Historic Summit Talks Underway

Uruguay Orders Tightened Security

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (UPI) — President Johnson and 18 other American presidents opened their unprecedented summit meeting informally today under new and severe security conditions.

Police and national guardsmen sealed off the San Rafael Hotel entrance and allowed no one but the presidents and their aides to enter. The initial session started at 11:06 a.m. (8:06 a.m. CST).

Railroads, Unions Have 20 Days To Reach Settlement

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The railroads and six shopcraft unions were on notice today that Congress will be called in again if they fail to come up with a contract in the three weeks of grace the lawmakers have granted.

The warning was issued late Tuesday by President Johnson as he prepared to sign a congressional resolution extending to May 3 the no-strike provisions of the National Railway Labor Act.

Congress passed the resolution earlier in the day and sent it by jet courier to Punta Del Este, Uruguay, where Johnson was conferring with Latin American heads of state.

China to End Harassment Of Supplies

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Russia and China appear to have worked out procedures to eliminate friction between them over shipments of Soviet war materials to North Vietnam, U.S. officials report.

It was speculated that the agreement might involve having North Vietnamese meet the supplies at the Soviet-Chinese border and shepherd them through the Chinese countryside to Vietnam.

All newsmen and most staff members of the Organization of American States (OAS), sponsoring the historic conference, were turned away.

Bob Fleming, assistant press secretary for President Johnson, said the United States news corp had been allotted seven passes for entry into the building. More than 2,000 newsmen are covering the summit.

The tightened security measures apparently were ordered by the host Uruguay government but details were not made public.

Richard Schroeder of Washington, OAS press coordinator, said he did not know who ordered the blockade of the hotel conference site, but added, "I can't do anything about it."

Johnson and the other presidents, in perhaps the most important talks ever to take place between the United States and its neighbors, had as their principal goal formation of a common market extending from the Straits of Magellan to the Rio Grande.

This morning's informal talks were aimed at smoothing out differences as to how that goal could best be achieved.

Johnson planned to devote his morning to more of the hand-shaking and shirt-sleeve diplomacy which he practiced so energetically Tuesday.

RED-CARPET WELCOME that included a pat on the cheek from Mrs. Johnson, and high praise for his diplomatic work from the president, awaited Vice President Humphrey's return from Europe to Washington. Humphrey acknowledged the hero's salute by saying the "open door" may replace the Iron Curtain in Europe within a generation.

Pampa Gets Share Of April Showers

When it starts it doesn't seem to want to stop and that's alright with farmers in the Pampa area.

We're speaking of course, of the rain that area farmers are calling a "million dollar wind-fall."

Since early Tuesday morning Pampa received 1.65 inches of moisture and more is on the way tonight, according to the Amarillo Weather Bureau.

Pampa caught .85 of an inch of the wet stuff from about 3:30 a.m. Tuesday to 2:12 p.m. yesterday and .75 of an inch during the night.

Wheeler reported 1.80 inches since yesterday afternoon with 1.49 of that falling since 11 o'clock last night.

Fog blanketed the city today and most of Tuesday, making travel hazardous.

As electrical thunderstorm had residents watching the clouds Tuesday night and all Gray County was under a severe thunderstorm alert until 10 p.m.

Hail fell from Amarillo to just outside White Plains but never made it to Pampa.

Rainfall throughout the area was general although Pampa reported the largest amount in the Panhandle area.

A new cold front expected in the Panhandle by nightfall was to set off more thunderstorms. Two twisters churned around Hereford, in the Panhandle, just before dusk Tuesday.

Faith Is Kept; Powell Elected

NEW YORK (UPI)—Baby, they kept the faith! By a smashing 86 per cent of the vote, the people of Harlem have tossed the controversial Adam Clayton Powell case right back into the lap of Congress. And today it was Rep-elect Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., once again.

Effortlessly and overwhelmingly, Powell was elected Tuesday to the House seat he has held for the past 22 years. The special election was called after the House voted last March to exclude Powell for the remainder of the 90th Congress.

The turnout was light but the mandate of the voters to the Congress was unmistakable. In some of the clearest language known to politicians—raw votes—the people of Harlem said they want Powell seated.

Unofficial final returns gave Powell 27,900 votes, compared to a meager combined total of 4,518 for his opposition. Mrs. Lucille Pickett Williams, a comely 50-year-old Republican grandmother got 4,091 votes, and the Rev. Erwin F. Yearling, a Baptist minister running as a Conservative, got 427 votes.

In Washington, a spot check of House members indicated no pronounced shift in sentiment on the Powell question. However, there was speculation that the Democratic leadership might try to drum up support for his readmission within the next week.

It was also considered possible that Powell himself would pass up the opportunity of asking the House to seat him, choosing instead to concentrate his efforts for readmission on the courts.

A federal judge in Washington has thrown out Powell's case, arguing that because of the principles of separation of powers the judiciary has no power to direct the internal operations of the legislative branch of government. Powell's attorneys have appealed and it is likely the Supreme Court eventually will rule on the issue.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The trucking industry lifted its nationwide lockout against the Teamsters Union early today, and officials said idled trucks should be rolling again within a few hours.

City Official Tells Businessmen Pampa Parking Meters Must Go

About 70 Pampans learned last night Pampa city commissioners have the "power to make or break this town and keep the downtown area from becoming a ghost town."

Adolph Schwartz, chairman of Downtown Big Spring Inc., made the statement during his address to city officials and businessmen attending a parking seminar at the Pampa Country Club.

The seminar, sponsored by the Downtown Business Association of Pampa, was a result of the association's survey of 40 Texas cities' efforts to solve parking problems.

New Base Aids Planes

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. heavy bombers bolstered by a new "next door" airbase today for the fifth straight day smashed Communist forces threatening South Vietnam's northern provinces.

The jet B52 Stratofortresses, which began operating from a Thailand airbase Sunday, pounded targets in the dense jungles where North Vietnamese troops have been building up supplies and launching attacks of growing force.

Before dawn, with the Stratofortresses roaring overhead, one Communist guerrilla band sneaked out of the green forests and lobbed 30 to 40 mortar shells into the giant U.S. Marine airbase at Chu Lai. The 20-minute barrage killed two Americans and wounded 45.

The Communists fled as Marines drove out to silence them. The hit-and-run attack followed Thursday's stunning four-battalion attack on Quang Tri City where the Communists stormed in and released about 250 prisoners from jail.

The Stratofortresses, which can carry upwards of 60,000 pounds of bombs each, concentrated their attacks on a valley jutting into South Vietnam from the Laos border. The valley is a major infiltration route, storehouse and guerrilla springboard. Communist attacks in the area proved so heavy that a year ago the U.S. Army Special Forces

Four McLean Women Killed, Pampan Hurt In Two-Car Smashup

McLEAN — This city of 1500 was still in a state of shock today over the loss of four of their residents in a grinding two-car collision Tuesday near Perryton.

Services for all the victims have been set for tomorrow under direction of Lamb Funeral Home and all services will be held in McLean's Methodist Church.

Another resident was listed in critical condition in the intensive care unit at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo.

Mrs. Elton Wyatt, 58, one of two survivors in the accident, wife of the pastor of the McLean Methodist Church, was said to be "better, but still in critical condition."

The other survivor, Joe Curtis, 43, of 1917 Williston, secretary-treasurer of Curtis Well Servicing Company, was listed in fair condition in Ochiltree General Hospital.

The dead were listed as: Mrs. J. L. Andrews, 63, Mrs. J. E. Kirby, 75, Mrs. J. L. Hess Sr., 60, and Miss Beulah (Cleo) Pope, 60, all of McLean.

The women, who had been to a Women's Society of Christian Service convention in Gruver, were killed south of Perryton at the intersection of Farm to Market Road 759 and State Highway 70. It was believed a heavy rain was falling.

Highway patrol said the car in which the women were riding was registered to J. E. Kirby and Mrs. Kirby was believed to be driving.

Trooper Bob Richardson said the women were going east on the farm road and Curtis, who suffered a broken rib, was traveling north on 70 when the accident occurred.

Authorities said the McLean women ordinarily would have turned right at the intersection to go to McLean and it was not apparent that they had attempted to turn. The stop sign at the intersection was on the farm road.

It was reported the roads were slick and there were no skid marks from either direction after the accident, the Trooper said.

A Pampa woman miraculously escaped the tragedy. Mrs. Dusty Rhoades had gone to the meeting with the five other women.

After the luncheon, he will speak in Dalhart at the CoC office, 2-4 p.m., and in Spearman at 8 p.m., at the Farm Bureau office.

ANNIVERSARY CAKE — On a table appointed with satin floor-length cloth and two dozen yellow roses, a floral tribute from the Pampa Fine Arts Association, Mrs. Irl Smith, president of the Altrusa Club of Pampa, cuts the first slice of cake for guests attending the 50th anniversary celebration of Altrusa International.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

Altrusans Toasted For Service Years

The 50th anniversary of Altrusa International was toasted by members and guests of the Pampa Altrusa Club during a Golden Anniversary Banquet last night in the Coronado Inn.

Lifting glasses in tribute to the international club's 50-year record of service and to the Pampa club's 14 1/2-year service record, George B. Cree Jr., representing the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, toasted members as "lady pioneers . . . mapmakers . . . lamp-lighters . . . American business and professional women who are guiding lights for the many thousands yet to appear. Congratulations," he said, "for a job well done and the eagerness to attempt that role in the future."

Greetings from Mayor Jim Nation lauded the club on its "past accomplishments to be used as a basis for greater accomplishments."

In response, Morris Wilson, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, commended the club on its co-sponsorship with the Jaycees of the annual Career Clinic and pledged continued support "in every way possible."

Mrs. Irl Smith, Altrusa president, read a message from Mrs. Lucile S. Alexander, president of Altrusa International, Inc., prepared to be read at birthday celebrations around the world, which stated in part "let us continue to add important new milestones as we climb upward and outward through the years . . . for only then will we experience altruism in its fullest sense."

The message concluded "I ask that you hold fast to the Altrusa dream . . . the world needs it."

"Days and Ways of Altrusa" was outlined by Mrs. Lorene O. Locke, Golden Anniversary chairman as she traced the history of Altrusa from April 11, 1917, to the present time comparing it with historical and significant events through the years.

A musical interlude was presented by the "Miami Stompers" with Mack Hiatt as master of ceremonies. Special solos, including an Irish song and "Anytime," was sung by Rufe Jordan.

A presentation of a "Key to Service" by Mrs. Locke to Mayor Nation concluded the program as members and guests joined hands and sang "Auld Lang Syne," followed by benediction given by Mrs. Lora Dunn, incoming president of the Altrusa Club of Pampa.

Special guests included Mr. Mrs. Joe Tooley of the Noon Lions Club; Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Pennick of the Evening Lions Club; Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Conway of the Top of Texas Kiwanis Club; Mrs. and Mrs. M. Q. Wilson of the Rotary Club; Mr. and Mrs. Tex DeWeese and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Power of the Pampa Daily News; and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Owens of Borger.

Brief Agenda To Face Trustees

One of the briefest agendas of the current school year is outlined for the Pampa Independent School Trustee meeting tomorrow morning.

Canvassing of returns in the April 1 school board election and seating of the two victors, incumbent John Gikas and "first-timer" John R. Spearman will be the first order of business.

Board members will take under consideration the requests of Pampa's two radio stations KGRO and KPDM, to be designated as "the official radio station for broadcasting of school activities for the 1967-68 school year."

Trustees will be asked to select a delinquent tax attorney in keeping with the present policy of Pampa schools to select an attorney for two years on odd-numbered years. Don Lane, assistant city attorney, has filled this position for the past six years.

Other agenda items include approval of an application to the Texas Education Agency for one unit in Vocational Office Education for the 1967-68 school year and discussion regarding the Texas Association of School Boards Regional Workshop to be held April 20 at West Texas State University.

The board will consider scheduling a date for the next meeting of the board to visit with Herb Brasher of Lubbock, school architect.

Trustees will also discuss continuing participation as a Title I Panhandle Educational Services Organization school for the 1967-68 school year.

Former Pampa Woman Killed In Auto Crash

Services have been set for 2 p.m. Thursday for a former Pampa woman, killed Tuesday in a car collision in Amarillo.

Services will be held in Carmichael - Whatley Colonial Chapel for Mrs. Imogene Burnett, 24, of Amarillo, formerly of Pampa.

Mrs. Burnett, who moved to Amarillo just over a year ago, was killed about 4:50 p.m. Tuesday when the car she was driving went off the road and plowed into an embankment, about one-half mile east of the city limits of Amarillo.

Captain Robert J. Tritton of the Salvation Army will officiate and burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Survivors include her husband, Ron, of the home; four daughters, Teresa, Terri, Sheri and Ronda, all of the home; her mother, Mrs. S. C. Tennyson, Pampa; her father, K. R. Smith, Stratford; one brother, Charles Smith, Pampa; two sisters, Mrs. Mildred Vickery, Pampa, and Mrs. Inez Willingham, Shamrock, Okla.

Mrs. Burnett's husband works for Southwestern Investment Company of Amarillo and formerly worked for the company's office in Pampa.

Parking

be penalized and put out of business.

To continue as Pampa is now, with meters and no free parking, would cause the city to lose revenue, for tax properly valuations would go down, he said.

In Big Spring, city officials and businessmen agreed to forego federal aid and carry the load themselves to finance a pilot project.

They assessed themselves one-third of their ad valorem taxes and had no written pledges, because they "could see the handwriting on the wall," he said.

The Big Spring Downtown Business group borrowed $90,500 with four per cent interest. The indebtedness is down now to $20,000, and is being paid off because Big Spring residents "have faith in their city and want to see it grow," Schwartz said.

The city has "policed parking" because this gives more authority to parking tickets. A motorcycle policeman patrols the city all day.

A two-hour free parking limit is given and tickets are given for over-parking.

Schwartz stressed and Davidson agreed that a project to eliminate parking problems can not be done without the cooperation of city hall officials and the entire community.

The Lawton report, given by Kirk Duncan, agreed completely with Schwartz's prescription for solving parking problems.

All speakers indicated these approaches are not a cure-all and have no magic, but have been tried and have been successful in towns that are similar to Pampa in city problems.

Alcoholics Don't Have to Worry; If Food Is Right

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — A university of Texas scientist said today if the drinking person won't have to worry about becoming an alcoholic, "During the years when alcoholism is slowly creeping up on an individual, he or she is consistently violating the rules of good nutrition." Dr. Roger J. Williams, director of the university's Clayton Foundation Biochemical Institute, said, "Williams, speaking at the seventh annual nutrition seminar in Phoenix, said 'obeying the rules of good nutrition will prevent alcoholism from appearing.' He said prolonged consumption of alcohol damages the appetite center in the brain, resulting in a craving for alcohol and a revulsion to food. Minimum nutrition requirements have been established, taking individual differences into account, he said so that the only safe way to avoid alcoholism is through the right diet, Williams said.

Washington Report

By CARROLL RIGHTER

Following the Easter recess, the House Agriculture Committee on which I serve, resumed hearings on legislation dealing with supplemental financing for Rural Electric and Rural Telephone crop borrowers.

The REA program as set up by Congress in 1936, has helped to bring electricity to over 96 percent of the farms of the nation.

This phenomenal success story is the result of the combined efforts and resources of the rural electric cooperatives which serve about 51 percent of the farms, the investor-owned electric utilities, which serve 43 percent of the farms and the municipal and other governmental systems which serve 6 percent of the farms of America.

Now that almost all of rural America has electricity, the problem is to meet the ever-growing demand for more and more electricity. Statistics show that for the last several decades, demand for electricity has doubled every ten years. There is nothing to indicate that this growth rate will not continue.

It has become evident to most people interested in this matter that the rural electric cooperatives are going to need funds for capital investment to meet future needs. Some of the cooperatives assisted by Federal programs have grown strong. They are capable of securing all their needed capital at the fair market rate through normal channels. They, therefore, no longer required Federal subsidies.

Other cooperatives, unfortunately, still need help from the Federal government. How this assistance should be provided is where the controversy begins.

A bill, H.R. 1400, introduced early in this session by Congressman Bob Poage, who is chairman of the committee, includes the provisions of two bills which were discussed by a subcommittee headed by Poage last year.

The full committee held extensive hearings on these bills and then referred them back to Mr. Poage's subcommittee for further study. The subcommittee, however, failed to approve a modified version of the two bills by a tie vote of 5 to 5 and following that vote was unsuccessful in making changes that would be acceptable to a majority of the committee.

As you may imagine, the proposal now under consideration by the full committee, is both a complex and important piece of legislation.

Because of the disagreement expressed by many who have testified during the hearings, I would like to point out some of the major areas of controversy and some of the vital policy questions that must be faced and answered one way or another as the hearings progress.

The first question that arises is one of jurisdiction. It involves the question whether the rural electric borrowers should be permitted to expand and acquire customers in non-rural areas. If the answer to this question is yes, then the next question is to what degree and to what limit should this acquisition and expansion be permitted.

The second question arises as to the availability of capital for generation and transmission operations by REA borrowers. Private power companies appear worried that REA is embarked upon a program of displacing their traditional domination of the generation and transmission industry. Any bill that we deal with will have to settle this question.

The third question arises on the types of loans which the bank may make and the interest rates at which these loans will be available to borrowers. If the bank is to be structured on a business-like basis, the question arises immediately as to whether the bank can borrow, to whether the bank can borrow money on the open market at six per cent and lend it at four per cent, the intermediate loan interest rate provided for in H.R. 1400. The committee must decide as a matter of policy whether the bank is to be set up on a subscribed basis or whether it will be completely structured to be a self-supporting operation.

A fourth question arises as to the public's stake in the capital that has been advanced to the bank by the government. Under the terms of the bill, some $750 million will be appropriated to the bank over the next 15 years. The question then is how is that $750 million to be repaid and when, and at what interest, if any. As you can see, the existence of an intermediate loan program at four per cent will have a direct bearing on whether the government seed capital on a regularly scheduled basis and at some interest.

The fifth question arises in regard to the public's obligation to back up the debentures and other securities that are issued by the bank to raise additional capital. Under the terms of the bill, there is "Treasury back-up" on the bank's debentures; that is, if the debentures could not be paid by the bank, the U.S. Treasury would stand behind them and repay the amounts invested by the investing public together with the accumulated interest.

There are, of course, a number of other issues involved in the bill; it is indeed a very complex and technical piece of legislation, but it seems to me that these are the central issues that the committee will have to meet as we go along, and I hope you will all feel free to contact me and let me know your feelings on this bill.

Until next week, best regards,

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A wonderful day and evening for you. Sparkle with all kinds of brilliant ideas by which you are able to plan the future more constructively and to show the various persons with whom you are connected that you have executive ability and can handle each of them with verve and with special understanding.

ARRIENS (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Out shopping for whatever you vitally need or gathering information from right sources early. Keep any appointments on time and come right to the point. Entertainment should be relegated to the evening.

BALEBIS (Apr. 20 to May 20) — A more active approach is required to promotional affairs if you want to increase abundance with alacrity. Forewarn. Confer with some intelligent business person. Ask for advice that can be very profitable.

GENIUS (May 21 to June 21) — Since you know what your aims are, a more direct approach is necessary if you are to gain them. Listen to what interesting new personalities have to say. They can open new, often closed doors of opportunity to you. Be candid.

MOON (JULIENS: June 22 to July 22) — Concentrate early on how to stimulate that anxiety that has been holding you back. Think along more romantic lines. Also, make your life much happier. Use May 22 to Aug. 21 — Your mind is filled with many excellent ideas but if you do nothing about them they are lost forever, avail yourself of them. Be very encouraging to some new contact who could fit into your most ambitious picture for the future.

LEO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — That one you admire is in a very receptive mood today, so make romantic hay while the sun shines, as it were. Be sure you get your duties attended, however, and do not forget to pay bills. Be dynamic. LEO (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) — You understand what associates desire of you and vice versa and can get their support by being thoughtful. Current better relations and get business ball rolling nicely. Dive into some good hobby tonight. Allow it some good hobby tonight, something new.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 24) — You have the energy and the enthusiasm to get work handled in a most clever and efficient way. Do so. Avoid the evening before getting into pleasure activities. Duties come first — be sensible. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 25 to Dec. 25) — Moving is best for showing your finest skills, getting things done. Then entertain visiting bigwigs or salespersons. Closest tie will gladly go along with you on some big job you have in mind.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 26 to Jan. 26) — Get right to work on those fascinating duties ahead of you and then start angling for some big personal aim and succeed in it. Don't break your promises to co-workers. They are vital to your scheme of things.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 27 to Feb. 27) — Some particular kind of recreation that appeals should be delved into now, but don't forget to invite a mate to go along with you. That particular skill you possess should be employed to gain fine aims. Be ambitious. PISCES (Feb. 28 to Mar. 29) — You may have to take a few chances in order to get home matters on a more ideal basis, but it will be infinitely worthwhile. Get rid of conditions that deter your progress. Show that you are intelligent, have ability.

Pampan Awarded Study Fellowship

Harry Haiduk, an ex-Pampan and currently an instructor in business at West Texas State University, Canyon, has been awarded a $6,000 fellowship grant for doctoral studies in insurance and finance at the Wharton School of Finance at the University of Pennsylvania.

Haiduk expects to begin his studies in September on the grant from the S. S. Huebner Foundation for Insurance Education, which is renewable for three years. The Huebner Foundation usually awards about six such grants annually, according to Dr. Zeke Marchant, head of the WTSU department of business administration.

Haiduk joined the WTSU faculty last fall, after earning his B.B.A. and M.B.A. degrees. A 1958 graduate of Pampa High School, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Haiduk of Groom.

Candidates for the Huebner grants had to score in the top 10 per cent in the nation to be considered, Dr. Marchant said.

"He was a life underwriter for the Mercantile Security Life Insurance Company in Dallas and an industrial engineer for Cabot Corporation in Pampa before joining the WTSU faculty."

Haiduk held a fellowship last summer from the Life Insurance Agency Management Association for study in Minneapolis with the Northwestern National Life Insurance Company.

Scouting Scoops

Mrs. G. J. BOYD
The camp folders are to be distributed to leaders at the April neighborhood meetings. Each leader should see that each member of her troop receive a folder... full explanations are usually required at this time. Parents will find the folders cover all needed information about Girl Scouting camping activities. The girls are usually very enthusiastic about this part of Scouting... one meeting is devoted to remembering what happened during camp last year or Brownsies are planning their first day camp outing. Most leaders work either during day camp or establish camp as unit leaders or assistants. Although this isn't a requirement for leaders, they are usually "where the action is". And action is certainly there during these weeks in summer.

Registrations are due in the Girl Scout office for Day Camp, May 8, 9, and 10 from 9:30 a.m. to noon and from 1:30 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. Each girl is responsible for her registering.

Lions To Elect Club Sweetheart

Tomorrow will be "Sweetheart Day" at the weekly meeting of the Pampa Noon Lions Club. One of nine senior girls at Pampa High School will be selected Lions Club Sweetheart to represent Pampa Lions at the annual 27th District convention of Lions Club International. Pampa club members will elect their sweetheart from nine girls who have been selected as club sweethearts of the month during the 9-month school year. The Sweetheart contestants to be voted on in secret ballot at tomorrow's noonday luncheon will be Jackie Howard, Mary Beth Johnson, Marsha Jewel, Marilyn Millron, Ann Monroe, Jeanie Prock, Karen Sidwell, Earleen Sutton and Linda Watson.

The nine girls who have been Lions Club Sweethearts so far this year were selected for the honor by vote of the Pampa High Student Council.

In addition to picking a winner tomorrow, club members also will select two runners-up from the nine contestants.

Pinky Shultz will be in charge of the Sweetheart program and Tom Snow, boss Lion, will preside.

NAVAL MANEUVERS

HAMMOND, Ind. (UPI)—The Navy has a problem because it offers a five-day cruise as a prize for the winner of the annual Calumet regional science fair.

All the winners have been male, fitting the male-only facilities available on Navy ships. "Some special arrangement will have to be made," said Lt. Cmdr. George F. Lockman Tuesday in reference to the latest winner, pretty Deborah Sheets of Griffith High School.

Dear Abby... Certain Things Are Priceless, Irreplaceable

DEAR ABBY: You recently wrote, "Nothing is more over-rated than money. Ask anyone who has suffered a real tragedy, and he will tell you that no amount of money could have comforted him in his hour of sorrow."

I disagree with you, My husband and I worked and saved to buy a home of our own. It took us 14 years, but we finally got it. Then along came a tornado and our lovely home was demolished! Of course there was no insurance, so it was a total loss.

Now if some kind soul had come along and given us $55,000 it would have comforted us plenty in our hour of sorrow.

So please, Dear Abby, admit that even YOU can goof once in a while.

VICTIM IN TOPEKA
DEAR VICTIM: I admit that I "goof" more than "once in a while." But while losing one's worldly goods is indeed tragic, only he who has suffered an irreplaceable loss, such as a mate, a child, or a beloved friend, knows the meaning of "real" tragedy.

DEAR ABBY: Some friends of ours recently had a golden wedding anniversary, so several weeks before that date I telephoned a local florist and asked him to send them two dozen long-stemmed yellow roses, (C or F24). The daughter of this couple had planned a party for her parents, and she used the same florist I called. She learned of my order so she told the florist they wouldn't be needing any extra bouquets, so to just accept my money and to deduct it from HER bill.

Since she is well-known and respected in town, I don't blame the florist for doing as she requested, however, I am very hurt to think that I paid part of HER bill rather than to have sent my own flowers.

The daughter did tell her parents about my order, however, because I received a nice thank you note for my "intentions." Am I wrong to feel hurt?

HURT
DEAR HURT: No. But the florist with whom you placed your order is every bit as guilty as the daughter who dreamed up that chintzy scheme. I can't imagine a reputable florist going along with such a suggestion without your approval. As I see it, you owe that florist NOTHING!

DEAR ABBY: I was at home preparing to go on a much-needed vacation when I received a phone call from my daughter's boss, telling me I should try to convince my daughter to get some help.

Her boss seems to think she is mentally ill as she has been coming to work with hoisery run to shreds and mismatched shoes. He says her hair is uncombed and she is very careless about her appearance lately. Do you think she is abnormal?

I have since spoken to a psychiatrist who tells me that these are usually signs of a sick mind. Please, Abby, tell me the right words to use when I tell my daughter because I know she will be very angry when I suggest that she needs help.

HEARTBROKEN MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: If you "know" she will be very angry when you suggest that she needs help, perhaps you are not the one to tell her. Talk to the psy-

Gardening News

By THELMA BRAY

Some people have been hesitant about putting bedding plants out and moving house plants out-of-doors. But some of Pampa's most avid gardeners have gone all out and are now ready for summer's warmth: to produce the blooms so it must be safe for the reluctant ones to proceed. There is no doubt that this is one of the most unusual springs we have ever had.

According to the moon signs April 12, 15, 16, 17 are good dates to plant; April 13, 14, 18, 19 and 20 will be good dates to kill weeds.

Arbor Day was observed this year by Pampa Garden Club on the 95th anniversary of its founding in Nebraska on April 10, 1872. A tree was planted in Aspen Park in honor of Leo Roberts who served as Park Superintendent from 1937 to 1962 and assisted the garden clubs when they began their concentrated program to beautify Pampa nine years ago. Mr. Roberts still lives in Pampa and enjoys retirement.

76ers End Reign Of Celtics in Pro Basketball

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The biggest battle of the season faced the Philadelphia 76ers today — convincing themselves that their dethroning of the Boston Celtics doesn't make them the champions of the National Basketball Association.

"Defeating Boston feels very much like we won the title," towering Wilt Chamberlain said after the 76ers crushed Boston, 140-116 at Convention Hall Tuesday night to end the eight year reign of the Celtics in the NBA and their 10 straight years of supremacy in the Eastern Division.

The victors gave Philadelphia the best of seven semi-final series, 4-1, and sent the 76ers into the finals against the winner of the San Francisco-St. Louis Western Division series.

"We all realize there is still a big job ahead," 76ers coach Alex Hannum said. "But this ranks with one of my top thrills in basketball. I have to keep reminding myself and the players that it was only an Eastern championship."

Chamberlain, turned in another brilliant performance in his long series of personal duels with Boston player-coach Bill Russell, whom he held to four points allowed him only five shots from the field.

Chamberlain scored 29 points, three less than Hal Greer, gathered 36 rebounds and had 13 assists. He also blocked seven shots.

"If I had to point to one thing in the victory," Hannum said "it was our ability to turn the initiative in our favor in the third period and roll right through to the end."

He referred to the brilliant rally in which the 76ers overcame a 16-point deficit in the first period. They cut the lead to 70-65 at halftime and fought off the Celtics in a head-to-head third period with sensational shooting by both sides.

Philadelphia took a 95-83 lead with 3:18 left in the period after the score had been evened five times. As the record-tying crowd of 13,007 chanted, "Boston is dead," the 76ers boosted their margin to 104-96 and then scored 27 points while Boston could get only six.

Russell said it wasn't that the Celtics wilted under pressure. It was Chamberlain.

"Wilt was the big reason," Russell said. "He just stood in the middle and challenged every shot we took. When we missed, he grabbed the rebound and sent them flying down court."

Gibson, Cuellar Shine

By United Press International

The heir apparent to Sandy Koufax' vacated crown as baseball's best pitcher was to be unveiled in St. Louis Tuesday night when San Francisco's Juan Marichal took the mound, but fireballing Bo Gibson had in 1926 and equaled by highlight a 13 strikeout performance as his St. Louis mates bombarded the $100,000 San Francisco ace for six runs on 14 hits while winning 6-0.

In other National League action, Pittsburgh rallied to beat New York 6-3, Houston bombed Atlanta 6-1 and Chicago downed Philadelphia 4-2.

Homer Turns Trick

Gibson, the 6-foot-1, 200-pound fastballer who logged 225 strikeouts last season, got all the backing he needed in the second inning when Lou Brock followed singles by Dal Maxvill and Julian Javier with a line drive home run. Phil Gagliano also homered for the Cardinals to lead off the seventh.

The victory was Gibson's first over the Giants since 1965 and gave the Cardinals a 13-12 lifetime mark over Marichal, the only National League team to hold a career edge over the Dominican righthander.

Ken Henderson collected three of the five hits Gibson surrendered to the Giants.

Eddie Mathews' run-scoring triple highlighted a six-run seventh inning rally against his former teammates and lefthander Mike Cuellar scattered five hits as Houston toppled Atlanta, Mathews' hit tied the game at 1:1 before John Bateman's single sent the former Brave in with the go-ahead run. Cuellar, who struck out seven batters while walking none in going the route, lost his shutout bid when down Philadelphia. Beckert and Williams opened the inning with singles and attempted a double steal with two out. Rojas took catcher Clay Dalrymple's throw in front of second base as Williams slid in and threw high and wide to the plate as Beckert scored. Williams took third on the error and scored on Lee Thomas' single.

Ferguson Jenkins, who allowed six scattered hits, went all the way to notch the victory while Philie ace Jim Bunning was tagged with the loss.

Pittsburgh took advantage of five New York errors in handing the Mets their sixth straight opening day loss. The Mets took an early lead in the first on a single by Don Bosch, a stolen base and an error, and the fourth on Jerry Grote's two-run homer to lead 3-1.

In the sixth, Roberto Clement's grounder went through shortstop Bud Harrelson's legs and rightfielder Cleon Jones misplayed Donn Clendenon's error to begin the Met downfall, error to begin the Met downfall. Bill Mazeroski doubled Clendenon in to tie the score before Gene Alley and Jesse Gonder smacked back-to-back doubles leading off the right to ignite a three-run rally.

NEW SITE PICKED Vegas Says No To Clay

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Promoter Al Bolan said today a new site for the Cassius Clay-Floyd Patterson title bout definitely had been picked and the fiery champion would be in the ring April 25 as scheduled. "I have agreed with the governor of the state not to make any announcement. But the site has definitely been picked," Bolan said.

(In Pittsburgh, promoter Archie Litman said he had renewed an earlier offer to stage the fight at the civic arena. He originally made a bid for the bout after Patterson knocked out Bill McMurray in the first round at the arena March 10.)

Zolan indicated the announcement about the site would come this afternoon from the city which had contracted to take on the fight.

Champion Clay, meanwhile, said, "everybody in the world wants this fight. If it isn't held in Las Vegas, then it'll have to be somewhere else.

The Nevada Athletic Commission Tuesday rejected a permit allowing Clay and Patterson to fight April 25. The commission had given its permission earlier, but changed its mind after Gov. Paul Laxalt said the fight would give Nevada a "black eye."

Clay, who remained cool and reserved when told that the bout had been cancelled, said, "I'm going to rest and visit with friends. It's up to my manager when I meet Patterson. I really don't need the fight and I don't need the money."

The bomb dsmayed Patterson, who was in New York, when he heard the news.

"I would not have accepted the fight unless I was sure in my own mind that I was going to win," Patterson said.

The former champion added, "I have been approved to fight by four different commissions since losing to Clay in 1965. I just can't believe it."

But Gov. Laxalt had asked the commission to cancel the fight because he thought it would be a mismatch. "If Clay carries Patterson and knocks him out, it will only be a repeat of their previous fight," Laxalt said.

"If Patterson should win, eyebrows would be raised all over the world," the governor added.

Rain Takes Pampa, Horns

Rain played a dirty trick on the Pampa Harvesters Tuesday. It waited until about 3 p.m. before starting to fall in Amarillo after the Harvesters and fans had already made the journey to the 'Big City.'

Besides the Pampa - Horns game, Berger-Amarillo, and Tascosa-Palo Duro, were all cancelled by rain.

The games will be rescheduled later but will not be played this week, according to Amarillo Athletic Director Dee Walker.

A scheduled B game between Quail and the Pampa Shockers has also been cancelled. It was to be played at Optimist Club Park.

Coach Bobby Stephens said today he was sure the schedule game, set here for Friday at 4 p.m. would be played even if it rained tonight.

"That field (Optimist Club Park) slopes enough that the water drains fast, so we'll probably be able to play," the coach said.

The Harvesters host Plainview at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Two District 3-4A games were played Tuesday with Lubbock blanking Plainview 4-0 for the Westerners second district win against four losses and Monterey blanked Coronado, 10-0 to go 4-2 in district action.

Roger Meester gave up just two hits in running his record to 12 for Lubbock High while Tommy Baker, 5-2, took the loss.

Monterey's Steve Hurt, the only hurler to beat Pampa this year, won his sixth game against two losses as he gave Coronado just three hits and smacked two doubles.

The Harvesters are in second place in the district with a 4-1 record while Tascosa is 5-0. The two teams meet in Pampa Tuesday.

Pampa is on a three game winning streak and has a 16-1 season record. The Rebels have won 12 straight.

Nothing New in Orioles

By United Press International
The best news to Baltimore fans is that there's nothing new about their Orioles.

That's because the broad-backed Birds are content to follow the same old formula that carried them to the very heights of baseball in 1966—a Robbinson swinging a bat and a bullpen shouldering the load.

All the ingredients that made last season such a memorable one in Baltimore were on display Tuesday when the world champion Orioles began defense of their American League pennant with a 5-3 victory over the Minnesota Twins, favored in some circles to dethrone the Birds.

There was a Robbinson, this time Brooks, to provide the early thunder and the best bullpen is the business to clean up at the close, Brooks, who was overshadowed by teammate Frank Robbinson a year ago, belted a two-run homer in the first inning to cap a four-run outburst against Minnesota ace Jim Kaat and he also turned in three spectacular plays at third base.

Billy For Bullpen
The bullpen, which batted the Orioles out of so many jams last season, went to work with Baltimore holding a slim 4-3 lead and slammed the door in the faces of the Twins, allowing a total of two hits over the last 4-1-3 innings. World Series hero Moe Drabowsky quelled a Twins' rally in the fifth and when Drabowsky faltered in the eighth, Stu Miller retired Zoilo Versalles with the bases loaded and two out.

Kansas City and California, consigned by most experts to the second division, also opened their seasons on winning notes. The Athletics, decked out in their controversial white shirts, edged Cleveland 4-3 and the Angels whipped Detroit 4-2 in night games. The only other scheduled game in the AL, Chicago at Boston, was postponed because of cold weather.

Misjudges Fly
Kaat, a 25-game winner in 1966, hit Baltimore's leadoff batter, Curt Blefary, who came around to score when left fielder Bob Allison misjudged Luis Aparicio's high fly ball for a double. A scratch single by F. Robbinson scored Aparicio. B. Robbinson unloaded into the left field bleachers and Kaat was behind 4-0 before he could retire a batter.

Dave McNally started for Baltimore and lasted 4-2-3 innings, yielding seven hits and three runs. Drabowsky received credit for the win with three solid innings and has now is 7-0 in a Baltimore uniform after compiling a perfect mark in 1966.

The A's white shoes were a source of constant irritation to Cleveland's rookie manager, Joe Adcock, who filed a formal protest because of the distraction they caused his hitters. But even more annoying was the manner in which the Indians lost the game.

Rookie pinch-hitter Ramon Webster batted for winning pitcher Jim Nash in the seventh inning with the score tied 3-3, the bases loaded and two out. Webster hit a routine roller to shortstop Larry Brown, who pegged to first in time. But Fred Whitfield dropped the ball. Nash

Oldster Sawchuk Doing Best in Hockey Playoffs

By United Press International
Old clogger Terry Sawchuk is doing his best to go out during a practice session before the playoffs. He has more retirement money if he keeps up the good work.

The 7-year-old Toronto goalie tumbled in his second straight spectacular performance by making 36 saves Tuesday night in the Leafs' 3-1 National Hockey League playoff victory over the mighty Chicago Blackhawks.

Toronto will carry a 1 edge when it plays host to Chicago Thursday night in the best-of-seven Stanley Cup series. Meanwhile, the Montreal Canadiens boosted its lead to 3-0 by adding the New York Rangers 3-2. They meet again in New York Thursday night.

Sawchuk, who said he plans to end his 17-year N.H.L. career after the playoffs, was playing

Boos Expected Tonight in St. Louis

St. LOUIS (UPI)—To drown out the boos it might be necessary to wear earmuffs Wednesday night in old Kiel Auditorium, where Coach Bill Sharman's San Francisco Warriors hope to close out the Western Division final playoffs with the battling St. Louis Hawks.

From past games in St. Louis, the most "unpopular" player in the opinion of St. Louis fans appears to be handsome Rick Barry, the National Basketball Association's leading scorer in his second year of professional play.

Barry hasn't helped his popularity either. A tough player to stop shooting, Barry didn't mince words after the Warriors walloped the Hawks 123-102 Monday night for a series edge 3-2.

Remembering the St. Louis boos while he was flat on his back in a race for a layup while being chased by rookie Lou

Hudson last week, Barry said "I hope they boo Wednesday night... I'll enjoy giving it back to Wednesday night by playing a good ball game."

Barry said he didn't "want to create any controversy," but he felt that if St. Louis fans wanted to boo, "let 'em."

Barry, in order to keep playing since his hard tumble in St. Louis where San Francisco lost two games, has had injections in his injured left ankle.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

City in Golf Business?

A petition is in circulation in Pampa putting the City Commission on notice that it soon will be asked to build a municipal golf course so golfers who can't afford to pay Country Club fees will have a place to play that they "can afford."

WHO can afford? We don't know who is circulating the petitions other than "A Committee for a Better Pampa." But that makes no difference.

It gives rise to the question: Should a city go into the golf business?

If so, what other business activities should be provided by the taxpayers—an awful lot of whom don't play golf.

In the first place, Pampa cannot afford the high cost of building a golf course and maintaining it.

In the second place, a city has no business in the golf business.

If Pampa should decide to provide municipal golf facilities with lower fees, the next logical step would be to provide bowling alleys at cheaper rates, theaters at lower admission prices and just about anything else you can think in the way of recreation at reduced prices.

If a city can provide a tax-subsidized golf course, why not food, clothing and shelter? When a city goes into one form of business it is breaking down the resistance to more encroachments in business.

Unless someone takes the lead against further intervention into legitimate business fields—such as opposing a municipal golf course—how can you keep off a local socialist path in the field of government ownership?

It is hoped the Pampa City Commission doesn't take this municipal golf course proposal seriously.

Totalitarianism Not Dead

Hitler-style socialism fell in Germany 22 years ago, but the persecution of the Jew goes on. Now the persecution comes under Soviet-style socialism. Beginning with the rule of Stalin, the Soviet masters destroyed all Jewish communal-cultural institutions, including the Jewish theater, Yiddish actors, writers, and leaders were rubbed out by legalized gangsterism.

Stalin is dead, but his policy lives on. Today, according to Jewish sources, there is not a single Yiddish school or a single Yiddish class in the U.S.S.R., although Soviet law requires the organization of such classes at the request of ten parents.

There are no schools, classes or courses in any language to enable Jews to learn something Jewish in the fields of history, culture and literature. The Soviet even obscures the martyrdom of Soviet Jews during the Nazi invasion.

There is no Jewish publishing house nor a Jewish book distributing agency. Token publications mark the grave of known Jewish language works in the Soviet Union.

Other groups, repressed by Stalin, have been allowed to re-appear somewhat, but not the Jewish.

On paper, the Soviet ideology condemns anti-Semitism, but in practice Soviet power structures have gained access to government publishing houses to manufacture viciously anti-Jewish material.

Despite the repression, Judaism and the attached culture persist, but the atmosphere is one of foreboding and insecurity. The oppression is so heavy that outside the Soviet Union even Communist Party members and Communist sympathizers have spoken their concern. The Soviet Union has responded from time to time with new token concessions. All of these have fallen short of providing means regarded as essential for Jewish survival. Nevertheless, some see the glimmer of a hope that an outraged public opinion can persuade the Soviet to come across with meaningful concessions in practice as well as in theory.

Pondering the persecution of the Jew in Hitler Germany and the Soviet Union, it occurs that essentially the same kind of persecution of the productive individual, for the benefit of the indolent has been going on in this country for some time now.

No, totalitarianism is not dead.

Eisenhower: Ulg. Rhc. Ngl.

It isn't too surprising that the names of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight David Eisenhower appear in the National Social Directory.

After all, so do the names of 17,000 other Americans. And you can't overlook a former president of the United States and commander-in-chief of Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force when you start listing prominent people.

So let's see what the National Social Directory has to say about the Eisenhowers: Eisenhower, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight David (Mamie G. Dwyer) Gettysburg, Pa. U.S. MA 15. Univ. Chev. Bnl. Sul Mww. Met. Un Ulg. Cent Rhc. Kni. Ngl. Crk. Gcgc. Pl. An-N. Sch. Pilg. Mfw. Wash. Cyn Li.

Now, this may be one of the finest tributes ever paid an American leader and his wife, but outside the CIA, the FBI and the decoding whizzes in the State Department, some of it is likely to be lost on the average reader of the National Social Directory — assuming that any reader is so undistinguished as to be average.

Some of us who so far haven't been included among the 17,000 top Americans must be hoping that if and when we do make it, our qualifications for the honor can be presented a little more clearly than the guttural code used to delineate the Eisenhower attainments.

What's the use of being a hot shot if — and, again, you should pardon the expression — the average person can't tell what you've done to earn the rating?

And especially the "Ulg" in the Eisenhower listing. What in the world do you suppose he ever did to earn that?

Ohio's Auto Safety Stand

Cold statistics have abolished another myth. The latest is the one that holds that babies are almost always born in the wee, small hours of the morning.

Tain't so. Women's Medical News Service reports on a study of births in New York City by doctor of science Carl L. Erhardt.

He found that only 25 out of 1,283 babies were born between 2 and 3 a.m. The largest number were born between noon and 1 p.m.

For some reason, first babies are likely to be born at any time of day or night. But if the mother has had previous children, subsequent little strangers are more likely to arrive between 9 a.m. and noon.

"By no means are most babies born in the middle of the night," says Erhardt. "Mothers can now relax."

A successful prizefighter named his new born son "Dorothy."

"I want him to be a top prize fighter," he explained, "and with a name like that he's bound to get a lot of early experience."

Straight Talk

By TOM ANDERSON

Other Superintendents of Surrender are increasing aid and trade with the Russian Criminals who are supplying most of the planes and war materials killing American boys in Vietnam. Few inmates of San Quentin are guilty of more unforgivable crimes.

Every time we have let down our armaments, Russia and other enemies have built up theirs. If Russia is our ally, we have surrendered. Part of our surrender plan is the so-called Consular Treaty, which the Administration has rammed through the Senate.

Consulates are offices where commercial and tourist businesses are supposedly conducted. At least, that's what free and friendly nations do in their consulates. But as that great American J. Edgar Hoover has warned, the main function of the Soviet consulates is espionage. Russian consulates are all spy nests.

Hoover has reported that the ratification of the Consular Treaty is "a cherished goal of the Soviet intelligence services" . . . and one which "will make the job of the FBI much more difficult."

One of the greatest problems in our country today is disrespect for law. Possibly the foremost law violator is President Johnson, who virtually ignores Congress and the Constitution whenever it suits him. For instance, the Findley Amendment, signed into law in September, 1966, prohibits sale of commodities subsidized through Public Law 480, the Food for Peace Program, to any nation which sells or furnishes, or which permits ships or aircraft under its registry to transport to North Vietnam, any equipment, materials or commodities so long as North Vietnam is governed by a Communist regime.

Our enemy and Earl Warren's friend, mass murderer Tito of Yugoslavia, is of course supplying the Viet Cong. But President Johnson has the gall to boast that he has freed 400 more items for export from this country to Communist countries, including Yugoslavia, on credit. And now President Johnson says: "The trade agreements we have made with Russia marks an end of peaceful co-existence and starts us on the road to peaceful engagement."

Senator Worldbright has patiently explained to us Rednecks again and again that our foreign aid program is merely "enlightened self-interest." If we do not aid the poor nations, they would go Communist, say all the pro-Communists.

Our traitors in high positions betrayed Poland and delivered her into slavery. Poland is now helping the Viet Cong — and we are now helping Poland.

Chicago Tribune correspondent Chesly Manly reprints the following from Poland published in the October 1 issue of a Hamburg newspaper (Die Pommersche Zeitung):

"Weapons of the Polish armed forces are being shipped from Stettin harbor in Poland in ever-increasing quantities to North Vietnamese harbors. . . . While on one side of the same harbor, weapons are loaded which are being used against American soldiers. . . . The Poles receive the wheat (from the U.S.) on credit and they in turn ship their weapons to North Vietnam on credit."

Walt W. Rostow, former top policymaker for "our" State Department and now top assistant to President Johnson, in his book, The United States in the World Arena, urges, on page 549, that America destroy her national sovereignty and existence as a nation. Rostow contends that since the Soviets are "mellowing," we must aid and strengthen them by dropping our silly and ineffective embargo on unlimited trade with Russia; withdraw the rest of our troops from abroad as we have in Turkey and Italy; and turn over our entire defense to the United Nations. (All one-worlders are not Communists, but all Communists are one-worlders.)

You don't see very many barber poles outside tonorial shops anymore, but they are among the oldest display ads in history. In ancient Rome, where bloodletting was a cure-all for everything from hangnails and white striped pole represented a bloody arm and hung outside all shops where "bleeding" was performed. During the Middle Ages barbers were still synonymous with surgeons and the striped pole still beckoned patrons and patients. In the last century it became the exclusive trademark of the fellows who snip and clip one's locks. We were reminded of all this when we came upon the windows of one of New York's leading stores that was replete with old-fashioned barber poles, calling attention to striped female spring fashions. Come to think of it, that's the only place we've seen a barber pole in Manhattan in many years.

Today's smite: A fellow called a store about a classified ad in the local paper and said: "I'm calling because of your advertisement for a man to retail canaries." The person answering the phone said: "If you're interested in the job why don't you drop around and see us?" The caller said: "No, I'm not seeking the job, I'm merely curious. How did the canaries lose their tails?"

The world's oldest low-rent housing project is located at Augsburg, Germany and hasn't had a rent hike in 400 years. The community was built in 1519. Those living there must have a limited income, a good reputation and must agree to say a prayer daily for the founder, a German noble. Oh yes, one other thing—no dogs.

In Black or Red?— Ways, Means Committee Wants Undoctored Facts On Social Security, Medicare Funds Before Expanding Benefits

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — President Johnson's proposals for enlarging Social Security and Medicare benefits have run into an unexpected snag in Congress.

The House Ways and Means Committee, considering the administration's recommendations since early March, has put off further action until the soundness of the Social Security and Medicare trust funds can be determined.

This unannounced inquiry will take four or five weeks, if prolonged further, it could delay final congressional action until early next year — an election year.

While congressional leaders say they aren't encouraging postponement, they have approved the committee's fact-finding to make sure the two largest and most popular welfare programs are fiscally sound.

The backstage committee decision was made after Representative Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman, frankly told members he wasn't satisfied with administration figures on the cost of the programs and the effect of current expenditures on the trust funds.

"The figures on medical costs and Social Security expenditures have been either underestimated or doctored in the past to get expansion of these programs through Congress," Mills declared. "Before this committee votes on these new proposals, we must have accurate information on expenditures and their impact on both trust funds."

GETTING THE FACTS — Chairman Mills stated he first became concerned about the trust funds last year when President Johnson announced that the Social Security fund had such a surplus that benefits could be boosted 8 per cent without raising the payroll tax.

When the Republicans, shortly before the 1966 election, sought to enact this proposal, the administration backtracked and blocked action until this year. "Only a few weeks before the President made his statement," Mills told his committee, "Social Security officials had informed me that the two trust funds were in the black but on the borderline of going into the red."

Mills' stand won prompt backing in the Ways and Means Committee. He thereupon summoned Social Security Commission members to testify before the Virginia legislature. Besides each had served in both branches of Congress. . . . Your chances of hitting the jackpot with a first novel are pretty slim, but if you can write a readable "How-to-do-it" book, on almost any subject you can make some real money. . . . The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

Fruit Juices Can Help Reduce Fever Temperature
Children run a high fever more readily than adults. It is not uncommon for a child with a sore throat to have a temperature of 104 degrees. Every fever in an infant is not necessarily a sign of an infection. Crying may send an infant's temperature up two degrees with a return to normal a minute or two after the crying stops.

Although fever helps the body to fight an infection, it is wise to bring the temperature down to within one or two degrees of normal because fever produces profuse sweating and leads to dehydration. Because a prolonged fever of 104 or 105 degrees may also lead to convulsions, sponge baths to bring the temperature down are often the best way to stop an infant's convulsions.

In older children, fruit juice and candy have been found to be excellent remedies for fever. They replace the fluids and energy lost through sweating and the production of body heat. This treatment is most effective if it is started before the fever has caused a marked loss of appetite.

Q—Is it harmful for children to eat snow that has just fallen?

A—Every snowflake contains a speck of dirt around which the water crystallizes and every child eats his proverbial peck of dirt but I don't advise it. Gather up a handful of fresh snow and warm it over a low flame so your children can see for themselves how murky it is when melted.

Q—If, after a bout of rheumatic fever, a child develops a heart murmur, can he ever lead a normal life?

A—Although a murmur occurring after rheumatic fever is most likely caused by damage to a heart valve, your doctor should make sure the murmur is not a functional one and of no significance. If the child really has rheumatic heart disease your doctor should ascertain its severity and take steps to prevent further damage. This entails taking prophylactic doses.

Q—Suppose the Russians get there first — and they may beat our best schedule, anyway. So what? And if we continue these interspace billions and billions and actually land ahead of them:

Again — so what?

Will this stop wars, mitigate global disunity or contribute to the tranquility of mankind? Have we inched forward as a nation in the all-important estimation of the Lord and Master of all? This trip won't feed or house the poor any more adequately or educate our deserving young people.

Perhaps individual tax burdens have become more important than the dubious presence of two Americans on the mucky surface of an innocuous planet 240,000 miles away; and which from all the evidence to date, is doing a jim dandy job of minding its own business.

Let's concede graciously that someone finds the interplanetary home of the very little green men in the very first cave. Would it be tragic if the Russians discovered them instead of us? Either way it will allow the .003 who believe in the UFO to dance about and establish their presence, but is this worth 20 billion dollars — even to them?

Shouldn't our lagging educational program claim a greater priority? Shouldn't the poverty program take precedence over the ephemeral man in the moon? Let's consider a greater sanity in our home bookkeeping as a primary order of business. Two and two still equal four.

For this reason patriots should not support resolutions pending Congress to call a Constitutional Convention. When the Constitution was drafted 180 years ago it was contemplated that it could always be amended, and it has been so amended 25 times, nearly always for the good of freedom.

But the fact remains that under the present Constitution an infant nation grew to greatness unparalleled in the history of the world. It is therefore sheer folly to risk losing the constructive provisions of the U.S. Constitution by holding a Constitutional Convention at a time when a constructive atmosphere is less prevalent than usual. Delegates to a new Constitutional Convention would no doubt be subjected to bloc pressures and a myriad of other political pressures, or could follow their whims and rewrite the Constitution in a manner that could be devastating to all hope of freedom.

Patriots should urge their Legislatures to pass resolutions, asking only for specific amendments. Really constructive action is for State Legislatures to pass a resolution directing Congress to immediately initiate and submit to the States for ratification a Constitutional Amendment providing for appointment of at least one House of State Legislatures on a basis other than population. Then another resolution should be passed directing initiation of a fair and just reform of the Electoral College System.

With skillful treatment many of these children can lead a fairly normal life — the girls may marry and raise a family and the boys may engage in almost all normal activities except such sports as football, hockey, boxing and wrestling. If the disease is so severe that activity must be greatly restricted, an operation on the damaged heart valve — even after many years — may restore normal or nearly normal function.

Many congressmen are studying our moon program which is financially incomprehensible to most, and some of them are quietly asking: "Why?"

The whole problem is driven home grimly by the two tragic accidents which claimed five lives. Is a reappraisal indicated? Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen (R., Ill.) views the appalling annual expenditure of 5 billion dollars on this space fantasy rather dubiously. "Does it really make any difference," queries he, "whether we get to the moon this year, the year after, or two years after that?"

Well — does it? Suppose the Russians get there first — and they may beat our best schedule, anyway. So what? And if we continue these interspace billions and billions and actually land ahead of them:

H. L. Hunt Writes

AMEND, NOT REWRITE, THE CONSTITUTION

There are enormous dangers to individual freedom inherent in the current campaign to call a Constitutional Convention. Although the movement is being spearheaded under the guise of preventing further federal encroachment in the affairs of individual citizens, the fact is that such a Convention were called, it would open a veritable Pandora's box of trouble and probably result in further loss of liberty.

For this reason patriots should not support resolutions pending Congress to call a Constitutional Convention. When the Constitution was drafted 180 years ago it was contemplated that it could always be amended, and it has been so amended 25 times, nearly always for the good of freedom.

But the fact remains that under the present Constitution an infant nation grew to greatness unparalleled in the history of the world. The badly frightened mother had searched the supermarket frantically for her missing five year old daughter. She finally located the child chatting amiably with a group of nuns.

Mrs. Jones (the mother) — Gracious, I do hope my daughter hasn't been causing you too much trouble.

Sister Martha (one of the nuns) — No indeed, but this is the first time we have ever been mistaken for penguins.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Black calcite, a common mineral that in the past had always been considered worthless, may be a significant new source of silver, says The World Almanac. Rich quantities of silver, invisible to the naked eye, have recently been found in the mineral. Laboratory tests of black calcite taken from Utah, Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico have been found to contain up to 1,500 ounces of silver per ton. Interestingly, western silver miners of the 1800s often used black calcite as a guide to silver ore.

Santa Claus is at the American summit meeting in Punta De Este with a sack full of nothing. No gold, no silver, no candy canes.

Santa's sack is empty because he could not persuade Congress to fill it with $1.5 billion. Some legislators balked because they did not know how much more would be demanded, when it would be demanded, or for what specific purpose. The House with the astonishing connivance of the Republican leadership voted to commit itself to this additional sum for good deeds in South America.

The minority in the House argued that the resolution would provide President Johnson with a blank check with respect to Latin America. It generally was accepted that the $1.5 billion promise LBJ desired to take with him to Punta Del Este contemplated some kind of five-year plan in which the U.S. taxpayer would ante up about $300 million each year. The opposition claimed that this represented merely a down payment on a commitment that would run to eternity.

Establishment of a South American common market is one of the objectives sought by President Johnson. Opponents of the $1.5 billion commitment had some embarrassing questions that lack answers, such as:

How many Latin American loans are in default? How many are delinquent? How many have been converted from loans to grants? The opponents claimed that the State Department experts who appeared on Capitol Hill in support of the $1.5 billion commitment were unable to answer such questions.

Submerged but ever present in the debate was a strong feeling that the United States with all of its money cannot help South Americans much unless they learn to help themselves socially and economically.

The late John F. Kennedy's Alliance For Progress (AFP) has not proved to be the stimulant it was intended to be. AFP already has absorbed from the United States about $2.3 billion. Satisfactory accomplishment remains many billions of dollars away. Rep. H. R. Gross tried to make that point with an amendment to the open-end $1.5 billion resolution. Gross sought to insert this:

"Whereas, it also is imperative that the Latin American people clearly understand that U.S. taxpayers do not have unlimited patience and funds to support open end commitments."

The amendment was rejected but it stated the facts. The final vote came on March 22. The Republican leadership teamed with the Democratic leadership to approve the resolution 234 to 118. Some scornful members referred to the proposition as lollipop No. 1 of 1967.

Chairman J. William Fulbright and his Senate Foreign Relations Committee took a closer, more sophisticated look at the House lollipop. The committee rejected the resolution and produced its own which properly made Latin America responsible for generating some do-it-yourself enthusiasm to get the Alliance For Progress off the ground. American dollars cannot do the job without ample, continuing and enthusiastic efforts by Latin Americans.

The United States is sending about $1 billion a year into Latin America. Congress will be ready, willing and able to send much more if the seed dollars sprout.
