Johnson OKs Plans To Strengthen Viet

Military Efforts to Be Spurred in Laos

By STEWART HENSLEY

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson has approved plans to intensify and streamline the military effort against Red guerrillas in South Viet Nam. He also is seeking a formula to block Communist advances in neighboring Laos.

This was disclosed today by high officials following a White House session Wednesday night at which Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara reported on their Honolulu strategy talks with American military and diplomatic officials from Southeast Asia.

Rusk and McNamara returned Wednesday from the two-day conference in Hawaii with "a number of recommendations" for stemming the deterioration of the anti-Communist position in the critical area.

U.S. military action against Red North Viet Nam or direct intervention in turbulent Laos are not in the cards at present, officials said, although such steps could not be ruled out if the situation worsens.

Others at the White House meeting were presidential adviser McGeorge Bundy; Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; Director John A. McConne of the Central Intelligence Agency; Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, and William Bundy, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs.

Defense Set In Trial of Accused Spy

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (UPI) — Defense attorney Ernest J. Rice today prepared to make his opening statement in the trial of George John Gessner, 28, charged with giving U. S. nuclear weapons secrets to the Russians.

The government rested its case Wednesday with a psychiatrist who testified, on cross-examination, that he did not believe Gessner's mental condition would allow him to consciously do harm to the United States.

Dr. Evan Katz, Miami, Fla., said he believed Gessner had conscious control over his actions, but was acting on subconscious motivations. Earlier Wednesday, Col. Silas Gasset, chief of the Army Nuclear Weapons Surety Group at Ft. Belvoir, Va., said that if information the former private first class had access to reached the Soviets in 1960 and 1961, it would have been beneficial to them.

Roadblocks Set Up After Robbery In South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, S. Africa (UPI) — Police today manned roadblocks and searched for five armed men who hijacked $308,000 in South African currency—the biggest robbery in the country's history.

The bandits struck in daylight Wednesday at a post office truck near Benoni, about 20 miles from Johannesburg. They clubbed one post office worker and kidnaped another when they drove off with the vehicle.

The truck was found an hour later with the kidnaped employee tied up inside. The bandits and the post office workers were Africans.

Europe Papers 'Dismayed' Over Goldwater Win

Newsmen Express Disapproval Of Barry's Coast Popularity

By United Press International
Most European newspapers reacted with dismay today to the victory of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., in the California primary election.

In London, the Guardian described Goldwater as an "eighteenth-century individualist strayed by mistake into the wrong epoch, a sort of Rip Van Winkle who has been asleep since about 1776."

The Times of London, under the headline "Shock from California," said the thought that Goldwater had even the faintest chance of reaching the White House would be enough to shake faith in the maturity and stability of American politics.

Moscow Radio said Goldwater's victory proves U.S. rightists "are trying to mount an open offensive."

The Finnish Socialist organ called "Goldwater a 'dangerous man,' and said it is 'ever more important that the Democratic party retain its power in the United States.'"

The Swedish daily newspaper Hufvudstaden said nomination of Goldwater "might slow the positive progress which since Eisenhower's presidency has dominated policy in the United States."

The Swedish liberal newspaper Dagens Nyheter said Goldwater's win was "a victory for the stupidity and the massive ignorance of the Republican voters."

The independent newspaper Combat described Goldwater as "a personality dangerous to world peace."

Soviet Makes Rockefeller Sticks to Campaigning

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller stuck to the campaign trail today true to his promise of "staying to the end" in spite of Sen. Barry Goldwater's critical victory in the California Republican primary.

Rockefeller will speak tonight at a dinner of the Suffolk County Republican Committee on Long Island which will raise $150,000 for the fall election campaign.

The governor conceded the California presidential primary to Goldwater at a press conference Wednesday, 16 1/2 hours after the polls closed. He had postponed meeting the press for hours because of the see-saw vote count which ended in an eyelash victory for the Arizona senator.

"I would not drop out of the fight because I have lost a primary," said Rockefeller.

FBI Agrees With Suspect; Then Changes Charge

HOUSTON (UPI) — Federal agents agreed Wednesday when James Jenkins, 26, told them he could not be arrested as an Army deserter because, technically, he was never in the army.

Jenkins told the FBI that even though he served nine days before he walked away from his Army post in 1962, he was never in the Army because his brother, Curtis, had taken all the tests to qualify for the enlistment.

So the FBI arrested him and filed charges of illegally wearing a uniform for the nine days he served.

Little Theater Opens With 'Claudia' Tonight

By ALETHA DAVIS
Curtain time for Pampa Little Theater's "Theater in the Round" production of "Claudia" is 8 p.m. tonight at Holy Souls School.

Produced by special arrangement with Samuel French Inc., the comedy drama tells the tale of 24 most important hours in the life of Claudia Naughton, portrayed by Sue Reddell. Claudia meets with life as it really is during this trying time and achieves a spiritual stature and promise of rich and happy fulfillment of her marriage.

Curtis Prescott ably plays the part of Claudia's exasperated husband David. A promising young architect, he holds a wish deep in his heart to some day turn the farm they own 70 miles from New York into a paying proposition.

The household is blessed with the presence of Bertha, played by Marie Jones. Bertha, a plump, middle-aged European, has the proverbial heart of gold and a quality gentle though authoritative. Fritz, portrayed by Jim Douthit, has obtained strength through the tragedy of his past life.

Jerry Seymour, a tall, good looking English neighbor, somewhat older than the Naughtons, is played by James Hinkley. Claudia uses Jerry as a means to arouse jealousy in her husband and finds her idea backfires when Jerry and David discuss her as a child following the appearance of David when she is in the arms of her handsome neighbor.

Marion Regain adds seasoning to the production with her able portrayal of Madame Daruschka, successful Russian opera star and friend of Julia Naughton, sister in law of Claudia, played by Barbara Booth. Julia and Daruschka try to show Claudia in a brief visit, that she is the one missing out in life, only to discover that the life Claudia leads is their true desire. Daruschka attempts to buy the farm to bolster her falling ego and establish roots and uses her stellar quality knowingly to (See CLAUDIA, Page 3)

CLAUDIA — Pampa Little Theater actors went through a dress rehearsal Wednesday night in preparation for the opening of "Claudia" at 8 p.m. tonight in the Holy Souls School. A scene in the second act finds Claudia, portrayed by Sue Reddell, explaining to her husband David, played by Curtis Prescott, why she was kissing Jerry Seymour, an Englishman, who lives near by.

FLASH — Rain accompanied by severe lightning and small hail swept over Pampa Thursday evening and provided .87 inches moisture. The storm which moved into the Pampa area about dusk provided spectacular skies for several hours before moving on eastward. The brilliance of the flashes turned night to day as shown by the illumination on N. Faulkner St. near Priest Park.

Strategy Studied In Racial Issue

By United Press International
Mississippi moved on several fronts Wednesday to protect its segregated public school system.

Both Houses of the legislature met in secret sessions to discuss strategy on bills permitting the state to support private schools in the event of federal integration edicts. Gov. Paul Johnson was reported to have urged the meetings to determine if there was sentiment among lawmakers for immediate consideration of the bills.

The House earlier had approved a measure sources said was designed to prevent the admission of a Negro to the University of Mississippi next week. The bill would allow state officials to examine the secret juvenile court records of any individual.

Cleveland Donald, 18, a Negro tentatively accepted for the "Ole Miss" summer term, allegedly has a juvenile court record including several arrests for participating in racial demonstrations. Mississippi law provides that schools can reject any applicant with a criminal record.

The Mississippi Board of Trustees of state institutions of higher learning was to meet in Jackson today, but it was not known if it would act on Donald's application.

At Jacksonville, Fla., Wednesday, federal Judge Bryan Simpson said he would rule within a week on a suit by Negroes to strike down a police ban on night marches at St. Augustine. Negro leaders agreed to a racial truce in St. Augustine pending Simpson's decision.

Elsewhere:
New York: Two Negroes grabbed a young woman on a city street Wednesday, forced her into a car and drove to a wooded area where they raped her. The incident was the latest in a wave of racially motivated street and subway violence in the nation's largest city.

Senate Chiefs Push Drive to Halt Debating

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate leaders, undeterred by criticism on their temporary filibuster - in - reverse, pressed ahead today with the drive to muzzle debate on the civil rights bill.

While behind - the - scenes maneuvering continued in preparation for Tuesday's vote on cloture supporters of the bill prepared to supply the Senate ratify. It was the second day of what has been called an "anti - filibuster filibuster."

Several senators, including Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S. D., criticized the Senate leadership Wednesday for electing to talk until Tuesday rather than vote immediately on some amendments to the bill as proposed by southern opponents. Mundt said it was causing second thoughts about the idea of cloture.

WEATHER

PAMPA AND VICINITY—Partly cloudy becoming fair tonight through Friday. A few evening thundershowers. A little cooler tomorrow. Low tonight mid-50s, high tomorrow mid-80s. Winds northerly at 10-15 m.p.h.

Gray 4-H Members Win in State Finals

(Picture on Page 8)
COLLEGE STATION (Sp1) — Pampa 4-H members were making today an expense-paid trip to Six Flags Over Texas at Arlington as a prize for winning district competition after claiming a lion's share of prizes at state competition at A&M yesterday.

The Pampans claimed one first-place title in the state contests; one second place victory, a very close third, and Kathy Wilkie won a blue ribbon in the Favorite Foods Contest at the annual 4-H Roundup. The field crops team from Gray County, composed of Bill Skaggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Skaggs of Pampa, and Stephen Maddox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Maddox of Grandview community, copped the state championship in its division.

The second place team in beef cattle demonstration was composed of Jim Craig, son of Mrs. Lena Craig of Kingsmill, and Lee Pulse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Pulse of Pampa. This team scored 182 points out of a possible 200 with 18 teams entered. (See GRAY 4-H, Page 3)

Storm Dumps Hail and Rain In Panhandle

A fast moving thunderstorm raced eastward across the Panhandle last night dumping marble size hail and .87 of an inch of rain in Pampa.

Pampa recorded the heaviest rainfall in the Panhandle area. Borger received 4 inches in less than 30 minutes and McLean also caught 4.

Amarillo measured 11, Dalhart .08 and Lubbock .14. The southern sections of Pampa apparently caught the largest amount of hail with the ground completely covered.

More showers were predicted for West and South Texas late this afternoon and tonight. Quarter-sized hail drummed the fields of central Kansas last night and one tornado in the northeastern portion of the state did no damage.

The Weather Forecast for Pampa and vicinity from the U.S. Weather Bureau calls for partly cloudy skies with a few afternoon and evening thundershowers.

Soviet Makes New Threat On Chinese

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union today issued a new call for an immediate showdown conference of world Communist parties that is likely to result in the "excommunication" of Red China from the international movement.

Claiming the support of at least 52 Communist parties, the Kremlin charged that China was trying to put off such a conference to gain more time for "splitting" and "subversive" activities and to set up "puppet" parties around the world.

The official Communist party newspaper Pravda said, "A new international conference of Communists can become an important stage in the struggle for unity. The majority of the Communist parties of all areas of the world are coming out for its speediest convocation."

The new conference call, coming on the heels of accusations that China considered the 1950 Sino-Soviet alliance worthless and that it was not part of the world Communist movement, appeared to point in only one direction: An end once and for all to the once monolithic international Communist bloc.

The government newspaper Izvestia indicated the 14-year-old Sino-Soviet military and economic pact is finished.

SUGGESTIONS FOR YOUTH AND PARENTS

Editor's note: — The following is one of a series of brief, informative articles to be published daily in the News. They are designed to offer aid and advice to young people as well as their parents. The series is furnished as a public service of city and county juvenile and police officers and corporation court.)

PARTY PLANNING

When planning a teen-age party, parents may avoid trouble by following a few simple rules:

1. Both parents should be home during the party.
2. Invitations should state both the starting and ending times.
3. Persons not invited should not be admitted.
4. Guests should be informed they are not to invite others.
5. Parents should know the names, address and telephone numbers of all guests.
6. Parents of invited girls and boys should make sure that there will be proper supervision before allowing them to attend.
7. Be sure that alcoholic beverages are neither served or used.
8. It is a good idea to notify the Pampa police department before giving a large party.

Lawmen Searching For Beer Burglar

Gray County law enforcement authorities are searching for the thief who made off with four cases of beer from the Oasis Bar, 1300 S. Barnes sometime last Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning.

O'Neal Monk, proprietor, reported the burglary to the Gray County sheriff's office shortly before noon yesterday.

Deputies Dwight Day and Jimmy Bowers made the investigation and stated that entry was gained by smashing a side window and crawling through.

Pampan Treated After Automobile Mishap

A 38-year-old Pampa resident was treated and released from Highland General Hospital last night as a result of injuries received when his car flipped over 23 miles north of Pampa on rain-slick State Highway 70.

Robert E. Rose of 1800 F 1 received a head laceration when he lost control of his station wagon and it overturned.

State highway patrolman Stanley Schneider, who investigated the accident, said the wet pavement apparently caused Rose to lose control of his auto.

In another accident yesterday two Pampa teenagers received minor injuries in a two-car collision at Lake McClellan, 25 miles south of Pampa.

Ex-Sheriff's Case Ruled as Mis-trial

GLEN ROSE, Tex. (UPI)—An all-male jury today failed to reach a verdict in the embezzlement trial of former Somervell County sheriff and tax assessor-collector Paul Bone and Dist. Judge Penn Jackson declared a mistrial.

Bone was on trial for taking more than $6,000 in tax money, and is faced by five other charges that bring the total to $22,000.

He admitted taking some money, but not that much. Testifying for the prosecution Wednesday Fort Worth accountant Eugene Brown, who checked the county's financial records, said he had discussed the shortage in the books with Bone on several occasions. He said he warned Bone that if the shortages were not cleared up, he would report it to the commissioner's court.

When Brown next came to check the records, on April 1, Bone had fled to Mexico. He was arrested in El Paso a month later on his return.

Bone's defense attorney, Al Clyde, attempted to show that Bone had always been late with payments to the county treasurer, and that other county officials knew he was taking some of the money to run his office and ignored it.

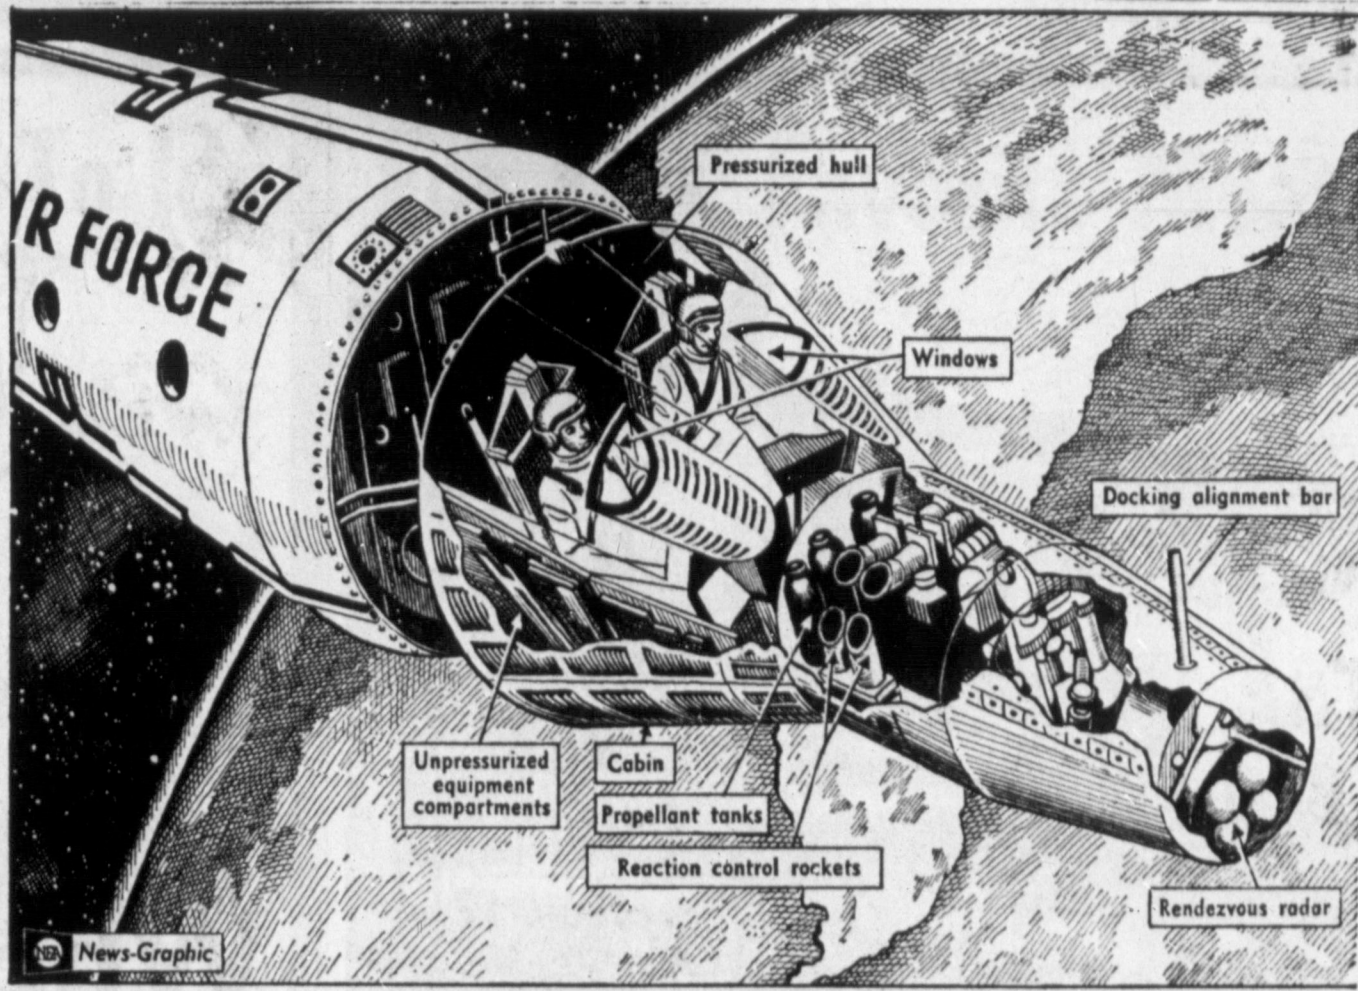

He said Bone was never fully paid in the six years he ran the two offices of sheriff and tax collector-assessor, and needed the extra money to make ends meet.

Violinist Entertains At Rotary Luncheon

Mrs. Evelyn T. Price presented several musical selections on her violin at the Pampa Rotary Club's luncheon meeting yesterday in the Coronado Inn. William Haley accompanied Mrs. Price at the piano.

Two new members, Ernest L. Kindy and Duggan Smith were installed into the club by president Cameron Marsh.

Members were reminded of the annual installation banquet to be held at the Inn on Tuesday evening, June 23.

NOT MUCH BIGGER—The Mercury space capsule was frighteningly small when you saw it, and the new Gemini or two-man capsule is not very much bigger. The Mercury stood 90 inches high and was 75.5 inches wide at bottom. The Gemini is basically only 12 inches higher and 9.5 inches wider or about 14 per cent larger overall. Newsgraphic above shows how Gemini will look in space. Parts of the ship are cut away to show various controls. Large "tank" trailing in back is a manned orbiting laboratory (MOL), which will be trailed by the Gemini in future flights and which also can be entered by one of the astronauts to perform experiments.

Goldwater Appears Sure of 60 Votes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. fighting Democrats, not each Barry Goldwater today appears assured of more than 600 first-ballot votes for the GOP presidential nomination — less than 50 votes short of victory.

A United Press International tabulation gives the Arizona Republican, fresh from his California primary triumph, 443 of the delegates already chosen for the July 13 convention in San Francisco.

And a survey of strength in 15 states which still must select some or all of their delegates indicates he will pick up at least an additional 170 votes, for an estimated total of 613. The nominee must get 655.

These figures are based on present commitments and preferences. The possibility of changes in delegate support prior to the convention cannot be excluded.

Elect Delegates
Beginning this weekend in Washington, Alabama, Colorado and Hawaii, 14 states will elect delegates in state conventions and New York will pick its final 10 delegates by state committee. Goldwater stands to make his biggest gains in Texas, where he should get all 56 on June 16, and in Alabama, Washington, Colorado, Idaho, New Mexico and Virginia.

Party strategists agreed that Goldwater's victory over Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in Tuesday's California primary—where he won all 86 votes—placed him within grasp of his party's nomination.

But there still was a "wait-and-see" atmosphere in the party, as anti-Goldwater moderates recovered from the jolt of California and the Goldwater camp braced itself for any last-ditch "stop Barry" effort.

The senator's campaign managers announced that they would have key people on hand in Cleveland this weekend for the annual governor's conference, where a "stop" movement easily could be sparked. But in the same breath they stressed Goldwater's desire for GOP unity and his hope that Rockefeller would join him in pending one year jail sentence for failing to file a 1957 income tax return. He was also fined $2,500.

ROOF'S GONE — Wrecking crews are tearing down First National Bank Annex, corner of Foster and Ballard, to make room for a parking lot. The structure was constructed in 1946 and for many years housed the Pursley Motor Company. The building is expected to be torn down and the parking lot established within the next two weeks.

Paper Urges Draft Of William Scranton

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago Sun-Times said in an editorial Wednesday that Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton "should be drafted" as the Republican presidential nominee. "Scranton," the editorial said "is the GOP's best choice for 1964. Scranton will be nominated if the Republican convention earnestly seeks to establish itself as the party of enlightened conservatism." The Sun-Times said Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller are "factionalists within the GOP. Neither is acceptable to the party's bigger and usually dominant element, the moderates. Neither would be acceptable to American voters in a general election."

Santa Fe Sets Stock Dividend

AMARILLO (Sp) — Directors of the Santa Fe Railway have declared a dividend (No. 131) of 25 cents per share on its preferred capital stock payable Aug. 1, 1964, to stockholders of record at close of business June 26, 1964. The dilemma has not been solved by the results of the California presidential preference balloting," the editorial said. "It has, in fact, been intensified by those results." "The Sun-Times prefers Scranton. It believes the Pennsylvania governor would make a better candidate. And, more important, it believes the Pennsylvania governor would make a better president."

Grab A Hat and Cook Outdoors

By GAYNOR MADDOX
The fun season of outdoor cooking is now in full swing. It can also be the season of good eating, as any self-respecting outdoor chef will tell you. So let's try something new like this combination of lamb and pineapple on skewers.

PINEAPPLE LAMB, ISLANDER
(6 servings)
4 pounds boned leg of lamb
1 (1 pound 4 1/2 ounce) can pineapple slices
1/4 cup lemon juice
1/4 cup wine vinegar
1/4 cup catsup
1/2 cup sauterne or lemon and water
3 tablespoons cooking oil
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
2 teaspoons seasoned salt
1/2 teaspoon oregano
2 sprigs mint or 1 teaspoon dried mint

2 cloves garlic
12 small white onions, parboiled or canned
12 small plum tomatoes
Trim fat from lamb, cut meat into 1 1/2-inch chunks. Drain 1/2 cup syrup from pineapple and combine with lemon juice, vinegar, catsup, wine, oil, mustard, salt and oregano. Add bruised mint sprigs or dried mint and cut garlic cloves. Combine with lamb, cover and refrigerate several hours or overnight. When ready to barbecue, discard mint and garlic. Thread 4 or 5 lamb cubes on each skewer. Grill over hot coals until meat is crusty and brown on outside and faintly pink inside.
Brush frequently with marinade and turn often for even cooking. When meat is almost done, push cubes together to ward upper end of skewer. Thread quartered pineapple slices on end of skewer and grill a few minutes until heated and browned. Thread onions and tomatoes on separate skewers, grill brushing with marinade, until heated and tinged with brown.

Additional skewers to take care of the vegetable selection are made by threading white onions and small whole tomatoes together. Brush with the same zesty marinade as they join the lamb n' pineapple skewers for a few minutes' heating.

Grapefruit and Lobster Superb for Hot Weather

GRAPEFRUIT and rock lobster tails in grapefruit shells.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Here is a cool, attractive luncheon dish — or hot weather dinner treat — which is refreshing and satisfying. It's grapefruit shells filled with cubes of grapefruit and lobster tails.
Edward Zwaaf, director of New York's Brasserie restaurant in the Seagram building, served it to us the other night. With the first taste, we knew you would want the recipe.
Our host used pale pink grapefruit and his special Brasserie Sauce

PINK GRAPEFRUIT WITH LOBSTER TAILS BRASSERIE
(serves 6)
6 frozen South African rock lobster tails
3 grapefruits
Place solidly frozen lobster tails into large kettle of salted cold water to cover. Slowly bring to boil. Then simmer for 3 minutes. Drain lobster tails; cut away thin underside membrane with scissors. Remove meat from shells. Cut meat into 1-inch cubes. Refrigerate until ready to use.

Cut grapefruit in half. Remove all sections, free from pulp and cut into squares. Keep grapefruit shell intact. Refrigerate sections and shell until ready to use.

SAUCE
1/4 cup cocktail sauce
2 cups mayonnaise
Dash Tabasco
2 teaspoons chopped, fresh chervil
3 tablespoons unsweetened whipped cream
Combine cocktail sauce with mayonnaise, Tabasco and chervil. Mix lobster pieces with sauce gently and refrigerate until ready to use. Just before serving, remove from refrigerator and add the whipped cream. Carefully add the grapefruit pieces to a void breakage. Toss gently, and pile the mixture into the chilled grapefruit shells. Top each with a liberal sprinkling of chopped chervil. Serve immediately on crushed ice.

Grilled Vegetables Add to Barbecue

By GAYNOR MADDOX
You will find that barbecued meats taste even better when eaten along with grilled fresh vegetables. Skewered pieces of corn and green pepper, or cherry tomatoes and mushroom caps are two suggestions.

They can be placed over the charcoal with the meats, provided the fire is slow-burning.

CORN AND GREEN PEPPER KABOBS
Remove husks from corn, brush off silks and cut into 2 1/2-inch pieces. String corn on skewers, alternating with green pepper squares. Brush with melted butter or margarine. Cook over a very slow-burning charcoal fire, 20 to 25 minutes, turning to cook corn uniformly. Remove from skewers, brush with melted butter or margarine and sprinkle with salt and ground black pepper to taste. Serve hot. Allow 3 pieces corn and 3 squares green pepper per serving.

CHERRY TOMATO AND MUSHROOM KABOBS:
Wash mushrooms. Remove stems, saving stems to use in soups, sauces and gravies. String mushroom caps on skewers alternately with whole cherry tomatoes. Brush with melted butter or margarine. Cook over a slow-burning charcoal fire 15 to 20 minutes, turning to cook vegetables uniformly. Remove from fire, brush again with melted butter or margarine and sprinkle with salt and ground black pepper to taste. Allow 2 mushroom caps and 2 cherry tomatoes per serving.

Try An Ambrosial Spring Salad While Asparagus Lasts

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Make hay while the sun shines: make fresh asparagus salad while this ambrosial vegetable is still in the market. It won't be there long.

SPRING ASPARAGUS SALAD
(serves 4)
1 pound fresh asparagus
1/2 large head iceberg lettuce
1 orange, peeled and sliced
4 thin strips orange rind
1/2 c. real mayonnaise
2 T. orange juice
Break or cut off asparagus stalks as far down as they snap easily. Wash in cold water, brushing with a soft brush to remove sand. (If desired, remove scales with a vegetable parer, then brush to remove sand.) Arrange stalks in 2 layers in a large skillet. Sprinkle with 1 teaspoon salt and add 1 inch of boiling water. Boil, covered,

TRY AN ambrosial spring salad of fresh asparagus.

12 to 15 minutes or until lower part of stalks are just tender. Lift out of water with a perforated pancake turner. Chill.
Rinse and dry iceberg lettuce; then cut 1/2 head into 4 wedges. Arrange lettuce and bundles of chilled asparagus on a large flat plate or on individual salad plates. Add a strip of orange rind to each asparagus bundle and garnish with thin slices of orange. Blend real mayonnaise and orange juice and serve as dressing for salad.

Successful Weight Loss Means Exercise

GAYNOR MADDOX
Q — I am much too fat. Therefore I have cut down on my eating. But friends tell me I should get some exercise every day beside cutting calories. Must I? I hate exercise. It would be easier for me to cut down on food even more.
A — Physical exercise plays a major role in weight control, according to a joint committee of the American Medical Assn. and the American Assn. for Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

These parts of the report, published in the May 4 AMA Journal, will interest you. Please read them and then start exercising to lose weight and feel happier.
"As far as can be determined at the present time, the study of the life histories of those who maintain a relatively higher degree of fitness through the nature of their work or other activities seems to indicate that they suffer less degenerative disease and probably live longer than those who follow a sedentary life. . . .
"The benefits of physical activity are more clearly observable in their relation to certain organic diseases. Regular exercise is now considered to help retard the onset or further progress of diabetes, for example, and man's most common threat to health—atherosclerosis (a form of hardening of the arteries). . . .
"There is no longer any doubt that the level of physical activity does play a major role in weight control. The high mortality rate associated with being overweight suggests that obesity contributes to organic degeneration."

Survival Kits Bolster Morale

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Ever hear of survival kits of food to bolster the confidence of students just before examination? They are packages of fruit, cookies, candy bars and little pies delivered to worried students just before the finals. It's a Dartmouth idea.

We know it works. Our own son passed his dreaded biology examination after finishing the kit delivered by the Dartmouth College Student Birthday Service in Hanover, N. H. For more serious cases, they also provide a larger "Desperation Kit."

Two enterprising Dartmouth juniors, Bill Harper and Jens Sorensen, operate this unique aid to worried students. On orders from understanding parents they assemble the food items, carefully box them and deliver to the dormitories just before examinations. Way into the small hours of the morning students dig into them as they cram for the tests. The favorite item, according to grateful reports, is brownies. Young Harper and Sorensen tell us they net over $1,000 a

Houston Woman Wins Damage Suit Over Arrest

HOUSTON (UPI)—Mrs. Helen Hall won a $100,000 settlement in district court Wednesday because she was mistakenly arrested as a tuberculosis carrier. She had asked $100,000. Defendants in the case were Houston humane officers W. D. Young and Scott W. Hodge, city health officer Dr. C. A. Pigford, Harris County tuberculosis control officer Dr. John C. McGuire, and chief humane officer Harold Fife. Dist. Judge Lewis Dickson ruled that Pigford, McGuire and Fife could not be held responsible and released them as defendants. Mrs. Hall charged Young and Hodge arrested her and transported her 75 miles before they discovered they had the wrong person. The two officers testified they did not ask the woman for identification because they anticipated the woman they were seeking might use an alias.

Airplane Is Free, Freight Is Catch, In Publicity Stunt

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Travel editor Charlie Collins of the Milwaukee Sentinel has won an airplane, and he got the first installment of it today—one half of a propeller. The propeller half came free. Collins can have the other 11-237 parts—a part at a time—if he wants to pay the shipping charges. The only rub there, said Charlie, is that the shipping charges would amount to $13,750. The airplane is a DC3, and is presented to Charlie as a goodwill gesture and a bit of a joke by the Wide Awake Public Relations and Septic Tank Co., whose job it is to promote Brownsville, Tex., and the Rio Grande Valley. Senor Don Pedro, who runs Wide Awake, said Collins won the airplane for "knowing the most good things (some true) about our client." Collins was in the Brownsville area recently with a group of touring travel writers. "You expect Texas hospitality, but it's a revelation to see royal palms along the highways in the Rio Grande Valley," Collins said. The state of Texas has just recently authorized state-financed promotions of its attractions, Collins said. As for the propeller, Collins said he doesn't have the ready cash for the rest of the craft, so "I haven't applied for hangar space. But I may build a trophy room for the propeller." "Or I could use it for a letter opener. After all, this is Paul Bunyan country," Collins said. In a letter to Collins, Wide Awake said 22 others had tied for second and will receive "very shoddy" prizes. "Our client is lovable but cheap," the company said.

Gray 4-H

Third place in the rifle team competition went to the Gray County team composed of Keith McCann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob McCann of Pampa; Danny Hogsett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Hogsett of Pampa, and Bob Ward, son of Mrs. E. V. Ward of Pampa. McCann was high individual in the state with 371 out of a possible 400 points. The Gray County team scored 1,072 points—only 10 points below the first place winner and only one point below the second place team. As a result of her blue ribbon in the foods contest, Miss Wilkie will be invited to submit her 4-H records for judging in September to determine the state winner. Her score in this contest and her records will be judged to decide the final winner.

The 4-H field crops team and the beef cattle team are coached by Jerry Harland, assistant county agent, and the rifle team is coached by Bob McCann. The trip to Six Flags today was given as a reward for winning in district competition at Canyon last month. The 4-Hers will return to Pampa tomorrow.

UN Expected to OK Investigation On Viet Nam

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—The Security Council was expected to approve today an investigation of Viet Nam-Cambodia border troubles despite criticism from the Soviet Union. A Soviet veto hung threateningly over the plan, but most diplomats doubted it would fall when the 11-nation council votes on the African proposal this afternoon. The resolution sponsored by Morocco and Ivory Coast deplores alleged penetrations of Cambodian territory by South Vietnamese army units, and creates a commission of three council members to visit the two countries to investigate ways of preventing new border incidents. Cambodia has charged South Viet Nam and the United States with aggression in connection with border incidents last month. U.S. military advisers are helping the Vietnamese government in its fight against Communist Viet Cong guerrillas. Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko objected in Wednesday's council meeting that the resolution did not condemn the United States, as well as Viet Nam, for the border incidents.

PARK INTERPRETERS PALISADE, N. J. (UPI)—The Palisades Amusement Park has hired a staff of interpreters, who speak 27 languages, so it can deal with its everyday problems despite the influx of foreign visitors to the New York metropolitan area during the World's Fair year. "Now," says park President Irving Rosenthal, "we can page the parents of lost children in any language from Russian to Swahili."

UPS PRODUCT PRICE NEW YORK (UPI)—Union Carbide Corp.'s carbon products division Monday boosted the price of graphite electrodes used in electric arc furnace production of steel by an average of 2.7 per cent. This is the company's first price boost for graphite electrodes since November, 1958.

HAVE BEST YEAR NE WYORK (UPI)—Department stores have just finished their most profitable 12-month period on record and there is hope the next year will provide an even more favorable climate for growth, a leading investment banker said Monday. Addressing a meeting of the directors of the National Retail Merchants Association, Morris Natelson, a partner of Lehman Brothers, said these gains were made despite "substantially increased competition and increased costs for labor facilities."

Superintendent Asks FBI to Help Investigate Call

HEBRONVILLE, Tex. (UPI)—Superintendent of schools Austin Tay called the FBI in Laredo Wednesday to report that someone had threatened his daughter. Tay has been embroiled in a controversy in which the school board declined renewal of Mrs. Gloria Hinojosa's teaching contract for next year. She had to quit this year because she was pregnant. It was reported that Tay recommended she not be rehired. Tay's daughter, Carol, a recent graduate of Texas A&I, will teach in Victoria. The caller said "they were going to get Carol over there." The FBI told Tay to contact the local sheriff's office and he did. It was believed to be a prank call, but an investigation was underway.

"M" FOR MICHAEL

NEWPORT, England (UPI)—John Thompson has tattooed the letter "M" on the right arm of his baby son, Michael, in case he gets lost. But his wife, Babs, refused to allow him to do the same to their only daughter, Deejah, because she might resent it later.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Bolivian President Victor Paz Estenssoro won unopposed reelection to a third term in last Sunday's general elections but the ease of his victory may only signal troubled times ahead.

Vice President Juan Lechin, once Paz's close ally in the ruling National Revolutionary Movement (MNR) and now his bitterest foe, had promised that election day would mark the beginning of a popular movement to overthrow the Paz government.

Among Communist-led miners who supported Lechin, and university student leaders there was open talk of assassination. The reason for Paz's easy victory lay in the fact that all seven opposition parties, ranging from center-right to extreme left, withdrew from the election and urged their followers to abstain at the polls.

Charge Fraud
Various their opposition stemmed from charges of fraud and resentment against a 1961 constitutional change reversing a rule that the president could not succeed himself to Lechin's charges that Paz was selling out Bolivia's tin mines to the "Yankee trust" and was a "tool of Yankee imperialism."

U. S. Ambassador Douglas Henderson came under fire because he accompanied Paz to a ribbon-cutting ceremony at Oruro, for years a center of Lechin strength in the tin mining country. It was proof, said the opposition that the United States was attempting to interfere in Bolivian elections by openly supporting Paz.

With the election only 48 hours away, Lechin and former President Hernan Siles Zuazo, also a one-time power in the MNR, launched hunger strikes which also were joined briefly by student leaders.

Miners Close Polls
In mining districts, electoral registers and ballots were burned and polling places prevented from opening.

But when the voting was over, by whatever method of counting, it was clear that Paz had retained his basic support from the campesinos, the peasants to whom he had given land, the businessmen and the army.

Even had there been no boycott, Paz's margin probably would have been around three to one.

Whatever else may be charged against him, Paz is the father of the 1952 revolt.

Lechin's 30,000 tough miners helped put Paz in office, and for a time it was said that without Lechin's support, Paz could do nothing. In recent months that legend has been fading. Lechin fought bitterly against the Paz program called for the lay-off of 6,000 miners from the swollen payrolls, and 2,400 of them already have been removed.

Kidnap Americans
Last December, the miners kidnaped four Americans as hostages for two Communist leaders arrested by the government. At the last moment Lechin backed down. Only days before the election Lechin challenged Paz to a duel. Paz shrugged it off.

Since 1952, Bolivia has received more than $300 million in U. S. aid and it still is not a picture of democracy in action, but the United States also is learning that in Latin America democracy does not always grow in the U. S. image. And in the meantime, Paz is giving Bolivia's workable government.

PARIS, Tex. (UPI)—A car ran off the road and overturned into Sanders Creek northwest of Paris early yesterday, killing R. B. Armstrong, 33, of Paris. The car was submerged in water and Armstrong apparently drowned.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Winslow, Cohn & Stetson says, "To our way of thinking the market's current behavior still looks typical of a slow, broadening top formation, which... could eventually bring a fairly severe reaction in stock prices." The market letter says the trading range has become so narrow that a breakout one way or another could take place within a few days.

James Dines & Co. suggests that investors would do well to invest in tobacco stocks now, if they are disinterested in near-term results but want promise for 1965 plus "good income." Noting that not one tobacco stock has made a "significant new low," Dines says "someone wealthy is accumulating every share offered at these levels," and recommends that investors "join this 'big money' buying now from a frightened public."

Reynolds & Co. says the length of the market's consolidation "leads us to believe that the next break-out will be a significant one, and the ensuing move will be a large one." Reynolds adds that "until the market itself signals its intentions by penetrating one of the boundaries of its current range, we would continue to assume that the long-term up-trend is still in force."

J. W. Sparks & Co. says that despite the sluggish performance of the market, "we believe that confidence in the near term future of the list is still unwarranted." The brokerage firm writes that "it is still our opinion that the industrials may well advance to the 845-850 zone and thus confirm the previous accomplishment of the rails."

NEW YORK (UPI)—Harris, Upham & Co. theorizes that "perhaps a good percentage of the (stock) list may be nearing completion of its period of correction." In support of this view the brokerage house notes there are several hundred stocks on the "big board" which presently are selling within one or two points, or less, of their lows for the year, excluding preferred issues.

Stanley Heiler & Co. feels "a major reason for the current wave of apathy and uncertainty (in the market) lies in the fact that the market over-anticipated the development of an inflationary atmosphere." It adds that "the tax cut did not stimulate excessive consumer spending as many expected but rather helped sustain a more normal rate of growth."

Bache & Co. believes "the inherent fundamental strength of the market ultimately will win out and this is the time for composure." Bache says "to best take advantage of any weakness purchases of the better situated fundamental issues are advised with an eye to long term appreciation."

DALLAS' BIG 'MAIN PLACE' PROJECT

Located in the center of downtown Dallas, the model above shows the three major buildings which will be constructed in several stages on the ten-acre Main Place site. Estimated to cost $120,000,000, the first stage will be the 34-story, $41,000,000 office building in the center of the picture. Later phases will include the massive, second office building on the left, which will straddle Main Street, and on the right, a large department store with a 400-room motel on top. The development is actually one big, ten-acre "super block" tied together with outdoor plazas for pedestrian traffic 15 feet below ground level.

Ill Persons Overcome Loneliness With Pets

NEW YORK (SpI) — For wrong side of the tracks and the wrong side of the law. No stranger to court, Donny was also saved by a dog. He saw a man beating a young collie, stepped in to stop him, and ended up the owner of the pup.

Now Donny has a real friend, someone to love, and someone to love him — someone who doesn't call him a "juvenile delinquent." "Prince" is Donny's responsibility, and he's living up to it.

Dr. Hoffmann has also seen cats help heal the wounds left by a death in a family, and dogs give injured patients the courage to walk, and live, again. Besides those noble dogs who guide the blind, pets serve many other therapeutic roles.

The Institute for Human-Animal Relationship was founded by Dr. Dean White, his wife, Mrs. Hedy White, and noted humanitarian the late Dr. D. Webb Granberry. Dr. and Mrs. White have been working with Dr. Hoffmann and other outstanding medical, veterinary, and social service workers in human-animal relationship for the past 20 years.

The work of the Institute is made known all over the U.S. through its official publication, "Pet Digest," which is edited by Dr. and Mrs. White at the Institute's New York office at 240 West 75th Street. The Institute's executive offices are in Washington, D. C.

The Institute for Human-Animal Relationship does not place a pet in a home unless one has been recommended by a medical doctor, veterinarian or social worker. It believes that owning a pet is a privilege, and also believes that love, tolerance and understanding can be fostered and enhanced by letting children take care of an animal, and states there is ample evidence to uphold these beliefs.

The Institute for Human-Animal Relationship is at the center of this work. A non-profit national organization, its purpose is quite simple — to benefit humanity by the use of pets. The Institute advocates placing either a bird or a cat, a dog or a fish tank where it will do the most good for companionship, education or rehabilitation. It aims at increasing knowledge, appreciation and help through human-animal relationship.

One of America's leading neuro-psychiatrists, Dr. Richard H. Hoffmann, is President of the Institute. Dr. Hoffmann conducts his private practice in New York, and was psychiatric advisor and consultant to the District Attorney of Nassau County for 15 years. Co-discoverer of the connection between hyper-insulinism and neurosis, and co-author of "The Conquest of Tension," Dr. Hoffmann is an unshakable advocate of the worth of pets to both the physically and mentally ill and handicapped.

He has found that birds, fish, dogs and cats give a motive, and often a means, for recovery through their love, their basic needs, and their own interesting and amusing activities. Here are a few more typical cases.

After a full and active life, a woman in her 70's was living alone. Her children and grandchildren had moved many miles away, and she was unhappy. "You're in perfect health," she was told. "You just need to get out into the air, to do something, to take your mind off yourself."

The woman smiled sadly. She was too old to "do" anything except sit on the park bench, alone, full of memories that made her cry.

She ate poorly. She stayed inside most of the time. She began talking to herself, and to imaginary friends she wished were with her. Time, and her life, dragged on.

Then this aimless, lonely woman was given "Bitsy," a fluffy, nearly grown pup, as lonely as she was, and as in need of someone to love and something to do.

Now Bitsy's mistress no longer dines alone. She takes daily walks, and through Bitsy has made friends with many other dog owners. A new woman, happy and occupied, she no longer feels that she's an unwanted has-been.

Teenage Donny lived on the

Pampan Receives Degree at LSU CAB Calls Crash of Plane 'Mid-air Murder'

BATON ROUGE (SpI) — Robert C. Warren of Pampa was among some 1,000 graduates to receive degrees at Louisiana State University's annual commencement exercises here last Saturday.

Speaker for the event was Raymond L. Telles Jr., United States Ambassador to Costa Rica and a former mayor of El Paso.

The University reached another milestone in its educational accomplishments as it conferred its one-thousandth doctor of philosophy degree at the ceremony.

Held in the LSU Coliseum, the exercises brought LSU's total graduates to more than 51,000 since its founding in 1860.

Warren received master of social work from the School of Social Welfare.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) today pinned a definite label of mid-air murder on the May 7 crash of a Pacific Airlines plane by releasing an electronic translation of a dying pilot's last words.

The words were spoken by copilot Raymond E. Andres just before the Reno-San Francisco F27 with 44 victims aboard plunged to earth 30 miles east of San Francisco. They were:

"Skipper's shot. We're bin (or 'been') shot. I was (these two words uncertain) tryin' ta (apparently 'to') help."

McLean Rodeo Now Under Way

McLEAN (SpI) — McLean kicked off its annual 66 Roundup Rodeo and Horse Show celebration Wednesday afternoon with the traditional parade through the city.

Hundreds of persons were on hand for the annual event, including several riding and roping clubs from cities and towns in the Texas Panhandle and Oklahoma.

Rodeo performances are scheduled at 8 p.m. each day through Saturday at Felton Webb Arena north of the city on SH 273. Some of the nation's top cowboys are competing for $2,400 in prize money — plus a $225 trophy saddle in each of six events.

The events include saddle bronc riding, bareback bronc riding, bull riding, heading and heeling, calf roping and bulldogging.

In addition, there is a girls barrel race for a $15 jackpot. First-place winner will receive a trophy buckle, and the second and third place winners will be awarded spurs and a belt, respectively.

An added attraction this year will be a barbecue at McLean City Park on Saturday, beginning at 5 p.m. The Old Fiddle contest, with $130 in prize money, also will be Saturday afternoon.

The sixth annual McLean Quarter Horse Show and cutting horse contest is set for 10 a.m. Saturday at Felton Webb Arena.

Pampan Finishes California Course

CITY OF INDUSTRY, Calif. (SpI) — Jack Ray Hulsey of Pampa has completed an extensive course in air-conditioning theory and procedures conducted by the Payne Company here.

Hulsey is associated with Malcolm Hinkle Inc. of 1925 N. Hobart in Pampa, dealer for Payne heating and air-conditioning products.

Upon finishing the course, Hulsey received a "Certificate of Completion" which, according to Training Director Donald R. Starin, "indicates that he has mastered an intensive program of specialized knowledge and is fully qualified as an expert in the air-conditioning field."

Hulsey and his family live at 816 Beryl St. in Pampa.

TO DEDICATE PLAYGROUND
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy will dedicate Wednesday an unusual playground in the nation's capital in memory of the late President John F. Kennedy.

The $500,000 playground, located in a slum area, is an experiment in children's recreational facilities. It contains an obsolete jet plane, Coast Guard tugboat, Army truck, tank, amphibious "duck," a fire engine and an 1888-model steam locomotive from Guatemala.

Well Known Attorney Dies in San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—Gus Garcia, 48, a well-known attorney who averted the U.S. Supreme Court with his eloquent appeals in cases involving Latin American people, is dead. Garcia, who liked to tell the story of how he drove the getaway car in which President and Mrs. Johnson left on their honeymoon, died Wednesday at County Hospital.

He was a native of Laredo and moved to San Antonio. He became a champion debater in high school and was the first Latin American student to receive a scholastic scholarship at the University of Texas. He graduated when he was 20.

His most widely acclaimed victory was the case of a deformed cotton picker who was found guilty of shooting a man to death in a bar. Garcia took the case all the way to the Supreme Court and obtained a reversal of the jury's guilty verdict on the grounds that persons of Latin American extraction had been purposely excluded from the jury.

Chief Justice Earl Warren was so impressed with Garcia that he allowed him 16 minutes over the allowed one hour for arguments.

University of Texas professor George Sanchez broke into tears when told of Garcia's death.

"He rendered a remarkable service to his people," Sanchez said.

Printer Ruben Munguia, a close friend of Garcia, said Garcia got great pleasure out of telling how he helped the Johnsons on the night of their wedding.

Local attorneys were handling funeral arrangements for Garcia.

Fire Panics Subway Riders In New York

NEW YORK (UPI)—Hundreds of subway riders ran panic-stricken from a Brooklyn station early today when a flash fire broke out on a Manhattan-bound train. Thirty persons were treated at hospitals.

The blaze, caused by a defective shoe beam, broke out on an IND train between the Nostrand Avenue and Hoyt-Schemerhorn stations in Brooklyn.

Witnesses said some of the estimated 1,000 riders aboard the train screamed and pushed their way up the platform stairs, knocking a number of persons to the floor in the rush.

"They were in a panic—jumping over turnstiles and over gates," token booth agent Charles Robinson said.

Officials at Cumberland Hospital said they treated the injured for cuts and bruises and smoke inhalation. Many were hospitalized.

The fire caused one of two service disruptions on the IND line. Water from a broken main poured onto Sixth Avenue tracks in the Rockefeller Center area, knocking out service temporarily.

Pampa Police Investigate 3 Separate Thefts

Thieves were on the prowl in Pampa yesterday as three separate incidents are being investigated by police.

R. L. Enterline of 220 N. West St. reported that someone stole a barbecue grill from his back yard. Enterline said the grill was taken between 7:30 and 9 p.m.

George Keith of 907 Bruno reported that a 32-20 Colt pistol was taken from his home. Keith said the theft occurred sometime yesterday.

E. E. Shelhamer of 2109 Charles told police that someone stole a 650x13 spare tire from his 1962 model Coryair. Shelhamer said he wasn't sure when the theft occurred, however it was within the last week.

Negroes Protest at Michigan Strike Site

HILLSDALE, Mich. (UPI)—Four Negro members of the United Auto Workers, led by Nelson Jack Edwards, a member of the union's international board, took their turns on the Essex Wire Corp. picket line today to protest a "bad racial situation."

"My purpose for coming here is to try to assist in clearing the atmosphere of a very bad situation," Edwards said. "I understand the company did not employ Negroes before the strike and now invites them in to take jobs."

"This creates a bad atmosphere. It's exploiting a bad situation."

The picketing by the UAW members at the strike called by the International Union of Electrical Workers was a unique situation Edwards said it was done because he and

Drug Firm Fined In Federal Court

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A federal judge today imposed $50,000 in fines on the Richardson-Merrell Drug Company for failure to spell out possible adverse effects from use of its controversial drug MER 29.

It was the first time a drug firm has been convicted of failing to give complete information about the content of a product.

Three scientists associated with the firm were given suspended sentences on similar charges and placed on probation for six months.

U.S. District Judge Matthew M. McGuire slapped the fines on Richardson-Merrell, headquarter in New York City, and William S. Merrell Co., Cincinnati, a former subsidiary now merged into the parent firm.

The two were charged with withholding information and making false statements about the composition of MER 29 (Triparanol).

They advertised it as an effective drug for lowering high cholesterol levels in the body—a contributing factor in heart disease.

MER 29 was marketed between 1960 and 1962. It was withdrawn after reports of serious adverse reactions, including cataracts; dermatitis; loss of hair; infertility and impotency on the part of users.

Negroes Protest at Michigan Strike Site

HILLSDALE, Mich. (UPI)—Four Negro members of the United Auto Workers, led by Nelson Jack Edwards, a member of the union's international board, took their turns on the Essex Wire Corp. picket line today to protest a "bad racial situation."

other UAW officials felt Essex was creating a situation that would have lone-range harmful effects on the racial situation.

The company maintains it has hired only qualified Negroes who have come looking for work since the strike began Feb. 28. But officials of IUE Local 810 alleged that Essex imported large numbers of professional Negro strike breakers.

PENSION BILL

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House approved and sent to the Senate Monday a bill to give $100-a-month pensions to 175 additional Medal of Honor winners.

The pensions are paid now only to the medal holders who won the award in combat and are 50 or older. The House-passed measure would waive the age and combat limitations.

DUMMY CORPSE

CLACTON, England (UPI)—Two police cars were dispatched to a hotel here Sunday night when a telephone caller reported: "Some men have just carried a corpse in through the back door."

The "corpse" turned out to be a tailor's dummy which was being used by a film company.

Ohio Boy Wins Spelling Bee In Washington

WASHINGTON (UPI)—William Kerek, 12, Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, today won the 37th annual National Spelling Bee today in an all-Ohio, all-boy final.

Young Kerek battled back and forth with Robert O. Mathews, 13, of Columbus in a tense showdown on jawbreakers before finally winning the trophy and other top prizes.

When only two spellers remain, the winner must spell what his opponent misspelled and then another word to win.

Mathews stumbled on "geophagy," which he spelled "geofy." The word means the practice of eating dirt.

Gov. Scranton Rejects Barry as GOP Choice

By BURTON W. SIGLIN
HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI)—Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton today rejected the possibility of a Goldwater-Scranton Republican presidential ticket.

Scranton said that he would reject a bid by the eventual presidential nominee to be his running mate even if the nominee told him expressly he wanted him on the ticket. Scranton said he could not under any circumstances consider this the "sincere and honest draft" that would be acceptable to him.

APPROVES FUNDS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz announced Monday approval of a $93,500 job training program aimed at easing racial tensions on Maryland's Eastern Shore.

The project is designed to assist 200 Negroes who have been unable to find jobs in the area. Kennedy said lack of job opportunities had been a major factor in racial strife in Cambridge, Md.

Have you ever seen 7,000 grown men cry? You'd think success would make them happy, but ever since Mustang came out, seven thousand Ford Dealers all over the country have been weeping and wringing their hands. They can't get as many Mustangs as they would like. All this would upset us, too, except it's happened to us before. You see, this was the hottest sales year in Ford Division history even before Mustang came out. At the beginning of the model year, dealers couldn't get enough of our big, hot Super Torque Ford Hardtops (sales up 54%)... or luxurious Thunderbirds (sales up 68%). Falcon sales are almost as big as Chevy II and Valiant combined. Fairlane continues to be a leader in its field. So, even though some people would like us to put all our plants to work on Mustang, we can't let down our hundreds of thousands of Ford, Thunderbird, Falcon and Fairlane lovers. Why don't you come see what all the shouting's about! Ask your Ford Dealer for a test drive. (You might even get him to smile.)

Wonders Abound In Agriculture

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — This has been a great week for Wonders Abound.

American agriculture, folks. At their experiment laboratories in Beltsville, Md., scientists of the U. S. Agricultural Research Service are studying a cow in a sealed plastic chamber. Her name is Lorna.

That Lorna is some kind of cow. A Holstein, as a matter of fact. She has amazed everyone by giving back more calories in milk than she consumes in feed. Which is mighty generous of her.

If Lorna could continue her present pace, she would be the next best thing to a "Smoo," the comic strip creation of a few years back. Something like Lorna could be the answer to the world's food problem.

What efficiency! It would be tantamount to getting 250 pounds of pork chops from a 200-pound pig.

But, alas, there is a trick to what she has been doing. Lorna has been getting the extra calories from stored body fat and replacing it with water.

The scientists say she cannot keep up her remarkable production for very long without wearing herself out.

Thanks anyway, Lorna. Thanks for letting us glimpse for a brief shining moment the embodiment of man's old dream of getting back more than he puts in.

Even though Lorna was too good to be true, we need not despair. Other promising things are happening. For one thing, Agriculture Department entomologists are investigating the use of amplified sound as a possible insect repellent.

One of them got the idea for the experiment when he noticed that amplified sound waves seemed to keep flies and mosquitoes away from his backyard patio.

I've noticed the same thing on my own patio. My teen-age daughter occasionally takes her portable radio out there, tunes in her favorite disk jockey and turns the volume control until all systems are go.

This not only keeps flies and mosquitoes away from the patio. It keeps me away as well.

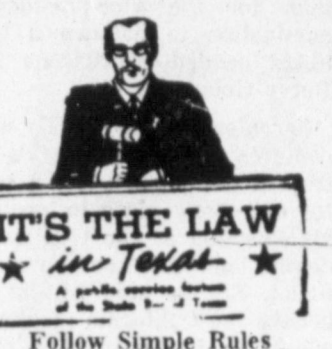

In their experiments, the department entomologists are using more humane methods. They released some Indian meal moths in a chamber where two radio loudspeakers emitted only a continuous low hum.

Even so, the sound waves apparently had a deleterious effect on the moths. Many of their eggs failed to hatch, nearly half of the young moths that did hatch died the first day, and those that survived had retarded development.

It is easy to see that amplified sound has tremendous potentialities. If they had exposed the moths to my daughter's favorite disk jockey, he would have wiped out the entire lot overnight.

HEAT BEATING RECIPE — These two Dallas based airline employes have concocted the perfect recipe for fun in the sun and beating the summer heat. Follow Simple Rules In Automobile Accident Vacation time is here. So a million of people will be driving about the country, and automobile accidents will occur with increasing frequency. What should a person do when involved in an accident?

At such times it is hard to keep your wits about you and know just what to do. It is therefore a good idea to plan in advance just what you would do in event of a smash-up. Here are a few simple rules that every driver should commit to memory:

Bush Warns Workers On 'Smear' Campaign

By United Press International
Republican senatorial candidate George Bush warned his campaign workers Wednesday to be ready for "last minute smears" before Saturday's runoff election in which he faces Jack Cox.

Bush said in a Houston speech that he has campaigned by offering positive answers to problems, not by negative criticism.

Cox challenged Bush's right to run for the Senate, should he win the nomination, saying Bush violated federal election laws by accepting contributions in excess of $5,000 from five separate persons.

"I would like a federal investigation of this for the sake of the party," Cox told newsmen at the state Capitol. Cox said he merely wanted to clarify the issue and is not interested in "exact punishment against anyone."

In the Democratic runoff for congressman-at-large, Robert W. Baker called incumbent Rep. Joe Pool "a double-dealing extremist whose views are so reactionary that he can't be considered either conservative or Republican."

"He belongs to the haters and spitters and book-burners," Baker said in Beaumont. He said Pool "heralded the president as the greatest American president of all" last Friday when Johnson arrived in Texas, then, when Johnson left, "attacked his program as socialist."

Brick-Throwing Students Riot in Korean Provinces

SEOUL, Korea (UPI)—Thousands of students fought police and shouted anti-government slogans in two southern provincial cities today while heavily armed troops maintained strict martial law in the capital.

In Kwangju, 170 miles south of Seoul, 10,000 university and high school students stormed the provincial government building and hurled rocks and bricks at police who tried to stop them.

The students ransacked the provincial police bureau and cut telephone lines.

In Pusan Korea's main southern port, about 500 students from East Asia University marched through the streets after a campus rally attended by 2,000.

They clashed with police twice before reaching the city hall plaza, where they held a mock funeral over a rice-straw effigy representing the government of President Park Chung Hee.

Police arrested 500. Two students were reported injured.

Riots Wednesday and today, apparently expressing general discontent with the authoritarian, pro-Western government, were the worst since the present wave of unrest started in March over treaty talks between the Republic of Korea and Japan.

Fairy Tale Spoof Proves Lively Show

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Carol Burnett's latest CBS-TV special, a semi-hip spoof of the fairy tale "The Princess and the Pea," provided some lively if not historic moments Wednesday night.

Entitled "Once Upon a Mattress," the musical-comedy was a 90-minute version of the off-Broadway show that brought major attention to Miss Burnett in 1959 and started her, as they say, on the road to stardom.

The story concerns a girl who proves she is of princess caliber — and worthy of marrying a prince — by passing a test in which she is supposed to establish her sensitivity by feeling a pea through a stack of mattresses on which she is trying to sleep.

It turned out Wednesday night that there were other factors than the pea which kept her awake, but of course everyone lived happily ever after anyway, except the possessive and talkative queen, played very well by Jane Waver.

Actually, Wednesday night's show was a pretty thin vehicle, and the pedestrian, unimaginative commercials made it rather difficult to stay in a fairyland mood — but there were enough talents and pleasant moments in the music, dancing and comedy to make it an amiable hour and a half.

Miss Burnett is a good physical clown, a basic old-style comedienne, and her best moments always come when she has a chance to employ this quality — as in some fine comic dancing Wednesday night. However, one must be a really devoted fan not to notice the eventual repetitiveness of the small bag of tricks — the man-crazy routine, the mugging gestures that one has seen time and again. This is not to knock a good performer, but it's not quite the same as watching

Dear Abby....

It May Be His Company Intoxicating You-Sober Up

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: There is a very attractive bachelor living in my apartment building. I am single, too. We have become quite friendly of late, and have invited each other in for a drink, conversation and television. I drink nothing but ginger ale, but whenever he serves it to me I have had the feeling that it was spiked. When I accused him of this he became very indignant and swore he never did. I've watched him carefully but haven't been able to catch him at it, yet I continue to get that high, exhilarated feeling when we're drinking together. Could it be my imagination?

DEAR ABBY: I always believed that honesty was the best policy, but it cost me a friend. You see, my best friend bought a dress and asked me what I thought of it. I told her I thought it was too short, too tight, and the color was wrong for her. I told her in a very nice way, but she got mad and now she won't even speak to me. Should I have told her the dress was nice even if it wasn't? Please print this, Abby, I know a lot of people who have the same trouble.

DEAR FEELING: If he is not spiking your ginger ale, he is even more dangerous because he is intoxicating you with his company. Stay out of his apartment.

DEAR MOTHER: Your daughter is showing more good judgment and compassion than you are. Your "storybook" wedding, following a bedside ceremony, would reduce the church ceremony to a performance.

Two-Way Summer Hairdo Is Ideal

NEW YORK — To look perfect on sunny days and starry nights, have a two-way summer hairdo, suggests the June Seventeen. Have hair blunt cut to just about chin level at sides and back, with deep, almost - eyebrow-length bangs. For daytime, wear it in a curving pageboy held neatly in place with a headband. For datetime, brush the sides back and fluff out the ends, adding ribbon bows behind your ears.

Here's some advice on how to counteract the drying effects of summer sun, salt water, chlorinated pools and more frequent shampooing. Switch to a shampoo made especially for dry hair or follow your regular shampoo with a cream rinse. Wear a cover-up during a long day in the sun or apply an invisible hair dressing. Every once in a while, use a protein conditioner after shampooing.

Fatal Flight Tape Released by Board

WASHINGTON (UPI)—"Skipper's shot. We're bin shot. I was tryin' ta help."

Those were the last words spoken by Raymond E. Andress, copilot of a Pacific Airlines F27 just before the plane plunged to earth 30 miles from San Francisco May 7, killing all 44 aboard.

The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) Wednesday released an electronic translation of the final communication from the flight. Prepared by the Bell Telephone Laboratory in Murray Hill, N.J., it confirmed almost beyond all doubt that 43 of those who died were victims of a mass murder—the 44th being the passenger who shot both pilots.

The translation of what was almost gibberish in the original tape was achieved by use of a spectrograph, which literally makes a visual recording of the human voice.

The "We're bin shot" apparently was "We're being shot," although the CAB would not go beyond the official Bell analysis. The "I was tryin' ta help" also was not totally clear. "I was," Bell admitted, was an educated guess, the "ta" probably was "to." The final sentence did not indicate for sure whether Andress was trying to help the pilot, Ernest A. Clark, or may have been attempting to aid somebody else in grappling with the killer.

The CAB's release of the deciphered tape closed the books on its part of the investigation. The FBI still is checking the criminal aspects—principally the background of one passenger, formerly Philippines Olympic athlete Frank Gonzalez, who was established as owning a high-powered revolver found in the wreckage.

LISTS PRICE CUTS

Epidemic Could Hit All British Isles

ABERDEEN, Scotland (UPI)—The Aberdeen medical health officer said today that if this city's raging typhoid fever epidemic continues unchecked it could endanger all Britain.

"If it cannot be checked here, it may be a national danger," said Dr. Ian MacQueen. "When I say national, let us remember that typhoid does not recognize any boundary at the Tweed," a river on the English-Scottish border.

The number of typhoid fever cases in this city shunned by visitors rose by mid-day today to 318—275 confirmed and 43 suspected cases. Authorities reported 13 new confirmed cases and four new suspects since Wednesday night.

Cases in other Scottish cities rose to four confirmed and three suspected in Glasgow, four confirmed and three suspected in Dundee, and five suspected in Edinburgh. There were several other scattered confirmed and suspected cases.

"Today is probably the dividing line, Aberdeen's day of destiny," MacQueen said.

"Certainly from tomorrow, and to some extent from today, most new admissions got the disease after we knew typhoid existed in the city."

"If there is a really sizeable reduction in new cases today or tomorrow, then the health workers will be able to congratulate themselves on a singular and spectacular triumph. If, on the other hand, there is no reduction in new cases and carelessness, ignorance and apathy will have triumphed over all our efforts."

Promoter Faces More Trouble In Security Fraud
CORPUS CHRISTI (UPI)—Bankrupt promoter Paul Amos Sandblom, already under $225,000 bond on charges of securities violations, now face more trouble.

A San Patricio County grand jury has indicted Sandblom on three additional counts. Bond was set at $30,000 for the new charges.

Sandblom was indicted on charges of selling securities without a license, selling an unregistered security and committing fraud in the sale of a security.

The allegations were the same as those handed down last week by a Nueces County grand jury.

Sandblom's insurance securities empire collapsed last year and estimates of his indebtedness ran as high as $33 million.

REAL MONEY CHEAPER
LONDON (UPI)—Sadler's Wells Opera has decided to use real coins for hidden treasure in its new production of "The Gypsy Baron" which opens here Tuesday because "stage money" is now too expensive.

MISERABLE FAILURE
AMARILLO, Tex. (UPI)—"Operation Accident - Free Weekend" was a miserable failure this weekend in Amarillo, police reported.

At least 33 auto accidents occurred, two of them involving police cruisers.

Foreign News Commentary
By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

The best bet against escalation of the fighting in Southeast Asia into large-scale warfare is the obvious fact that none of the big powers involved wants it.

By the restraint of its actions in Laos and South Viet Nam—some of its critics say too restrained—the United States has clearly shown it does not want a head-on clash with Red China, although it remains committed to protect the independence of both Laos and South Viet Nam.

The Red Chinese are doing all right as they are through methods of infiltration and encouragement of guerrilla warfare carried on by elements of the Laotian and Vietnamese populations at small cost to themselves.

Moscow, forced by ideological considerations to support Communist regimes, has no interest in helping the Red Chinese feather their nests in an area where the Chinese already have usurped most of Moscow's influence.

Draft Suggestions
It was against this background that the top U. S. diplomatic and military planners met in Honolulu to draft suggestions for the final decisions to be made by President Johnson.

The details of these suggestions may not become apparent. But the nature and background of the problem make it possible to forecast a probable line of thinking.

The short-range problem is to restore a semblance of neutrality to Laos and to convince the Communist North Vietnamese and Chinese that they cannot win in South Viet Nam.

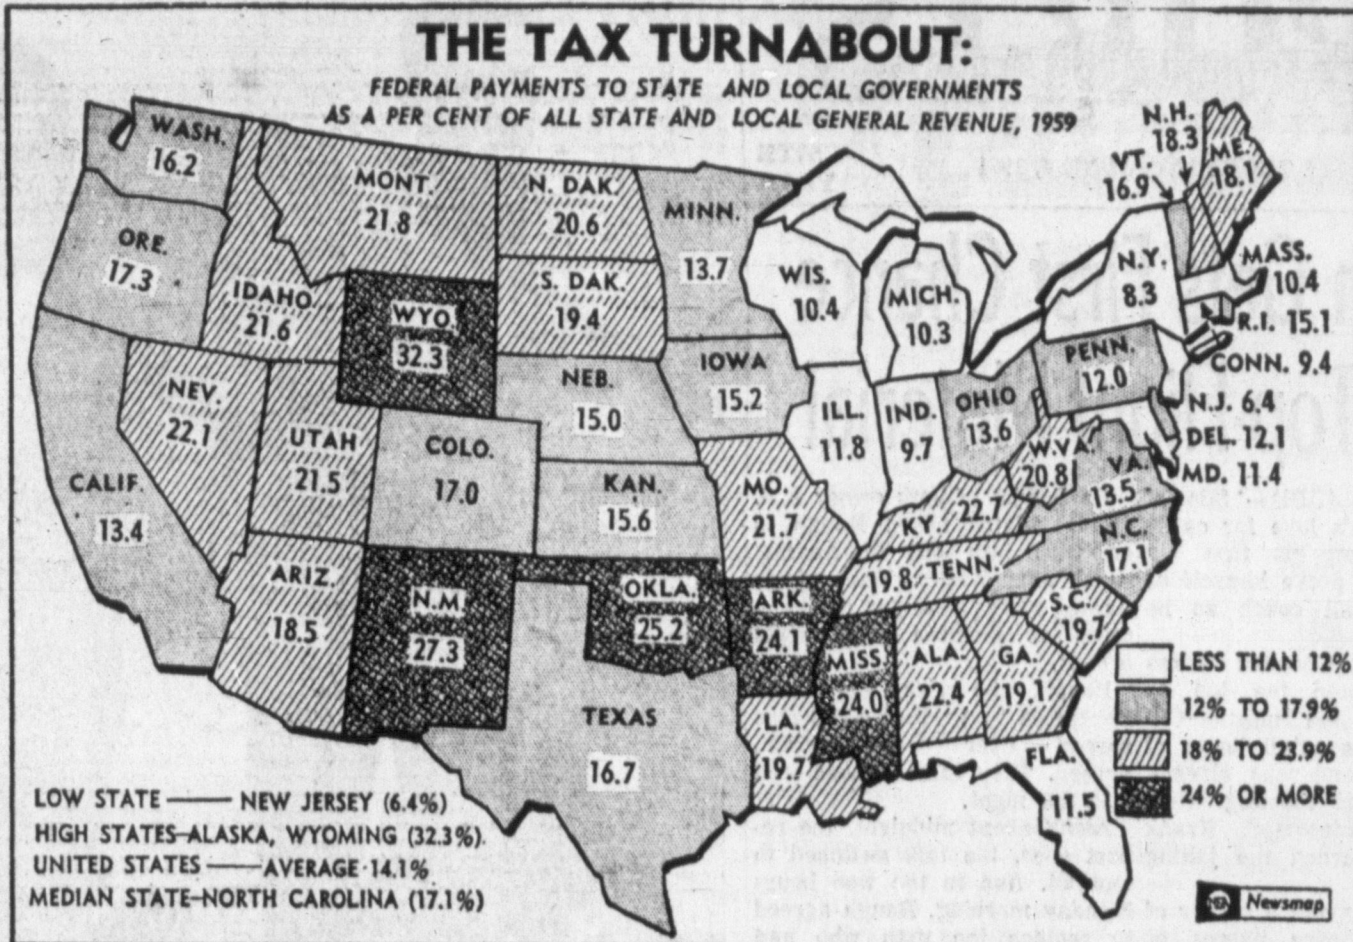

The longer-range problem involves the probabilities and the possibilities within the Communist world itself.

Whistling In Dark
Both the Russians and the Chinese have said that, despite their own family quarrel, an attack upon either would bring them together in a common defense. For the Red Chinese this may be whistling in the dark.

Denied Russian support, without nuclear weapons and with an obsolete air force, the Red Chinese are in no shape to fight a major war. And there remains the possibility that some day the two Communist giants might decide to destroy each other.

In such an event there could be no profit for the United States in a head-on collision with the Red Chinese now.

The advantage would lie in a holding operation, and through economic and military aid an attempt to bolster wavering South Vietnamese morale.

Federal payments to state and local governments, in the form of grants-in-aid, represent an average of 14.1 per cent of the latter's budgets, according to the U.S. Senate Committee on Government Operations. The Newsmap shows a state-by-state breakdown for 1959, the latest year for which complete figures are available. Payments range from 6.4 to 32.3 per cent.

Davis is asking the $2,000 for personal injuries.

Baugh Gets First Chance With Top-Flight Material

DALLAS (UPI)—Slinging Sammy Baugh's love for cattle helped him get his first big opportunity to prove himself as a great football coach as he was a player.

The lean, sun-tanned Texas rancher accepted the job as head coach of the Houston Oilers in the wee small hours of last Monday and was already holding a staff meeting when his fired predecessor, Frank (Pop) Ivy, learned the jolting news.

Baugh, who made a career of tossing trolley-wire passes at Texas Christian and with the Washington Redskins for 20 years before he quit after the 1952 season, has had other flings at coaching between ranching chores over the past dozen years.

But, he's already had the disadvantage of working with hand-me-down material.

Has Ample Manpower That won't be true with the Oilers, whose manpower is comparable with other teams in the American Football League and whose rookie crop (seven of the first 11 draftees signed) is the best in the league's history.

Baugh, 50, who had been signed as an assistant by Ivy less than two weeks earlier, was in Houston last weekend to attend the graduation of one of his sons from Rice University.

On Sunday, Oilers owner K.S. Adams asked Baugh to go with him out to Adams' ranch near Waller, Tex., where Adams raises Brahmas and Angus breeds.

Baugh, who raises whitefaced Herefords on his 6,000-acre spread near Rotan, Tex., agreed. They talked cattle well into the night.

Along about midnight, the report goes, the talk switched to football. And in the wee hours Monday morning, Baugh agreed to replace the man who had hired him, Ivy.

Two Veteran Quarters He inherited veteran George Blanda and veteran understudy Jack Lee as Oiler quarterbacks along with almost the same team makeup that won the AFL's Eastern Division three years in a row and the league crown twice.

He also falls heir to an apparently recuperated, physically and mentally, running star Billy Cannon who made no secret of his dislike of Ivy.

But perhaps even more important to Baugh is the excellent crop of rookies, particularly collegiate passing champion Don Trull of Baylor. Trull is undisciplinated to pro style play because of his association with Baylor coach John Bridgers, a one-time pro coach.

THREE FOR THE PTC — Pampa shot put fans saw the state junior high school record-holder, the high school record-holder and the college record-holder all in one ring yesterday as (left to right) Doc Cornutt, Howard Van Loon and Randy Matson worked out together in their specialty. Matson, an Olympic favorite, will defend the USITF title he won last year for the Pampa Track Club, in Corvallis, Ore. This month, Van Loon will compete for the PTC this year in Matson's place and Cornutt will compete in the junior division.

'Arnie' Nicklaus Cry, Player Sunshine Kid

RYE, N.Y. (UPI) — Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus were singing the blues today as they prepared to tee off in the first round of the $100,000 Thunderbird Golf Classic, but little Gary Player was all sunshine and smiles.

Palmer said he had lost his touch after playing "only a couple of times in two weeks." Nicklaus made it a gloomy duet by asserting he was "playing worse than I have in a long time and can't drive it."

But Player jubilantly announced that he was playing "the best I've played in my whole life and have never felt so strong or so well."

A field of 125, with U.S. Champion Deane Beman as the only amateur, was to start the four-day trek at 8 a.m. EDT in search of the $20,000 first prize.

Slammin' Sammy Snead was the first "name" off at 8:48 a.m., followed by U.S. Open champion Julius Boros at 9:04.

Billy Casper at 9:28; Player at 9:44; Nicklaus at 12:08 p.m., and Palmer at 12:40 p.m.

While Palmer said he didn't have his "feel," he appeared far from worried. The "king" obviously was looking beyond the fat jackpot at stake as they began play over the 6,573-yard, par-72 Westchester Country Club course. Already he has the Masters in his pocket and his aim is to make the grand slam by adding the U.S. and British Opens and the PGA.

With the U.S. Open two weeks away, Palmer's plans called for a slow buildup to a winning peak.

Palmer won the Thunderbird last year in a sudden death playoff with Paul Harney but the following week lost a playoff for the U.S. Open crown. At this stage the Open title, and not money, is his target.

Burdette Hopes For Starting Job

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ancient Lew Burdette, 38, joined the Chicago Cubs today, hoping for a role as a starting pitcher, and head coach Bob Kennedy said he'd grant the wish as soon as possible.

The Cubs shuttled Glen Hobbie, a seven-year major league veteran at the age of 28, off to St. Louis Tuesday to obtain Burdette, and both hurlers will wear their new uniforms today.

"They were supposed to tell us after the game," Burdette said, "but I saw Hobbie in the outfield before the game and he told me about the trade, so neither of us had to dress."

Hobbie wore the Cubs uniform, but saw no action, during Chicago's 5-2 win over the Cardinals, but Burdette, who has been in the major leagues for 15 seasons, watched the match from the press box.

"I know I'm going to like it here," he said. "I hate to leave St. Louis, but I wasn't getting enough work. I want to start, and I think I'm ready to start."

"We're going to find out in a hurry if he can," Kennedy said. "I'm planning on using him as a starter, and it won't take long before we know."

Burdette had worked only 10 innings for St. Louis this year, appearing in eight games with an earned run average of 1.80, low on the club.

Cubs Acquire Gabrielson

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago Cubs must cut one player today when newly acquired Len Gabrielson reports from Milwaukee, and there was speculation that utility man Don Landrum would be slashed from the roster.

Gabrielson was obtained from the Braves Wednesday for $40,000 and a player to be named before June 15, and will report today, putting the Cubs one over the 25 player limit.

It was the second player acquisition by the Cubs in two days since the previous day the club traded right hander Glen Hobbie to St. Louis for veteran pitcher Lew Burdette, who Wednesday made his first appearance in Cubs uniform, pitching two innings in relief and allowing two hits and one run.

Gabrielson, 24, has batted 184 in 24 games with the Braves this season. Last year he hit .217 in 46 games with the Braves and .290 in 89 games with Denver. Last year he played in the outfield as well as first base and third base.

Landrum has been in 11 of the Cubs' 42 games, all as a pinchhitter, and has failed to hit in his 11 times at bat.

'Old Head' Hurlers Key To American Flag Race

By United Press International Young pitchers with strong arms are wonderful but old pitchers with wise heads can be even better.

If you don't think so, just ask the Baltimore Orioles about Robin Roberts, the Chicago White Sox about Hoyt Wilhelm or the New York Yankees about Whitey Ford.

Here is a trio of pitchers whose ages add up to 112 years but who still have the guile and pitching technique to be key men in these early stages of the American League pennant race.

Take Wednesday night when all three turned in fine performances: —Roberts, 37, pitched a six-hitter and struck out six to win his fourth game as the first-place Orioles beat the Kansas City Athletics, 5-1.

Preserves Win —Wilhelm, 40, ambled out of the bullpen to preserve the White Sox' 3-0 win over the Cleveland Indians and now has been the finishing pitcher in the White Sox' last four victories and five of their last six wins.

—Ford, 35, hurled a four-hitter to notch his fourth shutout of the season and give the Yankees a 3-0 triumph over the Minnesota Twins, who had beaten the AL champions four straight times. The win was Ford's sixth of the season and the 205th of his career.

The Orioles remained a game and a half ahead of the White Sox with their 21st victory in their last 27 games. Roberts, going the distance for the fourth time, was backed by a nine-hit attack.

Sounds Alarm —Joel Horlen carried a 3-0, two-hitter into the ninth inning against Cleveland but Manager Al Lopez sounded the bullpen alarm when Vic Davallillo, Enter Don Mossi, who retired Joe Azcue, and then enter Wilhelm, who saw Woodie Held reach base on an error but then threw a fluttering double play pill to Max Alvis.

Singles by Dave Nicholson and Jerry McNertney and Horlen's infield out accounted for the White Sox' first run in the second inning. Al Wells homered in the seventh and Mike Hersberger singled and scored on a triple by Nicholson to complete the scoring in the eighth.

Ford recorded the 38th shutout of his career — tops among active American Leagueurs — to snap the Yankees' three-game losing streak and keep them 5½ games behind the Orioles. Elston Howard homered in the fourth inning for the Yankees' first run and Hector Lopez singled home the other two runs in the seventh.

The Washington Senators whipped the Detroit Tigers, 6-2, and the Los Angeles Angels beat the Boston Red Sox, 2-0 and 9-8, in other American League games.

Claude Osteen pitched a six-hitter behind a seven-hit attack

Five Starters Ready For Belmont Stakes

NEW YORK (UPI) — Saturday's $125,000 added Belmont Stakes at Aqueduct will have at least five starters.

Louis Wolfson's Roman Brother and Paul Mellon's Quadrangle were added to the slim list of starters Wednesday and three more horses are considered possible entrants.

On Tuesday, Orientalist joined Northern Dancer and Hill Rise for the longest of the triple crown races in which the Dancer will attempt to become the ninth horse in history to take all the jewels in the crown.

Quadrangle's trainer, Elliott Burch, who saddled Sward Dancer to a Belmont win in 1959, will have Manuel Yeza aboard his three-year-old.

Roman Brother, the Jersey Derby victor, came out of his Garden State race looking a little tired but trainer Burley Parke, who has assigned the mount to Fernando Alvarez, thinks the colt can come back with only a week's rest.

The other possible starters for the 96th Belmont are Reginald N. Webster's National, and Herbert Allen's entry of Shook and Determined Man.

Bill Hartack and Willie Shoemaker will again be on Northern Dancer and Hill Rise, respectively, and Braulio Baeza will be on Orientalist.

ACC Enters Six In State Meet

ABILENE, Tex. — Six Abilene Christian College tracksters will compete in the State Federation Meet in Houston Friday.

Headed the list will be javelin thrower Jerry Dyes and pole vaulter Billy Pemelton. Coach Bill McClure will also enter Lynn Saunders in the 440-yard dash, Charles Christmas in the 880-yard run, Gale Harrison in the 220-yard dash and Bobby Hargrave in the mile run.

featured by homers by Fred Valentine and Dick Phillips to win his fourth game for the Senators. Al Kaline hit a two-run homer for the Tigers.

Fred Newman, with relief aid from Bob Lee in the ninth, won his third game for the Angels in the first game and Los Angeles rallied in the eighth inning of the nightcap to complete the sweep. Billy Moran doubled to drive in one run and scored the other on Lee Thomas' single in the first game while Albie Pearson's two-run single won the nightcap for the Angels after Boston relief ace Dick Radatz was forced to retire after being hit with a ball.

Big Spring Kicks Off 31st Rodeo

BIG SPRING, Tex. (UPI) — Some 200 equestrians from 11 riding groups kicked off the rain-marred, 31st annual Big Spring rodeo Wednesday with a colorful, 16-block parade through the downtown section.

Festivities included a gigantic barbecue and Old Settlers Reunion prior to the start of the evening rodeo performance.

Prizes were given to mounted units in the parade with the Martin County Sheriff's posse getting first place, Ector County posse getting second and the Dawson County sheriff's posse getting third.

A sudden rainshower chased many fans from the outdoor rodeo arena but was not heavy enough to prevent cowboys from completing the first round.

Mauch Hot Man In National Loop

By United Press International In baseball, as in poker, the fellow with the hot hand can do no wrong.

In poker, he's the fellow who makes his ace-high straight by drawing the queen while in baseball he's the guy who plucks a Cookie Rojas off the bench and sees him play a key role in beating the world champions in two straight games.

And, lest there be any doubt about it, the fellow with the hot hand in the National League these days is Manager Gene Mauch of the Philadelphia Phillies.

Mauch inserted Rojas into the lineup a week ago in a move that was pure speculation but now looks like inspiration. The 24-year-old native of Havana, Cuba, has been hitting at a better-than-500 clip since he got into the lineup and Wednesday night for the second straight game was instrumental in enabling the Phillies to beat the Los Angeles Dodgers.

A Must Win This was one of those tough games which surprise contenders like the Phillies must win to prove they're authentic. Dodger righthanded ace Don Drysdale was at his best and Philadelphia pitcher Jim Bunning was in constant hot water. But in the end it was the Dodgers who faltered — just enough to enable the Phillies to score a 1-0, 11-inning victory.

Rojas, who figured in all four Philadelphia runs in a Tuesday night win over the Dodgers, started the 11th inning with a double — only the fourth hit off Drysdale. Drysdale struck out Richie Allen but was replaced in favor of Ron Perranoski, who intentionally walked Johnny Callison and then got Wes Covington to hit into a force play at second. Then Tony Gonzalez grounded to third-baseman Jim Gilliam, who bobbed the ball as Rojas raced across the plate with the winning run.

It was the fifth straight victory for the Phillies, who knocked the Dodgers eight games off the pace in eighth place. Jack Baldschun, who shut out the Dodgers for one inning, picked up his third win while the loss was Drysdale's fifth in 11 decisions.

The San Francisco Giants beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-0, the Milwaukee Braves nipped the Cincinnati Reds, 3-2, and the St. Louis Cardinals scored a 7-5 win over the Chicago Cubs in other NL games. Houston at New York was rained out.

Rookie Ron Herbel's four-hit pitching and a two-run homer by Orlando Cepeda enabled the Giants to tag Pittsburgh's Bob Priddy with the loss. Vern Law shut out the Giants for five innings but was removed from the game after he was hit on the right elbow by a pitch. Herbel struck out five in gaining his third win of the season.

Denny Lemaster pitched a six-hitter and struck out 10 in winning his seventh game for the Braves, who dealt hard-luck Jim Maloney his sixth defeat against three wins. Lee Maye and Denis Menke homered for the Braves and Vada Pinson connected for the Reds.

Ray Sadecki, with relief help from Roger Craig and home run power by Ken Boyer, won his fifth game for the Cardinals and also hung an 0-for-4 horriblem around the neck of Billy Williams, whose average dropped to .412 with the end of his eight-game hitting streak. Bill White weighed in with a two-run double for the Cardinals.

CASPER WILL PARTICIPATE MONTREAL (UPI) — Billy Casper, who won his first major tournament in Canada eight years ago, will take part in the 1964 $50,000 Canadian Open golf championship at Montreal's Pinegrove Course, July 30-Aug. 2.

By OSCAR FRALEY
UPI Sports Writer

RYE, N.Y. (UPI) — Mike Souchak's failure and Ben Hogan's refusal triggered outspoken criticism today of the U.S. Golf Association's system of qualification for the U.S. Open golf championship.

The general consensus was that the tiring pro schedule of week in and week out golf hurts the game's top stars and a lot of "humpty-dumpties" win an Open berth which they don't deserve.

"What it means," snorted Tommy Bolt, a former Open champion, "is that Hogan has to play 36 holes in the Open. He should go back through at least 10 former winners as automatic qualifiers and a four-time winner like Ben should be eligible whenever he wants to tee it up."

Souchak captured his second tournament of the year at Memphis and the next day failed in the first of two 36-hole qualifying events for the Open. Hogan, a four-time Open winner, long has held it an insult to his record and refuses to play two qualifying rounds.

USGA rules completely exempt from qualifying only the last five Open champions, the U.S. Amateur and British Open and PGA champions, the 10 lowest scorers of the previous Open and the 10 leading money winners of the year previous to closing of entries.

All former major championship winners are exempt from local qualifying rounds but must play in the sectional qualifying rounds.

Don't Honor Championship — "They don't even honor their own championship," said Jackie Burke, a former PGA champion. "It's ridiculous for Hogan to have to prove to the USGA that he can play this game. He might have to prove it to some of the pros, but certainly not to the amateurs. The pros to whom golf is a livelihood are sacrificing their chances in several events to qualify under an antiquated format."

Main Topic — Souchak's failure to qualify was one of the main topics among the pros as they teed off in the $100,000 Thunderbird Classic at Westchester Country Club.

"Mike was good enough to win two tournaments and he's as strong as anybody in the game," said Al Balding. "But you have to suffer a letdown after winning a tournament, as he did at Memphis, and then to try to pick up your game for 36 holes the next day is just about impossible. It's completely unfair to the men who week-in and week-out make golf ever more popular."

It has become so draining physically, said Balding, that he didn't even attempt to qualify. Neither did such as George Knudson, Jim Ferree and Fred Hawkins—as well as Hogan.

FOUR-YEAR LETTERMEN — Bob Stephens of Pampa was among four seniors at Northwestern State College, Alva, Okla., who this year received blankets in recognition of their having lettered four years in a varsity sport at the college. In the group, shown here, are Bill Foster, Turpin, Okla.; Sam Jacoby, Gage, Okla.; Stephens, and Bill Anderson, Enid, Okla. All earned the honor in football except Jacoby, a baseball player. Stephens also played baseball, this year turning the team's best hitting average.

Rebs Rained Out Again

The Pampa Rebels were washed out, or in this case "halled out" of their fifth game in six tries last night.

The Rebels' home opener with Woodward, Okla., was called by the sudden storm, as were all their games last week, causing the Pampans to go into District 18 play this weekend with only one game under their belts.

The Rebels play two home district games Saturday, hosting Canyon at 2 p.m. and then Perryton at 8 p.m. The Legionnaires then travel to Borger Sunday afternoon to meet the Bulldogs.

The pitching rotation, thrown out of order by the weather, will probably see Jerry Garrison and Carl Harnsberger hurling in Saturday's twin bill and Jim Arthur Sunday.

Which Sport to Choose?

Super Athlete Has Tough Choice

MADISON, Wis. (UPI)—Fred "Rick" Reichardt is a young man with a problem that most college athletes with a year of school remaining wish they had.

The 21-year-old University of Wisconsin junior from Stevens Point, Wis., must decide soon whether:

- To accept one of 17 major league baseball club offers, one totaling at least a $100,000 bonus.
- To consider professional football after two clubs told him he would be their No. 1 draft choice.

—To risk injury by playing football with the UW this fall where he is certain to be considered for All-America honors.

May Pick Baseball
Sometime this month the handsome, 6 foot-3, 215 pound centerfielder will make his decision and as of now it appears he will go into baseball.

"It's just a question of when I'll sign," said Reichardt, but then he looked quizzical and repeated the football offers and the unspoken hope of his father, an orthopedic surgeon, that he would some day enter medicine.

Reichardt finished the current college season with an unprecedented second consecutive Big Ten batting crown, a .472 average and broke team records set by past UW athletes who gained major league fame.

His .443 season average for the Badgers surpassed the .436 mark set by Harvey Kuenn in 1952 and the 20 stolen bases in 28 games broke the 1950 record of 17 set by Bob "Red" Wilson.

Chosen MVP
Reichardt, understandably chosen by the Badgers as their most valuable player in their just concluded baseball season, also led his teammates in runs with 28.

Badger Coach Arthur "Dynamite" Mansfield said his star has speed, power and great hands and has the ability to play first base as well as the outfield.

Mansfield would not compare Reichardt's hitting ability with Kuenn's, who also played under the veteran coach, but Mansfield said Reichardt is faster and stronger than Kuenn.

His speed and power could lead him to All-America honors if he decides to play football for Wisconsin this fall. Last season Reichardt ranked as the Big Ten's top pass receiver with 26 catches for 383 yards and one touchdown.

Lary Apologizes to Dressen

NEW YORK (UPI) — Frank Lary figures he owes ex-manager Charlie Dressen an apology and promptly made it today.

Purchased conditionally by the Mets from the Tigers last Sunday, Lary was quoted as being severely critical of Dressen's method of managing as well as a set of "strict rules" he laid down for all his players.

"The story simply is not true," Lary said, holding a copy of the wire service dispatch (not UPI) in his hand.

"It gives the impression that I don't think Dressen is a good manager and that I don't like him."

"That's untrue, too," said the 33-year-old right-hander, who once was the ace of Detroit's pitching staff.

"I think he's a darn good manager," Lary continued. "And I happen to think his rules are real good, too. Every manager has to have some rules. I agree with every one of Dressen's rules."

"The only thing I said was that I didn't think the players were relaxed under him. And it's important for a ball player to be relaxed. I think so, anyway."

The rules laid down by Dressen for all Detroit players deal with a ban against excessive drinking, playing golf on days when night games are scheduled and against any horseplay on the bench or in the bullpen.

There are 14 rules in all and Dressen says he has asked his players to abide by them with every club he has ever managed.

"I think I would have pretty much the same set of rules if I were ever a manager," Lary said, "so why would I ever criticize them?"

Fullmer Out Of Top Ten

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former champion Gene Fullmer was dropped out of The Ring magazine's top 10 middleweight ratings today for the first time in 10 years, but another ex-middleweight ruler, Henry Downes of England, was returned to the rankings as a light heavyweight.

Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, hasn't fought since last Aug. 28, when he was knocked out in the seventh round of his return title bout with Dick Tiger.

The Ring said Gene "apparently has retired" but if he decided to resume boxing, "he will be given his old position among the elite."

George Benton of Philadelphia replaced Fullmer at 10th place among the 160-pounders.

Downes, a wealthy London bookmaker and former world middleweight champ, was returned to the rankings at 10th among the light heavies (175-pounders), where he replaced Henry Hank of Detroit.

Lightweight Dave Charnley of London was named "Fighter of the Month" and was boosted from fifth to the top among contenders because of Tuesday night's victory at London over top contender Kenny Lane of Muskegon, Mich. Lane was dropped to second.

Eagles Offer City Stadium

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The city can have Connie Mack Stadium, recently purchased for $757,000 by new Philadelphia Eagles owner Jerry Wolman, for 50 cents — but apparently is not interested.

Wolman said Wednesday he would give the stadium to the city to tear down for a new playing site or to modernize and expand to accommodate both the Philadelphia Phillies and the Eagles.

Wolman disclosed the offer at a joint news conference with Mayor James H. J. Tate after a one-hour meeting.

Tate said the city would consider Wolman's proposal but added "we are pretty much committed" to plans for a new stadium on stills over the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks at 30th and Arch streets.

He said it would be "difficult at this late hour to back out" of the proposal for the new stadium, which the city hopes will house the Phillies and the Eagles.

TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities. We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself, no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Socialism Enters The Tax Door

Norman Thomas, former presidential candidate for the socialist party recently said that the original goals of that party have been achieved in the U.S.—that the government has taken over the direction of our economy. Labor Secretary Wirtz reported that 1 of every 8 U.S. factory workers is employed on government work, as were more than one-third of all technical and professional workers, and 5.3 million people, 1 out of every 13 working men and women, are paid from Washington. The Atomic Energy Commission is the nation's largest consumer of coal, electricity and water; and it owns and uses more machine tools than General Motors, Chrysler and Ford combined. The U.S. Army is the biggest buyer of lumber, cloth, shoes, and shirts. In fact, the Defense Department just estimated the value of its property and equipment at $171 billion, and it is adding $6 billion per year. To do this, the Department requires more money than the entire before-taxes income of all the corporations in the U.S. Add to this the fact that the government owns one-third of the land in the country (800 million acres), 421,000 buildings and leases thousands more, and has strong controls over almost every aspect of business in the country, we must ask, how free are we? Mussolini took only 40 per cent of corporate profits. Hitler, only 45 per cent, yet the U.S. takes 47 per cent and then taxes these profits again when they are distributed to the stockholders as dividends. The government spends $260 million a day, $30 million an hour or more than $500,000 a minute. Indeed, Norman Thomas has a point; maybe through the tax door — we've been made into a nation of Socialists after all. For certainly at this point, it is absolutely impossible to say whether we're working for the government or the government is working for us.

What's So Great About It?

Charcoal cooking is sweeping the land. It's getting hard to find a back yard, a patch of terrace or a scrap of sand without its charcoal grill. New homes are now designed for double grillery — one outdoors, and one built right into the kitchen. The charcoal, grill, and paper plate people have never had it better. It's a billion-dollar business, and it has its own National Barbecue Month, June 1-30. So what's the fascination with outdoor cooking? Is it easier? Hardly. There's the fire to light, nurse to the right state of ashen glow, and maintain during the cooking process — to say nothing of all the stuff that has to be lugged outdoors. Does it taste better? Better than what? Better than the creations of fine chefs in expensive restaurants? Better than the same hamburger cooked in the kitchen? Better than the stuff the Boy Scouts cook on camping trips? Is winter cooking really so bad that charcoal fires spring like fireflies at the first hint of softened weather? That's not the answer. It is cheaper? Not exactly. Family food budgets take a real licking during the summer months. It's almost impossible to grill a hunk of bottom round to charcoal tenderness, even with a liberal dosing of Kitchen Bouquet. Is it more fun? That's closer. It might be that outdoor cooking answers a man's need for a touch of the primitive — like sailing a boat or walking alone in the woods. Everything seems to taste better when it's cooked outdoors, the usual mealtime restrictions are relaxed, and the glowing fire inspires a warmth of feeling that nothing else can match. There is compensation from workday pressures, political differences, frayed tempers and frustration — relaxation, peace and a sense of accomplishment — in such a simple occupation as outdoor cooking.

Kinship Revisited

It is becoming more obvious every day that people aren't people. The first hint came quite a while back when scientists decided that man was descended from the monkey. While this was perhaps not too flattering, it was accepted by man with a lighthearted attempt to laugh it off. The monkeys merely ignored it. Now, science has gone even further in aligning man with animals. It says rather flatly that human beings share basic hereditary characteristics with all other backboned animals. (There MUST be a prettier way to describe human beings than that!) From a genetic standpoint, the scientists say, man is still most closely related to the monkey (85 to 90 per cent). But he also has a kinship to mice, rats, hamsters, guinea pigs, rabbits and cows that comes to about 20 to 25 per cent. Adding it up, it seems to make man more than 100 per cent animal. The way some of us humans carry on at times, you could hardly blame the animals if they sued the scientists for slander.

Russians Speed Up Automation

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Government experts here have made a new evaluation of Soviet research in the science of controlling men and machines. Their unpublished report, "The Meaning of Cybernetics in the U.S.S.R.," is now circulating for the private guidance of key U.S. policymakers. (Cybernetics is the study of human control systems vs. mechanized systems.)

It goes into Soviet plans for managing government, industry and agriculture through advanced electronic computers and electronic command and control networks. The study is causing some worry here. Though it gives some reassurance as to Russia's current status in electronics, it warns the vast Soviet effort in cybernetics is creating a Soviet ability to make breakthroughs that could be of serious concern to the United States. Says the report: "Over the next decade and a half the Russians are going to try to hook their industry into a nationwide computer network. It would be similar to the electronic command network the United States has set up for control of its worldwide military forces."

"The (Russian) System calls for a large number of . . . information-computation centers at the apex of which will be the main computing center of Gosplan U.S.S.R., which is planned to be in full operation in 1972. "Implementation of the plan began in 1958 and the first phase was completed on schedule during 1963 with installation of prototype industrial, service and regional computer centers. "Computing centers are being established to co-ordinate activities of factories, banks, transportation agencies and other enterprises. "Architects and engineers now are drawing up technical plans for the center of the U.S.S.R.'s 'automated economic information system' to be located in Moscow on a site already selected. "In Kiev the technical documents for a smaller, but nevertheless impressive, building to house the main computation center of the Ukrainian Gosplan have been turned over to the contractor. "Technical plans for similar centers in other republics are being developed as part of the unified information net. "The report concludes that 'long-range plans for transformation of the industrial base of the Soviet Union and for the unified information net are feasible. "Increasingly more sophisticated automation technology will appear in the near future and more and larger industrial processes will come under computer control toward the end of the decade. "The traditional mathematical competence of the Soviets could aid them in advancing the state of the art in theoretical cybernetics very rapidly if and when their current deficiencies in computer hardware are overcome. "The availability in the U.S.S.R. of engineers strong in mathematics and of mathematicians with engineering backgrounds is a positive contribution to Soviet capabilities in the basic engineering aspects of technical cybernetics. But shortcomings in Soviet capabilities for industrial fabrication of components and systems slow down technical realization of advanced engineering ideas. "The (next) phase of the program, applied cybernetics, involves the introduction of control systems into society. . . . They expect cybernetics to provide eventually full automation of the industrial base, a technology for the optimal control of the economy and a methodology for adapting men and social institutions to the revolutionary form of industry they anticipate for the 1970s."

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Understanding of Principle Is Life Source of Business

By SAMUEL CAMPBELL
How can a newspaperman presume to report on everybody's business? From the reader's standpoint, the question is pertinent since this daily message runs under the label "Everybody's Business." Here is the reasoning that went into that choice of a title. Certainly, human knowledge is too varied, too complex, too detailed for any person to comprehend but the smallest fragment. Knowledge can be represented as a tree. It forms an outline against the sky. When an observer looks at the whole tree, he sees the outline, but he misses the refinements of individual leaves and twigs. On the other hand, when he makes a close-up inspection of leaf and twig, he no longer sees the outline.

Branches Converge
Nevertheless, whether close to the tree or standing back, a person sees that leaves and twigs are attached to branches which in turn connect with larger branches and that these larger branches finally converge at the tree trunk. And this is the case with knowledge. Specifically it is the case also with business knowledge. All the details are related, and the lines of relationship ultimately unite at the central trunk. It is this common trunk that is referred to by the phrase "Everybody's Business." The phrase correctly describes the commonality of knowledge because it is from this core that all the various aspects of business draw their life. Chop down the core or let it die of neglect and all that it sustains also will perish.

Core of Principles
The core of business is comprised of principles an understanding of which enables men to work together for the production of useful goods. What it all finally comes down to is that men who spend their time stealing from one another cannot trust one another well enough to work together for mutual profits. Nor will anyone of them have even the incentive to produce for himself if he expects to be robbed later on. That basic psychology, or, in other words, is rather readily understood. The problem of our time is not so much that men approve of theft (most men do not); the failure is that they fail to recognize the various forms of theft. They tend to overlook the more subtle methods of stealing and, unwittingly, even to participate in the appropriation of some other person's property. Among the more common occurrences along this line is for a person to suppose that, because government is established to deter theft, stealing does not take place through government action. "Noble" Goals Obviously, however, the supposition is mistaken. For a smart thief will don the disguise best suited to his purpose and will operate in the areas where he is least suspected. He will enlist unwitting men of the highest personal honor as his accomplices, including even his own victim. He will set forth the most noble goals to gain adherents. To detect the fraud in either its legal or illegal form: to identify the defrauder whether he wears the robe of a cleric, the ivy-league taper of a toomsmart lawyer, or the badge of the U.S. Treasury; to understand that the taking of another person's property without his

Naming of U.S. Judge Is Trouble

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON (NEA) — President Johnson is getting pretty deep into the thicket of problems that go with filling important federal judgeships. No Chief Executive escapes this involvement for long. His really thankless assignment is choosing a replacement for Judge Ben Cameron of Mississippi. Cameron, who died several weeks ago, was one of the nine judges serving on the Fifth Circuit covering Texas, Louisiana, Georgia, Florida and the Canal Zone. Cameron's one-man rulings frequently slowed or blocked court desegregation orders issued by other judges in school cases. He was a key figure in delays which preceded entry of Negro James Meredith into the University of Mississippi in late 1962. Though recommendations have been quietly filtering in from senators representing some of the affected states, as well as from outside sources, no action on the Fifth Circuit vacancy has been taken or seems likely in the early future.

The choice will not be easy. Civil rights groups are saying plainly they do not want another Cameron. Militant segregationists will resist a moderate choice. If talent scouts should consult both camps in the search for some sort of compromise, the result could be merely to fan their mutual suspicions and make any selection unpalatable to both. The problem over the Cameron appeals court vacancy is further aggravated by a current move to split the Fifth Circuit into two smaller circuits. The present circuit is the second largest geographically, and has the largest work load of any appellate region in the United States.

The Judicial Conference of the United States, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, recommended a split many months ago. This official body of top judges suggested the Fifth be divided so as to include Texas, Louisiana and the Canal Zone in one circuit, with Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia and Florida in the other. A draft bill embodying these proposals is due for Senate committee study. But, once again, civil rights and segregationist forces are each suspicious they will somehow suffer if this or perhaps any division is decided upon. One justice department lawyer comments that, even without the controversy over a possible division, choosing a new judge in a difficult area like the Fifth Circuit can be tougher for the President than naming a new Supreme Court justice. Not all Johnson's dealings with the judiciary are this troublesome. Thus far in 1964 he has nominated, and had confirmed by the Senate, seven federal judges. He has named another seven on which action is pending. There are ten spots to be filled on the federal bench at the district court level, and five in various appeals courts from coast to coast. Four of the vacancies are the oldest on the list, dating from the creation of 73 new federal judgeships in late May of 1961. These posts, in other words, never have been filled. In two of these cases, work loads are not great enough in the area to create heavy pressure for presidential action.

Pull Up A Chair
By Frank J. Markey
It's okay to say we don't need some of our foreign friends, but without them we wouldn't eat too well. Think for a minute about something as common as pepper, as much a part of our menu as apple pie. It just won't grow in our back yard, so we import it from Indonesia, India and Malaya. Oregon comes from Greece, Mexico, Italy and France; nutmeg from the East Indies; cloves from Zanzibar and Madagascar; caraway seeds from the Netherlands; sesame seeds from Egypt, Nicaragua and Brazil; olive oil from Greece, Spain, Italy, Israel, Morocco and Tunisia. They are just a few of the things that make American food taste better. Today's smile: A teacher admonished a little boy for using a horrid word. "Tell me, Johnny," she asked, "where did you learn it?" The little boy said: "I learned it from Santa Claus on Christmas night when he bumped into a chair."

Question Box

(We invite questions on economics and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)
QUESTION: "Why is it necessary for every worker to produce his own wages and profits if his job or business is to be permanent and is to have peace of mind and, as a by-product, be happy?"
ANSWER: The reason is that all wages and profits come from production, and if there is no production, there will be no wages or profits. The more that is produced that other people want, and believe they are benefited by buying, the more wages can be and the more profits there will be if the operation is efficient. There is no wage fund from which wages can be paid. Of course, there may be a few quick assets that the employer may use to advance the wages until the product is sold, but that wage fund or cash is very limited, just as consumer goods that people enjoy and want are limited and have to be constantly produced. Of course, it is difficult in some cases to tell exactly what each man produces. It is largely a guess on the part of the employer. But if he guesses wrong too often, he won't last long. The employer should aim to pay each and every individual all he produces every week, or month, or year, so that the individual may enjoy it, or waste it, or save it and take care of his old age. Too many employers have become paternalistic and take away from the employees' part of their earnings and try to give it to them in pension, fringe benefits and vacations, and one thing or another, when they should give the workers all he produces every period, and let him manage his own affairs. That will stimulate his judgment, make him grow and develop, and have him take an interest in his work. Accomplishment should be the aim of life rather than happiness, because if you seek happiness it will flee from you, but if you seek accomplishment, happiness will be your constant companion. It will be a by-product of your accomplishment or even of your effort to accomplish. If one does the best he can, if he is making an effort, that effort will give him satisfaction although he may not accomplish all he wants to. If he keeps trying to improve himself to be superior to his previous self rather than to be superior to another person, then that will result in happiness. Yes, every man must produce his own wages or his own profit if he is to have continuous employment or a continuous business.

The Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Thursday, June 4, the 156th day of 1964 with 210 to follow. The moon is approaching its new phase. The morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn. On this day in history: In 1800, the finishing touches were put on the White House. In 1896, Henry Ford wheeled his first car from a brick shed in Detroit and drove it around the darkened city streets on a trial run. In 1942, the Battle of Midway began and the Japanese fleet suffered its first decisive defeat of World War II by the United States. In 1944, U.S. and British soldiers occupied Rome, the first Axis capital to fall to the Allies.
