AT VIETNAM'S Cam Ranh Bay, members of the First Logistical Command take time out from their work to watch comedian Bob Hope as he entertains American troops. Hope is on his annual jaunt to entertain servicemen, but he noted that some entertainers had elected not to come with him because of their feelings about the Vietnamese war.

Subcommittee to Examine Bombing Raids of Hanoi

Stories of Civilian Casualties Conflict

WASHINGTON (UPI) The candor of Johnson administration reports on U.S. bombings raids near Hanoi will be examined by a house subcommittee in January.

Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., said today he has ordered the staff of his subcommittee on foreign operations and government information to prepare for sessions shortly after Congress reconvenes.

In a telephone interview with UPI, Moss said he was "both irritated and embarrassed" by conflicting stories from the State and Defense Departments on whether U.S. air strikes near Hanoi had resulted in civilian casualties.

"The American people are not stupid," he said. "They can face the truth." He said news reports of casualties from Hanoi indicated the U.S. government could show "a lot more candor."

Notes Statements Modified Moss pointed to official statements categorically denying that U.S. warplanes were hitting civilian areas as a source of what he termed "considerable disquiet." These statements he said, were later modified.

The military often brags about its sophisticated aerial reconnaissance, he said, and how a tennis ball could be seen in someone's backyard.

He said it seemed strange that damage to civilian areas could not be as readily identified.

Moss said his hearings would not deal with the merits of the bombing policy—a question that seemed sure to be a focal point for hearings before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The sessions are also to be scheduled for January.

Eisewhere in Congress, a UPI survey showed little sentiment developing for a broad inquiry into U.S. bombing policy, but the two hearings appeared to herald a close examination of the policy and administration credibility.

Urges More Bombing Chairman L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., of the House Armed Services Committee, called for expanded bombing and "to hell, with world opinion."

Sen. Richard Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said, "For now I see no need for an investigation."

Second Hearing For Tom Vessels Gets Late Start

The second hearing on a motion for a new trial for convicted rapist, Thomas R. Vessels, got a late start today.

Originally set for 10 a.m. in 31st Judicial District Court, proceedings were held up pending Judge Lewis M. Goodrich's arrival from his home in Shamrock.

Arriving at the Gray County Courthouse at 12:45 p.m. Judge Goodrich informed prosecution and defense attorneys that he had to be in Mobeetie during the noon hour. The new hearing on the trial motion was to start at 1:30 p.m. today, Goodrich said.

At the stated hour of starting the new hearing, defense and prosecution attorneys, subpoenaed witnesses, law enforcement officials milled around outside the courtroom, which was partially filled with spectators.

A hearing on the motion for a new trial was granted by Judge Goodrich, who was reported remorseful, over walking out of the courtroom at the first hearing last week.

Goodrich had overruled a new trial motion and accepted a notice of appeal at a stormy, four-hour-long hearing last Thursday.

District Clerk Helen Sprinkle said 12 subpoenas had been issued for the hearing.

In addition to local witnesses, George Taft, chemist for the Texas Department of Public Safety, was present today to testify. He had previously testified at the Oct. 24 trial.

Vessels' attorney, Warren Burnett of Odessa, said today "I don't honestly know what the outcome will be. The scientific evidence from the Department of Public Safety is incompatible with the guilty conviction. If a new trial is overruled here, I will take it to the Court of Criminal Appeals."

S. Vietnam Labor Leaders Order General Strike

SAIGON (UPI) —Vietnamese labor leaders, angered by the use of U.S. troops at strike-bound docks, today ordered a 12-hour general strike throughout Saigon beginning at 6 a.m. Friday (4 p.m. CST Thursday).

Prime Minister Nguyen Cao Ky threatened to intervene in the dispute.

The Saigon workers council which ordered the general strike represents about 120 unions and claims membership of 60,000 workers.

Although only for a limited period, the work stoppage could leave the capital more vulnerable to terrorist attack.

The council ordered the strike as a display of support for 5,000 dockworkers who stopped work Monday. Their walkout has greatly reduced the flow of both military goods and other vital cargo.

Ky, on an inspection tour in the resort of Dalat, apparently was not advised of the general strike order. But he expressed concern over the dockworkers dispute and threatened intervention.

"If by Saturday the strike is not solved, I will go back to Saigon to solve it myself," he said. "The port is already jammed, and now because of the strike it has become more so."

The general strike order specifically declared that workers would cut off the flow of water and electricity throughout Saigon and that truck drivers and public transport workers would remain home.

The dockworkers went on strike Monday to protest use of American troops at recently constructed docks near Saigon. Today, stevedore "good squads" helped to keep the strike in force.

Mortar Attacks Plague Marines, S. Vietnamese

SAIGON (UPI) —Communist troops reported resupplied during the Christmas truce launched heavy mortar and machinegun attacks early today against two U.S. Marine and one South Vietnamese Marine unit just below the demilitarized zone.

The Americans suffered "moderate" losses before the attacking Communists were dispersed by artillery. "Moderate" losses mean a unit has lost much of its effective operating capacity. The Vietnamese suffered "light casualties." Enemy losses were not known.

The attacks were the biggest actions reported as troops in Vietnam prepared for the New Year's truce which goes into effect for 48 hours at 7 a.m. Dec. 31 (6 p.m. CST Dec. 30). American troops angry at the Communist Christmas truce buildup were looking to the new one with even more bitterness.

South Vietnamese troops continued their sweep through the U Minh Forest in South Vietnam's Mekong Delta but no fighting was reported since the early stages of the huge operation when 89 Viet Cong were killed. Other VC retreated into the mangrove swamps.

A U.S. military spokesman said up to 150 rounds of Communist mortar fire hit artillery positions of the 12th and 13th Marine Battalions west of Dong Ha. Leatherneck riflemen lying in boot-top mud braced for a human wave assault but it never came.

The second mortar attack hit a Marine post 16 miles west of Dong Ha. The attack against the South Vietnamese was in the Gio Linh area at eastern end of the DMZ.

Jordan Says Syria Killed Border Guard

AMMAN, Jordan (UPI) — Jordan charged today that a Syrian army patrol crossed the border into Jordan and deliberately murdered a Jordanian security guard.

An official Ministry of Interior statement broadcast by Jordan Radio said the incident took place Wednesday morning — the first reported Jordanian-Syrian incident of its kind.

The statement said a three-man Syrian army patrol armed with light machineguns crossed 150 yards into Jordan to the house of Jordanian security Sgt. Faisal Mural and shot him to death when he answered the door. The patrol then returned to Syria.

This is the first time regular Syrian soldiers have been accused of undertaking raids across the border into Jordan. The government of King Hussein earlier this month announced the arrest of three men they said infiltrated from Syria in an attempt to carry out sabotage.

Syria and the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO) based in Cairo has led a verbal attack on Hussein, trying to depose him on grounds he has not carried out his duties in the fight against Israel.

Jordan meanwhile officially informed the Arab League in Cairo of its refusal to allow Iraqi and Saudi Arabian troops to be stationed inside Jordan near the Israeli border, an influential Cairo newspaper reported.

Tremors Still Shaking Chile

TALTAL, Chile (UPI)—New earth tremors rocked this small Pacific port late Wednesday, driving several thousand persons from the wreckage of their homes to improvised shelters in the surrounding countryside.

It was feared the strong, continuous tremors could pre-empt a repetition of the major earthquake that brought widespread destruction to the poor nitrate port in the pre-dawn hours Wednesday.

The violent quake lasted for more than two minutes and shook a broad belt in that sparsely settled part of northern Chile.

At least three persons were killed—one of them a child—and eight others injured.

Material damage was heavy in Taltal, where the quake hit hardest as an estimated 60 percent of the houses were destroyed or seriously damaged. About 650 families—as many as 3,000 persons—were reported without shelter in Taltal alone.

Lesser damage was reported in other communities in the north. Flimsy homes in the region, where economic factors, moderate climate and practically no rainfall preclude solid U.S.-style construction, were knocked to pieces by the quake.

The Chilean government immediately mobilized an airlift to carry emergency supplies to the stricken region.

From the capital at Santiago, some 580 miles south of here, a truck convoy was dispatched with prefabricated wooden houses for the quake victims.

Food and medicine convoy raced toward Taltal from the major port of Antofagasta 125 miles to the north. Tank trucks with drinking water were en route from the inland town of Pueblo Huidido.

The Chilean government, proud of its recently acquired financial independence, politely turned down an offer of U.S. aid from the American Embassy in Santiago.

Scientists at the University of Santiago said the quake was caused by a vertical movement on a fault about 50 miles long in the ocean bed in the Pacific.

It was felt along a 1,000-mile north-south belt from the capital at Santiago to Arica in Chile's extreme north and east to Mendoza in western Argentina on the far side of the Andes.

Its reading of 7.75 on the opened Richter scale, made it larger than the Oct. 17 quake in Peru in which more than 100 persons died, 1,500 others were injured and some 60,000 left homeless.

The opinions of the medical and legal sources agreed with those of lie detector operators last week. They said Ruby's physical condition, together with the powerful drugs he is taking, would prevent reliable results from such a test.

Rep. Wayne Hays, D-Ohio, chairman of the panel, said Mrs. Powell's attorneys had been notified in Puerto Rico that her appearance was rescheduled for Friday.

"If she does not appear tomorrow," Hays told newsmen, "I will recommend that the clerk of the House be directed to take her off the payroll."

Hays said he might also suggest to the subcommittee that it ask the House to cite her for contempt of Congress if she fails to respond to her (See MRS. POWELL, Page 3)

Ruby Too Ill For Lie Test

DALLAS (UPI)—Jack Ruby, weaker in his struggle against widespread cancer, is too ill to be given a lie detector test, medical and legal sources said Wednesday.

Ruby, 35, slayer of presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald, wants such a test to prove he was part of no conspiracy.

The opinions of the medical and legal sources agreed with those of lie detector operators last week. They said Ruby's physical condition, together with the powerful drugs he is taking, would prevent reliable results from such a test.

EXPENSIVE NEW YEAR'S PARTIES

'67 Will Cost More to Welcome In

By United Press International

New Year's Eve celebrations across the nation this weekend promise to be as varied as the cities but one threat—higher prices—ties many of them together.

The $100 package deals already sold out in at least two spots in Chicago and New York, may sound high but many would-be celebrants will find their entertainment even more expensive in some states.

mass exodus is expected from Houston—in Texas where mixed drinks are not sold across the bar—to such places as Aspen, Colo., New Mexico or Nevada. Dallas nightclubs claim a higher price despite the law since the Cotton Bowl football classic traditionally attracts a large transient crowd.

The Warwick Hotel in Houston will replace the missed liquor with a fireworks display across the street in the city park at midnight.

Dry Holiday Charlotte, N.C., is experiencing a somewhat similar problem for the first time this New Year's Eve. A Nov. 30 dictum prohibiting the "brown-bagging" practice of bringing liquor to the nightclub where setups are provided was expected to cut deeply into the celebration spirits.

Many cabaret owners, polled in a United Press International survey, said they would charge more to welcome 1967 than they did for 1966. But many others said their prices would not change, and even one city, Albuquerque, N.M., professed slightly reduced prices.

The prices ranged from $1 and $2 cover charges at nightspots in just about every major city to the $100 package deal offered by Maxim's de Paris in Chicago's luxurious Astor Towers Hotel. The $100 offer, which includes a dinner, dancing through the night and a hotel room with breakfast in bed, has been sold out since before Christmas.

Food Included New York City's Act I nightclub was bringing $100 a couple, but the price included as much as you can drink, in addition to any solids you can down.

The El Morocco came a close second, charging $80 a couple for dinner and dancing. It also required black ties.

At the top average range, Sammy Davis Jr., drew $60 a couple contributions from Copacabana patrons and the Fontainebleu Hotel's Club Gigi at Miami Beach, Fla., and the nearby Eden Roc matched that price to be entertained by singer Connie Francis and comedian Myron Cohen.

On the good news side, those arm-chair quarterbacks who over-celebrate will have all day Sunday to overcome the effects of the night before. Football bowl games this season will be played on Monday.

Johnson Gives Few Hints of His Plans for 1967

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — President Johnson played his cards close to the chest today, giving few hints of administration plans as the year approaches an end.

The Chief Executive was beset with decisions that have to be made within the next few weeks. He was smiling outwardly. But his public appearances have been few over the holidays as he has busied himself at the LBJ Ranch.

He prides himself on his item-by-item scrutiny of the 1968 fiscal budget. All that takes time. He also has his staff in Washington, under the leadership of departing presidential press secretary Bill D. Moyers, pulling together the drafts on his State of the Union message.

If he adheres to tradition he will deliver the address in person to Congress on its opening day, Jan. 10 or soon afterwards. But the date Jan. 17—a week later—also is being bandied about in Washington.

Moyers is expected to bring him up to date on preparations on the message when he arrives later this week.

Presidential press secretary George Christian, meantime, undergoes surgery today at Seton Hall Hospital here for removal of part of a spinal disc.

Christian, before entering the hospital commented Wednesday on reports from Hanoi that nonmilitary targets, including civilian housing, had been bombed.

"I think it has been clearly said by the administration that no civilian targets have ever been authorized," Christian said. "Military targets are scheduled, that's all."

A newsman, stating that Johnson is known to approve major targets but leave the details of the bombings to the military, asked if the Chief Executive felt that his orders with respect to the nature of targets have been violated.

"No, he doesn't feel his instructions have been violated at all, in any respect," Christian replied.

The press secretary declined to discuss individual raids in the vicinity of Hanoi, the effects of which have been described by Harrison E. Salisbury, assistant managing editor of the New York Times, who is in the North Vietnamese capital, with the permission of both North Vietnam and the United States.

Strike

(Continued From Page 1) Congested port, have put additional American soldiers to work on the docks. Nevertheless, the flow of cargo through the harbor was cut by about 50 per cent.

The labor council said the city-wide strike not only was a show of support for the dockworkers, but a direct protest over the use of American troops serving as "strikebreakers."

The council said if the 12-hour walkout failed to bring Americans to their knees with a "satisfactory solution," there will be tougher measures to support the struggle until final success.

The order did not spell out what the "tougher measures" would be. But two days ago, labor leaders sent telegrams to dockworkers throughout the nation to prepare for a possible strike.

The docks at which American troops were first put to work were constructed expressly for the purpose of alleviating harbor congestion. U.S. officials said Vietnamese were temporarily hired at the docks, but were told they would lose the jobs once soldiers were available for work.

THIS PHOTO, obtained from official Communist sources, is said to show American Marine pilot David Rehman of Bay City, Mich., answering questions from newsmen in Hanoi after being captured by the North Vietnamese. Rehman was allegedly shot down by North Vietnamese anti-aircraft fire.

Gov. Brown Makes Final Act of Mercy

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown, in a final act of mercy, has commuted the death sentences of four condemned murderers as one of his last official acts as California's chief executive.

The democratic governor, a long time opponent of capital punishment, Wednesday gave life terms to four of the 64 men on San Quentin's death row.

He commuted the death sentences without formal comment but an announcement from his office noted that none of the four would be released from prison.

The four are Clyde Bates and Manuel Chavez, found guilty in the 1957 incineration of six persons in a Los Angeles tavern. William E. Cotter Jr., who stabbed a woman to death in a robbery in Bellflower in 1963, and Leo C. Lookadoo Jr., who burned a gas station attendant to death in Stanislaus County two years ago.

Three of the convicted murderers—Bates, 47, Cotter, 26, and Lookadoo, 26—were given a life term without possibility of parole. Chavez, 34, who had no previous felony convictions, was given life with the possibility of parole.

The two-term Democrat will be succeeded Monday by Republican Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan, who supports the death penalty.

Plate Glass Window Broken by Sign

A school traffic sign, with the pipe still attached, was thrown through a plate glass building into the Kelly building at Hobart and Alcock sometime last night, according to a police report.

J. B. Goad, city patrolman, discovered the vandalism shortly after 8 p.m. today. He said the sign was the type used in traffic islands around schools. The 4x6 foot plate glass window was valued at approximately $40, Goad said.

"I don't know whether she has any intention of coming or not tomorrow but it looks to me like a big stall," Hays said.

Subcommittee members were kept in doubt until shortly before the hearing whether Mrs. Powell would show up. Staff members tried all day Wednesday to contact her. A telegram from her attorneys Tuesday evening said it was impossible to make arrangements in time for her to testify today but that she would like a future date set and that she was "willing to cooperate."

Today was the second time Mrs. Powell was a no-show. She was originally subpoenaed to testify on Dec. 20 but wrote the committee that she did not have adequate time to make arrangements for the care of her four-year-old son.

Hays then rescheduled her appearance for today. Her attorneys Wednesday notified Hays that except for press reports she had never received official word of her rescheduled appearance.

The subcommittee wants to know what Mrs. Powell does for her $20,578 salary as an employe of her husband's House Education and Labor Committee.

Powell has said she translates and answers mail from the Harlem Democrat's Spanish-speaking constituents.

As part of the subcommittee inquiry into Powell's overall management of his committee, investigators also want to know if Mrs. Powell does any work in Washington or New York.

Under the law, congressional employes may not be paid unless they work in Washington or the member's home state. There is no penalty for not complying but presumably the subcommittee could recommend that Mrs. Powell be dropped from the payroll.

A subcommittee report on the Powell investigation is expected before Congress reconvenes Jan. 10 and after they hear from Mrs. Powell.

Among the allegations they are considering are those that Powell and his staff members took unauthorized trips at taxpayer's expense.

The report is expected to have a major role in any move to bar Powell from taking his seat in the 90th Congress for failing to pay a $164,000 judgment against him in a New York defamation suit.

Drivers Have Bang-Up Time

Pampa motorists have been having a "bang-up time" on slick city streets since Tuesday's snowstorm. A number of cars have dented fenders and bumpers as a result.

A three-car pile-up in the 2200 blk. N. Hobart resulted in a citation to Mrs. Joan Roger Dingman, 1105 Corderella, for failure to control speed to avoid an accident. There were $200 damages to her car, according to a police report.

The Dingman car hit the rear of a car driven by Jimmy Reed Robertson, 1121 Crane, knocking it into the rear of a car driven by Georgia McClure Kelley, 704 N. Banks. There was no damage to the Kelley car and minor damage to the Robertson auto, police stated. The accident occurred at 7:10 a.m. today.

A citation for not having a Texas Driver's license was issued to Joe Dean Burleson, 832 E. Campbell, after he was crowded by a passing motorist and hit a utility pole in the 400 blk. W. Brown, according to a police report. The accident happened at 12:13 p.m. Wednesday. The Burleson auto incurred $400 damages, police estimate.

Cars driven by David Michael Bowers, Miami, and Arthur Leroy Poore, 1913 N. Faulkner, were in collision in the 900 blk. N. Hobart at 1 p.m. yesterday, police reported. Damages of $290 were charged to the Bowers car and $85 for the Poore auto.

Bowers was cited for failure to control speed to avoid an accident.

The 700 blk. W. Browning was the scene of another collision at 1:30 p.m. yesterday, when a car driven by Garland Bee Lancaster of Amarillo collided with a car driven by Valerie Hall Buster, 123 W. Tuke, according to a police report.

The Lancaster auto had an estimated $100 damages with minor damage to the Buster car. Mrs. Buster was cited for changing lanes of traffic unsafely.

Minor damage was incurred by cars driven by Bernette Nedesser, 2205 N. Christy, and Edward J. Griffen of Amarillo after colliding shortly after 2:10 p.m. at the intersection of W. 18th and Hobart.

Mrs. Naomi Williams was cited for unsafe backing following a collision with a car driven by Terry Lynn Duenkel, 321 N. Frost, shortly after 3 p.m. yesterday. The accident occurred in the 800 blk. W. Francis.

The Peking radio communication gave no details of the test at the usual blast site, Lop Nor in the remote western province of Sinkiang. The Tokyo Weather Bureau's instruments detected violent atmospheric disturbances lasting about 10 minutes.

The explosion was Peking's third atomic test this year and underscored Red China's determination to force its way into the big-power "nuclear club."

The communique said the detonation "raised China's science and technology in the field of nuclear weapons to a new level."

Sled Stolen While There's Still Snow

V. Collum, 1303 Williston, reported to city police that his son's new sled was taken from their home.

Collum said the sled is a 5-foot, silver and natural wood "Silver Streak" valued at approximately $14.

'Dangerous Dolls' To Be Removed

By United Press International
Dolls which officials in seven states say are highly flammable were being withdrawn from stores and children's hands today.

Both the Food and Drug Administration and the Public Health Services' division of accident prevention said they were investigating reports plastic raggedy ann-type dolls imported from Poland are dangerous.

A state police laboratory in Indiana said the dolls are "no more dangerous than many other dolls" but Indianapolis authorities and officials in six other states issued warnings against allowing children to play with the foot-high, pigtailed dolls.

Hundreds of thousands of the dolls were imported by A. D. Hutton & Sons which marketed them for about $1 each in discount stores.

Electric Facilities To Be Expanded

A 1967 construction program calling for the investment of more than 20-million dollars in new electric facilities was announced today by A. R. "Lon" Watson, president and general manager of Southwestern Public Service Company.

The major item in the 1967 program is continued construction on a 210,000 kilowatt generating unit at the company's Nichols Station, northeast of Amarillo. When the new unit goes into service in mid-1968, it will double the generating capability of the station.

The new investment is being made, Watson said, in order that the electric company can continue to provide economical service for its customers at the same time that it assures them of reliable service.

Additional power for the South Plains section of the company's service area will be provided by a 230,000 volt transmission line which will be built from Plant X, in Lamb County, to Uco Station, in Hale County.

The new line will result in a four-fold increase in the amount of power available in the South Plains area. It will be the second 230,000 volt transmission link to the region, complementing a circuit of this size which now delivers power into the area at a point south of Lubbock.

Italian cooking seems to grow more and more popular each day in the United States. One of the reasons, we think, is that it's so hearty and down-to-earth, yet with a difference achieved with the right combination of herbs, spices, tomato sauce, olive oil and, of course, Italian cheeses.

For those who relish the Italian touch, here's a brand new recipe for hot sandwiches. They are made with Italian bread filled with a specially-seasoned ground beef mixture that's crowned with flavorful Mozzarella cheese. The perfect partners for these hearty sandwiches are oven-crisped French fries—the frozen kind which are so convenient to use and serve.

Italian Sandwiches and French Fries make up the sort of man-sized treat your husband would like to serve to "the boys" when he has them over for a card party. There is no reason, though, to reserve these for the men—gals will like them, too, dished up as a midnight supper repast, complemented probably with coleslaw and relishes. And what better treat after skating, skiing, or sleigh-riding for the up-and-coming teen generation?

ITALIAN SANDWICHES with FRENCH FRIES
1-3 cup chopped onion
1/3 cup chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons butter
1 pound ground beef
1 8-ounce can tomato sauce with mushrooms
1-3 cup grated Parmesan cheese
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon oregano
1/4 teaspoon thyme
1 loaf Italian bread or 6 or 8 large hard rolls
1 1-pound package frozen French fried potatoes
All-purpose salad oil
Salt
1 8-ounce package Mozzarella cheese.

Cook onion and green pepper in butter until tender, but not brown. Combine ground beef, tomato sauce, cheese, onion, green pepper and seasonings. Split bread or rolls and reserve tops. Spread meat mixture on bottom of bread or rolls. Place on a jelly roll pan. Spread frozen French fries on same pan if there is room or on another pan. Brush fries with oil and sprinkle with salt. Bake at 375 degrees for 20 minutes. Stir potatoes and sprinkle with more salt. Arrange strips of cheese over beef mixture on bread. Place top on bread or rolls and bake 5 to 8 minutes more. Makes 6 to 8 sandwiches.

COOK'S TOUR

By JEANNE LESLEM UPI Food Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Cookbook club members must do a little cooking because they consistently choose books that are full of recipes instead of reading and picture books.

This theory comes from Ruth Buchan of Doubleday's Cook Book Guild. In four years, the guild has acquired the third largest membership of the parent firm's 26 book clubs and book programs.

Miss Buchan said that popular subjects with club members are baking, entertaining (with menus provided) and casseroles.

Following are brief reviews on some new cookbooks of recipes and menus, and some books for beginners.

A World of Breads, by Dolores Casella (David White): A virtual encyclopedia of baking with 100 recipes from all over the world, presented so temptingly that one wants to try them all. There are chocolate and cocoa-flavored breads, both quick and yeast; many fruit breads suitable for holiday giving; and sfeeha, or lahm-bi-ajin, which is Lebanese pizza.

The New York Times Menu Cookbook, by Craig Claiborne (Harper & Row): A collection of original and classic recipes ranging from a club sandwich to homemade walnut pickles, Panamanian stew and Greek style stuffed squid. Equally varied menus include a 24-dish Danish cold table as well as three course dinners such as almond and macaroni casserole, green salad and fruit mousse.

Pasta! by Evelyn Gendel (Simon and Schuster): Fifty recipes for sauces, baked dishes and homemade spaghetti products that are as superior to ordinary spaghetti with tomato-meat sauce as is real Danish pastry to the American sweet rolls sold under that name. Recipes are simple, some with only 3 ingredients.

The Art of Making Good Candies at Home, by Martin K. Hermann (Doubleday): A professional confectioner's directions for such tasks as chocolate dipping and fondant creaming stand not so all easy. But for anyone willing to take the time and effort, this book appears to be a thorough guide. Sunset Cookbook of Chicken & Turkey (Lane): Interesting and often inexpensive recipes including some for other poultry and game birds. Fancy recipes include one for chicken with hearts of palm and another that uses canned kumquats.

Let's Start to Cook, by Nell B. Nichols and the editors of Farm Journal (Doubleday): A fine cooking primer containing simple recipes such as beef stew and skillet scalloped potatoes; clear identification with drawing, of utensils and directions for their uses; and comprehensive tips for buying, cooking and storing all kinds of food.

Mildred O. Knopf's Around the World Cookbook for Young People (Knopf): Plain French roast chicken and fancy Greek lamb stew with eggplant puree illustrate the range of recipes said to be suitable for children of all ages. Peachy letters that introduce each chapter may bore sophisticated youngsters but the recipes sound good and might just lure a few confirmed hamburger and pizza eaters to try other foods.

The Savor of the Sea, by Dan Morris and Matilda Moore (Macmillan): Good fish and seafood recipes and much useful incidental information, including the many regional names of common fish and clear-cut directions for telling when fish is done. The sauce chapters are particularly good, with dozens of variations on simple bases such as mayon-

Chicken Wings Are Good Eating And Inexpensive CHICKEN WINGS ORIENTAL

1 1/2 chicken wings (about 3 lbs.)
Water to cover
1 medium onion, sliced
2 1/2 cup (one 5-2 bottle) soya sauce
1/4 cup sugar or honey
1 teaspoon powdered ginger
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon ground cloves

Cut off tips of chicken wings, if desired. Saute wings in margarine until lightly browned. Add water to cover; add sliced onion. Cover and simmer about 30 minutes or until wings are tender. Remove wings from pan, and drain liquid, reserving one cup for sauce.

Combine soya sauce, sugar or honey, ginger, cinnamon and cloves; blend well, and add to 1 cup of liquid in pan. Add wings to the sauce and simmer until wings are well coated, about 20 minutes.

Serve over hot, fluffy rice. Four servings.

Shrimp and Other Shellfish Recipes, by Helen Evans Brown and Phillip S. Brown (Ward Ritchie Press): Delicious recipes so well written that even beginners can make such fancy dishes as shrimp pie for 12 to 15 persons, shrimp aspic, potted crab and Chinese garlic lobster. Simpler recipes also are included for eight kinds of shellfish.

Food Buying Guide

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following guide to the nation's food shopping buys for this coming weekend was prepared by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and Interior for UPI.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Food shoppers can look forward to good variety in meats and produce for the new year weekend.

Beef and pork is available in most areas in good quantities. Round and chuck roasts are attractive buys reported by the Consumer and Marketing Service, but pork as bacon, chops, various cuts of roasts, and hams are also in ample supply. Broiler fryers are the mainstay buys in poultry and in some areas they are joined by turkeys.

Vegetables in plentiful supply around the nation are cabbage, carrots, celery, lettuce, onions, potatoes, and tomatoes.

Leading the plentiful fruits list are apples, grapefruit, oranges and pears in good supply.

Canned salmon is available in most areas across the nation.

For a tangy appetizer, serve apple juice to which a spoonful of ice cream or sherbet has been added.

Dear Abby... A Ring Doesn't 'Make' a Marriage

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for only 2 months and already I am writing to DEAR ABBY. First let me say that I couldn't ask for a sweeter, more wonderful husband, but he has one fault. He's an early bird! Abby, if I don't get my eight hours sleep, the next day I'm a dishrag. My husband can get along nicely on four or five hours.

If we go to sleep at midnight, Old Bright Eyes is up at the crack of dawn like a rooster at 4:30 a.m. He showers, shaves, and then I hear him in the kitchen banging the pots and pans around while he fixes himself breakfast. Then the odor of coffee perking and bacon and eggs frying wafts into the bedroom, and who can sleep?

Abby, he doesn't have to be at work until 8 a.m. and we live only 15 minutes from his office, so what's his big hurry? Please don't tell me it's a wife's duty to get up when her husband does. Any other advice will be appreciated.

all, but his finger healed up! Why then, Abby, would a man who has been married only 14 months, and claims to love his wife, be ashamed to wear a wedding ring and let the world know that he is married?

FRANK'S WIFE: Don't assume that your husband is "ashamed" to let the world know that he is married just because he does not want to wear a wedding ring. As long as he acts married, he doesn't need the label. Accept him as he is.

DEAR ABBY: An interesting question came up in your column: Are men and boys cleaner than women and girls?

For whatever this is worth, I have been a custodian in a public school for many years, and I have found that the boys use about three times as much soap and paper towels as the girls.

PASSAIC, N. J.

DEAR ABBY: Are men cleaner than women? I know it's a dangerous generalization, but after renting out rooms for over 35 years, I can tell you that I would much rather rent to a man than a woman.

I am not saying that all men are cleaner than all women, but I would much rather clean up after an untidy man than an untidy woman. Women tend to run to extremes.

If a woman is neat, she is very neat, but if she is sloppy, she is dirtier than a pig.

SEEN BOTH

DEAR ABBY: Frank and I were married at a double-ring ceremony, but Frank never seemed to enjoy wearing his ring much. He lost three wedding rings in 6 months. Then the finger on which he wore the wedding band broke out in tiny water blisters. He blamed it on the ring; so I went to a skin doctor with him.

The doctor said it could be due to a metal allergy, so he taped Frank's wedding ring to his leg. The ring didn't bother his leg at

Coloring Books Yield Appliques

By JOANNE SCHREIBER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Don't panic when grandmother swipes junior's coloring book. She's not going into her second childhood — she just wants to get some good applique designs for her next sewing project.

A child's coloring book is a gold mine of applique patterns suitable for youngsters' clothes and furnishings. The pictures are bold and simple, ideally sized, and loaded with kid appeal. All you have to do is cut out the picture and trace it onto the fabric of your choice. Then use the zigzag stitch on your sewing machine to embroider details and applique the design to the garment.

Here, for instance, a circus coloring book was used to create two interpretations of a clown. The striped romper has a full-figure clown of red fake fur with green hat and balloon. The light blue romper has a chalk-white clown face with red yarn hair and red-and-white necktie.

To make the clown figure, cut out clown from red fake fur, leaving half-inch seam allowance all around. Baste in place on front section of romper. Set automatic sewing machine for a close satin stitch and stitch around outline.

Trim away excess fabric. Use a satin stitch for the balloon string. Cut hat and balloon from green cotton, leaving half-inch seam allowance. Baste in place and outline with satin stitch.

Sew on black buttons for eyes and add grassy slope of wide green rickrack. Cut away any remaining excess fabric and press with a damp cloth.

The only tricky part of the clownface applique is in keeping the strands of yarn under control long enough to get the hair stitched down. The sewing experts at Coats and Clark, who worked out these appliques, have an ingenious solution—begin with a strip of lightweight cardboard about 1-inch wide and 1-foot long. With a razor blade, cut a narrow slit about 1/4-inch in from one long edge. You will run a line of stitching through this slit, so keep the cardboard joined at the ends. Then wrap washable red wool closely around the cardboard strip, being careful not to overlap or bunch strands. Back cardboard and yarn structure with a strip of organdy. Then stitch carefully through slit in cardboard, attaching yarn to organdy backing. Pull cardboard out, and you will find yourself with a flexible strip of yarn loops, neatly attached to the backing and ready to stitch.

Back white muslin with organdy satin stitch to embroider features on face. Baste hair in place over top of head, trimming away excess organdy backing. Baste head into position on romper front. Stitch completely around the head, using an open zigzag stitch for the hair section and a close satin stitch for the outline of the face. Trim away excess fabric and then add necktie.

If you are doing applique work on a garment you are making, always apply design before sewing the pieces of the garment together. If you are adding applique to brighten up a completed garment, use automatic stitching for the embroidery work but slipstitch the applique to the garment, or use it as a pocket decoration.

So look through the coloring books for applique ideas — you will find enough patterns to last a lifetime.

Plans Underway For 1967 'Red Stocking Revue'

An organizational meeting of the "All New" 1967 Red Stocking Revue sponsored by Beta Sigma Phi Sorority was recently held at Citizens Bank.

General chairman of the Revue, Mrs. James Schaffer, and her co-chairman, Mrs. Ted Givens, announced that the dates for the Beta Sigma Phi Revue have been set for March 3 and 4 to be held in the Pampa High School Auditorium. Jerome H. Cargill Producing Organization, Fifth Avenue, New York City, leading producers of smart amateur revues, will again direct the production.

Advance ticket sales will begin in the near future with prices set at $2 for reserved seats and $1.50 balcony seats. Reserved seat tickets will again be exchanged at Richard's Drug.

Highlights and Sidelights

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Tex.—Grocery bills of Texans are increasing. And there isn't much anybody can do about it except shop more thrifflily.

That's Gov. John Connally's conclusion after studying a special committee's report on food prices.

While the cost of market-basket items is going up faster here than for the nation as a whole, food still is a bargain, the committee advised.

Connally requested the study by representatives of the University of Texas, A&M University and Texas Technological College.

These conclusions highlighted the report:

—Consumer food costs in Texas during the last two years jumped 10.5 per cent, compared with 8.7 per cent for the nation. Retailers' market-basket costs rose 6.8 per cent here, compared with the U.S. average of 6.4 per cent.

—Today the average Texas family of four spends $1,134 a year for groceries. This is $108 more than two years ago. Nationwide food-basket cost rose $89, for a total expenditure of $1,116 a year.

—An overall price increase of 12.5 per cent for Texas farm products the past year (September to September) contributed to 71 per cent of the hike in retail food prices.

—Net profit levels of food retailers actually declined fractionally from 1.91 per cent of gross sales in 1964 to 1.63 per cent this year. Increased labor and equipment costs were cited as major contributing factors.

—Farm prices, which lagged for 17 years, began to move forward the last two years, and consumer demand exceeded farm supplies.

—National growth and economic development, together with inflationary price rises in all items, were held basically responsible for the long-term upward trend in food prices.

Connally found no special legislation or executive action warranted. He pointed out that "A lot of food costs depend on the individual tastes of people and wise shopping on the part of the housewife."

$100 MILLION TAX BILL POSSIBLE—Governor Connally acknowledged the tax bill required to balance his spending recommendations to the legislature next month might well range over $100,000,000.

In addition to his budget ($911,400,000 general revenue), the governor will recommend separate spending items, possibly including a teacher pay raise.

Connally and mayors were unable to get together on emergency aid for cities. Mayors want his backing of a one-year local option sales tax.

Governor prefers a penny-a-gallon gasoline tax boost with three-fourths of the revenue (about $40,000,000 a year) earmarked for city street building, maintenance and policing purposes.

Mayors are not satisfied with the latter. They fear they would be required to argue each application for aid separately before the State Highway Commission.

CONNALLY BUDGET—More of the Governor's proposed budget for the 1968-69 biennium has been released. Some recommendations are:

—$51,000,000 more for the construction of interstate highways, state highways and farm-to-market roads. He suggested $1,733,585,894 for the total program for the two years, of which $749,948,061 would be for construction. (The Department asked $1,061,431,126—only $7,895,342 more than Connally recommended. Current budget is $987,805,621.)

—Doubling the current appropriation for the General Land Office's supervision and regulation of exploration, leasing and development of state-owned land in Gulf of Mexico. (Currently, it is getting $75,000 and, if Connally's recommendation is adopted, it would get $150,000, as compared to the $200,000 requested.)

—$2,800,000 for a tourists development project proposed to help the Alabama-Coushatta Indians. Cost of program would be split equally between state and federal governments.

—Salary increases for Liquor Control Board's field personnel. District supervisors would jump from $7,080 to $8,628; assistant supervisors, $4,204 to $7,620 (minimum); inspectors II from $5,808 to $7,056; and inspectors I from $5,436 to $6,528. (All undercoermen are inspectors.) LCB's administrator's would be raised from $18,500 to $19,500 and the assistant administrator's salary would go from $12,000 to $14,112.

—R. EDD Highlights ND Side

PRESS SECRETARY NAMED—William F. Carter, longtime public information officer for Texas Department of Public Safety, is the new press secretary to Governor Connally.

Carter, 47, succeeds George Christian, with whom he worked in the old International News Service Bureau at the state capitol.

Christian was recently named press secretary to President Johnson.

MARTIN PICKS AIDS—Atty. Gen.-elect Crawford C. Martin named two more aides who will take office with him next month. They are Austin attorneys Bill Wells, 31, and A. J. Carubbi Jr., 34.

Wells will be Martin's administrative assistant and Carubbi his legal staff assistant. Carubbi formerly lived in Pampa. Wells is from Houston.

ACTIVE TRAINING CERTAIN—Those 3,400 Texas National guardsmen who haven't undergone their six months of active training will do so after Christmas.

Rotarians Learn Objectives of March of Dimes

Pampa Rotarians heard Don Losher talk on the objectives of The National Foundation-March of Dimes at the club's weekly luncheon meeting yesterday in the Coronado Inn.

Losher, who is program chairman for the local M. O. D. unit, said that the organization has undertaken the fight against birth defects as well as carrying out its continuing program with polio.

A film, which was taken of patients at the University of Arkansas Medical Center, illustrated the foundation's specialized programs in research, medical care, rehabilitation and professional education.

The annual March of Dimes fund raising drive will be held in Pampa and Gray County during the month of January.

Chairman Will D. Davis reports that the bulky invitations, which cost 15-cents each for postage alone, already are in the mail. He points out, however, that written invitations are not necessary for admission to a reception at the capitol and at state agencies, to the high-noon inaugural ceremony or to the downtown parade. "Everyone's welcome!"

On the evening before the inauguration, the SCED will hold a $25-a-plate Democratic victory dinner here. Tickets to the inaugural ball will be $10 a couple.

9 Viet Cong Charge US Broke Truce

TOKYO (UPI) — The Communist Viet Cong press agency charged today that American troops violated the Christmas truce while Viet Cong guerrillas "strictly observed" the cease fire.

The Communist press agency report, broadcast from Hanoi and monitored here, warned Viet Cong guerrillas to keep a high alert "against every scheme of the enemy to violate the cease-fire order on the coming New Year's day."

The Viet Cong ignored the fact that their guerrillas violated the truce in a rash of sniping and attacks on American positions during the 48-hour Christmas cease-fire.

"Though having to accept the Christmas truce ordered by the South Vietnam National Front for Liberation, the U.S. aggressors deliberately sought to violate the truce," the "liberation" press agency report said.

It continued, "at 11 a.m. on Dec. 2 that is four hours after the cease-fire began on the liberation side, a U.S. L19 reconnaissance plane fired rockets on Moi hamlet, Sadek Province, killing five persons."

"On Dec. 25, second day of the truce, while 5,000 U.S. troops were allowed to gather in peace to celebrate Christmas in their base in Long Binh, Bien Hoa Province, U.S. helicopters pounded the vicinity of their base allegedly to ensure security for the celebrations."

"Also on Dec. 24, U.S. troops fired many artillery rounds on the liberated areas southwest of Da Nang," the Communist Viet Cong said.

Advances to $1.15 an hour and overtime after 42 hours a week; and beginning Feb. 1, 1967, $1.30 an hour and overtime after 40 hours a week. Thereafter, the minimum wage will increase in two annual steps of 15 cents to $1.60 on Feb. 1, 1971.

More Construction Workers Are Included Under New Wage Law

New minimum wage and overtime pay requirements for some 500,000 additional construction workers subject to the amended Fair Labor Standards Act will go into effect Feb. 1, 1967.

Changes in the Federal law are described in a pamphlet released by the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions of the U.S. Department of Labor.

"Construction workers who were covered by the Act prior to the 1966 Amendments will be entitled to $1.40 an hour on and after Feb. 1, 1967, and $1.60 an hour Feb. 1, 1968," said Regional Director W. J. Rogers. "Premium pay of one and one-half times the employee's regular rate of pay applies after 40 hours in a work week."

He explained that employees whose employment was covered prior to the 1966 Amendments are those who were individually engaged in construction work closely connected with interstate commerce, or who were employed in a construction enterprise with an annual gross volume of business of $350,000 or more, having some employees who handle goods or materials which had moved in or been produced for interstate commerce.

"But under the 1966 Amendments to the Act," he said, "all construction workers who meet the commerce requirements are now covered by its provisions regardless of the size of the enterprise for which they work."

The newly covered workers will be entitled to $1 an hour Feb. 1, 1967, and overtime pay after 44 hours a week. On Feb. 1, 1968, the minimum wage ad-

TOGETHER FOR 11 YEARS

Senior Girl Scouts Reminisce At Brunch

By DORIS E. WILSON
News Staff Writer

Though Senior Girl Scout Troop 17 disbanded in 1964, there's still a lot of action among its members.

Some of the members are housewives and mothers, others are school teachers, students. There's a secretary, an analyst in Washington, D.C., a psychologist and an assistant college instructor.

Throughout the year, most of them go their separate ways, but once a year their paths lead back to 915 N. Gray, to the home of Mrs. Joe Wells, their "fearless leader" through 13 years of Girl Scouting.

Every year, since the troop disbanded, there is a Christmas breakfast. The girls get together to catch each other up on the happenings during the year. This year was no exception.

When all the news has been discussed... thoughts stray back to Girl Scout days. Especially the trip to the Black Hills in South Dakota, which members worked for two years to finance themselves.

The troop was organized in September, 1951, with 15 members. Eleven members remained with the troop until graduation from high school in 1962. The troop finally disbanded in 1964, when all of the remaining members were graduated.

Attending the Christmas brunch Monday morning were:

Mrs. Jim Brewton (Sally Paden), who lives in Dallas but commutes to classes at North Texas State University in Denton.

Mrs. Bill Don Eads (Anna Watson), who attends Rice University in Houston;

Mrs. Marilyn Wells Harris, who attends Stephen F. Austin College in Nacogdoches;

Susan Watson, a student at Texas Technological College in Lubbock;

Martha Lou Kelly, a math teacher in a Vail, Colo., junior high school;

Mrs. Stan Johnson (Molly Hearron), a secretary in College Station;

Mrs. Ed Clevenger (Nora Wells), a housewife and mother, living in Lawton, Okla.;

Mrs. Max Patton (Chris Grayson), who lives in Pampa with her husband and two sons, Weston, 4½ months, and Wade, 3;

Mrs. Jerome Warner (Linda Barker) an English teacher at Caprock High School in Amarillo;

Suzanne Paden, an analyst, Department of Defense, Washington, D.C.;

Terrie Watson, a student at Texas Tech and bride-elect of Danny Turner.

Other former troop members, unable to attend the breakfast, were Mrs. Joe Hearman (Sue Abbott) of Port Hueneme, Calif.; Mrs. Russ Herdman (Elizabeth Graham) of Fort Worth; Mrs. Danny Vermillion (Linda Belmont) of Lubbock, who is completing a pharmaceutical degree at Southwestern Teachers College, Weatherford, Okla.; Mrs. John R. Echols (Ann Duncan), a school teacher at White Deer; Miss Beverly Heaton, who is attending college at NTSU, Denton.

Also attending the breakfast were Mrs. Ruth Abbott, who was assistant leader throughout the 11 years, and Mrs. Frank Kelly, a troop committee mother, who is still active in scouting, serving as assistant leader to Troop No. 1, where her daughter, Patty, is a member.

Income Tax Information

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Unlikely as it sounds, the odds are four to one you will be receiving good news from the Internal Revenue Service next week.

The IRS has begun mailing 1966 federal income tax forms and instructions to 65 million Americans. Nearly four times as many taxpayers will be entitled to refunds as will owe additional payments.

But the knowledge that 34 million taxpayers are putting in for refunds isn't likely to ease the pain for the nine million who owe more money.

About one taxpayer in five will wait until the last minute before filing a return. This year, the last minute will be midnight Monday, April 17.

Since the April 15 filing deadline falls on a Saturday, IRS officials are giving late filers an extra two days.

About 43 million taxpayers will receive the same two-page Form 1040 they filled out last year, and 22 million will receive the so-called "Short Form" 1040A, a small punch card.

But 60,000 taxpayers will receive a seven-page surprise in the mail—an experimental new tax form designated 1040Q.

The 1040Q is in the form of a questionnaire, and IRS Commissioner Sheldon S. Cohen says it is simpler than the other forms.

The 60,000 "highly representative" taxpayers who will receive it were chosen at random in Arkansas, Colorado, Kansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas and Wyoming.

If enough of them like the new form, it may be offered to all taxpayers next year.

The tax rate for 1966 was the same as the year before. There were only a few minor changes on the 1966 tax forms because there were only a few changes in the tax law.

Scouts Swoon At Nebraska

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI)—A popular pastime among professional scouts last fall was swooning at Nebraska football games—where the action resembled the building of a superhighway. There are at least four Cornhuskers most pro teams can't wait to corner—halfback Harry Wilson, tackle Carl Stith, end Jerry Patton and middle guard Wayne Meylan. Wilson is one of those big, capable runners that seem to sprout from cornstalks here. Stith tackles anything near him, Patton frets that his 260-pound frame won't be enough to crush a foe, and Meylan is considered the best middle guard in the country. But there is a lot more. So many more behemoths that one pro scout commented: "When they run out there, you can see the field tilt." The Huskers are huge, mobile, deep, patient, mysteriously unemotional, workmanlike—and confident. They'll also have the revenge factor going for them when they clash with third-ranked Alabama Jan. 2 in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans. The Crimson Tide dealt last season's Cornhuskers their only loss, a 29-28 licking in the Orange Bowl. "Sure, we want to get even. That's why we voted to go to the Sugar Bowl. We feel we can win this time," explained co-captain Larry Wacholtz, a defensive specialist who at 162 pounds looks like a schoolboy amidst his oversized teammates. The return to platoon football is a major reason for the Nebraska success story, which includes four consecutive Big Eight conference titles. There is plenty of emphasis on defense. "To win you've got to stop the other side," states Bob Devaney, the winningest football coach in the land. Nebraska employed a destructive defense in posting a 9-1 season mark; the only blemish being inflicted by Oklahoma, 10-9, Thanksgiving Day. Victories were over Texas Christian (14-10), Utah State (28-7), Iowa State (12-6), Wisconsin (31-3), Kansas State (21-10), Colorado (21-19), Missouri (35-0), Kansas (24-13), and Oklahoma State (21-6). Strong Defense Utilizing a 5-4 defensive alignment keyed to All-America Meylan, the Huskers limited opponents to a skimpy average of 99.6 yards rushing per game. In addition, the Huskers boast a superior offensive line to the one that faced Alabama last New Year's night in Miami, Fla. All-America guard Lavern Allen has developed into an excellent blocker. He gets lots of help from 260-pound tackle Bob Pickens and all-league center Kelly Petersen. Wilson and slashing halfback Ben Gregory, a junior who some pros want right now, are Nebraska's principal running threats. Fullback Pete Tatman, a 220-pounder, provides ample interference on end sweeps. But the answer to Nebraska's chances against Alabama, most agree, rests squarely with quarterback Bob Churchich, a three-year starter who lost some of his effectiveness during the season. A dead-eye passer when he's on, Churchich is Nebraska's all-time career total offense leader with 2,840 yards. He bettered no less than seven passing records this year. brief limbering up session. Ray Perkins, Alabama's All-America end who suffered a pulled groin muscle in practice Tuesday, worked out in sweat T-shirts. Bryant said Perkins could operate about three-quarters speed but he did not know if Perkins would be ready for the game, because of rain. Bryant said his team should be in top shape if the weather cleared so practice can be held Wednesday, then ran through a HIGH SCORERS — Bo Lang (55) and George Bailey (33) each tallied 19 points in the Harvester game last night in Hobbs, N.M., against Lovington. Final score was 61-58 in the Harvester's favor.

Pampa Squeezes 61-58

Pampa Harvesters won over Lovington 61-58 last night in the Hobbs, N.M., Basketball Tournament in the last minute and 23 seconds of the game. Pampa went ahead to stay when Steve Williams unlocked the 52-52 game with two points. Bo Lang raised the ante with another two points; then with 22 seconds left, George Bailey made good a three point play before the score became history. Pampa ended the first half leading 18-14 and paused for the half-time break with the score tied 27-27. The Harvesters were trailing at the end of the third quarter 43-49. Scoring was turned about through out the proceedings with the games tied 12 times and the lead changing hands 11 times. Pampa's five went into the last 3:00 of the game tied 52-52. Southwest Conference Representatives

Texas; TCU Suffer Defeat In Holiday Roundball Tournaments

By United Press International Texas and Texas Christian, Southwest Conference representatives in holiday basketball tournaments, both suffered narrow defeats in inter-sectional contests Wednesday night. The Montana State Bobcats upset the Texas Longhorns 91-87 in the opening round of the 31st annual All-College tournament in Oklahoma City. In the Mobile Classic, Auburn edged TCU 80-79.

Don Chaney of Houston and Doug Grayson of Kent State also scored 22 points. Four Texas teams played out-of-state opponents in the Pan American Invitation tournament in Edinburg, and they split the four games. Host Pan American, led by 6-11 Otto Moore's 31 points, overwhelmed Minnesota (Duluth) 92-61. Pan American forward Tony Eatmon added 21. St. Mary's, paced by Doug Williams' 21 points, toppled Central Missouri State 67-66 for the other Texas win.

Sam Houston led 86-85 with 14 seconds left, but Hubert Langley laid in a basket to win the game for Henderson. Calvin Oliver led Sam Houston with 24 points.

Arkansas, playing in the Los Angeles Classic, meets Arizona today. A 24-point scoring spree in the second half by Montana State's Jack Gillespie pulled the Bobcats from a 48-45 halftime deficit. Texas had jumped to a 10-2 opening lead and was ahead throughout the first half. Noel Stout led the Longhorns with 23 points. Gary Overbeck added 15 and Billy Arnold, 14. TCU used its full court press to tie Auburn 68-68 with 5:34 remaining in the game. But Auburn, with guard Bobby Bussion scoring six of the last 12 points, pulled out the victory. Micky McCarty, who scored 10 of TCU's last 16 points, led the Frogs with 28 pins. Ronnie Quick was high man for Auburn with 25.

Central Oklahoma State spoiled Lamar Tech's bid for a second straight title with a 62-81 victory. Central Oklahoma was led by Howard Stutte with 22 points and Al Morrell with 19. Emporia (Kan.) State defeated Southwest Texas State 83-73 behind Randy Springs' 25 points. Pan American meets Emporia tonight, and Central Oklahoma faces St. Mary's.

Willie Davis sank a season high of 27 points to lead North Texas to a 94-59 homecourt victory over Macalester College of St. Paul, Minn. The 63 Davis hit 10 of 15 field goal attempts against the smaller Scots. Guard Rubin Russell backed him up with 23 points. Henderson State slipped by Sam Houston State 87-86 in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference tournament in Magnolia, Ark.

Namath's Knee OK After Surgery

NEW YORK (UPI)—Corrective surgery on Joe Namath's celebrated right knee was pronounced a success today. Orthopedic specialist Dr. James A. Nicholas predicted the New York Jets' quarterback will be in top shape by the start of the 1967 American Football League exhibition season. Namath underwent an hour and 45-minute operation Wednesday for the removal of torn lateral cartilage and the transfer of a tendon to reinforce the knee. It was his second operation on the knee in less than two years. "If no undue complications set in, Namath's term of convalescence should be uneventful," said Dr. Nicholas. "He will spend two or three weeks in the hospital and wear a cast for about six weeks but he should be running by May."

Namath was hobbled throughout the 1966 season by the injury which he suffered in an exhibition game with the Houston Oilers but nevertheless completed 232 passes for 3,379 yards and 19 touchdowns. Sonny Werblin, owner of the Jets, and John Namath, Joe's father, were at Lenox Hill Hospital during the operation.

OVERLOOKED FACTOR

Line Coach Stautner Big Factor In Dallas Cowboys Success Story

DALLAS (UPI)—One of the most generally overlooked factors in the Dallas Cowboys Eastern Division success story this season is Ernie Stautner, the club's new defensive line coach. Stautner, still packing the trim 235 pounds that made him a light-weight defensive tackle during 15 illustrious seasons with the Pittsburgh Steelers, is credited by head coach Tom Landry with converting a good defensive line into a great front four.

Both of these items lie in the realm of Stautner's front four. It bears out his theories of recognition, which means the ability to rush the passer without being suckered by a run. Under Stautner, too, the Cowboys have stepped up their blitzing tactics. "In previous years the Cowboys had blitzed eight or nine per cent," Stautner says. "This year we may have hit 19 or 20 per cent. Dallas had a reputation for conservatism and when we blitzed a few times we got them confused."

TV Or Not TV Is Dallas Query

SHERMAN, Tex. (UPI)—Fans from the Dallas-Fort Worth area who could not get tickets to the National Football League championship game Sunday between the Cowboys and the Green Bay Packers have a decision to make. They may drive 60 miles north and see the game free at the Sherman Municipal Auditorium, or pay $8 and watch it on closed circuit television at the Dallas Memorial Auditorium. The Sherman Chamber of Commerce installed 20 color sets in the auditorium. Maynard Weitzel, manager of the Sherman chamber, said about 600 persons could watch the game. "The setup is strictly for out of town fans," he said, but cautioned reservations should be called into his office so local buffs would not take all the seats. Signs will guide out-of-towners to the auditorium. In Dallas, the NFL announced the game would be shown at Memorial Auditorium, which has a seating capacity of 7,500. A spokesman said there was not enough time to arrange a color telecast for a 30 feet by 40 feet screen. The decision to telecast the game in Dallas came from the continued demand for tickets. Regular viewers would not be able to watch the game on their television sets because Dallas and Fort Worth fall within the 75-mile area blackout radius the NFL imposes on home games.

Canadiens Puzzling at Midway Point

With the National Hockey League season approaching, its midway point, the riddle of the Montreal Canadiens becomes more puzzling. The Canadiens, who haven't finished lower than third place since 1947-48, are unable to get on track this season and are struggling to escape from fourth place. Typical of their troubles was Wednesday night's game against Boston, usually a clay pigeon for the Canadiens in their home forum. But the birds got away again as the Bruins scored in the final minutes of the game to gain a 1-1 tie. Wayne Connelly scored the equalizer at 17:37 of the session after Jim Roberts had given Montreal a 1-0 edge at 12:37 of the second period. As a result of Connelly's goal, the Canadiens icked up only one point in the standings and still trail three-time Toronto by four points. No other games are scheduled.

Southland Becomes Fatherland To Small College Basketball

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Southland didn't give birth to basketball, but it's rapidly becoming the fatherland of the sport in small college circles. The weekly United Press International small college ratings released Wednesday show five schools from south-of-the-Mason-Dixon line among the top 10 teams and three of those boast perfect records through games of Saturday, Dec. 24. Kentucky Wesleyan, with a 6-0 record, continued to lead the ratings for the fourth straight week as the Panthers received 20 first place votes and 32 points from the 35-man UPI board. Joining them in the select circles from the South were Grambling, Southern University (La.), Pan American and Tennessee State. Grambling Wins Three Clearly, Tech must do an adequate job on Spurrier to win. Meanwhile, Florida will have its hands full with a Tech attack that was caught short only once this season. Gator Bowl: This game resembles the Sugar-Bowl match. Tennessee is an Alabama-style team, light and fast. The Vols have lost three, but easily could have gone unbeaten. Syracuse, loser of only its first two games, is built on the Nebraska pattern and has a great running attack that Tennessee must slow to win. This may not be the best round of bowl games ever offered, but wives of America will welcome them. It moves them one step closer to regaining husbands lost before TV sets since were boosting their record. Southern Illinois remained idle but continued in second place with a 3-1 mark. The Salukis received 14 first place votes and 31.5 points as they continued in second place for the fourth consecutive week. Akron, which won the Rubber City Classic last week, retained its hold on third place with 177 points while Indiana State dropped one place to sixth despite scoring a victory in its only game. San Diego Advances San Diego State, which made the most notable rise in last week's ratings, continued on the upsurge by jumping two more places to seventh after winning two of three outings during the week. Long Island University, Oklahoma Baptist, Trinity (Tex.) and Southwest Missouri made the most notable gains among the second 10. The Blackbirds won two games and moved up two places to 11th. The Bison received one first place vote and jumped two places to 13th. The Tigers climbed two places to a tie for 14th with Valparaiso and the Bears advanced two notches to 17th. At the same time, North Dakota, Evansville, St. Thomas and Fresno State all dropped in the standings. The Sioux fell from 10th to 12th after bowing to New Mexico, the Purple Aces slipped from 12th to 16th, the Tommies dropped one place to 18th and the Bulldogs fell from 18th to 19th. Oglethorpe replaced Otterbein in the No. 20 position.

Watch The Bowl Games Two Upsets In The Offing

By BUD WILKINSON Bowls breed upsets, and very likely there will be one or two in the current holiday offering of games. The two biggest underdogs will have the most incentive going for them. I believe both have a good chance to win. Nebraska is more than a touchdown underdog to Alabama in Sugar Bowl, and Southern California is a two-touchdown underdog to Purdue in the Rose Bowl. Yet both have a strong desire to erase the memory of embarrassments, recent or long-range. This is what makes upsets. Both also have the psychological edge-of being the underdog, and this means more in a bowl game. During the regular season, a team actually has only three or four days to read or hear how badly it will be beaten. But before a bowl game, the players hear this for six weeks. This greatly strengthens their resolve. Here's a capsule comment on the major bowls. Since coaches already are firmly established as the world's worst in picking winners, I won't add to that record. Sugar Bowl: Alabama is light but also is the quickest team I have seen this season. They have a near-perfect offensive blend of rushing and passing. Two of their receivers, Holman and Perkins, are as talented as any I have ever seen. This is an excellent team that does everything well. Southern Cal's desire to make fans forget those late defeats, and to justify its selection over UCLA for the game, will give them all the incentive a team can have. Purdue's Bob Griese and USC's Troy Winslow and Toby Paige should guarantee an exciting, spectacular game. Cotton Bowl: In my judgment, Georgia is — and has been for some time — one of the really fine teams in the country. The Bulldogs probably would be much more highly regarded nationally if they did not live in the shadow that Alabama casts over the Southeastern Conference. Southern Methodist has survived this season on Frank Meriwell finishes. It would seem the like football, this game should be great. Mustangs may need another one — perhaps their best yet — to win this game. Orange Bowl: Georgia Tech is the slight favorite because it has the better defensive record, allowing only 81 points in ten games. Their defense will be severely tested by Florida's Heisman Trophy winner, quarterback Steve Spurrier. Only twice has he been held to less than 190 yards passing and running this season. Clearly, Tech must do an adequate job on Spurrier to win. Meanwhile, Florida will have its hands full with a Tech attack that was caught short only once this season. Gator Bowl: This game resembles the Sugar-Bowl match. Tennessee is an Alabama-style team, light and fast. The Vols have lost three, but easily could have gone unbeaten. Syracuse, loser of only its first two games, is built on the Nebraska pattern and has a great running attack that Tennessee must slow to win. This may not be the best round of bowl games ever offered, but wives of America will welcome them. It moves them one step closer to regaining husbands lost before TV sets since

On The Sports Front Bud Wilkinson

Nebraska is huge, and highly capable in all respects. More important, perhaps, the Cornhuskers remember their loss to Alabama in the Orange Bowl last January and desire for revenge gained impetus with their loss to Oklahoma in the final regular-season game. Rose Bowl: Much of the glamour is gone from this one. Southern Cal lost its last two, the final one a severe blistering from Notre Dame. Purdue lost to Notre Dame and Michigan State. But for those who simply

Clear Skies For Practice

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—The weatherman promised clearing skies today so Alabama and Nebraska could practice outdoors free from rain in preparation for their Jan. 2 Sugar Bowl match. Alabama Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant summed it up Wednesday: "You just can't practice football in a gym." Bryant's team worked out in sneakers and pads in Tulane's gym for the third straight day because of rain. Nebraska, which arrived Tuesday, posed for photographers Wednesday, then ran through a

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Now It's Control of Advertising

Once again a carpetbagger from Harvard has ended up in Washington, and once again we are being treated to the sort of stuff that, presumably, passes for thinking in Cambridge.

This time the subject is advertising, treated in depth by one Donald F. Turner, from Harvard Law School, naturally.

Professor Turner is another of fair Harvard's gifts to government, now ensconced in the Department of Justice as anti-trust chief, no less. In that capacity he recently addressed a group of lawyers at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington.

In the great Crimson tradition, Professor Turner called for more government controls, this time to keep a tight rein on advertising claims and expenditures. Which would not have been in the least surprising if he hadn't started talking in circles, proving the very opposite of what he presumably intended.

As proof that Big Brother in Washington should keep a close check on advertising expenditures, the Professor stated a shocking fact:

"Industries with high advertising outlays tended to earn profit rates which were about 50 per cent higher than those which did not."

Jet Age Burdens Emerging Tribes

Perhaps it is because we are used to news of turmoil in Africa, or because it all seems so remote and the names so alien, but the recent massacre of hundreds of the tribesmen in Hausaland territory in Nigeria and the retaliatory massacre of Hausa tribesmen in the territory elicited little notice in this country.

There are, says the National Geographic Society, more than 700 different ethnic groups living south of the Sahara. Nigeria, on the verge of breaking up, is a prime example of the problems tribalism can cause.

Africa's tribes, whose ancient lands seldom coincide with the colonial boundary lines drawn by European explorers, are being asked to put aside centuries of isolation and "emerge" as sovereign nations. Of 36 new nations: admitted to the United Nations since 1960, no less than 27 are African. The so-called Arguing from this he called for government controls. Presumably this would open the doors of bureaucratic opportunity for another wave of Harvard profs and law graduates to draft infinite legalistic regulations to protect the public against their own wishes and desires.

The Professor insists that with Big Brother keeping an eye on things the consumer will be better informed. We submit that the consumer is being very well informed about what is available in the market place. Certainly he keeps spending more, year after year and apparently he is reasonably happy with what he gets for his money.

Indeed, if any moral can be drawn from the Professor's discourse it is that more businesses ought to be doing more advertising. As for the argument that the consumer has to be protected, successful advertising people have known for a long time that the quickest way to make a business go bust is to have it offer a product or a service that doesn't live up to the claims made for it.

Professor Turner didn't have to come down from Harvard to spread wisdom such as this, if, indeed, he was aware of this basic fact.

Formula for a Winner

Shipbuilding today is virtually an exclusive industry of the Japanese. Japan has a backlog of 20 million deadweight tons on order, even though it is turning out large tankers in as little as two months.

Cheap labor is the usual explanation given for Japan's lead in this field, plus the advantage of ultramodern yards built to replace facilities destroyed in World War II.

An American visited Japan recently and has come back to explode these "myths."

According to Al Zeien, operations manager for General Dynamics Corporation's Quincy Division, Japanese shipbuilding facilities suffered relatively little war damage. And it is not low wages but individual productivity, achieved through streamlined production control methods and automation, that is the major factor in low costs. "The major lesson learned from the trip to Japan," says Zeien, "is that winners are winners because they have a sense of purpose. Japanese shipbuilders have that sense and, I believe, so do we."

Can You Prove You're Not Insane?

Briefly, the so-called mentally retarded have few friends. There are those who feel pity for them, and who do everything possible to lighten the terrible load of insanity. Yet, there are those who see in any program on mental illness a terrifying possibility of misuse. The science of mental study is hardly an exact science. There are no constants from which to launch a real diagnosis; there is nothing like a broken bone to assist the doctor in diagnosing a fractured leg. Yet, on the basis of a few ever-changing relative evaluations, Texans — indeed, Americans in every state — are branded mentally ill, and spirited off to maximum-security asylums.

A celebrated case in recent history is General Edwin Walker, who was seized during a racial uprising in the South, hurried off to a federal insane asylum, held without counsel or hearing, branded as insane by newspapers and news services, and finally released after one of the most difficult procedures in history. Since that time, he has sued many of those who took part in his seizure, and his victories in those trials have been quickly reported. General Walker did not take kindly to being adjudged mentally ill by psychiatrists who had never even seen him.

The Walker case has been but one in a series paraded before the disinterested, busy public. There have been cases much closer to home, where perfectly normal people have been called into court and "given the opportunity" to prove themselves sane.

Place yourself in that position for a moment. Suppose you were hauled into a "court," told by a kindly hearing officer that someone had decided you were nuts, and given a few moments to prove you were normal. According to a preliminary legislative report now on file in Sacramento, Calif., these so-called hearings have been short and to the point. One news sto-

Pull Up A Chair

In no other country in the world do citizens come even close to matching American private generosity, which amounted to $11 billion last year. There are almost a million nonprofit agencies in the U.S. from the Red Cross to your own church. Private generosity is today's driving force in man's research for a better life. The first general hospital in this country was Charity Hospital, started in 1737 with a gift of $2,000 from a seilor. The first voluntary fire department in our country was formed years before the Revolution in Mt. Holly, N.J. Money for it was raised at strawberry festivals, picnics, dances and similar gatherings. You can read all about this in "The Generosity of Americans," the Prentice-Hall book, $4.95, loaded with interesting information.

Today's smile: An absent-minded professor sat down to breakfast with his wife one morning and she remarked: "It looks like rain." And he replied: "Well, it smells like coffee, anyhow."

The British never give up when it comes to propagandizing Americans. We received an offer recently to subscribe at bargain rates to a dozen British magazines that would be shipped to us monthly "direct from London." We can't find the time to enjoy the American magazines we'd like to read, and have no interest in learning about the doings of the mod set in Piccadilly or the peccadillos of Prince Charles. Needless to say, No Sale.

Thoughts while shaving: A new generation has grown up that never had a chance to see "Gone With the Wind," but that will be taken care of next year. The film, classic of the 1930's will be re-issued for the seventh time, but this time it will be shown on 70 millimeter film on a wide screen. To date it has grossed more than $42 million, which makes it one of the blockbusters of all time.

The Azores, those Portuguese islands, were named by an early navigator for the hawks he saw there. The Portuguese word for hawks is "acores." And speaking of birds recalls that an ornithologist friend tells us migrating birds fly north and south each year on well-defined areas called flyways. He says they restrict their flights to a particular area. That's why bird watchers can tell with accuracy where and when a particular species may be found. Because 95 per cent of the residents of a town in central Michigan are of Bavarian extraction, the new bank building there was designed in Bavaria-style architecture. The bank sent the architects to Oberammergau so they could authenticate their plans. The building looks like a hunting lodge in the Alps with its heavy timbers, gabled roof with exposed beams, carved balconies and heraldic crests.

A physician tells us an estimated 10 million Americans are following the advice of food fadists. And many with undiagnosed ailments regularly take the remedies these quacks offer instead of seeking good medical advice.

The Indianapolis (Indiana) STAR headlined a story: "Roads in India Hazardous: May Melt Tomorrow." In that case, don't drive on them tomorrow.

Country Editor speaking: "Money is the one thing most folks run out of and most things run into."

ry notes: "Thousands of Californians are erroneously and inappropriately committed to state institutions involuntarily after court hearings which last an average of 4.7 minutes."

Could you prove yourself sane in 4.7 minutes? Or in 4.7 hours? Or days?

Mao's Rule Threatened By Graft

By RAY CROMLEY

Washington Correspondent HONG KONG (NEA) — There is a theory going the rounds that Mao has gone mad with power, that he is aiming to establish himself as a god.

This theory holds Mao is getting ready to leap headlong into new disastrous economic projects and foreign adventures because of wild confidence in the infallibility of his own theories, thus leading Red China to destruction.

Some theorists hold that to achieve these ends Mao will throw troops into Vietnam to re-create the revolution and put the army into a better position to repress his critics.

A few of the problems are: 1. Increased school teachers' salaries. 2. Increased pay to State employees. 3. Increased aid to higher education and colleges. 4. Financial assistance to cities.

5. Additional buildings for eleemosynary and correctional institutions, and many more, the exact number and amounts are not available at press time, but it is reported in the press that Governor Connally's budget will be available to the legislature late in December. Lt. Governor Preston Smith has indicated that the Legislative Budget Board's budget would be submitted by the January 15, 1967 deadline. Usually these two budgets are available much earlier for consideration of the public, but not so this year.

If and when it is found in the wisdom of the Legislature that new or additional revenue is necessary to meet the needs of increased appropriations — will there be increases in present tax laws, or will they be levied on new sources and bases?

It is true that as the population of Texas increases and the economy grows, it is necessary for expanded services of government, but the ratio should be kept in some proportion. In the opinion of this Journal lief in communism as Mao sees it, Mao is able to sort out some more of those who do not believe.

By searching out those who in their personal manners — their haircuts, their art, their books, their religion — show evidence of some allegiance to other ideas, Mao is attempting to weed out others who do not believe.

Through his stepped-up spy and informer program he is able to ferret out other unbelievers.

Both Mao's aims — self-preservation and the search for "true" successors — are served by Mao's current ruthless policies.

But Mao will not find all those who disagree with him. There will be many clever enough to parrot his words and destroy all evidence of foreign and capitalist influences in their lives but continue to believe what they want to believe.

These opponents may yet defeat him. If they cannot destroy Mao — because Mao is the symbol of the revolution — they may destroy Mao's successors.

The successors will not have the same historical aura protecting them.

Outlook For 1967

Texas Tax Journal From all the indications appearing on the horizon upon the eve of the approaching New Year of 1967, the outlook for the taxpayers of Texas and the nation as well, are not very encouraging — in fact they are discouraging.

Your officials of all governments and members of the Legislature especially need your advice and counsel, and your financial welfare depends upon your active interest. Will it be forthcoming?

Texas taxpayers in the last few years have shouldered many new and enlarged tax levies, but these levies have failed to keep pace with the increased requests for larger and more expenditures, and now the taxpayers would welcome a breathing spell. A fair and equal tax climate in Texas is a powerful invitation to outside industry and citizens to locate here, whereas the reverse is true if a State is burdened by excessive and damaging taxation.

Looking at the federal picture, it is almost a certainty that increases will be sought in the federal income tax levies, notwithstanding the President's recent call for reduction in federal spending for the balance of this fiscal year, and the fiscal year to follow. The war in Southeast Asia is costing billions of dollars and our commitments there must be met, and what measures the Congress will take in 1967 is a source of much concern to all citizens. It should be, for they are the ones who will have to do the paying.

nal. Government — at all levels is trying to go too far — too fast, and this coupled with inflation is taxing the financial ability of the taxpayers to meet it. However; if the taxpayers by their indifference and apathy show no interest, the trend will continue to accelerate.

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

Stopped-up Nostril Is A Common Occurrence

Q—I have severe sinus trouble which has been treated with antibiotics and antihistamines. As soon as the treatment is stopped the headache and postnasal drip come back. Is there any permanent cure?

A—After several attacks of acute sinusitis, a chronic inflammation of the sinuses usually occurs. Since this condition is very hard to control it becomes necessary for the victim to take every precaution to avoid exposure to pollens or other sources of allergy, if allergy has been shown to be a factor. On cold days you should wear a breath-warmer when you go out. If a deviated nasal septum is part of your trouble, an operation to correct this condition should help you. Other operations to insure free drainage of the normal secretions from your sinuses may be necessary.

Q—When I lie on my left side my left nostril will stop up, but if I turn on my right side my right nostril will stop up. What causes this?

A—This is a common experience. Even when you are up and around, one side of your nose is more open than the other. The open side alternates every 30 or so minutes throughout the day. Most people prefer to lie in bed with the closed side above. They usually go to sleep before a shift in the closed side occurs. Sleeping in a room in which the air is too hot and dry may aggravate the discomfort in a stopped-up nostril. Try using a humidifier in your bedroom, especially in winter.

Q—When I walk my nose drips, even though I have blown it before I start to walk. What can I do for this?

A—You have a chronic rhinitis. Many different air pollutants and some nasal applications can cause this. Other possibilities include an allergy to pollens, low-grade bacterial infection or polyps in the nose. A nose and throat specialist should examine you to find out the cause in your case.

Q—If I have a beer or two, the next morning my nose is red. Friends say I have a whiskey nose but I never touch whiskey. What causes this?

A—Even small amounts of alcohol will dilate the blood vessels in certain skin areas in some persons. You are probably one of these. The condition is embarrassing rather than serious. No treatment is known.

Straight Talk

By TOM ANDERSON

The expensive "farm problem" was made in Washington by cheap politicians. Of course no farm program can solve the "farm problem" unless that program is accompanied by a free economy program — a tax program, an antiinflation program and a foreign aid program which release the farmer from his cost-price squeeze, improve his competitive position and broaden his markets.

The farmer needs an end to union racketeering, monopoly, and restraint of trade — not unionization of farming. The farmer needs a balanced budget — not more billions spent on socializing the country. The farmer needs lower prices for the things he buys, not artificially higher prices for his government subsidized production.

The farmer needs less non-farmer subsidies — not more farmer subsidies. The farmer needs the right to produce — not more curbs on his production; more markets — not fewer; and he needs less government — not more. And so do all good citizens.

For almost 40 years our agricultural programs have wound their tortuous and expedient paths along a road as crooked as a Teamsters Union boss. For almost 40 years the bureaucrats farming the farmers and milking the taxpayers have multiplied while the numbers of farmers has dropped. The only real surplus is a surplus of government workers, government interference and government lying.

The fewer farmers there are to serve, the more money and people it takes to do it. The fewer the chicks the bigger the government brooder. Soon there may be more people in the USDA farming the farmers than there are people farming the land.

Already — and we've seen only the beginning unless there is a tremendous reversal in our heading rush to collectivism — the government spends more on agriculture, per farmer, than most farmers make from farming.

The American public has never been allowed to view the real issues of the "farm program" in their proper perspective. It has been like the case of the nearsighted poultry scientist who tried to cross a rooster with a rooster; all he got was two cross roosters. Most people who know the truth wouldn't tell it, even if they could find some publisher who would print it.

"The public just doesn't understand" declaim the agricultural politicians, bemoaning the fact that agriculture has become a whipping boy. That's right. If the public did understand, there would be a bunch of congressmen plowed under.

Farming is now a business for those who produce the products and a way of life for the phonies who farm the farmers. The collectivists running us have no intention of setting the farmer free. There will be continued production controls and price controls. Price control is people control. And people control is the goal of The Great Society.

A thought for the day — French essayist Montaigne said: "The laws of conscience, which we pretend to be derived from nature, proceed from custom."

The Dimming Light of Freedom

In the words of Mr. J. Edgar Hoover, communism in our country is engaged in a "united, hard-hitting, well-organized conspiracy... training its membership for carrying out what it believes is the 'law of history,' namely a communist revolution in America."

A surprising number of ministers, professors, labor leaders and run-of-the-mill citizens working through communist fronts are aiding them in this endeavor.

Demonstrations, civil rights agitations, excessive foreign and domestic spending, and union pressure demanding wages far in excess of what business can pay without raising prices, thus forcing inflation at a faster and faster rate upon us, are all a part of the picture.

No wonder the top Kremlin official told me just a few years ago, "We'll be over to finish the take-over of America sooner than you think." All this is made possible because the people of America will not disturb themselves to look the facts in the face.

We have rejected and in many cases liquidated the Martin Dies, the Joe McCarthy and a host of brave men who have tried to warn us. We have refused to follow men like Generals MacArthur and Wedemeyer whose counsel would have saved us. We have turned against our friends like Mihajlovich of Yugoslavia, Chiang Kai Shek of China and Tshombe of the Congo, who would have defeated communism. We have promoted such tyrants as Mao Tse Tung, Castro, Tito and Gromulka.

A little help to the freedom fighters in Budapest in 1956 might well have enabled them to hold their position and have caused other uprisings throughout the communist empire that would have swept it away. Our money, know-how, material aid, diplomatic recognition and cultural exchange programs have nursed Communism along to its present position of growing strength.

If the lamp of freedom is extinguished, it will not be because of the strength of those who oppose it, but rather because of the weakness and palsied hearts of those who formerly bore it so triumphantly.

rectly in line with the plans of the Communist Party, USA. It is not enough to say that the riots and demonstrators make up only a small minority of American youth. That is true, of course, but the gains made by the communists stress the need for the majority to assume fully the responsibility of combating the enemy's attack on youth.

For our young people must in the time ahead overcome the communist menace if freedom is to be saved.

You, Your Child & School

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist
As the end of the first half of the school year approaches, students and their parents have an opportunity to review progress and plan for the coming months. It is important to take some time to evaluate one's position.

First, think back over the past four months as to what you have accomplished. What did you learn in each subject area? Did you read any interesting and valuable books?

Review what you were supposed to have accomplished. You may find that you did more or less than was expected. You may be every pleased or disappointed in what you find.

You are now in a position to make some plans for the next month, as well as for the remainder of the year. Whatever has to be done should be reasonably spaced so that you are not under unnecessary pressure.

It is also worthwhile looking at some of your extra-curricular and non-school activities. Were you able to do everything as planned? Did you try to do too much? Perhaps you over-planned and did not allow for any relaxation. On the other hand, maybe you would like to make some changes because one or more of the activities was not as interesting or satisfying as had been hoped.

How about your behavior? Did you and your parents treat each other with respect? Were rules too easy or were they impossible to follow? Parents and children should talk about their attitudes and relationships. A few changes could make life much more pleasant.

It is an old tradition to make new year's resolutions. Make yours now. It is a way of planning for the future. An organized approach will help you accomplish more in a more successful manner. It will make you feel better as an individual to know where you have been and where you are going.

Perhaps the most important resolution would be to have each parent and each child decide to really understand each other's needs and to respect those needs.

Best wishes for a successful new year.

MORNING AFTER
BLACKPOOL, England (UPI)—Jan Boydell, 3, found an almost-full bottle of sherry during Christmas and charitably split it with her kitten, Dusty.

"The cat's all right and so is Jane," the hospital told an anxious mommy. "But she'll have a hangover in the morning."
