

'ILLNESS' IS EXPLAINED

Failure To Get Salary Boost Seen as Cause

An explanation for the mysterious malady that caused 29 employees in the city's sanitation, water and street departments to stay off their jobs since Monday finally came out into the open today.

Billy G. Hoover, 418 N. Sumner, assistant superintendent and truck driver in the sanitation department, said the men were "sick" because they did not get a pay raise along with the salary increase given to police department members last week.

Hoover said police department pay raises now give a patrolman a minimum starting pay of $422 a month. The starting salary in the sanitation department, he stated, is $318 a month with a worker being required to work 30 months before he attains top pay of $346 a month.

"Three of our representatives asked for a raise last year," Hoover said, "but it was refused."

Hoover stated that one man from the water department who reported off sick Monday was fired when he tried to return to work yesterday. He added that two others from the water department were discharged "for backing us in our actions."

When asked if he knew what the 21 workers in the sanitation department, who had reported Monday that they were sick, would do when the city's 8:30 a. m. deadline is reached tomorrow, Hoover said, "I think they will all still be sick."

City Manager Jim White had notified all the workers to report to work by 8:30 a. m. tomorrow morning or produce a doctor's certificate stating the nature of their illness.

The city manager said today that five members of the street department who were on the "sick list" Monday returned to work yesterday and were on the job today. This left the 21 sanitation department workers still off the job today.

Meanwhile, the city manager said garbage and trash collections were continuing today with 17 new employees manning the trucks. The inclement weather was delaying the collections some, he added.

One city employe reported to police that a car drove by his home at 9:30 last night and shined lights on his car and house. He said when he went out to see what was the matter, several men shouted obscene names at him and then drove away.

Hoover said he wanted to make clear to the public why the men "reported off sick."

"We think if they can find money to raise one department," he said, "they ought to be able to find money to treat others equally."

City Manager White was asked what the next step would be if the 21 sanitation workers still reported off sick tomorrow morning. He replied that the city had no further plans and would have none until the situation was (See 'ILLNESS', Page 3)

Bomb Explodes Outside Russian Embassy in US

No Injuries Reported In Second Incident

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A bomb exploded outside the Soviet Embassy early today, shattering several windows and heavily damaging the ground floor office of a Russian counselor.

There were no injuries. It was the second time in four days that an explosion rocked a Communist mission in a western capital.

The Yugoslav ambassador's residence in Paris was severely damaged Sunday night when a time bomb exploded in the basement. One person was killed and 14 were injured.

Officials said the bomb which damaged the Soviet Embassy in the predawn hours today apparently had been planted on a windowsill of the fortress-like structure.

Police were reported looking for two suspects in connection with the bombing, which shattered windows in nearby office buildings and blew out the windshield of a car parked on the street in front of the four-story brownstone building at 1125 16th St. N.W.

The only person in the building at the time of the blast was a night duty officer, a source said.

The State Department promptly expressed regrets to Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin and offered any assistance that might be required.

A Soviet Embassy source speculated that the bombing might have been the work of fanatics inflamed by the mock trial of international Communism which concludes today in Washington.

An Army bomb squad joined local police in investigating the explosion.

Assistant Police Chief J. V. Wilson said three hours after the explosion that no suspects had been taken into custody in connection with the incident.

The four-story building did not appear to have suffered major structural damage. All of the windows on the top three floors of the embassy are shattered.

But officials said the explosion caused "quite a bit of damage" to the corner room and newsmen said the room appeared to be full of smoke.

An embassy spokesman said at first that some members of the Soviet staff had been injured in the blast. But officials later reported there had been no injuries.

The FBI said the explosion occurred at 6:32 a. m. CST. Fire equipment was dispatched to the embassy, but the explosion apparently did not touch off a fire and the equipment was recalled a short time later.

Florida Governor Vows To End Mass Teacher Walkout

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Gov. Claude Kirk flew home from a California speaking tour early today, vowing to "go on a recruiting drive right now" if necessary to end a mass teacher walkout that has crippled Florida's educational system.

Arriving on the third day of a classroom crisis instigated by passage of what teachers called an "inadequate" education budget by the legislature, Kirk went into immediate talks with his staff.

The walkout has seriously hampered most of the state's 67 school systems. The urban areas around Miami, Tampa, Jacksonville, and St. Petersburg were the hardest hit.

Most counties scheduled classes, but none was reported operating at full capacity. Many substitute and volunteer teachers were being used and paid under emergency regulations passed by the state cabinet Board of Education Tuesday.

Broward (Fort Lauderdale) County was the lone populous county with a majority of teachers still on the job. Only 125 of 4,464 teachers stayed home Tuesday, and the Broward County Classroom Teachers Association voted 886-756 Tuesday night not to join the statewide walkout. Broward teachers apparently settled most of their grievances in negotiations forced by a local walkout last fall.

The Florida Education Association (FEA), representing 50,000 of the state's 61,000 teachers, led the walkout Monday in protest against a $254.5 million education package approved by a special session of the legislature. The FEA contends only about a third of the money actually would reach the public schools, the rest going for other educational programs and property tax relief.

FEA Executive Secretary Phil Constans predicted Tuesday that more teachers would join the walkout each day. "There is a groundswell moving through the state."

He said the resigned teachers, which the FEA claims total 35,000, have been heartened by letters of encouragement and money from teachers in other states.

State Education Department officials said 24,776 teachers were absent Tuesday.

Hilton Files For City Commission

Earl D. Hilton today became the first candidate for a city commission post in Pampa's April 2 municipal election.

Hilton, listed as a contractor in the city directory, filed for the post of commissioner in Ward 4. That job now is held by Elmer Radcliff.

The other commission seat up for grabs in the forthcoming election is in Ward 2 where Hugh Burdette is now serving. Deadline for filing for the city election will be March 4. Absentee balloting will start March 11 and end March 29.

Each post is for a two-year term. The ward 1 and 3 commission posts held by Dr. McDaniel and Joe Taylor will not be up for election until April of 1969.

SNOW KIDDING — We're not kidding, Pampa enjoyed spring-like temperatures yesterday, but arose to face a 13 degree temperature and more than an inch of snow this morning. Mike Flynt, an employe of the First National Bank, grimaces at the chore of shoveling off the walks for customers.

Slight Warming Trend Expected After Cold Hits Panhandle Area

A slight warming trend was forecast for tomorrow after a fast-moving cold front blitzed into the Texas Panhandle last night, shattering spring-like weather with temperatures in the teens, snow and gusty winds.

The U. S. Weather Bureau in Amarillo said snow and sleet would probably continue through the night, but that Thursday would be slightly warmer with no snow or sleet and only light winds forecast.

Low tonight will again be in the lower teens, the bureau said, but high tomorrow was expected to be in the mid-30s.

Temperatures dipped to 13 this morning in Pampa after a high yesterday of 67. Winds gusted up to 38 m.p.h. and 1 1/2 inches of snow was recorded overnight.

Hazardous driving warnings remained in effect through tomorrow and Pampa police urged caution on still slick city streets.

The usual rash of minor accidents failed to occur despite slippery streets, Pampa police said.

All schools in Pampa and several others in the area were closed today, but most were expected to open again tomorrow.

The front brought an end to a one-day warming trend that had produced pleasant weather over Texas Tuesday.

Temperatures fell below freezing over Northwestern Texas early today and the freezing line was forecast to move into North Central Texas tonight.

The precipitation connected with the front was expected to move slowly southward today. The weather bureau said there was a possibility that parts of North Central Texas could get some light snow Thursday.

The snow that fell early today was generally light.

Clear skies stretch ahead of the front, but clouds were forecast to move along with the front's leading edge as it moves through Texas.

The western section of the state was expected to miss the moisture that was connected with the cooler air, but scattered showers were in the forecasts for tonight in much of East Texas and for Thursday in the southeastern corner of the state.

U.S., North Korea Hold Secret Talks

SEOUL (UPI) — The United States and North Korea met secretly today for more talks on the fate of the USS Pueblo's imprisoned crewmen, South Korean sources said.

The sources did not give details of the meeting, the first since a North Korean statement that 82 surviving members of the crew faced punishment as criminals for violating the Communist country's territorial waters.

One of the crewmen reportedly died of wounds suffered when the U.S. intelligence ship was seized Jan. 23.

Today's session was at the truce village of Panmunjom, the sources said, and was the second in as many days. In all, U.S. Rear Adm. John V. Smith and Maj. Gen. Pak Chung Kuk of North Korea have met nine times to discuss the Pueblo case.

The report that the crew would be punished came Tuesday from an official of the North Korean Embassy in Moscow.

Nuclear Blast Set Off At Nevada Test Site

YUCCA FLAT, Nev. (UPI) — A nuclear test was detonated today 2,100 feet below the desert floor of the nation's atomic test site.

The Atomic Energy Commission said the device was triggered at 7:30 a. m. PST and that there were no reports of any one feeling the shock offsite.

'Trial' of Communism Slated To Conclude

By NICHOLAS DANILOFF WASHINGTON (UPI) — A three-day mock trial of international Communism ends today with testimony from a former FBI counterespionage and an ex-prisoner of war in North Korea.

The trial by the World Court of Public Opinion, a dedicated anti-Communist group, almost got out of control Tuesday when a screaming Romanian minister ignored orders from the five-judge tribunal and tore off his shirt to display scars which he said were caused during 14 years of imprisonment by the Communists.

Among those scheduled to testify today were Herbert Philbrick, a former FBI agent who infiltrated the U.S. Communist party, and Duane Thorin, who was captured by the Communists in the Korean War.

The Communist party is being tried in proceedings at Georgetown University on charges it conspires to deprive individuals of their freedom. The trial is being conducted with the backing of Young Americans for Freedom, the twin circled-national Catholic press and a number of other anti-Communist groups.

The Rev. Richard Wurbrand of Glendale, Calif., who once served as an evangelist in Bucharest, jumped to his feet Tuesday and stripped to the waist to reveal scars which he said were inflicted during 14 years in a Romanian prison.

Wurbrand, secretary of "Mission to Europe's Millions," which smuggles Bibles behind the Iron Curtain, screamed: "Why did you wait 14 years and let us suffer?"

When defense attorneys objected, he shouted: "Why should you object? I'm the one who should object towards what is happening in America, which is engaged in collusion with those who torture Christians."

Another witness, John H. Noble, an American who was held in Soviet captivity for 10 years after World War II, charged that Russia is still holding a number of U.S. citizens in labor camps.

Asked about the charge, the State Department said it knew of no Americans being held by the Soviets but that it had to take the Russians' word on the matter.

IN TONKIN GULF

Critics Suspicious About 1967 Incident

By JOHN HALL WASHINGTON (UPI) — Despite a marathon briefing by Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, some Senate administration critics still voiced suspicions today that the United States provoked the 1964 Gulf of Tonkin incident as an excuse to bomb North Vietnam.

Chairman J. William Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said the portions of the testimony McNamara released publicly do not "tell the whole story."

But he said no decision has been made whether to continue the committee's probe into the incident.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said nothing McNamara told the committee had changed the view he has held for three years that the Tonkin incident resulted from an act of "constructive aggression" by the United States.

McNamara, in his last and perhaps toughest appearance on Capitol Hill, spent seven hours behind closed doors with the committee Tuesday trying to convince dissident members that North Vietnam, without provocation, attacked the U.S. destroyers Maddox and Turner Joy on Aug. 2 and Aug. 4, 1964.

The circumstances surrounding the attack are crucial since it led to the retaliatory bombing of North Vietnam and impelled Congress to pass a resolution giving the committee virtually unlimited authority to conduct the war.

McNamara, due to leave the Pentagon at the end of the month to become president of the World Bank, admitted for the first time publicly that the Maddox and Turner Joy were intelligence-gathering vessels equipped with electronic surveillance gear. The administration had claimed in 1964 that the two ships were on a "routine mission."

The secretary also startled some members of the committee by declaring that the two ships were authorized to come as close as eight miles to North Vietnam's coastline.

But the secretary insisted that the two vessels were in international waters at all times during and prior to the attack. He said North Vietnam's present 12-mile territorial limit was not in effect in 1964.

Fulbright told newsmen that was only a "contention" of the administration and said he was not certain whether it was true.

Morse said he told McNamara "he completely disagreed" with everything he said.

"Having the Maddox and Turner Joy there was an act of constructive aggression on our part," he said. "North Vietnam had every reason to fear what we were doing."

HOW'S BUSINESS?

Apprehension Is Strong Among Investors, Buyers

By THE BARSON STAFF

Four months ago, this column called attention to the fact that the confidence factor was at a vital crossroad. The increase and spread of apprehension was cited, and it was pointed out that public sentiment would bear close watching. Since then, events have borne out our apprehension. Hence, a survey of the state of public confidence seems apropos.

Right now, the greatest degree of apprehension rests among investors. The sharp and almost uninterrupted tumble in stock market values and the stymying of the hopeful rally in the bond market point up the high degree of uncertainty and uneasiness among investors.

Consumers, who throughout the past year had kept tight hold on their wallets, remain distinctly reticent as regards future spending. While it is true that retail trade has fluctuated in a high range, its performance has been disappointing in the light of continued healthy employment and income conditions.

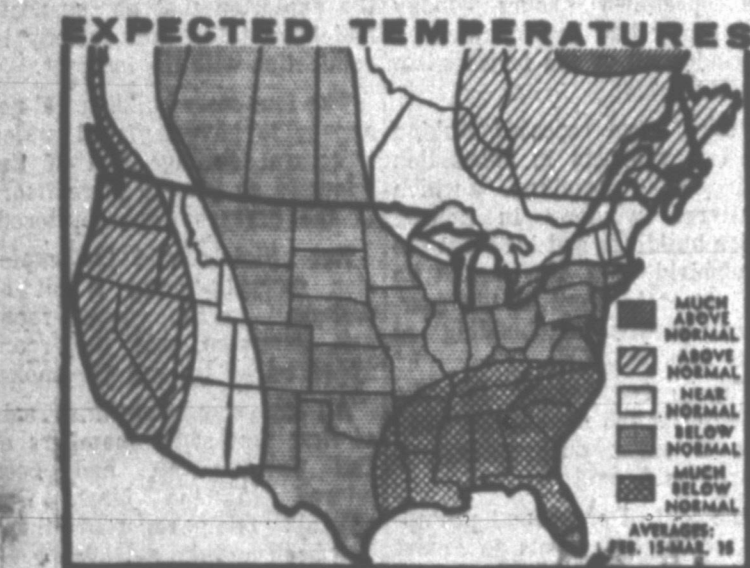

Business sentiment has, by and large, been the least adversely hit by the multiple uncertainties. New business inflow to manufacturers has showed renewed vitality; business inventory accumulation has evidenced a little more vigor; and capital expenditures have improved somewhat after slipping during the first three quarters of 1967. But there is a good deal of concern over the inflation in wage costs and the danger of a weightier tax burden on corporations.

There are indeed ample reasons for a disturbed sentiment at the present time. Foremost among these are the brink-of-war atmosphere, impairment of American prestige over the Pueblo incident, and a seeming inability to cope with the Vietnam situation. Equally vital is the danger of price and other controls which could be imposed if there should be a broadening of our military involvement in Asia. The drag of the fight over federal spending and higher taxes is also adverse. Pending clarification of these imponderables, uneasiness will prevail.

TWO CONVICTED

WARSAW (UPI)—A Warsaw court sentenced Alfred Kipper, a ole, to nine years in prison and a $22,900 fine and Eugen Scharbatke of West Germany to six years and six months in prison and a $5,000 fine upon conviction of cooperation with anti-Polish West German organizations, the Polish news agency said today.

Below normal temperatures are predicted for much of the U.S. with a warming trend in states along the west coast.

Light to moderate precipitation is forecast for most of the nation, especially the Pacific Northwest and Ohio Valley.

Bar Association Creates Committee on Information Code

By FRANK L. SPENCER

CHICAGO (UPI)—The American Bar Association (ABA) today created an advisory committee to implement its controversial new code limiting the release of information in criminal cases.

A spokesman for the ABA said the committee would begin functioning upon the disbanding of the Reardon Committee, the group headed by Justice Paul C. Reardon of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts. The Reardon Committee drew up the code that seeks to restrict the amount of information lawyers and judges can release to news media in criminal cases. The restrictions, called the Reardon report, were adopted Monday by the ABA House of Delegates.

An ABA spokesman said, "The function of the advisory committee will be to assist in effectuating the recommendations of the house of delegates in this field through liaison with state and local bar associations."

"The committee will also encourage cooperation between the bar and the news media for voluntary measures to protect the right of fair trial and free press," the spokesman said. The spokesman said the members of the committee had not yet been chosen.

President Nominated

The House of Delegates also nominated a new president-elect. He is Bernard G. Segal, a Philadelphia lawyer.

Segal's nomination will be confirmed at the ABA's annual meeting in Philadelphia in August.

Representatives of the national news media said Monday's action was an attempt to "amend the constitution of the United States" and warned that the press would "fight back."

The chairman of the American Society of Newspaper Editors' Freedom of Information Committee, J. Edward Murray, said publishers and editors "must be prepared to spend whatever is necessary...to guarantee that police chiefs do not manage the news to suit themselves, that prosecutors do not censor what the public has a right to know...and that judges do not try to suppress legitimate news."

The new ABA policy, which with the action of the 290-member House of Delegates Monday became part of the ABA's canons of professional ethics, seeks to restrict what prosecutors, defense lawyers and judges can report on pending criminal cases.

Impose Similar Rules

It also calls on law enforcement agencies such as police departments, sheriff's offices and the Federal Bureau of Investigation to impose similarly restrictive internal rules on their officials and staff members.

The policy adopted by a shouted, voice vote forbids disclosing such information as prior criminal record or reputation of the accused, existence of content of confessions or pleas, results of such tests as fingerprint, ballistics and lie detection, and identification of witnesses or any evidence relating to the merits of the case.

"The most astonishing thing about the House of Delegates' action is that it refused to allow time for completion of the current publishers' national survey of trial judges to determine the degree of influence, if any, which pretrial news coverage has on actual jurors..." Murray said.

Committee Okays Extension Of Federal Phone, Auto Tax

By MICHAEL POSNER

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An extension through 1969 of existing federal excise taxes on telephone calls and new automobiles and accelerated corporate tax collections was approved Tuesday by the House Ways and Means Committee.

President Johnson had requested a delay in scheduled reductions of the excise levies for 15 months—from April 1 through June 30, 1969—but the committee vote a further six-month delay, until Jan. 1, 1970.

The committee made clear meanwhile that its action did not rule out later consideration of the other, major part of the President's tax proposals, a request for a 10 per cent surcharge on individual and corporate income taxes.

If approved by Congress, the excise extension and tax collection speedup voted by the committee would yield federal revenues unofficially estimated at $5.6 billion.

Deadline Jan. 1, 1969

Under existing legislation, the 10 per cent excise tax on telephone calls would drop to 1 per cent April 1 and would be eliminated Jan. 1, 1969. The 7 per cent levy on new cars is to drop to 2 per cent April 1 and to 1 per cent Jan. 1, 1969.

If Congress goes along with the tax-writing committee's plan, telephone users would continue to pay a 10 per cent monthly phone bill until the end of next year. Otherwise, they would save $1.80 in taxes on the same bill after April 1.

Similarly, car buyers would continue to pay $210 in taxes on a new $3,000 automobile under the committee plan for the same period. The scheduled April 1 reduction would save them $150 in taxes on the same car.

Under the committee plan, the existing levies would continue until Jan. 1, 1970, and then would drop by stages until each was eliminated three years later—on Jan. 1, 1973.

Business Payments Speeded

The committee also approved a proposal to put big business income tax payments on a more current basis, a move the administration had said would yield $1.3 billion in additional revenues by June 30, 1969.

Corporations now must estimate and pay quarterly all taxes owed above $100,000. The first $100,000 in taxes can be paid at the end of the tax year. The committee voted to eliminate the $100,000 exemption gradually by Jan. 1, 1972, when all corporate taxes would have to be paid on a quarterly basis.

In addition, corporations would have to come within 80 per cent of estimating their actual taxes, compared to the 70 per cent accuracy standard now required.

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband (45 years old) came home with a Valentine's gift from a 35-year-old single girl at work. It was a T-shirt of the best quality. With it she enclosed a little note telling him to get with it—that sleeveless undershirts were out, and that real sharp guys wore T-shirts instead.

The very next day my husband went out and bought himself a complete supply of T-shirts and asked me if I knew someone who could use his old sleeveless undershirts as he was discarding them.

Now he wears the kind of undershirts the girl at the office recommended. How do you like that!

HIS WIFE

DEAR WIFE: I don't know what this girl sees in your husband, but she obviously sees through him. Since an undergarment as a "Valentine" hardly qualifies as a practical joke, perhaps you should regard it as a warning flag.

DEAR ABBY: I am 20 years old and work in a large office. When I was younger I fell down and broke my nose, and have always wanted to have it operated on to make it prettier. The doctor says I will have to be in the hospital for a week, and it will take about three weeks more before all the black and blue marks and swelling disappear completely. This means a whole month away from work.

My problem is that I don't want anyone at the office to know why I am going to be gone for a month, but I have insurance here at work that will take care of part of the expense, so I will have to let them know. How can I keep my secret!

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Since you are sensitive about it, tell them at work that you are going into the hospital for some "corrective surgery" . . . and don't wait around for further questioning. When you return, the improvement will be obvious, but don't be embarrassed. Cosmetic surgery is nothing to be ashamed of.

DEAR ABBY: That letter from the mother whose adolescent son was "embarrassed" because he had to take a lamp treatment, naked, in the presence of a "young girl" made me see red.

The mother said her son was 17 and the girl couldn't have been much older. Well, she had to be at least 21 to be a nurse. These people who think nurses and doctors take a personal interest in their patients make me sick.

I am a registered nurse and I'll never forget the time I had to perform a personal service for an elderly gentleman because no orderly was available. The man shouted, "I don't want no WOMAN in here." I called my superior in and she said, "Simmer down, Dad, we are not WOMEN, we are nurses!"

And a few years ago I was in the room with the doctor and his male patient who had just come from the recovery room after surgery. His wife was present, too. Then the doctor said to his wife, "Would you please step out!" The wife replied, "If that woman can stay, so can I. I can do anything SHE can do." Whereupon the doctor handed her a stethoscope and chart and said, "Fine, we're short of help, so will you please check all vital signs every 15 minutes, blood pressure, heart, etc. and request the lab for blood work, check all output and intake, etc." She certainly changed her tune in a hurry.

Family Living Committee Selects March Educational Program Topic

Mental Health of Children is the topic selected for a March educational program for 1968 by the Family Living Committee of the Gray County Program Building Committee.

Committee members are Mrs. John Spearman, chairman; Mrs. Doris Studebaker, Mrs. Carl O. Smith, Mrs. Ray Robertson, Mrs. Frank Thomas, Mrs. Peryl Robbins, Mrs. H. V. Wilks, Mrs. Paul Bowers, Mrs. Don Huffaker, Mrs. Stan Friend, Mrs. Luther Welborn, Mrs. Garland Tivis and Mrs. Don Morrison.

Cal W. Yokum, Amarillo, chief psychiatric social worker, with the Kilgore Children's Psychiatric Center and Hospital, Inc., will conduct a series of seminar meetings.

Any person interested in learning more on the Mental Health of Children and giving programs on this subject is invited to attend these programs which start at 4 p.m. March 6 at the center in Amarillo.

These meetings will continue on the first and third Wednesdays of March and April.

Mrs. N. L. Nicholl, City Council of PTA; Mrs. T. T. Givens, Beta Sigma Phi City Council; Mrs. Johnnie Sybert, Lefors school nurse; Miss Norma Lantz, Lefors school librarian; and Miss Forrest Hills, Nurses Association, plan to participate in the seminars.

The committee has contacted different organizations throughout the county to let them know about the program and to see if they wish to participate. Any one who is interested please contact Mrs. Spearman or Miss Jimmie Lou Wainscott, county home demonstration agent, Miss Wainscott said.

"Good mental health is the ability to feel comfortable about yourself, right about other people, and meet the demands of life. Parents can help children to become more stable emotionally," Yokum said in recent meetings with the committee.

"Causes of emotional illness in children can be varied. Pressures and stresses are accelerating. The family unit is not as strong as it used to be. We have more money available and it is assuming a greater importance to the family.

"Families are participating in more and different activities and sometimes these activities lead each family member in different directions. Our values are changing, weakening, and sometimes become distorted.

"Our security in the United States today seems to be a security of materialism. We don't value people as much as we do material things. People become isolated from each other in the family and neighborhood. It has been confirmed that TV is harmful to children if it is not used discriminately," he added.

"Statistics show in the United States, one person out of 10 needs professional help. This applied to children would mean that out of a classroom of 30, three children would need psychiatric help.

"A child needs help if his behavior is the extreme of the norms of his age group. Norms are what most people of the same age group do. When these behavior patterns of either extreme interfere with the function of the child and his family, it is time to get professional help.

"Symptoms of an emotionally disturbed child may start with one of these symptoms: school phobia, low grades when potential is greater, upset stomach, dizzy spells, bathroom problems, poor speech, thumb sucking, excessively destructive, persecution complex, and stealing," Yokum said.

Altrusa Club Committees Make Reports at Luncheon

The Altrusa Club met recently in a luncheon at the Coronado Inn as the president, Mrs. Lora Dunn presided and Mrs. A. D. Hills directed the pledge of allegiance. Mrs. Malcolm McDaniell sang "An Old Flame," by Charles Ives.

Special guests introduced were Mrs. Maynard Johnson, recognized by Mrs. Kathryn Sullins; Jane Rose, January Altrusa Girl, and Pam Shelhamer, February Altrusa Girl.

Miss Lou Ella Patterson announced the George Washington Tea sponsored by the Daughters of the American Revolution was held today in Lovett Memorial Library.

Reports given by committee chairmen were Mrs. Elma Vandenberg, Altrusa information; Mrs. Martha Kennedy, Mrs. Marion Heare and Mrs. Faunice Mack, the Altrusa "Alerts."

Miss Verne Meador, vocational services, reported a check was received from Altrusa Founders Fund to help a mother complete her vocational nursing training.

Mrs. Marie Fitzgerald, international relations, announced exchange students are invited as guests to the next Altrusa Club meeting.

Mrs. J. Flanagan, Senior Center chairman reported 77 Senior Citizens attended the meeting last week. Mrs. Georgia Mack, safety chairman, was in charge of the program on "Driving".

For her program, tables were decorated with road signs and signals. Mrs. Alfred Green wrote the skit with the characters, Kathryn Sullins, as father; Evelyn Mason, mother; Libby Shotwell, Mrs. Dorothy Tooley and Mrs. Mack as daughters.

Scene for the skit was a "breakfast table" of a typical American home as family members discussed traffic rules and regulations and driver education. Part of the skit included one of the daughters asking her father to appear in court to answer traffic violations, Mrs. Green said.

Mrs. Mack ended her program with the "Ten Commandments" of driving.

The next meeting will be at 7 p.m. Feb. 26 in the Coronado Inn.

"I knew the 'mid' is the latest thing, but I don't think my boy friend is ready for anything THAT NEW!"

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

FOR THURSDAY FEB. 21
GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and night 12 p.m. when you would be wise to be like George Washington whose birthday we celebrate and do nothing that can in any way confuse others but to be honest and straightforward and to sidestep the tendency to be dramatic in action or drastic changes put into motion. Rise above the petty.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19)—Certain affairs about which you know little in the active world can bring you some trouble today, so try to avoid. Use ingenuity to get the information you need. Do not be forced with others.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20)—Those to whom you already owe a debt of gratitude will come forth with ideas that are really good and you should listen to them. Control your temper. Especially with mate you should be very kind and considerate.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—Associates could easily turn away from you if you act in such a way that they feel inferior or inadequate. Show instead that you value their devotion, loyalty. Then you turn failure into success.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21)—If you are more poised, calm, you find you get work done in a more efficient and satisfactory manner. Trust those you like to bring you greater happiness today. Take the time to be with them.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)—Real friends can show you how to have more popularity, fun now, so listen to what they have to suggest. If closest lie is feeling irritated, wretchedly, humor him, or her. Do not lose your temper.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—Although outside ties do not give with you, keep them separate and all is fine. Fix up your home so that it is more ideal, as you like it. Entertain at home in p.m. with persons your family approve of. Make them happy.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23)—Be sure these ideas you have for improving your life in life are really good, otherwise you could get further into the red. Be sure that you are courteous with others if you want to solve these problems properly. Be like the Father of our Country.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21)—Make up your mind to pay that bill that has been bugging you tomorrow without fail, instead of thinking up more excuses. Forget seeing that business person on his free day. You could get a very bad re-buff.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—Forget going off on tangents that could get you into hot water and try to improve yourself instead. Be more concerned with personal affairs. Avoid social gatherings that could lead into trouble.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—A good day to handle certain details and small accumulated jobs you have done little about for some time. An associate could be very disappointed if you do not give the assistance needed. Do so gladly.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—Do your utmost to keep out of that gossip which an acquaintance is spreading about someone, or you could get into real hot water later on. Take it easy today. Jumping into something could be very bad.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)—Taking any chances where your reputation, business or credit are concerned would be very unwise now. Avoid that individual who is definitely a failure owing to some bad vice. Don't get involved any further.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be one of those very independent young people who cannot be spoiled too much, but it would be well to use some discipline or your progeny could get into trouble very easily. Teach to be more considerate of others. Some profession should be followed where much travel is the norm. Government would be fine.

Industrial Growth Partially Offsets Mexican Crop Dip

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Industrial progress partially offset large crop losses in the economy of three Mexican states along the South Texas border last year, said a report by the Enanco Nacional de Mexico Tuesday.

The report — covering the states of Coahuila, Nuevo Leon and Tamaulipas — blamed the crop losses on water, either too little in the summer drought or too much in the autumn floods.

On the bright side, gains of 20 per cent were reported in steel production in Moncoiva.

In Nuevo Leon, site of the Monterrey industrial hub, industrial production gained 10.7 per cent.

In Tamaulipas, a $15 million (U.S.) synthetic rubber plant began operations. In Piedras Negras, two electronic finishing companies were established. In Torreon $6.6 million cement plant with a capacity for 500 tons daily began production.

In Nuevo Leon the highlight was the opening of the Borgward automobile factory.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

For nearly three weeks now, 1,500 delegates from 132 countries have been meeting in New Delhi, ostensibly to find ways of bridging the increasing gap between rich and poor nations. So far the conference has produced:

—A walkout by three-quarters of the delegates on the representative of South Africa in a demonstration against South Africa's white supremacy policies.

—A denunciation of the United States by Cuba which accused the United States of "madness for persecution."

—An attack on Western capitalism by the Soviet-led Communist states which accused the west of "subverting" the economic growth and development of poor countries through unfavorable terms of aid.

—A demand by developing countries for more aid at lower interest rates and longer repayment periods. The question of trade, one of the main purposes of the conference, scarcely has been mentioned.

And, while talking of more and more aid, the underdeveloped nations are reacting with less than enthusiasm to Japan's willingness to help finance their development through an increase in private investment.

Their explanation is they fear this could lead to their economic growth falling under the control of foreign capital.

The conference scarcely could have come at a less propitious time.

The United States is worried about the dollar and has served notice that it must cut back on the billions it has advanced annually since World War II in foreign aid.

Society. A determination of the extent and type of assistance needed and the most efficient means of obtaining that assistance will be made. Arrangements for needed treatment or service will be made by the Easter Seal Society.

Dr. Milam stated that funds received as a result of the annual Easter Seal Appeal now aid 17,622 disabled Texans but that there are many more not currently being aided. These disabled citizens and especially those in Gray County who contact Keim can be guided to the proper sources of assistance. They or their families are urged to contact Keim or the Texas Easter Seal Society in Dallas, regardless of age, race, cause of disability or financial status.

Dr. Milam added that the Texas Easter Seal Society annually spends more money on direct services to patients than it raises in the Easter Seal Appeal.

Keim To Serve In Local Easter Seal Campaign

Paul Keim will serve as Easter Seal representative and treasurer for the 1968 Easter Seal Appeal in Gray County, it was announced by Robert W. Milam, M.D., of McAllen, president of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas.

Residents of Gray County will receive the annual Easter Seal Appeal letters in the mail beginning March 1. The Easter Seal Appeal, conducted yearly to provide disabled persons and their families treatment and service adapted to specific community needs, will be conducted until Easter Sunday, April 14.

Keim is one of 169 men and women throughout Texas who serves in this capacity. The cost of the state-wide program is over one million dollars, financed mainly by the Easter Seal Appeal. Almost 90 per cent of all funds raised by the Easter Seal Appeal remain in Texas to support the growing needs of the disabled in the state.

Special emphasis is being given in the 1968 Easter Seal Appeal to the disabled citizen or his family in Gray County who may need assistance and not know where to obtain it. Any disabled person can contact Keim at First National Bank, Pampa, who will refer the request for services to the Easter Seal SECURITY SPECIALIST Muriel Siebert, 34, has become the first woman ever elected to the New York Stock Exchange. She paid $445,000 for a seat on the 175-year-old exchange.

LBJ Chooses Washington Attorney To Run Campaign

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Blessing intensified political efforts in his behalf, President Johnson has tapped James H. Rowe Jr., a Washington lawyer and an old confidant, to run his 1968 re-election campaign.

Johnson's move in turn has stirred activity in the Democratic National Committee, which has been largely moribund since 1964.

The committee already has held three regional strategy conferences — at Salt Lake City, Des Moines and Dallas — and plans a fourth in Atlanta this weekend.

It also intends to spend more than $1 million in the coming months on a nationwide voter registration drive, headed by Billie Farnum, a former Democratic congressman from Michigan.

Rowe, 58, who has been a political ally of Johnson's since the early New Deal days, does not have the title of campaign manager this year. But ranking sources on the national committee left no doubt Tuesday that he is the big man.

"Jim Rowe is really running the campaign," one source said.

Officially, in the party hierarchy, Rowe is in charge of Citizens for Johnson-Humphrey, a volunteer adjunct of the national committee.

Hawpe Signs With Okies

White Deer's Mike Hawpe signed a letter of intent with Oklahoma University yesterday with OU coach Chuck Fairbanks witnessing the event.

linebacker-fullback regarded by coach Cross as "one of the state's top 20 blue chip football boys."

Hawpe became the twelfth Texan to get a four-year scholarship from the Norman, Okla. university since the signing started last week. The Sooners now have approximately 40 boys heading for OU as freshman next year, according to Cross.

Another recent signer with OU is David Geren 'of Fort Smith, Ark. North Side High, which won the state championship last year.

An Amarillo boy also has signed with the Sooners. He is Phil Jordan, 6-2, 200-pound tackle from Amarillo High.

Oklahoma's big game with Notre Dame has been sold out for some time with the Sooners getting only 5000 tickets which were grabbed in no time at all.

Pampa had a boy playing his last year at OU—Rick Goodwin, who acted as defensive captain for the Sooners. Goodwin graduated from PHS the same year as Kenny Hebert.

BLUE CHIP FOR OU — Mike Hawpe, White Deer All-District football player who made the Fort Worth Star-Telegram Super-All-State Team, signs a letter of intent to attend Oklahoma University. Coach Chuck Fairbanks (right) of OU witnesses the signing along with Hawpe's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Miller Hawpe of White Deer.

Pan Am Goes To Third in Ratings

NEW YORK (UPI) — Pan American College of Texas moved up four places today in the national basketball ratings for small colleges, to third place behind Long Island University and Kentucky Wesleyan. Pan Am fattened its season record to 18-4 and garnered 162 votes from the United Press International's coaches on the ratings. Most of Pan Am's advance was boosted by the losses suffered by the four teams previously ranked ahead of it on the list.

Cougars, UCLA Head For Second Showdown

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—The countdown for collegiate basketball's "second showdown" was at least eight games and 30 days away for Houston's top-ranked Cougars and UCLA.

The Cougars, a 71-69 winner over fabulous UCLA in "the game of the century" last month at Houston, won't play the second ranked Bruins again until March 22 in Los Angeles if they are to play at all.

Houston (23-0) has five regular season games remaining and then would have to win three National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) playoff games in the Midwest to reach Los Angeles.

Houston and fourth-ranked St. Bonaventure, the nation's only other major college unbeaten at 19-0, landed two of nine at-large births Tuesday in the 1968 NCAA championships.

Other bids went to 1963 champion Loyola of Chicago (13-6), to be Houston's foe March 9 at Utah in one of seven first-round games, 13th-ranked New Mexico State (18-4), 15th-ranked Marquette (18-3), Florida State (17-5), St. John's of New York (15-6), Boston College and the Ivy League champion, either sixth-ranked Columbia (17-3) or Princeton's (17-4) Tigers.

The selection of nine at-large teams meant the 30th annual NCAA championship bracket would be composed of 23 teams — 14 representing major conferences (the Ivy League winner does not automatically qualify).

With only its loss to Houston

Mildren Signs With Oklahoma

ABILENE, Tex. (UPI)—Quarterback Jack Mildren, the most sought after high school football player in Texas this year, casts his collegiate fate with the University of Oklahoma today.

A 3 p.m. news conference is scheduled at an Abilene motel, at which time University of Oklahoma coach Chuck Fairbanks will sign Mildren to a Big Eight Conference letter of intent.

Fairbanks announced Tuesday that the Sooners had landed Mildren, a senior at Abilene Cooper High School.

"He's a real quality boy," said Fairbanks, "both as a person and as a player. He will be a fine addition to our school and to our team."

SWC Race Takes Turn With Deadlock

By United Press International

The Southwest Conference basketball race took another zany turn Tuesday night, leaving three teams—Baylor, Texas and Texas A&M — deadlocked for the lead heading into the stretch run.

The Bears, on top of the loop since the early season, lost their third straight game and their lead as well.

Baylor was decked by Southern Methodist 70-73, allowing Texas (a 79-60 winner over Texas Tech) and A&M (which defeated Arkansas 71-67) to move onto the top rung of the ladder. All three have 7-4 records.

And TCU could have made it a four way tie if it had not been dumped by Rice 73-69.

TCU now holds a 6-5 record, one game behind the leaders, SMU and Arkansas are posting 5-8 marks, Rice is at 4-7 and Tech trails with a 3-8 record. The race is so jumbled that a tie for the conference crown is almost assured, and any of the six top teams in the race could be involved.

SMU repulsed the Bears Tuesday night despite a strong second half comeback effort paced by Tommy Bowman.

Bill Voight and were equal to the challenge however, and led the Bears with 23 and 16 points respectively.

Sonny Benefield sank two free throws with only 17 seconds left to ice the Texas A&M victory over Arkansas. The Aggies never led by more than five points during the second period as Benefield led A&M with 19 points.

Benton Cone matched that performance for Arkansas.

The Texas Longhorns raced in front on a torrid 62.7 percent shooting average in the first half against Tech, but the Raiders narrowed the gap to only two points, 40-38 at the half.

Then, in the early minutes of the second half, Texas outscored Tech 22-3 to put the game out of reach. Billy Arnold headed the Longhorns' scoring with 30 points.

The key to the rice victory over TCU came at the free throw line, where Rice's Greg Williams hit 13 of 14 and Larry Miller hit six of six.

Both players hit crucial free throws late in the game to keep the Owls in front of the cold shooting Frogs.

UH Game All Sold Out

CANYON (Spi)—Due to the sellout of the West Texas State-Houston basketball game here March 4, West Texas State students are urged to have their activity card and I. D. card in hand upon entry into the fieldhouse.

Coach Pulls Team, Quits

LAS VEGAS, N.M. (UPI)—John Davis, head basketball coach at Paul Quinn College of Waco, became incensed at a referee's call Tuesday night and pulled his team off the floor in a game against Highlands College.

Paul Quinn was trailing at the time, 97-64, with 4:20 left in the contest.

Davis leaped off the bench as a call was made and protested. Then he told his club to go to the dressing room.

Davis refused comment on the incident after the game was called.

Paul Quinn had trailed from the opening minute and was behind at the half 59-39.

By CURTIS MONTGOMERY Sports Editor

Bob Price, former Pampa High School pitcher who graduated in 1964, is heading for spring training in Casa Grande, Ariz., with hopes of signing a professional baseball contract with the San Francisco Giants organization. Price, who has hurried for Oklahoma University and Odessa Junior College, will be going it on his own as a free agent during the three-week trial which start March 11. He hopes to sign on with a class A club, but if he doesn't, he wants to play in the rookie league, which begins play in June.

Price is likely to play on one of three clubs: Cocomo, Fla.; Salt Lake City or Medford, Oregon.

Price has talked with Andy Gilbert, who is manager of the Amarillo Giants, a class A Texas League club, about his chances to sign a contract and thinks his chances are good.

Price is currently employed in the advertising department of the Pampa Daily News.

AUSTIN — State attention continues to center on the embattled Texas Liquor Control Board.

Speaker Ben Barnes appointed a special subcommittee from the House State Affairs Committee to study possible changes in the election laws.

Cory stressed that the committee will not investigate Board operations. It will look into the cumbersome liquor laws which have not been modernized since they were first adopted in 1935.

A veteran lawman, O. N. (Newt) Humphreys Jr., was chosen by the Board to take the vacant job as assistant to Administrator Coke Stevenson Jr.

Arguments run something like this: —FR JUNE — Legislators won't vote for a big tax bill with elections staring them in the face, and will resent having campaigns interrupted.

His selection led to speculation that the LCB might in a few months move Humphreys up to administrator. But Stevenson said that he has no intention of resigning while the agency is under fire.

In a unique way, the LCE situation got involved in the governor's race. Lieut. Gov. Preston Smith was critical of the decision by Barnes to name a special committee.

Gov. John Connally's declaration that state legislators have been involved in "influence peddling" efforts with Stevenson, and his refusal to grant special treatment kept his salary down, led to some checking.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED — Governor Connally selected Consumer Credit Commissioner Francis A. Miskell as a member of state Constitutional Revision Commission.

SPECIAL SESSION TALKS — With all the 1968 candidates now on the line and campaigns still in low gear, favorite capitol speculation is the date of the upcoming special legislative session.

Big question is when? It has been widely assumed that Connally will wait until around June 3 when the primary elections will be over.

Since the governor said that he may ask legislators to consider liquor-by-the-drink legalization and conflict of interests curbs, speculation on the session's date has flared anew.

High court also agreed to hear arguments on March 27 in a San Antonio case involving a father's right to prevent a divorced wife from legally changing the name of their child.

Rate experts suggested 4.4 per cent reduction in fire premiums, 3 per cent in extended coverage and 3.1 per cent average for home owners.

Fire and extended coverage rates are set statewide, and homeowners rates are figured on a three-region basis due to weather hazards.

Adopted, rates would be effective June 1. Biggest money saving on home owner's premiums would be in 10 county Sherman area where rates are now high.

FISHING AGREEMENT SIGNED — Texas and Louisiana fishermen soon will be able to fish in boundary waters of the two states with license or exemption from either.

Paras and Wildlife Commission signed such an agreement with Louisiana officials. It takes effect in 30 days and applies to Sabine Pass, Sabine Lake, Toledo Bend Reservoir and Caddo Lake.

FWC Chairman Will Odum said this reciprocal arrangement climaxed two years of work. He expressed hope that Texas can work out similar pacts with Arkansas and Oklahoma.

Odum said that no two-state reciprocal hunting licenses can be adopted.

Sen. Ralph Hall of Rockwell, senate president pro tempore, has been designated state campaign manager for gubernatorial candidate John Hill.

William F. (Bill) Carter, press secretary to the governor, will return to his old job as DPS public information officer on March 1.

James J. Kelly will serve as acting executive director of the Texas Industrial Commission.

COURTS SPEAK — Texas Supreme Court has held that: Cities should not license door-to-door insurance salesmen (in a case originating in Hillsboro);

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES — State Department of Public Welfare is required to make "medicaid" payments direct to doctors and hospitals for medical care of welfare recipients, says Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin.

In other recent opinions, Martin held that: Public junior colleges are local educational agencies, providing "public free" secondary education at public expense and subject to public supervision and direction; and the State Insurance Commissioner does not have authority to approve an amendment to an insurance company's charter which, in effect, transforms it into a commercial corporation required to have a charter from the Secretary of State.

DRAFT QUOTA UP SHARPLY — Texas draft boards next month will furnish the largest monthly quota of young men for military service in nearly two years.

Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said the local boards have been called on to provide 1,948 men — most since the 2,012-man quota of Nov. 1966. Low point in the interim was 674 men last February.

This year's monthly quotas have been 1,165 men in February and 1,659 in January.

National call for March induction is 39,000 men. All are for the Army.

FIRE RATE — Cut proposed — State Board of Insurance proposed its first cuts in seven years (average of 3.6 per cent) in statewide fire, extended coverage and home owners insurance premiums.

Rate experts suggested 4.4 per cent reduction in fire premiums, 3 per cent in extended coverage and 3.1 per cent average for home owners.

West Texans Urged To Seek More Water

PLAINVIEW, Tex. (UPI) — Some 300 west Texans were told Tuesday they should convince the rest of the state and residents of adjoining states to support them in their bid to bring out of state later to the region to bolster their rapidly diminishing water supply.

Studies by the Texas Water Development Board indicated the vast agricultural economy of West Texas will start to decline by 1980 if no additional water for irrigation is found.

"But that need requires telling and retelling," Col. Cliff Chamberlain of Lubbock told the 1st annual meeting of Water, Inc., a group formed to get importation of water to west Texas.

"Federally programs are designed on the needs of people. In the vigorous competition for today's water it will be the people who show the biggest need, the biggest dollars and the most cooperation who get the biggest basket from the government," said Chamberlain, executive director of Water Inc.

He said to accomplish the goal it will mean effort by farmers to help get additional water for the municipalities and also for the cities to help bring in more water designed for irrigation purposes. "We must all join forces if we are to benefit from this venture. We must spread the word throughout the whole state that we are going to succeed. Not only must we get together in this region and in the state, we must also secure the help of our neighboring states—New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arizona—who have a direct stake in our project," he said.

"If we can get water to our area, the region will benefit, tire nation will benefit," Chamberlain said.

CLAIM FOOD SHORTAGE HONG KONG (UPI)—Some 120 persons complaining of serious food shortages in Communist China arrived in Hong Kong authorities said. They fled by boat from three Red Chinese coastal cities.

Johnson Approves Controversial Plan

By PAUL SCOTT
WASHINGTON — President Johnson has approved a program to transfer hundreds of State Department personnel and foreign service officers to the administration's anti-poverty program.

The "diplomatic anti-poverty corps," as it is being referred to inside the administration, is the brainchild of Under Secretary of State Nicholas DeB. Katzenbach.

The controversial program will be launched later this month with an announcement from the White House or the State Department and Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO), which administers the war against poverty.

As a starter, two dozen foreign service officers will be transferred to the OEO and assigned to the anti-poverty agency's headquarters here and to regional and state offices throughout the country.

If these assignments do not cause an adverse reaction in Congress, other State Department personnel will be shifted to OEO in March and April.

Salaries of the diplomatic anti-poverty fighters will be paid out of OEO funds, although they will be permitted to keep their foreign service status and retirement rights.

Members of the House Labor Committee, who are probing the unannounced program, report that it was sold to the President by Katzenbach and White House aide Joseph A. Califano. Also, they say, it apparently has the backing of Secretary of State Rusk and OEO Director Sargent Shriver.

Katzenbach and Califano reportedly sold the idea to the President on the grounds that the OEO service would help acquaint U.S. diplomats with social problems in this country and better prepare them to represent the U.S. abroad.

ANOTHER VIEW — Administration insiders give wholly different reasons for the program. One State Department official, who has attended several of the planning sessions to prepare the program, claims two major objectives are behind it:

(1)—The transfers are part of a plan to extend the influence and thinking of the State Department into domestic programs. Foreign service officers will be given policy-making positions in OEO to help initiate and direct new social programs developed and tested by the Agency for International Development overseas.

(2)—Shifts to OEO will provide jobs for hundreds of foreign service personnel who otherwise would lose out in the 10 per cent cut of American government personnel abroad. This latter economy move was ordered last month by President Johnson.

Significantly, several of the foreign service officers scheduled to be assigned to the OEO are either former Central Intelligence Agency employees or are now CIA officials working under State Department cover overseas. Why these particular employees are being singled out for assignment to the OEO is not known.

In addition to the OEO program, foreign service officers are being told that a similar transfer arrangement will soon be made with the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

Under plans being prepared at HEW, positions in the Office of Education both in Washington and in regional HEW offices will be offered to State Department personnel. One of the tasks of those transferred will be to help develop the mushrooming international education program at universities throughout the country.

BEHIND THE CHANGE — Democratic House leaders played a key role in getting President Johnson to recommend a federal anti-riot law to Congress as part of his anti-crime program.

The President had opposed passage of such legislation until Speaker John McCormack, Mass., and House Majority Leader Carl Albert, Okla., had warned him Congress would enact a stiff anti-riot law this year regardless of his position.

During a White House meeting to discuss the Administration's anti-crime recommendations to Congress, both McCormack and Albert frankly told the President the most important item was an anti-riot measure.

"Att. Gen. Clark is opposed to such legislation," the President replied. "He wants me to veto the bill you passed in the House should the Senate approve it."

"If you do, the House will override you. And I'll be voting with them," warned Albert, who then added:

"The anti-riot bill was passed by an overwhelming vote in the House. The Senate will pass it later this year. If the administration opposes the bill, the Republicans will make that their number one campaign issue." On this issue than any other. The riot-control bill is needed. You should support it, Mr. President."

He Might Not Fit in Today

By ROBERT STEARNS
George Washington, born 238 years ago, was of such good character it fostered a legend to the effect he never told a lie. Debunkers assure us the story of the cherry tree is more fable than fact, but, nevertheless, it is hard to believe a like tale about any contemporary public figure could survive generations of retelling.

Of course, this is not upsetting to many people because simple honesty has gone out of fashion. Today's man is not considered dishonest, merely expedient, and the sin is not in the act of commission, but rather in the fact that he gets caught.

And even this can be carried off if he is charming and witty and glib in the modern idiom. Poor George, we're afraid, might not fit in today.

For example, can you imagine Washington saying he did not want to get involved? Can you hear it? A group of revolutionaries come to Washington, the Virginia aristocrat — Washington, the landowner, the gentleman farmer.

"Help us," they say, "help us to build a nation dedicated to a new concept of freedom. Lead our inexperienced army against the might of England."

And George, if he were a modern man, might look out on his acres of rolling countryside; his stables of blooded stock; and say with great sincerity, "I'd rather not get involved."

Washington could not utter those words because of his inherent honesty; because he realized that involvement was the only way he could maintain his integrity. And integrity to one's self is the foundation of honesty with one's neighbors.

Shakespeare said it: "This above all: to thine own self be true, and it must follow, as the night the day, thou canst not then be false to any man." Washington said it in his Farewell Address "I hold the maxim no less applicable to public than to private affairs, that honesty is always the best policy."

Involvement to Washington meant many personal sacrifices. As a rich man, he could have lived in ease and high comfort. Instead, he chose to suffer countless hardships. Betrayed, abused, he was the object of jealousy and violent criticism.

Thomas Paine, an eminent American patriot, turned against our first president and called him "treacherous in private friendship and a hypocrite in public life." Washington was stung by scathing attacks in the press of the day and complained to Thomas Jefferson of "such exaggerated and indecent terms as could scarcely be applied to a Nero, a notorious defaulter, or even a common pickpocket."

Washington did not believe in patriotism with a purpose. To him, patriotism was a purpose and no sacrifice was too great as a means to its fulfillment.

Our forefathers were fortunate, indeed, to have a leader of Washington's stature in their time of trial. But we are lucky, too, if only we remember to look back from time to time and use the shining example to light the forward path.

Cruel and Unusual Punishment Can Lead to Verdict Reversals

The following is a public service feature of the American Bar Association and the State Bar of Texas. Written by Will Bernard.

For picking flowers in a public park, a man was sentenced to six years in jail. But when he appealed to a higher court, the sentence was thrown out. The court said that since the punishment did not even remotely fit the crime, it was "cruel and unusual" — hence forbidden by the United States Constitution.

It is the relatively unknown Eighth Amendment that prohibits the inflicting of cruel and unusual punishment. The ban applies not only to punishment that is totally unfit to the crime but also—and more typically—to punishment that is cruel in its very nature.

Examples are torture and mutilation. Thus cutting off a lawbreaker's ears would be unconstitutional whether he had committed murder or only driven through a red traffic light. The form of punishment, in itself, is cruel.

What about capital punishment? Opponents of the death penalty are seeking to have it declared unconstitutional on the ground that, at least by today's moral standards, it is cruel in its very nature.

In past decisions, however, courts have upheld the death penalty on the ground that severity alone does not prove cruelty—and that execution is not so generally repugnant to the community that it is inherently cruel.

Of course, even though the death penalty is constitutional, a state may still abolish it by legislation. And some states have.

YOUR MONEY'S WORTH MORE AT WOOLWORTH'S

MARIJUANA is smoked by about 65 per cent of personnel stationed at Udorn Air Base, Thailand, according to an air policeman's estimate. Above, after carefully emptying the tobacco from an American filtered cigarette, the paper is re-filled with marijuana. Fifty cents worth of the illegal drug will fill nearly 20 such cigarettes. U.S. airman, left, smokes marijuana through a water-filled Asian pipe. His eyes have been blacked out to conceal his identity.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—This month's meeting of the Charles de Gaulle appreciation society was necessarily rather perfunctory.

De Gaulle hasn't done or said much recently to attract attention. While many people might appreciate that, our society survives on action. So we kept the meeting short.

A resolution expressing appreciation to De Gaulle for opening the 1968 Winter Olympics at Grenoble was approved by unanimous vote, 2 to 0.

The other member and I agreed that of all the world leaders only De Gaulle has the wisdom and foresight to recognize that no Olympiad can truly be termed a success unless it opens.

Then we passed another resolution recommending that hereafter the Olympics be known as "De Gaulle Games." Otherwise, there was little business to transact.

Discuss Retaliation
You may recall that at last month's meeting the discussion centered on possible ways that Americans might retaliate against De Gaulle when he does something antagonistic.

Suggested countermeasures included banning French fried potatoes, French cuffs, French toast, French horns, French kisses and so on.

Well, I have since learned some Americans already have taken this type of retaliatory action against Mao Tse-Tung, the Chinese Communist leader. This was brought to my attention by the publishers of the Encyclopedia of Associations, a book that provides information about national organizations in the United States.

They report that since the last edition was published in 1964 "the word China has lost favor as an element of association titles."

"Ten groups formerly concerned with China have changed their name. Another China group has become inactive, and one has disappeared. Even the Vitreous China Plumbing Fixture Association has turned into the Plumbing Fixture Manufacturers Association."

More Drastic Action
Yes, and I predict that unless Mao changes his ways, these manifestations of disapproval will become even more drastic.

For instance, we Americans might quit hanging up Chinese lanterns at garden parties. That would show old Mao a thing or two.

And if that doesn't bring him to his senses, we might stop planting chinaberry trees and Chinese elms. Or refuse to eat any more Chinese cabbage.

Washington Window

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Backstairs at the White House: Much attention is being given these days to what the political pundits call the "new" Richard M. Nixon.

Campaigning in the New Hampshire primary, the former vice president, who is trying for his second Republican presidential nomination, seem to inject a new note of humor in his public remarks.

To call this an entirely "new" Nixon is something of a misnomer. He has always had the capability of projecting an attractive image, but in past political races this often has given way to stern forensics and even bitterness towards those he regarded as unfriendly. The new element in Nixon's humor in this current political outing may be a new writer, Job Howard, who once wrote for Bob Hope. Howard is now based in New York as the top writer on the syndicated Merv Griffin television show.

In his last national political effort, Nixon had the full-time services of another highly regarded professional comedy writer, Paul Keys, who was recruited from the staff of Jack Parr.

Keys left television for a spell to work fulltime for Nixon. But after the 1962 California gubernatorial campaign in which Nixon was defeated, he decided to return permanently to the much more lucrative and less nerve-wracking field of television comedy. He performed one additional service for Nixon. He recruited Howard.

Howard may find his venture into big time politics a more pleasant experience than Keys did at times. For one thing, he is not as deeply involved as Keys. Howard is not on a political payroll and is helping out for the sheer fun of it.

This is true of much political activity—the unpaid volunteer has the most fun. Anytime he does not like the grind or the treatment he is receiving, he can step out with a minimum of fuss and bad feeling.

Some People Wonder
The fact that Nixon has a top comedy writer contributing speech material from time to time prompts some people to wonder who does this sort of work for President Johnson. The answer is Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter, Mrs. Johnson's press secretary. Liz has been suggesting gag lines for Johnson's speeches for many years and she has one of the more inventive minds in Washington. Not only does she help brighten up Johnson's speeches when the occasion calls for humor, but she is in great demand as a speaker herself. And it has been suspected around the White House for some time that Liz keeps her best material for herself.
Bill Moyers, before he left the White House staff for the newspaper business, also was a fast man with a Johnson quip. He still retains his tart brand of political humor.
Moyers is widely credited with a story making the rounds about Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's hunting technique. According to the story, Humphrey hides in tall grass and calls out softly, "Here Eobby, Here Bobby."

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Tessel, Patrick & Ostrau, Inc. thinks that the recent drop in the Dow Jones Industrial and Rail averages below so-called support areas appears likely to induce further chart selling over the next week. The firm feels, however, that the list is oversold and technically ripe for improvement, and that a turn for the better could come at any time. Observing that some issues have remained stubbornly bullish, Tessel, Patrick feels that "selective purchases of such relatively strong performers could prove rewarding over the coming weeks."

Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis senses that "what started as a general market correction has now turned into a full scale test of the major trend." It adds that until there is an obvious reversal of the recent downturn in the market, "still lower prices can be expected." A reversal in movement could come soon, for "the sharper the sell-off, the sooner a recovery is expected," the firm says.

Walston & Co., Inc. says the "main cause of this severe market shakeout continues to be the unexpectedly vicious assaults on South Vietnam cities by the Communists—also the still-pending, major battle at our key base of Khe Sanh." The firm notes that some chartists sold out on Friday and again at mid-week because the November lows were decisively broken. A lot of stocks seem to be now down to rather attractive levels for long-pull buying, according to the investment firm.

TRAIN STRIKES PILGRIMS
NEW DELHI (UPI)—The New Delhi-Calcutta Express train plowed through a crowd of pilgrims en route to a holy swim in the sacred Ganges River, killing 16 persons, officials reported. The accident occurred at a rail crossing in the town of Lakhiserai, 80 miles east of Patna.

Individual income taxes will contribute the biggest share—43 per cent—of the $178.1 billion in government income estimated for fiscal 1969 by President Johnson in his budget message. National defense, including Vietnam, account for the same percentage, and the largest category of the estimated $182.8 billion in expenditures.
