2 Major Cities Elect Negro Mayors

White Defeats Lady Candidate in Boston

BOSTON (UPI)—Secretary of State Kevin H. White, a handsome Irishman of the John F. Kennedy political mold, crushed racial backlash Tuesday by beating Mrs. Louise Day Hicks for mayor of Boston.

White, 38, groomed for public office by a prosperous family steeped in Massachusetts political tradition, outpolled Mrs. Hicks by some 12,400 votes Tuesday, repulsing her bid to become the city's first woman mayor.

Complete but unofficial returns from the city's 275 precincts gave White 102,551 votes and Mrs. Hicks 90,122.

White received 53.2 per cent and Mrs. Hicks 46.8 per cent in the nonpartisan election.

White grabbed an early lead and never was headed by the 48-year-old grandmother, who opposed the busing of Negroes from the ghettos to predominantly white schools.

White, as expected, outdistanced Mrs. Hicks in predominantly Negro wards by 10 to 1 and edged her or split even in well-to-do areas regarded as her strongholds. She won South Boston where she lives.

Local Boards May Strip Deferment

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey has told local draft boards they should strip deferments from college students who interfere with military recruiters on campus and put them at the top of the induction list.

It was learned Tuesday that Hershey made the recommendation in letters to local boards on Oct. 26 as several hundred students at Oberlin College in Ohio were attempting to physically block recruitment activities of a Navy representative in a college building.

The recruiter later was kept penned in his car for four hours until police broke up the crowd of students with tear gas.

Hershey's letter justified revoking deferments in such instances on the grounds that student deferments are "given only when they serve the national interest."

It follows that illegal activity which interferes with recruiting or causes refusal of duty in the military or naval forces could not, by any stretch of the imagination be construed as being in support of the national interest," Hershey wrote.

"There's nothing new in this," the spokesman said. "It's been here in the law all along. The attitude now is 'let's enforce the law.'"

Surveyor 6 Zeroes In On the Moon

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—America's Surveyor-6 zeroed in on the moon's Sinus Medii today, bucking odds that could turn it into a $65 million junk pile, on its mission to find a safe landing site for Apollo astronauts.

A computer analysis gave Surveyor 6 only a 47 per cent chance of landing unscathed on the Sinus Medii, or Central Bay, a rugged lunar plain located almost dead center in the sunlit side of the moon.

A delicate midcourse maneuver Tuesday night slightly altered the speed and trajectory of the moon robot to aim it at the selected impact point. The launch from Cape Kennedy at 2:39 a.m. EST was so accurate that without the course correction Surveyor 6 would have missed the Sinus Medii by a scant 75 miles.

"All looks well," said a spokesman for Jet Propulsion Laboratory after the maneuver at 6:20 p.m. PST. "Everything looks perfectly normal at this time."

San Francisco Voters Back Vietnam Policy

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The majority of San Francisco voters want the United States to continue to fight in Vietnam.

Almost two-thirds of them Tuesday rejected Proposition P on their ballot, which called for "an immediate cease-fire and withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam so that the Vietnamese people can settle their own problems."

The final unofficial tally showed 76,632 for and 132,402 opposed.

Proposition P and a hard-fought race for mayor resulted in a turnout of over 80 per cent of the city's eligible voters, a record for a non-presidential election.

Democrat Joseph Alioto won the mayor's race over Republican Harold Dobbs. Final unofficial totals gave him 106,814 to 90,682 for Dobbs. The third major candidate, Democrat Jack Morrison, trailed far behind with 40,426. Only Morrison had backed Proposition P. Fifteen other candidates received only scattered support.

Although administration officials had said repeatedly that the Vietnam referendum would have absolutely no effect on foreign policy, they were admittedly watching the results of the San Francisco balloting with interest.

Alioto said that Proposition P "lost because the people could not accept a proposition calling for unconditional surrender. But its defeat wasn't a victory for the hawks. Most people opposed immediate withdrawal but they want honorable negotiations and ultimate withdrawal from Vietnam."

"It comes from a Hardware Store we have it. Lewis H. Hve. (Adv.)"

Negro Democrat Wins Gary's Mayor Contest

GARY, Ind. (UPI)—Richard G. Hatcher, a Negro attorney, battled prejudice and his own Democratic party Tuesday to win election as mayor of Gary by a margin so slim a threatened recount could turn victory to defeat.

U.S. marshals, ordered in because of vote fraud charges, supervised the balloting while thousands of police and National Guardsmen stood ready in nearby Valparaiso to deal with possible disorders.

Except for jubilant victory celebrations in Gary's predominantly Negro districts, the city passed a quiet night. "Police today reported 'no incidents' during the night."

The official tabulation gave Hatcher 39,330 votes to 37,941 for Joseph P. Radigan, a 46-year-old furniture dealer making his first political venture as a Republican in a city that has voted Democratic for more than 30 years.

Radigan refused to concede defeat, and it appeared certain he will contest the election.

"We feel there must be further investigation of the facts before any one can be certain who won this election," Radigan said. "My opponent asked for an honest election, and I am going to make certain he gets it."

Hatcher, bachelor son of a Pullman porter, fought a three-way battle in one of the most turbulent elections in the history of a city noted for turbulent politics.

The local Democratic party organization, led by Chairman John Krupa, turned against him when he refused to denounce Negro radicals by name while denouncing extremists generally. Hatcher said Krupa turned on him because he refused to let Krupa dictate appointments and police.

Radigan waged a clean-cut campaign. Long-time Democratic party workers indulged in some of the mud-slinging associated with politics in this steelmaking town of nearly 200,000.

Although Gary has a majority of Negro residents, there is a majority of white voters. Charges of vote fraud went to court Monday, where the federal Justice Department and Hatcher accused the Democratic machine of padding registration rolls in white precincts with "ghost voters."

RACE was the dominant issue in Gary, Ind., where Democrat Richard G. Hatcher, left, faced Republican Joseph Radigan for mayor.

Texans to Have Liquor And Vote Too in 1968

AUSTIN (UPI)—Texans can have their booze and vote too for the first time this year under a revision in the election code passed by the 60th Legislature.

For the first time in memory, the legislature wiped out all prohibitions against the sale of intoxicating beverages on election day, a move which could decrease liquor sales on election eve and halt a traditional trek across the border to Mexico for Rio Grande area residents.

Actually, the new law will not be felt until the first-Saturday in May 1968, date of the primary. The law has since 1943 prohibited the sale of intoxicating beverages on general primaries and general elections until one hour after the polls closed.

Saturday's vote on six constitutional amendments is not a general, but a special election and would not have been covered by the close-the-bars law if the legislature had chosen to leave it alone.

Before 1943, the law prohibited the sale of any such liquids on any election day, but the legislature took a more liberal view of such things at that time and allowed the boozing on all but primary and general election days.

In exchange for the extra day of sales, the liquor stores were required to close one hour earlier on other days. They now must close at 9 p.m. instead of 10 p.m. They are still closed on Sundays.

The legislature also substituted Christmas day for its election prohibition, and added an emergency clause which has caused some laughs around the capitol.

The emergency clause, standard wording on legislation, said "the fact that the sale of intoxicating liquor between the hours of 9 p.m. and 10 p.m. creates conditions which result in additional crime and such extended hours are detrimental to the well-being of the state and its people, and the need to observe Christmas holidays... creates an emergency."

The new law is expected to cut the profits of cocktail lounges in Mexican border towns, which traditionally do a booming business from Texas border residents who don't like to wait until an hour after the polls close for their drinks.

GOP Wins Edge In Governorship Races

By United Press International

Democratic state legislator Carl B. Stokes won the Cleveland mayoral election Tuesday to become the first Negro elected mayor of a major American city.

Another Negro Democrat, Richard G. Hatcher, was elected mayor of Gary, Ind., after a battle against the race issue and his own local party organization. National Guardsmen had been placed on the alert at both cities to forestall any outbreaks of racial violence.

U.S. Troops Kill 353 Communists In Heavy Fighting

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. troops killed 353 Communists in five South Vietnam battles that cost the lives of 90 Americans including a heroic battalion commander and most of a Marine platoon, military spokesmen said today. They reported three U.S. jets shot down over North Vietnam.

The ground fighting exploded as the Communists unleashed predicted offensive action in a bid to break U.S. control of South Vietnam's borders and Central Highlands.

In the air, two Air Force jets, a one-man F105 Thunderchief and a two-man F4C Phantom were reported shot down and their crews missing in Tuesday raids against North Vietnam. The bombers hit rail lines within 20 miles of Red China, Communist ground fire shot down an Air Force F100 Supersabre today.

Col. Arthur D. Stigell, decorated for combat in World War II, the Korean conflict and this war, fell with 17 of his men in a guerrilla bazooka and machine-gun ambush near Loc Ninh Tuesday. His battalion killed at least 66 Communists smashing out of the trap near the allied bastion where U.S. commanders estimated 2,000 guerrillas have been killed the past nine days.

On the coast near the Marine base at Da Nang, about 1,000 Leathernecks ran into a wall of heavy fire from Communist bunkers. One platoon bore the brunt of the Red Fire. One spokesman said only four Marines of the platoon survived, all wounded. When the fight was done, 104 Communists were dead along with 22 Marines slain and 58 wounded, spokesmen said.

Down the coast from the Marine fight, U.S. helicopter gunships and artillery bombarded a Viet Cong force spotted by infantrymen and killed 51 Communists, spokesmen said.

In the Central Highlands, about 200 miles north of Saigon, U.S. Army Paratroopers called down rocket fire just in front of them to hold off attacking Communists, spokesmen said. Aided by gunships and artillery, they killed at least 104 guerrillas, suffering 10 dead and 35 wounded themselves, spokesmen said.

In the air, U.S. jets hitting North Vietnam Tuesday smashed rail lines running from Red China to Hanoi and naval and supply centers near the major port of Haiphong, spokesmen said.

The Communists claimed shooting down six U.S. raiders, according to Hanoi Radio.

U.S. spokesmen reported one U.S. plane was shot down over North Vietnam's southern panhandle today. They said fellow U.S. pilots used their rockets and cannon to fend off North Vietnamese motor patrol boats until a helicopter plucked the downed plane's two crewmen from the Gulf of Tonkin off the Communist coast.

Capt. Charles Neel, 29, of Melbourne, Fla., and 1st Lt. Guy Gruter of Sarasota, Fla., had nursed their riddled Air Force F100 Supersabre spotter plane away from land before bailing out.

The F100 was the 728th U.S. plane reported down over North Vietnam.

Elsewhere, Tuesday's off-year elections resulted in scattered Republican gains, which included winning an edge in state governorships for the first time since the 1954 elections. Republican governors now outnumber Democrats, 26 to 24.

Both Cleveland and Gary are normally overwhelmingly Democratic cities, but the 1967 mayoral contests were settled by razor-thin margins.

Other places in which race was a factor included New Jersey, Mississippi and Boston, where Massachusetts Secretary of State Kevin H. White won over Mrs. Louise Day Hicks, who became a symbol of racial backlash as a member of the city's school committee.

The slender margins by which Stokes and Hatcher won and the large vote rolled up by Mrs. Hicks despite her loss indicated that white backlash against Negro bids for political power is still a potent force to be dealt with by the national political parties.

Mrs. Hicks and White were both Democrats running in a nonpartisan election.

The most conspicuous Republican gains were in Kentucky and New Jersey.

The Johnson administration could claim comfort, however, from a referendum in San Francisco, where a proposition calling for U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam was defeated by a margin of almost 2 to 1.

In Kentucky, conservative Louis B. Nunn was elected to the governorship as the first Republican to win the job since 1943. The loser was former state Highway Commissioner Henry Ward Nunn, who campaigned against the Johnson administration and tried to associate Ward with it. Ward emphasized state issues.

In New Jersey, the GOP recaptured both houses of the state legislature. In both New Jersey and Kentucky, the Republican campaigns were directed substantially against Washington and the administration. (See ELECTIONS, Page 3)

Garner Rites Set Thursday

UVALDE, Tex. (UPI)—Former Vice President John Nance (Cactus Jack) Garner, 96, who lived from the Reconstruction to the Vietnam war and made history in between, will be buried Thursday in the plain, ordinary style by which he lived.

Garner, Vice President under Franklin D. Roosevelt during his first two terms, died Tuesday at his home of a heart attack.

Services will be held at 3 p.m. (4 p.m. EST) Thursday in Frazier's Chapel in Uvalde. The Rev. Romilly Timmons, rector of St. Phillips Episcopal Church in Uvalde, will officiate. Garner will be buried in the Uvalde Cemetery.

"It will be a plain, ordinary funeral, neither elaborate nor unusually simple," funeral director W. C. Estes said.

Pathbearers for Garner's funeral will include John J. Currie of Amarillo, Tex., husband of his granddaughter; Don Large, Garner's nurse, and eight Uvalde businessmen and ranchers.

Some of the biggest Democratic leaders in the country were expected to attend the funeral, but a spokesman for President Johnson said he did not think the President would be able to make it.

THE PAMPA DAILY NEWS TOUR—Miss Wanda Mae Huff, women's editor of The Pampa Daily News, explains the use of a linotype machine to Junior Service League Provisionals who toured the Pampa Daily News plant Tuesday as part of their provisional training course for the service league. The Provisionals will attend a Pampa school board meeting Thursday and a City Commission meeting Tuesday. As part of their year's training for membership in the organization, they have visited Pampa hospitals, radio stations and the courthouse.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I am going to write this quickly and mail it. I won't have a chance to reconsider and close my eyes to a wrong. My son recently told me about some youngsters in our neighborhood who steal bikes, remove the parts, rebuild and sell both rebuilt bikes and extra parts. I asked him how these youngsters managed to get away with it without their parents knowing about it, and he says the kids tell their parents that the bike belongs to another boy, and they bought the spare parts with their allowances.

I am appalled at the whole thing. I can't expect my boy to reveal the names of these boys, and my husband would think it unseemly if I were to bring this to the attention of the authorities.

You are the only way I have of warning parents who unknowingly may be allowing their children to continue this practice.

I do not condone my own child's acceptance of this behavior, and have asked him to avoid this group of friends until they, too, become aware of their unacceptable behavior and stop it.

DEAR CONCERNED: A boy who is old enough to "rebuild" a bike, is old enough to know he is breaking the law. While your son may not be guilty of stealing, he is guilty of another "crime." (Knowing of thievery and keeping quiet.) I do not approve of friends informing on one another, but a real "friend" would do all in his power to set his companions straight.

I hope the parents of the guilty boys see this, and check out the stories their sons tell about "buying" spare parts, and "repairing" another boy's bike. And if they discover that their sons have stolen bikes, they should insist they are returned to their rightful owners. Otherwise they should report their own sons to the authorities. Stealing is stealing. And the successful petty thief goes on to bigger things.

DEAR ABBY: You let me down when you wrote in your column that you thought it was all right for a married man to go to a "stag" party. Abby, my husband thinks your word is holy, and when he read that he really shoved it under my nose.

Surely you are aware of what goes on at stags? They always have girls doing strip-tease dances and even movies for men only that are so bad your husband won't even tell you what they were about.

Margot: Sorry about that. My definition of "stag" is simply a social engagement for men only.

DEAR ABBY: I couldn't believe my eyes when I saw where you said it was O.K. for a married man to go to a stag. Don't you know they always have naked women there? I always tell my husband when he goes out with the boys, if he wants to see a naked lady he should come home.

Talking to use the best of the past and utilizing the most practical of the modern will "blend" into an ideal working formula for life.

Pampa Garden Club Plans Zone Meeting

Pampa Garden Club will discuss district one plans for national convention decorations during the zone meeting at First Christian Church in Amarillo Thursday. About 700 delegates are expected to attend the national meeting in Dallas, in May, 1969. Each district will be responsible for decorations for one meal during the convention. During a recent meeting at the Courthouse Annex, Mrs. Melvin Stephens was hostess for the 24 members attending. Members heard committee reports including the flower show sales report; given by Mrs. W. R. Campbell. Mrs. Myron Dorman reported about 150 guests attended the annual flower show in October at the First Methodist Church. Application has been made for Pampa Garden Club to receive blue ribbon club rating. Mrs. Thelma Bray reported on the district one executive board meeting of Texas Garden Club, Inc. She reminded club members to vote in the Nov. 11 election and reminded them of amendment five which is for developing state parks and recreation areas. Mrs. A. J. Mitchell introduced Mrs. Campbell who presented a program on Hydroponics: "An Old Beauty in New Dress." "Hydroponics refers to culture of plants without soil. Other terms are used such as 'tank farming,' 'nutriculture,' 'soil-less agriculture,' and 'gravel-culture.' This is not something new, for as early as 1860 physiologists began using nutrient culture for study of plant growth phenomena," she said. A few advantages of hydroponics are that vegetables grow where soil is not suitable, grow in spite of season, and are more uniform and more tasty, she said. The next meeting will be at 2:30 p.m. Nov. 20 at the Lovett Memorial Library for the annual Guest Day tea. The theme is "Holiday Expressions of Beauty." Members are asked to bring a guest.

AT COURT HOUSE

The Beat Goes On...

And the beat goes on... The day-long staccato of a jackhammer. The sounds of tearing, wrenching and moving. The cascading of plaster and concrete down a chute.
 Thus was the judicial quiet of the 31st Judicial District Court Room shattered for the third straight day as workmen continued their renovation in the county court house.
 Employees normally attuned to sound of typewriters and adding machines and the click of heels in the aisles have found the decibel count a little higher lately.
 For those on the third floor the noise is perhaps the worst. But it reverberates throughout the building and is even audible from outside the court house.
 There were some complaints but employees seemed to be good-naturedly taking the whole thing in stride.
 If the noise was sometimes distracting it was far from deafening.
 "It seemed awfully bad yesterday" one court house employee said "but we're kinda getting used to it now."
 The work is expected to continue in the court house for several weeks but not all of it will be so noisy. Decibels are expected to decline by the end of the week or early next week when work on the tearing down of the balcony and removal of plaster in the district court room is completed.

Pampa Teachers Will Participate In Reading Study

The second in a three-part series of in-service education, a corrective reading workshop, is slated at 4 p.m. Thursday at Lamar Elementary School.
 Pampa teachers will attend the workshop, taught by Claud Zevely and Mrs. Allegra Bush. Mrs. Bush is an education specialist with the Texas Cooperative Dissemination Project, which is sponsoring the workshop series. Zevely is on the staff and works part-time with TCD.
 The last session is set for Nov. 16. The workshop has no college credit but counts for six hours toward in-service credits. Teachers are studying how to detect and correct reading deficiencies, reviewing reading as a curriculum subject area and literature as part of the reading program.

Students Enter Speech Contests

Pampa High School will send 15 speech students to compete Saturday in the invitational speech tournament at Wichita Falls, Midwestern High School.
 Debate team members are John Carr and Filmore Merrill, Warren Wilson and Mike Ross; John Worley and Gene Thompson, Marilyn Kyles and Ellen McDaniel; and Janice Butcher and Joyce Fisher.
 Other contestants are Suzy Palmer, informative speaking; Donald Barnhill, boys' informative speaking; Mike Sublett, persuasive speaking; and Herbert Smith, Cathy Becker and Mike Hayes, poetry.
 Sponsors accompanying the group are Miss Donna Humphreys and John English.

Cossack Chorus Slates Concert

The Gen. Platoff Don Cossack Chorus and Dancers will appear in a concert here at 8 p.m. Nov. 16 in the Pampa Junior High School Auditorium. The group is on its 21st anniversary during the election because of a terse racial situation.
 Boston, Massachusetts Secretary of State Kevin H. White won over Louise Day Hicks, a symbol of racial backlash who sought to become the city's first woman mayor. The race was nonpartisan.
 Philadelphia: Incumbent Democrat James H. J. Tate, despite a splintered party organization, gained re-election by beating Republican Dist. Atty. Arlen Specter who was trying to become the city's first GOP mayor in 18 years.
 San Francisco: Voters turned down almost 2 to 1 a policy statement that U.S. forces should be withdrawn from Vietnam.
 New York: The electorate statewide turned down a new state constitution that included a controversial provision to eliminate the state's 73-year-old ban on financial aid to parochial schools.
 Cleveland: Democrat Carl B. Stokes, became the first Negro elected mayor of a major American city, defeating Republican Seth Taft, grandson of President William Howard Taft, in a cliff-hanging race.
 Gary, Negro Democrat Richard G. Hatcher defeated Republican Joseph Radigan, a white businessman, in a see-saw race as National Guardsmen stood by during the election because of a tense racial situation.
 Boston: Massachusetts Secretary of State Kevin H. White won over Louise Day Hicks, a symbol of racial backlash who sought to become the city's first woman mayor.

Good Vote Turnout Expected Saturday

Approximately 100 Gray County residents signed up for absentee voting in Saturday's election. County Clerk Charlie Thut announced today.
 No exact figures would be available until late this afternoon, he stated.
 Speculating whether the absentee vote was any indication of the Saturday's voting strength, Thut said:
 "We're running pretty good on absentee voting on this election, especially since it's on a Saturday, and I believe we'll have a pretty good turnout at the polls."

Women's League To Visit Trustee Meeting Thursday

Pampa School Board members will face a full agenda at 9:30 a.m. Thursday in their regular meeting in the conference room. Junior Service League Provisional members will attend as guests.
 Agenda items include approval of due bills invoices and financial statements, reports from the school superintendent, and discussion of increased travel allowance for school personnel and chartered bus trips for basketball teams.
 The board will also consider attendance zones for 1967-68 and hear a report on the school district's administration and faculty self-evaluation. Other reports slated for the board are on the need for more sidewalks at Pampa Senior High School and the need for a hard-surfaced area in front of the bus barn and maintenance shop resignations, reassignment and consideration of buying three floor buffing machines.
 The service league provisional members will attend as part of their training for membership in the Junior Service League a Pampa women's organization.

Penwomen Plan Autograph Party

The Pampa members of Penwomen will honor Mrs. Mary Dutton of Borger in an autograph party from 6 to 9 p.m. Thursday at the Gift Box.
 Mrs. Dutton, a Borger authoress, has had several magazine stories published. Recently her first novel, "Thorpe," a story about racial prejudice in a small town, was published.
 Mrs. Dutton was guest speaker here in September for the Twentieth Century Study Club's Presidents' Coffee.
 Copies of her book will be available for sale and autographs at the party.
 Mrs. Otis Nace, Mrs. S. Keel Gregory and Mrs. Don Hayes are sponsoring the party.

$350 Reported Stolen in Home

Pampa police were investigating today the theft of $350 from the home of Mrs. Lucille Foster, 2544 Mary Ellen.
 According to a Pampa police report the woman called about 10:45 p.m. Monday and reported the theft.
 The report said that officers found a window pane in a back door broken out and theorized that a burglar then unlocked the door.
 According to the report the burglar went directly to a bedroom and to a clothes closet, where the money was hidden behind a picture frame and some hat boxes.
 Police said that nothing else in the house was bothered.
 Mrs. Foster told police she went out to supper about 6:30 p.m. and when she returned at 10:30 p.m. she discovered the burglary.

Fire Damages Car

A car fire last night at the corner of Huff and Vernon Drive last evening caused light damage to a 1956 Chevrolet owned by Gary Brinslow. Firemen received the call at 5:30 p.m. The fire apparently started from a carburetor backfire, firemen said.

Pampa Army Officer Back From Vietnam

Capt. Charles A. Adamson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Adamson, 931 E. Murphy St. Pampa, recently arrived for duty at the U.S. Army Primary Helicopter Center in Fort Worth, Texas.
 Captain Adamson came to Fort Worth from Vietnam where he served with the 94th Artillery. A graduate of Pampa High School the captain attended Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge before entering the Army in October 1961.

Booker PTA to Give Repeat Performance

BOOKER (Sp.)—Booker High School's Future Teachers of America will again present a sing-out, "Up With the People," at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the school auditorium.
 Bobby L. Kirksey, Booker high principal, said the first presentation received such acclaim, it will be repeated.
 "It's a patriotic show of our 'go' generation dedicated to the boys in Vietnam and those who have given their lives for our freedom," Kirksey said.
 Admission will be 75 cents for adults, 50 cents for students and 25 cents for children under 12.

 The republicans failed to achieve one of their major 1967 goals, in the city election in Philadelphia. Democratic Mayor James H. J. Tate was re-elected by a margin of about 11,000 votes over Dist. Atty. Arlen Specter, a former liberal Democrat turned Republican.
 In 1871, the political head of New York's Tammany Hall, Boss Tweed, was arrested on charges of defrauding the city.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Racial matters have eased considerably in television's fictional shows, but continue to be highly sensitive to some viewers of the medium's "reality programming."

This was illustrated again by the debut last Sunday of National Educational Television's "Public Broadcast Laboratory," which devoted almost all of its two-and-a-half hours to the racial problem.

A number of stations refused to carry the premiere broadcast, which included a rundown on political contests where race was an issue, a heated open forum for Negroes and whites—and a satirical play by Negroes in whiteface.

And even though the play was fictional, it was in a strong sense journalistically-aimed by the video show's staff as an indication of how times have changed.

Increased Negro Prominence
 Yet, as heated opinion continued to surround the premiere of the broadcast laboratory, one could read regularly in the Hollywood trade papers of the increasing prominence being gained for Negroes in commercial video's regular series. Not too many years ago, these series were pretty much all white in their major roles. But now one sees Negro regulars in such shows as "I Spy," "Mission: Impossible," "Daktari," "Cowboy in Africa," "Ironside," "Star Trek" and "N.Y.P.D." (New York Police Department).

Names like Bill Cosby, Greg Morris, Nichelle Nichols and Hari Rhodes are familiar to viewers.

Until recently, it was unheard of for Madison Avenue to contemplate series centering around Negro families—for the usual commercial reasons.

Change Policy
 Yet the fact that series with Negroes are doing well—if the shows of course are good to be given—has resulted in something of a turnaround.

Another factor is that hardly any situations refuse to carry series with Negroes—with "I Spy" breaking down most of these barriers.

At any rate, a test film is in the works for a possible comedy series in which Diahann Carroll would play a widow who is a nurse with a six-year-old son.

The "reality programming"—like the Negro-white verbal confrontation on the broadcast laboratory—cannot, however, hide behind fiction. But it is probably also true that the groundwork and gradual acceptance that the fiction is bringing about will eventually have a definite effect in real life.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

In 1908, Henry Ford introduced the Model-T Ford—the "tin Lizzie." Few inventions have had a more profound social effect on American life than the Model-T. The World Almanac notes that the "motel," the roadside hamburger stand, the consolidated country schoolhouse, improved roads and unprecedented personal mobility all developed with the Model-T.

BILL PATE

ERNEST HAWKINS

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Spear and Staff Inc. says the 1967 question mark at the moment is taxes and until it is settled a sustained market rise is unlikely. The company notes that the slump already has "cut to the marrow" and a selling climax may be necessary to dull its edge.

Wolfe & Co. says the deep mood of pessimism prevailing in the stock market is unjustified. The analyst says the downturn is running counter to basic realities and is almost completed, adding that when it does terminate, an intermediate upturn of some substance should emerge.

W.F. Hutton & Co. says that even though the Dow Jones industrial average has broken below its August reaction low, none of several other major indicators has broken its comparable August low. Thus, the company says, so far as these averages are concerned, the current market slide still is minor in character.

B and R Schedules Three-Day Formal Opening of New Store

Formal opening of the modern new B and R Company store will be held tomorrow, Friday and Saturday. Owned and operated by Bill Pate, the appliance and furniture store is located at 1415 N. Hobart, Pampa.

Free gifts, including the grand prize of a 1968 color TV, will be given away during the three-day event. Drawing for the television set will be held Saturday at 5 p.m. No purchase necessary and you need not be present at the drawing to win.

The new store will continue to carry outstanding lines of nationally advertised furniture and appliances, according to Pate. Leading furniture manufacturers represented include Drexel, Fairfield-Globe, Rembrandt and Sprague-Carleton. Englander bedding will be carried as well as Mohawk carpet.

Ernest Hawkins is in charge of the furniture department. The appliance department, headed by Glen Fleming, features R.C.A. Victor television and stereo and R.C.A. Whirlpool appliances. Magnavox television and stereo is also represented. In addition, 22 television and appliances sold will be backed by a complete service department.

B and R's new 11,000 square foot store, which will be open daily from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., highlights some nine years of progress by the firm. Pate first started in the appliance business with a small store on west Alock in 1958. Several years later, he moved to a building just north of his present location. Two years ago, the company entered the furniture picture when they purchased a furniture store on S.

Cuyler. Today, the B and R Company employs sixteen persons.

Pate was born and reared in Groesbeck in East Texas. Following graduation from Groesbeck High School, he attended Baylor University, and later was employed by Texaco, Inc. for sixteen years.

He and his wife, Willene, who is also associated in the business, have been residents of Pampa since 1956. They have three children, Robbie, 15, Kathy, 13 and Debbie 12.

Fleming, who first came to Pampa in 1956, has been with B and R since 1964. He has some eleven years experience in the retail furniture and appliance business.

Pate said that he and his wife's faith in the continued growth of Pampa and the Panhandle area prompted their decision to construct the large, beautiful new building.

"We wish to thank our many friends and customers for their past patronage and we look forward to serving them in our expanded facilities," he concluded.

As for the British, the cost of empire long ago outstripped the gains and so they are pulling down the flag east of Suez. Together, in January, 1968, they were to form the independent Federation of South Arabia.

Part of this is U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser's reward for his announcement last May that he was closing the Gulf of Aqaba to Israeli shipping and the subsequent price he had to pay for Saudi Arabian financial aid after his disastrous defeat by the Israelis.

Part of it is the "winds of change" which the then-British Prime Minister Harold MacMillan foresaw years ago as he presided over the dissolution of the British Empire.

The winds of change await neither men nor nations and in Yemen and in South Arabia, which the Yemenites call South Yemen, the Egyptians and the British are pulling out. For both, it is without honor. Nasser pressed his luck too far. He sought to drive the British out of the Red Sea and his entry to the Suez Canal but as of now it will not be Nasser who gains. Homecoming Slated At Mobeetie High MOBEETIE (Sp.)—A basketball game and dinner will feature the annual homecoming observance Saturday at Mobeetie High School.

Registration and the meal will be in the school foyer from 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. A business meeting is scheduled for 6:40 p.m.

Mobeetie will meet Samnwood in the basketball game at 7:30 p.m. Honor classes at the annual observance will be 1921-22, 1941-42 and 1961-62.

WINS VOTE

LONDON (UPI)—A disgruntled faction of Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor Party voted "with the utmost reluctance" for his 1968 economic program, defeating Conservative opposition in the House of Commons.

Highlights and Sidelights From the State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD
 Texas Press Association
AUSTIN — It's election week once more all over Texas. Voters in 254 counties will decide Saturday (Nov. 11) whether they want six more amendments to the State's Constitution. According to Secretary of State John Hill, voters in five areas of Texas will choose legislators to fill vacancies created by death or resignation. There are six vacant seats in the House of Representatives and one in the Senate.

Seventy candidates, including 14 Republicans, are running for legislative places. Republicans hope to improve their position. Presently they have only three representatives in the 150-member House and one senator in the 31-member Senate.

There are two representative races in Harris County; one in Matagorda and Wharton Counties; one in Travis County; and another in Bailey, Cochran, Hockley, Terry and Yoakum Counties. Twenty Dallas candidates are running for the Senate seat of the late George Parkhouse.

Six constitutional amendments are on the ballot in the following order:

- To authorize counties to place all their tax revenues in a single general fund, rather than separate, special-purpose funds.
- To let local political subdivisions which have hospital districts spend tax money for mental health and mental retardation services.
- To revive the veterans land program through an additional $200,000,000 bond issue, permitting war veterans, including those of the Vietnam conflict, to purchase land on low-interest, 40-year-payback loans.
- To permit counties to pay medical benefits for their law enforcement officers injured in line of duty.
- To authorize a $75,000,000 state bond issue (supported by an admission fee at selected parks) for park land buying and development.
- To permit non-elective state officials and employees to serve on state and federal boards and commissions if there is no conflict of duties.

Major construction projects slated for this biennium include Bentsen-Rio Grande, Lake Brownwood, Caddo Lake, Palmetto, Goliad, Cleburne and Goose Island. Developed from scratch, during the past five years, were the following: Falcon, Whitney and Martin Dies Jr., Bastrop, Davis Mountains, Old Fort Parker and Kerrville parks received major improvements.

Mauermann estimated $12,500,000 will be spent in improving state parks in three years. He said construction projects totaling $5,700,000 already have been completed, and $2,200,000 worth are in progress.

Commission is studying a 250-page summary of testimonials. POLLUTION RULES HIT — Texas Air Control Board heard complaints from industry representatives concerning its proposed regulations for controlling pollution due to smoke and flying particles, outdoor burning, sulphur compounds and motor-vehicle exhausts.

Board announced its plans following an extended hearing to adopt a version of the new rules within six weeks. Objections centered on a proposal that the burning of waste must be outside a defined standard metropolitan statistical area.

House Speaker Ben Barnes named a Water Study Committee composed of Reps. Bill Clayton of Springlake, chairman; Menton Murray of Harlingen; Neal Solomon of Mount Vernon; Bill Fick of San Antonio; and Bill Swanson of Houston.

Republican State Chairman Peter O'Donnell Jr. appointed Dudley Sharp of Houston and Walter Brauer of Ingleside as vice chairmen of GOP policy-making task forces on job opportunities and economic growth and modernization of state and local government.

Securities sales totalled $462,200,000 last year, a new all-time high.

Nearly 150 Texas cities with 6,000,000 population will vote on Monday night when his car rammed into a parked tractor trailer truck on U.S. 181 south of here.

The victim was Richard Trevino, 30, an employee of the Express Publishing Co. He was formerly employed by KBUC and KONO radio stations.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announces acquisition of two leased helicopters to be used for statewide law enforcement and rescue work.

Agriculture Commissioner John White designated November as "Texas Agricultural Products Month".

Applications were opposed by bus lines and other trucking companies which felt the additional service was not necessary.

Hearing required 17 weeks for 600 witnesses.

HAULERS HEARING — Nine truck lines, which currently carry motion picture film and several other specific commodities, seek authority from the Texas Railroad Commission to include any shipments up to 100 pounds.

APPOINTMENTS' ANNOUNCED — Gov. John Connally named former State Rep. Raleigh Brown of Abilene as 42nd District Judge (Taylor and Callahan Counties). He succeeds Judge J. R. Black who resigned.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith appointed three Senators to serve on the Interim Committee on Uninsured Motorists Coverage. Named were Sens. Chet Brooks of Pasadena, Jim Wade of Dallas and Murray-Watson Jr. of Waco.

HERE IS EARLY AMERICAN WITH NEW SPARKLE, NEW SPICE
... AT A PRICE THAT'S OUT-AND-OUT OUTSTANDING.
DON'T MISS THIS OPPORTUNITY. STOP IN ... AND SAVE.

A new legend in
Early American furniture

BY SPRAGUE & CARLETON

A solid and ornate setting. The famous Riverboat Chair with contoured saddle and carved arms, its rounded back studded with cutouts. The table is sturdily underpinned by a spandril-turned base, its cross-grain parquet top giving it a hand-crafted quality. For the dining room, of course. But also for the living room or family room or den—wherever the requirement combines beauty and performance. Sprague & Carleton's entire King's Arrow Collection will thrill you with its refreshing new flavor. See it all... and see it soon.

A new legend in
Early American furniture

BY SPRAGUE & CARLETON

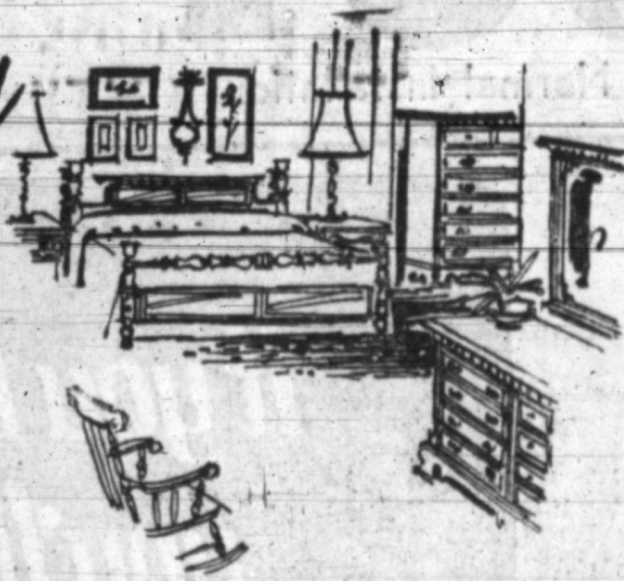

A highly individual dining group—scaled with boldness, fashioned with unstinted craftsmanship. The trestle table has a hefty two-inch plank effect top and pull-out ends which extend the table to a wonderfully useful 100 inches. The ladderback chairs are pure American in style with superb custom details: shaped rungs of varying widths, sausage turnings, woven rush-type seats. The cathedral hutch buffet abounds in lavish touches: leaded plate glass bordered with amber Flemish glass, specially-designed solid brass eagle pulls, doors with touch-latches and piano hinges, a drawer with a special silver envelope. Here is but an inkling of the infinite interest of Sprague & Carleton's King's Arrow Collection. You will want to see it all firsthand.

Startling Beauty

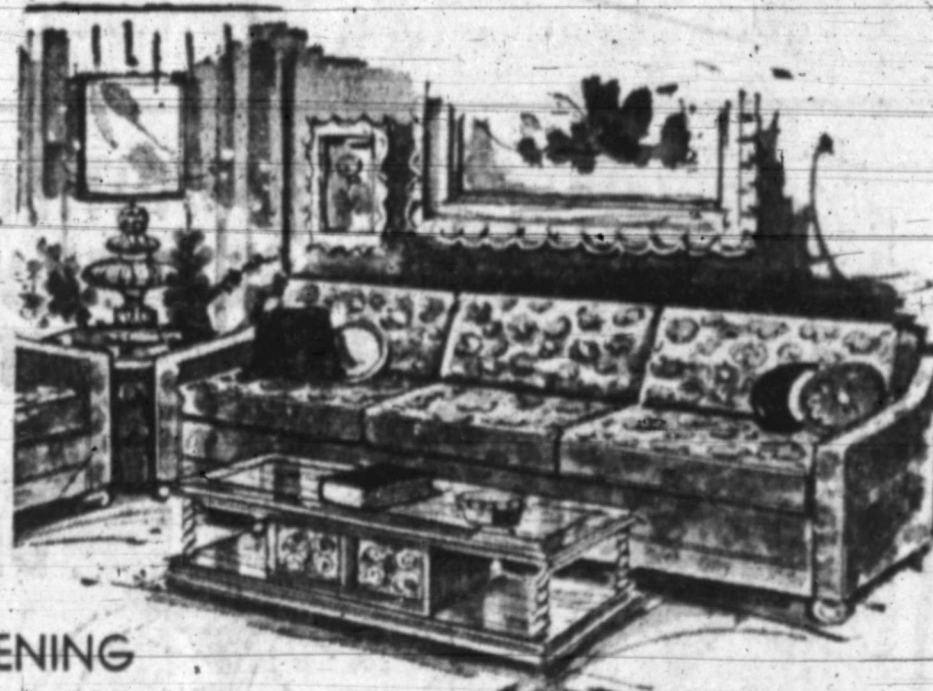

Sprague & Carleton

The Barrington Group
by Sprague & Carleton

The startling beauty of Bell and Tulip bed perfectly complements this elegant Early American bedroom scene. The 68" Triple Dresser, plus the Eight Drawer Chest are but two of the gracious solid rock maple pieces by famous Sprague & Carleton that await you. Concealed casters, metal drawer guides and the exclusive Maple-Lux finish add greatly to the Early American charm. See them today.

Facts and Figures Don't Lie, Harvesters 0-9

By RON CROSS

Here are some facts and figures, sad facts and figures that they are, on just what the Pampa Harvesters have been through the past nine weeks. First, they haven't played much better in the second half than they have in the first half nor have they been a better first half team in a last two period team. Consider the Harvesters have made 25 first downs in the first half and 46 in the second two quarters while totaling 71 for the season.

But by the same token the opposition has made 85 first downs in the first half and 74 in the second half for a total of 159. The Harvesters have gained 429 yards rushing the first two quarters of play and 333 the second two quarters for a total of 762. The opposition has moved the ball on the ground during the first two periods of play for 1,435 yards and have gained 941 yards on the ground in the second half for a total of 2,396 in nine games. Pampa has given up 90 points in the first quarter, 99 in the second, 69 in the third and 80 in the fourth. The Harvesters have failed to score in the first quarter, have tallied once in the second quarter, twice in the third and none in the fourth. Figure it out like this—the Harvesters have been tougher defensively in the second half, with the yardage gained on them on the ground much less than it has been in the second half. But by the same token the Pampa ground gain has been worse in the second half than it has in the first. The passing game is better, although Pampa throws more in the second half than they do in the first. The Harvesters have the first to point out one in the second half than they have the first to point out on known fact more clearly, the passing game is much better than the running game.

Rambling With Red
RON CROSS

The Harvesters have averaged only 84 yards per game on the ground, while the passing yardage is 457 through the nine games, an average of 50.7 yards per contest. Pampa has been scored on in every game in the third quarter and only twice have teams failed to tally on them in the first period, three times in the second and only twice in the fourth. Fact: Although they have been tougher defensively in the final half the goalline has been easily exposable. It has been exactly 21 quarters since Pampa has scored a touchdown, or any point, for that matter. The Harvesters have scored in only three of the nine games and never more than six points in any one contest. They have played 36 quarters and have scored in only two of them. The running and passing game was more inept last week with Coronado than at anytime this season.

The Harvesters have given up 336 points and this is 54 more than any team in Pampa history has allowed. They have scored only 18 points and unless a miracle happens Friday night against Borger, they will be the lowest scoring team in Pampa history. The previous low was 59 in 1960. A lot of these black marks could be rubbed out Friday night against Borger. But, then, just how bad do they really want to win?

Scoring Big Problem

By RON CROSS

Scoring and how you go about it will be Pampa's biggest problem when they journey to Borger Friday night for the final football game of the season.

The two old foes will begin battle in the North zone District 3-4A contest at 7:30 p.m. on Bulldog Field.

The Harvesters have gone through 21 straight quarters, five games, without crossing the opposition's goal line. The last Pampa tally came on a pass from quarterback Dwight Rogers to end Wendall Watson in the third quarter of the non-conference game with Plainview.

Pampa has not scored in any of their three conference outings.

While the Harvesters are 0-9, Borger hasn't been much better. The Bulldogs have won only twice in nine games but did upset Monterey last week, 7-0 to run their conference record to 1-2.

The win over Monterey displayed the way Borger fans expected the Bulldogs to play all season and late as it is, they might have come into their own against the Plainsmen.

The Bulldogs haven't been beaten badly yet. In their three conference games they have given up just 57 points, an average of 19 per contest and 21 of those were given up to Amarillo's potent Sandies. Pampa has not been able to muster any kind of offensive threat. When the running game is working the passing game falls apart and vice versa.

Last week neither jelled as has been the case more or less the past nine weeks.

The Harvesters have actually been a better passing team but the ground game has not been able to come through to help make the passing better.

Quarterback Dwight Rogers has thrown 98 times and connected 28 of those times for 234 yards. But the defensive standout has had 13 aeriels intercepted.

Backup man Steve Summers suffered his worst night of the season last week against Coronado. Summers had completed 50 per cent of his passes but hit only one of five and stands 19 of 41 with six interceptions. He has thrown for 215 yards.

But by the same token Summers has had the opposition thrown him for a total of 111 yards in losses.

Chris Kenny will no doubt windup as the leading Pampa ground gainer. Kenny has picked up 373 yards in 69 rushing attempts while his closest competitor Dwight Rogers has gained 223 yards on 79 carries.

Kenny has not gained over 30 yards in any of the last five games.

There is an old saying that backs in football need to know just how important a good blocking line is.

Pampa's backs have been finding this out more and more every game.

The Pampa offensive line will have to grade 100 per cent on every running down Friday night if the Harvesters hope to close out the season on a winning note.

RICE HAS THREE OUT

Hogs Work Harder

By United Press International
When a team is as used to winning as the Arkansas Razorbacks are, losing comes awfully hard. And it may get harder.

Arkansas drilled in full pads for 90 minutes for the second day in a row Tuesday, and one witness commented "There was some real head-knocking out there."

Coach Frank Broyles has promised his team practices would become longer and harder. The Razorbacks, who have a losing record this season after years in the top ten play Rice this weekend in Houston. "We just have to keep working on our defense if we are going to do a good job against that Rice offense," Broyles said. "The defense needs a lot of work yet."

Eisewhere in the Southwest Conference, a couple of coaches were looking for fullbacks. Coach Gene Stallings of the league-leading Texas A&M Aggies was trying to find someone to help fullback Bill Sallee. Sallee is the starting fullback now that Wendell Housley broke his foot against Arkansas.

A&M is off this week and will not play again until Nov. 18 when it meets Rice. The Aggies have not practiced so far this week, but planned to begin working out again today.

Texas Christian coach Fred Taylor is also having fullback problems. Kenny Post missed last week's game against Baylor and then missed Tuesday's workout because of the flu.

Taylor said if Post is unable to play against Texas Tech in this Saturday's homecoming, sophomore Sammy Rabb will start. Rabb started for Post against Baylor.

Tech coach J. T. King said his Red Raiders evened "a lot of zip" Tuesday even though their work was hampered by a wet field.

Popped Shoulder Doesn't Slow Celtics' Russell

By United Press International

Player-coach Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics suffered a dislocated right shoulder Tuesday night but it was the Cincinnati Royals who wound up hurting all over.

Russell, who suffered the injury in a collision with Guy Rodgers late in the second period, popped the shoulder back into place during the intermission and played all but two minutes of the second half as the Celtics rallied for a 113-103 victory at Cincinnati. It was the Celtics' seventh win in eight games.

John Havlicek led the Celtics with 23 points and Bailey Howell had 20. Adrian Smith had 27 for the Royals, who played without the injured Oscar Robertson.

The St. Louis Hawks scored their 12th victory in 13 games when they beat the Chicago Bulls 111-106, the Philadelphia 76ers defeated the San Diego Rockets 130-105 and the San Francisco Warriors topped the Seattle SuperSonics 126-112.

Paul Silas and Joe Caldwell scored field goals in the final two minutes to secure the Hawks' victory after the score was tied three times in the last 12 minutes. Zelmo Beaty led the Hawks with 24 points and Bob Boozer had 25 for the Bulls.

Hal Greer scored 30 points and Chet Walker had 27 as the 76ers won their eighth game in nine starts. The 76ers led 62-48 at halftime and outscored the Rockets 35-25 in the third period.

Fred Hetzel scored 25 points and Rudy Larusso, Late Thurmond and Jim King also were in the 20-class for the Warriors who led by only 60-59 at the half but opened up a 96-81 gap early in the fourth period. Bob Weiss had 20 points for the SuperSonics.

BUSH STILL FIRST

Scoring Lead Still With WD

By JEFF HOLLADAY. The Top O' Texas area scoring race will be decided Friday night and as things stand now White Deer's Stan Bush appears to have things going his way.

Bush, although he was held scoreless Friday night, for the first time in five games, holds a 18-point edge of Wheeler's Fred Goad, who picked up some of the ground he lost week before last.

Gary Purser of Canadian slipped into a third place tie with Groom's Bobby Goodlett and Johnny Curtis of Canadian, Frankie Rogers of Wheeler and Thacker Haynes of McLean are tied for the fourth, fifth and sixth places with 36 points each.

Mike Helton of Groom and Lonnie Lane of White Deer are next with 34 points each and Gary Ware of Lefors and Bobby Ware of Wheeler are 10th and 11th with 32 points while Lefors' Jim Gilbreath has the 12th spot nailed down with 31 total points.

Bush has tallied a total of 11 touchdowns and added three conversions for 72 points leading total.

Goad, the Mustang fullback, scored once last week in the loss to McLean and now has seven touchdowns and 12 conversions for 54 points.

Goad was the 1966 scoring leader and will be making every opportunity to regain that title when the Mustangs host Clarendon Friday night.

Should Goad come back to win the title he will be the first player to ever win the scoring crown twice in a row.

The Tigers' Haynes made the biggest jump in the standings.

He scored both of his club's touchdowns against McLean last week and has five touchdowns and three conversions and wasn't even listed in the top 10 last week.

The two top games in the area this week are both important conference tilts, pitting Groom against Lefors on the Tigers home field.

Who ever wins this contest between these two ancient rivals will tie either Follett or Booker for the District 5-B title. Follett and Booker meet Friday night also.

The two winners will emerge with identical 2-1 conference records.

The pressure will be on Wheeler Friday night when the Mustangs play host to District 2-A leader Clarendon in an important district contest.

Wheeler must win to earn a tie for the district title. A Mustang victory would throw the race into a three-way tie. Wheeler, McLean and Clarendon would all three have 3-1 conference readings and a coin toss would be necessary.

The same three schools tied last year and McLean won the coin toss.

McLean will play Gruver, the District 1-A King, Friday, in what could possibly be a preview of this area's regional playoffs.

The District 1-A and 2-A winners always meet in first regional contest.

Bush will be guiding the Bucks Friday when they host Stratford and should have plenty of chances to increase his point total as will running mate Lonnie Lane.

White Deer will have nothing at stake but pride and will be after their eighth win of the year against a loss and a tie.

Canadian, already assured of its best season in years, hosts winless Sunray in the wrap-up of the football season for the Wildcats.

The Cats stand 5-4 and should a miracle happen and they lose would still finish at the .500 level.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Are You a Doormat?

Altruism, with its subtle emphasis on indiscriminate self-sacrifice, is not a healthy moral code. Still, many people, beguiled by what they feel is a doctrine of humanitarian benevolence, think of themselves (or would like to think of themselves) as altruists.

"If you think you are an altruist, consider the following situation. Suppose you come upon two children drowning. Suppose one of them is your own child and the other a stranger. Suppose the situation is such that you can save one of them, but not both. Surely you would — or should — save your own child.

"Altruism, however, urges selfless devotion to the interests of others specifically. It urges that you place the happiness of the other family above that of your own. Altruism requires, then, that you 'unselfishly' save the other child and let your own drown. Do you still think you are an altruist?"

The above excerpts are from "The Incredible Bread Machine" by Richard W. Grant. Readers may order a copy from Sandra Jeffries, P.O. Box 14031, East Portland Station, Oregon, 97214, 286 pages, hardcover, $4.00.

Author Grant's expose of the altruistic con-game came to mind as we were perusing a dialogue between Senator Robert F. Kennedy and anthropologist Oscar Lewis, a professor at the University of Illinois, in the September issue of Redbook Magazine.

The guilt complex, at the root of the altruistic philosophy of life, and which most often manifests itself in the "poor little rich" sons-and-daughters of the politically affluent and the offspring of successful businessmen who, shielding their children from the realities of life, never permit them to learn how honest dollars are made in the voluntary market place or to discover the meaning of their own existence, either, for that matter, came through loud and clear as Kennedy attempted to explain how he was raising his children.

"I'm bringing up my children the way I was brought up," said Kennedy. "The problems of other people were always part of my life because I was brought up that way. . . I think my children accept the fact that they have a responsibility to others who are much less well off than they are." He said, "It is not accepted in our house that you live just for yourself."

A Lesson in Pure Logic

Today we have prepared for you a lesson in pure logic. That is a subject taught in our institutions of higher learning. There will be no tuition required for our short course. But it may cost you a bundle of tax dollars.

First, we call to your attention a report of the 1965 White House Conference on Natural Beauty. It recommended that the Interstate Commerce Commission examine into the rate structure to determine whether there is discrimination against the shipping of scrap (metal) as opposed to iron ore, which is its chief competitor in the steel mills.

Next, we ask you to focus on a March, 1967 study by the Department of the Interior of the US Government which cited the detrimental effect of freight rates on the movement of scrap (metal) compared to material competing with scrap, such as pig iron, iron ore, and iron pellets.

Observe also that less than ten years ago (in 1958) there were 2,700 scrap metal businesses in the United States. By 1964 this figure had dropped to 1,800. Point four: ten years ago (in 1956) a scrap baled car brought the dealer $51.63. This past summer, the price had dropped

The viciousness of altruism and the mentality of the politically oriented mind begin to appear when it is realized that each individual, in this world of reality, DOES live just for himself, and that any attempt by one person to IMPOSE a responsibility upon another person, as Kennedy admits to doing, or to "live" another person's life for him, is to initiate a master-slave relationship.

Children so raised and taught, a kind fate not intervening, are almost doomed to develop into psychotic personalities as either apologists for their own existence or, taking the political route of ridding themselves of their guilt complex, as arrogant political or bureaucratic figures believing themselves possessed of the ability and capacity to assume the responsibility for and "live" the life of others.

Kennedy, in short, is raising his children to follow in his own footsteps and while, like their father and his brother before them, professing to "love all of humanity," preparing them to make use of the political apparatus to interfere in the lives of others, looting and regimenting them in the process, "for their own good," of course.

"Let us return again briefly to Grant writing in "The Incredible Bread Machine:"

"The individual who conscientiously practiced altruism would regard it as a moral obligation, at every opportunity, sacrifice his happiness for others, his welfare for others, and ultimately his own life for theirs.

"People can preach altruism but they cannot live it. Nor should they, for the genuine altruist voluntarily enslaves himself to the needs and desires of every other person. The genuine altruist — if there could be such a thing — is not a man but a doormat."

Admittedly, there IS virtue in serving others — in the voluntary market place where BOTH participants PROFIT in the exchange; in fact, that kind of concern for others is what freedom, the market place, and life are all about. But THAT kind of concern for others is not what the philosophy of altruism intends.

Altruism holds out but two alternatives: Either you become an apologist for your own existence, a philosophical doormat for others or, else, calling on the power of the political system, you make of others a doormat for you.

Hitler and Stalin were "altruists," so are Kennedy and LBJ.

Platform in Space Next For Missile?

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent

The Soviet "first" on Venus could be overshadowed within a few years by an even more dramatic Russian achievement. It is now known that Soviet scientists are working on a space platform for "intercontinental" missiles.

The program is now past the purely paper-planning stage, according to knowledgeable military scientists here. Work is now being done on the development of components and of missile space platform subsystems.

The Russian missile space platform, of course, may never be built or, if built, flown in space. The Soviet Union could abandon the idea for political or technical reasons.

Moscow could keep the platform "on the shelf" after developing a prototype. The present space treaty would seem to prevent the use of space for such missile platforms.

There is a precedent for developing a weapon that might never be used. At present, all major powers are developing poison gases and poison gas delivery systems which they may never employ in war.

In other fields, the United States has a number of developed and semideveloped weapons on the shelf — to be produced if and when the time seems right.

Both Russian and American scientists have the know-how for building missile-carrying space platforms within the next five years. The problems are solvable within the present state of the art.

Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara's aides have stated that ground-based missiles make more sense than space platform-based missiles. They point out that space platforms can be shot down but within the Pentagon there's a great deal of disagreement.

Pentagon scientists who worry the Russians will get a missile space platform first, make three points:

—A missile launched from a platform could be programmed to arrive on target in less than four minutes—too quickly for any defense system to react.

By comparison, an intercontinental ballistic missile fired from the Soviet Union would normally take about 30 minutes to arrive on target in the United States.

—Though space platforms could be knocked down easily, the United States would not be likely to shoot down a missile platform in peacetime. It would be, these men say, as provocative as blowing up a Russian warship in peacetime. When war broke out, it would be too late to knock down the platform; the missiles would already have been fired.

—Missiles fired from space platforms could be made highly accurate. By the time a space platform has made three orbits around the earth, it is possible to determine its present and future locations with a high degree of precision. This exact knowledge of location is one very important factor in missile accuracy.

Comes The Ice Age

(Richmond News Leader)

Dr. James P. Lodge, a program scientist at the National Center for Atmospheric Research in Colorado, speculated on the prospects of cooler weather at a recent convention of the American Chemical Society.

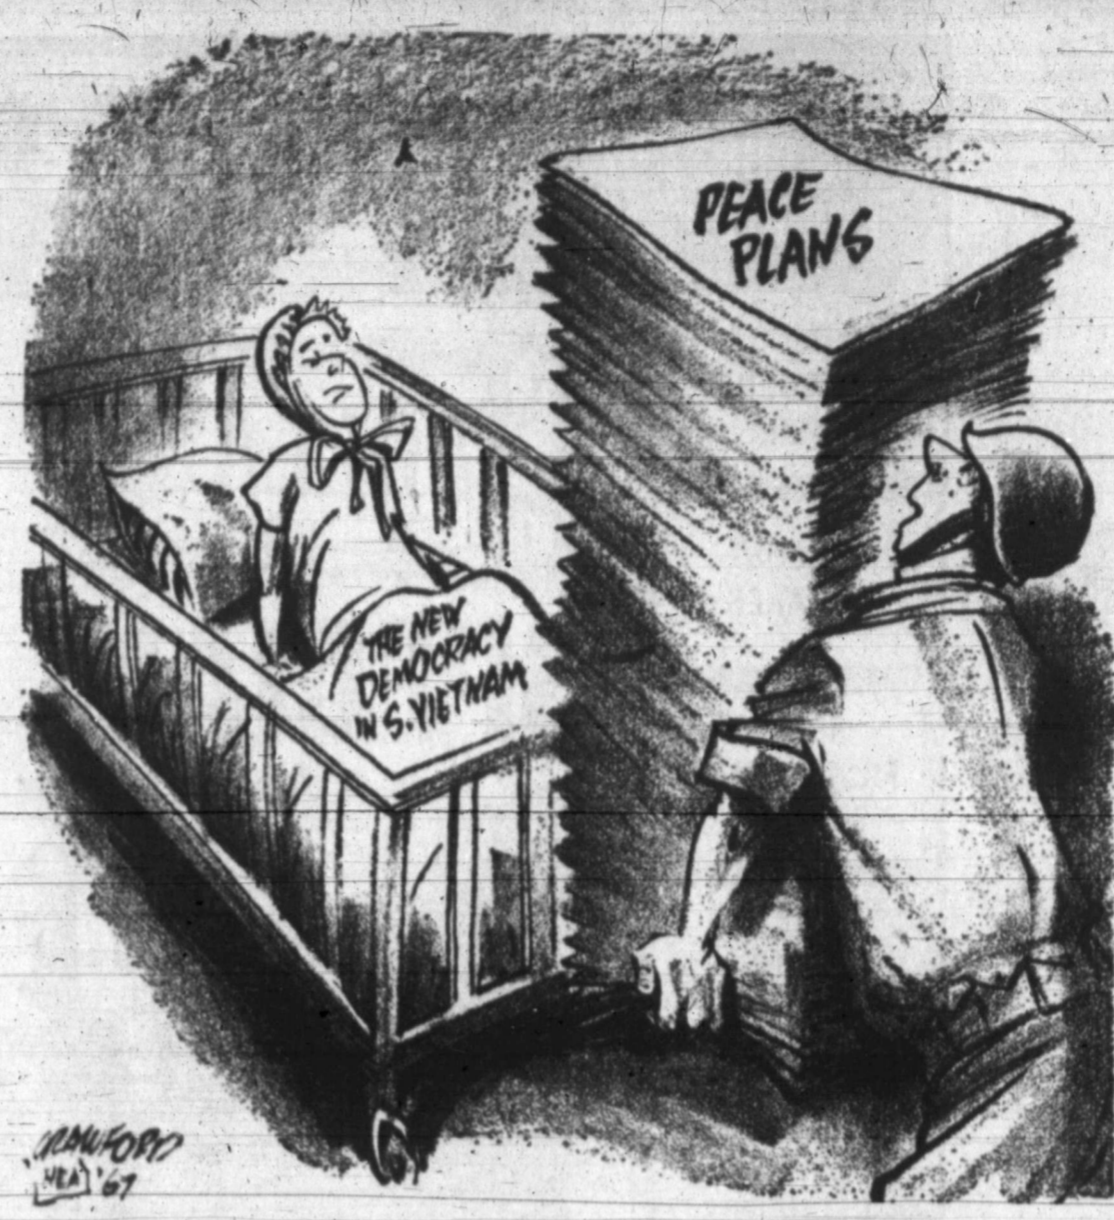

In Dr. Lodge's view, cold summers hint of a coming ice age, perhaps as soon as 2030, that would be as intense as the last ice age when glaciers carved out the Great Lakes.

He believes that the gradual cooling of temperatures, by which the average earth temperature has declined by half a degree since 1950, is caused by air pollution so intense that pollutants succeed in blocking the warming rays of the sun.

It sounds plausible. Each day, huge smokestacks belch tons of pollutants into the air, and automobiles fluff additional tons of hydrocarbons and other byproducts of internal combustion into the atmosphere. Other sources of pollution continue unabated. Sudden temperature inversions can menace millions of people in large industrial complexes when heavy smog becomes trapped above their cities.

Air pollution is claiming increasing national attention, as scientists hammer home the

Nasser Reported Hinting Russian Involvement In Any Future Middle East Shooting Hostilities

ROBERT ALLEN PAUL SCOTT

LONDON — The Arab-Israeli conflict is entering a new and even more dangerous phase. The distinguishing feature could be the direct involvement of Russian forces on the side of the Arabs in any future fighting in the Middle East.

Foreign diplomatic sources here report that President Nasser has begun secret negotiations with the Kremlin for the stationing of Russian naval, air and ground units in Egypt under certain predetermined emergency conditions.

Nasser has revealed to visiting British and French diplomats, according to these reports, that Soviet naval units at Egyptian ports are just "forerunners" of other Soviet forces in Egypt.

If there is another major outbreak of fighting across the Suez canal, these diplomats warn, Russia will support Nasser's forces with both naval and air units, according to Nasser.

Although U. S. diplomats here have not been able to confirm these reports, both American and British intelligence sources say Russia is apparently preparing two large troop-carrying ships for use in the Mediterranean.

These 10,000-ton vessels, being readied at Black Sea ports, can carry between 4,000 and 6,000 fully equipped troops with sufficient rations for six months. The Soviet ships are expected to make regular calls at Egyptian and Algerian ports.

Several Soviet air squadrons, also believed destined for bases in Egypt, Syria, and Algeria, are reported to be loading their ground support equipment on Russian transports in the Black Sea.

UNDER NATO SURVEILLANCE — Turkish authorities, concerned about the growing Soviet naval forces in the Mediterranean, are cooperating with U.S. and British officials to obtain a count of Russian military personnel aboard these ships as they pass through the Dardanelles.

Since last June's outbreak of Arab-Israeli fighting, Turkey has reported an increase of Russian ships in the Mediterranean from seven to more than 40. Indications are this fleet could number 50 before the end of 1967.

Speculation here is that President Nasser's strategy is to use Soviet military forces, or the threat of them, as a shield inescapable fact: that the high costs of bad air can be reckoned in illness and death as well as in the loss and erosion of material property. However, Americans have not yet mobilized enough indignation to force remedial action to be taken swiftly to clean up the nation's air. Two generations hence, when the glaciers begin their southward slide, it may not matter. There may not be enough people left alive to care.

The American Way

By D. R. Seegal

I don't think I've ever met a genuine, card-carrying statesman, pacifist or leprechaun. This is not conclusive evidence, I admit, but it would seem that when a fellow has been around as long as I have, poking his nose into this and that, he would have come across one of these items somewhere. Maybe I just haven't been paying attention.

I've met several fellows who claimed to be statesmen. One of them is in jail. It is his theory that excessive statesmanship is what landed him in the soup but the court records say it was for taking a bribe. Who are you going to believe?

I've never met anyone who even claimed to be a leprechaun, although I have encountered thousands of grown men who say they are elks, eagles, lions, mooses and other forms of non-human life; but as I get it, they are full-time humans and only part-time something else, so they don't count.

I did meet a pacifist once — well, I didn't exactly meet him. We sort of crossed in the mails. He did not admit to being a pacifist, for some reason or other. He tried to explain it to me once, but it was way over my head.

My understanding of pacifism is that you'll let anybody do any sort of violence to you or your family, confining yourself to admonitions that he'll be sorry after he's killed you and has had time to think about it. I did get the point that even a pacifist ought to defend himself and his family with enough counter-violence to prevent death or serious injury, but this is flummery. While you are coolly calculating the precise amount of counter-violence necessary to contain the attack and affect an absolute stalemate, the guy is bashing your skull in. If you live through it, the squirrels will probably get you.

I suppose the Student Non-Violence Committee is a pacifist outfit. They object to hurting a Viet Cong guerrilla but they fight with cops, cluster up public buildings, disrupt the normal business of a community and otherwise inflict injury on a great many fellow-Americans. It seems to me they also greatly reducing the loss of U.S. aircraft.

Each plane was visible as a separate "blip" on the ground radar screen as the British planes flew over the exercise area. But the moment they switched on some of their jamming gear the entire screen became a pattern of utter electronic confusion.

This powerful electronic counter measure (ECM), carried by bombers, covers such a wide area, with so many different frequencies, that it can virtually neutralize all SAMs and their radar within a range of 100 miles, according to the U.S. military officials.

Note: U.S. Air Force pilots here are as baffled over sighting of "fiery crosses" in the sky over London recently as were British defense officials. None of the U.S. bombers pilots that spotted the unidentified flying objects could explain what they were.

How to Lose a War
A pair of formidable enemies face us today in Viet Nam—adversaries so firm that, until their influence is destroyed, we cannot win the war.

One of these enemies is the Soviet Union. And the other is us. The Russians are our enemy because they furnish the supplies of war to North Viet Nam. And we are our enemy because we are aiding Communist Russia.

The subject of our two worst enemies came up on a recent Manion Forum radio interview. Dean Manion's guest on the program was Father Daniel Lyons, a Jesuit priest whose books, articles and lectures on Viet Nam and Asia are legion. Father Lyons addressed himself to the amount of aid Soviet Russia is giving to our enemy:

"Until 1965, Soviet Russia was giving 35 million dollars a year worth of strategic materials to Hanoi. But in 1966 she gave 500 million. Now, in 1967, she's giving close to one billion dollars. Eighty thousand tons a month of strategic materials go into Hanoi—and fortunately for them, unfortunately for us—the Administration took 400 items that we had always listed as strategic off the prohibited list, enabling our industry to send 400 strategic items to Russia which she now can use to kill our soldiers in Viet Nam."

A few of these suddenly non-strategic items are hard to believe. Did you know, for instance, that scrap iron and fuel for rockets are no longer considered strategic? That we may now freely export them to the Soviet Union?

Father Lyons went into more depth in discussing our relations with Communist Russia. "Going back to the Kennedy wheat-deals-with-the-Communists," he said, "no one knows whether we were paid for any of that wheat. We financed this deal through the Export-Import Bank. This is the whole purpose of the project called 'Building Bridges'. The President received a report from his Committee that investigated this project. The Committee said, 'These people have no way to buy from us; we must give them the money first. . . .'"

The President never denied that. He merely said, all right, we'll put the money through the Export-Import Bank; we'll finance the trade. . . ."

do their best to inflame others to violence, even if they don't touch the stuff themselves, which puts them in the same categories as procurers or pushers who peddle the merchandise even if they don't use it personally.

I wouldn't like to be the wife, child or mother of a pacifist. It must distress a woman to have her husband fervently lecturing a guy who is raping her. She might, even come to take a dim view of him, suspecting that what is wrong lies not in his stars but in his glands that he is what he is.

On balance, I think if I had my druthers, I'd throw in with the statesmen and leprechauns. Statesmen, when you come to think of it, are nothing but politicians who have been at it so long they've lost the hang of stealing and the appetite for power; and leprechauns haven't much of a lobby going for them. But pacifists—they are something else again. They can hurt a guy.

Not only have we failed to stop the supplies to our enemy—we have helped make them available! What kind of war are we fighting—and whose side are we on, anyway?

Magnavox Color TV

INSTANTLY fine tunes itself AUTOMATICALLY... brings you PERFECT PICTURES, every time!

8 Factual Reasons why Magnavox Color TV is your best buy:

1. Just turn your set on! Revolutionary Instant Automatic Color—perfected and introduced by Magnavox in 1964—fine tunes itself automatically! This most important advance in Color TV gives you a perfectly tuned picture that stays precise on every channel, every time!
2. Magnavox Brilliant Color—brings you brighter, more vivid and far more natural color pictures than most other makes today.
3. Magnavox Quick-On—lets pictures flash-on four times faster; eliminates the annoying waiting period during "warm-up" in ordinary makes.
4. Exclusive Chromatone—adds richer colors plus thrilling depth and beauty to color; eye-pleasing warmth to black and white pictures.
5. Automatic Color Purifier—lets you move your Magnavox, even to other rooms; without the need of calling a serviceman to readjust the picture.
6. Magnavox High Fidelity Sound—brings you the added pleasure of much greater program realism. Every model has a Tone Control; most have multiple speaker systems.
7. Beautiful Magnavox Furniture—will be a lasting expression of your good taste. Select from over 40 authentic styles—in a wide variety of finishes.
8. Highest Reliability—is assured by the exclusive "Bonded Circuitry" chassis. You'll enjoy the lasting satisfaction that comes from knowing you own today's finest, most reliable Color TV!

A magnificent Magnavox costs you less because:

Magnavox is the only nationally recognized name brand sold directly to only a few carefully selected fine stores in each community. There is no "middle-man." Thus, you are able to enjoy Magnavox excellence at prices equal to, and usually less than you might pay for other makes—even when these are offered at so-called "discount prices." Prove it to yourself! Visit one of the fine Magnavox area dealers listed on the next page.
