Soviets Warn Of Measures To Control West German 'Nazism'

Russian Space Vehicle Makes 'Fly-By' Of Moon

JODRELL BANK, England (UPI)—An unmanned Russian space vehicle passed within 1,000 miles of the moon today and headed earthward in a Soviet step toward launching a man around the moon and bringing him back, scientists said.

They reported the spacecraft apparently did not encircle the moon before falling toward earth. No nation has yet sent a vehicle around the moon and brought it back safely.

Heinz Kaminski, head of the West German satellite tracking and space research station at Bochum, disputed the findings of the British scientists and said he believed Zond 5 went around the moon.

Observers at the Jodrell Bank Observatory said the vehicle was big enough to carry a man and capable of sending radio and television transmissions back to earth.

U.S. plans call for three astronauts to orbit the moon sometime around Christmas.

Scientists said the vehicle was probably Zond 5, fired Sunday from a Russian launching pad. They predicted it would fall to earth Friday in a critical reentry phase. There was no evidence the vehicle orbited the moon.

The Soviets maintained a strict silence on the Jodrell report. They said that Zond 5 was an "automatic space station" that zoomed toward the moon Sunday from a "parking orbit" around earth. All equipment was reported operating normally.

If Jodrell Bank is correct, the Zond 5 would apparently be a successful duplicate of the Zond 4 flight which Western scientists said crashed on its return to earth. The Soviets said nothing about it.

US Is Reassuring Its NATO Allies

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States is using both diplomatic and military gestures to reassure its NATO allies—especially Germany—in the wake of the Soviet-bloc invasion of Czechoslovakia.

The latest of these came Tuesday when: —The State Department issued a special statement saying that any invasion of West Germany would bring "an immediate allied response" under the North Atlantic Treaty.

—The Pentagon said that about 12,000 combat troops and airmen might be sent to Europe ahead of schedule to take part in NATO maneuvers next year, and that the timetable for the war games also might be moved up.

There was no immediate official explanation as to why the State Department issued its statement at this particular time, or why the troop movement might be expedited.

However, the Bonn government has officially conveyed to President Johnson its fears that the Soviet Union or its Warsaw Pact allies might try to intervene militarily in its

Potsdam Agreement, UN 'Rights' Are Cited

By EDWARD J. SHIELDS
MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union warned today it was ready to take "the necessary effective measures to curb the dangerous activities of neo-nazism and militarism" in West Germany.

The warning was contained in a commentary in the Communist party newspaper Pravda and did not mention the word "invasion." Russia has at least 20 army divisions poised along the West German border.

(The U.S. State Department, Britain and France issued special statements Tuesday saying that any invasion of West Germany would bring "an immediate allied response" under the NATO treaty.)

(The Pentagon said about 12,000 combat troops and airmen might be sent to Europe ahead of schedule to take part in NATO maneuvers next year, and that the timetable for the war games also might be moved up.)

Commentator Vladien Kuznetsov said Russia had the right under the United Nations charter and the Potsdam agreements to "prevent the revival of German militarism and Nazism," in West Germany.

"The Soviet Union," he said, "is ready together with other peace-loving states to take, if the need arises, the necessary effective measures to curb the dangerous activities of neo-nazism and militarism" in West Germany.

The Soviets had at least 20 divisions in East Germany before the Aug. 20 invasion of Czechoslovakia. During the occupation of Czechoslovakia, they have added some along the Czechoslovak-West German frontier.

Russia has blamed West Germany for fomenting anti-socialist factions in Czechoslovakia and accused Bonn of supplying the Czechoslovak "counter revolutionaries" with arms, ammunition and advice.

On Sept. 2, an official Soviet note to West German Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger warned him to stop "meddling" in East Europe or "face the consequences."

Under the Potsdam agreement, the Soviet Union claims the right to interfere in any of the old postwar occupation zones of Britain, France or the United States to prevent the revival of "Nazi and militarist activity or propaganda."

Paratroopers Throw Back Commie Attack

By JACK WALSH
SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. paratroopers backed by an awesome display of U.S. artillery and machinegun firepower killed 131 North Vietnamese who attacked a U.S. 25th Division outpost 40 miles northeast of Saigon in a human wave Tuesday, U.S. spokesman reported today.

But the spokesman disclosed the full extent of the disaster which hit a crack battalion of South Vietnamese Rangers 10 miles south of Da Nang Tuesday—37 killed in a surprise attack that sent the Rangers fleeing for their lives, and most of the battalion still missing.

The paratroopers said at one point they leveled some of their own artillery and fire point blank at the attacking North Vietnamese who had killed 37 Americans and wounded 27 in a similar attack nine days ago. The Americans lost four dead and 48 wounded in the latest battle.

The number of rounds fired by the paratroopers was not known—they said the shell casings were stacked so high they could barely swing their guns. Artillery units from nearby U.S. 25th Infantry bases fired 6,620 shells and helicopter gunships poured 200,000 machinegun rounds into the Red force.

The badly mangled South Vietnamese Ranger force was one of two that had killed several hundred North Vietnamese in a series of battles below Da Nang during the past week. But one of the battalions broke and ran when it was hit in the darkness by a surprise attack Tuesday.

Spokesmen said the battalion suffered "heavy casualties" and then reported 37 dead but gave no estimates of the total number wounded or missing. Its sister unit struck back, killing 62 Communists troops while suffering only light casualties.

Four In Area Are Semifinalists In Merit Program

The Pampa area has four seniors who qualify among the 15,000 semifinalists in the 1968-69 National Merit Scholarship Program. Two, Josiah M. Daniel and Sue J. Sanders, are from Pampa.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joe M. Daniel Jr., 1928 Evergreen and Mr. and Mrs. Jere H. Sanders, 2223 N. Nelson.

Other Panhandle area winners are Carolyn B. Patrick, Panhandle High School, and Stephen R. Urban, Perryton High School.

They will compete for about 3,000 Merit Scholarships to be awarded next spring. Pampa High School frequently has had two or three semifinalists in each annual contest. Those last year were Stephen C. Walls and Stanley Cable, Mrs. Gene Fathere, PHS counselor, said.

"They were the highest scorers in their state on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, given last February in 17,500 schools nationwide. The semifinalists constitute less than one per cent of the graduating secondary school seniors in the United States.

Semifinalists must advance to finalist standing to be considered for Merit Scholarships, since all winners will be selected from the finalist group. Semifinalists become finalists by receiving the endorsement of their schools, submitting scores from a second examination, and providing information about their achievements and interests.

Every semifinalist who becomes a finalist will be considered for one of the 1,000 National Merit $1,000 Scholarships, allocated by state. Many will also be considered for the four-year Merit Scholarships provided by 400 corporations, foundations, colleges, unions, trusts, professional associations, (See AREA, Page 3)

Demos To Concentrate On The Election Drive Of Preston Smith

By DAVID ANDERSON
AUSTIN (UPI)—Vice President Hubert Humphrey has the "support, approval and endorsement" of Texas Democrats, but whether he can get their enthusiasm, money and votes remains to be seen.

The State Democratic Convention unanimously endorsed Humphrey and his running mate, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, Tuesday, and delegates responded warmly to appeals for party unity "from the courtroom to the White House."

But Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and the other new party leaders who look over the party Tuesday indicated they will concentrate on electing Smith governor rather than carrying Texas for Humphrey.

Smith made three speeches without ever mentioning Humphrey and made no direct appeal for support of the party's national nominees.

Humphrey, who was not invited to the convention, sent a voice tape in which he said "I ask not only for your support, but for your enthusiasm." He said the 25 Texas electoral votes "may well be decisive."

LBJ Asks Loyalty
President Johnson sent a telegram asking Texas Democrats to "close ranks behind our candidates. I ask you to give the same loyalty to Hubert Humphrey that he has given to the Democratic Party all his life."

Gov. John Connally told the convention he intends to "buckle down and support the Democratic ticket at every level" and he urged others to do the same.

The convention gave Smith undisputed control of the state party organization. Smith's choice for party chairman, Dr. Elmer C. Baum of Austin, was elected unanimously.

Baum, an osteopathic physician who has been a friend of Smith's for 20 years, said "I pledge my energies and abilities toward a stronger, more progressive state party." He said nothing about working for Humphrey.

In the selection of new members of the State Democratic Executive Committee, Smith accepted the choices of the 31 senatorial district caucuses, but was not challenged for control of the SDEC.

Two of the 62 new SDEC members are Negroes. At least six are considered liberals.

PARTY ON TRIAL
At an SDEC meeting after the convention, Smith said "The Democratic party is on trial" (See DEMOS, Page 3)

US Says North Vietnamese Are 'Foredoomed To Failure'

PARIS (UPI)—The United States told North Vietnam today its attempts to "terrorize and coerce the South Vietnamese people" into accepting Communism were foredoomed to failure.

Cyrus R. Vance, deputy U.S. negotiator at the Paris talks with Hanoi, urged North Vietnamese delegate Wui Xuan Thuy to "abandon your intransigence" and open meaningful peace talks.

Vance accused Hanoi of attempting to picture the National Liberation Front (NLF) as the only legal representative of the South Vietnamese population.

Campaign of Violence
"The reality is that the government of North Vietnam is seeking to impose its control by force on the people of South Vietnam in carrying out a campaign of violence.

"You have tried to terrorize and coerce the South Vietnamese people into accepting your political system," the U.S. delegate said at today's 22nd negotiating session of the drawn-out talks.

Vance warned Thuy that efforts by North Vietnam's Lao Dong (Communist party) to ram the flood of Vietnamese nationalism with force will fail.

He told the Hanoi delegation that the best proof of the South Vietnamese people's opposition to Communism was their "courageous and brave" resistance.

Agnew told the delegates his runningmate, Richard Nixon, can win the respect for leadership America needs. He said this leadership will help the nation find lasting peace in the world.

Tosses Few Barbs
The vice presidential candidate took the opportunity to throw a few barbs at Democratic presidential candidate Hubert Humphrey by saying Humphrey had an identification problem.

"Apparently Mr. Humphrey is not comfortable playing the Lone Ranger after playing Tom to for so long," Agnew said.

The delegates also heard from GOP gubernatorial candidate Paul Eggers, who said his opponent, Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, is badly informed and lacks political integrity.

Outlines Program
The law and order issue, a volatile topic in 1968 campaigning and in the state Republican platform, got little mention from Eggers. He told the assembly he has proposed regional training centers for law enforcement. (See GOP, Page 3)

70 Adults Attend Kickoff Of Annual Scout Roundup Here

More than 70 adults working with Scouting in this area crowded into the Boy Scout Service Center last night for the kick-off meeting of the annual Scout Roundup. Keynote speaker, John W. Warner, stressed the importance of adults getting involved with Scouting.

"The boys are interested," he said. "We will have little trouble meeting our membership goals provided we can get enough adults to help with the program."

Warner encouraged unit leaders to get parents working with the units "their boys are in."

"I would rather go hunting with my boy than hunting for him," Warner said. "I would also rather spend a little time now trying to develop his character and personality rather than spend a lot of time later on trying to reform him."

Warner pointed out that less than one boy in a hundred who has had extensive Scout training in our area has faced a court other than a traffic court, while J. Edgar Hoover, the head of the F. B. I., says that 50 per cent of all boys that face the courts. "Let's stack the deck in favor of our boys and get the odds in their favor by offering them the opportunity to have Scout training," Warner challenged.

Woody Crawshaw conducted a training meeting for registration and recruiting procedures for adults working with Cub Scouts. David Holt and Bill Walker worked with the Boy Scout adult leaders, encouraging them to increase their membership goals for the year. Derrell Coffman conducted a roundtable discussion for adults (See ADULTS, Page 3)

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Another television milestone was reached Tuesday night. NBC-TV presented the debut of "Julia," a long-awaited and much-publicized breakthrough series—breakthrough in the sense that it stars a Negro actress, the radiant and talented Diahann Carroll.

In the recent past, of course, Bill Cosby costarred with Robert Culp in NBC-TV's "I Spy," and was a huge personal success. And Sammy Davis Jr., had his own short-lived variety series, on the same network.

But Miss Carroll is the first Negro actress to achieve such full-scale, and central, stardom on a regular weekly network television series.

The half-hour show, created and produced by Hal Kanter, and concurred by NBC succinctly puts it—the "efforts of a beautiful young Negro widow of the Vietnam war to make a new life for herself and her little boy in today's Los Angeles."

She is a registered nurse and lives in an integrated apartment house.

Tough Competition
From a cold commercial viewpoint, "Julia" faces the very tough competition of CBS-TV's Red Skelton, and also must overcome ABC-TV's "It Takes a Thief." But if any show can do it, "Julia" can. The debut, at least, had the feel of a winner. And whereas Skelton's strength is largely in outlying areas, "Julia" should have tremendous appeal in cosmopolitan centers.

The chief purpose of "Julia" is simple: To entertain. It is very low pressure, admirably without a laugh track, and weaves in warmth, bite and a social needle although it is basically a situation comedy. Of course it must deal at times with black-white relationships, but it is not, and does not pretend to be, a social tract.

The main social point about the series is quite obvious in itself—the simple fact that Miss Carroll is starring in it. And in the first episode, as she went about trying to get a job in an aerospace plant health office, this point made itself quite clear, and that was that.

Some Criticisms
It has been suggested by some that "Julia" is not going to give a true representation of Negro life, and that may very well be so. On the other hand, it might be argued that white situation comedies hardly give a true representation of white life in the United States. This may not be anything to cheer about overall, but it seems unfair to expect "Julia" to solve all the world's problems.

It also has been suggested that the fact that the show revolves around a widow is another blow to the image of

Eggers New To Politics Game

By DAVID ANDERSON
AUSTIN (UPI)—When Paul Eggers announced for governor nine months ago, his chances, by his own admission, were "about the same as New Mexico Body and Fender College would have against the Green Bay Packers."

"I knew it was really an uphill battle," Eggers said. "The peak was way up there on the mountain and it looked almost insurmountable."

Compared to Eggers, Spiro T. Agnew was famous.

"Somebody said less than 2,000 people in the state knew me, and I think it was probably true," Eggers said.

"But I had some kind of a childlike faith. I thought there was a good outside chance that I might be able to pull it off."

Eggers' faith has been rewarded by a series of lucky breaks, and some Democrats are beginning to fear that he might just pull it off—defeat Preston Smith and become the first Republican governor of Texas since Reconstruction.

"I'm still behind Smith, but I've come a long way," Eggers said. "I have confidence now that I'm going to win this thing."

Eggers was born 49 years ago in Indiana. His father was a Lutheran minister, a Republican with an avid interest in state and local politics.

Discuss Politics
"Our evening meal was always a long one; we would sit around the table discussing politics."

He stuffed envelopes for Dwight Eisenhower's campaign in 1952, and later met John Tower, then a professor at Midwestern University.

But nearly all of Eggers' first 20 years in Texas were devoted to building his practice as a tax lawyer. "I worked six and seven days a week," he said. "I didn't have time for politics."

By the early 1960's, Eggers' law practice was thriving and he began to have some free time. His friend John Tower had been elected to the U. S. Senate and the Republican renaissance in Texas was underway.

Eggers went to work on a GOP candidate recruitment team, seeking Republicans to run for local and district office. He was asked to run for Congress himself, but "for personal reasons" decided he could not do it.

He was elected Wichita County GOP chairman and headed a Republican Party task force on revenue and fiscal policy.

By January of this year he was well known and respected by party leaders, and when they asked him to run for governor, he was ready.

But the voters had never heard of him. Eggers set out to meet them with five, six, and seven appearances a day.

Then he started getting some breaks. President Johnson, whose ascension to the White House put a five-year damper on Texas Republicanism, announced his retirement.

Then the Democrats nominated Smith, a man not greatly loved by racial minorities, liberals, or followers of Lyndon Johnson and John Connally.

Throughout the spring and summer, the George Wallace movement mushroomed, threatening to break the straight-ticket voting habits of perhaps 500,000 Texas Democrats.

Eggers drops by the Wallace headquarters in each town he visits, explaining that there will be no gubernatorial candidate on Wallace's American Party ticket. "I just tell them 'I'm Paul Eggers, Republican candidate for governor. I want to represent all the people.'"

The national conventions also went well for Eggers. The Republicans nominated Eggers' favorite, Richard Nixon, and the Democratic convention left Texas conservatives unenthusiastic and liberals bitter.

"The time has never been better for a Republican in Texas," said Eggers.

Champion Gives Eggers' View On Appropriations

The conference committee system used by the Texas Legislature is under heavy attack this year, according to Earl Champion of Pampa. Champion is Gray County campaign chairman for Paul Eggers, Republican candidate for governor. Mr. Eggers points out his opponent, Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, is the lone remaining major supporter of an appropriations system that works against the taxpayers. "I hope the voters of this county will understand how the system works and why we are taking issue with Mr. Smith. Under the conference committee system, five members each from the House and Senate form a special compromise group to iron out differences in the appropriations bills passed by their respective houses. "We have no quarrel with this procedure, but we protest vigorously the fact that: (1) This group meets behind closed doors; (2) The group adds millions in special little projects and creates five-figure salary positions that have not been recommended by the governor, the budget board or have come through the regular legislative process; and (3) The remaining 171 legislators are faced with the unreasonable choice of accepting or rejecting the entire appropriations bill which includes not only the extra spending but the appropriations needed to operate our state government. "All the bad features of the system were at work again this summer during the special legislative session. Another badly-inflated appropriations bill was rammed through late in the session. "Governor John Connally vetoed some of the extra spending, but much of it was tied into cleverly-drafted provisions that forced him — along with the majority of legislators — to accept the bill. "This system has been roundly condemned for years, but Mr. Smith fails to respond and refuses to work for reform. We need sound financial planning and businesslike practices in our $2.5 billion-a-year state government. "We're proud of Paul Eggers' determination to work for needed reforms. In this day of inflation and rapidly rising prices, government at all levels must work hard to see that the taxpayers' money is spent wisely," Champion concluded.

Sturgeon Speaks At Dumas Rotary

Ben Sturgeon, Pampa attorney, told the members of the Dumas Rotary Club today during their luncheon meeting at Randy's Restaurant in Dumas that all law-abiding citizens must take an active part in demanding a return to law and order in America if we are to preserve individual freedom. "Students, rioters, and looters, as if in some apparent act of revenge, seek to destroy our country, its economy, and its traditions. They attempt to justify their actions by saying that society has wronged them and owes them a preferred place," Sturgeon asserted. "This is wrong. We must work to give all men equal opportunity, but not to give them guaranteed equal results." Sturgeon represented the Gray County Bar Association as the official delegate to the Resolutions Committee at the State Bar meeting in Houston in July. He is active in Pampa civic affairs, serving on the advisory boards to the Pampa Youth and Community Center, the Salvation Army, his church, and serves on a District Committee of the Boy Scouts. A Rotarian, Sturgeon is a graduate of Pampa High School, T. C. U., and the S.M.U. Lay School. He is married, has two young sons, and served an active tour of duty in the legal department of the U. S. Navy before entering private law practice in Pampa. Sturgeon concluded his speech to the Dumas Rotarians after analyzing the recent rioting and looting in the U.S. cities. "Citizen's protection is a primary concern of yours and mine and we must act now to insure it. We, you and I, can exert a positive influence as long as American ends in — I can."

Demos

(Continued From Page 1) this year and at the national level at this time it seems that it faces serious difficulty. He said he expects Texas Republicans to "try to slide into office in Texas this year because of the general problems on the national and international level. "Do not underestimate the opposition," Smith warned the SDEC members. "We must all work hard." The convention was so harmonious it was almost dull. The vote was unanimous on Humphrey's endorsement, election of new party officers, and adoption of the state party platform. There were no floor fights and no angry speeches. Liberals who walked out of the June state convention in Dallas have formed a new organization of their own, although they say they intend to remain in the Democratic Party. Another group, mostly supporters of Sen. Eugene McCarthy, has formed a new party. Connally and outgoing state chairman Will D. Davis of Austin got vigorous applause when they praised the actions of the Texas delegation to the National Democratic Convention and condemned the Chicago demonstrators and anti-Humphrey forces within the convention. Platform Priority The Democrats' state platform gives top priority to law enforcement, calling on police to move "promptly and firmly" against rioters. "With equal emphasis, we pray, to the encouragement of civil disobedience; to over-permissiveness; to undue tolerance of criminals, rioters, and anarchists; and to the indifferent acceptance of obscenity, immorality and degradation as a new way of life in this country." The document also calls for "government action to relieve the causes of human tensions without waiting for an explosion." The platform also calls for action against air and water pollution, a "reasonable" state minimum wage, sharing of new tax burdens by both business and individuals, and submission of a constitutional amendment on liquor by the drink. The education plank, No. 2 in priority, does not endorse the 10-year plan proposed by the governor's committee on public schools, but urges citizens and officials to consider the report with an open mind. Constitutional revision should be attempted one article at a time "if and when" the present attempt at wholesale revision fails, the platform says.

(Continued From Page 1) a U.S. 25th Division fire support base 40 miles northwest of Saigon, where allied troops have reported killing 366 Communists this week in sweeps designed to crush potential Red buildup for a nationwide third offensive. Reds Charge Outpost The spokesmen said 200 North Vietnamese charged six deep from two separate directions at the outpost in an attack so fierce the paratroopers had to bring down the barrels of long-range artillery and fire directly into the attackers. Other U.S. troops Tuesday discovered the fifth largest Communist munitions cache in the Saigon area since Sunday. It included thousands of bullets, a long-range rocket and high explosives found near Tan Son Nhut Airbase, and was added to more than 50 tons of ammo captured earlier this week. U.S. Marine Brig. Gen. William Chip, 49, suffered a fractured spine when his field command helicopter crashed Tuesday of unknown causes near the Demilitarized Zone between the two Vietnams as he directed his troops in battle. Chip, deputy commander of the 3rd Marine Division, was reported in satisfactory condition today. He narrowly escaped becoming the fifth American and sixth allied general to die in Vietnam. U.S. Army Maj. Gehl Keith L. Ware was killed in a similar helicopter crash during Cambodian border fighting last week.

Fire Prevention Week Scheduled Here Oct. 6-12

Oct. 6-12 has been designated as Fire Prevention Week throughout the nation and locally plans are being made for the observance through the cooperation of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, Pampa Fire Department, Pampa Public Schools and local insurance agencies. Open house at the fire station, poster distribution, fire sirens sounded at noon, and programs in the local schools and in some businesses are scheduled for the observance. Fire Chief Finance E. Dyer and members of the chamber met this morning at the Chamber office to map out plans for the observance and to appoint committee members. Henry Gruber, Warren Fatheree, Lee Fraser and Kirk Duncan were appointed to the publicity committee at this morning's meeting. Poster distribution, fire drills and demonstrations, open house at the fire station and the siren sounds at noon will be handled by the Pampa Fire Department. Paul Payne, principal at Pampa Junior High School, was named chairman of the committee to show films at public schools during the observance, and Mrs. Thelma Bray, will head the service club announcements committee.

Warner Calls For Respect Of Laws

"Strict enforcement of the law causes respect for the law," Corporation Judge John W. Warner told the Pampa Board of Realtors yesterday at their monthly meeting held in the Coronado Inn. "Respect for the law, in turn, leads to voluntary compliance," he said. Warner discussed the probation system he currently uses in Pampa's Corporation Court on alcohol offenses and other criminal violations. "Many of our kids do not realize the effect on their future a criminal record can have," Warner pointed out. "They do not realize that most job applications ask the question, 'Have you ever been convicted of a criminal offense?' Many employers will not hire a person with a criminal record, no matter how slight, he said. Pointing out that not a single teen-ager of the 125 who have served on teen-age juries has come before the Corporation Court on criminal offenses after serving on the jury, Warner said that learning the consequences of a criminal record would prevent many first offenses. O. K. Gaylor introduced the program. H. W. Waters presided over the meeting. In 1938, at least 450 persons were killed in a hurricane that battered the coasts of New England and New York.

Realtor Named To Organization

H. W. Waters, local realtor with offices at 123 E. Kingsmill, has just been accepted as a member of the National Institute of Farm and Land Brokers, its president, Quentin Williams has announced. Members of the Institute must adhere to high ethical standards set up by the Board of Governors of the Institute regarding integrity and experience in the field of buying, selling, managing, appraising, or developing agriculture property for others. As a safeguard to the general public, each member is subject to the standards and discipline of the Institute. The Institute is a part of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and its membership is comprised of over 2,300 Realtors located all over the United States and Canada. LONDON (UPI) — Sunshine and army troops today brought relief to flood-swept southern England. Disaster control officials said the crisis appeared to be ebbing.

Judo Class Begin At Center

The Pampa Youth and Community Center announces the beginning of a Judo Class for men and boys. An orientation class, conducted by Tim Jo, a 2nd degree black belt holder and owner of the Amarillo School of Judo, will be held on Sept. 29 at 3 p.m. Classes will be held on Monday and Thursday nights at 7:30. Persons eight years of age or older may enroll in the class. Fathers and sons are especially invited to participate, according to George Smith, center director.

Indictment Returned Against Pampa Man

WHEELER — A Wheeler County grand jury earlier this week returned an indictment against a 20-year-old Pampa man on charges of rape. Alvin D. Robbins Jr. of 1073 Prairie Drive was indicted on a charge that he raped a 21-year-old Wheeler woman. The rape allegedly occurred early Aug. 24 on a dirt road east of Wheeler. Robbins, who is free on $10,000 bond, is expected to be tried later in 31st Judicial District Court.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Shearson, Hammill & Co. finds the current flow of business news provides "little ammunition for either a bullish or a bearish case."

Economic forecasts are by no means unanimous for the next several months, but they appear in agreement that a new surge in business will develop around mid-1969, "although the degree of it hinges on assumptions about whether or not the surtax will expire on schedule," the firm says.

Reynolds & Co. observes that sellers appear on the market whenever the Dow industrials get into the 920-930 area "like insects attracted to a light on a summer night."

"Bulls have failed to scale this formidable upside ladder" four times in the past five months and, while each of the three previous defeats was followed by a sharp downside reversal, "we do not think it will happen this time," the firm says.

E.F. Hutton believes the market "continues to look as if it will trend higher over the

Webelos Scouts Explore Modern Science Fields

Curiosity is natural for a 10-year-old boy, and these boys in every Cub Scout Pack are finding a new challenge for their, curiosity.

There are nearly 400 of them in the Adobe Walls Council, Boy Scouts of America—are exploring the most modern fields of science, geology, nature, and engineering.

These Webelos Scouts — on a The 10-year-old boy of a few years ago would have been baffled to hear about Bernoulli's Principle or Pascal's Law, and may have heard about atmospheric pressure and inertia, but to have an opportunity to try some experiments wouldn't have come along till much later.

Yet, the modern Webelos Scouts explain and demonstrate chemistry, and physics.

Not all the Webelos Scout activities are in the scientific fields, though. These ten-year-olds meet requirements for the subjects of outdoorsman, athlete, sportsman, and aquanaut Physical fitness too, is a major objective of Scouting.

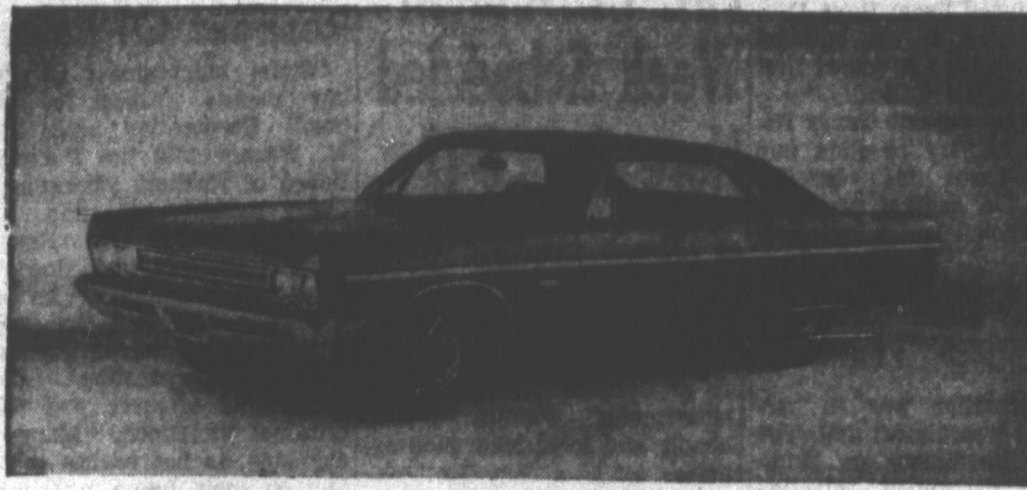

For some boys, the most popular of the Webelos activity badges also may be in the fields of showman, artist, craftsman, an traveler. Scout leaders report, too that among the Webelos Scouts there is a definite interest in the "Citizen" activity badge which requires knowing about and demonstrating good citizenship.

Ten-year-old boys, even if they have never been Cub Scouts, may become Webelos Scouts. Information is available from the Adobe Walls Council, Pampa.

near term."

The firm said Friday's heavy volume "may be a sign that we are moving back into a heavy volume period again after the summer pause."

The slight dip in the rails Friday was a mildly discordant note, but other technical statistics give rather positive readings, the firm said.

FURY FOR 1969 — Fury, Plymouth's booming volume leader, is new from top to bottom in 1969. In 17 models, Fury is a bigger car — 1.5 inches longer, almost two inches wider than last year on a 120-inch wheelbase. Inside and out, Fury is loaded with new features, befitting its position as the volume car of the Plymouth line, which also includes the compact Valiant, sport Barracuda and intermediate Belvedere lines.

New Science Fiction Thriller Due On TV

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Science fiction nuts will be crushed to learn that "Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea," "Lost in Space," and "The Time Tunnel" have gone down the tubes of prime time.

But the same man who produced them, Irwin Allen, has come up with still another eye-rubbing sci-fi titled "Land of the Giants," a new entry for fall programming.

Allen might be from outer space himself.

There's a faraway look in his eyes. He has unbounded imagination and infectious enthusiasm for make-believe.

Science fiction has been his bag for almost a decade, beginning with "The Lost World," a far-out movie. This time, however, Allen has outdone even himself.

Expensive Setting
Each episode of "Land of the Giants" will cost a quarter million dollars. He's spent $700,000 on sets and props alone.

The new series is set in the year 1963 when an air ship, zooming from Los Angeles to London has an accident and is caught in a time warp that throws it trillions of miles into deep space.

When the passengers, pilot Gary Conway, Kurt Kasznar and five others disembark on another planet, they discover it is exactly the same as earth — with one exception.

Everything on the mystery planet is 12 times larger than it was on earth.

That means that normal human beings are 72 feet tall. Pencils, coffee cups, pussy cats, everything, is enormous compared to our unfortunate earthlings.

They are like Gulliver among the giants of Brobdingnab as set forth in the 18th century by Jonathan Swift.

Mice Dangerous
Allen's space travelers must take pains not to be stepped on by mice. A sneeze from one of the planet's inhabitants could blow them into outer space.

"This is the biggest single thing I've ever done," he said.

"Twenty per cent of every hour show is involved with split screen, composites, matte and process shots. It's very tricky and time consuming."

As a youngster Allen read everything written by Jules Verne, H. G. Wells and Edgar Rice Burroughs, savoring the imaginative sweeps into the future.

"I enjoy producing my shows because they are successful," Allen said in a burst of candor. "You can really go wild in a science fiction series and get paid for it. And there's satisfaction in knowing the Navy Department asked for plans of the flying submarine we used in 'Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea.'"

"It's satisfying work." Profitable too, he might have added.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Shearson, Hammill & Co. finds the current flow of business news provides "little ammunition for either a bullish or a bearish case."

Economic forecasts are by no means unanimous for the next several months, but they appear in agreement that a new surge in business will develop around mid-1969, "although the degree of it hinges on assumptions about whether or not the surtax will expire on schedule," the firm says.

Reynolds & Co. observes that sellers appear on the market whenever the Dow industrials get into the 920-930 area "like insects attracted to a light on a summer night."

"Bulls have failed to scale this formidable upside ladder" four times in the past five months and, while each of the three previous defeats was followed by a sharp downside reversal, "we do not think it will happen this time," the firm says.

E.F. Hutton believes the market "continues to look as if it will trend higher over the near term."

The firm said Friday's heavy volume "may be a sign that we are moving back into a heavy volume period again after the summer pause."

The slight dip in the rails Friday was a mildly discordant note, but other technical statistics give rather positive readings, the firm said.

Webelos Scouts Explore Modern Science Fields

Curiosity is natural for a 10-year-old boy, and these boys in every Cub Scout Pack are finding a new challenge for their curiosity.

There are nearly 400 of them in the Adobe Walls Council, Boy Scouts of America—are exploring the most modern fields of science, geology, nature, and engineering.

The Webelos Scouts — on a 10-year-old boy of a few years ago would have been baffled to hear about Bernoulli's Principle or Pascal's Law, and may have heard about atmospheric pressure and inertia, but to have an opportunity to try some experiments wouldn't have come along till much later.

Yet, the modern Webelos Scouts explain and demonstrate chemistry, and physics.

Not all the Webelos Scout activities are in the scientific fields, though. These ten-year-olds meet requirements for the subjects of outdoorsman, athlete, sportsman, and aquanaut Physical fitness too, is a major objective of Scouting.

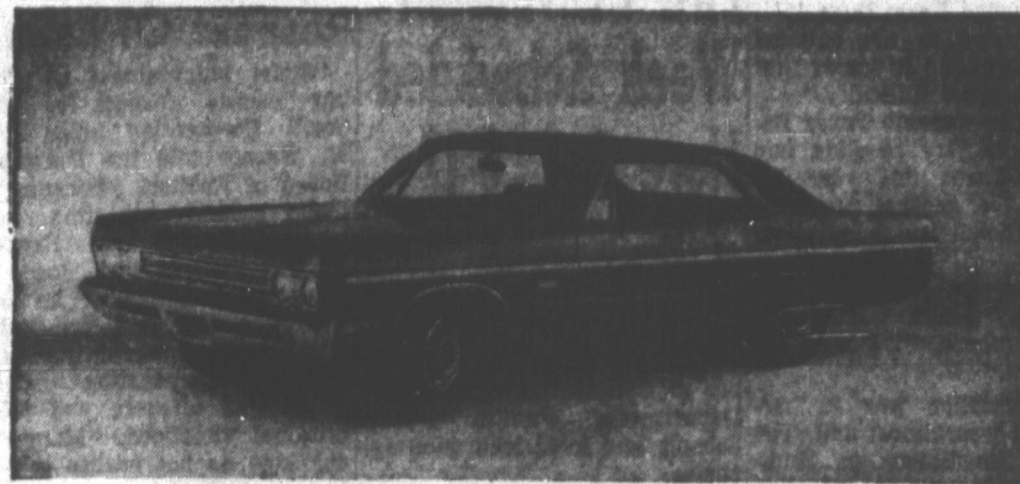

For some boys, the most popular of the Webelos activity badges also may be in the fields of showman, artist, craftsman, a traveler. Scout leaders report, too that among the Webelos Scouts there is a definite interest in the "Citizen" activity badge which requires knowing about and demonstrating good citizenship.

Ten-year-old boys, even if they have never been Cub Scouts, may become Wegelos Scouts. Information is available from the Adobe Walls Council, Pampa.

Science fiction has been his bag for almost a decade, beginning with "The Lost World," a far-out movie. This time, however, Allen has outdone even himself.

FURY FOR 1969 — Fury, Plymouth's booming volume leader, is new from top to bottom in 1969. In 17 models, Fury is a bigger car — 1.5 inches longer, almost two inches wider than last year on a 120-inch wheelbase. Inside and out, Fury is

New Science Fiction Thriller Due On TV

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Science fiction nuts will be crushed to learn that "Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea," "Lost in Space," and "The Time Tunnel" have gone down the tubes of prime time.

But the same man who produced them, Irwin Allen, has come up with still another eye-rubbing sci-fi titled "Land of the Giants," a new entry for fall programming.

Allen might be from outer space himself.

There's a faraway look in his eyes. He has unbounded imagination and infectious enthusiasm for make-believe.

Science fiction has been his bag for almost a decade, beginning with "The Lost World," a far-out movie. This time, however, Allen has outdone even himself.

Expensive Setting
Each episode of "Land of the Giants" will cost a quarter million dollars. He's spent $700,000 on sets and props alone.

The new series is set in the year 1963 when an air ship, zooming from Los Angeles to London has an accident and is caught in a time warp that throws it trillions of miles into deep space.

When the passengers, pilot Gary Conway, Kurt Kasznar and five others embark on another planet, they discover it is exactly the same as earth — with one exception.

Everything on the mystery planet is 12 times larger than it was on earth.

That means that normal human beings are 72 feet tall. Pencils, coffee cups, pussy cats, everything, is enormous compared to our unfortunate earthlings.

They are like Gulliver among the giants of Brobdingnab as set forth in the 18th century by Jonathan Swift.

Mice Dangerous
Allen's space travelers must take pains not to be stepped on by mice. A sneeze from one of the planet's inhabitants could blow them into outer space.

"This is the biggest single thing I've ever done," he said.

"Twenty per cent of every hour show is involved with split screen, composites, matte and process shots. It's very tricky and time consuming."

As a youngster Allen read everything written by Jules Verne, H. G. Wells and Edgar Rice Burroughs, savoring the imaginative sweeps into the future.

"I enjoy producing my shows because they are successful," Allen said in a burst of candor. "You can really go wild in a science fiction series and get paid for it. And there's satisfaction in knowing the Navy Department asked for plans of the flying submarine we used in 'Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea.'"

"It's satisfying work." Profitable too, he might have added.

WANDA MAE HUFF, WOMEN'S NEWS EDITOR

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My 16-year-old daughter is intelligent, pretty, and has a beautiful figure. This combination has the boys in her set spinning like tops.

So far we have had no reason to worry about her conduct, but there are thousands of parents who "thought" their daughters could be trusted, only to learn that all it takes is the "right" boy, the right time and the right place, and anything can happen.

For my own peace of mind, I want my daughter to start taking the pill. But when she asks "what for," what should I say?

Our daughter has high morals and is thoroughly informed about the facts of life, but my husband fears that if she has the security of the pill she might be tempted to relax her morals when the "right" boy comes along.

I am speaking from experience, which is probably why I worry so much. In my case I was lucky. I didn't get pregnant. I DID marry the boy, and I'm happy.

What should I do? Hope our daughter is lucky, too? Or should I insist on one hundred per cent protection? My sister-in-law who has two teen-aged daughters says, "Wait until you think she really needs them, then insist." But I'm afraid by that time it might be too late. Forgive me for not signing my name.

MODERN MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: Yours is a good question, and one which I have been asked often. For a mother to give a 16-year-old daughter the pill for her own (the mother's) "peace of mind," implies first, lack of confidence in her daughter's dependability and moral judgment, and second, a surrender of her own control as a parent. It's not fair to the girl, for in effect you are saying, "I hope I can trust you, but just in case I can't, you may as well be safe." This type of temptation is very difficult for a normal 16-year-old to resist.

DEAR ABBY: I recently invited a life-long friend and her husband to a dinner party. I knew her little 4-year-old grandson was staying with her while his parents were vacationing, but I purposely did not mention the child.

Then she told me that she was bringing her grandson! Now, Abby, this woman is a million-aires, and she could afford to hire a dozen baby-sitters. I said it was going to be an "adult" party, and I emphasized "ADULT" so she would get the hint, but she ignored it. Well, she brought the boy, which didn't help my dinner party any. In fact, it ruined it. I don't dislike children, Abby. I have grandchildren of my own, but I don't allow them to attend my dinner parties.

What would you have done in a case like this?

FURIOUS WITH HER
DEAR FURIOUS: I probably would have done just as you did—once. But not twice. You are really "furious" with yourself because you lacked the courage to ask your life-long friend to please leave her grandson at home.

DEAR ABBY: We have been married for 15 years and have three children, 9, 11, and 14. We're just average folks but we are a lot happier than most, and I'll tell you why.

When we were first married, my husband and I made a pact that if we had children we wouldn't let them run our lives. We'd try to do things as a family, but our whole lives wouldn't center around the kids. Over the years they have learned the little things that annoy Dad, such as toys in the driveway, fighting, and yelling. They know that messy rooms and tracking dirt in the house irritates Mom, so they're careful about that.

And oh, yes, there is nothing in our household that is considered strictly man's work, or woman's work. Dad can change a diaper, do dishes, laundry, and cook. And I've learned to be a housepainter, carpenter, cement layer, and gardener.

I won't say we've never had our squabbles, but we've never

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

FOR THURS. SEPT. 15
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Thinking things out that are able to bring you closer to your most important objective is fine now, but don't allow confusion or being too forceful to take away from the success that could otherwise be yours. An attitude of charm and consideration can bring you far more than you had thought to be possible.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) It's fine to usefully indulge that desire for cultural pleasure, but be careful you do not let the bill or force your attention on them. Come to that happy medium. That talent you have can be perfected to a T.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You can accomplish a great deal if you go about it sensibly, but be careful you do not disturb an angry associate. Show acceptance for help from one who is a real expert. Sleep being so foolishly proud.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Associates can willingly go along with present ideas you have, but regular work becomes pallid now. Await a better day for this. Gad about in a social way and you find that wonderful things happen for you.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Forget that tangent you have in mind and be off to work early and gain the esteem of higher-ups who depend on you. You can have an excellent career if you just work harder. See what great pleasure can come from work.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Put aside that perplexing situation at home concentrate early on expanding via excellent new ideas you have. You need to make new contacts. This is possible now in both business and personal circles.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You scarcely know which obligations to work on first, since they are so numerous, so pick out the most important and do those in a most exact fashion. Drive with utmost care. Do you have to look at every pretty girl you see?

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Being sure to listen to associates can lead to far greater success all around—so don't be harping on the monetary alone. Find just the right working formula. Harmony is terribly important now.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) If you don't listen to one who is influential, you could get into a good deal of trouble. Don't feel that you know it all, or you could have a rude awakening. Mrs. give-and-take is needed for real success.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Provided you get rid of that pernicious anxiety you can make this a very productive and happy day and evening. Park up and get going on appointments, etc. Mate will gladly join you in fun matters, but stop posting.

go to bed mad.

If more couples would concentrate on trying to please each other, like they did when love was new, there would be fewer divorces.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

The Extremist Rift

The National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders, created by President Johnson after the Detroit riot of 1966, informed Americans that they were in the process of creating two societies — white and black, separate and unequal.

Comes now another panel of citizens to warn that racial antagonism, compounded with other factors, also threatens America with another kind of split — a split between extremists preaching and practicing law breaking and civil disorder and extremists demanding the utmost strict enforcement of law and order before anything else.

In a special report on the black nationalist ambush of policemen in Cleveland last July, the Grand Jury of Cuyahoga County, of which Cleveland is the seat, paints this disturbing picture of the current state of things, not only in one Ohio County but in the nation as a whole:

On the one side are black revolutionaries advocating overthrow of government with bullets and bombs; on the other side are white racist extremists trying to capitalize on the uneasy mood of the country aroused by the inflammatory words and acts of the black extremists.

Contributing to the picture is an increase in disrespect for the law and an increase in crime generally, neither of which necessarily has anything to do with race but both of which aggravate the feeling that lawlessness is sweeping the country.

Caught in the middle of these forces the jury sees the great majority of blacks and whites. They are scared and afraid of lawlessness and civil disorders they see around them.

Empty Pockets

Did you have your pocket picked on August 15?

Pickpockets are pretty slick, and it may be that you weren't even aware of your loss until you read it here. But you were taken, along with all the rest of us.

The Treasury Department announced that it would borrow $5.1 million during the month of August, by selling 6-year notes dated August 15, and bearing 5.6 per cent interest.

Part of the proceeds from the sale of notes was used to redeem $3.6 billion of securities which fell due August 15. The remaining $1.5 billion was to be used to fund government operations — and increase inflation by issuing additional paper money.

But that isn't all of the story. The new notes are part of an $8.6 billion refinancing operation. That additional $2 billion of old notes are held by the Federal Reserve and other government "investment" accounts. See how simple borrowing is when you are the government? News accounts do not give the interest rate of the old issues. However, since the government's cost of borrowing has been rising steadily, it seems as certain as death and taxes that the old rate was lower than the new. Don't go away. The new notes are being sold at $99.02 per $100; that makes the effective interest cost 5.7 per cent.

While this transaction may seem penny ante in an age when billions are bandied about so readily it is indicative of the magnitude of the transactions necessary to push the yearly interest on the national debt above $14 billion. Repeat: that is just the interest each year. When Uncle Sam makes up his budget, that total is second only to the sum appropriated for the Department of Defense.

How did such a monumental interest debt evolve? Bear with us for two small examples. The law of the land provides that funds may be loaned to the REA at 2 percent interest. Some $5.5 billion of these loans are outstanding. That means that money borrowed by the government to loan at 2 per cent is costing more than 4 per cent today. An even bigger bite is taken from our paychecks by the loans to foreign governments. These loans bear interest ranging from three-quarters of one percent to 3½ per cent. Yet Uncle Sam has paid 4 percent to borrow the money in the first place.

Your government picked your pocket on August 15. It may have put the wallet back, but it was lighter. Quite a bit lighter.

Warning System Needed

Iran's tragic earthquake which killed some 10,000 people and left tens of thousands more injured and homeless may have been telling us something ominous.

For five years there has been a relative lull in major earthquakes. That may be coming to an end.

The world's normal annual quota is 18 major (measuring 7.0 to 7.9 on the Richter scale) shocks and one great (8.0 and up) earthquake. The last great quake hit Alaska on March 29, 1964. Since then, the earth has been relatively quiet. From 1966 through the first part of this year, only 16 major shocks were recorded — less than a normal single year. But since May, when a major quake took 400 lives in Japan, the world's earthquake belts — one ringing the Pacific Basin and the other stretching east-west from Burma to North Africa — have been acting up with something like the old frequency.

The Iranian quake was short of great with a 7.8 Richter rating, but it may have been only the deadly prelude of worse to come.

Quakes, elemental as the dynamic earth itself, are in a class by themselves as natural phenomena. Coping with disasters such as forest fires and floods appears simple in comparison.

The Doctor Says

By DR. W. G. BRANDSTADT

Eat Less, Exercise More To Get Rid of Obesity

Q—What causes excessive fat on my abdomen when the rest of me is normal? If I use an electric vibrator, will it melt away the fat?

A—Excessive fat is always caused by eating more calories than you use up. Distribution of the fat chiefly in the abdomen may be a hereditary trait. In a very small percentage of cases it may be associated with an internal secretion.

Getting rid of the fat requires eating less and exercising more, coupled with strong motivation. Don't depend on a vibrator to do your work for you—the results are disappointing.

Q—I have been overweight since I was in my teens. Several years ago I went on a diet and lost 40 pounds. I look better but I became very nervous and tired easily. After putting on weight again, I felt better. I take thyroid extract because my thyroid is lazy. This helps some but I am still a very slow-moving person. Are there any pep pills that are harmless to take?

A—Your first step should be to find out whether you are getting a large enough supplement of thyroid. There are many kinds of pep pills but none that can be safely taken without careful medical supervision.

Q—I have heard that an operation is being performed on obese people. The surgeon shortens the intestines to about two feet and the patient loses 40 per cent of his weight and will not gain it back no matter how much he eats. Do you approve of this treatment?

A—An operation that bypasses 15 to 18 feet of small intestine is used by some surgeons in selected cases. Before performing the operation the surgeon should make sure that the patient (1) is at least 100 pounds overweight (2) has tried diets and psychotherapy without success, (3) has a normal digestive tract and no diarrhea (4), has had no previous abdominal operation and (5) has one of the following reasons why he must lose weight: high blood pressure, arthritis, a high blood cholesterol level or an inflammatory disease of his veins. The operation is not without its dangers and possible side-effects. For this reason, the decision to have it cannot be taken lightly.

Q—For the past two years I have tried daily exercise plus diet to lose weight but instead I gain. What do you advise?

A—Try harder.

Q, that OEO — now they are giving grants to law school graduates to study for the Master of Laws degree while they are helping low-income groups to plan "organized action" to resolve their problems.

The trouble with the riots is that they ain't organized good enough. I suppose these fellows are going to help them. These attorneys come under the VISTA programme and one of their jobs is to assist tenant groups to hold "rent strikes" in protest of substandard housing.

Another thing they are going to work on is to design and operate co-op grocery stores. That is so they can drive all the other little grocery stores out of business — eventually it will drive the big ones out of business too, I'll bet.

You see, if the rent strikers and the other protesters have got these legal beagles on their side before they start you can work up a pretty good organized protest to most anything at all.

There ain't no sense in going about these protests in an unorganized manner, no sir. Paying these guys to organize protests is like paying a guy to shoot you so you can collect from a phony insurance company.

The best that can be hoped for in the immediate future is that with intensified study of stresses in the earth's crust and development of more sensitive instruments to measure increasing strain, seismologists may be able to predict quakes and thus give warning of a coming disaster that all the resources of science and technology are incapable of preventing.

Humphrey Seen Running Third In Louisiana Despite Negro Vote, Booming Economy

ROBERT ALLEN

JOHN GOLDSMITH

NEW ORLEANS — For Hubert H. Humphrey, once a scripping graduate student at Louisiana State University, this might have been a year of rich political rewards in Louisiana. What with one thing and another, however, it hasn't worked out that way. Former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace appears certain to win the state's 10 electoral votes. There is even talk that Humphrey will run third behind Wallace and Republican presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon.

That is the appraisal of political experts here in the wake of campaign appearances last week by the three candidates. The view is expressed in accents of regret by some of the experts, as if they would like to see the former LSU debater win, but just can't believe that he will.

There are a number of Humphrey pluses. In the Deep South tradition there are few registered Republicans in Louisiana. The Negro registration is sizable — about one voter in six will probably be a Negro — and Humphrey figures to get it all. In addition, the state's economy has been booming with Democrats in the White House.

Moreover, the state's overwhelming Democratic registration is against Nixon. This time there is a halfway house for Democratic voters who oppose Humphrey but hate to support a Republican candidate. Those Democrats can vote happily for Wallace, and many of them will.

Among them will be a large segment of Louisiana labor, union and non-union, despite the views of union officers. Labor leaders here have not been notably successful in guiding the votes of their rank and file except in elections which involve a labor issue, and the rank and file likes Wallace.

Some of the workers share Wallace's segregationist views. Many of them applaud his outspoken criticism of urban riots. Mostly, however, they like the way Wallace talks and think he is speaking openly to them. In the words of a cab driver, the ever-quoted Wallace "talks straight."

Addressing the National Association of Counties on that occasion, Humphrey deplored the filthy, rat-infested living conditions of the big-city ghettos and said that if he were to live under those conditions there would be trouble. "Because I've got enough spark left in me to lead a mighty good revolt."

Speaking to the American Legion here last week Humphrey devoted most of his time, and all of his prepared text, to a revolt-free plea for an all-out drive against crime.

In addition to his problems with issues, Humphrey has organizational problems in the sta-

One aspect of the Viet Nam war that hasn't been played up very much is the fact it is a testing ground for Soviet military weapons and gives our armed services a chance to determine the efficiency of the Soviet power. One thing that has been determined is that Soviet missiles have scored poorly against U.S. jet fighter planes. It took 300 of the missiles to down 11 fighters, according to a recent announcement.

Today's smile: A co-ed asked her campus boyfriend: "Did you have many girl friends before you met me?" He puffed on his pipe for a few moments and said nothing. In a couple of minutes she asked him again. This time he answered: "I'm still counting."

We read the other day about a fellow who plans a walking tour of the world. He expects it will take him 10 years to complete the hike. The item recalled to us that walking tours were in vogue about 25 years ago, but we don't recall anyone taking such a long one. When Gene Tunney was heavyweight champion he took a much-publicized walking tour of the literary shrines of England with Thornton Wilder, who was also in the news at the time because of his prize-winning novel "The Bridge of San Luis Rey." These days most folks simply hire a car and drive where they please.

And speaking of boxers also reminds us that years ago a promising heavyweight named John Morrissey got the ring L. run for Congress. He was elected and his first act as a Congressman was to introduce a bill calling for the abolition of prizefighting. The bill didn't pass because many of his colleagues were fight fans.

Thoughts while shaving: One of the newer wonders of the electronic industry is a machine that helps construction crews pinpoint the course and depth of buried cables and pipes. The manufacturer says that tests have shown it improves efficiency of underground construction crews by 400 per cent. One firm made a survey of their office forms and discovered the handling and processing of each one cost between $2000 and $3000 a year, including salaries of employees handling them. Now the firm is offering a substantial reward to employees who can come up with a practical suggestion for eliminating as many as possible. A podiatrist told us recently that the human foot has 26 bones and the 52 in both feet are one-fourth of all the bones in the human. He said they are arranged in groups, which are known as arches. They give the foot three bearing points which carry the body weight of a person and balance it when they walk. Nature is truly remarkable. . . . Maybe it will be a pleasure to catch cold in this winter. At any rate a cold remedy manufacturer is about to introduce a new remedy to be taken at bed-

PAUL HARVEY NEWS

Politician's Eye-View

Politicians think they have you figured out. They figure you most often talk one way and vote another.

They have seen you time and again respond more enthusiastically to promises than to performance.

A trite political jest credits a voter with saying, "I know your record is good but what have you done for me — lately?"

That is the way it works: An incumbent can reduce taxes a month before election and you will forget it. But if, the month before election, he "promises" to reduce your taxes — you will remember it.

That is why politicians persist in the practice of buying your vote with your money and the end of the sop is not yet in sight.

There is no President in our nation's history who has sought and secured more civil rights for more Negro Americans than has President Johnson, yet he is presently one of the least popular of all our nation's Presidents.

Indeed, at the time of Sen. Robert Kennedy's death he was infinitely more popular with this minority than was the incumbent President. Mr. Kennedy's popularity eclipsed that of Mr. Johnson. He had done nothing comparatively. But he "promised" to do much.

Early in 1968 the White House and the Congress made a deal: Congress would agree to raise your taxes if the White House would agree to a comparable decrease in federal spending.

Your taxes were increased forthwith. Federal spending has not yet been reduced to a commensurate degree. Indeed, many budget cuts ordered by the White House were restored by the Congress.

So far, the White House, which had promised to prune federal spending $6 billion, has pared its budget by only $3.5 billion.

Thus Uncle Sam will end up this fiscal year outspending its income by another $5 billion.

Members of the incumbent Administration are assuming that you, as you usually do, will remember the promises and forget that they reneged.

Vice President Hubert Humphrey, astute student of political psychology, presently trailing in popularity polls, expects to come from behind with promises.

He is stuck with the Johnson Administration policy on Vietnam, but he is promising:

"Substantial negotiations to settle the Vietnam war will begin before the end of this year."

"Some troops will be withdrawn from Vietnam late this year or early in 1969."

The allowable gap between a politician's promises and performance is less conspicuous to less enlightened voters.

The bald-faced brazenness with which a Huey Long or a Gene Talmadge or an Ed Curley or an Ed Kelly of 20 years ago could solicit votes is rarely heard from today's more sophisticated campaigners.

But however they have refined their approach, the axiom still applies. The politicians of 1968 are counting on you to applaud the precepts of free enterprise — but to vote for Santa Claus.

Next, A Federal Guidebook

(Industrial Bulletin)

From time to time the gullible have been duped by a hoary coper that consists of fobbing off a map on the unwary with the assurance that it will take the owner to buried treasure — usually of reputed pirate origin. Well, the federal government is planning a surer route to easy riches — a catalogue or guide to federal money for borrowers of every description.

We learned from a casual perusal of the daily press that Budget Director Charles J. Zwick has announced an upcoming new annual publication which will identify every type of federal domestic aid available with guidance on who is eligible and how and where to get it. . . .

Director Zwick said the opus will cover the government from end to end, listing all the types and categories of dollar assistance awaiting individuals, private organizations and state and local governments. We doubt if the hefty mass of printed matter will tell the taxpayer just where the money comes from for such loans, nor will the taxpayer be informed about the cost of preparing and publishing this bulky compendium. One thing for sure, the taxpayer already knows just whose money is involved and who will be underwriting the book and the loans it propagates.

Why, in this land of free enterprise, private lending agencies can't take care of most of these borrowing requirements, we fail to understand. Private risk capital may be discouraged by the unsoundness of the ventures, the dubious integrity of the borrowing beneficiaries, or the total hare-brained nature of the projects. But those factors haven't stopped our "rich" Washington uncle from throwing your money and mine away in foreign extravaganzas, so he probably won't have more rigid criteria for indulging his lending whims at home.

Other newsy fragments anent the catalogue are intriguing. For instance, a Budget Bureau spokesman said the work is just getting under way in gathering information from all 11 agencies. The size of the end product, therefore, can't be estimated at this time. In other words, there are so many federal agencies tossing your dough out to such a variety of borrowers that their total number can't be assessed until a strange sort of census is taken.

Perhaps we shouldn't be too cynical too early. Maybe this catalogue of the quick grab will contain something refreshing like heretofore unknown sources of subsidy for those who have to pony up more tax dollars to the federal government than we have at hand. Thus, we might find we can borrow from some federal agency, getting the money to pay additional taxes that we couldn't otherwise pay because of the taxes we've already paid.

Another unresolved question at this stage is whether the catalogue will be sold, or whether it will receive "free" distribution. Assuming that the volume will sell for a modest price, we're all for it. It would be nice to organize a new national association — say, something called "The American Society for the Prevention and Elimination of Unnecessary Federal Expenditure and Extravagance." This, we assume, could be funded by a long term loan from some federal agency we would never have known about if it hadn't been for Director Zwick's promised catalogue.

We might suggest that the recipient pay the postage. Otherwise, we're afraid the Postmaster General will beat us to funds available, borrowing them himself on the grounds that the Post Office Department needs more money than its budget allows because it must distribute Director Zwick's catalogue.

In 1796, President Washington delivered his farewell address and warned the American people to avoid foreign alliances.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Most card games, including poker, are played "according to Hoyle," the great authority on rules for such games. But Englishman Edmond Hoyle (1672-1769) died some 50 years before poker was invented, and his 1768 book of rules didn't mention the game. The World Almanac notes that so popular was "Hoyle's" that many other books, using his name but written by others, have been published.

Detroiters Celebrate Into The Wee Hours

By ED LECHTIN
-DETROIT (UPI)—At 12:22 this morning, the smiling Detroit cops waded into the vast, milling crowd at Kennedy Square in the heart of downtown Detroit. The crowd cheered them.
Less than two hours before the Detroit Tigers had wrapped up their first American League pennant in 23 years. The crowd surged into the heart of the Motor City and the celebration that lasted through most of the night was on.
About the only one who didn't get a cheer was the lone St. Louis Cardinals fan who announced his preference for the upcoming World Series. He said "Cards" just once.
"Our orders?" asked one police officer when questioned about what was happening. "Let 'em alone."

Tigers Take Title

By FRED DOWN
The Detroit Tigers' superstars toasted a .196-hitter and a pitcher who spent the last month in the doghouse when the champagne corks popped in celebration of the city's first American League pennant since 1945.
Even Denny McLain, the majors' first 30-game winner in 34 years, played the role of a mere cheerleader Tuesday night when the Tigers paid bubbly tribute to a pair of unlikely heroes—third baseman Don Wert and pitcher Joe Sparna. Wert, a sub-200-hitter who was hitless in three previous trips to the plate, singled with two out in the ninth inning to drive in Al Kaline with the winning run in the Tigers' 2-1 victory over the New York Yankees. The victory, the Tigers' eighth straight, enabled them to win the flag "in the manner born" although the Boston Red Sox had mathematically eliminated the second-place Baltimore Orioles from the race about 15 minutes earlier with a 2-0 triumph in Boston.

Most of the 46,512 fans in Tiger Stadium were unaware of the Red Sox' victory because the Detroit management did not flash it on the scoreboard. A club spokesman said the management feared the fans might pour out onto the field and disrupt the game.
Sparna, who had blasted Manager Mayo Smith for taking him out of a game in the early innings on Aug. 14, pitched a five-hitter to raise his record to 9-10.

Sparna gave the Tigers a 1-0 lead in the fifth inning when his single drove in Bill Freehan, who had singled and reached second on an infield out by Tom Matchick. Sparna carried a three-hitter into the ninth when the Yankees tied the score on Charlie Smith's single, an infield out and a single by Jake Gibbs.
McLain, Kaline, Willie Horton and all the other superstars who contributed so much to the Tigers' march to the flag, saluted Wert and Sparna over and over again during the clubhouse celebration and shouted in defiance of the National League champion St. Louis Cardinals, "blow 'em back...blow 'em back...way back..." and then, specifically referring to the great World Series hero of 1964 and 1967, Bob Gibson, "bring on Gibson...bring on Gibson."

Beats Big Bob Gibson

Gaylord Perry In No-Hit Triumph

By JOE GERGEN
Gaylord Perry who has been known to throw some exotic pitches, found out the one pitch the St. Louis Cardinals couldn't hit was the letdown pitch.
Perry, the heretofore luckless right-hander of the San Francisco Giants, caught the Cards in a festive mood following the clinching of their second consecutive National League pennant Tuesday night and knocked the pins out from under them with a no-hit, no-run game.
The result was a 1-0 victory for the Giants and a heart-breaking defeat for St. Louis ace Bob Gibson, who allowed only four hits. One of them, however, was a first-inning homer by powerless Ron Hunt, his second of the season.
Walks Two
Perry, who turned 30 on Sunday, the same day the Cards clinched the pennant by beating the Houston Astros, and who only three weeks ago missed a perfect game by one pitch, walked only two batters in hurling the fourth no-hit game of the season in the major leagues. Jim Hunter of Oklahoma, Tom Phoebus of Baltimore and George Culber of Cincinnati were the previous no-hit pitchers.
"You saw it," replied Curt Flood, who was called out on strikes for the final out, when asked whether Perry had doctored the ball. "The guy pitched a great game. What else is there to say?"
In other NL games, Los Angeles ripped Cincinnati, 7-5; New York edged Chicago, 3-2; Pittsburgh defeated Philadelphia, 4-2; and Houston topped Atlanta 5-1.
Detroit clinched its first American League pennant in 23 years by beating the New York Yankees, 2-1, while Boston blanked Baltimore, 2-0. Washington topped Cleveland, 4-2, and Oakland drubbed Chicago, 8-1, after losing the first game of a doubleheader, 2-1. California at Minnesota was postponed by rain.

Nine Strikeouts
Perry, who threw 101 pitches—including 69 strikes—struck out nine. He walked Mike Shannon in the second and Phil Gagliano in the eighth, the only St. Louis baserunners in the game.
Claude Osteen collected three hits, drove in a run, scored two and pitched the Dodgers past the Reds.

Just Two SWC Teams Favored

By United Press International

All but two of the Southwest Conference football coaches will take underdog teams into the weekend's season-opening games and Tuesday they ran their players through spirited workouts hoping to surprise the oddsmakers.

Only the University of Texas Longhorns and the Arkansas Razorbacks were picked by the New York oddsmakers to come out on top in the conference this week.

Cowboys Top Most Stats After Victory

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Dallas Cowboys' bid for a third consecutive Eastern Division championship couldn't have gotten off to a better start.

The Cowboys were near perfection Sunday as they mauling the Detroit Lions 59-13 to virtually dominate offensive statistics released today by the National Football League.

The Cowboys picked up 542 yards, 381 through the air, in routing the Lions and taking the league lead in both departments. Dallas also took the lead in first downs (29), passes completed (25) and touchdowns (8) and headed a defensive department—yards gained rushing—by allowing Detroit only 68 yards on the ground.

Minnesota, a 47-7 victor over the Atlanta Falcons, took the lead in rushing yardage (186), the only department not dominated by the Cowboys.

The Vikings limited Atlanta to only 14 first downs and seven points to lead in those departments while Cleveland allowed New Orleans only 208 yards in its 24-10 victory over the Saints. St. Louis, a 24-13 loser to Los Angeles, still managed to limit the Rams to 84 yards passing to lead that department.

juries and that things were looking good for the weekend's contest.

Cool temperatures prevailed at Fayetteville, Ark., also Tuesday, but coach Frank Broyles said his University of Arkansas Razorbacks had a "hot" practice session. Arkansas is favored to beat Oklahoma State by six points this weekend in Little Rock.

"We seemed to know our assignments better," Broyles said after the workout. He said the team would work the rest of the week in sweat clothes.

Texas Christian coach Fred Taylor said his Horned Frogs had one of their best workouts of the season Tuesday. Taylor named tight end Bill Ferguson as offensive captain and right cornerback Mike Hall as defensive captain for Saturday's game against Georgia Tech at Atlanta. Tech is favored by four points.

The conference's closest game according to the oddsmakers, will be the Texas A&M tilt against LSU in Baton Rouge, La. The Tigers are favored by a narrow three points.

Aggie coach Gene Stallings came up with a simple formula Tuesday to use against LSU. Don't make any mistakes.

"We cannot make any errors like throwing interceptions or fumbling and we've got to have a solid kicking game. Then we have got to play defense better than we've ever played," Stallings said.

In the only game involving a SWC team not listed by the oddsmakers, Texas Tech's Red Raiders are generally figured to have an edge over Cincinnati in Saturday's contest. Coach J. T. King said Tuesday he would probably be without the services of three of his starters for the game.

Rice coach Bo Hagan moved his team from their normal practice field to a field normally used by the band Tuesday after heavy rains left the regular field a sea of mud. The team worked on polishing their plays for the game against Washington Saturday. The Owls are seven-point underdogs for that contest.

The Southern Methodist Mustangs went through a routine practice Tuesday, as three injured starters rejoined the team in preparing for the game against Auburn this weekend. Auburn is favored by 13.

In Waco, the Baylor Bears worked out in cool weather as they prepared for what is expected to be a heated contest against Indiana at Bloomington, Ind. Saturday. Indiana is a two-touchdown favorite.

Iowa Park was atop the Class AA ratings due to an 18-6 victory over Class AAA Burk Burnett.

Behind the Hawks came Columbus, Fort Worth Kirkpatrick, Denver City, Kountze, Brady, Phillips, Randolph, Atlanta and Premont.

The Poth Pirates earned their berth on top of Class A with a 77-0 massacre of Natalia.

Following the Pirates were Sonora, Dilley, Archer City, Clarendon, Albany, Honey Grove, Clifton, Garrison and Magnolia.

Namath Leading Passers Again

NEW YORK (UPI)—Joe Namath's passing grade gets better with each season.

Namath, who passed for more yards than any other quarterback last season, retained his ability to eat up distance with his throws as he leads the pack today with a 10.4 average gain.

The New York Jets quarterback was No. 1 in 1967 an 8.16 yard average gain per throw.

New York's Don Maynard, who caught eight passes in last Sunday's victory over Kansas City, leads the league with 203 yards gained on receptions. Sid Blanks of Houston has snared the most passes, nine, in two games.

Dick Post, a second-year man, tops the ground gainers with 140 yards. The San Diego running back has carried the ball 16 times for an 8.8 average.

Kicking specialist Jan Stenerud of Kansas City is the leading scorer with 30 points, achieved on nine field goals and three extra points.

Rookie George Atkinson of Oakland leads in punt returns with a 41.0 average on 205 yards run back in five attempts.

Clarendon and Phillips, Class A and AA powers in the Top O' Texas, were also highly rated. Tascosa earned its berth on top of the Class AAAA rankings, thanks to a victory over another highly ranked club, Odessa Permian, last Friday 21-13.

Odessa Permian, in fact, stayed in the top ten despite its loss to Tascosa.

Both defending champion Austin Reagan and last year's Class AAAA runner-up Abilene Cooper were in the top 10 after one week of play.

Following Tascosa in the list was Spring Branch Memorial, Houston Jones, Pasadena, Abilene Cooper, Galveston, Smiley, Richardson, Odessa Permian and Austin Reagan.

Top O' Texas Is Well Represented In Rated Teams

By United Press International

Amarillo Tascosa, Perryton, Iowa Park and Poth headed the list of United Press International's high school football rankings after the first weekend of action.

Clarendon and Phillips, Class A and AA powers in the Top O' Texas, were also highly rated. Tascosa earned its berth on top of the Class AAAA rankings, thanks to a victory over another highly ranked club, Odessa Permian, last Friday 21-13.

Following Tascosa in the list was Spring Branch Memorial, Houston Jones, Pasadena, Abilene Cooper, Galveston, Smiley, Richardson, Odessa Permian and Austin Reagan.

Perryton, a Panhandle powerhouse, jumped to the top after one week in Class AAA but that could be a shaky perch.

Close behind, ready to move up, were potent Waco Moore, 1966 titleholder Bridge City, and last year's champion Brownwood, even though it dropped an opening week game to Abilene Cooper.

After Perryton in the No. 1 spot came Waco Moore, Refugio, Bridge City, Henderson, Alvin, Brownwood, Stephenville, Bonham and Sweetwater.

Dumas Demons 'Ready' For Friday Game

By JEFF HOLLADAY

Pampa News Staff Writer

Coach Bill Spann said in a telephone interview yesterday that his Dumas Demons came out of the game against Amarillo's Palo Duro Dons without any major injuries and "should be in pretty good shape for Friday's game" against the Pampa Harvesters.

The Demons were taking a 35-0 licking from the Dons while the Harvesters were reaping their first victory since 1966, a 12-6 win over Hereford.

The Harvesters have 10-1 starting quarterback Gary Parrish for the season but Coach "Swede" Lee reported no other serious injuries. Parrish, a senior letterman, suffered a hairline fracture of a vertebra, discovered in an examination in Amarillo Monday, during pre-season workouts.

Despite the loss of Parrish, sources say the Harvesters are not demoralized and look forward to avenging last year's 69-6 humiliation administered by the Demons. The loss is the biggest margin of defeat in Harvesters history.

But the Demons are traditionally tough and they may be smarting from a humiliating defeat themselves — last week's 35-0 drubbing by Palo Duro.

As a result of that defeat, the Demons have been dropped from the top 10 teams in Class AAA — a list which they made in pre-season polls.

The Demons have one of the winningest traditions in high school football and they don't like being second best. They have a 74-7-3 record over the past seven years, including two state championships. Last year the Demons advanced to the Class AAA quarterfinals — a nod lost by two points to state champion Brownwood.

From that team Spann has

9 lettermen, although only

3 offensive and 2 defensive starters are back.

But don't sell the Demons short. Tradition is one of their strongest points and champions have a way of winning the close ones.

The upshot Friday night is likely to be a hard-fought game, with determination being a key factor.

Dumas Coach Bill Spann concedes he has a lot of winning tradition, but says it may be the Demons' strongest point. He claims problems with size, experience and depth.

The game, then, could be fairly evenly matched.

And the final determinant could be determination.

Under new head football mentor, "Swede" Lee, that fighting quality so lacking in demoralized Harvesters teams of the past several years may at last be starting to emerge and his eager young charges may find themselves victors again if they want this one badly enough.

Fearless Prognosticator To Favor Fans Again

Har-rump-ph! Um, y a s, friends. I'm at it again.

The fearless football forecasts are coming your way each week again this year as I try to improve on an almost spotless record for 1967. Hak-kaff!

This year I have added two top-flight assistants, Hannibal Wottaburp, the pride of Missouri, and Chet Thinkley, the Human Computer, on loan to yours truly from NASA.

And, wonder of wonders, this second week of the campaign (really the first full week) will have some startling upsets recorded. . . all of which we have accurately pin-pointed for your pleasure. Hak-kaff!

Now. Try to sleep tonight, and tomorrow, we'll tell you how the games are going to come out Friday and Saturday nights.

Sincerely, Major Amos Hoopie

Washington Window

By MERRIMAN SMITH
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Backstairs at the campaign: In national campaigns, it is common practice for a candidate's staff to overestimate the size of his crowd at any given rally or parade. And this year is no different.

For example, consider parade crowds strung out over several miles in the heart of a big city at lunch hour. No matter what the most veteran political expert may say, a crowd estimate under such conditions is so much campaign shorthand.

If the three presidential candidates—Republican Richard M. Nixon, Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey and independent George Wallace—were to go through the same city over the same route at the same hour of day with approximately the same weather conditions, then it would be possible to say that one of the three had the better crowd.

crowd certainly above average. The only time when crowd estimates approach accuracy is when the meeting is held in an enclosure for which the seating capacity is known. In such cases, spokesmen for a candidate usually inflate the number of standees.

In campaign years, the size of a turnout usually denotes the efficiency and enthusiasm of the candidate's organization. In most cities, the favorite time for a political procession is at the noon hour, or just at the evening rush hour. This is why visiting heads of state invariably are paraded through Washington at about noon to 12:30 p.m. in order to catch the maximum number of government workers on the streets. To parade a visiting potentate in the nation's capital at 3 p.m. would be a lonely spectacle.

Scout 'Roundup' For Adults Set Here Tonight

"Don't Gamble With the Future of Our Boys" is the theme for a Santa Fe District Roundup for adults working with Scouting. The meeting will be held tonight at 7:30 in the Boy Scout Service Center at 815 N. Sumner, according to District Commissioner John W. Warner.

Woody Crawshaw, Cub Roundtable Chairman, will present a program on methods of training boys in recruiting other boys for adults in the Cub Scout program. David Holt and Derrell Coffman will present similar programs to adults in Boy Scout and Explorer programs respectively. Warner will deliver a talk on "Stacking the Deck" regarding the future of Scouting in this area.

Each adult attending will be met at the door by a member of the District Commissioner's staff who will be dressed as a gambler. Cards will be shuffled, a poker hand dealt and the winning hand will receive a portable Truetone radio from Western Auto. Darwin Baumann is in charge of the door prize arrangements. Decorations for the affair follow a gambling theme. John R. Ellis and Bill Gray headed the decorations committee. Dr. W. R. Campbell is in charge of refreshments. Ken Baker is in charge of contacts while Warner and Crawshaw head up publicity.

Texas Orange Harvesting Is Now Underway

By KENNETH R. CLARK
EDINBURG, Tex. (UPI)—Early oranges from Texas may not be the largest in the market place this year, but they are going to be the first.

Harvest of the first oranges in the Lower Rio Grande Valley is now underway.

Tom Adderholt, of the Donna Fruit Co., in Edinburg, described this year's early crop as "big," but with oranges running a bit smaller than had been anticipated earlier in the year.

"Most groves have such a heavy crop that the fruit hasn't sided out," he said. "I think we can do all right though, if Florida doesn't cut the price too much."

Ahead of Florida

He said the Lower Rio Grande Valley is well ahead of Florida this year, with that state's early harvest expected to begin sometime in mid-October. Florida, which annually produces the greatest percentage of the nation's orange crop, traditionally sets the market price.

Several other citrus companies in the Valley were reported in the groves Monday, and packing sheds were expected to be in operation by the end of the week.

Because of the undersized yield evident this fall in the valley, the Texas Valley Citrus Committee Saturday agreed to lower the minimum size allowable for shipment from No. 252, or two and nine-sixteenths inches in diameter, to 288, or two and six-sixteenths inches.

The difference is slight, but it will allow shipment of virtually all of the crop now under harvest.

Adderholt said early oranges now coming off the trees are navel and navel varieties, and that the only competition for them at present is posed by imports from Mexico.

He said valley growers can expect to earn $50 to $60 a ton for the navels, and $40 to $45 for the mars, depending on how they finally size out.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—I am beginning to get a vague impression that there may be some disagreement over the clashes between demonstrators and police during the Democratic convention.

It is nothing I can put a finger on, but little things I read and hear lead me to believe that two sharply contrasting versions of those incidents have emerged.

If you happen to be among the 76 people in the United States who have not yet denounced one side or the other, it is high time you became actively opinionated.

To help you decide which side to castigate, I have prepared a synopsis of the two versions, one of which will surely make you see red.

Version One

A small group of wholesome, well-mannered, clean-cut college kids gathered in Chicago to observe the convention first hand. They felt the experience would help them make better grades in political science class this fall and perhaps win a good citizenship award.

Being lovers of fresh air and sunshine, they met in Grant Park to hold seminars and compare notes. The atmosphere was one of scholarly repose.

But suddenly a hostile army of truncheon-wielding policemen descended upon the apple-cheeked youths and demanded that they disperse.

"Certainly, sir," their leaders said. "We have the greatest respect of law and order, particularly as exemplified by the Chicago police force, and we would never stay where we aren't wanted."

As they quietly disbanded, the brutal cops, who loved nothing better than to beat up innocent and de'enseless students, fell upon them with clubs and tear gas.

Version Two

A hostile army of disciples of Joseph Stalin and the Marquis de Sade swooped down upon Chicago, bent not only upon disrupting the convention but upon seizing the entire city for use as a base for overthrowing the U.S. government by force and violence.

They marched unopposed as far as Grant Park, where they were confronted by a handful of courageous policemen, who appealed for reason and fair play.

The savage mob turned upon the kindly cops and committed unspeakable atrocities. Their cowardly behavior mocked all

Answer to Previous Puzzle

The Almac
By United Press International
Today is Wednesday, Sept. 18, the 262nd day of 1968 with 104 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase.
The morning star is Mars.
The evening stars are Venus and Saturn.
On this day in history:
In 1850, Congress passed the Fugitive Slave Act, allowing a slaveowner with a certificate to save the country from a Communist takeover.

Competition Scheduled For US Coast Guard Academy

The 93rd annual competition for admission to the United States Coast Guard Academy, located at New London, Conn., will commence with the Dec. 7, 1968 administration of the College Entrance Examination Board tests given in over 3,000 test centers throughout the country.

Appointments to the Academy are tendered solely on a competitive basis with no congressional appointments or geographical quotas. Applications to CEED tests must be made to the Educational Testing Service prior to Nov. 2, 1968.

To qualify, an applicant must be unmarried and must have reached his 17th but not his 22nd birthday by July 1, 1969. The minimum educational requirement is a high school diploma, however, high school seniors assured of graduation by June 30, 1969 are eligible to compete provided they have at least 15 credits by that time.

Applicants must have completed three units in English, and three in mathematics including algebra and plane or coordinate geometry or their equivalents. Applicants must be in excellent physical condition, between 64 and 78 inches in height, with proportionate weight, and have at least 20-30 vision in each eye, correctable to 20-20.

A thought for the day—President Garfield said: "This nation is too great to look for mere revenge. But for the security of the future I would do everything."
