Steps For Unity Are Outlined by Johnson

President Gives Major Foreign Policy Speech

NEW YORK (UPI) — President Johnson today turned his attention from Viet Nam to Europe, expressing fresh hope for improved relations with Communist regimes of eastern Europe and ending "the bitter legacy of World War II."

In a speech linking this goal to greater Western unity, the President outlined a series of steps aimed at strengthening U.S. contacts with eastern Europe.

School Aid Bills Passed Despite Johnson Warning

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House and Senate have approved school aid bills that kick the Johnson administration where it hurts the most this election year — in the swollen budget and the sensitive area of race relations.

The two versions of the school aid measure, passed Thursday, far exceed the spending authority the President asked — despite his warning at a news conference while debate was going on that a vote to boost the budget would be a vote to raise taxes.

The House bill — approved 237 to 97 — would allow $5.7 billion for the elementary and secondary school aid program and the older "impacted areas" plan for the two years that began last July 1. The Senate bill — passed 54 to 46 — would authorize $6.4 billion for the same period.

The House was about $430 million over Johnson's one year request; the Senate well over $1 billion in excess. The differing versions are to be reconciled by a House-Senate conference.

Perhaps even more painful for the administration was the House's approval of an amendment barring the U.S. Office of Education from delaying the grant of aid funds to school districts unless it has first proved they are practicing racial discrimination.

The House adopted, 220 to 116, an amendment by Rep. L.H. Fountain, D-N.C., aimed at curbing the education officer's current practice of deferring action on aid applications from districts the agency believes are violating the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

Supporters of the move, including some northerners, said it required no more than that Education Commissioner Harold Howe II live up to the rights law's requirements.

Johnson's warning, Thursday went to Congress which almost immediately ignored it and passed school aid bills, both of which exceeded presidential requests for funds.

The House bill would allow $5.7 billion for two years of aid. The Senate version would authorize $6.4 billion. The Senate was over $1 billion more than the one year program Johnson sought; the House $430 million more.

Johnson spoke as lawmakers were in the final stages of approval for appropriation bills, totaling more than $80 billion, and setting spending rates that could take the Johnson budget $2 billion to $3 billion above the $125.7 billion he sought.

South Vietnamese Stop Cong Attack

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. and Allied troops tightened a ring of steel around a trapped Communist force on the central coast today and killed 91 more in fresh fighting. The broken and demoralized enemy was reported surrendering in droves.

Reports from the seaside battleground around Nuoc Ngot Bay 290 miles northeast of Saigon said U.S. 1st Air Cavalrymen put the torch to a Viet Cong helmet and then chopped up a Communist force whose ammunition had gone up in the flames, killing about 40.

A U.S. helicopter sweeping in the quest for a larger, peaceful and prosperous Europe, Johnson said.

"We want the Soviet Union and the nations of eastern Europe to know that we and our allies shall go step by step with them as far as they are willing to advance."

The President prefaced his remarks about eastern Europe by saying that the Atlantic alliance must be modernized and that the West must tackle "one of the great unfinished tasks of our generation, making Europe whole."

He included reunification of Germany among the objectives. Toward the goal of a harmonious Europe, the president announced he was taking these steps:

—Reduction of export controls on East-West trade involving hundreds of non-strategic items.

—Authorization for the export-import bank to guarantee commercial credit to four more eastern European countries — Poland, Hungary, Bulgaria and Czechoslovakia.

—Directing Secretary of State Dean Rusk to review the possibility of easing the burden of Polish debts through mutual beneficial spending of this nation's holdings of Polish currency.

—Approving financing through the Export-Import Bank of U.S. exports for the new Fiat automobile plant in Russia.

—Liberalizing rules governing travel to Communist countries in Europe — as well as Asia.

The president cited as examples of U.S.-Soviet cooperation the negotiation of an airline service agreement and recent exchanges of cloud

Sixty-six Viet Cong surrendered en masse the day before and unconfirmed reports said an additional 38 also gave up the fight, walking in with "safe conduct passes" in their hands.

Beat Back Attack

In the war's other hot battleground just south of the demilitarized zone (DMZ), U.S. jets and naval guns helped South Vietnamese troops beat off an attack Thursday by an estimated three North Vietnamese battalions — from 1,000 to 1,200 men.

The Hanoi regulars sneaked down through the DMZ for the raid. When they broke off and went back, they left 200 comrades dead on the battlefield. Government officials said their losses were moderate.

U.S. jets screamed in at low levels to lay napalm and rockets into the enemy positions. A B57 Canberra was shot down but its pilot rescued.

Navy guns from the U.S. 7th Fleet offshore joined the pounding.

U.S. Marines, who have killed 982 of the enemy in a two-month sweep to seal off infiltration routes into the northern provinces, reported only light contact.

U.S. B52 bombers supporting the operation hit North Viet Nam Thursday night just north of the international buffer zone, striking truck parks and storage and staging areas.

Other U.S. jets hit North Viet Nam Thursday from Dong Hoi in the southern panhandle just above the border to Dien Bien Phu northwest of Hanoi. ## Mrs. Carr Pays Visit To Pampa

Mrs. Waggoner Carr of Austin, wife of the Texas Attorney General and Democratic candidate for U. S. Senate, arrived at Perry Lefors Airport around 11 a.m. today and was whisked to the Coronado Inn where she was guest at a "Green Tree Brunch" hosted by the Ladies Democratic Committee.

Mrs. Carr left Austin this morning for the Top O' Texas area, where she scheduled brief greeting stops in Childress, Dumas and Pampa, before joining her husband in Amarillo tonight.

Carr is scheduled to speak at a peace officers' meeting there. Given the gold carpet treatment by the Top O' Texans Club, Mrs. Carr was presented a bouquet of red roses by Jimmy Thompson, Gray County Democratic chairman, and Mrs. Jake Osborne, chairman of the Women's Democratic Activities.

Other officials on hand to greet Mrs. Waggoner and her entourage were Don Cain and Bill Waters, co-chairmen of Waggoner-Carr-For-Senate campaign in Gray County.

Expert's Return Indicates Good Soviet Relations

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson's return of the government's top Russian expert to Moscow appeared today as another sign of U.S. determination for good relations with the Soviets, despite the strain of the Viet Nam war.

Johnson named Llewellyn Thompson to the ambassador's post Thursday, a job Thompson held from 1957-62. He has served nine years in Russia in one capacity or another.

The President said he was asking Thompson to go back to Moscow because "of the importance of our relations with the Soviet Union at this time."

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., praised the Thompson appointment. He said the tall, Colorado-born diplomat was "one of the four men who contributed most during the time of the Cuban missile crisis."

Kennedy said Thompson's advice during the crisis and the efforts to remove Soviet missiles from Cuba was "invaluable and his courage most impressive."

The Thompson appointment is subject to Senate confirmation. On Monday the State Department said log-stalled talks were being resumed on the opening of a direct air service from New York to Moscow.

The new ambassador speaks Russian fluently and, during his previous service in Moscow, was on excellent terms with then Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, who respected him as a shrewd, no-nonsense negotiator.

It was reported that the present Soviet regime quickly approved the suggestion that Thompson be named as successor to Foy D. Kohler, who is to become deputy undersecretary of state for political affairs.

Three changes in the ambassadorial appointment were one of three State Department shifts announced Thursday by Johnson, completing his reorganization of the State Department's top echelon. The others named were:

—Ellsworth Bunker, a presidential envoy during the last year's crisis in the Dominican Republic, as Thompson's replacement as ambassador-at-large.

—Sol M. Linowitz, chairman of the board of Xerox International and a Johnson friend, to replace Bunker as U.S. ambassador to the Organization of American States.

Johnson also named Ross D. Davis, now administrator of the Economic Development Administration, to replace Eugene P. Foley, who has resigned as assistant secretary of commerce for economic development.

Foley, former head of the Small Business Administration, quit Sept. 30 to return to private life, the President said.

SPENDING MEANS HIGHER TAXES

Military Spending Reported As $4 Billion Over Budget

By CHARLES W. CORDDRY

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson's warning that higher federal spending means higher taxes was sharpened today with reports of military spending rates soaring $4 billion above budget estimates.

Under present trends, the original estimates may be exceeded by about $7 billion by the time this fiscal year ends next June 30.

Johnson's warning, Thursday went to Congress which almost immediately ignored it and passed school aid bills, both of which exceeded presidential requests for funds.

The House bill would allow $5.7 billion for two years of aid. The Senate version would authorize $6.4 billion. The Senate was over $1 billion more than the one year program Johnson sought; the House $430 million more.

Johnson spoke as lawmakers were in the final stages of approval for appropriation bills, totaling more than $80 billion, and setting spending rates that could take the Johnson budget $2 billion to $3 billion above the $125.7 billion he sought.

Russia and Allies Opposing Red China

HONG KONG (UPI) — Russia and its East European allies are planning to interfere actively in Communist China's feverish internal upheaval in favor of Peking party factions opposing Mao Tse-tung and his anti-Soviet policies, Western diplomats sources said today.

In a prepared analysis of Peking's continuing political turmoil, the sources said recent diplomatic activity involving Soviet and East European allies indicated that the Soviet bloc nations were ready to take some type of action against China.

In Moscow, the official Communist party newspaper Pravda published an appeal for a world Communist summit conference to condemn Peking's current purge and militant foreign policy. It was the second Pravda article this week calling for an open confrontation with China.

The unprecedented walkout by Soviet and other Communist party delegations at Peking's 17th annual national day celebrations, Oct. 1, and a barrage of recent criticism against Peking's sweeping "cultural revolution" purge were referred to specifically in the analysis.

The sources said the internal upheaval was deadly serious and directed by dissident elements in the party against Mao's apparent successor, Defense Minister Lin Piao, and the "extreme behavior" of youthful Red Guards who have spearheaded China's "cultural" purges.

"So far it is unlikely that the Soviet Union has exerted any influence in the conflicting factions in China," the sources said. "However, since the

Dear Abby...

The 'Skilled' Laborer Is Not Common

DEAR ABBY: My husband has had 5 years of college. He works long hours (no overtime pay) in a position of responsibility with a large, highly respected firm. His judgment is heavily relied upon. But some of the men who operate the machinery make more money than my husband. This hurts.

For instance, our neighbor never even finished high school, but because he has a unionized job of manual labor, his income far outstrips my husband's. It doesn't seem fair that with all my husband's education he is not able to give his family as much as some uneducated laborers.

I am not saying common laborers should make less, but in a society screaming for youngsters to get an education, it's ironical that uneducated laborers should make more than college graduates. I hope you aren't too frightened by his business to answer.

EDUCATED BUT HUNGRY—DEAR EDUCATED: I don't blame you for being resentful, but perhaps what you term "common laborers" are skilled laborers in their fields. Many men who have never seen the inside of a college (or high school) have a technical knowledge equal in importance to some college education.

1. too, would like to see higher education bring greater rewards, but don't confuse a man's worth with his college education or the lack of it.

DEAR ABBY Men think nothing of wearing a suit for four and maybe five years. Some even longer. So can you please tell me why a woman won't wear last year's dress?

CURIOUS—DEAR CURIOUS: Some don't want to. Others can't.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 28-year-old man who needs some womanly advice. About a year ago I got a little drunk and hooked up with a 40-year-old married woman. We were intimate right away and to make a long story short, she and her two sons, 12 and 14, moved into my apartment.

Her divorce came through shortly after and we made plans to marry. Then I started finding out things about her that didn't add up. She said she lost her first husband in the war. I found out they were divorced and he's still living. She told me her parents were both dead. I found out they are living right in this town, but she never sees them. She said she had no other children except the boys. I found out she has two older daughters, living with relatives.

When I brought up these things she said it is all in the past and she doesn't want to talk about it. Now I am wondering what kind of person would lie about things like that, and why! I care for her, Abby, but should I marry a woman if I can't believe a word she says?

WONDERING—DEAR WONDERING: If you do, you ought to have your head examined.

Kids and Carnaby Cute Combination

By HELEN HENNESSY
Women's Editor

NEW YORK (NEA) — A sure way to make a hit with the little guys is to dress them like the big guys. And today that does not mean Harris tweeds and a crew cut. You gotta give 'em the Carnaby Look.

Rumor (or mayhap rumour?) has it that the mod mode is dying out in London even on the grubby street where it got its start. But it's sure catching on here with the speed of a rolling stone. And on little chaps it looks cute.

"The days of cornhusker fashions even for toddlers are over," said Charles Sheldon, president of Hi-Line, a firm that turns the mod set into shining examples of sartorial splendor.

"By cornhusker I mean the shiny blue serge suit every boy was always buttoned into for dress-up occasions."

Sheldon likes the Carnaby fashions for all the fellas, big and little. All it is, he maintains, is a different approach to basic, comfortable styling.

"Take the Ivy League look," he said. "It was cut too narrow to be comfortable."

"The continental jacket was an awkward and unbecoming length but, more important for the kids, you couldn't get your hands into the pockets because there was no room." This is no big deal for the small fry. Maybe you want to look like big brother, but if your hands will not even fit into your pockets,

Instead of yearning for some kind of immortality, remember the words of Benjamin Franklin: "If you would not be forgotten, As soon as you are dead and rotten, Either write things worth reading Or do things worth the writing."

Problems? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069 for Abby's book, "All Occasions."

HE'S SIX GOING ON 16, at least when it comes to clothes. He wants to dress the way "big guys" do. Brown corduroy outfit with fitted bush jacket, belt and brass buttons, Dutch boy cap and brown and black striped slacks (top left) do the trick. Another happy little mod (top right) wears a wool Melton cap, pea jacket and matching fishtail slacks. The half-pint swinger (lower right) chooses a bright glen plaid jacket in camel, red and black, a red turtleneck and black slacks. These designs are from the new Hi-Line collection based on the popular Carnaby Look scaled down to size for little boys of three to seven.

English gentleman in a wool suit with velvet trim. MORE MORE MORE

IJ WP ADD KIDS AND The Army and Navy stores inspired Carnaby," Charles Sheldon said. "They've always had the pea jacket. Youth discovered it and gave it a name—Carnaby. The same with the Norfolk jacket. Add epaulettes and it's Carnaby. And all they did to the C.P.O. shirt was add epaulettes and two pockets instead of one."

The Carnaby influence will be around for a long time, Sheldon believes. "Even California, the last stronghold of indifference to anything it didn't initiate, has suffered."

So we may as well start the kids off with know-how on the "cool" way to dress.

Don't worry about young Davy's growing into a long-haired dandy should you start him on the Carnaby beat at the tender age of five. Fashion changes so fast these days, even for the men, that by the time he's 15 tonsures may be the thing.

Hands can be a beauty asset or detriment. They surely are dead giveaways of our age, our work and our care or neglect. They are spotlighted constantly. Why not make them a thing of beauty? Thanks to detergents and harsh metal polishes fingers discolor, skin and nails crack and hands become rough. Start wearing gloves when you do household and garden chores. Admittedly, gloves are difficult to get used to while doing housework but give it a whirl and your reward will be smooth hands and sparkling nails.

When moisture in the skin is gone, the youthful look and freshness is gone. To make your skin look young and radiant again, pamper your skin with a good dry-skin cream or lotion. Giving it an all-night beauty treatment will smooth tiny lines and wrinkles that can make you look a little less than young.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Carrying through with promises to kin is wise in a.m., and be careful you are not extravagant where pleasure is concerned later in the day. Get your feet on the ground. Vacillation may be your weakness now.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) — Keeping appointments, writing letters in the morning, but new systems of operating are best studied after lunch, some put in effect tonight. Step out early for shopping, etc. Show family you are devoted.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — Monetary matters can be nicely handled in the morning, but later to over reports, etc. for errors, possibly. Be sure your property affairs are in fine order. Then off to fun and frolic tonight. Drive with care.
MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 23) — Morning brings benefits from past effort and you can later handle monetary affairs very intelligently and in p.m. look into your investments.
LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23) — Private duties are completed in a.m. and then you have nothing to plan the afternoon more wisely later. Start wheels in motion tonight. You have excellent talents that can be put to work very easily.
VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) — Being a.m. friends are amenable to your finest suggestions, but do not feel that college are imposing on you later. Rise above limitations. Complete the social before setting down to specific labors.
LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) — During a.m. you are able to please a higher-up by being very precise. Your employer's aid will back you in some project. A sad disappointment you early but by evening all works out just fine.
SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23) — You are inspired this morning and can take your finest talent to right channel and get the support of a Bigwig. Handle out-of-town matters early. Latter part of day is best for whatever has to do with the world-at-large.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24 to Dec. 23) — You are anxious to get obligations behind you early so that you can later make more worthwhile arrangements for the future. Others give splendid assistance. Progress comes quite easily.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 24 to Jan. 20) — You can make ideal plans with a very deliberate pace during morning, so be very specific. Employ better methods in dealing with other associates. Also keep mutual profits in mind and all goes well.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Drive into whatever is inventive in nature through knowledge acquired. Discuss it with allies later. Get their aid... their support... regeneration you most like. Be with congeniality.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — Making plans early for later recreation is necessary, so that you can settle down to work at hand later on. Do whatever will improve your appearance. Rid self of dull duds — then go on.
IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY...
The one who will early in life appear to be very slow-starting and almost dull, but the fact of the matter is that a very analytical mind is ever at work studying conditions about, individuals and upon maturity will surprise others by the amount of knowledge acquired. Send to college and don't limit the size of enterprises here, since the success can be phenomenal. A polio-stricken emaciate late in life.

Hands can be a beauty asset or detriment. They surely are dead giveaways of our age, our work and our care or neglect. They are spotlighted constantly. Why not make them a thing of beauty? Thanks to detergents and harsh metal polishes fingers discolor, skin and nails crack and hands become rough. Start wearing gloves when you do household and garden chores. Admittedly, gloves are difficult to get used to while doing housework but give it a whirl and your reward will be smooth hands and sparkling nails.

When moisture in the skin is gone, the youthful look and freshness is gone. To make your skin look young and radiant again, pamper your skin with a good dry-skin cream or lotion. Giving it an all-night beauty treatment will smooth tiny lines and wrinkles that can make you look a little less than young.

Newest James Bond Movie To Reveal Another Gimmick Car

AKIKO, WHO PLAYS a Japanese Secret Service agent, poses in the Toyota GT-2000, used in "You Only Live Twice." The car will be sold for export during the summer of 1967.

By DICK KLEINER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
TOKYO, Japan (NEA)—Re-member James Bond's jazzy Aston Martin with all those deadly accessories in "Goldfinger"? They're trying to top that ta. They started with a Toyota GT-2000, a new sports car which will soon be introduced around the world.

But this has a roof and the script called for a convertible. So the GT-2000 was convertiblized for the film. Now it is sleek with a Japanese-built job in the new Bond picture, "You Only Live Twice," which is currently being filmed here.

Capitalizing on the Japanese electronics skill, the new car is equipped with more gadgetry than a Tokyo transistor radio store. At the moment, its armament is strictly peaceful, because the Japanese are very strict about guns and things these days.

But, when the company returns to England to finish the film, chances are that the car will have some extra added attractions, the kind of murderous gimmicks that only the Bond films can dream up.

The car was designed, built and delivered in four weeks by one of the biggest Japanese automobile manufacturers, Toyota. In the picture, it is driven first by Aki, a pretty (naturally) Japanese Secret Service agent. Playing the role is a Japanese actress, Akiko Wakabayashi.

For her spying, she has had a few gee-gaws added, besides the 143-m.p.h. top speed and the engine displacement of 131.3 cubic inches.

Examples: A videotape recording unit, which shoots pictures of whatever the car is following (or being followed by) and records them on tape in a console tucked in behind the seat.

Also a color television receiver in the dashboard. Also a two-way radio. Also a voice tape recorder.

The whole thing is something like a recording studio on wheels.

Toyota is hopeful that "You Only Live Twice" will do as much for its product as "Goldfinger" did for Aston Martin. That respectable English firm was making four cars a week when "Goldfinger" featured its car—and today they're hard-pressed to fill 100 orders a week, at $15,000 per car.

The Toyota GT-2000 will sell in the United States for around $5,500. That doesn't include Akiko Wakabayashi.

CRANE GROUNDED
FORT COLLINS, Colo. (UPI)—Canus, a 2-year-old whooping crane, was grounded today and it may be just as well.

An Interior Department spokesman said Canus' right wing was removed at the elbow after two previous operations failed to restore its usefulness, and it approved to be a detriment to his balance.

Canus was hurt two years ago when he collided with a dead rice tree in one of his earliest flying ventures. Without the wing and with the care of game specialists, he at least won't run that risk again.

In 1955, 86 persons died when a United Air Lines DC4 hit Medicine Bow peak in Southern Wyoming.

Repairman's Blunder

When Ed's car was repaired at the corner garage, the mechanic made one small mistake: he left out part of the steering apparatus. Driving home, Ed lost control of the car and crashed into a fire hydrant.

Was the garage legally liable for his accident? The proprietor said no, insisting that once a car left the premises his responsibility came to an end.

But Ed collected. The court said liability for negligence extends as far as the "natural and probable consequences" of the error.

To be sure, the connection between the repair work and the accident was crystal clear in Ed's case. That is not always so. And, if you cannot establish such a connection, you cannot hold the garage liable. Thus:

A nut fell into the gears of a recently repaired car, causing considerable damage. But evidence was strong that the repairman had not touched that particular nut at all.

The court, finding no probable connection between the repair work and the damage, held the garage not liable.

Furthermore, the law demands reasonable care not only from the garage but also from you as the car owner. For example, if you know that a repair job is inadequate, you may be held to have "assumed the risk" of driving the car in that condition.

On the other hand, you will not be blamed if your conduct—while not perfect—was at least up to the standard of the average driver.

Take the case of a motorist whose brakes, improperly repaired, failed at the crest of a hill. When he sued later for damages, the garage owner argued:

Soviets Make Largest Grain Harvest in Nation's History

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet government Thursday announced the largest grain harvest in the nation's history. The announcement amounted to a tangible vote of confidence in multi-billion-dollar efforts to boost farm output and end the necessity for expensive, embarrassing wheat purchases from capitalist nations.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, quoted Agriculture Ministry official Ivan Khoroshilov as saying the harvest of all grains this year will be about 160 to 165 million tons. He did not give exact figures for different kinds of grain, such as wheat, oats or barley.

The previous record was set in 1964, when a bumper crop brought in 152.1 million tons. Bad weather last year drove yields down to 120.5 million tons.

Since then, the Kremlin has invested millions of dollars in a program of irrigation, land reclamation, fertilization and mechanization in an attempt to end these cyclical ups-and-downs and put Soviet farming on a self-sufficient basis.

Khoroshilov's announcement was expected. Earlier official reports had told of record yields from various farming areas, and Western experts who had toured the countryside reported a bumper crop was on the way.

Observers said the bumper crop, while a good sign, did not mean Russia's perennial farm problems were solved. They pointed out that farmers were

Denver Wives Boycott Five Groceries

DENVER (UPI)—More than 1,000 Denver area housewives who are disenchanted with rising food prices Wednesday pledged a two-week-long boycott of five major grocery store chains.

Mrs. Frances Foster of Commerce City, chairwoman of "Housewives for Lower Food Prices," said the boycott would begin Oct. 17. She said it was being directed against Furr's, King Soopers, Millers, Red Owl and Safeway chain stores, "and if it's necessary, we will picket."

Mrs. Foster said the group, which also is petitioning for a legislative probe into rising prices, would shop with independent merchants "as long as we continue to get a fair deal from them."

"But if they increase their prices, we won't shop there either," she said. "We'll go to the warehouses to get our canned goods, to the bakeries for day-old bread and to the milk companies for our milk."

Mrs. Foster said "representatives from the large chain stores think housewives are so ignorant about things—well, we've finally decided to do something about it."

Depth of the Caspian Sea was reduced by 2.5 meters between 1950 and 1965.

blessed by almost perfect weather this year.

But they said the crop will free needed currency that can now be spent on arms, consumer goods, space or other priority items.

National Window

By LYLE WILSON
United Press International
Some House Republicans and a member of the Johnson cabinet have been playing a game of don't-tell-all about the administration plans for the lily-white suburbs of great Northern cities. The suburbanites aren't going to like it if they ever learn what awaits them.

When LBJ's plans take effect, many suburban citizens will suffer a rocky shock. The plan is for the lily-white suburbs somehow, some way to share their elementary school children with deprived Negro residents of the rotting city slums. This may or may not require more civil rights legislation. New interpretations of old law probably will get the job done.

The House Republicans played their half-truth game with Secretary John W. Gardner of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW). Rep. Paul Fino, R-N.Y., whose constituency is in New York City's predominantly white section of the Bronx, led off. He loudly complained that the Johnson administration had, in 1967 a hush-hush legislative plan to compel the mixing of Negro and white children in suburban schools by whatever means seemed necessary; busing, rezoning, school pairing, swaps of suburban and slum pupils, establishment of vast educational parks to serve entire metropolitan areas. Any or all!

Joining Fino in these charges were Rep. John Rhodes, R-Ariz., chairman of the House GOP Policy Committee and the Republican Whip, Rep. Leslie Arends of Illinois. Gardner replied that the plan was merely an unofficial discussion paper without official status of any kind. He did not disown the plan, however. He said this: "We can say flatly that the department of HEW has no intention whatsoever of submitting legislation that would compel school busing or rezoning." All concerned should be ashamed of themselves for their parts in the misrepresentation of the facts in a situation which is important politically, socially and economically to millions of Americans.

Fino loudly asserted that the administration's plans for the suburbs had been slipped to him by unnamed slippers. Arends, an old pro who should know better, went along with this branding of a secret document, as did Rhodes. None of these Republicans had done his homework.

Their lazy-minded failure to prepare themselves for discussion of what LBJ plans for the suburbs enabled Gardner to blur the facts in a swirl of half-truths.

The truth of what LBJ has up his sleeve for the affluent suburbs is a matter of public record. The record lies in the seven speeches delivered in recent months by Harold How II, Johnson's commissioner of education, who works for Gardner in the HEW department. If LBJ and Gardner don't mean what Howe says, who is kidding whom in Washington?

Howe publicly has stated the administration's purpose is to do substantially what Fino claimed was revealed in the secret document.

To imply the administration has no such plans, as Gardner surely did, is an unconscionable guiding of the facts.

The question is strictly how it shall be done; not whether it shall be done. If Arends, Rhodes, Fino & co. have not read Howe's speeches, they should do so.

Any resident of an affluent white suburb outside the South who has not read Howe's speeches is permitting himself to be uninformed: This is true whether the suburbanite is for or against the plan to mix white and Negro elementary children among school systems regardless of neighborhood to achieve racial balance all around.

If you are interested, ask your congressman to send you the seven Howe speeches delivered between June 18 and Aug. 9. For instant understanding, get Howe's May 3 speech delivered in New York City.

A PATRON OF LONDON'S PLAYBOY CLUB watches almost disinterestedly as a British Bunny is about to launch the celebrated Dip. Is she a shirker?

RABBIT HUTCH REBELLION The British Bunnies May Be Too Lazy

By TOM A. CULLEN
European Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
LONDON (NEA) — There is trouble brewing among the Bunnies at London's newly opened, $4.5 million Playboy Club, the first of its kind in Europe.

British Bunny girls complain that they are being worked too hard in the five-story, plush-lined rabbit hutch fronting London's Park Lane.

The American management, on the other hand, complains that the girls are not working hard enough. Three of them have been fired for inefficiency and, unless they get a wiggle on, a dozen or more may lose their cottontails.

Are British Bunnies as bright-eyed and cotton-tailed as their American sisters? The British girls can hold their own with American Bunnies any day, and they are a lot easier to handle, says the Bunny mother.

She is Donna Hart, 24, an attractive brunette in charge of 100 Bunnies. Miss Hart speaks with authority. She worked as a Bunny for four years in New Orleans before becoming a Bunny mother.

"British Bunnies are quieter and more relaxed than American," she says. "If a British girl has a problem she is usually reluctant to discuss it, whereas an American girl wants to shout about her troubles from the rooftops."

Miss Hart is reluctant to discuss the shake-up at the London Playboy Club, which has been open less than three months. Nevertheless, she admits that a few Bunnies have been fired for unsatisfactory work, while another batch has been sent for retraining. The remainder have been warned by Victor Lowndes,

American managing director, to get on the ball. "We will keep those Bunnies who are willing to do the job required and eliminate those who can't or will not," says a directive issued by Lowndes.

As the first of its kind in Europe, the London Playboy Club is regarded as the pilot for a network which eventually will include Paris, Rome, Madrid, Amsterdam, Geneva and Berlin.

Meanwhile, some British Bunnies have quit their jobs voluntarily, having found the going too tough. Not only were they required to look hot and keep cool, but to stand on spike heels for eight hours a day.

Unlike her American counterpart, the British Bunny is expected to be expert at craps, blackjack and roulette. Clad in crimson velvet, the croupier Bunnies have charge of the gaming tables at the Playboys penthouse casino. She must also be something of a wizard at mixing drinks.

The British usually drink their gin with tonic water and their whisky neat, so mixing cocktails does not come naturally. The British Bunny has to learn that a Gibson takes an onion, while a gimlet takes a slice of lime. All of this for $100 a week — small wonder that rebellion is smoldering in the briar patch.

To make matters worse, she has to learn which glass goes with which cocktail, where to place the napkin, and how to do a "Bunny dip" when serving drinks. This maneuver is designed to prevent Bunnies from popping out of their costumes.

Prexy Says Rail Merger Is In National Interest

CHICAGO (UPI) — The merger of the Union Pacific and Rock Island railroads and subsequent sale of Rock Island's southern tracks to Southern Pacific is "in the overall national interest," SP president Benjamin F. Biagini said recently.

Biagini spoke to the Interstate Commerce Commission hearings on the proposed combine and said "the continued growth and prosperity of this country is closely tied to and directly dependent on the existence of strong and healthy railroads."

He said Southern Pacific will make the southern portion of the Rock Island a part of a strong and efficient railroad. This will be of direct and immediate benefit to the shipping public served by these three lines.

The SP favors the merger if, as planned, the new combine would sell the southern tracks of Rock Island to SP.

Biagini said the sale would help SP keep freight rates down in the face of increased competition from non-rail freighters. He said the SP was opposed to the merger if Union Pacific kept all Rock Island trackage.

In 1913, President Woodrow Wilson pressed a button in Washington which caused the last remaining obstruction to the Panama Canal to be blown up.

Stephen Austin was known as the founder of Texas. He started a colony of 300 American families on the Brazos River in 1822.

Bobby Kennedy Will Not Be Candidate for Presidency

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., has scratched himself as a possible candidate for either president or vice president in 1968.

In an interview published today by the Washington Post, Kennedy said he would not be a candidate for either of the top two spots on the Democratic national ticket "under any foreseeable circumstances."

Regarding widespread speculation that he might be interested at least in being President Johnson's running mate two years hence, the former attorney general said he would not run for vice president even if the President asked him.

Kennedy expressed strong support for Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Public opinion polls have given Kennedy a substantial lead over Humphrey among Democratic voters in their listings of who they would prefer to see run with Johnson in 1968.

A Louis Harris poll last month even gave Kennedy an edge over Johnson when Democrats were asked whom they favored to head the ticket. Kennedy said in the interview, "I'm not encouraging anybody. That's the way I feel about it."

He said he intended to seek reelection to the Senate in 1970. He declined to speculate on what he will do in 1972 when Johnson will be barred by law from seeking another presidential term.

Age Increases Importance Of Taking Religion Seriously

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International
 The older a person gets, the more likely he is to take religion seriously. This fact, long suspected by those familiar with the age composition of a typical church congregation, now has been corroborated in a nationwide survey conducted for the Catholic Digest by Dr. George Gallup's public opinion pollsters.

The question they put to a representative cross-section of America was: "How important would you say religion is in your life—very important, fairly important, or not very important?" In the youngest age group, 18 to 24, only 57 per cent said that religion was very important to them. The proportion moved up to 61 per cent among young adults 25 to 34. But 72 per cent of the middle-aged and 78 per cent of the elderly attached the highest importance to religious faith.

There are several possible explanations for the fact that interest in religion tends to escalate with age. One is that older people are more conscious of their own mortality, and hence are more actively concerned with ultimate questions of human destiny. Another is that the experience of living for several decades serves to make most people aware of their limitations and their need for a viable relationship with a higher power.

In Columbus, Ohio, six denominations have joined forces to use church purchasing power as a lever to open up job opportunities for Negroes.

They have agreed that they will sign future contracts for construction or supplies only with firms which give clear assurances that they are following non-discriminatory hiring practices.

Participating in the pact are Catholics, Presbyterians, Episcopalians, Unitarians, Methodists and the United Church of Christ.

The use of church purchasing power as a weapon against job discrimination is being promoted in all parts of the country by the National Catholic Conference for Interracial Justice—one of the first religious groups to enlist in the fight for equal rights for Negroes.

Church World Service, the interdenominational agency which carries on overseas relief work for many U.S. Protestant bodies is marking its 20th anniversary this weekend.

In honor of the occasion, a Church World Service statistician-computer the volume of food, clothing, blankets, medicines and other supplies which the agency has distributed to the poor of 60 nations since it went into business at the end of World War II.

He found that if these relief shipments were loaded into a single conveyer of giant tractor-trailer trucks, they would stretch bumper to bumper from New York to Denver.

From Crumbling Bricks Comes Dreams Made Of Faith, Hope

By RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
 Twenty years ago, Frankfurt, Berlin and hundreds of other cities were in ruins. To see them at that time was not only to weep at the destruction of architecture; it was to cringe at the ruined lives. Man walked with shuffling feet and stared through skeletal faces with unlighted eyes.

At that time I knew a man, as gaunt and suffering as the rest but with a flame burning in him. Otto Fricke had defied Hitler, had suffered in his homeland and had believed in 1946 that he could assist political refugees. He wanted to build a village from the rubble of Frankfurt.

Seldom have I seen a man more captivated by a great idea. The place reeked of hell and he talked of heaven.

Recently we returned for our third visit to Heilsberg near Frankfurt. The neat homes now house 4,000 persons. The gardens are prosperous and the whole sea is a place of peace.

It is hard to believe that all of this has come to pass in 20 years. For this is no professional builder's suburb; these houses were built by the community and these people have constructed a new environment for freedom.

The bricks were made of clay and rubble; the dream was made of faith and hope.

The little church, financed by a congregation of American Christians, is now outgrown and a new church towers on the ridge overlooking the great plain that stretches into Frankfurt. I wondered whether the same burning faith would glow in these more affluent times.

This is why the story needs to be known and told, for it is another evidence of undefeated faith. History is replete with the stories of men who were heroes under the pressure of some catastrophe. We are driven by the compulsions of events outside of us before we are compelled by the faith within us.

If an Otto Fricke can burn with a faith that built a town in a time of disaster, some of us can find a way to transform the broken dreams and promises of so many of our cities into a new environment of encouragement.

Too many men have urged violence; too many persons have looked through lifeless eyes. To remember Otto Fricke is to return to the tension of our present, certain that the compulsion of an inner faith can achieve new cities of hope.

Rev. Manning To Preach Sunday Sermon
 Rev. J. R. Manning, assistant pastor of the First Baptist church, will be in the pulpit for both services of worship Sunday. At the eleven o'clock morning worship he will preach from the subject, "Appointment with God" with his text taken from Hebrews 9.

Sam Allen, minister of music, will direct the Chancel Choir in singing "Praise the Name of the Lord" by Ivanoff. Miss Eloise Lane, organist will play "Jesus Saviour, Pilot Me" by MacDonald for the offertory.

"Progress in Reverse" is the topic Rev. Manning has chosen for the seven o'clock evening worship sermon. The chancel choir will sing "My Father Watches Over Me" arranged by Kaiser. Miss Lane has chosen "Andante from The Crusaders" by Gade for the organ offertory.

Training Union precedes the evening worship at six o'clock. Lonnie Richardson, Training Union director, expects a good response to the new meeting time.

Healing Power Scientists' Tonic Sunday

"Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits; who forgetth all thine inequities; who health all thy diseases."

The Psalmist's assurance of God's healing power is included in the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon titled, "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

The account of the woman who was healed simply by touching the hem of Jesus' garment is also among the Scriptural readings.

A correlative passage to be read from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, declares "Divine Truth, Life and Love" gave Jesus authority over sin, sickness, and death.

Church World Service Has Life-Saving Cargo

Can you imagine a convoy of giant tractor-trailer trucks bumper to bumper, extending from New York to Denver, loaded with four billion pounds of food, medicine, clothing, blankets and other life essentials? And massed along the west coast, nearly the entire 195 million men, women and children of the US—homeless, hungry and destitute, anxiously awaiting the arrival of the life-saving cargo?

If you can conjure up such a picture, you will have visualized the sheer quantity of relief supplies and the vast number of needy persons in more than 60 countries overseas who have benefited from such aid in missions of mercy carried out by Church World Service during the past 20 years.

Church World Service, cooperative overseas relief agency of U.S., Protestant and Orthodox communions, will observe its 20th anniversary with a dinner and program Oct. 7 in Indianapolis, Ind. This is the first of several regional celebrations which will be held throughout the country during the anniversary year.

Among those present for the Oct. 7 event in Indianapolis, are the Second Presbyterian

Sermon Series Continues at Presbyterian

"The Holy Spirit, God's Work in Man," is the sixth in a series of doctrinal sermons at the First Presbyterian Church, and will be based upon Isaiah 63 and John 14. Rev. Donald S. Hays, pastor, will be assisted in the worship at both the 8:30 and 11:00 hours by Ruling Elder Frank Smith.

The Sacrament of Baptism for infants will be administered at each service.

At 6 p.m. the first session of the year-around training in discipleship service will be held with Rev. Hays speaking on the theme, "The Lord of Christian Faith and Life—Who is He?" All members of the church are urged to participate.

On Wednesday evening, Oct. 12, the congregation will meet for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year. The meeting will be held at 7:15, following a covered-dish supper at 6:30 p.m.

Annual Nazarene Pastor's Meet Set In October

Nazarene church pastors and their wives from this area are scheduled to take part in the annual Abilene, or northwest Texas, district preachers' conference to be held at Camp Arrowhead, near Cleburne, on Wednesday through Friday, October 12-14.

Nearly all of the 100 Nazarene churches on the district will be represented. These churches, have a total of about 6500 members and a Sunday school enrollment of 11,000 persons.

The guest speakers will be Dr. and Mrs. V. H. Lewis, of Kansas City, Mo. Dr. V. H. Lewis has served continuously since 1960 in the highest elective office of the church—as a general superintendent. He formerly was secretary of department of evangelism for four years and prior to that was superintendent of the Houston district in the church.

The program will be in charge of the district superintendent, the Rev. Raymond W. Hurn, Lubbock.

The Church of the Nazarene is the largest Protestant denomination that stands for scriptural holiness in the Wesleyan tradition. It has a world membership of 425,000 in more than 5,000 churches.

It maintains about 600 missionaries in 46 countries.

World offices are in Kansas City, Mo.

Is Sunday Fun-Day?

By DAVID POLING
Special Writer
NEW YORK (NEA)—The churches of the land have struggled to keep time with many revolutions: the industrial and agrarian, the civil rights and campus crusades, the Pill and the New Morality. But of all the crosscurrents—including the God-is-Dead School (Topless Theology?)—one of the most powerful has not been fully understood or faced.

Its impact on the religious community is massive and it is contributing to what may be the last years of the church as we have known it. Call the recreation explosion, a leisure life for millions of our people.

And one group that is bracing itself against this latest event is the religious community. For the church, synagogue and cathedral may experience a severe and dangerous testing of their leadership. To put it bluntly—has Sunday become fun-day?

Is every weekend a little vacation with the formal requirements of the religious life left in the spray of waterskiing, scuba diving and beachcombing? Has the Sabbath succumbed to the sultan and are we seeing the last stand of Saturday and Sunday services that once were the solid backbone of the American community?

Some ministers are eager to affirm that the fruits of our labor should be recreation, lengthy vacations and early retirement. They point out that the production, sales and profits of our economic system have been bountiful, the benefits widespread in a nation with no ruling class or caste system. All this has blended together with the happy result that a man now works fewer hours, for higher pay and a longer life. Add to this a fastback car, a fast track at Hialeah, a fast flight to Europe and, man, you have a leisure-recreation explosion rocking America and the greater part of the western world.

At this point a jumbo-sized threat to the churches emerges. For the Hebrew-Christian community has always had a clear and precise understanding of work. From the teaching of the prophets, the life of Christ, the labors of St. Paul and the other disciples, the example and writings of Luther and Calvin, you have the historic concept of every man to his "calling"—to his vocation in life blessed by

Youth-Led Rally Set At Calvary

Robert A. Dawson, senior ministerial student at Wayland College, will be the evangelist for a youth-led rally and revival meeting at Calvary Baptist Church at 7 p.m. Oct. 15-16.

Dawson, who was graduated from Tulsa High School in 1963, and entered Wayland in the fall has been active in the Ministerial Alliance and Volunteer Mission organization at the school. He has served as a counselor at the assembly camp at Ridgecrest and has recently written a new manual for the Royal Ambassador Knight-in-Service program being considered for publication by the Southern Baptist Brotherhood Commission. Following his graduation in May, Dawson plans to enter Southwest Baptist Theological Seminary in Ft. Worth.

Doug Jones, also a student at Wayland, will lead the music for the two-day meeting which will begin a revival lasting through the week of Oct. 16-23. Rev. Bill Penland and Cloyce Powell will continue the emphasis on Monday.

Services will be held during the regular worship schedule on Sundays and at 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

ROY PATTERSON
St. Paul Methodist Church

"And Jesus said to him, Go your way; your faith has healed you." Mark 10:52 a.

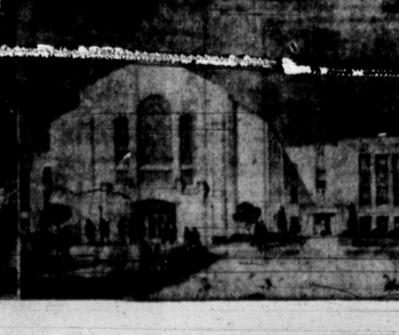

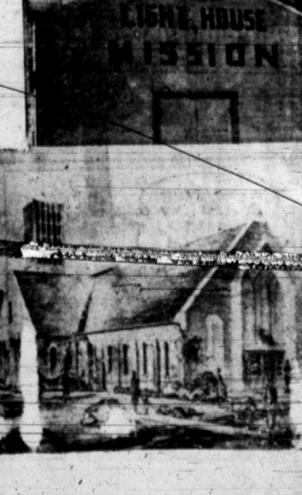

We often hear the words from the Dr. Today, There is not much we can do for you. The disease does not respond to treatment.

This seems terrible to anyone of us. We have put so much emphasis on the physical existence in which we find ourselves.

I would be the last one to disregard our physical life, but the man in our text needed more than physical healing. He needed the touch of the Masters hand to not only restore his sight, but to give him eyes that could really see. This happened to him because the story tells that from then on he followed Jesus.

The greatest tragedy of our day is the sightless people walking our streets. Their only interest is securing the physical needs.

This man made four steps that is necessary for anyone who would be healed. He first recognized his need. This is very important if we would receive help. His second step was also very important he recognized the source of his help. Many of the people walking blindly through life need to look up and find the source of power. He then cried out for the help needed and was recognized by Jesus. His final step was the one that brought healing into his life. He discarded the cloak that seemed in this instant to be hindrance and made his way to the Master. Not any one of these steps would be effective without the discarding of the things that hinder us from making our way to the source of help.

Television in Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The big news in televised baseball today, of course, is that the Los Angeles Dodgers will play the Yomiuri Giants on ABC-TV's "Wide World of Sports" Nov. 5.

Not only will the Dodgers play the Yomiuri Giants in Tokyo, but they will take on all comers in Osaka, Hiroshima, Fukuoka, Nagoya and other Japanese cities.

All of this is part of the Dodgers' second-goodwill tour since 1956, and it is endorsed by the President—I mean the president of the United States, not of the National League.

Also in favor of a long trip by the Los Angeles team are Dodger fans, who in fact would be entirely understanding if the club decided to leave the country Saturday.

Unfortunately, as viewers of NBC-TV's World Series know, the Dodgers have an appointment with the Baltimore Orioles Saturday at 1 p.m. EDT, at which time the Los Angeles team will have a crack at tying some more baseball records.

In the first game Wednesday, six Dodgers struck out in a row, and in the second televised contest Thursday, the club committed six errors—which was only two more than the hits it accumulated.

Thus far, the television display can only appeal to the kind of persons who would have cheered at the St. Valentine's Day massacre.

It is not a matter of a good team—Baltimore—beating another good team in exciting fashion, but rather, to the fan who merely wants to see a championship contest, a case of one club—the Dodgers—falling into a terrible slump at an embarrassing time, while the other aggregation plays solidly.

For viewers of the World Series on television who are puzzled at the Dodger slump, only readers of this column will learn the real reason. The reason is that the Dodgers usually play at night at home, and the younger athletes have grown up believing that smog is the natural state of affairs during daytime hours. Thus the sudden sight of sunshine was such an exciting event for them that it distracted them.

For example, the average televiewer might have thought that Dodger centerfielder Willie Davis dropped two fly balls merely because he made two bum errors. But the reporter who has spent years reading the lips of jurors at trials will tell you that as Davis circled under the balls, he seemed to be saying, "What is that big, round, yellow thing up there in the sky?" Thus distracted by this thrilling event, he dropped the two fly balls and lost the Thursday game for Sandy Koufax.

In a piece of major league prognostication, by the way, Vin Scully, the Dodger announcer, suggested strongly before the game that the players would indeed have such sky-and-glare problems. Apparently Baltimore wasn't listening to the broadcast, or watching it, because none of the Oriole fielders dropped anything.

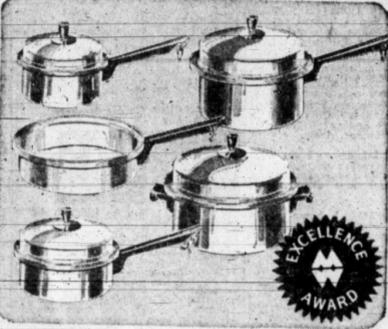

Actually, Walter Alton, manager of the Dodgers, is frankly quite in favor of World Series games being played at night, which would mean their being broadcast in television prime time. He said:

"During the season most games are played under the lights, so why change for the series? Playing conditions are better under the lights. You don't have those white-shirt bating backgrounds or the glare of the sun to contend with. In my opinion, they play better... at night."
