'We Need Help'

Pilot Unconscious, Passengers Report

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (UPI) — It was a matter of life and death but the voice of the young man was calm.

He said: "We need help. Our pilot has passed out and we with the slightest pause, he said, "We don't know where we are. I can't read the instruments. Going east at one-five."

Then a woman's voice burst through on the radio: "My God, please help us: We are in the clouds, out of control and in trouble."

The young man was David Alley, 23, of Colorado Springs, Colo., an aircraft mechanic. The woman was Mrs. Ella Reinhard, 59, whose husband, John, 60, was the pilot. Neither Alley nor Mrs. Reinhard could pilot a plane.

John Reinhard was unconscious from an apparent heart attack, which he suffered Friday at 17,600 feet while he was flying with his wife and Alley in a Cessna 210 plane.

Federal Aviation Agency workers at Albuquerque told Saturday about the plea for help of Alley and Mrs. Reinhard. After Reinhard became unconscious, the plane flew for 30 minutes through the clouds, ice building up on its wings.

Jim James, a watch supervisor at the FAA flight service station, said he advised Alley to give Reinhard oxygen. Oxygen did not help and the plane flew on, while FAA workers tried to get an image of it on radar. They did but quickly lost radar contact. The plane eventually plunged nose down into the ground, 40 miles from Albuquerque.

Green Berets Holding Out

Camp Still Under Siege

By BERT W. OKULEY
 SAIGON (UPI)—North Vietnamese troops surrounding Thung Duc Saturday shot down an American jet trying to lift the eight-day siege of the strategic Green Beret camp near Da Nang. The pilot was rescued in a helicopter pickup.

The fight 58 miles southwest of Saigon was the biggest of a series of Communist-initiated actions in the swampy delta. South Vietnamese militia reported killing six Viet Cong and capturing 13 in a clash near Can Giuoc, 20 miles south of Saigon.

U.S. spokesmen said traffic was partially restored to the Ben Luc Bridge 15 miles southwest of Saigon. Three Communist rockets blew out a 24-foot section of the span before dawn, but a pontoon bridge was set up by afternoon and some trucks began moving.

WORLD-FAMOUS SEER

Jeanne Dixon To Write Daily Astrology Column for News

The world-famous seer, Jeanne Dixon of Washington, D.C., who foretold the assassination of John F. Kennedy with uncanny accuracy, will write a daily astrology column for The Pampa News, starting Monday. In addition, from time to time as they occur, Mrs. Dixon will report her prophecies and predictions concerning persons and movements of national importance exclusively in The News.

Her annual New Year's predictions, revealed in past years by columnist Ruth Montgomery, will be published here by Jeanne Dixon herself.

Jeanne Dixon, who looks on her "sixth sense" as a gift of God, has never profited financially from her unusual powers of prophecy, and all money paid to her for the new column will go to her tax-exempt charitable organization, The Children to Children Foundation, designed to help children around the world.

Scattered Shots At Apartment Complex

By CONNIE RYAN

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Secret agents and police Saturday raided homes of suspected leaders, arresting scores or perhaps hundreds as they sought to break the back of the student resistance.

There were scattered shots early Saturday at the huge Tlatelolco apartment complex, but they were believed to have been fired by the occupying army troops who are trying to run down what they insist is the lone sniper still active.

There was a report that the sniper had been killed, but all official sources, including the presidential press officer, the army, the police and the defense department, denied that anyone had been hit. The sniper killed one man Friday and the army still was denying it long after the president's office had announced it and the Red Cross had identified the victim.

Three more students died in hospitals of injuries suffered on Wednesday's "night of sorrow" bringing the death toll to 33. Additional hundreds were wounded in the battle at the Plaza of Three Cultures center of the nine-block-square apartment complex.

Troops had surrounded a rally of 10,000 students, who are demanding that the government free what it calls political prisoners, when the firing started, although no one is sure which side fired first. The troops replied with rifle and machine-gun bursts into the crowd.

Raids Continue
 The government began its raids on homes early Friday evening, striking in all parts of the city, and the pickups of suspected student leaders continued through the night and all day Saturday.

Officials would not say how many had been arrested, but observers said that the total might be in the hundreds. The government, which gave firm assurances to the International Olympic Committee that it would take whatever measures necessary to assure peace for the games which start Oct. 12, has made no secret of the fact it will intern as many students as it feels necessary.

U.S. spokesmen said traffic was partially restored to the Ben Luc Bridge 15 miles southwest of Saigon. Three Communist rockets blew out a 24-foot section of the span before dawn, but a pontoon bridge was set up by afternoon and some trucks began moving.

Talks End In Moscow

By JAMES O. JACKSON

PRAGUE (UPI)—The defiant Czechoslovak press and dozens of workers' organizations warned Saturday they would consider as a Russian betrayal any Kremlin efforts to purge this country's leadership.

Newspapers published the strongly-worded resolution of factory organizations despite an agreement reached in Moscow negotiations that called for a tightening of control over the press.

However the press controls may not take effect until the Central Committee of the Communist party takes the necessary steps to re-impose censorship, possibly sometime next week.

Forced To Yield

The Czech leaders flew to Moscow for talks with the Soviet leadership Thursday and Friday where they were forced to yield to Russian demands for the indefinite stationing of occupation troops in Czechoslovakia and an end to the democratic reforms that brought on the Aug. 20-21 invasion.

The moves are to be legalized in a treaty to be signed at some unstated time. A communique reporting this strongly hinted at a purge of the Czechoslovak leaders but did not single out any by name.

Those going to Moscow were party First Secretary Alexander Dubcek, believed marked for the purge because it was his leadership that angered the Russians, premier Oldrich Cernik and Slovak party leader Gustav Husak.

Typical Resolution

It was this fear of a purge that appeared to anger the factory workers more than workers resolutions was one factory near Prague where giant river dredges are manufactured.

"We only trust our legal representatives, Dubcek (President Ludvik) Svoboda, Cernik and (Parliamentary President Josef) Smrkovsky," the resolution said. "We would consider all attempts for their removal as betrayal of socialism and internationalism."

'Breath Analyzer' Is Due Use Here

Sgt. J.W. Dalrymple, head of the Texas Highway Patrol office here, said Friday that delivery of new instruments for analyzing the breath of drunk driving suspects, "should arrive here by the first of next month."

Sgt. Dalrymple said the instrument would be located in the DPS office and be used only by the Texas Highway Patrol.

"At the present time we have no agreement with any other law enforcement agencies for the use of these instruments," he said.

Texas DPS to Start Using New 'Breathalyzer' To Combat DWI's

AUSTIN.—The problem of drinking while driving, which Public Safety experts say is involved in many fatal accidents in the state, is soon to come under increased enforcement pressure as the Texas Highway Patrol begins use of breath analysis instruments.

Colonel Wilson E. (Pat) Speir, director of the Department of Public Safety said that 450 highway patrolmen and sergeants last week completed training in use of the "breathalyzer" which analyzes a suspect's breath to determine the percentage of alcohol in his bloodstream.

The DPS recently secured a Federal grant of $114,627 to launch the breath testing project. Funds obtained under the grant were matched with State funds and used to buy 90 breathalyzer instruments, to hire six additional chemists for supervision of the program, and to train the DPS personnel in use of the equipment.

"We plan to locate breathalyzers in about 30 of the state's most populous counties where the driving while intoxicated problem is greatest," Speir said. "Trained personnel will use the instruments under rigidly controlled scientific conditions," he added.

Driving while intoxicated suspects who consent to the test will accompany the highway patrolman to an office where an instrument is located. There, the suspect will blow into a tube attached to the breathalyzer and the percentage of alcohol in his blood will register on an indicator on the instrument's face.

"The test will be of special value to persons suspected of being drunk, but who are driving erratically due to illness or other reasons," Speir said.

DPS officials believe the program will establish the value of breath testing by contrasting its effectiveness with contiguous areas which do not have it. And they hope the project will ultimately delineate the need for a chemical test law and implied consent law for control of the driving while intoxicated problem in Texas.

The magnitude of the problem is reflected in studies conducted by the DPS. It is believed that—depending on area—the use of alcohol figures in from 40 to 50 per cent of the traffic deaths in the state. Based on the 1967 traffic death toll of 3,367, the use of alcohol may have counted for 1,347 to 1,684 fatalities.

Nationwide, an equally alarming pattern was uncovered by the U.S. Department of Transportation. In an August 1968 report to the Congress, the Secretary of transportation said, "The use of alcohol by drivers and pedestrians leads to some 25,000 deaths and a total of at least 800,000 crashes in the United States each year." The Department of Transportation report went on to say that "through research conducted over the past 35 years alcohol has been found to be the largest single factor leading to fatal crashes." Drivers with very high concentration of alcohol in their blood...one to four per cent of drivers on the road—are accounting for about 50 to 55 percent of all single vehicle crashes in which drivers are fatally injured."

Studies indicate that a driver with 0.10 per cent by weight blood alcohol is six or seven times as likely to be involved in an accident as a nondrinking driver, and at 0.15 per cent by weight, he is 25 times as likely to be involved.

Speir said, "It is hoped that the Department of Public Safety's breathalyzer project will hit hard at the problem and help reduce the traffic death rate in Texas."

America, A Nation 'Hooked' On Drugs

By STEPHEN GARDNER
DALLAS (UPI) — America is a nation on drugs, and some authorities feel there is evidence that doctors are in danger of prescribing on the word of drug salesmen.

"This is a nation that takes too many drugs," said a spokesman at the University of Texas Medical School in Dallas.

"By and large doctors don't read a lot. Their best source of information is from rapport with fellow doctors. I think they have a bigger problem than they think they do."

The Texas medical spokesman declined to be quoted by name. A medical professor who did not decline, Dr. Montague Lane of Baylor Medical School in Houston, said the problem existed was not unique.

Information Problems

"Everyone has trouble keeping informed, not just doctors," said Lane, who teaches pharmacology and medicine. "If a doctor will take the average concern in the performance of his business, he will be able to keep up. It is more of a problem of which medical publication to select."

Information Problems

A recently released federal task force report that involved more than two years of background research on controversial drug practices listed several "irrational" drug prescribing practices:

- The use of drugs without demonstrated effectiveness.
- The use of drugs in excessive amounts, or for excessive periods of time, or inadequate amounts for "adequate periods."
- The use of a costly combination product when an equally effective but less expensive drug is available individually.
- The simultaneous use of two or more drugs without appropriate consideration of their possible interaction.
- Multiple prescribing by one or several physicians for the same patient, of drugs which may be unnecessary, cumulative, interacting or needlessly expensive.

What to Believe

"Information on drugs change very rapidly and there is an information gap," said the UT official. "We also have a credit-ability gap—many doctors take their own experience over the latest published scientific data. There is a problem of believing the testimonial over scientific data."

The task force put it bluntly: "We note that the most widely used source of prescribing information is essentially a compilation of the most widely advertised drugs."

The University of Texas official said that "if a doctor wants to check out a drug thoroughly, it has to be on his own initiative and only the very best physicians will take the time necessary to do this."

"The drug industry spends a huge amount of money on advertising, and their detail men are constantly making the rounds calling on doctors. They are nice men and think they are doing a service, but I would not rank it as a strong one."

"The detail men think they are informed, but they are laymen and just plain not authorities on drugs. An automobile salesman can give you some information on the car he sells but does he really know the intricate mechanics of that car?"

Matter of Time

Lane said the problem, in part, is how much time the doctor can spare and how selective his reading is to keep informed.

"There has been a drug explosion and there are doctors who have kept up with the explosion. But I am concerned with the student who will become a doctor. More and more stress is being placed on pharmacology in medical schools."

"By and large we are doing a reasonably good job, and I also think there is a keen awareness on the part of the businessman in pharmacy."

A thought for the day—Roman poet Virgil once said: "Age carries all things, even the mind, away."

United Fund Drive Is Over Half-Way Mark

By KAY FANCHER
Clinton Evans, chairman of the Commercial and Industrial Division of the Pampa United Good Neighbor Campaign, Friday picked up contributions and pledges from Celanese employees and the company which enabled the fund-raising campaign to go over the half-way point in this year's drive.

The goal in the drive this year is $84,200. Evans, while accepting the Celanese pledges and checks, said, "This not only puts the C & I Division out in front in the race to the goal, but it virtually assures my division of complete success in our part of this year's drive. We can't help but make good now that this is in." He went on to say that everyone in his division is working to keep that group in the lead and that if everyone worked as hard as Bill Atkinson, Paul Payne, Bob Carmichael, Larry Wall, Bob Neslage, Weldon Trice, David Fatheree, Jim Gardner and Harold Miller, the C & I division will far exceed the $19,703 already turned in. This figure, along with the $16,013 from the advance Gifts Division, $4,353.27 from the General Division, $2,393 from the Public Employees, $2,998 from the Professional Division and $1,908 from National Firms, makes up the total of $46,468.27 which is more than 55 percent of total campaign goal.

In reviewing the efforts so far, other division chairmen had several comments on the progress of the drive and the work of those involved. Kirk Duncan, when asked for his comments, said that in the General Division "the Women outworked the men 'til it's pitiful." He said that Majors Sue Tucker and Thelma Bray along with team member Jay Flanagan have done an excellent job and that some of the men would have to "get with it" in order to keep up.

Floyd Watson, chairman of advance Gifts, complimented all his people. Gene Greene, Aubrey Steele, E. E. Shellhamer, Gordon Lyons, Bill Power, Gene Imel and Arthur Attergut. Watson said that Attergut was the first one in with his cards worked and Bill Power was not far behind. He also said that most of his group's cards had already been worked but that there were still some good ones to come in.

Public Employees Chairman Charles Hill had praise for the work of each of his majors, James Malone of the schools, Charlie Burton for the county, Mack Wofford of the city, Tom Kelly for state employees and Raymond McPhillips for federal employees. Hill indicated that there might be a friendly rivalry building up among the various groups with the idea to give a boost to the Good Neighbor Campaign.

Dr. Joe Donaldson, when contacted, said that most of the credit for the total taken in so far by the Professional Division should go to West Lanham at Highland General, Garner Altom at Worley Hospital and Dr. J. B. Veale who has worked with local dentists.

In the National Firms Division, with a total which has nearly doubled in the last two days, Warren Fatheree said that Bill Walker and Charles Martin have been his top wranglers and that he still expected to get more money before the drive is over.

The chief comment of all involved seemed to be that the drive will be a resounding success if everyone involved will work the cards, ask for "Fair Share" giving and turn in results at the regular check-in meetings. There will be another check-in Tuesday morning at 10 in the Emerald Room of Coronado Inn. Jerry Sims, drive chairman, asked that everybody work the cards and then be there with them Tuesday.

Dixon

Column is different from others in that it utilizes her psychic powers and is led each day by an inspirational quotation out of the wisdom of the past.

The story of Jeane Dixon is familiar to many readers. Among the many prophecies that have startled the world, she foretold the death of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, the assassination of Mahatma Gandhi, Churchill's defeat in 1945, Truman's re-election in 1948, the partition of India, the Red take-over of China, Russia's first Sputnik, the rise of Khrushchev and his downfall, the ecumenical council, the outcome of the six presidential elections from 1944 to 1964, Reagan's victory in California, the plane crashes that took the lives of Carole Lombard and Dag Hammarskjold, the suicide of Marilyn Monroe and in 1966, the ouster of Sukarno and the failure of communism in Indonesia.

Many of these were documented in the 1965 book, "A Gift of Prophecy: The Phenomenal Jeane Dixon," by Ruth Montgomery, which has sold more than three million copies around the world. Dr. Daniel Poling, retired editor of the Christian Herald, called it "perhaps the most important volume that has appeared in the field of prophecy since the Biblical prophets." Her best known prediction was that of President Kennedy's assassination. She first saw it in a vision that came to her in Washington's St. Matthew's Cathedral in 1952. A tall, blue-eyed man elected president as a Democrat in 1960 would meet violent death while in office. The prediction was reported in PARADE magazine in 1956. The glowering visions became more urgent in 1963, and she saw the name of a man involved. It was "a two-syllable name with 5 or 6 letters. The second letter was definitely an S, and the first like an O or a Q." Through several people she tried to get a warning through to the President, and on Friday morning, Nov. 22, she told Charles Benter, retired leader of the U.S. Navy Band, "This is the day it will happen."

Veteran Santa Fe Agent Retires Here

By JEFF HOLLADAY

"I feel kind of like a schoolboy at graduation — kind of glad and kind of sad," Pampa Santa Fe supervisory agent Auby Sprawls said yesterday at an informal retirement ceremony at the Santa Fe depot here. Sprawls, 58, a lean, bespectacled man with a fringe of white hair, has been with Santa Fe 51 years, the last three here in Pampa.

"It has been a rewarding and interesting career. Railroading is and always has been fascinating to me," Sprawls said. "I kind of hate to retire," he said, "but I figured it was time to get out and run around a little bit before it's too late." The veteran railroader says he plans "to play a lot of golf" and said he and his wife "hope to get a little traveling done." Sprawls started his career with Santa Fe on Aug. 21, 1917.

"I made a visit to Bovina and met this fellow who was wanting to join the Army," he said. "But they told him they would not let him volunteer unless he got someone to replace him, so he asked me. I took a test, and started the next day." Sprawls served as a telegraph operator at Bovina, then the largest cattle shipping point in the U.S., according to the veteran railroader.

"But I've worked all up and down the line," he said. He has also served at Hereford, Panhandle, Texico, N.M. and Farwell, Tex., and Shattuck, Okla. This is Sprawls' second time to be stationed in Pampa. He served here as a telegraph operator in 1923-24, and came back three years ago to serve as agent.

He admits to being sentimental about Pampa and said he and his wife will continue to reside here in their home at 2200 Chestnut. About 25 friends and Santa Fe officials attended Sprawls' retirement, presented him with a sum of cash on a "money tree," and told him to have a "good time with it."

UNITED FUND GIFT — Clinton Evans, right, Commercial and Industrial Division Chairman of the United Good Neighbor Campaign, meets Celanese Plant Manager John Fritch more than halfway in order to pick up the contributions and pledges of Pampa employees and that of the company. # Panhandle Water District News

BY-FELIX V. RYALS
Behind today's millions of faucets lie centuries of struggle and invention to bring us the convenient supply of pure fresh water that we enjoy today, whether we live in the city or the country.

Fresh running water and sanitary toilet facilities was unknown in this country for rural dwellers until the 20th century. Today you can live in the rural areas and have modern water service — a modern kitchen, bathroom and laundry with hot and cold running water.

Rural electrification makes all this possible. Water systems for rural areas have been developed to economically and conveniently supply most rural dwellers with services to a city water supply. A cartoon showing a man in nightgown with a lighted lantern in his hand and a small building some distance away may bring laughs, but it also brings a reflection, on the part of the viewer, that no running water means unhealthful, uncomfortable living.

For sewage service, many rural homes use septic tanks to which running water carries wastes from the kitchen and bathroom. The septic tanks have two compartments. One compartment is airtight which kills harmful bacteria and germs that can't live without air. The other compartment lets in air which kills harmful bacteria that can't live with air. Pressure tanks putting water under pressure makes it possible to have a modern bathroom — second to none and in the country too. The rural housewife has the same hot and cold running water in the kitchen as her city cousin.

The cows, chickens and pigs also have running water, thus bringing more profit to the farmer or dairyman through increased production. Dairy tests have proven that when water is available at all times to dairy cows milk production increases from 10 to 20 per cent. Hot and cold running water also lightens the work load of the dairyman as an aid in maintaining sanitary conditions. Egg production can be increased 10 to 20 per cent after automatic poultry waterers are installed in poultry houses.

Both beef and pork production can be increased the same way when fresh water is constantly available to cattle. With the coming of running hot and cold water, our health standards for the production of milk have been raised to guarantee giving us germ free milk.

The farm or home vegetable garden can yield 50 per cent more produce and quality vegetables, when sprinkling or irrigation is used.

Running water means a lot of useful things—such as more fire protection, less work, more leisure. Running water cleans the dirt farmer just as it cleans the factory worker. It assists the wife in keeping a supply of germ free dishes.

Your youngsters may think that the TV room is the heart of the home, but the housewife knows that the water system is the real heart center, especially as she goes about putting out grass fires in the yard, bathing, dishwashing, doing the family laundry, cooking and sprinkling the lawn.

For the vacationer, what would the absence of sanitary rest rooms mean? The golf course without running water, waterless resorts, feedlots without running water.

Those in the Pampa area should go out to the custom feedlots that Rex McAnaly and Bill Stockstill operate, or to the Vanderburg swine lots. How many city people have ever seen a dairy cow drink water out of a post on the stall where she eats from a feed trough? Running water has made all this possible,

Agriculturally Speaking

BY FOSTER WHALEY
County Agricultural Agent

Payments for the eradication of bindweed have been canceled by the USDA under the agricultural conservation program, according to the local A.S.C. office.

For many years a payment has been made to control bindweed with the thought that an acre of land saved from the destruction of bindweed is the same as an acre of land from water erosion.

Apparently, the main reason for the removal of these chemicals arose from regulations from the food and drug administration requiring certain labeling of these chemicals.

In 1968 the Miller Amendment to the Food & Drug Act reversed the procedure for gaining a approval of all pesticides and herbicides. When the Miller Amendment went into effect all chemicals stood guilty until the company that was manufacturing these chemicals proved the chemicals safe under the labeled directions. There have been millions of dollars spent proving to the satisfaction of the Food & Drug Administration that a given chemical is safe.

It is more than a little difficult to understand how any trace of the newer chemicals that have been used so successfully in the control of bindweed could be carried over into wheat or milo.

The ground remains sterile for several years after application. There are very few chemicals that have a systematic effect on plants that are on the market today. There is little chance that such chemicals are harmful even if picked up by a plant seven years after application.

If the matter is enforced according to the labeled instructions all the late chemicals approved for bindweed could not be applied to cropland whether government payment is received or not.

Thousands of acres of good farmland has been spared the ravages of bindweed through late developments in such chemicals as Trichlorobenzole Acid and Tordon.

Benzabor, a most successful chemical, has been used to treat small patches of bindweed in Gray County and all across the Panhandle.

A three acre patch of bindweed scattered across a section of land can soon take the entire section if no control or eradication program is carried out. I am most concerned about this matter.

Diverted Acres
October 1 is the effective date a farmer is permitted to graze diverted acres. We have had numerous calls on this. A few years back the date was November 1, but it has been set up to October 1.

Cattle Feeding Test
In a summary of four cattle feeding tests in Texas in 1966, bulls gained 2.62 daily as compared to 2.25 lbs. by steers of same quality. The bulls required 770 lbs. of feed per 100 lbs. of gain. The steers required 858 lbs. of feed per 100 lbs. of gain.

Another interesting test conducted in California showed 7.7 lab. of feed required per pound of gain from the grade of standard to good. Eight point eight pounds of feed was required per pound of gain from the grade of good to choice. Eighteen point one pounds of feed per pound of gain was required to feed the steers for 56 days after that had reached choice. The moral to the story: sell cattle as soon as they reach the desired grade.

or write-in any name of any person you desire. The total number of write-in votes will determine the future action of this group. The election of one person is not important, since the enthusiasm and response to this request will be the factor which will assist in installing a local Government each citizen might respect, be a part of, and be proud of. If the desirable number of Registered voters of Gray County cast write-in votes for this office, the same objective will be reached even with the incumbent, winning, since with the information available and those experienced in similar situations to apply it, the goal of most citizens, as far as local government is concerned, will be reached.

We ask you, the voter, to consider this position, and as most agree something should and must be done, we invite your support.

TO GRAY COUNTY VOTERS

To Gray County Voters: I have been encouraged to make this statement by a group of persons and organizations who believe that the basic and primary solution to problems which lie within the framework of government, is to first encourage and assist each citizen in a community to exercise his rights and exert whatever influence he might possess to maintain a honest and respectable local Government.

In the past twelve years I have talked to many citizens of Gray County concerning the operation which is now considered our local governments, both city and county. The general attitude expressed most often is one of dismay. The question most often is "why?" and secondly "How?" it may be eliminated and replaced by a proper organization.

We hope this will show some indication of a solution. First, there is no power or force greater than the citizens themselves if they exercise that right and express their will November 5, 1968 at the polls. The wishes and desires of the majority of citizens is of primary importance in achieving progress in this endeavor.

This group has amassed documented evidence covering a period of the past twelve years. There are few people in Pampa and Gray County who are not familiar to some extent with the incidents and events which have caused disrespect and contempt among citizens for their local government, therefore we feel it unnecessary to list these events or make accusations until the proper moment. This organization, represented by proper legal advisors, will donate their time and effort in

World Government' Is Colorado Man's Goal

By BRAD SMITH
DENVER (UPI)—A lot of persons have labeled his idea for a world government impractical idealism, but Philip Isely has seen the idea come a long way since it was first formulated 10 years ago.

Isely, one of the founders of the World Constitutional Convention (WCC) would like to see the formation of a world government with power to prevent all wars and secure disarmament of national armies.

His plan has gone as far as a meeting of the WCC for three weeks in September to Wolfach, Germany, and the drafting of a constitution. Another constitution is being drafted.

About 1,000 persons from 50 countries attended the convention, all of them private citizens. Some of those there, including co-chairman R.K. Nehru of India, have had governmental connections.

Isely, who operates the U.S. section of the WCC in a room behind his health food store in suburban Lakewood, said he thought the convention was "successful" and produced definite results.

"We were able to agree, basically, over the powers of the world government, the nature of the legislative body and the executive," Isely said. "But we didn't go into enforcement too much, the judiciary or the procedures for ratification of the constitutions."

An Army?

He said members of the WCC were at odds about whether the world government should have an army and, if so, what kind, and what kind of police force there should be.

It is his feeling, Isely said, that a world army would be unnecessary because an army is used to defend or attack large groups of persons. Without any armies, there would be no one to defend against or to attack.

Each nation could have its own police force to enforce national laws, while the WCC would have something similar to Interpol, the present international intelligence network.

The two constitutions being worked on now, he said, were of "minimalist" and "adequate" philosophies. The minimalist constitution would set up a world government with the sole function of preventing armed conflict.

The adequate constitution, which Isely favors, would give the world government other powers, including social and economic development responsibilities.

Tri-Cameral Legislature

The world government would work only for the people through a tri-cameral legislature. The houses would represent the people, the nations and a special group of "counselors."

The counselors would be nominated by the universities and institutions of higher learning of the world and elected by a joint session of the other two houses. It would primarily be an advisory body but would have initiation and arbitration powers.

The peoples' house would be representative on a one-man, one-vote basis with the delegates elected from districts that may or may not have boundaries similar to nations. The election district boundaries in some cases would cross national borders.

The countries would be represented equally in the house of nations.

In order to form the world government, each nation in the world would have to ratify the world constitution and agree to disarm.

Election Is Set For New Conservation District Supervisor

Election date for a new supervisor in zone 5 of the Soil Conservation District in Gray County has been set for Thursday.

Voters in Zone 5 will choose farmer or rancher to serve both as supervisor and representative on the Soil Conservation District Board for the next five years.

Balloting will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the County Annex Bldg. (agriculture building), according to County Agricultural Agent Foster Whaley.

Robert Sallor, who lives southeast of Pampa, is the present supervisor for Zone 5.

Qualified voters are Zone 5 landowners over 21 years of age. Wives of landowners are also eligible to vote.

Mrs. Burdette Named Head of Nixon Group

Mrs. Hugh Burdette of Pampa Saturday was named chairman of the Women for Nixon Committee in Gray County.

The appointment was made by Mrs. Nola F. Smith of Austin, vice-chairman and director of women's activities for the state, Nixon for President Committee.

"We are indeed fortunate to have such an able and dedicated leader as Mrs. Burdette direct the women's activities for Dick Nixon's campaign," said Mrs. Smith.

Mrs. Burdette served as county vice-chairman of the Republican Party from 1952-60. She is a member of the First Presbyterian Church.

Group Growing Marijuana 'Crop' Near Denton Arrested By Officers

FORT WORTH (UPI)—State and federal officers report that they had broken up a ring which was secretly planting marijuana between rows of field crops on farms in Denton County and harvesting it by the light of the moon.

Some of the harvesting wasn't very efficient, despite the fact that the marijuana growers brought along their own farm equipment, because the "workers" sometimes appeared "hopped-up", the officers said.

The entire operation apparently was carried out without the knowledge of the farm owners, who thought the strange plants they saw growing in their fields were weeds.

Texas Ranger G. W. Burks identified the suspects arrested as Mr. and Mrs. James Michael Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. Hercone Lewis and Harold Warford, all of Denton.

Burks said he and federal officers staked out two farms, one near Justin and the other at Krum, after they found "Large crops" of marijuana at both.

The five suspects were charged in U.S. district court in Sherman with unlawful possession of narcotics.

Burks said he and other officers hid in outbuildings for several nights watching members of the ring tilling and harvesting the marijuana with farm equipment they brought along.

"Sometimes they were acting funny, as if they were hopped up," Burks said.

Phillips Purchases Humble Production

Research Ship Is Seeking More Drilling Projects

By BILL MULLINS
United Press International
The research ship that brought up a core showing oil and gas from under 11,733 feet of water in the Gulf of Mexico is off on more deep water drilling projects.
The Glomar Challenger is on a route between New York and Dakar and plans to drill the first few holes of the trip in October.
The ship is being operated by the Scripps Institution of Oceanography under contract with the National Science Foundation of Washington, D. C.
Project manager Kenneth E. Brunot, of Scripps, said the project has involved efforts by industrial firms and government agencies in addition to the scientific community.
Brunot said the project's solution of problems involved in deep water drilling are sure to be applied to future deep water operations.

Where Discovery
The Gulf of Mexico discovery in August was at the Sigbee Knolls site located halfway between Louisiana and the Yucatan Peninsula.
The drill bit penetrated 480 feet into the sediment and the ship's scientists noted a show of oil and gas in the recovered core. The hole was plugged with cement to prevent leakage of oil into the gulf.
While this does open the possibility of future exploration by big U.S. firms in deep gulf waters, the idea will be approached with caution. The shallow

New Quarterback Leads Texas U. Over Okla. State

By ROLAND LINDSEY Austin, Tex. (UPI)—James Street took over the starting quarterback chores from Bill Bradley Saturday night and threw two touchdown passes, including one to Bradley now playing split end to pace Texas to a 31-3 victory over Oklahoma State.

Street hit Bradley with a four-yard pass for a touchdown in the fourth quarter.

Rob Layne boosted the second with a 36-yard field goal.

Oklahoma State rallied after the half with David Meadows falling on a Texas fumble at the Longhorn 23. Robert Curthouth booted a 33-yard field goal the Cowboys failed to move.

Texas came right back, driving 70 yards in eight plays 3:07 left in the third quarter. Layne again converted.

Chiefs Get 18-7 Victory

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI)—Soccer style specialist Jan Stenerud kicked four field goals after his offensive unit stalled Saturday night and gave the Kansas City Chiefs an 18-7 win over the Buffalo Bills.

Stenerud, who missed the first extra point try of his career after a 15-yard TD pass from Len Dawson to Gloster Richardson in the first quarter, redeemed himself with field goal kicks of 18, 12, 16 and 15 yards to lock up the win.

The norwalgna place kicker had put away 35 straight extra points since turning pro last season.

Wyoming Upsets Arizona State

LARAMIE, Wyo. (UPI)—Junior Jim Barrows set up two Wyoming touchdowns with long punt returns and the Wyoming defensive line bottled up Arizona State's speedy backfield as the Cowboys scored a 27-13 upset Saturday afternoon.

Arizona State jumped out to a 10-0 first period lead on a 42-yard field goal by Ed Gallardo and a one-yard run by J. D. Hill after ASU recovered a Wyoming fumble on the 10.

A 28-yard return by Barrows set up Ed Synakowski's 10-yard touchdown pass to Dave Hampton in the second period. Wyoming tied the score as time ran out in the first half on a 46-yard field goal by Bob Jacobs following Hill's fumble with two seconds left.

Synakowski connected with Gene Huey for 19 yards and the go ahead touchdown half way through the third period. A 49-yard punt return by Barrows set up the Cowboys' final touchdown on a five-yard pass from Skip Jacobson to George Anderson in the final period. Wyoming added a 33-yard field goal by Jacobs late in the game.

ASU scored on a 22-yard field goal by Paul Ray Powell with 1:19 left in the third quarter to narrow Wyoming's lead to 17-13, but the Sun Devils could not keep up with Wyoming in the final period.

George Kellerman, a defensive end who had 10 unassisted tackles, five of them for losses, and two assists, led the crisp Cowboy defense which allowed the Sun Devils only 49 yards rushing, far below their 303-yard average per game rushing.

was 178 yards off a defensive line which had given up only 14 yards rushing in its first two games.

Colorado Racks Up 28-18 Victory Over Iowa State in Big 8 Opener

EAMS, Iowa (UPI)—Sophomore slotback Ward Walsh punched across two touchdowns and teammate Bob Anderson had a hand in two others Saturday to boost Colorado to a 28-18 victory over upset-minded Iowa State in the Big Eight Conference opener for both teams.

Anderson, the Buffs' durable junior quarterback, ran 7 yards for one touchdown and passed to end Mike Pruett for another on a play that covered 15 yards.

Each of Walsh's touchdowns came on 1-yard punts. Walsh's first scoring effort came with 27 seconds left in the second quarter and broke a scoring deadlock.

Iowa State played Colorado on even terms until Walsh's first touchdown, and the Cyclones came on strong again in the final quarter, scoring the game's final two touchdowns.

The victory pushed Colorado's record to 2-1, and spoiled a .78 yards in 11 carries.

Purdue Romps Over Northwestern, 43-6 Behind Slippery Leroy Keyes

EVANSTON, Ill. (UPI)—Top-ranked Purdue sent slippery Leroy Keyes on three touchdowns sliced through Northwestern's battered line Saturday to score its third consecutive victory of the season, 43-6, and its first in the Big Ten.

Keyes again performed as the Boilermaker workhorse, piling up the big yardage on all scoring drives. When he wasn't cutting up the Wildcats' ground defenses, he was snaring passes by teammate Mike Phipps, scored their only touchdown in the final six minutes on a 29-yard pass from Dave Shelbourne to Bob Dillingham and Jim Kirk-Craig Smetan.

Dallas Cowboys Visit St. Louis Cardinals Today

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—The Dallas Cowboys, who have yet to be scored on by land and seldom by air, bring the National Football League's top offense and stingiest rushing defense into Busch Stadium Sunday to meet the troubled St. Louis Cardinals.

The Cowboys (3-0) will be trying to stay atop the NFL's Capitol Division alongside the New York Giants (3-0) while the Cards (1-2) will be trying to remain in the scrap for the Century Division lead.

The Cowboys not only lead the league in scoring with a 44-point average, but have moved the ball at a 435.3-yard per game clip and allowed the opposition but 65 yards per game on the ground and given up but four touchdowns, all on passes.

While Dallas was defeating Detroit 59-13, Cleveland 28-7 and Philadelphia 45-13 the Cards lost to Los Angeles and San Francisco before taking a narrow 21-20 win over New Orleans last week.

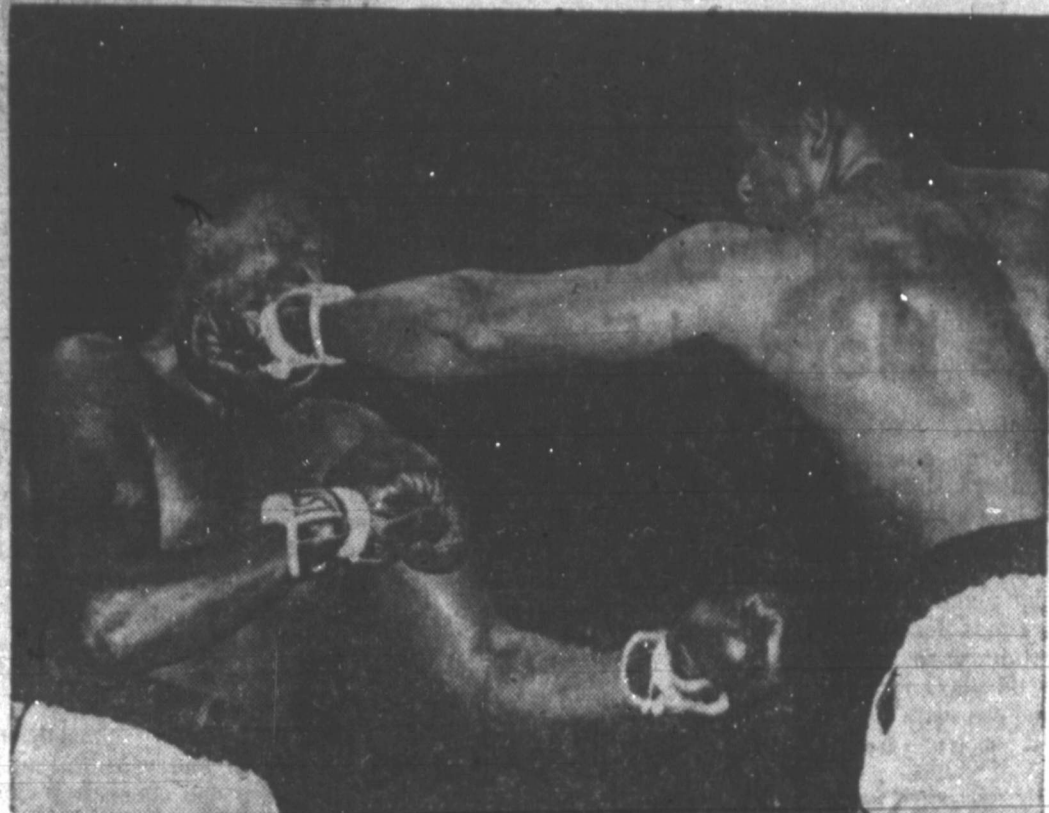

The Cowboys were expected to be at full strength with Jethro Pugh returning to defensive tackle after a week's absence and Willie Townes throwing off a charley horse injury.

The Cards get back linebacker Dave Meggsey after a mild concussion, and are planning to use Charley Johnson, their week-end quarterback on leave from the Army, as signal caller despite the fact he gets very little practice with the team.

Johnson has hit only 14 of 36 passes so far this year and Jim Hart has not done much better, 25 of 60, while none of the St. Louis runners rank among the league's top 15.

In contrast, the Cowboys' Don Meredith is the NFL's No. 1 passer with 41 out of 58 for a sparkling 70.7 per cent completion average with only one interception, and both Dan Reeves and Don Perkins are among the rushing leaders. They have balanced their 18 touchdowns with eight each running and passing and one each by pass interception and fumble recovery.

The Cards hold an 8-5-1 series edge over Dallas, but the Cowboys have won three of their last four meetings and tied the other.

North Carolina State Thumped By SMU

By ED FITE
UPI Sports Writer
DALLAS (UPI)—Chuck Hixson blended a heady mixture of his own precision passing and the explosive running of Mike Richardson Saturday to guide Southern Methodist to a 35-14 romp past North Carolina State.

Hixson, a rangy sophomore quarterback who last week set an NCAA record with 69 passes attempted against Ohio State, threw scoring strikes of 65, 31 and 24 yards to speedster Jerry Levias, scored himself on a one-yard sneak and sent the 187-pound Richardson gambling for 167 yards and the fifth SMU touchdown.

North Carolina State, which beat Wake Forest and North Carolina before being felled by Oklahoma last week, got a 16-yard touchdown pass from Jack Klebe to end George Botsko with 22 seconds left in the first half, but five SMU interceptions and a surprisingly stout Mustang defense kept the Wolfpack rocked on its heels. Reserve Darrell Moody hit Jimmy Lisk with a 20-yard touchdown in the final minute.

In guiding SMU to its second intersectional victory against a loss to Ohio State, Hixson completed 20 of 34 attempts for 323 yards and three touchdowns, boosting his three-game total to 84 of 141 for 1,023 yards and eight touchdowns.

Levias, who caught 15 passes against Ohio State, snagged nine more Saturday for 213 yards for a three-game total of 29 for 473 yards.

Southern Methodist, which has been conducting a pre-season ticket campaign under the slogan "Excitement, 1968," provided plenty of it offensively for the third straight game, but its defense joined in the act on a DETROIT (UPI)—Tim McCarver and Orlando Cepeda, the hitting flops of last year's World Series, got the Tiger Stadium artillery range in their sights Saturday and bombed Detroit with a pair of three-run homers to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 7-3 victory and a 2-1 edge in this Series.

The explosive Tigers, who out numbered the Cards 185-73 during the regular season, were supposed to have the power edge in the first Series game in 23 years at Tiger Stadium, which has such short power alleys.

But McCarver blasted into the stands in the fifth and Cepeda lined his shot in the seventh, enabling the Cards to beat the Tigers at their own game in this pivotal third contest.

Detroit also got two homers, a two-run drive by Al Kaline in the third and Dick McAuliffe's solo blast in the fifth, but the losers got only two other hits off winner Ray Washburn and reliever Joe Hoerner to the dismay of the capacity crowd of 53,634.

The Cards now have an edge in the best-of-seven series with Bob Gibson, who's won six straight Series games, ready to duel Denny McLain again in the fourth game Sunday. Gibson struck out a record 17 while winning the opener Wednesday.

The World champion Cards, favored to win their third World Series in the last five years and their second straight, battered loser Earl Wilson—who didn't allow either homer—and four Tiger relievers for 13 hits after collecting just 12 while splitting the first two games.

McCarver, who was the hitting star of the Cards' 1964 Series against the Yankees with a .476 average and a three-run game-winning homer in the fifth contest, slumped to just .125 last season against the Red Sox.

After getting only one hit in seven trips in the first two games, McCarver stepped up to face reliever Pat Dobson with two on and two out in the fifth and the Cards trailing 2-1.

The 6-foot-1, 200-pound catcher from Memphis cracked Dobson's 2-3 pitch into the second deck in right to put the Cards ahead 4-2.

Cepeda, who'd never hit a World Series homer, came up in the seventh with two on and none out to face Don McMahon with a record of just eight hits in 58 at bats in three World Series, including a 2-for-11 mark this year.

After winning the MVP award last season, he also hit just 125 against Boston as he tried in vain to reach the short Boston left field wall. But Saturday he picked on McMahon's first pitch and lined a drive into the lower deck left field seats over Willie Horton's head to end all the Series' frustration.

Washburn was lifted in the sixth after walking Norm Cash and Willie Horton with one out. Hoerner came on and retired Jim Northrup and Bill Freehan to end the inning.

He got Kaline to hit into a force with two on and two out in the seventh and then retired the final six Tigers in order to end the game.

Missouri Takes Win Over Army

COLUMBIA, Mo. (UPI)—Roger Whirl's 53-yard punt return set up a mistake-plagued Missouri's only touchdown Saturday in a 7-3 triumph over Army that gave the Tigers' Dan Devine his 100th victory as a head coach.

A record Missouri crowd of 58,576 saw Army intercept six passes and recover three fumbles. Whirl's punt return late in the first period gave the Tigers a first down at the Cadet nine. Halfback Greg Cook plunged one yard off left tackle for the touchdowns. Three plays later Jay Wallace kicked the extra point with 5:32 left in the quarter.

Syracuse Upsets UCLA By 20-7

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UPI)—The running of sophomores Al Newton and John Godbolt combined with a stifling defense enabled Syracuse University to upset fourth-ranked UCLA 20-7 Saturday, giving the Orangemen their second win in three games and handing the Bruins their first loss against two victories.

Newton, a fullback from Cambridge, Mass., ground out 121 yards to pace the Orange while Godbolt, who gained 89 yards rushing, scored Syracuse's first touchdown on a four-yard run in the third period.

Kansas State Hits Virginia Tech, 34-19

BLACKSBURG, Va. (UPI)—Wingback Mack Herron left one shoe and a flock of defenders behind Saturday as he raced for a 99-yard touchdown — his second long scoring run of the day — to highlight Kansas State's 34-19 victory over Virginia Tech.

Herron, a speedy junior college transfer, caught the opening kickoff of the second half on the State one and sprinted straight ahead. One of his shoes came off at the State 22 but he kept going for the TD. Herron scored in the first few minutes of the game on a 77-yard run. He passed seven yards to split end Dave Jones for another TD in the second period.

Quarterback Lynn Dickey passed to Jones for another score early in the third period. The touchdown was set up by a 36-yard pass catch by Herron.

A 15-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Al Kincaid to tight end Rick Piland with three minutes left in the first quarter was the first offensive touchdown by Virginia Tech this season.

Linebacker Mike Widger scored a touchdown for Tech when he grabbed a fumble in the air and ran 46 yards with six minutes left in the game.

Kicking specialist Jack Simcak scored the other six points for the Gobblers on field goals of 22 and 37 yards.

The Gobblers were successful in an inside kick after the score by Widger but were held on downs still nine points behind.

Defensive left halfback Clarence Scott intercepted a Gobbler pass with three minutes left in the game and returned it 35 yards for a score to give the Wildcats their final 15-point margin.

Gay Brewer Cops Alcan Title

By HENRY W. THORNBERRY
SOUTHPORT, England (UPI)—Gay Brewer won the Alcan Gopher of the Year championship for the second consecutive year Saturday, firing a five-under-par 69 for a three-stroke victory and first prize of $55,000.

Brewer's blazing finish gave him a 72-hole total of 13-under-par 233, three shots better than Englishman Peter Townsend, Americans Bob Murphy and Gardner Dickinson, who set a course record with a 67, were tied for third at 287.

Brewer, who said Friday he felt his game was beginning to come around, started the final round one shot back of Townsend. But the pug-nosed Texan quickly asserted himself, scoring birdies on two of the first three holes, while Townsend fell back with a double bogey on No. 2. Brewer never lost his lead and cemented things with a three-foot birdie on 18.

As he tapped in his putt, the gallery of about 6,000 persons gave him a mighty cheer, although Townsend, the local favorite, was beaten. Second place was worth $15,000.

Dickinson virtually took part the 7,140-yard, par 36-38-74 Royal Birkdale course as he came within one stroke of matching the British tournament record when he shot a sizzling 29 on the first nine. He finished with an eight-under-par 67, eclipsing the course record set Friday by fellow American Bert Yancey.

Murphy shot a closing 72 for his 287.

Young Bobby Cole of South Africa shot a 68 for 288, which tied him with Bob Charles of New Zealand, who had a 71 Saturday, and Peter Butler of England, in with a 72.

WT Will Enter

Wayland Meet

CANYON — The West Texas State University track team will enter the Wayland Invitational Cross Country Oct. 8.

Participating in the first meet for West Texas this year will be Don Cantrell, who recently was clocked at 10:13 for the two mile, Renard Franklin, John Green, Bryon Thoms, and John Lancaster.

Bob Kitchens was hired this year as West Texas' first full-time track coach.

OPEN TENNIS
LONDON (UPI) — Derek Hardwick, chairman of the British Lawn Tennis Association (LTA), announced Thursday that Britain will apply for permission to hold 11 open tennis tournaments, including Wimbledon, over a nine-week period next year.

The International Lawn Tennis Association was pressured into relaxing its mandate stating that amateurs could not compete with pros in the same tournament earlier this year and sanctioned a limited number of open tournaments.

FRENCH LEAD
MELBOURNE (UPI) — Despite the poor play of Catherine Lacoste and adverse play conditions, the French team took the second round lead in the Espirito Santo world women's amateur golf championship Thursday.

Miss Lacoste faltered with an eight over par 81 after leading in individual honors with a first round 75. The French team had a two round total of 308 over Australia's 310 and a 312 team score by the United States.

Perryton 'B' Blasts Lefors

PERRYTON — Lefors' Class B Pirates were unable to contain the savage thrust of the Perryton 'B' offense here Thursday night and were swamped 42-7.

Perryton, the number one ranked Class AAA team in the state, displayed the football might of its reserves and the potential of its building program as it played 17 juniors.

Perryton's longest drive was only for about 50 yards, but an array of speedy, break-away runners kept the Pirates off-balance as they unleashed long dashes.

Lefors got on the scoreboard in the third quarter when they climaxed a 40-yard drive with a 2-yard spurt. The drive followed a fumble recovery.

The Pirates, who have had five freshmen starters, drove to the 4-yard line earlier in the second quarter but the drive fizzled.

Lefors got most of its yardage through the air, with freshmen quarterback David White, a 120-pounder, throwing to his favorite targets Richard Hankins and Ronnie Sims.

The Pirates will play Erick, Okla. next Friday in a game at Lefors.

Fishin' Roundup

By MELVIN CLARK

Roy Hunter, deputy at Green-belt Lake, brought us a report from there this week. Jake Roberts and Dub McAnier of Clarendon caught over 100 crappie last week. They were all nice eating size, and the largest was 15 inches long and weighed 2 1/2 lb. They took them on minnows out in the center of the lake.

J. W. Ivey of Memphis caught a 4 lb 12 oz. bass on a minnow while fishing from the bank. A Mr. Mann, a schoolteacher at Clarendon, caught a 6 lb. Northern Pike using a Thin Pi lure. Roy would like to record your catch when you have good luck, and take your picture with the new Polaroid which he bought for this purpose. If you don't find him at the filter plant south of the lake, or elsewhere, you may call him at 874-2454 in Clarendon. Also, if you come down to fish during the night, you may go ahead and fish and pay for your permit the next morning. Roy said that people have been taking very good care of the lake.

C. L. Watson Canadian Breeze Motel, Bait and Tackle Shop is very concerned with the fishing sport, and roundup all the news from Lake Meredith for us each week. From Kites Marina: Vic Padilla, Borger, caught 2 channel cat on a trot line. Dan Sifford, Amarillo Air Base caught one 3 lb. 13 oz. Walleye on a Flat Fish. From Sportsman's One Stop at Sanford: Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Atkins, Pampa, took from 20 to 25 average size crappie. S. L. Stone, Borger, caught 28 crappie. Charles Moore, Borger, caught 23 lbs. of cat fish on a trot line. James Hepler, Borger, caught one 5 1/2 lb. Blue cat on perch bait. Last Wednesday G. C. Williams, Pampa, caught three Blue cat with a total weight of 10 lbs. The day before he caught 2 Blue cat 6 lbs. Each, and 2 Blue cat weighing 4 lbs. each, on a trot line. Williams reported that the crappie are slow gut in the lake, but are biting food at the crappie house and in close to shore. Lee Shelton, Borger, caught one 6 lb. channel cat and one 2 1/2 lb. walleye on minnows using a rod and reel. K. O. Riddle, Fritch, caught one 4 1/2 lb. channel cat. Jimmy Sharp, 539 Hazel, along with a friend, fished Lake Marvin last Sunday afternoon in a huge floater and caught 4 black bass weighing from 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 lbs. One was caught on a green MidgeOrino, and 3 were taken on a large black jitterbug lure.

Recently Steve Oates fished Dead Indian and the fish weren't biting in numbers, but he came up with one nice crappie that made the trip worthwhile. It was 14" long and 10" around. L. V. Hopp, 625 E. Kingsmill fished lake no. 57, southwest of Cheyenne, Okla., on Oct. 2 and caught 5 bass with a total weight of 14 1/2 lbs. He caught them on a Rappala Countdown lure. He catches more than he can eat, and I can testify that his catches are a mighty tasty dish.

Lewis and Juanita McJunkins, 839 S. Gray were fishing recently and took 25 bass. The largest one was 4 1/2 lbs. Six were caught in less than 30 minutes. They were all caught on minnows. Warner Phillips of Lake McLellan sends the following report: C. M. Wylie and M. M. Wylie, Pampa, caught a total of 17 lbs. of channel cat. One of these weighed 5 lbs. They were caught on stink bait. Rex and Arthur Brown of Jericho caught a total of 14 lbs. of channel cat on live perch for bait. One of these weighed 4 lbs. They also caught a 2 lb. bass using a yellow Sonar Lure. The day before they caught one 3 lb. bass, and two 2 lb. bass on the same lure. Warner said the bass are biting good again, and the last week or two the channel cat have picked up. Rex-Brown caught a six lb. channel cat last week.

Lake Eurson reports that Brim, bass, and channel cat are being caught. Ruth Ann Cline and two friends from Silvertown caught 123 brim, some were real nice ones. Dove hunting is fair and the quail crop looks very good. Ricky Leverich, son of J. E. Leverich got his first antelope this past week. Ricky is eleven years old. He shot the antelope north of Pampa using a "30-30" rifle.

Only two scores were higher in Kansas history. In 1947 Kansas beat South Dakota State 86-6, and in 1923 it beat Washington University of St. Louis 83-0.

Sophomore quarterback Jim Ettinger came in to lead Kansas during the second quarter and after a New Mexico fumble, scored his first touchdown as a college player on a 2-yard sweep around left end. That made the score 28-0 at halftime.

Douglass, the Big Eight champion of the year in 1967, hit McGowan again in the third quarter for a touchdown pass of 18 yards. Minutes later, after another New Mexico fumble, the 6-3, 215-pound Douglass bulldozed past a tackler for his second scoring plunge.

New Mexico did not get on the scoreboard until midway in the fourth period when tailback David Bookert for Terry Stone, guided his club 74 yards in 11 plays without a pass.

Another Riggins, this one named Junior, got a couple of fourth-period touchdowns for the Jayhawks, taking a 24-yard pass from Ettinger for one and running 37 yards for the other. Sophomore linebacker Dick Nelson scored another touchdown on an 18-yard pass interception return.

LPGA LEADERS
CINCINNATI (UPI) — Carol Mann clinging to a diminishing lead this week over second-place Kathy Whitworth in the official earnings race of the Ladies Professional Golf Association (LPGA).

A second place finish in the Fallbrook, Calif., ladies tournament Sunday enabled Miss Whitworth to raise her money winnings to $37,232, while Miss Mann remained on top with $38,828.50.

Harvesters Tumble, 30-0

Pampa's Harvesters couldn't muster an offense Friday night and the Plainview Bulldogs, controlling the ball throughout the game, ground out a 30-0 win to drop the Green and Gold to 1-3 for the season.

A crunching ground attack, featuring tailback Larry Watson and fullback David Wooley, rolled up 342 yards rushing in the contest, most of it coming four and five yards at a time.

The visiting Bulldogs scored with 6:20 left in the first quarter when quarterback M. A. J. Hanna, almost trapped behind the line, found end Dale Mouser open and hit him with a short toss. Mouser skipped into the end zone on a 31-yard pass and run play that gave Plainview the lead. End Randy Warrick booted the extra point and the score was 7-0.

The Harvester defense kept Plainview from scoring again in the first half and intermission came with the Bulldogs nursing that 7-0 lead.

Wooley, however, widened the gap on the second play from scrimmage in the third quarter, dashing for 66 yards with 11:10 left in the stanza. The extra point again was good, 14-0. The home team got its first down of the game in the next series, with quarterback Ross Holman tossing to end Dan Carlton for a 25-yard gain on a play which terminated on the 50-yard line.

The drive ended, though, and after starting from their own 20, the Bulldogs drove to another score, this time with Watson carrying over from eight yards out. The extra point made it 21-0.

The fourth quarter saw Plainview's kicker, Warrick, make it 24-0 with a 26 yard field goal. The final tally for the visitors came with second string tailback Albert Hill punching it over from the one with 6:50 left in the final quarter.

Following that score, the Pampans utilized some new backs in the game and they drove to the Plainview five before giving up the ball on a fumble at the Bulldog 10 yard line.

Chris Caldwell and Rickey Givens were the "hosses" on the Pampa series with Givens reeling off a 40-yard run in the final minutes to put the ball on the Plainview 10-yard line.

There were some bright spots in the Harvester defense for the night, with defender Mike Stephens making several tackles. The Green and Gold play Monterey in Lubbock next Friday night.

By HARLAN HYSMITH
Area Sports Correspondent

In a non-district game in which first-half drizzles became second-half showers, the White Deer Bucks tallied their first win in four outings by defeating the McLean Tigers, 13-8.

The Bucks, using their heavier line and backfield to maintain ball control, had 14 first downs and 259 yards total offense. McLean had 13 first downs and 178 yards offense.

White Deer quarterback Stan Bush ran the ball over from the two yard line on the first series of downs to climax a 63-yard drive. Ricky Hoskins kicked the extra point.

The Bucks tallied again in the second quarter when they drove over from the 5-yard line following a 25-yard Bush to Steve Urbanczyk pass.

McLean's lone score was set up later in the second quarter by a faceguard penalty against the Bucks which moved the ball to the Buck 3-yard line.

Tiger halfback Thacker Haynes took a Dick Back hand-off over for the touchdown, then ran for two points to make the score 13-8 at halftime.

Buck tailback Lonnie Lane canceled a sure McLean six points late in the second quarter by shoe-stringing fullback Earnest Smith after he had dashed for 67 yards on a punt return. Smith gained an impressive 142 yards before being sidelined at the half by a possible broken collar bone.

The second half, played mostly in rain, was uneventful with the final gun stopping a McLean drive at the Buck 25-yard line.

Selecting a sewing pattern for plaid requires care. Select one with simple lines and a minimum of seams because you want the emphasis on the plaid. Check the pattern envelope to see if extra allowance is needed for matching. This extra material will have to be figured before you buy and, generally, one-half yard is sufficient for an even, average sized plaid. If the plaid you buy is large and uneven you may need a full yard.

Civic Culture Club Hears Talk By Pampan on 'Common Frauds'

The Civic Culture Club met recently in the home of Mrs. J.B. Townsend. Mrs. Irvin Cole president, opened the meeting with pledges to the U. S. and Texas flags.

Mrs. C.V. Forsman was elected to replace Mrs. D.W. Lake, who resigned as secretary. The club voted to sell place mats with Texas scenes, a project being sponsored by the State Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. A.B. Cross gave the program in public affairs, using as her subject, "Education on Common Frauds." She began her talk by saying, "A typical homeowner may be the target of some shady or fraudulent scheme as many as 12 times a year. These contacts are made by swindlers by going from door to door, through the mail, on TV, and by telephone. Sometimes they are trying to take you for a few dollars, sometimes thousands."

About 130 Better Business Bureaus in the United States and Canada listed some of the outstanding swindles as home-improvement gyms, such as buying an overpriced furnace, plastic siding, carpets constructed at above normal price, she said.

"The phony bank-examiner swindle is one that is usually used on elderly people who are living alone. They pose as a bank examiner or FBI agent and pretend that there has been shortages at the bank and ask for cooperation in trapping a suspected employee."

Dishonest telephone solicitations have increased so much laws have been introduced in several state legislatures requiring agents selling merchandise by telephone to be licensed.

Some schemers employ a recorded message. Fake "marker surveys" by telephone are another favorite gimmick.

"Questionable Charities" is another fraud the homeowner needs to be aware of since $10.6 billion that individuals in this country give annually to charity, some $100 million goes to phonies usually to swindlers soliciting for fake charities or to professional fund-raisers who absorb most of your contributions.

"High pressure selling of pre-financed funeral plans are sold from door to door by a professional type of promoter who has no mortuary and little financial responsibility, but does have a glib tongue."

"Better Business Bureau advises: Avoid all gimmicks when you need home repairs deal with reputable local firms.

"Give no money and no information about your banking affairs at any one indentifying himself as a bank examiner, or government agent."

"Report telephone calls you detect as deception to your BBB. Also check with them if you have doubts concerning charities."

"In case of all these deceptive schemes, the first line of defense is to curb your desire for a bargain. The second line is to curb any thought that you can outwit the schemers," concluded Mrs. Cross.

Present were Mmes. A.D. Hills, A.C. Houchin, Katie Vincent, H.W. Waters, Chester Williams, C.V. Forsman, Irvin Cole, A.B. Cross, J.B. Townsend, and a guest, Mrs. Ernie Voss.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. H.W. Waters, 1445 N. Russell, Oct. 9.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: About a year ago I offered to give my daughter-in-law $5 for every pound she lost as she had a beautiful face, but was she stout? Don't ask!

Well, apparently my offer was no incentive, because instead of losing weight, she gained even more!

All of a sudden she decided to go to a doctor and get on a weight-loss program. So far, she has lost 19 pounds, and she is still losing. She says she is going to lose at least another 30 pounds, and at the rate she's going, she probably will.

My problem is that I didn't put a time limit on my offer, and now she expects me to pay her the $5 a pound I offered her a year ago.

I would like to give her some kind-of reward for losing all that weight, but I don't think she's entitled to $5 a pound now. What is your opinion?

DADDY DAVID

DEAR DADDY: Since you put no time limit on your offer, you're stuck for the $5 for every pound of flesh. Perhaps your offer inspired her to go on a diet, and it took her a year to gather the determination.

DEAR ABBY: Since my brother's death several years ago his widow has been doing something which bothers the rest of our family. She plans parties and get-togethers in observance of their wedding anniversary.

While my brother was alive her anniversary never was the day for any special celebrations—not even their 10th, for instance.

Now that the "25th" is approaching (her husband has been dead for six years), we're fearful that she might do something really "big." Tell me, Abby, is it proper for a widow to do this?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: No. But perhaps that's her way of insuring herself against loneliness on that memorable day.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a president of a multi-million-dollar business who comes to work with holes in his socks? This didn't happen just once, it is a regular thing with him.

He wears custom-made suits, and drives a Cadillac car, but he goes around with great big holes in the heels of his socks.

WORKS FOR HIM
DEAR WORKS: I'd say he must be married to a woman who doesn't give a darn.

DEAR ABBY: It is a most disturbing commentary on our times that the most popular toy for little girls today is a vulgarly-sexy doll, complete with lace panties, brassieres, hot rods, and an extravagant wardrobe to add to at considerable expense. This doll emphasizes sexual attractiveness, clothes, and nothing else, and little girls are bound to identify with it.

We have all kinds of wonderful educational toys for boys, but what about the toys for girls? How much healthier to buy little girls sweet baby dolls to be cuddled and "mothered." This is a wholesome educational kind of play for girls.

Please print this, Abby, and wake up some well-meaning mothers who are influencing their daughters at an early age with the wrong kind of play.

A HANDSOME NEW WINDOW treatment combines a striking black-and-white Paisley design by Celanese with a sunshine-yellow shade trimmed in black. Lined draperies are a breeze to make, with ready-made pleater tape and drapery hooks.

PRO-TEM BIKINI and beach cover-up in subtle green with applied pastel flowers was a part of the bride's trousseau.

Paper Ensemble Provides Way To Budget Wedding Expenses

NEW YORK (NEA) — The cost of living has risen to heights that would put a microskirt to shame. When it comes to wedding bells, a bride can deplete her savings account just buying her gown and trousseau.

The answer: Paper it.

Joyce Wrasse and Richard Stelter, two university students, were married recently in Franklin, Wis. Joyce showed any interested prospective bride how to manage a beautiful wedding at budget prices. Richard truly found a paper doll to call his own.

The wedding gown, bridesmaids' ensembles, bouquets and even the flowers for the church were done in "paper."

Actually, the disposable dresses commonly referred to as "paper" aren't paper at all. They are nonwoven fabrics predominantly made of rayon fibers interlocked by chemicals. They have the look and feel of cloth.

But "paper" they were called since they first appeared on the market and the name has stuck.

Clothes made of these fabrics can be worn at least four times and many can be dry cleaned, hand-washed, ironed and spray-starched. (Read directions carefully. Dry cleaning can make them flammable.)

They are the perfect answer for the girl who needs that one-occasion dress and wants to be adventurous in her choice of design without going broke in the process.

Jita Merson of Chicago, who already has achieved fame with nonwoven dresses, designed the wedding finery for the Stelters and she did Joyce's trousseau as well—all in Kendall's Pro-Tem, a fabric made of rayon and some polyethylene.

The lavish bridal gown — an opaque sheath with sheer front and back panels floating from clusters of lily-of-the-valley at the shoulders had long, winged sleeves. It was a design that could have cost hundreds of dollars. Joyce's dress was $40. Her bridesmaids' gowns were $23 each.

This was quite a consideration because the Wrasse family wanted to have a traditional Polish wedding with a sit-down breakfast for at least 100 guests.

The nonwoven fabrics come in various weights and beautiful colors. Some have the look and feel of organza, others are like lush velvet. Also it's right handy to put shears to a pleated or flared hemline for a shortening job instead of getting out the trusty needle and thread and stitching away for an hour.

For formals, proms, graduations or just fancy parties, these fabrics are increasing in popularity all the time.

Give Windows a Fall Treatment

By JOANNE SCHRIEBER

Is there a new window treatment in your fall decorating plan? Lucky you, the drapery store is jam-packed with exciting new ideas, wonderful fabrics, and loads of handsome hardware to make doing-it-yourself extra easy.

It's even possible to accomplish optical illusions through window decorations.

Here, the wooden drapery rod with its pineapple end pieces is set to extend beyond the sideframes of the window thus enlarging its apparent size. Lined draperies of crisp Celanese acetate in a no-nonsense Paisley design are hung from dramatic wooden rings, and make a striking frame for the bright yellow Tontine cloth shade. Bands of black trim repeat the horizontal line. Black-and-white checked upholstery fabric contrasts with a yellow shag carpet.

There's no mystery about making lined draperies, and it's well worth the small amount of extra effort because the lining will make the draperies look better, hang more smoothly and last longer. A smooth cotton satin is the fabric most often selected for lining material.

To measure for curtain yardage, figure double the window width plus side hem allowances. When in doubt about a width measurement, make draperies fuller, not skimpier.

Install curtain rod first. Measure from lower edge of rod to point one scant inch from floor. Add 7 inches for top and bottom hem allowances.

Cut lining 3 1/2 inches shorter, 6 inches narrower than curtain fabric.

Sew small weights to wrong side of curtain fabric, 2 inches in from each side and 6 inches up from bottom. Weights may also be placed at seam joinings if you have any. Turn, press and stitch 3-inch double hem in lining.

Place lining and drapery together, right sides facing, with lining hem 1 1/2 inches above drapery hem. Clip selvages. Baste and stitch side seams, with 1/2-inch seam allowance. Keep heavier fabric underneath, stitching lining to drapery fabric to discourage shifting. Turn right side out. Press so

1 1/2 inches of drapery fabric show on either side of lining. Miter and hand-stitch lower corners. Fasten lining and drapery hems together with 3-inch chain of thread at panel centers.

To attach pleater tape, turn under top hem 1/4-inch. Stitch pleater tape 1-inch from top, along guide lines marked on tape. Make sure end pockets for end hooks are equidistant from drapery sides.

Insert an end hook in each end pocket. Skip space and insert 4-prong drapery hook in next four pockets. Skip space, insert another hook and continue in this manner ending with an end hook. Hooks may be removed when curtain is laundered.

To give your drapery a "Memory" for pleats, handset pleats and tie a ribbon loosely around drapery for a couple of days. Although it is possible to make your own laminated shades, you will find that your department store has a dazzling selection of shades which are all ready for you to install, or which can be custom-cut to fit your window.

FOOD SERVICE COURSE — Three food service supervisors, left to right, Mrs. Jack Ware and Mrs. Ralph Adkinson, both from North Plains Hospital in Borger, and Mrs. D. V. Hayter, Highland General Hospital in Pampa, plan the correspondence study course for food service supervisors which will start in January. Deadline for applications is Oct. 10.

Dietitians Will Counsel Students For Hospital Food Service Course

Pampa area personnel employed in hospital food service are eligible for the correspondence food service course which starts in January. Deadline for applications is Oct. 10, according to Mrs. D. V. Hayter, dietitian for Highland General Hospital. Sponsored by the American and Texas Dietetic Association, the course will be directed by Mrs. Hayter, Mrs. Jack Ware, and Mrs. Bill Barksdale, who are from North Plains Hospital in Borger.

These three dietitians will be counselors for those in this area who enroll in the course. Students planning to enroll in the course should contact Mrs. Ware in Borger or Mrs. Hayter in Pampa. The applications must be sent to Dr. Joan Coleman, Dumas, area coordinator, by Oct. 10, Mrs. Hayter said. "Students have to be in hospital or nursing home food service now. This course is intended primarily for those who have charge of a kitchen, but have no formal training," she said.

"In this 12-month course students learn basics of nutrition and modified diets, menu planning, food purchase, and service, sanitation and safety techniques, techniques of supervision, work improvement and record keeping," she said. During the course, the student completes 18 lessons. The student spends a minimum of one hour on each lesson with the counselor. A two-day workshop or lab session is planned during the year to teach with visual aids, demonstrations and lectures.

The course qualifies students as food service supervisors. To qualify as a dietitian, a student must have a bachelor's degree with major in foods and nutrition and to qualify according to Medicare rules, must also have membership in the American Dietetic Association, Mrs. Hayter said.

GIRLISH—Frilly white lace adds a feminine flourish to this no-iron cotton print dress with fashionable torso styling and ruffled flounce skirt. Designed by Della Junior Petties of California, it's stylish wear for classroom or extra-curricular activities.

Legion of Hats Please Young Women's Escorts

By HELEN HENNESSY

NEA Women's Editor
NEW YORK — (NEA) — If you know your man, you can adopt the look that will please him most. And if you are so fortunate that your escorts are legion, you can please them all — with little effort on your part.

With a flick of the hairbrush, artful application of make-up and a wardrobe of hats, any young woman can play every role from ingenue to sophisticate.

A pony tail (if you don't have long hair, you can buy it), a roller-brim hat or a sailor, teamed with natural foundation, light pink lipstick, just a touch of eyebrow pencil and mascara will give you the dewy-eyed look of innocence that will capture a man's heart.

For romantic elegance, go a bit heavier on the eye make-up. Use a deeper lipstick, still in the rose tone, brush your hair high on your head and top off the whole look with a ripple-brim straw, perhaps boasting clusters of flowers.

For a sophisticated look, you'll need to spend a bit more time at the dressing table. Apply a smooth matte-finish make-up and a daring, bright-colored mouth. Isn't it nice that bright lipstick is back so that we don't have to look anemic unless we want to?

Next, brush your hair into a shining, sleek, turned-under coiffure that you can set the night before in less than 10 minutes, using large rollers. Now get to work with eye pencil, shadow, eyeliner on upper and lower lids and a pair or two of false lashes. Add the final perky touch of an off-the-face beret, a dash of color with a jauntily tied scarf and you've done the trick.

Hats play an important role in the game. And this season you can find one to suit your every mood. Fashions from the glamor years are back — the beret, the cloche, the sailor, the skimmer, the breton, the boater, the portrait-brim. Even the flower hat blooms once more. Straws, both smooth and textured, get top billing.

The old story that every time a woman was in a blue mood she bought a hat to bolster her morale may well become current once more. For the hat is measuring up to its regained importance. It has been discovered that it is the greatest asset, the key that opens the door to the many faces of Eve.

The importance of the no-bra look was especially obvious at Paris salons which continued to push their models into stiff, lace-covered corsets that disrupted the bustline of soft, clinging crepes and jerseys. Even firm bustlines need support for some of the new fitted bodices, but they need it with the most natural, undecorated bra possible.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Wallace Drive Gaining

We've had some reservations about George Wallace, the maverick Alabamian who is running for President under the banner of the American Independent Party. But, one thing sure, he has both the Democrats and Republicans shaking in their boots.

The polls, for whatever they are worth, all show that the former Alabama governor is making large gains in strength at the expense of both parties. One poll even indicated that Wallace would finish ahead of Hubert Horatio Humphrey, the Democrat-Farmer-Labor candidate from Minnesota, who seems to be faltering in his efforts to break loose from the apron strings of Lyndon Johnson.

One of our readers, after a recent trip to Democratic strongholds remarked on seeing a high percentage of Wallace bumper stickers on the road—more than for either of the other leading candidates and more even than there were for Sen. McCarthy, whose supporters still bravely show their favorite's name.

A number of individuals said that they saw little difference between Nixon and Humphrey and that they were seriously considering voting for the third-party candidate. Apparently there are as many or more Democrats as Republicans who are planning to switch.

As of this writing, it does not appear that Wallace will be likely to win the big political plum. But some of the folks are speculating on what would happen if...

For one thing, regardless of whether Republicans or Democrats got control of the House of Representatives, Wallace would be faced with a somewhat hostile Congress. If he were elected. And some folks who have found the one-party control of the legislative, executive and judicial branches detrimental to the welfare of the people, are speculating that perhaps the country would be better off if a schism between the President and Congress were to block any new legislative controls. It would be interesting to say the least.

But we suspect the election will go to either Nixon or Humphrey. Too many people are convinced that they would be wasting their ballot if they were to vote for the third-party representative.

However, Wallace's long time hammering at disorder and bureaucratic controls has had a tempering effect on the speeches by Nixon and Humphrey, particularly Nixon. In that respect, the Wallace candidacy is having its effect.

Dan Smoot, the "constitutional conservative," has this comment about the Wallace candidacy:

"If George Wallace gets enough votes to shake the eye teeth (as he says) of the Democrat and Republican parties, he will create a new political force which could come to represent, truly and fundamentally, those Americans who want to save their Republic by re-establishing limited constitutional government."

Aside from the fact that we think "limited government" is an impossibility, we do believe there is a possibility that the Wallace candidacy can shake up both parties and perhaps start reversing the trend toward ever more governmental controls of the life of the people.

Probing Reality

Geologists take the long view of things. If they didn't, there wouldn't be any geology.

So they think of the earth in terms of millions of years and explain how the planet came to be as it is through processes which take much too long for humans to watch.

One of the processes is the kind of thing which we creatures call earthquakes.

If one could watch the earth through the lens of a time-lapse camera located somewhere out in space and taking one frame or a motion picture every hour for a century, we'd see things as geologists think of them.

The earth would be seen constantly wrinkling its crust and forever changing.

If it were not so, the earth would eventually become quite dead, for the wrinkling is one of the ways the earth adjusts, rearranging the stuff of which it is made to keep its equilibrium. Quakes occur because they must; they are a part of the physical nature of the planet.

How much of it does there have to be? Well, there are 9,000 every year which are important enough to be reported. That figures out to more than one every hour.

Very few of them attract any particular attention, so light are they, or so removed from people.

Still quakes take about 15,000 lives every year. When one of the big quakes occurs, like that in Iran which killed some 11,000 persons, it is terrifying to experience and horrifying to hear about.

And one suspects that even geologists find it difficult really to believe that earthquakes are a good and necessary thing.

Earthquakes will be with us always. And there is no place on the planet where the possibility of an occurrence does not exist.

But that doesn't mean people, small, weak, and short-lived as they are, must consider themselves helpless, in danger of destruction by forces which take no care or account of them.

There is a great deal which can be done to render quakes less destructive to life and property, as has been demonstrated dramatically in many places.

Architecture and engineering have achieved much and can achieve a great deal more in minimizing the effects of bad quakes on people.

It is so because, though architecture and engineering are tiny in scale and duration, they rest on reality which, like the earthquakes, is part of nature.

Another (natural) truth is the fact that each individual controls his own energy; therefore, any concept or process founded on the premise that some men will control the energy of other men is bound to generate conflict and end in failure.

Egoism Forms Vary

Pope Paul VI chided Catholics the other day for allowing selfishness to exaggerate the burdens of having a large family. He warned against the danger of "egoism, of indifference, of crisis that seems to paralyze like a chill so many married couples."

The pope's use of the "egoism" is interesting in light of his recent visit to South America. According to population experts, who get another kind of chill when they think about it, runaway population growth is especially severe in that part of the world.

But the main obstacle to birth control there, the demographers claim, is not the church but the egoism of the Latin male who believes he must father a string of children to prove his virility.

CAPITOL EYE

Protestors Beginning To 'Get To' HH

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

Washington Correspondent SPRINGFIELD, ILL. (NEA) Vice President Humphrey on the campaign trail lives each day for a little while in the crucible of hate. No presidential candidate in memory ever has been subjected to such consuming ugliness as he encounters in the relentless chants of the "antiwar" radicals.

At Boston, when he found the disruptive protestors crammed together almost at his feet in a narrow downtown street, he reacted with a cold fury that he somehow kept under leash but which stayed with him through a long day that carried him 1,300 miles westward to Sioux Falls, S.D.

Looking hard and grim-faced, he addressed his young student tormentors in Boston as he was concluding a 15-minute talk they had tried to drown out with obscenity and invective and insult.

"I want it said, of Hubert Humphrey that in an important and tough moment of his life he stood by what he believed and he was not shouted down."

By evening in his native South Dakota, speaking of farm policy to a far friendlier and better-mannered audience, the vice president could not smile even as he offered his listeners typical morsels of his accomplished platform humor.

Not only at Boston but at Philadelphia, at Denver, at Flint Mich., at Buffalo and other cities along his trail, he has endured the blazing, unreasoning fury of protest that really is meant for another man—President Lyndon B. Johnson.

While the President who touched off this terrible firestorm sits in the cool, protected isolation of noncandidacy, Humphrey moves daily to the leading edge of ugly confrontation contorted with rage and hate.

No one who has not heard at first-hand the thundering, unbroken, hoarse-voiced chant of these protestors can really imagine what it is like. It is a disheartening sound, foreign to all purpose of good will, disruptive of the spirit of human accommodation, the vocalizing of a strange and frightening mood of revenge against almost the whole of this country's established society.

In a bare two weeks of exposure to this scalding ugliness, the vice president has been deeply affected. The burn marks are upon him, and they almost surely will be etched further into his sensitive flesh as the confrontation chants continue.

To deal with the phenomenon he is trying almost everything he can think of. He appeals to his tormentors to turn away from violence and unreason. He begs them to channel their fury into constructive paths. These things failing, he lectures them in schoolmasterish tone, or, finally, blurs out his disgust and his contempt for their efforts to shatter public debate and the normal processes of democracy.

At moments the din of protest is so loud and so engulfing that Humphrey's attempts to talk of the issues or to direct the voters' attention to the alleged shortcomings of his rival, Richard Nixon, seem pathetically irrelevant.

It is almost as if a university professor stood up in the stands at a football game and sought to deliver his standard biology lecture while the students were shouting: "We're No. 11 We're No. 11!"

Whatever Humphrey's record and qualifications for the presidency, whatever the strategic difficulties which plague him in his uphill struggle for the office, the recurring image of him as he moves from platform to platform is of a man menaced by an angry tidal wave from which he cannot retreat into safety.

Escape Artist?

A LOOK AT THE BOOK

By DR. BOB JONES

Some people do not want to be told the truth. There is many a mother who does not want to be told the truth about her child. Her son is a neighborhood nuisance, a cheat and a liar; but you could not get her to believe it. "He is a good little darling, and so badly misunderstood," she will say.

There are some people who do not want the truth about their talents. I once knew a woman who thought she had great gifts as a singer and that she possessed a marvelous voice. She sang off key and her voice was most unpleasant, but no one—not even her vocal teacher—could make her believe it. She thought she was a great singer, and she would not listen to anyone who tried to tell her the truth about how bad a singer she was.

There are people who will not believe the truth about their physical condition. Their physicians recognize serious sympoms and warn them that they must take care of themselves, but they will not believe the doctors or follow their advice.

But there are infinitely more people who will not believe the truth about their spiritual condition. Men do not like to admit that they are sinners or that they need a Saviour. Full of self-righteousness, they refuse to accept the truth of God's Word when it says, "All have sinned, and come short of the glory of God" (Romans 3:23). They are quite satisfied with their own spiritual condition and don't welcome the diagnosis of Almighty God.

How sad that men prefer falsehood to fact, that they welcome wrong and reject right, that they turn from truth to error. How melancholy the condition of those who change the truth of God into a lie (Romans 1:25). The Lord Jesus came to the Jews proclaiming His deity, announcing His Messiahship. They rejected His claims and refused to accept Him. He told them the truth about Himself and the truth about themselves, and they did not believe either. "Because I tell you the truth, ye believe me not" (John 8:45) He said.

When we recognize the truth of His deity, we must also acknowledge our own sinfulness. If He is as He claimed to be, the Truth, we must believe Him when He says, "Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God" (John 3:3).

Branch Head Bill Says:

by PULL KENNEDY

By BILL KENNEDY WITH THE WALLACE CAMPAIGN—They don't talk about a hang-up in the Electoral College! They don't talk about throwing it into the House of Representatives! They don't talk about coming in second. They just talk about winning an election!

They DO talk about opinion polls, which they opine are "trying to save Hubert Humphrey's neck," although they agree that the polls are right in that they show Humphrey running THIRD—inssofar as delegate votes now in the pocket of one candidate or another. And they talk about the press with a conviction that "the press is blind."

The press itself—including some 50-odd reporters traveling with Wallace—counters with charges that "Wallace always gives the same speech." And every time the reporters here start to believe their eyes, they get their own papers and read the editorial and national columnists—or see their own TV network broadcasts—and their lack of faith is renewed. They start looking for ways to keep from being "brainwashed" by this bunch of enthusiasts and crowds that greet them. (There was a capacity crowd at the Municipal Auditorium in Dallas, a hall neither other party would dare rent.)

Any writer who has the sense to mark the wisdom of his local editor back home just knows that this cannot be so (few big newspapers support GCW). No country boy from the backward, Deep South State of Alabama can go out into the country and talk the language of Eastern middle classes, Midwestern cops, rough and tumble Westerners and the same parthenoid of the Far West! It can't happen in this sophisticated age of the leading Free World nation. Why, anybody could tell you as far back as a year ago that unless you come from one of the "seg" states persecuted by the Federal Government you were smart enough to see that all is just one big giggle, a laugh up your sleeve, a giant joke!

It's no joke now, neighbor! Not to the Smart Alec news writers like Ralph McGill who are helping Labor Union officials smear Wallace; not to Richard Nixon (whom the polls show as leading but slipping); not to Hubert Bird, running third in the latest polls. And certainly not to George Wallace, the big "Little Governor," who has been serious about it all along and who started this voter revolution.

The leftwing columnists who were once sagely advising the two old party candidates to ignore the winds from the conservative right—blowing first from out of the South, then from all directions—and to rest assured that it would all blow over are now frantically calling for the two liberal candidates (Nixon and Humphrey) to roll out their big guns and "do something" about Wallace.

It may be too late for HHH. Unless he finds a mighty fancy jumping rabbit to pull out of his campaign hat, he looks like a dead duck (be it recorded here that we are speaking STRICTLY about a POLITICAL demise). Every time Hubert opens his mouth he seems to put his foot in it. And if HE misstep, Lyndon puts a Texas boot in it instead.

HHH may learn too late that registered Democrats can still outvote the Party Machinery if provoked enough. And that Labor Union members will go against the Union bosses in a secret ballot if they have the right incentive.

Straight Talk

By TOM ANDERSON

IS IT FEAR OR FRIENDSHIP?

Have you wondered why our government has wasted 26,000 American lives, 10,000 miles away in a jungle war we have never intended to win, defending a people who lack the will to defend themselves? And why we have done absolutely nothing to help the people of Czechoslovakia defend themselves? The answer is the same. Our main enemy in Vietnam, as well as in Czechoslovakia and the world, is Russia. We do not oppose that enemy because a large segment of our government, of our press and networks, of our schools and churches, and of big labor and big business is for that enemy.

We have yet to win any war against the Communists. Treason is the reason. I am not advocating war with Russia. But we could break diplomatic relations with Russia! We could stop trade with Russia and aid to Russia and her co-criminals. Notice how the so-called "liberals" are either silent or excuse the criminal Russian leaders for invading Czechoslovakia. Notice how TV and Hollywood are still fighting Nazis, not Communists. The answer is that the networks are infiltrated by Communists and Hollywood is virtually owned by Communists.

Remember the articles in Life, The Saturday Evening Post, Time, Newsweek, etc., which have been telling you for years how Russian Communism is mellowing. Incidentally, have you ever read an anti-Communist article in those magazines? Wonder why? Are our political leaders and our thought leaders afraid of Russia—or is it because they really like Russia?

The "liberal" Nashville Tennessean newspaper gives the Russian Communists a typical wrist-slapping for invading Czechoslovakia. This newspaper even goes so far as to refer to "the Kremlin Hawks."

Get it? The killers of the Kremlin are thus equated with Americans who are for preventing the Vietcong from taking South Vietnam.

Many so-called "doves" on Vietnam want the U.N. to invade South Africa and Rhodesia. Wonder why? Many of these same people were doves when Stalin and Hitler were dividing up Europe for themselves, but quickly became warmongers when Hitler attacked Stalin. Many of the so-called "liberals," in short, have never, anywhere, anytime, been anti-Communist.

Remember back in 1956 when the Russians overran Hungary just as they did in Czechoslovakia? The Hungarian "freedom fighters" were run down in the streets by Russian tanks—men, women and children squashed like ants by the criminal Russian invaders. And we did nothing.

Can you imagine what our leaders would do if Rhodesia or South Africa invaded a neighboring nation? Can you imagine the outcry from our so-called "liberals"? To the "liberal," the breed of the dog determines the ash of the bite.

A former head of the Communist International has said: "We must always remember that one sympathizer is worth more than a dozen Communists. A university professor or writer who defends or lends himself to the interest of the Soviet Union is worth more than a thousand party members."

J. Edgar Hoover has warned: "Our danger from actual Communist agents is far surpassed by the danger from vast numbers of American pseudo-liberals who carry the ball for the Communists on every play."

Not all "liberals" are Communist. They're cheating the Communists out of their dues. But "liberals" are notorious cheats and phonies.

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK J. MARKEY

The role of a Congressman is that of a bridge between his people and the government, so each day his mail contains many various requests for assistance and advice. It concerns such matters as Social Security, farm problems, military matters, veterans, retirements and other numerous questions. While no Congressman can wave a magic wand and bring about all that a constituent desires, still the importance of his office can place emphasis on a request with the right agency or government department.

At the National Notion Show in New York we found that Fall styles dictate a tremendous predominance of buttons to accent vests, blouses, jackets and belted coats. This season with grays, camels, golds and greens so big in tweeds, plaids or solid fabrics, look for gold or metallic buttons to accent garments. Rhinestones and glitter art-crafted buttons will dress-up cocktail clothes in shimmering satins and crepes. Of the 28,000 books published last year, only 3,000 were fiction. The top-10 best-selling hardcover books of fact sold about 1,700,000 copies.

Thoughts while shaving: Ever hear of a piranha? Well, it's a species of fish that when swimming in schools of thousands can reduce a man to a skeleton in a few minutes. They're probably more deadly than the shark. A sick or injured piranha is never found because it is quickly eaten by other members of its species. We learned all this in a visit to the National Aquarium in Washington, D.C., one of the few places where the species are exhibited. Incidentally, it's the oldest aquarium in the U.S. It's estimated that the 16 million visitors to New York, the Fun City, spent $1.45 billion last year seeing the sights. We hope most of them didn't get mugged doing it. George Gershwin's own favorite composition was "The Man I Love." He included it in the score of "Lady Be Good," a 1924 hit show, but it was pulled out before the show reached Broadway. Six years later he inserted it in "Strike Up The Band," and again it flopped. However, while that show was running on Broadway the song gained popularity on its own and has remained a standard ever since. John Harvard had a college named for him after bequeathing $2000 at today's prices and 300 volumes from his library to found a higher educational institution at Cambridge. It was one of history's all-time bargains in gaining enduring fame for John. The Harrisburg, (Pa.) PATRIOT reported in a story: "Rain has fallen here on July 20 for 70 of the last 60 years." Don't be so modest. That's a world's record.

Country Editor Speaking: "The first thing most adults learn in those adult education classes is not to leave their report cards around the house where the kids can see them."

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Capt. Charles S. Boycott's name is remembered not for anything he did but for what the Irish people did to him, the World Almanac says. As an English rent collector in Ireland in 1880, Boycott evicted tenants. In reply, farmers and servants would not work for him, tradesmen would not sell to him, neighbors ostracized him. As we would say today, he was "boycotted."

RICHARD WIDMARK HENRY FONDA JINGER STEVENS

Harris Digs 007 After Mine Meeting

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — This was the big scene, the final confrontation between Sean Connery and Richard Harris in "The Molly Maguires."

The film is the story—mostly true—about the Irish coal miners' rebellion in Pennsylvania in the 1870s. Connery plays the leader of the rebels and Harris is the Irish detective who infiltrated their ranks.

Now it was all over and the two men talked together in a jail cell. On the Paramount sound stage, they had recreated a cell in Mauch Chunk, PA. (which has since been renamed Jim Thorpe) and Connery and Harris sat on two cots in the cell.

"I'm going to shoot the hell out of this scene," said producer-director Martin Ritt, and he proceeded to do just that.

It was a tough scene—four minutes of solid dialogue—and Ritt shot it from several angles. Harris and Connery patiently went through it all, over and over.

One of the surprises on this picture—much of it shot on location in Pennsylvania—was the rapport established between the two stars. Some people had expected fireworks between the ebullient extrovert, Connery, and the brooding introvert, Harris. But the only thing which developed was a great respect and friendship between the two.

"He's a fine actor," said Harris, referring to his costar, "and a fine man with a wonderful sense of humor."

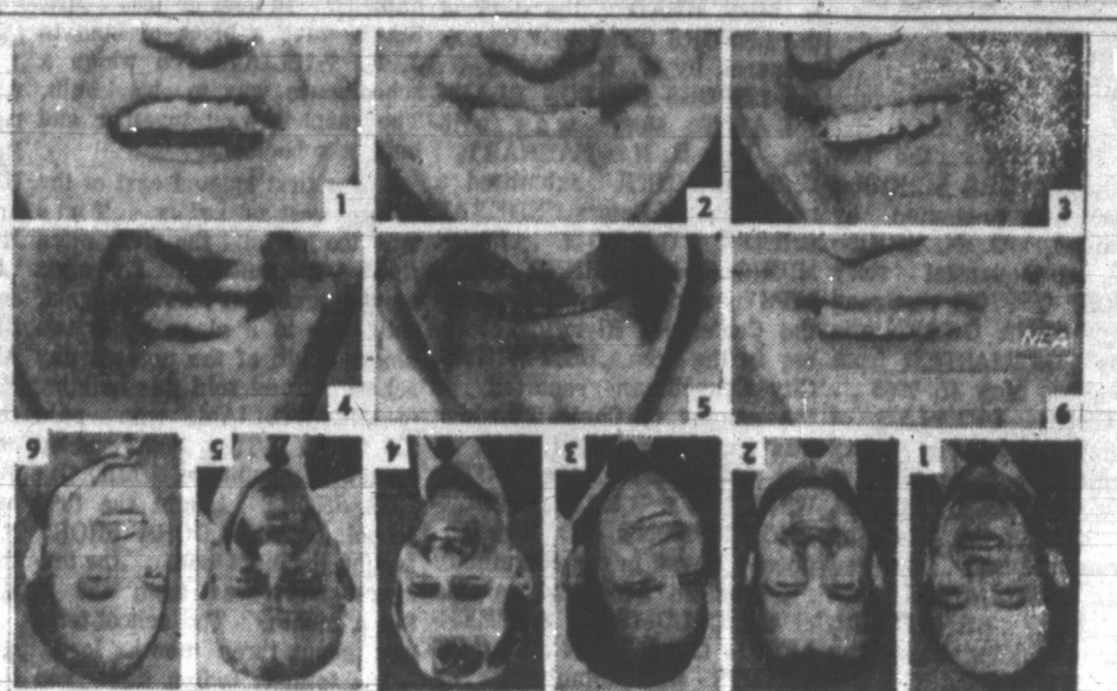

"I've enjoyed working with Richard," said Connery. "And I've enjoyed doing the picture. I always enjoy having a good script."

Both felt that "The Molly Maguires" was one of the most difficult films they had ever done. For weeks, they labored with black soot on their faces, dirt and uncomfortable.

"This was the toughest picture I've ever done," Harris said. "But it was also the first picture I've done where there was no clash of temperament at all."

POLLUTION SOLUTION brings a laugh from these Japanese girls. The label on the can describes the contents as polluted air from Tokyo. The items sells for about 33 U.S. cents and is being offered as a souvenir for visitors from the country who want a taste of city life.

POLITICIAN'S SMILE is one of his chief assets in the quest for votes. Can you identify which of these belongs to President Lyndon B. Johnson, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, George C. Wallace, Richard M. Nixon, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie and Gov. Spiro T. Agnew? To check your answers, turn page upside down and see full-face photos of political leaders.

In some ways, this is a unique picture. The script, by Walter Bernstein, is an original. Generally, Hollywood studios won't spend too much money on original scripts, saving their biggest budgets for films from pre-sold hit plays or best-selling novels, but there was an $8 million budget for this one.

A quarter of a million dollars alone went to build the mine set. It would be technically impossible to shoot in a real mine—to get the cables down below for the generators can't be done so they had to build one.

It was an engineering masterpiece. Walk a few feet inside it and you are overwhelmed by the claustrophobic atmosphere of a mine. Dim lights illuminate the black coal-plastic, with real coal only where the movie miners had to chop at it—and the tracks for the coal cars snake away into a believable distance.

The contrast between Harris and Connery can best be illustrated by their extracurricular activities while shooting.

"I've been working too hard," Richard said. "I've been cutting another album of Jim Webb songs. And getting ready to shoot my next picture, 'A Man Called Horse,' in Mexico. And preparing my 'Hamlet,' which I'll do with Faye Dunaway."

"I have no definite plans after this," Connery said. "I can't think of anything else while I'm shooting—especially doing a film like this, which is so strenuous. I do have a comedy—a little souffe of a comedy—but I can't think about it now."

Then they went back to work, as Marty Ritt prepared to shoot a little more hell out of their big scene.

Prairie Trails & Pioneer Tales

By TRACY D. CARY
Chairman, Gray County Historical Survey Committee — Box 676

LEFORS HISTORY NITE It was LEFORS HISTORY NITE last Saturday (Sept. 28th) when a very enthusiastic group of early day citizens of Gray County's senior community assembled at the Civic Center there to hear the area's history retold and to view a large collection of rare pictures and documents. MR. & MRS. LUTHER E. WELBORN were hosts for the meeting and MRS. WELBORN deserves a rising vote of thanks for the many hours she spent in telephoning and contacting key persons who could provide information on the various churches, schools, civic groups and institutions.

MRS. ALICE SHORT SMITH and I officially represented the GRAY COUNTY HISTORICAL SURVEY COMMITTEE, and MRS. SMITH presented a history of Lefors first church and school. A member of the pioneer J. C. SHORT FAMILY, ALICE SMITH, also brought along a number of rare pictures including one of the celebration at the dedication of the Court House in 1902. . . W. R.

COMBS presented the history of the FIRST METHODIST CHURCH and related his experiences when he came to Lefors as a young man in 1912. . . MAYOR CARL WALL gave the history of the Civic Government and stated that Lefors was once known as the smallest county seat in Texas. . . and it was the only town in Gray County to have the distinction of having oil wells right in the city limits only a block from the business area. LEFORS was the first COUNTY SEAT, this being changed by the election of May 2, 1928 moving it to Pampa. . . the city of LEFORS was incorporated in 1928 with JACK BARNETT as Mayor and GEORGE THUT, one of the two first commissioners. . . BARNETT soon moved away and W. R. COMBS was appointed Mayor to finish his term of office.

A very interesting report of the FIRE DEPARTMENT was presented by P. F. BLANKENBURG. . . the story of the LEFORS CHURCH OF CHRIST was reviewed by the pastor, JAMES BRYANT. . . the history of the LEFORS SCHOOLS since 1936 was presented by the Principal, G. N. MOUNGER. . . a sequential story of the POST OFFICE was read by MRS. VOLNA OGDEN who served as POSTMASTER from April 1945 to May 31, 1965. . . MRS. HERB PEEPLES of Pampa had prepared a history of the postoffice from 1892 to April 1945 and MRS. NORMA MCBEER brought the story up to the present time. . . she had served as POSTMASTER since June 1, 1965. BEN DIEHL gave the concluding report on the CITY PARK.

An excellent report on the history of SCOUTING in Lefors was prepared by WALTER ELIOTT. MRS. ELDON CARTER, and ALMA CUMBERLEDGE; the history of the NEWSPAPERS which Lefors has had — (the first issue of the LEFORS NEWS was printed Thursday, Sept. 25, 1930 by C. C. WOFFORD, who called it the successor to the ALAN REED HERALD. . . THE LEFORS PROGRESS began in April 1961 with MRS. BETTYE READ serving as present editor. . . this data was assembled by MRS. CHARLES ROBERTS. MRS. VOLNA OGDEN & MRS. READ. the story of the LEFORS CEMETERY was prepared by W. R. COMBS. . . the LEFORS CARBON BLACK PLANT story was written by C. H. EARHART. . . C. A. HAMNER submitted a report on the Lefors FEDERAL CREDIT UNION. . . KNOX NICHOLS & WARNER PHILLIPS provided information on the Centennial Historical Markers in the area. BEN WHITE, City Councilman reported on the coming of Cable TV which was completed July 1, 1968. . . It was first located east of the bridge west of Lefors. This was too low and the river often flooded the building. It was moved and then moved again, this time to a place about two blocks south of the present day school. They sold this building to MR. WILLIAMS who paid $25 for it. They then erected a new schoolhouse. MR. CYRUS SHORT taught the first school. MISS DORA SHORT taught the next one. . . the teachers salary was from $25 to $40 a month. The school term was about three months long. The famous Indian fight you have heard so much about occurred about 1878. The soldiers from FORT ELLIOTT found the Indian camp between Cabin and Round Timber Creeks east of Lefors, on a flat near the River. . . south of the Saunders headquarters. These Indians belonged on the Reservation in Oklahoma, but they didn't want to stay there. The soldiers had orders to take the captured women and children back to the reservation in Oklahoma. . .

one Indian boy jumped on one of the soldier's horses and escaped, even though they were shooting at him. He was never heard from again.

Some of the ranches around Lefors were (and are) J. C. SHORT Ranch, J. M. WHITE Ranch, G. H. SAUNDERS Ranch, MEL B. DAVIS Ranch, the CHAPMAN Ranch, HENRY THUT properties around Lefors, A. B. McCAFEE Estate, and the J. E. WILLIAMS Ranch. In the county seat election on May 27, 1902, LEFORS received 35 votes, ALAN REED one vote, and PAMPA didn't get any. If you think, as we did, that this excellent paper compiled by a Junior High Student deserved an A-plus, then you are right. It did receive one, and our thanks to SHIRLEY for lending it.

No resume of Lefors history would be complete without mentioning the contribution made to the community by Mayor W. C. BRIENING who served from March 9, 1936 to April 8, 1940. . . during his administration a bond issue was voted and the water and sewer works were added to the community's facilities. . . MR. & MRS. BEN WHITE have compiled the more recent civic projects initiated by the OPTIMIST & the OPTI-MRS. CLUBS. . . one of the finest stories of the oil boom days has been compiled by FRED BLACKWELL entitled "FORTY YEARS OF LEFORS". . . the closing of some of the plants near Lefors has decreased the population from what it was in earlier days, but there has been no lessening of the civic mind and spirit of these sturdy folk and after all, that is the salt that leavens this whole wonderful country of ours and gives courage for any situation. . . LEFORIANS, WE SALUTE YOU!

When the Soviets sent their tanks rolling across the boundaries of Czechoslovakia they may not have foreseen it would effect a sudden relaxation of tensions between Yugoslavia and Albania, Yugoslavia and Greece, Austria and Italy in the face of a new and unexpected threat.

And it may be that they also did not expect that lasting resentment against the invasion would find Italian and French Communists in sudden agreement with Red China and in a position to block the November summit conference which was to re-establish Moscow's position as leader of world communism.

Nor have harsh measures at home been able to still the voices of increasing numbers of writers, painters, scientists who risk imprisonment or worse to protest the stifling hand of the ideologists.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

In the closing weeks before Soviet troops invaded Czechoslovakia, Moscow's Communist party newspaper Pravda already was warning Soviet citizens they could expect neither the new freedoms enjoyed so shortly by the Czechs nor a relaxation of party control.

Within the East European bloc it was a noteworthy admission that even after 50 years of Communist rule, the Kremlin leaders had been unable to assure themselves popular support at home.

It further illustrated the fear that the spirit of independence demonstrated by the Czechs could spread across neighboring borders.

In the spectrum of world politics, it provided sharp contrast to the United States where the right of dissent has enabled those opposed to the draft, the war in Vietnam, or even local administrations in charge of educational policies, to carry their opposition to violent extremes.

When the Soviets sent their tanks rolling across the boundaries of Czechoslovakia they may not have foreseen it would effect a sudden relaxation of tensions between Yugoslavia and Albania, Yugoslavia and Greece, Austria and Italy in the face of a new and unexpected threat.

We wish to thank our neighbors, friends, and anyone who in any way acted in love and sympathy during the recent loss of our beloved Mother and Grandmother, to Rev. John Walker and Rev. O. E. ## Bill Provides Opportunities for the Retired

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House approved and sent to the Senate last week a compromise bill to authorize a new program of grants for projects providing opportunities for retired persons over 60 to serve useful roles.

The projects would include child care, hospital work, and service to needy elderly persons.

Television In Review

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The Detroit Tigers showed in Thursday's NBC-TV telecast of the World Series how to revitalize fan interest in baseball.

In contrast to the season-long diet of low-scoring punchless games, the American League champions walloped baseballs all over the lot. They can hit, as everybody knew, and their three home runs — which helped square the series with St. Louis at a game apiece — were a big kick to the impartial viewer, not to mention Detroit fans.

The 1968 baseball classic is shaping up as a fine video attraction. Bob Gibson, the spirit of St. Louis, turned in a corking pitching performance in the opener. And Detroit showed plenty of spunk in bouncing back in Thursday's contest.

What was really remarkable that Detroit succeeded in doing to the polished, classy St. Louis team — the world champions — what few teams have been able to do: they made them look bad. And that is the one thing baseball aficionados don't expect of St. Louis.

As awkward, clumsy and heavy-handed Detroit looked in Wednesday's opener, that is how St. Louis appeared Thursday. Now the series moves to Detroit, with day games scheduled there for Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

As often happens in the World Series, an unsung hero earns the spotlight. And for television, there was no doubt that the sleeper of the baseball showdown was the Tiger pitcher, Mickey Lolich, a well-regarded, cherub-faced athlete who not only hurled exceptionally, but also hit the first home run of his career.

All of the Tigers seemed to be at the top of their game, but to longtime baseball fans there was a particular satisfaction in about Thursday's game was watching the veteran outfield great, Al Kaline, go about his work beautifully and effortlessly. It is his first series, and to watch on television as he gracefully made a difficult catch and then picked up his share of hits was, alone, worth tuning in for.
