Gemini Spacemen Whizz Through First 24 Hours

Astronauts Keeping Steady Eye on Fuel

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI) — Astronaut twins James McDivitt and Edward White, keeping a sharp eye on the gas gauge and a growing collection of trash, whizzed through their first full day in orbit and set their sights on a U.S. space endurance record.

Ground controllers told pilot McDivitt and his spacewalking co-pilot to go easy on the fuel, and cancelled a pair of orbital changes that would have drastically reduced the supply.

As Gemini-4 soared across the northwest coast of Africa and finished its first 24 hours in space at 9:16 a.m. CST, project chiefs assured the rookie pilots their orbit—101 to 179 miles above earth—was enough to keep them aloft a full 97 hours and 49 minutes. A fuel supply depleted by a futile chase after another satellite, clouds of "paper and stuff" that began to fill the cabin, and continued problems with communications headed a lengthening list of minor troubles plaguing the mission one-fourth of the way to its goal.

All's A-Okay With Families Of Astronauts

SEABROOK, Tex. (UPI) — Things could not have gone better Thursday for the Whites and the McDivitts.

The families breadwinners were soaring in space, doing the job they had dreamed of doing, and the Hawks and the Dodgers both won close ball games.

The Hawks and the Dodgers are Little League baseball teams, and they employ the services of two of the most famous ballplayers in Seabrook—11-year-old Ed White and eight-year-old Mike McDivitt.

The wives of astronauts Edward H. White and Jim McDivitt were perhaps the happiest because they knew their husbands were doing exactly what they wanted to do.

"I'm thrilled to death. It's a moment we've been waiting for. There is no describing the way I feel," said Pat White. During the highlight of the flight, when White stepped out into space for a 20-minute jaunt as a human satellite, Pat McDivitt said she could not restrain herself.

"You should have heard us," she said. "We were all laughing and so were they (the astronauts)."

Both wives made the short trip to the Manned Spacecraft Center. They were not allowed in the control room, but they watched control operations through a glass panel.

That was enough for Mrs. White. She said she would bring her children back today so they could share the thrill.

The younger Whites and McDivitts spent most of the morning watching television, but as the afternoon wore on, they tired and turned their thoughts to other things.

Soviets Planning to Try Space Rendezvous This Year

MOSCOW (UPI) — Western observers said today that Soviet space experts, upstaged by America's Gemini 4 achievement, hope to recoup later this year by trying an unprecedented orbital rendezvous.

Russians did not find out Thursday that American astronaut Edward White overshadowed previous Soviet feats by taking a 20-minute "walk" in space and maneuvering around with the help of a "space gun."

Soviet news media did not report White's achievement Thursday. Russians learned of his 25-minute walk in space only today in broadcasts by Moscow Radio and a report from New York in the newspaper Pravda.

But Westerners in Moscow believed that the Russians, who sent up the first sputnik more than seven years ago, planned to score in space again later this year—possibly in the fall.

They said the Russians, who usually practice for manned flights with unmanned space vehicles, will blast off two unmanned capsules and attempt to link them in orbit through electronic impulses from the ground.

American scientists had hoped Gemini 4 would rendezvous with its Titan 2 rocket Thursday.

But this plan was abandoned shortly after launch, leaving the field clear for the Russians to try to be first in a technique considered vital for the construction of space stations.

If the unmanned rendezvous succeeds the Russians probably will try a manned link-up, the observers said.

White Paves Way For Future Space 'Walks'

By JOSEPH L. MYLER

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Some day a huge observatory or military outpost assembled in orbit above the earth may be christened "The Edward H. White II Station."

The name would not be inappropriate, Ed White Thursday performed a pioneering experiment. From it eventually will flow sophisticated techniques for exploiting space and even populating parts of it.

By pushing himself around outside the Gemini-4 spacecraft with a primitive gas jet device White became history's first self-propelled spaceman. Later Gemini pilots with more efficient propulsion packs will go through the motions of using tools while floating in space.

They will be the forerunners of a new breed of Americans—the space explorers.

Before men colonize the moon or Mars or build floating cities in space, other men must perfect the art of erecting large objects from little ones in the vacuum of space.

By proving that a man not only can survive but also move around at will, in such a hostile environment Ed White contributed his bit to the future.

Gemini-4 also was supposed to make a close approach to the tumbling second stage of its Titan-2 rocket booster to establish the feasibility of mating spacecraft in orbit. Command pilot Jim McDivitt abandoned this attempt when he found that he was using up the fuel of his maneuvering jets at too rapid a rate.

Space officials were disappointed—but hardly surprised. Neither Gemini-4 nor the Titan-2 second stage were equipped for easy rendezvous.

Future flights will have more going for them than Thursday's experiment. First, they will be scheduled for only two days. This means that they can use their fuel load to achieve a rendezvous rather than saving it for the variety of projects included in the four-day Gemini-4 schedule.

In addition, future rendezvous flights will involve two spacecraft in orbit.

Thundershowers Soak Panhandle

Tornadoes raked the Pampa and Panhandle areas last night, but no damage was reported from at least a dozen twister sightings.

The U.S. Weather Bureau at Amarillo placed the Panhandle under another severe weather forecast this morning for the third straight day. The Weather Bureau warned of a few severe thunderstorms with hail, locally damaging winds and the possibility of an isolated tornado from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m.

The area covered was 100 miles wide from 40 miles southwest of Midland to 50 miles northeast of Amarillo.

About 5:30 p.m. yesterday a deputy sheriff near White Deer reported the sighting of a funnel cloud aloft between Pampa and White Deer. The twister did not touch the ground.

Other funnels were sighted around Allison, Wheeler, Briscoe, Stinnett, Clarendon, Dumas, Etter, Cactus, Dalhart, and Memphis. None touched the ground.

Residents in Allison were called out of church when a possible funnel cloud was spotted in the area.

A tornado touched down in farmland four or five miles north of Wellington early today and unroofed five houses and an old school building.

Johnny Cagle, a fireman, said there were no casualties from the storm about 3 a.m. He added that the funnel cloud was sighted over the town but when it finally hit the ground it had passed the city.

The same storm also tore trees out by their roots and

1966 Target Date For Nation's New Coins

WASHINGTON (UPI)—They'll be shiny and they'll jingle and they'll still have heads and tails, but administration officials were confident today that the coins in the nation's pockets will be different by 1966.

Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler was called before the House Banking and Currency Committee today to open the drive for swift approval of President Johnson's plan for dethroning silver as the reigning metal in the nation's coins.

Johnson broke with the tradition of 173 years Thursday when, in a special message to Congress, he asked that silver be eliminated from dimes and quarters and that it be sharply reduced in half-dollars.

He told the lawmakers that silver was becoming almost too scarce to be used for money.

He said the Treasury is fast running out of the precious metal and the nation must have the coins it needs for a wide variety of uses. He was careful to assure Congress that the switchover would not affect the coins buying power.

Under the President's plan, the silver would be replaced with copper and a nickel-copper alloy. The new coins would be about as shiny as present-day nickels, but there would be a copper core showing around the edges.

If Congress goes along—as administration officials believed it would—the new coins would line up like this:

—Pennies and nickels, which contain no silver, would remain the same.

—Dimes and quarters would be three-layered, or sandwich, coins of copper and nickel, specially designed to work alongside the present silver coins in the nation's 12 million vending machines. Other than the copper edge, they would retain their present size and design.

—Half-dollars would still contain silver, but only 40 percent instead of the present 90 percent. A slightly different three-layered construction would make them "nearly indistinguishable" from present 50-cent pieces, Johnson said.

—Silver dollars, or cartwheels, would stay the same but would be minted only if the Treasury felt it had enough silver.

Johnson said the public would start seeing the new coins "sometime in 1966," if Congress acts swiftly. The present silver coins will remain in circulation side by side with the new ones.

—The President spoke over the heads of Communist leaders in the Soviet Union and elsewhere in the world and aimed his words directly at the Russian people:

"... This I would say to the people of the Soviet Union:

There is no American interest in conflict with the Soviet people anywhere. And no true Soviet interest is served by the support of aggression or subversion anywhere.

"We of the United States stand ready always to go with you onto the fields of peace—to plow new furrows, to plant new seed, to tend new growth—so that we and all mankind may someday share together a new and bountiful harvest of happiness and hope on this earth."

It was then that Johnson announced that he had ordered withdrawn the last 2,100 Marines remaining in the Dominican Republic. The departure of the Leathernecks leaves approximately 13,700 U.S. Army paratroopers in Santo Domingo, all under the command of the Organization of American States (OAS) peace force. The United States originally sent a total of 21,800 troops into the country, including 8,000 Marines.

The President's speech at the $100-a-plate dinner had been billed as political. It was not, Johnson said that "there is always a time and place for party talk and I do not believe this is a place for partisanship. What difference does party make when mankind is involved? What matters more to us all is peace in the world."

The Chief Executive, speaking at a Democratic fund-raising dinner in Chicago Thursday night, coupled an unusual direct plea to the Russian people for peace with a dramatic announcement that he was ordering all remaining U.S. Marines out of the Dominican Republic.

He spoke against the background of ominous developments in Viet Nam. Official sources here disclosed the presence of six to eight Soviet Ilyushin-28 jet bombers near Hanoi, the capital of Communist North Viet Nam. The medium bombers, capable of attacking Saigon and U.S. bases to the south, were interpreted in some quarters as a portent of deepening Russian involvement in Viet Nam.

SPACE-WALKER, U.S. STYLE — In-flight conditions were "go" when Major Edward H. White stepped outside his space capsule Thursday to become America's first space walker.

U.S. Marines Beat Off Strong Communist Attack

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. Marines today beat off an attempt by 50 Communist guerrillas to encircle a bridge they were guarding near Da Nang. Three Viet Cong were killed and two Marines wounded in the brief but furious fight.

An Army spokesman disclosed that American paratroopers ambushed two groups of Viet Cong near Saigon Thursday, killing five guerrillas in the action near Bien Hoa Airbase where Australian troops took up defense positions today.

Nullifying these two minor victories were reports the Viet Cong staged a series of hit-and-run raids in several areas today. In one of several actions they ambushed a government convoy and killed six men. In another they carried out a terror raid on a police station, killing a 12-year-old boy.

Two Planes Lost
There were no immediate reports of air activities today but a U.S. military spokesman disclosed the loss of two more planes in actions earlier this week. Both pilots were seen alive on the ground but were listed as missing.

The spokesman said a total of three Navy planes were shot down Wednesday. It was announced earlier that two planes were lost with a total of five crewmen. The spokesman said another plane from the carrier Midway was shot down the same day. Search for the pilot was abandoned today.

The Defense Department, meanwhile, identified two Marine officers killed Wednesday when their reconnaissance plane crashed near Da Nang. They were 1st Lt. Richard E. Heister, husband of Mrs. Gloria C. Heister of Grundy, Va., and Capt. Werner E. Lutz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Werner Lutz, 272 De Soto place, Fairview, N.J.

The Communist attack on the Marine-held bridge came at the village of Le My, six miles northwest of Da Nang. The Marines were from G Company of the 2nd Battalion of 3rd Marines.

One of the wounded Marines, Sgt. H.O. Williams of Greenville, Ala. shrugged off a bullet which creased his left arm and personally directed gunfire against a band of about 50 guerrillas who stormed the village of Le My about six miles northwest of Da Nang.

A U.S. military spokesman described the clash as "one of the hottest fights" involving Marine forces since they arrived in South Viet Nam last April 10.

Two waves of Viet Cong staged the assault. One group laid down a barrage of mortar and automatic weapons fire while the other tried to surround the Marines.

The Leathernecks stood their ground and beat back the attack with a determined counter-assault.

Marines Prepare To Leave Santo Domingo for U.S.

SANTO DOMINGO (UPI)—A new inter-American negotiating team sought a solution to the Dominican crisis today. The U.S. Marines remaining here prepared to pack up and go home.

The negotiators — Ellsworth Bunker of the United States, Ilmar Penna Marinho of Brazil and Ramon de Clairmont Duenas of El Salvador—were expected to confer at once with leaders of the rival Dominican factions.

Soon after its arrival here Thursday, the team conferred with Jose A. Mora, secretary general of the Organization of American States, who has spent about two weeks trying to settle the situation here.

The Bunker-Penna-Clairmont party is the second such committee the OAS has sent here. A five-man team which also included Penna gave up the task before Mora tackled it.

The Dominican problem also has been approached by the United Nations and such top U.S. negotiators as McGeorge Bundy and John Bartlow Martin, so far without notable result.

The achievements of negotiation to date have been essentially military—the conclusion of a fairly successful cease-fire and the neutralization of the Dominican "White House."

The OAS also has taken on such practical tasks as the payment of long-overdue wages to Dominican government workers and the collection of garbage that had accumulated for weeks in the bullet-scarred streets of old Santo Domingo.

No effective progress has been made toward settlement of the basic conflict between Maj. Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera's junta regime, which controls most of the Dominican Republic, and Col. Francisco Caamaño Dena's rebels, who hold about two square miles of Santo Domingo.

GOV. CONNALLY'S BROTHER IN RUNNING

Three Bid for Chairmanship

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (UPI)—The names of three men cropped up today in speculation for chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee as party officials gathered here for the regular SDEC quarterly meeting.

Most observers felt one of three men—Merrill Connally, Will Davis or former McAllen congressman Joe Kilgore—will be named to replace outgoing SDEC chairman Marvin Watson of Daingerfield.

Watson is resigning from the high state party office because he was named to President Johnson's White House staff several months ago.

Merrill Connally, Gov. John Connally's older brother, has been a power in behind-the-scenes party operations since the governor took office in January 1962.

Davis, youthful Austin attorney, has served as SDEC secretary well and many party officials feel he deserves a promotion.

Kilgore and Connally have been long-time personal and political friends and the former Rio Grande Valley congressman could well have the inside track on the party office.

Many observers feel that Kilgore still has political ambitions, and with the full blessings of Connally. If this is true, then the SDEC chairmanship would be a good place to keep Kilgore in the public eye until he is ready to jump into active politics again.

SDEC gathering here, starting with a dinner tonight at the Trade Winds Motel, will be the first such meeting outside Austin. The regular quarterly sessions always are held in the capital city except when they are held in conjunction with a state convention.

Connally suggested Wichita Falls for the meeting after the 23rd senatorial district here became the first in the state to meet its fund quota at 100 percent.

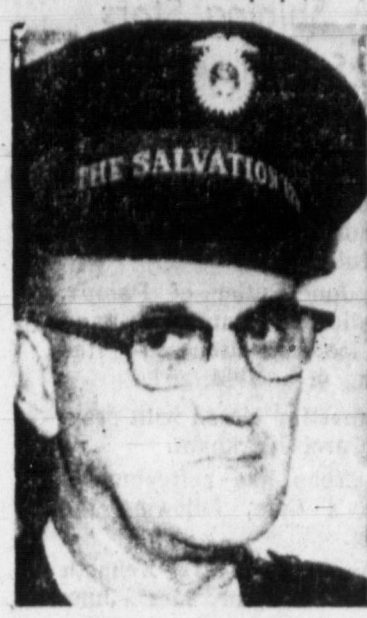

Rhea Howard, Wichita Falls Times and Record-News publisher, is 23rd district committeeman and will host the meeting.

House Speaker Ben Barnes is scheduled to address the Saturday morning session and report on accomplishments of the 59th Legislature, which finished its work last Monday.

ENVOY SEAGO ... to retire

Envoy H. C. Seago To Retire Sunday

Envoy H. C. Seago, head of the Pampa Salvation Army unit for the past 11 years, today announced his retirement.

Farewell services will be conducted at the Salvation Army headquarters Sunday morning by Maj. Kenneth Johnson of Dallas.

An open house honoring Envoy and Mrs. Seago will be held at the Salvation Army, 613 E. Albert, from 3 to 5 p.m. Sunday. The affair will be open to the public.

Envoy Seago and his wife will be replaced in Pampa by Lt. and Mrs. Robert Tritton of Houston.

Lt. Tritton is scheduled to take over his duties here next Wednesday.

Envoy Seago said he plans to make his home in Pampa and will devote much of his time to evangelistic work throughout the South.

About 11:15 p.m. the U.S. Weather Bureau at Amarillo notified the Pampa Police Department that a funnel cloud was located between Pampa and Skellytown. However, it did not touch the ground.

The tornado at Stinnett hit the ground for about 60 seconds, but returned to the sky without doing any damage.

Pampa recorded about one inch of rain during the storm. Approximately three inches of moisture was measured at Wheeler and Kelton received one and one-half inches.

Other rainfall amounts were 4 at Lefors, 1.45 at McLean, Skellytown received one-half of an inch and White Deer measured 1 1/2 inches. Miami caught 1 1/2 inches.

Matson Receives Recognition in House Resolution

A resolution officially recognizing the athletic achievements of Pampa's Randy Matson for his record-setting performances in the shot put and discus was adopted in the waning days of the 59th Texas Legislature which adjourned last Monday.

Rep. Grainger McIlhenny of Wheeler introduced the resolution which was unanimously adopted by the House of Representatives.

The resolution said in part: "The House commends and congratulates James Randle (Randy) Matson upon his record-setting performances which have won distinction and fame not only for him but also for his hometown of Pampa, for Texas A&M University and for the entire state."

A copy of the resolution was sent to Matson, stating "we wish him success in all his future endeavors as he continues to set new records and to reflect credit and honor on his family, his hometown and his university."

Applicants Sent Copies of TV Cable Ordinance

City Manager Jim White said today six applicants for a TV cable franchise in Pampa have been sent copies of the city's proposed ordinance covering the subject.

The city manager said the applicants have been asked to study the ordinance and stated officials are ready to confer with them and answer any questions.

The cable franchise, if granted, would permit installation of equipment to pick up television pictures of major stations and increase clarity as well as provide other services such as weather, time and eventually locally produced programs.

Representatives of one applicant conferred with the city manager today.

Gemini

tronsats probably would not make a pair of fuel-consuming orbital changes that had been planned for early Saturday and again early Sunday. A space agency spokesman said the reason was that "they already have a good enough orbit."

Nevertheless, ground stations were keeping tabs on a tight problem created when McDivitt used more control-jet fuel than expected Thursday when he unsuccessfully chased another satellite—the Titan-2 second stage booster that put him in orbit—in America's first attempt at a "rendezvous" in space.

Houston control, after making sure "we had enough fuel left" for any vital maneuvers, ordered McDivitt and White to "do as much of the experiments as you can without using fuel."

The most important "gas" item ahead was a scheduled attempt to lower Gemini-4 into a "fail-safe" orbit just before landing Monday.

When the maneuver is finished, the capsule should be close enough to earth to re-enter with the help of atmospheric friction in case the reverse rockets fail.

craft, each with its own independent propulsion. Officials are confident that two space pilots, each able to control his craft, will have more chance of "mating" in space than McDivitt, who was pursuing a tumbling rocket casing with no control of its own.

Rendezvous and docking are indispensable to lunar landing flights scheduled for late in this decade and early in the next. Thursday's rendezvous fizzle means merely, one high space authority said, that "we will have to try again and keep trying until we succeed."

What he meant was that Gemini-4, planned for 62 orbits over a period of 97 hours and 10 minutes, was not the best one in which to attempt maneuvers calling for large expenditure of on-board rocket fuel.

Rogers, Udall Talk on Oil Import Program

In a meeting Thursday with Secretary of the Interior, Stewart Udall, Congressman Walter Rogers and other house members from oil producing states, discussed the possibility of a roll back and the tightening up of the nation's oil import control program.

Congressman Rogers said Secretary Udall had informed the group that no final conclusions had been reached on the order due July 1 establishing import levels. Congressman Rogers said the house members "placed strictest emphasis upon the plight of the independent producers and the urgent need for improvement in the program."

In addition to Rogers, other house members who met with Udall were Congressmen George Mahon, Omar Burleson, Richard White and Joe Pool, all of Texas; Congressmen Ed Edmondson, John Jarman, Jed Johnson and Tom Steed, all of Okla.; Congressman E. S. (Johnny) Walker of New Mexico and Congressman George T. Senner, Arizona.

Congressman Rogers said the meeting was first of several the group plans to have with officials of the administration, in regard to oil import problems.

Firemen Answer Two Pampa Calls

The Pampa Fire Department answered two fire calls last night and early this morning. A kitchen stove hood at the Court House Cafe caught fire about 7:18 p.m. yesterday. Firemen quickly extinguished the small blaze with only light damage occurring.

At 12:40 a.m. today, a mattress and box spring at the home of W. C. Bass, 1812 Chestnut, caught fire. Damage was termed as light to the mattress and springs.

CORRECTION

The News yesterday inadvertently listed the charge filed against James M. Clark as driving while intoxicated when it should have been driving while license suspended. Clark paid a fine of $50 and costs instead of $25 and costs.

Miami Festival Set Saturday

MIAMI (Sp) — Cow callers and home folk from across the Panhandle will gather in Miami Saturday for registration of the 17th annual Cow Calling Picnic.

Registration will get underway at 9 a.m. Saturday in the Roberts County Park, one block east of the county courthouse. The event is expected to draw several hundred residents, former residents and visitors. Rain will force the activities inside to the Roberts County Barn.

The National Cow Calling contest will begin at 2 p.m. following a noon picnic. Competition will be in four divisions, men, women, teenage boys and girls. Prizes will be presented winners in each division.

A "Miss Cow Caller" will be selected from among 26 area girls.

A barn dance, to be held in the county barn will complete the events.

Burglary Charges Filed Against Pair

Burglary charges were filed against two Pampa men late yesterday, who were accused of stealing a suitcase from a residents home.

Placed under $1,200 bond were Arlie R. Thompson, 22, of 607 Gordon and Walter E. Sanders, 20, of 728 W. Francis.

The pair gave city police officers a signed statement admitting entering the home of Billy R. Black, 640 N. Roberts between April 1, and 18 and taking a suitcase filled with clothing.

Attack

The U.S. Army's 173rd Airborne Brigade gave the Viet Cong a taste of their own medicine, ambushing two groups of guerrillas northeast of Saigon. Five guerrillas were killed in the paratrooper trap.

The action was at least partial revenge for a series of Viet Cong ambushes in the jungles of the Central Highlands this week which have left hundreds of Vietnamese soldiers dead and wounded and claimed the lives of three U.S. military advisers.

Viet Cong forces were on the move again today in several areas of the countryside. Four guerrillas attacked a Vietnamese police station in the north-central province of Thua Thien, killing a 12-year-old boy and wounding a little girl in a terror raid.

Other guerrillas ambushed a small government convoy in Darlac Province about 160 miles northeast of Saigon, killing at least four Vietnamese and wounding eight others. The American adviser accompanying the convoy received a slight hand wound.

APPEARING IN AMARILLO — Miss Patty Hamlett, 22, National Queen of the American Assn. of Sheriffs' Poses and Riding Clubs, is representing that organization in Amarillo today, tomorrow and Sunday at its National Round-Up. Some 300 clubs make up the organization. Miss Hamlett is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barrett Hamlett of Denton, the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Latus, Pampa pioneer, and the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Florence, 1941 N. Nelson. She is a junior at Texas Woman's University, Denton, majoring in western clothing and costume design. She is pictured with her horses, Pat's April, a registered pinto mare, left, which is her parading horse, and Blondie, a champion palomino, right which is her barrel racing horse.

Burglary Nets Thieves $29.50

Theft of $29.50 in change from a small savings bank was reported to Pampa police early today.

The money was taken from the residence of C. M. Barnhill, 1036 Crane. According to police, the Barnhills are on vacation and the break-in was discovered by relatives.

Police said the thieves passed up a diamond necklace, lying on a table in the front room.

Voile Comes Back in Peekaboo Fashion

RETURNS AFTER LONG ABSENCE — Sheer, lightweight voile returns to the fashion scene for summer after a long absence. In its new role it is wilt-resistant and can be drip dried. Beach cover-up by Majestic (left) has new "see-through" transparency, plus quick-drying and pleat-retaining virtues that maintain its pristine look even when worn over a damp swimsuit. Shirt dress with a Victorian air (center) is practical to wear and care for despite the long sleeves and ruffles. It is a Carlette Jr. design. Red, smocking circles the neckline and wrists in the Youth Guild fashion (right), giving free, swinging fullness to denim blue voile. Dacron polyester and cotton are blended to give this voile its easy-care qualities.

NEW YORK (NEA) — Delicate voile once dotted the scene at garden parties and took grandma to church in high-necked, but cool-looking summer modesty. This year it makes a comeback.

It was deliberately chosen this time for its "see-through" or "illusionist" look — a quality Victorian ladies combated with numerous underpinnings.

Today's voile takes its place with net, dotted Swiss, cotton lace and other peek-a-boo fabrics in beach cover-ups and other sportswear. And it also is used to fashion some of the softest, prettiest summer dresses, complete with ruffles and pleats. You can choose an entire wardrobe for a truly carefree summer vacation in the new voile for everything from evening gowns to beach shifts can be washed and drip-dried. Dacron and cotton are blended to make the fabric.

If you like the current trend toward long sleeves for summer, here's your chance to wear them in the comparative comfort of wispy weight.

There are cool colors — greens, smoky grays, ice blue, pale pink and white. And there are dark voiles, too — all slightly transparent.

This old friend in its new guise should have a successful return to the fashion world for it will add comfort and beauty to the summer scene.

Dear Abby....

Poodle's Madame Really Is 'Putting on the Dog'

DEAR ABBY: My French poodle is going to be four years old next Sunday. I would like to give her a surprise birthday party and invite some of her little playmates. Cheri isn't just an ordinary dog. She's an aristocrat and I have the papers to prove it. What should I serve? Have you any cute original ideas for a party of this kind?

CHERI'S MADAME — DEAR MADAME: If you really want to put on the dog, make it black tie. Serve a "birthday cake" made of ground sirloin, and decorate it with crushed dog biscuits. And as for Cheri's "papers" better put them on the floor.

DEAR ABBY: Mine is a tremendously serious problem which faces many women today. I'm sure. I've been married 25 years and have been a good wife and mother. There were always cookies in the cookie jar, freshly done laundry in the drawers, and I've always been home to take care of the children. I've loved every minute of it, but my youngest is now 14, and nobody really needs me any more. I am weary of the home-making routine, and long to take art lessons, and have pretty clothes, new furniture and more things for the children, etc. My husband is a wonderful, kind man who provides adequately for us, but we've never had any little luxuries or trips. I want to go to work. I know I could get a good office job. I'm a college graduate. My husband is against it. He wants me to wait until the youngest is gone. I'll be 50, and who would hire me then? Isn't it unfair of him to expect me to stay home and bake cookies that nobody wants anyhow, and keep on cleaning a house over and over when I could hire someone else to do it for me? With the extra income we could have two children in college comfortably. What do you think, Abby?

RARIN TO GO — DEAR RARIN: Why does your husband object? (This is important.) I think he is wrong if he wants to keep you close to home for only selfish reasons.

BUD'S WIFE — DEAR WIFE: We all have "off days." Your mother-in-law apparently had one. Listen to your husband, dear. He knows his mother better than you do.

CONFIDENTIAL TO D. IN MIDDLEFIELD: Honesty is, and always will be, the best policy. Tell your boy friend that the biggest block to success is his head.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Now you have every sign to get right down to business in handling and attending to the specifics of any work facing you. Do not allow any upsetting conditions to keep you from carrying through with the scheduled tasks that you have in mind and that you should have wisely arranged for yesterday. Work away.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — It all depends on how well you keep promises now far you will advance in the near future. Others cooperate commensurate with such. Complete whatever has been started — begin fresh on the morrow.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Visiting your beautiful or barber early can make this a very successful day and evening. Show courtesy to all with whom you have dealings. Don't be extravagant but do have fun.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — Decisive stand must be taken by you both at home and in outside world and a slightly different attitude is necessary for best results. Know what family truly desires. Try to please them.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) — Extreme care both on the road and in motion everywhere is necessary or there is bound to be trouble. Do not speak if you are not absolutely sure of your subject matter. Be fastidious.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Not a very good day for deliberately giving into one's interests when one more needs competition. Avail a more opportune time. Be diplomatic with persons in business who are somewhat nervous.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21) — In your desire to have a great abundance you may be very fussy with others and thereby gain nothing. Use diplomacy. Later possibly not work is better for reaching important decisions.

LIBRA (Sept. 22 to Oct. 21) — Getting unfinished business completed is best way to spend this day. Don't deviate from your chosen course. Others with unusual troubles ask your aid. Give it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 22 to Nov. 21) — Before you get into some new and untried outlet, be sure you get reaction from your closest and best friends. Pick those who are experienced. Discuss future social events. Enjoyed.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Being sure to control your temper and not start trouble in the outside world is very important today. Don't tell everybody your business, either. Avoid trouble.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — This is a fine free day to look into new interests but not one for starting in a wheel's rolling as yet. You have the confidence of others. Be sure not to violate it.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 18) — Your business are not very good today, so be sure to use only logic and judgment when important matters are concerned. Be loyal, devoted to loved one. Action speaks louder than words.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to Mar. 20) — Many affairs need adjusting where comrades are concerned, but allow them to do most of the talking. None of you are thinking too clearly. Be cautious, take it easy.

This Computer Says 'Learn' It All

By TOM NOLAN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
WASHINGTON (NEA) — It's 8:30 a.m. and the school bell rings and the bright-faced, eager children file to their seats. "It's time for today's lesson, children," says the teacher sweetly, throwing a switch.

Each student turns to a complex array of electronic equipment in front of him and types out his number on a keyboard. The keys click his name back to him, printing it on a roll of 18-inch-wide paper in the carriage.

The lesson begins. First, a brief review. Then new material. Finally, a series of questions to make sure the point is understood.

The student bats out his answer on the keyboard. Almost instantly, he is told whether he was right or wrong.

Children sitting side by side might be taking different courses. The budding young mathematician may be solving quadratic equations. The average student may be working in fractions. The below-average pupil may be learning multiplication tables.

Meanwhile, the teacher circulates around the room, helping the confused, encouraging the slow, cheering the brilliant. Sound fantastic? Of course. But machines of this type are already in use on an experimental basis and scientists predict that within a decade they will be commonplace.

Key to this new educational tool is the computer—specifically, a new line of data processing systems developed by IBM.

Since a computer's reaction time is measured in microseconds (one micro-second is a millionth of one second), the machine can seemingly zip out questions and answers to thousands of students (who may be thousands of miles distant) simultaneously. Since its electronic memory is almost infinite, it could instruct each pupil in a different subject.

Computer-assisted instruction may be the answer to a question which has plagued teachers for years: "How do you give bright students their heads without befuddling the below-average students, and how do you educate the below-average ones without boring the bright ones?"

IBM is currently working with several universities to develop these computerized learning systems further.

To illustrate how it works, IBM offered this reporter a chance to take an elementary computer course called "How to Square Five Digit Numbers Ending in 5." The results follow:

NOLAN: Sign on... No. 5-1962.

COMPUTER: Your name is Thomas Nolan. We are now preparing to help you learn a very quick method of squaring two digit numbers that end in five (such as 35). However, we don't want to bore you by presenting material you already know. Therefore, please answer the following question. Do you already know a quick method of squaring numbers such as 35, without using pencil and paper?

NOLAN: Lots of them.

COMPUTER: Entry error. Please answer with a yes or no.

NOLAN: Yes.

COMPUTER: Good for you. I am glad to hear that you can already perform this operation. However, I'm going to ask you to prove it. Question: The square of 35 is _____.

NOLAN: 35555.

COMPUTER: I'm sorry, but you missed that question. It looks like you could profit from an exposure to this material. Do you know what the successor of a number is?

NOLAN: Yes.

COMPUTER: Good. Let's see you prove it. The successor of 25 is _____.

NOLAN: 24.

COMPUTER: No. The successor of a number is one greater than that number. Your answer is one less than that number. Now answer once more.

NOLAN: 207.

COMPUTER: WOW! You weren't even close with that reply. 24 is the successor of 23. Once more, the successor of 25 is _____.

NOLAN: 27.

COMPUTER: Incorrect. To obtain the successor of a number, add 1 to that number. Do not add 2 as you did. Try answering again.

NOLAN: 23.

COMPUTER: This is the second time you've given me a wild answer. Now try again.

NOLAN: 26.

COMPUTER: Good. The successor of 25 is _____.

NOLAN: 84.

COMPUTER: Oops, you missed that one. The successor of 305 is 306, therefore the successor of 87 is _____.

NOLAN: 306.

COMPUTER: Come on now. The successor of 3 is 4, therefore, the successor of 87 is _____.

NOLAN: 88.

COMPUTER: Very good. To square a two-digit number ending in 5 we can: 1. Multiply the leftmost digit by its successor. 2. Write 25 after the result of step 1. Example: The square of 25 is: 1. 2 times 3 (leftmost times successor) is 6. 2. Write 25 after the product of step 1. Answer is 625. Question: The square of 55 is _____.

NOLAN: (I can do that, but I better "check" my answer). Sign off.

COMPUTER: You are signed off.

NOLAN: (Five minutes later): Sign on... number 51962.

COMPUTER: Your name is Thomas Nolan.

NOLAN: 3025.

COMPUTER: Very good. There is one more question. The square of 35 is _____.

NOLAN: 1225.

COMPUTER: Correct. That's the end of our little program. Thank you for your attention.

IBM TECHNICIAN: Let us check your results, Mr. Nolan. (Types out "data." Computer answers.) Hmm. If you need anything more, we'll be glad to put you through our program for squaring 1 digit numbers ending in 5.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—I spent a couple of pleasant hours this week reverberating around at the 69th meeting of the Acoustical Society of America.

It was both highly educational and a lot of good clean fun as well.

The part of the program I liked best was a paper on "Non-Gaussian Random Signals as a Function of the Coefficients of Skewness and Kurtosis."

I have always had been extremely fond of Skewness and Kurtosis coefficients, particularly when they are cooked over an open fire.

But realizing that not everyone shares this enthusiasm, I decided to devote today's column to the paper presented by George J. Thiessen of the National Research Council of Canada.

Noise Was Subject

Thiessen's subject was noise. Unless you make a habit of wearing earplugs, you undoubtedly have noticed that noise is one of the major problems of modern society. Yet, according to Thiessen, relatively little is being done to control this menace on civilization and sanity.

We hear a lot about air pollution and water pollution, and the measures being taken to control them. But sound pollution has been largely neglected.

Thiessen's now particular field is traffic noise, and in this area we have actually been moving backwards.

The automobiles of 15 years ago ran more quietly than the current models, he pointed out. And there weren't nearly so many of them.

"Unfortunately," Thiessen said, "the public has a somewhat schizophrenic attitude in his field."

Like Both Sides

As homeowners, "they would like to enjoy an evening outdoors in peace and quiet." But as motorists, they like cars that go "varoom!"

Thiessen said that "technology is well ahead of what is actually being done" to reduce traffic noise. Technically, it is even possible to make a power lawnmower run quietly, he said.

And in building highways, he added, the engineers give foremost consideration to such factors as safety, speed and traffic congestion with rarely a thought about the noise level.

Thiessen suggested that one solution might be the erection of sound barriers along main thoroughfares.

As the inhabitant of a neighborhood teeming with motor scooter nitwits, teen-age dragsters, and adult power mower hetrodders, I wish to commend the acoustical society's efforts to reduce the noise that cars make.

And as a parent, I hope the society also will be able to reduce the noise level inside the car.

Andrew Jackson's first official act as president of the U.S. was to buy 20 spittoons for the White House at a price of $12.50.

Species of cotton are found native in all continents except Europe.

TOM MCPeAK

McPeak Receives B.A. At Baylor

Tom McPeak, 505 Zimmers, was among seven hundred 1965 spring graduates of Baylor University. The Baccalaureate service was May 27, 8 p.m. at Seventh and James Baptist Church, Waco, with the sermon by Dr. W.R. White, President Emeritus of Baylor. The commencement was May 28, at the heart of Texas Coliseum, Waco, with the commencement address by President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Mr. McPeak was a 1961 graduate of Pampa High School. While in high school, he was a member of the A Cappella Choir and The Four Flats, a boys' quartet. In 1960 he was in the All State Choir. He was a member of the National Honor Society and The National Thespians Society, and in his senior year, was voted Who's Who in Vocal Music.

At Baylor University Mr. McPeak was member of Baylor A Cappella Choir during his freshman and sophomore years. He was a member of Delta Sigma Pi, business fraternity, and received a Bachelor of Business Administration Degree from Baylor's Hankamer School of Business.

Starting June 7, Mr. McPeak will be working for Cravens and Dargens Co., Insurance Managers, Houston.

Lake Powell in Glen Canyon will hold enough water to cover Pennsylvania a foot deep.

'Birth of Church' Is Sermon at Lamar Christian

Rev. Ford Ellis has chosen for his 10:45 a.m. worship service, "The Birth of the Church," scripture reading Acts 2:1-13. At the 9:30 a.m. Sunday School assembly, the youth of the church will have charge of the service. Opening prayer will be offered by Becky Sierman, scripture reading by Doyle Bowers.

The children will sing two selections and the closing prayer will be given by Diana Barber. There will be a special children's day offering taken and this offering will be given for missions. Evening Bible Study will be at 7 p.m. with R. L. Hendricks leading the group.

J. R. Manning To Preach At First Baptist

Dr. Douglas Carver, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will be in the pulpit for the eleven o'clock morning worship and will preach from the subject "Baptists and World Missions." Mrs. Keith Payne nee: Helen Blocker, of Houston, will be guest soloist. The church choir, under the direction of Mr. Sam Allen, will sing "Send Forth Thy Spirit" by Schuetky-Warner. Miss Eloise Lane, organist, will play "Lento" by Ketybey for the offertory.

At the 6 p.m. worship Rev. J. R. Manning will be in the pulpit and has chosen "God's Majesty in the Church" for his sermon topic. Mr. Allen will direct the chapel in singing "Imortal Love" by Dean and will also sing a solo for the special music, "Allegretto" by G. R. J. A Vacation Bible School faculty meeting is scheduled for 9:30 a.m. Thursday. A nursery will be provided and every worker is urged to attend this important meeting.

Cookie Sunday has been designated June 6, to bring cookies for Vacation Bible School refreshments. Boxes will be placed close to the entrances for your convenience.

Hospital to Dedicate New Chapel Sunday

An open house ceremony will be held at Highland General Hospital Sunday afternoon for dedication of the hospital's new chapel.

The open house is scheduled from 2 to 4 p.m. with the dedication services set for 3 p.m.

The new chapel, adjacent to the surgery waiting room on the hospital's second floor, has been made possible through combined efforts of the hospital administration, United Church Women of Pampa and Pampa Ministerial Alliance.

Many Civic Clubs and other organizations joined with the churches of Pampa, and many individuals, to provide the funds necessary to carry out the project. Names of all organizations and several individual donors have been inscribed in a Dedication Book that will be on permanent display at the chapel. The names will be read at the dedication Sunday.

Three ministers, representing the Pampa Ministerial Alliance, will lead the dedication services. They are Rev. William West, rector of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, and original chairman of the Chapel Committee; Rev. Thurman Upshaw, who succeeded Father West as chairman, and Rev. Donald Hauck of First Presbyterian Church, currently serving as chairman.

Others who will have a part in the hospital program are Rev. Joe Hawn, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, and Rev. William Blakely, pastor of Bethel Assembly of God Church, who served on the committee. Funds for the chapel were raised largely through efforts of a women's committee, headed by Mrs. Loren Williams, since moved to Sulphur, Okla., Mrs. R. W. Preck and Mrs. Melvin Cardwell.

Do You Believe in God?

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International
There are five major causes of unbelief.

So says a noted religious sociologist, Dr. George Hedley, Dr. Hedley is chaplain and professor of sociology at Mills College, Oakland, Calif.

His anatomy of skepticism was published by Mills College this month, along with other papers, in a book entitled, "Religion and the Campus."

Dr. Hedley's forthright observations are likely to irritate believers and unbelievers alike. But they are a provocative contribution to the continuing debate on how to present the Christian gospel to modern man.

One major barrier to belief among educated people, says Dr. Hedley, is the undeniable fact that "religion often has been associated, and often still is associated, with ignorance, naivete and even sheer stupidity."

He says that Protestant fundamentalism, in its insistence that the words of the Bible are unerring and infallible, has created a widespread impression that religious faith is based on "willful irrationality."

Dr. Hedley readily concedes the skeptic's contention that it's utterly absurd for fundamentalists to believe that the world was created in six days, or to read as literal history other Biblical passages of a mythical, poetic or allegorical nature. But it is equally absurd, he said, for non-believers to act as though fundamentalism were "the only expression of religion available to man."

And that brings him to a second source of disbelief: "The plain and often willful ignorance" of many who proclaim themselves agnostics without bothering to investigate bona-fide religion.

Lack of Curiosity
"I would describe it, rather gently, as the lack of a real scientific curiosity," he says. "And when I get my dander up, I'm likely to identify it as arrogant obscurantism."

"By what right does anyone presume to judge religion when he has refused to examine not only the aberrant fringes of religious belief, but also the learning and thinking of spokes-

Presbyterians To Conduct Pentecost Sunday Services

Observance of Pentecost Sunday will be of major significance to members of the First Presbyterian Church.

New members will be added to the church as the Communicants' Class. Having met for several hours each week for nearly a year, they are privileged to make public profession of faith in Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior and then be admitted to the Lord's Table.

Other members will be received at that time and the Sacrament of Holy Communion will be observed at both the 8:30 and 11 a.m. worship hours. The Sanctuary Choir, under direction of Mrs. George Budd, will sing "Create in Me a Clean Heart," as the morning anthem at the 11 a.m. service and Ann Brewer and Celeste Duncan will sing "Gracious Spirit Dwell with Me" at the 8:30 a.m. service, accompanied by Mrs. Fidelia Yoder at the organ.

California Choir Presents Concert At Central Baptist

California Baptist College Choir of Riverside, California will present a concert of sacred music at the evening worship service at Central Baptist Church, Sunday. This choir represents the only Southern Baptist College in California.

The 47 members and their director are returning from singing at the Southern Baptist Convention in Dallas.

At the morning hour of worship Sunday Olie G. Brown of California Baptist College will be the preacher. Mr. Brown is a native of Texas. He was reared in the Panhandle in the community of Sammerwood.

Preceding the morning worship service the Bible study hour will feature a lesson on "When Authority is Rejected." After the concert of the choir Sunday evening the president of California Baptist College, Dr. Loyd Simmons will bring the message of the evening service. Following the evening service there will be a fellowship for the youth of Central Baptist and the members of the California Baptist College Choir.

Zion Lutheran Will Observe Pentecost

Zion Lutheran Church will observe the Christian festival of Pentecost in its worship service Sunday. The pastor of Zion Lutheran, Rev. Melvin G. Herring, will deliver a sermon on the theme, "A Fading, Failing Church," based on Rev. 2:1-7.

The Adult Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Herring, will present a choral selection, "A Faithful Shepherd is My Lord." The public is cordially invited to the worship service.

"God's Children Pray" will be the theme of the two-week Vacation Bible School, which begins Monday June 7th. The vacation Bible School will be held from 9 a.m. - 11:30 a.m. June 7-18. Classes will be held for children in the nursery-freshman age level. Activities will include: singing, Bible study, handicraft, recreation and refreshments.

All children of the community are invited to the Vacation Bible School at Zion Lutheran Church.

C.W.S. Van Due In Pampa Monday

The deadline for the next stop of the Church World Service van in the Pampa area is Monday at 4 p.m. All clothing contributed by local churches to the United Clothing Appeal should be delivered to Bruce and Sons Warehouse by this time.

Local churches in cooperation with churches around the world are conducting the drive for good, clean used clothing to be used in areas of emergency and disaster in all parts of the free world.

Contributions need to be packaged securely, weighed and labeled according to denomination. A materials receipt should be filled out for each contribution at the time it is delivered to the warehouse.

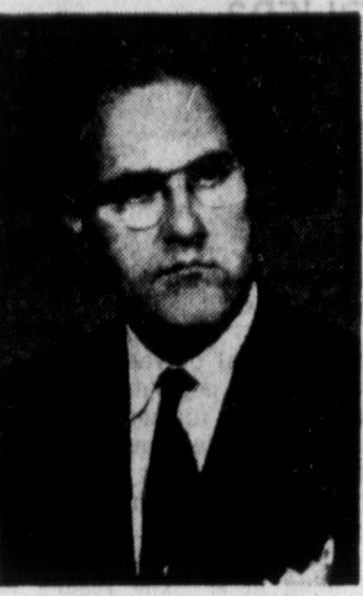

Automated Dating CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI)—

"Compatibility Research" is the high sounding name of the student-operated organization at Harvard College. But actually it's merely a device for getting suitable dates for undergraduates.

Applicants pay $3 and fill out a questionnaire. This is fed into a computer with many other questionnaires and the applicant is given the names of three girls whose likes and dislikes closely match his own.

SPANIARDS ABROAD MADRID (UPI)—

The number of Spanish citizens living outside Spain is about four million, according to Spanish government statistics.

HARRAH METHODIST CHURCH
THE CHURCH

When we view this page the church looms gloriously before our eyes with all of its implications. One's mind turns to man as a creature of worship recalling that man first worshiped in the forests and hills. As one thinks of the statement of St. Paul concerning "the church that is in thy house" he is reminded of ancient altars, the ark, the tabernacle, synagogue, the temple and other great structures.

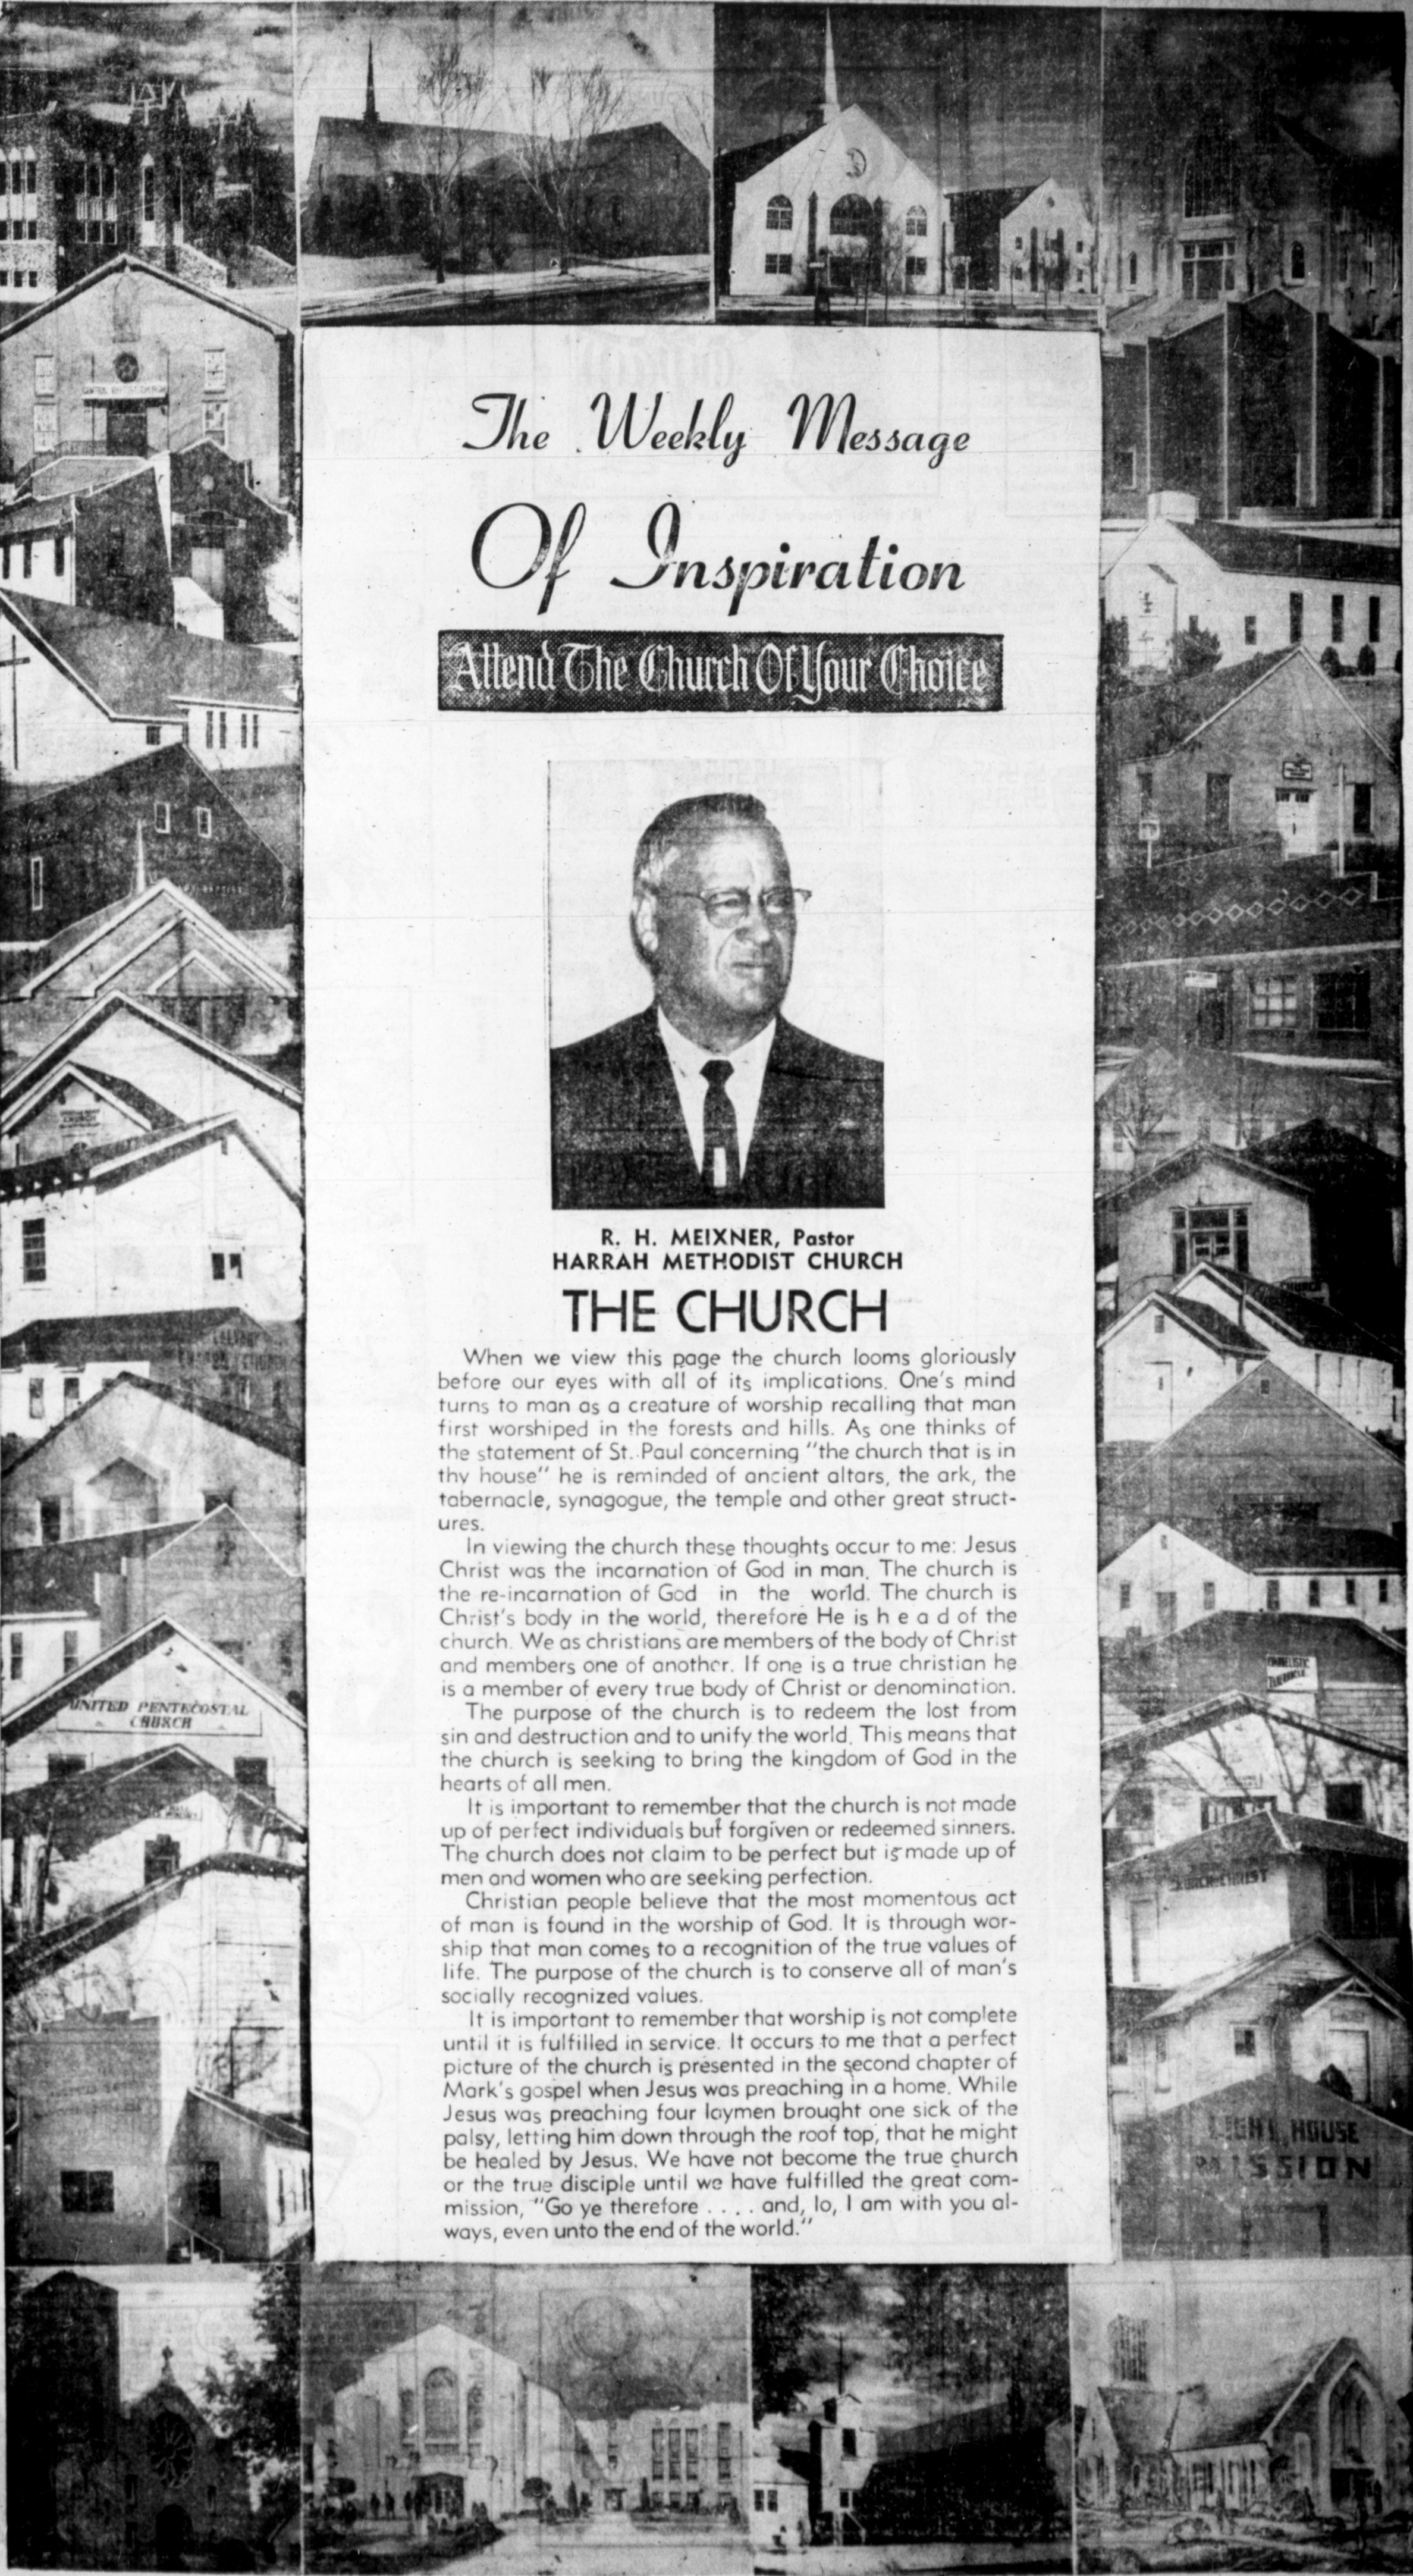

In viewing the church these thoughts occur to me: Jesus Christ was the incarnation of God in man. The church is the re-incarnation of God in the world. The church is Christ's body in the world, therefore He is head of the church. We as christians are members of the body of Christ and members one of another. If one is a true christian he is a member of every true body of Christ or denomination.

The purpose of the church is to redeem the lost from sin and destruction and to unify the world. This means that the church is seeking to bring the kingdom of God in the hearts of all men.

It is important to remember that the church is not made up of perfect individuals but forgiven or redeemed sinners. The church does not claim to be perfect but is made up of men and women who are seeking perfection.

Christian people believe that the most momentous act of man is found in the worship of God. It is through worship that man comes to a recognition of the true values of life. The purpose of the church is to conserve all of man's socially recognized values.

It is important to remember that worship is not complete until it is fulfilled in service. It occurs to me that a perfect picture of the church is presented in the second chapter of Mark's gospel when Jesus was preaching in a home. While Jesus was preaching four laymen brought one sick of the palsy, letting him down through the roof top, that he might be healed by Jesus. We have not become the true church or the true disciple until we have fulfilled the great commission, "Go ye therefore . . . and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world."

National League Putting Bounce Back in Baseball

By United Press International
Who put the bounce back in the National League baseballs?
This is supposed to be a season of gill-edged pitching but balls were flying around NL parks Thursday night like they were powered by Titan II rockets.

No less than 30 pitchers saw action in four games yielding a total of 59 runs, including 14 doubles, two triples and nine homers, walking 34 batters, making seven wild pitches and hitting one batter.

And when all the bombarding was over, the hitless wonder Los Angeles Dodgers had opened up a five-game first-place lead — their largest of the season — with a tidy little 11-0 victory over the world champion St. Louis Cardinals.

It was like the married men against the single men with a keg of beer at every base as the Cardinals bombed out Sandy Koufax with six runs in two innings and then saw their own pitching collapse. The score changed hands four times with the Dodgers finally pulling out the victory in a three-run eighth inning climaxed by Ron Fairly's two-run homer.

The Milwaukee Braves rough-housed the San Francisco Giants 10-3, the New York Mets ended the Pittsburgh Pirates' 12-game winning streak 8-6, and the Houston Astros slapped produced an 8-0 lead. The big blows of the inning were a bases-filled single by pitcher Galen Cisco, Ed Kranepool's two-run double and a two-run single by Joe Christopher. Andre Rodgers went 4-for-4 and Willie Stargell and Jerry Lynch homered for the Pirates.

Rusty Staub's three-run homer and three hits each by Ron Brand and Bob Lillis led the Astros' nine-hit offense which brought Don Nottebart his first victory of the season. Hal Woodeshick cleaned up for Nottebart when the Reds scored two runs in the ninth.

Camilo Pascual gained his seventh straight win on the strength of seven innings of five-hit pitching and an eight-hit attack led by Bob Allison's eighth homer. Bill Monbouquette suffered his fifth defeat for the Red Sox.

There were a total of 29 hits in the game, including homers by Fairly, Ken Boyer, Bob Skinner and Julian Javier, a triple by Maury Wills and six doubles.

The Braves were practicing doubles in a big nine-run third inning which gave ex-Astro Ken Johnson a 10-1 lead and enabled him to earn the distinction of being the only major league pitcher of the day to last nine innings. Frank Bolling, Mack Jones, Hank Aaron and Felipe Alou all had doubles in the big inning which also was featured by Johnson's two-run single and Ed Mathews' two-run homer.

The Mets ended the Pirates' 12-game streak with an 11-hit attack concentrated largely in a six-run fourth inning which

Pro Football Leagues In Expansion Battle

NEW YORK (UPI)—The National Football League beat the American League to the punch Thursday night by announcing plans to expand its present 14-team league to 16 teams for the 1967 season.

Pampa JC Winners In Action

LUBBOCK — The winners of the Pampa Jaycee Junior Champ track meet will see how they fare against their would-be state competitors when they compete in a combined Lubbock Jaycee-Texas Amateur Athletic Federation Meet June 12.

The Pampa Track Club, originally entered in the TAAF event, was invited to bring its youngsters who had already qualified for the state meet, to also compete at Lubbock. Almost all Jaycee qualifiers from Pampa, White Deer, Skellytown, and Canadian will enter the meet under the auspices of the PTC.

Lefors qualifiers for the Pampa meet are planning to run at Lubbock representing Lefors only. Panhandle competitors in the Pampa meet, who are in a different region and not representing Pampa at state, may also enter the Lubbock meet as a separate unit.

Senior division winners from Pampa including Randy Johnson, Bennie Eckles, Keith Yarnold, Vernon Marlar, Gary "Little Butch" Crossland and R. Y. Armstrong, have already indicated they will run at Lubbock and Randy Elliott and Bones Bullard are also expected to compete. Mark Westbrook will be a question mark due to recurring shin splints, which forced his withdrawal from tomorrow's Oklahoma AAU Meet.

Intermediates Gary McCarrill, Kenneth Steiner, Howard Sanders, Larry Bates, Otto Wheeler, Butch Nicholson, Kenneth Thrasher and Jerry Norris are also slated to go. Only Tommy Smith of Wheeler, Ronnie Sargent of Skellytown and Doc Cornutt of Pampa, who will all be out-of-state next weekend, will be missing from the top two boys divisions.

The AFL, however, landed a counter blow when Commissioner Joe Foss revealed that he will recommend to club owners next Monday that his circuit add two teams "immediately" starting next season.

Thus, the expansion cold war between the rival leagues erupted overnight into a hot one, with no holds barred.

Apparently, the central battleground will be Atlanta, a city with a new $18 million stadium and no pro football tenant. It is no secret that both leagues are hungry for this southern plum.

Pete Rozelle, the commissioner of the NFL who recommended the expansion Thursday night to club owners, mentioned Atlanta as one of the cities that will receive consideration along with Montreal, Toronto, Boston, Miami, Memphis, Cincinnati, Houston, Phoenix, Seattle, Portland, Ore., and New Orleans among others.

With the exception of Houston and Boston, which are already AFL members, Foss and the eight AFL club owners have their eyes on the same cities plus current NFL sites, including Washington, Chicago, Philadelphia, Los Angeles and Milwaukee—part time home of the Green Bay Packers.

Rozelle said the two cities that gain NFL franchises will be determined within the next eight months on the basis of a marketing research study to be done by an independent firm. The findings will be presented to the annual league meeting next February, where 12 affirmative votes out of 12 are required for approval.

A United Press International survey of the NFL club owners available revealed that the plan would pass, and most expressed a feeling that the vote would be unanimous.

off games among the winners of the four team groups and then a final championship game between the best team from each eight-team conference.

He said the league may or may not expand its schedule from 14 to 16 games. In such a case, exhibition contests would be reduced from five to three.

Rozelle and Foss both made it clear neither league entertained any plans for merging with the other side, and both denied either was trying to beat the other to more lucrative football pastures.

Belmont Stakes Off Tomorrow

NEW YORK (UPI) — Tom Rolfe, bidding for his second jewel in racing's Triple Crown when he challenges six rivals in the 97th edition of the $125,000 Belmont Stakes Saturday, must contend among others with fast-closing Dapper Dan, Jersey Derby winner Hail To All and hitherto untested La Cima, perhaps the biggest racehorse in America.

The field, which up until Thursday looked like the smallest in the history of the classic, the final race in the Triple Crown, also includes Wheatley Stable's Bold Bidder, Valley Farm's Selari and Meadow Stable's First Family.

Powhatan's Tom Rolfe, the 6-5 favorite to capture the $102,900 first prize, will have Ron Turcotte in the irons. The same combination successfully raced in the Preakness, the middle of the Triple Crown events, and finished third in the Kentucky Derby.

Trainer Bill Winfrey said he would start Bold Bidder along with Ogden Phipps' Dapper Dan to "insure an honest pace." Winfrey, and all other trainers in the classic, faced an unusual problem before Bold Bidder was entered: None of their Thoroughbreds were pace-setters; most were "come from behind" horses who ran best when behind the early leader.

Sporting Sidelines

By JEFF COHANE

THIS DEPARTMENT has received possibly the nicest letter to ever come to this column, and one for which I am deeply appreciative. Maybe it's vanity, but it is nice to know that someone appreciates your work.

Dear Jeff:
We would like to take this opportunity to express our sincere appreciation for the very excellent coverage on our recent Junior Champ Meet. We feel that this meet was a success only because of the fine coverage in your very fine sports page plus your personal work on the meet. Personally I have never seen such fine coverage as the coverage you gave us.

I hope that you will be able to go to the state Junior Champ Meet at Texas A&M in July since so many of the boys and girls that will be entries from Pampa will be young people that you will be working with all the summer. I feel that if you are there they will do better and have more confidence in themselves.

The Jaycees are going to try to do their best to help you out with the Pampa Track Club this summer. When the definite decisions are made in regards to the track club we will let you know the results.

Once again we would like to say THANKS for your very wonderful coverage on the Junior Champ Meet and your personal help.

Sincerely yours,
Eddie Polnac
President
Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce

EDITOR'S NOTE: Again I express my thanks, but I do not feel that I was solely responsible for the success of the meet. There were far too many hard-working Jaycees and Jayceettes, as well as all the coaches who helped, Norman Phillips, Dwaine Currie, Frank Craig, Doc Bates, Jeep Webb, Birdog Trice, etc., and they deserve at least as much credit as this scribe.

I admit that track ranks as possibly my favorite of all the sports I enjoy covering and/or working with, and anything I can do to build it up in Pampa and the Top O' Texas, I will do with pleasure.

I do know that every youngster I have spoken to enjoyed the meet tremendously, many of them are looking forward to running more track this summer.

Pampans Tie In Pro-Am

HEREFORD — Pampa's Fred Bond and John Ethridge of Amarillo captained teams to a first place tie in a West Texas PGA pro-amateur golf course.

Both teams had 23-under-par 117 totals. Play in the event was the low two balls on each hole.

Bond, a professional, teamed with Charles Buvall, Hereford; Ray Todd, Hereford; and A. D. Pritchard, Pampa.

Amarillo's Ken Hicks had a three-under-par 67 for low amateur honors. Don Kaplan of Borger shot 69. Bond and Seminole's Jim Terry tied for low pro honors with 69s.

In the pro-pro low ball event, Bond and Friona's Wayne Wash had 65.

mer, and all those eligible are waiting with bated breath for the state meet, which I hope is as big a success as the one here, and in which I feel the Pampa, Lefors, Skellytown, Canadian and White Deer athletes will represent the Jaycees with honor.

As far as my going to the state meet, I deeply appreciate the invitation and I will go if I have to bribe, threaten or persuade my boss in any way possible. Thanks again for your support of the Pampa Track Club.

TED LYONS, the Hall of Fame pitcher for the Chicago White Sox a couple of decades ago, and now a scout, visited to obtain information about some area baseballers he was interested in, including Steve Molberg, Jerry Garrison, Jerry Glover and Larry Gregory. Lyons pointed out that although Steve Molberg had already signed for a college scholarship, under the new rules, he could still be drafted by a professional club, after which they could talk bonus.

Molberg Leads Rebel Victory

BORGER — Future Longhorn Steve Molberg slammed a bases-loaded home run in the ninth inning last night to pull out a wild, free-swinging 10-8 victory for Pampa over Borger in their opening District 18 American Legion game.

The hosts had knocked all-district Chinky Garrison out of the box as they took a 7-2 lead in the third, but got only one more tally off reliever Carl Harnsberger the rest of the way. The Rebels exited Borger starter Jerry Cooper in a five-run sixth inning, were held in check by David Dillingham the next two frames, but got to their old foe in the ninth.

Garrison led the Pampa hitting with three-for-three including a triple. Molberg added a single to his game-winner, and Ray Jernigan had a double and single.

The Rebels play the semi-pro Pampa Colts tomorrow night at Optimist Park at 7:30, then return to district action Sunday against Carver at Amarillo. The Colts seek their second straight Irrigation League victory Sunday at 2:30 at Friona.

Youthful College Grad Takes Buick Open Lead

GRAND BLANC Mich. (UPI) — Iowa's young Steve Spray boasted two new diplomas today, and if he can prove his right to one of them it will lead to an immediate cash payoff.

Spray, a 24-year-old from Indianola, Iowa, got one diploma "in absentia" from Eastern New Mexico State University Thursday night, only a few hours after he had wrapped up the other sheepskin with a four under par 68 to seize the first day lead in the $100,000 Buick Open.

It was the first time he ever has led in a tourney on the pro tour, in only his seventh venture against the stars of the game who thus far have prevented him from "earning a nickel" in the lucrative tournament program.

"Oh," he said, "I might have led once or twice before, after the first hole, but never after the second."

Kermit Wins Bi-District

HEREFORD — The Hereford Whitesnakes put up a good fight in their bi-district series with the Kermit Yellowjackets, carrying it into three games Thursday, before dropping the set.

Kermit had won, 10-0 in the series opener Monday. Hereford took Thursday's first game of the doubleheader, 1-0, but in the decider, Kermit came back for a 4-1 triumph.

Kermit, representing District 2-AAA, now advances to the regional finals against Snyder's District 3-AAA champions Hereford was the 1-AAA representative.

His start, putting him one stroke ahead of a former Buick and National Open champion, Julius Boros, and two up on Masters titleholder and leading money winner Jack Nicklaus, could lead to that prompt payoff, if he can show he learned his lessons well in the final three rounds.

First prize in the event will be $20,000, but Boros, who holds the Buick record with a 14-under par 274 two years ago, Nicklaus, and numerous other "name" players will be hot on Spray's trail.

Eleven of the 142 pros and two amateurs in the field broke par of 72, and 10 matched it. Defending champion Tony Lema, Jack Rule and Terry Dill were grouped at 71, while among the 72 shooters were Billy Casper, Dick Mayer, Bruce Devlin and Dow Finsterwald.

Among the 20 who fired 73's were Arnold Palmer, Doug Ford, Gary Player, Rod Funseth, Bob Rosburg, Jay Hebert, Gardner Dickinson, Bobby Nichols and the venerable Sam Snead.

The Climate on the Campus

There has already been a great deal said and more will undoubtedly be uttered concerning the rash of demonstrations, rioting, and protest marches that blossomed on many of the nation's college campuses like crouches in a spring rain.

The immediate assumption of the part of most is that these demonstrations are all part of a communist plot. Without a doubt, many of them have socialist and even communist participation. But the malady is far deeper, and the communist and socialist who participates in, in most cases, not the primary instigator of the drama, but merely an opportunist who joins in with any political manifestation for purposes of advancing his own spurious cause.

As we looked at the scene across the nation we were actually a little surprised that it has taken until the mid-1960s before the basic unrest of this era has made a surfacing.

Let's look at the situation closely. Here we have a nation which is teeming with prosperous people; yet the government is looting them in order to wage a war on poverty. We have a nation which professes to favor equal rights for all; yet we have demonstrators who are engaged actively in using the racial problem as a cause celebre to wrest property rights from the diligent and thrifty.

We have a nation which is actually committed to peaceful intercourse among the other nations of the world but which is so embarrassed by the word "peace" that if it is used, the user is openly sneered at as a "pacifist."

And we have a nation where alleged "pacifists" are as belligerent and war-minded as the Hitlerian elite guard. The massive confusion, the contradictions, the reliance upon the state — all these are symptomatic of a basic malady.

What is that malady? The American people have lost their central motivation. Those who appear to be earnest and hard-working are looked upon with disdain by the campus inhabitants as being stupid and materialistic.

The problem has many facets. When confronted with complexity, it is easy to oversimplify. But certainly one of the basic, deeply rooted problems is in the educational edifice itself.

The social position the demonstrating students are trying to eject from their systems is the poison they have absorbed during long years of incubation in government intellectual hot-houses. The primary emphasis in these government-run training establishments has been to teach young men and women HOW to do things.

Politicians are prone to view the populace as a tax-producing gaggle of geese, and the principal item of government concern is to keep all these geese in condition to lay the golden tax eggs. So, everywhere we see the monstrous government concern: that everyone have a job; that everyone be trained for a job; that everyone have an opportunity to buy the gadgets and the status symbols with which we have come to associate a comfortable and challenge-less world.

The other day a friend from Oklahoma wrote enclosing a printed copy of a poem which had won first prize in a high school poetry contest. The poem was powerful. The technique of the writer was excellent by modern standards. But it took its power from the sordid and unpleasant. Featured was the concept of selling the body, masturbation, death, corruption, everything vile. The author of the poem had learned HOW to write. But he had no idea of WHAT was really important enough to write about. So he employed juvenile shock therapy. It was the best he could do.

This is what we mean. Today's government-dominated institutions have concentrated on techniques, when they have concentrated at all. We have magnificently trained mathematicians. They know how. But they have no problems of their own to solve.

We have physicists and chemists and biologists, among the best on earth. But they dawdle with new and more deadly ways of killing people for they have no personal motivation of their own.

And people who have no personal, individualistic motivation, tend to look about them; to impose their wills into the lives of others who are happier than they are. The interventionist is the disgruntled and discontented person who finds in proposed social reform a means of filling a vacuum, left in the center of his own empty life.

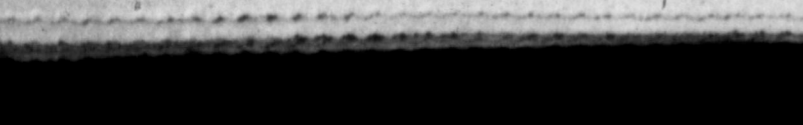

And this development is largely the result of our government-dominated culture, where dedicated self-interest in personal achievement is supplanted by the surrogate of riot and unrest.

The Sky Is the Limit

Facts, as Smollett once said, are stubborn things. Sometimes they come back to haunt us. Here are some to ponder: Federal grants of taxpayers' funds to state and local governments now total $13.6 billion. (Quite a jump from the $3.8 billion of 1956.) The figures do not even reflect the impact of current spending, much less the future. As Senator Dirksen has said: "There is no conceivable way to estimate the costs. The sky is the limit."

Who can deny that statement?

Diplomat Who Aided Oswald's Return from Russia Scheduled for Post-Arranging Exchanges from Soviet Bloc

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON — Boris M. Klosson, the State Department official who played a key role in clearing the way for Lee Harvey Oswald's return from Russia, is slated for a major promotion.

A career foreign service officer, Klosson is scheduled to replace Frank C. Siscoe as the department's director of Soviet and Eastern European exchange staffs.

While no official announcement of his new assignment has been made, Klosson has checked in at the department from Kingston, Jamaica, where he served as deputy chief of the U.S. mission. On the Foreign Service roster, he lists Siscoe's room number and telephone as his forwarding address.

In this strategic position, Klosson will be in charge of State Department authorities arranging the exchange and screening of several thousand U.S., Russian and Soviet bloc scientists, educators, artists, actors and students.

The security implications of the exchange programs Klosson will be handling are clearly indicated in testimony given a House Appropriations Subcommittee by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

He warned that spies are included in virtually every Soviet group that visits the U.S. — diplomats, scientists, businessmen, students and cultural exchange mission — stating: "The numerous Soviet scientific and cultural delegations which arrive in the U.S. to visit our universities and scientific establishments invariably have among their members specialists who have been given special assignments by the KGB (Soviet secret police, intelligence and assassination organization)."

BACK IN MOSCOW — According to the records of the Warren Commission, which investigated the assassination of President Kennedy, Klosson was U.S. counselor for political affairs in Moscow in 1961 when Oswald sought visas for himself and his new wife to return to the U.S. Oswald had gone to Russia in 1959.

FBI officials credit Klosson with clearing the way for Oswald's return by sending the State Department a three-page report, dated July 11, 1961, indicating the defector had undergone a major change of heart and was not dangerous.

Titled "Citizenship and Passports — Lee Harvey Oswald," Foreign Service Dispatch No. 29 was signed by Klosson and stated, in part, as follows: "Twenty months of the realities of life in the Soviet Union have clearly had a maturing effect on Oswald. He (Oswald) stated frankly that he had learned a hard lesson the hard way and that he had been completely relieved of his illusions about the Soviet Union at the same time that he acquired a new understanding and appreciation of the U.S. and meaning of freedom."

Little-noticed testimony before the Warren Commission pinpointed a number of errors in the dispatch dealing with information about Marina, the Russian girl Oswald married on April 30, 1961.

Klosson's vital communication reported Oswald's bride as being Marina Nikolaevna Pusakova instead of Marina Nikolaevna Prusakova, and listed her occupation as "dental technician" instead of "assistant pharmacist."

LOOKING HIM OVER — Two congressional committees are quietly looking into Klosson's new assignment and his role in paving the way for Oswald's return to the U.S.

Straight Talk

By TOM ANDERSON

Newspaper headlines: "March Leaders Deny Wholesale Promiscuity." What I saw was retail.

John Herbers in the 'New York Times' reported April 20, 1965: "We work closely with the John Birch Society and similar groups," said Robert M. Shelton, the 36-year-old Imperial Wizard of the United Klans of America.

Either Shelton or Herbers was lying. There is no similarity, no connection, and no co-operation between the John Birch Society and the Ku Klux Klan. I know many Birchers. They are the most dedicated, most patriotic, most courageous, most moral and religious group of people in this land. The leftist press has led the nation to believe that our southern sheets are literally crawling with Ku Kluxers. On my Scout's honor, I don't know a single Ku Kluxer even by name — except Justice Hugo Black. And I read that he'd quit, or was trying to. Sheets are for sleeping, not for parading. I have no use for people who hide under sheets. Nor for the 'New York Times.' Incidentally, I wonder if the 'New York Times' is still 'working closely' with Killer Castro, whom it promoted to the American people as the George Washington of Cuba?

Negroish Congressman Adam Clayton Powell asked recently: "We recognize Russia, why not Cuba?" I propose that we de-recognize Russia and Adam Clayton Powell, who is a moral disgrace to the House of Representatives and to the nation.

Cuba was given to Castro and the Russians by the same crowd of fools, do-gooders, and traitors in our government who gave China and a good part of the rest of the world to the most diabolical, criminal conspiracy in human history. "Doctor" Castro has somewhat disappointed "liberals" who said in 1959 that he was not a Communist. Guess what their "strategy" is now? They're cautiously advocating that we "make a friend out of Castro" by "recognizing" his government and including him in our foreign aid program. (We give our grandchildren's seed corn to about 88 other friend and enemy, mostly enemy, nations, so why not to Cuba?) The pinks who brought us to the brink still profess to believe that we can make good Communists out of bad ones by bribing them. The only good Communist is a dead Communist, including those in our country.

A "liberal" columnist waxes ecstatic over the proposal by President Johnson that we allow Soviet leaders to appear on television regularly and propagandize the American people. Well, if Kossygin and Brezhnev could just replace Frontley and Pinkley, perhaps we wouldn't suffer much.

News item: "Russians Claim to have Produced a Two-headed Dog." Kossygin and Brezhnev? Minimum Wage Is Slave Wage

Neither of us satisfied our new ambition.

At the top of a sloping hill he said, "Stop the car right here." I stopped and joined him where he was silently looking out over the derricks situated in a pattern on the expanse of land lying ahead. Finally he waved his hand and said, "This is what I should have been doing instead of wasting my time. My life has been a complete failure."

I drove Mr. Kelley to the Nebo Oil Field where we controlled all of the leases and were developing on a 40 acre per well spacing pattern. He learned from my superintendent the oil reserves accruing to each well and the rate the oil would be permitted to flow over a period of many years.

Statement by Head of Federal Reserve Board Cited Reason for Stock Decline

By JESSE BOGUE, UPI Financial Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—Although the cautionary statement made by the head of the Federal Reserve Board has been called responsible for the stock market decline in the middle days of this week, writers of the major brokerage house market letters have taken a calm view in their opinions to date.

In an address before a Columbia University alumni group, William McChesney Martin, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, said there were "disquieting similarities" between conditions now and conditions in the boom of the 1920's. But he also called attention to differences between the economic background of the present prosperity and that preceding the 1929 debacle.

Lucien O. Hooper, veteran observer with W.E. Hutton & Co., said that what Martin said "perhaps, is not so important as the very fact that he said it."

"The warning is against possible over-stimulation if recent policies are carried too far, and the admonition is not to sweep unpleasant things under the rug," Hooper wrote. He said the present stock market situation is nothing like that of 1929, with turnover about one-seventh of what it was then, and with less credit being used now than was used in carrying less than a billion shares that year.

William R. White, writing for Hornblower & Weeks-Hemphill, Noyes, said the Martin statement on "disquieting similarities" should help intensify caution in financial markets. It came, White noted, shortly after remarks by Gardner Ackley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, which were regarded as implying possible need for government action to check rising materials prices.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
 United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)— "Get back in!"

Across the nation Thursday, millions of televisioners who did not see astronaut Edward White's walk in space nevertheless suddenly found themselves privy to these astounding words — an almost humorous audio transmission actually coaxing the exuberant, enraptured pioneer back into his Gemini capsule.

Thus, with this tingling, chilling and yet joyful experience that is unforgettable, the two-man space mission of White and James McDivitt was under way for a scheduled duration of four days, with all three television networks geared to frequent broadcasts throughout the weekend. All-out continuous television coverage will resume again Monday.
