Military Wanted To Attack Cuba, Robert Kennedy Memoirs Indicate

Soviet Sub, US Carrier In Confrontation

By DONALD H. MAY
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The gravest moments of the Cuban missile crisis came when a confrontation nearly occurred between a Soviet submarine and a U.S. aircraft carrier, according to newly published memoirs of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The memoirs, purchased from the Kennedy estate for more than $1 million and published Sunday in McCall's magazine, added new details to the historical record of the showdown between the United States and Russia in October 1962.

At the height of the crisis on Wednesday, Oct. 24, Kennedy reported, two Soviet cargo ships approached the U.S. Navy "quarantine" barrier set up across the Atlantic approaches to Cuba. A Russian sub was sailing submerged between the two ships.

The U.S. aircraft carrier Essex was to signal the submarine by sound equipment to surface and identify itself, Kennedy said. He said that if it refused, the Essex was to drop depth charges with "a small explosive" to force compliance.

Robert Kennedy described the appearance and thoughts of his brother President John F. Kennedy, at this moment: "Was the world on the brink of a holocaust? Was it our error? A mistake? Was there something further that should have been done? Or not done? His hand went up to his face and covered his mouth. He opened and closed his fist. His face seemed drawn, his eyes pained, almost gray."

Robert Kennedy quoted the President as saying: "Isn't there some way we can avoid having our first exchange with a Russian submarine—almost anything but that?" Minutes later, a message came that some of the Soviet ships headed toward Cuba had stopped. President Kennedy ordered the Essex to do nothing but give the Russian vessels an opportunity to turn back. One "stage of the crisis was over."

The memoirs also reveal some new glimpses into some of the unpublished correspondence between President Kennedy and then Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. In one letter, Kennedy told the Soviet leader: "I have not assumed that you or any other sane man would, in this nuclear age, deliberately plunge the world into war which it is crystal clear no country could win..."

In an emotional letter to the President Oct. 26, parts of which have appeared in print previously, Khrushchev said: "If people do not show wisdom, then in the final analysis they will come to a clash, like blind moles, and then reciprocal extermination will begin."

This was the letter which contained the seeds of the agreement later reached in which Soviet offensive missiles were withdrawn from Cuba and the U.S. blockade was lifted. He said that if he does get on the ballot and wins, he will pardon 300 convicts in the state penitentiary to make room for politicians he plans to try.

Tijerina said New Mexico is "sick with Anglo dominance" and the curing of the state's ills is the job of the poor because the rich are "too dirty."

Apollo 7 Crew Is Ready For Atlantic Splashdown Tomorrow

Successful Mission To End In Morning

By AL ROSSITER JR.
UPI Space Writer
SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI) — The three Apollo 7 astronauts, irritable with itchy beards and running out of their favorite foods, hurtled into the final 24 hours of their flight today on the nation's 11-day shakedown cruise for manned moon orbit by Christmas.

Space officials said the mission has been even more successful than they had hoped. Astronauts Wally Schirra, Donn Eisele and Walter Cunningham were to give another of their increasingly popular television programs from space.

The astronauts are scheduled to splash down in the western Atlantic at 7:12 a.m. EDT Tuesday, 45 million miles and 163 orbits around the earth since their launching from Cape Kennedy Oct. 11.

Today's major test was another planned blast of Apollo's mighty engine. It will be a 7.8-second "burn," the next to last test of the engine designed to lift the ship into lunar orbit and kick it back toward earth again.

Ready for Moon
There was little doubt among space agency officials that if Apollo 8, already resting atop its Saturn 5 rocket on a Cape Kennedy launch pad, will shoot for a December trip around the moon and back.

At the present time when we splash down... we will have accomplished all the things we've set out to do in the flight," flight director Glynn Lunney said Sunday. "We've actually gained a couple of things..."

Schirra again was abrupt with ground controllers Sunday, ripping into "holier than God" experts tinkering with his flight plan.

He also said the astronauts would re-enter the earth's atmosphere on the way to splashdown with their helmets off "because our heads are still too stuffed up" with colds.

Without their helmets on, the astronauts could pinch their nostrils shut and blow against them to equalize the re-entry pressure against their ears. They fear the possibility of a burst eardrum which could ground them if they do not do this.

The astronauts complained Sunday "We found we had 11 days food for 12 days work but we're only short one meal." They had complained earlier there was too much "sweet food" aboard and put in a call (See APOLLO, Page 3)

N. Viets Cancel News Session On Peace Talks

PARIS (UPI)—North Vietnam today canceled a regular news conference that might have indicated Hanoi's feelings about efforts to de-escalate the Vietnam War.

The North Vietnamese delegation to 27-week-old talks here with the United States gave no reason for the sudden cancellation of their weekly Monday news briefing.

Diplomatic observers said Hanoi possibly called off the session, usually a platform for bitter denunciation of American Vietnamese policy, in order not to rock the boat in a time of delicate negotiations.

Also, they said the North Vietnamese may not have wanted to face questions about increasing speculation the United States has proposed a plan designed to tone down the war and get the talks here off the ground.

The next regularly scheduled meeting of the talk delegates here will be on Wednesday. Half way around the world, U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker conferred Sunday for the fourth time in five days with South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu.

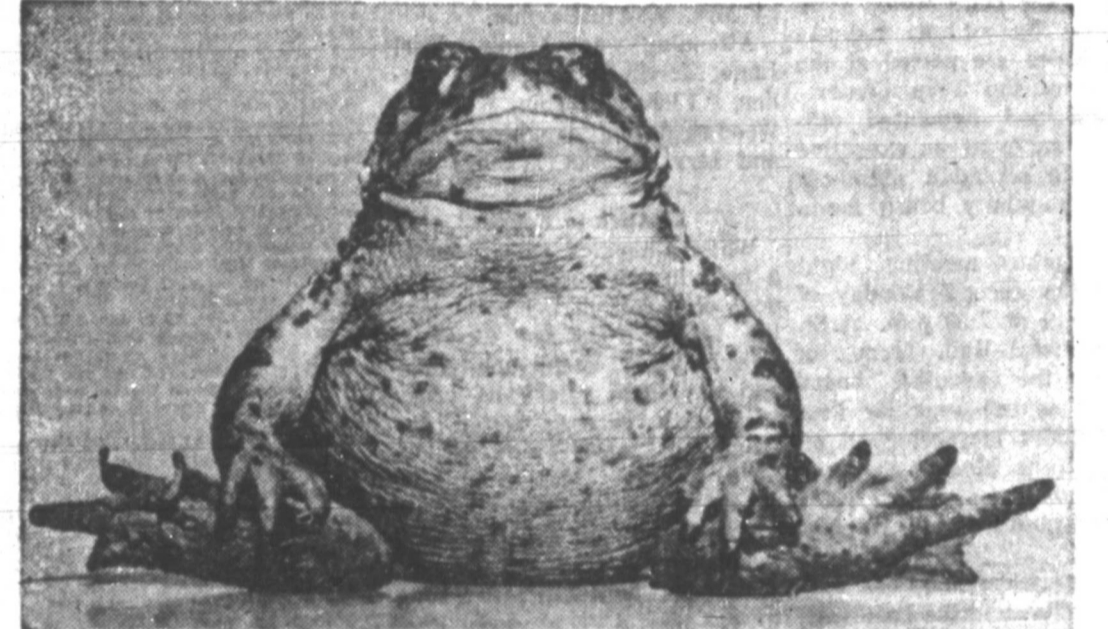

Thieu was on record as opposing any halt in the without reciprocal de-escalation bombing of North Vietnam by Hanoi.

Reports of an American plan centered on a proposal to stop the bombing in return for a three-part concession by Hanoi: Pullback from the Demilitarized Zone dividing Vietnam; end to terror attacks against South Vietnamese cities;

21 Killed Over Texas Weekend

By United Press International
Traffic accidents and homicides Sunday appeared to be an abate cause of death in an about average Texas weekend violent death toll.

United Press International tabulation for 6 a.m. Friday showed a total of 21 dead—11 in traffic accidents, six in homicides and four in miscellaneous accidents, including a light plane crash.

Dramatic Rescue Is Reported In Vietnam

By JACK WALSH
SAIGON (UPI) — Two unarmed U.S. Navy pilots buzzed North Vietnamese gunners in a bluff that paid off in the rescue of six American fliers downed off the Communist coast, military spokesmen said today.

They described the saving of the airmen Sunday as one of the most dramatic rescues of the Vietnam War.

North Vietnamese gunners on an island just above the South Vietnam border had shot down a four-man U.S. Air Force "Jolly Green Giant" helicopter that had gone to rescue the two crewmen of a downed American Phantom jet. The six downed airmen wallowed in 10-foot waves under fire from the coastal guns a mile and a half away.

Crucial Maneuver
About 24 Air Force and Navy jets battered the coastal guns for 90 minutes while another "Jolly Green Giant" plucked the six airmen to safety. In one crucial moment, two Navy planes, although out of ammunition, streaked over the Red gunners on "dry runs," diverting the Communist fire from the airmen struggling off the shore.

The downed phantom was the 99th U.S. warplane lost over North Vietnam. The helicopter was the 10th lost in the north. In a delayed communique, military spokesmen said the U.S. heavy cruiser Canberra and the destroyer Leonard F. Mason were fired on by North Vietnamese guns on Honn Matt

Candidates Begin Drive for Votes

By United Press International
The Republicans had their vice presidential nominee, Spiro Agnew, in Texas today seeking votes in the general election only two weeks away, and the Democrats' Hubert Humphrey arrives Tuesday.

Agnew was scheduled to speak at a noon rally at Del Mar College in Corpus Christi, then go to Midland before returning to Baltimore.

Vice President Humphrey arrives Tuesday at Fort Worth's Carwell Air Force Base for a two-day tour of Texas. Gov. John Connally and Sen. Ralph Yarborough will join him from Fort Worth, the Democratic nominee goes to Dallas' Love Field for a quick stop, then he has these places on his Texas schedule: Waco, Austin, San Antonio, Harlingen and El Paso.

In Dallas today, the top three Democratic nominees for state offices will attend a meeting of the State Democratic Executive Committee.

The group will be reviewing the "challenges facing the Texas Democratic Party."

Check-In Set For United Fund Drive

United Good Neighbor Campaign workers were urged to finish working their cards in an effort to insure the success of the United Fund drive.

Check-ins for progress reports will be held at 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. tomorrow at Coronado Inn. All division chairmen should report.

Mr. And Mrs. Onassis Start Honeymoon

By ROBERT MUSEL
UPI Senior Editor
SKORPIOS, Greece (UPI)—Aristotle and Jacqueline Onassis began their honeymoon today on his $3 million yacht off a paradise island where they were wed during a rain that Greek mythology says will insure they live happily ever after.

The 39-year-old widow of President John F. Kennedy and the 62-year-old Greek-Argentine multimillionaire will sail the 325-foot white Christina down the Ionian Sea in search of Mediterranean sun in a day or so, aides said.

The children held thin, white candles during the Greek Orthodox ceremony Sunday. John emerged holding his mother's hand and with his head hanging low.

Return to U.S.
In New York City, her secretary Nancy Tuckerman told United Press International the couple would take up residence in the former Mrs. Kennedy's Fifth Avenue apartment.

Miss Tuckerman said they would buy a home in Newport, R.I., home of Mrs. Onassis' mother, Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss, and the site of President Kennedy's 1957 wedding. The secretary also said Mrs. Onassis will keep the home she shared with the president in the Kennedy family compound in Hyanis Port, Mass. She owns the home, which had been given the president by his father, former Ambassador Joseph D. Kennedy, who still lives in the compound.

Latin American Militants Will 'Occupy' Area

By PETER J. HERRERA
CANJILON, N.M. (UPI) — Spanish American militant Reyes Lopez Tijerina and about 300 of his followers adopted a resolution Sunday to occupy the Pueblo San Joaquin del Rio Chama, which covers about 7,000 acres—but peacefully.

This time Tijerina and his followers proposed to rent or buy the area. This would be in some contrast to an attempted takeover two years ago of the Echo Amphitheater area, in which two Rangers were roughed up.

At any rate, Tijerina said the "peaceful mass occupation" would start at once and that he soon will move to the northern New Mexico area from Albuquerque. He said the reason he is moving is so the Forest rangers will not have peace and quiet until the land is returned to its rightful owners.

Tijerina's Confederation of Free City States, which claims thousands of acres of land in the Southwest under old land grants, is holding its annual meeting at Canjilon. It meets every year at this time.

This year, the meeting has a political overtone because Tijerina is trying to get on the New Mexico general election ballot as a candidate for governor under the banner of the People's Constitutional Party.

The state Supreme Court is scheduled to rule Monday on whether he can. He was convicted on felony charges in the takeover of the Echo Amphitheater, a federal recreational center, and the New Mexico secretary of state disqualified him as a felon.

In talks Sunday, Tijerina attacked New Mexico politicians again, saying they were denying him a place on the ballot because they are afraid he might win.

He said that if he does get on the ballot and wins, he will pardon 300 convicts in the state penitentiary to make room for politicians he plans to try.

Tijerina said New Mexico is "sick with Anglo dominance" and the curing of the state's ills is the job of the poor because the rich are "too dirty."

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a 50-year-old so-called society lady who tells everyone that the life-sized painting of the naked lady she has hanging in her downstairs hallway is HER?

SAW IT

DEAR SAW: If the "naked lady" is indeed she, she's an exhibitionist. If it isn't, she's both an exhibitionist and a liar.

DEAR ABBY: We are two sisters, ages 17 and 19 and we are both "good" girls. Last week-end we double-dated two boys I'll call Jim and Joe. Afterwards we went to Jim's house. His parents weren't home, but we didn't have anything wrong in mind.

Well, Jim's parents came home earlier than expected and they found Jim and me in their bedroom, and my sister and Joe in another bedroom. I swear that nothing out of the way took place. We were just lying on the bed, relaxing and maybe doing some very LIGHT making out. It was all clean fun.

Naturally Jim's parents thought the worst. They called my sister and me names and chased us out of the house and told their son right in front of us that he was not to ever have anything to do with me.

This is a small town and news travels fast. My sister and I told our parents, and they were very understanding. How can we remedy the situation with Jim's parents? They are terribly narrow-minded.

SMALL TOWN, PA.

DEAR SMALL TOWN: You probably can't. I think Jim's parents ever-reacted, but you kids asked for it. Chalk it up to experience and don't repeat the scene.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 77-year-old grandmother, and I want to say that recently I attended a wedding party where the bride wore her hair straight as a stick, hanging down to the middle of her back, and the groom had a beard, as did nine other members of their group. (I counted them.)

The party was held at a women's club, and some of the members wanted to know what kind of "cult" those kids belonged to.

They sat on the floor after eating and played music and sang folk songs. They were to leave at midnight, when the club usually closes, but the women told them they could stay an hour longer as they were the best behaved young group they had ever had.

To see them on the street, folks would call them "hippies" — but they were all college students and very talented fine young people.

MRS. I. C. G.:
MONROVIA, CALIF.
DEAR MRS. I. C. G.: Thanks for writing. If a 77-year-old grandmother is willing to look beyond the hair and beards, and judge the younger generation for what they are and how they behave, other diehards should.

DEAR ABBY: My 82-year-old mother read a letter from your column out loud to me. It was the one from the woman whose husband was retired. He stayed in the house all day long, following her around and supervising the housework. She said if she didn't get away from him for a few hours, she'd go out of her mind. "Death would be a welcome relief," she said. You asked in your answer, "His or yours?" That brought a big laugh from my mother, who does not laugh easily. Then Mother said, "I know exactly how that poor lady feels because that's the way I felt about your father. He's been dead for 6 years, and I sure miss him. Nobody to fight with."

Lipstick to Rouge

When a lipstick gets down to a nub, there's probably a good deal of it left in the bottom of the holder. Do not throw it away. Either keep such stubs and use them when you brush on lipstick, or even better, dig them out, mash them with a drop of baby oil. Replace the jar, thus providing yourself with lip rouge which will last a long time.

Baby Cream Helps Scalp

Maybe you've discovered that you don't have to have dry hair to have a dry, itchy scalp. Oils will help the dry scalp but they are bound to slide right down the hair strands and, if your hair is already too oily, that's the last thing you want. Pure baby cream can be rubbed into the scalp with a minimum amount of overlapping. Allow the cream to remain overnight and in the morning your scalp will be less dry. Repeat the treatment until the condition has cleared up, and then prevent a return of the problem with a regular pre-shampoo baby cream scalp massage.

Suspects Maintain Silence on Charges

By JEFF HOLLADAY
Pampa News Staff Writer

Four men being held in Gray County jail on charges of passing bogus $20 bills here Saturday are keeping mum on the possibility they may have passed counterfeit bills in other Panhandle cities.

Sheriff R. H. (Rufe) Jordan said today that the four have admitted only that they have driven through Stratford, Sunray, Dumas, Amarillo and here.

"We believe they may have passed bills in these cities, but we have no way of knowing yet," Jordan said.

The four men were arrested Saturday afternoon after Jordan received a tip that the bogus bills were being passed in the south part of town.

They were later arraigned and placed in jail in lieu of $5,000 bond each.

The four are Harold K. Wares, 29, John Richard Flores, 22, and Willis F. Whitley, 37, all of Liberal, Kan., and Clyde T. Durham Jr., of Pampa.

Ken McWhitty, a Secret Service agent from Dallas, arrived late Saturday night to continue investigation.

McWhitty and Jordan said they had talked to the four yesterday but had not been able to get much information.

Jordan did say Whitley had admitted hiding three more of the bogus bills under a barrel near a service station on W. Wilks St. He said he hid them before fleeing to the south part of town.

(Wares and Flores were arrested while waiting in an auto near the Top O' Texas Conoco service station, 945 W. Wilks, where Whitley had gone to pass one of the bills. Whitley said he fled to the south part of town after Wares and Flores had been apprehended. He was arrested a short time later, as was Durham, the fourth member of the counterfeiting team.)

Sheriff Jordan said today, "I have reason to believe there are three or four more of these bills in town."

Altogether, 15 bills have been recovered so far. Four of the bills passed have been recovered and eight were still in possession of the men.

Durham, Whitley and Flores have been charged by the district attorney's office with passing as true a false instrument, Wares has been charged with possession of false instruments with intent to pass.

The exact disposition of the case is unknown at this time, but the four are expected to be arraigned before the District Commissioner in federal court in Potter County in the next few days. They are expected to be charged with counterfeiting.

Counterfeiting is a federal offense but no provision is made for dealing with it under state statutes.

The charges of passing false instruments, however, are expected to be left pending with the district attorney's office.

Wares pleaded guilty to a charge of counterfeiting in a federal court in Wichita, Kan., in late August but was released on his own recognizance for 90 days pending sentencing after pleading guilty.

Wares reportedly had over $5,000 in bogus bills on his person when he was arrested in Wichita, according to Seward County Sheriff Harold Smith.

Smith also said Whitley had been released from the Tennessee State Penitentiary in April after serving a sentence there. He said as far as he knew, Flores had no previous record of arrest.

Sheriff Jordan said Durham had no previous criminal record as far as he knew.

Wares is believed to be the "mastermind" of the group. Attorneys for the four were appointed this morning after they signed paupers' oaths saying they had no (good) money.

Jean Martindale was appointed to represent Whitley and Durham, and Jerry Shackelford was appointed to represent Wares and Flores.

The counterfeit $20 bills bear the serial number L62674624A and are shown to be a 1963 series issued from San Francisco. They are numbered "10" on the right lower corner of the back and are numbered "12" on the front.

"The plates are of good quality but the paper and the dye are of poor quality and the beveling on some of the bills is uneven," Sheriff Jordan said.

When the President asked the likely response of the Russians, Robert Kennedy wrote, "LeMay insisted there would be none. The President was skeptical and told LeMay the Russians could not 'do nothing' about a U.S. attack on Cuba—that they would reply either in Cuba or Berlin.

Kennedy said his brother was distressed that, with the exception of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, his military advisers "seemed to give so little consideration to the implications of the steps they suggested."

He said the experience emphasized the need for "civilian direction and control" and for raising "probing questions" to military recommendations.

McNamara for blockade. Then Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara was an early advocate of the "blockade" tactic finally used, Kennedy reported.

He described how other preparations were far advanced for an attack against Cuba should the blockade fail.

As the crisis unfolded, Robert Kennedy reported, his brother "was not sanguine about the results...each hour the situation grew steadily more serious. The feeling grew that this cup was not going to pass and that a direct military confrontation between the two great nuclear powers was inevitable."

Robert Kennedy said his brother's final conclusion was that that was averted by making it firmly clear to Russia that the United States would not tolerate an offensive missile base in Cuba, while at the same time refusing to push Russia to the extent that her own vital security was affected.

Honeymoon

Polycarpus Athanassiou, holds rank just below a bishop. Mrs. Artemis Garoufalidi, Onassis' sister, acted as "best woman," at his second marriage. The bride wore a beige cream chiffon two-piece dress with lace strips in the bodice and long sleeves and a pleated skirt that came to her knees. Her hair was plaited in the back with a matching beige ribbon. She wore low heeled shoes.

"Her eyes were sparkling. She looked very happy," the priest said. "She tried to follow the service and I said some English words to help her."

There was no hint at the ceremony of the displeasure of the Vatican over the wedding. In Vatican City, Roman Catholic Church sources said the church of Mrs. Kennedy's faith could not approve the marriage unless and until Onassis' first marriage is annulled by the Greek Orthodox Church.

The Orthodox Church recognizes as valid the divorce granted on mental cruelty grounds in 1960 to his first wife, the former Athina Mary (Tina) Livanos, who is now married to the heir to the British dukedom of Marlborough.

servicemen change their old pay scrip for new GI currency. The object was to catch black marketers and counterfeiters. The scrip is issued only for use by American servicemen in such purely U.S. facilities as post exchanges and USO clubs. But illicit traffic in the scrip was part of the corruption South Vietnamese and U.S. officials have vowed to break.

In other action:
—In its southernmost action, the battleship New Jersey Sunday unleashed its 16-inch guns against nine guerrilla storage caves and five bunkers near Tuy Hoa, 240 miles up the coast from Saigon.

—Flying their fewest number of missions in a month, U.S. B52 Stratofortresses five times struck Red targets in South Vietnam's northern Quang Tin province in the last 24 hours.

—U.S. and South Vietnamese troops patrolling just below the border Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) killed 11 Communist soldiers and captured 13 Sunday. Military spokesmen said there were no allied casualties.

In Saigon, the U.S. State Department mission said today 14 North Vietnamese prisoners—all seamen captured by American naval forces—have been sent back to North Vietnam. Mission spokesmen said a special 36-hour truce near the North Vietnamese southern panhandle city of Vinh was arranged for the release.

A spokesman said the release had been proposed by W. Averell Harriman, chief American negotiator in Paris talks with North Vietnamese delegates. The spokesman said the release was "an action of goodwill. We hope it will lead to further release of prisoners."

Bond Set for DWI
Bond was set at $500 Sunday by Justice of the Peace E. L. Anderson for Leroy Shelley Morgan, 51, 401 N. Davis, charged with driving while intoxicated. Morgan was arrested yesterday by Pampa police.

Bucks Move In District

White Deer made its move, McLean and Wheeler continued to be Clarendon's toughest threats and Canadian still found the going rough in area football games Friday night.

All will continue conference action Friday and something will have to give at Wheeler, where the Mustangs host McLean in a District 2-A game.

District competition will open in District 1-B where Groom and Lefors will open the door.

In eight-man action Miami plays at Guthrie in hopes of shaking off a five game losing streak.

The Warriors were supposed to play Roaring Springs Friday night but had to settle for Turpin instead, and didn't like it.

Turpin embarrassed Miami, 79-0.

In District 1-A this week White Deer (3-3) hosts Stratford (5-1) in a district contest and Canadian (2-4) hopes to break a three game losing streak against tough Gruver (4-2) at Canadian. Sunray hosts Sanford-Fritch in the other district contest.

Happy (3-2-1) will try to shake off a loss to McLean by playing host to unbeaten Clarendon (5-0) and McLean (4-2) tackles Wheeler (5-1) in the Mustangs home town. Silverton plays at Claude in a district contest.

OSBORN CHAMP
TULSA, Okla. (UPI)—Bennie Osborn of Sand Springs, Okla., won his second straight world drag racing championship Sunday in the $111,000 world finals at the Tulsa International Raceway.

He defeated John Mulligan of Garden Grove, Calif., in the last of four elimination rounds.

Osborn was clocked at 211.76 miles per hour and had a time of 7.06 seconds in a quarter mile in the winning round. He won $7,400 plus accessories.

U.S. Olympians Still Best

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Greater than four years ago: That was the 1968 United States Olympic track team, even if Jim Ryun did lose.

Everything worked against this U.S. team—Mexico City's altitude, a simmering racial situation that broke out when two sprint stars were suspended and caused some folks to say the U.S. team had "dissension,"

Johnny Unitas

Bob Griese

and harried Coach Payton Jordan was jolted midway in the games by the death of his father.

But the record is plain: This U.S. track team captured 15 gold medals—12 by men and three by women. In 1964, at Tokyo, the Yanks won 14 gold medals, 12 by men and two by women, and the forecasts were that the Americans could not approach those figures this time. Not only did they beat the figures, but they left records in wreckage as track competition ended Sunday.

Ryun lost. The fine young Wichita, Kan., runner whose picture has been on the cover of virtually every sports magazine took a 30-meter beating from his arch-rival, Kipchoge Keino of Kenya, in the 1,500-meter run. But to beat this young man who still is making a comeback from a siege of mononucleosis, Keino had to run the second fastest 1,500 meters in history—3:34.9. And even so, there are those who think Ryun might have won with different strategy—he laid back far in the pack, relying on his late "kick."

Keino built up such a huge lead that Ryun's great kick left him a long way short. But Ryun was far from disgraced, and he said simply, "I'm happy to have won the silver medal."

If this was a jolt to the U.S. team, it certainly wasn't evident. Immediately after Ryun's defeat, the Yanks polished off the track and field competition with four victories:

—world records in the men's and women's 400-meter relays and the men's 1,600-meter relay, and Dick Fosbury's Olympic record in the high jump.

U.S. swimmers were in a record mood, too, as they won the men's and women's 200-meter individual medley, the women's 400-meter freestyle, and the men's springboard diving. All three races were in record Olympic time.

At the end of Sunday's competition, the United States led Russia 24-11 in gold medals and 55-35 in total medals.

And the medal harvest was expected to continue right on through Monday. On tap are finals in the men's and women's 100-meter butterfly and the men's 800-meter freestyle relay, world record.

Swimming continues through Saturday and every day is expected to produce U.S. gold medals.

The U.S. relay racing Sunday was stunning. It went like this: Men's 400-meter relay—Charlie Greene, Seattle, Wash., Mel Pender, San Pedro, Calif., Ronnie Smith, San Jose, Calif., and Jimmy Hines, Oakland, Calif. Hines passed Cuba's Enrique Figueroa on the last leg. Time—38.2 seconds, world record.

Women's 400-meter relay—Barbara Ferrell, Los Angeles; Mildrette Netter, Rosedale, Miss. Margaret Bailes, Portland, Ore.; Wyoming Tyus, Griffin, Ga. Time 48.2 seconds, world record.

Tech Faces SMU Saturday

Unbeaten but twice-tied Texas Tech and once-beaten Southern Methodist spat over the end lead next Saturday at Lubbock and surprising SMU must surely have taken heart at the vulnerability of Tech's aerial defense last week.

For, while SMU was setting the stage for a showdown between the pair of 2-0 pace-setters with a 32-24 comeback victory over Rice, Tech had to scramble to escape with a 28-28 deadlock against a pass-happy Mississippi State team that had lost 11 straight since shocking Tech 7-3 a year ago.

The winner of the Tech-SMU game won't be able to rest easy, however, because both the Texas Longhorns and Texas Aggies solved some plugging problems and are now ready to make strong challenges for the championship.

Texas, which did a thorough job exploding Arkansas' dreams of an undefeated season with a 39-29 victory, plays Rice this Saturday night at Houston, while the Aggies, who mastered Texas Christian 27-7, will face winless Baylor at Waco under the lights.

TCU, now out of contention with an 0-3 record, travels to Baton Rouge to meet Louisiana State, while Arkansas—still in the picture at 2-1—meets North Texas at neutral Little Rock in final outside games.

Power, Ramirez Top Selections
The two powers that be, no pun intended, among Pampa News football predictors, Bill Power and Chico Ramirez, went to the front of the class after the first week's picks.

Power and Ramirez, each of whom have won the staff picks yearly for the past two seasons, both missed just one game last week.

One game was thrown out since it was listed wrong, Minnesota-Michigan, and the staffers had 19 games to choose from.

Two games ended in ties and both Power and Ramirez stand 16-1 after the first week. Power missed the Texas-Arkansas contest and Ramirez missed the UCLA contest.

Browns Upset Unitas, Baltimore

By United Press International
It was only supposed to be a warmup but the Baltimore Colts and Johnny Unitas wound up getting burned.

The Colts, who'd only lost one game in 19 starts over the past two seasons, were supposed to be turning up for next week's showdown with the unbeaten Los Angeles Rams but they wound up suffering a 30-20 setback Sunday at the hands of the Cleveland Browns.

The loss left the Rams, who beat Atlanta, 27-14, and will invade Baltimore this Sunday, and the Dallas Cowboys, who topped Minnesota, 20-7, as the only NFL teams with perfect records at 6-0.

Meanwhile, the three-time defending champion Green Bay Packers kept alive by rallying for a 14-14 tie with the Detroit Lions. The tie kept the Packers (2-3-1) just one game behind the Lions (3-2-1) in the Central Division race and means the club still has a chance to repeat. A loss would have all but doomed them.

But Baltimore's loss was a staggering blow to the Colts since it leaves them a game behind the Rams and it'll be a tougher job for them to catch the Rams than it will be for the Packers to catch the Lions. The Rams beat the Colts and tied them in their two games last year.

A gamble by Colt Coach Don Sula also backfired as he inserted the alling Unitas for Earl Morrall—who had piloted the Colts to five straight wins—after the Browns took a 14-7 halftime lead.

Unitas had three passes intercepted that led to Brown touchdowns in the second half. The victory was Cleveland's third against the same number of losses and kept them tied with St. Louis and New Orleans for the Century Division lead.

In the other four games Sunday, Chicago battered winless Philadelphia, 29-16, San Francisco topped New York, 26-10, St. Louis routed Washington, 41-14, and New Orleans edged winless Pittsburgh, 16-12.

Bill Nelson threw three touchdown passes to pace the Browns to the triumph, hitting Eppy Barney, Paul Warfield and Leroy Kelley. Kelly, who gained 102 yards in 30 carries, scored the other TD on a four-yard sweep.

The Rams rallied in the second period on a pair of touchdowns passes by Roman Gabriel to turn back stubborn Atlanta, which looks like a different team under Coach Norm Van Brocklin. The Falcons led 14-0 going into the second period.

Dallas, which meets Green Bay next Monday night in a nationally televised classic, rallied from a 7-6 halftime deficit to beat Minnesota. Cornell Green dashed 55 yards for a TD with a pass interception for the final score.

Starr Scores
Sore-armed Earl Starr, in for only one play, tossed a three-yard TD pass with 7:25 left in the game to give Green Bay the tie with Detroit.

Roosevelt Taylor dashed 96 yards with an interception return and Mac Percival kicked five field goals as Chicago turned back hapless Philadelphia (0-6).

Charlie Durkee kicked three field goals to lead New Orleans past Pittsburgh, which is 0-6, and the only other winless team besides Philadelphia.

John Brodie flipped two TD passes as San Francisco turned past New York, which was hampered by the fact that Fran Tarkenton had a sore shoulder and wasn't passing with his usual sharpness.

Jets Rally For Victory

By United Press International
Joe Namath threw eight misses in a row but still managed to steal the passing show Sunday in the Astrodomes encounter between the New York Jets and the Houston Oilers.

He finally started connecting, and when he did he marched the Jets 80 yards in the waning moments of the game for a touchdown that produced a 20-14 victory. The win kept New York one game ahead of Boston in the Eastern Division of the American League.

A quarterback nobody seemed to want—former Baylor University star Don Trull—almost was the man of the hour. Cast off by the Oilers but re-hired three weeks ago as a free agent, Trull was summoned Coach Wally Lemm early in the fourth quarter after starter Bob Davis was injured.

Kansas City, its top receivers on the injury list, abandoned its usually touted passing attack and stayed on the ground in its game against Oakland's Raiders. The result was a 24-10 victory that kept the Chiefs one-half game ahead of San Diego, which trounced Denver, 55-24.

Boston scored 17 points in the third quarter to defeat Buffalo, 23-6, and Bob Griese led Miami to a 24-22 decision over Cincinnati in other AFL games Sunday.

Halfback Mike Garrett and fullbacks Wendell Hayes and Robert Holmes moved into the gap for Kansas City as quarterback Len Dawson, the AFL's top passer with a 60 per cent completion average going into the game, threw only three passes—completing two of them, for 16 yards.

The record crowd of 50,015 came to their feet time after time as Garrett romped to 109 yards in 24 carries, Hayes churned to 89 yards and two touchdowns and Holmes rambled for 95 yards and one TD.

Passes Win It
John Hadl threw touchdown passes of 74, 21, 50 and 56 yards in the San Diego conquest of Denver. San Diego's victory and Oakland's loss switched the two teams in the Western Division standings. Behind Kansas City's 6-1 league-leading mark, San Diego now is 5-1 and Oakland 4-2. New York leads the Eastern Division with a 4-2 record, followed by Boston at 3-3 and Miami at 2-3-1.

Boston and Buffalo each kicked two field goals in the first half before the Patriots converted a Buffalo fumble and two interceptions into two touchdowns and a field goal—all in the third quarter.

Griese threw three touchdown passes—two of them in the last quarter—to hand Cincinnati's Bengals their fourth consecutive setback.

AERIAL CAUGHT— Dan Carlton has just caught a 12-yard aerial from Ross Holman in Friday's loss to Amarillo, one of two passes he received for the night.

Harvesters, Longhorns Meet In Homecoming

Things haven't changed too much in District 3-4A. Two old favorites, Amarillo and Tascosa are back on top again.

The Sandies downed Pampa, 47-7, Friday night to take over the lead in the north zone with a 2-0 record and Tascosa edged previously unbeaten Plainview, 7-0 to take the south zone lead.

Amarillo's nearest competitor, Monterey, will have the opportunity to take the Sandies down to size when the two teams meet in Dick Bivins Stadium Friday night.

Monterey is 1-0 in the north zone and both teams have 5-1 season records. If that isn't enough their offensive and defensive records are close too. The Sandies have scored 153 points and given up 44 while Monterey has tallied 151 points and given up 46.

Tascosa leads the south zone with a 1-0 record and Palo Duro is right behind at 1-0-1, having to settle for a tie with Lubbock Coronado Saturday night.

But something will have to give this week when the two teams play a Saturday night contest in Dick Bivins Stadium.

Pampa, meanwhile, dropped zone and both teams have 5-1 to the bottom in north zone action at 0-2 but will have plenty of chance to make up for that Friday night.

The Harvesters (1-5) host Caprock (1-5) in the homecoming game at Harvester Field. The loser will probably finish in the cellar in district play.

The Harvesters showed immediate signs of life Friday night when Gary Parrish and John Jenkins were in the lineup and if the pair can stay healthy this week Caprock could be in for a bad time.
