Hemphill Report by FBI Being Studied

FORT WORTH — The chief criminal attorney for U. S. District Attorney Barefoot Sanders said Saturday that a tentative report into the Hemphill County Civil Defense equipment investigation is under study.

Assistant U. S. District Attorney William J. Hughes Jr. said the Federal Bureau of Investigation had sent copies of its findings in the Hemphill County situation and that these reports were being studied.

"This does not mean any criminal actions are being considered at this time," he said. "We are attempting to see just what this information reveals before action is taken."

Hughes said the report was received this week from FBI Agent Tom O'Malley of Amarillo who has been conducting an investigation into alleged misuse of county Civil Defense equipment in Hemphill County.

O'Malley's investigations have brought complaints from Hemphill County Attorney Jim Crow who has declared the agent was not the man to make the probe, citing visits to the sheriff's office.

Crow in a letter to O'Malley dated Feb. 26 claims that he has information that federal authorities would not continue any further into the case.

Crow has accused Harry Rathen and Sheriff Walter Adams with misconduct regarding the

LBJ Tells of Fast New U.S. Airplane

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 — President Lyndon B. Johnson revealed Saturday that the United States is using a 2,000-mile an hour jetliner for intercontinental and other flights in the world and will be in use as early as next year.

The jetliner, which is being developed by Lockheed, is the first new airplane to be developed in the United States since the 1940s.

Johnson said the jetliner is a "big step" in the development of a new generation of aircraft.

Students March on US Embassy Quiz Opens In Death of Harold Orr

ATHENS, Feb. 28 — More than 100 Greek university students, including members of the student body, marched on the U. S. Embassy in Athens Saturday to protest the death of Harold Orr, an American student.

The group then marched on the British Embassy in the last of a series of increasingly turbulent anti-American and anti-British campaigns. No injuries were reported.

The students decorated trees outside both embassies with Turkish flags and presented the Turkish flag to the U. S. Embassy with a giant flag symbolizing Greek charges that the United States favors Turkey over Greece on the Cyprus dispute. They carried banners showing President Johnson wearing a Turkish fez and screamed, "Yanis go back to Turkey."

A delegation handed the duty officer a petition which said: "We protest the attitude of the U. S. government and are unable to understand what sort of friendship this is." He replied that the American government has the warmest feelings toward the Cyprus people. We have heard your demands. The embassy's doors are never closed. The United States' doors are never closed."

Pampans Invited To Hear Carden System Explained

Miss Mae Carden, originator and developer of the Carden Method of teaching language arts, will be the honor guest and speaker at an informal coffee at the Episcopal Parish Hall at 8 p.m. Thursday when she will explain methods and principles of the entirely new approach used in the Carden system.

According to Rev. William E. West, rector of St. Matthew's Church, the Carden system has been instituted in many public and private schools throughout the United States and is being met with overwhelming approval as an excellent and revolutionary new method of teaching language arts.

The Reverend Mr. West said that the Carden system, which uses the phonetic and analytical approach as its basis, was adopted in the St. Matthew's Day School in Pampa at the beginning of the current school year and already has been accepted with great enthusiasm by those who have become familiar with it.

School officials are extending an invitation to all parents of students at St. Matthew's Episcopal Day School, as well as other Pampa citizens interested in education, to attend the meeting at the Episcopal Parish Hall Thursday night.

Cub Pack Has Special Guests

Special guests of Cub Scout Pack 109, Woodrow Wilson School, Blue and Gold Banquet Friday night, were Mr. and Mrs. E. A. McLennan, institutional representative; Mr. and Mrs. Jay Leath, scout executive and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Hogan, P-TA president.

The program, a sound slide series on American heritage, was highlighted by a service dance by the Kachana Indians, members of Explorer Scout Post 62, Amarillo, in full costume.

The presentation of 19 rank advancements was made preceding the entertainment.

This group of chairmen really brought the foundation into its first steps of operation.

"From here on, it should be a forward motion in everything we do," he said.

Neilage said that names of the drive captains would be announced after all are contacted to see if they will serve.

"We would like to have the people of Pampa share the opportunity to hear Miss Carden explain the methods and principles of her new system," Rev. Fr. West said.

Following the presentation of the Carden method there will be a question and answer period, school officials stated.

FEDERAL INCOME TAXES PAID BY INDIVIDUALS

CHILD IS GROWING UP—The amount of revenue the government collects in income taxes is growing steadily. In spite of the tax cut, today's income tax is a far cry from what the founders of the country or even the original advocates of an income tax had in mind. Today the government relies on income taxes for more than 80 per cent of its revenue. Since World War II, inflation has almost doubled the cost of living, but federal income tax collections from individuals, see graph, have almost tripled.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM

UPI Foreign News Analyst
The Philippines have been looking with increasing disquiet at the progress of events in South Viet Nam where the U.S. expenditure of $1.5 million a day and the assignment of 15,000 military advisers show no immediate sign of winning the guerrilla war against communism.

In Indonesia, where he has been the guest of President Sukarno, Philippines President Diosdado Macapagal, staunchly anti-Communist, has indicated he has been doing some thinking about the Philippines' own position.

His line of thinking could affect the future of important U.S. military bases in the Philippines, including the Air Force base at Clark Field and the Cavite naval base.

Besides having military agreements with the United States, the Philippines are a member of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) which was designed specifically to halt the march of communism in Southeast Asia.

Macapagal believes that military alliances no longer are a sufficient deterrent to the dangers facing the area.

He rejects President Charles de Gaulle's concept of neutrality for Southeast Asia.

He also rejects what he calls "the old passive role of letting others assume responsibility which it is our duty and privilege to shoulder as independent countries."

Separated from the question of military bases, this is a position which the United States could heartily endorse.

As for the bases, Macapagal has made no suggestion that he would revise the 1959 agreement which reduced the original 99-year lease to 25 years and gave the Philippines a greater voice in their use.

He has, however, joined President Sukarno in demanding the eventual removal of similar British bases in the neighboring Malaysian federation.

Macapagal's thinking clearly takes in the limitless response of first the Laotian and now the South Vietnamese peasant who, beyond the necessity of survival has shown little interest in the matter of his rulers, whether they be Communist or anti-Communist.

A partial answer, he believes, lies in regional agreements permitting affected nations to collaborate not only in defensive arrangements but in cultural and economic development as well.

In the Philippines the idea is not new. In 1961 the Philippines were active in promoting a regional organization for economic and cultural cooperation among Thailand, Malaya and the Philippines.

Last year, the Philippines joined in pushing "Maphilindo" which, for the same purposes, called for a regional grouping of the Philippines, the new Malaysian Federation and Indonesia's announced determination to "crush" the federation.

But at least Macapagal has an idea. It is that God helps them who help themselves.

Surety Firms Worry Over Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Major life insurance companies Thursday expressed "serious reservations" about parts of the administration's housing bill because they "depart from the basic objectives" of the Federal Housing Authority (FHA) program.

Ehney A. Camp Jr., executive vice president of Liberty National Life Insurance Co., Birmingham, Ala., told the Senate housing subcommittee that FHA's basic purpose is "by means of government insurance, to encourage private lenders to make carefully underwritten and economically sound home mortgage loans."

Camp said "special purpose loans" to aid low-income families, the elderly, to stimulate cooperative housing and to facilitate urban renewal are "understandable from a social viewpoint but they depart from the basic objective of FHA."

He said "clearly an element of subsidy is involved in such programs" and "we have serious reservations about the desirability of these subsidies." Camp said "in any event, we believe that FHA should be kept a market-oriented program."

Agriculturally Speaking

Raymond Harrah came by the office and picked up plans for a two pen layout for corrals. He liked the plan very much. These are free to the public. Our supply was getting low. We ordered additional ones. Should you be planning a change on your old corrals or plan to build new ones it would be worth your times to check these out.

Cattle Loss

Gus Carruth found six of his prize registered Hereford cattle dead in his corrals last Wednesday morning. Three veterinarians have been looking into the loss which appears to be some type of poisoning.

Last year Rex McKay lost three baby calves from lead poisoning. An old car battery had frozen and burst open in a junk pile. The lead plates inside the battery attracted the cattle. It was not until we discovered the battery that the source of the poisoning was determined.

Cattle are very bad about picking up all types of trash. The ailment is called hardware disease. Vats at rendering plants have everything from nails to tin cans and rocks in them. This is a good reason for keeping a clean farmstead.

How Much Protein Supplement?

A few days back I was out with a rancher that was feeding his cattle. He had about 34 cows in the particular group we were feeding. I noticed he fed a full sack of 41 per cent protein cotton seed cake. The discussion came up about how much supplement a rancher should feed daily.

At the Spur Experiment Station, cows gained 39 lbs. from June 1960 to June 1962 that were fed no winter supplement. During the same period, a similar group of cows were fed 1 1/2 lbs. per head daily in the winter months. This group gained 61 lbs. Another group were fed three pounds daily—they gained only 50 lbs. during this period.

Excess protein is expelled from an animal's body through the kidneys. Let's assume the 1 1/2 lbs. of cotton seed cake is the correct amount and most ranchers in Gray County feed the three lb. rate. There are approximately 10,000 head of breeding cows in the county. If they are being fed 4 1/2 lbs. of cake in excess of their need this would be 7 1/2 tons daily worth about $600.00, that is going down the creek in the form of urine. Most ranchers in the Eastern part of the county feed about 175 days in the year. Total this up at $600.00 per day and you will get an astounding $105,000.00. Something to think about.

El Salvador is the only Central American country that does not have an Atlantic coastline.

Golden Spread Soil Group Has Meeting to Plan Year's Program

The Executive Council for the Golden Spread Chapter of the Soil Conservation Society of America held a meeting at Sutphen's Restaurant in Borger last week.

Those who attended were William B. Brooks of Wheeler, Fred Squyres of Dumas, Virgie Cunningham and Fred Lotspeich of Amarillo, Duane Bartee of Pampa and Eli Baker of Miami.

Purpose of the meeting was to plan the Golden Spread Chapter's 1964 calendar of activities.

The following activities were planned by the Executive Council:

April — There will be a program and tour on installation and operation of irrigation pipeline systems in Dumas. Also, a tour will be conducted through the Phillips Agricultural Chemical Plant in Etter.

July — A range management program will be conducted by range authorities from Agricultural Research Stations at Canadian. Rotational deferred grazing and brush control will be featured in the program. In the afternoon, there will be a tour of the Canadian Wildlife Management Area with representatives of the Fish and Wildlife Service.

September — Golden Spread Chapter members will visit Miller's Seed Company at Hereford. George Warner, Manager, will conduct a tour of his irrigated farm where he has a variety of native and introduced grasses under irrigation. Also, everyone will have an opportunity to see grass seed processed by the company. The remainder of the day will be spent touring the new Sugar Beet Plant near Hereford.

January — The Golden Spread Chapter's Annual Meeting will be held to round out the year's activities. Representatives of the U.S. Forest Service will conduct a program on wildlife and recreation.

Program reports were made by the chairman of each committee. Another Executive Council meeting was scheduled at the same place March 20, 1964. All committee members should make plans to attend. The meeting adjourned at 10:00 p.m.

The Soil Conservation Society of America is a professional society organized to promote soil and water conservation. Farmers, ranchers, business or professional men interested in conserving soil and water can join the Golden Spread Chapter by contacting the local Soil Conservation District Supervisors or other agricultural representatives for further information.

Cattle Price Decline Halts as Market Jells

United Press International — Farmers began to breathe more freely this week as the two-month decline of cattle prices suddenly ground to a halt and the market took its first substantial step toward recovery.

Slaughter steers sold steady to $1.00 per 100 pounds higher after tumbling to their lowest levels since the spring of 1957. Although the heavy weights were still a drag on the market, buyers finally began to focus their attention on other market factors. The price on steers weighing over 1250 pounds began to work.

Higher wholesale prices plus favorable day to day distribution of supplies helped rescue the faltering market.

Soybean and corn futures ended the week steady to higher while nearby wheat dropped sharply and set the bearish trend for other cereals on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Old crop wheat plummeted more than 7 cents. Failure of the government and longshoremen to settle their wheat - to Russia dispute brought heavy liquidation to wheat but news of an agreement late Tuesday spurred a short-lived demand. Uncertainty over the wheat legislation and belief that business with Soviet countries may diminish also affected the market.

Demand for corn was based on small receipts, light country and government selling, a moisture shortage and pledges by farmers to curb 1964 acreage. Reports that farmers were withholding large amounts of soybeans brought short covering to beans. Old crop oats fell 2 cents to new season lows on heavy initial tenders. Rye dropped nearly 7 cents with wheat.

and feed before the summer was over. If our stocking rate is based on the wet years—we will be out of grass during the drier years.

Our long range plans should call for enough feed reserve in form of ensilage, hay or reserve grassland to last at least one year. If we do not have at least this much we are skating on very thin ice. Moisture conserving measures such as brush control, proper range use, contour farming, terracing and stubble mulching will help to offset the effects of a drought or dry spell.

Watershed Group Opens 1964 Year

Audrey Dalrymple of the State Soil Conservation Board met with Gray and McClellan SCD officials Tuesday in the Court-house Annex, east of Pampa.

The purpose of the meeting was to launch the 1964 plan of work on the McClellan Creek Watershed. Reports were made by each program chairman on their progress in promoting the Watershed. Dalrymple suggested where emphasis should be placed to increase planning priority.

Those who attended the meeting were: R. J. Sailor, David Armstrong, George Curye and Wright McGee of The McClellan Soil Conservation District (Carson Co.); Milton Carpenter, Curtis Schaffer, James Cliett and W. C. Epperson of the Gray County Soil Conservation District; Billy Davis, Chairman of the McClellan Creek Watershed Steering Committee; L. Duane Bartee, Arneal Scott and Jack Gray of the Soil Conservation Service; and Foster Whaley, Gray County Agricultural Agent.

A STORE MANAGER has to consider a lot of figures when ordering merchandise lines for the new season, according to W. G. McComas, manager of the Pampa Montgomery Ward store located in the Coronado Center. During a recent marketing meeting in Oklahoma City he voted for this form-flattering Carol Brent outfit, modeled by Marite Ogers, the current Miss U.S.A., as his first choice. "Believe it or not, I was just as excited about the 1964 models of refrigerators, freezers, washers, power tools, truck tires and farm and garden equipment also previewed at the meeting," McComas said. (Adv.)

Grain Sign-Up Gets Under Way In Gray County

Growers who participate in the 1964 feed grain program will have definite advantages over growers who elect to not participate in the program.

First, the participating grower earns a diversion payment for reducing his 1964 acreage of corn, barley or grain sorghum, thereby assuring himself of a substantial income from the diverted acres regardless of drought, flood, insects, hail or crop disease.

This is also true of the price support payment which is made on the acreage planted in 1964 to one or more of the three feed grains — no matter what disposition is made of the crop, the price support payment is assured.

Third, price support loans and purchase agreements will be available on a participating farmer's entire 1964 production of the three feed grains.

If the participating farmer requests it, an advance payment of part of the diversion payment will be made at the time of the signing up or as soon as possible after that time.

Growers take part in the feed grain base acreage into an approved conserving use and carrying out other provisions of the program. If more than the minimum acreage is diverted, a higher rate of payment will apply.

The minimum rate of payment is based on one-fifth of the county's total price support rate; the maximum or higher rate is based on one-half of the support rate.

Weed Control School Set At Amarillo Fair Grounds

On Thursday, March 5th, starting at 9:30 a.m., a weed control training school will be held in the Commercial Exhibits Building, Tri-State Fair Grounds, Amarillo.

A Dutch treat luncheon will be served. The program will end at 4:00 p.m.

An excellent program has been planned that will touch on brush control on range land, new-invert emulsion sprays, late research on weed control, newer chemicals for weed control and new pre-emergent sprays for cotton. The latter could save considerable money in hand hoe bills. Demonstrations will be given on new invert emulsion spraying.

Center Wrap-Up

George Smith, Director
Pampa Youth and Community Center

The Center Grade School Basketball Tournament will kickoff Monday. There were nine teams entered—one from Borge. The center tournament is different from the Pee-wee Tournament in that any boy in the lower six grades may play. Some boys on the fifth grade teams have been named up to participate.

Players and coaches are admitted free but spectators will be charged a small admission. This is: adults, 25 cents; junior high and high school, 15 cents and grade school, 10 cents. All proceeds will go toward the operation of the center.

The center will sponsor an independent basketball tournament at the request of Pampans. This tournament will be open to all teams in the Tri-State Area. An entry fee of $12 will be charged to cover all team expenditures for the tournament. The winner will receive a trophy and their entry fee will be refunded. Second place will receive a trophy. Teams interested in entering should contact the center as soon as possible. The tournament will run through the week of March 23-27.

Volleyball season is approaching and the league will start around April 1. There will be men's and a women's division as there was last year. Players should form teams of at least six members and contact the center to enter. An entry fee of $12 per team will be charged with the fee reduced $1 for each member of the team that is a center member. Those interested should call the center and enter their teams. Trophies will be awarded the winners in each division. If eight teams enter there will be a runnerup trophy in each division.

With all the activity going on we would recommend each Pampan to purchase a center membership. This would entitle you to a variety of activities at a low low cost. Memberships for individuals are $5 for six months and $8 per year. Memberships for families are $12 and $20. If you would like to pay out a family membership, we have a sustaining membership of $25 that may be budgeted at $6.25 every three months.

The center is offering new swim lessons starting March 9. This is the first course of the winter swim season for junior and senior life saving. Classes will meet for three weeks and meeting time will be from 4-6 p.m. Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

In order to take junior life saving a person must be at least 12 years of age or be in the 7th to the 10th grade. For senior life saving a person must be 16 years of age or in or above the 11th grade. These courses are very important and could prove successful toward life guarding at one of the pools in the city during the summer.

Harvesters Fail to Tally At Fort Stockton Meet

FORT STOCKTON (Sp)—Records fell like rain at the Fort Stockton Invitational Track Meet yesterday, but none of them by the Pampa Harvester thin-clads, who for the first time in three years, failed to score a point.

None of the Harvesters were able to qualify for the finals, although several of them, notably half-miler Mark Westbrook and miler Jesse Washington, gave it a good try before running out of gas.

"We just weren't in shape," sadly admitted coach Norman Phillips. "With the early start of track this year and the bad weather we have been having, our kids just weren't ready. They made good tries, but they just pooped out."

Winner of the large-school class in the meet was Kermit, with 76 points. Odessa Permian was second with 53, El Paso Burges third with 48 and Abilene Cooper fourth with 42½ tallies.

Among the five records broken, one was literally set up by Westbrook, who set the pace for a 1:56.3 880 by Craig Van Aiken, state champion from Burges. Westbrook led Van Aiken for over three-fourths of the race, but came to almost a dead stop in the last quarter as Van Aiken sped to the record. Westbrook still finished the race in a very creditable 2:05.7.

Washington also acted as a pace-setter for part of the qualifying mile as he led Mike McDonald of Cooper until fading. McDonald finished with a meet record of 4:26.8. Washington with 5:03.6.

Other records set were a dual pole vault mark of 13'8" by Jerry Hobson of Kermit and Bean of Cooper, with Hobson winning the points on fewer misses; a shot put record of 58'4" by Resley of Fort Stockton; and a low hurdles mark of 19.0 by Art Carroll of Lubbock High.

Peret On 2nd All-State Five

HOUSTON (UPI)—The Dallas-Fort Worth area with three selections dominated this year's Texas Sportswriters Association's all-state Class AAAA schoolboy basketball team.

Farrar Stockton of Dallas Woodrow Wilson High, Bill Voight of Dallas Highland Park and Billy Arnold of Fort Worth Haltom were picked along with Ken Spain of Houston and Larry Miller of San Antonio Lee.

Stockton, 6-6, had the highest point average of the all-state team with 28.4 per game. Arnold was next with 22.3.

Spain, 6-7, is the tallest player and Arnold, 6-2 is the shortest. Spain and Voight are juniors, the rest are seniors.

Second team—Terry Trippet, Odessa; Ronnie Peret, Plainview; Herry Kroll, Spring Branch Memorial; Mickey McCarty, Pasadena; and Terry George, Denton.

Third team—Gene Wilson, Fort Worth Poly; Steve Bernan, El Paso Burges; Bill Mehrens, Corpus Christi Ray; Roy Gamez, San Antonio Burbank; and Norman Grey, Dallas Adamson.

MARK WESTBROOK sets pace

Records Shattered At SW Recreation

FORT WORTH (UPI)—Billy Foster outsped teammate John Roderick in the featured 100-yard dash of the Southwestern Recreation Track and Field Meet Saturday, but his 9.5-second clocking wasn't among the 10 records smashed on a cold, windy afternoon.

The sprint battle between the two Southern Methodist youngsters, who are expected to duel season-long for Olympic team berths, came early in the program which saw three of the four defending champions dethroned and Negroes play a major role as the 41-year-old meet integrated for the first time.

Texas Southern, which dominated the Texas college division track and field meets last season, picked up where it left off a year ago and more than doubled its nearest rival, East Texas State while defending champion tumbled to eighth.

The dusky runners and jumpers from Houston piled up 89½ points to 37 points for East Texas, 26 for Sam Houston State, 24 for Prairie View A&M—another all-Negro entry and 23 for Pittsburg, Kan., State.

Baylor's Southwest Conference championship team, piling up 38 of its 63 points in the field events, dethroned Abilene Christian in the university division, with Houston second with 49 points, SMU third with 42 and ACC fourth with 38.

Howard County Junior College replaced Abilene Christian as the junior college freshman champion with 55½ points to Baylor's 38 Texas' 37 and ACC's 31½.

Dallas Hillcrest repeated as high school titlist with 30 points to 27 for Abilene high and 19½ for Highland Park, whose George Aldredge was voted the meet's outstanding athlete by tying the 100-yard dash record of 9.6 seconds Saturday after setting a new 220-yard sprint mark of 21.4 Friday.

Pat Bishop of Dallas was outpointed by Hegeman Lewis of Detroit, the eventual 135-pound champ, in the semi-finals.

Sporting Sidelines

by JEFF COHANE

SIX BASKETBALL games in one day is too much for even a round-ball lover like Vernon Roper. Much as the Ol' Swami loves the cage sport, four high school and two college games in one sitting is enough dribble-ball to last me until next season (except for the Miami girls, don't worry; Warriorettes, we'll be there!)

Going to press with SIDELINES before the tourney is over, we venture to predict that McAdoo will win state again this year. There hasn't been anything to even threaten them in the last two years but Miami, Aspermont and Quitaque, and there won't be anything at Austin this year either. Next year... ah, that will be a little different! McAdoo isn't like Clear Creek, they don't have a Lenox coming up every two years or so.

BOB GLOVER, the Dallas TJ cager, was in all his glory as a member of the TT Picadors when they played the West Texas Stompers. Although obviously a bit of a ham and showboat, he puts his money where his mouth is and produced 31 points including the winning basket.

AN OLD RIVAL of his is doing rather well as a freshman too. A recent Fort Worth report of a pair of TCU basketball games against Baylor is headlined "Wogs Shone While Frogs Lack Luster." According to the story, "With wiry Wayne Kries leading the charge in the final 4:09 of play, the Wogs easily won their fifth straight game."

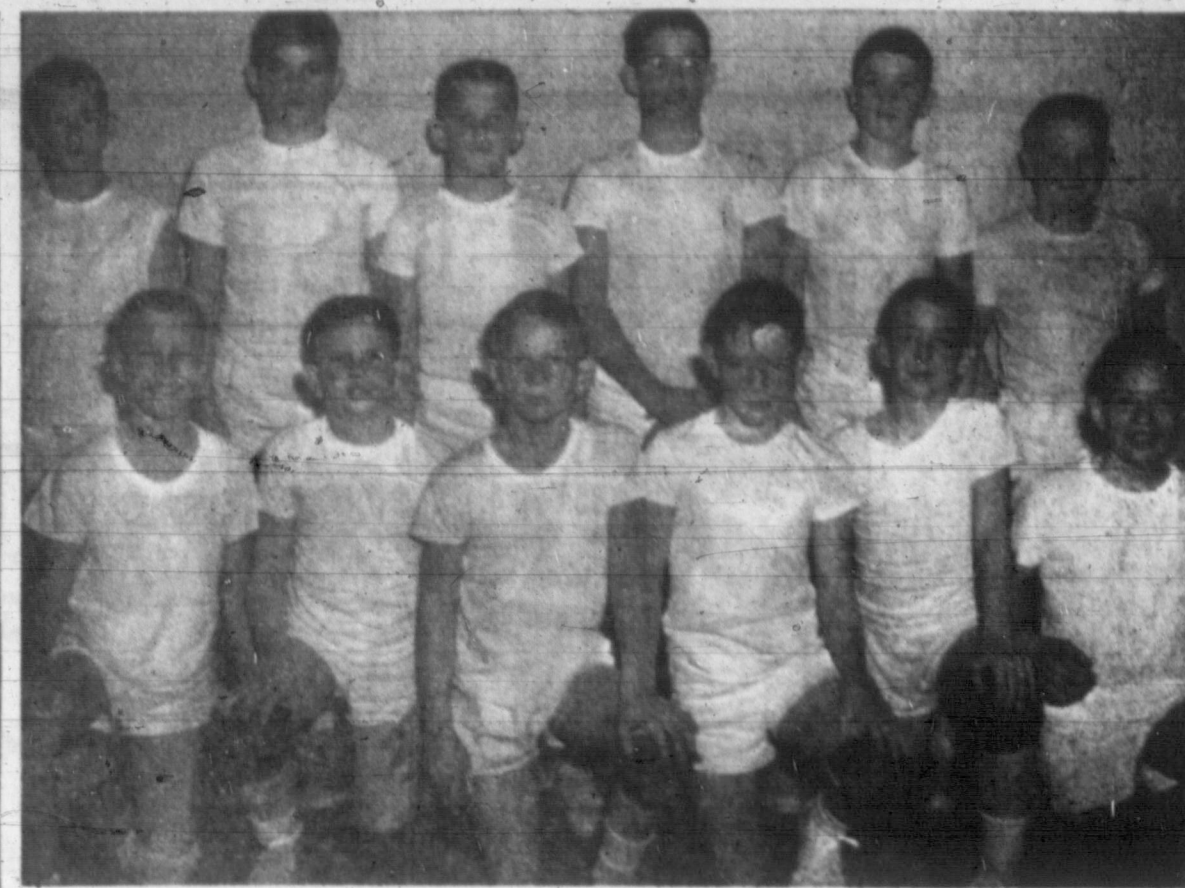

"Kries, the freshman, from Pampa who directs the Wogs' attack, produced 10 points in the surge and finished with 29 points to become the second leading scorer in history at TCU. He now has 250 points (Editor's note: Wayne still has one game left to play.) Dick O'Neal scored 313 in 1953."

SPEAKING OF OLD, the Swami really started to feel the gray hairs coming on during the visit to WTSU. More years ago than I like to think about, the Swami helped along a junior high team at Lamesa that went on, almost as a unit, to win the state basketball championship a few years back. Two of those youngsters, now grown far bigger (except around the waist) than the Ol' Sage, recognized and visited with me. Cutting up old touches, they reminded that the Pampa Shockers were not the first ones to think of the water treatment, the Lamesa frosh did it to me after winning a tournament at Levelland.

RALPH PALMER, the transplanted Pampa speedster, now an out-of-state exile on the Sooner reservation, visited and reported that running in two indoor frosh meets, he placed second in the 440 in both and ran on the winning relay team. Bill Martin, the other track refugee in Okieland, has been hampered by a sore leg, says Ralph, but is expected to be in full stride for the outdoor meets following spring vacation.

THIS WHOLE COLUMN is mainly to take your mind off the Swami's last fight prediction. I still say there is a distinct effluvia of fish, cheese and rotten egg about the whole thing. The only comment heard worth repeating on the entire affair is that of Bennie, the rassing promoter: "I wish I had them guys in my act!"

Mason Leads At New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Consistent Mason Rudolph hiked his lead in the $50,000 Greater New Orleans Invitational golf tournament Saturday by firing a two-under-par 70 on the windswept Lakewood Country Club course.

Rudolph, of Lehigh Acres, Fla., registered a 35-35 for a two-day total of 138, six under par.

Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, shot his second straight

70 for a 140 total and second place at the halfway mark. Nicklaus turned in three birdies and then bogeyed the final hole.

Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La., who tied Rudolph for first Friday with a 68, ran into all kinds of trouble Saturday and was five over par. His 77 gave him a two-day total of 145.

Dave Marr of New Rochelle, N.Y., stayed in the running by posting a 34-37-71 for a 36-hole total of 141.

Arnold Palmer continued to attract the big crowds in the tournament and turned in a 71. But his 76 Friday left him with a 147, way back in the field. Dick Hart of Hinsdale, Ill., sank a hole-in-one on the 165 yard eighth hole. It was his third ace in tournament competition and the second one for the professionals on the current winter tour.

Borger Coach District Boss

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI)—The National Baseball Congress announced Saturday the appointment of Bennie C. Hill of Borger as 1964 district commissioner for tournament July 20.

The Borger tourney is one of a series which will qualify teams into the 28th state tournament in Lubbock, starting Aug. 6.

McAdoo In, Lonnie On All-Tourney

CANYON (Sp)—Mighty little McAdoo came from behind, then stalled off a determined Quitaque surge for a 54-53 win and the regional Class B championship last night. In an equally wild game, Bula came from behind to win third place, 70-69 over Meadow.

Quitaque took a 13-8 quarter lead and held a 27-23 halftime margin. Larry Powers then stopped 6-7 Jack Johnson cold, allowing him only two of his 10 points in the second half, while Larry Morris led a surge that put the Eagles ahead, 40-38 at the quarter. Jim Saul led a fourth-quarter rally that just fell short. Morris led the state champs with 14 points, Saul had 20.

Gene Autry's basket gave Bula the win in a game that switched back and forth from the opening whistle. Autry had 25 points, Bill Sturdivant 23 for Meadow.

The All-Regional team named Lonnie Richardson of Allison, Autry and Pat Risinger of Bula, Morris, Larry McWilliams and Creamon Scott of McAdoo, Terry Smith of Shallowater, Bill Sturdivant of Meadow and Johnson and Saul of Quitaque.

Texas Wins Gloves Title

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—The Texas team took home the national Golden Gloves' championship Saturday, led by 16-year-old Manuel Navarro of Austin.

He won the 118-pound title last night over John Copeland of Kansas City for his fourth victory point and sewed up the team title for the Lone Star State with a total of 15 points.

Next goal for Navarro, a high school sophomore, and other champions is the U.S. Olympic team.

Floyd Molina of Fort Worth lost in the 126-pound final match to Marcus Anderson of Louisville, a home-town favorite.

Pat Bishop of Dallas was outpointed by Hegeman Lewis of Detroit, the eventual 135-pound champ, in the semi-finals.

McAdoo vs. Quitaque Regional Finals Setup

By JEFF COHANE
 Daily News Sports Editor
CANYON — The last Top O' Texas boys basketball team went down to defeat Friday as gallant little Allison bowed to state champion McAdoo in the first round of the regional Class B basketball Tournament, 95-52, scoring 27 points to seven in a nightmare fourth quarter.
 McAdoo went on to set up a Saturday night finals as expected with Quitaque, stopping Bula in the second round Saturday morning, 61-60. The Panthers had a rough first round as strong Shallowater fought to the wire before bowing, 54-51, and then romped over Meadow in the second round, 61-44. Bula had battered a supposedly strong Channing team in their opening round, 88-69, and Meadow had knocked off Knox City, 58-44.

 McAdoo led from the opening buzzer, but the Antelopes, hitting with accuracy at the free throw line, kept it close all through the first half. McAdoo, shooting a fantastic 19 of 37 field goals in the second half, broke the game wide open in the third quarter and scored at will in the final frame.
 Allison's all-state candidate, Lonnie Richardson, was held to a season low of 12 points as he was guarded by all-state Larry Morris in the first half and double and triple-teamed in the second half. Although hitting only five of 15 field goals, Leaping Lonnie nearly out-rebounded the entire McAdoo basketball team, despite the fact that he played guard the entire first quarter, never getting a rebound chance, while his setup passes put three more of his mates into double figures. Richardson, completely controlling the boards in the second quarter after getting no rebounds in the first frame, ended with 17 of Allison's 36 board grabs, while McAdoo had a total of 19.
 The run-and-shoot kids were stymied in their ballhawking in the first frame as Richardson brought the ball down himself, but piled up the points on the shooting and rebounding of Jerry Johnson. Allison, which went the first nine minutes of the game without committing a foul, kept in range on charities and trailed 24-16 at the quarter.
 Richardson ate the boards alive in the second quarter and Allison slowly closed the gap on free throws and the shooting of Leaping Lonnie. Mike Aderholt and George Markham hit in quick succession to cut the margin to four points, but Richardson went out for a rest and McAdoo built the lead to 40-32 at the half.
 Driving and hitting with deadly accuracy, Bill McWilliams and Ceamon Scott built the margin to double figures to open the third quarter and it was the beginning of the end. All-State Johnny Powers proceeded to drive under the basket again and again and stuff the ball through for 68-43 at the three-quarter mark.

 The fourth quarter was a shambles as McAdoo would score, steal the ball before it got to, midcourt and drive back down for another score over and over again.
 McWilliams finished with 24 points, Scott with 16, Powers with 14 and Johnson and Morris 10 apiece. Colie Donaldson backed Richardson with 11 and Markham and Everett Childress 10 each.
 Channing, which had acquired a strong reputation by smashing 2-A champion Wellington, literally threw away their own ball game. Time after time, Randy Sherrod and Paul Carr would gobble the defensive rebounds and fire them downcourt on long passes, only to have their mates miss simple crisp shots again and again. Bula's Gene Autry, in turn, would rebound and fire it back with his mates, especially speedy Pat Risinger, hitting the bullseye every time. Risinger ended, up with 39 points, Sherrod with 28.

In the best-played game of the tournament, Shallowater acted as if it had never heard of Quitaque as they battled them down to the wire until Jim Saul's free throws in the final seconds won the game. Six-three Harry Evans beat 6-7 Jack Johnson out of the boards and the lead went back and forth throughout the entire second half. Saul and Bob Morrison matching buckets with George Luck, Terry Smith and Alan McMenemy. Saul took scoring honors with 21 points.
 In a dull, anti-climax game, Meadow broke open a low-scoring game in the fourth quarter behind Bill Sturdivant's 20 points.
 In Saturday's semi-final round, Bula's Pat Risinger was stopped cold by the defensive work of Jerry Johnson, and McAdoo led all the way against a hard-fighting Bula club. McAdoo took a 22-16 quarter lead, then broke it open in the second frame, 42-27, behind the playmaking and setting-up of Morris. Bula made a game of it in the third quarter, 64-43, but McAdoo got on their racehorse the rest of the way. Bill McWilliams led the Eagles with 19 points, Autry had 20 for Bula. Quitaque had an easier time in the second game as Jack Johnson's height completely dominated the rebounds, leading 19-8, 36-17 and 45-33 at the quarter stops. Johnson had 21 and Saul 20 for the Panthers, Don Carroll 12 for Meadow.

DIG, DIG, DIG! — Head coach Otis Holladay urges a tackler to hit low and hard as he slams into the dummy during Pampa's first week of spring training sessions.

Happy Holladay Exultant Over Spring Training

"We are real, real pleased with the first week of spring football training," bubbled head coach Otis Holladay in an exceptionally exuberant mood. Despite bad weather having forced the Harvesters indoors two days of the opening week, Holladay and his staff agreed that this was one of the best spring trainings they had seen, to date.
 "We are particularly pleased with three things," reported happy Holladay. "One... the enthusiasm the kids have shown... they have really gotten after it. Another... the way the backs have been running... they are by far the best group of running backs, as a whole, since I have been here. The other... the way the linemen have been picking up their blocking patterns... and especially the way they are conscious of their downfield blocks."
 The Harvesters wound up the opening week yesterday by watching films in the morning and a scrimmage workout in the afternoon.
 The Harvesters still have 69 hopefuls out, reported the balding Pampa mentor, although two or three are down with the measles. Except for the first day, when a few of the smaller boys changed their minds and turned in their suits, the Harvesters have had no one drop out of training.
 "Although we had to go inside two days this week, we felt like we were able to accomplish a lot just the same," explained Otis. "Since all of last week was on fundamentals, we were able to teach them just as well in the gym. We don't feel like we lost anything because of the weather."
 The Harvesters will hope for good weather all next week, as they will try to prep for an intrasquad game next Saturday afternoon.

Emerson Barred From Davis Cup

MELBORNE, Australia (UPI) — Roy Emerson, considered by many the leading amateur tennis player in the world, was barred Saturday from Davis Cup selection in 1964. The harsh move by the Lawn Tennis Association of Australia. Virtually doomed Australia's bid to recapture the coveted trophy it lost to the United States last December, in the opinion of many experts. But local officials felt it was essential to regain "control" over their wandering stars.
 Norman Strange, president of the LTAA, said Saturday that Emerson had automatically barred himself by defying the Australian body and playing in the Dixie International tennis tournament at Tampa, Fla., Friday.
 The ban, which extends through April 1, 1965, also denies Emerson the right to play on any other Australian team in international competition.
 However, Emerson still is expected to take part in such major tournaments as Wimbledon and the U.S. nationals under private sponsorship.
 The status of Ken Fletcher, who is in the United States with Emerson, is unknown as yet, but it is almost a certainty that he too will be hit with a similar ban.
 Commenting about Fletcher, another top-ranking Australian star, Strange said: "He was beaten in the Dixie tournament before the deadline, so we must wait to see whether or not he carries out his threat to continue to play on the Caribbean circuit with Emerson."
 He will be barred automatically if he does, Strange said.
 The LTAA warned Emerson and Fletcher against playing in any overseas tournaments between Feb. 28 and March 31. It advised them of the strict penalties that would be exacted if they failed to adhere to the ruling.
 Emerson, who won his two singles matches for Australia against the United States in the Davis Cup challenge, said Friday that he was considering a $50,000 offer to turn professional, but until then he would continue with the Caribbean circuit.

 The fast-breaking Supplymen put a quintet in double figures, Gib Winton hitting 18, James Lee 15, Sam Condo 14, Coy Mitchell 11 and Gene Williams 10. Bob Lafon had 14 for Celanese.

PLANNING LEGION DANCE — G. E. Graham of the Pampa American Legion Post makes a suggestion to Ricky Maynard, seated, about changing a word in poster which will announce the Legion Baseball team's fund-raising dance on March 14. Watching Maynard's work are R. L. Jenkins, center, another Legionaire, and Kyle Vann, publicity director for the dance. Both Maynard and Vann are returning members of the Rebel baseball team this year.

Baseball Club Planning 'Blast'

A fund-raising dance for the Pampa Rebel baseball team, sponsored by the American Legion Post, will be held at the Parish Hall March 14 and members of the ball club are planning a real "blast" for area youngsters.

Kyle Vann, one of the youths heading the drive for a record-breaking turnout for a Pampa dance, announced Saturday that one band and a folk music group would perform at the affair.

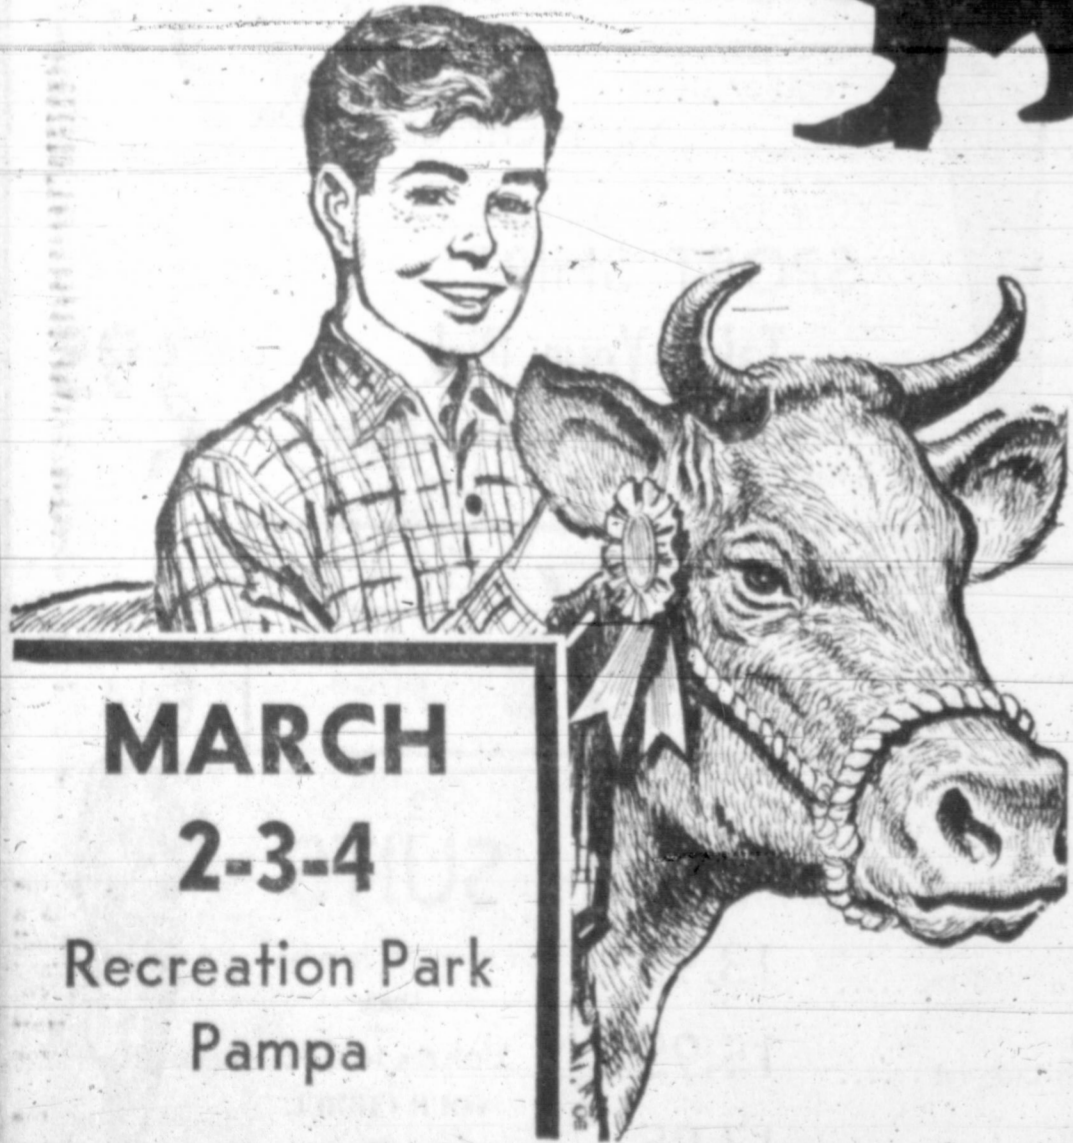

Coronado as the band and the trio known as The Rejects as the folk singers.

Justice Prevails Over 'Cassius'

Cassius Clay showed up at the Gray County Stock Show Saturday and proved he's as tough a fighter as his ring notices claim.

Glenn Justice, Pampa FFA member, was forced to do battle with "Clay" and it was a Mexican standoff as to just who won the battle.

"Cassius" squealed and fussed but he got washed, brushed and soaped down before Justice was finished with him. Justice was pretty well soaped and wet when he finished with the battle.

"Cassius Clay" is Justice's barrow hog that took third place in the swine show for his class.

The name "Cassius Clay" came when Justice found out just how hard it is to keep a "fighter clean."

Plane With 83 Aboard Disappears

INNSBRUCK, Austria (UPI)—A British airliner with 83 persons aboard vanished Saturday in a swirling fog over this Winter Olympics capital. It was considered certain to have crashed in the snow-covered Austrian Alps.

The turbo-prop jetliner with 75 passengers and a crew of 8 was en route to Innsbruck from London with a party of vacationers. Fog had settled in Radio contact with the pilot ended abruptly in an indication of sudden disaster.

Leopold Koehler, spokesman for the Austrian Civil Aviation Rescue Committee, said a massive search was being organized but that the fog was so thick all operations had to be suspended Sunday morning.

The flight was regularly scheduled Flight 803 of the British Eagle International Airlines. The plane, a Britannia, left London at noon for what was to have been a two-hour flight along a route taken by many participants in the recent Olympic games.

World's Biggest Trade Parley Could Be Politically Explosive

By JOHN A. CALLCOTT

GENEVA (UPI)—The biggest trade conference the world has ever seen begins in Geneva today, and it could be politically explosive.

For exactly 12 weeks, from March 23 to June 15, the United Nations conference on trade and development will meet in the huge assembly hall of the Geneva Palais des Nations.

More than 1,500 delegates from 122 countries will attend. Another 300 observers from various international and trade organizations will also be on hand, making a grand total of some 2,000 participants.

The sheer size of the conference, however, and the world forum it provides for cold war jousting present the greatest dangers to its success.

Boosts Trade
Its aims match in magnitude size and length of the conference — boost trade throughout the world and in particular stimulate the economies of less-developed nations.

Many officials connected with the conference fear it will turn out to be more political than economic in nature.

Politics indeed had a great deal to do with its conception. It was first proposed in 1956 by the Soviet Union and her supporters. The Russians wanted the creation of an International Trade Organization (ITO) which would extend to them the preferential trading arrangements already existing between the major Western industrialized states.

In this way the Communists hoped to expand East-West trade to their benefit.

Moscow's plan failed. But less-developed nations, particularly the new African countries, took up the theme and called for a world conference devoted primarily to helping them improve their economies. The United Nations approved and the trade and development conference was born.

Establishment of an ITO is still in the agenda but appears doomed to defeat. The United States Congress as far back as 1949 voted against creation of such a world trading super-organization because it believed it would encroach on sovereign rights. This opposition continues.

Instead of creating an organization lacking teeth, United Nations economic officials are now thinking of a plan under which the trade and development conference would be reconvened every two or three years to check on progress and take new decisions.

Object To GATT
Both Communists and developing countries object to the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT), the present international trade group. They claim it is a "rich man's club" benefiting only the West.

Central Baptist Sets Dedication Of Auditorium, Homecoming

THURMAN UPSHAW ... Central's pastor

Central's Upshaw Has Successful Ministry Here

The effectiveness of a pastor's ministry cannot always be measured in numbers or in financial increase. Still, one of the measures of success in a pastorate is in this realm.

Thurman O. Upshaw became pastor of Central Baptist Church, May 17, 1957. During the nearly seven years of his pastorate, the church has received 861 additions to the church by transfer of membership from other churches. During the same time, 478 people have been baptized into the membership.

He received his formal education at Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth. He is married to the former Georgie Gruber of Rotan.

The Upshaws, with their three children, Freddie, 16; Kay, 11; and Karen, 5, reside at 1700 Chestnut.

Another evidence of the effectiveness of a pastor's ministry is manifest in attendance at worship services. Central Baptist Church constantly has a full house at the morning worship service. The evening services are well attended, and around 200 people consistently attend the mid-week services.

Pastor Upshaw is active in denominational affairs. He is a member of the Executive Board of BGCT. He has served as moderator of Palo Duro Association, president of District 1, and various other committees in Baptist work.

HUGH SANDERS ... minister of music

Music in Church Enjoyable Item

One of the most enjoyable parts of public worship is participation in the congregational singing. Central Baptist Church, under the direction of Hugh Sanders, magnifies congregational singing. Every member is encouraged to take part in this service.

Mr. Sanders also leads in the choral program of the church. Under his leadership, there has been developed one of the finest church choirs in the state. He also has a fine Chapel Choir of youth, ages 13-18. Mr. Sanders is ably assisted by his wife who directs the Concord Choir for children, ages 9-12. Mrs. Sanders is also an accomplished organist. Assisting at times on the organ are Mrs. Charles Parr and Mrs. A. C. Malone. Mrs. Dan Johnson is church pianist, assisted by Miss Ellen Trout.

Mr. Sanders is a graduate of Baylor University, Waco. He is married to the former Rinky Shivers of Phillips. The Sanders have one son, Stan, age 2. They reside at 2124 N. Faulkner.

Sunday School Has Primarily 'Outreach' Task

"Outreach for the Unreached" is a slogan familiar to Southern Baptists. This task of outreach is given basically to the Sunday School. At Central Baptist Church this organization is charged with this important ministry.

Providing for effective Bible teaching in 34 departments is the work of the Sunday School. Under the direction of minister of education and Mr. Wayne Cobb, assistant Sunday School superintendent, these departments plan and promote the program of Bible teaching. The object of this program is to reach every possible person for Bible study and to win them to Christ and effective service in His kingdom.

Some 140 or more people teach the Bible each Sunday morning. Classes are graded according to age and sex in order to give personal attention to individual needs. Learning is more personal when classes are small and of the same sex. The Sunday School also promotes an Orientation program for each person who joins the church. These are asked to attend five weeks of instruction in Bible study doctrine and church program and policy. These classes are divided into three basic groups: Adults taught by H. A. Muns; Young People and Int. taught by Mrs. Wayne Cobb; and Juhiors taught by Mrs. A. R. Newman. Two departments minister to the needs of people outside of the regular teaching program. These are the Cradle Roll and Extension. The Cradle Roll is for children, birth through three who do not attend. The Extension Department is for those who because of illness or Sunday work are unable to participate in the regular Bible study.

RICHARD JOHNSON ... heads education, youth

Education High In Importance

One of the most essential works of a New Testament Church is the ministry of education. Jesus himself, was referred to many times as "Teacher". The last command he gave before ascending into heaven was to witness, baptize and teach.

Giving direction to a multiple program of Christian Education is Richard L. Johnson. He is a native of Arkansas. He received his training at Union University, Jackson, Tenn., and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Ft. Worth. He is ordained as a Minister of Christian Education.

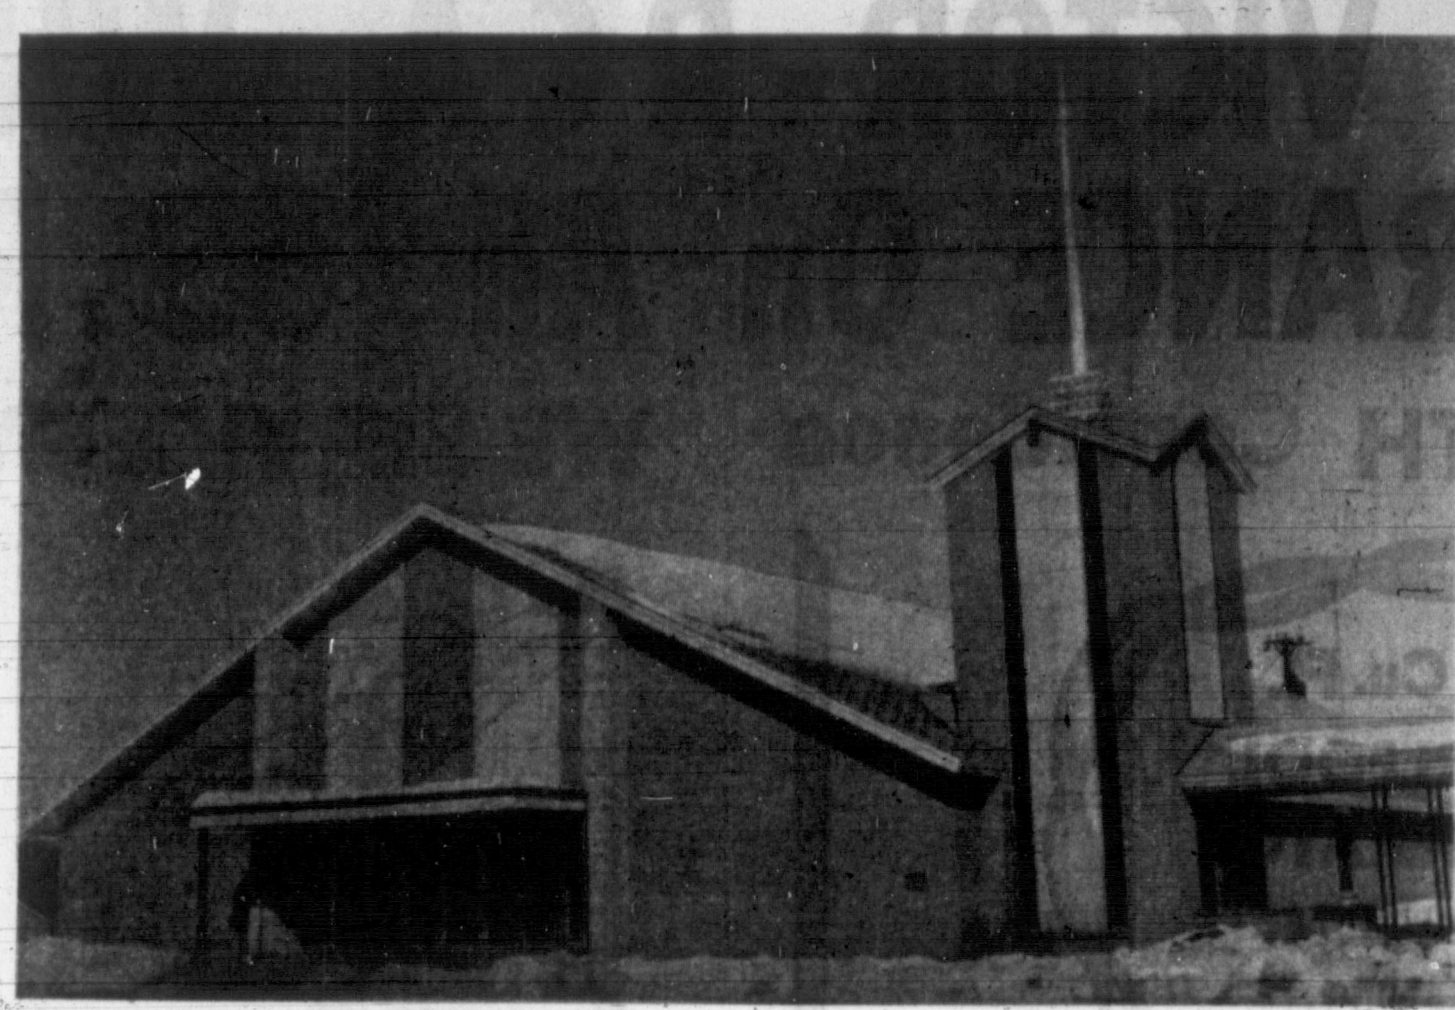

Mr. Johnson is married to the former Dorothy Pryor of Kennett, Ark. They have four children, Richard M., 15; Rebecca, 12; Joy Lynne, 3; and Paul Douglas, 5 months. They reside at 511 E. Browning.

Along with his educational responsibilities, he gives direction to the Youth Program. This involves planning, promoting, and directing the many facets of youth education and recreation.

BUILDING COMMITTEE — Pictured above is group of men who spent many long hours in planning for and giving direction to the building of our auditorium. They are left to right: Charles Terrell, Bob Ratliff, J. B. Hilburn, Wayne Cobb, J. D. White, and James Baird. H. T. Beckham, now deceased, was a member of this committee. There were many nights that this committee met in getting ready for the construction. They met with prospective builders, viewed proposed plans, studied material needs, and selected what they thought was best for our building. These spent many hours of labor in helping with construction, especially in remodeling the old auditorium. Along with these are many others who gave unstintedly of their time to make the present facilities possible.

Deacons Lead in Spiritual Growth

The deacons of Central Baptist Church are leaders in all the work being accomplished by the church. Headed by W. E. Riley, they give spiritual guidance to all the programs of the church. They provide a spiritual ministry to all the church families through a visitation program.

The deacons are in three categories: Active deacons serving on the committee are: James Baird, W. C. Bass, Jr., Sam Batteas, R. C. Brown, Billy J. Chance, Wayne Cobb, Johnny Duncan, Ed Flynt, Bill Fulcher, Laven Greer, Gene McClendon, E. G. McCollum, H. A. Muns, T. C. Narron, L. B. Paden, Bob Ratliff, W. E. Riley, W. L. Stafford, James Sellers, Charles Tingle, Jay Thompson, Charles Terrell, M. E. West, J. D. White, and L. C. Yeager.

Deacons reserve are: E. B. Davis, J. C. Flowers, John Mitchell, Albert Taylor, Austin Ruckick, and R. O. Clements. Deacons Emeritus are: J. B. Hilburn, L. O. Roenfeldt, and H. P. Taylor.

Central's Origin Goes Back to April 1930

The Central Baptist Church, Pampa, was organized on the last Sunday of April, 1930. Fifty-two people met in the upstairs of the Culbertson-Smalling Chevrolet garage for the purpose of organizing a church. E. M. Dunsforth was moderator for the election of officers. Those officers elected were: O. H. Gilstrap, clerk; Mrs. Kate Thomas, treasurer; G. C. Stark, Sunday School Superintendent; and Ray Hungate, Training Union Director. D. H. Truhitte of Oilton Oklahoma was called as the first pastor. Miss Mary Burke was the first educational director.

In June of 1930 the women of the church met in the home of Mrs. G. C. Stark to organize the Women's Missionary Union. Mrs. C. T. Locke of Miami helped in the organization. Mrs. John Dailon was elected the first president. There have been sixteen ladies who have served as president of the W.M.S. Mrs.

R. C. Brown is currently president of this organization.

Soon after organization, the property at the corner of Francis and Starkweather was secured and construction was started on a building in which the church owns the equivalent of a city block on Starkweather cornered on Francis and Browning St.

Pastors who have served the church through the years are: D. H. Truhitte, 1930-31; W. O. Cooley, 1931-33; Vernon Pipe, 1933-34; E. H. McGaha, 1934-35; John Scott, 1935-40; T. D. Sumrall, 1940-44; R. Q. Harvey, 1945-47; Hal Upchurch, 1948-52; O. C. Curtis, 1952-53; Carroll B. Ray, 1953-57; and Theron O. Upshaw, 1957.

Several of the charter members are still members of the church — Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Lunsford, Mrs. H. T. Beckham, Mrs. Kate Thomas, Mrs. Helen Lunsford, Mrs. Esther Haslam, and Mrs. G. C. Stark.

Training Aids New Believers

Upon becoming a Christian one does not automatically do all a Christian should. Baptists developed Training Union to help the new born believer become a more mature Christian. It also helps the more mature believer become a more effective church member.

The Training Union of Central Baptist Church provides instruction in doctrine, church policy and history, and Christian ethics. Under the leadership of W. C. Bass, Jr., who works closely with the minister of education, the Training Union provides for all members of the family.

Being co-educational, it not only provides instruction, but practical experience and application of knowledge through group learning activities. The knowledge gained in Training Union is helpful in one's church life. It is also a valuable asset in one's life during the week.

Missions Set Highest Goal

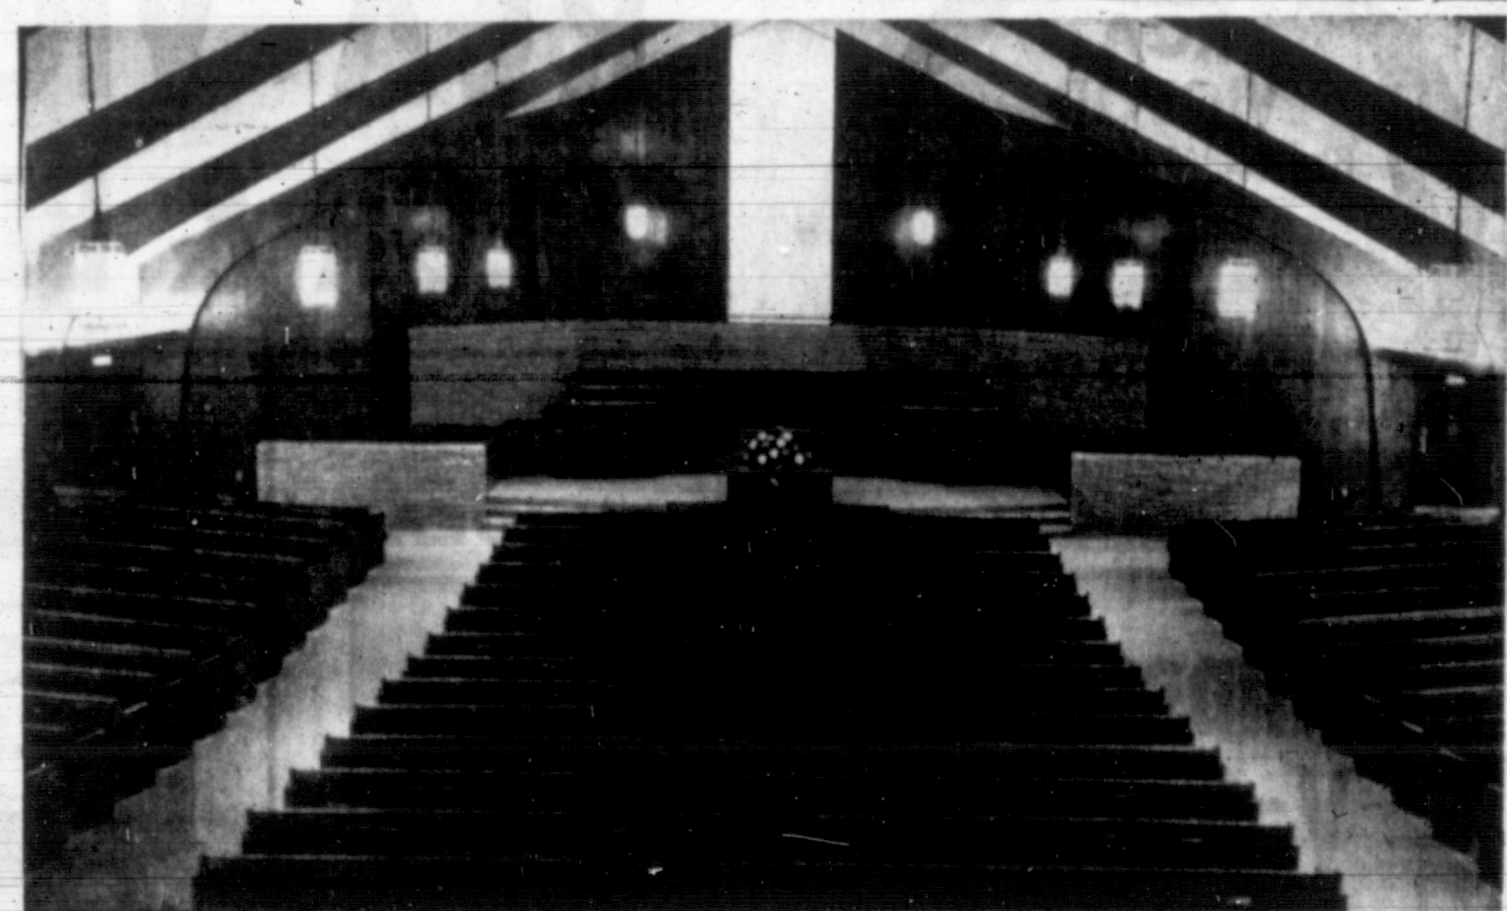

"Ye shall be witnesses unto me . . . unto the uttermost part of the world." Thus commanded our Lord in his last words to his disciples. Two organizations in the church have the basic task to promote and teach missions.

The Women's Missionary Union, Mrs. R. C. Brown, president, includes the W.M.S., the Young Women's Auxiliary directed by Mrs. Bob Hulsey; the Girls Auxiliary, Mrs. John Adams, director; and the Sunbeams, led by Mrs. George Wing. This organization provides mission study and giving.

The Brotherhood, Billy J. Chance, president, has a four-fold work: Christian Stewardship, Witnessing, World Missions and Boys work. The Royal Ambassadors for boys is under the leadership of Bill Willis and Travis Taylor.

Besides the education emphasis in these organizations the W.M.U. annually promotes three Weeks of prayer for missions. They are for State Missions, Home Missions and Foreign Missions.

These weeks of prayer also involve special offering to help promote the work of missions around the world.

INTERIOR VIEW — Designed to seat 950 people on the main floor, Central Baptist Auditorium is a thing of simple beauty. The walls of buff brick are contrasted by the birch paneling at the front and back. The aisles are covered with beige carpet. Pews are stained oak to match the fruitwood beams and are upholstered with red nylon freize.

Providing Space Necessary for Continued Sunday School Grow

One of the basic laws of Sunday School growth is: "The Sunday School takes the shape of the building." Providing space to reach and teach people is necessary to continued growth. Upon construction of a new auditorium, Central Baptist Church remodeled the old auditorium. It was made a two story structure to provide more space for educational programs.

On the main floor a fellowship hall was designed to care for a Sunday School department, serve as a second auditorium, and to provide dining facilities for at least 300 people. Behind the fellowship hall will be a modern kitchen. A stage was erected to provide a place for presentation of religious drama.

The second floor is divided into three departments which are designed to care for three

Junior departments. Also included in this remodeling, is the old fellowship hall. This building now contains a choir room and a department large enough for 40 Juniors. In the old Fellowship Hall space is provided for a choir room for rehearsal and preparation. There is also space for another Junior Department with four classrooms as the need arises for this work.

Nursery Provides Care for Tots

In church life today one of the essentials in good facilities is a modern nursery. Care of small children at Central is in very capable hands. Mrs. Frank Silcott co-ordinates a fine staff who give the finest care for small ones.

Besides a competent staff, the church has one of the most up-to-date nursery suites. Every caution is taken to provide the finest in equipment and rooms to care for those children, birth through three years of age. The nursery is provided for all church activities.

Death of Vaudeville Potrayal Scheduled

"The Death of Vaudeville," a variety show that annually scandalizes the solid Pampans and conservatives in the area, will be presented in the Pampa Junior High School Auditorium at 8 p.m. March 7. All seats are priced at fifty cents. Tickets may be purchased at the door. This annual event will feature production numbers with full chorus, solo and ensemble numbers, and dancing.

Many of the residents of our city are already familiar with the light-hearted type performance of former shows. Conceived and produced by directors Homer Krueger, Floyd Sackett, Sharon Washburn, and Mrs. E. K. Wiens, the "Death of Vaudeville" presents a group of top entertainers from Pampa Junior High School, headed by a bright, snappy comedian, Paul Cantrell, master of ceremonies, who wastes no time in establishing his identity in the role.

These hilarious comedians take the audience on an excursion of by-gone days. The songs and background music bear the inimitable stamp of gay vaudeville days. The program moves along at a swift pace designed to provide an evening of complete frivolity and enjoyment. Whether the entertainers sing or cavort melodically in a dance routine, their enthusiasm is contagious.

Spiced into this entertainment package will be many of their headline vaudeville acts, featuring the magnificent monologist, David Martindale, in old fashioned attire and derby, who entertains to music bringing hilarious episodes of "Love at First Fright!" The ventriloquist, Gwendolyn Watson and assistant, Ann Gage, will captivate the attention of the audience with their reflections of school life. In suspense action Mon Dieu the Magician, played by "Jiggy" Cruzan, and his attractively packaged assistant, Richard Barrett, reveal a flair for magic and comedy. Friendships are ruptured when belligerent youth, rejected by fabled scouts, bring surprise action to the stage.

The lovable pair, Carolyn Stimson and Lane Hooten will thrill the majority of teenage hearts with their uninhibited style of song and dance.

An outstanding feature of the evening will be the masterful performance of Maestro Krueger's band. This talented group brings to the stage a more modern touch. The entire program is interspersed with surprise action throughout the audience and on stage. This is the one big thing going for the theatregoers who are expected to pack the house on March 7 when the self-styled comedians go into action.

MODERN JAZZ — Ready to take off in a modern rendition of jazz are Ann Keim, left, and JoAnn Reames, flashing smiles and striking a handsome pose during a rehearsal session.

CHOIR SUPPORT — A choir composed of Junior High students will give vocal support to the show which is planned to captivate the imagination, emotion an enthusiasm of the audience as well as tickle the giggle box of the young at heart.

DOWN MEXICO WAY — To bring the enchantment of Old Mexico to the stage, the attractive songsters, Susan Tabor, Jennifer Cunningham and Carol Tucker prepare to don sombreros and take the audience on a song trip away down south.

Scouting Scoops

SCOUTING SCOOPS
By NANCY HOLT
Senior Troop 5

Hi, Scouts! Now that March is here we Scouts are going to be busy as bees. Of course you all know that Girl Scout Week starts next Sunday. Most of the troops have decided to go to church together on this day. Cookies go on sale March 9 and there are plenty of them to sell!

Finally the Seniors will wind up Girl Scout Week with a Senior Conference at the Pampa Hotel. Yes, March is a busy month but I'm sure that we will all enjoy ourselves.

Many of our troops seem to be thinking international this time of year. Troop 20 had a Valentine tea for their mothers on Feb. 14 at Patsy Neslage's home after school. Refreshments were served and Evelyn Roberts, the foreign exchange student from New Zealand, spoke to the girls and their mothers about her country. Those who attended were Mrs. Bill Ellis and Marsha, Mrs. Bob Prichard and Debbie, Mrs. Claude Ferrell and Deborah, Mrs. Fred Neslage and Patsy, Mrs. Elizabeth Schweiger and Evelyn Roberts.

Junior Troop 214 has been having fun learning games and songs from different parts of the world, while earning the World Neighbor and Worldwide Games badges.

As a service to children in another country, a donation was made for a CARE package to be sent from the troop. A skit showing the purpose of the CARE organization was acted out at one of the meetings.

The girls also have had fun dressing in Japanese kimonos and pretending to welcome a friend from Japan. Japanese money, hand painted silk and paper fans, china, wind chimes, and a doll in native dress were interesting items brought to the troop meeting for all to see.

Recently they invited Mrs. Agnes Webb's Junior Troop 29 to their "Around the World Games and Singing" party. They visited India, Switzerland, Japan, England, France, Africa, U.S. Cowboys and Indians, and Hawaii by playing games and singing songs from each country. Two members of Troop 214 dressed in native costume, led each country's game or song. The guests from Troop 29 represented France and taught a song in the French language.

The last stop of their "trip" was in Hawaii where they all enjoyed a Hawaiian luau. The serving table, covered with fishnet, was centered with a greeting tree. Each green and gold trefol-shaped leaf on the tree had greetings in international languages. A tropical flower was pinned in each girl's hair as she was served native fruit punch, cookies, and Hawaiian pineapple chunks. International faces decorated the napkins, and the party-picks for the pineapple. The luau tables were decorated with large sea shells and coconuts. Each girl received a souvenir of sea shells and seaweed set in colored plaster to remember her "trip" to the Islands.

Troop 214 is now learning (See SCOOPS, Page 18)

Miss Marilyn Ann Fite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Fite, 1911 Grape, and Paul N. Brown, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brown, 1344 Terrace, exchanged wedding promises February 22 in a double ring candlelight ceremony performed by Dr. Woodrow W. Adcock.

The church was decorated with spiral and tree candelabra in the background, garlanded with swags of variegated English ivy. Tall bouquets of white chrysanthemums completed the setting. The choir and communion rails were covered with ivy affording a simulated hedge effect. Myriads of white candles on the choir rail lighted the ceremony which was performed at the decorated altar. Bouquet of mums in white urns on Grecian pedestals flanked the predieu. White satin kneeling pillows used by the couple during the benediction were designed and made by an aunt of the bride, Mrs. George Quible. Silk cord and tassels completed the pillows which were placed on the kneeling bench.

Mrs. Hubert Carson, organist, presented traditional music and accompanied vocalist, Hubert Carson as he sang, "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer".

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father with "her mother and I" avoyal, the bride chose a lovely gown of candlelight silk peau de soie fashioned with semi-bateau neckline, enhanced by alencon lace traced with tiny seed pearls. The short lace sleeves were complimented with white kid gloves. The tightly moulded basque bodice was veiled in the center front with the jeweled lace and also marked the elongated waistline. Tiny self-covered buttons extended down the back into the controlled peau de soie skirt of unpressed pleat-fulness and extended into a wide chapel length train.

Her veil of imported illusion extended to finger-tip length from a dragged coil of peau de soie complemented by a circle face veil.

Her jewelry was a double diamond drop, gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Brown carried out the tradition of something old, new, borrowed and blue with a coin in her shoe. A linen handkerchief that had belonged to her maternal great-grandmother signified, something old; and for something new, she carried a Brussels linen handkerchief brought to her by her roommate, Miss Shirley Shull.

Her bouquet was a large white orchid nestled in a base of stephanotis accented by white satin streamers.

ATTENDANTS

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Benton Boyd of Denton. Bridesmaids were Miss Shirley Shull, Dallas, sorority sister and roommate at S.M.U.; Miss Sondra Simon, of Dallas; Miss Susan Quible, Pampa, cousin of the bride. Junior bridesmaid was Miss Barbara Brown, sister of the bridegroom.

The attendants were attired identically in gowns of rose red silk chiffon. The basque bodices were enhanced by overblouses of the chiffon fashioned with bateau necklines and elbow-length sleeves which were complimented by short white kid gloves. The full skirts of chiffon were street-length. They wore matching chiffon hats and carried bouquets of gardenias and roses on floral forms.

Carl Cowan of Sweetwater, attended the bridegroom as best man. Groomsmen were Robert Sidwell of Pampa; Benton Boyd of Denton; Richard Harrison of Austin and David Spraberry of Donnell. Ushers were John Fite, John Brown, Karl Kitto, Ronny Pace, all of Pampa and Jack Smith of New Orleans and Jim Fitzgerald of Abilene.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Fite chose a cyclamen pink re-embroidered French lace sheath dress accented with sequins and matching accessories. She chose a pink cymbidium orchid corsage to complement her ensemble.

Mrs. Brown was attired in a pale pink lace dress with matching accessories and long white gloves. Her corsage of deep pink cymbidium orchids completed her costume.

Miss Carol Triplehorn and Miss Nancy Williams, both of Dallas, presided at the guest book.

RECEPTION

Immediately following the ceremony, the couple was honored with a reception at the Coronado Inn. Dance music was provided by the Harry Whitten Trio.

The bride's table was covered in white satin and cen-

POLLY'S POINTERS

DEAR POLLY — In order to protect my hands from water softeners, ammonia, and other cleaning aids, I use rubber gloves. But they leave my hands shriveled and smelling of rubber. Today I tried using a pair of cloth gloves inside the rubber ones and it worked perfectly. My hands stayed in better condition and there was no odor on them. My rubber gloves are a half-size bigger than needed to allow room for the cloth gloves. They are now easier to put on and take off. I hope this makes others as happy as it has me.

—MRS. V.R. GIRLS — That last sentence is certainly typical of our girls' wonderful spirit of sharing.

Thirty-Sixth Annual Guest Day Tea Conducted by Club

The Twentieth Century Club held its 36th Annual Guest Day Tea at the Lovett Memorial Library Tuesday afternoon. The president, Mrs. Tom Rose, welcomed the guests and explained that the Twentieth Century Club was the oldest of the Twentieth Century Clubs in Pampa, and had been active in the organization of the other Twentieth Century Clubs. President Rose related that Mrs. Raymond Harrah was a charter member of Twentieth Century Club, and the artist of the 35 pictures on display. President Rose led the group in the Pledge of Allegiance as well as the Club Collect, and introduced the speaker, Rev. Jas. A. Mahon, minister of the First Presbyterian Church of Amarillo. Rev. Mahon was born in Indianapolis, Indiana, attended Ohio Military Academy, and was a student at the University of Kansas. He received his A. B. degree from Trinity University, and also attended Austin Seminary. Rev. Mahon has held pastorate in Fort Smith, Arkansas and Canadian, Texas, leaving there in 1961 to assume duties as the minister of the First Presbyterian Church in Amarillo.

Prima Donna of Metropolitan Fame Offers Top Level Coiffure Hints

CLOTHES POLL

By HELEN HENNESSY

With the return this season of fashion elegance, hair ornaments again will be part of the evening scene. New, short, hairdos, transformed into formal coiffures by chignons, wigs and hair pieces, will be topped by jeweled combs, lace mantillas or any frumpy of your choice.

With an inventive approach, a piece of wire, some flowers or feathers; you can fashion your own hair ornaments, according to Blanche Thebom, Metropolitan Opera prima donna. And Miss Thebom is an authority on the subject of hair ornaments. She has a world-famous collection, some of which were gifts from fans fascinated by her floor-length hair.

One flattering way to accent a formal coif, Miss Thebom suggests, is to braid a long strand of ribbon, pearls or rhinestones into the hair.

Here's another trick from the expert. She had made for her a number of feathered shells (shaped something like ear muffs) in a variety of colors. They can be pinned to the hair in groups of two or three to look like a cocktail hat or worn separately.

From a friend, the singer received a gift of a tiny old-fashioned bouquet holder. She had it soldered to a hinge, and the hinge wired to a hairpin-like double prong. She puts a few simple flowers into the holder and attaches it to her upswept formal hairstyle. It is an eyecatcher.

One ornament she cherishes, "because it's such fun," is a tiny dragon of green wood, made in sections that move.

So you see, you can top your evening coiffure with some strange objects and still look pretty.

Rev. Mahon presented an original dissertation on "The Cross Through the Eyes of Mary Magdalene", and stated that the conception of the Cross and the Resurrection is often hard to understand and needs meditation and prayer. Easter is not the end but the goal of life.

Mary Magdalene is mentioned twice in the Bible — Luke 8:1-3, and John 19:25. All through the gospels the twin strands of man and woman are interwoven. Prominence was given equally to both sexes. From the birth to the death of Jesus, a balance of friends was kept. Christ knew the hearts of both — He accepted and respected womanhood. Women were around the Cross — Mary and Mary Magdalene — the latter who had known the cleansing power and compassion of Christ.

Daniel, Mary Magdalene's brother, reveals her life. She was born of a very wealthy family in Magda, owners of rich tracts of land, bearing an abundance of fruit and grain. They marketed their own products and profited. Both children were reared in the lap of luxury. Mary's debut into society at 14 years of age was elaborate — 50 dancers, 100 musicians, 700 guests, and it lasted 3 days. This was in keeping with the social status of the time. During her early life, she enjoyed herself and was happy, but shortly after her coming out party, she began to withdraw. She became afraid of losing her beauty, and jealous of her friends. Gradually she fell into fits of silence and moroseness, and developed a duo character. Doctors were called in, but to no avail. The seizures grew worse and finally a disciple of Jesus — John, by name — told Daniel that Jesus, the Master, was coming and might help her. Although none believed He could help her, Daniel felt there was little to be lost, and took her out to the meeting place. He pushed her way to the side of Jesus, and Mary began to writhe on the ground.

"I command you to come out of her," Jesus said, and a transformation took place. She became peaceful and beautiful and a whole person again. "Mary, your sins are forgiven. The past is over. The future is yours."

Mary Magdalene realized the miracle that had been hers and went with the Master. Both parents tried to dissuade her, but they could not. Many letters were exchanged between brother and sister, but the letter following the crucifixion was the most revealing. She told of the cruelty and inhumanity of the people to Christ, and the horror of such a death. And bad as it all was, the loss of the Master was overwhelming.

John and Mary Magdalene took Mary, the mother of Jesus, home from the Cross and later to the tomb to dress the body. There she met a man who called her by name, "Mary," and at that point she recognized her risen Master, and that He would never be absent. It was her prophecy that men and women throughout the centuries would continue to receive His help, for no one could kill God.

Rev. Mahon closed his revealing of the Cross through the eyes of Mary Magdalene by saying, "And if they do believe, they will find that no problem of life is insurmountable with His help."

President Rose recognized the club hostesses for the day, Mrs. G. F. Branson, Mrs. W. R. Campbell, and Mrs. Paul Harbaugh. Appreciation was also extended to the Fine Arts Committee, Mrs. David Tucker, Mrs. James O'Connor, and Mrs. J. W. Gordon, for the hanging of Mrs. Raymond Harrah's work.

The public is cordially invited to enjoy Mrs. Harrah's paintings, as they will be on display in the Lovett Library Auditorium for a period of two weeks.

Senior Center Corner

By MRS. O. A. WAGNER

Braving the winter's cold and snow Thursday were 54 seniors. Most of the news; (which wasn't news after three weeks of it!) was the weather. Mrs. Josephine Wright said she had a cabin fever, as did others; so everyone was having a good time.

Mrs. Hattie V. Seiber has moved from the Pampa Hotel to the new Twilight Acres where she will enjoy seeing her friends.

B. C. Rogers, who has been confined to Highland General Hospital for several months, has been moved to Twilight Acres on Kentucky.

New members, Herman Schuett and Roy Tinsley, were welcomed at the Center Thursday.

Guests of Mrs. Genia Nolen this week were Mrs. K. G. Edgmon and Redell Lightfoot of Amarillo, and were guests at the Center this week.

February is rich in famous birthdays. Abraham Lincoln, our great emancipation president, was the twelfth and George Washington's was the twenty-second. The Boy Scouts were celebrating Boy Scout Week last week. Congratulations to a great group. NBC put on a nice presentation last Monday over TV; introducing a Boy Scout leader and a boy representing each of the 12 districts. Was very impressive to hear one of the youngest Scouts proudly give the Boy Scout oath.

Hostesses this week were members of the Wayside Club represented by Mmes. Andy Smith, H. B. Taylor, Jr., Wood Osborne, W. F. Taylor, H. B. Taylor, Sr., Tom Rogers, L. H. Greene, Gus Greene, A. B. Carruth, Jim Green, Jack Sloan, Lola Dunn and J. L. Rogers. Delicious homemade pie and coffee were served during the refreshment time.

Altrusans serving were Emily Coston, Marian Osborn, Louise Sewell and Fidelia Yoder.

Gray Ladies providing transportation were Mmes. O. F. Kreimeyer, George Benhan, Elizabeth Taylor, Jess Hatcher, and A. D. Hills.

Door prizes went to R. W. Tucker and Mrs. C. E. DeMoss. Mr. Tucker done it again, as he won a door prize last week.

Mrs. Campbell announced that the next week he will display his Celtic wood cross that he has finished after long and laborious effort. It will be remembered that last year he exhibited his famous mosaic wood church which took him several years to finish.

May God's richest blessings abide with you all.

Love, Mrs. Wagner

Brownie Troop 40 was dressed in the traditional costumes of the Netherlands and told of Girl Guiding in that country and gave their promise. They then sang a lullaby, "Give to Me Your Hand." Their leader is Mrs. Charles Davis. Junior Troop 125, led by Beth Karr and assisted by Natalie Skelly sang "Gunbera Chiquira," a song from South America. The song was taught to the troop by Mrs. Organ who is from Colombia. South America and is a mother of the troop. Dear Abby...
Teen-Agers Give Their Views on 'Mad's' Letter

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a high school teacher in Mount Vernon, Illinois. I read the following letter from your column aloud to my students, and asked them to write their own answers. I told them they didn't have to sign their names; and gave them five minutes in which to complete the assignment. These students are an average age of 16½. I am sending you their answers. Perhaps you would like to select the one you think is best for publication. Sincerely, know how much better you would have done if you had earned a high school diploma.

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., for Abby's new booklet, "HOW TO Write Letters for ALL OCCASIONS."

MRS. C. T. RACHELS
Your letter: "DEAR ABBY: I am a 17-year-old boy and I have been wanting to quit school for over a year, but my parents won't let me. I hate school and I want to get a job. I failed two subjects last term, and know I won't do any better next time. My parents found out I was smoking and they ordered me to stop it. I told them if they wouldn't let me quit school I wasn't going to quit smoking. My Dad made a deal with me: He said... I quit smoking and continued with school, he'd buy me a car I wanted. I said okay. He got me the car and I really have been trying harder at school, but he caught me smoking. Well, he took the car away from me and I'm grounded until June. They said if I flunk anything I'll have to go to summer school. How can I get my parents to be more human?"

"MAD"
DEAR MRS. RACHELS: So impressed was I with the "answers" of your students that I had difficulty selecting the best. But since I was compelled to select only one, here it is:

"DEAR MAD: I don't believe your parents could be any more 'human'. It is YOU who should get out of space and come back to earth. You probably think you know all the answers, but you will learn as time goes by that your high school education is the most important thing in your life. Listen to your parents and you will find that they have already traveled the long journey that you are just starting, and they know what they are talking about."

"A JUNIOR IN HIGH-SCHOOL"

DEAR ABBY: There seems to be a campaign against "dropouts" from high school. It isn't necessary for everybody to get a high school diploma to be a success in life, you know. I quit school after the ninth grade and I did all right. You probably won't print this, but if you do, sign me—

"DID ALL RIGHT IN LOUISVILLE"
DEAR DID: Congratulations! Perhaps you "did all right" in spite of the fact that you weren't graduated from high school. But you'll never

He explained the natural plants and climate of the area and voiced interesting ideas of the native residents of the region. He stated that among the profuse natural flowering plants of the area, the bougainvillea and native rose were most outstanding.

Young Church People Honored With Banquet

SKELLYTOWN (Spl)—Rev. Ralph Aday, pastor of the First Baptist Church of White Deer, was guest speaker during a banquet held in honor of the Young People's Dept. of the First Baptist Church of Skellytown. Other guests of the group were Rev. Bill Penland and Mr. and Mrs. D. Scott of Pampa.

Fellowship Hall was decorated in red and silver for the event. A theme of "Stairway to the Stars" was followed in the decorations which included a silver star above the entrance and streamers of red holding silver stars near the ceiling. The tables were laid with white linen and centered with tall red tapers held in star-shaped candleholders.

The King and Queen and Prince and Princess were crowned following the dinner. So honored were Kelly Brown and Sally Banks, King and Queen; with Eddie and Carol Kleibrink being named Prince and Princess. Larry Simmons, Reva Gail Barnett, Mike Shoulders and Ruth Geisler crowned the honorees.

Narrator for the program was Buddy Biggers. Ruth Geisler and Mrs. John Beigle were pianists.

The star lady was Carol Kleibrink; "Childhood Sweethearts" Mike Shoulder and Nan Harmon sang, "School Days". The junior high couple, Eddie Kleibrink and Carolyn Steward sang, "True Love".

The wedding couple was James Bewley and Reva Barnett. Couple at breakfast was Mr. and Mrs. C. D. McClund; couple standing, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Allen. Mrs. Joyce Scott sang, "Because", "Always", "The Love of God" and "Wish Upon A Star".

PANHANDLE (Spl)—Miss Ardis Glenda Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Smith became the bride of Kenneth Dale Ware on Feb. 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Ware are parents of the bridegroom.

Officiating minister at the double ring ceremony in the Church of Christ was Gordon Downing, associate minister of the church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of peau de sole, accented with appliques of Brussel's lace. Her veil of illusion was held by a tiara of pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and stephanotis. She also carried a white lace handkerchief belonging to her maternal great-grandmother.

Honor attendants were Miss Janice Smith, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Jackie D. Smith, sister-in-law of the bride. Miss Rossie Hanicak of Port Neches, Miss Carolyn Bell and Miss Wanda Ware, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids. Miss Kay Hebard, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. The bridesmaids and honor attendants dresses were of deep lustrous satin of prism blue, which were made floor length. Their head pieces were made of matching scalloped net with a bow complementing the bow on the back of their gowns. The flower girl was dressed identically to the other attendants.

Arvil Ware of Lawton, Okla., was his brother's best man. Jackie D. Smith, brother of the bride, Rudy Robinson, cousin of the bride, Melvin Ware, brother of the bridegroom, and Charles Hebard, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, were groomsmen. Richard Williams was ring-bearer.

Ushers were Billy Vance Hammers, Groom, cousin of the bride, and Stanley Chado.

Music for the ceremony was by the church choir, who sang the wedding marches and other traditional selections.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was given in the War Memorial Building. Mrs. Charles Hebard, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Ann Shockley presided at the bride's table. Mrs. Randle Heape registered the guests.

Mrs. Ware was graduated from Panhandle High School and attended North Texas State University at Denton and is a recent graduate of Draughon's Business College of Amarillo. Mr. Ware, also a Panhandle High School graduate, is employed by Gulf Wholesale Distributors of Panhandle, where they will live.

Pre-nuptial courtesies extended to the bridal couple included the rehearsal dinner hosted by parents of the bridegroom in a local cafe.

A bridal shower was given in the War Memorial Building with Mmes. Jesse Feaster, Cecil Williams, C. H. Sullivan, George Hankins, Alfred Bell, Earl Williams, John Dale Kelly Jr., Frank Metcalf, L. W. Hanson, Harry Vance, Arthur Cummings, Dee Cummings and George Eller as hostesses.

DON'T SKIP EYES
Apply foundation over your eyelids before applying eye make-up. Experts point out that many women skip their eyes when using foundation. The eyes then do not match the rest of their complexion coloring.

To protect your complexion, be sure that everything that touches your face is immaculately clean. Wash your hands with soap before applying cosmetics and use only clean powder puffs and cosmetic brushes.

Miss Sue Beesley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Beesley, 1052 Prairie Drive, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Sue, to Herman Law, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernie Law of Beaver, Okla. The wedding is planned for July and will take place in Perryton.

CWF Members Hear Exchange Students Talk

Evelyn Roberts and Juhani Karmakoski, Pampa High School foreign exchange students, presented the program for members of the Christian Womens Fellowship of First Christian Church as they met recently with Mrs. D. V. Burton in charge of the program and business session.

Mrs. M. McDaniel introduced the students who outlined life in their homelands. Evelyn, a New Zealander, gave an interesting and entertaining resume of her home land. New Zealand, being a member of the British Commonwealth has a government planned after that of Great Britain, she stated. The population is 90 per cent British and there are approximately two and one-half million people residing in the country.

The lay of the land is quite different from the Panhandle, having mountainous and heavily forested regions. There are no snakes and no native animals; but birds and fish are in abundance. Water sports are dominate and lumbering is the most important industry. Agriculture is a minor with sheep-raising and dairying leading in that area.

It is not customary for women to work outside the home in New Zealand and therefore very few do. Most families participate in sports of all kinds as do the schools. But there are no spectator sports as are in the U.S.

Juhani, who is from Finland, brought with him a handmade native costume worn by the women of his country on special festive occasions. His greeting to the audience was in Finnish. He then translated this into English and continued on to tell of the midnight sun and the days of darkness in his homeland. Finland, being above the arctic circle, has some 50 days of constant darkness during the year, he added. But in sharp contrast, to this there is a time of 19 hours of daylight in the opposite season.

Finland is somewhat smaller than California and is a land of many lakes. The land is rather flat, the highest point being 4,400 feet. There are many native animals and fish. Fishing and hunting are favorite sports of the natives. The people are sports-minded and skiing is a leading past-time. Skiing there takes on a new phase. The land is not hilly or mountainous.

The business meeting for the evening was dispensed with in order to devote the full time to the program.

Following the program, members and guests were served refreshments in Fellowship Hall.

Retirement Party Honors Couple

The couple has moved to Yale, Okla., where they will now make their home.

Refreshments of coffee and donuts were served to approximately 60 guests.

A two-cent piece was minted by the United States from 1864 to 1873.

The Fellowship Supper to be held at the Church, March 4 was announced.

Books were passed out for the forthcoming study, "The Christian Family and Its Money", to be held in April with Mrs. R. A. Newton as study leader.

The program was closed with the reading of a poem on "Time", taken from an issue of "The Methodist Woman".

The next circle meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. S. T. Holding 1517 Williston, with Mrs. Kit Autry in charge of the program.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities. We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself, no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Girl Scout Week

This year Girl Scout Week will be observed from March 8-14. Completing 52 years of service the Girl Scout organization continues to move ahead to meet the changing needs of today's youngsters. Girl Scout troops across the nation last year were organized in four new age levels instead of the former three. Girls begin their scouting experience at age 7 in the Brownies and progress through the Juniors, Cadettes, and finally the Seniors for girls 15 through 17. From their earliest days in Brownies, a feeling of being needed is fostered in the young members and the theme behind scouting is brought alive in terms of day to day activities and experiences — the disposition to try and the desire to be a worthwhile and useful person of service to others. Senior Girl Scouts are encouraged to enlarge their field of interest to merge with the adult world. Pursuing their goal of giving service, they may enter aid projects in cooperation with libraries, hospitals, museums and other institutions. The responsibility of keeping Girl Scouting alive and vital falls on the voluntary troop leaders and local scouting organizations in Pampa and other communities across the country. The Girl Scouts of America deserve every recognition.

Time is Running Out

Compared to any other nation of this earth, the United States has overwhelming economic, financial and military power. How can it be then, that such a great nation faces defeat or disaster of one kind or another at practically a every point where our interests are involved around the world. This is a strange new circumstance, for always, before in the history of nations when a country found itself in a position of strength, it assumed a role of leadership, generally had a compelling voice in world affairs, expected and received respect. Reactions of nations are governed by men and it has been observed that men are only little boys grown tall. The United States seems to be in a position similar to that of a little boy in the first grade who finds disagreeable things happening to him which wouldn't be occurring had he not made the mistake of backing down that first time before the class bully.

This picture is presented in a recent issue of U.S. News & World Report. Britain has pledged to defend Malaysia, presently threatened with war by a U.S. aided Sukarno. Friendly treatment and arms aid to India has alienated Pakistan, long a firm U.S. ally. Thailand, once solid, is now vulnerable to communist infiltration. France, having worked to undermine American influence among the NATO and common market countries, now moves contrary to American policy in Southeast Asia, having recognized Red China and embarked on a program of promoting neutralism for disputed areas. The places around the world where U.S. interests and wishes are being openly opposed by bullets or diplomacy, are too numerous to name. This partial listing gives some impression of the scope of the problem and the depth to which this country's prestige seems to have fallen. With good reason some authorities feel that our greatest difficulty, and one with a rapidly accelerating capacity for causing trouble, lies just off our shores in Cuba. President Kennedy's "no invasion" pledge of November 20, 1962, was made conditional in these words: "If all offensive weapons systems are removed from Cuba and kept out of the Hemisphere in the future, under adequate verification and safeguards, and if Cuba is not used for the export of aggressive Communist purposes, there will be peace in the Caribbean."

Regardless of this warning, Cuba's leading export today is revolution. U.S. News & World Report states that: "Cuba, it is now revealed, is being used by world Communism as a major training ground for subversive agents and guerrillas from many parts of the globe. Although Cuban trained agents are being used around the world, in Zanzibar, Kenya, South Africa, Vietnam, and so forth, the "Big emphasis in Cuba's training of guerrillas and subversives . . . is on Latin America. Estimates of the number of Latin Americans being trained as guerrillas in Cuba run as high as 1,500 at any given time."

The United States is in the position of being unable to protect the governments of other American countries from subversion and revolution, sparked by Cuban trained agents. And with all this, many of our Western allies now move to step up trade and extend credit to Castro's government. U.S. News Reports that among officials not now in favor, suggestions are heard. One is that the U.S. may find it "best to draw back in the world, letting some other nations with big ideas try their hand at running or guiding things. A second is that the United States, with vast power, should turn from a policy of "softness" and "handouts" in an effort to attract love and friendship, to a policy of firmness in asserting its rights and laying down a broad pattern of policies to be followed."

On the stage of international affairs, the United States has practically no further room for error — time is running out.

A Job of Re-Education

Among the objectives of the much publicized cut in federal taxes is the encouragement of business and industrial expansion. Over the next two years, the tax rate on corporations with taxable income of over $25,000 a year will be reduced from 52 per cent to 48 per cent. The tax rate on corporations with less than $25,000 of taxable income will drop from 30 per cent to 22 per cent in one step. If the government's rosy estimates of the results of these cuts are borne out, people's incomes will be up $32 billion, jobs will increase by 1.4 million and corporation profits will go up $2.4 billion. The government is depending upon increased activity which it believes will follow the tax cuts to produce the necessary tax revenue, if deficits and inflationary increases in the Federal debt are to be avoided.

There may be a catch in this plan. For decades in schools, colleges and public life, a great deal of assiduous effort has gone into convincing people that profits are neither necessary nor desirable. As inflationary pressures have built up, so have demands that cost increases be absorbed out of profits. For many years, corporate income, after taxes, has virtually stood still. Little wonder that there has been a slowing in growth and investment. The big question now is, will this pattern change? Will there be a recognition of the fact that profits are the foundation of employment, production, payrolls and tax revenue?

WASHINGTON:

LBJ 'Whups' British for Cuban Deal

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — An angry President Johnson is personally taking a hand in strong new protests to British Prime Minister Alec Douglas-Home over the British agreement to sell buses to Cuba.

A U.S. official close to the White House says "Lyndon Johnson was angry enough before, but since Castro shut off the water to Guantanamo, he's hopping mad. He's really worked up. He's going to make (the British) feel it. And he's the man who can do it."

But dressing down the British is one thing and keeping Britain, France, Spain and our other allies from selling to Fidel Castro is another. Despite a lagging agriculture and declining sugar output, high world sugar prices mean Castro is "rolling" in foreign exchange and can pay for what he wants.

Johnson has told Secretary of State Dean Rusk he must find some way to keep the West from selling Castro significant amount of those things he needs to pin his limping economy together. High on the list: Oil refinery and other industrial production parts and equipment, railroad locomotives and freight cars, buses and trucks. The word is that Rusk is supposed to bear down especially hard on our European allies.

The State Department is finding this easier said than done. U.S. diplomats had been trying to get the Latin-American states to band together in a strong protest against West-European trade with Cuba. But by helping whip up the trouble in Panama, Castro likely has prevented any strong, concerted action.

If Spain sells key items to Cuba the United States can shut off aid to Spain. "But there's a catch," says one official. "Our bases in Spain are tied in. If we abolish the aid, what happens to our bases?"

During the past several months, government officials have looked into the possibility of breaking world sugar prices in an effort to cut Castro's foreign income. Private investors have been encouraged to grow sugar elsewhere, invest in sugar mills. The results have been unsatisfactory.

Now U.S. officials are looking up the relationships and subsidiaries of British, French and Spanish private firms that may be involved in any sales of key equipment or vehicles to Cuba. These officials are attempting to learn if any of these firms or their subsidiaries have U.S. military or other U.S. government contracts, here or overseas, or if any of them sell appreciable amounts of their products in the United States.

Phone call by Newspaper Enterprise Assn. to the New York office of the Leyland-Triumph Sales Co., distributor of Triumph Cars in the United States, discloses that this company is owned by the Standard Triumph Motor Co., which in turn is owned outright by the Leyland Motors, Ltd., the British company which is selling buses to Cuba.

It is not certain what the U.S. government will do when this information on the private firms is collected. It is possible that the Defense Department and other U.S. government agencies could put such firms on a U.S. blacklist and exclude them from U.S. government business, here and overseas. But no decision has been made.

Officials don't know either what they can or will do about the firms which have considerable private exports to the United States, but which don't sell to the U.S. government and don't plan to. They're collecting the information as a first step to . . .

South Viet Nam Plan: U.S. To Take Over Command Control — or 'Review' Our Commitment

WASHINGTON — Defense Secretary McNamara is going to South Viet Nam next week for the grave purpose of initiating a crucial change in the long and faltering struggle against Communist aggression.

Under this far-reaching proposal, the U.S. would take over command control from top to bottom of South-Viet-Nam combat forces. As formulated by the Joint Chiefs of Staff and approved by President Johnson, this momentous plan calls for establishment of joint U.S.-Viet Nam commands from army to company levels with U.S. officers having the deciding voice.

If Major General Nguyen Khanh, Viet Nam's "strong man," agrees to this drastic reorganization, Lieutenant General William Westmoreland will assume overall command of this costly and indecisive war. He was recently named deputy to General Paul Harkins, U.S. commander in Viet Nam. Harkins would be shifted to another command or retired.

Should Khanh balk, Secretary McNamara will notify him that this will leave President Johnson no alternative but to "review" this country's heavy commitment to Viet Nam — a clearcut warning that the U.S. may be compelled to seek a political rather than a military solution to the anti-Red conflict. The implications of a possible "political solution" will not be discussed by McNamara. Presumably, that is the province of the State Department.

The U.S. now has around 15,000 military personnel in Viet Nam acting as advisers and trainers. They can propose but not command. As a consequence, their suggestions and recommendations are frequently disregarded, particularly when they entail aggressive action against the enemy. That is deemed a key cause for the adverse trend of the Viet Nam conflict.

THE FIRST STEP — This vital problem was stressed by Secretary McNamara at a backstage meeting with congressional leaders to brief them on his impending trip. The defense chief explained the principal difficulty in forcefully pressing the war is inducing the Vietnamese to take the offensive against the Communists and to hold on to strategic areas after they have been liberated.

It is for this reason that the Johnson administration decided to ask for command control of Vietnamese forces. With the aggressive leadership it is felt U.S. officers and non-coms will provide, there is every confidence Vietnamese troops will prove more than a match against the Viet Cong.

McNamara would not express an opinion on how General Khanh is likely to react to this far-reaching proposal. Similarly, McNamara told the congressional leaders that no decision has yet been made on carrying the war to North Viet Nam — by aerial attacks on depots, supply routes and other targets, and by guerrilla raids. Such plans have been discussed, but nothing has been done about them pending the outcome of McNamara's talks with Khanh. It was emphasized by McNamara that such a fateful decision would be made only by President Johnson.

WHAT THE JOINT CHIEFS SAY — General Maxwell Taylor, head of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, does not believe Red China will intervene if the conflict is carried to North Viet Nam. This explosive question was put squarely up to him by Representative Daniel Flood, D-Pa., at a closed-door meeting of the House Appropriations Committee. Taylor had explained that he has made no recommendations as yet on taking the war to North Viet Nam.

"Do you believe the Chinese Communists would intervene either openly or with so-called volunteers if we should blockade North Viet Nam and send guerrillas there?" asked Flood. "No, I do not," replied Taylor.

General Curtis LeMay, Air Chief of Staff, was considerably more emphatic when asked the same question by Flood. "I have recommended that we take the war to North Viet Nam both in the air and on the ground," declared the one-time bomber commander. "That is the only way we can win this struggle. As long as the Viet Cong are protected and supplied from a privileged sanctuary such as North Viet Nam, we will never be able to stop their guerrilla penetration of South Viet Nam. The only answer is to give them a big dose of the same medicine they are dishing out to us."

Congressional leaders have been told sharp difference of view exists among the Joint Chiefs over a naval blockade because of the great length of the North-Viet-Nam coastline. It is argued this presents severe difficulties. Much is being made of the argument that during the Korean war, U.S. efforts to blockade North Korea were largely ineffectual because of its extended coastline. The contention is made that the most "productive" method of attack would be by air and guerrilla infiltration.

SOCIAL WHIRL — Theodore Sorensen, special counsel and close adviser of the late President Kennedy, is headed for the altar for the second time. His bride will be Miss Sally Elbery, Boston, now employed at Harvard. Previously she worked at the Department of Health, Education & Welfare. Sorensen was divorced by his first wife last July. A native of Wisconsin, Mrs. Camille Sorensen was awarded custody of their three children. Sorensen is leaving the White House this week to write a book on his former chief. After his marriage, he

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

Question: "Is voluntary financial support of the government practical?"

Answer: Our dictionary defines practical as "pertaining to or governed by actual use and experience as contrasted with ideals and expectations; dealing with the common affairs of life; opposed to theoretical."

Therefore, the complete voluntary financial support of all governmental activities, as far as we know, has never been put into actual use. However, a great many of the services commonly provided by government have been provided by private enterprise or by cooperative endeavors and have proved practical. We can cite schools, utilities, recreational activities, fire and police protection, health and sanitation which are still being provided privately in many places, despite the fact that they must compete with tax-financed government services. They are practical.

But, it seems to us, the issue is not whether anything has been tried by actual use and experience, but whether it is moral. We submit that self-responsibility is moral, and that providing a service desired by the people and not using force violates no moral law.

However, when the compulsion of law, backed up by guns of the sheriff, is used to obtain a service which may or may not be desired by those who are compelled to pay, the moral principles against theft are violated.

Most persons who would not use force against their neighbors as individuals have decided that it is right for them to gang up by a majority vote to use the same force against others. This is where they adopt a double standard — one for the individual; a different standard of right for the political agency.

Granted 100 per cent voluntary support of government has not been tried and therefore may not be considered "practical," we submit that to the degree it has been tried it has been found practical as well as moral: It reduced crime, created good will and a higher standard of living. Meanwhile, complete governmental control of services has been tried and found wanting, as well as immoral.

A thought for the day — The Italian poet Dante once said: "There is no greater pain than to recall a happy time in wretchedness."

Amateurs Cannot Hold Own With Professionals

By ED DELANEY

The western world is again loser in the cold war against international, soviet dominated communism. This time in the cold of snow and ice at Innsbruck, Austria, where the Winter Olympics were held. Some of the American contestants could not entirely conceal their disappointment when Russians or those from other communist controlled countries, captured top prizes in various events. Their feelings are understandable. But they should not be surprised. Amateurs in any field of endeavor are no match for professionals. The contestants at Innsbruck, from the communist countries are not amateurs, they are professionals. By the basic code of the Olympic games, professionals may not compete in their various events. Except of course those from the Soviet or communist countries. There is a singular, and seemingly a world-wide disinclination on the part of so many, to point a restraining finger at Moscow or its satellites and say — "you are out of bounds — and 'verboten' to enter here."

There are no amateur sportsmen among those sent from communist countries to compete in international events. Sports, for the Russians and their comrades in communism, are a means for attaining a political objective. Sports for them are an adjunct of their propaganda and expansion departments. Young people behind the Iron Curtain are urged and even forced to train professionally in order to display their alleged superiority over the youth in the decadent, capitalist countries. Selected entrants in all sports events are paid, subsidized and trained professionals who serve, first of all, a political purpose.

An excellent example of this is the so-called German high school for physical culture (communist East Germany) at Leipzig. It is not only for training the body, but is intended to mold the mind and the character of the youths who attend the school. One has to see this institution — the vastness of its facilities, and learn something of the courses of training that are emphasized, to understand the thoroughness and the importance that is placed on so-called physical culture as part of the communist design for world supremacy.

This year there are about 2,000 students at that high school and approximately 300 teachers, instructors and trainers. The students, boys and girls, are carefully selected. They must have been in the communist party youth groups, must have won in some sports competition and received the prized badge which indicates they are "Ready to Work and Defend the Homeland." Most of the students are from the families of farmers or factory workers. They live on the campus, all their expenses are paid by the government and each receives a sum of approximately $50 a month. There is a staff of physicians, dietitians, trainers and instructors in every phase of sport and physical culture. The course is for four years. They have large auditoriums in which are presented films of sports events throughout the world and tape recordings of instructions from Moscow, the University of California and elsewhere. It is constantly impressed on the minds of these youths that they are a vital part of the class struggle against the capitalist imperialists. It is the selected ones from this select group that are entered in the international sports events and will be sent to Tokyo for the Olympics this autumn.

They are the same kind of "amateurs" as professional baseball or football players are "amateurs." If the contestants from the United States came from such professional groups they would be barred from the games. But of course rather than raise the issue with the Soviet and their satellites the Olympic officials will undoubtedly, take no action.

The puppet government of East Germany with Walter Ulbricht as lackey, for Khrushchev, is not officially recognized by us or the free nations of Europe. It is not a sovereign state, but merely a Soviet colony in central Europe. Presumably there will be contestants at the Olympic games in Tokyo, from the German Federal Republic — often referred to as West Germany. There cannot be two Germanys represented at the Olympics, any more than there can be two Englands or Swedens. If the Olympic officials permit teams from East Germany to compete and permit them to march under their emblem at Tokyo, the Khrushchev and Ulbricht will point to that as tantamount to de facto recognition of the puppet regime. Of course the Olympics are not "governmental events" or so recognized by world governments. But the world-wide propaganda will be capitalized on by the communists. Sports mean politics for communists. Though the East Germans would lose in every contest — they would win the objective.

The government now has more than 250,000 of these tenth men. Their salaries cost taxpayer more than $3 million a day. Mr. Johnson is a man who would know exactly what to do about a hand who constantly goofed off at the LBJ ranch. The answer should be the same in the government.

THAT TENTH MAN (Nation's Business) Your business would undoubtedly be in pretty bad shape 10 per cent of your employees didn't do their jobs.

Yet President Johnson says that's true in the federal government. In his words, "Nine out of 10 government employees do a full day's work for a day's pay — but I want that tenth man to measure up also."

USES OF HISTORY (Freedom First, London, Eng.) "In free governments, it is incumbent on every man to instruct himself, as well as the means and opportunities he has use of, concerning the nature and interests of the government and those rights and duties which belong to him, or to his superiors, or to his inferiors. This is certain but in particular it is certain that the obligations under which we lie to serve our country increase, in proportion to the ranks we hold, and other circumstances of birth, fortune and situation that call us to the service; and above all, to the talents which God has given us to perform it."

Spanish Required at 60-Student College

By WEBSTER K. NOLAN
STOCKTON, Calif. (UPI) — English is spoken at tiny Elbert Covell College here, but only in the foreign language department. Everywhere else, Spanish is the required tongue.

Covell has the distinction of being the only all-Spanish-speaking college in the United States.

It has 60 students, 23 from the United States, 40 from Latin America. The idea behind it is to train U.S. students for careers in Latin America or in fields connected with Latin American affairs and to teach the students who come from abroad something of U.S. life.

And the man behind the idea is Dr. Arthur J. Cullen, 48, the soft-spoken, greying, slightly balding director of Covell.

Speak Language
"Look at the advantages the students get here," he says. "They not only learn a new language — they could do this in any college — but they actually have something to say in it. They're speaking their new language in the dining hall, the dormitories, the library, almost everywhere, and it makes you wonder just who is teaching whom."

"Then, too," he says, "the Latin Americans have four years to get to know the United States. And the student from, say, Venezuela learns something from the Argentinian student; and the student from Nicaragua gets to know something about Ecuador."

"You know, the United States sends a lot of people down to Latin America, specialists of all kinds, and one of the major problems they have there is the language barrier, even if they've had some college courses in Spanish or a few months at a language school. Well, our people won't have that difficulty."

Covell accepted its first class in September, 1963. It is part of the 2,500-student University of the Pacific and is located on the UPO's tree-lined campus. Contributions from the parent school, industries and Elbert Covell, a local businessman for whom the school is named, help pay the school's costs.

Two To One Ratio

Plans call for an eventual enrollment of 250, with a ratio of two Latin Americans for every U.S. student. To be admitted, the U.S. students must be able to speak and read some Spanish; the Latin Americans need not know English.

The college dispenses a high proportion of scholarships, especially to Latin American students, to bring together students from every economic level. Fourteen Latin American countries are presently represented in the enrollment.

Cullen is something of an academic dynamo. He devises the curriculum, designs buildings, selects students, recruits bilingual teachers, writes articles, teaches. At any given moment, he may switch from a discussion of next year's finances to a telephone hunt for a dozen pair of shoes for the school's soccer team.

He says not until after the first class has graduated will the school know if its idea was worthwhile.

Covell's program, Cullen says, is designed to meet the needs of all Americans — and he stresses the all. If we can't contribute to this, then you can call us failures."
