SAIGON (UPI) — Three elite Communist regiments ringed a vital American fortress on the North-South Vietnam border today and repulsed U.S. Marine attempts to break through with tanks and infantry. But the

Committee To Extend Selective Service Laws

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Armed Services Committee was set to blackball President Johnson's proposed draft lottery today in approving a bill extending the nation's selective service laws another four years.

The House panel also planned to safeguard college deferments by making it difficult to draft undergraduates until they get a bachelor's degree or reach age 24.

The committee was scheduled to meet at 9 a.m. CDT to act on the bill.

The Senate last week approved a four-year extension of the draft which would generally leave in the hands of the President the wide discretionary powers he now enjoys.

But Chairman L. Mendel Rivers and other key members of the House panel agreed at a secret session Monday to curb some of the President's powers.

The so-called "policy committee," made up of the 10 senior members of the 31-man armed services committee, drafted a bill at Monday's meeting which would:

—Allow the president to draft undergraduates only by finding "that the needs of the armed forces require substantial restriction or termination of student deferments."

—Allow the President to institute a draft lottery only by informing Congress 60 days in advance that such a system would be "in the national interest." This would give Congress two months to decide whether to amend the draft laws withdrawing Johnson's authority to set up a draft lottery.

'Monkey Law' Repealed In Tennessee

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — The state senate Tuesday took less than five minutes to settle a controversy that has raged since Clarence Darrow and William Jennings Bryan argued about the descent of man in a rural Tennessee courtroom 42 years ago.

The senate passed 20-13 a bill to repeal the statute prohibiting the teaching in public schools of any theory which denies the Biblical version of the divine creation of man. All that needed to strike down the anti-evolution law is the signature of Gov. Buford Ellington.

Leathernecks vowed to destroy the North Vietnamese attackers.

The 3,600 North Vietnamese troops surrounded Con Thien after setting up their first surface-to-air missile (SAM) sites in the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ), two miles to the north, in hopes of breaking American air superiority. U.S. Marine jets smashed at the SAM sites Tuesday night.

"The North Vietnamese army wants Con Thien as a birthday present for (North Vietnamese President) Ho Chi Minh. They're not going to get it," 3rd Marine Division Commander Maj. Gen. Bruno Hochmuth told UPI. He will be 77 Friday.

"We'll pin their ears back and we have enough air and artillery to knock them out," Hochmuth said. But the Communists prevailed in Tuesday's fighting.

Casualties were heavy. In the past 24 hours alone, the Marines reported suffering 18 men killed and 102 wounded. In the same period they reported killing at least 250 Communists, 105 by body count.

The heavy fighting lent weight to speculation the North Vietnamese were attempting to carry out their threat of occupying a part of South Vietnam.

The appearance of the SAMs a few miles to the north inserted a new factor into the battle for the border. U.S. Air Force B52 Stratofortresses, the weapon the Communists fear the most, struck North Vietnamese positions farther south—but within range of the SAMs.

Communist ground fire Tuesday shot down a Marine F4B Phantom jet strafing them. Both American crewmen were rescued, spokesmen said.

North of the border, U.S. airmen flew 123 missions against North Vietnam Tuesday, spokesmen said. Many of the bombers hit artillery and SAM sites just north of the frontier.

Some of the silenced guns were aimed at the Americans fighting in the low rolling hills around Con Thien.

Marines tried to pierce breakthrough Tuesday. Pushing from outside the Communist ring from the south came an armored column led by five tanks. It headed down a three-mile road through Communist besiegers. It got only about 400 yards.

Firing machine guns from roadside trenches, Communists blocked the push. UPI correspondent Thomas Cheatham reported the fighting so heavy and so close that the Communists had to silence their mortars for fear of wiping out their own ranks.

Hong Kong Rioters Continue Violence

HONG KONG (UPI) — Thousands of Communist-led rioters battled six companies of police today in a new eruption of violence that filled two miles of Hong Kong's "golden mile" tourist shopping street with tear gas, stones, bottles and cans.

The rioters backing Communist China's attempt to humble this crown colony's British rulers burned an automobile, stoned a fire engine and defied police barrages of "baton shells" — eight-inch wooden sticks shot along the ground at the legs of rioters. They are non-lethal.

Riot police first tried reasoning with the mushrooming mobs of demonstrators who mustered at a courthouse chanting Mao Tse-tung slogans. The mobs appeared after 20 accused rioters jumped bail and failed to show up for trial.

Then police moved in with the baton shell guns, the tear gas and called in auxiliary reinforcements to quell the Red Guard-type rampage down the Kowloon district's Nathan Road. The police commissioner broadcast appeals to Hong Kong's 3.5 million Chinese to stay away and disperse when asked.

First reports said at least seven persons were arrested. One policeman fell injured, a stone smashing into his left eye.

Texas Southern Students Battle Police With Rifles

Lawman is Killed; Nearly 500 Jailed

HOUSTON (UPI) — Students firing rifles and shotguns from darkened dormitories at a predominantly Negro university battled more than 650 police today. A policeman was fatally wounded before officers stormed the dormitories and arrested nearly 500 students.

Three other persons were shot in the night of violence at Texas Southern University.

Police besieged the campus for nearly two hours. Then a squad of 60 to 70 riflemen, advancing 20 yards at a time in infantry-style, rushed Lanier and Bruce halls.

They smashed down doors with fire axes, shot locks off doors, hauled the students out and had them lie face down on the grass to be searched, then took them to jail.

Rookie patrolman Louis Kupa, 25, was shot in the head as he advanced on the dormitories about 10 p.m. (CDT). He died eight hours later in Houston's Ben Taub Hospital.

Also shot were officers Raymond G. Blaylock, 37, and Allen Dale Dugger, 32, who were in fair condition; and Morris English, 22, a student, whose condition was undetermined. Another officer cut his hand on broken glass.

Police said they found a shotgun, three .22 caliber rifles and two Molotov cocktails along with a length of chain in the dorms.

The violence followed demonstrations Tuesday by Negroes protesting conditions at a junior high school and "garbage and filth" at a city dump near the Negro section. Thirty-two persons were arrested then.

A Negro newspaper editor, Julius Carter of the "Forward Times," said rumors swept the TSU campus that one of the demonstrators had been shot.

Then a student, Douglas Wayne Waller, was arrested on the campus. Police said he was "intoxicated and carrying a stolen pistol."

Police said, after Waller was taken to jail, another student began "haranguing" a gathering crowd. When Blaylock, a plainclothesman, came to the campus following the arrest of Waller, he was shot in the hip.

Police said the students then started a bonfire on a major city street which runs through the campus—also a center of contention among students, who wanted it closed off.

The students began shooting at cars driving along the street. Then they blocked it with sewer casings stacked nearby for a construction project, officers said.

New Plan Would Bring More Water to W. Texas

By WANDA HUFF News Staff Writer

About 90 Pampa and other Gray County leaders in business, agriculture, industry, and city and county government met here yesterday to hear progress reports on the first water development project for West Texas and the High Plains.

Water conservation leaders have found a way to get adequate water supplies for West Texas and High Plains counties until the year 2020, but unless "Pampans and other Gray County representatives attend and participate in the May 24 organizational meeting, this area could be left out," Felix Ryals, Panhandle Water Conservation District manager, said.

Concern over the growing state-wide lack of water started in 1917 when an amendment was added to the Texas constitution permitting legislatures to pass laws forming water conservation districts.

"Nothing came of it (the 1917 amendment) until 1940's, when laws were passed forming the Texas Board of Water Engineers with power to set up surface and underground water conservation districts," Ryals said.

The Panhandle Water Conservation District was formed in 1956. Texas water conservation leaders have studied the water problem since 1957. The Texas Board of Water Engineers was changed to the Texas Water Commission in 1967.

In 1964, the commission started its Year 2020 water study. Since then the water shortage has been reviewed and studied by the Water Development Board, Gov. John Connally and senators on the governor's TWDB advisory panel. In 1966, the 2020 Texas Water Plan was released.

"The 2020 Texas Water Plan recommendations promised to shake a lot of people, and it did, in June 1966, when the TBWD unveiled the 2020 Water Plan for Texas, and revealed West Texas was left out," Ryals said.

State Budget Is Back in Senate

Hazlewood Believed Backing Governor

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — The $2.4 billion state budget today moved back to the Senate, where Lt. Gov. Preston Smith apparently has the votes to smash Gov. John Connally's attempt to avoid a compromise.

The House Tuesday approved its own version of the budget 134-11 and substituted it for the Senate bill.

The Senate is expected to reject the House version later this week and call for a joint conference committee to write a compromise.

Connally had spared no effort in an attempt to get the Senate to accept the House bill, which he considers better-balanced.

The attempt apparently failed Tuesday when four liberal Senators announced they would stay with Smith.

Smith, who says he plans to run for Governor in 1968, said Connally now has no more than nine Senate votes for the House bill.

Speaker Ben Barnes said it appears certain the bill will go to conference, and said he is considering appointing himself to the committee.

A source very close to Connally said the Governor believed he had 10 votes in the 31-member Senate last weekend, and named these senators: Joe Bernal and V. E. Berry of San Antonio, Chet Brooks of Pasadena, Joe Christie of El Paso, Criss Cole of Houston, Wayne Connally of Floresville, Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells, Ralph Hall of Rockwall, D. Roy Harrington of Port Arthur, Grady Hazlewood of Canyon, Jack Hightower of Vernon, Barbara Jordan of Houston, Don Kennard of Fort Worth, Oscar Maury of Dallas, Jack Strong of Longview, A. R. Schwartz of Galveston, Jim Wade of Dallas and Charles Wilson of Lufkin.

Abraham Loses Battle But May Have Won War

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — The three Republicans in the House lost the battles in Tuesday's debate and passage of the appropriations bill. But, they may have won an advantage to be used in future political in-fighting.

Reps. Charles Scoggins of Corpus Christi and Frank Cahoon of Midland offered 15 amendments to the bill and all were defeated, most by wide margins. Rep. Malouf Abraham of Canadian did not offer amendments but constantly backed his GOP colleagues.

In each instance the Republicans called for a record vote and hoped they later would be able to embarrass the Democrats with them.

Cahoon attempted to knock out a $125,000 appropriation for an international "Friendship Garden" in Brownsville. Scoggins tried to eliminate a $500,000 appropriation for construction of small-town airports and Cahoon asked that $50,000 for renovation of the Lake Whitney airstrip be removed.

Scoggins tried to insert a requirement that pilots of state-owned airplanes be required to keep a log of their flights, destinations and passengers and (See ABRAHAM, Page 3)

14 Senators Warn Hanoi to Avoid 'Tragic Mistake'

WASHINGTON (UPI) —

Fourteen Senate dissenters on the Johnson administration's Vietnam policy are warning Hanoi today not to make the tragic mistake of refusing negotiations in the hope America will withdraw from the war.

The statement appeared to be aimed in part at eliminating any grounds for the administration's contention that dissent among Americans could be prolonging the war.

Among the signers were such ardent Senate doves as Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Foreign Relations Committee; Wayne Morse, D-Ore., and Republicans John Sherman Cooper, Ky., and Mark O. Hatfield, Ore.

The joint declaration was organized by another vocal administration critic, Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho.

Word leaked out on the "open statement" late Tuesday in advance of a news conference, scheduled for later today, at which the full text will be released. The names of other signers were not disclosed.

Church said that the Senate group, "as dissenters," wanted Hanoi to understand it would be a "tragic miscalculation" to turn down peace negotiations in the belief the United States would quit the war.

Sen. Gale McGhee, D-Wyo., a leading defender of administration policy, took a dim view of the Church move.

General Strike Stalls France

PARIS (UPI) — A 24-hour general strike to protest President Charles de Gaulle's demands for six months' supreme authority switched off the City of Light and much of France today.

Labor unions claimed 10 million workers stayed at home to support opposition against Parliament's granting De Gaulle the power to rule by decree for six months.

At 1 a.m. CDT the lights began flickering out all over France as work and play using gas and electricity lost their power source. The trains stopped running at midnight.

Paris buses remained in garages. Subway cars lay like stilled snakes in underground tunnels.

The army mobilized trucks to take to work those Frenchmen who still had a job to do and wanted to do it.

But banks, restaurants, movie houses and stores were shut. There was no school because teachers struck. Garbage piled up uncollected.

BOB PRICE

As proof of Republican pledges to offer constructive alternatives to Great Society programs, the so-called Quie amendment will be offered as a substitute for the Elementary and Secondary Education Amendments of 1967 when the administration sponsored bill comes before the House shortly.

This is the first major move by Republican leaders in Congress to give the states and communities a responsible share of control over the way Federal funds are allotted to finance local programs.

The plan provides for block grants to the states for elementary and secondary education rather than the multiple individual grants in aid under the rigid control of the U.S. office of Education in Washington.

There is only one real difference between the Quie plan and the administration bill and that is the difference of control. The Quie plan would give state and local authorities responsible power over the way Federal school funds are spent. The administration bill would keep the control in the hands of the Washington bureaucracy.

In presenting his plan to the House, Congressman Quie explained in detail that under its provisions Federal school funds would not be mingled with other State educational funds, that in the future no State would receive less than it would in the coming 1968 fiscal year, that private schools would get an even better deal than they do now, that poorer States would be protected, and that no violation of the civil rights law would be permitted.

But despite this, administration officials from President Johnson on down have run a high fever over the Quie plan. They have denounced it in the severest terms. The President flew by helicopter to a high school in nearby Maryland where he denounced the Quie plan in a blast of torrid phrases.

The Milwaukee Sentinel, in an editorial, said: "Why stage such a sharp counter-attack, particularly by going over the heads of Congress to the public, as it were, if one is not worried by the appeal of the substitute (that is, the Quie plan)? The answer to that question would seem to be that the Quie proposal must have merits that would win it support, even in a Democratic-controlled Congress, to be adopted."

In fact, one of the Democrats of the Texas delegation, R. P. Earle Cabell of Dallas, expressed his opinion of the Quie amendment as compared with the administration bill as follows:

"In considering the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1967, emotionalism and partisanship have become so intense that they are clouding the real issues involved."

"There are very few members of the House who oppose the basic concept of providing assistance to overburdened school administrations where the load is increased due to a heavy influx of students from low income families."

"Where many of the more moderate members of the majority party have joined some members of the minority party in vigorous opposition to this bill is in the area of administration of the Act and allocation of its funds."

"The legislation which the Department of Health, Education and Welfare presented, and which the House Leadership accepted, retains these same rigid and arbitrary controls that have been so criticized in Dallas County."

"The opponents, myself among them, would like to see much of the red tape and paper work eliminated, and a wider range of discretion permitted state and local officials."

"The substitute bill which will be offered on the floor substantially achieves the moderate viewpoint."

I compliment my Democratic colleague for his frank and honest appraisal of a Republican sponsored bill and hope more of his caliber will join us in passing this most needed amendment to the Elementary and Secondary Education Act which would be a giant stride in the direction of giving state and local officials more discretion and control over education.

Patrol Checks 22 Accidents On Rural Roads

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 22 accidents on rural highways in Gray County during April, according to Sgt. J. W. Wilson, Highway Patrol Supervisor of the Pampa area. The crashes resulted in 18 persons injured and an estimated property damage of $27,965.00.

The rural accident summary for Gray county during the first four months of 1967 shows a total of 55 accidents resulting in one person killed, 39 injured, and an estimated property damage of $48,255.

Sgt. Wilson pointed out that school will soon be out and this will be the signal for the beginning of summer vacations. He stated "Residential neighborhoods which were quiet between 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. will be alive with children popping out in all directions. Streets and highways will be laden with carefree inattentive motorists going on vacations and outings."

"This means that motorists must be constantly alert at all times during the summer months for children darting out from unexpected places and the unpredictable actions of the

Beef Cutting Demonstrated

Sixty people saw half of a beef cut up for customer consumption Tuesday night in a demonstration at Robert E. Lee Junior High School.

"Since a large portion of the food dollar is spent on meat," Mrs. Jimmie Lou Wainwright, Gray County home demonstration agent said, "we thought people would be interested in seeing how the beef is cut."

Three meat cutters from Panhandle Packing Company cut the beef. As each selection was cut, they explained its quality and the quantity available.

They also showed how much waste is inherent in beef cutting.

Starting with beef that weighed 975 lbs. on the hoof, the butcher will end up with about 350 lbs. of meat for the table.

Mrs. Mildred Prince, home service advisor of Southwestern Public Service, demonstrated how different cuts of meat were prepared.

Irrigated agriculture and industrial development, Ryals said.

"If we don't help in organizing this association, when and if it does come in, we'll be on the outside looking in," John Harnley, Panhandle Water Conservation District president, said.

Gordon Lyons and Bill Power are Pampa directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, which helped originate the water development idea.

Lyons urged the men present yesterday "not to get a negative attitude on anything as big as this. A few years ago, California and Texas were comparable in income, but California has initiated a water project and now takes in a billion and a half more every year than Texas."

Harry Fry of Shamrock, a member of the Red River Authority, said the authority is making a study of use of Red River as a vehicle to move water to West Texas.

The proposed pipeline or canal route of water to West Texas would start with the Mississippi River Basin to Texarkana area and then go to the Sulphur River Reservoir in northeast Texas.

From there, it would move through north Texas along the highlands between the river basins to the Paducah vicinity, where it would branch out into two areas.

"One branch would go northwest through the Pampa area to Dumas and south toward Amarillo. Another would go west toward Littlefield and wind up at Bull Lake, west of Littlefield," Ryals said.

This proposed route is one of three suggested. Each would deliver 1.8 million acre-feet annually to West Texas and Eastern New Mexico.

BEFORE KEY CLUB

FBI Agents Offers Advice to Youths

By DORIS E. WILSON

J. Gordon Shanklin of Dallas, head of the north and eastern division of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, told Pampa Key Club members and their guests this morning in order for young people to become responsible adults they must complete their education and be prepared to earn a livelihood.

Quoting J. Edgar Hoover, Shanklin said, "Live positively, play hard, study diligently, take part in community affairs and be for what you know to be right rather than against what you do not like."

Shanklin was guest speaker at the Key Club's annual Teacher Appreciation Day breakfast this morning in the high school cafeteria.

In opening remarks, following an introduction by Tommy Capps, Key Club member, Shanklin said, "I'm not going to bore you with statistics about juvenile delinquency or the increased youth crime rate, you have heard enough about this and know that it is only a few rotten apples that make it tough for everyone else."

Shanklin described the functions of his office, which covers a 132-county area.

He said there were 6,400 FBI agents in the United States with judicial powers to investigate 180 violations of the federal law.

"We do not enter a case voluntarily, but are assigned by congress or a presidential directive," he said.

The FBI is only one of a number of federal investigation agencies and to function most successfully "all agencies must have the cooperation of the law-abiding public who are willing to take part in law enforcement... who are willing to become involved."

He listed academic qualifications for becoming an FBI agent and added that a candidate must have "common sense, responsibility, dependability, respect for law, rights of others, and good physical health. Most importantly, we look for character in an individual. We have to have people with good character," he said.

Gordon traced the investigation of the Coors' murder case, which began on Feb. 9, 1960 in Colorado to its successful apprehension of the murderer in Vancouver, Canada, in October, 1960.

"There's nothing to it when we have the cooperation of everyone," he said.

He declined to discuss the Kennedy assassination investigation in Dallas on Nov. 23, 1963, in which his office participated or Communism.

"These are matters of national security," he said.

A tribute to teachers was paid by Tommy Capps and Tommy Rose. Invocation was offered by Jack Williamson with honor to the flag and singing of "America" led by Robert Karr and Doc Cornutt.

Pampa High School teachers, members of the school board and Kiwanians joined the Key Club for the 7 a.m. breakfast meeting.

Shanklin also spoke at the noon luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club today in the Coronado Inn.

Meter Maid Resigns From City Department

Carol Briscoe, Pampa meter maid since Nov. 1, 1966, has resigned effective May 23, Pampa Police Chief Jim Conner said today.

Mrs. Briscoe said that she and her husband were moving out of the city.

The famous Spanish Armada consisted of 132 ships, 33,000 soldiers and crew members.

Pampa Police Investigate For Possible Arson

Pampa police today were investigating possible arson in a home fire in the 800 block of S. Somerville.

The home, owned by Leslie Morgan, 701 Octavius was burned extensively in the kitchen and outside.

Pampa police chief Jim Conner said that no bad wiring or connections were found where the fire started on the outside of the house, thus leading to the speculation of arson.

According to a Pampa police report, Morgan had just recently moved the house to Pampa and had rented it to a Carver school teacher, George W. Fudger, who planned to move in after his marriage in June.

The house was empty at the time of the fire, which is believed to have started about 5 a.m. Tuesday.

Police said they were called in on the case Tuesday afternoon.

Senate Bill Would Change Counties In Price's District

AUSTIN — U.S. Rep. Bob Price's 18th Congressional District would drop Bailey and Lamb counties and pick up Floyd and Hale counties under the Senate version of the congressional redistricting bill.

Voted past the Senate Tuesday, the bill was sent to the House where it will be referred to a committee.

The new district proposed in the Senate bill would include Armstrong, Briscoe, Carson, Castro, Childress, Collingsworth, Cottle, Dallam, Deaf Smith, Donley, Floyd, Gray, Hale, Hall, Hansford, Hartley, Hemphill, Hutchinson, Lipscomb, Moore, Motley, Ochiltree, Oldham, Parmer, Potter, Randall, Roberts, Sherman, Swisher and Wheeler counties.

FIREMEN CHECK

Apartment Fire, Smoke Bomb Case

Central station firemen answered two alarms yesterday, with minor damage to an apartment's front porch column and another with no damage from a smoke bomb.

Cause was unknown on the minor damage fire at 814 B N. Nelson, an apartment owned by J. W. Tinney. A column in front of the building blazed up at 6:28 p.m. but was out upon arrival of fire trucks.

The smoke bomb was thrown into a 1966 auto belonging to Benny Wyant while the car was parked in the 700 block of North Hobart. No damage resulted in the 7:23 p.m. incident, firemen said.

THE NATIONAL REPORT ON WHAT'S HAPPENING

MILLIONS OF JOBS — BUT WHICH JOB FOR YOU? Come this June millions of high and junior high school guys and gals will fling down books and head pellmell for jobs (many permanent, some only for the summer) . . . Many teens will also be aiming with bated breath toward college — and wondering about later careers. What kind of work will suit you? YOUTH more years in a clinic, to be a specialist. Qualifications: good judgment (how sick is a person — with what?); courage (operate or not operate?); and a constitution like a truck driver (people get sick 24 hours a day). But doctors (including girls — because women make splendid physicians) can count on a very active life walking around with that little black bag . . . a high standing in the community . . . and earnings up to $20-25,000 a year or more.

More about careers — Learn all about 'em! YOUTH BEAT has arranged so you can write for the 424-page "Career Opportunities" book (57 careers), free from New York Life Insurance Co., Box YB, Madison Square Station, New York, N.Y. 10010. Write 'em.

OU-LA-LA, PARDON MY DISAPPEARING SWIMSUIT: The French with their highly deserved reputation for high fashion, will introduce a new note, this spring, in the new lines of underwear becoming so popular with younger girls everywhere. It's a charming paper swimsuit.

HOTLINE FOR TEENS IN TROUBLE: Teen-age men (and girls) overcome with that I-

BEAT has sifted through the files of one of the country's leading guides on future careers . . . to dig up data and tips. Studies show three longtime popular careers still hold top interest for guys and gals, today.

Nursing is still tops with girls: Yep, despite hospital admissions soaring and the heavy work load, girls continue to be intensely interested in this career of helping other people's health. Experts say qualifications are — good health yourself, interest in people, responsibility, wanting to take care of others. You usually train in a hospital school for three years (high school diploma required) . . . though registered nurse courses exist in junior and senior colleges. Right now, three-quarters of a million new nurses are needed . . . more, every year. Pay to start is $3,750 to $5,500. You can graduate right into acceptance for the military services' nurse corps or government programs abroad . . . and, if you retire to raise a family, nurse training comes in mighty handy.

Teaching's for both girls and boys: LBJ was a teacher; JFK has said he'd like to teach. Close to two million today are secondary school teachers . . . and maybe you could do a lot better? If so, set your sights on four years at one of the 1,700 colleges and universities that churn out teachers. But, first, be sure you're good at two things — you like to learn, you like the satisfaction of teaching others. One out of every four people today in the United States is in school . . . and, beyond that, there's a big call for U.S. teachers in government service and foreign schools abroad. You can earn — $3,500 to $6,000 to start . . . national average now for all teachers is $6,500. But this rises to much more in highly educational-prone communities. As a career, can demand a lot and your pupils take a lot out of you (don't YOU know?), but can be very satisfying.

So, you want to be a doctor? Two things to remember — you will need dedication and you'll never stop studying . . . doctors have to slave to keep up with the mountain of new medical discoveries. Demanding preparation will gobble up time and money — seven years of schooling, plus two years as a low-paid intern . . . and maybe three want - to - go juvenile delinquent feeling can run to the nearest phone and dial for help, now, in Merrick and Belmore, Long Island. They dial a "troubled teen" phone number and reach a member of a youth aid panel . . . maybe a psychiatrist, doctor, lawyer, minister of educator. Immediately, phone advice is given, and follow-up help if needed . . . all anonymous and confidential. This hotline does not discriminate — troubled parents of troubled teens may run and dial it, too.

Reds List Shakeup In Hierarchy

HONG KONG (UPI) — The Chinese Communist party Tuesday announced a shakeup of the command structure for party Chairman Mao Tse-tung's cultural revolution, Peking Radio reported.

The radio broadcast an "important document" issued by the party Central Committee which said it had decided to abolish the five-man cultural revolution group established last July 16 to guide Mao's purge-and-power struggle which has thrown China into turmoil.

The Peking broadcast followed a report by the provincial radio in Nanking that "violent fighting" had erupted in Kiansu Province.

Other reports told of renewed fighting in Szechuan Province.

The Peking broadcast said a new committee would be appointed and placed under the control of the Political Bureau of the Central Committee.

The party document was addressed to all the regional bureaus of the party, the municipal party committees, government ministries, to the general political department of the Red Chinese army and to "all people's organization," Peking Radio said.

Millions of War Medals Still Unclaimed

Millions of unclaimed medals earned by World War II and Korean War servicemen are stacked up in warehouses around the country, according to the Veterans Administration.

Jack Coker, Manager of the VA Regional Office in Waco, revealed that the Army alone has some 800,000 pounds of medals in a Philadelphia warehouse.

The ship is now undergoing acceptance trials and shake down training.

Among the medals there are over one-and-a-half million Victory Medals, a decoration earned by almost everyone who served in World War II.

The VA Manager said that veterans interested in securing medals to which they are entitled should write a letter to the military branch in which they served.

Letters should contain full particulars about their military service, units to which assigned, and above all, the letter should contain the veteran's complete name and serial number.

To write for medals, Coker said, use the following addresses:

ARMY: The Adjutant General, Decorations and Awards Branch, Department of the Army, Washington, D.C. 20300.

AIR FORCE: Director of Military Personnel, Attention: Awards Branch, Headquarters, U.S. Air Force, Washington, D.C. 20330.

"RAT FINK A BOO BOO"

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: My daughter went to New York to try out for a part in a Broadway musical. She is a very beautiful and talented girl. She is a little on the heavy side right now, but the part called for a girl who weighed at least 200 pounds and could dance. Well, my daughter weighed 220 pounds and she is a wonderful dancer.

When she got there she was told she was too THIN? She spent her own money for the trip and was terribly disappointed. Inasmuch as she met the qualifications, can't she sue for the cost of the trip?

HER MOTHER DEAR MOTHER: Anyone can sue for anything he wishes. But whether he can collect is something else. Too bad she didn't get the job, but I'm sure it was worth a lot to a 220 pound girl to be told she was "too thin" for something.

DEAR ABBY: I am fast losing my faith in my friends. I have just gone through an operation that has altered my facial expression. Part of my face is permanently paralyzed.

The operation was easy to endure compared to the pain I have suffered from the remarks of some of my friends.

One woman said, "Now you will know how the rest of us plain Janes feel. Welcome to the club."

Another said, "It will be harder for you than the average woman to adjust to being homely. That's one of the penalties of having had good looks and suddenly losing them."

Abby, I have never been vain about my looks, knowing that real beauty comes from within. I am horrified at these so-called condolences in the name of friendship.

DEAR HURT: IF those who have made the remarks you quoted are your "friends," I would say that you would be happier without their friendship.

DEAR ABBY: I think you were a little too rough on the husband who told his wife not to invite any of her widow friends to their dinner parties because he hated to chauffeur them home afterwards.

My wife has several widow friends, and I prefer that she entertain them during her free afternoons as I don't like to chauffeur them home after playing host to them all evening.

I have read in your column that one should not judge another until he has walked two weeks in his shoes. I advise you not to judge another until you have driven 20 widows home in his "free taxi." Sign me.

NO CHAUFFEUR DEAR NO: Sorry, but I don't think I was "rough" enough. In every marriage, eventually one must walk alone. If it's the man, his burden is lighter because a man is welcome everywhere — alone. If it's a woman, well, that's a different story.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "HATES TO HURT HIM" IN HOUSTON: You don't have to be a doctor to know that a little iodine now is preferable to an amputation later. Say "good-bye," and don't look back.

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal, unpublished reply, enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069.

Summer Trip Set By The Jovileers

GROOM — The Jovileer Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Jerry Kotara. A business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Arnold Kuehler. Plans for the annual summer trip were discussed. A donation to the Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts was made by the club.

Dinner was served by Mrs. Kotara and Mrs. Bob Babcock, hostess.

Hospital Auxiliary Plans Annual Recognition Lunch

Highland General Hospital Auxiliary will have its annual Award Luncheon Friday at 12 noon in Jim's Steak House.

Recognition will be given at that time to members, who have worked 100 hours or more this year.

The auxiliary is opening its membership to interested persons who would like to be of service to the hospital at assigned tasks.

Auxiliary members assist hospital personnel by taking patients to their rooms on arrival; renting television sets; delivering mail and flowers.

Proceeds from the television rentals and cart sales are used to buy something needed for the hospital.

At the information desk, located in the north wing of the hospital, members help the chaplain of the week with his work; notify various pastors that a member of their congregation is a patient.

Toilet articles and other sundry items are delivered by cart to patients rooms. The cart is run daily on weekdays on all floors.

When needed, they assist in the laboratory with duties designed by technicians, such as filing. They also assist on the obstetrical floor in assisting nurses by straightening closets, getting water and juice for patients, assisting patients with getting ready to go home.

Proceeds from the various activities have enabled the auxiliary to buy drapes for the Record Room; furniture for a conference room for doctor and hospital board meetings; an intercom wired to each nurses' station.

At the present time, the auxiliary is contemplating buying a heart machine.

Auxiliary officers are Mmes. E. M. Keller Jr., president; Jean White, first vice president; Norman Buhrow, second vice president; Fred Alvey, treasurer; Joe Autry, recording secretary; S. M. Goodlett Jr., corresponding secretary; Louise Sewell, historian-publicity; Jack P. Foster, parliamentarian.

The auxiliary extends an invitation to interested persons to attend the awards luncheon Friday in Jim's Steak House.

Get the Most Out of Watering

By Sheila and Allan Swenson NEA Garden Specialists Drought is becoming an annual problem in gardens across the country. Even more important than providing water is how it is done so that plants really get the water they need.

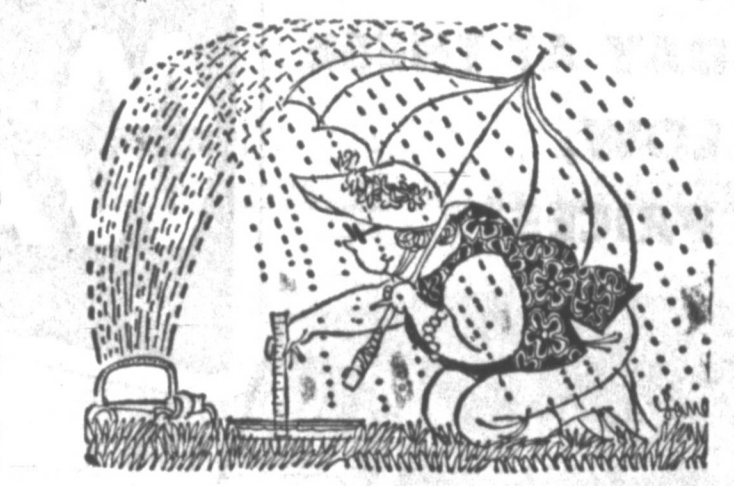

First green thumb rule is that most garden crops, and lawns as well, need one inch of water each week. If rainfall is less than this, periodic watering is necessary.

To determine soil moisture, dig down six to eight inches. If soil there balls easily in your palm, moisture is usually adequate. If soil crumbles, plan to add water.

Put on an inch of water, measured in coffee cans along rows or on the lawn, when you water. Light sprinkling encourages shallow-rooted weeds.

Soakers are best for flower, rose or shrub beds. You avoid wetting foliage, which could encourage disease. Canvas soakers are handy, easy to use. Water in furrows of gardens is one easy way to get the needed two-to-three gallons per minute per 100 foot of row.

Small fruits can be hard hit by dry weather. Plan to water a week or so before fruit ripens. You'll get more juicy fruit. But don't overwater during fruiting to avoid soft fruit or berry rots. Melons, squash or cucumbers need regular watering. So do root crops. Where water restrictions are

Bridge Benefit To Aid Research Into Causes, Cures Of Leukemia

Some children come from as far away as 1,000 miles to the Wadley Blood Research Center in Dallas. They come weekly to have a blood count taken or a bone marrow test, and then perhaps a transfusion.

Wadley averages between 50 and 100 cases of acute leukemia at any given time. It strikes the very young and the elderly.

In the United States 1,600 people died each year from acute leukemia.

Wadley provides the largest leukemia service in the southwest and one of the largest in the United States. But even at best they can only prolong the patient's life.

"The median survival is 18 months after the onset of acute leukemia," Dr. Joseph Hill, director of Wadley, said.

There is no cure. But without treatment the median survival time would only be 20 to 30 weeks.

"We are optimistic of the development of new treatments in the near future, which will significantly prolong lives past the 18 months," Dr. Hill said.

The Leukemia Society of America is helping to stop the killer. One of its grants of $75,000 is financing a five-year research project by Dr. Joe Roberts of Wadley.

Theories of the causes include that it is a form of a virus, an infection, cancer, nutritional defect, metabolic defect, an inherited abnormality of cell growth and radiation.

In leukemia the production of white cells gets out of control and large numbers of immature white cells are produced. The immature white cells cannot carry out their function of combating infection and harmful micro-organisms can multiply and infect the body. The disease can also cause a progressing anemia. Infection, bleeding and damage to vital organs may result in death of the victim.

Each week Wadley gets two new cases of acute leukemia.

Pampans interested in contributing to the research of this dread children's malady to date have contributed over $350 as mail-in contributions to the First National Bank, Pampa.

On Thursday of this week a Bridge Benefit is planned for 7:30 p.m. in the Coronado Inn. All proceeds from the sale of one dollar tickets will be given to the Wadley Research Center according to Mrs. G. M. Morrison and Mrs. Roy Bourland.

Bridge players are invited to bring their own foursomes. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

How to Live to 100; Those Who Are Tell!

Want to live to 100? Eat a lot of strawberries and gorge yourself on onions when you feel bad.

Work hard, laugh a lot, don't take things very seriously, and curb your vices.

Do these things and you'll magnify your chances of living to 100—if the people who already have are right about the reasons they've survived so long.

These conclusions are based on a survey by the family economics bureau of Northwestern National Life Insurance Co. The study turned up some strange accounts of lives that have lasted more than a century.

Most fascinating of all was the life of "The Oldest American," Sylvester Magee of Hattiesburg, Miss. He will be 126 May 29.

Theoretically, Magee should have died of lung cancer or emphysema several decades ago. He's been smoking cigarettes for 108 years.

His youngest child is an 18-year-old daughter, born when he was 107.

He fought for the Union during the Civil War and was wounded twice during the Vicksburg campaign.

Magee really is as old as he says he is, judging by an entry in a family Bible owned by a Mississippi judge, a descendant of the man who owned Magee when he was a slave. Recently, Magee was billed as the oldest man in America at the Philadelphia Boat Show and the New York International Sporting and Camping Show, that he attended.

In his way, Magee is as rare as a Leonardo da Vinci or an Albert Einstein. Actuaries have calculated, on the basis of a 1960 census, that only one person in 100,000 reaches even age 115. Odds against reaching 100 are smaller, but still there are only about 13,000 centenarians in the United States today, says the Institute of Gerontology of the University of Iowa.

Mrs. Charles Cox, 100, of Wheeling, W. Va., is one of those in the Northwestern National Life study who credits her long life to hard work. "Get married at 18 and work hard from that time on," she suggests.

"Mind your own business and don't retire until 90," says Mrs. Thomas Ryan, 100, of Mitchell, S.D.

Clark Wells, 104, of Jamaica, N. Y., believes that if an older person stops working, "it will fetch him up in two or three years."

Christian Kuhnle of Charles City, Iowa, who was 100 when he died several years ago, creditied his long life to his yellowed "dirt book" with its torn and loosened pages. According to the book, celery is good for brain fog, coconut expels tapeworms, melons are an excellent kidney cleanser, and rhubarb cures cancer.

His sure-fire, all-around elixir was strawberries. They killed his piles, cured his sores and aided his eyesight — he said.

Mrs. Emma Guthrie, 100, of Los Angeles, depends upon "wine before breakfast, beer before dinner, and snuff in between" to keep her healthy.

Mrs. Sarah McCouston, 100, of Oklahoma City, eats pounds and pounds of onions every time she feels "under the weather." She always recovers her health quickly after the treatment, she says. (She may not, however, recover her friends so quickly.)

A sense of humor may be a "selective survival trait," one reason for old age, according to Dr. Belle Boone Beard, research professor in charge of the Centenarian Study at the Social Science Research Institute of the University of Georgia, Athens.

The insurance company study confirms Dr. Beard's findings. Many centenarians referred to their senses of humor. "I like to smile," says Mrs. Anna R. Kelley, 100, of Philadelphia, Pa. "I love to live," says Mrs. Carrie Barker, 100, of Rich Hill, Mo.

Carl Ytregard, 103, of Bellevue, Wash., attributes his long life to laughter.

Akin to a sense of humor are the easy-going philosophies of long-lived people. "Don't cross a bridge until you come to it, but when you come to it, be ready to cross it," says Mrs. Mintie Burgess, 100, of Coral Gables, Fla.

When Mrs. Sally Lewis, 100, of Levelland, Tex., was asked whether she lived a long time because she took good care of herself, she said: "Goodness no, I've done everything in the book I shouldn't have done."

"Go it strong while you're hot, because you're going to be cold for a long, long time," said Henry Goettler, 100, of Andrew, Iowa, who died a few days after his 100th birthday in March.

Many people who are a long way from 100 rationalize bad habits with the assertion, "I don't want to live to 100 anyway." Others shudder at the thought of celebrating their centenary, picturing themselves as wrinkled and ugly, tottering and quack-voiced. This mental picture is inaccurate. Many centenarians are hearty and alert to the day of death and never saw the inside of a hospital except on visits.

Miss Layona Glenn, 101, of Atlanta writes a column for four newspapers. She startled President Johnson during a visit to the White House in 1965 when she suddenly bent over and placed the palms of her hands on the floor without bending her knees. She still can do it.

Dr. Beard tells of a 100-year-old judge who presides in court; two insurance men who administer their firms; and nine other active businessmen-centenarians.

Mrs. Frederick W. Young, Sr., 103, of Detroit flew alone to Los Angeles in January to visit her two sons. She has been hospitalized once—when her youngest child was delivered.

Nevertheless, one centenarian told a reporter, "I attribute the fact that I have lived to 106 to plain tough luck."

Old age unhampered by physical or mental debilities may become common in a few years. Already, scientists have announced discovery of a drug that reduces senility by breaking up fatty deposits in the blood, clearing the way for free flow of blood to the brain.

Estrogen hormones preserve body youthfulness.

The famous Herman Kahn, director of the Hudson Institute, flatly predicts "limited rejuvenation" by the year 2000. Great advances will be made, he says, in substitutes for human organs, senses and limbs, to sustain life.

Nevertheless, most authorities feel that life expectancy will not increase significantly. Dr. Nathan Shock of Baltimore, a well-known researcher on aging, predicts a possible 10-year lengthening of life span by 2000.

But, Kahn is more optimistic. He says that life expectancy may be "well beyond 100 years" by 2000, due to lifetime immunization against most diseases.

Scientists generally agree that old age is largely the result of hereditary factors. Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes expressed this view in a picturesque way about 110 years ago when he suggested that people who want to live long lives "advertise for a couple of parents, both belonging to long-lived families, some years before birth."

However, heredity was not found to be an important longevity influence, in a broad-scale Longevity Study at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore.

If Kahn is correct and life expectancy will be well beyond 100 by the year 2000, and if medical science overcomes senility and physical debility, America will be the beneficiary. The knowledge and wisdom of alert and active people who have lived a century or more would be invaluable assets.

2,500 Brides to be Married In Paper Gowns in U.S. This Summer

NEW YORK (UPI)—About 2,500 of this year's early summer brides in the United States will be married in paper gowns.

That is the estimate of Robert Magid, president of Hartford Textile Corp., a firm in the van of the trend for paper disposable garments for both men and women. Magid says about enough paper fabric finished to resemble white satin has been sold to bridal gown houses to make 2,500 gowns.

"Since a wedding dress is worn but once, paper is sensible for the girl who doesn't want to spurge," Magid said.

Magid says paper fabrics and laminated paper and plastic fabrics are catching on far faster than anybody would have dreamed of as possible only a year or so ago.

"Paper is 'in' mainly because of style rather than price per se," Magid says. "Of course price cuts a big part. A woman can buy a printed paper frock in brilliant color for $4 or $5 with a styling and designing that she might have to pay $15 for in cloth. She can wear the paper frock four or five times before it becomes too soiled or frayed for further wear."

Paper garments cannot be washed or cleaned though, Magid said.

Any washing or cleaning process that would work on them would destroy the flame retardant chemicals used in the finish, anyway.

Printed paper fabrics and paper-plastic or paper-cloth laminations already made enormous headway in household use for drapes, bedspreads and table cloths.

In men's clothing, Magid sees the shirt as the best bet, both in work and play shirts. "I think, in the men's dress shirt, paper would have to bring back the separate color but there's no question in my mind that a paper disposable shirt to retail for about $1.50 would find a ready market among men who have to travel and for occasional use by men in general."

Magid thinks disposable undershirts may be made of paper for men who must travel.

"And, a number of manufacturers have projects for regular well styled suits in paper to sell for up to $12," he said.

The Family Lawyer

What Price Beauty? Skin deep or not, beauty is precious to most people. Both men and women, as a rule, are acutely conscious of their physical attractiveness — or lack of it.

So it is not surprising that people hurt in accidents often seek damages not just for injury to their limbs but also for injury to their looks.

Should that kind of compensation be awarded at all? The law's answer is yes. Even though a scar is not disabling in the same way as a limp or an ache, disfigurement can be a real and serious handicap.

The biggest problem lies in deciding how much the damages should be. How do you put a price on the harm done by a scar?

The courts generally take into account both the characteristics of the victim and the characteristics of the scar itself. Thus, in particular cases, the following facts have lent weight to a damage claim:

- 1) that the victim was a girl ("scars on the face of a female are ordinarily regarded as more objectionable than on the face of a male");
- 2) that the victim had a job (as an actor) in which appearance mattered a great deal;
- 3) that the scar had an unpleasant side effect (distorted a young man's smile).

On the other hand, damages will be less if the scar can be mended by simple plastic surgery — or if it is in a place where it would not ordinarily be seen.

What if the mere display of a scar to the jury would be shocking or indecent? That could improperly inflame the emotions of the jury. Such a display may be forbidden, usually at the discretion of the trial judge.

However, in most cases, the judge will rely on the jurors to draw fair conclusion from what they see.

In one case, involving an injury to a young woman's knee, the defense attorney objected to an inspection by the jury. He noted that the plaintiff was young, charming, and beautiful and that the jurors were all objecting, commenting:

"She is entitled to resort to the same proofs that she might have resorted to if she had been aged, ugly, and repulsive."

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Four months ago, President Johnson's popularity rating was at a low ebb. If he had been a television program the networks probably would have canceled him.

But now, according to two recent national opinion polls, his standing in the public esteem is on the rise again.

One survey had him drawing even with Gov. George Romney, who as recently as last March was eight percentage points ahead. Another poll gave LBJ a 12-point lead over Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, almost the exact reverse of the situation in January.

To an untrained observer, the reasons for this resurgence might not be readily apparent.

As far as one can tell with the naked eye, the President's position on the major issues (Vietnam, civil rights, etc.) is about the same as it was when his popularity was declining.

A skilled analyst like myself however, has no trouble explaining the upswing.

Just offhand, I can cite a number of developments that undoubtedly have boosted the President's stock. Two of them in particular were astute political moves on his part:

1. The appointment of Lasse to a key post in the beautification program.
2. Cancellation of plans to present cowboy hats to the Latin American diplomats who visited his ranch.

That Lasse was an inspired choice to serve as mascot of the anti-litter campaign is now admitted even by those who were backing one of Rin Tin Tin's descendants for the job. Lasse himself has never effectively silenced critics who had been asserting that the President had alienated intellectuals. Harvard itself has never produced a smarter dog than Lasse.

By the same token, the President's handling of the cowboy hat crisis undercut critics who had accused the administration of inflexibility in the foreign policy field.

When Latin American envoys who were invited to the LBJ ranch let it be known they would be reluctant to pose in 10-gallon hats for fear it would make them look silly, Johnson yielded.

Granted, there might have been a time when he would have crammed those hats on their heads regardless. In this instance, however, there is no gainsaying that he rated high in spirit of compassion, accommodation and adaptability.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman Tuesday advocated government machinery to help farmers set up collective bargaining units to obtain more muscle in the market place, much like the labor unions in the 1930's.

In a speech prepared for delivery at the National Press Club, Freeman admitted that the nation's farmers are hurting economically and urged they be given an "economic bill of rights."

He said the farmer is now in about the same situation industrial workers were before the National Labor Relations Act was passed in 1935 and recommended that steps be taken to create a favorable climate for organizing farmers into effective bargaining associations.

"There couldn't be a better time than now, for the farmer is hurting," Freeman said. Overall farm prices on April 15 were down 7.2 per cent from a year ago and have now fallen for eight months in a row.

SEUL (UPI)—A five-ton U.S. Army truck carrying soldiers to a surveillance position near the Korean Demilitarized Zone went out of control and overturned, killing four American soldiers and injuring 14 others, U.S. spokesmen said Tuesday.

The victims' names were not released.

Delinquency Panel Head Fears Ruling

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The chairman of a House panel on juvenile delinquency said he fears the Supreme Court's decision to extend adult court-room guarantees to minors will free many hardened young toughs to walk the streets.

Rep. Roman Pucinski, D-Ill., said Monday's high court ruling extending a blanket of constitutional safeguards to minors has "created a crisis for the nation that could result in chaos."

But Nicholas N. Kitzrie, an attorney for the American Parents Committee, hailed the Supreme Court decision as a step towards bringing juvenile delinquency—like mental illness—out into the open.

The court's 58-page majority opinion, written by Justice Abe Fortas, declared that when a youthful offender is brought up for a hearing:

- He and his parents must be told the charges against him.
- An attorney must be provided.
- The right of cross-examination and confrontation with his accusers must be allowed.
- He must be protected against self-incrimination, such as a confession.

Monday's decision applied only to a court hearing for a juvenile, but the court may rule later on the questions of police arrest and post-hearing appeals.

Fortas spoke for himself and six other justices in writing the opinion.

Pucinski, whose house subcommittee is studying the administration's juvenile delinquency bill, said he will ask President Johnson to quadruple the proposed $25 billion budget in light of the court's decision.

"Until communities provide adequate facilities, parents of delinquents are going to take advantage of the due process of law ordered by the court," Pucinski said.

"It means that many hard core delinquents, with the advantage of bail procedures will be walking the streets unless there are adequate facilities to care for them," he said.

The hopes of the liberal establishment in Congress are down an effect by the states to amend the U.S. Constitution are mostly an effort toward nullification. Nullified would be that Article V which provides that:

"The Congress... on application of the legislatures of two-thirds (34) of the states, shall call a convention for proposing amendments."
Any proposed amendment coming out of such a convention would require ratification by three-fourths of the states. However, this safeguard against ill-considered amendments does not overcome objections to the procedure, which now has been endorsed by 32 states. There are no guidelines, no time limits on the convention-by-petition methods urged by states. There has been no experience with it whatsoever.

Even so, nullification seems not to be the answer. Nullification in this instance is typical of the agile, pragmatic liberalism now prevailing in U.S. politics. The general objective of the proposed constitutional convention would be to reject the Supreme Court's one-man-one-vote rule. That rule requires that both houses of a state legislature be apportioned strictly in accordance with population. If many citizens do not like that, they seem to be stuck with it.

One of the technicalities on which liberals challenge several of the 32 state petitions in that they came from legislatures which had not yet been reapportioned in accordance with the Supreme Court rule. A booby trap lurks there. If such a petition automatically is invalid because re-apportionment had not been accomplished, then all other acts of that legislative session would be equally invalid. That could lead to much confusion and to even more litigation.

RAIDERS STRIKE
MANILA (UPI)—The Philippine national police reported today that armed pirates using motor boats raided four coastal towns last week, raped three women and escaped with $15,000.

The police said one member of a pirate band was killed in a gun battle in the town of Baganga. Another suspect was also captured, they said.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson receives the national multiple sclerosis award today at a White House ceremony. Installment credit debt has reached a record volume requiring about 15 per cent of all personal disposable income for servicing. New installment credit purchasing has exceeded the repayment rate since 1961.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Richard M. Nixon is currently the top choice of Republican party professionals for the GOP presidential nomination, but neither he nor Gov. George Romney will win it, according to Newsweek magazine. The magazine reported in its current issue that a poll of grass roots GOP leaders showed Nixon was favored in 28 states with 822 convention votes, just 45 short of the number needed to nominate. Romney was reported trailing far behind. But Newsweek said its nationwide survey showed that Harris, Gallup and other polls giving Romney and Nixon big ratings have not impressed the party pros. "Grass roots Republicans believe that both will be broke in the spring primaries and that neither Nixon nor Romney will be nominated," the magazine said. Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., and Gov. Ronald Reagan of California are being examined by the professionals as the party's newest attractions—both with "latent strength out of all proportion to their experience in public life," Newsweek said. The latest Harris poll, also released Monday, showed that President Johnson had moved up sharply in voters' ratings since March, pulling even with Romney in a head-to-head test and increasing his margin over Nixon. One Harris poll, copyrighted by the Washington Post Co., gave Johnson a 55 to 45 edge over Nixon in May, compared to 54 to 46 in March, and a 50-50 split with Romney in May, compared with a 54 to 46 lead by Romney in the last previous sampling. Romney had led Johnson in the poll since November.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Walter Mintz of Shearson, C Hammill Co. feels "a large proportion of investible funds can be kept in the stock market" but feels concentration on the "glamor stocks" of small outfits with high priced earnings ratios should be avoided at present. He also believes issues of investment quality should have a large position in investment portfolios. Leslie M. Pollack of Reynolds & Co. says the recent surge in the Dow Jones rail average, which had acted as a drag on bullish sentiment, removes one of the few technical obstacles in the present market. He feels once the 910 area on the industrial average is surpassed the bull market should carry the average into new high territory. Robert H. Stovall of E. F. in the current market seems high and some seem overbought and a second quarter selloff is expected. He believes, however, the long term future of the stock market continues to be excellent.

Foreign Commentary

By K. C. THALER
LONDON (UPI)—The mounting intensity of the Vietnam fighting in recent weeks has set off speculation that Hanoi may be out to cut off the two northern provinces of Quang Tri and Thau Thien.

This ambitious plan is one of the possibilities seen behind the Communist concentrations in the Demilitarized Zone.

Another theory advanced by European observers of the Vietnam military scene suggests that Communists may aim at severing the country across the Pleiku-Kontum region of the Central Highlands.

These are conclusions reached from latest happenings on the Vietnam battle fronts.

They are among latest attempts to assess the master plan behind Hanoi's present and long-term strategy. This in turn stems from an altogether unpredictable guerrilla mentality, developed over 20 years of fighting in varying degrees of jungle intensity.

But whatever the specific immediate goals, the Communists' latest activities are seen to reflect a stepped-up determination to achieve a major, if not spectacular success now.

This straining for a major success could, in the view of observers, be prompted by growing fear that the fortunes of the war are swinging against the Communists.

Chi Minh may be pushing the current fierce campaign, anticipating that a further American buildup would render success less likely.

Seen from this distance Hanoi seems to be battling for time, banking largely on political pressures within the United States and outside to come to its aid and finish the job which its arms cannot achieve.

Hanoi has recently asked Russia for more and more sophisticated weapons which Moscow has undertaken to supply, to prevent—as Communist diplomats in London put it—American victory.

Some observers suggest that behind the Communists' apparent latest push for a spectacular success may in fact lie the hope that it could provide Hanoi with an important bargaining point in eventual peace talks.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—A sample of how civic enlightenment and public non-commercial television can combine to create an occasion on local levels will be offered this weekend in Los Angeles.

The occasion is eight-and-a-half hours of special evening broadcasting as a result of a $3,000 gift from the Soroptimist Club of Los Angeles to cover the programming, promotion and advertising of the event—billed as a "cultural happening."

By network standards, $3,000 is hardly worth mentioning, but for non-commercial television almost any signs of community involvement are noteworthy.

Look To Future
The Los Angeles event is also important because of the likelihood that the Carnegie Commission suggestions for a public television service, which emphasize expansion of local rather than network non-commercial programming, are probably the blueprints to be followed in the future.

The televised "cultural happening" here in Los Angeles, which will be broadcast on the local educational station, KCET, an ultra-high-frequency channel, will be hosted by Gregory Peck.

Mr. Peck, a member of KCET's board of directors, will introduce each of the six special programs of the weekend evenings.

On Saturday evening, the first broadcast, "John Burton: Creative Person," an award-winning program produced by KCET, will offer the British-born, 70-year-old author-chemist-artisan demonstrating "his skill in forging glass and words into a poignant reflection of his inner self."

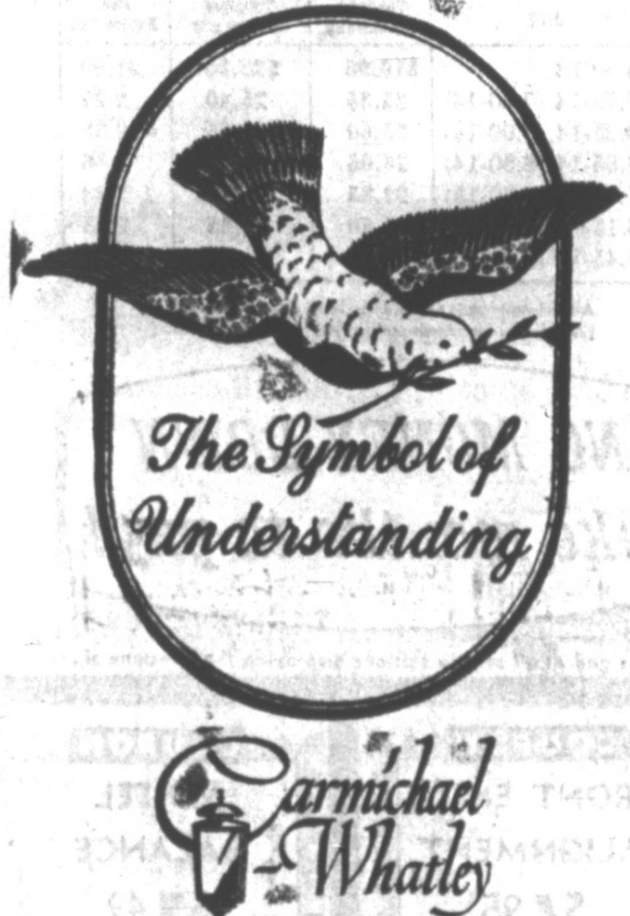

This will be followed by the play "The Irregular Verb to Love," with Cyril Richard and Cornelia Otis Skinner starring in their original Broadway roles.

Musical Happening
Next comes "An Hour With Joan Utherland," one of the world's great coloraturas.

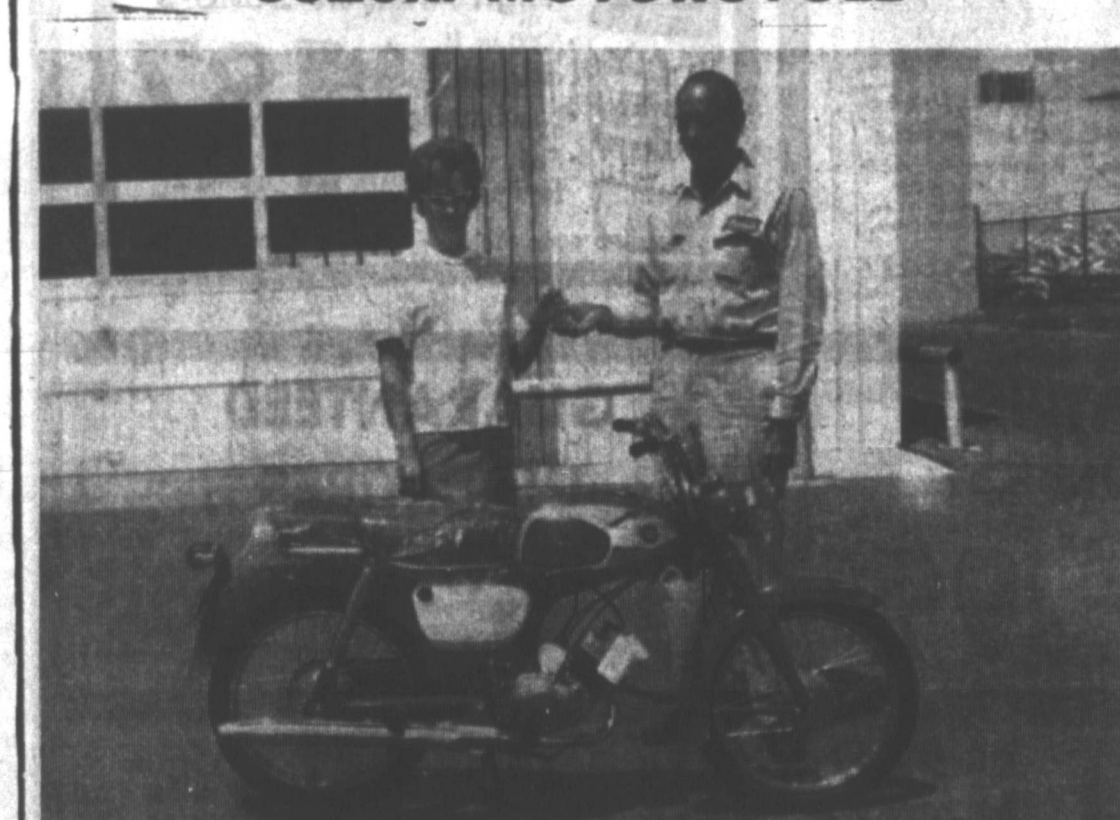

Closing out the Saturday specials will be "Ginsberg & Ferlinghetti USA Poets," in which Allen Ginsberg and Lawrence Ferlinghetti offer readings from their works.

Finally, ending the weekend of special programming, there is the celebrated three-and-a-half hour British Broadcasting Corp. production of "Hamlet At Elsinore," with a cast headed by Christopher Plummer, Robert Shaw and Michael Caine.

In a special brochure also made possible by the Soroptimist Club gift, station KCET said: "We look forward to the not-tpp-distant future when 'happenings' on public television will be the rule—and not a special."

AMERICAN LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Unbeatable Dean Cools off Chisox

By United Press International
Chicago White Sox right down his alley.

An avid and accomplished bowler, Chance knocked the Dean Chance, rolling strikes at a record pace, found the pins out from under Chicago's 10-game winning streak Tuesday night, pitching his second consecutive shutout in beating the White Sox 1-0 on a five-hitter.

The victory was the sixth in a row for Chance, tops among American League pitchers, and his six strikeouts pushed him into the league lead with 53 for the season.

The 25-year-old Chance, who never has led any professional league in strikeouts, is well on his way to a personal high. The husky right-hander fanned 207 in 1964, the year he won the Cy Young award as the best pitcher in baseball, but is far ahead of that pace.

Six Straight Wins
"I felt I had better stuff this year," Chance said. "This was the happiest win of the year for me, six straight now."

Although beaten, the White Sox retained their 1 1/2 game lead over Detroit, which lost 5-4 to Washington, Kansas City blanked California 4-0, Baltimore blasted Boston 8-3 and New York edged Cleveland 4-3 in 11 innings in other AL games.

Cincinnati stretched its National League lead to four games by stopping Pittsburgh 6-3, St. Louis nipped Philadelphia 4-3, San Francisco beat Chicago 3-1, Atlanta whipped New York 6-3 and Los Angeles lashed Houston 6-1.

Consecutive doubles by Bob Allison and Zolio Versalles produced the only run in the second inning and spoiled a fine performance by Chicago's John Bushardt, who limited the Twins to five hits in seven innings.

Frank Howard doubled home Jim King with the tie-breaking run in the third inning and scored the deciding tally on Bernie Allen's sacrifice fly as Washington snapped a five-game losing streak. David Knowles shut off a Detroit threat in the seventh inning and preserved the win for starter Camilo Pascual, victim of Al Kaline's three-run homer in the first frame.

Jim Hunter's three-hit pitching and a two-run double by rookie Rick Monday in the fifth inning paced the A's to their fifth successive win. Hunter, raising his record to 4-3, struck out seven while Monday doubled home a pair of runs in the fifth and scored the final run on Ramon Webster's two-base hit. Paul Blair's first homer, a three-run pinch blow in the eighth inning, lifted Baltimore past the Red Sox. Blair's blast off reliever John Wyatt wiped out a 5-4 Boston lead achieved on Carl Yastrzemski's solo blow in the seventh. Frank Robinson also hit a two-run homer for the Orioles.

Mickey Mantle, honored in pre-game ceremonies for his 100th home run last Sunday, hit a bases-loaded single in the 11th to present Thad Tillotson with his first major league triumph. Tillotson started the winning rally with his first major league hit, a single, and came around to score the decisive run.

YOUNGEST FAN of the New York Yankees, although he doesn't know it, is Robert Seinker of New Castle, Pa. The infant's father, Michael, dressed him in a pint-sized Yankee uniform for his baptizing.

Pampa's Spring Sports Picnic, honoring athletes in track, baseball, golf, volleyball and tennis, will be held, beginning at 6:30 p.m. Monday in Central Park.

Shockers Plan Thursday Session

Pampa's sophomores for 1967-68 will hold a Green and Gold type scrimmage of their own at 7:30 p.m. Thursday on the high school field.

This morning, players elected senior quarterback Dwight Rogers as team captain for 1967.

Saturday at 7:30 p.m. the annual Green and Gold game, held annual in the wrap-up of spring football season, will be held on the field.

Members of the Shockers for this season will play in the Thursday game and Saturday all players varsity and sophomores - to - be will see action in a game type session.

Players Needed For Gals Team

May Lou Gilreath, manager of Pampa's Women Softball team, said today that more players were needed for the team.

The ladies will play their first game at 8 p.m. Friday on Hobart St. Park when Skellytown will send over a team.

The gals have 14 players out and plan to practice tonight and Thursday with each session beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Holt, Williams Pace Shooters

David Holt and Kenneth Williams continued to dominate the winners post at the weekly pistol club matches Monday.

Holt won the 25 caliber shoot with a 284 score. Just edging Williams who posted a 282 score. Third was Fred Carothers with 269, then came Jess Good at 263, Ralph Day, 258 and John Gors, 210.

Williams won the .38 and 45 caliber shoot by posting the same score he had in the 22 match, 282. Carothers was second at 270 and Day fired 251.

Tiger Keeps Title in Upset; Torres Fans in Demonstration

NEW YORK (UPI)—It was a night of blood, sweat and tears at the old Madison Square Garden Tuesday night when Dick Tiger retained his world light heavyweight title with a 15-round split decision over Jose Torres.

The blood that was spilled belonged mainly to the spectators who were engulfed in a gory, bottle-tossing riot after the decision was announced.

The sweat was Tiger's, an old man of 37 who put all his heart and effort into the bout and then had to worry until the decision was announced.

And the tears were those of Torres, who cried unashamedly when he said he probably will never fight again after the crushing loss.

Spectators injured
Six spectators, five with cuts serious enough to require stitches, were treated at St. Clair's Hospital after the wild outbreak, the second within three months at the Garden.

Tiger, who won the title from the Puerto Rican last Dec. 16, made a mockery of the oddsmakers, who sent Torres into the ring a 9-5 favorite.

The Nigerian, 187 pounds, ripped away at the 173-pound Torres' ribs with almost monotonous consistency. Round after round the short, well-raising punches tore into Torres' midsection until the challenger suddenly realized he was far behind on points and tried to pull out the verdict with a rally in the late rounds.

But Torres' efforts came too late according to referee Harold Valan and judge John Dran, who scored it 8-7 for Tiger. Judge Joe Epp gave it to Torres 8-7.

"I think I will retire," said Torres, "and become a writer." Torres came out for the first round as if he meant to live up to his prediction for a knockout victory. He used battering combinations to back Tiger across the ring but seemed to slow down before the bell.

After winning the first round in impressive fashion, Torres managed to stay nearly even as he traded punches furiously with Tiger through the fourth round, but then the champion's body blows began to take effect. Torres started covering up to avoid the punches and didn't fight back.

Torres won the 12th through the final rounds, but his efforts were simply too late. When the announcement was made of the official decision, tears reddened Torres' eyes and he angrily stalked around the ring while Tiger was being paraded around on the shoulders of his handlers.

Marichal, Mays on Track

By United Press International
 Juan Marichal likes the way Willie Mays swings his 34-ounce bat but Marichal doesn't think much of the bat itself. Mays, continuing to creep closer to Babe Ruth's career-homer total of 714, cracked his fifth homer of the season Tuesday night and the 547th of his career.

The third inning blast proved to be the deciding run as the San Francisco Giants edged the Chicago Cubs 3-1 behind Marichal's seven-hitter—the sixth straight victory for the high-kicking righthander.

NO HULA DANCER he, but manager Wes Westrum of the New York Mets knows how to use his hands as well as his head in the pursuit of victory. Here Westrum and the aide use hand and arm signals to get their message across.

Like most pitchers, Marichal was more interested afterwards in talking about his hitting than his splendid pitching performance. Boosting his average to .296, Marichal collected two doubles in three trips and now has six doubles this season.

Bat Too Heavy
 "I thought I had a chance to get another hit," Marichal said, "but I use a 32-ounce bat and after I split it in the seventh inning, I borrowed one of Willie's 34 ounces and I couldn't get it around in time." Mays, who was 36 just 10 days ago, still stands 167 homers behind Ruth. Although he hit 37 homers last year, he'd have to average 35 homers a season for the next five years to catch Ruth and it's questionable he can do that over age 40.

In the other National League games, Cincinnati stretched its league lead to four games by beating Pittsburgh 6-3, St. Louis nipped Philadelphia 4-3, Atlanta beat New York 6-3 and Los Angeles whipped Houston, 6-1.

In the American League, Minnesota blanked Chicago, 1-0, New York nipped Cleveland 4-3 in 11 innings, Washington edged Detroit 5-4, Baltimore topped Boston 8-5 and Kansas City Jim Ray Hart tripled in the Giants' first run in the first against Cub loser Ferguson Jenkins and Mays added his solo homer in the third besides scoring the final run of the game in the eighth on Hal Lanier's single.

Fourth Straight Win
 Converted outfielder Mel Queen stopped the Pirates on six hits to give the league-leading Reds their fourth straight victory and their second straight over the Pirates in this key series. The Reds, who got three runs without a hit in the second inning, built up a 6-4 lead before the Pirates scored their three runs in the ninth. Mike Shannon singled home Curt Flood in the 10th as the Cards edged the Phils. Grant Jackson suffered the loss while Joe Hoerner picked up the triumph.

Clete Boyer drove in three runs with a homer and a double and Jay Ritchie pitched 5 1/3 innings of hitless relief ball as the Braves beat the Mets.

Claude Osteen pitched a six-hitter to gain his fifth victory as John Cosboro picked up three hits including his first homer of the season to give the Dodgers their win over Houston.

HORSE WITHDRAWN

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dr. Fager, winner of both the 1967 outings, was withdrawn from the Preakness Stakes Monday.

Trainer Johnny Nerud said the colt will miss next Saturday's second leg of the Triple Crown to be run at Pimlico, although the horse is sound and feeling good. Dr. Fager, winner of both the Withers and Gotham Stakes, was also held out of the Kentucky Derby.

Scramble for Berths In US Open To Start Monday

NEW YORK (UPI) — The scramble for berths in the 150-man field for the 1967 U.S. Open golf championship begins next week with some 2,800 golfers—the largest number of entrants in history—scheduled to take part. They will play 36 holes at 53 sites Monday and at five sites Tuesday. The field then will be reduced to 364 for the 14 sectional qualifying championships, also over 36 holes, on Monday, June 5, or Tuesday, June 6. The sectionals will produce the 123 golfers who will join the 27 exempt players for the Open, on June 15-18 at the Baltusrol Golf Club in Springfield, N.J. Defending champion Billy Casper and the Open champions from 1962 through 1965—Gary Boros and Jack Nicklaus—head the exempt list. Al Geiberger, as the PGA titleholder, is exempt from qualifying along with low 15 scorers in the 1966

M16 Rifle Key to Hill 881

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congress was told Tuesday that if U.S. Marines had not been equipped with the controversial M16 rifles, they could not have taken Hill 881 in Vietnam. "There was not one malfunction during the fight. The men swore by it," Maj. Gen. William

Van Ryzin quoted a captain whose company stormed up the hill. Van Ryzin told a House armed services subcommittee that the captain was named Bennett. He did not have further information on him, but he said he was sure of the captain's feeling for the weapon. "If we didn't have the M16, we never would have taken the hill," the general quoted him as saying. The head of the investigating committee said Monday that despite a less-than-perfect performance, the M16 had won a fearsome reputation in Vietnam. Read The News Classified Ads
