

Center Wrap-Up

George Smith Director
Pampa Youth and Community Center

In conjunction with the new gym, if any of you parents have any athletic equipment which you boys and girls have outgrown such as basketballs, volleyballs, goals, bats, gloves, etc. we would appreciate your donating them to the Youth Center. We could certainly put them to good use.

The girls softball league ran into the hand practice Monday and was nearly trampled to death. Opening game was moved to Saturday between Rainbow Independents and Kit Kat. Theta Rho had a nice workout Monday anyway even if Los Cresas couldn't make it.

A new board of directors is serving at the Youth Center now. They are: Dr. Joe Donaldson, Floyd Watson, Ed Mya, Joe Fischer, Weldon Trice, Fred Neslage, Joe Tooley, Dr. Lane, John Schoolfield, Bill Atkinson, Gary Frasher, Art Smalley, Bob Curry, Arty Aftergut, Rev. Don Hauck, Dick Stowers, Bill Powers, Inez Carter, Thelma Bray, Art Holland, Bennie Shackelford, and E. L. Green.

The Center started its third three weeks program since we became director and things seem to still be on the up swing.

We have a Ladies and Men's Swim Class on Monday, Wednesdays and Fridays. If you can or can't swim, this class is for you. We have Beginners and Advanced judo lessons for men; a beginners swim class for Center members only with the note that anyone may join the Center; swim competition for teenagers to compete against each other on Friday nights; ballroom dance lessons on Tuesdays from 6-7 for teenagers 13-8 years of age and teenage dances on Saturday nights.

The Center started a preschool age swim class as an experiment and found itself snowed under with four-, five-, and six-year-olds. There were so many they had to be divided into two separate classes. Four- and five-year-olds meet at 10 a.m. Saturday and the six-

Farm Councils Reserved on Regulations

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Council of Farm Cooperatives expressed "serious reservations" about provisions of migrant labor regulatory legislation, including a bill giving the federal government control over crew leaders.

Richard T. O'Connell, secretary of the council, appeared before a Senate labor subcommittee to urge that the federal government stay out of the crew leader registration field.

Crew leaders or farm labor contractors are the middlemen who make work arrangements between the workers and the growers for interstate agricultural employment.

Under a proposed measure in a six-bill package, any person who for a fee recruits 10 or more migrant workers for interstate agricultural employment would be required to register with the secretary of labor.

O'Connell said such a bill would be unnecessary.

"It gives an unusual amount of discretionary power to the secretary in writing regulations which may adversely affect the livelihood of many crew leaders," O'Connell said. He also noted that nine states and Puerto Rico have laws governing crew leaders.

O'Connell suggested that other states follow the lead of Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York in exchanging the names of crew leaders engaged in illegal activities to bar the offenders from operating in those states.

Sen. Harrison A. Williams, D-N.J., chief sponsor of the migrant package, has argued that crew leaders need federal control because many of them take advantage of the migrants under their leadership.

Testifying in favor of the bills to regulate sanitary, educational and child worker activities of the migrants was the National Council of the Churches of Christ, USA, the Unitarian Fellowship for Social Justice, and the National Farmers Union.

You Can Build Low-Cost Carport

You've heard about pole-type barns. Now you can build a pole-type combination carport and garden toolhouse from a free plan.

This versatile structure can be used for its original purpose or as a greenhouse, playhouse or week-end cottage, simply by making minor changes. Other possibilities are a workshop, animal shelter or poultry house.

Built on poles set in the ground, the structure requires no foundation. Masonite X-ninety V-Grooved siding gives the building rigidity and smart appearance. Strength of the panels eliminates the need for any sheathing or diagonal bracing.

For a free plan showing how to build this 12' x 20' structure, send a post card to the Home Service Bureau, 29 North Wacker Drive, Chicago 8, Ill.

TO ADDRESS OFFICERS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy today was scheduled to address a closed meeting of several hundred military and staff officers of the Defense Department at the Pentagon.

FIRE TRIGGERS CRASH
LONDON (UPI) — Nine fire engines raced to a blaze at Westminster Abbey Thursday. Two collided with two cars and a bus in Parliament Square.

The blaze turned out to be a man burning rubbish in an incinerator. There were no injuries in the collisions.

WARNS PLASTERED DRIVERS
LONDON (UPI) — Dr. Stephen Young, writing in the British Medical Journal, said today it is wrong for patients with plaster casts on broken arms or legs to drive to the doctor's office for a checkup.

"As always, a plastered driver is dangerous," he said.

UNINVITED GUESTS
NORWALK, Calif. (UPI) — Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hollicott decided Thursday night that unexpected company is strictly for the birds.

More than 50 starlings swooped into their living and dining rooms through a chimney.

Only one member of the household family cat had just given up and hold seemed unconcerned. The family cat had just given up and was sprawled out to the living room rug.

Foreign Commentary

By WILLIAM J. FOX, United Press International

Notes from the foreign news cables:

Laos fighting:

The latest outbreak of fighting in Laos comes as no surprise to informed observers. The question ever since last year's precarious truce was reached has been when, not whether, the shooting would begin again. And attempts to reconvene the Geneva Conference which arranged that truce are meeting resistance from Britain.

London hopes that behind the scenes diplomatic efforts and pressures may help save the peace in Laos, for any resumption of talks in Geneva could reopen the question of the way things are set up there and could drag on for months. Russia, which was co-chairman with Britain of the first Geneva Conference on Laos, also appears reluctant on new talks. Red China is a member of the Geneva group and Moscow may be anxious to avoid a confrontation with its estranged ally across the conference table with Western and neutral observers looking on. But the real problem of Laos, not solved by the truce and vexed by the fresh fighting, remains: How to make a stable country out of a land that never was a unified nation to begin with, but a land that happens to be the strategic corridor between Communist China and Southeast Asia.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

C. C. CAMPBELL, PASTOR
ST. MARKS METHODIST CHURCH

Text: "The mother of Sisera looked out at a window, and cried through the lattice, Why is his chariot so long in coming? Judges 5:28.

The mind of man has stored up within it no sweeter memories than those of a Christian mother. Her kiss soothed away more pain than all the soothing syrup she ever administered; her smile had the sparkle of a thousand dew-drops; her face had the radiance of a thousand day-dawns; her voice had the music of a thousand orchestras; and her apron string was a golden cord flung out from the throne of God to anchor her children to lives of truth and virtue.

1. Motherhood Is a Sanctuary of Memories. As the years lengthen these memories grow sweeter. A gentleman was showing a friend who was visiting in his home an old armchair. Said he: "I keep it, and treasure it, because my dear old mother used to sit in it." The incident so moved this friend that he wrote:

I love it, I love it, and who shall dare,
To chide me for loving that old armchair?
I've treasured it long as a holy prize,
I've bedwed it with tears, and embalmed it with sighs
Tis bound by a thousand bands to my heart,
Not a tie will break, not a link will start,
Would ye learn the spell? a mother sat there,
And a sacred thing is that old armchair.

It was a memory of Mother gone, that inspired the ballad so long a favorite with those who cherish the tender emotions of life:

Round my Indiana homestead wave the cornfields,
In the distance looms the woodland clear and cool;
Ofentimes my heart returns to scenes of childhood,
Where I oft received my lessons — nature's school:
But one thing is missing in the picture,
Without her face it seems so incomplete;
I long to see my mother in the doorway,
As she stood there years ago her boy to greet.

With Mother gone there is left a vacancy that nothing can fill. Mother, home, and heaven are not only the three sweetest words in the English language, but they are the three links in the golden chain that binds us to high purposes, and to holy destinies.

Oft within a little cottage,
As the shadows gently fall;
And the twilight touches safely,
One sweet face upon the wall:
There the lonely loved ones gather
And in hushed and tender tones;
Ask each other's full forgiveness,
For the wrongs that each had done.

As I wondered why this custom,
At the closing of the day;
"Tis because," they sweetly answer,
"It was our dear mother's way."
Oh, how oft it comes before us,
That sweet face upon the wall;
And her memory is more precious,
As we on her Saviour call:
And we cast a new fresh courage,
As we rise once more to say:
"Let us do our duty bravely,
It was our dear mother's way."

Materials Seem Largest Block To Exploration

DALLAS (UPI)—Two Massachusetts research scientists believe one of the biggest stumbling blocks in long-term space exploration is the development of new materials that will withstand the strange and powerful stresses of space.

The scientists—Robert A. Stauffer and John L. Ham—made this point in a paper which Stauffer read at the second Manned Space Meeting, sponsored by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics.

An estimated 1,200 scientists and engineers attended the three-day meeting. Stauffer is vice president and director of research. Ham is research associate of National Research Corp., Cambridge, Mass.

Demands Pressing

"Demands being made on materials for space programs are pressing them to the very limit of their performance capability," the Stauffer-Ham paper said.

They advised "much closer work" between materials and design experts to solve problems raised by hostile space environment.

One problem Stauffer and Ham discussed was the danger of cold welding in space. That is, cleaned metal surfaces coming together in the vacuum of space tend to fuse together under pressure.

This could result in electrical contacts, antenna gears, slip rings and similar mechanical devices bonding together. The obvious solution is to lubricate surfaces.

Lubricants Evaporate

But Stauffer and Ham said conventional lubricants disappear quickly in space. They suggested that the problem may be solved by a so-far unknown material with a low vapor pressure that would evaporate more slowly than conventional lubricants.

Former X15 pilot Scott Crossfield said in a final session that man's decision-making capability will be essential for the foreseeable future in successful space exploration.

"Man is our most broadly responsive instrument and the ultimate decision maker," Crossfield said. "Contingent upon such factors as mission length and technological development, the highly-trained astronaut will assume control of the spacecraft, with varying degrees of reliance on earth-based facilities."

Blind Musician Still Keeps Hiking At 59

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI)—Brijido (Weecho) La Salde of Tornillo was hiking long before the New Frontier issued its 50-mile prescription. But, Weecho does it the hard way. He is blind.

The 59-year-old sightless musician has walked from town to town in the El Paso Valley as a part of his daily activity.

"Walking is good exercise," he said. "I can still walk 10 miles a day but not as fast as I used to. I could once walk 10 miles in 45 minutes."

Weecho can be seen walking along the highway with only a cane to guide him.

"I have the towns of Fort Hancock, Tornillo, Fabens, Ysleta, Clint and Sierra Blanca engraved in my mind like a map," he said. "In all my years of walking I have never been hurt."

Weecho was struck with blindness when he was six years old. His sharp sense of touch, smell and sound make up for the lack of sight.

He mastered the violin, trumpet, guitar and bass drum at an early age and spends his time teaching the instruments to youngsters.

"I walked all over this valley when there was no pavement. Fifty miles then was nothing to walk and I believe I could walk it today if I had to."

Weecho does not walk as much as he used to. "I have many friends now who stop in their automobiles and give me a lift."

He gained his friends from the students he taught, and the dancers who enjoyed his playing at the Saturday night dances that kept him busy for years.

NOTE BRINGS ACTION

VENTURA, Calif. (UPI)—County Supervisor Fred Ireland had a problem Wednesday most men would like.

He wrote a polite note to the board saying he thought his new office was fine. "But I don't have any furniture, so my secretary has to sit on my lap."

The board got the hint and ordered the furniture.

10-Year-Old Zoologist Demonstrates Development

When such terms as "embryo" and "incubation period" come as naturally to a 10-year-old boy as baseball and Rover Mutt, people sit up and take notice.

Such notice is taken of Todd Wassell, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Wassell.

In addition to being an avid Civil War buff (with distinctly gray-colored ideas) he has demonstrated an acute interest in the somewhat formidable subject of zoology.

This interest took on a specific

Exchange Students Coming

Thirty-five American Field Service exchange students who have been studying in the United States this year will arrive in Pampa June 22 to spend the weekend as part of their nationwide tour before returning to their homelands.

During this weekend Pampans will open their homes to these students. Anyone interested in having one of the students in their home for two nights is asked to contact Richard Steele who is in charge of student registration or Mrs. J. McDaniel, bus trip chairman.

Several activities and parties have been planned for these students over the weekend by the local AFS Chapter, with the help of the Chamber of Commerce and the High School Student Council.

On the same day Turan-Solemez and Lusa Prieto, Pampa High's two AFS students this year, will leave for Amarillo to begin their three-week tour of the United States before embarking for their native countries, Turkey and Spain. While in Pampa Turan has lived with Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Veale, Jr., 2125 Mary Ellen, while Lusa has resided with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Morgan, 1938 Evergreen.

This is the third consecutive year that Pampa has joined in the AFS program by providing homes for foreign students who have attended Pampa High School. In 1960-61 Jarle Molvar of Norway and Marika Minelli of Italy studied here, and last year Chris Jonsson of Sweden and Cathy Papathanasopoulou of Greece were Pampa's AFS students.

This year Vince Johnson, 1962 PHS graduate, has been living with the Fritz Bandi family in Worsh, Switzerland, as an AFS exchange student. In the summer of 1961 Anna Jo Watson, who graduated last year, lived with a family in Germany, and this year her sister Suzan is a semi-finalist in the AFS exchange student selection. Both are daughters of Wendell Watson, PHS biology teacher, and Mrs. Watson, 1100 Terry Rd.

Vince will leave his Swiss home April 17 to spend four days in Geneva before traveling with a group of AFS students to Paris. He will board the Queen Mary 5 April 24 and arrive in Pampa May 5. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Johnson, 413 Lowry.

This year Pampa has shared with Switzerland, Spain and Turkey through the American Field Service "Open Door to Friendship" with the 35 students who will visit in Pampa in June, many more countries will leave their impression on our lives.

Local Man's Brother Named Tulane Dean

Dr. Charles C. Sprague of New Orleans, brother of Mrs. Paul N. Brown, 1344 Terrace, has been appointed dean of medicine at the Tulane University School of Medicine.

Dr. Sprague, who has been a professor of medicine and director of the hematology laboratory at Tulane, attended Southern Methodist University with Dr. Foster Elder of Pampa and was at the University of Texas when Dr. S. Julian Key and Joe Donaldson of Pampa entered medical school there.

CALLS FOR TREATY

BONN (UPI) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer asked the West German parliament Thursday to ratify the Franco-German treaty of friendship and consultation for the sake of peace in Europe and the world.

Adenauer, 87, for whom ratification of the treaty symbolizes the crowning of his 14 years as West German leader, said "too much blood and grief could have been spared" if pre-World War efforts to achieve reconciliation between the two nations had succeeded.
