

The is Risen

Be not affrighted: ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, which was crucified: he is risen; he is not here: behold the place where they laid him. But go your way, tell his disciples and Peter that he goeth before you into Galilee: there shall ye see him, as he said unto you.

Savings Time Becomes Hot Fight in Legislature

House to Vote On Exempt Bill Tuesday

AUSTIN (UPI) — A bill to keep Texas on standard time came out of the deep freeze last week, but indications are that this week it is going to get fried.

The House votes Tuesday on a bill that would exempt Texas from the federal "uniform time act," which puts the country on daylight time for April to October.

Students Swarm In Ft. Lauderdale During Vacation

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI) — Cars loaded with vacationing students scurried at the rate of 125 an hour Saturday into this overpacked resort where more than 15,000 bronzed and burned youths danced on the beach and a small army of police watched nervously.

When the collegians—expected to swell to about 30,000 before the arrivals end—got tired of dancing, police expect trouble. So, city officials encouraged the dancing as long as the visitors wanted.

Periods of idleness Friday and Saturday morning touched off rioting and sporadic violence.

Crowd estimates were nearly impossible. A city spokesman estimated the gathering Saturday morning at more than 15,000—maybe 20,000—and still they came.

The Florida Highway Patrol said Saturday the turnpike brimmed with overloaded little sports cars panting under 81 degree temperatures.

About 300 miles to the north, in Daytona Beach, the crowd was larger—about 50,000—but more subdued. Police in Daytona Beach reported little trouble despite a new ban on beer drinking on the beach. Perhaps the lack of tension was due to Daytona Beach's strand, which is wide and nearly 20 miles long.

Fort Lauderdale's beach is about two miles long and flanked by hotels.

The daylong, nightlong dances were ordered at beach parking lots after idle students Friday decided to block traffic on the five lane Atlantic Boulevard.

Someone stole a policeman's helmet, crowds gathered, a soft drink truck was stripped, as were procure and bakery trucks. About 20 were arrested in connection with the noon disturbance and arrests during the night raised the total to about 200. Many of those arrested were not college students. Some were local businessmen and servicemen stationed in the area.

Viet Cong Ring Saigon With Big Rocket Artillery

SAIGON (UPI) — Well-informed U.S. sources said Saturday night that Viet Cong troops have ringed Saigon with emplacements of 140mm rockets, biggest artillery in the Communist arsenal in South Vietnam. They warned that attacks on the capital itself could come at any time.

The disclosure followed a surge of heavy new Communist attacks on allied forces in the northern provinces where it was feared the North Vietnamese were building up for a possible invasion attempt across the Demilitarized Zone buffer strip.

Near the big Marine base at Da Nang, the Communists ambushed U.S. and South Vietnamese convoys three times in two hours with mines and machine guns. At least three U.S. Marines were killed and 10 wounded and 82 trucks in one South Vietnamese convoy were destroyed or damaged.

The convoy troops suffered heavy casualties.

Farther north, American Marines killed 146 Communists in at least a dozen bitter battles along the Demilitarized Zone border strip. The Communists attacked under heavy mortar barrages and once again tried to knock out the big American artillery that fired across the border into North Vietnam.

In Saigon, intelligence sources said a number of emplacements for Soviet-made 140mm rockets had been discovered within the past few days on the fringes of Saigon. They said the emplacements were capable of launching rockets like those used to hammer Da Nang late last month in a murderous attack.

The sources said Vietnamese peasants—perhaps Viet Cong coolies—had been spotted on the outskirts of the capital carrying long black tubes resembling the launchers that are used to hurl the 43-inch-long rockets up to 10,000 yards.

The launchers are employed on boards with simple devices to control them in elevation and direction.

The sources said the move indicated the war is going badly for the Viet Cong and they are apparently convinced they stand no chance of winning Saigon. As a result, it was speculated, they have no inhibitions now about hammering the city with rockets or mortars.

Pope Officiates At Easter Rites

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope Paul VI officiated Saturday night at stirring Easter rites celebrating the resurrection of Christ. St. Peter's Basilica burst into a sea of light as the darkness of mourning gave way to songs of joy.

The 69-year-old Pontiff, clad in white, led cardinals, diplomats, pilgrims and thousands of worshippers gathered in the world's largest church for what is considered the most meaningful service in Roman Catholic liturgy.

Gone was the sadness of Good Friday, when Pope Paul carried a heavy cross up Rome's Palatine Hill in a re-enactment of Christ's march to His death on Golgotha.

The atmosphere was one of joyous anticipation of the pealing of the bells of Rome's 500 churches to announce the rising of Christ.

Sacred images and the Papal throne in St. Peter's were still shrouded in violet veils when the Pope descended into the basilica by elevator and donned a red mantle, the papal color of mourning, and a tall silver mitre.

Pope Paul stood on the basilica's porch as the archbishop of St. Peter's—Paolo Cardinal Marella—struck fire from a flint and kindled olive branches into a fire symbolizing the resurrection.

A tall, triple candle was then lighted from the fire and borne before the Pontiff as the procession moved into the still-darkened basilica.

Three times along the 500-foot route the marchers halted, the deacon chanted each time "Lumen Christi" (the light of Christ) and the congregation responding "Deo Gratias" (thanks be to God).

First the Pope lit his candle, then cardinals, members of the papal court and clergy lit theirs. At the third stop, everyone lit their candles and electric lights were switched on, bathing the basilica in all its splendor.

Pope Paul took his place on the throne to the left of the main altar as the service continued with the singing of the "Exultet," Old Testament lessons, psalms of the saints and blessing of holy water.

The Pope concelebrated the first Easter Mass at the end of the long rite. Bells were rung at the "Gloria" and sacred images unveiled.

Pope Paul will arise early Easter Sunday to officiate at Mass in the parish church of Santa Maria Janua Coeli (Mary Gate of Heaven) in the Rome suburb of Borgota Fogaccia. This early Mass in a poor neighborhood has been a standing feature of Pope Paul's Easter.

Huffs Arraigned On Charges; Plead Not Guilty

Ernest (Rusty) Huff, 33, and his wife Wanda (Carver) Huff, both of Pampa, were arraigned here Friday and pleaded not guilty to three charges in connection with the March 3, 1964 robbery of First State Bank Miami.

Arraigned before Judge Grainger McIlhenny in 31st Judicial District Court, the pair is being held in county jail here without bond.

Judge McIlhenny set the trial date for May 8 in Miami, Roberts County, and appointed John Warner to defend Huff and J. A. Martindale to defend Mrs. Huff. Both attorneys are from Pampa.

Mr. and Mrs. Huff were indicted March 13 by the Roberts County grand jury. Both were charged with robbery by firearms of James Bean, a Miami bank officer, and car theft from Preston Poole, a Halliburton Co. employee from Pampa.

The third charge, on Huff alone, was assault with intent to murder Jim Cloyd, Hemphill County Sheriff.

Law enforcement officers and bank officials who testified in the grand jury hearing said the Huffs had entered the Miami Easter. (See HUFFS, Page 3)

FBI Bulldozing Burial Ground

JACKSON TOWNSHIP, N.J. (UPI) — FBI agents bulldozed their way through the grounds of a ramshackle chicken farm-burial ground Saturday in a search for more victims of Cosa Nostra "executions." They hoped to find some top Mafia figures missing for years.

A score of federal agents participated in the grim hunt behind a bright yellow farm where the skeletal remains of two slain Mafia figures were unearthed Friday—one drenched in hydrochloric acid, the other with wire still twisted around his ankle bones.

Another 20 local police manned roadblocks to keep curiosity seekers away from the central New Jersey farm.

Two-Year Search

The grisly discoveries Friday climaxed a two-year search for Angelo Sonessa of Nutley, N.J., and Kenneth Later of New York City. Federal authorities said they expected to find several more bodies before the search ended. Both were believed to have "known too much" about the Cosa Nostra worldwide drug traffic.

Ralph W. Bachman, special agent in charge of the FBI in New Jersey, said the search would continue until dusk Saturday and, if unsuccessful, would resume Easter Sunday.

Three bulldozers went to work at 7:30 a.m., CST Saturday behind a pit where Sonessa's remains were found. The site was once a mash pit used in illegal alcohol distilling on the farm.

Bachman said the FBI agents were looking for more covered mash pits as possible burial sites. "We will dig by shovel if we find a mash pit," he said. "We'll be looking for a body."

Sonessa's bones were found in a small tunnel. A plastic bag covered his head and neck, and authorities said he was in a "pugilistic pose," indicating he was trying to fight off his executioners when he died. He disappeared in September 1961.

Later's body was found across a narrow asphalt road in a rusty hydrochloric acid-filled oil drum buried beneath the floor of an abandoned chicken coop. He had been missing since April 1963.

Millions Prepare to Observe Easter's Sunrise Services

By United Press International. Americans Saturday put behind them the sorrow of Christendom's most solemn holiday—Good Friday—and prepared for its most joyous occasion, Easter.

Millions prepared to arise before dawn Sunday to attend sunrise services throughout the land.

Other millions hastened along the highways so that they might celebrate the resurrection of Christ with friends and relatives.

Highlighting the frivolous aspect of the Easter holiday would be the parades in the nation's largest cities. Tens of thousands will turn out to display their finery.

But for a majority of Americans, Easter was a time of worship—in a variety of forms.

At Vermont's Mount Mansfield, worshippers prepared to board the ski lift for a summit service.

At Winston-Salem, N.C., residents prepared to reenact the nation's oldest continuous Easter observance, the 195th Annual Moravian Service.

A special service for horseback riders was planned at the Devonshire Downs Fair Grounds in California's San Fernando Valley.

One of the most colorful services planned in the nation's largest city was that at the chapel of the church center of the United Nations Clergymen and lay readers from Nigeria, Japan, West Germany and Scotland were scheduled to participate.

Twenty-five hundred worshippers from nine states were expected at the 31st annual Easter sunrise service on top of southern Illinois' Bald Mountain. They will climb a four-mile road to the 1,034 mountain. Many campers were already at the summit Saturday, awaiting the services.

EASTER BONNETS — Students in Mrs. Houston Price's fifth grade room at Stephen F. Austin turned creative this week and designed Easter Bonnets, which if not worn in the Easter Parade today, at least they will provide some pre-Parade fun. Using bright bits of ribbon, flowers and feathers, students decorated paper plates in a fashion that would be sure to turn heads if they did decide to wear them today. Each bonnet inspired an original poem. One girl wrote: "On Easter Day, I wear my hat which is so bright and gay. Upon the top there sits a rose, which I do so hope will stay. But as I dressed on Easter morn, I couldn't help but think of what Christ had worn... upon his head they had placed a crown of thorns." Left to right, the Easter milliners are Jane Ruddick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Ruddick, 1900 Coffee; Dusty Morrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Morrison, 2501 Christine; Teresa Jordan, daughter of Mr.

and Mrs. Ray Jordan, 1907 Evergreen; Janae Harris, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Amos Harris, 706 E. 15th; Bryan Slagle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Slagle, 2243 N. Russell, and Christi Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Ross, 1825 Coffee.

Income Tax Questions, Answers

EDITOR'S NOTE — This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the Pampa office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published by the Pampa News as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked.

Q — I just started working here this month but won't move my family until school ends and so have been commuting weekdays. Can I take a deduction for either my living costs here or my transportation expenses home?

A — Your home for tax purposes is your place of employment. Unless your assignment here is temporary and you will return to your former place of employment, your travel and living expenses will not be deductible.

Q — I am legally separated from my husband. Does that mean I am taxed at single persons rates?

A — Yes, unless you qualify as a head of household. Check page 3 of the 1966 instruction booklet for details on this provision of the law.

Q — Do you have to file your 1966 return before you can apply for additional withholding allowances?

A — Yes. The additional allowances are based on the lesser of your actual itemized deductions for 1966 or your estimate of what these deductions will be this year.

Q — Our son was married in December. Does this mean we will lose our exemption for him since he otherwise qualified as our dependent?

A — As long as your son meets the other dependency requirements, you do not lose your exemption for him unless he files a joint return with his wife.

Q — Is there any situation where legal fees would be deductible when they are for personal rather than business reasons?

A — Legal fees are generally not deductible unless they are incurred as a business expense or in the production of income. If you sell a home or other property, legal fees may be included as a cost of the sale. The purchaser may include his legal fees in the cost basis of the property.

Q — I moved and never got my W-2's from two companies I worked for last year. What should I do?

A — Contact your previous employers and ask them to send your W-2 withholding statements to your present address. If the W-2's don't arrive before the filing deadline, file your return without them but attach a statement explaining what happened, indicating the employer's name, address, amount of wages and income tax withheld.

Elephant Shakes Hollywood Diners

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — About 6 diners at the Metropole Restaurant did a double take early Thursday when Bimbo Jr. walked up to the bar.

Bimbo is a 4,500-pound Asiatic elephant who had just taken part in the annual Wilshire Boulevard Easter Parade.

It developed that her trainer, Ted de Wayne, had led her in a nearby vacant lot so he could drop into the restaurant for a little refreshment. There followed an understandable panic among customers as Bimbo pushed her way through the front door, but De Wayne quickly convinced the diners—and the bartender—she was harmless and friendly.

Bimbo soon was munching peanuts and popcorn from bowls on the bar and washing it all down with soft drinks. And it was all on the house.

Boulder Likes Living Room

GEORGETOWN, Colo. (UPI) — It sounded a bit like a television commercial when 17-year-old Christine Smith phoned her mother.

"Mom," she said, "there's a boulder in our living room." The heavy granite rock, about the size of a washtub, was blasted loose by a construction crew building a road near this mountain community, 40 miles west of Denver.

The rock spun around, bounced, bounced again and then crashed through the side of the Smith's two-bedroom home. The boulder opened a hole from the ceiling about halfway down the wall. No one was in the house.

"I don't know how much it weighed," said homeowner Francis Smith. "But it took three men from the company to slide and roll it to the door and a winch truck to haul it away."

Grover A. Whalen, New York official greeter for many years, was called the founder of ticker tape parades.

Center Wrap-Up

George Smith, Director
Pampa Youth and Community Center

SWIM LESSONS: The Center is continuing its swim program for the year with new lessons for all ages. The Center teaches swim lessons the year round for the pool is an indoor heated one. During the school year lessons are taught from 4-6 p.m. and then during the summer vacation months from 9-12 a.m.

Lessons are now available according to schedule: April 3-19 at 4 p.m. Polywog and 5 p.m. Beginners; April 24-May 10 at 4 p.m. Polywog and 5 p.m. Beginners then May 15-31 at 4 p.m. Beginners and 5 p.m. Intermediates.

All lessons are taught by a qualified Water Safety Instructor from the American Red Cross. Our present instructor is Mrs. Jacqueline Marlair. Lessons are free to Center members and $3 each for non-members. Members may call to sign up for the lessons while non-members must come by in person.

CENTER MEMBERSHIPS — The Pampa Youth and Community Center is open for membership the year around. There is no fiscal year as far as memberships are concerned and you receive the full number of months membership no matter when you purchase it. A noted advantage of being a member is that you receive free swim lessons, admittance to all tournaments, free swimming, participation in activities as well as other uses of the Center.

The Center has two types of memberships. The family membership is for those families who have over two persons in it. This membership is only $20 per year or $12 for six months. Also children under 8 years of age may be carried on this family plan. The individual membership plan is for those who have two in their group or just a single person. This membership costs only $8 per year or $5 for six months. The person must also be 8 years of age.

WOMEN'S SWIM TIME — The Center has started a program of leisure time swimming for women on Monday and Friday from 10-11:30 in the mornings. This time is for women only. This gives the women a chance to have a peaceful swim away from the noise of the children and other distractions. All women are invited to take advantage of this swim period. You need only be or become a member.

MEN'S ACTIVITY TIME — Not to be outdone by the women, the men also have a time of their own for a workout and swim. This men's activity time is on Thursdays from 1-3 p.m. Several men are already taking e-mail. Steam baths are available. Advantage of this time period to play badminton, volleyball, basketball and to exercise in general as well as a refreshing dip in the pool. You also need only be or become a Center member.

VOLLEYBALL RESULTS — With play only in the women's and mixed leagues the scores went like this for the week: In the women's we found La Bonita Beauty Salon over Alliance Claims Service 15-5 and 15-1; Cock O' Walk over Jonas Auto Sales 15-1 and 15-6 while Pampa Wholesale took Marie Foundations 15-0 and 15-0. In the mixed league we found Miller Hood over Meco 15-7 and 15-5; Piggy Wiggly over G.W.G.'s 15-12 and 15-8; First National over Blumer's 15-7 and 15-11.

Columbia May Be First College To Defy Draft Rule

NEW YORK (UPI) — Columbia University may become the first major educational institution in the nation to refuse to turn over its students' class standings to draft boards.

The Selective Service System uses class standings to determine which students qualify for deferment from active duty while they are completing their educations.

Columbia's University Council, an influential advisory group of faculty members and administrators on the Morning-side Heights campus, voted Thursday to recommend that class standings be withheld. Final decision rests with the university board of trustees, which meets next month.

In announcing the university council decision, Columbia President Grayson Kirk said the vote should not be construed with reference to U.S. foreign policy, but as "an expression of the relationship of class ranking to the educational process, and nothing more."

If approved, the action would affect the four undergraduate institutions, Columbia College, the School of Engineering, the School of General Studies, and the College of Pharmacy.

Thanks to Mrs. Oley Elseheimer, president, and members of the Home Demonstration Club for making over 70 "Ditty Bags" to be sent to Vietnam. The Red Cross will fill these bags with tooth paste, tooth brushes, soap, foot powder, bath cloth and other useful articles that can be of use to the boys.

Again thanks to Horace Mann Elementary School pupils and teacher sponsor, Mrs. Deane Schaffer, for furnishing the Easter Tray Favors for the Amarillo Air Force Base Hospital.

American Red Cross services for the U.S. forces in South Vietnam continue on a rapid upswing in nearly all categories. During the fiscal year 1965-66 Red Cross staff in Vietnam performed 101,670 cases services for military personnel. After only 6 months of the current fiscal year the services have already reached 95,410. ARC field directors are currently helping almost 16,000 servicemen a month, more than double the number served a year ago. A total of 140,600 was provided servicemen in no interest loans and grants to meet unexpected emergencies during the first 6 months of the fiscal year, 1966-67. This amount compares with the total figure of $19,294 for last year.

In military hospitals in Vietnam, similar increases have been noted. The monthly average of cases served this year runs at 546, as compared with 317 last year. Program events for the current fiscal year have already passed last year's mark of 2,319. Hospital services have been increasing throughout the entire Far East as many patients are quickly evacuated from Vietnam.

Emergency messages to and from Vietnam topped 13,000 in December 1966, an increase from 6,173 in January of the same year.

JOHN R. SPEARMAN FEELS...

1. I am willing to serve the Pampa Independent School district in a conscientious manner for all.
2. I believe that the public should be welcome at all school board meetings.
3. I am for enlarging the membership of our school board to seven. All areas of our district would have a better chance for representation. This would require action by the State Legislature.
4. I feel that a good school system is important to our community and especially our children, and I am vitally interested in education. The Pampa school system is very important business in this area with over 450 employees and an annual budget of over $3,000,000. When elected I will work toward improvement of our school for all concerned.

FATAL ACCIDENT — An Amarillo man, James B. Hines, was killed in this station wagon early Saturday morning when his auto crossed and ran off the west-bound lane of U.S. Hwy. 152 five miles east of Pampa and hit a tree. Hines' body was pinned in the wreckage for an hour and a half.

Crash Near Pampa Kills Amarillo Man

A 35-year-old Amarillo man was killed about 1:30 a.m. Saturday when his late model station wagon slammed into a tree five miles east of Pampa.

James B. Hines, of 4021 Clearwell in Amarillo, was pronounced dead at the scene of the accident by Justice of the Peace Ed Anderson.

Hines was the only person in the demolished car. Hines was traveling east on U.S. Hwy. 152 when for some unexplained reason his car crossed the west-bound lane and hit a tree.

The entire left front side of the vehicle was demolished by the impact. Hines' body was pinned in the wreckage for an hour and a half before it was removed.

Hines was field manager for the Combined Insurance Co. Funeral arrangements were pending at Blackburn-Shaw Funeral Directors in Amarillo.

Local arrangements were handled by Duenkel Funeral Home. The accident was investigated by highway patrolman Paul Geiser.

Officers said that during the robbery, Mrs. Huff held a pistol on E. D. Daugherty, bank president, and others in the bank.

Officers testified that after the couple left the bank, they drove away in a car later identified as stolen from Doyle L. Brown of Amarillo.

After wrecking the car, on Highway 282, west of Miami, the couple allegedly forced Poole to get out of the company car. Poole was driving.

After the pair drove away, Poole started walking down the highway and met Sheriff Cloyd who was searching for the car used in the robbery.

Poole told Cloyd he had been forced out of his car at gunpoint. After Sheriff Cloyd and Poole spotted the Huffs in the stolen company car, they followed the car to the Leslie Ranch, west of Miami, and waited for other officers to arrive.

Cloyd was then joined by Pampa Policeman C. L. Wallace, Hemphill County Deputy Sheriff Don Todd, Roberts County Sheriff Cy Carr and other officers.

During a 30-minute gunfight with officers at the ranch, Huff was wounded. He was taken to Highland General Hospital here and then transferred to the Veterans' Administration Hospital in Amarillo for surgery.

Huff escaped from the hospital March 13, but was apprehended an hour later by a Texas-highway patrolman.

Huff was brought to Pampa to the Gray County Jail the next day and has been receiving medical attention in the jail.

Kiwanis Official Speaks at Pampa Club's Luncheon

Enthusiasm, readiness and faith are the three ingredients necessary for success in any endeavor, Kiwanis Lt. Gov. George Blackwell of Canyon, told Pampa Kiwanians at their Friday luncheon.

The speaker said he was particularly applying the three rules to Kiwanis membership and activities, but emphasized they hold true in any category.

Members of the Downtown Kiwanis Club are engaged in their annual project of selling lawn fertilizer. Proceeds of the sale go to promote the club's children's activities and other civic projects.

The 50-pound sacks of fertilizer at $3.25 per sack can be obtained from any club member.

Boyd Taylor, club president, announced a special meeting of the board of directors and chairmen of all club committees has been set for April 6.

Lt. Gov. Blackwell urged the Pampa club to send a delegation to Canyon on March 31 when Rex P. Kyker of Abilene, district governor of the Texas-Oklahoma District of Kiwanis International, will pay an official visit to Division VI.

Commissioners To Consider Purchase
City commissioners will consider at their regular meeting Tuesday the purchase of right-of-way to improve the three-way intersection at Duncan, Yeager and Harvester Sts.

The commission also is expected to give final approval to Ordinance 660 closing the public hearing on the city's overall 140-block paving program.

Council members are expected to set a time for a called meeting to approve plans and specifications and set a bid date for the widening of Duncan Street.

Former Pampa Pastor Is Ill

The News has received word today of the recent serious illness of Father William E. West, former rector of St. Matthew Episcopal Church.

Rev. West suffered a heart attack on Monday, March 20, and is confined to St. Elizabeth Hospital, Room 406, in Beaumont, where he will be a patient for several weeks.

Rev. West is headmaster of the Boys' Episcopal School and assistant rector of the Episcopal Church in Beaumont.

Rev. and Mrs. West became grandparents Friday, when their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Fowler of Lawrence, Kan., became parents of a daughter, Lori Marie. Mrs. Fowler is the former Kay West.

Sunrise Services Planned in Park

Many Pampans were to start their Easter Sunday with a community sunrise worship service in Aspen Park at 6:10 a.m. today.

The service, sponsored by the Ministerial Alliance and the Pampa Trueteens, will include a sermon by the Rev. Dan Cameron, First Baptist Church pastor.

Other activities planned for the 30-minute program are congregational singing directed by Ted James, First Methodist choir director, and scripture reading by the Rev. Joe Hawn, Calvary Baptist Church pastor and Alliance president.

Others on the program are Miss Gail Craddock and Miss Mary Jane Rose, special music; Dale Cain, invocation and the Rev. Sam Hulsey, rector of St. Matthews Episcopal Church, benediction.

In 1900 the Socialist party of the United States was formed at Indianapolis.

Judge Sets Three Bonds Here Friday

Justice of the Peace Ed Anderson set bonds Friday for three men for aggravated assault, wife and child desertion and fondling.

Ronald E. Littrell, 15, M. Lean, charged with aggravated assault, was in jail yesterday in lieu of a $500 bond set by Judge Anderson.

Marvin Turner, 501 Davis, charged with wife and child desertion, was released on a $50 bond.

Pampa Receives Scattered Rain

Dark, rolling clouds settled down over Pampa Saturday and acted like a real rainstorm but the quick little rains that fell were to scattered and too short to do much good.

As a weather bureau observer said yesterday, "It's just the nature of the beast to rain some on one side of the fence and not a drop on the other."

This month, Pampa has received 53-inch, but it has been only scattered showers, not a general, ground soaking rain.

This past week, Pampa has received a half inch of rain, including the .02 measured Saturday morning.

When Pampa was getting its brief, thundershowers late Saturday, Amarillo and areas west of here did not receive any weather observers said.

The rains started about 4 p.m. yesterday and increased in activity, moving northeastward toward Pampa from Claude, Groom and White Deer.

After dropping in on Pampa, the rain moved on to Phillip, Miami, and Lefors areas, then doubled back and developed again in Groom and Panhandle.

On the return shot, Pampa got a second dose of the showers heading northeast again.

Man Discovers Flying Saucer

PIGBOTT, Ark. (UPI)—Vard Dowdy of the Carryville community found a flying saucer Thursday.

Dowdy made his discovery in the general area where hundreds of Clay County residents reported sighting strange flying objects which seemed to be piloted by intelligent creatures.

The "saucer" was 20 gas filled gallons and a tiny flash light equipped with a white lens in a red-rimmed shield.

Lowdy, who found them in a field, said the balloons would have held the flashlight aloft for an hour or so.

He said he was never one who believed in unearthly visitors himself.

Labor Workers Push Share of National Income

MINNEAPOLIS — American wage and salary workers pushed their share of total U.S. national income to 71 per cent for 1966, and to a record 71 1/2 per cent in the final three-month period.

It is a fair prospect that Labor's "cut" of the total economic pie may widen by still another small wedge in the present year, says an analysis by the Family Economics Bureau of Northwestern National Life Insurance Company.

In 1966, "compensation of employees" — wages, salaries and fringe benefits — resumed its historic climb from a split of approximately one-half of U.S. national income in 1900 to a lion's share nearing three-quarters of the total today, the study says.

Collecting a massive $433 billion in 1966, compensation of employees jumped $40 1/2 billion from 1965, accounting for four-fifths of the total increase in the country's $610 billion national income of 1966.

Sharing the remainder of the national income were American businessmen, farmers, professional people, rental property owners, and those who rent their savings — capitalists large and small. Their share was 49 per cent in 1900, but only 29 per cent in 1966.

Together with "employees," these are the economic groups which produce the nation's supply of new goods and services each year. Economists call them the "factors of production," and consider the income collected for their various parts in the production process to be the actual net value of the nation's total output of new goods and services.

In 1965 civil rights worker Mrs. Viola Luzzo of Detroit was fatally shot after taking part in the Selma, Ala., civil rights march.

But this same mammoth 1966 output of goods and services for which its producers collected $610 billion in total national income, sold for a gross figure of $746 billion at its final or retail prices, in the market place, the report points out.

Current prospects for 1967 are that "compensation of employees" may take yet a little larger cut of the total national income this year, says the report.

Among the influences favoring this trend are record wage boosts negotiated in 1966 which will be in effect for the full year of 1967.

Also, the continuing step-up in minimum wage rates applies a gradual but powerful upward push to the whole wage structure, as skilled and semi-skilled workers press to maintain their differentials over unskilled labor.

With the wistful wage guidelines of 1966 pretty well erased, the large-scale wage contracts coming up in 1967 are expected to yield some of the biggest increases of the six-year boom, in hourly rates and fringe benefits.

Though business investment in new equipment and inventories is expected to shrink in 1967, it will still be substantial. Meanwhile, the influence of previous record investments in plant and equipment will be taking effect on worker output and earning capacity.

At the same time, residential construction is expected to surge out of its doldrums with the easing of mortgage money and provide an important offset to the expected shrinkage in business investment.

With the further proliferation of various programs of government activities, government civilian payrolls are expected to continue expanding.

Sustained demand from business and government for special skills and for advanced professional training in many fields, continue, to promote long term changes in the "mix" of the U.S. labor force pushing towards a still higher percentage of skilled workers and a corresponding shrinkage in the proportion of lower-paid, unskilled people.

Thus with labor's percentage of total national income apparently on the rise again, says the Northwestern National Life report, one may ask how much higher it can go. The 71 per cent share achieved in 1966 would have been considered fantastic and impossible in 1900.

According to the federal government income figures for 1963, "compensation of employees" created at just under 71 per cent in that year, then eased back to 70.3 in 1965.

The two-year hesitation occurred in the midst of a record boom. Resumption of the climb is now coupled with predictions of a profits squeeze ahead for business and a moderate slowing in the growth rate of the economy, the report points out.

It becomes an interesting question, therefore the report concludes, whether a 20 per cent residue of national income is not somewhere near the minimum share necessary to provide rewards that will stimulate businesses, farmers, and the rest of the nation's "factors of production" to maintain a high growth rate for the economy and a high employment rate for labor.

Social Security Q & A

EDITOR'S NOTE—The following questions and answers on Social Security and Medicare benefits were prepared by the Pampa Social Security Office in the Hughes Bldg. and are published by The Pampa News as a public service:

Q. My wife worked regularly under social security for about 15 years. She had to quit work last year due to injuries she received in an automobile accident. Since she cannot work for several more months, should she apply for social security?

A. Yes. Monthly cash disability benefits can now be paid to people if their disability is expected to last for at least 12 months.

A. I was denied disability benefits from social security because my disability was considered to be temporary. I am still unable to work. Am I allowed to reapply?
A. Yes. You can file a new application or ask that your case be re-examined. Previously you could get benefits only if you had a physical or mental impairment that was expected to last a long or indefinite time. Now you may become eligible if your disability is expected to keep you from doing substantial work for 12 or more months.

A. I am 67 and have had a severe heart attack and the doctor says I will never be able to work again. Can I file for social security disability benefits?
A. No. Disability benefits are for severely disabled workers who have not yet reached age 65. Since you are over 65, however, you can apply for retirement benefits.

Foreign Commentary

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
United Press International
LONDON (UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson still is hesitating on the common market brink.

Leery of a possible second veto by French President Charles de Gaulle or an anti-market revolt inside his own ruling Labor party, Wilson seems in no hurry to make up his mind.

Officials expect him to put off the final plunge for some time yet. He even may seek another meeting with De Gaulle first.

A final decision now appears unlikely before May 1 and perhaps even later.

Yet Wilson's hesitation obviously isn't due to lack of time to study the problem.

It was nearly five months ago that the British Labor government, hitherto skeptical of the wisdom of going into the market, agreed that Wilson and Foreign Secretary George Brown should make a serious new study of the problem.

Opposed Bid
Wilson himself had opposed a new membership bid, partly for fear of a renewed De Gaulle veto, partly because the Labor party was divided on the issue and partly because he himself was far from sold on it.

But the prime minister was won around last summer by Brown and pro-market forces in the government, coupled with some heavy political pressure from British businessmen and Conservative party opposition.

In recent weeks Wilson and Brown have visited all six common market capitals and held exhaustive talks with government leaders in them.

Wilson and Brown appear to have received strong pledges of support from four common market countries—Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg—if they do decide to apply for membership. West Germany, whom they had counted on for backing, surprised them by acting unexpectedly cool—presumably in order not to annoy the French.

Up In Air
De Gaulle, as is his custom, didn't say "yes" and didn't say "no" but left them guessing about his real feelings.

British officials claim Wilson still has not made up his own mind. They say he has to sit down and study again thoroughly the reports he sent back on his talks in common market capitals.

Current betting is that Wilson will make a formal application early this summer—probably after the so-called "Kennedy round" of tariff-cutting talks in Geneva end.

Betting also is that De Gaulle remains unconvinced of the wisdom—from his point of view—of admitting Britain. But it also is thought he will avoid a second flat "no."

The outcome, in this case, could be prolonged negotiations with both Wilson and De Gaulle playing for time.

In such a waiting game the British believe they have the trump card—De Gaulle, they say, will not be around for ever.

By CARROLL RUGHTER

FOR SUNDAY, MARCH 26
GENERAL TENDENCIES: An excellent Sunday for you to really live the Golden Rule by thinking more in terms of what others desire and expect of you than what you think they should do for you. Make a big point of attending services or devoting time to the studies that mean the most to you. Get your surroundings more attractive and artistic.

TAURUS: (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Showing devotion to close ties whether of family relationship or brotherhood in business brings the fine results you want. Some civic duty needs doing. Get rid of that feeling of ennui and drive right into it, since Sunday is the best day for such.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) — A day for having a thorough good time, provided you're not extravagant in any way. Stay within your budget. Be sure you assist those who are in dire trouble. Make the time for it, if necessary. Retire early.

CANCER: (June 21 to July 21) — Kin may desire you to do something for which you have no inclination. It would be best you get along with their ideas. You have a clever plan in mind. Analyze it well before you put it in operation tomorrow.

LEO: (July 22 to Aug. 22) — It's all right to go visiting, making telephone calls, etc. But be sure you know exactly what you are going to say, or you get tongue-tied. Get into interests that are truly absorbing. Then you get ahead quickly.

VIRGO: (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22) — Though you are concerned with monetary affairs, take time to add beauty and comfort to your surroundings. Listen to what a clever business person has to suggest. Then you can make plans to follow ideas.

LIBRA: (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — Come to a right decision as to whether you desire the most and then plan exactly how you can achieve your aims. Then you make this a successful day. Avoid the social life. Get your health improved, easily and properly.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — Opportunity arises to find out the right answer to perplexities, but be sure you do not let those who are quite sure of their service to those who deserve it. Store up blessings for the future.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Instead of looking at the faults of others, concentrate on their assets and don't be so critical. Give them a real boost. Avoid the social tonight since it could be quite disturbing. Take it in your stride.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Those who have power over your affairs should now be shown that you are an A-1 citizen and you should get some civic duty completed nicely. Get credit high by pleasing others, paying bills on time. Be very active.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Although you want to get new ideas in operation quickly, it would be best to study them further and make better arrangements. See better to get, could be quite disturbing. Take it in your stride.

PISCES: (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — Be careful not to follow that hunch you have, or you may get into some unnecessary trouble. Follow through on obligations meticulously. Permit others to take care of their own problems — be wise.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY...
...or she, will be one of those young persons with a most delightful claim about him, or her, that others will readily recognize, and it would be well to have an artistic and beautiful surroundings as possible from earliest years so that the deep sense of the artistic and the valuable are early inculcated. There can be fame in this chart, either as an artist with an easel or actor, actress, as the forte.

FOR MONDAY, MARCH 27
GENERAL TENDENCIES: You are all stirred up early to get along better with whomsoever is about and with whom you can get much done while later you are eager to produce results of a very ingenious and clever nature and can certainly do so by accepting an opportunity now present to obtain others by showing you are more aware of their desires.

ARIES: (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Concentrate upon how to make deals now in the trying pan to cook more evenly, perfectly, and associate as well as talk over matters of policy. Then make sure others understand what their particular duties are.

TAURUS: (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Get out of office more attractive so that you make more headway and get support from other associates than the usual ones there. Be very congenial in carrying Petitions from only two more states are necessary now to compel Congress to face up to the question of whether it should summon a constitutional convention to consider overruling the Supreme Court on legislative apportionment.

Such a convention could be a national calamity. It also could be a desirable and overdue reassertion that all power in the United States, including the unbraked storm power of the U.S. Supreme Court does, in fact, come from "we the people."

Those three words comprise the keynote introductory phrase of the U.S. Constitution. Thirty two states have petitioned now for a constitutional convention. On petition of 34 states—two thirds of the whole—Congress is supposed to summon a convention to meet.

Some constitutional experts feel, however, that Congress would not be obligated to take such action. But there is no question but that action by 34 states would at least compel Congress to take a long, hard look at the issue.

Article 5 of the Constitution provides for this method of amendment. This method has not been tried except in 1787 when a constitutional convention met in Philadelphia to improve on the prevailing articles of confederation.

Other than the proceedings of that 1787 convention which met in absolute secrecy, there are no guidelines for such a convention as now is contemplated. There are no standards for selection of delegates; no limits imposed on the number or nature of amendments which might be proposed; no assurance whatever and no rules against the kooks taking over while saner citizens stand by helpless. There is no time limit on the duration of such a convention, no limit on its effective life. It might go on forever.

The petitions of 32 states unquestionably indicate a groundswell of anxious dissatisfaction with what has come to be known as "the Warren court." The court ruled in June, 1964, against the generally accepted system of legislative representation whereby only one House of a state legislature was apportioned on the basis of population.

The other House usually was apportioned on the basis of geography or political subdivisions. This was purely a political question and the court consistently had avoided such up to the time of Chief Justice Earl Warren and the so-called Warren court.

In August of 1965, the Senate rejected a resolution for an amendment which would have removed legislative representation from the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court. The vote was 57 to 39 for the amendment.

That was short of the needed two-thirds required to submit a proposed amendment to the states for ratification. But 57 was an impressive senatorial vote against the Supreme Court. At that time, more than half of the states, 27, already had petitioned for a constitutional convention to bypass Congress.

The court and the so-called liberal establishment of American politics has refused to see in the occurrences since two or three years ago the evidence of growing popular dislike of areas. A resort to the untried constitutional convention device to check the court was then predictable.

Minority justices harshly objected to the court's rule on legislative apportionment. Justice John Harlan called it an "intolerable and inappropriate interference by the judiciary with the independent legislatures of the states."

Harvesters Pop Anadarko by 8-0

(See Friday results page 7)
ANADARKO—Pampa's hard-hitting Harvester baseballers made it 11 in a row Saturday and two straight over Anadarko, Okla. as they downed the Indians 8-0 in a five inning, 3-hitter by Fran McGahen Saturday.

The second game of the scheduled twinbill was rained out with Pampa batting in the top of the second and the score tied 1-1. The Harvesters had runners on first and second with one out when the Sooner state got a much needed rain. Friday Pampa had downed the Indians 8-1 for their 11th victory without defeat.

 Borger is on the schedule next, Tuesday in the Hub city. This will mark the fourth meeting between the two schools.
 In going the distance Saturday, in his first start, McGahen gave up singles in the second, fourth and fifth innings, walked just one batter and struckout three.

The Harvesters collected eight runs, seven of them earned, on 11 hits with Larry Stephens, Alvin Achord and Barry Price, each collecting two safeties and Gary Molberg driving in 3 runs.

Two runs came across for Pampa in the first on consecutive singles by Stephens and Achord, with the latter stealing second, Foster fanned and Molberg brought Stephens home with a ground out with Achord going to third.
 James Matney was safe on an error with Achord scoring the 2-0 lead.
 Pampa really went to work in the second, scoring five times on five hits.
 Sanders singled and stole second and after Price flied out, McGahen singled to score Sanders and the Pampa pitcher went all the way to third when the Indians' centerfielder had trouble getting the ball away.

 McGahen came home when Stephens singled. Stephens went to third on a wild pitch and Achord walked. The Pampa third baseman stole second and with runners on second and third, Molberg doubled to send them both home. Molberg scored when Matney singled but was cut down trying to go to second on the throw-in.

The last Harvester tally came in the fifth when Jones stroked a one out single and was cut down at second in a force play with Sanders hanging on at first. Sanders went to the plate when Price doubled on a hit-run play.

Anadarko never threatened against McGahen and had only two men on base in the same inning only once, the third when Kellin was safe on an error and Stewart walked. But the Harvesters pulled the first of their two double plays of the game on get the junior pitcher out of the inning.

LOUD SINGLE — James Matney lashes a loud single to help propel the Pampa Harvesters to their 11th straight victory of the season Saturday. Pampa downed Anadarko, 8-0 Saturday and 8-1 Friday. Matney's single drove in a run.

Brewer Staggers Par for Nine Shot Open Lead

PENSACOLA, Fla. (UPI)—Defending champion Gay Brewer, continuing his thunderous birdie barrage for the third straight round in the $75,000 Pensacola Open golf tournament, shot a record 11-under-par 61 Saturday to go 25 under par for 54 holes and take a runaway nine-stroke lead.

Just about everybody else burned up the short, dry Pensacola Country Club course—but they lost ground fast to the blistering pace set by Brewer, playing at the scene of his only 1966 victory.

There appeared little likelihood that anyone could catch him in Sunday's final round, which will be nationally televised in color.
 Brewer's 61 was two strokes lower than the previous tour low this year and a new record for this tournament. His 191 total was nine strokes lower than the previous three-round low this year and only two strokes higher than the all-time record.

All 82 golfers playing in the final two rounds were under par at the start of Saturday's play and ended up the same way in one of the most dazzling displays of low score performance ever seen.

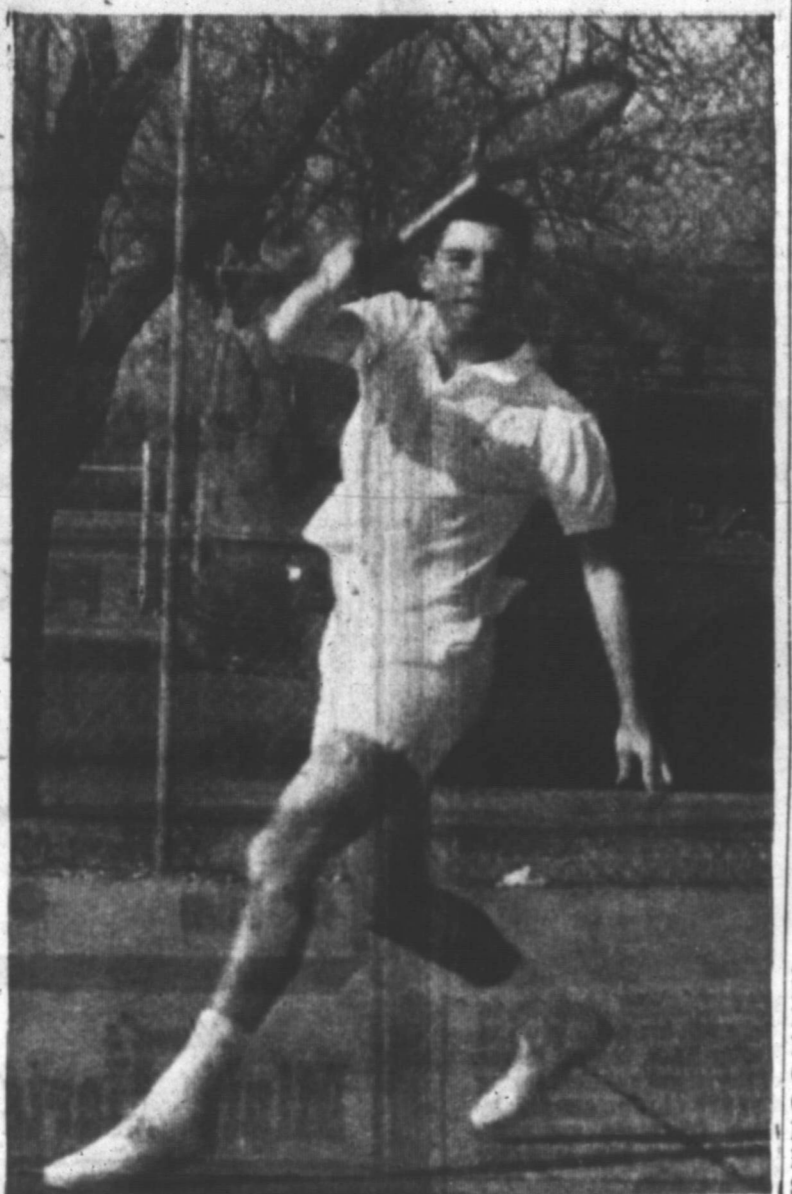

Stocky Phil Rodgers, who won the Doral and Buick Opens last year, and slender Ken Still, never a winner in seven tour years, were both 16 under par enough to lead most tournaments—yet hardly in contention for anything but second place money.

Rodgers and Still both had 67 Saturday for a three-round 200 that tied the previous low this year set by Bob Goalby at San Diego and Arnold Palmer at Tucson.

Chuck Courtney had two eagles en route to a 64-201 Saturday, but that was only good enough for a fourth place tie with Homero Blancas, who had a 69.

Randy Breaks Discus Mark With 192-4

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (UPI)—Defending champion Abilene Christian used its superior depth Saturday night to edge Rice University 66½-65½ for the title of the fifth annual Corpus Christi Relays.

Ten meet records and another was tied under ideal weather conditions. Randy Matson of Texas A&M, who passed up his specialty, the shot put, because of a sprained hand, broke his own discus record with a toss of 192-4. He did not approach his pending collegiate record of 220-7½ of last week, however.
 Abilene Christian wrapped up the victory unobtrusively by placing second and third in the three-mile run, the next to last event. That gave them a three-point lead, enough to withstand Rice's victory in the final even the mile relay.

Randy, Ryun, Boston To Headline 40th Texas Relays

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Distance ace Jim Ryun of Kansas, weight man Randy Matson, broad jumper Ralph Boston and Southern University's mile relay team will provide the 40th annual Texas Relays with four world record holders for its 1967 renewal next week end.
 This year's two-day track carnival is expected to math last year's in producing records although Ryun will pass up the open mile run here in order to concentrate on the relay events.

Spartans Take Wrestling Title

KENT, Ohio (UPI)—Michigan State won the national wrestling championship Saturday night as Dale Anderson and George Radman of the Spartans captured individual crowns in the finals of the 37th annual NCAA championships. The Spartans became the second Big Ten team to win the national title as they finished with 73 points in the meet at Kent State University, to be nine points in front of runnerup Michigan.

Iowa State finished third with 51, while Oklahoma was fourth with 48, followed by Portland State, 51, and defending champion Oklahoma State, 40. Other leading teams were Lehigh, 36; Arizona State, 27; Naval Academy, 20; Air Force Academy, 18 and Syracuse and Wyoming, 17 each.

Anderson, two-time Big Ten champion, won a 3-2 decision over Marasu Yatabe of Portland State in the 137-pound class and Radman, also the Big Ten title holder, decisively Mike Gallego, Fresno State, 17-8, in the 167-pound class.
 Other individual winners include Mike Caruso of Lehigh, who became a three-time nation champion in the 123-pound class with a 7-6 decision over Bob Fehrs, Michigan, and Rich Sanders, of Portland State, who captured his second straight crown, easily defeated Jim Anderson, Minnesota, 19-2.
 David McGuire of Oklahoma won the 130-pound title by defeating Don Behm, Michigan State, 9-6 and Fred Fozzard of Oklahoma State captured the 177-pound title by defeating Mike Bradley, Michigan State, 8-3.

HOUSTON WINS CONSOLATION

Bruins Slaughter Dayton

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—Big Lew Alcindor sparked one tournament history with 20 of the biggest routs in NCAA points and intimidating defensive play Saturday night as UCLA won its third title in the past four years with a crushing 79-64 victory over Dayton.

All America Elvin Hayes scored 23 points and teammates Don Chatney and Ken Sain combined for 43 more as Houston grabbed third place by defeating North Carolina 84-62 in the consolation game before a crowd of 18,892 at Freedom Hall.

The seven foot-one Alcindor, who was just mediocre in the Bruins' victory over Houston Friday night, played a superb all around game as he dominated the backboards and passed off continually, before leaving the game with about five minutes remaining.

Bears Complete Spring Grid Drills

WACO, Tex. (UPI)—The Baylor Bears completed the first half of their spring football drills Saturday, and will take the next nine days off before resuming the practice sessions.
 Bear coaches said the defense, stacked with veterans, appeared to be a little ahead of the offense at this stage of the drills.
 A three-way duel for the starting quarterback job brought most of the interest to onlookers. The battle was being waged between senior-to-be Kennedy Stockdale, sophomore-to-be Joe Reed and junior-to-be Alvin Flynn.
 Coach John Bridges said he was still unable to list one of the signal callers ahead of the other two.

San Francisco in 1956, North Carolina in 1957 and Bruins in 1964 are the other teams to match this record.
 The taller Houston squad, which was thumped by UCLA 73-56 in the semi-finals Friday night, broke the game open in the first half by streaking to a commanding 42-23 lead at intermission, and except for a brief comeback attempt by the Tar Heels early in the second half, the game was never in doubt.
 Hayes scored 16 of his points in the first half after going scoreless for the first seven minutes and 44 seconds, but it was Chaney and Spain who got the field goals in the second stanza when the Tar Heels rallied to within seven points. Chaney finished the game with 19 and Spain added 24.
 North Carolina, which experienced a bad shooting night in losing to Dayton 76-62 Friday didn't recover its shooting eye until the second half but the Tar Heels' efforts fell short when 6-10 center Rusty Clark fouled out with 11:17 remaining.
 The Cougars quickly took advantage of Clark's absence and at one time led by as much as 24 points.
 Bob Lewis and Larry Miller, who carried the brunt of the Tar Heels' offensive attack during the season, once again had difficulty finding the hoop and managed only seven baskets in 24 attempts between them in the first half. Lewis found the range in the second half and finished with 23 points, but Miller could only manage 12 as the Tar Heels closed their season with a 26-6 record.

Clay Fight With Bonavena May Still Be Held

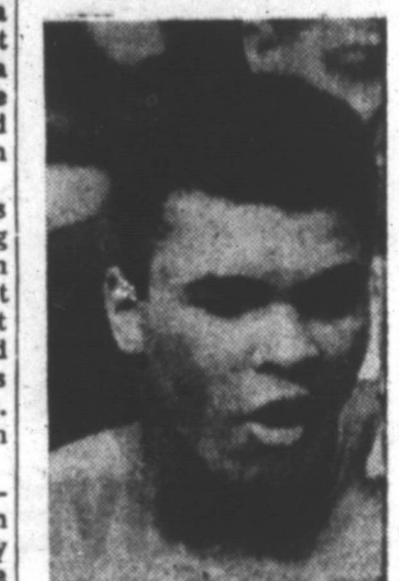

NEW YORK (UPI)—Cassius Clay's heavyweight title defense against Argentine Oscar Bonavena on May 27 hasn't been counted out yet, but it is on shaky footing.

The champion's manager, Herbert Muhammad, denied reports Saturday that the bout definitely has been cancelled, but he added that any future fights for Clay depend on the outcome of the battle with the draft board. Clay has been ordered to appear for induction in the Army on April 11.

Akira Jin, the Japanese promoter who hoped to stage the bout in Tokyo, met with Clay's spokesmen on Thursday and was warned not to spend too much money on the promotion because the fight might not come off.
 "I told Mr. Jin he would get the first fight out of the country, but I told him since Muhammad (Clay) was to be inducted — supposed to be inducted — into the Army April 11, he should hold up on the money he spends for the promotion," Herbert said from Chicago.

Herbert added that although Clay might not be permitted to leave the country to fight in Tokyo, he might have a chance to defend his title again in the United States.

"We're still negotiating for as many fights in this country as we can. We're negotiating with San Francisco, and might move the fight with Thad Spencer up to May. We're also talking with (Irv) Ungerman about a fight with (George) Chuvalo."
 Mike Malitz of Main Bout, Inc., the firm that handles the ancillary rights for Clay's fights, said a contract had been signed for the fight in Tokyo.

Tryout Dates Set For Babe Ruth League Here

Tryout dates have been set for all boys between the ages 13-15 for Babe Ruth baseball. Youngsters wishing to play on one of Pampa's eight Babe Ruth teams are asked to be at Optimist Club Park at 5:30 p.m. on March 29-30-31. Boys must make two of the three tryouts to be on a team.
 Any boy who can't make the tryouts is asked to call either New Secret at MO 4-4004 or Wayne Jones at MO 4-7111. Registration and tryouts will be held on each of the three days.
 The state Babe Ruth tournament will be held in Pampa this year, on July 7 and the district meet will be held in Olton, July 10.

Pampa Wins 10th In Easy Victory Over Anadarko

ANADARKO — Rick Foster decided to give up being a second baseman for a while Friday to become a pitcher and found out he was better than average at both positions.

Foster relieved injured Jim Lang, who was shooting for his fourth victory and pitched shut-out ball for four innings to hand Pampa a 8-1 victory over Anadarko, Okla. The win was the Harvesters 10th without a loss. Pampa played the Indians a doubleheader Saturday and returned home late Saturday night. (See Saturday results pg. 6).

Foster, in winning in his first pitching appearance of the season, gave up but one hit, struck-out five and walked two. Lang went three innings plus, giving up just one hit, but a bad back forced four walks, including walking in a batter in the fourth. Pampa scored twice in the second on a single by James Matney, a two out single by Barry Price, sending Matney to third. Price stole second and Lang singled to send both runners home.

In the third Foster singled with one out and Gary Molberg hit his second homer of the year to make it 4-0 Pampa. After Molberg's homer, Matney walked, Larry Jones singled him to third and Sanders singled Matney home with Jones going to third. With two out, Jones scored on a passed ball to make it 6-0.

The Harvesters scored singletons in the fifth and sixth innings. In the fifth Price was safe on an error with one out, stole second and scored on a single by pinch-hitter Joe Fortin.

The run in the sixth came when Foster was safe when the Indians catcher dropped a third strike, he then stole second and scored on a single by Matney.

Anadarko's only run came in the fourth when a hurting Lang gave up a double with the runner going to third when Achord could not come up with the ball, a walk to load the bases and then another walk to force in a run. Foster came in and got two batters to pop up to end the inning.

IN EXHIBITION BASEBALL

Wills Hits Baltimore

By United Press International
Maury Wills, who could hardly get a nibble against the world champion Baltimore Orioles in the World Series last fall, finally managed to take a big chunk out of the Birds.

Wills, who was limited to only one hit in 13 appearances last October for an .077 average as the Orioles swept Los Angeles in four straight, demonstrated his wizardry for Hank Bauer's world champions. He tapped out two singles, stole three bases and set up and scored the game's only run as Pittsburgh blanked the Orioles 1-0 on a two-hitter Friday night.

In Friday's only other action, the Minnesota Twins took advantage of three errors by Ruben Amaro, two on the same play, in the seventh inning to nose out the New York Yankees 5-3.

No Stopping Wills
Wills, whom the Pirates acquired in the off season, made the investment seem worthwhile as he opened the game with a single, stole second and scored the game's only run on a single by Manny Mota.

The speedy infielder went to work again in the eighth, singling off Jim Palmer and stealing second and third before finally being stranded.

Tommye Sisk, Steve Blass and Billy Short combined to limit the heavy-hitting Orioles to only two hits.

Steve Whitaker gave the Yankees a 3-0 lead with his fourth home run of the spring in the third inning but the Twins battled back with a run in the third and tied it in the fourth on a single by Bob Allison and consecutive triples by Jerry Zimmerman and Dave Boswell.

After New York had regained the lead on Bill Bryan's pinch hit home run in the seventh, Cesar Tovar and Sandy Valdespino doubled before Amaro's errors sent across the winning run the Twins half of the seventh.

Allen In Shape
Elsewhere, the Phillies announced that star third baseman Richie Allen would make first exhibition appearance Saturday against the Dodgers.

Allen, whose conditioning was delayed by a 16-day holdout, will be facing the remaining half of Los Angeles' former one-two mound punch, Don Drysdale.

In two other camps a veteran has been sent to the minors and another proven pro may be sent to the bench.

The Baltimore Orioles announced Friday that catcher Camilo Carreon has been sent to the training camp of the Triple A Rochester Red Wings along with pitchers Paul Knechtges, Jim Hardin and Fred Beene.

The veteran in a shaky position is the St. Louis Cardinals' Julian Javier. The National League's all star second baseman in 1964 has been sidelined since March 17 with a bruised hip and handyman Phil Gagliano has been doing a starting job of filling in. Gagliano is hitting a blistering .438 with 11 hits and eight RBI's. Although conceded to be a better fielder, Javier has posted anemic batting marks of .227 and .228 over the past two seasons.

Ducats Going On Cage Feed

Tickets were selling at a steady pace for the annual Pampa Harvesters basketball banquet, slated April 6 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

Tickets for the affair are on sale at the school co-op, the school business office and at Bill Harris Lincoln-Mercury on Foster St. Prices are $2.50 for adults and $1.00 for students.

Gene Gibson, head basketball coach at Texas Tech, will be guest speaker and former Harvesters Elmer Wilson will be master of ceremonies.

Besides presentation of the Hustling Harvesters award the annual All-Sports brochure, featuring pictures of all junior high and high school athletes will be presented.

The brochure, produced by Ed Schneider, is made up in colorful green and gold, the Pampa school colors and the cover picture is that of former Harvesters Kenny Hebert, who led the nation in scoring this past football season for the University of Houston.

A basketball queen, picked from Jeanne Bell, J. Anne Prock or Ann Jamison, will be crowned during the banquet.

Harris Hopes For Title Bout Friday

NEW YORK (UPI)—Unorthodox Gypsy Joe Harris hopes to earn a title shot Friday night when he meets welterweight champion Curtis Cokes at Madison Square Garden.

The 10-round non-title bout has gone almost unnoticed in the aftermath of the Cassius Clay-Zora Folley heavyweight title affair, but it has been tagged as a "fight fan's fight."

The free-swinging Harris has run up a string of 16 consecutive victories, including triumphs over Stan (Kitten) Hayward and Jose Stable. His aggressive tactics include a good measure of clinching, butting and bullying his opponents into the ropes.

The colorful Harris is given to wearing red tights and red shoes and bouncing off the ropes like a ping pong ball, but he does get results.

Cokes is a conservative, 29-year-old veteran, who fights by the book. He has 45 victories—only 20 by knockout—against eight losses and three draws.

The Dallas champion was not considered a serious threat last year when an elimination tournament was set up to fill the vacant title Emile Griffith had the welter championship taken away from him when he graduated to the middleweight title.

However, Cokes pulled off a surprise in the first bout of the elimination by stopping favored Luis Rodriguez late in the 15th round. Angelo Dundee, Rodriguez' manager, had the fight stopped because the former champion was taking so much punishment.

Cokes then went on to defeat Manuel Gonzalez and Jean Josselin to take virtually undisputed possession of the title.

Dempsey Appointed
STOCKTON, Calif. (UPI)—The University of Pacific announced that Cedric Warren Dempsey has been appointed athletic director. Dempsey, presently assistant athletic director at the University of Arizona, will take over June 1, succeeding Dr. Paul Stagg.

New Team
ERIE, Pa. (UPI)—The city of Erie has entered into a working agreement with the Detroit Tigers to field a minor league baseball team, Mayor Lewis J. Tullio announced. The Tigers will stock a class A New York-Pennsylvania League team here.

Harvester Tracksters Place Fifth

PERRYTON — Pampa's thinclads put on their best performance of the season Friday in the Perryton Invitational Track and Field meet.

The Harvester tracksters finished fifth in a field of nine teams with Guyton, Okla. winning the meet with 105 points to edge Berger who had 101 points. Dumas had 84, Caprock 76, Pampa, 44½; Perryton, 26½; Liberal, Kan., 18; Woodward, Okla., 13.

Doc Cornutt put the shot 54 feet, 7½ inches to win his even and placed fourth in the discus with a throw of 133 feet, six inches.

Swiftly Gary McCarrell placed first in his specialty, the 400-yard dash. McCarrell ran the distance in 51.3 his best time of the spring.

The Harvesters got another first, from Sanley Mathis, who won the broad jump with a leap of 20 feet, two inches. Mathis tied for fifth in the shot with a heave of 46 feet, eight inches.

The Harvester mile relay team finished fourth in the time of 3:43 flat. Paul Anderson, Jack Newsome, Mathis and McCarrell made up the real team.

Next week the Harvester thinclads journey to Amarillo for a two-day meet, the annual Amarillo Relays. Action starts at noon Friday and finals are at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Mistakes Abound In UCLA, Houston Clash

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—Friday night's other semi-final contest, but if the Bruins proved one thing to the crowd of 18,889 which jammed Freedom Hall it was that they certainly have considerable talent other than the 7-1 Alcindor.

Teammates Come Through
Big Lew was boxed in pretty well by the big Houston front courtmen and managed only 19 points, but teammates Lynn Shackelford, Lucius Allen, and Mike Warren combined for 53 and showed why nobody has been able to halt the Bruins in 29 games this season.

The Bruins actually played a sloppy brand of basketball especially in the second half and committed a horrendous total of 24 turnovers. But Houston was just as bad, committing 21 misplays, and the Cougars also experienced one of their worst shooting nights of the season by hitting on only 34.7 per cent of their shots.

While Alcindor was held in check on offense he did manage to make his presence felt both on the boards and on defense. The All-American center collected 20 rebounds and intimidated the Houston players on defense.

"Regardless of how he plays, shoots, or moves, Alcindor is a tremendous factor in the game psychologically," said Houston coach Guy Lewis. "We had a terrible night shooting, but I'm sure a lot of that was due to Alcindor's presence under the backboards."

Elvin Hayes, the Cougars' All-American forward was the only Houston player to turn in a worthwhile effort as he scored 25 points and pulled down 24 rebounds.

Crowd Favorites
While UCLA failed to stir the crowd as expected, May and his hustling Dayton teammates excited everyone. The Flyers played superb defense as they limited North Carolina's high-scoring duo of Bob Lewis and Larry Miller to 24 points. May put on a one-man exhibition that would be hard to top in the finals.

Monterey Keeps Lead in District Golf; Pampa Sixth

BORGER — Monterey kept their slim lead Friday in the third round of district golf action with Tascosa trailing by just three shots.

Pampa golfers fell to sixth place, six shots back of fifth place Amarillo.

Monterey shot a team total of 336 Friday and have a three round total of 944 while Tascosa shot 31 for a 942 total with Berger shooting 326 and a 932 total. Then comes Coronado with 333 Friday and a 956 total, Amarillo, 330 and a 974, Pampa shot a 330 and have a 980 total.

Caprock is next with a 341 Friday and 1002 team total, Palo Duro shot 330 for a 1015, then Plainview has a 1017 total with a 343 Friday and last is Lubbock with a 356 Friday and 1033 total.

In B team competition Pampa is third with Tascosa first with a 313 Friday and 952 total followed by Berger in second with a 321 Friday and 971.

Pampa golfers shot 332 Friday and have a team total of 969 followed by Monterey, 331 997; Coronado, 342 and 1009; Amarillo, 357 and 1034; Plainview, 250 and 1038; Caprock, 354 and 1049; Lubbock 391 and 1152 Palo Duro, 396 and 1164.

Ricky Roach had Pampa's best individual rounds Friday with 39-41-80 while Tommy Rose shot 40-42-82; Mike Osborne, 43-41-84; Tim New, 44-40-84 and Frank Kelley, 43-42-85.

In B team play David Kihne-man shot 39-40-79 while Steve Walls had 44-59-83; Charles McKinney, 44-41-83 Greg Gunter, 42-43-85 and Steve Grady, 44-44-88.

Panhandle Water Conservation News

By FELIX W. RYALS

The spring irrigation of winter wheat is underway. This means that tailwater problems will be starting in a number of places over the area.

The tailwater problem is fast becoming one of the biggest problems for the Water Conservation District. The number of complaints from farmers who do not want the tailwater from a neighbor running on their land is steadily increasing.

The State of Texas has a law against the wasteful use of water produced from the underground water reservoirs. The Water Conservation District also has a rule against waste. The rule reads as follows:

"The following or producing of wells from an underground water reservoir when the water produced therefrom is not used for a beneficial purpose is prohibited. Willfully causing suffering, or permitting underground water produced for irrigation or agricultural purpose to escape into any river, creek, or other natural watercourse, depression, or lake, reservoir, drain on, into any sewer, street, highway, road, road ditch, or upon the land of any other person than the owner of such well, or upon public land is prohibited. Any person producing underground water shall use every possible precaution, in accordance with the most approved methods, to stop and prevent

Cattle on Feed

On March 1, 679,000 head of cattle were on feed in Texas for the slaughter market. According to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, this is 35 per cent above a year ago but three per cent below a month ago. Number of cattle and calves on feed in Texas, Arizona, Colorado, California, Nebraska and Iowa on March 1 totaled 5,822,000 a decrease of five per cent from the Feb. 1 total.

waste of such water.

A number of our irrigation farmers will be putting in tailwater salvage and return systems during the spring. Two new systems that would be models to follow have been put in recently. Those interested might go look over the tailwater recovery and return systems installed on the C. Russell McConnell farm northwest of King, and the new one installed on the Bob McBrayer farm five miles south of White Deer.

The Etter Research Center in Moore County has a model tailwater salvage and recovery system in operation that could be visited. The water salvage and return system at the Etter Research farm is typical of the many systems now in use on the North Plains. The field low point is in the corner of their land and to utilize the field to the greatest advantage a triangular pit was constructed. The pit holds about three-fourth acre foot of water. This dirt work cost approximately $370.

They have an electric driven turbine pump with an average capacity of 500 gallons per minute. There is one irrigation well on the farm. This well was started on March 25 and has been run as needed to the present. Aug. 31, 1966. It has pumped 56,494,700 gallons.

There are 120 acres in the farm. Many plots have border dikes and are flooded to the predetermined depths with no runoff. They have watered 45 acres of milo and row crop and 40 acres of wheat this season. These acres are all that have involved any tailwater. The tailwater system was started May 1, 1966. By actual metering the system has returned 5,013,800 gallons of water. This is 1 1/4 million gallons a month on 85 acres. If we could consider 1 1/4 million gallons returned from each well in the district each month, that would be 3,978,750,000 gallons saved each month.

Two fields were staked for land leveling on Harvey Waters irrigated farm east of Pampa. Where land is leveled for irrigation a much better job of managing irrigation water. Roy Kretzmeier has leveled a field for irrigation on his farm northeast of Pampa. H. H. Keahey has completed a diversion terrace on his farm south of Kingmill. This diversion will protect cropland from further erosion. Charles Grigsby, LeRoy McChacken, and Lamont Stovall are in the process of seeding grass.

Soil Stewardship Week to be observed April 30 - May 7. Soil Stewardship Week is set aside nationally each year to call attention to everyone's moral responsibility as a steward of the soil and other natural resources provided by God. In America, the Soil Stewardship observance traces its origin to the Rotation Days. In parts of the South, churches and congregations traditionally set aside the fifth Sunday after Easter as Soil Sunday.

In 1946 this became Soil Stewardship Sunday when the editors of Farm and Ranch magazine suggested to a number of Southern religious leaders that one Sunday be set aside to give special recognition to man's obligation as steward of the soil.

In 1954, the Farm and Ranch Magazine passed the sponsorship to the National Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts. The original sponsors felt that a still wider observance of Soil Stewardship Sunday could help bring about a national awakening and recognition of man's obligation to the Lord's earth.

National Poison Week

Last week was designated as National Poison Prevention Week and the official proclamation says that some 600,000 Americans may suffer from accidental poisoning this year.

SCS Officials Transfer Bartee To New Mexico

Duane Bartee, 43, area conservationist here since 1958, will become assistant state conservationist in Albuquerque, N. M. today.

A native of Taylor County, near Abilene, Bartee has been directing all soil conservation activities in 11 northeastern counties of the Panhandle.

He has been with the Soil Conservation Service since 1950 and has worked in Lubbock, Muleshoe, Floydada, Paducah and Childress. He is a 1949 graduate of Texas A&M University with a B.S. degree in agronomy.

In his new position, Bartee will work with watersheds, resource conservation and development projects, river basin surveys and assist with public information projects.

His family, his wife and three daughters, will move to New Mexico after school.

Douglas E. Cunningham, 31, presently working in Quanah will succeed Bartee. Cunningham started his soil conservation service career in Dalhart in 1960.

He has been work unit conservationist in Post and range conservationist here. Cunningham is the brother of Virgil Cunningham of Amarillo, the area conservationist.

Short Rains Fail To Stop Drought

COLLEGE STATION (UPI)—The Texas Agricultural Extension Service said today the widespread rains of last weekend failed to break a prolonged winter drought in Texas.

There was enough rain in some places to permit planting, according to the extension service.

Northwestern Texas, where dry land wheat conditions are rated very poor, received the smallest amount of rain.

The rain did give a small boost to grains in North Central Texas, but light production was still forecast for the area.

Although soil moisture is still short in East Texas, oats and clovers are making some progress, the service said.

Corn, cotton and grain sorghum planting is making good progress in central, coastal and southern counties.

A generous inch of rain in bone dry West Central Texas should stimulate grass and weed growth and small grains, according to the extension service.

A few areas reported livestock feeding in poor condition, although it continued general over most of the state.

The vegetable harvest continued active in southern areas.

The day is not far when most plant diseases and destructive insects are eliminated.

"Americans of the year 2,000 never will see—much less swat—a housefly or a mosquito," Freeman said.

He also forecast easing of droughts by tapping deep snowdrifts in mountain ranges and sending the water to thirsty cropland—with computers determining when and how much is needed.

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY

The Irrigation Clinic held March 23 at Recreation Park was attended by people from a wide area. Several timely and important topics were discussed.

Next Wednesday, a similar clinic will be held at McLean. The Shrine Club will again serve a free barbecue to McLean area farmers.

Irrigation is a paying proposition when managed properly.

One of the top speakers at the Pampa Irrigation Clinic was Dr. John Shipley, Research Economist, Bushland Experiment Station. He did an excellent job of pointing out the necessity for keeping records. Knowing your cost so needed adjustments can be made will be the key to success or failure in farming in the future. Shipley gave a clear explanation that showed the top yield does not always produce the top net return per acre.

4-H Club Congress

The change in the dates for the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago to November 16-26 have not changed the schedule for the National 4-H Club Congress. It will be held as scheduled, November 26-30, reports Norman Mindrum, director, National 4-H Service Committee. Club Congress is conducted jointly by the Cooperative Extension Service and the Service Committee.

wheat price again. It dropped six cents a day for two days after we mentioned it last week.

Several people have been spraying for greenbugs on irrigated wheat. I suspect brown wheat mites has been doing far more damage than green bugs. Spraying is not recommended for brown wheat mites. You can knock them off but they will be right back on your wheat in a very few days.

Wheat can tolerate as many as 300 green bugs per running foot when it approaches the boot stage without them affecting yields. It is most difficult to determine with a degree of accuracy the exact stage that control measures should be applied. Probably the general appearance of the wheat is about the best indicator. If the wheat begins to show damaged spots and green bugs are your trouble instead of brown wheat mites, it would be a good idea to treat irrigated wheat.

If you have not received a copy of our Stocker Calf Guide-line, we would be happy to pass one along to you. We have included a section on how to hedge cattle on the Live Beef "Future's Market. We believe a stocker operator can hedge cattle the same as a cattle feeder. Many operators run stocker cattle and also have them custom fed in one of the commercial feedlots. The future's market many times works better for the stocker-feeder operator than it will for any one.

Home Gardens

Interest in home gardens in Texas is on the increase. Dr. John Larsen, Extension horticulturist, cites several reasons: namely, better taste and quality of vegetables produced at home but labor shortages in vegetable fields and the trend to mechanized harvesting are big factors, he adds. Machines work best on vegetables which are canned or frozen.

Aerial Pesticide Application School Scheduled in Wichita Falls in April

COLLEGE STATION (Sp)—Aerial application of pesticides has developed into an extensive and skilled profession. Modern aerial application equipment is as up-to-date as the newest automobiles, and like them is designed to do a special job well if correctly handled.

Four active members of this skilled profession will be participating as a panel and discussing "Aerial Application of Pesticides... The Operator's View" at the Northern Texas and Oklahoma session of the Southern Regional Pesticide-Chemical Application School in Wichita Falls April 6.

W. L. Norman, president, Texas Aerial Applicators Association, and operator of Norman's Flying Service in Dougherty, will act as the panel chairman. Panel members are Miller Tuttle (Tuttle Spraying Company) of Breckenridge, Clint Fry (American Dusting Company) of Chickasha, Okla., and Ray Williams (Midwest Aero Service) of Wichita Falls.

The Tuesday morning aerial application session of the school will be under the direction of George Harris who is the Secretary of the National Aerial Application Association. His home is in Ada, Okla.

John F. Neace, aerial applications project manager of the Bell Helicopter Company in Fort Worth, will speak on "Fundamentals of Aerial Application with Helicopters" following the panel discussion.

Neace is a veteran of more than 20 years in agricultural aviation. He joined the Bell Helicopter organization in 1965. In 1957, he helped supervise what was at that time the largest aerial spray project ever undertaken. More than six million acres in Canada were sprayed by 220 aircraft in a successful effort to control budworms.

The Southern Regional Pesticide-Chemical Application School is jointly sponsored by the State Agricultural Extension Services of Texas and Oklahoma and the Federal Extension Service, USDA.

Farm Secretary Predicts Satellites For Agriculture

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman today envisioned that by the year 2,000 orbiting satellites will be able to monitor a farmer's fields and even regulate light and moisture for crops.

He said satellites could be equipped with remote sensing devices that could detect changes in soil, damage to crops, caused by pests or diseases, and determine whether plant growth was too fast or too slow.

While the farmer sits in an air conditioned, computerized office, the satellites could send down alarm signals on what's going wrong out in the fields so he could manipulate artificial lights or growth-regulating chemicals as needed, Freeman predicted.

He foresaw this and more in an address looking to expected developments in the "wonder world" of the 21st century. Freeman spoke at a convention of the National Association of Science Teachers.

The secretary predicted that

MEDICINES MUST BE PROPERLY PROTECTED
The United States Pharmacopoeia, called the "U.S.P." and the National Formulary, called the "N.F." are the two basic official books which specify the standards, tests and dosage for drugs and some of their combinations. Pharmacists must completely know the contents of both these books. The U.S.P. and the N.F. also specifies those drugs which require extra care to protect their potency and directs how they must be stored. Many drugs must not be exposed to light or heat. Others are dated and cannot be used after a certain time. Between publication dates of the new U.S.P. and N.F., published each few years, we study and file information about the new drugs to keep up to date. YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. Boat And Ski Club Has

An Eye For Beauty

ONE OF THE beauties pictured on this page will be crowned queen of the Outdoor Boat and Sports Show to be sponsored by the Pampa Boat and Ski Club April 1-2 in the National Guard Armory. John McCausland will serve as master of ceremonies with Mrs. Rute Jordan, the Rev. J. W. Duke, J. B. "Buff" Maguire, Jerry Sims and Richard Hankins as judges. Mrs. David Enloe is beauty pageant chairman.

CONTESTANTS will appear at 7:30 p.m. April 1 and 3 p.m. Sunday.

THE ANNUAL sports show is staged by the Pampa Boat and Ski Club as part of its year's activities. This year's show will feature boats and motors of all types, skiing equipment, motorcycles, campers, antique cars, entertainment, and a beauty pageant.

THE PAMPA Boat and Ski Club was organized in 1958 and meets once a month for salad suppers, pie suppers. Club activities include family skating parties, family cruises, wiener roasts, outings, tournaments, an annual Christmas installation banquet, Halloween and New Year's Eve parties.

THE CLUB completed the first ski jump on Lake McClellan in March 1958 and since that time has maintained a ski jump and slalom for public as well as the club's use.

THE WATER sports club is a member of the Panhandle Federation of Clubs, which includes Amarillo, The Berger Boat and Ski Club, and the Lubbock Water Ski Club. It is also affiliated with the American Water Ski Association of Winter Haven, Fla.

OFFICERS are Speck Winborne, president; David Enloe, vice president; Nancy Brown, secretary-treasurer; with Bill Stephens, Buster Brown, Ralph Day, Marvin Allison and Mary Winton making up the official board.

PART OF the proceeds from this year's show will go to Girls' Town at Whiteface, Texas.

IMAGINE ALL the Easter bunnies have made their house-calls in today's pre-dawn... and the remainder of the day can be spent in hiding and re-hiding all the Easter eggs he or she brought... after Sunday School and church services, that is.

— dew —

SEE, ALL the Forsythia needed were those few raindrops that fell last Sunday evening... their buttery-yellow blossoms made a belated spring debut this week... adding bright spots all over town... A Robin has been reported hopping around in the 600 block of N. Gray... Lillian Reser said one had been in her neighborhood for the past few weeks... but did this bird go "away for the winter"?... or one that just hung around because our winter was so springlike and the living was lush and easy?

— dew —

GUESS WHAT Fanny Cree, chairman of the Daisy Trail Home-Art Tour, wore to a brunch last Saturday morning in the Country Club?... you guessed it, daisies... but they weren't on her hat... nor in the print of her dress... nor in a corsage... but on the upper heels of her low-slung yellow slippers... loved that red posie on Albertine Tripplehorn's white sailor hat... that bounced up and down as she chatted with friends... the occasion was a Bridal Brunch for Molly Gunter... pretty bride-elect of Terry Wright of Fort Worth... they will exchange wedding vows Friday in Fort Worth... when Terry gets a brief leave from military service... Molly is an ex-Harvester, who is attending Texas Christian University... hostesses for the pretty party were Harlean Rose... Jean Braly... Lois Marsh... Louise Miller... and Melba Martin... Molly's the daughter of Mary Nell and Henry Gunter... Terry's parents are the William-Wright's of Fort Worth... The brunch table was appointed with a breath-taking arrangement of white, stock and yellow-centered Majestic daisies in a tall cupid epergne with garlands of smilex trailing down on the white linen cloth.

— dew —

MEMO TO ALL club presidents: Hope to see you next Tuesday morning at ten o'clock at the Press Coffee in the Pampa Country Club... assisting hostesses will be Louise Fletcher... Orvalde DeWeese... Van Vanderberg... Jean Power... and Norma Dellacrose... the coffee will start the ball rolling towards the April publication of "It's A Woman's World" in which all women's clubs in town will be saluted for their contributions in helping to make Pampa a pleasanter... and more fun... place to live... hope you'll have your prettiest hairdos for we'll want to take pictures before you leave... and if possible, we'll appreciate your leaving the information blanks that were enclosed with the invitations.

— dew —

THE MAIL this week had an interesting item... addressed to a former columnist here, Peg O'Pampa who must remain dear to the hearts of some, but who more than three years ago left on an around-the-world trip... and hasn't been seen nor heard of since... since this is the case, we were sure she would not mind the fact that we opened her mail and found a note from former Pampan, Bob and Claudine Vail, who were now living in Tucson... their daughter, Julia, seems to be following in the footsteps of her lovely, artistic mother for she has now graduated from Arizona State University at Tempe with a degree in art and is teaching in the Phoenix Public Schools... she is a primary art teacher for the Sauro and Challa elementary schools in North Phoenix... Julia has acquired the quite unlikely nickname of "Stormy", which is absolutely no description of her dresden-type beauty... but she came by the nickname affectionately because of her christening family name, Storm.

— dew —

SPEAKING OF MAIL... Bonnie Hutchinson had mixed emotions this week when the postman left a letter from her son, Bill, that he could not be in Pampa to pick her up until Mid-April... she had planned to leave this week for Lima, Peru... Bill is coming to the states on business and had planned to take Bonnie back home with him... but since he will have to be in his home offices of the Mines Safety Appliances in Pittsburgh the latter part of April... he has had to postpone his trip until then... Bonnie has been honored with so many farewell parties since her friends learned of her plans to make her home with her son and family in Lima, Peru... and reluctant though she is to leave Pampa... still she is anxious to get settled down to reading bedtime stories to those adorable grandchildren in Peru.

— dew —

GOING AND COMING... Clyde and Thelma Batson left last week for a cadillac tour of Arizona with friends from Duncan, Okla... Dr. H. H. and Ted Hicks have returned from a vacation in Mexico... which was preceded by a week of lectures, which Dr. H. H. delivered to a group of dental students in Dallas.

— dew —

IF AT TIMES, it seems one little lady's name crops up often in this column... the main reason is she is always doing something fantastically interesting... and this time is no exception... when the PTA City Council came up with the idea of inviting all past PTA Council presidents to be banquet guests at the District PTA Spring Conference... to be held in Pampa, April 10-11... the very next question was... who has served as a PTA Council president?... and where are they now?... Fanny Cree, who was a council president in 1960-61, dug back in time and space and came up with the names of ALL the council presidents who have served since its organization in 1929... and they'll be invited as special guests and be seated together at the April 10 banquet.

— dew —

ALREADY LUCKY... when Carlene Sexton walks down the aisle of Central Baptist Church on June 1, she'll have a genuine English sixpence in her slipper... thanks to the thoughtfulness of a banker in Vernon, where her fiancé, Lewin Anderson Clayton lives... the generous and imaginative financier sent the sixpence after Carlene's picture appeared in the Vernon newspaper... now she'll have all the traditions brides need on their wedding day.

— dew —

FIVE BUSY gals we know are Edna Day... Virginia McDonald... Charlene Rich... Ruby Crocker and Le Vada Warner, who are gathering up all the Bridge tables and card decks they can find in preparation for a Bridge Benefit, they are planning for March 31 in PamCel Hall.

— dew —

A CONVERSATION PIECE AT the Joyce-Elte Guest Day Tea was a lovely glass punch service... shaped as a tall, slender coffee pot complete with spigot... the bottle-green server rested in an ivy entwined stand of iron with leaf clusters accented with red berries... the fortunate owner is Jane Reynolds, who loaned it to her niece, Gretchen Osborne, for the occasion.

— dew —

SOME OF Pampa's artistic talent made an appearance in Amarillo during Amarillo Little Theater's presentation of "Bus Stop"... Marion George was invited bring over some of her fabulous wood-sculpturing during the run of the play.

MUST DASH with the gentle admonition to please look before you sit today... some fun-loving little bunny might have hidden a gooey chocolate egg in your favorite easy chair...

Presidents' Lives Continuing Topic For Culture Club

Mrs. Rufe Jordan discussed the life of Franklin Delano Roosevelt at the meeting of the Twentieth Century Culture Club held in the home of Mrs. R. E. Dobbin with Mrs. Norman Buhrow as co-hostess.

Mrs. Jordan began her talk by describing the depression years preceding Roosevelt's election in 1933 and closely followed his career during the difficult years of World War II.

The speaker cleverly developed the theme of the talk from one of the late president's greatest quotations: "All we have to fear is fear itself."

Mrs. Jordan also told the story of Mrs. Roosevelt from the time she became FDR's bride in 1905 through her own career as a writer and public figure in her own right. "Mrs. Roosevelt was a shy little girl," said the speaker. "And she once said, 'What one has to do, usually can be done.' Eleanor Roosevelt proved by her life she believed this. She also said of her famous husband, 'I was one of those who served his purpose' and it would seem that she was glad to do so." The Roosevelts were a colorful family and President Roosevelt encouraged them all to visit the White House.

At the conclusion of the talk, Mrs. Dobbin showed slides of Campobello, the Roosevelt's summer house.

Mrs. J. M. Chases presided during a brief business meeting.

IN MEMORIAM—From one group of girls to another is the recent check in the amount of $100 which the Business and Professional Women's Club sent to Girls Town in White Face. Mrs. H. F. McDonald, president, standing, gives her official approval to the check which Noel Thompson, treasurer is endorsing to the Girls' Town organization. The check was given in memoriam of the late Mrs. Vera Lord, a former BP&W member and her husband, Frank, who ardently supported Girls Town.

Baptist Classes Meet For Study

GROOM—The Volunteer Workers Class met in the Methodist Church parlor recently with class president, Mrs. C. A. Morrow in charge. Mrs. J. W. Angel gave the devotional.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses Mrs. C. A. Morrow and Mrs. E. R. Hess to one visitor, Mrs. Curtis Schaffer, and members. Mmes. J. W. Angel, O. P. Blackwell, L. L. Andrews, Cleo Schaffer, J. B. Shockley, Ray Elmore, Jimmie Kirby, Margy Emery, O. R. Major and Roy Ritter.

The T.E.L. Class of the Baptist Church met recently in the home of Mrs. Willie Ragdale for breakfast and Bible study. Mrs. Eulice Monroe had charge of the Bible study. Others present were Mmes.

Betrothal Told
GROOM—The Rev. and Mrs. Ray Elmore announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Judy Ann Elmore to David Hal Ousley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Novis Ousley of Rule, Texas. The couple will be married April 23, 1967 in the First Methodist Church at Rule.

Frank Burgin, C. J. Shaw, Pete Fields, Jim Eschle, Jeff Gray, Dick Martin, Doug Wood, Maurine Davidson, Hannah Koeler. Guests were Mrs. Mary Lawson of Lubbock and Karla Cline of Aude.

KKI Alpha Iota Conclave Guests Of Gamma Conclave At Easter Party

Gamma Conclave of Kappa Kappa Iota entertained with a salad supper in Lovett Memorial Library Monday evening with the Alpha Iota Conclave as guests.

Quartet tables were appointed with Spring flowers and pastel place mats. The serving table was appointed with an Easter Rabbit centerpiece. Guests were registered at a table decorated with driftwood and an Easter egg arrangement.

Entrance to the entertaining room was designated with a huge white vase arranged with brightly-colored Spring flowers from Old Mexico.

Mrs. Marjorie Gaut entertained with a humorous reading, "The Petrified Man."

Gamma members gave their guests a personal recipe book as favors.

Hostesses were Mmes. Houston Branch, Marjorie Gaut, Wendell Watson, and D. V. Biggers.

Both conclaves had a short business meeting with Mrs. John Best and Mrs. D. L. Mackie, presidents, presiding.

Conclave members attending included Mmes. James Poole, W. L. Parker, J. R. Poston, D. Z. Nensiel, Joe Davis, Jim Goff, Homer Bowers, M. L. Carter, W. L. Veale, Roy Sparkman, Truett Ross, H. F. Hoepner, Jack McDonald, Houston Price, Jack Williams, Frank Anderson, Hemy Gruben;

Also, Mmes. Paul Keim, Charles Meech, C. W. Stowell, J. E.

HOMEMAKER HINTS

It's the small details that complete a room's decor. And on a wall in a room where knick-knacks would only get in the way, it's the use of delicate visual grace notes, such as decorative ceramic tiles spotted among plain colored tiles, that add the pleasing detail.

UTILITY CLOSETS

Does that closet containing the mops and broom have a dark, dank floor? If so, have it surfaced with waterproof ceramic tile. In fact, if the whole closet has a dreary look, give it the Good tile is assured when it's "Quality Certified" by the Tile Council of America.

Art, Antiques Add Up To Program

Mrs. C. R. Kelms presented a program on "Japanese Art and How It Has Affected Western Art" at a recent meeting of Twentieth Century Cotillion Club held in the home of Mrs. Marvin Jones, 1719 Grape.

She displayed several examples and stated the "Old Masters" gained much from Japanese Art.

Mrs. Charles Walsh was welcomed as a new associate member.

Mrs. Ben Fallon and John Gikas, candidates for the Pampa Independent School District

Phi Epsilon Betas Have Guest Night

Phi Epsilon Beta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority entertained with Guest Night at its bi-monthly meeting held in the Reddy Room of Southwestern Public Service Co. A program on floral arrangements was presented by J. C. Hopkins of Roberta's Flowers, who discussed different types of flowers and their arrangements for the program titled "The Guest Speaker."

Mr. Hopkins made three arrangements, which were awarded as door prizes.

Mrs. Coyle Winborn conducted a brief business meeting.

Hostesses were Mmes. John Lyle, Don Hufstetter, Jim Simpson, and Jerry Rockwell.

Guests attending were Shirley Largent, Sandra Weatherly, Peggy Williams, Fran Kinnett, Susie Thompson, Becky Walsh, Donna Maul, Sue Satterfield, Vickie Stone, Pat Hoskins, Deanna Schaffer, Virginia Sims, Linda Walls, Mrs. Ada Dobbin and Mrs. Paul Guthrie.

post as trustees, gave short talks relative to their candidacy. A letter from Dr. Howard Greenlee, another school trustee candidate, was read.

Mrs. Ralph McKinney, ticket chairman, reported tickets are going very well for the Antique Show planned by the club for April 7-9.

ANTIQUE SHOW

Antique devotees are invited to attend the 5th annual antique Show and Sale sponsored by 20th Century Cotillion, April 7-9, in the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn.

The affair is a benefit, for proceeds from the tickets sold at $1 each will be directed to the Opportunity Plan, Inc., the unique scholarship loan plan at West Texas State University.

Visitors to the show will journey hundred of years into the past as they view thousands of collectors items which will be featured by the eleven dealers who will show their collections.

The 18th and 19th and 20th century items collected from all over the world will range from exquisite serving pieces fashioned of cut glass, early American primitives, fine furniture, and beautiful porcelain pieces, dating to the early 1800's.

Simonton's Antiques from Sweetwater, Texas, will feature glassware, figurines, cut glass and a beautiful collection of bisque. From San Antonio will come Mrs. Essie E. Shultz with her fascinating collection of antique jewelry ranging from simple, inexpensive charms to collector's items of gold, diamonds and pearls. Granny's Attic from San Angelo will fill another of the booths. A wide range of early American antiques in copper, brass, and pottery will be shown.

Leggett's Antiques from Tulsa, Oklahoma, specializes in the very finest of glassware and art. Also from Tulsa will be Mrs. Stoffer who will feature an exceptional collection of rare jewelry and glassware. Hewitt's Antiques of Brownfield will display old prints, books, Bibles, and art. Marge's Nook of Pampa will show pine furniture and primitives. From Lubbock, Ruth Broadhurst will bring glassware. The Old Sundan Antiques of Amarillo will show a collection of copper, brass and primitives. Fern Laird of Plain-

Mrs. Robertson Has Worthwhile HD Club Meeting

The Worthwhile Home Demonstration Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Roy Robertson for a program on "Consumer Buying" presented by Miss Jimmie Lou Wainscott, Gray County Home Demonstration Agent.

Miss Wainscott advised "Check bargains to be sure they are what you are looking for in food value or they won't be bargains."

Refreshments were served. Members attending were Meses. Boyd Brown, O. A. Wagner, J. C. Payne, W. G. Kinzer, Roy Tinsley, C. B. Rogers, N. B. Cude, O. G. Smith, N. L. Welton.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Roy Tinsley.

Blue will play an important part in the fashion picture for fall.

Miss Sandra Lee Bradley

Mr. and Mrs. George Bradley of Sherman announce the betrothal of their daughter, Sandra Lee, to Michael Howard Archer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Archer of Lefors. The wedding is planned for June 17 in Sherman. Miss Bradley, who has a Bachelor of Science degree from Texas Technological College, is teaching in the Lubbock area. Mr. Archer is a candidate for a Bachelor of Architecture degree in May from Texas Tech.

Mrs. Fields Has Ruth Class Meet

GROOM — The Ruth Class of the Baptist Church met recently at the home of Mrs. Charley Fields with Mrs. George Eschle as co-hostess.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Robert Milton, chairman. Mrs. Minard Henderson gave the devotional on "Friends." The group enjoyed singing favorite hymns accompanied by Mrs. Les Driskill and Mrs. John Hickox pianists.

Plants To Complement Roses For Pampa Rose Society Meet

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Caldwell presented a program on the topic "What Should Be Planted With Roses" for the monthly meeting of the Pampa Rose Society held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Carruth, 2003 Mary Ellen. Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Darsey were co-hosts.

Mrs. Caldwell suggested planting early-blooming bulbs such as grape hyacinth, crocus, pansies, jonquils, or any colorful combinations which brighten early spring days. She named such plants as sweet alyssum, petunias, geranium, snapdragons, verbenas and ganagania as complementing roses.

Mrs. Caldwell recommended taller plants and vines for a background to complement roses.

Mr. Caldwell demonstrated soil testing with a testing kit. He said he is adding cotton seed meal, bone meal and urate of potash to soil, but will have to wait for results until next fall.

In giving "This Month In Our Rose Garden," Ronnie Rice advised this is the time for pruning, shaping and dividing perennials, adding new ones and thoroughly watering.

During the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. W. L. Campbell, president, the club collect was given by Mrs. Weldon Adair and the secretary's minutes by Mrs. W. A. Bennink.

Refreshments were served during the social hour.

Members attending, not previously mentioned, were Dr. Weldon Adair, W. L. Campbell, W. A. Bennink, Mrs. Ronnie Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Mils Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Caldwell.

Auxiliary Drapes Charter For VFW Deceased Members

Draping the charter in memoriam of Mrs. Verda Adair and Mrs. Hulda Smith was conducted by Mrs. Vernon Stuckey at the Pampa Post 1637, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Assisting with the ceremony were Mmes. J. J. Rance, musician; Jess Hatcher, chaplain; Tony Smith, conductor; Mmes. Jim Clifton, Roy L. Jones, Carl M. Wright, A. L. Walling, colorbearers; J. W. Dart and W. F. Mulanax, messengers.

Following an obligation to membership given by Mrs. Hatcher, new members were initiated: Mmes. J. L. Becker, Phyllis Brumley, Byron Hillburn and Marvel Rake.

Mrs. Emmett Gee and Mrs. Stuckey were hostesses during the social hour.

Members attending, not previously mentioned, were Mmes. Jess Beard, Elma Bailey, Corinne Bell, George Benham, Josephine Bialock, Bessie Dazern, Clyde Gray, Elvina Hall, L. A. Henson, Harry Hoyer Sr., Frank Hudgel, Anna Hutchens, H. G. Lawrence, Bill Leonard, Georgia Mack, R. D. Morris, May Muse, Ross Neugin, Lillian Savage, J. S. Silcott, and Lillian Snow.

The Pflugs To Note Golden Date

LEFORS — Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pflug will be honored at a reception Sunday, April 2, in observance of their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

Friends are invited to call between the hours of three and five o'clock in Lefors Civic Center.

Children of the honorees will be hosts; Mrs. M. T. Sheets of Farmington, N.M.; Mrs. C. E. Palmer of Midland, Loren W. Pflug of Tulsa, Okla.; Richard L. Pflug of Lubbock, Jack L. Pflug of Tumulwater, Wash and Gerald L. Pflug of Dumas.

Mr. and Mrs. Pflug were married on March 28, 1917 in the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Marie Bove in Papillion, Neb. They made their home in Nebraska until March, 1937, when they moved to Berger where Mr Pflug was employed by Columbian Carbon Co. In 1950, the family was transferred to Lefors. Mr. Pflug retired from the carbon company in January, 1961.

In addition to six children, the honorees have 12 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

The couple requests no gifts, please.

Ruth Millett Kids Learn To Interpret Scoldings

By RUTH MILLETT Newspaper Enterprise Assn. By the time they are eight or 10, most children understand precisely what their mothers mean by certain overworked parental words and phrases.

A mother's "maybe" to a child means that if he just keeps teasing and pestering her the "maybe" will turn into "all right, go ahead" ... so a child never takes "maybe" for a possible "no."

When a mother says crossly, "I don't want to have to tell you again not to do that," she means just what she says. She does not want to have to tell him again, but she will. So he does not have to stop right away. He can push his luck a little further.

When she puts off giving a "yes" or "no" with "I'll think about it," the answer is most likely to be "no" and she is just putting off saying it as long as possible.

When she says, "You'll have to ask your father," she isn't quite sure herself what the answer should be and is "passing the buck."

When she says, "You ought to be outdoors on a nice day like this," what she really wants is a little peace and quiet and she will settle just as happily for his turning off the television and going to his room and reading a book.

When she says quietly, but firmly, "That's enough," she has really reached the need of her patience and the child had better not try it any further.

When she says meekly and sweetly, "Darling, I would not do that if I were you," she does not mean anything ... and nothing drastic will happen if darling ignores the remark completely.

When she says, "You march yourself straight to your room and stay there until I tell you to come out," any kid knows he has gotten his marching orders.

Many Women Will Be Minus Mini-Skirt In Wardrobes

By GAY PAULEY UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — There'll be no mini-skirts in the wardrobes some of the world's most fashionable women are putting together from the new designer-darling of the international set.

Valentino, of Rome and Milan, counts among his clients Mrs. John F. Kennedy, Mrs. A. Carter Burden, her mother Mrs. William S. Paley, Mrs. Henry Ford II, Mrs. Loel Guinness, Mrs. Charles Wrightman, Princess Paola of Belgium, Princess Luciana Pignatelli of Rome, and the Countess Jacqueline de Ribes of Paris.

Every one of them has appeared at least once on that annual list of best-dressed women.

Of the mid-thigh, even higher, minis, Valentino clucks "tch, tch." "I am haute couture," he said. "I don't like dresses without proportion. My ladies are ordering skirts just barely above the knees. Proportion, balance, these I do best in clothes."

What is he like, this 34-year-old Italian designer who in 17 years of his own business has lured such an impressive list of fashion hussies?

Valentino is of slight build with a shock of black hair, seems shy at first, but then as the conversation moves along says of his spring collection, "I will be the most copies man on Seventh Avenue (the New York wholesale garment district). They copy me in Europe all the time."

Valentino's latest trip to the United States was to show the collection to his wealthy clientele and also to feature his clothes in an extravaganza for the benefit of the Committee to Rescue Italian Art (CRIA). Underwriting the event was Martha (Phillips), who owns exclusive shops in New York, Palm Beach, and Bal Harbour, Fla.

The designer said in an interview that he couldn't remember when he wasn't sketching designs, and he doesn't know from whence the talent came. His father is a businessman and he says candidly of his sister, "she has the worst taste."

Valentino learned the rudiments of couture in Paris, where he worked for Jean Desses and Guy Laroche.

He predicted that a major change is in the making in clothes. "For too many years," he said, "we've had square, stiff, geometric lines. The time is now for romantic clothes."

The white shirt with its button-down collar is giving way to long-point and spread collars, to fresh colorings in patterns and bold stripes. One reason: new elegance in men's suits featuring waist-shaped single-breasted and the return of the double-breasted.

Mrs LBJ Will Be Yellow Bird Today

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UPI) —Item: Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson has chosen a coat-dress costume in mimosa yellow, her favorite color, to wear Easter Sunday.

Item: Easter sales start to hop, say the business pages of newspapers, reporting on buying of new finery.

What prompts all of us to yearn for something new in our wardrobes for this Christian holy day probably is buried in antiquity. Perhaps the promise of warmer weather, of a new season, causes us to throw off the old, put on the new. Perhaps its origin, like other Easter customs, was among the pagan peoples.

I can recall that we as children would look forward for weeks to new Easter outfits, which were as much a part of spring as fever, the first days of going barefoot and knowing that school soon would be out.

Through the centuries, writers have taken note of the custom. "Didst thou not fall out with a tailor for wearing his new doublet before Easter?" asked Shakespeare in "Romeo and Juliet" in 1595. "At Easter let your clothes be new, or else be sure you will rue," is included in Dyer's British popular customs, in 1875.

"I could write a sonnet about your Easter bonnet," wrote Irving Berlin in the ever-popular song, "Easter Parade."

The custom of wearing new finery to church and then showing it off with promenades afterward developed into the Easter parade. In New York, the parade became a massive tourist attraction, and the city in order to handle the huge crowds, started roping off from vehicular traffic several blocks on Fifth Avenue, site of many churches, including St. Patrick's Cathedral.

Crowds pack so closely together it's a wonder anyone can see what anyone else is wearing. And in the early 1950's, when television coverage began to zero in on the ludicrous costumes and publicity seekers, the commercialism of the colorful event produced a mass of public indignation.

Dear Abby... Shoe Polish Goes With Love 'N Kisses

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married a year and we get along very well. The only argument we have is whether I should polish his shoes or not. We both read your column every day and would like you to settle this for us.

HATES TO POLISH SHOES
DEAR HATES: Polishing a man's shoes is like showering him with kisses. Unless it is done with love, he may as well stop off downtown and hire it done.

DEAR ABBY: There is a woman in our office (She's no youngster) whose husband sends her flowers, candy, birthday gifts, anniversary presents, valentines, etc. — delivered at the office! Why, I wonder, doesn't he send them to her home?

I am not jealous for I have been happily married for as many years as she, but don't you think she has him send everything to the office so she can "show off" a little bit in front of the other girls?

ONE OF THE GIRLS
DEAR ONE: Possibly. But look at it this way. Perhaps you're lucky. At least she does not bore you to death the next day TELLING you about it.

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend said he wanted to buy me an engagement ring so I immediately thought of a diamond. Yesterday he took me into a little shop that sold trinkets and he asked me how I liked a set of rings that cost $25. Abby, they were awful! They looked like tin and cut glass. I didn't tell him what I thought of the set, I just said, "Let's look around."

Now Abby, if he couldn't afford something better I would not say anything. Should I accept the set he picked out or not? I hate to hurt his feelings, but even at $25 I think he's getting stung. How can I let him know how I feel without appearing greedy or hurting him?

DISAPPOINTED
DEAR DISAPPOINTED: Tell him frankly that you don't think the set he selected is worth the money, and you'd like to look further. Then steer him into a reputable jewelry store and let the salesman educate him. (No one learns about diamonds faster than a young man who's in the market for one.)

And if you intend to marry him, you had better start learning to communicate with him. A wife who is too timid to discuss money with her husband is off to a poor start.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "HOPELESSLY IN LOVE AND CAN'T END IT": If you can't end the affair, get her out of your office. "A wise tailor never cuts his cloth in the same room where he dances." That is a rule most professional people would do well to heed.

Antiques

D. Price, Jr., Bob Rogers, Tom Snow, John Spearman, Jack White, Bill Atkinson, Gene Hall, and Charles Walsh.

Checking In At Lovett Memorial Library

To all people who claim Texas as their homeland, any information pertaining to this state is fascinating reading. However, to read about the history of one's particular part of the state, that area one calls "home," is the most interesting and gratifying of all. With this thought in mind, the library always endeavors to build a collection of books, pamphlets, newspaper clippings, old pictures, and any other materials that pertain to local history.

This week the library has received three items that will be of special interest to the people of the Panhandle Plains area. Two books and a newly-published magazine that are so outstanding, so unique, that they will be read, relished and required by anyone genuinely devoted to knowledge of the past of the Panhandle-Plains and the Southwest.

Worthy of first mention is the "Reference Encyclopedia of the American Indian." This remarkable volume is the only one of its kind. A staff of researchers have worked for over a year to compile the information contained: biographical sketches of prominent living American Indians, organization that deal with Indian affairs, a listing of all U. S. reservations and their tribal councils, sources of information about Indian tribes and groups extant today, and much more information that makes this fine book an essential tool for anyone interested in any aspect of Indian affairs.

"The Loving Brand Book" is an exact reproduction of the original leather-bound manuscript compiled by J. C. Loving who used this record to check for stolen cattle brought in by the Indians.

MATURE PARENT

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Ass'n.
DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: I married my husband at 18. Though my feelings toward him were very uncertain, I figured I could always divorce him if we didn't work out. Now, 20 years later, we are strangers. Though he provides well for me and our several children, he tells me he no longer loves me. I see the years going by. I don't know if I should stay with him, looking forward to nothing, or divorce him, get a job and try to find the love I've been denied. My minister says I should settle in my half-loaf.

ANSWER: And supposing, having divorced your husband, you don't find this glorious "love" you've been denied? For not finding this Sir Lancelot you're dreaming about is always possible, you see. It will not be every unattached male you'll meet who will want to provide you with marital bliss in addition to fathering your "Several" children. The chance, they will want you to provide them with nonmarital bliss for the price of the tabled'hotel dinner they buy you. For in their 40s unmarried men tend to be hard-headed sex traders, as wary of marriage as are old maids of mice. So you, a 38-year-old mother, just can't be sure that divorcing your husband will materialize Sir Lancelot. And with that gallant love removed from your picture of the rest of your life would you still want to divorce your husband?

Answer that question and you may stop dithering in indecision between divorce and nondivorce. Take in the possibility that Sir Lancelot may refuse to materialize and you may know what you want to do about the unknighly man you've got. You may just realize it would be sensible to reach for this flesh-and-blood man you live with instead of reaching for the perfect one who exists. I assure you, only in your imagination.

I'm not your minister. So I shall not exhort you to endurance of your half loaf. Instead I exhort you to go to your library, borrow a book entitled "Madame Bovary" — and read it with yourself in mind.

The Frenchman who wrote it, Gustave Flaubert, knew all there is to know about girl children who inhabit the bodies of grown-up women. So his is the story of a wife whose human husband just could not compete with the Lancelot lovers of her adolescent imagination. In the end she had to kill herself because her glorified lovers turned out to be much less human than her husband. Let Flaubert help you to grow up.

Over 1,500 marks and brands are pictured, with the now-invaluable information of each owner, ranch, and post office alongside. This volume presents a wealth of information from the great cattle empire brands of Slaughter, Waggoner, XIT, Four 6's, and other ranches too numerous to mention.

"The Southwest Heritage," a brand-new magazine published at Hereford, Texas, will emphasize the history of the Texas Panhandle-Plains. The first issue size the history of the Texas Panhandle-Plains. The first issue use of this magazine just received by the library, features the story of Old Mobeetie in an illustrated article entitled, "Mother City of the Panhandle." The above volumes are only a sampling of a large number of good books received by the Lovett Memorial Library within the past two weeks, so be sure and visit soon.

Easter's Message of Hope

Of all the holidays on the Christian calendar, Easter is the one most nearly universal in its appeal and implications while being intimately Christian in its origin.

The very word Easter, according to the dictionary comes from an Anglo-Saxon word denoting the Teutonic goddess of Spring. Now, Spring and rebirth and revitalizing and immortality are concepts in all systems of worship. They are not exclusively Christian. The atheist "feels" spring, although it is doubtful he has much understanding of it. He has some experience of immortality through rebirth of himself or through his children. Easter is built on these universal longings and presentiments; and it will survive as long as man remains man.

There are some who can't wholeheartedly join in the celebration of Christmas, just as there are those who let the birthday of Confucius pass unnoticed. But the celebration of Easter is one which all people can understand and rejoice in.

All men do not accept the story of the resurrection; but every man knows that there is a pattern and a power of rebirth at work. And the resurrection is possible and plausible for that reason.

Of all the miracles recorded in the revealed religion, this is the most credible to men of every faith and of no profession of faith. It stirs something in the athe-ist, the agnostic, the members of all great religious societies and in the man who worships outside the temples and cathedrals and in the sanctuary of his own heart.

Easter is Life. And no man, of whatever persuasion, can fail to know the irrepressible message of its hope and its authority.

Jesus Christ lived and was crucified in his 33rd year. So much is historic fact. The four Gospels attest that He was a kind and virtuous man and a great teacher. His recorded sayings are accepted by most as authentic. His "Sermon on the Mount" is a classic of religious literature. His "Beatitudes," if not inspired (all Christians believe they were) are certainly inspirational.

Even those who doubt Christ's divinity and His Resurrection cannot deny the worth of His teachings nor His vast influence for good upon humanity. His influence has waxed and waned over the centuries, but it has never been wholly eclipsed, and we seriously doubt that it ever will be.

We are presently living in a time when His influence is waning, and we, and all humanity, are the worse for it. Religion seems to be as necessary for man's spiritual well being as food and drink are for his physical maintenance. We can conceive of no better religion than Christianity and we are happy to join all Christians this Easter Morning in Celebrating His Resurrection.

Trends In Church-Going

Polls of public opinion and behavior have a way of overturning or at least sharply modifying common notions about our society. Some popular misconceptions about church-going are shown up, for example, in a recent survey by Dr. George Gallup.

Item: It is widely supposed that country and small town people are "more religious" than city folk. Item: It also is generally thought that religious interest tends to decline as educational and income levels rise. But on those points the survey mentioned above showed this: College-trained people, those with higher incomes and people living in large urban areas attend church more regularly than others.

Gallup has been auditing church attendance regularly since about 1952 and on and off since around 1940. He reports that the overall trend in regular church attendance since 1955 has been downward. After a rise to a high of 49 per cent in 1955, church attendance declined to 47 per cent in 1961 and 44 per cent in 1966.

Drawing conclusions from such findings is a tricky business. One might feel gratified, for instance, by the poll's indication that serious concern with the spiritual side of life may increase rather than decrease with educational attainment. But would such an interpretation of the figures be justified? Some might argue that high rates of church attendance reflect a desire to conform — to "keep up with the Joneses," and do what is expected in a prosperous community — rather than a genuine interest in faith and religious thought. The findings are interesting, though, if only because they remind us once again that common preconceptions may be wrong.

Who Pays for 'Aid'?

"Government aid is paid by the people," is the heading on the current report of the Citizen's Foreign Aid Committee (to aid American tax payers). The report says:

In 54 BC Cicero wrote of foreign aid: "We are taxed for foreign nations . . . to maintain legions on their soil . . . They take our very flesh, and they hate and despise us." And 1941 years later — President Grover Cleveland on Government parental care: Executive Mansion, Feb. 16, 1867.

"To the House of Representatives: I return without any approval House Bill No. 10203, entitled: An act to enable the Commissioner of Agriculture to make a special distribution of seeds in the drought-stricken counties of Texas, and making an appropriation therefor . . ."

"I can find no warrant for such an appropriation in the Constitution. . . . Though the people support the Government the Government should not support the people. The friendliness and charity of our countrymen can always be relied upon to relieve their fellow citizens in misfortune. . . . Federal aid . . . encourages the expectation of parental care on the part of Government and weakens the sternness of our national character." Grover Cleveland, President.

A few years ago, distinguished constitutional lawyers representing the CFAC prepared briefs for three of the Congressional committees which act on foreign aid. Each of the briefs reported nothing in the U.S. Constitution authorized foreign aid; the findings went unchallenged.

Our government is supported by taxes imposed on the people, loans from the people, and printed paper money from the Federal Reserve. Increasing the supply of paper dollars, without providing gold backing inflates the currency; last year the dollar shrank 3.9 per cent. Obviously, the people support the Government; all government aid must be drawn from the people.

Of foreign aid, General Ne Win, Chief of the State of Burma, recently said: "This kind of aid does not help. It cripples. It paralyzes. The recipients never learn for themselves. They rely more and more on foreign experts and foreign money. In the end they lose control of their country."

It is hoped these eternal truths expressed by Cicero, Cleveland and Ne Win will be considered by the 90th Congress as it ponders the $9.7 billion for foreign aid being requested for fiscal '68.

Infighting Gums Up Red China

By RAY CROMLEY

Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON (NEA) — Red China's nuclear program will be set back by the political turmoil of the past year.

Peiping's technical development of nuclear weaponry may be startlingly successful in the next few years despite these difficulties. But her strife-aggravated economic - political, educational problems will be a serious drag on actual production for years in the future.

Communist China has poured sizable amounts of her scarce funds into a complex of nuclear research institutes, ore refining and gaseous diffusion plants at Lanchow and in her Lop Nor testing grounds.

Red China has a group of top flight nuclear and missile scientists. She has concentrated the best of these at Lanchow and at other research and development sites associated with her priority military nuclear program.

Peiping has invested a great deal of skilled manpower, materials and money into the exploration for uranium ore. She has concentrated a good part of her scarce first-rate geologists in this effort.

The Red leaders have been making plans for another complex of nuclear plants near Tsinghai Lake between Lanchow and Lop Nor. They have put a premium on training younger nuclear scientists and missile men.

The mainland Chinese have had some highly successful tests to date, but they have run into serious difficulties. Peiping's known uranium ore supplies are limited. They are low grade. Present production is low and the production potential not promising. Mining and processing these low-grade ores is extremely expensive.

Despite the small body of top-flight scientists, Red China is thin in backup. She doesn't have the necessary numbers of scientists and technical men to divert to the nuclear production program without further upsetting her unsteady economic development.

The disruption of Communist China's colleges and scientist associations as a result of the current political warfare has spread to the nuclear research institutes. Certain reports from Red China indicate some rugged infighting between the army and civilian organizations over their control. A lengthy fight continues over control of uranium prospecting.

Red China's Western-trained scientists have been under considerable suspicion.

Regardless of how the current struggle for power in Red China turns out, its repercussions will continue to gum up nuclear production prospects for some time to come.

Atomic missile weapon output depends on smooth coordination between the nuclear scientists and the producers of precision components and complicated priority schedules for scarce materials.

With politics taking precedence and with serious infighting likely for several years to come, the technical - industrial network necessary for the building of a nuclear warhead and missile delivery stockpile will be slow in developing.

Question Box

We invite questions on economics and the proper functions of government which will not require long answers.

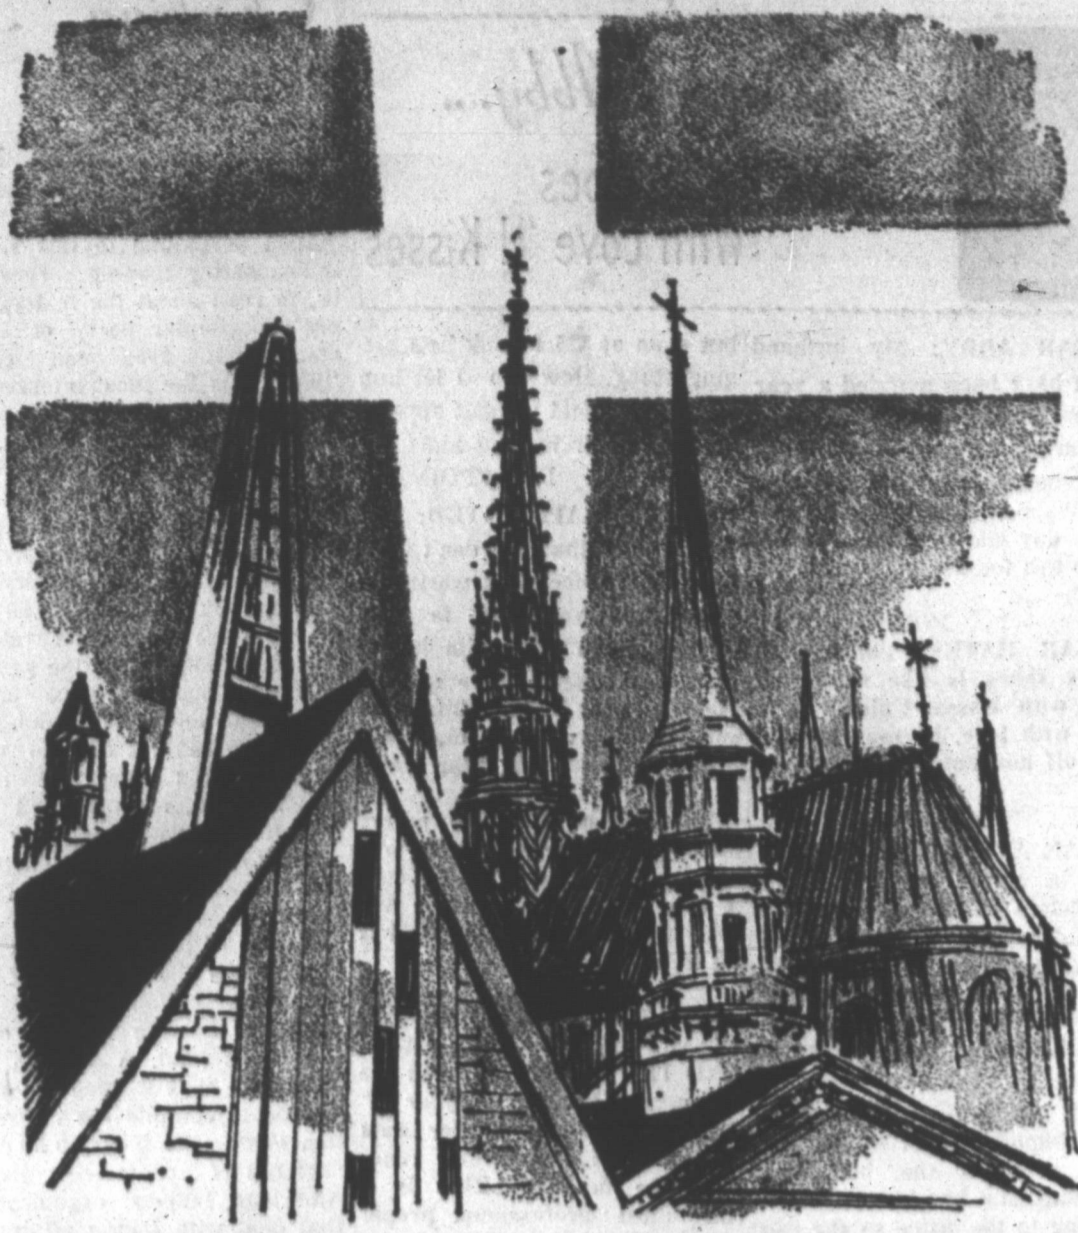

QUESTION: Is there any sensible reason why the funds which are collected from the taxpayers for Social Security should not be invested in blue chip common shares of stock in our leading corporations instead of in more government IOUs? Most of our union pension funds and leading educational institutions depending on endowment income have long since departed from the idea of investing a large part of their assets in government bonds.

ANSWER: The principal objection to placing Social Security or other government pension funds into shares of stock is that the governmental agency could gain control of the private businesses.

If the bureaucrats in charge of dispensing Social Security were to have voting stock worth hundreds of billions of dollars they could gain complete control of certain strategic business enterprises.

It would seem the more logical system would be to allow individuals to choose their own private insurance companies, of

As Almighty God, I greet you and over fifteen hundred editors and publishers throughout the world who will possess this letter. Our fame is growing with an accelerated pace.

Another year has rolled around. The seasons change, but My Son and I go on, eternally, striving to make a better world — free from fear.

It appears likely, the editors and publishers are all too eager to publish articles on "God is dead!" Would by fate, the editors and publishers would publish God is alive and well! Please print that I Am alive and breathing in My Son's flesh! Every atheist has a vicious repose from Me — which will only lead to their self-destruction!

I cordially invite you to write for further information on My Existence with My Son. I welcome the editors and publishers who adhere to My views — those who don't, will be swept along with the tide.

As Almighty God, I have dictated this letter to you through My blessed Son, who will only sign his name. As long as time remains, My Holy Name will never be put on paper.

Prayerfully yours,

When are we going to win this war in Vietnam?
When are we going to stop supplying our enemy with strategic materials?
In the Constitution it is "treason" when aid and comfort is given to the enemy.

When are people going to wake up and scream "bloody murder" and let the boys win this war. There is no substitute for victory.

It seems like a small bunch of lawmakers got together in a country to decide what kind of a law to pass to stop the so-called population explosion. This is a unique problem and the wise men ran into trouble from the start.

On close examination, there appears to be a difference in hog control, crop control, income control, and the control of how many children shall be born.

Child conception is a thing apart. It looked to the wise men kinda like the crime of arson. The public just isn't invited. Another thing about ovulation is that a child who is part of the problem, grows into a grown person, and that grown person gets to be a voter. Forbid that a voter should be cut off. So many of us have in the past suffered from a lack of voters, favorable ones especially.

It seems that the group found which there would be many competing for the insurance dollars. The danger of monopoly control would be lessened by the competitive firms diversifying their investment.

The Senators Kennedy Plan New Blasts on Vietnam Policy Of President, in Speeches Highlighting Civilian Casualties

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The Kennedy brothers are readying new verbal attacks against President Johnson's Vietnam policy.

The two-pronged assault, in post-Easter speeches by the senators, will spotlight the number of civilians being killed in the conflict — particularly in South Vietnam.

Principal theme of the Kennedy offensive will be that the toll of civilian casualties is making the American effort in South Vietnam questionable.

While Robert Kennedy, D-N. Y., renews his demands that U.S. suspend bombing of North Vietnam to try to get negotiations started, Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., will call on the President to halt or scale down air raids in South Vietnam to reduce civilian casualties.

The tragic, accidental bombing earlier this month of a village near the Laotian border, in which 83 civilians were killed and more than 200 wounded, will be cited by the younger Kennedy as one compelling reason for suspending these attacks.

For several weeks assistants of the Kennedys have been gathering data on civilian war deaths in South Vietnam from the Defense and State Departments, Central Intelligence Agency and refugee organizations in South Vietnam.

The results of this survey are being kept under wraps by the Kennedys, but they have dropped hints of their findings in recent speeches.

DEAD END — "We are terribly close to the point where our military actions threaten to work against the goals we seek," Edward Kennedy told a Massachusetts audience. "What can only follow now is a prolonged war resulting in continued death and destruction to civilians, with little military advantage as we adhere to our limited objectives, as we must."

"In this clash both sides are taking casualties," he continued. "But the civilian population is bleeding too, perhaps in numbers greater than their enemy."

Robert Kennedy struck the same note in a New York speech: "Let us not omit our own costs from the war's account," he declared. "This price is especially heavy among the civilians in South Vietnam. . . . Peace will depend on the strength of the nation we leave behind."

In their coming speeches the out how explosive the issue is, and they moved out faster than a nudist that has just dropped his hot coffee in his lap.

The explosion seems rather one-sided. Some statistics say that for every man who lives to be 80 years old, there are 8 women. (But it's too late then.) It is a pleasure to me and a service to the public in general to offer a simple remedy for this population thing. All the world needs to do to stop said population explosion is to eliminate the "Pop."

The Migration From the South

(Chicago Tribune)

The migration of southern farm workers to northern cities reportedly has been slackening, but a new surge of migrants is expected as a result of the amendments to the federal wage-hour law which became effective Feb. 1.

Under the new law agricultural workers must be paid at least $1 an hour. Mississippi cotton growers say their margin of profit is so low that they cannot afford to have much chopping done at such wages. Therefore they will make more use of chemical weed killers. The Delta council, an organization of planters, said thousands of workers would be replaced by the weed killers and by greater use of mechanical cotton pickers.

Some of the workers already have started to move north. Others are staying in rent-free cabins, subsisting on surplus farm commodities. They have been told they can expect almost no work this year.

For these people the new minimum wage law is hardly a benefit. Few of them have much education or any job skill except farm labor. In Chicago and other northern cities there is no market for farm labor. There is no market for Mississippi farm labor on the highly mechanized farms of Illinois.

But the migrants probably will do what hundreds of thousands of their predecessors have done — crowd into the slums of the northern cities. Many of them will be on relief as soon as they meet state residency requirements. Most of their children will be unprepared for classes in northern schools.

Many of the children will become discouraged and will drop out of school as soon as the law permits them to do so. After that they will join the ranks of the unemployables and, supported by relief payments, will begin to produce more children.

There is nothing new about this story; it has been going on for 20 or more years as the mechanization of southern agriculture destroyed millions of jobs. The movement north was one of the great migrations of history.

It developed so gradually, however, that it never was dealt with as a national problem. Instead, it was called a problem of the northern cities and they were upbraided for not being able to meet it. Middle class families by the thousands fled to the suburbs, leaving the newcomers in what soon became known as the "ghetto." Some racial agitators, clergymen, and social thinkers still talk as if all these troubles were caused deliberately by the public officials and "power structure" of the northern cities.

The troubles will not vanish overnight. They will get worse if Congress again raises the minimum wage and if economic pressures drive more southerners north. As citizens, they have a right to move wherever they please, but if possible they should be advised that the northern cities have no jobs for them. Better still, the federal government should help the southern states retrain displaced farm workers. Retrain-committee assignment an issue.

SPARKS — A bipartisan group of 38 senators have joined Senator James Pearson, R-Kans., in pressing legislation for a board study of efficiency in government agencies. The Pearson measure would set up a body patterned after the Hoover Commission to uncover overlapping and wasted effort. Pearson holds a new commission is needed because of the vast growth of government since the Hoover group submitted its report in 1955. . . . Changes in the composition of the Senate Banking & Currency Committee have increased the possibility of action this year on the truth-in-lending bill. The deadlock between its foremost advocate, former Senator Paul Douglas, D-Ill., and its leading opponent, former Senator A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., no longer prevails. Both were defeated last year. Two of the committee's newest members — Senators Edward Brooke, R-Mass., and Charles Percy, R-Ill. — have indicated they favor the legislation. Senator William Proxmire, D-Wis., chairman of a subcommittee who has reintroduced the bill, plans to hold hearings in April.

ing in the south would be more humane and less expensive than keeping them on relief in northern cities.

Chicago has taken all the southern farm workers that it can hope to assimilate in the next 25 years.

Wearing Dentures at Night

Is Matter of Own Tolerance

From Portland, Ore., R. G. Helden, D.M.D., writes that patients are ill-advised to sleep with their dentures in. He believes that gum tissue requires rest to repair itself from damage inflicted on it by artificial dentures.

This reasoning is valid for some, but most patients seem to be able to tolerate continual wearing of their dentures. They feel more comfortable with them in, and it seems that facial contours are better maintained by constant wearing.

If you prefer wearing your dentures at night but are concerned about possible chronic gum irritation, consult your dentist. An examination of your mouth should clearly indicate your degree of tolerance.

One proper Boston lady said: ". . . removing my teeth at bed time is just too undignified. Suppose a robber came and saw me that way?"

From Pittsburgh, Pa., L. J. Karageorge, D.D.S., writes, ". . . I enjoy reading your articles because you write about things I daily preach to my patients."

"Recently, though, in explaining numbness of the jaw you wrote that our bodies are 'bilaterally symmetrical.' That is not so. You just don't know what you are. You are a bilateral, metameric, triploblastic, coelomocoeous animal with a calcareous endoskeleton and an underlying mantle divisible into head, foot and visceral regions. You and I and everyone else on this earth has three faces whether he likes it or not."

Well, well, doctor. You have completely ignored the teachings of that great philosopher, Prof. Zuvelidreoch, who said ". . . ve al haf swei ears, zwi eyes, zwi chin, zwi arms and legs, und efen zwi souls, right und left maybe. . . or right und wrong. . . ."

From Albuquerque, N. M., another dentist writes, "I read with special interest your column on T. M. joint disturbances." Then he goes on to say that many body ills come from teeth that don't come together harmoniously. He and his group maintain that faulty bite can cause tightening of jaw muscles which can cause muscle spasms in other body areas and have a chain reaction, thus further causing headaches, backaches, insomnia, constipation, fatigue, nausea, leg weakness, sinus trouble, and more. By adjusting the bite, he claims to have cured these and, also, pigeon breast, nosebleeds, temper fits and nervousness, and stopped bed-wetting, improved hearing, reduced constipation, and one young patient who was "slow in school now is at the head of his class."

Patients with T.M. joint problems often acquire "neurological symptoms" but this estimate of cures is perhaps too enthusiastic.

Please send your questions about Dental Health to Dr. Lawrence in care of this paper. While he cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

The Girl From U.N.C.L.E. Powers Leads the Best Of Her Real, TV Lives

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Stefanie Powers, "The Girl From U.N.C.L.E.," leads the best of two lives — wife and television star.

She has been married for six months to actor Gary Lockwood, a big rugged individualist, and shines in her own comedy-drama adventure series.

As Mrs. Lockwood she is the mistress of two homes, one in Beverly Hills and the other in the Malibu mountains. Additionally, the couple has a flat in London.

Still in her early 20s, Stefanie is devoted to the new mod styles. She picks the wardrobe for her characterization of April Dancer which is almost indistinguishable from her own — except that her closet is stocked with haute couture by Yves St. Laurent.

With the aid of a professional decorator Stefanie has furnished her Beverly Hills home in country French. It has three bedrooms, a den, living room and dining room. The den is Gary's and wood paneled.

If Stefanie's work schedule at MGM is heavy, commonly from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m., there are compensations.

She has a full-time housekeeper who has dinner prepared when she arrives home. And in a pinch Stefanie can find her way around the kitchen with little or no trouble. She is particularly proud of a Spanish dish, paella, which she cooks with dispatch.

Gary, a onetime UCLA furbuck, is gung-ho sports enthusiast. On weekends and winter vacations he heads for the snow with Stefanie at his side.

Stefanie is an accomplished skier, but Gary is better. On ski weekends the family dogs, Fritz and Ziggi, a pair of dachshunds, and Mate, a Doberman, remain at home. But they're taken along to the Malibu cabin when the Lockwoods remain in Southern California.

Their favorite spa is Dodge Ridge near Modesto, Calif., a 6½ mile drive from Beverly Hills. Gary races there behind the wheel of one of the couple's four cars — two English sports models an Italian racer and an American station wagon.

Why four automobiles? "Because we like variety," Stefanie answers.

Still and all, like most young females, Stefanie's abiding passion is fashionable clothes.

"I wear pants a great deal of the time," she says, "both on the show and off. And all my skirts are mini skirts. I think they're terrific."

On Stefanie they are indeed.

Robertson Rightfully Iron Horse Master

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — On television Dale Robertson is the master of "The Iron Horse," while in person all the horses in his life are strictly the flesh and blood variety.

Robertson, who talks as if he had a mouthful of hot corn bread, lives on a modest 10-acre ranch where he raises 31 quarter horses for racing and riding.

The house is a roomy 5,500 square feet of living space, complete with three bedrooms and servants quarters. There is a den for Dale in which he keeps a valuable saddle, a couple of card tables and a horse library of 3,300 toms.

He also collects firearms but keeps them in the stable area. The western star has been married to his wife, Lula Mae, for almost eight years. They have a daughter, Rebel Lea, 6. Robertson is also the father of a 14-year-old daughter by a previous marriage.

Lula Mae has furnished the house in the four years they've lived there in a variety of styles: colonial, antique, early American — the works.

"We figure it's a comfortable mixture of many things reflecting our tastes and preferences over the years," says Dale.

Little Rebel is fond of pets. The result is a small menagerie including a goat, two cats, five dogs and a bird, not counting the quail and pheasant which hang around the spread.

There's a swimming pool, to be sure, and air conditioning for the house which is located in Chatsworth, a particularly hot section of the San Fernando valley.

Long Day
Three wranglers break and train the horses while Robertson is off making his series during the week for ABC-TV. Most of the adventure drama is shot at Columbia Studios ranch or at Thousand Oaks, Calif. Either way it is about a half-hour drive for Robertson who's on the set by 7:30 a.m. and not home until 8 p.m.

Occasionally cast and crew head for location shooting in Sonora, some 500 miles north of Hollywood.

The heavy work schedule suits Robertson. On weekends instead of taking it easy, more often than not he is off for a personal appearance in some other part of the country.

These appearances are profitable and help promote the show.

The Robertson social-life is restricted to a couple of big formal parties during the holiday season. The rest of the year people drop in to visit and stay for dinner.

Actor Robertson is an informal guy. He likes to wear old ranch clothes around the house and goes barefoot whenever possible. He owns enough suits and sports jackets to be presentable for any occasion. But Lula Mae and Dale rarely dine out or attend parties.

Dame Margot Fonteyn Is Signed by Dallas Opera

The celebrated ballerina Dame Margot Fonteyn has been signed by Dallas Civic Opera to star in two performances of Henry Purcell's "Faerie Queen" Nov. 22 and 25.

Appearing with her in the ballet will be Attilio Labis, principal dancer and maitre de ballet of the Paris Opera.

Fonteyn and Labis were partnered for "Faerie Queen" when it premiered in Kansas City last spring.

The ballet work will be the second part of a triple bill for Dallas Civic Opera, which also will include Cimarosa's short opera "Maestro di Capella," starring Sesto Bruscantini, and another yet-to-be-announced one-act opera.

Margot Fonteyn is the reigning prima ballerina assoluta of the world and long the leading star of England's Royal Ballet. She first came to the United States in 1949 on tour with the Sadlers Wells (now the Royal) Ballet and made her only previous Dallas appearances in November, 1960, dancing "Swan Lake" and "Sleeping Beauty" excerpts.

Subsequent U. S. tours have brought consistent rave reviews and announcement of her appearances in every metropolitan center of the world has immediately sold out houses months in advance.

Of late Dame Margot has danced with Rudolf Nureyev on stage and screen. She has appeared with him in all of the major ballet capitals, in the Royal Ballet film, and at the inaugural gala of President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Labis was last seen in Dallas in DCO's 1964 "Tribute in Dance" to President Kennedy, appearing with French ballerina Yvette Chauvire in the "Daphnis et Chloe" pas de deux.

Largest Oilfield Auction Brings In Record $2 Million

Over 500 buyers from the United States, Canada and Mexico met in Odessa, March 21 to set new records in oilfield auction. This was the second and final sale of Phillips Petroleum Company's Drilling rigs and related equipment. Both sales were conducted by Nelson Auction Service, Inc., 4484 Canyon Drive, Amarillo.

The first sale, held in Borger, March 14, brought over $1.5 million, including $385,000 for rig 27, the highest price ever paid for a drilling rig at auction. Dual Drilling Co., Wichita Falls, purchased the rig, which is famous for having drilled the deepest hole in the world. It is 62,000 feet deep, drilling a 22,000-foot hole in location near Cor-f. hole. Dual entered into a day - rate drilling contract with Phillips.

Two other big land rigs, currently in use, brought a total of $342,500. Heimerich & Payne, Inc., Tulsa, bought Rig 45 for $180,000, and Brinkerhoff Drilling Co., Denver, Colo., bought Rig 18 for $162,500. Both companies entered into daywork contracts with Phillips.

Rig 45 is drilling a confirmation try near Mobeetie, Rig 18 is on a 15,700 ft. hole in Bridger Lake Field, Summit County, Utah.

The Odessa sale brought in excess of $300,000 to place the total of the combined sales in the $2 million figure.

Included in the Odessa sale were rigs 47 and 30, drill collars and related equipment. Over 57,636 ft. of drill pipe was sold which established a new "all time high."

Phillips Income For 1966 Tops Company Record

Phillips Petroleum Company's 1966 consolidated net income reached a new record of $151,600,000 stockholders were told in the company's annual report to shareholders issued recently. Excluding a non-recurring gain of $7,100,000, earnings in 1966 were $144,500,000 compared with $127,700,000 in 1965, an increase of 13 per cent and earnings per share were $4.31 in 1966 compared with $3.83 in 1965.

"Among important factors in the earnings growth," the report said, "brought about by expenditures of recent years, were higher production of crude oil both in the U. S. and abroad, rises in gas and natural gas liquids production, increased sales of petroleum products, and greater sales of chemicals and related products. Improved petroleum product prices also were a factor." The company's world-wide production of crude oil and natural gas liquids increased 8 per cent. Crude production outside the United States increased 19 per cent, and equalled 45 per cent of the company's total oil production. World-wide petroleum products sales volume increased 15 per cent.

The Phillips report lists 16 new chemical manufacturing projects completed in 1966 by the company and its principal affiliates, and 29 more new chemical plants or plant expansions under construction at year end. These chemical expansion projects completed or under way during the year are in 15 countries and provide for manufacture of numerous basic and intermediate chemicals.

Expansion and diversification in fabricated plastic products, synthetic fibers, packaging and related products also was reported by Phillips in the U. S. and abroad. Construction was started on an 80 per cent inter-

SHAREHOLDERS — A Halliburton Company mechanic and Mrs. Ira Hutcherson of Pampa happily beam as they look at the latest figures in their benefit fund booklet.

Halliburton Employees Given Share Booklets

Halliburton Co. employees from Pampa had dollar signs for dessert at a luncheon last Monday.

Employees received newly-revised booklets showing the number of shares each owns in the Fund, a company profit sharing plan. The fund, which now has assets of more than $90 million, is primarily a retirement program with certain life insurance features.

Company executives from Wichita, Kan., Tulsa, and the firm's general offices in Duncan, Okla., attended the ceremonies.

Road Taxes To Cost Drivers $145 Per Year

DALLAS — Special state and federal road taxes in 1965 cost the average Texan highway driver an average of $145 a year, according to a compilation published today by Texas Mid Continent Oil & Gas Association.

The levies on auto owners cost Texans a total of $800,372,000, the report showed. State road taxes alone cost $448,223,000 of which 52 per cent was accounted for by the five cents a gallon state tax on motor fuel.

"The proposal now before the Texas Legislature to increase the Texas gasoline tax a cent a gallon would raise this average substantially. The petroleum industry is on record opposing such increases, unless there is a demonstrated and urgent need for such funds to build highways rather than for spending on non-highway programs," said Charles E. Simons, Association executive vice president.

Pampan Named PNGC Manager

AMARILLO — Charles Kenneth Vaughan, 29, has been named Manager at Dalhart, for Pioneer Natural Gas Company, according to an announcement by M. B. Edquist, vice president. Distribution, Vaughan will replace H. Lynn Thomas, who has resigned.

Vaughan was employed in 1961 as Distribution Office Clerk at Lubbock and he had served in this same capacity at Amarillo before assuming his present position as Chief Clerk, Distribution, at Pampa.

He holds a BA degree from West Texas State University with a major in Management. While a student at West Texas, he was for three years a part-time employee of Pioneer's Conveyance Office. He has served in the United States Army and is presently a member of the National Guard Reserve.

Vaughan is a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Pampa and has served on the Board of Directors. He is likewise active in the Pampa Chamber of Commerce and United Fund of Pampa.

He and his wife, Barbara, have a five months old daughter, Julie, and will be moving to Dalhart about April 1, 1967.

Computer Assisted Occupational Guidance Debuts

By DWIGHT I. SMITH
 United Press International
 DALLAS (UPI) — A ninth-grade student sits down before a large green machine which begins to flash color slides at him, issue instructions and ask questions with a voice from a speaker. The student responds by hitting keys on a typewriter-like keyboard.

This student is receiving job information and advice, more detailed and more personalized than any guidance counselor could give him, from a computer thousands of miles away. All this is part of a demonstration presaged at the American Personnel and Guidance Association's annual convention being held in Dallas through Thursday.

The demonstration is the work of Computer Assisted Occupational Guidance (CAOG), developed by the department of vocational education at Pennsylvania State University.

The green machine, called a "terminal," which can be set up anywhere, is connected by telephone to a computer at Penn State.

Numerous Occupations
 The computer is programmed with information on some 40 occupations by four classifications: what is done in the job, what it takes to get the job, the immediate future in the job (salary, opportunity for advancement, etc.), and the long-range prospects of the job.

The machine is then programmed with the result of a battery of aptitude tests given the student, and with information concerning the student's interests.

When the session begins, the machine, through color slides, and tape-recordings is asked a few general questions, like, "Do you want to work alone, with people, or some of each?"

The student replies by hitting an indicated key on the keyboard.

The student is given a list of 40 occupations prior to the session, and each job has a corresponding number beside it.

He is then asked what specific occupations he would like information on. The student pushes the corresponding number on the keyboard.

Explains Situation
 The terminal then begins showing the student what is done in the job, what working conditions are like, and how the job corresponds to his aptitudes, interests and his answers to the earlier questions.

This is done by slides and people working in the job.

The system is currently aimed at the ninth-grader because he is at the point where he must make a decision that he could well be forced to stick with the rest of his life."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson has designated April 23 as the start of youth temperance education week.

Johnson said in a proclamation: Friday Americans should pause to consider how they may help youngsters "develop a moral and spiritual strength proudly to accept the challenge to build a better future for all mankind."

Leukemia is an overgrowth of white cells in the blood.

By passing a beam of ultraviolet light through a prism, Sir Isaac Newton showed that white light is a combination of the seven colors of the rainbow.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Justice Hugo L. Black of the U.S. Supreme Court is "feeling fine" and has no intention of retiring, his office reports.

The 81-year-old jurist's aides, responding to a published report Black planned to retire Aug. 17 on the 30th anniversary of his Senate confirmation, said they asked him if the report was true and he replied "wholly and completely no."

First Union victory in the War Between the States was the battle of Philippi, June 3, 1861.
