1963 by Jack Nicklaus, who is skipping this event.

ANOTHER BASKET — David McDaniel (50) pops in another basket for the Harvesters in their 81-61 victory over the Phillips Blackhawks. No. 30 for Pampa is Ropes Roper. Two Pampa players, Carl Reed (23) and Mike Kimmins (15) try to stop McDaniel's shot.

Phillips Nips Dumas for 3rd

Phillips and Dumas battled heads for two periods Saturday night before the Blackhawks pulled away for a 61-51 victory in the Top O' Texas basketball tournament.

The win earned the Blackhawks third place in the tournament. They were beaten Friday night by Pampa, 88-72.

Dumas fell Friday night to Lawton, Oklahoma, 61-40.

In the Saturday night contest Phillips took a quick 1-0 lead, only to see Dumas come back for a 2-1 edge.

After Phillips tied the count at 2-2 the lead changed hands 10 times before the quarter ended showing the two teams knotted at 13-13.

The Blackhawks took a 15-13 second period lead and then the teams exchanged free tosses. The Hawks made use of four more charity tosses and led at halftime, 32-28.

The Demons came back strong in the third quarter to tie at 38-38 behind the shooting of Jim Kirkland, who paced the Dumas scoring with 21 points.

Larry Lewis pumped in three straight free throws to give the Blackhawks a 45-41 third period lead.

The Blackhawks began pulling away in the fourth period, thanks to their free throw shooting. The Hawks connected for seven fourth period free tosses.

Lewis led the Blackhawks scoring with 27 points and Boykin hit 18.

Jim Grisham, went over from the one and Butch Metcalf kicked the only extra point of the game.

The lead was short lived, however. Tensi and Biletnikoff, sharing the most valuable player award, began running up the score and thrilling a sell-out crowd of 50,408 as well as a national television audience.

The Seminoles led 24-7 at halftime, thanks to the three Tensi-Biletnikoff touchdowns. The Sooners gained some life in the third period when Biletnikoff fumbled away the ball on an attempted punt catch on his 2 yard line and Tommy Panell went over three plays later.

However, Florida State regained its edge on the final play of the third period on Tensi's pass to Floyd Oklahoma, still scrapping, then broke another Gator Bowl record when substitute quarterback Ronnie Fletcher connected with sophomore end Ben Hart on a 95-yard touchdown pass play.

"Truthfully, I think the kid would like a good feed a lot of times instead of a basket. That's my only criticism of him. He's not hungry enough."

"If I had his shooting ability I'd be throwing a few up."

Sooners Axed, 36-19

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—Towering quarterback Steve Tensi and flanker back Fred Biletnikoff Saturday staged the greatest aerial show in the history of the Gator Bowl to lead the Florida State Seminoles to a 36-19 victory over Oklahoma.

The two Seminoles accounted for four touchdowns, three in a 12 minute span of the second period, and between them broke every passing record in the 20-year-old bowl.

The Sooners, playing without signed pro contracts last week, tried to double team Biletnikoff, but never found the right combination to halt the Seminoles' passing attack.

The 6-foot-5 Tensi, the Nation's sixth leading college passer this past season, threw touchdown passes of 15, 14 and 19 yards to Biletnikoff in the second period. He hit the flanker back for 7 yards and a touchdown in the fourth period and threw another of 12 yards to end Don Floyd just as the third period ended for a total of five.

Houston Oilers Owner Says Court Action Will be Taken on Owls Neely

HOUSTON (UPI)—Oilman K. S. (Bud) Adams, owner of the Houston Oilers pro football team, said Saturday his team will fight it out in court if necessary with the Dallas Cowboys to keep the contract of Oklahoma tackle Ralph Neely.

Neely has signed contracts with both Oilers and Cowboys in what three colleges and pro leagues into another squabble over premature signings.

Adams said the Oilers consider the contract signed by Neely is legal and binding. Neely had said Oilers had told him the contract, signed before Neely was to play in Saturday's Gator Bowl, was not binding and would not affect his eligibility.

But Neely and three teammates were kicked off the Oklahoma team before the bowl game, for signing with pros.

Adams pooh-poohed Neely's impression that the contract was not binding.

"At the time of the signing, we also got him a year-round job and he was very glad to sign that. There were other considerations signed at the time and he accepted and signed them. He knew full well at the time that we were signing a contract," Adams said.

The West, down 7-4 with the West to the five with key passes to Clarence Williams of Washington State and Larry Elkins of Baylor just before his payoff pitch to Schraub, a 6-6 end who teamed with Morton at California.

Quarterbacks Roger Stanbach of Navy and Fred Mazurek of Pittsburgh led the East to its only score early in the third period while the West scored its first four points on a pair of safeties.

Rain fell throughout the game and mud three inches deep covered the Kezar stadium turf.

REBOUND OFF — Ropes Roper (30) takes a rebound away from Lawton's Benny Wiggins (15) as the Harvesters ran to an 81-61 victory and the Top O' Texas tournament championship Saturday night. David McDaniel (50) comes up to help Roper, and to the left No. 30 is Mac McWilliams. Standing beside McWilliams is Lawton's Eddie Hinton.

Wichita Coach All Smiles

NEW YORK (NEA)—Gary Thompson goes around smiling and happy all the time, which is only natural for someone who has inherited the equivalent of a million dollars.

Thompson's inheritance was the Wichita University basketball team, and he got it when his former coach and boss, Ralph Miller, accepted the Iowa job.

All Miller left was forward Dave Stallworth, the 6-7 All-America, and four other starters from last year's NCAA tournament team plus a second-line frontcourt that averages 6-foot-7.

"There are two ways of looking at it," said Thompson, who played backcourt for Wichita from 1951 through '54. "A lot of times a young coach looks for a place that's been down for a few years. He wants to come in and build — be a hero.

"But not me. I prefer this instead of coming in cold. That's because I like to feel I had a little bit to do with building this club. There's not a boy on this team that I didn't help to recruit."

"Right now it looks like a poor move, but we won't fold. We have a good bench and when I've called on them they do the job."

"I'm not saying right now who will replace Stallworth because I've got three guys fighting for the spot and I want them to keep battling each other." The three are 6-9 junior Gerald Davis, 6-7 senior Larry Nisich and 6-8 sophomore Mel Reed.

None, however, is a new Stallworth and Thompson realizes this.

"Stallworth is a complete ball-player," Thompson said.

"He possesses everything an inside man needs. He has all the shots — with either hand. He has natural speed and is probably the fastest man on the ball club."

"His passing game is very sharp, too, and has improved 50 per cent. In fact, the professional scouts have been coming up to me and asking if I worked on his passing game with him. I didn't. He's just that natural. He's led the team in assists for three years.

"Anyway, I don't particularly feel like a rookie. You don't come out of seven years as a Missouri Valley assistant feeling like that."

Pampa Solves Phillips; Lawton Tumbles Dumas

Pampa and Lawton advanced to the finals of the Top of Texas basketball tournament Saturday night with impressive play.

Phillips, 61-40 while Pampa routed Phillips, 88-72. Lawton played board-control type basketball but Dumas parried P's outside shooting to earn a 13-13 first period tie.

But the Wolverines got their scoring machine in gear and began pulling away early in the second period. Dumas forgot to guard 6'9 Benny Wiggins and that was a mistake. Wiggins pumped in 11 points and ball-hawking Chuck Large hit six to give the Wolves a 38-20 halftime lead. Dumas fought back gallantly thanks to the rebounding of Wiggins, Large and Eddie Hinton. The Demons were forced to do all their shooting from the outside but trailed on 45-32 after three periods.

Wiggins wound up high point for the evening with 22 points. Large added 15 and Wooten 10 for the Wolves. Kirkland paced the Demons with 11 and Ronnie Stephenson contributed nine. Pampa had five players hit in the double figure bracket. Mac McWilliams paced the Harvesters cause with 24 points. Ropes Roper hit 17, Lewis scored 16 Curlee 15 and McDaniel scored 12. The Harvesters jumped to a 21-14 first period lead with Curlee, McWilliams and Ropes doing the damage.

World Gopher Meets Them All

By Bill McCormick
NEW YORK (NEA) — Jack Redmond, 73, recently won a world of golf in 74, which is extraordinarily for an old man. It was unusual in that the holes were played on as many different countries, one to each. He is always up something like that.

TEXAS TWIST — Workouts like these did the University of Texas a lot of good. The Steers go through their Texas Twist in practice, before they waxed No. 1-rated Alabama, 21-17.

IT WAS A MIXED UP 1964

Top Sports Story, You Pick It

NEW YORK (UPI) — Major league baseball won most of the headlines, pro football picked up most of the money and the United States wound up glittering with the most Olympic gold.

That's one way to sum up the sports year of 1964 — a sometimes screwy, mixed up 12 months, marked generally as another landmark for sports prosperity.

It was a year in which the public image of major league baseball hit a new low; one in which television made its greatest impact in the sports field.

Never has baseball seen such strange maneuvers as those in 1964. And never before have the owners of professional sports franchises been assured of profitable seasons in advance such as before the club owners of the American and National Football Leagues through rich television contracts.

It was truly a year of the phenomena in sports. Amazing is the best description for such outstanding things as: The U.S. winning 36 gold medals to 30 for favored Russia in the October Olympic games in Tokyo.

A heavyweight championship fight in which Cassius Clay, who wanted to quit, won the title from Sonny Liston, who did quit.

A National League pennant race which wasn't decided until the final day of the season. A World Series aftermath in which the winning manager took the job of the manager he beat in the Series.

Redmond has had other experiences with wildlife. In Singapore there were some serious tracks on one green. Jack recalls, "I asked the caddy that they were."

Redmond has done most of his traveling as a golf instructor on ship tours. He gives lessons board and trick shot-off the stern occasionally for the edification of the passengers. Usually, he gives an exhibition at every stop on a cruise where there is enough layover time.

There were other surprises on the playing field besides that Cardinal triumph. Jim Bunning of the Phillies pitched a perfect game against the New York Mets on June 21 and there were no-hitters by Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers, his third, and by Ken Johnson of the Houston Colts. But in keeping with the screwy times of baseball in 1964, Johnson lost his, on two ninth inning errors.

Not because of that, but by year's end the Houston club decided to change its name from the Colts to the "Astros."

Also, just before the year drew to a close, organized baseball invited a test of its anti-trust exemptions by voting for a free draft, thus doing away with the astronomical bonuses paid to untried but promising youngsters. The club owners, apparently concerned over "losing face" with the public, voted to give the new commissioner, who will succeed Ford Frick at the close of the 1965 season, the same power which used to be wielded by the late Kenesaw Mountain Landis.

All of those doings won major league baseball the sports pages headlines award of the year. But it had plenty of competition.

Baseball's strange shennigans were not confined to the front offices. They spread into the playing fields, too. Premature Sweeping Long before the season was over, Gussie Busch decided his St. Louis Cardinals were not going to win the National League pennant and began a house cleaning operation, firing, among others, General Manager Bing Devine. But Busch turned out to be a poor prognosticator for under manager Johnny Keane, the Cards came on to win the pennant on the final day of the season after the Philadelphia Phillies went into a 10-game nose-dive losing streak just when it appeared they had the pennant won.

Early Indications There was a harbinger that

Redmond believes good golf consists of only one thing — training the body to swing the club properly and automatically, then forgetting about everything but hitting the ball when you swing but hitting the ball when you step up to it.

A resurgence of Notre Dame in the college football world. A resounding triumph for the U.S. in the America's Cup yacht races.

The decline of the 1963 NFL champions, the New York Giants and the Chicago Bears. A supposedly washed up golfer, Ken Venturi, winning the U.S. Open championship despite near heat exhaustion.

A near triple crown winner in horse racing. New attendance and gate receipts records, notably in pro and college football and horse racing.

The first perfect game in modern National League baseball history. A new city joins the major league clubs and an old gold mine drops out.

The continued drawing power of the lowly New York Mets and a remarkable attendance showing by an American Football League club, the New York Jets.

The brilliant Olympic triumphs of Billy Mills and Don Schollander.

Those were merely the cream of the sports highlights in 1964. There were scores of others.

The Southwest Conference allows Arkansas to keep $60,000 and approximately $3,000 in travel expenses, with other members of the league getting $18,600 each. The Hogs will net some $81,000.

The Big Eight has a similar rule but is expected to revise it and allow Nebraska to keep $70,000 plus $5,000 traveling expense. Dividing the remainder eight ways will give Nebraska a net of about $83,000.

SOMETHING WAS WRONG

Matson Sets Shot Record

Randy Matson, the 19-year-old, 6'7 by 275 pound Olympic silver medal winner from Texas A and M and Pampa set another record Friday night.

Matson, way off form, heaved the shot 62 feet 10 and three-quarter inches to break the record of the Orange Bowl track meet.

The old record was set last year by Gary Gubner of New York University with a toss of 59-7 1/2.

"I just didn't have good form today," Matson said. "Something wasn't going right. Maybe it's just that I didn't have enough practice."

The former Pampa high school All-Stater said that he didn't know until two weeks ago he would be in the Orange meet.

Matson had been putting the 16-pound ball 65 feet in practice and hit his Orange Bowl record on the second of his six attempts.

Matson finished second to world record holder Dallas Long in the Tokyo Olympics. He has put the shot 66-0 and three-quarters for his best effort.

Long, who retired after setting a world record of 67 feet, 10 inches has said Matson is a cinch to become the greatest shot putter of all time.

Randy has said he is entertaining thoughts of playing either football or basketball this year. He was a standout in both high school but has kept a busy schedule and hasn't had time in college.

A sprinter from Florida A and M stole the show as he churned to an American record of 30 seconds flat in the 300 yard dash.

Grady Smith broke a 45-year-old record with his dash. The old mark was held by Charlie Paddock in 1920 with a run of 30.2.

Nichols Is Top Putter

CHICAGO (UPI)—PGA champion Bobby Nichols, who also won pro golfer's richest tourney in 1964, Saturday was named "Putter of the Year" by the Golf Writers Association.

Nichols, 28, a former star at Texas A&M, will receive a Steuben glass punch bowl. He was fifth leading money winner with earnings of $74,012, including $18,000 for the PGA title and $35,000 for his Detroit victory in the Carling Open.

Nichols won the award using a $5.00 putter he picked up second hand only a week before the PGA.

He was the first golfer ever to win two golf writers trophies. He was voted the Ben Hogan trophy, awarded to a player who overcomes a physical handicap, two years ago.

Five previous awards of the putter trophy have been made, to Art Wall, Deane Beman, Jerry Barber, R. H. Sikes and Billy Casper Jr.

WARMI'G UP—Out of action for three weeks with an undisclosed illness, Toronto Maple Leaf hockey star Frank Mahovlich comes back to the job for practice before returning to full duty.

Pampa Youth and Community Center

Tomorrow night, Jan. 4 at 7:00 p.m. a new and exciting class will meet at the Center. A fencing class has made arrangements to use the Center on Monday nights. This will be unique for fencing has not been offered in the Pampa area. The fencing instructor will be Joe Pafford who is employed by Cabot Corporation. He is interested in others joining the class and you can attend the first meeting or contact him at MO 4-2581 or at 2511 Charles. Each fencing member will be a member of the Center. Memberships are for individuals $5 for six months and $8 per year while family memberships are $12 and $20 respectively.

New swim classes will be offered starting Jan. 4, in the form of polywog and intermediates. The polywog classes will meet at 4:00 p.m. and the intermediates will meet at 5 p.m. Classes run for 10 meetings. Polywogs are pre-schoolers from 4 - 6 years of age not in school. The center is the only pool in this area which has a class for this age group. Center members will be enrolled free of charge while non-members will pay an instructional fee of $3. Enrollment is now going on and will continue through Jan. 5.

An activity which a lot of people do not know about which meets at the Center is the Calico Capers Square Dance Club. This is an adult square dance club for singles or couples. A center sustaining membership is required of all members. Club dues are $4 a month per couple. The Capers meet on Saturday nights at 8:00 p.m. except fifth Saturday nights. They attend several jamborees around the area and stage several large jamborees of their own through the year. They also give square dance lessons twice a year. Anyone interested could contact Dane Barteel, club president.

The Center's Top O' Texas Basketball Tournament for men will be held this year on March 22-26. This will be the second year for the invitational meet. All teams from our league and any team from other towns or cities will be invited. Entry fee for the tournament will be $15 and will be due on or before March 17, 1965. Defending champion is radio station KPDN.

Backstairs At The Whitehouse

By ALVIN SPIVAK
JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI)
— Backstairs at the White-

House.
A friend of President Johnson's pleased him highly the other day by noting that "we all dress differently nowadays or else you'd go to your inauguration dressed like Thomas Jefferson."

Not everyone commenting on Johnson's sartorial plans for his Jan. 20 inauguration has been so kind. He has received a lot of mail criticizing his decision to wear an Oxford gray business suit to the ceremony rather than traditional formal clothes. There has been a lot of favorable mail, too — but Johnson is not concerned about any of it, either way. He's made up his mind and will stand by his decision.

Hearing the previously mentioned comment about how styles have changed since Jefferson's time, Johnson couldn't have cared less about white tie and tails. He was wearing, at the time, a rumpled pair of gabardine trousers which he considered appropriate for a day at his ranch.

Away from the ranch, Johnson is well dressed. Not very long ago, as a matter of fact, the Custom Tailors Guild of America, Inc., named him the most stylishly tailored man in American politics.

Johnson won that title by just six votes over Republican Senator-elect George Murphy of California. Johnson's defeated campaign opponent, Sen. Barry Goldwater, came in a poor third in the tailoring tally.

This wasn't the first time Johnson was cited as one of America's best dressed men. His wardrobe is large and of high quality, and Johnson cares a great deal about how suits fit — through during the campaign he was seen several times hitching up his trousers after the rigors of his day's travels had the pants dropping a bit.

According to reports, Johnson has a London tailor, and another in Texas who custom tailor his suits with measurements they keep on file. He also has a tailor in Washington. All of their names are secret.

There was no secret, however, about the Washington clothing merchants — formal, that is — who were up in arms when Johnson vetoed soup and fish attire for his swearing in.

BACK IN U.S.
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — A group of entertainers headed by Bob Hope was back in Hollywood today, following a two-week tour of the Far East to entertain servicemen.
His group included Jerry Colonna, Jill St. John, Anna Maria Albergheiti, Janis Paige and Les Brown's band. They left here Dec. 15 and entertained at Wake Island, Korea, Thailand, Viet Nam, Guam and The Philippines.

Elisha Gray of Chicago and Alexander Graham Bell of Boston, acting independently, both applied for patents on the telephone on the same day in 1876.

Six Men Patrol Pampa During Lonely Night Hours

While most Pampans are sound asleep in their homes six men are restlessly patrolling alleys, streets, watching strange cars and waiting watchfully for law breakers. These men are the police officers who work the graveyard shift between 11 p.m. and 7 a.m. seven days a week. Their living schedule is upset by most standards but the positions they fill are those that deter law breakers from running rampant through the night.

Five of the men working the night hours are in patrol cars covering assigned beats while the sixth operates the radio that links the five men together. The communication system also helps organize the pursuit of a criminal and brings aid to a patrolman trying to arrest a simple "drunk."

The majority of the officers' time is spent driving up and down streets and alleys watching for unusual activity that might mean a robbery or burglary in the offing. Doors of business establishments are checked and persons stopped in an usual place during the early morning hours are checked in a pleasant manner.

The busiest hours for the watchful patrolmen come shortly after midnight when bars close and persons having drank a little too much are on the streets in cars. These persons sometimes pass by without attracting attention but at other times their driving brings officers to the scene with arrests to follow.

FIERCE — Checking locked doors in an alley of downtown Pampa is patrolman Bob Maddox and police dog Tyi. The dog's attack in the top right photo was sparked when the photographer approached to take the picture. Maddox and Tyi work a split shift which starts at 8 p.m. and ends at 4 a.m. The dog's super sensitive hearing, sight and sense of smell aids the patrolman in working the darker areas of the city in a continual search for trouble.

PAPER WORK — Following an arrest of any kind forms must be filled out and a jailed person's belongings must be filed. Bottom center photo shows Willie (Buck) Jenkins filling out forms after putting a resident in jail for drunkenness. Charges were filed and each item listed after the uncooperative subject was placed in the "drunk tank" to sober up.

STARTS PATROL — Patrolman Raymond Whitson, lower left photo, gets in his patrol car shortly after coming on duty to start the night long vigil against crime. Each patrolman has a specific area of the town to cover during the long lonely night hours.

CHECKING — Patrolman J. B. Goad, bottom right photo, checks the driver's license and issues a warning about driving habits. The driver stopped was seen driving away from a local tavern in a reckless manner and a routine check followed with stern verbal warning.

Passing Show
Sunday

By PEGGY JO ORMSON

WITH THE COMING of the New Year and the passing of the old, it's now time for Pampa's youngsters to return to the classrooms and 'older' residents to settle down to the task of making 1965 the best and happiest year ever. Pampans greeted the New Year in the traditional ways by attending church services, gay festivities, family gatherings, making resolutions and eating blackeyed peas. A Happy New Year wish to residents of our town and may all of your fondest dreams come true. Now, on with the news of what has been happening around town the past week.

ONE OF THE highlights of the holiday season was the open house hosted on Christmas day by Bernice and Buck Miller in their lovely home on North Russell. Seen visiting and enjoying the festive atmosphere were Eleanor (Mrs. Clifford) Braly in a beige and brown raw silk, Sylvia Conley wearing a red and white checked cruise suit accompanied by husband Don, Harriet Hampton, who looked lovely in black which set off her high-piled dark tresses, and Dr. Ray Hampton, Mary Williams with her two attractive daughters from Dallas all three dressed in Christmas white, Bill and Alice Smith with Alice in a beige silk suit with an heirloom butterfly pin on her lapel. The Millers' two daughters and husbands, Pat and Bob Lively of Andrews and Greto and Bill Arrington, assisted in entertaining. The Rue Hestands held open house for friends to close out the old year on New Year's eve. Adriene and Jack Foster started off the new year just right by holding open house for their many friends on New Year's Day. Adriene's mother from St. Louis was present as was daughter, Sue, who teaches in Dallas. Ann and Joe DiCosmo hosted a holiday open house for Robert E. Lee faculty members and their wives, husbands or sweethearts. A last footnote on Christmas decorating. Betty and Smiley Henderson had the most unusual lighting effect using lights in paper-bags around all the walks leading to their home.

CHRISTMAS IS certainly family time and many families were seen out together. The Marvin Coopers were seen with sons Earl and Mert and Mert's lovely brunette wife. Earl is a ministerial student at Iliff in Denver and Mert at Perkins in Dallas. Both boys delivered the two morning services at First Methodist Church. John Wagoner, also a ministerial student at Perkins Theology School, visited his parents, Helen and Bill Wagoner, and filled the pulpit at First Methodist Sunday evening service. Rev. Harry Vanderpool stated that it is unusual for any church to have five ministerial students from its congregation at one time as does First Methodist. May have been a good coincidence that Raymond Nace, son of the Carlton Nances, and Mike Palmer, son of the Coy Palmers, were attending the Methodist Student Movement Conference in Lincoln Neb., or it might have been necessary to conduct five services last Sunday so all could have taken a turn in the pulpit. Doris and Bill Taylor were here for the holidays visiting Doris' parents, Tody and Bill Jarvis. Joyce and Clem Hemsell and children from Dallas visited Joyce's parents, Irene and Lee Harrah. Seen dining together were the Reno Stinsons and daughter, Jerry Nell Griffith and daughters, former Pampa residents now living in Amarillo. The Hugh Ellises had at their table their daughter and husband, William and Harold Craddock and children, Gail and Mark. The Jim McBrooms were dining with daughter Carol and husband of Lubbock. Also seen out dining together were the R. L. Edmondson families, both junior and senior and children.

MAYOR RAEBURN Thompson and wife seemed pleased to be entertaining daughter Joan Thompson and husband of Dallas at Sunday dinner. Yes, her married name is also Thompson. Donna Cornutt and children were seen dining with Donna's mother, Mrs. Doc Purseley, on Sunday also. George and Elizabeth Scott had a happy holiday season with daughter Betty Joyce, son-in-law Don Ewen and granddaughters here. Tom and Alison Snow found Christmas especially merry when Alison's parents arrived via plane from Las Vegas, Nev., Christmas Eve. Carmel and Veri Hagaman went to Denver to spend Christmas with daughter, Joan Hagaman. Nancy and Ed Watt traveled to Midland to spend Christmas with Nancy's family. Susanne and Don Lane and children spent Christmas with Susanne's parents in Elk City, Okla. Becky and Al Schuneman had as Christmas houseguests the Orby Atkins and Robert of Kansas City. Jane Atkins is Becky's sister. Ilene and W. T. Wilborne journeyed to Decatur to spend Christmas with W. T.'s mother. Will and Curt Beck and children flew to Dallas to spend Christmas. Lucille and George Friauf visited their son and family, the Frank Friaufs in Fort Worth during the holidays. Udo Specht arrived a week ago yesterday from Austin for a short visit with his parents, Gretel and Otto Specht. Linda and Brent Perry were here from Arlington visiting her parents, Margaret and Aubrey Steele, and Linda also served in the house party for the Hopkins-Jones wedding. The Frank Dials enjoyed a family Christmas with son, Capt. John Dial and wife from Sioux City, Iowa, son Dan Dial of Austin and daughter and family, Carolyn and Warren Eaton and children from Albuquerque, N.M., here. Betty Gail and Ronald Rogers of Houston spent the happy day with their parents, the J. T. Richardsons and C. B. Rogers. First Lt. Jim and Meredith Parrish and son, Tim, of Colorado Springs, Colo. visited Jim's parents, the B. H. Parrishes over the holidays. Meredith is the daughter of the Tom Brooks, former Pampans now living in Amarillo. Wadene and Gene Vineyard and sons of Amarillo spent Christmas with Wadene's mother, Mrs. Dora Thomason and sister and family Betty and Louie Hooper. Betty is now undergoing medical treatment in St. Anthony's Hospital, Amarillo.

HAD A GLIMPSE of the life-size, two inch mahogany wood carving of St. Matthew that Marion (Mrs. Don) George is doing for St. Matthew's Episcopal Church. The carving, which will take Marion six months to complete, will be placed in the church in memory of Mr. Pampa, M. K. Brown. This beautiful addition to St. Matthew's will be shown in an exhibit in Canyon prior to being placed in the church. Dedication services will be held in May. Olive and A. D. Hills left Tuesday for Lafayette, La., to visit Carl and Mary Hills. They plan to enjoy the deep south climate for a couple of weeks. Another couple off for a grand winter outing is Ruth and Grundy Morrison, who also left Tuesday for Florida to be houseguests of Ruth's brother-in-law for two weeks and attend the Orange Bowl game. Katy and Dr. Julian Key have as their houseguests this weekend Lucille and Ed Weiss of Dallas. Alleith and Bob Curry and the Keys hosted a party for the Weiss' former Pampans, New Year's eve at the Curry home so Lucille and Ed could greet a few of their many Pampa friends. Understand Alleith has done an unbelievable job of gaily decorating the Curry home for the holidays and the open house.

REPEAT WEDDING VOWS — Miss Beverly Moore and Larry Ingram exchanged double-ring wedding vows at 3 p.m. Dec. 16 in Portales, N.M. The bride is the daughter of D. N. Moore of Pampa and Mrs. Opal Moore of Amarillo. Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Ingram, 1319 Hamilton, are the parents of the bridegroom. Attending the bridal couple were Miss Darlene Trollinger, college roommate of the bride, and Bob Prince, bridegroom's fraternity brother. The bride, a graduate of Pampa High School, attended North Texas State University. The bridegroom, a graduate of Pampa High School, attended Texas Christian University. The newlyweds are both students of Eastern New Mexico University where they plan to continue their educations.

Dear Abby...
G. I. Wife Asks for Repeat Performance

DEAR ABBY: I just received a letter from my husband in Korea and would like you to know how something you wrote in your column over a year ago has helped to keep our marriage a true one. I can best show you by quoting a portion of my husband's letter:

"Do you remember the clipping you sent me from Dear Abby's column when I first got over here? The one about the soldier in Korea who wanted to know what to do about his 'physical needs' while he was overseas? Well, I still carry it and I've read it so many times it is worn to shreds. It has helped to keep me strong. Honey—it's too bad the Army doesn't issue a copy to every man overseas. They could sure save a lot of money on curing V.D. and keep a lot of homes from breaking up."

Would you please print it again, Abby? I want to be sure the one my husband has now doesn't get too worn to read. Thank you.

A GRATEFUL READER
DEAR READER: With pleasure. Here it is:

DEAR ABBY: My problem is one that bothers thousands of other G.I.'s so I hope you will print your answer because it is needed badly. I am a happily married man with a wonderful wife and two small children back in the States. I've been in Korea for four months. After living a normal married life for three years, what is a young, healthy man supposed to do for his physical needs? There are 12 women for every G.I. over here, and women practically throw themselves at our feet. Don't get me wrong, Abby. I love my wife and always will, but I have a long hitch over here and I am only human. This letter is sincere and I am not ashamed to sign my name, but if you use it, please sign me.

"JERSEY"
And my reply:
DEAR JERSEY: Assume for a moment that I received the following letter: DEAR ABBY: I am a happily married woman with a wonderful husband and two small children. My husband has been in Korea for four months. After living a normal married life for three years, what is a young, healthy woman supposed to do for her physical needs? There are plenty of men around, and when they learn that my husband is in Korea they practically throw themselves at my feet. Don't get me wrong, Abby, I love my husband and always will, but he's going to be gone a long time and I am only human.

(signed) JERSEY'S WIFE
Well, Jersey, I would tell that woman to keep as busy as possible with her duties and as many wholesome activities as her time and energy permit. I'd suggest reading, exhausting physical exercise, and yes, even prayer. I'd tell her to stay sober and to avoid temptation, and to write to you every day! And that, Jersey, is my answer to you and to all your buddies in the same lonesome boat.
Sincerely,
ABBY

DEAR ABBY: The lady with whom I've been keeping company for two years is a widow and I am a widower. We're both up there in years and have grandchildren. My problem is that she loves to dance. I enjoy dancing once in a while, but I can't take her dancing every

Dinner Meeting Is Held by Altrusans

Twenty-two members and three guests of Altrusa Club of Pampa met Monday evening at 7 o'clock for a dinner meeting. Emily Coston, president, called the club to order and asked for reports of committees. Lora Dunn, gave the secretary's report and Marian Jameson gave the treasurer's report. Mrs. Coston reported that the club had received a Christmas card from E. C. Sidwell along with a $25 donation to be used for Senior Citizens Center. Mrs. Jameson reported on the Career Clinic to be held at Pampa High School Feb. 17. Leah Behrman reported on the club fund-raising project and Marie Fitzgerald asked members to assist with Senior Citizens Center birthday to be held Jan. 7. Correspondence was read by Mrs. Dunn from Francis Grimes, attending nurses training in Amarillo with the aid of Altrusa Club, and from Etta Jane Butler regarding the possibility of organizing an Altrusa Club in Perryton.

Miss Karen Hepler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hepler, December Altrusa Girl, was introduced by Viola Jordan. Mrs. Jameson introduced her sister and daughter, Mabel Wolfe and Vicky Collier.

The program "Putting CLASS in Classification" was under the direction of Na Pool, chairman of the committee on classification. Participating in the presentation of the program were Ruth Sewell, Irene Smith, Lou Ella Patterson and Lena Pearl Hobbs.

Sara Ann Gordon and Foy Gerald Shackelford Exchange Double-Ring Vows in Church Ceremony

Mrs. Foy Gerald Shackelford nee Sara Ann Gordon

First Methodist Church was the setting for the Tuesday evening wedding uniting Miss Sara Ann Gordon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wesley Gordon, 1811 Charles, and Foy Gerald Shackelford, son of Dr. and Mrs. Roy W. Shackelford of Amarillo.

Rev. Harry Vanderpool officiated the double-ring rite before an altar appointed with baskets of white chrysanthemums flanked by spiral candelabra holding white tapers and backed by tree candelabra bearing white tapers. Pews of the bridal aisle were marked with white mums and votive tapers.

Mrs. Hubert Carson, organist, presented traditional nuptial selections and accompanied Hubert Carson, soloist, as he sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Bridal attendants, wearing matching gowns of gold and white brocade satin, were Mrs. Joseph E. Tepera, bride's sister of Fort Worth; matron of honor, and bridesmaids Miss Lucile Gordon, bride's cousin, Mrs. Richard Jones of San Antonio and Miss Carmelita Hogan. The attendants' gowns were designed with empire bodices fashioned with scoop necklines and shirred elbow-length sleeves complimented by short kid gloves. The slim skirt, enhanced by back fullness, were floor length. They wore rose coils of gold satin and carried spray arrangements of white feathered mums.

Jim Gleason of Amarillo served the bridegroom as best man and ushers were Gary Shackelford, bridegroom's cousin, Lynn Dee Shackelford, bridegroom's brother of Amarillo, Rex McKay, Jim Campbell, Thomas F. Reid Jr. of Amarillo and Joe Thompson of Canyon.

Mrs. Gordon chose a dress of parchment chantilly lace over matching crepe complemented by a pale beige satin pillbox and luster kid pumps for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Jones was attired in a dress of powder blue silk brocade with brief jacket accented by a matching blue chiffon hat and satin pumps. Corsages for both mothers were of cymbidium orchids.

Pampa Country Club was the scene of the wedding reception held immediately following the ceremony. The bride's table, covered with a cloth of white satin, was centered with an arangement of white roses and silver candelabra with trailing smilax, and appointed with the four-tiered wedding cake. The bridegroom's table, covered with an off-white linen cloth, was centered with an arrangement of yellow roses flanked by gold candelabra and appointed with a gold coffee service.

Miss Julie Loewenstern of Amarillo presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Loyd A. Shackelford, bridegroom's aunt of Friona, presided at the coffee service. Serving the cake was Mrs. Clifford Braly at the bride's table and Mrs. Myron A. Marx Jr. at the bridegroom's table. Guests were registered by Miss Sandra Braly and Miss Linda Loewenstern. Other members of the houseparty included Mr. and Mrs. James B. Massa, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. John Rankin, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Batsou Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Homer Johnson, Mrs. Clifford Braly, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Sidwell, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Maguire Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Gordon, Myron A. Marx Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Earl O'Keefe of Amarillo, Gene Fatheree, Dr. Loyd Shackelford of Friona, and Dr. and Mrs. Marvin C. Overton.

For a wedding trip to Oklahoma City the bride changed into a costume suit of Dior blue wool lined in cranberry red jersey complemented by a cranberry red-velvet pillbox and lifted the orchid from her bridal bouquet. Upon their return the couple will make their home in Lynette Apartments, Apt. 38, Canyon.

The bride, a graduate of Pampa High School where she was a member of National Honor Society, is a senior at West Texas State University, majoring in business. The bridegroom, a graduate of Amarillo High School, is a senior at West Texas State University where he is majoring in economics.

Pre-nuptial courtesies extended the bridal couple included a dinner hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Homer Johnson in the Johnson home; a dinner dance at Coronado Inn's Pampa Club hosted by Gene Fatheree; a tea given at Pampa Country Club with Mrs. J. B. Massa, Mrs. F. M. Culbertson, Mrs. Fred Thompson, Mrs. George Scott, Mrs. Aubrey Steele, Mrs. Farris Oden and Mrs. Arthur Teed serving as hostesses; a shower given in Amarillo in the home of Mrs. Jack Flippin with Meses. Flippin, Tom Reid, Glynn Burrell, Everett Blanton, Newt Morton and Ralph Neidhart as hostesses; a shower given in Canyon by friends of the bride at West Texas State University, and the rehearsal dinner hosted by Dr. and Mrs. Foy W. Shackelford Monday night in Cibola Room of Coronado Inn.

Gamma Conclave Has Christmas Breakfast

Gamma Conclave of Kappa Kappa Iota Sorority held its annual Christmas breakfast recently in the home of Mrs. Ann Heskev at 1120 N. Somerville. The entertaining room was appointed in the Christmas motif.

Miss Jane Prock, William M. Martin
Pledge Vows in Central Baptist Church

At 3 o'clock the afternoon of Dec. 19, Miss L. Jane Prock and William M. Martin exchanged double-ring wedding vows before an altar appointed with candelabra bearing white tapers flanked by lemon leaves and baskets of white gladioli. Rev. Thurman Upshaw solemnized the pledging of vows in Central Baptist Church.

Mrs. William M. Martin nee Jane Prock

The bride is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Prock, 2319 Mary Ellen, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Martin, 945 Terry Rd.

Miss Eilene Trout, organist, presented traditional nuptial selections and accompanied Hugh Sanders, soloist, as he sang "I Love You Truly," "Because," and "The Wedding Prayer."

Mr. Prock gave his niece in marriage. The bride, gowned in white peau de soie, carried a white Bible topped with white gardenias and carnations. Her wedding gown was designed with fitted rosepoint lace bodice featuring a scalloped neckline edged with seed pearls and long pearl point sleeves. The full pleated skirt was chapel-length. A coil of lace encrusted with seed pearls secured the bride's waist-length veil of tulle.

Mrs. Allan Wise of Portales, N.M., attended her sister as matron of honor and Miss Karen Hepler and Miss Paula Sk... more served as bridesmaids. Bridal attendants were attired identically in mint green peau de soie gowns with fitted bodices, matching pillbox coils plumed with a white ostrich feather and carried bouquets of white carnations accented with green Christmas balls and matching ribbon streamers.

Bryan Martin of Norman, Okla., served his brother as best man while Paul Bagwell and Ralph Palmer, both of Norman, Okla., served as groomsmen. Seating the wedding guests were Allan Wise of Portales, N. M., bride's brother-in-law, and Steve Martin, bridegroom's brother, ushers.

Fellowship Hall of Central Baptist Church was the scene for the reception held immediately following the exchange of vows. The bride's table, covered with a white linen cloth with gathered net overskirt, was centered with a cherub bowl holding an arrangement of white chrysanthemums and stock, flanked by matching cherub candelabra holding white tapers. The five-tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bridal couple, appointed the table. Miss Jean Prock, bride's cousin, presided at the punch bowl while Miss Charri Stackhouse served the wedding cake. Attending the guest register was Miss Susie Saum.

Traveling to Oklahoma City for a wedding trip the bride chose a three piece Italian knit suit fashioned in olive green and lifted the gardenia corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The bride, a senior at Pampa, High School, will graduate in January. The bridegroom, a 1963 graduate of Pampa High School, is a sophomore pre-med student at the University of Oklahoma, Norman, Okla., where the couple will make their home.

Abby

(Continued From Page 15) night nor can I dance every time the music starts. I don't mind if she dances with other men if they ask my permission to dance with her. She is not that particular. She'll dance with anyone who asks her, whether she knows him or not. She says she doesn't see anything wrong with it. I say it's improper. She says she'd rather dance than eat. Who is right?

DEAR READER: Unfortunately, women who would rather dance than eat, do both. Your lady friend shouldn't dance with a man who has not first asked your permission. She appears to be more interested in a dancing partner than anything else. If you want companionship in your twilight years, you've got the wrong partner. Should you fall and break your leg, your friend might take you out and shoot you.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "D" IN BATON ROUGE: If you want to support him that's your business. But marrying women who will support him appears to be his business.

Keep kitchen plumbing clear with this once a week treatment: pour 3 tablespoons of sal soda concentrated down the drain and run hot water until granules dissolve.

Candace Sue Noblitt, James Gibson Shelton Are Married

Miss Candace Sue Noblitt became the bride of James Gibson Shelton in First Baptist Church at 8 o'clock last Sunday evening.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. W. Ivan Noblitt of Amarillo and the late Mr. Noblitt. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Shelton, 1108 Terrace.

Rev. E. Douglas Carver solemnized the double-ring vows before an altar appointed with greenery and candelabra bearing white tapers. Bridal aisle pews were marked with floral arrangements.

Phil Sitton of Waco, organist, presented an organ prelude which include "Toccata in F Major" by Buxtehude, "Arioso" by Handel, "Introduction Chorale" by Boellman and "The Swan" by Saint Saens. "The Spacious Firmament" by Hadyn was presented by the organist as the professional and Purcell's "Trumpet Voluntary in D Major" was presented as the recessional. Mrs. Evelyn Price, violinist, presented "Meditation from Thais" by Massenet, accompanied by Mr. Sitton who also accompanied Hugh Sanders, soloist, as he sang "Still as the Night" by Bohm and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Sanders as they presented in duet "The Lord Is My Shepherd" by Smart and Dunlop's "Wedding Prayer."

The bride, gowned in imported chantilly lace, was given in marriage by her grandfather, D. H. Coffey. The gown featured a neckline of pleated tulle, long tapering lace sleeves and a bouffant skirt with a deep flounce of Italian dupioni silk falling into a chapel sweep. Her full-length veil of French illusion was secured by a satin pillbox coif encrusted with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias, stephanotis and lily of the valley.

Attired in floor-length gowns of cruise with back sweep, styled after the bridal gown, and carrying bouquets of white gladioli sprinkled with silver, bridal attendants were Mrs. W. F. Detwiler of Amarillo, bride's sister, matron of honor; Miss Sue Price of Waco, maid of honor and Miss Bethma Burkett of Waco, bridesmaid.

Serving the bridegroom as bestman was Larry Hopp and ushers were Michael Noblitt, bride's brother of Amarillo, George Shelton, Glen McCathern, Larry Harkins of Amarillo and Edwin Albert III of Slous-tou.

Mark Noblitt attended as ring bearer and Candace Kay Detwiler, bride's niece, served as flower girl. Lighting the cathedral tapers were Mike Miller and David Johnson. Mrs. Noblitt chose a blue wool cashmere costume complemented by a blue ostrich feather hat for the occasion. Mrs. Shelton was attired in a white wool ensemble accented by beige accessories. Corsages for both mothers were of orchids. Following the wedding cere-

Bretton attended the guest register. Background piano music was provided by Phil Sitton. Other members of the house party included Miss Jan Adams, Miss Mary Ellen Williams and Miss Cecelia McDonald.

For a short wedding trip the bride chose a two-piece suit, fashioned of white wool accented by bone accessories and lifted the gardenia corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The bride, a graduate of Pampa High School, is a junior at Baylor University. The bridegroom, a graduate of Pampa High School, is a student at North Texas State Teachers College. The newlyweds will make their home in Denton where both will continue their education at North Texas State Teachers College.

Included in the pre-nuptial courtesies extended the bride was a luncheon at Pampa Country Club with Mrs. Ralph Gardner of Roswell, N. M., Mrs. Harold Miller and Mrs. Ed Williams; a tea given in the home of Mrs. Raymond Laycock with Mrs. Homer Johnson sharing hostess duties, and a bridal shower in First Baptist Church Parlor given by Mrs. Gerald Simms, Mrs. John Zinn, Mrs. Floyd Hatcher, Mrs. Harold Craddock and Mrs. Kenneth Jones.

Plastic shower curtains, toaster and mixing bowl covers are freshened and cleaned quickly by wishing them around in a solution of 3 table-spoons of sal soda concentrated to 1 gallon of warm water.

If you hesitate to use scouring powder on the bottom of good pots and pans for fear of scratching them, use sal soda concentrated dry. It contains no grit or sediment that might mar the surface.

mony a reception was held in with a crystal punch bowl and the Pampa Club of Coronado silver candelabra. Smilax ropes adorned each table. Miss John with a white taffeta cloth, was appointed with a silver punch bowl and candelabra. The bride, Miss Linda Key served the wedding cake while Mrs. Terry L.

Hopkins

The bride, daughter of Mrs. James Alvin Hopkins, 1710 N. Russell, and the late Mr. Hopkins, wore a formal length princess gown of candlelight satin. The gown, featuring a chapel length train, was designed with a portrait neckline banded in scalloped pearls and long tapering buttoned sleeves which ended in petal-points over the hands. Her mantilla of silk illusion and Brussels lace fell from a satin pillow. She carried a cascading bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis. Harrison N. Bowes of Deerfield, Ill. gave his sister-in-law in marriage.

The bride's attendants, gowned in floor-length gowns of kelly green silk crepe styled with empire lines, coifs of holly foilage and carrying cascading bouquets of red gladiolus and green holly leaves, were Mrs. Harrison N. Bowes, bride's sister, matron of honor; Miss Grace Ann Adcock of Dallas, Mrs. Ronald James Demmer of San Antonio; Miss Sandra Braly of Dallas and Miss JoAnn Jones, bridegroom's sister of Las Vegas, Nev., bridesmaids.

The bridegroom, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. Calvin Jones, 900 Christine, was attended by Dr. John Dial of Sioux City, Iowa as bestman; Richard Hankins, David Williams of Greenville, Lt. Danny Fitzgerald of Valparaiso, Fla., and Bob Stafford of Dallas, groomsmen and Marvin Berry and Don Berry, ushers. Miss Linda McConnell, bride's cousin, attended as flower girl wearing a floor-length dress of kelly green velveteen and carrying a basket of rose petals. Harrison Bowes Jr., bride's nephew, dressed identically to the bridegroom, carried the rings on a satin pillow.

Miss Beryl Nash, organist, accompanied Sam Allen, soloist, in "The Wedding Prayer" and "Because." Miss Nash also presented traditional wedding selections.

For the ceremonies, Mrs. Hopkins wore a sheath dress fashioned of powder blue silk with matching accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart rosebuds. Mrs. Jones wore a dress of muted coco brown lace and taffeta with matching accessories and a corsage of white feathered carnations.

A wedding reception was held at Pampa Country Club immediately following the ceremony. The bride's table, covered with a cloth of white mirror satin, was decorated with clusters of gardenias at each corner. Two white cherub pandelabra entwined with smilax and gardenias centered the table. The bridegroom's table, covered with a white taffeta cloth, was centered with a silver wine cooler holding an arrangement of happiness red roses.

Presiding at the crystal punch bowl was Mrs. Fred S. Vanderburg. Mrs. Turner Kirby and Mrs. Howard Threat while Mrs. Roger S. McConnell attended the silver coffee service. Serving the wedding cake was Mrs. Elden C. Nicholls of Plainview, Mrs. Demaris Holt, Mrs. Clinton Evans and Mrs. Richard E. Cross of Plainview. Registering the guests was Mrs. Brent Perry of Arlington. Other members of the houseparty included Mrs. Eugene S. Sidwell, Mrs. William Engle, Mrs. DeLoyd Kempton of Clovis, N. M., Mrs. Howard Reed, James Williams II of Dallas, Mrs. Ellis Covington of Fort Worth, Miss Sally Cross and Miss Susan Nicholls, both of Plainview, and Miss Janet Osborne.

For a wedding trip to Colorado Springs, Colo., the bride donned a green, black and white cashmere tweed suit with matching silk blouse, black accessories and lifted the white gardenia corsage from her bridal bouquet. The newlyweds will make their home at 2515 Hawthorn, Dallas.

The bride, a graduate of Pampa High School and the University of Texas where she was a member of Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority, is presently employed by Red Arrow Transfer of Dallas. The bridegroom, a graduate of Pampa High School and Texas Christian University where he was a member of Phi Chi Fraternity, is presently employed by the Medical School of the University of Texas, Dallas.

Pre-nuptial courtesies extended the bridal couple included a coffee on Nov. 7 at Pampa Country Club with Mrs. Clinton Evans, Mrs. Fred Vanderburg, Mrs. Turner Kirby, Mrs. Bob Triplehorn and Mrs. Aubrey Steele serving as hostesses; a dinner party hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Harrison N. Bowes of Deerfield, Ill., on Nov. 24 in Coronado Inn's Pampa Club; a luncheon on Nov. 28 in Pampa Country Club with Mrs. Bismarck Baldrige and Mrs. James Baldrige serving as hostesses; a dinner party hosted by Gene Fatheree on Nov. 28 in Coronado Inn's Pampa Club; a bride's brunch preceding the wedding ceremony in Pampa Country Club with Mrs. Howard Threat, Mrs. Roger S. McConnell, Mrs. Demaris Holt and Mrs. Elden C. Nicholls of Plainview, serving as hostesses, and a rehearsal dinner the evening preceding the ceremony hosted by the bridegroom's parents in the Starlight Room of Coronado Inn.

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Can't Win for Losing

When the government of any nation becomes dictatorial and overbearing, it invariably places enormous taxes upon its people. Then, using these funds, it embarks upon programs of expansion designed to make the government more useful, more encompassing, more indispensable.

When people find themselves the victims of this exploitation, there are two normal courses of action they can take. They can object to taxation on principle and urge repeal on various sundry burdensome levies. Or they can put their brains to work to try to think up new taxing schemes that will lift their own burdens while at the same time transferring the burdens to others.

A variation of this second route occurs when people form into groups and demand certain government benefits at the hands of the looters. The difficulty in this country has been that very few persons have begun to object to taxation on principle. Instead, they have busied themselves either in trying to shift tax burdens to other groups, or in trying to get themselves into groups which receive some kind of subsidy or benefit at the hands of the state.

The effort to reduce or eliminate taxes is always justifiable on principle. Efforts to create new tax avenues or new areas for subsidy, both add to the problem.

Emblematic of this latter tendency (to get in on the side of the looters, one way or another) is the suggestion, recently made by a business organization, that the government could increase its income if it were to "take idle money and invest that money in various income-producing securities. Sounds reasonable?

Well, think it through. If the government begins buying up securities of various sorts, it will become a stockholder. And a stockholder is an owner. By this apparently gentle and backdoor method, the government can ultimately become the sole owner of all our tools of production and distribution. We will have full-scale socialism in this country through this method. Yet it was suggested by well-

When the announcement was made that the Brooklyn Navy Yard was to be closed, offers of employment began pouring in. Some of the offered employment was right in the area, some in nearby states, and some was here in Texas.

Lists of the offers are being posted on bulletin boards at the yard, and as yet it is hard to tell how the process of matching up jobs and men is coming along.

One interesting point is that there is a great variety of the offers. There are opportunities for semi-skilled and unskilled workers as well as for the men who know the secrets of complicated trades and the scientists and engineers.

New Riots Expected in Canal Zone

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENT
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Saturday, Jan. 9, 1965, will be the first anniversary of the Panama Canal riots.

On or about that date, give or take a week or two, officials here privately anticipate there will be a fresh series of demonstrations which could turn into riots, unless the Panamanian students can be sidetracked in advance.

American officials in Panama see the signs. The students had a test run in November. The Panama government cracked down, but about a dozen of the ringleaders into jail for 90 days. This will keep them out of circulation through the dangerous January period.

This jailing isn't expected to help much, however. The students are not short of radical leaders. Their two top agitators, Floyd Britton and Victor Avilla are said to be at loggerheads in some sort of a personal feud. Plans are under way to keep them fighting each other.

A score of lesser Communist leaders make a profession of going to college. They take one or two easy courses a year, do little or no studying, keep their college connections so as to be able to prop up and agitate the younger students.

Then there are radical high school teachers and college professors in Panama. Experts say the Panamanian Department of Education is well infiltrated with Communist and extreme leftist bureaucrats.

Panamanian students are making plans for a parade - march to the cemetery to lay wreaths on the graves of the Jan. 9 "martyrs." (Ignored is the fact that some of these "martyrs" are now known to be looters who suffocated in the burning of an American building and that others are known to have been killed by Red snipers.)

To prevent inflammatory incidents, plans are under way to try quietly to divert this parade away from the Canal Zone area.

The problem: The situation in Panama vis-a-vis the United States is now worse than a year ago. Communications between Americans in the Zone and Panamanian newspapermen have worsened. There is also less cooperative contact between some groups of Panamanians and Americans.

The work of the Peace Corps has been largely in the rural areas. The Corps hasn't had much effect on the city slums from which many rioters come.

The sources of friction in the Canal Zone have not been eased. The three-way division of U. S. authority continues. To too great an extent the ambassador, the governor and the commanding general of U. S. military forces operate independently.

Little has been done to increase opportunities for Panamanians to rise to higher jobs in the Canal Zone hierarchy.

Even among moderate Panamanians, there is a growing feeling that Panama should have a larger voice in the canal and in the Zone.

To take steam out of any demonstrations, some officials now favor a dramatic U. S. statement on Panama by President Johnson about the first week in January.

South Viet Nam Puzzle: Why Are S. American Nations Pressed for 'Token' Forces

Robert Allen Paul Scott

Cannel At Bay
By Ward Cannel
Some Related Resolutions for the Nation

NEW YORK (NEA) — It may appear somewhat cavalier to be tacking up New Year's resolutions at this late date. However, after reading through the year-end summary of news events of 1964 we were startled by the entry:

December 18 — U. S. Decides to Supplement Panama Canal with New Seaway Across Latin America.

Not that we disputed the item, it was just that we could not recall having decided to build a new canal across Latin America on December 18, or any other day, for that matter.

It is a small point, of course, and hardly worth noting but it suddenly made us realize how difficult it is in these busy times to remember all the decisions it takes to keep the country running smoothly forward.

Unless you write them down in your New Year's resolutions, there is absolutely no telling what responsibilities you may be shirking and what, in consequence, might happen to the fabric of the nation.

Under the circumstances, we felt it only right to set aside our own selfishness for the good of the new year, and, despite the late hour, set down a more patriotic list.

I — Toward keeping the arts a meaningful part of the American culture, we hereby resolve:

To applaud at stage plays for all the curtain calls.

To applaud at television studios for the appearance of all guest celebrities.

To applaud everywhere for anybody who has written a book on the best seller list; an Academy Award - winning movie; a painter whose work hangs in a museum. After all, why have standards if you don't use them?

II — Toward improving the state of science and technology, we hereby resolve:

To use the equipment and services of our neighborhood telephone company, regardless of what the competition has to offer.

To urge that the New York World's Fair open for a second year, and a third if necessary, so that they can show that the project was worth - while.

III — Toward improving the state of business and industry, we hereby resolve:

To work for the construction of highways, especially if they lead into major cities, so that more automobiles can be accommodated on the streets.

To suggest to the post office that a third-class mail designation should be adopted for the San Francisco convention, is "not taking sides" in the Hallett-Ford fray. But Ford's partisans are saying that Laird has quietly swung to him in the hope of becoming GOP Whip.

That position is now held by Representative Leslie Arends, Ill., a vigorous Hallett supporter.

WASHINGTON — At least five Latin American countries are being strongly "urged" by the U. S. to send "token" military or economic units to strife-lacerated South Viet Nam.

They are Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Peru and Venezuela.

Other South American nations reportedly are under similar backstage pressure, but this has not yet been positively established.

The five definitely known to be importuned are among the leading beneficiaries of U. S. aid. Latest available official figures show that since 1946 they have received the following huge totals:

Brazil — more than $2.25 billion. This does not include $1 billion in new credits the U. S. took the lead in arranging last month, with several other NATO countries, to enable the reform regime of President Humberto Branco to combat soaring inflation and other grave economic disorders.

Chile — upwards of $850 million, with new large-scale aid proposals pending. Colombia — more than $550 million, with additional grants and loans under consideration. Peru — upwards of $500 million, and like the others seeking more funds. Venezuela — around $350 million, of which more than $317 million has been in loans and only $18 million in outright grants. Since 1962 this oil-rich nation has received less than $10 million in U. S. aid.

All these countries are markedly cool to getting involved in the increasingly chaotic and unpredictable South Viet Nam conflict.

They are displaying distinct reluctance to dispatching even "token" forces, such as medical or logistic units, or teachers, agricultural experts and technicians — as the State Department has pointedly "suggested."

Various objections are being raised, foremost among them lack of funds to meet the considerable cost of "showing the flag" in distant Southeast Asia.

The U. S. countered by offering to foot the bill.

Presumably that would include financing transportation, pay, maintenance and other charges.

A BIG MYSTERY — These urgent backstage exhortations and proposals are in striking contrast to the administration's cold-shouldering of offers from three U. S. allies in the Far East to send thousands of combat troops to South Viet Nam.

South Korea, Nationalist China and the Philippines expressed readiness to send some 50,000 fully equipped and trained fighting men.

In each instance, they were turned down.

The official explanation was that employment of these Asian battle forces would seriously risk escalating the conflict into a major war. Secretary Rusk asked the three allies to dispatch instead non-combat elements, such as medical and logistic units.

All three have complied.

Another baffling South Viet Nam enigma is the role of Thrich Tri Quang, leading Buddhist who was given refuge in the U. S. embassy in the 1963 struggle with the late President Ngo Dinh Diem.

U. S. Intelligence has flatly tagged Quang as an agent of Communist North Viet Nam acting on instructions from the Hanoi regime.

Yet Quang is a key adviser of both Major General Nguyen Khanh and Buddhist members of the Civilian Council that was abolished by the so-called "young Turk" generals with Khanh's backing.

Quang also has been consulted by Deputy Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson on establishing a "stable government" in Saigon.

Early last fall former Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge visited a number of NATO capitals seeking assistance for South Viet Nam. He undertook this mission as the personal emissary of President Johnson.

MORE MORE
Lodge's results were virtually nil.

None of the European allies offered any personnel. The only contribution was a small amount of economic aid from the Erhard regime in West Germany.

In the Washington diplomatic corps, one explanation being discussed for the administration's apparent strong desire for Latin American "representation" in South Viet Nam is "to broaden the Western base in preparation for shifting this tortuous problem to the United Nations."

Such a move, it is pointed out, could be the prelude to negotiations to "neutralize" not only South Viet Nam, but Laos, Cambodia and Thailand under "UN guarantees."

Secretary Rusk and Undersecretary Averell Harriman reportedly favor such a solution of the whole Southeast Asian problem.

Rusk is credited as having discussed this with Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in their series of Washington and New York talks last month.

Rusk is said to have stressed the administration is willing to agree to coalition governments in these countries.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Year-End Report Bullish; Watch for Hidden Pitfall

By SAM CAMPBELL
A holiday glow prevailed as the year-end reports came in. No one sitting in the position of a business editor can remain unaware of the tremendous opportunities around. But when everything is bullish, that is the time that judgment impels me to look around for the pitfalls.

That seems to put me, I suppose, in the attitude of the late Senator Borah, of whom Calvin Coolidge remarked "I don't see how he can enjoy horseback riding, he has to go the same direction as the horse."

What is the pitfall that imperils 1965?

Trap Well Hidden
I believe there is one I believe that most persons, even the most astute among businessmen, are likely to overlook it. I am not sure even that I shall be able to point out the hidden trap in the space available here today.

Let us get at the matter by standing back and surveying the business scene.

As we look at the buildings, the equipment, the institutions, as we study the physical evidences of business, we come to understand that every visible thing was preceded by action and that the action in turn was preceded by thought.

In other words, all our business activity and all our physical wealth are the product of thoughts.

Some Thoughts Destructive
This understanding may lead us to suppose that all thoughts produce wealth. But such a supposition is erroneous. For it is a fact that some thoughts produce nothing at all. All some thoughts destroy wealth. Indeed, only correct thoughts produce wealth.

Sounds philosophical? Not so. Just think what would happen if a ditchdigger wanted to start a bank. He's a well-qualified ditchdigger. He really has the desire to become a banker. But he doesn't know anything about finance; he doesn't have the right thought, in other words, so the bank dies aborting.

Now suppose there's a banker who has a secret desire to run a ditchdigger machine. Driving to work one early morning, he spots a mighty Euclid warming up. He stops his Cad, sneaks up on the digger seat, and starts pushing levers. You can imagine how the underground gas pipes would roar and the water mains might gush. The banker had the wrong idea, you see, and it not only failed to produce wealth, it became downright destructive.

Subtle Ideas Worst
Well, most bankers will behave themselves and not many ditchdiggers will venture into high finance. The point is that wrong ideas do not produce wealth and can produce harm. Further, it can be shown that destructive ideas not always are so obvious as the examples given above. Some destructive ideas are very subtle, very hard to detect.

The more subtle a bad idea is the more people are likely to be trapped into it.

Looking ahead in 1965, the most destructive idea that I perceive on the horizon is the thought that depriving a person of this property is perfectly all right if done by due process of law. To the degree that you deprive a person of his property, to that degree do you deprive him of his reason for working. And it matters but little whether the deprivation takes place legally by taxation or illegally by theft. Legal deprivation is as subtle as cancer, as ruinous as a banker on a bulldozer. Yet millions entertain this dangerous thought without a qualm.

The Nation's Press

JUDICIAL TYRANNY
(Christian Economics)
The Supreme Court decision that our Representatives to the Federal Congress and the members of our State Senates and Houses of Representatives "must be apportioned on a population basis" is a smashing attack on our constitutional form of government in general and States' rights in particular.

The Court's decision in this respect is a plain usurpation of authority. The Constitution gives the Federal government no jurisdiction whatsoever regarding the way and manner in which States choose to conduct their elections.

Two of the hallmarks of the rights of the States have been those of conducting both State and Federal elections in such manner as they saw fit, including the establishing of Congressional districts for representation in the Federal Congress and for electing State Senators and Representatives on whatever basis they chose. The decision of the Supreme Court denying them that right is clearly unconstitutional and it destroys the significance and sovereignty of our States. We are rapidly being Federalized and the Federal government under the Warren court is increasing its tyrannous control of the States.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

Danish pianist Victor Borge was born on this day in 1909.

On this day in history:

In 1777, troops led by George Washington defeated three British regiments at the battle of Princeton, N. J.

In 1938, the March of Dimes campaign to fight infantile paralysis was organized.

In 1959, Alaska became the 49th state.

In 1961, the United States severed diplomatic relations with Cuba.

In 1963, actors Dick Powell and Jack Carson died of cancer.

Wit and Whimsy

A farmer in Iowa was very interested in seeing a prize bull at the state fair, so he loaded his wife and 13 children into the wagon and set off. Upon arrival, he was informed that admission price to see the champion bull was 50 cents a head.

Indignant, he explained that he had come 100 miles but he was danged if he would pay $7.10 for his family to look at the animal.

The doorkeeper conferred a moment with the manager, then came back to the farmer.

Doorkeeper — O.K., come on in and bring the family—it's free.

Farmer — Well, now, that is right nice, but I'm willing to pay you something.

Doorkeeper — Forget it, mister—we want the bull to see you.

Young Man — They're always there when I get home. They won't go away.

The doctor made a preliminary examination, then took the mother aside.

Psychiatrist — I believe I can cure your son, but my fee will be a thousand dollars.

The woman walked back to the youth, took him firmly by the arm and said:

Woman — You're going to march right home, and make friends with them.

'HEY, YOU': Honor Blackman following a judo flip into the hay—from "Goldfinger."

By JOAN CROSBY
NEW YORK (NEA) — It's easy to find Honor Blackman in a haystack, especially when she is wearing mauve suede slacks, a lavender silk shirt with a neckline that doesn't stay put and is busily using judo to toss James Bond on his ear, and vice versa.

Seven-Year Cycle Success for Roger

NEW YORK (NEA) Thin Roger Miller sank down into a couch, fought to keep from falling asleep during the conversation and explained that he was very tired.

On her first trip to the United States she settled in a 50th floor aerie in a hotel where the switchboard operator insisted she was "Honorable Blackman."

Good instrumental albums — "Music For Romance" (The Melachrino Strings and Orchestra, RCA); "Cannonball Adderley's Fiddler on the Roof" (Capitol); "Tiny Little's Forties" (Coral); "Art Blakey and the Jazz Messengers Play Golden Boy" (Colpix) and "New Versions of Down Beat Favorites" (Harry James, MGM).

On the folksy side — Carolyn Hester displays her pretty voice in "That's My Song" (Dot). Other folk albums: "Broadsides" (Pete Seeger, Folkways); "The Dubliners" (MGM) and "The Big Sky Singers" (Dot).

Britain Counters Indonesian Threat

LONDON (UPI)—Britain began the night of 1,000 paratroops to Malaysia Saturday, part of a Far East buildup of "Korean war proportions" to counter Indonesia's threat.

against the British commonwealth federation has been increasing in frequency. The sources said the British buildup would enable British and Malaysian forces to take retaliatory action against any further intensification of Indonesian aggression.

Indonesia, which vows it will "crush Malaysia," has been reported building up its forces on Malaysia's borders. The series of Indonesian guerrilla raids against the British commonwealth federation has been increasing in frequency. The sources said the British buildup would enable British and Malaysian forces to take retaliatory action against any further intensification of Indonesian aggression.

Before she tackled James Bond, she was the queen of British television as Cathy Gale, an 007ette, in the popular series "The Avengers. The difference between the two characters is basic, Honor says.

As a result of her role in "The Avengers, Honor has an orange belt in judo," she said, "so I shall only go after a black belt for money, not love. For two years I had black and blue marks all over me, and purple shoulders. I hated to wear a dress because of the great mass of bruises on my legs."

"I finally was allowed to fall in love, but I was told 'mustn't touch.' It was all very implicit, rather than explicit. "But," Honor said, stretching her legs, clad in gray flannel slacks, "one night as I was bashing around on the mat taking my judo instruction, I asked my instructor what he thought about Cathy having a lover. He analyzed it perfectly. He said 'I'm not watching the show didn't want to see Cathy being mauled by anyone else.'"

After the rugged going in the Avengers, when Honor performed all her own stunts, she found her judo match with Sean Connery in "Goldfinger" the ultimate in luxury.

"As a matter of fact, they provided me with a double for the scene where I fly through the air and land in the hay, but I preferred to do it myself. They gave me a mattress under the hay to land on. I never had it so good."

Honor, who is married to actor Maurice Kaufman, says her experience in the Avengers has helped her. She learned to control her temper, and she was able to get rid of "my great streak of violence" and get paid for it.

"God knows what will happen now that I am through being violent. But it really helps you control yourself when you know you can chuck someone out the window if you want to."

BAMAHO, Mali (UPI)—Cuban Industry Minister Ernesto "Che" Guevara flew to Brazzaville in the former French Congo Saturday, ending a five-day visit that won Mali's support for Cuba in the dispute with the United States.

A joint communique released here said, the two countries expressed their "deep indignation over the economic pressure directed and practiced by the United States and demanded the immediate evacuation of the Guantanamo base by the Americans."

Malian President Modibo Keita accepted Guevara's invitation to visit Cuba. But the date was not announced.

The Year the Leadership Changed

News-Graphic

Since mid-October of a year ago, the leadership of every major nation — except France and Communist China — has changed hands, a situation unprecedented in modern history. These seven men exerted tremendous influence on the postwar world and although they have been replaced, the massive power shift is long likely to be felt.

Mesa Petroleum Shareholders Given Semi-Annual Report

Newly formed Mesa Petroleum Co. — whose stock is held largely by Panhandle residents — has just issued its first semi-annual report to shareholders. The company operates in the United States and in Western Canada, with home offices in Amarillo.

Key items in the first report:
 A five-cent per-share dividend.
 Net income of 57 cents per share on 420,052 shares outstanding.
 Twenty-six wells drilled — 12 in the U. S. and 14 in Western Canada — with company ownership of approximately 25 percent in each venture.
 Six wells being drilled currently.
 Acquisition of acreage through a Canadian subsidiary, Altair Oil and Gas Co., on number of prospects in Canada's most westerly province, British Columbia; and the intention of "emphasizing exploration in Northeast B. C. during the coming months."

 Mesa is a reorganized version of two older independents. It was formed early in 1964 to serve as the parent company of five-year-old Altair Oil and Gas Co. in Calgary, Alberta; and eight-year-old Petroleum Exploration, Inc., of Texas (PEI) of Amarillo.

Both firms were run by substantially the same management and headed by T. B. Pickens Jr., an Amarillo geologist from Oklahoma State University with 13 years' field and administrative experience behind him.

Altair had drilled 124 wells and completed 83 as producers — 70 as oil wells and 12 as gas wells. The company also holds approximately 150,000 gross acres of undeveloped leases — "gross acres" including those in which Altair is part owner rather than full owner.

Altair works on an exploration budget of $2 million a year, all spent in Canada. Right along, it had been aiming its big guns at the Western Canada sedimentary basin and concentrating major efforts on high-reserve areas.

PEI had been moving briskly too, with 292 out of 272 wells completed as producers in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas. Its exploration budget for the U.S. was similar to Altair's Canadian budget — $2 million a year.

Because of the activity of both companies, accounting and financing had become more and more complex due to widely varying drilling arrangements with participants.

Accordingly, management launched a financial housecleaning.

First step was the formation of Mesa Petroleum Co. last February.

Next step was the offering of Mesa stock to shareholders of PEI and Altair in exchange for their stock in those firms; and the offer of Mesa stock to all drilling participants in exchange for oil and gas properties. The Federal S.E.C. gave Mesa the go-ahead on April 30, 1964. The exchanges were quickly completed.

Final step was the streamlining and standardizing of drilling arrangements with future participants to simplify accounting.

Vatican Lashes Out At Congo Violence

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—The Vatican lashed out through its press and radio media Saturday against the massacre of missionaries in the Congo as "indefensible violence and cruelty."

Oil Officials Announce Merger

TULSA, Okla. — Consolidation of the Tulsa Research Center of Sinclair Research, Inc., and Sinclair Oil & Gas Company, exploration and production subsidiary of Sinclair Oil Corporation, was announced jointly by J. B. Kennedy, president of Sinclair Oil & Gas, and W. M. Flowers, president of Sinclair Research.

Dr. George H. Fancher, vice president of Sinclair Research in charge of the Tulsa Center, becomes vice president, research and engineering, of Sinclair Oil & Gas Company.

Dr. Fancher, University of Texas petroleum engineering professor and research engineer for 25 years, joined Sinclair Research in February 1960 as vice president in charge of the production-research department.

Chairman of the petroleum engineering department at University of Texas from 1956 to 1960, Dr. Fancher is nationally recognized in all phases of petroleum engineering. He holds numerous patents and has been awarded many professional and industry honors.

Division Geologist Retires From Sun

Ralston assumed the position of division chief geologist for Sun Oil Company's Southwest Production Division on May 1, 1962. Prior to that he was assistant division chief geologist, operational, having been appointed to the position in August 1957. He took on additional technical duties in January 1961.

During his Sun career he served as a geologist in both the West and East Texas operations of the firm's Southwest Production Division. He transferred to the Dallas Office in 1936 as a district geologist and later became a senior geologist, subsurface and regional geologist.

Ralston was born in Nortonville, Kan. He received a B. S. degree in mining engineering at the University of Kansas. While there, he was a member of Sigma Gamma Epsilon, an honorary geological fraternity. Prior to joining Sun Oil Company, he was a field geologist with the Indianola Refining Company and Humphrey's Corporation.

He is a member of the Dallas Petroleum Club, River Lake Country Club, Brookhaven Country Club, Chaparral Club, and Dallas Camera Club. He has presented articles for the American Association of Petroleum Geologists on production in East Texas and authored geophysical case histories.

Ralston and his wife, the former Isabel Hagenmaier of Topeka, Kan., resided at 45 19Ardy, Dallas. They have a son, W. G. Ralston, a scout with Sun Oil at Beaumont, Texas, and two daughters, Marilyn Ralston Enzler, Shingle Springs, Calif., and Ann Ralston Johnson, Dallas, Texas.

Chemical Group Names McKeown

Bill R. McKeown has been named sales manager of Chemical Industries, Inc., Borger.

The firm distributes industrial chemicals throughout the five-state area. It has offices at 1404 S. Cedar, in Borger; and warehouses here in Pampa and in Amarillo and Borger.

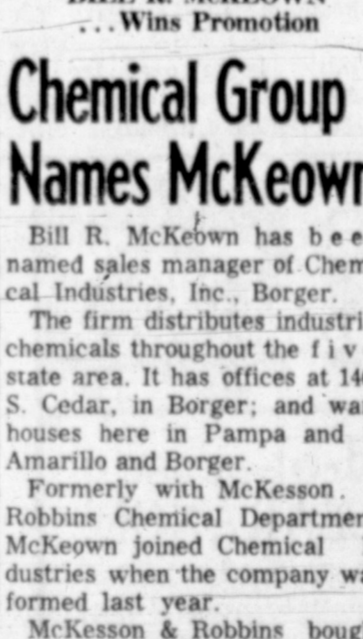

Formerly with McKeown & Robbins Chemical Department, McKeown joined Chemical Industries when the company was formed last year.

McKeown & Robbins bought out Barada & Page in 1959; McKeown stayed on as a salesman for the Texas Oklahoma Panhandle. In December 1959 he moved to Pampa, aided in setting up a warehouse there; and did the same thing in Amarillo in 1961.

When Chemical Industries was formed last September, McKeown joined the new firm as a salesman.

Chemical Industries represents some 25 prestige chemical manufacturers, and now serves the petroleum, beverage and food processing, cattle, plastics, agriculture, municipal water treatment and other industries.

Work is presently moving toward completion on its new warehouse and office installation in Borger, complete with 65,000-gallon bulk storage capacity, a turbulator for cleaning refinery bundle exchangers, circulation equipment for refinery turn-arounds and a number of in-plant cleaning units. The firm also sells and installs plastic pipe for gas transportation in Borger, complete with union, irrigation and downhole pipe liners.

Lawmakers Find Three Major Issues on Agenda

By WILLIAM HAMILTON
AUSTIN (UPI) — Redistricting, reapportionment and education are the big issues facing the 59th Legislature.

The little issues number into the hundreds. They range from beef labeling to forestry research, from a city sales tax to shell dredging.

Nearly every legislator has at least one pet issue, often one that is important only to his single district.

Each will be aired—often at great length.

Rep. David G. Haines of Bryan, a Texas A&M graduate and school booster, has such plans. In response to a United Press International questionnaire on major problems affecting areas, Haines voiced an intention to work "to double the size of Texas A&M's veterinary medicine school," and said he would "fight those who would abolish co-education at A&M."

First Co-eds

The formerly all-male school enrolled its first coeds after the 58th Legislature, much to the dismay of staunch old Aggies. Haines apparently expects another fight to restore the all-male status.

"I am very concerned about juvenile problems in the state and will sponsor legislation in this field," said Rep. John Ray Harrison of Houston.

Rep. John Traeger of Seguin plans a handful of bills.

They include a bill to increase the speed limits for pick-

Armed Forces Show Big Loss In Enlistments

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Enlistments in the armed forces dropped sharply following statements before and during the 1964 presidential election campaign that the compulsory draft should be ended as soon as possible, the Defense Department revealed Saturday.

No immediate steps are being taken to recover the losses, it was learned, because of plans to allow the services to shrink by 50,000 to 100,000 men below their 2,696,000-man strength of last summer.

The shrinkage will help Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara realize his goal of a $500 million annual cut in military spending. But the new statistics, showing Army enlistments 22 per cent below planned levels for October, dramatically illustrates the long-term manpower problem.

Need New Incentives

With the prospect of draft as the chief snarl to enlistment, the Selective Service system cannot be abandoned without big-scale provision of new incentives for voluntary service.

President Johnson last April ordered a year-long study to include the possibility of ending draft within 10 years. However, Army enlistments remained at predicted levels through August.

This changed after Republican presidential nominee Barry M. Goldwater took a stand against the draft came on Sept. 3 and was reinforced by a Pentagon statement that the administration agreed with him.

Even though they could mean anything, the words "as soon as possible," plus the election campaign, apparently had an entirely unexpected impact.

Most September enlistments were already in the works and the drop below expectations was moderate for that month—from 11,700 to 11,000.

Enlistments Decreasing

Then in October, against a goal of 10,500 Army enlistments fell to 8,100. In November they decreased further to 6,900.

As of Nov. 30, with 2,676,000 men, the services were 20,000 men below their strength of last July 31 and 6,900 below the strength objectives set in the defense budget for June 30.

Because the Air Force is taking a 17,000-man cut in the current fiscal year, it is still 7,300 men above its planned June strength. But the Navy is short 9,900, the Army 4,000 and the Marines 500 men compared to the June objectives.

No December recruiting figures are available but a trend ranging from 9 to 15 per cent below the previous year is believed to have continued.

Manpower experts said the real test will come this month. The January draft was set at 5,400 men in the expectation there would be 11,900 Army enlistments during the month. More recent studies indicate the actual total will be well below that figure.

RUSH TO FIRE

MELTON MOWBRAY, England (UPI) — Whop volunteer firemen George Bowerski and Reg Brooks heard a fire alarm they dropped their tools in the garage where they worked and sped to the fire station. There they learned their garage was on fire.

Johnson Aid Earns Honor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — One Texas Jaycee young man of the year is perhaps the country's busiest, and one of the closest to the supreme power in the nation.

Bill Moyers, recipient of the honor, has been described as President Johnson's closest adviser and confidant.

"I'm very flattered and honored," Moyers told UPI about his selection. "But I think it's more a tribute to Texas and the President than to me."

For years Moyers has been associated with Johnson. He went to work for Johnson in 1960, when the President was Senate Democratic leader. He worked in Johnson's campaign for the 1960 presidential campaign.

When Johnson succeeded to the presidency, one of the first men he plucked from the vast governmental bureaucracy—this case the Peace Corps—was Moyers, but non-descriptive title of special assistant to the President.

Moyers rose in the White House hierarchy when the former chief presidential adviser, Walter Jenkins, was fired after being arrested on a morals
