

Television in Review Texans Spend Most Money In July

By RICK DU BROW
 United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Mr. John Roseboro, of Los Angeles, is due in New York City today on business, to play a baseball game against the Mets. And if the network television executives there in charge of sports broadcasting are wise, they will call him up and ask him how he would like to be a baseball commentator when his playing days are over.

The flowering dogwood is the official tree of Missouri.

AUSTIN (UPI)—Texans last month reached into their billfold more times than any other time this year, a University of Texas research report said Saturday.

Despite the high retail sales total, it still marked only a 1 per cent increase over June spending.

A continued high rate of durable goods sales and a sizeable increase in nondurables combined to advance the index level to its record high value for the year.

The analysis, conducted by the Bureau of Business Research, indicated July retail sales in the state were again well above the $1 billion mark.

Furniture and household appliance dealers, who usually experience a 1 per cent dropoff in sales from June to July, were surprised with a 2 per cent gain last month.

But, except for his droll and incisive comments on post-game radio interviews, I was not aware of his natural broadcasting talents until one day earlier this year when I turned on my radio while driving the freeway and heard him on a local show he had at that time.

Although he had appeared on some national television series—NBC-TV's Kraft Theatre and ABC-TV's "Berk's Law"—and will be in an updated video movie version of "Dragnet," I had no idea he had a radio program, so it was surprising and therefore an unexpected pleasure when his delivery immediately made two things clear:

First, his commentary, a wrapup of the day's Dodger game and other baseball events, was obviously off the cuff—in this case phoned in when the team was on the road—yet it was completely fluent, without any hemming and hawing, and it was scintillating as well.

Second, and more important, he came across in a very contemporary and cool manner, dryly humorous yet without sarcasm, merely letting the biting little truths speak for themselves. As the prizing goes nowadays, he tells it as it is, and not as though he were describing the sport as the narrator of a dime novel for juveniles, full of all the old, tiresome, childish and unending clichés.

In a way, it was somewhat shocking, pleasantly, because it made one suddenly realize anew that sports announcing, so full of house men, is generally so lacking in contemporary, adult treatment. Except for Vin Scully and a few others, I can't think of any area of broadcasting that is more old-fashioned and short on sophistication. Excellent sports page columnists have shown that there is no subject that cannot be treated on a mature, universal, realistic level.

To do likewise sports broadcasting must seek out contemporary, intelligent, aware men who read more than record books. Roseboro, who worked

Bringing You MORE than Ever Before!

THAT'S RIGHT! Despite the many sharp increases in material, labor and production costs, the newspaper you carry brings to your front door these eventful days, actually gives you MORE for your money than ever before.

MORE of the momentous news that's making history around the world... MORE of the all-important developments in National Defense... MORE of the latest local happenings that make headlines... MORE of the finest action pictures of front-page events... MORE of the nation's topmost columnists, comics and newspaper features... MORE of the city's leading store offerings that mean stand-out shopping values! Yes, MORE of everything that makes a newspaper so enjoyable and indispensable a part of daily life, for readers of all ages!

So, if this newspaper is NOT now coming into YOUR home regularly, better hail the carrier who serves your neighbors, or phone our office to start daily delivery. It's too big a bargain, too exciting a newspaper, for any family to miss!

Route Openings for Alert Boys

To serve its ever-growing home circulation, this newspaper frequently has route openings for new carriers. Ask for details.

Lakeland CORDUROY CAPER!

SNO DOGIE... An unusual new Crompton corduroy jacket for young swingers. You'll want your son to have it right now! Sharp styling and the comfort of Nylon fleece lining make it a solid hit with young fellows everywhere. It's washable and Ze Pel® rain and stain repellent.

Mrs. Vanderpool Is Luncheon Speaker

Mrs. Harry Vanderpool was guest speaker for Beta Sigma Phi Sorority's Annual Kick-Off Luncheon Saturday noon in Jim's Steak House.

Hostess chapter for the luncheon was Phi Epsilon Beta under the direction of Mrs. Coyle Winborne, chapter president.

Decorations for the event, provided by Rho Eta Chapter with Mrs. Jim Manley as president, consisted of a football helmet holding a massive arrangement of gold mums surrounding a black and gold goal post centering the head table. Gold and black streamers extended the length of the table with crepe paper pom poms in the same colors appointing each end.

Individual name plates were designed of 'football' peans holding pennants inscribed with the name of each member attending.

Side tables, arranged in a U-shape adjoining the head table, were appointed with footballs holding large pennants inscribed with the name of each chapter and individual name place pennants.

City Council president, Mrs. Jack Vaughn, each chapter president including Mrs. Winborne, Mrs. Manley, Mrs. Richard Cooke of Upsilon Chapter, Mrs. Jay Leath, Xi Beta Chi Chapter and Mrs. Raymond Williams of Xi Theta Iota Chapter, Mrs. Vanderpool and Mrs. M. McDaniel, Beta Sigma Phi Women of the Year for 1966, received gold mums corsages tied with black and gold feta Chapter, Mrs. Vanderpool streamers. Other special guests receiving like corsages were Mrs. Georgia Mack, sponsor of Rho Eta Chapter, who gave the invocation, and Mrs. Joy Smith, guest of Phi Epsilon Beta Chapter.

Some 50 Beta Sigma Phi members heard Mrs. Vanderpool present three essays from the book, "O Ye Jigs and Juleps" written in 1904 by 10-year-old Virginia Carey Hudson. Mrs. Vanderpool quoted the author in the three essays presented, "Sacraments are what you do in church," "Gardening is growing things," and "Education is what you learn in books and nobody knows you know it but your teacher."

Use pipe cleaners to clean the tiny openings in the stationary part of your wall can opener.

Scouting Scoops

By MRS. G. J. BOYD
When you first volunteer, or are persuaded, to be a Girl Scout leader, many thoughts will cross your mind. You might ask yourself "What do I do?" "How can I ever learn all I need to know about the Girl Scout program?" You may question your ability to conduct yourself adequately in front of a group of girls. Perhaps you wonder a little about whether or not the girls will like you.

Later, when you get over being amazed at the thought of leading a troop, you will shift your thoughts from yourself to the girls. "What will they be like?" "What will they expect from Girl Scouting?"

Eventually, you might ask the big question, "Will I be able to work with the girls in such a way that they will become better persons because of their Girl Scout membership?" When you ask this question, you strike at the very core of effective leadership... using activities as a means of helping girls develop good attitudes and worthwhile values.

There is no simple easy definition of leadership. Leadership of a Girl Scout troop means a feeling of kinship with the girls, an understanding of them and a willingness to work toward their growth and development. It includes many things. Leadership is knowing. As a leader you cannot and should not know everything the girls might ever want to learn. You can explore and learn many things along with the troop. And you can call in outside help for special skills. However, you should have knowledge enough to kindle the interest of the girls and to help them reach beyond themselves.

Leadership is teaching. There

By CARROLL RIGHTER

FOR TUESDAY, AUGUST 23
GENERAL TENDENCIES: You are not that nearly everyone is pretty uncertain just what is going to happen and may make some grave mistakes in their uncertainty and fear. Rise above such and make decisions as to the overall conditions you want to be in effect in your life and plan the specific means by which they may be made operative.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — You can improve security by stimulating that which is not very useful to you, finding more effective systems. Labor with enthusiasm and you will yourself be able to agree in their ideas, listening closely to all will give you the right about on what best to do. Show that you are worthy of esteem and affection shown you. Be kind, courteous with all.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — You are able to get a far better course for yourself if you sit down and discuss with kin and those in business what your problems are. Many improvements in your own location are possible. Think and work in a positive way.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) — You are able to get new ideas from several sources, whether at home or in the active world outside. Be enthusiastic about the systems that make your studies more successful. Let nothing get you down.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23) — You know what is expected of you from higher-ups and so be sure to carry through very conscientiously, precisely. Being sure to do any accounting work later is imperative. Be more amenable to suggestions of male in p.m.

'Why Don't They' Items Are Now More Available

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UPI) — No sooner do you ask, "why don't they?" than you find that they often have.

This column complained recently that it was time all stores adopted see-through packaging with the bottoms of meat and vegetable containers also clear so the shopper can check the total quality of the product.

Well, all stores haven't yet. But at least seven supermarkets chains have, reports Tony Waldeyer of Monsanto, which makes plastic packaging. Waldeyer writes that clear meat trays in assorted sizes are being used. Soon his firm will also market clear produce trays as well. All supermarkets take note.

This column also complained, why not attach small keys to the base of toothpaste tubes to roll the tube as the paste is used? It would save that squeezed-in-the middle habit not only for toothpaste but other items like shaving creams and shampoos.

To which Mrs. Shirley Dvoretz of Flushing, N.Y., replied that she located one manufacturer, Crawford Industries of New York City, which makes keys of various sizes to fit tube sizes. They are of plastic, she wrote, so they can be used repeatedly.

The keys ended for Mrs. Dvoretz "a particular nuisance as my toothpaste tubes have always looked as though they have been trampled on, sat on, stepped on, and squeezed in as many different places as possible."

Mrs. Charles L. Schmidt of Rumson, N.J., wrote of her pet peeve. "Why," she asked, "don't they put catusp in wide-mouthed jars, like mayonnaise, for instance? The first company who does that will have my patronage for life."

More "why don't they?" on improvement of packaging, on ways to ease household chores came from acquaintances and from a new collection gathered by National Family Opinion, Inc., a Toledo, Ohio, consumer research firm.

Why, for instance, don't they put something like a bicycle clip holder on baby carriage or stroller to secure a flashlight, a necessity when arriving home late and the hands already are loaded with baby and diapers.

Shoes for little girls follow the adult fashion line this spring. The pointed toe is giving in to the rounder, wider look for pre-teens and the sling backs and straps that appeal to their mothers is also available in the shoe store to them. Look especially for the strap — sometimes a single T, sometimes double, sometimes circling the ankle.

Dear Abby... So the Name's the Same — What About It?

DEAR ABBY: How does a person go about getting her name changed legally? I am taking an awful ribbing.

VIRGINIA WOOLF
DEAR VIRGINIA: If you're single you could get married. If you're married, you could get divorced and ask the court to give you back your maiden name. But it's hardly worth it. What's in a name? Just don't answer when somebody cries, "WOLF!"

DEAR ABBY: I cannot keep my mind on my work. All I can think of is that letter you published from a soldier who is returning home from Viet Nam, asking you what to do about a wife who refused to go with him to his new tour of duty.

Abby, how I wish I could spend just one hour with that wife. Maybe if she experienced the following she would change her mind.

(1) Having a government car pull up in front of her house, bearing two men who have come to tell her that her husband had been killed in action.

(2) Hearing the taps played for the last time, and feeling each note tear up every dream she ever had.

(3) Having the last letters she sent to her husband returned to her marked UNCLAIMED.

I could tell her how it feels because I have just experienced all these things. I am not bitter. I just thank God that I had a chance to bring a little love into his life.

If I were that soldier's wife I would be waiting at the station with my bags packed, ready to follow him to the ends of the earth. But first, I would take his hand and lead him to the nearest chapel where I would kneel and thank God for sparing his life. And I would thank Him every day from that day forward.

I hope you publish this letter and that soldier's wife reads it. She is the richest woman alive.

GOING ON ALONE
DEAR ABBY: A cousin of mine who lives in another town is being married and I received an invitation to her wedding. This cousin told me I could bring my boy friend. I asked him and he said he wouldn't go unless he received a mailed invitation. Abby, my cousin has only seen him once or twice, and she hardly knows him. I doubt if she even knows his last name.

I think my boy friend is being very stubborn and silly to insist on a mailed invitation under these circumstances! What should I do?

A COUSIN
DEAR COUSIN: In less time than it took you to write to me, you could have written your cousin a postcard, telling her your boyfriend's name and address and requesting that she send him an invitation. If you want your boy friend to accompany you, do it. (P. S. He sounds pretty square to be so "formal.")

CONFIDENTIAL TO "SO IN LOVE" IN AUSTIN: I think you are making a big mistake. The only married man worth waiting for is your own husband.

BEST DEAL ON TIRES — Leymond Hall, owner-operator of Hall Tire Company, 700 W. Foster, MO 5-5755, displays a mud and snow tire featured in the "change-over" period from regular tread designs. Hall invites you to compare the quality and prices of tires advertised and then to come by and get his tire deal—"Do your shopping, get your prices and then come by and we'll show you a real tire deal. We're anxious for you to make us prove our deal... on new or used tires."

Hall Tire Co. Makes Best Deal

Get all four going for you: the price, the quality, the service and the safety. You get them all in the tire deal at Hall Tire Co., 700 W. Foster, MO 5-5755.

Leymond Hall, owner-operator, asks you to prove the deal to yourself by shopping around and comparing the quality and the sale prices before you come to Hall Tire for his deal.

When you are getting ready to change-over to mud and snow tires, take advantage of the Hall deal. Check the prices and quality around town and then see Hall's high traction mud and snow tires. You'll know why Hall's tires will both keep you going and keep the savings in your pocket.

Before you buy, let Hall show you the Manufacturer's Tire Line Comparison Chart, which lists the quality of all makes of tires. The comparison will help you eliminate any confusion about the quality of tires you are considering.

Choose yours from Hall's complete lines of new Dayton, Security and Mohawk Tires or good used tires. They're all priced rock bottom.

Complete tire service here includes rounding tires on the Tru-O-Matic Tire Truer and balancing wheels on the Alomite Electronic Wheel Balancer. Perfectly round tires and balanced wheels give you a smoother ride on longer wearing tires, less driver fatigue and more motoring pleasure.

Hall takes special pride in his selection and variety of seat covers for every make and model of car. The latest designs, colors and styles are featured. These covers add beauty and longer life to your car.

It's more fun to ride on new, spic-and-span seat covers. They give you more pride in your automobile.

A featured service of Hall's is rebuilding seats for pick-ups; Repacking cotton, cushioning and fitting new fabrics; in short building a new seat for new comfort and long wear. Hall also installs new side panels for the doors and new carpeting for the floor. This service renews the interior.

To make sure of your cool comfort during the summer, have Hall check your auto air conditioner for gas leaks. He can add friction to the proper pressure. This short stop can mean assured comfort.

Hall Tire has been in the air cooler business for 20 years; selling and servicing air coolers making custom air cooler pads. Training and experience have taught these technicians exactly how to make pads work best to filter out dust and provide moisture for efficient cooling.

Hall personally supervises work in his shop to make sure pads fit correctly, that tires are serviced properly and that customers are completely satisfied.

All-round cooler service at Hall's includes servicing and stocking accessories like recirculating pumps, fittings, tubing and many other items.

Drive in today. Let Leymond Hall or one of his associates help you with your motoring and air conditioning problems. You will like the answers at Hall Tire Co.

National Window

By LYLE WILSON
United Press International
Glamorous, powerful New York City has taken the pauper's oath. It's a wacky maneuver to get an annual $5 billion subsidy from the federal treasury.

That's right, $5 billion a year for 10 years; $50 billion in all! New York City already gets a federal subsidy of nearly $1 billion a year. But Mayor John V. Lindsay said that without more federal money, the cities just cannot make it.

The mayor appears before a Senate subcommittee studying "the crisis of the cities." Some of Lindsay's fellow mayors seem to support the idea of billion-dollar dips into the U.S. Treasury. They are matched by some of the civil rights brigade commanders who have been talking in sums up to $100 billion to recompense the Negro minority for past indignities and to begin to provide for future goodies and delights.

The Negroes have more going for them in their demands than do the supplicant mayors jiggling their begging bowls on Capitol Hill. More than a crisis of the cities is involved here. It is a crisis of common sense which is becoming increasingly in short supply among our public men.

Our public men, otherwise responsible and apparently sane, happily endorse the wacky idea that there grows in Washington a money tree with million-dollar blossoms and billion-dollar fruit. A free-money tree, of course.

A free-money tree with something for nothing is basic in our bogus credit card, boom-time economy which enables the politicians to be elected to power and thereafter to maintain themselves in power by re-election. The average man, his wife and kids are skinned in this process.

Lindsay naturally turned to the U.S. Treasury to bail out the nation's greatest, richest city. Nobody raised obvious questions such as:

"Where would all of these billions come from; who would be taxed to support the needs of a metropolis which cannot or will not support itself?"

Questions multiply:

"If the nation's richest city cannot support itself, how will it be possible for lesser cities with less wealth to support themselves?"

Lindsay touched lightly on the matter of whence shall come the sought-for billions. The mayor suggested a rebate to New York of federal taxes paid by New Yorkers. Small chance of that! Anyway, it would be a wasteful process to channel tax from New Yorkers through the U.S. Treasury and part of it thence back to the original taxpayers. That process simply would entitle the U.S. Treasury to a middleman's handling profit on the sums involved.

Lindsay's basic plea was that he needed a $5 billion annual subsidy to make New York City exciting and happily habitable. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., a subcommittee member snapped at Lindsay that the sum proposed was unrealistic. Irresponsible would more accurately describe such a raid as Lindsay proposed on the public treasury.

Another query: Which citizens feel so kindly toward New York as to wish to help pay its bills?

McConnel Materials Offer Equipment For Lawn Care

Since winter is just around the corner, many homeowners have adopted the philosophy that gardening and lawn care is coming to a close. The fact is, now and during the Labor Day weekend is a prime time to fertilize and feed your grass for best results. The warm days and cool nights allow for a good coverage.

George McConnel Jr., 314 S. Gray, owner and operator, of McConnel Materials has become an expert of lawn and gardening care, yard cultivation, sodding and any needed work to improve your lawn. He features two large rolliters, two small ones, riding tractors with attachments, and a truck to haul dirt for yards and gardens.

This expert care is aided by offering customers all forms of grasses, such as Blue Grass, African Bermuda, Tiffani, T-3-28, or U-3 which is a small type of Bermuda, and many others. Every homeowner prefers a certain type of grass for his lawn. He desires to become the envy of his neighbor and show off his beautiful back yard to his friends and relatives. This is common, and every homeowner feels it. A nice, clean, well kept lawn adds to a home's value, enhances its appearance and gives the owner added pride.

If you have become dissatisfied with your present lawn and the way it's doing, give George McConnel a call at MO 4-2969

GEORGE MCCONNELL, Jr., owner and operator of McConnel Materials, offers the latest in proper equipment to provide for the latest and finest lawn care. For full details and a free estimate give him a call at MO 4-2969, or drop by at 314 S. Gray.

McConnel Materials Offer Equipment For Lawn Care

overlooked: good lawn leveling, grading and good drainage with minimum runoff. Proper cultivation to loosen the ground prevents root suffocation and allows for good root establishment.

George McConnel enjoys his work and provides his customer with confidence that they will obtain the finest, personal and professional care available anywhere. Call him for a free estimate... your lawn can look more beautiful than you ever imagined!

If you would like to have a different type of lawn, McConnel Materials is prepared to reseed and transplant a different type of grass. After cultivation and care, he gives his customers a free final application of spraying to kill broad leaf weeds to insure proper growth and beautiful color.

Ground preparation is also an important factor which is often overlooked.

An award in recognition of meritorious achievement in display advertising has been presented to the Duenkel Funeral Home of Pampa.

The presentation was made Friday to Charles Duenkel by John Dellacrose, Daily News advertising director, on behalf of Multi-Ad Services, Inc., Peoria, Ill.

The award was presented for what the advertising firm's awards committee considered an outstanding full-page advertisement in the Pampa Daily News of Friday, Jan. 17, 1966.

Just since 1960 the cost of a year's attendance at the averaging state university has gone up $160. For attendance at an average good private college, annual costs have risen $300.

BASIC TRAINING

Today's newspaperboys—tomorrow's leaders. Statistically, that's how it stacks up.

In view of this, your newspaperboy is on the first chapter of what will probably be a success story. Not that he's destined for the Hall of Fame—but he might be. For example, Dwight D. Eisenhower, Herbert Hoover, Eddie Rickenbacker, Thomas Edison, Joe DiMaggio, Walt Disney, and Bob Hope all started as newspaperboys.

Newspaper route experience helps mold those special character ingredients so necessary for success in any field: self discipline, punctuality, getting along with people, responsibility. And all the hundred and one other character-makers that are built into the management of a newspaper route.

The newspaperboy is skillfully guided by men trained and experienced to bring out his talents. This combination could well be the most important training in his life. In the long range picture, the money he earns on his route almost seems like a fringe benefit.

Although only one boy in ten ever gets a crack at a newspaper route, our Circulation Department people are always glad to talk it over with youngsters and parents. If you have a son or know a boy who might profit from newspaperboy experience, we'll be happy to hear from you.

Slated Party Honors Goad

Evert Goad, Southwestern Pbuille Service truck driver, here will complete 21 years with that company with retirement effective Sept. 1.

A party in honor of Goad has been set for this Tuesday night at the company Reddy Room. Employees, former employees their families, and friends and relatives of the honoree are expected to attend.

Goad began work for the company Feb. 4, 1945, as a groundman in Wheeler. In 1952 he was transferred to the Pampa office.

Recently Goad was made a member of the Turtle Club, an international organization to promote safety through the use of protective head gear. Membership is given to any man who has escaped serious injury by the use of a hard-hat.

Goad and his wife, Iris, at 708 Magnolia. They have one son, Carroll of 1804 N. Wells, and two daughters, Mrs. Johnny Kerr of Dumas, and Mrs. Elmer Bynum of Santa Susana Calif.

Pirates, Giants Deadlocked With Dodgers One Back

By United Press International Billy O'Dell, who successfully jumped from the campus to the big leagues, now is being asked to complete a shorter trek—from the bullpen to the starting lineup.

The veteran southpaw, one of the National League's leading relief artists, made his 50th appearance of the year and first as a starter Sunday when Pittsburgh manager Harry Walker was strapped for a healthy arm.

Walker had no alternative after St. Louis had taken the first game 3-2 and kayoed the Pirates starting pitcher for the 19th time in the last 20 games. O'Dell, who joined the Baltimore Orioles directly from the Clemson University campus in 1954 and came to Pittsburgh in a trade with Atlanta last June, answered Walker's call and the Pirates rewarded him with a 5-1 triumph for his 100th career win that boosted the Bucs back into a tie for first place with San Francisco.

Plugs The Gap The 33-year-old O'Dell, who, like Sandy Koufax, Al Kaline, Dick Groat and Ernie Banks, has never played in the minors, didn't go the route himself but he was able to plug the gap for Walker with 5-1 innings of one run ball. Pete Mikkelsen rescued his bullpen colleague, giving up two hits over the final 3-2-3 frames.

The win, combined with the Dodgers' 5-2 victory over the Giants, left Pittsburgh and San Francisco deadlocked with identical 76-54 records. It also placed Los Angeles one game back with a 74-54 mark.

In other NL games, Houston edged Chicago 4-3, Cincinnati topped Philadelphia 5-2 and Atlanta beat New York 8-4.

O'Dell, who started only once in 62 games with the Braves last year, was lited once the Cards scored so that he'll be ready for duty again soon. The Pirates backed up his fifth win in nine decisions with a four run rally in the top of the sixth that was highlighted by Roberto Clemente's two-run double.

Start Early St. Louis tallied two runs in the opening inning of the first game off Vernon Law on Lou Brock's single, a triple by Ted Savage and Orlando Cepeda's infield out. Phil Gagliano singled home the winning run in the seventh.

Don Sutton (11-11) gave up five hits and fanned seven while beating the Giants. Los Angeles home runs by Willie Davis, Jim Lefebvre and Ron Fairly were included in a 12-hit Dodger attack. Sutton needs 40 more strikeouts to pass Grover Alexander's record for a rookie—227 in 1911. Gaylord Perry (20-4) lost his second straight decision.

Jim Maloney and Don Notbart allowed five Philadelphia hits as Cincinnati won its fifth in a row behind a 13-hit spree that included Vada Pinson's 14th homer. Maloney (14-4) gave up three safeties in six innings and left the game when he aggravated an old knee injury.

Felipe Alou and Joe Torre contributed three hits apiece to Atlanta's total of 12 and Eddie Mathews and Rico Carty both homered and drove in two runs. Reliever Clay Croll (5-6) got the win and Met starter Dennis Ribant suffered the loss, his sixth against nine victories.

Joe Morgan singled home Ron Davis in the fourth inning with the run that meant the difference in Houston's win over Chicago. Morgan's hit followed singles by John Bateman and Davis and helped Larry Dierker win his seventh game. Byron Browne and Billy Williams homered for the Cubs.

NAMATH BETTER GET WELL

Taliaferro Leads Jets

By United Press International Watching Mike Taliaferro play quarterback for the New York Jets is bound to have a healing effect on Joe Namath's celebrated knee.

While Namath, football's most ballyhooed quarterback ever since he lightened Sonny Werblin's bank account by $400,000, has been watching on the sidelines, Taliaferro has piloted the Jets to three straight victories.

Taliaferro had his finest game of the exhibition season Saturday night when he completed 13 of 29 passes for 205 yards to lead the Jets to a stunning 34-17 victory over the defending American Football League champion Buffalo Bills.

Namath has been sidelined since the first quarter of the first exhibition game when his knee was injured while he was being blocked by Don Floyd of the Houston Oilers.

Season Openers

Three AFL teams will kick off their regular season this weekend. Miami hosts Oakland Friday night, Denver is at Houston Saturday night and Buffalo is at San Diego Sunday afternoon. New York opens against Miami Sept. 10.

In the only pro exhibition game Sunday Oakland blasted Denver 52-21. Oakland turned four interceptions into touchdowns during the rout, starting in the first period when Dave Grayson returned an errant John McCormick pass 52 yards for a touchdown.

Denver was never really in the game after although Charlie Mitchell did manage to score a pair of TDs for the Broncos, who are 1-3. Oakland is 3-2.

Besides the Jets-Bill game, the AFL had two other Saturday night exhibition games with Kansas City whipping Houston 31-20 and San Diego topping Boston 31-13.

Pete Beathard tossed a pair of touchdown passes to keep Kansas City unbeaten. San Diego trailed 17-13 on a 10-yard TD pass from Steve Tensi to Don Norton and then broke the game wide open on a 63-yard punt return by Leslie Duncan.

The NFL, which still has another week of exhibition games before opening the season Sept. 10 with the nationally televised Saturday night clash between Baltimore and Green Bay, five exhibition games Saturday.

Th only surprise came in Columbia, S.C. where the new Atlanta Falcons finally broke into the win column with a 24-17 triumph over the San Francisco 49ers. Rookie Randy Johnson completed 13 of 21 passes for 285 yards to engineer the upset as neither George Mira nor millionaire John Brodie could get the 49ers moving.

Defending NFL champion Green Bay, after two straight losses, got down to business again before the home fans and whipped Pittsburgh 17-6 as a record Green Bay crowd of 50,551 watched. Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung scored a touchdown each for the Packers.

Philadelphia, trailing by 13 points with 80 seconds left, rallied for a 24-23 victory over New York as Norm Snead tossed a 46-yard TD pass to Ben Hawkins to win the game after the Eagles recovered an onside kick.

Dallas, expected to be a strong contender in the Eastern Division boosted its perfect record to 4-0 with a 20-10

Mike Taliaferro

A 'Tired' January Holds Off Nicklaus

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—It was a long time coming, but a lean and "tired" Don January had his first tournament win in more than three years because Jack Nicklaus was "nice" to him.

January, who had not won a tournament on the pro golf circuit since Feb. 1963, fired a one under par 71 Sunday to win the $110,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic at the Whitemarsh Valley Country Club with a 72-hole total of 278, 10 under par and one stroke better than Nicklaus, winner here the past two years.

January said he gained the victory over Nicklaus, who made a great run for the money with two final day eagles and a 5 under par 67, because the 26-year-old Ohioan was "nice to me by only paring the 17th hole." First prize was worth $21,000.

Nicklaus, playing right in front of January, was trailing by one stroke when he came to the 17th, a hole he had used as a springboard to victory last year when he twice eagled it, the last one coming on the final day for a one stroke victory. Nicklaus birdied the 17th two years ago enroute to his first win here. January, who lost the lead to Nicklaus over the front nine Sunday as a result of early hole bogs and J & K's eagles, regained it with three back nine birdies while Nicklaus bogeyed the par four 15th. January said he then figured Nicklaus "for a birdie or an eagle" on the 17th.

The 36-year-old Dallas pro, who confessed he was "just plain tired" after playing eight weeks on the pro tour, was tied for the lead with Arnold Palmer at nine under par 207 for 54 holes.

Palmer skied to a two-over par as a result of a double bogey on the sixth to tie for third at 281 with Bob Goalby and Gene Littler. Deadlocked for sixth place at 282 were Chuck Courtney and George Knudson. Bill Martindale and Bob Charles of New Zealand were next at 282 while three others, Dan Sikes, Roberto De Vincenzo of Argentina and Australian Bruce Crampton were at 284.

U.S. Open champion Billy Casper had a final round 74 to join three others at 285, while PGA titleholder Al Geiberger finished far back with a 290.

Nicklaus, Palmer Talk Of Retirement But Years Away

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Two of pro golf's brightest stars talked today of their eventual retirement from the game that probably has given them everlasting fame.

Both Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer here for the Philadelphia Golf Classic at the suburban Whitemarsh Valley Country Club, agreed that retirement was "years away" but inevitable.

Nicklaus, the 26-year-old Ohioan who has soared to fame in only five years as a professional golfer, said, "I want to stay on this tournament trail as long as I can." He said he hoped this meant "about 10 to 15 years."

Palmer, pro golf's all-time leading money winner who has been a major contributor to making the sport as popular as it is today, said, "I want to play as long as I can win and enjoy it."

Nicklaus, one of only four men to win golf's big four—the Masters, the U.S. Open, the PGA and the British Open—said, "I haven't reached the peak of my career or at least I hope I haven't."

Nicklaus won the British Open this year to join Ben Hogan, Gene Sarazen and Gary Player in the select group of those who won the four major tournaments.

Mustangs To Field Usual Good Team

By RON CROSS

WHEELER — Moving up from class B to class 2-A doesn't bother coach J. T. Hill very much this year, however Hill isn't looking ahead.

The Mustangs, bumped out of the conference title last year by Groom, are set to redeem themselves this season.

They have nine starters back from their 1965 club that posted a 9-1 mark, including two of their top three scorers.

Wheeler will be most potent in the line where they return six men who know how it's done. Both ends return in 158-pound senior Gary Hardcastle and 170-pound Villard Hunter. Back also are both starting guards from a year ago in Richard Sechrist, a 147-pound junior and Johnny Hutchinson, a 168-pound senior.

To help fill the vacant half-back spot Hill has Frank Rogers, a 145-pound junior letterman. To play quarterback Hill has a problem, a problem of choosing between David Jamison, a 150-pound senior and Bobby Ware, a 166-pound junior. According to Hill either one of them may start.

Hill can choose from Richard Porter, 160-pound senior or Mike Hill a 170-pound junior, both lettermen to fill the one tackle slot open.

Hill lost four good players from his 1965 team in Dan Doran, Mike Goad, Tom Smith, who was the Mustang's second leading scorer with 94 points and lineman John McLaughlin. Wheeler had one of the best defensive teams in the Panhandle last season giving up just 66 points for an average of 6.6 per game.

The Mustangs tallied 322 for a 10 game average of 32.2 per contest.

Hill feels his squad should be improved but points out lack of depth and size as the biggest weaknesses on his '66 team.

Long Hot Summer Not Ended

The long hot summer has brought nothing but trouble for the United States and the end is nowhere in sight. Fact is, things probably will get a lot worse before they get better. Take a look around.

First, there's the war in Viet Nam, everybody's major concern. Certainly, there is nothing to be encouraged about in reports from the battlefield. Casualty lists and draft calls are getting bigger all the time, proof of an expanding conflict and grim reminders to American families that we are at war.

Hanoi has made it abundantly clear that peace talks are out and that it intends to fight until victory is achieved, no matter how long it takes - 10, 15, 20 years or more. Our leader and his ultra-liberal helpers in Washington don't talk much about our winning the war, although several weeks ago LBJ and Defense Secretary McNamara let the word "win" slip out in comments to the press.

However, the "win" talk ceased, and quickly. Maybe our Communist buddies in the United Nations warned Washington to knock it off. It is indeed difficult to understand our policy in Viet Nam. Washington tells us our only objective is to make the Viet Cong let their neighbors in the south alone. The way things are going, it looks like we are in for a long war.

Meantime, there is equally serious trouble on the home front. Pacifist and other non-violent groups are on a march of wanton destruction in cities across the nation, demanding all things in the name of civil rights. In most instances, there is nothing civil or right about their actions, through which they seek the objectives.

Martin Luther King, who picked up a Nobel Peace Prize for stirring up riotous demonstrations in America, seems to plan Negro assaults on the "white power structure" (one of his favorite phrases) in cities with methodical care and precision. It is more than likely that his blue - prints for social upheaval came straight from the communist rule book.

King's efforts on behalf of peace and serenity currently are going on in Chicago, scene of previous race riots which ended only after National Guardsmen, armed with rifles and bayonets, moved in. King discussed the Chicago campaign the other day, and among other things said:

"There is a good non-violent fight going on in Chicago and you people are invited to get in on it. There will be no tranquility here until the white people come to grip with their conscience and make freedom a reality to all God's children. In the 'good non-violent' fight" in Chicago got a little violent when youthful white hecklers hit Dr. King in the head with a stone. Such hooliganism, of course, serves only to make Dr.

King a martyr to his cause. Chicago may be on the verge of disaster.

Serious race riots have taken place in the last several weeks in Cleveland, New York City, Philadelphia, South Bend, Ind., Des Moines, Jacksonville, Fla., and other cities. The movement (another of King's favorite words) is spreading fast and that means more death and destruction.

Residents of American cities having large Negro populations live in an atmosphere of fear and terror. The fear stems, in part, at least, from the recent emergency of more radical leaders among Negroes and there is concern that the new cry of "black power" will stir more Negro youths to violent action.

Negro leaders say the riots grow out of Negro resentment of the slum - conditions under which they are forced to live, and they predict that the violence will not end - indeed, is more likely to increase - unless Negroes are given massive new aid programs.

Rep. Howard W. Smith, D. Va., chairman of the House Rules Committee, commenting on the civil rights bill recently, said in part:

"I was distressed to hear all this talk about operating not on the righteousness of causes, but operating on the fear of this revolution that has been encouraged from high places, until it has reached the point that unless somebody shows some courage in this Congress and elsewhere, we are going to have a situation where we operate under the threat of political reprisals and revolutionary emotions."

"I was distressed when I saw the President address a joint session of this Congress, and I heard him adopt the war cry of the Negro revolution - 'We shall overcome; we shall overcome' - repeated time and again, when we were about to consider a civil rights law."

"And I was deeply distressed to see members of the Supreme Court sitting on those front seats hearing discussed and advocated a piece of legislation the constitutionality of which they soon would be called to pass upon, applauding - applauding the revolutionary call that 'we shall overcome.'"

"Now we come here with kings in the streets, with further mob violence threatened, and no word is spoken of courage to defend the American way of government."

How can the people win with the kind of leadership Smith spoke of?

Smith, 83, who has served continuously in the House since 1931, was narrowly defeated in a Democratic primary in July. Republicans and Democrats alike gave him a standing ovation.

Still they coddle King and other revolutionaries.

Why?

A Master of Justice

In our nation's large cities, walls are loud, crying out for "Justice!" The streets teem with those who feel they have not had "a fair shake." All yearn to be individuals with a special place in the sun, as a matter of justice.

Step 1 in seeking this individual status appears to be joining a group. Whatever identity one has is thereby absorbed by his particular sector with its particular alphabetical label.

Having surrendered his personal identification apparently frees him for Step 2, to cease behaving as an individual (keep in mind that to be a recognized individual is his ultimate goal) and to let himself be swayed in union with the mob of his choice. In a sense, he feels excited from responsibility and therefore able, kindled by power-hungry leaders, to share mob-spread emotions of hatred and violence. This Step 3 means, he probably is committing harmful acts, which he in his own identity would disdain. He has become less of an individual than he was before.

Philosophers have proclaimed that the good man is the just man. Justice implies assurance of no hurt to any man, that good is due a man who seeks it. In human relationships, justice, or its opposite, hurt, is dealt man-to-man. Whether a hurt is taken in life, seizing or destroying property, impeding business, or even taunting and heckling, those who are so engaged, it is not only unconvincing - it is unjust.

It is unreasonable to us that many of those clamoring for civil rights and justice choose uncivil methods of injustice to gain them. Theologian St. Augustine epitomized the spirit of gang courage when he wrote in "De officiis" that "fortitude without justice is a source of evil." Injustice teat man-to-man (within or outside of a mob) is man's worst destroyer. Is it really justice, GOOD, the rioters seek, or only materialistic goods? The latter is indicated by their example.

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK JAY MARKEY

We have just finished re-reading the massive memoirs of Edward L. Bernays ("Biography of An Idea" published by Simon & Schuster) and found it even more interesting than before. Bernays founded the profession of Public Relations, now practiced by more than 100,000 practitioners in this and 30 other countries. In his book he presents an authoritative play-by-play account of the significant events, issues and organizations he dealt with in his 40-year career. This book is as much a history of the first half of this century as it is the delineation of one man's activity. There are delightful and informative glimpses into the workings of giant corporations, world leaders, celebrities, and some not so well-known. It's a book of great dimension and sociological and psychological significance. We suggest that it become "must" reading for everyone above high school age.

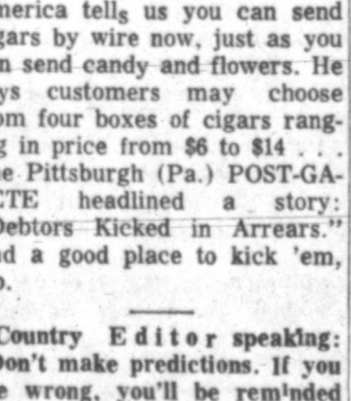

Today's smile: A Sunday School teacher asked her class: "What are the sins of omission?" One youngster answered: "They're the sins we ought to have committed and haven't."

Capt. Joseph Crescio, the well-known international detective, tells us that investigation has become a big business. He says that in addition to the FBI and other federal investigative agencies, state and local police departments, there are several hundred thousand persons employed by private agencies to snoop into other folks' affairs. He says they seek all kinds of information about individuals, such as credit standing, status in the community, background information for employment, and a dozen other reasons. That proves Big Brother is watching us now.

Thoughts while shaving: Three of our Presidents didn't use their "right" names when serving as chief executive. Apparently Stephen Grover Cleveland, Thomas Woodrow Wilson and John Calvin Coolidge didn't like their given monickers. Irving Berlin wrote "God Bless America" in 1918 for a World War I army show. It never caught on until Kate Smith sang it on a radio program in 1938. Since then it has become a sort of No. 2 national anthem. It's easier to sing than "The Star-Spangled Banner" and for that reason many have seriously suggested that it replace Francis Scott Key's composition. Incidentally, Berlin never made a nickel from the song. He donated all royalties to the Girl and Boy Scouts of America. The Chinese were the first to utilize natural gas. In 200 A.D., Chinese salt manufacturers used it as a fuel to evaporate brine, using hollow lengths of bamboo for gas pipes. In 1841, 16 centuries later, West Virginia salt makers used gas for the same purpose, but they had metal pipes instead of bamboo. Harry Paul of the Cigar Smokers of America tells us you can send cigars by wire now, just as you can send candy and flowers. He says customers may choose from four boxes of cigars ranging in price from $6 to $14. . . The Pittsburgh (Pa.) POST-GAZETTE headlined a story: "Debtors Kicked in Arrears." And a good place to kick 'em, too.

Country Editor speaking: "Don't make predictions. If you are wrong, you'll be reminded of it; and if you're right, you'll have to remind everyone else."

Matter of Fact

To the hunter or to the gourmet, it will be interesting to know that in the second half of the 20th century one game bird was raised for every 38 domestic turkeys produced, one for every 16 geese, and one for every 1.3 guinea fow. In North America the term "game bird" includes quail, pheasant, grouse and partridge, ducks, geese and swans, woodcock, snipe and plover.

Red Egghead Seeks Seat In Congress

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON Correspondent — HURBERT EUGENE APTEKHER, candidate for Congress from New York's 12th District, is chief theoretician of the Communist Party, USA.

He has been director of the Communist party's New York School of Marxist Studies, where he taught American history and Theory of Marxism-Leninism. He has a Ph.D. from Columbia University, New York. He received a Guggenheim Fellowship in history.

Aptekher was editor of Political Affairs, the theoretical organ of the Communist Party, USA, and a member of the board of editors of Mainstream, the now dead cultural publication of the party.

His special interest as a writer is Negro history, but he has written widely on a variety of historical, international and political matters. He has said that all his writing since 1939 or 1940 has been consciously guided by what he thought was the light of Marxism-Leninism.

He says that at present he earns his living by writing and lecturing.

Aptekher has been a Communist Party, USA, member for 27 years. In 1959 he was elected to the party's national committee, a post he has held ever since.

Aptekher was born July 31, 1915, in Brooklyn, N.Y., the son of Benjamin and Rebecca Aptekher, both of whom were born in Russia.

His father was a cutter in the garment district and later a manufacturer.

Aptekher's crew-cut hair is grey. He's 5 feet 9 inches tall, has hazel eyes and a ruddy complexion. His build is heavy. He wears rimmed glasses and talks slowly.

The Aptekher's one child, Betina, was a leader in the University of California riots. She has said that she, too, is a Communist party member.

Aptekher served in the U. S. Army in World War II in Europe as an information and education officer with a field artillery unit. He left active duty as a captain. His commission in the Army Reserve was revoked in 1950.

Aptekher says he will center his congressional campaign against "McCarthyism, Viet Nam and racism."

Some of Aptekher's other pronouncements as the chief Red theoretician in the United States follow:

He has described the Civil War as beginning as an attempted counter-revolutionary coup on the part of a desperate slave-holding oligarchy.

He has said American Negroes are oppressed because of the desire of the ruling class to keep them subjugated for economic benefits derived from the payment of low wages.

He has asserted the primary purpose of the Berlin Wall was to stop black marketing and "to stop the tendency of many who got a good education in East Germany to leave for the West."

United Nations Will Vote Membership to Red China - If Peking Wants It

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — United Nations membership is in the bag for Red China — if the Peking rulers will take it.

Red China will definitely be voted admittance at the General Assembly meeting set for Sept. 20. What the Mao Tse-tung coterie will do about it is conjecture. They have given no hint to backstage feelers put out by De Gaulle and others on friendly terms with them.

The UN also will impose new and tougher economic sanctions on South Africa.

The U. S. will oppose Red China's admission, but not as strenuously as in the past. Instead, its efforts and influence will be concentrated on preserving Nationalist China's status in the UN.

The U.S. will back stronger sanctions against South Africa. It favored the original bars, and will support the harsher ones demanded by the African bloc.

At the last showdown on the Red Chinese issue, Nov. 17, 1965, the U.S. blocked membership by a 47 to 47 vote — with 23 abstentions. However, UN insiders predicted the hairline victory would be the last.

Ambassador Arthur Goldberg confirmed that in his strategy conference with President Johnson the other day.

The former Supreme Court Justice reported that this time the entire African bloc will line up for Peking admission. Last year, 19 of the 26 voted with the communists, and 7 abstained.

Virtually all of these countries are beneficiaries of various forms of U. S. economic aid — totaling more than $1.5 billion since 1949.

BELATED CHECKREIN — A ceiling on federal spending under Title XIX of the new Medicare Act will be voted by the potent House Ways and Means Committee.

Amount of the limitation is still undecided. It will largely depend on a report of estimated costs of Title XIX that is being rushed by the Department of Health, Education & Welfare at the Committee's request.

Representative Wilbur Mills, D., Ark., influential chairman, has the votes in the 25-member (17 Democrats, 8 Republicans) Committee to impose a ceiling.

But what happens after that is a toss-up. This is an election year and, with all House members and more than one-third of the Senate running, Mills has his work cut out curbing Title XIX outlays.

This provision is an expanded version of the Kerr-Mills Act providing medical care for indigent old people. Now it includes the blind, disabled, children in families with unemployed parents, and others. The federal government reimburses the states for their expenditures where they could get better pay and better jobs.

He has claimed that South Viet Nam is being used as a "testing ground for new techniques in warfare by the Pentagon."

Hunt for Truth

BY H. L. HUNT
SOMETHING "FITTING" TO SAY

The highly publicized youth demonstrations against the U. S. participating in the war against communists in South Vietnam is a form of revolution for youth. It is well known that youth are prone to revolt against the existing order. But millions of young people, multitudinous but not vocal, are growing disgusted at the antics of the relatively few of their age who are giving youth in general a bad name. They have seen enough of the cheerleaders for "freedom of speech" that the are ready to rebel against the society which tolerates such malefactors.

The situation brings to mind an old story of a farmer's son who, at 16, had never spoken a word. The condition was unexplainable until the day father and son, working the fields together, were charged by a vicious bull. "Look out, paw," shouted the previously mute boy, "here comes the bull!"

Jumping to safety the startled father grabbed the boy. "Son, son, you spoke!" Can you talk?" The boy nodded.

"Have you been able to talk all along?" the father asked. Again the boy nodded.

"Then why in Heaven's name haven't you spoken before?"

The lad dropped his head, explaining, "Shucks, Paw, I just ain't had nothin' fittin' to say!"

When contrasted to the vocal minority of today's youth, we sincerely believe that our heretofore silent youth have something "fittin' to say!" Some are very articulate while many others are practicing "speech."

They are becoming known as YOUTH FREEDOM SPEAKERS. They may learn to make themselves heard and understood, and when they do YOUTH FREEDOM SPEAKERS' message of common sense freedom may sweep this country, which is fast becoming cynical.

Welfare Poverty for All

In the news recently was the story of a rich suburban community where the average family income is about $14 thousand. Not one poor child can be found in the schools, but the community has nevertheless applied for $33,551.13 in federal anti-poverty funds to provide instruction for children who find difficulty in learning. The superintendent of the school system said, "Our judgment was that this money is available, all of it money which all of us as taxpayers contributed." The allocation of such poverty funds is based on the assumption that some families earning less than $2,000 a year. Even though this community has no families in that category or anything approaching it, it nevertheless expected to get the money.

This story illustrates the essential reason why the welfare state cannot be permanent, but it inevitably bankrupt itself. Millions of people do not need social security, medicare, subsidized housing and anti-poverty money of various kinds. But realizing that they have to pay the bills for the generous handouts all the way around, they usually convince themselves that they might as well share in the bounty. Welfare for the needy tends to become welfare for everybody, and when it does we are taxing ourselves to pay ourselves. To be sure, some are more heavily taxed than others, but this process of itself will finally reduce that class of citizens down to the general level. In the end we shall be endeavoring to lift ourselves by our boot straps, and there will be nothing but poverty to distribute in the last analysis, the welfare state anti-poverty program must inevitably result in general poverty for all our citizens.

There might be one exception. The political bosses and their henchmen who have access to the public treasury will probably fare rather well.

In defense of state welfareism it will be said that we cannot let needy people suffer. That is certainly true, but they could and would be cared for by non-governmental organizations established for that purpose. Such organizations would administer relief only to those who were in need. Every effort would be made to restore such people to a self-supporting basis. Relief would be available for the worthy poor, but would not become general for everybody regardless of need, as we see happening before our eyes in the state welfareism which we have adopted. Government administered relief will destroy our self-government and our freedom and eventually lead us into the totalitarian state.

Reds Release Film Of Captured Major

TOKYO (UPI) — A film showing U.S. Air Force Maj. James H. Kasler being treated in a North Vietnamese hospital for injuries suffered when his plane was shot down was released here Saturday.

CAPTURED U.S. Air Force Major James H. Kasler of Indianapolis, Ind., is shown in a photo released by North Viet Nam, which said he led a raid over Hanoi suburbs from a base in Thailand.

The three-minute film, released through Nippon Dempa News, showed the major being wheeled into a treatment room and several North Vietnamese doctors applying a cast from his hip to his chest. His right leg already was in a cast up to the hip.

The 40-year-old Kasler was seen to bail out of his stricken Thunderchief as it was going down. Later he reported that he broke his leg when he hit the ground. The film indicated his injuries may have been more extensive.

Kasler, a B26 tailgunner in World War II who also shot down six Communist planes in Korea, was dressed in prison-striped pajamas.

A statement released with the film claimed Kasler was based in Thailand and had taken part in bombing raids at Thanh Hoa and Vinh Ling provinces in North Viet Nam.

According to the statement, Kasler was supposed to have said that he "felt uneasy" every time he was ordered to bomb targets in Communist North Viet Nam.

He was quoted as telling his captors, "In the past when bombing North Viet Nam, I was fortunately able to get away some way or other from the (anti) aircraft guns but whenever I received orders to engage in bombing the north, I felt uneasy at all times."

Connally Sets Highway Week

AUSTIN — Governor John Connally has designated Sept. 18-24 as Highway Week in Texas. He asked Texans to give serious thought to "the blessings and benefits derived from good highways and a Highway Department with vision."

The Governor called attention to the theme of Highway Week, "Better Highways Save Lives. . . Time. . . Money." He said the purpose of the observance was to remind the citizens of Texas of the value of highways today and the importance of even better highways in the future.

"One of our state's most impressive achievements is the 67,000-mile Texas highway system, a system second to none," Governor Connally said.

He said history has shown that highways pump business, industry, tourism, jobs — and hence prosperity — into a community and, indeed, the whole state.

"The need for good — and better — highways will increase in future decades of unprecedented growth and economic development," he said, adding that "if we are to have a system to match that promise, we must plan now."

Governor Connally said future demands on Texas' outstanding highway system will be enormous.

"The task ahead is clear-cut. Destiny won't wait. We must meet the challenge of the future," he said.

In Texas, Highway Week is sponsored by the Texas Good Roads Association, a citizen movement dedicated to better highway transportation for all Texans.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bradbury K. Thurlow of Winslow, Cohu & Stetson Inc. says he believes the market has just about discounted the monetary situation and on this account is about due for a vigorous rally of worthwhile trading proportions. Thurlow says whether or not the rally proves something more than substantial will depend on the degree to which the causes of the recent slide are corrected or removed.

Newton D. Inder of E.F. Hutton & Co. Inc. says the charts of the major averages as well as many individual issues have suffered severe damage recently and will require some kind of consolidation or base formation before any substantial advances can take place.

Thomson & McKinnon says labor unions are certainly aware of the results of the airline machinists' strike and will press for higher wages, particularly in view of high corporate profits and rising prices. Thus it appears wise, the firm says, to avoid industries with a high labor content in their cost structure.

NEW YORK (UPI) — L.O. Hooper of W.E. Hutton & Co. says that the recent decline should slow down for a while after such a sharp depreciation and at best the present rally should be regarded as a counter-trend movement rather than as an important turn.

Thomson & McKinnon says it believes further backing and filling will be necessary in order to broaden the market's base for any consolidation phase. This would provide the momentum needed for more favorable markets in the weeks ahead, the firm adds.

Hospitals Provide Objectors Jobs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Hospitals are providing the bulk of the employment accepted by local draft boards as a substitute for military service for conscientious objectors, a Selective Service survey showed Saturday.

Based on experience of recent years, the "pattern" established by the survey indicated that about two-thirds of the conscientious objectors are in hospital work. Religious and private institutions were credited with providing a third of the employment.

Nearly 10 per cent of the objectors work in state mental asylums.

The Selective Service system, as of last July 31, listed another 6,016 men of draft age who had completed substitute civilian work. A total of 9,298 have been classified as conscientious objectors but have not yet been employed.

According to the old wives tale, a ghostly white hawk circling the moon is an omen
