MERCHANTS TO CLOSE STORES ON SUNDAYS

Clothing and Drygoods Men Have An Agreement

EVENING HOURS ALSO ARE SET

City Asked To Sweep Streets — Brooms Are Ordered

At a well attended and enthusiastic meeting of the dry goods and clothing merchants of Pampa yesterday in the Chamber of Commerce, Sunday closing was thoroughly discussed and the merchants unanimously voted to close all day Sundays, commencing July 3.

Uniform closing hours in the evening were also discussed and a motion was made and passed that all dry goods and clothing stores would close at 8:30 p. m., except Saturday, commencing the evening of July 15.

A committee composed of O. W. Ferguson, S. F. Hameed and Bob Rose was appointed to endeavor to get all merchants to sign the petition and to abide by the uniform closing agreement. The petition was signed by every dry goods and clothing merchant in the city.

Also, a request was made to the city to institute regular street sweeping at the earliest possible time. Mayor Reid this morning stated to The News that the matter had been taken up and Tom Lane instructed to hire men to do the work. Brooms have been ordered and the work will start as soon as they arrive. Sweeping will be done after traffic stops at night.

A request was made that the directors of the Chamber of Commerce establish a dry goods and clothing merchants bureau in connection with the Chamber of Commerce.

The closing contract reads: "We, the undersigned merchants of Pampa, agree to close our stores; we will not sell merchandise on Sundays, nor after 8:30 p. m. during the week days, except Saturday."

It was signed by the following merchants: J. E. Murfee and company; People's store; Diamond "C" store; Rice Brothers; Hameed Dry Goods company; Cross Dry Goods; S. Faris; Barnard's Dry Goods; L. T. Hill and company; Kees and Thomas; Gordon Stores company; K. C. store; Army and Navy store; Mitchell's; Pampa Army store; Adlington and Ellicott, and Hayter Brothers.

Lindbergh Gives Big Impulse To Air Mail Use

(By The Associated Press.)
AUSTIN, July 1.—Laymen's interest in aviation has practically doubled and air mail has increased 10 per cent here since Colonel Charles Lindbergh's trans-Atlantic flying feat, representatives of local flying fields and Postmaster J. Lynn Hunter, says.

Out of working hours, and on Sundays, the Austin Air Service and University flying fields are now receiving twice the usual volume of visitors, seeking flights and information about prices and practicality flying machines.

Charles McClellan of the Austin Air Service says the doubled interest seems to be common to all the main air centers of the nation. He has just returned from visits to Cleveland, St. Louis and Chicago and intermediate air fields. Outputs of air plane plants are being doubled, he said, to meet the heavily increased demands.

The increased air mail postage still is insufficient, however, to justify a proposed air mail line directly through here.

Texas Delegation Is Entertained By National C. of C.

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, July 1.—The nation's capital today welcomed Governor Moody and his companions, who are touring the north and east on a Texas Good Will trip.

Facts on the greatness of Texas were expounded by Judge Ewin Parker, Texas chairman of the board of directors of the United States Chamber of Commerce, in an address welcoming the Texans.

Parker said that business throughout the nation and the world is watching the developments of Texas. The Chamber of Commerce entertained the visitors at luncheon.

C. S. Makeig, president of the Panhandle council, presided at last night's meeting and appointed a nominating committee composed of C. P. Buckler, Ivey Duncan and Dr. Archie Cole.

No chairman was appointed. Officers named are — vice-chairman, Rev. James Todd Jr.; secretary, Scott Barcus; deputy scout commissioner, W. H. Curry; chairman of administration, M. K. Brown; chairman of awards, Dr. Archie Cole; chairman of activities, Rev. Tom Brabham.

Tom H. Nelson, chief scout executive of the Panhandle area council, which covers the Texas Panhandle and three counties in Oklahoma, was present at the meeting.

Another meeting has been set for Tuesday night at the Chamber of Commerce to outline the program in Pampa.

Those who attended last night's meeting were, Dr. Archie Cole; Rev. Tom Brabham, Rev. James Todd Jr., George Luster, W. H. Curry, Ivey Duncan, C. P. Buckler, Scott Barcus, M. A. Turner, Dr. A. R. Sawyer and the visitors, C. S. Makeig and Tom Nelson.

No Change In City Officials

City Secretary C. H. Fisher remained at his desk as usual today, although the city, unless it wished to retain him at the salary fixed a few months ago, was to have had his successor in office.

Mr. Fisher recently signified his unwillingness to serve under a salary cut which made the remuneration $150 per month. Salaries for city officers were revised recently when the fee system was abolished for the most part.

Furthermore, City Marshall John Andrews has reached an agreement with Baker Saulsbury, alderman in charge of the police department, to accept a salary of $200 per month and not take fees. This arrangement has not been ratified by the council.

Noel Coleman who was burned by chemicals while at work with the Booth Flynn pipe company, was able to return to work today.

Skeleton of Monster Unearthed on Farm Near Memphis

A. E. Upton of Memphis, who has been here visiting Irvin Upton, a cousin, brought to the Daily News today specimens of a huge skeleton uncovered on his farm near Memphis about a month ago.

Two teeth were more than 6 inches long and 3 inches wide on the chewing surface, and were well preserved. The enamel was in almost perfect condition. The big surface showed the vegetarian characteristics of the monster, which was probably a mastadon. Six teeth were found intact, and pieces of other indicated that the animal had a set of teeth nearly two feet long and a foot wide. Other bones were as much as 18 inches in circumference.

The skeleton was found in a clay bank on Indian creek. The clay contained fragments of skin and outlines of the flesh, and the framework of the animal was clearly traced although the bones were soft veins of lime.

It was the intention of Mr. Upton to call a scientist to unearth the skeleton, but crowds of visitors rushed the work. Until the big teeth were found, it was thought the bones were of a buffalo.

Mr. Upton said he was going to take the big specimens to the museum of the Panhandle-Plains Historical society at Canyon.

Mrs. Willis and Townsend are charged with the murder of Willis.

HIGH SCHOOL ADDITION WILL BE BUILT SOON

Twelve New Rooms Equipped Will Cost $60,000

PROBABLY NO CONTRACT WORK

Construction Requires Rest of $150,000 Bond Issue

Work will begin in the next few days on the 12-room addition to the high school building. Plans are being completed by the architect.

It is not believed the project will be let by contract, but probably by day labor. This will make publication and other delays unnecessary.

The addition will be placed at the east side, making the present building L-shaped. There will be 12 large class rooms, which equipped will cost approximately $60,000. This room is absolutely necessary to take care of the tremendous increase in enrollment.

Later, perhaps a gymnasium-auditorium will be placed at the west end of the building.

The building program was made possible by the passage early last spring of a $150,000 bond issue in the Pampa independent school district. Part of the money is being used in the construction of a new ward building.

July 4 Moves Up As Thousands Celebrate Paving

July 4 came to Pampa ahead of time last night, when a merry crowd estimated from 3,000 to 5,000 gathered on West Foster street to enjoy the dancing on the new pavement.

Fireworks, preceded by all manner of noise and bushels of confetti, announced the big entertainment given by business men of West Foster. Premature exploding of a box of fireworks scattered the crowd but did no damage.

Two good orchestras played to many couples while the sidewalks were jammed with watchers. It was the biggest celebration of the year, and according to Sheriff E. S. Graves, it was an unusually orderly crowd.

The stores were specially decorated for the occasion, and flags and bunting gave a holiday appearance which will be retained until after July 4. Many out-of-town people were present.

MISS PARIS BY 175 MILES BUT CREW IS SAFE

Descent Is Upon The Normandy Shore Early Today

ARE BLINDED BY FOG AND RAIN

Equipment Is Rescued By Use of Pneumatic Boats

PARIS, July 1.—Commander Richard Byrd and his companions will leave Ver Sur Mer for Paris this evening and will arrive about midnight, H. A. Bibbons, personal representative of Rodman Wanamaker, sponsor of the flight, telegraphed his wife here today.

(By The Associated Press.)
VER SUR MER, France, July 1.—Out of gasoline and groping blindly through fog and rain to find a safe haven, the trans-Atlantic plane America descended safely in the sea early this morning near this town on the coast of Normandy.

Successful in their valiant effort to span the Atlantic, but 175 miles west of their goal—Paris—the American aviators headed by Commander Richard Byrd made their way through the sea 200 yards to shore with the aid of a pneumatic raft which they were able to inflate just before the plane struck the water.

The fliers made several trips to shore and saved all of the most important of their equipment from the ship. Then they went to sleep in the homes of their French hosts, who took them in with gracious hospitality.

Only the top edge of the plane's wings are above the surface of the sea, but the fliers, their minds once more easy after the battle with fog and rain, slept peacefully until called at 3 o'clock this afternoon upon their orders.

Commander Byrd declared on arriving at this little picturesque town that the America had encountered bad weather all the way from the United States.

Fog kept them from finding the air lane to Paris, and forced them to grope blindly in the air until they had no choice but to make descent as best they could when gas-

Small Plane To Fly From Hawaii To California

PAIR HUNTS CLEW TO STORMS THAT MENACE OCEAN AIR LANES

Dr. William H. Hobbs of the University of Michigan (center) and Prof. J. E. Church of Mt. Rose Observatory, will seek the origin of storms in the ice caps. Lower is a photo of the ice cap camp in Greenland where Dr. Hobbs made previous researches.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., July 1. (AP)—Amid the darkness of an Arctic winter, two scientists plan a vigil on the steppes of Greenland which may smooth the way to safe trans-Atlantic aviation.

They seek to trace the origin of storms which sweep down from the north across the air lanes of the north Atlantic, and to make possible the forecasting of scientific storm warnings which will remove the hazard of uncertain weather from ocean flying.

If they succeed airmen will no longer have to embark blindly over the ocean into the teeth of storms like those which swallowed up the planes of Hawker and Nunkesser and coated with sleet the wings of Lindbergh's ship.

The problem, almost untouched by meteorology, of charting Arctic winds will be undertaken in an anchored hut on the edge of Greenland's vast ice cap by Prof. J. E. Church, director of Mt. Rose observatory of Nevada, and P. C. Oscaison, New York radio operator.

The real sponsor of the expedition and its theories, Dr. W. C. Hobbs of the University of Michigan, will tarry in the milder climate of the Greenland shore, denied by his 63 years the physical endurance to make his own observations.

Dr. Hobbs believes the perilous storms of the north Atlantic originate in winds above the Greenland ice plateau, and that science can determine these wind movements, forecast their movement into the air lanes and send radio warnings which will make trans-ocean aviation lines safe and practicable within five years.

The experimental hut by the ice cap must protect Church and Oscaison from temperatures of 60 degrees below zero. It will be insulated from the "cold" with balsam wood, waterproof canvas and two walls of turf and anchored by cables against the fierce winds.

When summer comes to the Arctic, Dr. Hobbs and other members of the expedition will join the pair to conclude the experiments. Their completion, Dr. Hobbs is convinced, will remove the greatest remaining element of risk from America-to-Europe air travel.

WINS DOWER RIGHTS FOR NEW JERSEY WIDOWS
PATTERSON, N. J. (AP)—Dower and courtesy have been equalized in this state after a two-year crusade by Assemblywoman Isabelle M. Summers of Passaic county.

Bills introduced by Mrs. Summers give widows and widowers alike a life interest in the estate of a deceased spouse, regardless of whether there are children.

Under the old law widows were given a life interest in one-third of the real property and widowers, if there was issue, had a life interest in all.

Radio Spreads Over Turkey; Used In Politics There, Too

(By The Associated Press.)
CONSTANTINOPLE — Radio acquires political significance in Turkey with the broadcasting of President Kemal's pre-re-election speech from the new Ankara station.

This is the first important speech to be broadcast from Turkey and in honor of the event perfects and governors installed radios in public buildings throughout the land and private purchasers multiplied daily. There are 800 sets in use, 700 in Constantinople and 100 scattered in various parts of Anatolia.

The government several months ago granted a radio concession to the Anonymous Turkish Radio company which rents from the government the two stations at Constantinople and Ankara. The company is run entirely by Turks and with Turkish capital. Expenses for broadcasting are met by the levying of two taxes on radio purchasers—a yearly tax of five dollars on each radio installation and a tax of 25 per cent of the factory price on each set sold in Turkey.

The director, Hairiddine Bey, a former army officer of 20 years' wireless experience, declares that radio is a necessity in Turkey to bind together isolated sections of the country where no other means of communication exist. Eighteen automobile agencies in Anatolia have become agencies for the Turkish Radio company and report the effect of their newly installed loud speakers on the natives.

The village of Duzge, far in the interior, has become divided into two quarrelsome clans because of the radio. One clan maintains that the new instrument is really a telephone without wires, while the other insists that the instrument is a new-fangled voice preserver with a device for letting out a certain amount of noise at a time.

Turkish music, peculiar for its weird penetrating melancholy produced by curious native instruments is the most popular item both with European commentators and Turkish peasants, who ask for "more good old fashioned Turkish airs and no jazz." Constantinople fans, however, cry for more jazz and more European classical music. The three kinds of music are included in each of the four daily programs which consist also of stock and weather reports, new items and lectures.

As announcements must be made both in Turkish and French and queries sometimes in English or German, the procuring of a polyglot speaker with a good voice was a problem.

Amusements

HOLLYWOOD, Cal. — When things are dull at the studios there always are a few interesting encounters to look forward to on Hollywood Boulevard.

Sadakichi Hartmann, in town for a while from his home in the desert, pauses long enough to relate that he is getting together a collected edition of his writings. The vagabond philosopher-essayist is in frail health, and at mention of a possible publication of his memoirs, portions of which have been completed, he grimaces: "And when those are done that will be about all."

Second-hand clothes bring high prices in Hollywood if the purchaser can be persuaded that the dinner gown she likes once adorned the diminutive Gloria Swanson or draped the tall loveliness of Greta Garbo. Actually, many of the old costumes of the screen stars are made into cushions and used to decorate interior sets.

Sally Trump, a beginner in the movies, reclined the other day among the old gowns of Olive Borden, Janet Gaynor, Virginia Valli and Madge Bellamy—made over into pillows.

Richard Schayer, author of that he-man film drama, "Tell It to the Marines," and Warren Newcomb, artist and originator of modern glass-shot photography, played a game of chess with a vest-pocket set while at lunch in a studio cafe.

There are diplomats in the service of the movies who are known officially as location managers.

These ambassadors of filmland are the men who remove obstacles from the paths of companies going on location in possibly unfriendly territory.

The job calls for a man used to handling all types of people. William Guthrie, location manager for Warner brothers, was a federal secret service man for many years and was at one time a body guard to President Wilson.

His pet diplomatic ambition is to persuade his father to see a motion picture. The elder Guthrie has no use for them and never has entered a movie theatre.

Business men and others are regarding this parity with considerable satisfaction.

Kent Enters Henly Race As Pick of U. S. Prep Crews

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK—Athletic competition between the United States and Great Britain invaded the schoolboy division when the husky crew representing the Kent School of Connecticut sailed for England to take part in the Henley Regatta. Generally regarded as the pick of this nation's preparatory school crews, Kent is matching prowess in an open race with universities, schools and clubs in the Thames Challenge Cup race.

Coached by Rev. F. H. Sill, coxswain of the Columbia varsity eight in 1895, Kent this year defeated the Columbia freshman, the Harvard 150 pound varsity and the Yale 150-pound freshmen crews before winning its dual race with Choate, a rival preparatory school. The Connecticut crew began its training early in January on the Upper Housatonic river. Although claiming no championship honors, Kent's chances in England are considered very good.

Seven of the crew were graduated this spring and will take their college entrance examinations in the Henley Town Hall. Harvard, Yale and Princeton will attract two oarsmen each and the coxswain, Robert L. Colmore, of Porto Rico, intends to enter Princeton.

The personnel of the Kent crew is as follows: Bow, Rowland D. Irving, New York City; No. 2, Robert N. Ogdon, Ithaca; No. 3, William H. Lane, New Canaan, Conn.; No. 4, Nathaniel E. Parkinson, Charles River Village; No. 5, William R. Kirkland, New York City; No. 6, James O. Pease, New Haven; No. 7, Armistead P. Rood, Concord, Mass.; stroke and captain, Lyman S. Goodbody, Toledo; coxswain, Robert L. Colmore, San Juan, Porto Rico.

This year's crew is the sixth Kent has produced. Rev. Sill, who is headmaster of the school, at one time was coach of the Columbia freshman crews.

GELATIN DESSERTS

Fruit gelatines are delicious for dessert. Any kind of fruit juice may be used in season, or various combinations of flavors as in fruitades and punches.

Use one envelope of gelatin to one quart of liquid, or less in warm weather. Put the envelop or ounce of gelatin into one-half cup of cold water to soften for about two minutes.

Heat one cup of water with about half a cup of sugar, according to taste and acidity of the fruit used.

Take the syrup from the fire while boiling, and add the moistened gelatine. When fully dissolved, add two and one-fourth cups of fresh fruit juice, such as orange, pineapple, raspberry, blackberry, or grape, together with the juice of half a lemon. Any preferred combination may be used.

Strain and pour into one large mould or small individual moulds. When chilled and set, serve with or without cream plain or whipped.

If Bob Clarke returns to Pampa the Grays will be sitting pretty. Manager Ed Gopher wired the big fellow last night, but has not yet received an answer.

A city league was formed here last night with four teams entered. Two games will be played each week. There are three diamonds available and the games will start at 6 o'clock.

The Babe almost lost his lead in the home run race yesterday when Lou Gehrig slammed one over the fence in the first. The Babe came back with one in the fourth to tie it up again. Incidentally, the Red Sox lost their twelfth straight game.

At a meeting of the moguls of the Western league yesterday in Topeka, Kans., it was decided not to split the league season, thus the Tackless Texans won't have a chance for the play-off, now being 18 games behind the first position, and no team is going to sit down and let the Texans overtake that lead.

The Grays still have hopes of getting organized before the Fourth of July, but will not have Bob Clarke here until after the Texans return to Amarillo.

SAMMY BAKER IS RUGGED RIVAL FOR JOE DUNDEE, WELTER KING

NEW YORK, July 1. (AP)—Joe Dundee, the new welterweight champion of the world, has plenty of opposition in sight if he contemplates a busy campaign in defense of the crown. Not the least of the Baltimore Italian's rivals is the walloping soldier, Sergeant Sammy Baker, who jumped into the limelight by stopping the Nebraska "Wildcat," Ace Hudkins.

Hudkins had been knocked down, but never out, nor had he been stopped by any foe until he met the rushing, two-fisted Baker.

Sergeant Sammy, a youngster with lots of stamina and courage as well as punching ability, has come from the army ranks in rapid fashion to make his mark in the 147-pound division. He is a product of Mitchell Field, N. Y. He holds decisions over such men as "K. O. Eddie" Roberts, the Tacoma sensation who knocked out Joe Dundee in a single round at San Francisco; Georgia Ward and Joe Simonich, the Montana miner.

but the ball curved away as it was about to go down and stopped about 18 inches short. "Huh!" grunted a disgusted spectator. "He missed it!"

Some of the spectators could not understand that medal play is vastly different from match play. Bobby Jones went his first two rounds with George Underwood. Underwood was as much off his game as was Bobby, but the champion was several strokes better on each side than his playing companion. "Jones is too strong for Underwood. The boy might as well quit," remarked a spectator.

The professionals, usually meticulous in smoothing out footprints in traps, didn't bother at Oakmont. The traps there had deep grooves made by a special infernal machine in the shape of a rake. Most of the boys figured that anyone coming behind them and landing in the trap would rather be in a footprint than the furrows placed to catch the unwary.

Harry Berkman, 50-year-old physical trainer, recently played seventy-two holes of golf in one day.

Four Teams Are Entered In City Baseball League

Officers were elected and four teams entered in the city league formed last night at a meeting of those interested.

Teams entered were the Oilers, Pampa Washrites, Merton Rig Builders, and Magnolia. Each team can sign 15 players and can make no changes after the league gets under way. Games will be played four nights a week on the three diamonds. The Grays' field, Magnolia diamond, and the Merton lease. They will start at 6 o'clock. Admission will be 25 cents at the Grays' park and a collection at the other diamonds.

The first game will be played Tuesday night at the Grays' park. A schedule will be drawn up tomorrow.

The officers elected were: J. H. Kincaid, president; L. J. Sherrod, secretary; and directors are the four managers of the teams entered.

Oilers Will Play Spearman Here On Sunday and Monday

The Pampa Oilers will play a two-game series at the home park Sunday and Monday with the Spearman nine as the opposition. Spearman has a fast, hard hitting team that should put up a real brand of ball.

Members of the Oilers practice every day and should be ready for the visitors. Martin has Voss, McClendon, and Robinson all primed for mound duty.

The games will be called at 3:30 o'clock.

OAKMONT ONCE-OVERS

OAKMONT, Pa. (AP)—Some members of the big galleries following the play in the Open golf championship never did find out what it was all about. After the traps of Oakmont had eliminated all but Tommy Armour and Harry Cooper, who were forced to stay over for a play off, a couple of enthusiastic but ill informed fans arrived when several holes had been played. They asked who the participants were and when they were told had another question. It was, "Where are Jones and Hagen?" If the reply had been left to Bobby and Walter is probably would have been, "Nowhere."

In the play-off when Armour was a stroke behind, but seemed about to get it back, Cooper, playing the odd, putted to one side and left his ball directly in front of Armour's. "A dead stymie," exultantly cried a Cooper supporter. His face was a study when Referee Fownes carefully marked Harry's ball and picked it up, leaving Tommy a clear avenue. Stymies are like the giraffe in medal play. There ain't no sich animal.

Johnny Farrell, one of the best long distance putters in the world, who is a Dead Shot Dick from '25 to 40 feet, had a long side hill putt of 50 feet. He boldly went for the cup.

Billy Powell, former student of Oklahoma University, took part in bathing revues in Oklahoma and California. That gave her an idea—bathing suits. She went to Dallas, Tex., where she soon owned her own smart arcade shop and it found favor with the Dallas bathers. Dallas folk call her "William."

ASKS PARIS COUNCIL FOR WOMEN POLICE

PARIS (AP)—Police women may soon be seen in France if the plea of Mme. Avril de Sainte-Croix, one of the leading feminists of the country, is granted by the Paris Municipal council.

In the face of two unfavorable official reports made in 1924 on the appointment of women as police officers, Madame de Saint-Croix asked that a body of women auxiliaries be appointed for special detail in women's and children's work.

HONOR SUFFRAGIST WITH MONEY GIFT

LONDON (AP)—Dame Millicent Fawcett, "grand old woman" of the equal suffrage movement in Great Britain, has been presented with one thousand pounds, raised by public subscription, in recognition of her services to the suffrage cause.

She immediately gave the sum to the endowment of a room in the University Women's Settlement in Chelsea.

CLIMAX NEAR IN RAILROAD SITUATION

Frank Kell, Wichita Falls capitalist and official of the Clinton and Oklahoma Western railroad, will be given a hearing July 18 before the Interstate Commerce commission regarding his proposal to build a new line from Cheyenne, Okla., to Pampa, a distance of about 95 miles.

This hearing is of much interest to Pampa people, regardless of their attitude toward Kell's methods of doing railroad building. The Santa Fe, without protest, has been granted the right to build a line from White Deer northward into the oil fields.

It is probable that Kell, should he obtain the right desired, would wish financial assistance in the project. He might not receive a good response. But the situation is that unless Kell builds no one may at the time Pampa is most in need of another rail outlet.

There might be wisdom in submitting a brief supporting Kell's claim that his road is needed along the proposed route. It might be wise to send an observer to the hearing.

In other words, the time has come for Pampa to do more than collect data and watch developments. The railroad committee of the Chamber of Commerce has not been idle, and it is able to give a pretty accurate report on the attitude of several railroads.

But the hearing of July 18 will call the matter to a show down and will indicate the attitude of roads in this region. It is time to take whatever action may be deemed most expedient.

Personally, we like hiking, but it takes more than 18 greens to make the scenery and we prefer to shoot bigger game than "goff."

Well, it could hardly be said last night that Pampa lacked attractions.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON. — Two thousand church folk of Washington recently raised their clenched fists and shouted "We mean business!"

They had banded together to exterminate the bootlegger from the sacred precincts of your nation's capital. Every member of their new association will report all known bootleggers to a paid field secretary who will turn over the evidence to the cops and see that the cops get busy.

All of which was great news to many unregenerate Washingtonians who agreed wholeheartedly that the bootlegging business in the city needed regulation.

In fact, some people are seriously considering formation of an auxiliary society to help along the good work. Help it along, that is, to the extent of tipping the church organization off to all bootleggers who deliver bad hooch and all bootleggers who persistently pester honest citizens in their offices.

Congress, so often insensitive to popular sentiment, has not done much to aid in this work. This inaction may or may not be because congressmen drink anything and are incensed at the suggestion that what's good enough for them isn't good enough for anyone else.

And, somehow, the average citizen who reported a bad bootlegger to the police also failed to obtain satisfactory action.

But now the church organization, which means business and expects to get 10,000 members, is on the job and better days may be expected.

There is, of course, little desire to cast asparagus at the honest and reliable bootleggers of the town. There are some of these. The trouble is that the business is overrun by amateurs who firmly believe that a pint of peroxide, a pint of listerine and a little prune juice make a quart of whisky. That supposition is a complete fallacy.

Sometimes it takes a newcomer a month or more to acquire a reliable bootlegger. Meanwhile, assuming that he is no teetotaler, he is at the mercy of the lowest caste in bootlegging, although if he doesn't care about the taste, there is plenty of Maryland moonshine rye available.

It might be pointed out that some of the most reliable members in high standing of the Washington industry are women. Some of them can carry more bottles under their capes and cloaks than the ordinary man could pile into a 10-ton truck. And some of them have very pretty assistants to make their deliveries. Most of these women, incidentally, are widows who preferred this profitable means of livelihood to entering the service of a five-and-ten cent store. They seem to specialize on synthetic gin and Bacardrum.

And in further tribute to these women, it should be said that they don't pour like locusts into a man's office to seek business. The males of the species are more annoying than insurance agents — and seemingly more numerous.

The sales talk of the fraternity is something terrific. The first step is to disarm one's suspicions by admitting frankly that the liquor is "cut." But every one of them has had every drop of the "real stuff" with which the alcohol is mixed, carefully tested by an expert chemist. If the stuff is not 100 per cent pure, he ships it right back. Often he brings along a sample so you can see for yourself. He raves on until one either becomes a customer or drives him from the building at the point of a pen-knife.

The consolidation of fifteen Wisconsin and northern Michigan public utilities has been announced.

PRESS FORUM

Thorough master of his subject General Wood naturally talks by the card in discussing Philippine questions. But there is nothing novel in his conclusions. Economic conditions are good in the islands. The people are more prosperous than they ever were before. But they're as yet unfit for freedom and the leaders of the independence movement are not frank, since they fail to warn the people of their evident lack of fitness for self government. It is an old, old argument that has come trippingly from the tongues of masters from the first day that men became political slaves.

By changing a half-dozen proper names and a century and a half of chronology it would be easy to mistake the argument made by General Wood in 1927 for the argument made by Lord North and his ministers in 1775. The American colonists were prosperous. They were also unfit for freedom. Separation from the mother country would bring about economic ruin and political chaos. But fortunately for both the colonies and England, the Atlantic seaboard happened to be peopled by dreamers sufficiently impractical to prefer liberty to economic well-being. Every rifle-ball that whined across a revolutionary battlefield was aimed at the heart of the very doctrine that General Wood is preaching today.

By the same kind of sophistry did American slaveholders once seek to justify slavery. The enslaved African was the happiest of his race. The most unfortunate of all black men were the ones who had escaped in the gin of the slave dealer and still ran wild in the jungles of the Congo and the Guinea coast. Only the slaves had been introduced to culture and Christianity. Nevertheless, all the sophistry that the slaveholder could summon to his help proved powerless to stay the onrush of emancipation.

Undeniably America has done a mighty work for the people of the Philippines. Admittedly the majority of the islanders are unfit for the experiment of self-government. But the only humane excuse that America has for governing those islands is to prepare the people as rapidly as possible for the boon of political freedom. Economic prosperity is no compensation for political bondage.—Daily Oklahoman.

SHOULD MARRY AT 25

HOUSTON, (AP)—Laws should be enacted to prohibit marriage before men and women reach 25, according to Dr. Williams States Jacobs, pastor of the First Presbyterian church here. Young people are not grown until they are 25, he said in a sermon at his church. As long as marriage is as unsecure as it is, the morality of the race will gradually degenerate.

TIRES CAN SPOIL VACATION TRIPS

They Should Be Attended to at the Beginning of Trip, Local Dealer Says

As the vacation season is with us, the favorite indoor sport of thousands, particularly those who own automobiles, is to plan where they will spend the annual two weeks, or whatever it is, away from the "job".

Youngsters and oldsters alike discuss places to go, how long they will stay at each town or resort or beach visited, what they may see—and how much will be spent.

The itinerary and budget are completed, subject to change.

There is one angle of the budget, however, says R. C. Blackburn, local Firestone dealer, that is usually overlooked. And he adds it is provocative of more grief and disappointment on a motor vacation than any other avoidable mishap.

"Before a vacationist starts out on a trip that will take him several hundred or thousand miles over the country, he should make sure that his tires are in excellent condition, he said.

"Badly worn casings should be replaced by new ones. If a used tire is to be carried as a spare, the car owner should have a tire repair man examine it to see if it is in good condition and any repairs should be made before the trip is started.

"The failure of motoring vacationists to pay attention to their tires—and replace those that cannot give the best of service under any conditions with new ones—can ruin a perfectly good vacation.

"Every vacation budget should include a new set of tires for the car,

If good tires are going to be needed, and then the vacation can be taken without fear of any tire grief—and unpleasant remembrances."

FRESH CHERRY PIE

Wash and pit two cups of tart cherries. Place them in a sauce pan and bring to the boiling point. Then simmer for five minutes. Drain the fruit and with each cup of cooled juice mix one to two tablespoons of flour. Cook until thickened. Add three-fourths to one cup of sugar and the cherries and mix well.

Line a deep pie tin with pastry and bake until the crust is a golden brown. Pour in the hot fruit mixture moisten the rim of the crust and place the uncooked crust over the fruit.

Turn the dough over the cooked crust tightly so the juice will not escape during the cooking. If desired, strips of dough can be used in place of the top crust.

Cook the pie at a low temperature so the juice will not boil over.

QUEEN MARIE HONORS HOSTS OF CHICAGO

CHICAGO (AP)—Decorations from Queen Marie of Rumania are on their way to Chicagoans who had a share in her entertainment in the United States. Society rumor has it that one of the awards is for Mrs. Ira Nelson Morris, wife of the former minister to the Balkans.

Mrs. Morris and her husband accompanied the queen on her American tour last autumn. Mrs. Morris has written a book, "On Tour With Queen Marie," for the benefit of the Rumanian Red Cross.

Arthur Meeker, Chicago social leader and one of Queen Marie's advisers on her tour, also is reported to be slated for a decoration.

SAY BRITISH ACTRESS NOT GOOD FILM TYPE

LONDON (AP)—British critics who are trying to discover why England has produced so few women film stars say their actresses lack the necessary sense of adventure and pluck.

Most of the younger London stage women have attempted to act in films, but the outstanding British motion picture actresses admittedly are few.

Some British producers say English types do not photograph well. The actresses blame the situation on poor direction and unsatisfactory technique of photography.

MORE WOMEN THAN MEN USE AIRPLANES

CROYDON, England (AP)—Many more women use the airplane service between the Continent than men.

There has been a large increase in the number of young honeymooners who travel by air rather than put up with the discomforts of cross-channel steamer travel.

Close observers say that the women seem much more at home several thousand feet in the air than the male passenger. Increased facilities for flying now make it possible for the wealthy woman to leave Croydon in the morning, fly to Paris for shopping and be back in London in time for dinner. Several well-known society women have made several such trips this season.

Indiana Rears War Memorial

(By The Associated Press.)

INDIANAPOLIS — To its sons and daughters who served in the world war Indiana will dedicate a shrine, the cornerstone of which will be laid July 4 by General John J. Pershing.

The $3,000,000 edifice is the central structure in a war memorial plaza a block wide, reaching northward for half a mile from the city's business district.

The commander who led American troops in the world war will be surrounded by distinguished military men and civilians when he fits into place the block of marble on which the shrine will rise.

In the hall will be housed treasures of the A. E. F. and relics of state military history, and themes of war, peace, patriotism and sacrifice will be worked into friezes and mural painting on the walls of the interior chamber.

Completion of the central shrine will give Indianapolis and Indiana one of the most notable war memorials in the nation. The long mall, bordered by the James Whitcomb Riley memorial library and the federal courthouse and postoffice building, already contains the national headquarters building of the American Legion.

The project is a joint undertaking of the city, county and state.

British Increases Output of Steel

LONDON (AP)—Great Britain is manufacturing and consuming more steel this year than during any peace time period in its history. The output this year promises to exceed the record year of 1913 when England produced 10 per cent of the world's output.

The world production of steel is expanding, too. The total output of 1913 was 76,000,000 tons. By 1926 it had increased to 87,500,000 tons. In 1926, owing to the general strike and prolonged coal strike, Great Britain's share of the world production fell to about 4 per cent.

This year, the world is making steel at the rate of more than 90,000,000 tons for the full year, which would be at least 14,000,000 tons more than in 1913, and the British share of the total world output promises to be somewhere near 12 per cent or 2 per cent higher than in the last full year before the war.

In March the British steel output achieved the new record of 949,600 tons for the month.

This record output of steel is concurrent with diminished exports and greatly increased imports. There was a time when two thirds of the steel made in Great Britain was exported, now Britain is using more steel than she is producing.

The reason is that the building and engineering trades are taking greater tonnages of steel than at any time before in the history of Britain.

Cupid Keeps Shacks On U. S. Reservation Seasonable Dishes

FT. LEAVENWORTH, Kans. — The little god known as Cupid is standing in the way of eradication of Fort Leavenworth's war time cantonments.

During the World War nearly two score of these long, rambling shanties were thrown together alongside the beautiful fort, and city highway on the military reservation, to house the hundreds of raw recruits sent there.

When Leavenworth returned to its normal population of about 300 officers and a few companies of enlisted men, a generous commandant turned the cantonments over to married enlisted men with rank of sergeant or under, rent free. The army makes no allowance for housing of a soldier's family unless he achieves the rank of technical sergeant, master sergeant, or warrant officer. Those of lower rank aren't supposed to get married, and to do so must obtain consent of their company commanders.

The cantonments, ramshackle as they were, proved a financial boom to many privates, corporals, and even sergeants with families. They were soon filled and still are.

But now the roofs have fallen in, all are in need of paint, and the hillside makes a scar on an otherwise beautiful military reservation. No one wants to move the men out, however, and the officers have adopted a policy of watchful waiting until the cantonments get in such condition, one by one, as to be absolutely uninhabitable. Then they are torn down. Two or three years probably will elapse before they are all gone.

It is predicted that the expense of running the French government next year will be almost 2,000,000,000 francs above the 1927 figure.

CHEF FROM PROVINCES STARTS COUNTRY COOKING FAD IN PARIS

PARIS, (AP)—Country cooking is the fad of smart diners in Paris these days.

There is a noticeable revival of "regional cooking" and many little restaurants which specialize in foods of the provinces of France are thriving. The instigator of the fad is Henri Compte, himself the proprietor of a restaurant where regional cooking is practiced.

Many restaurants which have sprung up recently present dishes of Alsace, Perigord, Provence, Normandy, Brittany, Savoy and the Rhone valley. M. Compte comes from the department of Lot which he calls the "land of the appreciative mouth." The specialty of the region is pate de foie gras with truffles.

Compte started at the age of 14 to conquer Paris with his sauce pan. He left his native village of Fijac on the slope of a vine covered hill and set himself to the task of working his way up from the pots and pans.

In 1900, he reached the top when he found himself in charge of the famous mess of the "Cercle Militaire," the army and navy clubs of Paris and one of the city's choice aggregations of gourmets.

As chef of the dining room at the old restaurant Mairie, now disappeared, Henri Compte served most of the artistic and literary notables of the early 20th century. Among them were Sarah Bernhardt, Edmond Rostand, and Coquelin the elder.

He came into the full glory of his career as director of the Cafe Americain, situated under the Theatre de la Vaudeville, since closed. There he prepared delicacies for the present King Alexander of Jugo-Slavia, Russian grand dukes and many writers and theatrical folk.

Compte now holds forth in a little restaurant of his own called "Chez Moi" or "In My Home". Every now and then he spends a week ferreting out new dainties in his home province. He deals direct with the farmers of Lot whom he has known since childhood.

A WARM WEATHER DISH

Baked eggs and cheese make a good supper dish for warm weather. Break the desired number of eggs in a buttered earthenware or glass baking dish, add a few tablespoons of cream and salt enough to season.

Sprinkle the top with grated cheese mixed with fine dry bread-crumbs. Set the dish in a pan containing hot water and bake in a moderate oven until the eggs are set and the crumbs are brown.

Change Kilocycles To Meters Easily

CHICAGO—Radio fans accustomed to wave lengths and confused by kilocycles need have no trouble translating the new unit into the more familiar one.

To turn kilocycles to wave lengths merely divide 300,000 by the number of kilocycles at which a station is operated. The result is the station's wave length.

Thus a station operated at 1,000 kilocycles has a wave length of 300 meters; a station at 670 kilocycles has a wave length of 447.7, and so on. The more kilocycles the fewer meters in the wave length.

GRAVE OF A THOROUGHBREED

SANTA ROSA, Cal. (AP)—Within the shadows of the stables of the great Rancho Wikup near here is a grave cared for as diligently as those in the city cemeteries. It holds the remains of one of America's famed race horses—Disguise, a true son of equine aristocracy, who died at the noble age of 30 years.

Only last fall John H. Rosseter, owner of Disguise, gave a birthday party for the horse. Some 200 sportsmen and society people attended. Refreshments for Disguise included a cake 10 feet wide prepared of bran and oats, with carrots taking the place of candles.

In 1900 this thoroughbred in a gallant bid for the Epsom Derby honors placed third to Diamond Jubilee.

SHIPS BRAVE STORMS TO MAN LIGHTHOUSES

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — First to quit the harbor in the spring and last to return in the fall, the two ships, Amaranth and Marigold, offer adventures hazardous enough for any tar who thinks freshwater sailing is a job for beardless boys.

The two vessels are United States lighthouse tenders, and the task of their crews is to keep Lake Superior safe for navigation by ordinary ships.

At the first sign of spring they sail out of the Duluth-Superior harbor over rough seas with a cargo of light-housesmen, bound for their stations. When their work is done and summer has quieted the lake the big passenger and freight boats fare forth. In the fall, when the storms have driven all the larger boats to port, the tenders put out again, gather up the buoys and bring them and the lighthouse crews back to the harbor for the winter.

Joe Dundee, recently crowned welterweight champion, was made a citizen of the United States yesterday. The boxer, whose real name is Samuel Lazzaro, was born in Italy and came to this country as a child.

You can't look at a tire and tell how far it will run

YOU CAN'T SEE a tire carcass because it is covered by the tread. Yet the way this carcass is built tells how far the tire will run.

Dunlop has had 39 years to learn all the hidden points where tires wear. Dunlop carcasses are built from the best long fibre cotton, spun in Dunlop's own mills into the famous Dunlop cable-twist cord.

These cords are elastic, so they give and take as your tire runs; strong, so they resist constant load and pounding. They build the best possible foundation for the Dunlop tread—the toughest rubber development known.

Thus Dunlop's extra years of experience build added value into every vital tire-part. That is why, not one Dunlop—but every Dunlop—gives you more service than you can reasonably expect.

NOVELIST SEES ECONOMIC CHANGE AS CAUSE OF COWBOY'S PASSING

MARY ROBERTS RINEHART

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 1. (AP)—The cowboy of the northern ranges is passing, believes Mary Roberts Rinehart, the novelist.

In her latest book, "Lost Ecstasy," she pictures the cowman waging a losing battle against restricted range, hordes of sheep and the force of economic change.

"The eastern demand for young beef and the increasing tendency of farmers in the middle west to sell their grain on the hoof, has increased the cowman's problem," says Mrs. Rinehart, who has spent parts of many years in the cattle country, winter and summer. She confesses the bitterness of one to whom "the passing of the cowman is a personal tragedy."

"For the last six years it was thought in Wyoming and Montana that the slump in prices for range stock was temporary," she continues. "But now they are realizing that the cattle industry of the old days will never return. To own cattle is, in bad years, to be poor in proportion to the number you own. And so out goes the cowhand. What is he to do? Become a farm hand?

"He was an aristocrat, a free lance whose equipment was his nerve and skill. Now he becomes a tiller of the fields, with equipment manufactured in Chicago."

"It is not that I regret the change as a retrogression," she said. "But for the individual it is something of the sort. His skilled profession is taken away. But the blow to pride is his greatest blow."

"From being an artist in his line he must become a mere unit of manpower. I have seen them, my own friends, go to driving a team in the fields or a truck between the little towns. Sometimes they take to clerking in stores."

"But when spring comes they are apt to gather up their saddles and spurs and move on. There may be little work for them left, but a rumor of it is sufficient to call them. And some of them regard it as more suitable to be a cowpuncher out of work than a farm hand making money."
