Grain Area Is Back On Old Export Basis

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Part of the rate advance hitherto given Galveston and other Texas ports in a contest with New Orleans was removed today by a decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission, which modified its former findings.

The former decision ordering railroads to give Texas ports lower rates on petroleum and its products that applied to New Orleans was rescinded.

Moreover, the area of Southwest grain growing states, from which the Texas ports were originally given a rate advantage over New Orleans, was affected through sharp rate decreases made today.

Suspect in Local Bank Robbery Now Held in Jail Here

A man who gave his name as J. W. Worley was arrested in Borger Friday morning on suspicion of having been connected with the Beggs, Okla., and Pampa bank robberies, and he was brought to the local jail yesterday afternoon.

Officials of the Pampa bank could not identify him. He is thought possibly to have been the driver of the bandit car, and in that case would not have been seen by those in the First National bank when it was held up.

Hugh and Whitey Walker and Ed Bailey, held on charges of killing a Borger policeman, will be tried soon in the 84th district court session at Stinnett. They were arrested after the local robbery, and were thought at one time to have been implicated in it.

Lord Cecil Nearly Upsets Naval Parley

GENEVA, July 9.—The tripartite naval conference almost broke up Saturday.

Reliable information concerning the happenings at a secret session of the executive committee in the morning has it that Lord Cecil went so far in the course of the tumultuous discussion as to bang his fist on the table and exclaim, "This is perfect nonsense!"

Lord Cecil exploded in this fashion after Rear Admiral Hilary Jones of the American delegation had quietly delivered an explanation of the American proposal concerning cruisers.

Hugh Gibson, head of the American delegation, who already had listened to a reproach earlier in the session by Cecil, is understood to have risen to his feet, declaring with firmness that unless Cecil withdrew the remark, Gibson would be obliged to leave. Cecil withdrew it.

Gibson insisted nothing tangible could be accomplished unless delegates "could break the back" of the cruiser difficulty.

Frank Hill of the Gray County State bank is taking a vacation and has gone to Fort Worth on a visit.

Little Lester

The Pacific ocean was not wide enough to daunt Lieutenant Lester J. Maitland, but when the man who flew to Honolulu was four years old, he ran home from school like a scared rabbit. This picture, taken when the Maitlands were living in Milwaukee, shows the young man in the formative period of his career. He longed for school, but became frightened the first day.

SIX TEAMS TO WORK IN DRIVE FOR SCOUTING

Goal Will Be Set Tomorrow At A Luncheon

BRABHAM TELLS WHAT SCOUT IS

Importance of Work To State and Church Is Cited

Six teams of two men each will be selected at a luncheon tomorrow to solicit memberships in the Boy Scout Foundation proposed for Pampa. The meeting of Scout chairmen has been called by B. E. Finley, general chairman.

Details of the local drive will be announced at that time. A goal of about $2,500 probably will be set.

The following article on what a Boy Scout is has been written for the Daily News by the Rev. Tom W. Brabham, formerly a Scoutmaster in Cross Plains, where he was pastor:

Obviously, a Boy Scout must be chivalrous; that is, be as many as the knights or pioneers of old. He is unselfish. He should show courage. He must do his duty. He should show benevolence and thrift. He should be obedient to his parents, and show respect to those who are his superiors. He should be very courteous to women. He should be cheerful and seek self improvement. These are the characteristics of a Boy Scout.

Life-Saving Important

The Scout also knows how to save life. He knows how to make a stretcher; to throw a rope to a drowning person; how to drag a person from a drowning building, and to resuscitate a person overcome by gas fumes. He knows the method of stopping runaway horses. He has the presence of mind and the skill to calm a panic and to deal with street and other accidents.

In this age of the world's history when there are so many things that seemingly have for their purpose the very destruction of the human race, and when so many of our young men and young women are not able to take their place among the healthy and strong, the Scout is taught these things which make the healthy boy and the strong man. He leaves off those habits which destroy the physical and moral being. The greatest leaders among the young men of today are those who have been taught the principles of Scouting.

Obedience Is Stressed

Several months ago a father came into the office of the writer of this paper and made this statement:

"Allow me to present to your troop the sum of $25. I am sure you are wondering why I have become so liberal. It is easy to explain. In your Scout troop you will find my boy. We were never able to control him up to the time he joined the Scouts; now we have no trouble with him at all. It has been worth more than we can ever pay. At any time I can serve you in any way to help out with the Scout work, call on me. But before I go, allow me to ask

Pampa Presbyterians To Occupy New Church for First Time Today

Pampa Presbyterians today will occupy for the first time their new church building at the corner of Browning avenue and Frost street.

The beautiful new brick building is 36 by 48 feet in size, and has a front porch nine by 36 feet. It was designed by W. L. McAtee in the form of a manse, for which it will be used when another church is built. Wm. Mullinax was the contractor, and C. W. Lawrence did the interior finish work.

The large room has been equipped with well constructed pews, and there is a raised platform about 10 by 24 feet in size. One corner of the room will be screened off for the primary department. The piano was purchased several months ago. The services have been held in the Rex theatre since the church was organized by the Rev. W. M. Baker, minister in charge.

E. S. Carr, Tom Clayton, W. W. Merten and Mrs. John Andrews compose the building committee. The building and lots represent an investment of nearly $15,000 and the church is in need of only $500 to complete the plant.

The program for this morning is as follows:

Doxology. Hymn, 39. Scripture reading by the Rev. L. A. Tillson. Hymn 96. Prayer, the Rev. D. D. McKimling. Announcements. Offertory selection, Dorothy Dodd. Solo, Mrs. A. H. Doucette. Sermon, the Rev. W. M. Baker. Reception of new members. Benediction.

11-YEAR-OLD YOUTH FALLS OFF TRACTOR

Lewis McCuiston May Lose Leg Through Accident

TREATMENT IS GIVEN IN PAMPA

Roxana Man Burned Friday Night at Camp

Lewis McCuiston, 11-year-old Miami youth, was run over by a tractor plow Saturday afternoon on his father's farm 5 miles north of Miami, and physicians at Pampa hospital fear amputation of a leg may be necessary to save his life. The limb was almost severed, but the major blood vessels escaped.

The youth was brought to Pampa by his father, H. J. McCuiston, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Kelly, and R. L. Simmons, a neighbor.

The accident occurred when the boy fell off the tractor which he was attempting to drive a few rounds while a farm hand went after a tool. The boy was run over and literally ground into the soil, and the tractor kept going, running in large circles and threatening to go over the edge of a nearby canyon.

Despite the seriousness of the injuries, the boy never lost consciousness and did not complain.

Everett P. Story is recovering at Pampa hospital from severe burns on his face, arms, and chest, received Friday night.

Story was injured when a two-gallon can of gasoline exploded in some unexplained manner and started a fire which destroyed a five room bunk house at the Roxana camp of the Wilcox oil pool.

Six other men living at the house lost most of their personal belongings, but were absent at the time. They are Ruel Casey, Ted Spencer, Fray Piland, W. E. Langford, H. T. McIlwain, and Wesley Strickland.

Practice night for the firemen became very practical when an alarm came in from the Roxana camp, which is about 7 miles south of the city. The exact location of the fire was not obtained by the person taking the alarm, and some time was lost. The new fire truck and the Ford made the run in fast time, taking the road easily at high speed. The older truck and the driver were left on duty.

Little could be done to save the building. Firemen were endangered by cartridge exploding in an automatic rifle and a .45 Colt pistol.

Maeterlinck's First Wife Writes Story of Her Romance With Poet

(By The Associated Press.)

PARIS—In a room carpeted and furnished entirely in black, Georgette Leblanc, tragedienne who created some of the most famous of Maeterlinck's plays, is writing "The Process," a book by which she expects posterity to judge her romance with the Belgian poet.

Heavy, glistening black curtains shut out all sunlight. Pools of shaded light substitute for the footlights. Madame Leblanc deserted when she was divorced in 1920 from Maeterlinck after he had fallen in love with Selysette Dabon, his youthful secretary.

"People cannot understand why I feel no bitterness toward Maeterlinck," she says, explaining that she wishes to see him before he dies. The poet is 65 years old and Georgette Leblanc is nearing 50. A leopard skin coat worn indoors because the shrouded rooms is so chilly does not hide her slender figure. Her features are keenly alive and although her eyes are tired, her chin maintains a brave tilt.

"His love was a great happiness," says the first Madame Maeterlinck. "Because it was withdrawn I do not cease to enjoy the knowledge that he loved me once nor do I regret that he is happy. That is one of the things I shall try to bring out in "The Process". She does not expect him to return to her. She believes he has reached the end of his creative work, but that she, partly because of her disappointment in her love affair has only just begun. She has just finished a book called "The Courage Machine" in which she explains that she does not expect to return to the stage of France. She spends her time writing, singing and designing for the theatre.

Princess To Marry Dressmaker

A princess-saleswoman and her dressmaker employer will be bride and groom when Princess Nathalie Paley, a Russian, is married to Lucien Lelong, Paris couturier, shown above with her.

PARIS, July 9. (AP)—A romance that began with a Russian emigre princess becoming a saleswoman has culminated in the engagement of Lucien Lelong, Paris dressmaker, and Princess Nathalie Paley of the Imperial Russian family. They will be married early in August.

Lelong met the 19-year-old princess only a few months ago when she joined his staff as first saleswoman in his perfume department.

Princess Nathalie is the second daughter of Grand Duke Paul of Russia and of Princess Olga Paley. The late Czar Nicholas II was her father's nephew.

During the war Nathalie with her sister, Princess Irene, was taken into Finland. After her father was assassinated in 1919, her mother was smuggled out of Russia by a count dressed as a peasant. After the mother rejoined her family in Finland, they moved to Paris and became socially prominent. Princess Irene Paley recently married a Romanoff, Prince Theodore, son of the czar's sister, Princess Zenia.

Women Surprise Men Watchers In First Boat Race On Thames

(By The Associated Press.)

PUTNEY-ON-THAMES, Eng.—For the first time in rowing history, two women's eights raced over the course taken by the Oxford and Cambridge University crews in their annual clash on the River Thames.

The race was the result of the Ace Rowing Club of Barnes, accepted by the Weybridge Women's amateur Rowing club.

The crews started off in choppy weather from Putney Bridge, both going at the rate of about 32 strokes a minute, afterwards dropping to 26, during a ding-dong race that resulted in a race for Weybridge by three and a half lengths.

Then came the surprise. Men watchers who had followed the crews in a steam launch expected to see both crews collapse after the strain of the race, which has laid many an Oxford and Cambridge crew low, but far from falling over their oars, the crew relaxed from the strain of racing, sat up and looked around cheerfully.

The time for the race was 26 minutes and 57 seconds as against the record Oxford and Cambridge time of 18 minutes and 41 seconds. Experts consider this is a remarkable achievement, since the women had the worst possible weather to contend with.

Paul Waner Has Everything, Declares Veteran Donie Bush

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—Paul Waner, of the famous Warner brothers of Ada, Okla., has demonstrated that there was no morning glory aspect to his achievement last year, his first in the majors, when he led the Pirate regulars at bat and finished close to the top of the National League list. Paul finished the 1928 campaign with the tidy mark of .335 but has been flying along not far from the .400 mark this season, driving in more runs than any other player in the league, besides contesting for the lead in extra-base hitting.

In the opinion of Manager Donie Bush, of the Pirates, Paul Waner is one of the greatest natural ball players the game has ever produced. Lloyd Warner, sharing the Pirate outfield patrol with Paul, is "only a shade below" his brother, in Bush's view.

"Paul," says Bush, "is a finisher star of the first class. He has everything. Lloyd, younger and less experienced, has the same capabilities but they haven't yet developed to their full extent. The Warner boys will make a lasting mark in big league baseball, unless I miss my guess."

LONGHORNS' TRIUMPH DUE TO "BILLIE" DISCH

AUSTIN (AP)—The baseball coaching magic of William J. "Billie" Disch, has just brought the University of Texas its fifteenth Southwest Conference championship in 16 years.

The Longhorns' annexation of the conference crown at the end of the recent season made the third title triumph since 1920. That marked the only Longhorn loss in 16 years, the championship going to Baylor University at Waco.

Disch has been player and manager in a dozen baseball leagues.

He has uncovered and developed at Texas University some of the leading luminaries of professional baseball. Among them are Mike Massey Cleveland second baseman; Bill Falk of the White Sox; Tink Rivieri and Joe Ellis, St. Louis Cardinals; Horace Kibbie, signed up by the Boston Braves; and Heine Odom who went to the New York Yankees.

MRS. BORCHERT HEADS MILWAUKEE BASEBALL

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—For the eighth season since 1912, a feminine hand controls organized baseball in Milwaukee.

History repeated itself when Otto Borchert, owner of the Milwaukee team of the American Association, died at the outset of the season and left the club in the hands of his wife, Mrs. Ruby Borchert. In 1912, Charles S. Havenor, owner of the team, died while the team was in spring training and Mrs. Havenor operated the club for seven years. Although not an intense fan, Mrs. Borchert is a frequent visitor at baseball games. She has indicated that she will keep control of the Milwaukee team at least until the end of the present season. She is counseled by Henry J. Killhea, attorney and one of the organizers of the American league.

Almost the first act of Mrs. Borchert was to ban boxing matches at the ball park.

Harvard Standards Prove Too Exacting For 3 Team Captains

(By The Associated Press.)
 CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Harvard, maintaining her tradition of education first, let the athletes fall where they may this season given an almost grim demonstration of her ideals.

Three captains in major sports, football, baseball and hockey, failed to get their degrees. A fourth captain, a flaming red head and a former champion too, upheld the tradition for the athletic body, however, by winning his degree, magna cum laude.

The unlucky ones, whose failure to get degrees crowned a disastrous year in the classroom for Harvard athletes, were Clement Coady, captain of the football team; Isadore Zarakov, captain of the baseball team, and William Ellison, captain of the hockey team. Therefore, the three young men, whose physical prowess brought them glory in the field of sports, must remain at the University until next January to qualify for their degrees. Ellsworth, "Red" Haggerty, track captain, was the conspicuous exception. He graduated with honors.

Coady, Zarakov and Ellison had jogged along at a satisfactory clip all through their senior year, until they reached into the home stretch. But they were unable to clear that final hurdle—divisional examinations—and were disqualified.

Disaster overtook some of the athletes sooner, however, and two fell by the wayside in the first semester.

SID TERRIS MAY GAIN TITLE IF HE CONTINUES HIS PACE

By EDWARD J. NEEL
 (Associated Press Sports Writer)
 NEW YORK—Sid Terris, long touted as New York's candidate to succeed Benny Leonard on the lightweight throne, has tried one full-strength right-hand punch with surprising results. So surprising were they that he now bids fair to realize his big ambition. At present he leads the pack "hot on the trail" of the champion, Sammy Mandell, the Rockford Sheik.

For the past two years, the speedy New Yorker, pride of the East Side Ghetto, has flashed a brilliant display of boxing skill and ring technique in his rise to title-contending position. But his bid for supreme honors in the 135-pound division always has been taken with a bit ofistic "salt."

Ring sharps have accused the Ghetto boy of "dancing" his way past formidable opponents, content to "jab and run" to earn a verdict. They said he wilted under body punishment, had little or no finishing power in his right hand, and was not overstocked with ability to take a socking and return to the fray with head up and fists flying.

Two fights within three months have changed all that. The first, a bitter ten-round victory over Billy Wallace, heavy-fisted Cleveland puncher established Terris as a gamester. He rose three times to fight on with increased ferocity after a vicious series of right hand punches had rattled his chin and dumped him, badly hurt, for counts of nine. Punishment seemed to spur Sid on in that scrap and knock the science out of him.

The second battle—a sensational one-round knockout of Ruby Goldstein—not only clinched his ability to "take it" but established him definitely as a right hand "socker."

Ruby crashed a right hand to Terris' chin at the half-way mark of the round and Sid went down in a heap for a nine count. Fifteen seconds later, the referee was carrying Ruby to his corner unconscious, victim of a terrific one-punch knockout.

Terris, jubilant at his decisive conquest of the formidable New York youngster, credits the comparatively new punching prowess to improved condition of his hands which, he said, foreshadowed more victories by the same route.

"I had to crack Ruby with my right hand to win," he said.

"I've always been afraid to let go full speed before, but it held together all right so I guess I'll try it more often."

Malone Stores Are Built In Period Of Unusual Growth

Three years ago last Thursday G. C. Malone opened for business in an 18 by 36 foot building at the corner of North Cuyler street and Kingsmill avenue. His stock was a small carload of mixed furniture purchased in Oklahoma City.

Mr. Malone occupied the small store for six months and then moved into the place where he is now situated. Since that time the Duncan block has been built where the former Malone furniture store was situated.

During the early months of being in business, Mr. Malone sold and delivered furniture to towns within a radius of 60 miles in a Ford coupe with a trailer attached.

Now the same firm, under the name of G. C. Malone Furniture and Undertaking company, has three large furniture stores, two in Pampa and one in Roxana. An up-to-date funeral home will be constructed soon by the firm.

Mr. Malone built his business and reputation on the service and quality of merchandise his customers received. He has three delivery trucks and two service cars at his command, also a completely equipped ambulance, which is for use 24 hours in the day. He also has a large hearse.

At the opening of his store, Mr. Malone did all the work himself. Now the following men are connected with the G. C. Malone and company stores: G. C. Malone, Porter Malone, Charles Duenkle, G. C. Durham, Tracey Cary, S. J. Spears, Herman Gantz, Doc Coffee, Henry Jensen, A. O. Simmons and T. W. Barnes.

General Officer To Give Attention To City Sanitation

Tom H. Lane, general city officer, will now devote his time to the sanitary condition of Pampa. The streets have been placed in fair condition and drains built.

The first step in improving sanitation here will be the cleaning of the alleys back of the stores on North Cuyler street. Refuse is being dumped in the alleys and files by the millions are buzzing around as the result. All merchants and residents will be warned before action is taken.

It is expected that action on changing the dump ground and installing an incinerator will be the next step in the sanitation program.

WOMAN SETS RHYMES TO MUSIC OF BIRDS

JACKSONVILLE, Ill. (AP)—In the songs of eight different birds, Anne Wakely Jackson has found melodies so definite that she has transcribed them in musical notations. The singing of the white-throated sparrow, the Baltimore oriole, the robin, the wood thrush, the titmouse the chickadee and even the rooster is in clear and concise musical phrases, Miss Jackson asserts.

From the songs she is making a book of bird rhymes for children.

Pirate Slugging Crew Is Sensation of National League

OLD RELIABLE MEN SLUMPING

Injured Casey Only Westerner Above .400 Mark

(By The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, July 9.—For four straight weeks now the three musketeers of the Pirate crew have dominated the hitters of the National league—the aged Joe Harris, the young Paul Waner, and the newcomer, Clyde Barnhart, and this trio is still at the top today.

The d'Artagnan of the three, Paul Waner, was the last to climb the heights, joining his pals the first week of June, but he has held up his end nobly ever since.

The batting figures of today, including Wednesday's games, show that these three alone of the top notch stickers of the National league have held their own against the hot weather pitching of the summer's first fortnight, the others in the first ten are doing a collective fadeaway like ten pins. Waner dropped two points and the other two stand on their same percentages.

Hornsbys Slumps

Frankie Frisch and Rogers Hornsby slumped together, just back of the Pittsburgh trio; Frisch losing 16 points and Hornsbys 12, with Frisch only five points ahead of his rival.

While Hornsbys and Hack Wilson of the Cubs were marking time in their home run contest, Cy Williams of the Phillies caught up with them and all three are tied at 15, Cy scoring three drives. Frisch failed to add to his stolen base, spring for the first week this season and Sparky Adams, the Chicago shortstop, pilfered two to come up even with the Pirate champion, Cuyler. They have 15 apiece, while Frisch has 22.

On the mound, too, the Pirates are supreme. Their two bespectacled twirlers, Lee Meadows, and Carmen Hill, top all of the National league twirlers. Meadows has a mark of 11 and 2 and Hill a mark of 12 and four. Charley Root of the Cubs has 14 victories but six defeats charged against him.

Leading hitters of the National league: Harris, Pittsburgh, .395; Barnhart, Pittsburgh, .392; P. Waner, Pittsburgh, .388; Frisch, St. Louis, .368; Hornsbys, New York, .363; Farrell, Boston, .361; Mueller, New York, .354; Harper, New York, .348; F. Scott, Chicago, .346; Traynor, Pittsburgh, .343.

Gehrig Gets 15 Hits

The new home run king, Lou Gehrig, has just finished his biggest week with the war club and lacks only one point of being the major leagues' only .400 batter. In the eight games over the holiday period Lou slammed fifteen hits, including the four home runs which gave him a lead of two up on the king whose crown is slipping, Babe Ruth.

Out in the west another star rose over the horizon, Herschel Bennett of the St. Louis Browns. When his chance came to play in the outer garden regularly, the former Tulsa Western leaguer responded with an average of two hits per game, becoming one of the first ten hitters in the league. Tradition has it that he once outran Loren Murchison in a 100-yard dash.

Ken Williams of the Browns, once wearer of the league batting honors, has made his debut into the first ten this year, while Harry Hellmann's slump came back on him and he fell back about seven places in the list of leaders.

Sox Pitching Broken

The White Sox pitching team of Lyons and Thomas which ruled the circuit for a time has been broken up. Thomas has been jinxed by the inability to chalk up his thirteenth victory, while Ted Lyons has gone to his fourteenth and the league leadership. Willis Hudlin, the Indian's sensational youngster, is close behind in percentage, although he has but ten victories, a mark reached by three others.

Falling so far to rank high up in the hitting limelight, George Sieler has turned to base-stealing in order to get around the paths and now has fourteen, a gain of five for the week. Ty Cobb is only three behind him and Taverner, the Tigers' flashy new shortstop, is tied with Cobb.

Leading hitters of the American league: Gehrig, New York, .399; Simmons, Philadelphia, .383; Meusel, New York, .373; Schang, St. Louis, .373; Dykes, Philadelphia, .371; Ruth, New York, .366; Bennett, St. Louis, .364; E. Miller, St. Louis, .362; Cobb, Philadelphia, .358; Williams, St. Louis, .353.

Home Runs Mere Incidents 60 Years Ago

IOWA CITY, July 9. (AP)—If Babe Ruth thinks he's making home run records in these summer days of 1927, he ought to turn back history's pages and take a look at the score sheets of Iowa teams which played the national pastime 60 years ago.

In the days when Base Ball was two words, a home run was the merest incident. The boys got as many as 37 in one game. Nor do newspaper archives indicate that there were any cries of "Take him out!" in that historic pitchers' battle at the Iowa tournament at Burlington in October, 1867, when the Mount Pleasant Hawk-Eyes won the state championship from the Burlington Westerns.

through the dust of Dewitt Lebourveau, the Toledo slugger. Ollie Tucker, the Millers new outfielder, has passed "Bevo" for batting honors. Tucker clouted safely a dozen times in the week's eight games while Lebourveau slammed out only seven, which ruined his .400 percentage.

Oscar Orwell, the Brewers pitching outfielder, is tied with Tucker today for top position at .391. Another hustler close on their heels is Kirkham, Columbus' pinch hitter, who delivered twice out of three times at bat. Orwell shot to the top by hitting for a .500 clip this week.

Then fence busters increased their activity over the holiday period, Earl Smith of Minneapolis, the present leader, getting two homers to total 13. The runnerup, Hauser of Kansas City, added another to reach eleven, and two more stolen bases, to reach 15 although Lebourveau is one ahead.

Kansas City and Toledo traded places in team batting, the Millers gaining two points and the Mudhens dropping one. The Wednesday double header which the Millers copped in two batting bees, moved them up a point closer to the third place Brewers.

Cuban Going Strong

Palmero, the Cuban slugger, now with Toledo, is the circuit's best on a percentage basis, with four victories and not a defeat. But Eddie-man with eleven and Zinn with 12 victories head the list of regulars. Edleman broke even this week in two starts, while Zinn won his only appearance for the Blues.

Sheehan of Kansas City and Moon of Minneapolis each have credit for eleven victories, but numerous defeats have been piled up against them. Moon being charged with 11 setbacks.

Leading hitters in the association are: Orwell, Milwaukee, .391; Tucker, Minneapolis, .391; Lebourveau, Toledo, .390; Kirkman, Columbus, .387; Grimes, Toledo, .380; Russell, Indianapolis, .379; Hauser, Kansas City, .366; Having, Toledo, .364; Scarritt, St. Paul, .363; Duncan, Minneapolis, .359.

Casey Only 400-Hitter

The Western league's regulars have now dropped out of the .400 class, one by one, until only Pete Casey, of Tulsa, who has not played since he was "beamed" two weeks ago, and Cunningham, of Des Moines are left. Cunningham lost 14 points of his high standing in the two games he played this week.

Langford of Des Moines and Comorosky of Wichita, with gains of five points apiece, became the regular leaders, although most of those in the first ten gained a point or two in the holiday series.

Amarillo slumped badly in batting, falling from third to sixth place with Denver, Omaha and Wichita passing them. The Oilers lost four points but they had almost a thirty point lead to work on so their position is still fairly safe, and Casey is expected back in the lineup soon.

Meanwhile Munson is doing his

The score by innings:
HawkEyes: 4 21 29 0 3 18 15 25—115
Westerns: 2 16 3 5 4 0 9 3—42

The game was called in the eighth on account of darkness. The facts are told in The Palimpsest, publication of the Iowa State Historical society.

In that golden age the pitchers lobbed the ball up to the plate, and masks, gloves and protectors were unknown. All games started promptly at 3 p. m. Yet at twilight of the first day only four innings had been played in a tight tilt between the Uttumwa Actives and the Orchard City club of Burlington. With the score 48 to 25 in favor of the Actives, the game was called until the next morning, when it was finished.

Chronicles of the time, quoted by The Palimpsest, said the tournament "passed off pleasantly and the game was handsomely played." One sport editor said of the Hawk-Eyes' final victory that "they fairly won the prize and must be conceded the championship of the state until some more accomplished rivals wrest from them this proud distinction."

The Hawk-Eyes got more than glory—they took home $200 in prize money and a $75 rosewood bat. Whether hits or errors were a part of the official record one may only guess, for newspapers do not list them, but The Palimpsest says that two scorers, one for each club, kept track of the tallies.
