Massive Quake Rocks Japanese West Coast

Shock Leaves Death, Destruction in Wake

By ALBERT E. KAFF
United Press International

NIIGATA, Japan (UPI) — The first earthquake to hit Japan since 1923 struck a 300-mile stretch of the west coast of the main island of Honshu today with a force that shattered buildings, collapsed bridges and set off raging fires.

At least 21 persons were reported dead and 152 injured. More than 3,000 buildings and houses were reported destroyed or damaged.

The massive earth tremor hit the coastal provinces facing Siberia on the Sea of Japan at 1:02 p.m. (12:02 a.m. EDT).

The latest quake was centered in the area of Niigata, a port city of 290,000 population, which also is Japan's largest petroleum and natural gas producing center. It lies about 150 miles northwest of Tokyo.

Also hard hit were the cities of Yamagata, Akita and Toyama, which stretch along a 300-mile arc in northwest Honshu.

After-shocks rocked Honshu for hours after the main tremor, but were reported subsiding at 11 p.m. (10 a.m. EDT). The intensity of the quake was only slightly less than the great Tokyo-Yokohama disaster that killed 143,000 persons 41 years ago.

It shattered buildings, sent seven-foot tidal waves flooding into cities and touched off oil fires which were still burning hours after the massive shock.

Bridges collapsed, buildings and houses fell apart, and huge cracks opened in parks and streets—some big enough for cars to fall into them.

A kindergarten school building collapsed in Tsuruoka City, about 50 miles up the coast from Niigata, trapping 17 children in the wreckage.

The epicenter was located in the Sea of Japan, about 50 miles off Niigata—a port city of 290,000 persons on Honshu, Japan's main island.

For two hours after the quake, terror-stricken residents of Niigata ran through the streets seeking friends and relatives. Mothers carried their children to the roofs of buildings. Thronged poured into the open grounds of Niigata University to escape falling buildings.

Bond Issue to Hike Tax Rate 2.5 Cents

Mayor H. R. Thompson announced at today's Pampa City Commission meeting that the tax increase will amount to only one-half what was originally planned if the $950,000 tax bond issue for improvements to the sewage treatment plant and sewer system is approved.

Thompson said a report from the city's financial advisor, R. A. Underwood of Dallas, showed that the increase in taxes will amount to only two and one-half cents per one hundred dollars valuation.

The city had originally figured the tax raise would amount to five cents.

Thompson explained that if a person owns property valued at $10,000, taxes would be raised $2.50 per year and a $5,000 valuation would amount to a $1.25 tax raise per year.

Absentee balloting opened today in the City Secretary's office for the June 30 election.

In other business, Kirk Duncan, acting chairman for the Downtown Business Association, presented a request for removal of several blocks of downtown parking meters.

The commission voted to turn the matter over to the City Manager, Harold Schmitzer and Police Chief, Jim Conner for consideration.

The commission also handled routine business which included the extension of employment of the firm of Nensiel and Doggett as city auditors, passage of the ordinance closing Thut (See TAX RATE, Page 3)

Rights Bill in Last-Ditch Bind

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., disclosed today that last-ditch maneuvers by southern senators might stall final Senate action on the civil rights bill until next week.

Remarks by Russell after a caucus of southern senators dashed cold water on the hopes of Senate leaders for final action by Friday on the long-debated bill.

"I wouldn't predict that we would finish the bill this week," Russell said.

He said it was apparent in the southern caucus that "practically all of our group" will use the full one-hour of debate allotted to each senator under the cloture rule which the Senate invoked by a 71 to 29 vote last week.

Scranton Beating Political Bushes Across Midwest

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI) — Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, buoyed by a personal telephone call of support from Nelson A. Rockefeller, charged off across the corn belt again today in search of delegates to the GOP National Convention.

Scranton won an enthusiastic response from a theater crowd Monday night. Even supporters of Sen. Barry M. Goldwater said Scranton had "made a good impression."

Despite a late-evening huddle with members of the Iowa Republican delegation, however, the Pennsylvania governor did not appear to have swayed any uncommitted votes his way.

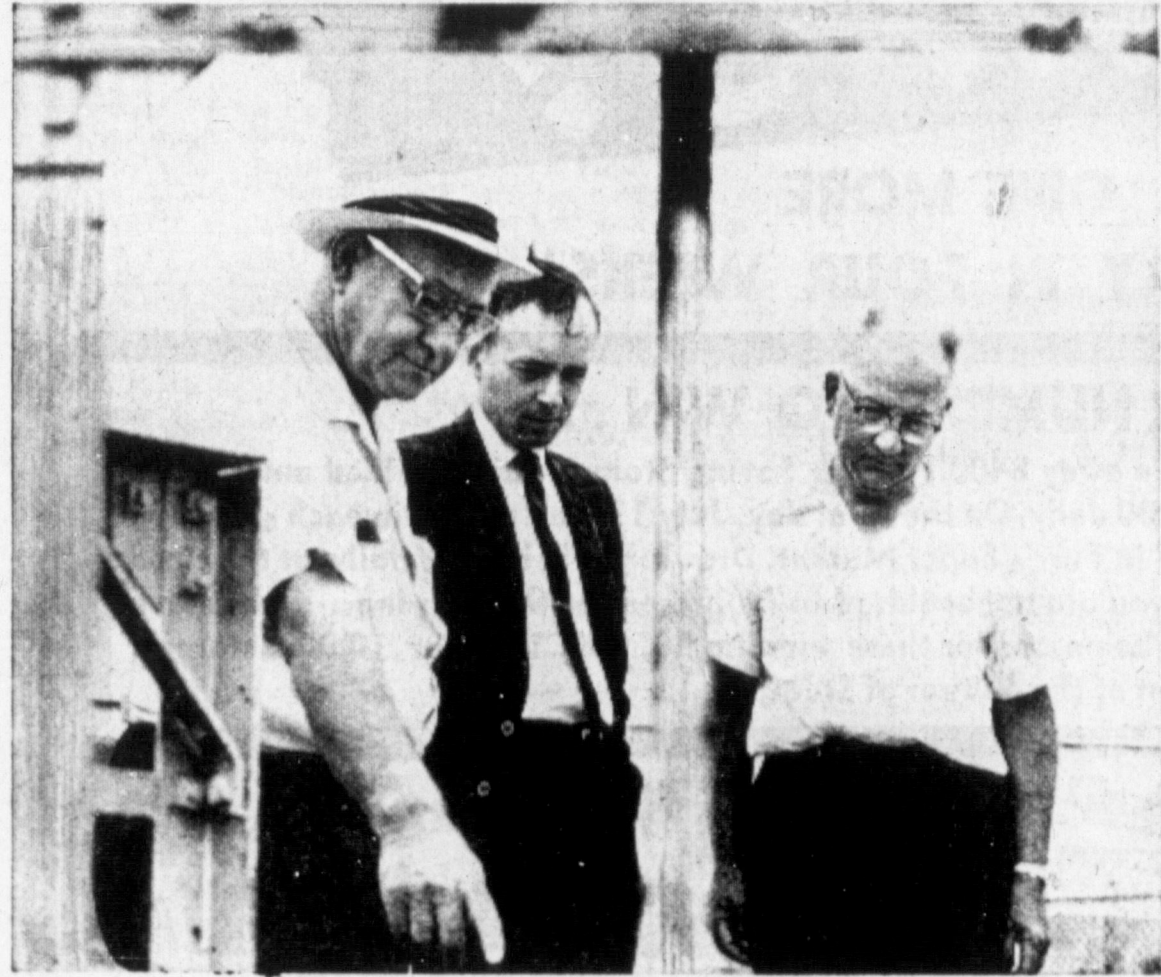

The latest breakdown of Iowa's 24 delegates showed nine in Goldwater's corner, six pledged to Scranton and nine uncommitted. Delegate John Warren, a supporter of former Vice President Richard M. Nixon until Monday night, became uncommitted after meeting the Pennsylvanian.

"I was very impressed," Warren said. "He could be a tough campaigner. He's got the perfect answer for Iowa conservatives."

Scranton planned to meet with party leaders again at breakfast this morning before carrying his whirlwind campaign for delegate support to Kansas and Minnesota. He was scheduled to leave for Topeka, Kan., at 9 a.m., CDT (10 a.m. EDT) and meet with Minnesota GOP leaders late this afternoon in Minneapolis.

Scranton hailed Rockefeller's announcement of support as "a tremendous boost" in his blitz campaign for the Republican ballot at the convention.

Pampa Woman Is Named National G.O.P. Delegate

Mrs. Warren Fatheree of Pampa, GOP district committeewoman, was one of two delegates elected at the Texas Republican Convention to represent the 18 Congressional District at the National Republican Convention in San Francisco.

Mrs. Fatheree and Earnest Stroud of Randall County will represent the Panhandle and were given specific instructions to support Senator Barry Goldwater for President.

Elected as alternates to the national convention were Glynn Morris of Amarillo and Mrs. Florence Traywick of Parmer County.

The State Republican convention got underway this morning in Dallas.

Mrs. Fatheree and Stroud were elected during district caucuses held last night in the Statler Hilton Hotel.

Mrs. Katherine McDaniel of Borger was elected as Panhandle representative to the Republican platform committee at the National Convention.

Pampa sent 14 delegates to the state parley which is expected to end late tonight.

LBJ Brings Shivers Back to Demo Ranks

AUSTIN (UPI) — Former Texas Gov. Allan Shivers, a conservative Democrat who voted Republican in the last three presidential elections, says President Johnson has brought him back to the Democrats.

"I intend to support Johnson. I think he is doing a great job," said Shivers, before leaving for the state Democratic convention in Houston.

Barry Shepherds Texas GOP Delegates Into His Fold at Dallas

By CARLTON WILSON
DALLAS (UPI) — Barry Goldwater prepared to personally shepherd the 56 Texas Republican delegates into his fold today, his backers claiming the Lone Star votes have put him over the top for first-ballot nomination at the GOP convention.

The Arizona senator was considered a sure bet to collect all the delegates at the state convention in Dallas—where the Goldwater-for-President boom was born.

He had a biting attack on the Johnson administration's foreign policy drafted for the occasion.

U.S. Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., said flatly the Texas votes bring his delegate strength to "well over" the 655 needed for nomination.

(A United Press International tally showed Goldwater with 650 delegates — including Texas. The Goldwater forces were including in their count delegates publicly uncommitted as yet but who may have privately expressed support for Goldwater.)

In the speech prepared for delivery today to the convention, Goldwater took up the case of Air Force Capt. Edwin Shank, killed fighting in Viet Nam, whose letters to his wife caused a stir when they were printed in Life Magazine.

"I charge that the death of men like Capt. Shank, sent to die in obsolete planes, must lie heavily upon the consciences of the defense and foreign policy planners who have directed the failure in Viet Nam so far," he said.

"We know that the world cannot be inspired by turning out the lights in the white house. We need more light at the white house, not less. We need more light around the world—the light of American leadership, the light of freedom."

In a speech to a jammed ballroom at a $100-a-plate fundraising dinner Monday night, Goldwater called the Johnson administration's foreign policy "weak-kneed," and said it was "the same kind of stupid ineptitude that led us into World War II and is leading us into World War III" (See SHEPHERDS, Page 3)

Harris, Bexar County Delegates Call for Houston 'Rump' Session

By KYLE THOMPSON
HOUSTON (UPI) — The big Harris County liberal delegation today notified state Democratic leaders it would bolt the convention and join a Bexar County delegation in a rump session.

The liberal Houston group headed by Chris Dixie had been recognized as legal delegates earlier by the State Democratic Executive Committee (SDEC). However, Dixie told SDEC chairman Frank Erwin that his delegation was joining the San Antonio liberals because the San Antonio group headed by Maury Maverick was thrown out by a credentialist subcommittee.

Erwin told newsmen just before the convention began that Dixie had said "perhaps others" would join the two big county delegations in a rump convention.

The SDEC earlier had seated Bexar County conservatives headed by John Peace, plus conservative groups from Dallas County, Liberals from Harris, Hutchinson and Randall counties were seated as official delegates from those disputed areas.

Erwin said the test of whether or not Gov. John Connally had firm control of the convention would come on a roll call vote of delegates.

The state Democratic executive committee named Judge A.W. Moursund, administrator of President Johnson's central Texas properties, as temporary chairman. He was to preside today until permanent officers are elected.

Court Ruling to Remake Most State Legislatures

By CHARLOTTE G. MOULTON
WASHINGTON (UPI) — City voters were armed today with a smashing Supreme Court victory that will probably remake to their advantage almost all state legislatures.

This change will not necessarily affect the next election. The high court allowed plenty of leeway for accommodation to the new principle.

In historic opinions involving six states, the court ruled Monday that seats in both Houses of a state legislature must be based "as nearly as practicable" on population. The votes ranged from 9 to 6 to 3, with Justice John M. Harlan dissenting in all cases.

The court held that the make-up of legislatures in Alabama, Virginia, Maryland, New York, Delaware and Colorado now run counter to the U.S. Constitution. These cases go back to those states for further proceedings.

Chief Justice Earl Warren said only by fashioning legislative districts approximately equal in population could the states afford voters the Constitution's guarantee of the "equal protection of the laws."

The series of opinions produced about 65,000 words from the four justices who gave their views. The opinions weighed two pounds and about equalled the thickness of the San Francisco telephone directory.

This avalanche was part of the court's push toward adjournment next Monday of its term.

Before delivering the reapportionment opinions, the court made more history in federal-state relations. In ruling 5 to 4 that the Fifth Amendment's privilege against self-incrimination applies in states as well as federal proceedings, the court overturned more than 50 years of constitutional precedent.

The court also held that a state witness may not be compelled to give testimony which may incriminate him under federal law.

The reapportionment decisions broke the logjam of cases built up since the court's 1962 Tennessee ruling opened the doors of federal courts to voter complaints in this field.

Rights Bill

McCormack and other democratic congressional leaders reviewed the status of the civil rights bill and other "must" legislation at a breakfast meeting with President Johnson.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., voiced hope after the White House meeting that the Senate would finish work on the bill this week. Democratic Whip Hubert H. Humphrey, Minn., said he was "very encouraged" about disposing of all amendments before adjournment tonight and then spending a couple more days for final flights of oratory.

Humphrey said the Senate would meet late into the evening.

Humphreys comments suggested, however, that late night sessions would be the answer if votes were sought on a large number of additional amendments. Humphrey said he expected the final burst of post-amendment oratory would take a couple of days.

Many senators on both sides of the issue have planned final speeches with time hoarded from the one hour allotted each of them by last Wednesday's cloture vote.

The final vote, before the third reading of the bill, bars further amendments, is to be on the Senate leadership's bipartisan substitute. Fourteen

Harvest Still Up To Weatherman

The harvest in Gray County was expected to resume late this afternoon and be back into full swing by tomorrow barring any further rainfall. The weatherman is not too promising, though with isolated thunder-showers predicted for tomorrow afternoon.

The harvest was just getting into full swing last Wednesday when four straight days of rain dumped approximately 3.50 inches of rain on Pampa. The rain caused an estimated 5 to 10 per cent loss in the wheat crop.

No major changes were made in the substitute bill by the day-long voting.

An early morning fire heavily damaged the stock room and inflicted smoke damage to the rest of the brick building housing the Dairy Queen Drive Inn, 1117 Alcock.

Firemen were called to the scene about 12:50 a.m. when a passing motorist noticed fire bubbling from the roof.

The blaze apparently started in the storage room where paper cups and cartons are kept. It had completely gutted the storage room when firemen arrived. The blaze was quickly extinguished, but not without causing heavy smoke damage to the remainder of the building.

No estimate of damage was made. However, it was expected to run into the hundreds of dollars.

He called the civil rights bill "not a matter of civil rights, but a matter of where freedom shall rest—with the people, the states, or the federal government."

He said President Johnson's economic plans will lead to "a form of socialism" within a decade, and pledged a balanced budget as his "first and foremost fiscal principle as president of the United States."

The crowd stopped him with cheers at least 50 times during the hour-long address Monday night.

Goldwater exhorted them to work for a Republican victory in Texas — Johnson's home ground—in November to "get the President out of Washington and back into the television business."

All 1,500 seats in the ballroom were sold out. State GOP chairman Peter O'Donnell Jr., who headed the campaign to draft Goldwater as a presidential candidate, said the $150,000 taken in made it the most successful Republican fund-raising dinner in Texas history. Another 500 boosters stood along the walls and in the lobby, listening over the public address system.

Conservative Dems Warned To Become More Moderate

AUSTIN (UPI)—The conservative Democrats who dominate Texas Politics have been warned that they must become more moderate "to avoid being crushed in the gradually tightening nutcracker formed by the Republicans and the liberal Democrats."
The warning comes from three government professors in a book, "Party and Factional Division in Texas," to be released June 22 by the University of Texas Press.
The authors, James R. Soukup, Clifton McCleskey and Harry Holloway of the Universities of Texas, Houston and Oklahoma, respectively, have made a careful study of the voting returns from all 254 Texas counties in 14 elections since 1946.
Although the authors emphasize that "an obituary for the (Democratic) conservatives would be premature," they predict that conservatives will lose control of the party unless they "adjust to a moderate course and follow to the demands of status-conscious minorities."
The professors also counsel moderation for the liberal Democrat and Republican factions, noting that both will need

Disney Hires 'Name' Bands At Disneyland

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI)—Whatever happened to the big bands of the 1940s? Walt Disney's hired four of them!
Benny Goodman, Duke Ellington, Count Basie and Wayne King literally are packing them in at Disneyland.
The four all-time greats of the band business got together last Saturday night at the Disneyland Hotel to receive coveted Mousker awards—a Mickey Mouse version of television's Emmy and movietown's Oscar. Also honored with a Mousker award were the Elliott brothers whose band now is in its seventh season at Disneyland.
The weekend kicked off the third annual big band festival at Disneyland. After the award ceremony, the bandleaders returned to their respective stands throughout the park.

LBJ Has Praise For Pledge on Nondiscrimination

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson praised eleven major steel companies and the United Steelworkers (AFL-CIO) Monday for signing a joint pledge to encourage "nondiscriminatory attitudes" in employment policies.
White House Press Secretary George E. Reedy told newsmen Johnson had complimented Steelworkers president David McDonald by telephone Saturday, prior to the actual signing of the pact. And Reedy said

LONDON (UPI)—John Turner, believed to be Britain's oldest citizen, today observed his 108th birthday.
"I have had a very full life," he said. "I live a very quiet, orderly life and am a teetotaler and a non-smoker."
Johnson also wanted to "publicly congratulate officials of the steel companies."
"This pleased the President very much," Reedy said. "He considers this an ideal example of labor and industry rallying together to put an end to job discrimination because of race, creed, color and national origin."

Government's Checking It

How Many Shaves in Shaving Cream Can?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Bureau of Standards (NBS) is collecting "empty" shaving cream cans.

The object is to help men get as many shaves out of a can as the label says they are going to get.

For some time now, state weights and measures officials and the aerosol industry itself have been calling on the government to establish standards as to how much extra should go into a can to deliver the labeled net content. NBS has agreed to find the answer.

The industry has gotten behind the study and is sending in hundreds of cans of room deodorant, cologne, model airplane paint, shampoo and hair spray as well as shaving cream. Some of these have been sent home with NBS employees with instructions to use them and then bring back the empties.

The first thing the NBS does with an empty can is to try get some more out of it.

"Often people don't try hard enough," the official said.

The next step is to let a can sit for a while, because "some cans will regenerate their contents when resting," he said.

Finally, the NBS researchers do what the label warns people not to do — they puncture the can and extract that last little bit. This is weighed and the results recorded.

When enough cans have been opened and enough leavings weighed, the NBS says it should have enough information to draw up its standards.

And after shaving cream comes whipped cream, a spokesman said.

Karl Wilhelm Scheele, Swedish chemist, discovered chlorine; Sir Humphrey Davy later showed it to be a chemical element.

Twins Duel With Mallets For Hand of Fair Maiden

CAMBRIDGE, England (UPI) — England won its wars on the playing fields of Eton.

New Twist: She Throws Book At the Judge

LONDON (UPI) — A woman litigant Monday threw the book at the judge.

In fact she threw two books, and the target was Lord Denning, Britain's second highest legal authority. Both books missed, one by inches.

"Will you please leave the court?" demanded Lord Denning, master of the rolls, of Mrs. Vera Stone, a 37-year-old blonde with a predilection for filing legal suits.

"I shall only come back and throw more books," she said. She grabbed a third book with a cry of "I'm running out of patience!"

A second book hit the wall behind the judge's head, much wider of the mark than the first.

Neither time did Denning flex a muscle. His wig stayed firmly in place. His robes remained neatly draped.

Commented Miss Stone, "This is not a personal matter."

And its knights of old jostled for the hand of a fair lady before someone invented gunpowder and men could duel beneath the oaks at dawn.

Chivalry is not dead in England, however, and identical twins Chris and David Miller, 21, duelled this weekend for the love of a fair maiden attracted to them both.

The scene was a croquet court at Cambridge and the weapons were mallets at dawn.

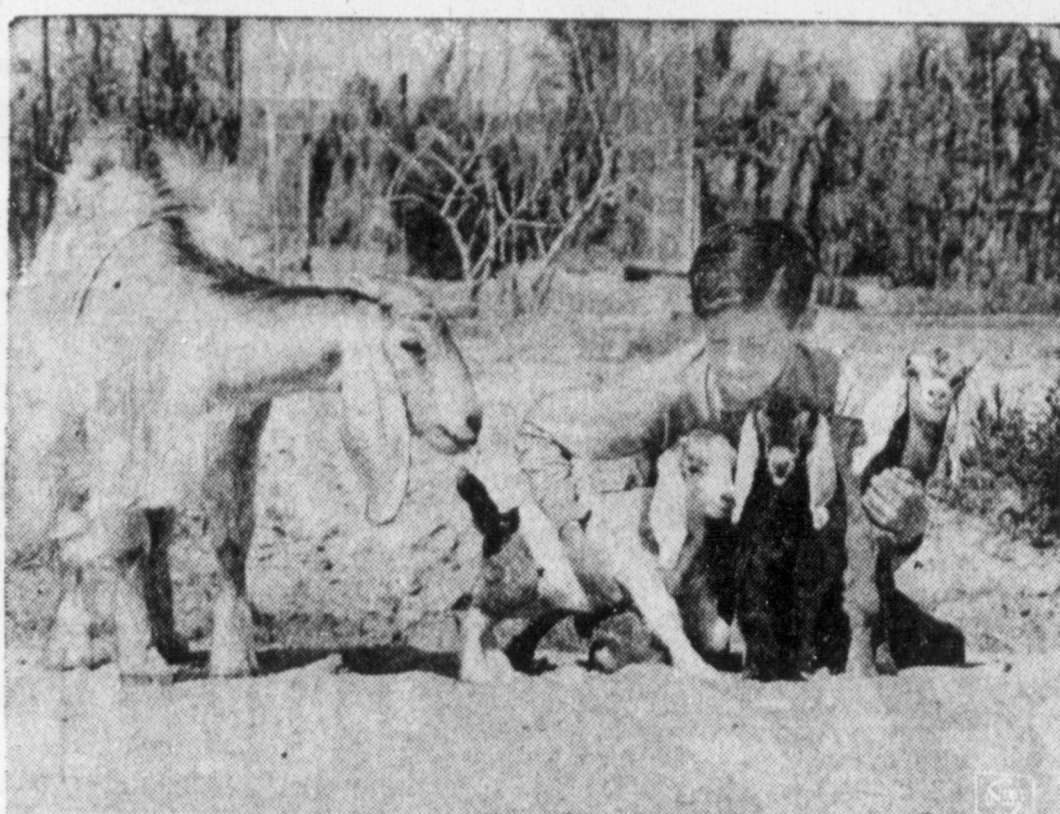

In the end Chris stroked his croquet ball neatly between the last hoop to the final market post and walked off with his prize, Naomi Miller, 21.

"Well shot," said David, his upper lip stiffening. "I hope they'll be very happy together."

Naomi said she was torn between her love for Chris, captain of the Oxford University croquet team, and David, the captain of the Cambridge University croquet team.

"Chris and David walk, talk and kiss alike," she said. "They're equally witty and amusing. It seemed only natural they should make up my mind for me by competing at croquet. I promised to go steady with the winner."

"It was very exciting. I could never have chosen my own."

RARE TREAT—It's not often that a youngster has the opportunity to gaze on triplet goat kids, as they are 86 times as rare as twins, or roughly the same as for humans. Billy Andrews lives in Dhahran, Saudi Arabia. His father works for Arabian-American Oil.

Should you pamper a Princess?

Depends on which princess—the teenager or the telephone. All teenage princesses—so we're told—glory in a little pampering.

But the Princess® telephone is so well made and trouble free that no pampering is required. Just dust it occasionally or wipe it with a damp cloth.

That, plus a little care in handling, is all the attention any phone needs. And phones almost never need repair—but if something does go on the blink, we'll fix it promptly at no extra charge.

We think it's our job to keep right on improving your telephone service and making it of greater personal value to you.

Dear Abby...
Check Taste by Smell?
Chef Says It Is Very Likely
By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A reader in Montpelier asked if good chefs had to taste their cooking to determine whether it was properly seasoned, or if they could tell by smelling it. Well, my father was a chef for over fifty years. He was chef to a governor of New York who later became president. I need not tell you that he was a fine cook, and no one ever saw him taste a thing.

CHEF'S DAUGHTER

DEAR ABBY: I am writing this while aboard a Great Lakes Merchant ship. I have been in the cooking business for over 23 years and the idea that a cook can tell how much sugar or salt is in something by SMELLING it is the craziest notion I have heard yet. Some herbs and spices, yes, but salt and sugar, no!

ALVIN J. L.

DEAR ABBY: I don't know whether the best chefs in the world "taste" their cooking or smell it to achieve the best results. But I DO know that cooks who constantly taste their own cooking never go to the trouble of getting a clean spoon for every "taste." Therefore, whenever I happen to see a cook "tasting" the food, I avoid eating it, if it is at all possible.

ANTI-GERMS

DEAR ABBY: I don't want to brag, but I have a reputation for being an excellent cook. I never tasted anything. The only time I ever spoiled anything was when I made an exceptionally large quantity of spaghetti sauce. I tasted it, and then added a little more salt. That was the only time I ever made anything too salty. Thank you.

LOVES TO COOK

DEAR MISS VAN BUREN: I am now considered a first-class chef, having worked my way up from dishwasher. I have been trained by the best chefs in the business and they never tasted anything, with the possible exception of soup to decide if it had enough salt in it. I can truthfully say that the only time I ever tasted anything on the job was when I was young, inexperienced and very, very hungry.

JUST ALFRED

DEAR ABBY: This should settle the question of whether the best cooks taste their cooking, or smell it in order to determine if it is properly seasoned: I have an aunt who lost both her sense of smell and sense of taste when she was a very young girl. Yet and Mrs. Aubrey Jones registered guests, she turned out to be a fantastically good cook.

TILLIE IN TUCSON

DEAR ABBY: In regard to the question of whether the best chefs taste anything, I would say they do not. I am not a chef, but have been a master brewer for many years. We never taste beer. We take a clean, 4-ounce glass, fill it with beer from the large tanks in which it has been brewed. LOOK at it, throw the contents on the floor, and SMELL of the glass! We can test 30 or 40 tanks of beer that way. If we tasted the beer, after the first sample, all the beer would taste the same.

MASTER BREWER

DEAR BREWER: Thank you for your interesting letter. I'll bet your brewery has the "happiest" mice in town.

Experts Warn of Possible Damage By Cotton Pests

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (UPI)—Cotton entomologists in the lower Rio Grande Valley—which usually produces the nation's first cotton—warned farmers today to treat their cotton with insecticides or face big losses.

The Cotton Pest Control Association (CPCA) reported many of the boll worms and bud worms now in cotton are already half grown and getting harder to kill. Boll weevil populations also were reported mounting rapidly and fleahoppers have been a problem all season.

The problem was blamed on driving up corn fields, which pushed boll worms out of corn and into green cotton.

The CPCA said many farmers had already "procrustinated beyond the danger point and lost a lot of cotton." It added that what cotton was still on the plant could be saved.

The CPCA recommended a program of regular five-day application of insecticide, using a broad spectrum material that would control all insects. Six to eight applications would be required to bring the crop to maturity.

"Fields that were not properly inspected or were not controlled in early season under the recommended program have suffered a severe loss of set to fleahoppers," a spokesman said. "It will be pointless to control some of these fields now—since there is little or no cotton on the plants and no possibility of making any before plow-up."

He admitted there are very few ruined fields, but said there were enough to point up the effectiveness of control measures.

Officials toured the Valley this week and reported good crops could come from the fields that used the recommended control measures. But, neglected fields were already ruined, the CPCA said.

Sale of Bonds Shows Increase In Southwest

DALLAS (UPI)—Texas and the Southwest may be leading the country in sales of U. S. Savings Bonds, T. Guy Wood, area manager for the savings bonds program, said Saturday.

Wood said that whereas bond sales in the annual spring drive are down about 3 per cent in the rest of the country, they are up about 5 per cent in the Southwest.

Through April, new bond sales in the drive in Texas' four largest metropolitan counties were — Dallas, $6,350,522; Tarrant, 5,263,964; Harris 6,010,685 and Bexar 5,799,178.

"In the course of the whole year, we will have sales of $22 million in north Texas, including $18 million in Dallas County," Wood said. "We are running a little ahead of our $18 million goal in Dallas County."

Wood said many persons are asking for the new $75 bond that bears a likeness of the late President Kennedy. He said there appears to be better cooperation throughout Texas on bond sales.

In Dallas County, 100 business executives made calls on 1,600 companies to try to bring them into the payroll savings plan.

"Many companies are going back into the payroll savings plan," Wood said. "I think it is because of the convenience to their employees to save under this plan."

He noted that newspapers and radio and television stations through the country have contributed $50 million worth of space and air time to the drive.

Cars Tested at 183 m.p.h. on Public Highway

LONDON (UPI) — Charles Hurlock, business director of a racing car firm, admitted Monday his drivers had been testing new race cars on a British public highway at speeds up to 183 miles an hour.

Hurlock, joint managing directors of A. C. Cars, said "I am unhappy about having to use a public road like this for such tests, but British race tracks can't cope with sustained speeds over 160 miles per hour."

BELCHING POLARIS—The USS Daniel Webster, nuclear submarine, here shown blowing a huge, mushroom-shaped water cloud from its Polaris missile tube, recently shot a long-range Polaris A-3 rocket 1,500 miles. ### Standard of Indiana Marks 75th Corporate Anniversary

By JESSE BOGUE
UPI Financial Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—This week marks the observance of another corporate anniversary, worth noting in the changes that have marked the passage of 75 years since the organization was founded.

They have seen the emergence of the United States economy from a horse-and-buggy era geared to domestic production and consumption to one with power and influence—and competition—spreading around the world.

Flamethrower's Attack Claims Another Life

COLOGNE, Germany (UPI)—A "mad flamethrower's" attack on an elementary school claimed another fatality Monday.

Dorothea Binner, 9, was the first of 28 children seared last Thursday by Walter Siefert to die.

Siefert, 42, called the "mad flamethrower" by police, stabbed two teachers to death with a spear in his onslaught on the Roman Catholic Volkshoven elementary school before swallowing a fatal dose of poison as a police bullet felled him.

Mrs. Anna Longohr, 67, another stabbed and sprayed with fire when she tried to defend her pupils, and 16 children still were in critical condition.

Dr. Herbert Wiefhues, Cologne Hospital's director, said three of the 16 were burned over 80 to 95 per cent of their bodies and were not expected to live.

This particular company is Standard Oil Co. (Indiana), founded on June 18, 1889 at a time when an oil company concentrated mainly on the sales of heating fuel products. Once operating, it handled its distribution, mainly through 11 midwestern states, by horse-drawn tank wagons dispatched from bulk stations.

Like most of the older oil companies, its sources of petroleum were mostly domestic. It found little use for gasoline sales, except for use in stationary engines which could perform farm or mill work, or for gasoline stoves.

In contrast, according to a review article published in "Span," the current issue of the company's quarterly magazine, it now is operating on six continents. The corporate structure long since has changed as much as has the entire marketing picture in the oil industry. It became a separate company in December, 1911, as a result of a Supreme Court ruling which dissolved the then Standard Oil setup.

In 1961, it became completely a parent company for widespread domestic and foreign activities.

Six Killed When Bus Plunges Off Bridge Into Lake

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—A Continental Trailways bus with eight persons on board plunged into Lake Pontchartrain today after a barge ripped a 240-foot hole in the causeway, the world's longest bridge.

Six persons were killed. All six bodies were recovered. One had been trapped inside the bus but divers freed it. One of the dead was a woman.

Three persons were rescued. Two were identified as Ernest Vaughn, 38, Jackson, Miss., the bus driver, and William Cockerman of Baton Rouge, a passenger aboard the bus. The unidentified injured man apparently was from the tug.

A derrick was used to try to raise the bus, and divers went down into the large lake to bring up the bodies.

The Coast Guard said the tug Rebel Jr., was towing a barge which rammed the 24-mile-long causeway. The bus apparently fell through the gaping hole moments later.

The bridge spans the lake from near New Orleans to Covington. The accident happened about nine miles from the New Orleans end.

Police said the weather was clear at the time of the pre-dawn crash.

The bridge was closed to traffic following the accident. Lake Pontchartrain was the site of an Eastern Air Lines jetliner crash last Feb. 25 which took 58 lives.

The bus left New Orleans at 1 a.m., CST. Its first stop was to have been Jackson, Miss.

TAKES JFK NAME
FT. BRAGG, N.C. (UPI)—The U.S. Army's Special Warfare Center here Monday officially became the John F. Kennedy Center for Special Warfare.

Walker's Aide To Testify in JFK Death Quiz

DALLAS (UPI)—Robert A. Surrey, an aide and friend of former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, has been subpoenaed to testify before the Warren Commission investigating the death of President Kennedy.

Surrey's wife said Monday night her husband had been subpoenaed and had left for Washington. She said she did not know what they planned to question him about.

Surrey told reporters on April 10, 1963, the night a sniper fired at Walker through a window of his home, that he had seen two men in a car in the alley behind Walker's home two nights before the shooting.

Accused assassin Lee Harvey Oswald is suspected of firing the bullet at Walker as the former general sat working on his income tax. Police ballistics tests showed the bullet came from a rifle like that owned by Oswald but the tests were not conclusive.

Oswald's widow, Marina, has said her husband told her about shooting at Walker.

Court Spectators Cheer as Killer Gets Death Sentence

NEW YORK (UPI)—Killer Winston Moseley showed not a hint of emotion when he was doomed to the electric chair Monday, but courtroom spectators applauded and cheered when Moseley's death sentence was announced. But the judge reflected similar sentiment when he commended the jury for its "service to justice."

The outrage that was evident in Queens County Supreme Court when a jury announced Moseley's sentence was in marked contrast to the public indifference March 13 when pretty barmaid Kitty Genovese was stalked and slain by Moseley while 38 persons ignored her screams for help. No one even bothered to call the police.

Moseley, 29, a Negro former business machine operator, was found guilty of murder of Miss Genovese last week. The jury reconvened for 45 minutes Monday to fix his sentence. The jurors included four Negroes, one a woman.

Wife of Attorney General Visits Pope

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI today received in a private audience Mrs. Ethel Kennedy, wife of U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, and three of her children, Joseph, Robert and Kathleen.

The Pope presented Mrs. Kennedy with a silver plaque with episodes from the gospels carved on it. To the children he gave a series of postage stamps issued by the Vatican post office to commemorate his historic trip to the Holy Land.

Amarillo Fraud Trial Postponed

AMARILLO (UPI)—The second fraud trial of Robert Earl Clements Sr. has been postponed indefinitely because of his health.

Clements, a co-founder of the depression era Townsend pension plan, was to have been tried Monday on charges of selling his Amarillo manufacturing firm with the knowledge the deal was fraudulent.

He sold his Superior Manufacturing Co. to Harold Orr, Coleman McSpadden and Ruel Alexander, all later sentenced to prison for fraud growing out of the Billie Sol Estes scandal. The three Estes Associates were convicted of conspiring with Estes to get mortgages on fertilizer tanks which never existed.

Orr died earlier this year in his exhaust-filled garage. The death was ruled an accident.

Clements was convicted at his first trial last year and sentenced to two years in prison but the conviction was reversed by an appeals court.

PASS LEGISLATION

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House passed and sent to the Senate Monday legislation allowing persons charged with petty offenses in national forests and national grasslands to be tried by U.S. commissioners.

At present those committing such offenses as litterbugging, reckless skiing and improper parking had to be tried before full-fledged U.S. district court judges.

Witness Describes Horrors Of Nazi Gas Chamber Death

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI)—A survivor told a war crimes court today how Adolf Eichmann's Gestapo men started Jews off on the road to Nazi gas chambers.

Emil Propper was testifying at the trial of former Eichmann aides Hermann Krume and Otto Hunsche.

"I watched the horror from a window. The Gestapo dragged out Jews with a brutal, animal fierceness," said Propper, telling what happened July 19, 1944, at the Kistarza concentration camp in Hungary.

"I was in the camp yard. Suddenly 25 or 30 Gestapo men rushed and stormed the Jewish barracks. The Hungarian commandant saved me.

"He yanked me into another building. I saw the Gestapo men throw about 1,500 Jews onto trucks. One Jewish woman committed suicide right there.

"They grabbed an old man who had both legs cut off. They grabbed him from his wheel chair. They threw him on a truck like a brick.

"Then the Gestapo trucks rolled off. I never saw those people again."

Propper, now a Haifa businessman, was a teen-age inmate of the Kistarza camp.

Colts Rip Cards White Sox First

By MILTON RICHMAN UPI Sports Writer

The first thing you have to understand about big, good-natured Walt Bond is that he'll probably never win the most valuable player award.

Nor is he the most likely candidate to win a batting title, but he'd probably win hands down if the Houston Colts ever decided to conduct a contest for the best-liked player in their club.

Need a favor? Ask Bond. If there's a tough job to be done with no glory attached, ask Bond. He's the kind who does things like that gladly.

"I may not be a Mickey Mantle out there in the outfield," he concedes, "but I'm not going to embarrass anybody."

Bond isn't exactly another Mantle at the plate, either, as you can tell by one quick look at his .251 average although he has a knack for coming up with timely base hits.

Like Monday night, for example, when he drove in four runs with a two-run single in the sixth inning and another two-run single in the seventh to help the Colts come from behind to beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 9-3.

Hobbie Knocked Out

Until the sixth inning Monday night, Cardinal starter Glen Hobbie had held the Colts to one hit. Thanks largely to Bond however, and Bob Aspromonte, who hit his fourth home run in the past seven days, Houston knocked Hobbie with a four-run burst in the sixth and then added four more runs in the seventh off southpaw Jack Spring, obtained from the Cubs earlier in the day as part of a six-man deal.

Jim Owens, Houston's third pitcher, held the Cardinals hitless over the last three innings for his second victory.

Only one other game was played in the National League, with the San Francisco Giants defeating the Cincinnati Reds, 6-5, to move within eight percentage points of the idle first place Phillies.

The Chicago White Sox bounced back into first place in the American League with a 9-1 triumph over the Baltimore Orioles, while the Washington Senators downed the Los Angeles Angels, 3-2. Rain washed out the Minnesota-Cleveland contest only other game scheduled.

Rookie third baseman Jim Ray Hart, whose error in the top of the ninth enabled the Reds to tie the score at 5-5, atoned by singling home the winning run for the Giants in the bottom of the frame.

O'Dell Gets Win

Hart connected off Ryne Duran, who had taken over after loser Bill Henry (1-1) had walked two men. Billy O'Dell (2-1) was the winner. Deron Johnson hit his sixth homer for Cincinnati.

The White Sox snapped their six-game losing streak by scoring seven runs in the first inning off Oriole pitchers Robin Roberts (4-4) and Harvey Haddix. Pete Ward, Al Weis and Jimmy McNetertney each drove in two runs during the rally. Haddix went on to strike out 11 men over the final 8 2-3 innings but it was too late.

Rookie Fred Talbot went the first three innings for the White Sox but was forced from the game when a smash off Gino Cimoli's bat struck him on the left leg. Eddie Fisher held the Orioles to five hits thereafter for his third victory against one defeat.

Don Rudolph registered his first win for Washington since being brought back from the minors although he needed Ronnie Kline's help after Joe Adcock homered for the Angels with two out in the ninth.

The Senators broke a 1-1 tie in the seventh when they scored two runs off loser Dean Chance (4-3) on a walk, Dick Phillips' double and Ed Brinkman's single. John Kennedy's fifth homer in the sixth gave Washington its first run.

Manager Tom Glover said he would change his usual pattern of using two pitchers per game. If Clark can go nine innings, he will stay in.

Glover said he would start Larry Gregory behind the plate and possibly Claude Middleton at third instead of Keith Gregory. Jerry Glover will be at first, Merle Terrill at second, Wallace Mathew at short stop, and Royce Harnsberger, Mike Stewart and Ray Dean in the outfield.

Amarillo has a lineup studded with college players and ex-pros.

Dean Reding and Danny Gray, who played with Jerry Glover at Amarillo College, Cagle Davis of Texas Tech and Bill Defoe of TCU are the collegians. Ronnie Covington and Jimmy Weston were formerly in the Kansas City chain.

The Colts looked impressive in running up a 6-0 lead on Stinnett Saturday night before rain canceled the game. Keith Gregory hit a pitch over the left field fence with one on and Glover struck out seven men in four hitless innings.

GIRLS SOFTBALL

Lefors scored in the bottom of the seventh to squeak past the Pampa Teenagers 10-9 in Lefors last night.

The Pampanos looked as if they would put the game out of reach with the long ball in the middle innings, but the hitting slacked off and Lefors was able to catch up. Janet Jones slammed a pitch over the left center field fence with one on.

Short stop Cheryl Porter and catcher Gerry Saum were taken out of action by injuries during the game. Porter was hurt when she and a base runner collided early in the game. Saum was hit in the head with a bat in the last inning.

La Mona Hendricks went all the way on the mound. Queens Play

The Surplus City Queens began defense of their Golden Spread League title tonight at 8 in Hobart St. Park when they play Panhandle. This will be the Queens' only home game this week.

Queen's Fight Results

By United Press International PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Benjamin Briscoe, 149½, Philadelphia, stopped Percy Manning, 150, Philadelphia (8).

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Jimmy Lester, 155, San Francisco, knocked out Andres Herrera, 155, Los Angeles (2).

NIARHOS MANAGES

KANSAS CITY (UPI)—Gus Niarhos, a coach with the Kansas City Athletics since 1962, has been appointed manager of the A's rookie league team at Wytheville, Va., in the Appalachian League.

QUEEN CANDIDATES—Patty Meador is the new leader in the voting for Babe Ruth League Queen this week. Mary Beth Johnson is currently in fourth place behind Debby Roper and Marsha Jewell. Patty is Enco's candidate. Mary Beth represents Kist.

Colts Play Tri-State Tilt Tonight

Mike Clark will start tonight for the Pampa Colts against Amarillo Graham Plow in a Tri-State League game.

The Colts beat Graham 6-3 in their only complete home game this year and lost road games to Borger, Umbarger and Guyman. Amarillo is 1-1 for the league season.

Manager Tom Glover said he would change his usual pattern of using two pitchers per game. If Clark can go nine innings, he will stay in.

Glover said he would start Larry Gregory behind the plate and possibly Claude Middleton at third instead of Keith Gregory. Jerry Glover will be at first, Merle Terrill at second, Wallace Mathew at short stop, and Royce Harnsberger, Mike Stewart and Ray Dean in the outfield.

Cardinals and Cubs Trade Six Players

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Chicago Cubs gambled today that stronger pitching from starter Ernie Broglio and reliever Bobby Shantz would make up for the loss of speedster Lou Brock in right field.

Broglio and Shantz were obtained Monday from St. Louis, along with outfielder Doug Clemens, in return for Brock and two pitchers, left hander Jack Spring and right hander Paul Toth, in the second deal between the clubs in less than two weeks.

Shantz, Cubs head Coach Bob Kennedy said, would get "about 15 minutes" to get ready and then he'll be on the firing line in relief, while Broglio, who has a 3-5 record for the Cards this season with a 3.53 earned run average, will start soon, perhaps in the Cubs' fourth game coming up.

"It depends on when he pitched last," Kennedy said, "but he'll break into the starting rotation right away."

Loss of Brock, who has started in right field in each of the Cubs' 52 games this season, with a .251 batting average, will be solved sometime soon by either Clemens or rookie Billy Ott, who was called up from the Salt Lake City farm team with a .305 batting average.

LITTLE LEAGUE

Your Laundry nipped Ruff 5-4 in an unusual game and McCathern edged Coronado Inn 6-5 in another tight duel in two Northern League games last night.

Your Laundry scored one in the first inning and Ruff did the same in the third. That was all the scoring until the seventh when Ruff led off with three runs and Your Laundry came back with four in the bottom of the frame to pull it out. Mike Summers provided the big blow in the Laundry rally in the seventh with a home run.

Ruff's Louis Brantley and Your Laundry's Rickey Harris pitched standout ball for six innings. They were relieved by winner Sammy Hensley and loser Randy Marsh in the seventh.

Floyd Hatcher gave up four runs to Coronado in the first inning of the other game, then shut them out through the sixth. Rod Porter came on in the seventh, gave up one run, struck out the side and took the win for McCathern. Hatcher struck out 14.

Dickie Bailey started for Coronado Inn and gave up three runs through five innings. Reliever Timmy Jones yielded a run in the sixth and two in the bottom of the seventh to take the loss. Mike Thompson drove in the winning runs with a one-out single.

Jones had two hits for Coronado in three at bats. Porter, Hatcher and Pat Sheppard each hit twice for McCathern.

Tonight it will be Cabot and Duncan at 5:30 and Celanese and ETAL at 7:30 in the Eastern League. Evans and Hoover play the first game and Hardin-Roth and One Bull the second in Park I in Western League action.

GIANTS SIGN JANSEN

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Dale Jansen, son of San Francisco Giants' pitching coach Larry Jansen, signed with the Giants Monday and was assigned to their Twin Falls (Idaho) farm team in the Pioneer (rookie) League.

The 22-year-old Jansen was a right-handed pitcher for the University of Oregon.

Sports Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY UPI Sports Writer
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Julius Boros, who defends the U.S. Open golf championship at Congressional Country Club this week, said today that he would have to be beaten.

The "Moose" said that he won at tough Brookline Country Club last year. And if anybody was going to beat him, it probably would be big Jack Nicklaus.

But Boros intimated that it couldn't be done. Boros, after a hot practice round over the Congressional Country Club course where the action gets underway Thursday, said that the long "monster" requires extra-length driving and good putting.

"Masters 'Monster' Course Boros won on one of the biggest 'monsters' they have played in recent years when he took the Open at Brookline last year. The greens were small, the rough was like barbed wire and they called it the 'old lady' because it was an out-moded course which had been lengthened to modern long-ball requirements.

The lackadaisical Boros said that he was "feeling fine and playing great."

"It may take a score as high as 290, 10 strokes over par, to win this thing," said the icy Hungarian as he appeared in a clinic at Haines Point, where he and players such as Sam Snead, Art Wall, Tony Lema and Billy Casper batted balls toward the Jefferson Memorial in the distance.

Won Playoff
Boros pointed out that he tied last year with a 293, and then shot a 70 against Arnold Palmer and Jacky Cupit to win the playoff.

"They say I did 'it' with a wedge," Boros remembered. "But I did it actually with accurate driving. I believe that here we will have the fairest Open test in years. This one will go to the guy who hits it long and putts well."

Boros contended that he won with his driving last year because he "kept it in play" by steering the ball onto the fairway.

"This is a much more fair golf course," he said. "It's the kind of a course where Nicklaus can tee it up and let it fly because the rough is not too bad. But I feel that I am in the same category."

Olympic Winners Try Again

NEW YORK (UPI)—Four former Olympic champions will be among the 250 hopefuls competing for Olympic berths at the United States track and field trials at Randall's Island, July 3-4.

Included are a pair of 1960 Olympic champions, Al Oerter in the discus and Ralph Boston in the broad jump. In addition, shot putter Parry O'Brien, a gold medalist in the 1952 and 1956 games, and 1956 hammer throw winner Harold Connolly will take part.

Qualifiers for the Olympic trials, the first to be staged in New York since 1936, are being drawn from the armed forces inter-service championships at Quantico, Va., June 5-6; this weekend's NCAA championships at Eugene, Ore., and the national AAU meet at New Brunswick, N. J., June 27-28.

There will be trials in 17 events, with 13 or more competitors in each.

U.H., Pokes Lead NCAA

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (UPI)—Defending champion Oklahoma State and Houston shared the team lead going into today's second round of the NCAA golf championship.

The two leaders had totals of 292 Monday for the first 18 holes, followed by San Jose State with 295 and Southern California with 300.

Belkin, Richey Advance

By United Press International
Former United States junior champion Mike Belkin provided most of the excitement in the London lawn tennis championships Monday, while Americans battled for the remaining spots in next week's Wimbledon tournament at Roehampton.

Belkin, 18, ousted Australian veteran Martin Mulligan, 6-8, 6-1, 6-2. Mulligan was a runner-up at Wimbledon two years ago and although some observers felt he was playing within himself to avoid injury with the Wimbledon around the corner, the victory should help Belkin's confidence considerably.

In other matches in the London tournament, Eugene Scott of St. James, N. Y., advanced when South Africa's Fred McMillan withdrew after dropping the opening set, 6-4; Cliff Richey of Dallas surprised British Davis Cupper Roger Taylor, 1-6, 6-3, 7-5; Frank Trojlor of Coral Gables, Fla., beat Brazil's Ron Barnes, 11-9, 7-5; and Edison Mandarino of Brazil upset Cliff Buchholz, of St. Louis, 6-8, 6-2, 6-1.

In the women's singles, Mrs. Donn Floyd Fales, captain of the Wightman Cup team, defeated England's Vera Roberts, 7-5, 6-0; Justina Bricka of St. Louis downed England's Caroline Yates-Bell, 6-2, 6-4; and Stefanie Defina of Hollywood, Calif., defeated Russia's Anna Ivanova, 6-2, 7-5.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN-EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities. We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Try This To See If You're Socialist

We hope we can make it clear. The great problem of our time centers around private property and the inroads being made against it by government. Ever since the socialist movement began, economic theorists have toyed with the idea that the world would be a better place if people didn't own property privately. Essentially, this is all that Karl Marx was interested in promoting when he launched the communist movement. This is all communism and socialism are interested in accomplishing.

Thus, the major question of our times relates to ownership. The question that is creating the dissent and the uproar can be worded thusly: "Who is to own how much of what?" To extrapolate from this question, we could further ask: "Is the producer or the worker to be allowed to keep what he earns; or is government or some agency of government to decide for him what his money will be spent for and how much of it he may have left?"

If you want to decide just where you fit into this scheme of things, ask yourself this question: "Do I really favor private ownership and private management of property? Or do I believe that there are some people who have too much property and that we would all be better off if these people having so much, were forced to share it with the less fortunate?"

If you really believe in private ownership of property, then you will be able to answer the question without equivocation. But if you don't believe in it, you will vacillate and not be sure.

You will say that you favor private ownership, provided the owner does what he ought to do (in your view) with what he owns. Or you will say that you favor private management of property if (in your view) the owner accepts some kind of social responsibility and is generous to welfare cases, and so on. Or you will find other reasons for making exceptions to the rule, and will favor private property and private management except . . .

Then you are a socialist, at least to some degree. To be a socialist is not the same thing as being a criminal. A socialist is really nothing more than a man or woman who hasn't been fully informed of the real nature of the economic world in which we live.

A communist is nothing more than a socialist in a hurry. And it is the hurry that is apt to turn a communist into a villain for he will stop at nothing to gain his point right now, in the most direct manner.

But the socialist really isn't too far behind the communist. Most socialists, although they would avoid bloodshed, murder, theft and such things in any overt manner, would still employ all of these things in a covert way, via government.

The socialist, whether of liberal or conservative persuasion, will favor taxes to (1) provide for social welfare (liberal) or (2) to provide for market protection and policing (conservative). The difference between the liberal and the conservative is not at the taxing level, but at the spending level. Both sides favor socialist practices in that they oppose the private retention of earnings in favor of what each side views as a "social good." The liberal is willing to tax anyone and everyone in order to provide a welfare state. The conservative is willing to tax anyone and everyone to provide a protectionist state.

But if we are truly American in our heritage of thinking, we do not want to create either a welfare state or a protectionist state, or a state geared to perpetual taxation. Rather, we want a land that is free; a society wherein private ownership of property is viewed as a sacred right of all people.

This in no way militates against either protection or welfare. In a free society, each person is totally at liberty to join with any voluntary group he cares to join for purposes in which each member mutually agrees. A free society is obviously not a coerced society. And the earmark of a free society is the accepted premise that each man has a right to own any and all property that he can honestly acquire.

In a free society, both welfare and protection, as services, can thrive and, indeed, will for both of these things are humanly necessary. But to establish a system wherein everyone in society can be systematically looted in order to provide services some may not want, is to descend into socialism.

This is the problem of our time. Are we willing to accept and to help maintain a society of voluntarism, as is set forth in our Declaration of Independence? Or do we favor either the right or the left brand of socialism and demand that only the government can manage the property of all?

Appeal to VP of Nonproduction

There is a mounting suspicion among customers that no well-regulated manufacturing concern would be caught dead without a vice president in charge of nonproduction of items the customer likes.

You buy a potato peeler. It works like a charm. Eventually it wears out—mainly because you use it so much.

You go to the store to buy a replacement. There is none. "They don't make it any more," the clerk tells you triumphantly.

"Why not?" "Don't know. They just don't make it. We used to sell a lot of 'em. But they don't make it any more."

So you settle for a substitute that is like replacing Mickey Mantle with a Little Leaguer. It happens again and again. Every time you find something special—something you can't live without—you stop making it. It occurs too often and too consistently to just happen.

Please, Mr. Manufacturer, keep on making things the people want—even if it pleases the customer.

We have so few things to make us happy these troublous days. Is this too much to ask?

Hundreds of Food Poisoning Incidents in Washington Peril Visitors; Food Handling, Sanitation Criticized

WASHINGTON — If you are planning to visit the nation's capital, bring your own kitchen and cook — or if that is too expensive, be very selective where you eat.

There is a good health reason for taking this timely precaution.

One of the most tightly guarded secrets in this tourist mecca is the wave of "food-borne illness" striking down visitors and convention-goers during their stay in the city.

While local Public Health authorities are feverishly working backstage to stamp out this growing health menace, they are saying nothing publicly about the hundreds of food poisoning incidents here, including a number involving large groups of visitors.

A suppressed report by John R. Pate, chief of the Bureau of Communicable Disease Control, highlights an unpublished incident where "nearly 100 members" of a national association "became ill after dining on a menu of seafood, capons a la king, roast beef and ham" at one of the city's most plush hotels.

Another 90 persons were stricken after a dinner of fried chicken at a banquet held in a downtown hotel in honor of one of President Johnson's White House aides.

In these incidents, Pate's epidemiologists found that the poisoning resulted from "food prepared by unclean food handlers under unsanitary conditions."

At one hotel, their inspection disclosed that "10 of the 27 food handlers had hemolytic staphylococcus coagulase positive cultures in their noses and throats."

Investigation of the kitchen of the other hotel turned up "conditions not in accordance with accepted health practices and which would cause food-borne illness."

"In addition to the unclean conditions of the hotel's physical plant," the report states, "the food counter surfaces of the equipment were not being maintained in a clean and sanitary manner."

LOOKING AROUND — According to the report, other unsanitary conditions unearthed in Washington eating establishments where food poisoning occurred include:

—The dishwashing facilities were not being properly operated in that they were utilized beyond their capacity. Operators gave little care to the cleaning of dishes, resulting in dirty dishes being returned to the public for use.

—The preparation of readily perishable and potentially hazardous foods is taking place well in advance of serving time.

—Pots and pans were being washed in cold water and without the proper amount of detergent.

—Foods were handled unnecessarily during preparation and service.

Around the World

By Robert Morris

Those Glories of World War II D-Day plus twenty years have come and gone. Again, we have been regaled with rhapsodic praise of the launching of the campaign that brought the "crusade in Europe" to a happy ending.

All kinds of chronicles of World War II are being turned out by our historians and textbook writers, all designed to make a whole generation of Americans believe that that sanguinary holocaust was something that it was not.

I note that many of my contemporaries now ignore an elemental fact of that war: that Stalin and Hitler jointly started the war, that both the Russians and the Germans invaded Poland, according to agreed plan, and that some of the cruelest deceptions of these days were the work of the Communists.

The Ribbentrop-Molotov pact was announced to a shocked world on 23 August 1939. This pact signaled the start of World War II. Thereafter, Hitler and Stalin invaded Poland in concert. Within four months, Eastern Poland was incorporated into the USSR and its people enslaved. Today, maps do not reflect that this area was ever Polish.

The Soviet Union then went on to carve out a Communist Poland. It did not even have Polish Communists to head up the new government. The Ukrainian novelist Alexander Korneichuk had a Polish wife whose maiden name was Wanda Wasilewska. She was recruited to head up the "union of Polish Patriots" which later became the Lublin Government.

Later, Stalin deliberately destroyed the Polish Home Army that was holed up in Warsaw waiting for the Soviet Army to liberate that Nazi-occupied city. On 30 July 1944, the Soviet-controlled Kosciuszko Radio signaled the Polish underground to become ready to rise up. Stalin told Polish Premier Mikolajczyk that his army would occupy Warsaw on August 6. The uprising was accordingly directed.

The Poles fought valiantly until October 2. The SS divisions were too much for them. The Soviet move was not forthcoming. Stalin would not even allow the Allies to drop supplies. He cruelly and deceitfully caused the whole Polish resistance movement to be wiped out, preparatory to his seizure of their country.

Then, the Communists moved against Germany. To "compensate" Poland, Stalin assigned Silesia, Pomerania, West Prussia and part of East Prussia and other ancient German lands to the new Polish Communist State. He then created the artificial Oder-Neisse line, which simply divides slaves according to slave-masters.

The Soviet Premier then formed a Free German Committee which later became what is East Germany today, but which the Germans call Middle

A Toronto businessman, who owns 28 appliance stores, let his beard grow and put on his shabby clothes to conduct a personal experiment. He roamed the downtown streets asking people for a quarter to get a shave and a shoeshine for a job interview. He said 10 persons ignored him; women fled when he approached them, and only an unemployed shipping clerk heeded his request. All of which proved to him that when you look like a bum, people think you are one.

Today's smile: A Sunday School teacher asked her class: "Who can tell me anything about Ruth?" Little Johnnie popped up with: "Well, he was a baseball player who made sixty home runs in one season."

Reading about mountain climbers scaling the 1000-foot Eiffel Tower in Paris for the benefit of TV cameras recalled that Pierre Labric, a French sports writer, rode his bicycle down the 347 steps that lead to the first platform in 1963. It was a dull day and he needed a good story for his paper. He accomplished the feat in 3 minutes, 17 seconds, and survived, but his bicycle was a twisted wreck.

Viewers in 57 foreign countries are now watching the exploits of Ben Casey, television's most widely-known characterization of a physician. No other American TV series is seen in as many countries. . . Much of the medical research today is being conducted in conjunction with the Veterans Administration. At last count, upwards of 70 separate projects were being studied at VA facilities by 3200 professional persons, assisted by 1100 technicians. Some of the nation's great names in medicine are involved.

Thoughts while shaving: Among the top spenders in lobbying bills through Congress last year were the United Federation of Postal Clerks, who spent $155,660 in an effort to influence legislation. The AFL-CIO was a poor second with only $101,837, and far back in third place was the National Farmers Union with a meagre $93,000. . . There's so much nationwide interest in horses these days that the AFL-CIO Horse-shoers Union, which has a current total of 290 members, is running a membership campaign. And the University of Nevada says the demand for farriers is so great in that State the university has set up horseshoeing classes in half a dozen cities and towns. . . The oldest formally written language is Sumerian, dating back to at least 3500 B.C. No many scholars today have even studied it, and most folk never heard of it. Yet, it was the language of millions of inhabitants of the Tigris-Euphrates valley in Asia Minor, who developed the first civilization. Instead of an alpha-

Germany. (The Germans call the land wrested by Stalin for Poland, East Germany.) Then, there were the Katyn massacres of Polish officers, the cruel annexation of Lithuania, Estonia, and Latvia. The litany of cruelties and deception is long, bloody and inhuman. It should be part of history, but you will never learn it from the textbooks.

Once in a while some of the valiant expatriates manage to tell their story. Courageous people keep insisting, over State Department annoyance, that we observe "Captive Nations Week." These people must be encouraged if justice is to remain our goal.

Completely antithetical to this cause is the Rostow Memorandum which has been setting policy for our State Department. Walt W. Rostow is the Chief Policy Planner of the State Department. One of the great issues of 1964 should be the conflict between cause of the captive peoples and their cruel regimes. Our State Department is today championing the regimes, not the people.

dertakes to prescribe to a business the complexion of the personnel that it hires.

The event was the signing of an agreement between California's giant Bank of America and the State Fair Employment Practice Commission (FEPC).

Among other things, this agreement puts the bank under obligation to communicate its personnel needs to churches. It was signed by Bank Chairman Jesse W. Tapp and by FEPC Chairman Mrs. Carmen H. Warschaw.

Under the subheading of "Recruiting," the accord binds the bank to utilize the services of the "minority specialists in the various California State Employment Service offices." The reference to churches comes in the next paragraph. It states as follows:

"The bank will expand its efforts to make its policies and personnel needs known to churches, school principals, teachers, counselors, and to other organizations, agencies and individuals which may provide communication or access to prospective minority applicants. Minority employees will be encouraged to refer qualified friends and relatives.

Now compare the provision within the bank-FEPC agreement with a section of the pending civil wrongs bill which prohibits an employer from hiring a member of his own church.

Sec. 704 (a) (1) of the bill now before the U.S. Senate provides:

"It shall be an unlawful employment practice for an employer to fail or refuse to hire or to discharge any individual, or otherwise to discriminate against any individual with respect to his compensation, terms, conditions, or privileges of employment, because of such individual's race, color, religion, sex, or national origin . . ."

In other words the FEPC and the bank are entered into an agreement which commands a religious consideration that pending national legislation forbids.

Of course the pending civil wrongs bill isn't the law of the land yet, though the administration is pressing vigorously and thus far successfully toward enactment.

But the big impact of the state and Federal dictation in this area will be felt as much by employed as by employers. What will happen for instance, to the existing seniority systems as they are remodeled to square with new legislation and with side agreements?

More particularly what will happen to present employees as bet they wrote cuneiforms, wedge-shaped characters placed at various angles and in groups from two to thirty. . . And speaking of languages, consider the accomplishments of Cardinal Mezzofanti (1774-1849), Vatican librarian, who could translate 114 languages and 72 dialects and spoke 60 languages fluently. He holds the all-time world record as alinguist. . . Headline in the Sioux City (Iowa) JOURNAL: "Woodbury County Has 7 Seats Up for Grabs."

Country Editor speaking: "A mother's patience is like a tube of toothpaste — there's always some left."

they are displaced for racial consideration after having built up years of seniority?

What will happen inside labor unions as dues-paying workers are bumped to lower jobs to make the company's employment pattern conform to some formula in the mind of a staff member of the state or national FEPC?

In 1838, former President John Quincy Adams began his three-week speech in the House against the annexation of Texas.

In 1916, the Democratic convention at St. Louis, Mo., voted to renominate President Woodrow Wilson for a second term.

In 1932, President Herbert Hoover was renominated for a second term by delegates of the Republican convention.

Churches Having Problems With Housing Projects for Elderly

By JOHN PIERSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Council of the Episcopal Church is trying to decide whether to go deeper into the business of advising its local parishes about retirement housing.

Attorney Asks Court Call Off Hearing for Ruby

DALLAS (UPI) — Jack Ruby's new head defense attorney said today that he will ask Judge Joe B. Brown to call off a Friday hearing intended to determine whether Ruby needs a sanity trial.

"After conferring with other defense attorneys, we have decided a sanity hearing should not be held at this stage in the case, although we strongly believe that Ruby is insane," Clayton Fowler, the lawyer said. "It would serve no purpose to proceed with a sanity hearing at this stage of the appeal."

Judge Brown was expected to go along with any request to call off the show cause hearing scheduled Friday. Brown said, however, he has not yet received a request.

U.S. TRAVELERS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. residents are expected to spend upwards of $3.5 billion this year on trips abroad, according to the Commerce Department.

The department reported Sunday night that Americans spent $3.2 billion on foreign travel last year. Of this, about $2.7 billion went to foreign countries and about $500 million to U.S. airlines and shipping lines.

Under consideration is a plan for offering not only advice but also seed money to help local churches get started.

The National Council already has a Ministry to the Aging Department, but some church leaders are wondering if this office shouldn't do a lot more in the field of housing for the elderly than it's done to date. Recently two parishes were taken by the hand by their builders and got themselves obligated well beyond their resources.

Some members of the Council think this could have been avoided if the two local churches had called on the national office for expert help before they began.

This concern is coming to be shared more and more by other national church groups. At an Interfaith Conference on Housing for Senior Citizens here in April, many clerical and lay leaders indicated they're going to pay much closer attention to what their local churches are up to. They made plans to exchange information among the national offices of the different faiths and they asked federal housing officials to let them know whenever a local church applies for help in building retirement housing.

The federal government has two programs of particular interest to churches—direct loans and mortgage insurance.

Under the direct-loan program, the government makes low-interest, long-term loans to groups that want to build rental housing for the elderly. This housing is for people in the "income squeeze" bracket, that is, those who are making too much to qualify for public housing but too little to get into the regular market.

At the start of this year, funds had been reserved for more than 14,000 units in 129 different projects costing almost $160 million. About half these projects were being sponsored by churches.

Under the second federal program—mortgage insurance for rental housing—the government guarantee permits groups to borrow money at 5% per cent, which is usually less than they'd have to pay without this backing. The mortgages run for as long as 40 years.

At the beginning of 1964, the government was committed to insure mortgages on 242 housing projects for the elderly containing over 35,000 units at a cost of $410 million. A little more than half of these were church-sponsored.

Officials say these impressive figures should not obscure the fact that a lot of churches are building retirement housing without any financial help from the government.

But whether their financing is public or private, all churches face the same problems when they decide to build.

Said one federal official: "The local groups have a lot of enthusiasm but also a lack of sophistication." The other major problem is where they can get the money they need to start. Even before ground is broken there's plenty of work to be done.

The Episcopal Church is wrestling with these problems and other national church groups show signs of doing the same.
