Six Pacific Allies Pledge To Viet Nam Peace Plan

Pact Hinges On End Of Cong Infiltration

MANILA (UPI) — President Johnson and six Pacific allies today put forth a South Viet Nam peace plan pledging withdrawal of all foreign forces within six months after the Communists begin pulling out of the war.

The chiefs of the seven nations issued a Manila manifesto setting forth a six-point plan to end the bloody fighting but it hinged on North Viet Nam getting out of the South, ending infiltration and "lowering the level of violence" — presumably a reference to the Viet Cong.

The Asian summit conference ended with signing of the official communique and two other documents setting forth goals for "peace and progress in Asia."

Johnson and the national leaders of South Viet Nam, the Philippines, Thailand, South Korea, Australia and New Zealand emphasized that peace arrangements and subsequent allied withdrawals would depend on "effective international guarantees" and supervision to insure that the Communists live up to their end of any deal.

There was no immediate reaction to the peace plan from North Viet Nam or Red China. But shortly before it was issued, Hanoi again denounced the Manila summit conference as a "new peace farce staged by the United States."

South Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Cao Ky was asked by newsmen what he thought of the prospect of U.S. troop withdrawal from Viet Nam on six months notice.

"No problem at all," he said. "The section of the communique dealing with withdrawal said:

"In particular, they (the allies) declared that allied forces are in the Republic of Viet Nam because that country is the object of aggression and its government requested support in the resistance of its people to aggression. They shall be withdrawn, after close consultation, as the other side withdraws its forces to the North, ceases infiltration, and the level of violence thus subsides. Those forces will be withdrawn as soon as possible and not later than six months after the above conditions have been fulfilled."

The lengthy communique and the other documents contained something for each of the participants, depending upon the emphasis on the hard line or the pursuit of peace.

The six points were:
— "Cessation of aggression."
(See PLAN, Page 3)

EMOTIONS OF ALL types were on display in Manila where the seven-nation conference got under way with a call to North Viet Nam to accept the hand of conciliation. Viet Nam's Premier Ky looks glum while New Zealand's Prime Minister Holyoake and Thailand's Premier Kittachorn laugh it up as they leave Malacanang Palace at the end of the first session.

CAMPAIGN SPEECH — Sen. John G. Tower greets one of his Pampa campaign workers upon his arrival at the Coronado Inn this morning. Tower arrived in Pampa by plane at 10 a.m. and left at 11 for Borger to address the Rotary Club there. From Borger, Tower left to go to Hereford for another coffee. The senator will speak tonight in Amarillo.

Tower Expresses Views in Speech

By KEN LEACH

Several hundred Pampa supporters of Senator John G. Tower in his bid for re-election to the U. S. Senate had coffee with their candidate this morning.

Sen. Tower told the group that by supporting current suspension of farmer's investment tax credits, Waggoner Carr, his Democrat opponent, was calling for a tax increase of some $100 million on American agriculture.

"Friends of agriculture in the Senate," Tower said, "will be hard put to understand Mr. Carr's views on how to help agriculture."

Tower said he could not accept his opponent's support of a tax increase on farmers and ranchers.

Tower stated that he noticed that Carr had recently said he would like to be on the Senate Agriculture Committee.

"Perhaps his first act," Tower said, "in the unlikely event that he should get to Congress, would be to back another tax increase on agriculture as he has in this campaign."

Jury Selection For Vessels Trial Moves Slowly

Selection of jurors proceeded slowly this forenoon on the second day of the trial of T. R. Vessels, 28, charged with the rape of a Pampa housewife last April 28.

When court recessed at 12 noon today eight jurors had been impaneled in Judge Lewis M. Goodrich's 31st District Court here.

They included Lou Troja, 2330 Navajo, clothing salesman; Marion F. Williamson, 1809 N. Wells, machinist; E. J. Windom, McLean, mechanic; D. E. Robbins, 600 N. Sloan, oil field pumper, and S. O. Dunham, oil company office manager, all seated at yesterday's court session.

Two more jurors were accepted this forenoon. They were Morris A. Powell, 2318 Charles, shop foreman, and Cecil G. Shirley, 1822 N. Russell, beer distributor.

Powell and Shirley were the 12th and 13th veniremen questioned today. Twenty-four consecutive persons were examined before the 7th and 8th jurors were selected.

Following their selection, court was adjourned until 1:45 p.m. today.

Out of the total list of 196 veniremen, 80 had been eliminated. Some of these were excused yesterday for various reasons without being examined as to their qualifications as jurors.

A total of 54 veniremen had been examined up until noon today.

In yesterday's court session, one juror was obtained in the forenoon and five during the afternoon.

Commissioners Convene For Brisk Session

In a brisk-paced, ten-minute session this morning, City Commissioners passed on first reading an authorization designating a four-way stop area at the intersection of Cook and N. Somerville Streets.

Mayor Jim Nation pointed out this is a temporary measure. There are stop signs on N. Somerville at the present time, but Cook St. has been a through-traffic thoroughfare at that point.

He said the four-way stop regulation will remain in effect until just prior to the opening of N. Somerville through to a connecting link with Coronado Dr. at N. Hobart.

When the bridge is completed and traffic starts moving on Somerville to N. Hobart, Cook St. traffic will be stopped at N. Somerville and the latter will be made a through street with the removal of stop signs.

The new ordinance will require a second reading at the city commission meeting on Nov. 8 before it becomes effective.

Passed on its second and final reading was the authorization for the engineering firm of Meriman and Barber to prepare plans and specifications for paving of approximately 142 unpaved city blocks.

The paving of this number of blocks will still require the cooperation of property owners, who must prove that they wish to participate in the paving program. But, City Engineer Jiggs Cook said this morning that enough evidence had been shown by property owners to include this number in the proposed project.

First reading was approved on paving plans and specifications by city commissioners who authorized the city to advertise for bids Dec. 13.

All members of the commission were present for this morning's meeting in city hall with the exception of City Manager Jim White, who is in Phoenix, Ariz., attending the 52nd annual conference of the International City Managers' Association. He is expected to return Thursday.

Cancer Detection Method Found

TOKYO (UPI) — Discovery of a new process of testing holds promise for development of a simple and inexpensive method of detecting cancer in its earliest stages, two American doctors reported today.

Drs. Kenneth G. Scott and J. M. Vogel of Sen. Francisco reported that tests of their new procedure have proved successful in finding cancer earlier than is otherwise possible. They presented their findings in a paper to the Ninth International Cancer Congress.

The process involves taking a highly valuable mass screening of people and in determining whether X-ray treatment of cancer was effective, they said.

The process involves taking a normal blood sample from an individual and then conducting a series of seven chemical tests, using radioactive rubidium.

The research paper indicated that blood cells from a person who has cancer absorb the rubidium twenty times faster than blood cells from a normal, healthy person.

The doctors emphasized that their work is in the early stages of development and so far only about 1,000 persons have been studied—most of them cancer patients who have been treated for already existing tumors.

Dr. Scott said the next step in testing the rubidium detection method would be to establish a screening system to check normal healthy persons.

Captives Freed By Viet Troops

SAIGON (UPI) — Government troops have opened their biggest campaign of the war in the Mekong Delta where the Viet Cong has conducted a merciless terrorist campaign, it was announced today. In the first few hours the troops freed 18 starving prisoners found chained together in a cave.

The prisoners were 11 soldiers in handcuffs, and five women, one of them a Roman Catholic nun, chained together. A spokesman said the prisoners had been badly fed and were in a state of undernourishment.

Thousands of government troops were involved in the big offensive but there were no exact figures. A government spokesman called it a "multi-regimental size force."

A South Vietnamese regiment runs more than 1,000 men and it appeared up to a 7,000-man division was involved.

The spokesman who called Operation Long Phu the biggest of the war said it began at 7 p.m. Monday and that in the first hour the troops killed 12 Viet Cong, seized large supplies of arms, ammunition and food and freed the prisoners.

The offensive hit the rice bowl area 46 miles southeast of Saigon.

The size of the operation came as a surprise. There had been widespread speculation Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U.S. military commander in Viet Nam, had wanted government forces only to deal with pacifying and securing areas after U.S. troops and their allies had beaten back main force Communist units.

No American units were reported in the delta.

Russia, Red China Bark at Each Other

MOSCOW (UPI) — A leading Russian newspaper accused Red China of planning war against the Soviet Union today in one of the longest and bitterest denunciations yet against the former Soviet ally.

The paper quoted militant statements made by leading Chinese officials during the current anti-western purges sweeping China as evidence that China is thinking in terms of a possible Sino-Soviet military clash.

The 1,000-word article was written by the Peking correspondent of Komsomolskaya Pravda and was carried by the Soviet news agency Tass both in Russian and foreign languages.

The paper cited inflammatory statements made at the Oct. 1 mass rally in Peking celebrating Communist China's 17th anniversary as evidence of the hate campaign against Russia.

Chinese Defense Minister Lin Po, heir apparent to Chairman Mao Tse-Tung, told the rally the Chinese people "will bring to an end the struggle against modern revisionism, whose center is the Soviet Communist Party leadership," the article said.

It said the commander of a military company then mounted the podium and shouted: "As soon as Chairman Mao orders us we will immediately set out to destroy resolutely, finally, fully and completely, the American imperialists and their accomplices if they dare attack us."

The article also cited other examples of "provocative" Chinese statements accusing Russia of conspiring with the United States in Asian aggression.

It said the New China News Agency claimed that China is developing atom bombs "to struggle against the nuclear monopoly effected by the United States in collusion with the Soviet Union to undermine the revolutionary struggle of all oppressed nations."

Indonesian Foreign Minister Is Tried for Treason in Jakarta

JAKARTA (UPI) — Dr. Subandrio, the soft-spoken foreign minister who mistook the promises of Communist China for power and glory, came to the end of the line today in a military courtroom where he was tried for treason to Indonesia.

The man who became President Sukarno's most trusted confidante only to betray him to the Reds appeared before a nine-man tribunal to hear today whether he would live or whether he would die before a firing squad.

But for the 52-year-old Subandrio it was all over. His disgrace was complete. His dreams of power were shattered by the military leaders who foiled the Peking-inspired coup of Oct. 1, 1965, then gently eased Sukarno from power until they could arrest Subandrio himself.

Regardless of the verdict Indonesia's old government was out. Sukarno, the leader, the Bung Karno (brother) who wrestled the East Indies from the Netherlands, was already a figurehead reminder of the past. Subandrio had become a figure of ridicule and infamy. Subandrio was charged specifically with participating in the Oct. 1 coup and with misusing the authority of the offices he held: foreign minister, deputy premier, air marshal and President Sukarno's most trusted aide. He also was accused of misusing public funds.

In his final plea for life—a plea delivered with tears streaming down his face—the sullen faced bespectacled Subandrio prayed to God that the judges be given the strength to be "human and just" in order to benefit Indonesia's new government.

"As a human being I may have made a mistake," he told the court. "But poe'ties cannot be judged immediately."

But the results of those policies already have been judged by the Indonesians. They led Indonesia treacherously close to the clutches of Red China, so close that Indonesia became entangled in a Communist-backed coup that all but wiped out its top military leadership.

Food Price Cuts Turning to War?

By United Press International

Supermarket chains, frightened by the spectre of empty stores and picket lines of angry mothers, lowered prices today rather than buck the rising tide of boycotts against high food bills.

Housewives who have long tried to stretch a dollar while provisioning their homes have taken a cue from civil-rights demonstrators and begun to level food prices into line.

The on-again, off-again efforts from the Atlantic to Pacific Oceans—began a week ago in Denver—have started to pay dividends.

The list of supermarkets grew Monday when Safeway announced cutbacks on "hundreds of items" at its 54 stores in New Mexico and west Texas.

Another Texas chain, Cashway, said it was cutting prices at its nine stores. Furr's closed its 70 stores Monday and said it cut prices by as much as 15 per cent. Piggly Wiggly in the Southwest did the same.

Housewives who had organized little more than a bridge party earlier, were now involved in organizations with catchy names and only one purpose—lower weekly food bills. In Buffalo, N.Y., it is Women on the Warpath (WOW), Citizens Against Skyhigh Prices (CASP) in San Francisco, Housewives Against Rising Prices (HARP) in Jacksonville, Fla., and Shoppers Against Deception (SAD) on New York's Long Island.

Cansler said they would pass along to the customer the savings from shorter store hours, elimination of the "Let's Go to the Races" promotion and a stricter rule with regard to cashing personal checks.

Furr's new store hours will be from 9 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday; 8:30 to 5:30 p.m. Wednesday and Saturday; 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sunday.

GOOD LUCK — Crossing their fingers are Harriet Henderson and Chris Dunn, Pampa High School students who were named yesterday as finalists in the area Americans Abroad program by the Americans Abroad Selection Committee of the Pampa American Field Service chapter.

Americans Abroad Finalists Selected

The Americans Abroad Selection Committee of the American Field Service Chapter of Pampa has recommended as finalists Harriet Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Henderson, 419 E. Foster, and Chris Dunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Dunn, 2016 Mary Ellen School, serves as coordinator of the Americans Abroad Programs. The American Abroad selection committee is comprised of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Hiatt, Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Veale, Jr., Rev. Donald Hauck, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Watson and Mr. Jim Huelett.

American Field Service is a private, no-profit organization. It was founded in 1914 as a volunteer ambulance corps which served with the allied forces in both World War I and World War II.

In 1947, the AFS ambulance drivers initiated the winter program in which students from abroad came to live for a year with U.S. families and study in secondary schools. The idea for the winter program was based on the experience of AFS volunteers that close, personal associations between individuals foster understanding between peoples of different nations.

The Americans Abroad Programs were started in 1950 by the winter programs who, once they had returned home, wanted to offer young Americans the kind of opportunity which they had been provided in the U.S. For the individuals involved, this program entails everyday living.

Family experience is the core. The families participating in the program are a kaleidoscope of personalities, values and interests. Becoming part of a family involves sharing its day-to-day existence, its relationships, its spirit, its emotions, its chores, its active moments and quiet times.

Approximately 400 persons are expected to attend.

Speck Competent To Stand Trial

CHICAGO (UPI) — Amid reports psychiatrists have found him mentally competent to stand trial, accused mass killer Richard Speck Monday was granted a 10-day continuance of his pretrial sanity hearing.

A panel of six doctors is been ordered by Judge Hebert Paschen to report on Speck's mental state. Paschen gave them an extension until Nov. 4 after Speck's lawyer said the medical examination was not complete.

Paschen called the newspaper report that Speck has already been found sane "a little premature."

Speck is charged with the July 14 murders of eight student nurses in their south side townhouse dormitory. Monday's appearance was his fourth since he was arrested July 17.

Selection of Jurors For Sheppard Trial Now in Second Day

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Two prospective women jurors were excused today in the second murder trial of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard.

One said she had formed an opinion about whether Sheppard cooperated properly in the investigation of his wife's 1954 slaying. The other had reservations about circumstantial evidence.

They were the first two prospective jurors questioned in the second day of the new trial.

Tower

"I can not accept his farm views," Tower said, "as they parallel those of Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman."

"I think that we should work for farm price parity now," he said, "not in 1970 as Mr. Freeman suggests."

Tower went on to say that the United States is winning the war in Viet Nam and should use military muscle to convince North Viet Nam we are there to stay.

The senator arrived in Pampa at 10 a.m. by plane and went directly to the Coronado Inn where he addressed his supporters after a round of hand shaking and mingling while drinking a cup of coffee.

He left Pampa at 11 a.m. for Borger to address the Rotary Club there at a noon lunch.

In Borger, he said that the United States should convince the Communist that war is too costly an instrument of national policy to employ.

"If we maintain and secure the independence of South Viet Nam today," he told the Borger group, "we will avoid having to fight a much bigger war at much greater costs later on."

Tower said the United States must do what is necessary to bring the war in Southeast Asia to an early and successful conclusion.

Tower left Borger for Hereford. He will speak tonight in Amarillo.

of the former osteopathic brain surgeon.

The jury selection got off to a fast start Monday with the temporary seating of six jurors.

One of the women excused not only had an opinion about Sheppard's cooperation, but also answered "Yes" when asked if she had "any sympathy or antipathy" toward him.

"Do you presume Dr. Sheppard to be innocent?" asked defense counsel F. Lee Bailey.

"No," she replied.

No Opinion Earlier

Previously she had said she had formed no opinion about the guilt or innocence of Dr. Sheppard.

However, Common Pleas Judge Francis J. Talty excused her without asking whether she was mixed up about the question of innocence.

The other prospective juror said she had some reservations about accepting any instructions from the judge about circumstantial evidence. The state's case against Dr. Sheppard in 1954 largely was circumstantial.

Talty excused her after both sides had requested it.

Once the 12 jury seats are filled, the opposing lawyers will begin weeding them out with peremptory challenges. At the 1954 Sheppard trial only one temporary juror was picked the first day. Two were admitted the second day, and four on the third — and it took two weeks before a full panel was sworn in.

Talty kept things buzzing along briskly after the Monday session opened nearly two hours late because prosecutor John T. Corrigan had to testify in another case.

At one point the judge overruled what he called a "joint challenge" by state and defense to a woman potential juror and seated her. She was a housewife, Mrs. Helen Margaret Uhrin. She said she had formed an opinion regarding Sheppard's guilt or innocence when the bludgeon-slaying of his pregnant wife Marilyn took place in 1954.

Wheeler Youth Arraigned On Murder Charge

WHEELER — A 20-year-old Wheeler youth has been charged with murder with malice in a quick-draw contest that took the life of Dale Satterfield, 20, of Amarillo Sunday.

Riley Bradstreet was arraigned before Wheeler County Justice of the Peace Dick Guyness yesterday on the charge of murder filed by County Attorney Guy Hardin of Shamrock.

He said he felt the case should go before the grand jury to decide if it was accidental.

Bradstreet said he and Satterfield decided to have some quickdraw practice with two .22 caliber revolvers. He said they stood back and began stepping off in opposite directions and at signals drew the weapons.

Bradstreet said he thought he had already fired all of his seven cartridges in his revolver.

Wheeler County Sheriff B. S. Dorman said Bradstreet's pistol had been fired seven times.

Satterfield was shot once in the neck. An autopsy showed he died of severed blood artery which caused internal bleeding.

Funeral services for Satterfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Satterfield of Amarillo, were at 2 p.m. today in Blackburn-Shaw Memorial Chapel in Amarillo.

The allies said South Viet Nam asked only that externally supported terror and aggression be halted and that "no self respecting people can ask less."

"Preservation of the territorial integrity of South Viet Nam," Johnson and the other leaders said the South Vietnamese sought only to defend their own territory and "while sympathizing with the plight of their brothers in the North, have no desire to threaten or harm the people in the North or invade their country."

"Reunification of Viet Nam, the regrettable partition of Viet Nam at the 1954 Geneva Conference, will be respected until, by free choice of all Vietnamese, reunification is achieved."

"Resolution of internal problems," The South Vietnamese, once aggression has ended, will move toward reconciliation of all elements in the country, presumably including the Viet Cong.

"Removal of allied military forces." This was the section dealing with the terms for eventual withdrawal.

A "Business Opportunity Clinic," covering subjects of importance to businessmen, will begin at 10 a.m. Thursday in the conference room of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce.

E. M. Roeder, chief of the Domestic Trade Division of the Dallas field office of the U. S. Department of Commerce, will direct the clinic, open to all interested businessmen.

Topics to be covered by Roeder will include:

1. Federal government procurement opportunities in the defense and civilian agency areas, as listed in the Commerce Department's publication, "Commerce Business Daily."

2. International trade leads for products manufactured or distributed in the area.

3. Fast Technical Announcements, published by the Clearinghouse for Federal, Scientific and Technical Information in the National Bureau of Standards.

4. Commerce Department publications and reports for use in economic and marketing research.

Jury

District Attorney Bill Waters and Defense Attorney Bowers each used two challenges.

So far, the defense has used six challenges and the state has used three. Each side is entitled to 15 challenges.

Out of the veniremen examined up until noon today only four said they did not believe in capital punishment.

Vessels' step-father, mother and two sisters were in court again today, but there were only about two dozen spectators scattered throughout the courtroom.

Judge Goodrich apologized for being a little late for the opening of court today. The judge who resides in Shamrock said he had car trouble. Court convened at 10:20 a.m., 20 minutes behind schedule.

(Continued From Page 1) gly will remain the same: 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Wednesday and Saturday; 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sunday; 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. Lynn Love, store manager, said today.

We have a dog, a cat, a rabbit and a '67 Ford. My father always buys Fords because they never give him any trouble. Our new Ford has doors that lock by themselves... a light that tells us if we need gas... a stereo tape player... and one thing my father doesn't know about.

(A frog I'm keeping in the glove compartment.)

The strongest, quietest, best built Fords in history offer you a lot of great new features.

- Like Ford's exciting new SelectShift Cruise-O-Matic transmission. It shifts automatically when you shift manually for climbing steep hills, downshifting, or just for fun.
- You can also choose a Convenience Control Panel that will automatically lock doors, warn you if a door is ajar, or fuel is low.
- Stereo tape player.
- Comfort-Stream Ventilation that exhausts stale air with the windows closed.
- And, every solid, substantial '67 Ford is equipped with Ford Motor Company Lifeguard-Design Safety Features.

Report Finds the British Student Better Prepared

By JAMES MICHAEL MURPHY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK (NEA) — England has Big Ben, fog, short skirts and public school teachers who know more about the fine art, literature and mathematics than do their American counterparts.

British college students preparing to be elementary school teachers are better English students than are prospective American elementary school teachers.

There findings were made recently in a report prepared by teachers were "prepared" in the folksy comfort of two-year normal schools. Early in the 1900s, however, these schools started becoming regular degree-granting institutions. This made them possible threats to the traditional liberal arts colleges and fair game for the scornful criticism of the proud, subject-matter professors.

the moderator campus report

The University of Toledo. Called "The Characteristics of Teacher Education Students in the British Isles and the United States," the report is the result of an 18-month study of education students in American and British universities.

from all sides. Academic professors dismiss the professional courses — those that teach teaching — as futile exercises in trivia, which prevent would-be teachers from really learning their fields.

There have been some attempts to come to grips with these problems. A series of national conferences in 1958, 1959 and 1960 brought together the academics and the professionals to discuss the better education of teachers.

These conclusions don't startle the regular observers of American teacher education, but they do rekindle the fires of controversy that have surrounded this aspect of education for many years.

Parents are unhappy because Johnny can't read; education students are unhappy because they find many of their "professional" courses to be crashing bores; college teachers of English are unhappy because high school graduates haven't been taught to master their native tongue, and the Modern Language Association is unhappy because a few years ago it found that not one of the 50 states require foreign language teachers to speak the language they teach.

But these conferences were unusual, and it will be a long time before such efforts effect noticeable change.

Shake hands with 'L.S.Green

Despite criticism of "courses in how to ventilate the room and clean the blackboards," teachers do have to be trained in pedagogy, and this does limit the liberal arts load they can handle.

Miller Stresses Continued Work On Water Problem

Dee Miller, candidate for Congress, told a 9-County Farmers' Union meeting in Littlefield last night he would make every effort to see that farmers receive a fair return for their labor and investment compared with other industries.

LUCKLESS LORIE
AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Topless dancer Lorie Starr, 25, making her Austin debut, didn't even get a chance to wiggle Friday night. Her appearance lasted 30 seconds because 15 men in the audience turned out to be police officers. Lorie was charged with disturbing the peace.

British Suspect Soviets Aided Escaped Spy

LONDON (UPI) — Speculation grew today that a super secret Russian organization operating under the very nose of British security officials had engineered the prison escape of master spy George Blake, the man who betrayed Britain's own spies to the Kremlin.

There was no comment from Scotland Yard on the reports but it placed a "discreet" watch on the Soviet Embassy, on Russian ships in the Thames and on Iron curtain country planes leaving England. Many thought Blake already had been spirited out of the country.

Press reports today said Blake was responsible for the death or imprisonment of at least 40 of Britain's most important foreign agents and that the number of lesser spies betrayed to the Kremlin may never be known.

The Daily Express said police were working on the theory that a section of Russian intelligence known as "The illegal apparatus" working independently of the Iron Curtain embassies had engineered the escape.

It was a delicate and embarrassing situation for the British government whose officials could speak only of "possible international political implications," while Scotland Yard staked out the Soviet and other Iron Curtain embassies, ships and planes.

IDEAL FOOD STORES

STATEMENT OF PRICE POLICY

QUESTION: What is Ideal's position on Food Prices

ANSWER: The same as it has been for the past 25 years. We will always offer high quality FOOD AT PRICES AS LOW OR LOWER THAN OUR COMPETITORS.

QUESTION: What About Promotions?

ANSWER: Our promotions cost approximately 1/3 to 1/2 of 1% which is so small that we have never reflected this cost in our retail prices. For instance on a 50% item, the cost of promotions would be less than 1/4 of 1%. The paper bags we use cost about the same as promotions and we do not plan to discontinue bags or pro-motions.

QUESTION: What About Check Cashing Services?

ANSWER: Our customers have always been very co-operative and we have suffered a very minimum of loss. Consequently, we plan the same convenience for our customers that we have offered through the years.

QUESTION: Store Hours?

ANSWER: No Reduction! We will always remain open the hours necessary to accommodate our customers — and will continue our policy of REMAINING CLOSED ON SUNDAYS regardless of that action of other super markets. All Ideal services will continue at the very highest level possible that our fine personnel has strived to offer.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) —All over America—or at least in a couple of cities—housewives are revolting against the high cost of food.

Thus far, I notice, none of them has resorted to the ultimate protest, which is to quit eating so much. But some have proposed sacrifices almost as drastic as a hunger strike. They have suggested that supermarkets stop passing out stamps and slips for games such as bingo, poker and horse racing.

The idea of people going to a grocery store to buy groceries is revolutionary indeed. Such rash measures may not be necessary, however.

Amazing Discovery
President Johnson's Committee on Consumer Interests has just made an important discovery that could enable housewives to have their cake and bingo, too.

It has found that low price food costs less than high price food. Or, putting it another way, inexpensive items are more economical than expensive ones.

This revelation came to light in a pamphlet published by the committee under the title "Shopping Sense."

"You can cut your food bill 20 per cent by using lower-priced items in your menus," the pamphlet says.

The logic of that is nearly unassailable. Except, of course, if you happened to buy things at half price.

Nor does the pamphlets assistance to shoppers end there. It goes on to offer a wide range of other tips that a housewife may find helpful in the event she is totally brainless.

Consider Family Needs
One tip I particularly endorse advises housewives to exercise discretion in choosing the giant jumbo size.

"Buy the large can or package only if it fits your family's needs—and you have a proper place to store it," the pamphlet says.

The wisdom of that statement is obvious to any husband who has ever had to sleep with a gallon can of peaches under his pillow.

Unfortunately, however, the committee saw fit to include a misguided policy declaration on supermarket togetherness.

"Shop alone if you can," it tells housewives "... Dad and the kids tend to run up the food bill."

The committee is badly mistaken if it thinks that is going to keep me out of the store. Not when I'm on the brink of a winning card at bingo.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) —The Alexander Hamilton Institute says that from a technical standpoint, it believes the current rebound should be viewed as a rally in a bear trend pending further tests of the 1966 lows and a clearer outlook for 1967.

Analyst James Dines says that as yet he sees no reason to change last week's shift to expectations of a short-term downswing. Dines says he feels rather strongly that the market is on the verge of retesting its critical support area in the 740-765 area of the Dow Jones industrial average. "November ... is shaping up as a very bearish month," Dines adds.

Leslie M. Pollack of Reynolds & Co. says he continues to feel short selling is a difficult way to make money and advises clients who are pessimistic to build up cash reserves.

EXTENDED TRIP
PENDLETON, Ind. (UPI) —Two trustees from a reformatory went fishing Saturday. Later police went hunting—for the trustees.

Russell Williams, 25, and Homer Willoughby, 23, were allowed to go beyond the walls of the Indiana Reformatory Saturday to fish. They haven't returned.

CHELMSFORD, England (UPI) —Townsperson gathered in the street and cheered when a fire broke out in an office building here.

Firemen managed to put out the blaze—in the local income-tax office.

Borger Convention Site of Amarillo Diocesan Council of Catholic Women

Mrs. Vincent Simon and Mrs. Jack Edwards will be Pampa Delegates when Catholic Women from throughout the diocese of Amarillo will meet in Borger Wednesday and Thursday for the 30th annual convention of the Amarillo Diocesan Council of Catholic Women. Mrs. Hubert Johnson and Mrs. Dorothy Griffin are local alternate delegates.

Through workshops, panels and speakers, the women will discuss the program of the council relating to the 16 decrees promulgated by the bishops of the world at the Second Vatican Council.

"The New Pentecost" will be the theme of the two-day meeting, which will be hosted by St. John's Altar Society of Borger. Convention headquarters will be Hotel Borger.

The Most Rev. Stephen A. Leven of San Antonio auxiliary to the Archbishop of San Antonio, will be speaker at the banquet in the hotel ballroom Wednesday, 7 p.m. Bishop Leven, assistant episcopal moderator of the National Council of Catholic Women, was keynote speaker at the recent national convention of NCCW in Miami Beach, Fla.

In attendance at all four sessions of the Second Vatican Council, Bishop Leven received worldwide attention for his speeches before the council. He discussed the advantages of ecumenism at the second session and during the third session spoke on the attitudes of Christians toward Jews. During the session and Mr. and Mrs. Eimo Bonifield, members of St. John's Christian Family Movement Group, will discuss their reactions to Father Gurzynski's talk, relating it to their family life experiences.

The Rev. James Duddy of Tulla will lead the Community Action workshop. Father Duddy, diocesan social action director, will outline the program of the social action department of the Texas Catholic Conference.

Leading the workshop on church communities, Mrs. John Spinhrine of Vega will explain the six fields of work in the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine program. Assisting her will be Mesdames Bill Dorsey of Sunray, Frances Orthal of Lubbock, and N. Renner of Spearman, and the Rev. R. A. Kilbridge of Amarillo.

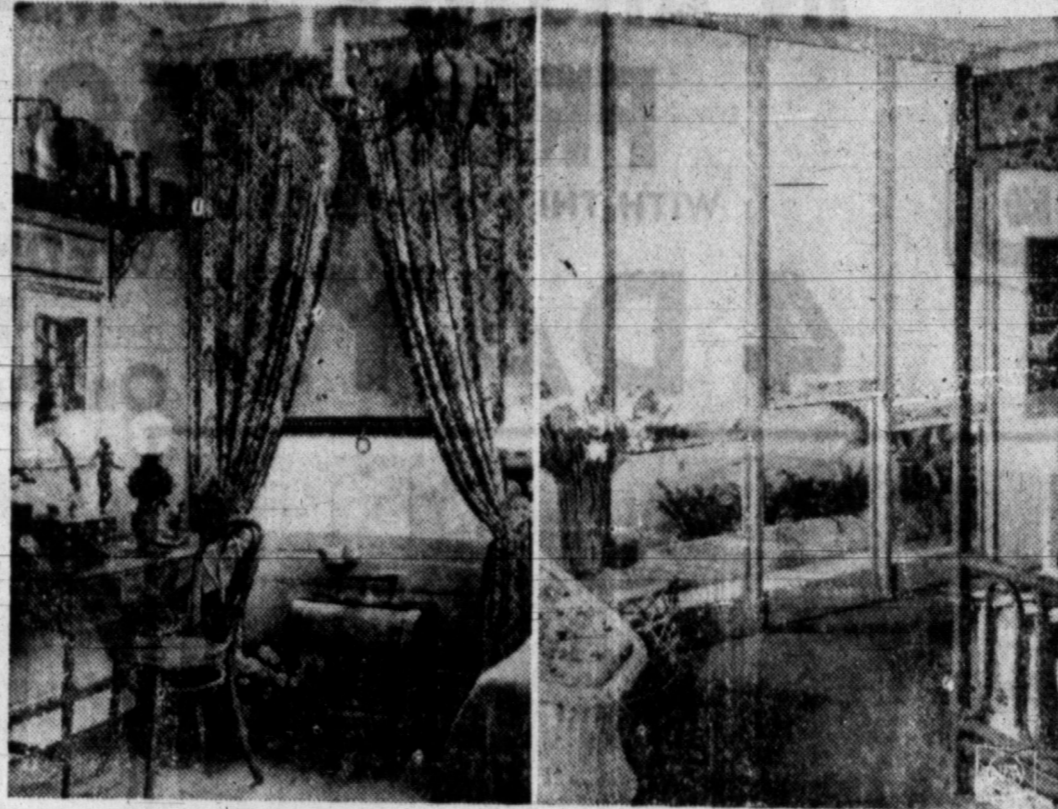

Mrs. Robert Bauman of Amarillo will present a program for ecumenism on "the grass roots level" in the Workshop on Ecumenism. She will be assisted by Mrs. Don Watson of Amarillo and Monsignor James Fitzgerald of Lubbock. Mrs. Bauman will explain the living room dialogue program for ecumenical discussion.

At a general session of the convention, the four diocesan delegates to the National Council of Catholic Women convention held recently in Miami Beach, Fla., will review events of the convention outlining the new organizational structure for the council programming. Delegates forming the panel are Mrs. Ed Loerwald of Hereford, Mrs. Phillips Smith of St. Francis, Mrs. Al Brorman, of Vega, and Mrs. D. M. Poundstone of Borger.

A certificate for service to Amarillo DCCW will be presented to a woman in the diocese chosen for outstanding council work during the past year. Monsignor F. A. Smyer of Amarillo, diocesan moderator, will make the presentation at the banquet.

Mrs. Loerwald of Hereford will be installed as new council president at the closing session by Mrs. Haiduk. Other officers to be installed are Mrs. L. G. Schroeder of Lubbock, vice

Dear Abby... Alcoholism - A Form Of Mental Illness

DEAR ABBY: Why do so many people - including you - defend drunks by giving them high-sounding titles like "alcoholics"? And lend their dignity to their weakness by calling it a "disease"? I have actually heard intelligent people say an alcoholic should not be condemned any more than a victim of polio, diabetes or heart trouble. Really now, Alcoholism is not caught, like measles or mumps, Abby. One must cultivate it.

should not be dumb enough to show it.

You are forever harping on how those drunks need "understanding." And I, for one, am sick of it!

AN EX-READER: You need more information than I can give you here. In a nutshell, some can take a drink, or two, or six, and stop. Others need only to sniff the cork and they are powerless to stop drinking until they have lost consciousness - and frequently their jobs, money, families, and self-respect as well.

Psychiatrists say that one who is aware that alcohol can destroy him, but drinks anyway, is unconsciously trying to destroy himself. And if that is not a form of mental illness, what is?

DEAR ABBY: Is it true that unmarried gals who are interested in a swinging social life should go to Alaska? I hear there are about 50 men for every girl there.

INTERESTED: Do not bother. I hear that when it's dark enough to park, it's too cold. And when it's warm enough, it's too light.

DEAR ABBY: My 12-year-old son came home from school and told me he was given a questionnaire to fill out and sign. Here are some of the questions he said he was asked to answer:

"Do your parents drink? Is there frequent quarreling in your home? Has anyone in your family ever had psychiatric help?"

I feel that these questions do not pertain to my son's school life, and the whole questionnaire was out of order.

I don't want to get my child in trouble by making a big stink, but I want to know what can be done about a situation like this.

HIS MOTHER: DEAR MOTHER: I would first ask my son's teacher who was responsible for the questionnaire. Then I would inquire as to its purpose, and to what use the information would be put.

Having learned that, if I still felt the questionnaire was out of order, I would complain to the appropriate authorities, making as big a "stink" as was necessary to protect my privacy.

CONFIDENTIAL TO BRIDGE EXPERT: Even if you are a better bridge player than your husband, try to conceal it when possible. Any woman who is smarter than her husband

Injuries Hit Wheeler Camp

Injuries may be the key in the White Deer-Wheeler football game Friday featuring the top two clubs in the Panhandle area.

Both coach J. T. Hill at Wheeler and Sherill Bottoms at White Deer have key players injured but neither know just whether their players will be out of action at White Deer come Friday night.

Wheeler (5-1) and 2-0 in district 2-A, has fullback and leading area scorer, Fred Goad with a rib injury, lineman Villard Hunter with an ankle injury, Frank Rogers, an injured knee, and Bobb Ware, hip injury and John Hutchinson with a hip injury.

Over at White Deer Bottoms did have some good news for the White Deer folk in the announcement that fullback Gary Smith will be back in action on a fulltime basis.

But Bottoms is still without the services of quarterback Otto Wheeler, Mike O'Keefe and Ronnie Anderson.

Both coaches are calling this their toughest game of the season with Bottoms predicting his defense, which hasn't been scored on as yet, facing their stiffest test of the season.

"Wheeler has some of the finest running backs in the Panhandle," Bottoms said, adding, "Our defense will get a real test."

In other important area games Gruver plays at Canadian in a must game for the Wildcats in district 1-A; McLean, 2-0 in district 2-A, hosts Silverton in a league game while in class B Groom will try for their second conference win in as many outings when the Tigers travel to Booker.

In another class B affair, Lefors plays its first conference affair at Follett.

Texas A&M will have to go against Arkansas Saturday without Gary Kovar at center.

Kovar suffered a hip injury against Baylor last week. He sat out Monday's practice as the Aggies put on sweat suits.

Coach Gene Stallings said he would move Emil Farr of Houston to center and use defensive middle guard Ken Lamkin as a back-up.

Also sidelined for the Aggies were halfback Lloyd Curington, center Jim Singleton, halfback fullback Bill Sallee and end-linebacker Larry Thornburg.

Hogs Scout
In Fayetteville, the Razorbacks worked out for an hour in sweatclothes and got a scouting report on the Aggies.

Jon Brittenum's passing looked sharp and Lee Johnson, out with a knee injury since the Texas game, jogged around the field and seemed much improved.

Arkansas rose to 9th among the nation's collegiate football teams as a result of their 41-0 whipping of Wichita State.

Rice's Owls worked out in shorts Monday following a briefing on Texas Tech, their Saturday opponent in Houston.

Defensive tackle Tony Labay and defensive end George Alexander, who have missed several games with injuries, were expected to be ready to go against Tech.

Defensive end Bobby Shelton suffered bruised ribs in Texas game, but will be back by Saturday. Sophomore halfback Robby Shelton, who carried 32 times for 168 yards, against the Longhorns, was also bruised but also was expected to be recovered for the Tech game.

Poorest Showing
In Lubbock, Coach J. T. King called his Red Raiders' 24-7 loss to Southern Methodist Saturday "our poorest showing of the year" as far as the offense was concerned.

King said the Raiders went into semi-shock when junior quarterback John Scovell was knocked out of the game with a head injury on Tech's second offensive down.

If SMU has a weakness, King said, it is in its pass defense. But Tech was unable to take advantage of the weakness because of the inexperienced quarterback it had to go with.

Southern Methodist took stock of their wounded Monday following the Mustangs' victory over Tech. Coach Hayden Fry said two players may miss the upcoming showdown with Texas.

Fullback D. J. Moore hurt a shoulder and defensive cornerback Pat Gibson hurt a knee and Fry said both were doubtful. Tackle Dick Irons also injured a knee against Tech but was expected to be ready for the Longhorns.

Defeat Wins
Richard Defee, a halfback, was elected by Baylor coaches Monday as the recipient of the Bobby Jones award, annually presented to the top performer in the Bears' homecoming game.

The award was named for the 1956 Baylor captain who was killed a year ago in Knoxville, Tenn., while assistant football coach at the University of Tennessee.

The Bears heard scouting reports in TCU then worked on individual and team drills.

Coach Abe Martin of TCU apparently plans to retaliate against star passer Terry Southall of Baylor Saturday.

"If anybody needs work on their passing game, it's us," Martin said.

He kept passers and receivers on the field after the rest of the team took showers Monday.

Martin said he would rotate his three quarterbacks this week in practice and name a starter Thursday. Rick Bridges, P. D. Shabay and Larry Peel have alternated this season.

Junior Highs Play Thursday

Pampa's Shockers, with some new recruits, will try to break a two game losing streak Thursday when they travel to Amarillo to meet the Caprock B at 4 p.m.

The Shocks are 1-7 but played Monterey off its feet last week before losing 21-19.

In Junior High action this week Lee ninth (2-5) will shoot for their second straight win when they travel to Borger Houston at 4 p.m. Thursday.

Lee eighth will try to get on the win column for the first time in six outings when they host Houston at 4 p.m. Thursday. Houston won the first outing 8-6.

Lee seventh (2-3) shoots for their third consecutive victory when they host Houston at 4 p.m. Friday. Houston triumphed 20-0 in the first meeting of the teams earlier in the season.

Pampa Junior High ninth (1-4) will try for their second victory when Perryton comes to town at 4 p.m. Thursday. Perryton blanked the Reapers, 18-0 in their first game of the season.

PJH eighth (1-3-1) plays at Perryton at 4 p.m. Thursday and will try to avenge a 14-0 loss dealt them by the junior Rangers this season.

PJH seventh (3-0-2) the most successful team in town, will shoot for their fourth straight victory when they host Borger Austin at 4 p.m. Friday. The two teams tied 6-6 earlier in the season.

Cornutt Given Harvester Award

A lot of people have the idea that football linemen aren't the smartest people in the world. Doc Cornutt, the Pampa Harvester 195-pound, do-everything tackle, is just the person to prove this isn't so.

Doc ranks as the fourth highest student in his class and as soon as football season is over will probably move up a notch or two.

Pampa football coaches named Doc as the Harvester-of-the-Week and it's about time.

Doc is a three-year starter for the Harvesters and was elected captain this year by his teammates and that should give you a good idea of what they think of him.

Doc is probably the most consistent player in the line, the Harvesters have end coach Eudal Ramsey lauded him for his tackling and blocking assignments last week against Amarillo.

"Doc was outstanding on both offense and defense," Ramsey said.

Ramsey also stated that all hands would be on tap for Friday's game against Caprock at Harvester Field.

The coach said that L. D. Rowden would probably play Dickie Henley's halfback spot and Dwight Rodege's would move to Rowden's corner back position against Caprock.

Henley broke his right arm last week in the Sandie game.

Ramsey also said that Ted Heiskell was trying to run out a bad charley horse and end knee, but both boys would play.

The Longhorns were upset last week by Borger, 14-9, but were without the services of their best running back, tail back Steve Alston.

Alston's status for the Pampa game is still uncertain.

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — The World Boxing Council has accused referee Billy Conn of giving a long count in Saturday night's world lightweight championship fight but indicated today that the disputed title would be declared vacant pending a rematch between Carlos Ortiz and Sugar Ramos.

Luis Spota, president of the Council, implied that Conn was favoring Ortiz and he also accused Ortiz of using dirty tactics against Ramos that precipitated a riot by the crowd of 35,000 fans.

Ramos, a Cuban who now makes his home in Mexico, was awarded the lightweight title by Ramon Velasquez, secretary of the World Boxing Council, when Ortiz refused to return to the ring after Conn had declared Ortiz the winner on a fifth-round technical knockout.

But Spota admitted Monday that Velasquez' action "was an emergency solution on his personal authority to calm the crowd," thus indicating that the move was not binding on the Council.

Spota said he has sent a letter to all members of the Council, which includes boxing commissions in some parts of Europe, Asia and Latin America, describing his views on the fight and its confusing aftermath and requesting that members cable replies.

It was suggested by Spota that the lightweight title could

Irish, Spartans Remain Top Two In UPI Ratings

NEW YORK (UPI) — That the game between Notre Dame and Michigan State on Nov. 19 will determine the national college football championship was never more apparent than this week.

The Irish and Spartans leaped over their last major hurdle before that big meeting without breaking stride last weekend and as a result strengthened their positions at the top of the United Press International Board of Coaches ratings.

Notre Dame blasted Oklahoma from the unbeaten ranks 38-0 and Michigan State toyed with strong Purdue 41-20 to stamp themselves as the two strongest contenders for the national title won last year by the Spartans.

The Irish, who squeaked into the top spot last week by the skin of their teeth, widened their margin over Michigan State to 18 points, 333 to 315. In addition, Notre Dame outdrew the Spartans in first place votes 21-11.

Neither team is likely to stumble while biding its time for the showdown. Notre Dame meets Navy this weekend and then takes on Duke and Pittsburgh before the State game. The Spartans have Northwestern, Iowa and Indiana to feast on before the Irish.

Should either team falter, however, there are a number of opportunists standing by the wayside. UCLA, Alabama and Southern California all boast perfect records and are ranked third through fifth for the second successive week.

UCLA meets Southern Cal also on Nov. 19 and the Trojans have a last chance to recognition the following week when they host Notre Dame. Only one formidable opponent, Louisiana State, remains on the Alabama schedule.

Florida Moves Up
Georgia Tech, 6-0, held firm in sixth place but Florida, a 28-7 victor over LSU last weekend, replaced Nebraska in seventh position with the Huskers dropped one notch to eighth.

Arkansas bounced back into the top 10 in ninth place after a two-week absence and Wyoming made its first penetration into the elite circle in the 6-year history of the ratings. The Cowboys, who crushed Utah State 35-0, now have outscored the opposition 84-16 in winning their first six games.

Purdue and Oklahoma both dropped into the second 10 as a result of their defeats. The Boiler-makers slipping to 12th place and the Sooners sagging to 5th.

Interceptions A Key to Aggies?

By United Press International
A key to the unexpected success of Texas A&M's brash young Aggies may lie in the fact they are setting a torrid pace in the matter of interceptions.

Texas A&M, which starts five sophomores on each unit, has picked off 20 passes in six games, including five last Saturday in a 17-13 upset of Baylor and seven the week before in upsetting TCU.

That's the best six-game total since Arkansas piled up 20 in the same number of games in 1949 and the number has been exceeded only once in the last 10 full seasons — by Arkansas' 24 thefts last year.

Veteran Frank Horak of TCU, who led the circuit last year, leads the league with five, but three Aggies — sophomore Curley Hallman and seniors Lawson Howard and Tuffy Fletcher — have picked off four each along with SMU's Jerry Wilson.

Hallman is one of a fine crop of sophomores making themselves felt all around the conference this season.

Teammate Edd Hargett, for example, leads the league in passing and in total offense and Rices Robby Shelton sets the pace in rushing where four of the first five ground gainers are all first-year men.

Hargett's 15 completions in the Baylor game boosted his six-game total of 83 of 155 for 1,044 yards and eight touchdowns and his total offense to 1,055 yards.

Terry Southall of Baylor is second in passing with 70-366-917 in one less game and Texas Tech's John Scovell third with 63-124-783 despite missing all but three plays against SMU last week because of a mild concussion.

Shelton turned in the season's best performance with 168 yards against Texas last week to boost his five-game average above the 100-yard mark — a total of 503 yards.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Unmarrieds Get Tax Ax

Americans have always tended to look askance at the single person—the balding bachelor, the career girl, in fact, anyone past 30 who has never married. They get it from all sides. To be single is to be suspected of some sort of duty-shirking to the human race or just plain oddballism. Psychological studies claim the single person is the most insecure, the most fidgety by neuroses. Actuarial tables prove he doesn't live as long as his married counterpart. All this is bad enough. But perhaps the heaviest burden of all for the bachelor or spinster is the outright discrimination practiced against them by the government.

In the first complete study of the federal income tax system since it was "reformed" in 1964, Joseph A. Pechman, director of economic studies for the Brookings Institution, devotes considerable space to the plight of the unmarried tax payer.

Under the "split income" provision, married couples, even without children, are taxed at the rate of half their total income. The single person pays the full rate.

Pechman also argues that the $600.00 personal exemption for a tax payer, his spouse and each dependent is also unfair to single persons. It assumes that it costs twice as much for two persons to live as it does for one. In reality, it costs about three-fourths as much for one person to live as it does for two.

It is time, someone spoke up for the single tax payer, though it is hardly likely anyone in government will pay any attention. There just aren't enough single adults around to foment a decent riot, much less influence legislation.

Bastiat on Revolution Cause

The do-gooders in government seem to be surprised at the riotous attitude of the people of the nation, not only Negroes but others as well.

But back in 1849, Frederic Bastiat warned the French National Assembly about the expansion of the power of political government and the shrinking of individual responsibility. He said:

"When the people are encouraged to turn to government to settle all of their problems for them, the basis for all revolutions is thereby established. For then the people expect the government to provide them with all of the material things of the 19th century.

They want. And when these things are not forthcoming, they resort to violence to get them. And why not—since the government itself has told them that these responsibilities belong to government rather than to them? I am convinced that a revolution would not be possible if the only relationship between government and the people was to guarantee them their liberty and security."

It might be well for President Johnson, and all of the rest of those seeking to encourage individuals to abandon individual responsibility, to read and ponder the words of that wise man with all of the material things of the 19th century.

Price Tag on Interviews?

We read in the Chicago Tribune that officials in the Soviet Union now are granting interviews "only for cash on the barrelhead. A routine Kremlin interview costs an American reporter $50. Top Soviet brass come higher, and if TV wants to film something it has to hire a Russian camera crew.

Rusk or Nicholas Katzenbach, Orville Freeman and the like.

That's one "advantage" in these United States of America. The politicians are always willing to talk. They may not say anything, but they'll talk.

But, frankly, we'd like to see the politicians put a price on their time. We suspect if there were a fee charged, there would be a free market in a proper gauge to determine the value of a product, the politicians should try such a stunt just to see if anyone puts a value on their words.

Time to Yell: 'Humbug!'

A report of a real-life plot against Christmas in England has come to our attention. Father Christmas is the British counterpart to America's Santa Claus and, just as in this country, each Christmas a number of men regularly find employment as Father Christmas-mas in department stores and elsewhere.

What is the man trying to do? What about the children? The unembarrassed Mr. Ybarra says he isn't worried. "I have made the registration and am creating the company solely to make myself the only official Father Christmas. It is purely a business venture."

Father Christmas, Ltd.? Santa Claus, Inc.? Bah, humbug!

The term Brahman was selected by the U.S. Department of Agriculture as the name of all breeds of Indian cattle in the United States. This type of cattle, characterized by a prominent hump above the shoulders, was imported from India into the United States as early as 1849. They were used in the Gulf coast area for crossing with other breeds of beef cattle to produce a type adapted to hot, humid conditions.

Pull Up A Chair

Someone has figured out the average woman spends eight months of her lifetime on the telephone. Somehow we think that's a conservative estimate. Year-round "ice" skating may be the next big thing. At any rate a Dutch inventor has designed a new skate that cuts into plastic like a real skate cuts into real ice. Tiny-sharpened wheels substitute for the blade. Rinks can be made inexpensively anywhere with the plastic panels. Quite an idea!

Today's smile: A doting father, about to purchase a birthday gift, said to a department store clerk: "I want something for a 17-year-old daughter." The clerk replied: "Why not get her a 19-year-old boy?"

The number of lead pellets found on the bottom of a pond after a duck season is astounding. A survey of Lake Puckaway in Wisconsin revealed an average of 118,900 per acre. The number of lead pellets found on a pond bottom, however, is academic. A single pellet in a ducks gizzard can kill the bird.

The Japanese have found a novel solution to over-crowding at Tokyo's international airport. They plan to build a floating airport in the sea, covering some 300 acres. Anchored to the sea bottom it would accommodate runways, administrative and service facilities. Cost would be about $500 million, and we'll bet a good part of the financing would come from Uncle Sam.

Thoughts while shaving: A half century ago Uncle Sam could run the country on a budget of $700 million, but these days he spends that much providing outdoor recreation facilities and beautification.

"Shake" means one of the strangest hunting seasons in the nation. During October and November there's a time when raccoons can be taken with a dog but not with a gun in Kentucky. It's known as the "shake season" because the only legal way to get a coon out of a tree is to shake him out. Noise is a factor in growing old. A recent study revealed that tribes in the Sudan where there is very little noise do not age as fast as U.S. city dwellers.

Sir Winston Churchill wasn't the first British leader to display a great fondness for brandy. Queen Anne, who ruled in the early 1700's, was known to her subjects as Brandy Nanny because she loved the spirits distilled from fermented grape juice. One of the things we miss about the modern railroads are the steam locomotives. They made transportation glamorous with their clanging bells, and puffing smokestacks as they pulled out of a station. And to our way of thinking one of the loneliest of all sounds was the shrill wail of a distant locomotive whistle on a cold night. Last reports showed there are about 500 of the black monsters still in use, but we haven't seen one in years. The Sunbury (Pa.) The Doctor Says

All Take 'Cure' to Prevent Recurrence of Pinworms. A mother asks how children contract pinworms and after the disease is cured how to prevent recurrences.

This disease is so common that almost everyone has it at one time or another. Bedsheet and night clothes become contaminated with the eggs, which measure only 1-500th of an inch in their greatest length. They are easily picked up on the fingers or under the nails when scratching.

Furthermore, they are so light that they may be spread throughout a room by sweeping, dusting, changing the bed linen or hanging up pajamas. From the fingers they may be transferred to food. Once swallowed they hatch and grow to adulthood in the digestive tract.

Prevention of a recurrence is not easy. The first step is to insist that all members of the household take the treatment simultaneously and then repeat treatment in three or four weeks to kill any new crop of worms that may be maturing in

Prep work's Planning Functions Assigned by President To Attorney General Before Trip Disburb Legislators

ROBERT ALLEN PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — There is a deep uneasiness among influential legislators over an executive order that President Johnson signed six days before he departed on his Southeast Asian trip.

Titled "Assigning Emergency Preparedness Functions to the Attorney General," the presidential directive delegates to the government's chief legal officer vast powers "to prepare national emergency plans and develop preparedness programs covering law-enforcement functions of the federal government" for use in time of war.

Filed as document 66-1227 with the Federal Register on Oct. 11, Executive Order 11310, the directive is officially known states, "These plans and programs shall be designed to develop a state of readiness in these areas with respect to all conditions of national emergency, including an attack upon the U.S."

According to Representative John J. Rooney, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Appropriations subcommittee that handles funds for the Justice Department, the executive order was issued without prior knowledge or consultation with members of Congress.

Because of the administration's present existing emergency plans and program, Representative Rooney and several other legislators on the Senate and House Judiciary Committees.

Although three are several drugs for this purpose, tablets of gentian violet are the most widely used because they are both effective and low in cost.

During the treatment all undergarments should be boiled daily in a solution of two cups of household ammonia to 10 gallons of water. Before boiling they should be handled without shaking. The bedclothes should be similarly boiled two or three times a week.

In addition, each member of the family must keep his or her hands but short and wash the hands and clean the fingernails before every meal and after every visit to the toilet. Separate towels must be used for drying the face and the rest of the body.

Q—My doctor prescribed Pamotae for pinworms. Is it effective? What are the side effects? A—A single dose of Pyvinium pamoate (Povon) will cure over 90 per cent of cases of pinworms. There are no serious side effects but it may cause nausea and mild abdominal cramps. If it is vomited, the vomit will stain any clothing it touches a bright red. Following a dose of the drug the stools will also be bright red but this does not indicate bleeding.

Q—When a child has pinworms should he be kept home from school? A—No. It's not that much of a health problem. Treat him at home and instruct him in personal hygiene.

Summit Talk Could Lead To Letdown

By RAY CROMLEY Washington Correspondent

MANILA (NEA)—Unless this Manila summit conference is followed by a series of positive steps in the months ahead, it could lead to a letdown that could harm U.S. objectives in Viet Nam.

A summit conference inevitably builds up hopes. If hopes are dashed, cynicism follows. Among the people of most countries represented there's not much hope of peace in Viet Nam in the near future. The best the realists hope for is that the war will fade away.

That's a pretty slim basis for building the sort of free world co-operation against aggression for which the United States is aiming.

But there's another approach that has been buzzing around among Asian leaders for the past several months. It centers on an economic development and political co-operation conference in which the countries of Asia and Western nations interested in Asia could work on ways to expand their mutual interests and settle their differences.

The conference agenda would aim at the future. It would not be concerned primarily with ending the Viet Nam war.

The men who favor this conference believe this indirect approach could open a door through which Hanói eventually could walk. They have quick hopes.

Such a conference, however, would offer a positive objective for Asian countries.

These ideas themselves are not new. Economic and political co-operation conferences have been held and organizations exist to help carry out the plans agreed on. Results to date, however, have not been great. The United States has suggested an Asian development bank and American aid in helping country and intercountry projects.

What's important is that such ideas are now being widely discussed and privately promoted by Asian leaders on their own initiative—without American prodding.

This Asian initiative could very well lead to something constructive—perhaps not quickly—but in the years ahead. This concept would, these Asian leaders believe give people some hope that they have a way to work at solving their own problems.

Since President Johnson shifted Nicholas deB. Katzenbach, the former attorney general, to the number two position in the State Department early in October, Deputy Attorney General Ramsey Clark, the son of Supreme Court Justice Clark, has served as acting attorney general.

Although young Clark is highly respected and trusted by most members of Congress, the legislators headed by Representative Rooney want to know more about this presidential delegation of powers to an "acting attorney general."

Question Box

QUESTION: Is compulsory support and attendance of government-prescribed schools the primary cause of ever bigger government and the gradual depriving individuals of their God given right to choose how to use their creative energy?

ANSWER: If we go back through history in the experience of compulsory attendance of monopoly government schools; we find that after compulsory attendance became the law the government got bigger more arbitrary with the result that the individual had less choice of how to use his creative energy.

Compulsory attendance started originally in Prussia. They had established government schools, but four d people were not attending them, so they had to make a law compelling people to send their children to them.

Horace Mann took the matter up in Massachusetts and instituted government schools in this country. Here, too, people were not attending, and so in Massachusetts they passed a law compelling people to send their children to schools prescribed by the government. From there it spread to every state in the union. Beginning with Massachusetts in 1852, all states by 1918 had established some requirements for attendance at school. So compulsory attendance has been in existence for 114 to 140 years throughout the entire United States.

The reason compulsory attendance of schools as tried by the state is so harmful is that it puts the state, or Caesar, above God or natural law. It teaches the youth of the land to believe that they get their rights from government rather than from nature of God when they were born.

The government schools, supported by tax money and the police power of the state, then become a monopoly; and since all progress comes from competition—from lack of monopoly—it follows logically that government schools and compulsory attendance of them or of schools sanctioned by them is the primary cause of the growth of government and the diminishing of the rights of the individual to choose how he uses his own creative energy. Rev. T. Robert Ingram in his "Schools—Government or Public?" writes:

"Compulsory school attendance is a daily insult to the natural God-given desire in every man to improve himself and his family. . . . It teaches that God didn't really make us the crown of creation and that we don't really have that desire or will; to excel." Then he makes one very complete conclusion: "The whole system (of tax-supported schools) would collapse in a whisper if compulsory attendance laws were repealed. If you did not empower the policemen to arrest anyone who does not send his children to a particular school, how long do you think the schools we must put up with would last?"

That's nothing more important than the minds of the youth. And to put them under the care of the state rather than the parents is the crime of crimes. Parents, of course, will make mistakes, but they will be minor compared with the possible mistakes the government school will make with the power to arrest a man for not sending his children to schools specified by the state just as it arrests a man for stealing or murder.

The conference agenda would aim at the future. It would not be concerned primarily with ending the Viet Nam war.

The men who favor this conference believe this indirect approach could open a door through which Hanói eventually could walk. They have quick hopes.

Such a conference, however, would offer a positive objective for Asian countries.

These ideas themselves are not new. Economic and political co-operation conferences have been held and organizations exist to help carry out the plans agreed on. Results to date, however, have not been great. The United States has suggested an Asian development bank and American aid in helping country and intercountry projects.

What's important is that such ideas are now being widely discussed and privately promoted by Asian leaders on their own initiative—without American prodding.

This Asian initiative could very well lead to something constructive—perhaps not quickly—but in the years ahead. This concept would, these Asian leaders believe give people some hope that they have a way to work at solving their own problems.
