French Neutral Plan Rejected by President

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson flatly disputed Saturday the proposal of French President Charles de Gaulle to neutralize Southeast Asia. He said that as long as the Communists continue their aggression the idea would not be in the interest of freedom.

Johnson told a news conference that, in effect, the neutralization suggestion "has applied only to South Viet Nam and not to the world of that area of the world."

Under present circumstances, the President said, "I do not agree with Gen. De Gaulle's proposals. I do not think that it would be in the interest of freedom to share his view."

He pointed out that if there could be true neutralization of both South Viet Nam and Communist-controlled North Viet Nam "I am sure that would be considered sympathetically."

"But I see no indication of that at the moment," the President told a crowded news conference.

Ranger Set For Landing Upon Moon

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—America's Ranger-6 spacecraft zeroed in on the moon Saturday, only hours away from scoring a bullseye hit on its unlighted face in one of the greatest accuracy feats of the space age.

The spectacularly successful probe expected to give the United States the lead over Russia in lunar exploration, was scheduled to impact on the moon Sunday at 1:24 a.m. PST.

In a late report, scientists said the Ranger, designed to pioneer the way for future manned flights to the moon, was "straight on target" and that they were highly confident of complete success. Ranger-6 also will flash back to earth the first close-up television pictures of the lunar surface.

"Pinpoint" Strike
Caltech's Jet Propulsion Laboratory (JPL) said the probe will make a "pinpoint" strike on the face of the moon within a 150-mile-wide circle in the Sea of Tranquility, one of the major "dry seas" of the moon which is visible to the naked eye.

JPL scientists said the sea is a dark blotch, appearing to be an ocean, which is slightly to the left of the center of the shadowed quarter of the moon.

The Sea of Tranquility has been mentioned frequently as a possible landing place for American astronauts who are scheduled to travel to the moon in the Apollo spaceship, possibly by the end of this decade.

To Take TV Pictures
Thousands of television pictures will be taken to tell scientists the secrets of the moon's terrain—if it is flat, rocky, rough or thickly coated with dust.

Ranger-6, which resembles a large mechanical tinkler toy, was aimed "right on target" by an expertly executed mid-course maneuver early Friday that corrected the spacecraft's course by only a fraction of a degree. Without the correction, the probe would have missed the moon entirely.

"If the mission is successfully completed, we will certainly surpass Russia in moon exploration," said H. M. Schurmeier, Ranger project manager. He said "This is a particularly accurate shot... and the mission appears to be a virtual success."

Manufacturer Tells Of Using LBJ's Name

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A pots and pans manufacturer has testified that he used the name of Lyndon B. Johnson in dickering with a Johnson-controlled television station even though he had never met the President.

Albert G. Young, president of Mid-Atlantic Stainless Steel Co. Inc., also told the Senate Baker inquiry that he had one telephone conversation about the television transaction with Walter Jenkins, a long-time Johnson aide, but it was "short and sweet."

Closed-door testimony by Young was made public Saturday by the Senate Rules Committee, which is investigating the outside business activities of Robert G. (Bobby) Baker who resigned under fire as Senate Democratic secretary.

The committee also issued the transcript of testimony by Ernest C. Tucker, Baker's law associate.

Young acknowledged that he engaged in name dropping in his 1957 transactions with Austin Texas television station KTRC "to perhaps get a little more out of them." The station was controlled by the Johnson family.

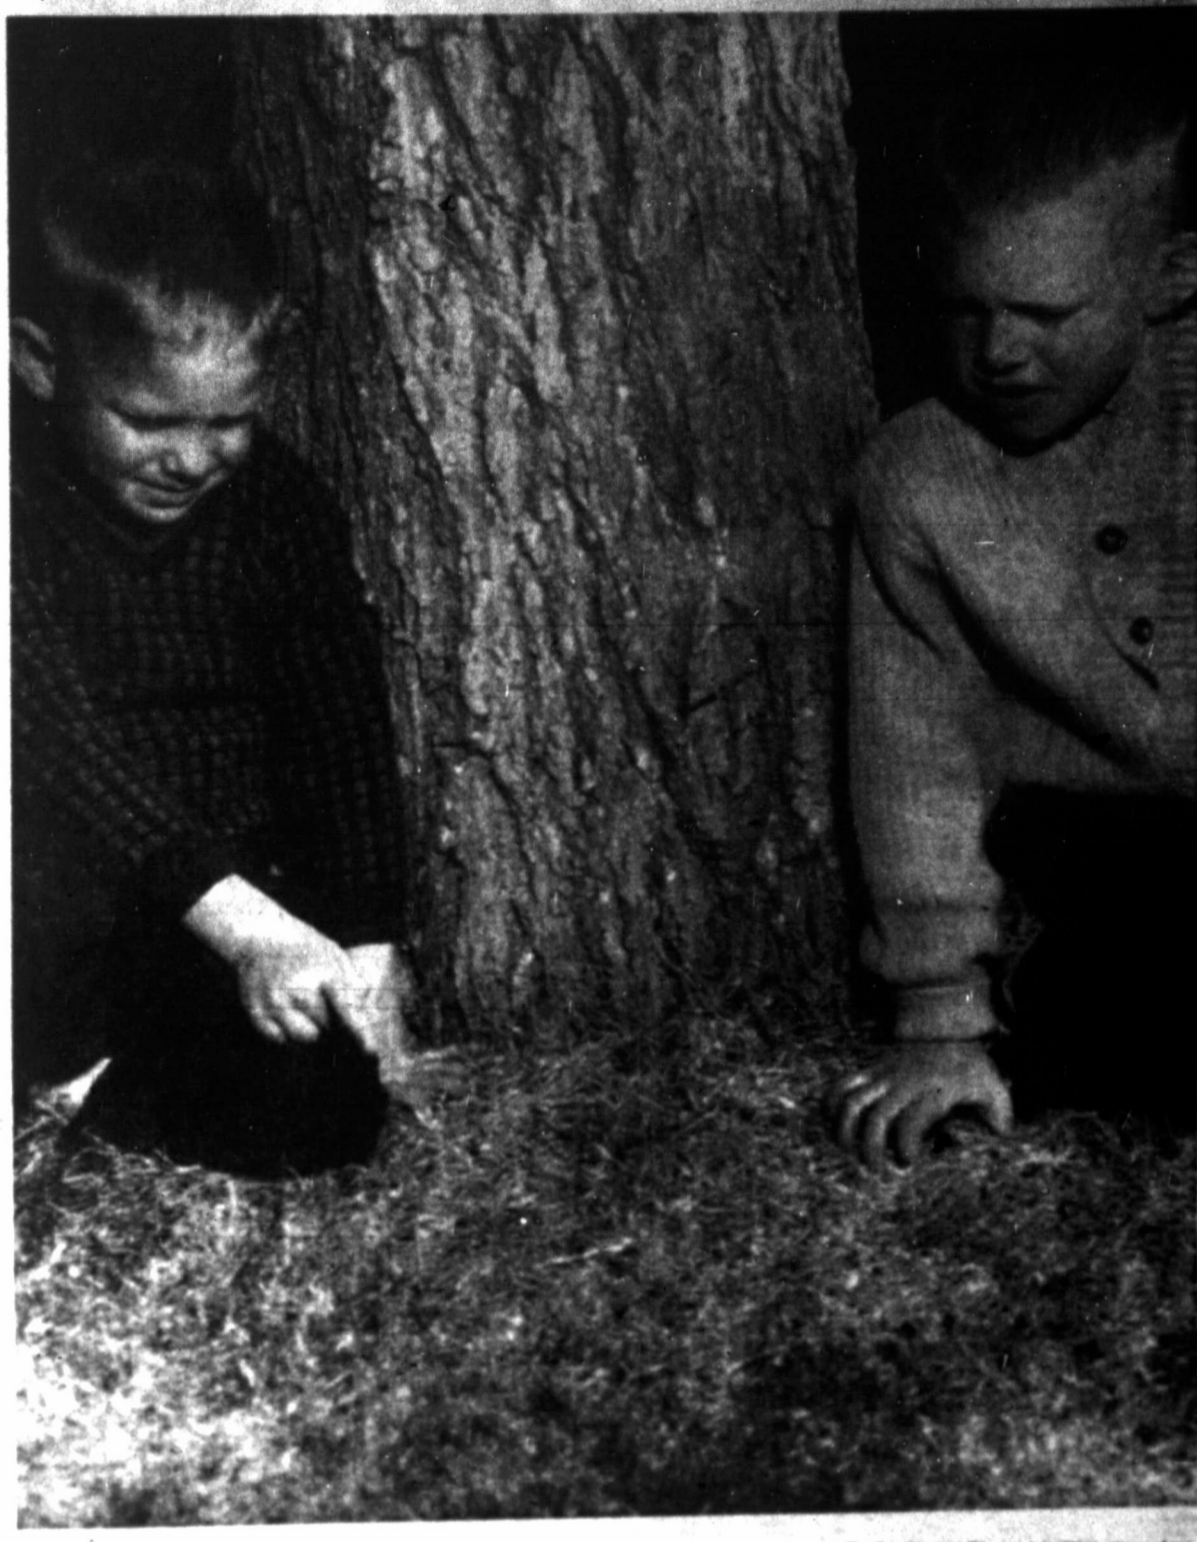

He said he used Johnson's name at the suggestion of Don R. Reynolds, a Washington area insurance man who sold Johnson $200,000 worth of insurance and at Baker's behest purchased $1341 worth of program time from the station.

Reynolds whose business is confined to the Washington area, in turn peddled the television contract to Young.

Young told the senators he had never talked to Johnson who in 1957 was Senate Democratic leader and had only one telephone conversation with Jenkins, now a White House assistant. The latter has declared he knew nothing of the television arrangements.

According to Young, Jenkins

High Level Conference Set by Low Level Expert

By GLENN McCASLAND

Sometime today there will be a high level conference held in the Pampa area about the weather for the next six to eight weeks.

The conversation might go a little like this:
"Come on, Charley, tell us what's in store for the area weather-wise."
The answer might be just a shuffling of four feet as Charley heads back for his woodland home without saying anything at all.

THEN AGAIN, Charley might have a few words like "no shadows, no bad weather, brother."

The "summit" meeting, of course, would be talks between U.S. Weather Bureau forecasters and Charley Groundhog.

Today is Groundhog's Day. It's important to all ground-hogs because Feb. 2 is the one day in 49 of 50 states that the forecasters really get the "inside dope" on the weather.

SHOULD CHARLEY Groundhog see his shadow, then he'll head back for his earthen home and forecasters will predict another six weeks of winter-like weather.

If Charley misses his shadow and stays outside his home, forecasters will call for spring-like weather instead.

This is true in Texas and all the other states but one and "Groundhogs, Inc." just have to abide their time to go into the weather forecasting racket.

MISSOURI, THE "Show Me" state, forces its groundhogs to stay inside their little burrows until Feb. 14, which is Valentine's Day also. Then the Missouri forecast comes out officially.

Pampa Weather Bureau observers say that Charley Groundhog will have to hurry if he's to see his shadow.

Forecasters call for some six-tenths of the sky around Pampa to be cloudy until about 7:45 a.m. and sunrise is about 6 a.m. Besides, a cold front which may affect the sky here is expected to arrive during the day.

OF COURSE, many Weather Bureau folks won't take Charley at his word, but apparently lots of people have in the past.

The World Almanac and Webster's Dictionary fail to list when Groundhog Day began, but very clearly state that it is a "weather forecasting" day for all.

Yarborough Announces Candidacy

AUSTIN (UPI)—Sen. Ralph Yarborough Saturday announced he will seek re-election on a platform of "progress and cooperation with the Democratic leadership."

He emphasized his seven years' experience in the Senate, his support of the programs of President Kennedy and President Johnson, and said "I know I can be more effective" in a second full term.

Yarborough, 60, said "I am working to keep the flag over Panama, to put a man on the moon and keep a fellow Texan, Lyndon B. Johnson in the White House."

Johnson "is not taking any hand in my re-election," Yarborough said, adding that he would not expect Johnson to support him over other candidates in the Democratic primary.

"I'd be surprised if I don't have two or more opponents in the primary," Yarborough said.

Hospital Costs Here Top $1 Million Mark

Expenditures at Highland General Hospital in 1963 exceeded the million dollar mark for the first time, according to a report issued today by the county auditor's office.

In a 22-page report presented to county commissioners and District Judge Lewis M. Goodrich, R. C. Wilson, auditor, revealed that income at the hospital failed to keep pace with expenses.

The audit showed expenses of $1,048,814.73 for 1963 as compared with receipts of $994,758.62 during the year.

Salaries constituted the highest item with $483,105.91 being paid employees, an increase of some $70,000 over 1962.

Wilson's report pointed out that both the income and disbursement for the hospital were larger than in 1962 and stated that inauguration of the 40-hour week in the last part of 1962, brought a marked increase in salary costs at the hospital.

Operational costs, other than salaries, were lower than past years.

Wilson said that during 1963 pauper and indigent expenses rose sharply with hospitalization, drugs and doctor fees accounting for the increase.

Wilson said the outstanding debt of the county at the close of the year was $510,000 as compared with $475,000 at the close of 1962. Issuance of $150,000 in hospital bonds and principal payments of $115,000 within the year accounted for the difference shown. Wilson said the debt ratio is still less than one per cent and present schedules call for final maturities in 1967.

The report showed the peak of county tax values came in 1961 and reductions in 1962 and 1963 rolls were $933,778 and $716,674 each. The combined reductions approximate only 2 per cent, but should this trend and inflationary trends continue, Wilson said, future county

The argument was heard from one Dixie congressman after another as the House met in a rare Saturday session on the Kennedy-Johnson measure aimed at elimination of discrimination in voting, education, employment, public accommodations and use of taxpayers' funds.

When industries seeking new locations for expansion or additional plants begin their quest for a site, many questions must be answered before the site is found.

Answering the questions is part of the Industrial Development Committee of the Chamber of Commerce's business, but it isn't easy.

The questions are too varied and wide spread for a committee to have quick answers in most cases.

However, the Pampa Industrial Development Group is lucky. They have at their finger tips one of the most complete reference books on Pampa. Gray County and the Panhandle ever assembled.

For this is what the Industrial Facts Book actually is — a reference book which can answer questions of most industries or businesses interested in locating here.

It is divided into 13 sections that cover 113 pages and some 40 maps and charts. Each section tells a story of its own and the first section carries what might be called an uninteresting title, "General Description." It actually is a condensed history of Pampa and Gray County.

Did you know that Gray County has a total area of 937 square miles. It is bordered by eight counties and has a low elevation of 2,500 feet and a high mark of 3,300 feet?

Any businessman can find out by checking the Facts Book. The history comes in part (See INDUSTRIES, Page 3)

City of Pampa has gone into the weather reporting business.

U.S. Weather Bureau officials have placed official temperature gauges and rain measurement recorders at the water department, according to E. S. Lowery, city water superintendent.

The high and low will be recorded daily along with any rainfall. The records will be made available to the Pampa Daily News as part of its weather report service.

PALESTINE, Tex. (UPI) —

The balloon, which is filled with three million cubic feet of helium, is expected to land about 30 miles northwest of Savannah, Ga. about 6:30 a.m. EST Sunday.

The balloon carried several thousand pounds of instruments. It was sent up from the National Center for Atmospheric Research.

programs would require careful consideration. Wilson warned that budget limitations must be closely observed. He said that currently, 76 cents of the constitutional 80-cent limit is being levied and appropriations above that level would bring a raise in values.

Records in the auditor's office show only 1,726.25 acres of 5,841.33 acres of mineral interest owned by the Permanent School Fund are now leased. Wilson said leases in 1963 on 1,233.75 acres brought $45,273.41 into the fund, but due to expiration of older leases, delay rentals were cut by $3,234.26.

The report was accepted by the Gray County Commissioners Court Saturday morning, and was being studied by Judge Goodrich.

tail on the geology, including a number of maps, charts and list of sources for this information.

It points out that Pampa has always shown a population increase since 1920 and that the 1960 census showed 8,142 new citizens, an increase of 49.2 per cent as compared to the state hike of 24.2 per cent.

The county also has enjoyed increases in population for each 10-year period since it was first enumerated in 1890 with current totals showing 31,535 persons living in the county.

A population table goes along with the chapter, showing comparisons between Gray and Pampa.

Females outnumber males by some 900 with 12,006 women listed as living in Pampa and 15,417 in the county. Male population figures show 11,719 in the city and 15,175 in the county.

There are 23,725 white residents, 908 Negro residents and 31 persons of other races living in Pampa. The county shows 30,592 whites, 910 Negroes and 33 other races living within its boundaries.

The first chapter also gives a table listing the educational characteristics of both the city and county, breaking it into enrollment, by school, the number of persons completing how many years of school and other information.

The county shows 1,098 persons who have completed four years of college and 94 without any formal education.

The median age of Pampa is 27.3 years while the county shows 28.1 years and the state 27 years.

The native population per cent is 99 in both city and county as compared with 87.2 in the state. And a total of 32.5 people live in a square mile of the county.

The median income for families and unrelated persons is $5,821 in the city and $5,596 in the county while the state average is $4,058.

What does all this have to do with industry? Plenty.

It enables the business or industry to obtain a mental and factual picture of Pampa and Gray county while presenting a brief history and outlook of the entire area.

THINKING OF FISHING

Brown replied he was "thinking about going fishing."

"Case dismissed," said Grund, an ardent angler.

Doubt Removed in Jet Downing by Russians

BERLIN (UPI) — U. S. Air Force officers said Saturday there is no doubt that an unarmed T39 jet trainer was shot down by Soviet fighters, killing the three Americans aboard.

They made the statement after a preliminary examination of the wreckage brought here in pieces from East Germany where the plane crashed last Tuesday.

American investigators said they were unable to tell immediately whether the T39 was brought down with Soviet machine gun fire, cannon shells or rockets.

The Soviet Union admitted it downed the plane when it allegedly refused to heed warning fire after crossing into East German territory. But the Kremlin did not say Soviet fighters shot the plane down.

The United States issued a formal protest over the incident.

The debris was examined by a team of Air Force experts from Washington and European headquarters at Wiesbaden, Germany, the plane's base.

A formal report was expected next week after the plane is taken back to Wiesbaden for further study.

The three officers killed in the crash were Capt. John F. Lorraine, 34, of Jacksonville, Fla., Capt. Donald G. Millard, 33, of Ukiah, Calif., and Lt. Col. Gerald A. Hannaford, 41, of Austin, Tex.

Farmers Union Chief Sets Lubbock Speech

National Farmers Union Secretary - Treasurer Tony T. Dechant will address a meeting at Lubbock Tuesday night, February 4th, at 6:00 p.m. at Underwoods Cafeteria. Dechant will be keynote speaker for this Farm Income and Membership Expansion Rally sponsored by Texas Farmers Union to herald the kick-off of a massive membership expansion campaign on the South Plains.

State President Jay Naman of Waco will accompany the national official to Lubbock, and will assist on the program. Naman has announced that this Lubbock rally will put in motion a Plains-wide membership campaign that will end March 1. County organizations reaching a membership goal by the March 1 deadline will be awarded a special achievement bonus.

"We believe," said Naman, "that we will be able to double our membership on the Plains in 1964. The reception to Farmers Union in the area of Texas is greater than it has ever been."

Secretary - Treasurer Dechant will speak on the role Farmers Union has played in protecting farm income in 1963 and the challenge for Farmers Union in 1964. He will outline the need for new legislation on wheat and feed grains; and, he will also deal with the serious problem of livestock imports and their impact on livestock prices.

The 1965 Southwestern Exposition is scheduled for January 23 through February 7, President - Manager W. R. Watt has announced.

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY
Gray County Agent

Most farmers have income tax accountants make out their tax return. For those farmers that make out their own return here is a list of things to check before you mail your income tax forms. Some are often overlooked items which may result in over-payment of taxes.

Did you take advantage of investment credit on machinery and equipment purchased since December 1962? This can reduce tax by 7 percent of the eligible investment provided the credit is taken for the first year. The credit must be claimed, otherwise it is lost. Allowable credit for 1962 investments that was overlooked can be claimed by filing an amended tax return for that year.

Did you take under 30 percent of the contract price on property sale? If you receive no more than 30 percent during the year of sales, the transaction qualifies as an installment deal. In such cases, you can spread the gains over the remaining payment years. Otherwise, the total gains must be reported for the year of sale and tax paid thereon.

Did you charge a portion of the family car's depreciation to the farm? Cost directly associated with the farm or ranch operation is a deductible expense.

Did you include actual payment to your children for the farm work they did? Bonafide wages paid are deductible and if a child's total earnings exceed $600, he gets his own exemption. Parents may also claim him as an exemption provided he was in school and they furnished over half of his support.

Did you check about the cost of purchased livestock that died during the year? Any remaining cost in breeding, dairy and stock held for resale may be deducted.

Did you compare allowable deductions before making the standard 10 percent deduction? You may be ahead by listing them, especially, if contributions, personal interest, taxes or medical expenses were unusually high.

Did you claim the cost of boarding and keeping hired help?

Did you make sure to get new machinery into the depreciation schedule?

Help your "tax IQ," by studying available publications. Such is the 1964 edition of the "Farmer's Tax Guide." Copies are available from our office. This can be some of the most valuable reading you'll do this year.

Planting in the Moon

From Quitaque, Texas, I received a most unusual letter from a lady. It reads "would you please send me a planting guide for 1964 like the one enclosed?" The guide sent along in her letter is headed "Phases and Position of the Moon in 1963." It also had the signs of the Zodiac and their accepted influences.

We were unable to send the lady a guide that revealed the position of the moon. We did send her a vegetable gardening bulletin B-70 that tells her how many days after the first frost free date to plant a certain vegetable.

Maybe we can get a County Agent or an Agriculture Research Specialist on the first flight to the moon to determine its affect on planting dates, etc. The thing that has always amazed me is the fact you can't find any general agreement among moon believers as to just when to plant a certain crop. As one fellow put it, "It all depends on which tribe of Indians you are following."

Irrigation
Irvin Cole has had two test holes drilled in a search for a good formation for another irrigation well.

Bang's Disease Program
Wheeler County ranchers are circulating petitions to bring that county into the Brucellosis (Bang's Disease) Program. Charles Jackson, Wheeler County Agent, said the committee working on this had just about gotten the required number of signatures. When 75 percent of the cattle owners representing at least 51 percent of the cattle population in a county sign a petition asking they be brought under the State and Federal Brucellosis Program a county is then tested. It has also been reported that Hansford County has petitioned for a test and slaughter program. If this is the case, only three counties in the Eastern part of the Panhandle and Potter County are the only counties remaining in the Western half of the State that have not been tested. The three counties are Roberts, Wheeler and Gray counties.

Rain
Some parts of the county received beneficial rains. Roger McConnell reports he got enough to wash the dirt off his wheat and every bit helps out.

Feeder Lot Plans Head Lions Meet

The White Deer Lions Club at its Tuesday night program this week were thoroughly appraised of the feeder lot and feeder cattle program by representatives of the Weisbart Cattle Co. J. C. McCullough of Panhandle was on hand to introduce Gary Weisbart, Steve Treadway and Bruce Lusk of Amarillo who represent the Weisbart Cattle Company in Texas. Mr. McCullough is a Panhandle Lion and is head of the Industrial Development Commission which has been set up by the City Planning Commission of Panhandle. Weisbart, Treadway and Lusk explained to the local Lions and guests how anyone in this area might get into the feeder cattle program. Lion E. Kaiser and Dare Locke.

FHA Loans Hit $74.5 Million For Texas Farm, Rural Families

The U. S. Department of Agriculture's Farmers Home Administration made or insured $74½ million in loans to Texas farm and other rural families during 1963. L. J. Cappelman, state director of the agency announced in Temple today.

A total of 11,977 families used loan programs during the year. One or more of the agency's loan programs during the year. Farmers Home Administration operates a broad program of supplementary credit for rural development in Texas.

The agency makes loans for family farming operations, farm development, rural housing, community water systems, soil and water conservation and development, recreation enterprises and other purposes.

Loans are made only to borrowers who cannot obtain credit from banks, Production Credit Associations and other conventional lenders.

Cappelman reported that in 1963 Farmers Home Administration supervised loan programs had two major results of importance to the economy of the state.

"Loans to family farmers enabled them to make a major contribution to the well being and progress of the state's agriculture during 1963," he said.

"Capital and management assistance supplied by Farmers Home Administration to its borrowers helped them develop and enlarge their farms, operate more efficiently, and build a sound farming business."

"In addition, Farmers Home Administration loan services for

F. Tubb was program chairman. Guests of the Lions were Douglas Coffee, Rev. John Robertson, Judge Fred Carey, Arlen Kaiser and Dare Locke.

We invite you to attend the SCHOOL OF RELIGION which meets each Sunday night at 8:00 p.m. in the Parish House, beginning February 2nd.

Answers to the MEANING OF LIFE will be found if you attend these sessions. There is no obligation to "join." Merely come with open mind, intent upon finding the truth of Christianity.

For Safety's Sake—

CHIEF CAUSE — Motorists failure to understand the correct right of way ruling under Texas traffic laws at an uncontrolled intersection apparently was chief cause of 108 mishaps in Pampa last year. Police Chief Jim Conner reports the law states "when two cars enter an intersection from different highways at approximately the same time, the driver of the car on the left shall yield the right of way to the car on the right. In the photo above two cars approach an intersection with no traffic control. According to state law the black car has the right of way.

You, Your Child and School

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist
All parents should take steps to protect their children from individuals who might commit crimes against them. They needn't become panicky nor should they frighten their children. They should take normal precautions and instruct the children accordingly.

The young child tends to be friendly with everyone he meets. The criminal and deranged person take advantage of this situation. This shouldn't discourage friendliness, but should lead the child to observe several rules for his protection. The best protection is actually prevention. Once an incident has occurred the physical or psychological harm has been done.

An older child faces similar problems. Teen-agers are more capable of protecting themselves and preventing incidents. On the other hand they are also more open to criminal attack since they are not as closely supervised. They are also outside at later hours and in more dangerous places.

Must Understand Dangers
What advice should be given to children? It is important that they understand the dangers, but should not become constantly tense and frightened. With this in mind, you should consider making the following recommendations to your child with appropriate adjustments for his age:

Never hitch hike to accept a ride from a person you do not know. Politely express thanks, but refuse the ride. If possible obtain the license number and a description of the car and person. The offer of a ride from a stranger should be reported to parents, police, or teachers.

Don't take money, candy, or gifts of any kind from a stranger. The Promise of some exciting gift is often used to tempt someone into an improper or dangerous act.

Avoid going with a stranger who asks for directions. It is even advisable to avoid getting into a conversation with a stranger. This would eliminate any problems.

Parents should always be informed of visits to another person's home. In addition, parents should check carefully before their children do any kind of work for a stranger.

It is dangerous to play alone in alleys, in woods, on the beach, or in other deserted areas. Try to be with one or more friends when going to playgrounds, to movies, on hikes, etc. as there is greater safety in numbers.

Don't Be Straggler
Don't stay around public toilets, schools, theaters, or other public buildings. Always leave immediately. Individuals who wish to do harm of any kind will often wait around public places looking for stragglers. If you remain in school past the normal hours arrange for your parents to pick you up. In other situations, always call ahead when detained for any reason.

Never allow a stranger to touch you. Parents should be told immediately of any such attempt.

It is also a good idea to report the presence of any strangers who might be loitering in a neighborhood with no apparent purpose.

Any of the above or other suspicious incidents should be reported to the police.

Children cannot be supervised all of the time. It is therefore necessary that they be instructed concerning proper safety measures.

Pope Seeking 'Happy End' In Integration

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope Paul VI asked Catholics Friday to press for European integration "without useless delays" as a "happy ending to an unhappy story" of national rivalries.

"This is a great ideal. It is worthy of you," the Pontiff told 30 members of the European executive of the International Union of Young Christian Democrats. "It deserves to fill your hearts and to kindle your enthusiasm."

The Pope did not refer to the current dispute between advocates of a closely integrated Europe and supporters of a loose union favored by French President Charles de Gaulle. But observers noted that the Pontiff constantly used the word "integration" in his speech.

Integration, he said, "represents a happy ending to an unhappy story."

BUSINESS FAILURES UP
NEW YORK (UPI)—Business failures across the nation were higher this week than the preceding week but remained well behind the year ago level, Dun & Bradstreet reported.

The statistical agency set the number of bankruptcies at 235 in the week ended Jan. 23 against 254 a week earlier and 321 in the same week a year ago.

happy story. European nations must no longer have any pretext to stand up against one another. To eliminate the danger, the temptation of some other conflict that could become tragic and fatal, it is necessary to build, nor we would say rebuild, one single family of brother peoples."

3,640 Soil Samples Analyzed at A&M

The three soil testing laboratories operated in Texas by the Agricultural Extension Service analyzed 3,640 soil samples during November and December 1963, according to a report received by County Agent Foster Whaley from C. C. Welch, extension soil chemist at Texas A & M University.

Welch advised the county agent that soil sampling for spring crops was underway. He passed the word along that farmers should get their soil samples in early in order to get the results back early enough for using the test results for the upcoming crop year.

Welch called the county agent's attention to the need for submitting representative soil samples and also the importance of filling out completely the information sheet which accompanies the sample.

Whaley reminded farmers and other interested folks that he has available in his office detailed instructions on how to take soil samples as well as containers for shipping the samples collected. He said that he also has leaflets covering general fertilizer recommendations for the area and other publications on many subjects related to soil improvement and crop production. They are free for the asking, he said.

Malaysians Say Indonesians Broke Truce

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (UPI) — Malaysia accused Indonesia Saturday of another violation of the ceasefire along the Borneo border. A Malaysian government spokesman said Indonesian aircraft violated Malaysian airspace to drop leaflets. Malaysia charged Friday that Indonesian guerrillas attacked a village in Sarawak in violation of the ceasefire arranged by U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy. Indonesian President Sukarno countered the Malaysian accusation by ordering his troops to shoot if fired upon.

"Safeguard your own security and defend your present positions," Sukarno's order said. The Malaysian spokesman said an Indonesian air force plane crossed the border Friday to drop leaflets signed by Sukarno over North Borneo. The spokesman said Malaysia viewed such overflights "with the gravest concern" and had so informed Kennedy, United Nations Secretary General Thant and the government of Thailand, which is assigned to police the ceasefire. "Retaliate any enemy action in violation of the meaning of the ceasefire order," Sukarno's order said.

Veto Looms Over Force For Cyprus

LONDON (UPI) — Greece and Turkey agreed Friday to placing a 10,000-man NATO peace force on Cyprus — including 2,000 Americans. But President Archbishop Makarios threatened to veto the force. An Athens dispatch said Greek acceptance of the plan was conditioned on Makarios' acceptance, but in London a spokesman for the Commonwealth Relations Office said no conditions had been attached. He said the Greeks did propose that the plan be made more acceptable to Makarios. Informed sources said this included a suggestion that the United Nations have a say in the eventual political settlement. Under the Cyprus constitution no decision on foreign affairs such as sending in troops can be taken without agreement by both Makarios, leader of the Greek Cypriots, and Vice President Fazil Kutchuk, leader of the Turkish Cypriots. There has long been considerable hatred on Cyprus between the Turkish Cypriots, who make up about one-fifth of the population, and the Greek Cypriots, who make up the remainder. The hatred flared into a near civil war at Christmas time in which 200 persons were reported killed. A Nicosia dispatch said Makarios had decided to turn down the peace force proposal, but there was no immediate official confirmation.

Ex-Con Charged In Attempt to Bomb Playboy

CHICAGO (UPI)—Eugene R. Yocca, 28, an ex-convict with crime syndicate connections, Saturday was charged with attempted murder in the bombing of playboy insurance broker Lewis C. Barbe. A filling station attendant Saturday identified Yocca as one of three men he saw tampering with Barbe's car moments before the bomb went off. Yocca, also charged with arson and aggravated battery, appeared in Holiday Court and was bound over to County Court. He pleaded innocent on all charges and bond was set at $150,000, or $50,000 on each count.

ALGIERS (UPI) — Prolonged torrential rains in northeastern Algeria caused at least 15 deaths and left 5,000 persons homeless, it was announced Saturday.

Nine persons were drowned when a bus tumbled into a swollen river, and six bodies were found in the rubble of crumbled mud houses in the Tebessa area, near the Tunisian border southeast of Constantine.

LEAVES HOSPITAL DENVER (UPI) — Gov. John Love of Colorado was released from St. Lukes Hospital Saturday after undergoing treatment for a kidney and upper respiratory infection. He entered the hospital Tuesday.

Harvesters Overwhelm Caprock, 111-47

WRONG-WAY FIGHT — Let's get together here! For some reason, Caprock players Gary Day (25) and Gary McCormick are fighting each other for possession of the ball, while Pampa Harvester David "Sugar" Cain is blocking teammates Davy MacDaniel and Carl Harnsberger away from the ball. Everything was wild and wacky as the Harvesters won, 111-47.

Green 'n Gold Establish All-Time Scoring Marks

By GLENN McCASLAND
Records fell Friday night as the Pampa Harvesters crushed Caprock, 111-47, in one of the wildest scoring contests on record in this area.

Led by the expert marksmanship of Charlie Price and Kenny Hebert, the charges of Coach Terry Culley jumped out to a 14-point first period lead and stayed there the rest of the night.

And at least four records were set by the rampaging Harvesters.

The club set a new all-time high for scoring by the Harvesters, breaking the old mark of 102 set against Palo Duro in 1958.

The squad set a new Harvester Field House mark with the 111 point total.

And the score was the highest ever scored against Caprock in the Amarillo school's short history as well as providing the wildest margin over Caprock.

All of the Harvester varsity scored in double figures with Price hitting 28 points, Hebert 23, Kerry Roper and Ricky Stewart, 14 points each, and Danny Heil 13. Bobby Howard was sixth in scoring with nine points, leading the reserves.

Culley cleared the bench three times during the night, but used his starters 85 per cent of the playing time as it became apparent records were about to fall at the field house.

Hebert sank the 100th point of the night with 4:20 left in the battle and Culley sent in his wrecking crew to provide the final 11 points.

There was never any doubt as to the outcome of the District 3-AAAA clash, but a good crowd of fans stood on their feet the final quarter sounding their desire to see the Harvesters break the century mark. The fans got their wish.

Pampa outscored Caprock 26-14 in the first period; 25-13 in the second period; 24-10 in the third frame and 36-11 in the final quarter.

Heil and Stewart did a tremendous job on the floor for the Harvesters with "the Rock" rolling over on his back and landing upright at least twice while going for rebounds.

Lack of defense killed any chance that Caprock had of playing a close game with the Pampa crew. The Harvesters completely dominated the backboards with Roper, Heil and Price three-teaming to get the ball.

Stewart and Hebert displayed their usual ball-hawking and did a tremendous job on fast breaking for points, scoring several without a Longhorn within stopping distance.

The second and third unit Harvester crew showed excellent basketball ability with good ball handling by Charlie Snuggs, Howard, Carl Harnsberger, Lanny Lewis, Ronnie Curlee, David (Sugar) Cain and Richard Fatheree.

Lewis played the final four minutes and hit six points, Curlee bucketed a field goal that made the score 109 for Pampa and Howard sank two free shots with two seconds left in the contest for the final 111 points.

James McGowan hit 18 points for the Caprock squad, leading the scoring for the visitors, but three of the Longhorn starters fouled out in the third and fourth periods, thus making bad matter worse.

The Longhorns were completely bewildered by the Pampa full court press, which appeared to be the first such press the Longhorns had run into all season.

Although Caprock hustled every step of the way, the Harvester effort was just too much from the start. Caprock has one victory against 21 season defeats and has yet to win a district game. Pampa stands 12-10 on the season and 6-6 in district.

The Harvesters will travel to Plainview for a return match there Tuesday night.

In the opening clash, Coach Roy Kievall's Shockers added their 22nd victory in 23 games to their belts as the B-teeners outscored Caprock, 82-48.

Mike Wise led the shocker with 15 points while David Frasier and Teddy Bird hit for 13 points each. Gary Crossland sank 10 points and Kenneth McWilliams bucketed 11 points. Roy Harper hit for seven while fine play was turned in by Jim Conner, Tim Adsit and other members of the second Shocker unit.

As in the varsity game, there was never any doubt about the B-team contest as the Shockers led 13-6 in the first period, moved to 37-18 halftime margin and then 53-32 at the third period buzzer.

The Shockers hit 31 field goals and 20 free tosses for their 82 point total.

Wolf was leading scorer for the Caprock B-team with 27 points of the 48 point total.

Rattlers Poison Bucks, Does Defang Gal Snakes

By RICHARD ULRICH AND SUSIE HUGHES
News Sports Correspondents

WHITE DEER — Stinnett's Rattlers struck fast Friday night and hit out a 53-34 victory over White Deer in a district clash which left the Bucks with a 2-4 record and kept the visitors undefeated with a 6-0 mark.

Jumping off to a 4-0 lead in the first period, the Rattlers make the buckets hiss as they never had trouble in picking up the victory.

But the White Deer Does remained in the thick of the fight for district honors in girls' action by taking a 56-23 win over the Stinnett female cagers.

Bobby Dodd slammed home 18 points while teammate Ronnie Seiber sank 14, including six free shots, to count for 32 of the 53 points the Rattlers totaled.

Cal Johnson was the lone Buck to hit double figures with 10 points in a cold night on the floor for the White Deer club. The Bucks hit only 12 shots out of 50 from the floor. Stinnett had 21 of 47 shots.

The Rattlers also controlled the boards, grabbing off 33 rebounds as White Deer had 30.

The Bucks could not hit, which made the difference in the game.

Leading the rebounding was Seibert with 11 for the visitors while Gary Turner picked off 12 from the boards for the Bucks.

White Deer trailed 13-4 at the end of the first period, 26-10 at the half and 34-16 at the three-quarter mark.

Only in the fourth quarter did the Bucks come to life, hitting 18 points, more than they had scored all night, for the 34 point final count. However, the Stinnett crew had mostly second unit men on the court at the time. They added 19 points to their total during the wild scoring period.

Next action for the Bucks will be a clash with Spearman in that city Tuesday night.

Cindy Hubbard sank 15 points and Linda Hawpe added 12 more as the Does picked up district victory number five against one defeat at the expense of Stinnett.

The girls jumped off to a 23-10 first period lead and were never headed as Stinnett made only seven field goals all night.

The Does hit some 40 per cent from the floor and controlled both the offensive and defensive rebounding.

Carolyn Young had 10 defensive rebounds while Linda Hawpe had seven on the offensive side.

Pacing Stinnett was Peggy Dean with 10 points.

The Does face Spearman Tuesday in what may be the deciding game in district play. Spearman holds the only victory in loop action this season against White Deer, winning that game by a 12-point margin.

Mobeetie Wins Twin Bill Behind Seniors

MOBEETIE (Spl) — Mobeetie won its first twin bill of the year Friday night as three seniors played their last home games and departed with their finest performances.

Big Ray Corcoran, all-district all-everything, single-handedly led the Hornets to their first district victory, 45-41 over Kelton; while Mary Helen Gudgel on offense and Rita Read on defense, were standouts as the Hornets twisted the Lions' tail, 49-44, in a game which Kelton literally fouled out.

Corcoran played possibly the best basketball game of his fine career as the 5-10½ burrhead outjumped bigger boys to dominate the backboards, canning 29 points as he hit 50 percent of his field goal attempts.

The score switched back and forth in the first two quarters, Mike Harvey hitting Kelton into an 11-10 quarter lead and Ken Abernathy and Steve Davidson into a 19-18 halftime edge.

The tireless Corcoran kept rebounding and shooting, and midway in the third period, put the Hornets ahead to stay. It was 29-27 going into the final frame, but Ray stretched it out in the final frame for the revenge win.

The girls' game, technically, was a forfeit, as Kelton brought six players and had two of them foul out, leaving only four by the middle of the fourth period. The Hornets had a comfortable five-point lead at the time.

Mary Helen, who hit home 12 free throws against the fouling Keltonites in the first half, led Mobeetie into a 14-7 quarter lead. Joyce Walsler and Lynn Britten made a game of it in the second period, Mobeetie leading 29-23.

Glenda Pond started matching buckets with Mary Helen and Judy Rowell in the third period and closed the gap to 43-41 going into the final canto. Judy hammered the nets to move up the lead, and was waiting for a pair of free throws when the game was called.

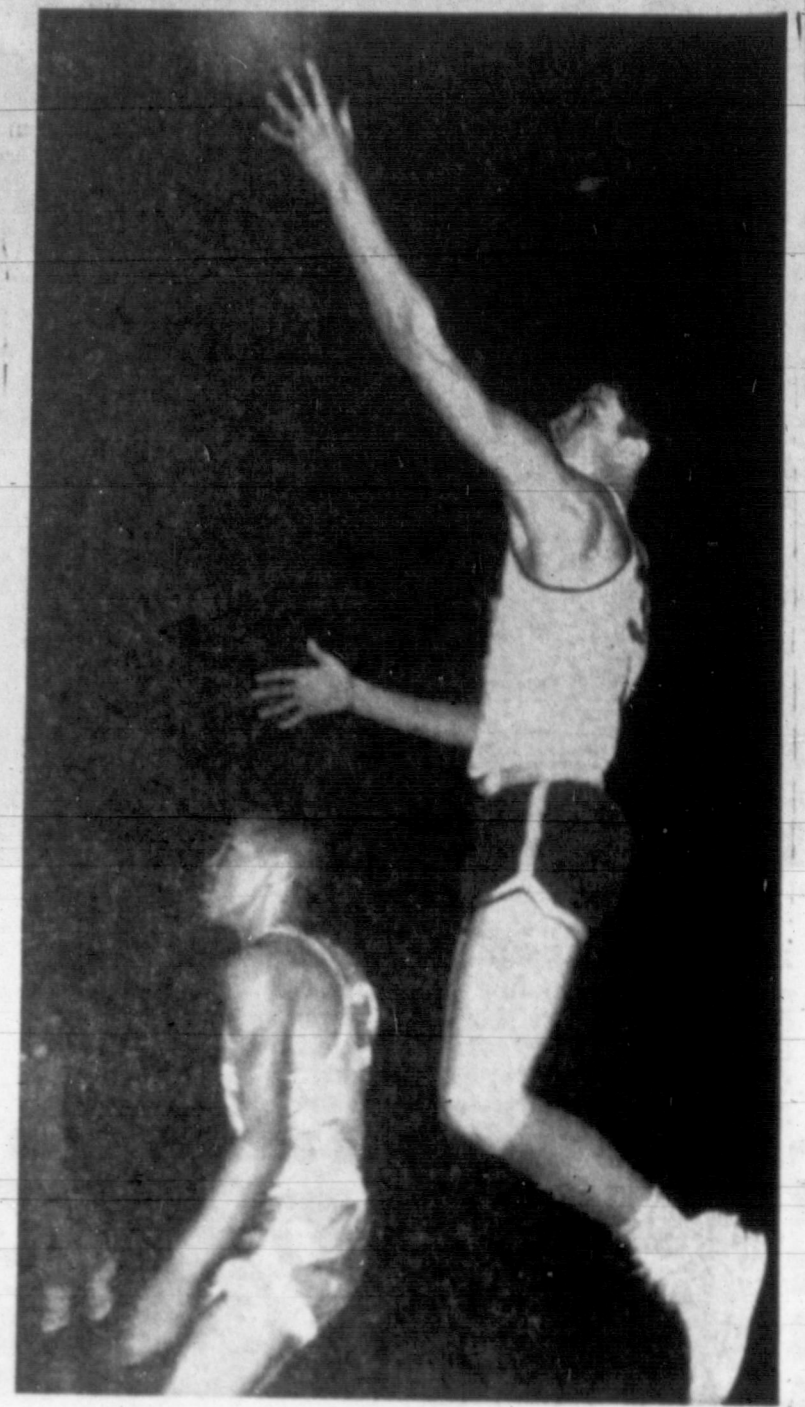

Mary Helen had 26 points, Judy 15, Lynn 16, Joyce 15, Glenda 13.

Mobeetie boys are 1-7, girls 2-6 in district as they head for Miami Tuesday night.

Bucs Shipwreck Canadian, 56-41

By KEITH GEISLER
News Sports Correspondent

LEFORS — The Lefors Pirates scuttled Canadian's chances in the district basketball race Friday night, boarding, sinking and making the Wildcats walk the plank to the tune of 56-41.

The Buccaneers led all the way as their superior height completely dominated the backboards, with Phil Woodring gobbling up all the rebounds.

Terry Bromlow, driving and setting up fast breaks, led the Lefors scoring in the opening quarter, with Deadeye Ken Willis hitting jump shots from the corners to keep it close, and it was 14-9 Lefors at the quarter.

Willis kept connecting in the second quarter, but Squash McCool and Bromlow kept driving and the Cats started fouling. McCool racking up seven points in the frame as the Bucs picked up eight charities for a 30-17 halftime lead.

Woodring started stuffing in the rebounds in the third quarter, but Jumping Joe Eckles started getting a piece of the boards and connecting on short jumpers, and the visitors narrowed it to 40-29 going into the final frame.

Bromlow promptly widened it again as he drove, faked and set up the Pirates into an 18-point bulge midway in the frame, after which the reserves went in. Larry Pruett added insult to injury when he hit a wild shot from midcourt at the buzzer for a 56-41 finale.

Lefors, now 4-2, still has an outside chance in the loop race. The Cats are 3-3 with four games left. The Canadian Kittens stayed in the girls race with a 50-26 romp over the Pirettes. Dixie "Squeaky" Petree, Dora Mae Hexl and Sue George all rattled the nets in the opening quarter for an 18-7 bulge and went on from there. Dixie finished with 22 points, Dora Mae with 14. Kathy Gatlin gunned 17 for the losers, Canadian is 3-2 in district, Lefors 0-5.

Lefors plays at McLean in a crucial game Tuesday. Canadian hosts Memphis with the girls taking on Draughton's of Amarillo in the prelim.

NBC Issues New Team Franchises

WICHITA, Kan. (Spl) — A minimum of 100 additional baseball circuits will be franchised by the National Baseball Congress in its 1964 National Association of Leagues for non-pro teams.

These include two classifications — the Senior Division for players of unlimited age and the Youth Division, with each of these circuits with young players establishing its own maximum player age limit, a year from 8 to 21.

To assure the success of its affiliated leagues, the Congress will award the championship team in each franchised loop a trophy with all its players to be presented emblems, designating them as "champions" for their playing uniforms. Leading players in each circuit, including those selected on the All-League teams, will be recognized nationally and forwarded certificates. Other services include recognition to each league, with complete resumes and photos of championship teams published in the following edition of the Official Baseball Annual, yearbook of the Congress.

Although each league operates under its own constitution and by-laws without interference from national organization, protests which cannot be settled within own organization may be referred to NBC for final decision.

Both divisions receive these advantages. In addition the leading team in Senior Leagues and those in the Youth Division and those in the Youth Division with an established maximum player age limit of 17 or over are assured certification in the majority of the 50 state tournaments.

Confeds Win Again

The undefeated Lee Confeds won their ninth straight game Friday, defeating Houston of Borger, 35-16. The 7th graders jumped into an 8-0 lead and went on from there. Gary Parrish led the scoring with 11 points, Mike Cooper had eight and Jay Johnson seven. The Confeds host Dumas next Friday.

Groom Eats Eagles Alive

GROOM (Spl) — Groom's tall Tigers topped the backboards here Friday night as they "ate up" the Samnorwood Eagles, 77-50.

Big Jerry Quirk, Jerry Roberts and Tommy Talley completely dominated the rebounds as the Tigers dragged 64 balls off the board while the Eagles could claw down less than 20. Quirk took down 19, Roberts 16 and Talley 15, while Talley, doing a standout defensive job, kept Samnorwood's 6-4½ Jimmy Martindale far from the nets and the rebounds.

Roberts and Driving Dan Craig teamed up to fast break and "snowbird" the Eagles to death, Roberts rebounding and tossing long passes to Craig, while Craig would harass the Eagles' break, hawk the ball and pass it in turn to the lanky sophomore.

The first quarter was the ball game, as Roberts slammed in nine points from the top of the circle as Craig and Talley were holding "Norwood" to only four points, and it was 21-4 at the quarter.

Samnorwood put on a full-court press in the second frame and Roberts went wild, David Kendrick started finding the range with his outside jump shot and harassed the Tigers the rest of the game, which read 35-24 at the half.

Roberts racked up 12 points in the third frame which saw Groom take 57-41 lead and, despite Martindale starting to connect on free throws, Craig and Roberts tore up the Eagles' nest in the final canto.

Roberts finished with 30 points, Craig with 20, Talley 12 and Quirk 11. Kendrick had 18 points and Martindale 16.

Groom, now 4-3 in the loop race, trails Samnorwood by one game and Quail by two. The Tiger-towners host Claude Tuesday.

Bowling

By JIM ADKINS

There were a lot of strikes strung out this week. Dot Osborne strung out seven for a 242 game and a 559 series. Joe Harnsberger strung out eight for a 242 but he was not at his peak in the other two games as he bowled a 106 and a 151 for a 499 series. Dan Farley strung out six for a 249 game and with his 167 and 169 games he had a 585 series. O. S. Epperson strung out six at the end of his game for a 233 and Larry Parsley had five for a 233; Larry had a 603 series.

Pat Treadaway again has been consistent as she bowled games of 166, 163, and 168 for a 497 series. Billie Thut bowled at the same clip as Pat as she had games of 159, 151 and 157 for a 467 on a 143 average. Pat's average is 153. Janice Webb is not as consistent as the above girls but her scores still add up. Her games were 139, 193, and 168 for a 500 series. Paulette Gilbert had two 500 series this week—one a 522 and the other a 500.

Kathy Parsley had a 232 game and a 530 series. Irma Beck had a 304 and a 531 series. Gladys Ellington had a 209 game. Dee Watson had a 200 game and Mary Morgan had a 237 game on a 134 average to qualify for a "One Hundred Pins Over Average" award from W.I.B.C.

Ruth Wortman had a 223 game, new high for the league Thursday night but she wouldn't tell me what her other two games were so I checked to find out. Her games were 130, 223 and 132 for a 485 series. Better luck next time, Ruth.

Carmalee Sanders had a 505 series and Keitha Clifton had a 504. Ina Reading had two 500's this week, a 519 and a 510. Dot Osborne came through with another 500, a 534. Mary Ray had a 203 and a 539 series Friday night.

Bonnie Smith bowled terrifically well her first two games Friday night. On an average of 121, she had games of 200, 190, and, well, another one, for a 495 series. Husband Bill had games of 213, 180, and 201 for a 594 series on a 155 average. LaVerne Webb had a 94 game on a 148 average.

In the Ragtime doubles, LaVerne Henson, average 158, had a 633 series and Kay Minadeo had a 623 series. It was the first 600 for both ladies.

In the first league Wednesday night Jim Herring was really consistent. With a 161 average he had games of 160, 165 and 168. In the Classic league however, Jim came to life and rolled the high series of the season with a 632 on games of 211, 195, and 232.

With Jim's last game his team-mates contributed these scores—Leonard Cable, 225; Lonnie Harmon, 201; and John Snuggs 165 for an 823 game. Liberal Pulls Out Of Tri-State Loop

(Editor's note: The following is a reproduction of a bylined story published by the South-west Daily Times, issue of Friday, Jan. 31. The story concerns the withdrawal of the Liberal, Kans. Bee-Jays from the Tri-State League, and gives several reasons, most of them stemming from the league meeting Jan. 26 at Spearman. Following the story are comments from all Pampans who attended the meeting and their views on the situation, except for Pampa Colts manager Tom Glover, who was unavailable at press time.)

By BOB WILLIAMS

The Liberal Bee Jays have dropped out of the Tri-State League and will play an independent schedule this summer. The not so surprising announcement was released Thursday afternoon by Carl Whitmer, president of the Liberal-Bee Jay Baseball Association, Inc. The board of directors of the Bee Jays voted unanimously Wednesday night to sever our ties with the league, Whitmer said. "We plan to inform the other members of our decision at the next meeting of league officials Feb. 16."

"We are planning on playing an independent schedule this summer but we have not completely eliminated the thought of possibly joining or forming a new league," Whitmer said in making the official announcement.

Whitmer said that the decision to withdraw sprang from the fact that Woodward, Okla., is not planning on staying in the circuit and Amarillo hinted at the league meeting last Sunday that they may also withdraw.

"The duo objectives of the directors is to bring the best possible baseball to Liberal for the enjoyment of the fans," Whitmer said. "We feel that the league is just too weak now to fulfill these goals."

"We want the best competition for the players so that they will be physically and mentally ready to play winning baseball against the tough clubs that will meet in the Kansas and, we hope, national tournament this summer."

"The directors also feel that we will be able to schedule only the choice teams and thereby eliminate the lopsided games of the past two seasons thus assuring Liberal of exciting baseball," the BJ president said.

The man concerned most with the competition that the Bee Jays will face is secretary W. A. Shufelberger who is in charge of scheduling.

"I was in favor of the withdrawal and voted for it," Shuf said in supporting the move. "My biggest reason for wanting to drop out is that the league has almost decided to play all league games on Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon. This would eliminate our choice dates as we wouldn't be able to get any good clubs to travel a long distance during the week to play us since all of the players also have to hold down a full time job."

"In the past we have played the Oklahoma City ball clubs and I am trying to lineup some games with the Wichita teams. Playing weekend league games would kill us."

"I want it known that I am planning on not scheduling any Sunday afternoon games at all this season if I can help it. In the past they have just been too much of a financial loss for our association to handle. "I feel that the directors made a wise decision in withdrawing and I am sure that it will produce bigger and better baseball for Liberal."

Travis Lively, newly-elected secretary of the Tri-State League said, concerning the Liberal newspaper's story: "I would like to study the whole situation further before making an official statement, but I will say at this time that Amarillo never discussed or even hinted at withdrawing from the league. Furthermore, at no league meeting has there ever been discussion of, let alone 'almost deciding' the playing of all games on Saturdays and Sundays."

Jess Middleton, coach of the Pampa Colts, reported after reading the Liberal paper: "After having been at the meeting, I can't recognize any of the statements made, supposedly by Shufelberger, as having been made at the meeting. It seems to me that everyone present, including Shufelberger, was in agreement that the league as a whole, played very good ball. Although there may have been a few lopsided games, overall, Shufelberger had said that the caliber of baseball in the league was excellent. The only team manager that even spoke about withdrawal did so because of a direct argument with Shufelberger personally, and it was definitely not Amarillo involved, nor was it because of weak play in the league."

Ben Hamilton, local baseball enthusiast, who attended the meeting of the league last Sunday, says: "This is a complete reversal as to his (Shufelberger's) attitude shown at the meeting, and it seemed as if he was one of the more enthused ones as to the operation of the Tri-State League this year."

Jeff Cohane, Pampa Daily News sports editor, who attended the meeting, says: "There are several discrepancies in the report made by Mr. Shufelberger and what I observed at the meeting. At no time did I hear of Amarillo even hinting that they considered withdrawal from the league. Shufelberger's statement that the league has almost decided to play all league games on Saturday evenings and Sunday afternoon is also news. I did not hear this discussed at any time at the league meeting, and I know that the Pampa Colts at no time have decided to switch to weekend games only, since they share the Optimist Park with the Pampa Rebels and other teams who also play on weekend dates. The same thing applies to Berger."

"As far as the league being too weak," Shufelberger read a copy of a letter at the meeting in which he has bragged that the Tri-State League was stronger than ever. None of the statements attributed to Shufelberger were heard by me at the league meeting last Sunday."

McDaniel Different, Eyes Diplomatic Life

Some athletes dream of being a coach. Others of playing pro ball, perhaps teaching or just being a successful businessman and father.

But for Pampa Harvester David McDaniel, none of these ideas have reached his mind.

The 17-year-old McDaniel has decided to study law and enter the United States diplomatic service for two reasons:

"Because I want to be of service to my country in some way and secondly because I like to travel."

McDaniel says he's been giving serious consideration to the State Department for the past two years as a career upon completion of his college education.

However, he agrees this is a long way off since the 6-2 youth has another year to go in Pampa High School. McDaniel plans to concentrate on his basketball, track and studies with hopes that he might land a scholarship to some college in sports.

"But I've got to be worthy of a scholarship and there's plenty of boys with lots more ability around than me," he pointed out. "I'd like to play college basketball, but I've first got to have a good year as a varsity starter for the Harvesters to attract some scouts."

McDaniel said he was considering either Texas Christian University or Texas Tech for his education, but he leaves the sports question wide open.

McDaniel plays what Coach Terry Culley calls a steadily improving brand of basketball, having been a starter on the Shockers last year and hitting nine points per game.

He has seen action in about seven Harvester games this season and usually replaces Charlie Price, if Price fouls out or is removed by Culley.

Friday night against Caprock, McDaniel displayed good form on the floor and observers could easily see why the boy is considered improving each day in drills and each time he plays.

McDaniel's ball handling and team play are his standout points. Plus an easy-going air which makes the boy easier to coach.

"He takes instructions well," Culley has said more than once. "McDaniel finds history his best subject and lists his hobby as sports. He is a sprinter in track, running the 100 yard dash, 220 and this year, the 440-yards."

The youth played defensive halfback and wingback in football and is looking forward to the gridiron season this fall.

Son of Dr. and Mrs. M. McDaniel, young McDaniel is getting a light taste of politics at home since his father was elect-

Red Hickey Added To Cowboy Staff

DALLAS (UPI) — Howard W. (Red) Hickey, former head coach of the San Francisco Forty-Niners, Saturday was named to the Dallas Cowboys' National Football League coaching staff.

Cowboy coach Tom Landry said Hickey would coach the team's passing game and would be an addition, rather than a replacement to the staff, which now numbers five aides.

Hickey, a University of Arkansas 1941 graduate, resigned as San Francisco head coach last season after the first four games and was succeeded by assistant Jack Christiansen.

ed to the Pampa city commission. "It has helped spur my interest in civic affairs a great deal plus world events," he admits.

A member of the First Baptist Church, McDaniel is junior director for the Key Club at PHS and is active in the Spanish club at the school.

But he'd rather play basketball and talk about a trip to Europe any day.

He had been head coach since 1959, during which time he installed the Forty-Niners' famed "shotgun" offense which enabled them to win four of their last five games in 1960 and finish in a tie for second in the NFL's Western Conference. His 1961 team also started well with the shotgun by beating Detroit 49-0.

Editors Recount How Assassination Moved

By PRESTON MCGRAW

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Texas newspaper editors Saturday termed the assassination of President Kennedy the biggest news story of the century.

"This certainly was the greatest story of our time," commented Bill Rives, an assistant managing editor of the Dallas Morning News.

McKnight, executive president and editor of the Dallas Herald, told how his newspaper mobilized to report the shooting. The shooting place on the afternoon of Nov. 22 in Dallas and the Times published four editions of the assassination.

Ray, managing editor of the Houston Press, said his newspaper relied on United Press International coverage to get eight extras and "it was everything we needed."

Praise Smith, UPI coverage of the story "praise of the editors, especially a graphic account of assassination by White House Reporter Merriman Smith, who witnessed the shooting."

McKnight called Smith's story one of the great reporting jobs he has seen on the assassination. He said the account wrote the following day in eight columns of type and had the whole story of the assassination.

Discussion of the Kennedy assassination was by a panel composed of Rives, McKnight and John Fallon, UPI's Southwest Division Manager. Moderator was Walter Humphrey, editor of the Fort Worth Press.

Boyette Elected
John Boyette, managing editor of the Amarillo Globe, was elected president of the Texas UPI Editors Association at the meeting in Austin.

Bert Holmes, telling of the wire service coverage of the assassination, said UPI would not go in for stories that the atmosphere in Dallas was responsible for the shooting. He said the most difficult part of the story was to get what happened to police officer J.D. Tippit and the connection of his slaying with the assassination.

Oswald Held
Less than an hour after the President was shot to death from a downtown Dallas building, Tippit was killed in Oak Cliff near the Texas Theater. Lee Harvey Oswald was arrested in the theater and charged with murder in both slayings, but was himself shot to death while in police custody two days later.

William C. Payette, Southwest Division Manager for UPI, told editors that UPI is putting more emphasis on coordinating news and pictures. He said the wire service is emphasizing enterprise by its newsmen and photographers.

Fallon said UPI is extending its coverage, and introduced Alvin Webb who heads a new space bureau in Houston at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Fallon told editors UPI is endeavoring to build up feature copy to back up spot stories, and in the state will extend its depth reporting in such fields as education.

ARRIVES IN SOMALIA
MOSCO W(UPI) — Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai arrived Saturday in Mogadishu, the capital of Somalia, the Soviet news agency Tass said.

Chou went to Somalia from Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, as part of his current African tour.

NOT ENOUGH RABBITS
JASPER, Ind. (UPI) — Officers of the DuBois County Young Democrats explained Saturday the reason some of the 500 persons who attended their annual rabbit banquet were served barbecued turkey was a shortage of rabbits this year.

Oilman Urges Tax Provisions

LOS ANGELES (SpI) — An appeal to Congress to decisively reaffirm depletion and related oil industry tax provisions was made here last week by the president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America.

H. A. (Dave) True Jr. of Casper, Wyo., said that even with existing tax provisions, domestic oil activity is declining. "Without these provisions, the drop in the search for and development of petroleum would accelerate sharply," he said, "or be maintained, even at present depressed levels, at much greater cost to consumers."

Joining with True in addressing an IPAA district meeting in the Biltmore Hotel was Minor S. Jameson, Jr., IPAA executive vice president of Washington, who said that the mandatory oil import program must be strengthened and improved if unhealthy conditions in the domestic industry are to be corrected.

Speaking of the tax bill now in the Senate Finance Committee, True said the industry's case is simple: With the nation's primary energy industry in severe economic trouble, it "is no time to change basic tax provisions which have been a part of that industry's economic processes for 37 years."

Housing Expert Hits Myths on Retirement

By JOHN PIERSON

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Among the decisions people face when they begin to get on in years, perhaps none is more important than housing.

Where am I going to live when I retire, and in what kind of a house?

There is all kind of advice available in this field. One man who is full of ideas is William Fitch, executive director of the National Retired Teachers Association and the American Association of Retired Persons. Together these groups have a membership of 700,000.

Fitch is especially fond of exploding what he thinks are three myths about retirement housing, namely:

- The people all want to go south when they get old.
- That they want to live apart in retirement villages.
- That any old place can easily be turned into housing for the elderly.

Pro And Con
Fitch concedes it often is cheaper to live in Florida or Southern California where you do not have those big heating bills and the expense of a heavy winter wardrobe. But he also argues that going south means tearing up your roots and leaving your old neighbors, churches, clubs and other associations.

Another advantage to a warm climate is that where there is no snow or ice under foot, you can get out more easily and go places. But Fitch thinks this

Cities Service Plans $6,300,000 in Building

OKLAHOMA CITY (SpI) — A construction program involving more than $6,300,000 will be undertaken by Cities Service Gas Company over the next two years to provide for new supplies of gas coming into the system, Kirby E. Crenshaw, president, announced today.

The company has filed an application with the Federal Power Commission for authority to build the facilities necessary to receive and transport gas from Transwestern Pipeline Company and Arkansas-Louisiana Gas Company. Details of the contracts under which Cities Service will purchase nearly 1 1/2 trillion cubic feet of gas from the two companies over the next 20 years were revealed in October.

The application asks for approval to construct a 2000-horsepower compressor station in Harper County, Okla., in 1964, and another station of the same size southwest of Wakita in Grant County, Okla. Each of the new stations will operate on the company's 26-inch Guymon-Blackwell pipeline and will cost about $600,000. A 2000-horsepower compressor unit also would be added to the company's Graham station near Independence, Kans., in 1964. In 1965 the program would add a

Congressman Runs Again for Office

FORT WORTH (UPI) — Rep. Jim Wright, D-Tex., put an end to rumors he would oppose Sen. Ralph Yarborough's bid for reelection Saturday by announcing he will seek another term as congressman from Fort Worth.

Wright said there was much "unfinished business" facing him as a member of the House of Representatives, and he said he could not see his way clear to seek another office at this time.

He said he was making a public announcement "in order to put speculation to rest" that he was to oppose Yarborough, run for governor or accept an appointive government post.

You can save $2400 a year on your utility bill when you dry with GAS. That's enough to buy a two month supply of milk for an average family of four. And GAS dries your clothes faster, yet so gently.

SAVE ON INSTALLATION AND MAINTENANCE, TOO. A GAS clothes dryer costs less to install and maintenance costs are the lowest of any dryer. A GAS burner, the heart of your dryer, carries a lifetime guarantee.

PREPARING for All-State band appearances in Houston this month are Pampa band members Marshall Gardner, a cornet player, and Lamoyne Clark, clarinetist. They are shown at the left practicing for the big event. The All-State band honors come as part of the overall program to interest students in furthering their musical education.

PRACTICE IS evil which must be accepted in order to have a top-flight band. In the photo at the right, Band director Fred Stockdale directs as a portion of the "Pride of Pampa" music makers perform during a daily band class session. The group is busily getting ready for the Monday night concert set with the Pampa High Choir at the Field House.

BECAUSE MUSIC comes in many styles and not all youngsters are interested in classics or marching numbers, Pampa High School developed the "Swing Kings", a group of some 15 youths who play dance music only at various functions as well as school basketball games, adding color to the program. At left, Gary Laramore, drum major, directs the "Swing Kings" in a number at a Harvester basketball game during the half time.

NO MUSIC program can be done successfully without sound planning and arranging of what numbers the band will play. At the right, Band director Fred Stockdale and Drum Major Gary Laramore check music to see if the number is the right type for what the Harvester band plans to do at its next concert. Such planning is time consuming, but highly worth the effort.

Harvester Band Program Aids Knowledge of Arts

By GLENN McCASLAND
High school bands bring to mind football games in the fall.

At one time in Texas musical circles that was just about the extent of a band in high school.

Things have changed in the past several years and today's high school band program is a big educational business.

Pampa has one of the better Class AAAA band programs in the Panhandle and at 7:30 p.m. Monday the general public will get a chance to see just how far the music program at Pampa High School has progressed.

THE EVENT will be a joint concert between the Harvester band and the choir before the two groups send representatives to Houston for All-State Band and Choir week.

The presentation will be the climax of several weeks of training and plenty of extra hard work for band director Fred Stockdale and choir director Hugh Sanders.

It also will call to mind the fact that outside of the gridiron season the boys and girls who play the music stay as busy as a good athletic program.

Pampa has a total of 500 youngsters in the band program, beginning with the fifth grade and continuing through high school. The Harvester band is made up of 100 of these youths while other bands range from seven to 127.

elementary grade students. They are Joe DiCosmo, Homer Kruger and Charles Meech.

The four men spend as much time as they can in an effort to drive home two basic purposes to the program:

To teach a person to play a musical instrument for his education and enjoyment.

And to urge serious-minded students to continue their music careers.

PAMPA HAS succeeded in the second phase fairly well, having a number of music majors now attending colleges in this area and across the nation.

"We are hoping to continue to push the program until we reach a noticeable record in music majors," Stockdale said.

Besides the marching and concert band, the high school has a group of talented band members who call their group "The Swing Kings" and play at school functions and other social activities. There are 15 members in the group and are currently engaged each Tuesday and Friday at Harvester basketball games, adding color and variety to the contests.

Two members of the high school band will attend the All-State band program Feb. 5-8 in Houston where they will participate in the annual "band day" along with some 200 other band students from all over the state. Representing Pampa will be Lamoyne Clark, a female clarinetist, and Marshall Gardner, a cornet player.

FOLLOWING THE All-State performance the band will begin plans for a trip to Enid, Okla., for the Tri-State Music Festival, sponsored by Phillips University, which attracts some 15,000 high school band students each year.

The concert this week with the choir is the first of several planned by the band for the city's entertainment.

It is part of a general program to bring music to Pampa and at the same time advertise the fact that playing a horn in high school is no longer a sissy's business.

Dear Abby....

Would Be So Nice If
No One Wanted the Credit

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: As a journalist, responsible for writing the truth, did you do a competent research job before giving credit to the Houston Police Department for "Ten Easy Rules For Raising A Delinquent"?

Sincerely yours,
MINISTER,
PHILLIPSBURG, KANSAS
My dear Reverend: The item in question was sent to me by a Chicago reader, crediting the Houston Police Department with authorship. Believing that people are honest until proved otherwise, I ran it verbatim, including the credit. My primary purpose in using the item was to share it with my readers, not to applaud the author. I have since heard from 22 readers, each ascribing authorship of "The Rules" to a different source. If the Houston Police Department did not originate them, I hope the real author will step forward, make himself known and accept my apologies. And now I am reminded of an appropriate quote (I know not whose): "There is no end to the amount of good people could accomplish in this world if nobody cared who got the credit."

Respectfully yours,
ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a newspaper compositor and your column comes to my attention frequently. I agree with your advice — most of the time. An exception being your reply to the man whose name was erroneously included with the list of employees who, though uninvited to the wedding, gave the boss' daughter a gift. His reasons for not conforming were valid, and his name could have been added purposely either to make him conform; become a conspicuous non-conformist in the eyes of his boss; or live a lie among his associates. Your reply dictates that he should allow himself to be tricked into donating to something he believes to be incorrect or to expose himself to a potentially vindictive superior. I feel he should be defended and commended — let the one who added his name to the list kick in with the five bucks.

TED FARABEE
DEAR MR. FARABEE: I don't know for which newspaper you work, but they are lucky. Although I gave a great deal of thought to my reply, I must admit I missed the boat. Your answer was better, and I thank you.

DEAR ABBY: My brother claims to be a religious man, but when he does his chores (he is a farmer) he beats his animals so unmercifully it would make you sick to watch him. I saw him club a poor old cow so bad one day I actually cried for her. Another time, I saw him kick a newborn calf halfway across the barn for no reason at all. He also kicked a pig in the mouth until it bled just because it wouldn't wait until he had put all the food in the trough. This same brother can quote passages from the Bible as good as any preacher. I go to church, but I don't attend as regularly as he does. He wouldn't miss a service for anything. Now, what kind of religion do you call that?

NO NAME PLEASE
DEAR NO NAME: Your brother may be exposed to religion, and even preach it, but he isn't practicing it. It's difficult to believe that a man who is as familiar with the word of the Lord could behave so inhumanely to any of God's creatures. I think he needs to have his head examined.

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Former President of Twentieth Century Makes Surprise Visit

Mrs. Jake Garmen, Newport Beach, Calif., and former president of the Twentieth Century Club, surprised members with a visit during a recent meeting conducted in the home of Mrs. Jack Foster. Mrs. Garmen arranged her trip east to include the meeting.

Mrs. Jack Stroup presided during the session. Mrs. Robert Sanford read the minutes and Mrs. Bob Andis gave the treasury report. Mrs. Stroup welcomed Mrs. Garmen and Mrs. A. W. Brown, St. Louis, as guests and Mrs. Foster offered the Texas Heritage Report.

Mrs. H. R. Thompson, program leader for the day, presented the program on the subject of conservation entitled, "Natural Resources — Strength of America." Mrs. Thompson quoted the passage from Deuteronomy 33:13, "Blessed of the Lord be his land . . . for the precious fruits brought forth by the sun . . . and for the precious things of the earth and the fulness thereof . . ."

Mrs. G. F. Branson suggested placing books on conservation in libraries, and encouraging local school people to include related subjects in the curriculum as club projects concurring with the proposals of Mrs. E. N. Crosssett, chairman of Region IV Conservation Dept. of G.F.W.C. Mrs. Branson developed the history of the U.S.'s steps in becoming conscious of the ravages made on its natural resources and laws and preventives set up to alleviate the damage done and protect the future.

"Almost from the beginning of our life on this continent, Americans were obsessed with the idea that nature's bounty was super abundant, that our land was a storehouse so rich that the land husbandry experiences of other nations and peoples could be ignored with impunity," was quoted from an article written by Stewart L. Udall, secretary of the interior. As a result of the belief that governments should dispense rather than protect its resources, the American people for a century conducted a single-minded raid on wildlife, timber, and soil before we awoke to the fact that we were squandering our most precious birthright. The conservation movement had its beginnings in the apprehensions of such sensitive men as John Wesley Powell, Carl Shurz and John Muir who spoke out against such sacrilege. It was president Theodore Roosevelt who crystallized the movement and gave it a name. He believed that all conservation begins with education and set about systematic programs of protection, renewal and development. The second period of conservation came when the great depression and the Dust Bowl served unmistakable notice on the American people that we were headed toward resource bankruptcy. Under FDR massive efforts were instigated and such programs as the T.V.A., Civilian Conservation Corps, R.E.A., etc., evolved. Secretary Udall suggested that science should be exploited to create new resources, unlock the treasures of the sea, wage an attack on pollution of water and air, husband fresh water, and develop managed forests for the benefit of all Americans, present and future.

Mrs. Branson pointed out this area has two well known conservation sites; Cliffside near Amarillo that is used for helium storage and the Sanford Dam. Thus prefaced on the second part of the program given by Mrs. Paul Harbaugh on the history and construction of the dam.

Mrs. Harbaugh read a letter from Mrs. A. A. Meredith of Borger, widow of the late Mr. A. A. Meredith who did so much in pioneering the interest and final acceptance of this project. The Sanford Dam was authorized as a federal reclamation project on Dec. 29, 1950 for the purpose of furnishing municipal domestic and industrial use, controlling floods, silt, etc., and providing fish and wildlife benefits. The project will provide water for eleven cities; Amarillo, Borger, Brownfield, Lamesa, Levelland, Lubbock, O'Donnell, Pampa, Plainview, Slaton and Tahoka. The capacity of the reservoir will yield 103,000 acre feet of water, sufficient for the cities' present demand and may be supplemented by the use of ground water. The facilities used in the project include 322 miles of reinforced concrete pressurized pipe, a surge tank erected near each pumping station. The location of all the ports of the dam were illustrated on a drawing and plaque of the dam furnished through courtesy of Phil Kinley, resident engineer on the Bureau of Reclamation. The total cost is estimated at $96,880,000. The repayment plan for the eleven cities involved will cover a fifty year period. Mrs. Harbaugh stated that

Twentieth Century Allegro Club Speaker Presents Historical Program

New officers for Twentieth Century Allegro were elected during a recent meeting conducted in the home of Mrs. R. E. Reid. Mrs. LeRoy Ogden assisted the hostess.

New officers are president, Mrs. LeRoy Ogden; vice-president, Mrs. Will Graham; secretary, Mrs. R. H. Cory; treasurer, Mrs. J. R. Reeve; reporter, Mrs. D. W. Hayes; and parliamentarian, Mrs. George Cree, Jr.

Following the social hour, Mrs. Curt B. Beck presented the program, "The Founding of Virginia." She said, "When we think of the founders of this country, our thoughts immediately turn to the Pilgrim Fathers. But, long before they came to America, there was a colony, Virginia."

It took England for various reasons, 100 years to follow-up on Columbus's discovery of America. Already during the Spanish war, England visualized America as a place for Englishmen to live. Four unsuccessful attempts to colonize were made, financed by Sir Walter Raleigh. The last one in 1587 was the so-called "Lost Colony of Roanoke." After the war with Spain, the Virginia Co. of London was founded with funds provided by stockholders. The company had a royal charter from James I. On Dec. 9, 1606, three ships sailed from the Thames. They were "The God Speed", "The Susan Constant" and "The Discovery", under command of Captain Newport. In 1607 they entered Chesapeake Bay at what later became Jamestown. During the first months the number of settlers was cut down by famine and disease from 104 to 52. They were ruled by a council of seven, to which Captain John Smith was elected president. He did much for the colony and tried to advance it by bartering with Indians for corn. Here is the origin of the story that Pocohantas intervened for Smith's life with her father, Powhatan, when the latter captured Smith. John Smith sailed for England in 1609 when the colony fell back. The winter from 1609 to 1610 is called the "starving winter". Jamestown was nothing else but a fortified trading post. There were no women. The colonists owned nothing, everything was owned by the company. In 1609 the Virginia Co. re-organized under a new charter. Thomas Lord De La Warr became governor. As he could not leave for Virginia right away, he sent Thomas Gates with nine ships in his place. Gates found the colony in the last stage of starvation and knew nothing else to do but put the survivors aboard and weigh anchor for England. This would have been the end of the colony had not just then the Governor Warr sailed up the James River with 300 men and supplies. He ordered everyone on shore and took vigorous charge. His strict discipline was carried on under his successor Sir Thomas Dale. Although the living circumstances were miserable, a group of gallant men kept the colony going. They were going to plant a nation where none had stood before.

Needed for the survival of the colony however was family life, a profitable product and land holding to give the colonist a stake in the colony. All this came about between 1616 and 1624. John Rolfe, who had married Pocohantas, introduced tobacco seed from the West Indies and the colony started growing tobacco. The crops were profitable, but it made the colony more dependent on England for supplies. After seven years, the term of indenture expired and the colonists who wanted to stay became tenant farmers. In 1619 the colony gained a form of self-government. Sir Edwin Sandy, who headed the Virginia Co., at that time instructed the governor, George Yearley, to abolish martial law, introduce English common law and the process of the English Courts. Also to summon a representative assembly of 22 burgesses. 1619 to 1624 marks the final period of company control. Sandy tried to bring about a diversification of products and introduced a series of measures which might be called "Virginia's five-year plan", all directed toward Sandy got two more reforms through the stockholders meeting in London. (1) The so-called headright system (See ALLEGRO, Page 21)

Church Unity Topic For CWF Meeting

The Christian Women's Fellowship met recently in the First Christian Church. Mrs. D. V. Burton, president, opened the meeting with prayer and conducted a short business meeting. Mrs. S. F. Friend gave the devotional, reading scriptures from John I and Ephesians IV. Mrs. V. L. Hall introduced Mrs. Ralph Converse who gave an interesting program on church unity entitled "All One Body We". The search for unity is not an old one according to her material. She stated that it was just over 50 years of age. She also pointed out that there is in the church, divided as it is, an amazing and significant movement toward unity. She said there is a rapidly growing awareness that unity is a central part of the churches' calling. But unity is not to be made. It has already been given by Christ and must be discovered, then uncovered and demonstrated. The meeting closed with the repetition of the C.W.F. benediction. The Musgrave Group was hostess for the social hour. Coffee and spiced tea were served from a beautifully decorated table. Approximately 40 members and guests attended.

aside from the provision of water and control of floods, the project would also provide the Panhandle with recreational facilities of civilian value and tourist attractions. Of the three locations under consideration, the present one was chosen because of economic feasibility. When the dam is completed in 1965, it will rise some 200 feet above the Canadian River bed, its crest will be 630 feet long and some 1900 feet wide. Maximum discharge will be 36,400 cubic feet per second. Mrs. Harbaugh concluded her part of the program by saying, "when inspiration and action work hand in hand, many marvels are the results." Those attending the meeting were Mrs. David Tucker, Raymond Harrah, R. W. Stowers, R. H. Sanford, Fred Neslage, Bob Andis, V. J. Jamieson, G. F. Branson, Paul Harbaugh, Joe Gordon, W. R. Campbell, Jack Stroup, R. H. Thompson, Roy McKernan, J. P. Foster, Bill Roots and Albert Knox.

Area Gardening Discussed by Guest Speaker of 20th Century Culture Club

Members of the Twentieth Century Culture Club met recently in the home of Mrs. D. W. Bond, 115 E. 26th, for an area gardening program, presented by Mrs. L. J. Zachry. She based her informative talk on a book, "Southwest Gardening", by Rosalie Doolittle, and a planting guide prepared by members of area garden clubs. Each member was handed a monthly planting guide.

Mrs. Zachry said a "green thumb" comes from having the same sort of love for plants as one has for family. It involves giving the right food, shelter and warmth. Discussing soils, she stated there are three main types: clay, sand and humus. Humus needs to make up almost half of the soil for good growing conditions. Humus will hold water for roots and at the same time give them air. Altitude affects plants only as the days are hotter and nights cool rapidly and plants may be chilled. In this area, wind-breaks are advisable to protect growing plants. Mulch is recommended to preserve moisture.

A cold frame is ideal for growing one's own garden plants from seed. She presented plans for making a cold frame, or for those not so garden-minded, a seed flat will serve.

Perennials provide easier garden maintenance, as they multiply from year to year. It is a good idea to plant on paper during the cold winter months to save shovel time in the hot sun later. Leaves of the perennials should be considered for effect as well as the bloom. Annuals can be used to give a different dress to the garden each year, and as cover for fading perennials. Mrs. Zachry advised planting the best varieties available.

Mrs. Jeff Bearden assisted the hostess and Mrs. Rufe Jordan, president, presided during the business session.

Members attending were Mmes. D. F. DeWeese, R. E. Dobbin, L. H. Hart, W. L. Hasse, E. L. Henderson, Rufe Jordan, Doyle Osborne, E. E. Shelhamer, Fred Stockdale, G. L. Craddock, M. Wilson, Otto Sprecht, L. J. Zachry and the hostesses.

Newlywed Couple to Reside in Pampa

Miss Roselle Baggerman became the bride of George Collingsworth in a double ceremony read by Rev. R. Copeland, in the First Methodist Church of Groom on January 19.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John A. Baggerman, south of city and Mr. and Mrs. John Wayne Collingsworth, Salem, Ore. He is the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. V. A. York, 1236 Hamilton.

The ceremony was performed before a background of white mums, green palms and a pair of candelabra holding white tapers. Organist was Mrs. Ray Faulkner who also accompanied Miss Roselle Baggerman, sister of the bride, who sang "O Promise Me" and the "Wedding Prayer."

BRIDE
Escorted down the aisle by her brother, Vernon Baggerman, and given in marriage by her father with "her mother and I avowal," the bride chose for her wedding a gown of French-imported lace over satin designed with a scalloped neckline. The long sleeves came to petal points at the hands. The bouffant skirt was fashioned with a ruffle across the front hemline and back interest was created by six scalloped lace ruffles that terminated in a chapel train. Her elbow-length veil of bridal illusion was crowned by a tiara of seed pearls and iridescent teardrops. She carried an arrangement of white carnations centered with red orchids.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Barbara Johnson. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Hershel Winkle, Amarillo and Miss Juanita Miller, niece of the bride. Junior bridesmaids were Margie Baggerman and Debra Whatley, nieces of the bride. Sharlene Whatley, niece of the bride was flower girl. The honor attendants were attired identically in dresses of red lace over red crystal-line fashioned with scalloped necklines and sleeves with bouffant skirts and matching red patent slippers. Red head bands circled with veils of red tulle were worn and each carried a nosegay of white carnations with white streamers tied in love knots.

W. A. York served his nephew as best man. Groomsmen were Tim Collingsworth, brother of the bridegroom and Danny B. Hogsett, cousin of the bridegroom. Ushers were Curtis Whatley, brother-in-law of the bride, Derrell Hogsett, cousin of the bridegroom and Melvin Wills.

Candlelighters were Geneva Miller, niece of the bride; and Cynthia Hogsett, cousin of the bridegroom. They wore identical dresses of white tulle with red lace overskirts.

Ring bearer was Roger Baggerman, nephew of the bride.

Mrs. Baggerman chose for her daughter's wedding a crepe dress of royal blue and black accessories. A corsage of white carnations complemented her ensemble.

Mrs. York wore for her nephew's wedding a dress of gold wool with brown accessories accented by a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Nace Baggerman, sister-in-law of the bride, registered guests at the reception following the ceremony. The serving table was covered in white lace over red satin and centered with a red, white and peppermint carnation arrangement. Mrs. Curtis Whatley, sister of the bride, served raspberry punch from a crystal bowl. Mrs. Vernon Baggerman, sister-in-law of the bride served the tiered wedding cake which was decorated with red roses, red hearts and white bells.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Sue Montgomery of Tulsa, Okla., Mrs. Susan Daze of Okmulgee, Okla., and Miss Sharon Riley of Amarillo. The bride attendants were identically attired in red velvet and carried white fur muffs.

George Roach of Weatherford, Okla., served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Bill Meek, brother of the bride, Ed Montgomery of Tulsa, Ed Dennis of Dallas and Carole Anderson of Mangum.

Allegro

Everyone who came to Virginia on his own expense got 50 acres free for himself and everyone in his family and his indentured servants.

(2) The system of Hundred or particular plantations. If a group of people of at least 250 came out, they got a plantation of 1250 acres and up, on which they had self-government. This system gave birth to places like Martin Hundred. This was a time of prosperity for the colony; but, its troubles were not over. This time they came from the side of the Indians who resented the white's encroachment of the cornfields. The result was the massacre of 1622 in which a fourth of the white population was killed. This terrible loss of life was one of the reasons that the King directed his attorney general in a suit against the company. Its charter was revoked, the company dissolved and the stockholders lost all their money. Virginia became a Royal colony and remained so till the American Revolution.

For the colony things did not change too much, on the whole it prospered. The trouble with the Indians kept on until some years later there was a drop in tobacco prices. This and the Indian trouble gave a lot of unrest and the main causes of the Bacon Rebellion. But one may say that the colony's childhood diseases were over. Due to untold hardships, perseverance and a gallant spirit, 'A nation had been planted where none had stood before.'

Scouting Scoops

By NANCY HOLT
Senior Troop 5
Hi, Scouts! How is everything? I hope that you have been having a lot of fun! Now that everything has settled down for awhile, many of our troops are quite busy.

Troop 125 has been working on the Homemaker, Back Yard Fun, and Drawing and Painting badges. On Jan. 6, Mrs. A. J. Organ, who moved here in September from Venezuela, spoke to the troop about the customs of Venezuela and about the Spanish language. The girls greatly enjoyed her talk which also applied on their International Friendship. Mrs. Robert Karr is the leader of the troop and Natalie Skelly, a Senior Scout, has been acting as the troop's assistant leader. The girls in the troop are: Cindy McDonald, Martha Organ, Dava Redus, Mary Beth Karr, Patricia Vernon, Jayne Dalton, Glenna Hollaway, Jean Fischer, Joan Barton, Jane Ann Davis, Gaylene Winborne, and Judy Hale.

Jan. 17-18 were outing days for Troop 80. The girls and their leader, Mrs. Leon Richter, went to Camp Mel Davis for an overnight fun trip. Of course they had so much fun that they didn't want to come home. And guess what; they didn't have any bus trouble! It was the first time that such an awful thing had happened to them! Mrs. Sue Wallace, Mrs. Lacy Lee, and Natalie Skelly also attended.

Troop 80 is now planning to do some primitive camping to test themselves as to what they need to learn.

Before Christmas the girls began their Toy Badge by making toys to take to the Colored Nursery. Each girl made a different toy; no two were alike. Last year the troop took wahoo boards to Boy's Ranch and this year the troop received a special letter of thanks. I'm sure that they are proud of that!

It looks as though we are going to have some very good cooks in our council. Many of our troops are taking cooking lessons. Troop 80 is going to begin next week and Troop 2 and Troop 34 finished theirs before Christmas. Good Luck! Try not to burn anything!

Troop 54 has been working on their Housekeeping Badge. In their last meeting, they took a hike and studied rocks. The troop has also divided up into patrols and they have had their first Court of Honor. Keep up the good work Troop 54. You're doing fine.

Troop 2 saw the new film "Journey Into Friendship" at their first meeting of the year. It sounds very interesting. I hope I get to see it.

The annual Council Meeting was held last Thursday night. Troop 5 put on the flag ceremony and had the program. The girls sang a medley of familiar Scout songs while seated around a campfire. The girls had a lot of fun and everyone seemed to enjoy the program.

HONORED WITH SHOWER — Miss Carol Jeanne McBroom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie McBroom, 401 Red Deer, was honored with a bridal shower recently in the Hospitality Room of Citizens Bank. Miss McBroom is the bride-elect of Jimmy Hogan. Decorations of blue and white were carried out. Hostesses were Mrs. Bobby Thornton, Mrs. Jack Malone, Mrs. L. O. Thornton, and Mrs. Bob Marsteller. Make a Pineapple Sunday Attraction

By GAYNOR MADDOX
A slight Polynesian accent gives frozen desserts a special attraction for Sunday and special dinners. Here are two you'll like, we hope.

PINEAPPLE COCONUT ICE CREAM

- (1 quart)
- 1 (1 pound 4 1/2-ounce) can crushed pineapple
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup milk
- 1 cup heavy cream
- 2 drops lemon extract
- 1/4 cup flaked coconut

Set refrigerator for fast freezing. Drain pineapple, reserving 1 cup syrup. Mix sugar and cornstarch; add eggs, milk and 1 cup pineapple syrup; mix well. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until smooth and thickened. Cool. Whip cream with lemon flavoring until thick. Fold into cooled mixture. Pour into refrigerator tray and freeze until firm. Put in bowl, and beat until creamy. Fold in pineapple and coconut and return to tray. Freeze firm.

FROZEN PINEAPPLE MOUSSE

- (2 quarts)
- 2 bananas (sieved)
- 1 (8 1/4 ounce) can crushed pineapple
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 1/2 cups whipping cream
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon vanilla

Sieve bananas, add lemon juice and 1/4 cup sugar. Add crushed pineapple and put into freezing tray to become slightly icy. Whip cream until almost stiff; beat in remaining 1/4 cup sugar, salt and vanilla. Fold into fruit mixture and immediately spoon into individual cups or into freezing trays. Freeze immediately and rapidly.

To make it easy for the lunch box-toter, slip a damp, soaped washcloth into a sandwich bag and lay it just inside the box lid. And add an extra paper napkin as a "towel."

You might expect the Republicans on Jordan's committee to be pressing for more vigorous inquiry into the activities of Bobby Baker who was the creature of the Senate Democratic majority. But the Republicans have no assurance that Baker did not do some wheeling and dealing for Democrats. Moreover, the committee operates under a Senate resolution which can be strictly construed to mean that the inquiry must not extend to members of the U. S. Senate.

The committee is not likely to ask for broader powers. Not likely, that is, unless the voters begin to howl in protest.

The committee has not distinguished itself. The secret testimony of insurance man Don B. Reynolds related to President Johnson and his family's Texas television station.

The committee spent a chunk of the taxpayers' money for a special-press release to make sure Reynolds' secret testimony would attract minimum attention. It was made public on the day the budget went to Congress.

Pressed For Facts
These investigators from Walsh to Bobby had something in common, and it was big. They were prosecutors. They uniformly were acting for Senate committees that were all-out to get the facts. Not just some of the facts, but ALL of the facts.

When Pecora or Bobby or Tom Walsh got a lead they followed it. They were trying to put someone in jail and often or not they did. Not so with the rabby inquiry into the life and times of Bobby Baker as directed by Sen. Everett B. Jordan, D-N.C. L. P. McLendon is special counsel for Jordan's committee.

Given the enthusiastic support of the committee senators, McLendon no doubt could match Walsh, Pecora or Bobby Kennedy in exposing evil. But committee counsel never can proceed faster nor further than the committee desires. This is not to suggest that the senators are sabotaging their own investigation. Rather, they seem to be just letting the natural law of politics run its course. The natural law of politics, when applied in the current situation, is that when the senators comprising the investigating committee are not sure of what lies ahead, they are not likely to hurry into the unknown area.

There is a patty-cake rhythm to the Senate's Bobby Baker investigation that makes an old timer wish for the likes of the investigators who were tearing the roof off of things back there in the 1920's and 1930's.

The late Tom Walsh, for example, Sen. Thomas J. Walsh, D-Mont., put Andrew W. Mellon on the witness stand in the course of exposing a cabinet member mired in the oil muck of Teapot Dome.

Or Fred Pecora, now Judge Ferdinand Pecora of the New York bench. Pecora was counsel to the Senate stock market investigators in 1930-31.

Or if Walsh and Pecora have faded out of your memory, how about an investigator like the Bobby Kennedy who dealt with the hoodlums, Hoffas, the Becks for the more recent McClellan inquiry. There have been others such as Bill Rogers who was counsel to the Senate investigators who turned up Harry S. Truman's deep freeze and mink coat mess.

Slayer Seeks Paper Injunction

TYLER (UPI) — The 12th Court of Civil Appeals today set a hearing for March 26 in Tyler on the appeal by Leslie Ashley who seeks a restraining order to keep the Houston Chronicle from using certain language and a photograph.

Ashley was convicted along with Carolyn Lima of murder and both were sentenced to the electric chair, but their conviction was appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court.

While the case is still in the courts, Ashley does not want the Chronicle to use the words "torch murder" in describing the slaying or refer to him as a "female impersonator." Neither does he want the newspaper to publish a photograph again that shows him in a rage in his jail cell.

The appeals court will hear Ashley's attorney at 9 a.m. on March 26, advancing the case on the docket.

Greater Spending

President Johnson has been busy since he has taken office. The creation of a presidential image takes a great deal of effort. Mr. Johnson is expending it. He wants us all to understand that he is following in Mr. Kennedy's footsteps. He also wants us to understand that he is in favor of economy. The tax cut proposed by the deceased President is going to be pushed. Additionally, President Johnson indicates he is going to spend more money in order to get rid of poverty. A presidential image is a many-sided affair. The fact that some of these facets sought after contradict some of the other facets is of small moment in so large an office. What we can safely predict is that there will be deficit spending. In spite of the very good chance now that taxes will be cut (thus fulfilling the image of a conservative, frugal regime), it is entirely predictable that government spending will substantially exceed its tax income. (This latter will fulfill the image of a government concerned with progress and helpful to business.) The budget under the Johnson management is probably going to level off at $97 billion for the year. But it is being predicted on all sides that the administration will spend billions above and beyond its tax take. The additional billions will be fiat money. They will be inflationary and will cause a further decline in the purchasing power of the dollar. However, that money is going to flow into the hands of a lot of voters. And with an election year at hand, dollars in the hands of voters presage well for the party in power. In the long run, policies of spending more than can be taken in, are ruinous. But politicians cannot afford to take a view that is that long. They are thinking in terms of elections, and the tax cut on the one hand, combined with larger spending on the other, is what is calculated to win votes and keep people in office. Nor will there be much opposition to the Johnson image. Even members of the GOP will keep in mind that dollars flowing into their districts back home will be "good" from the standpoint of seeing that plenty of GOP strength goes back to Washington in the fall. What politicians in office never seem to realize, and probably can't afford to realize because of the nature of their jobs, is that these short-range benefactions (such as more dollars to spend) have a long-range effect which creates poverty. Now, Mr. Johnson says that he wants to eradicate poverty. And we are certain he is sincere. Is there anyone in the country who would be willing to stand up in support of a perpetuation of poverty? But the thing that creates poverty is an erosion of the purchasing power of the dollar. And the thing that erodes the purchasing power of the dollar is public debt, funded by new borrowings. So, while Mr. Johnson is calling for an all-out "war" against poverty in our time, he is planting the seeds which will guarantee poverty in the future. Of course, Mr. Johnson is going to be required to spend quite a few dollars that were "built in" as a result of legislative and executive actions taken before he came to power. However, Mr. Johnson has some spending of his own that he plans to add to the national extravaganza. The political armistice following the shooting of Mr. Kennedy is now ended. From here on, people are going to be taking pot-shots at the administration and everyone in it. Extravagance is certainly going to be one of the things talked about. Mr. Johnson is apparently intent on making us believe that he isn't going to change the direction the government is taking, and the tax cut on the one hand, combined with larger spending

An Unenviable Record

We live in an era in which records are being broken on every hand. This goes for just about every area of human activity — sports, business production, wage rates, and so on and so on. And last fiscal year, an AP dispatch from Washington points out, another kind of record was broken — and it is one in which every American save a forgotten hermit in the hills must share. The federal government collected close to $106 billion in taxes. The dispatch quotes an Internal Revenue Service spokesman as saying, "This is the greatest amount ever collected by any country in history. No country before ever had so many people with so much money." Well, that is no doubt true. And it is also true that the American people realize that they pay heavy taxes, particularly for national defense. But there are plenty of signs that these same American people are getting mighty weary of waste in government, and in nonessential spending for Welfare Statism and to support a bureaucracy of almost limitless dimensions. How much longer will we stand for the setting of new tax records? That's quite a question, in view of a virtual taxpayer revolt that has been revealed in polls, and also local elections around the nation, where the people can vote on tax questions.

Opposites

Since slavery is a condition in which one man owns and controls another, its opposite, freedom, is a condition in which each man owns and controls himself.

The One and Only Attitude

A short time ago the Defense Department closed 26 domestic installations in this country. They had become obsolete, they no longer served a useful purpose and represented a needless drain on the taxpayers' money. In the days following, news media recorded many cries of protest. Some came from affected business groups, some from civic organizations, some from Congressmen of the regions concerned. "But," says a publication of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, "these adverse reactions were never that might be expected. In contrast, many business organizations in the areas affected expressed their approval although regretting the necessity of the closings. Their reaction can be summarized like this: "We cannot have our cake and eat it, too; we cannot demand reduced government expenditures and then howl like a banshee when an economy move adversely affects our area." Let us all devoutly hope that this is a correct appraisal. For, the attitude it describes is the only one which can make possible, and bring about, urgently needed economies in government — whether in the defense complex or in any other activity.

THE ADA — AN ANTIQUE VOICE

In a bitter, year-end statement, the ultra-liberal Americans for Democratic Action group charged that there is an "iceberg in Capitol Hill" and that a "reactionary-conservative" coalition runs Congress.

This statement caps an intensive campaign in 1963, on the part of professional "liberal" groups, to characterize the Congress as bungling and inept. "Liberals" hope to blacken Congress and destroy public confidence in it so that the people will demand a massive switch of political power to the chief executive, thereby arming him with near-dictatorial powers. It is a clever gambit that has been carefully planned and worked out in hundreds of left-of-center news stories, editorials, speeches and broad-casts.

Again and again those who have no faith in our Republican form of government have hit at Congress in one way or another. No opportunity has been missed to heap scorn upon Congress. Even some veteran New Dealers in Congress have caught the wrath of the more extreme centralizers of our time. For example, behind the "liberal" agitation to have House Speaker John McCormack (D-Mass.) removed from the line of presidential succession is the desire to shift the succession back to members of the President's Cabinet, who are not elected by anyone.

The fury with which the ADA voiced its indignation against Congress may be regarded, however, as a tribute to those congressmen who have fought and who have the lowest ADA scores.

It is interesting, moreover, to note the ADA's use of the word "reactionary." By this word, the ADA hopes to evoke in the public minds the notion that Congress is a bunch of doddering old men who are back in the horse and buggy era. This notion won't stand up before even the most casual scrutiny, to be sure. Some of the youngest members of Congress, such as Rep. Brock of Tennessee, are among the most conservative. Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, a national spokesman for conservatism, is an Air Force reserve officer who frequently pilots jet fighter planes.

To be factual, one must point out that the shoe is on the other foot. The conservatives are men of the 1960's, who are aware that economic thinkers of this era realize that planned, government-directed economies are non-productive economies. The ultra-liberals are the men of the 1930's, who hark back to the slogans and catchwords that had their origin in Franklin Roosevelt's New Deal and in the radicalism engendered in the post-World War I era. In the colleges, for instance, the most articulate youths are the campus conservatives, who delight in exposing the antique follies of doctrinaire liberalism.

As for the matter of Congress being reactionary, this is true in a sense — but not in the sense the ADA intends to convey. A large part of Congress — the part that resisted President Kennedy's New Frontier and that resists its continuation under President Johnson — is in reaction. It is in reaction against obsolete political formulas — such as foreign aid and government compulsion — that are pushed by such special pleaders for the discredited past as the ADA.

Congressional conservatives in both parties recognize that a large part of the country is in reaction against policies that have not worked and give no promise of working in the future. Time and again "liberals" have argued that the way to increase prosperity is to increase the number of government controls on property and on people. And each time these controls have retarded the workings of a modern economy and have left the people with a smaller share of the liberty that is their national inheritance.

Conservatives very properly hope that the whole country, by next November, will come around to being in reaction to those policies that are retarding economic advances and that are pushing the nation down the road to serfdom. This is a very special kind of healthy "reaction" that will free the country of a dead weight of "liberal" doctrine that simply doesn't tally with the realities of life or the traditions of the

STEAMROLLING THE OPPOSITION — Senator Morse's motion to send the measure back to the Foreign Relations Committee was defeated 37

United States. Thus when the ADA condemns Congress, the body which is the authentic representative of the country, it is speaking with the voice of a past that makes no sense in our time.

WASHINGTON — The chances are 100 to 1 you aren't aware of it, but a big chunk of foreign aid spending already has been voted by the Senate. While Congress (after some six weeks) is still awaiting the recommendations of President Johnson's special interdepartmental committee to "reorganize" the widely-assailed foreign aid program, the administration has rammed through the Senate a $312 million foreign aid bill.

This approximately one-third of a billion dollars is in addition to the $3.4 billion the President listed for economic and military foreign aid in his budget message last week.

The $312 million is to increase this country's share of the funds of the Independent Development Association — a "soft loan" agency of the World Bank.

Established in 1960 with a $1 billion fund, of which the U.S. put up $200 million and other World Bank members $423 million, IDA so far has loaned $554 million — most of it ($300 million) to India. The new money is to increase IDA's funds by $750 million, with other nations contributing $438 million.

Avowed purpose of IDA is to help so-called "undeveloped" countries. It makes 50-year interest-free loans, with a 1/4 of one per cent annual service charge. (It costs the U.S. Treasury around 4 per cent to borrow money.) But virtually all IDA borrowers already are receiving large amounts of U.S. economic and military aid, as follows: Pakistan, Turkey, South Korea, Formosa, Jordan, Chile, Colombia, Haiti, Ethiopia, Sudan, Tunisia.

All these countries, including India, are in arrears on United Nations assessments. As of December 31, 1963, they owe more than $16 million.

A bipartisan group of senators made a determined fight to hold up action on the $312 million bill on the ground it should be considered as part of the whole foreign aid program. "What's the rush and why the hurry?" demanded Senator Wayne Morse, D-Ore. "We ought to stop and take a longer look. We should not pass this bill until we make our decision later this year on the whole foreign assistance program. We should look at it as a total package, and not segmentize it in this way. This is a serious mistake, because not a single senator, including the majority leader, knows what the administration's program for foreign aid is."

Senator Jack Miller: "It is very important to point out that a number of these nations are delinquent in their UN assessments. For example, Chile had received outstanding credits of $19 million from IDA. Chile also had received millions of dollars in foreign aid from our citizens. Nevertheless, as of the end of last December, Chile was delinquent in the

Allen-Scott Report

$312 Million Voted In Senate For 'Soft Loan' Agency Of World Bank Faces Tough Battle Over Senators' Changes

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The chances are 100 to 1 you aren't aware of it, but a big chunk of foreign aid spending already has been voted by the Senate.

While the administration's steamroller was able to ram the $312 million bill through the Senate, the outlook for the big appropriation is not promising. The President has his work cut out for him getting it through the House and Senate unscathed.

On the basis of this Senate clash, the odds are against him. An important factor in this portentous battle was the bipartisan complexion of the opposition.

Foremost among those waging this struggle were Senators Morse, Frank Lausche, D-O., Bourke Hickenlooper, R-La., Stuart Symington, D-Mo., Allen Ellender, D-La., and Jack Miller, R-Iowa.

Administration spokesmen were Senators J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, and Mike Monroney, D-Okla.

In rallying the surprisingly close vote against the administration's bill, the opposition made five major points, as follows: Senator Lausche: "IDA is completely free from any conditions or restrictions contained in the (regular) foreign aid program... On the one hand, we created conditions supposed to be in the interest of the United States in the administering of foreign aid, and on the other hand, we are giving a free rein to IDA."

Senator Symington: "The World Bank has accumulated $813 million in reserves and this is being augmented every year by more than $100 million. Are we to make additional appropriations to the World Bank for its 'soft loan window,' which is in fact what we are asked to do through IDA, when this Bank already has ample reserves to take care of expected 'soft loan' commitments for the next three-year period. Why do we have to continue with such a heavy surplus in the World Bank, while at the same time adding to this 'soft loan' set up? The directors, the officers, and the entire structure are the same for both the World Bank and the IDA."

MYSTERIOUS SHIFT — Career diplomat Livingston Merchant, with the permanent rank of ambassador, has taken a high-level job in the Central Intelligence Agency. Merchant has been working on negotiations involving the multilateral nuclear force launched by the late President Kennedy. There has been no announcement of Merchant's switch to CIA, and all inquiries are met with silence. Representative Howard Smith, D-Va., our chairman of the powerful Rules Committee, has told Speaker John McCormack he will report out the long-stalled area redevelopment bill whenever the administration is ready to have it considered by the House. The measure passed the Senate last year, but has been held up in the House because of lack of votes to put it over. So far the administration is short at least 20 votes... Senator Albert Gore, D-Tenn., a leading opponent of the $1 billion tax-cutting bill, admits there is no chance of blocking it. He will continue to battle it in the Senate, but is telling colleagues he knows the measure will be passed.

Suicides, Like Socialism, Show Lack of Maturity

By GEORGE BOARDMAN

The idea for this column stemmed from the fact that the suicide rate continues to climb in every socialist country in the world. Yes, I DO include the United States in this category. The majority of suicides are angry. Most suicides would like to be able to stick around to see the suffering their suicide might cause. Recently, in Los Angeles, a man killed his wife, then killed himself. The suicidal impulse is akin to murder, because it is, in effect, self-murder. It is also a quick method of avoiding responsibility and irresponsibility is a correlative aspect of all forms of socialism. Socialism is also the epitome of individual immaturity. So is suicide. So is murder.

Unfortunately, rather large segments of the population of this country seem to be driven by a motivating force which apparently wants "to get even" with some group, individuals or what have you. In this group, you find people who would prove their genius by wrecking motors with a few lumps of sugar or disabling airplanes with a single snip of a pair of wire cutters. In a very real sense, they also want to get even with contemporary public office holders by electing a new set of bureaucrats. Their lives are dedicated to wreckage and ruin.

It's true, of course, that effort is required for the creation of things which can be killed or wrecked in an instant. A tree may become tall in ten years and cut down in ten minutes. Those who would despoil hold the edge over those who would create but only those who know the joy of creating, can know happiness and freedom.

A few years ago, a young woman we had known, did commit suicide. That she probably did not intend to commit this murder of herself, is beside the point. She was happy singing, if someone would listen. She was happy if she received only a small amount of attention, a little friendly consideration—but she would not, of her own volition, reach out her own hands to achieve her own happiness. She wanted to be happy but she thought happiness was her right, and not something to be earned. She wanted others to give her happiness. She believed her need for happiness gave her the right to be happy without any effort on her part. She would not pursue her own happiness, she wanted it to chase her and she became angry, when it refused her need.

Now, please take another look at my statement that suicide is a correlative aspect of socialism. I believe this to be a fact but I can also see that people do commit suicide under socialism because even their faith in socialism as an agency to bring them something for nothing, has been destroyed. Yes, socialism may destroy initiative in many human beings. It will NEVER destroy my initiative. It will not destroy me even while it hinders my every effort. It may kill me but it cannot force me to murder myself, not even in despair. Not even in anger. It cannot halt the pursuit of my own happiness or the urge to live out my life in freedom.

Sure, I believe every human being has the right to destroy his or her own life but I also believe such action is a horrible waste of time which might be better utilized in pursuit of happiness. I believe it is more fun to thumb my nose at socialists than to sanction their nasty urge for power or dignity socialism by succumbing to socialism.

If we complain at the way government prohibits us in a proper pursuit of our own happiness, it is illogical to invoke our own prohibition through suicide. If we deplore destruction, let us not think of destroying government but of replacing government with the market place and all of its creative energy.

Just a minute ago I journeyed I had embarked on a journey which could not be completed within the space limitations of this column. Should I then destroy what I have written or add to it, from time to time? I do not care for destruction. Good luck and good health to you, in Freedom.

The Almanac

Today is Sunday, Feb. 2, the 33rd day of 1964 with 333 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The evening stars are Venus and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1848, Mexico signed a treaty with the United States ceding Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California for $15 million.

In 1876, eight teams banded together to form the National Baseball League.

In 1943, Radio Berlin acknowledged the end of the battle of Stalingrad — Russia claimed 503,000 Germans dead or wounded in the city's siege.

In 1953, President Eisenhower announced the U.S. Seventh Fleet would no longer block Chinese Nationalist raids from Formosa against the mainland of China.

A thought for the day: American poet Robert Frost in his "The Mending Wall" said, "Good fences make good neighbors."

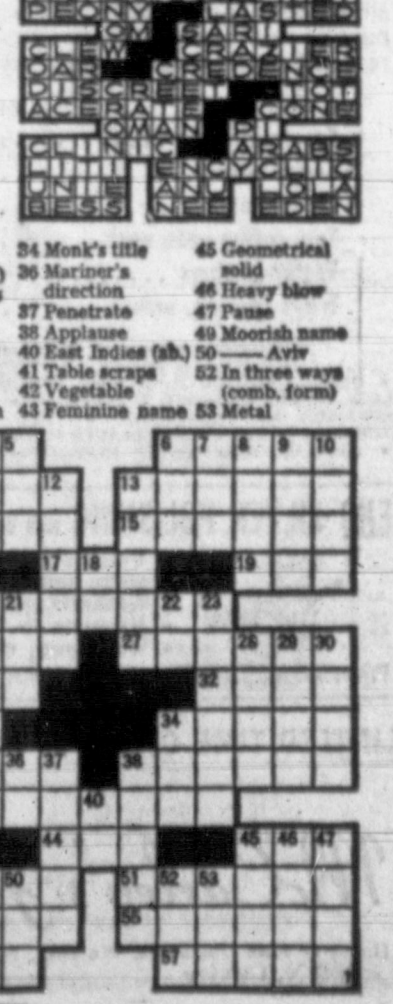

French acrobat Charles Blondin, known as the "Little Wonder" when he made his debut at the age of six, owed his later celebrity and fortune to his stunt of crossing Niagara Falls on a tightrope 160 feet above the water. This he accomplished a number of times, first in 1859, always with a different theatrical variation: blindfolded, in a sack, trundling a wheelbarrow, on stilts, carrying a man on his back, and sitting down midway while he prepared and ate an omelette.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

POLITICAL PERSUADER—Mary Swift, 15, of Sioux Falls, S.D., is probably that state's prettiest—and hardest—lobbyist. Mary is being towed through Sioux Falls to rally support for a proposal to use boat gas tax revenues for conservation purposes rather than highways. The temperature is 28 degrees.

Vacationers Die as Trains Hit Head-on

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—The swift "Firefly Express" train carrying 1,040 vacationers crashed head-on into a stalled freight Saturday with such impact that both engines exploded, engulfing passenger cars with flaming diesel oil that burned many passengers to death.

Authorities were unable to estimate the death toll but said 240 persons were in the first and fourth cars which were burned to blackened masses. Charred bodies could be seen in the wreckage. Ten bodies were recovered and 70 persons were hospitalized.

The passengers had left the seaside resort of Mar Del Plata, 225 miles south of Buenos Aires, Friday night at the end of their vacation—it is summer in South America now—and were returning to Buenos Aires when disaster struck at Altamirano station, 30 miles south of Buenos Aires.

Three fire companies were dispatched to the scene from the nearby Buenos Aires provincial capital of La Plata but the fire trucks and ambulances bogged down in roads turned into mud by a nightlong rain that turned the area into a swamp.

There was a thunderous explosion which lit up the early morning sky. The big locomotive lurched to one side, gouged its way across the other lines, dragging five of its 12 passenger cars with it in a jumble of horror.

The first car of the express, immediately behind the engine, burst into flames throughout its length and many aboard had no chance to escape. A mother riding in it managed to throw her children out a window and then fell back into the flames.

The second and third cars were wrecked badly and the fourth burst into flames as fuel cascaded from the wrecked engine. Rescue authorities could not approach the wreckage because of the heat, and it was hours before the first charred bodies could be recovered.

Mexico Officials to Eye White Slave Case

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Attorneys general of all the Mexican states will be called into a meeting here soon to discuss means of combating white slave operations disclosed on a nationwide scale in the trial of two sisters in Guanajuato.

The call has been issued by Fernando Roman Lugo, attorney general for the federal district and federal territories.

Meanwhile, in Guanajuato, Tomas Gomez Ramirez, who was assistant Jalisco attorney general from 1953 to 1961, as been summoned for questioning in the investigation of the two sisters' activities in that state before they moved to Guanajuato.

Gomez Ramirez, in a newspaper interview, denied charges made by several women who testified they had been inmates of houses run by Delfina and Maria de Jesus Gonzalez Valenzuela.

The two sisters are on trial in San Francisco del Rincon, Guanajuato, on charges of killing eight women and five infants, whose remains were allegedly found on their property.

One of the women, testifying in Guadalajara, was questioned for seven hours. She gave her age as 40 and said that when she was 16 she and a sister were kidnaped and taken to a house run by Delfina.

In Mexico City, police said that six families Friday reported teen-age girls who had disappeared during the last six months.

Judge Timoteo Lozano, trying the sisters in Guanajuato, disclosed discovery of a letter that indicated houses in Puebla and Michoacan were also supplied with women from the alleged White Slave concentration camp in Guanajuato.
