Panhandle Oil Production Drops Below 100,000 Barrels

75 WELLS ARE HELD ON TOP OF PAY SAND

Hundreds of Tests Now Pinched to Within Needs

CARSON COUNTY HAS ONLY GAIN

Potential Output Far Above the Present Total

For the first time since late in 1926, the Panhandle oil field has fallen below 100,000 barrels a day in production.

The total for this week is 99,848, as compared with 105,066 for last week.

The only new producer counted in the total of the week was in Moore county, where pipeline connections have not been completed. Carson county was the only area to register a gain, and this was due to cleaning out of old wells.

The production situation, although showing a steady decline, is regarded as having no direct relation to the capacity of the field. The dropping of production is owing to restricted output in hundreds of wells and the stopping of 75 wells on the top of the sands. These potential producers are yet without pipeline connections, but if they were connected and released the field total could be boosted overnight by many thousands of barrels.

The Panhandle production by counties:

Carson, 156 wells, 9,934 barrels for 63.68-barrel average, a gain of 321 barrels.

Gray, 152 wells, 9,827 barrels for 64.65-barrel average, a loss of 549 barrels.

Hutchinson, 1,097 wells, 78,466 barrels for 77.92-barrel average, a loss of 5,039 barrels.

Moore, 3 wells, 51 barrels for 17-barrel average, at same rate of last week.

Potter, 1 well for same 35 barrels.

Wheeler, 25 wells, 1,555 barrels for 43.8-barrel average, a loss of 512 barrels.

County Wheat Crop Turns Out Short of Normal

The wheat crop in the Pampa area this year has been very light and in the rest of the county was much less than was expected. The estimate of the production in the Pampa territory is 750,000 bushels, while the entire county yield reached about 850,000 bushels.

Last year the county yield was close to 2,000,000 bushels, of which 175,000 bushels was in the Pampa territory. There was practically no oats grown in the county and much of that produced had straw so short that the crop was plowed under.

Hay also was a failure on account of the drought during the growing season.

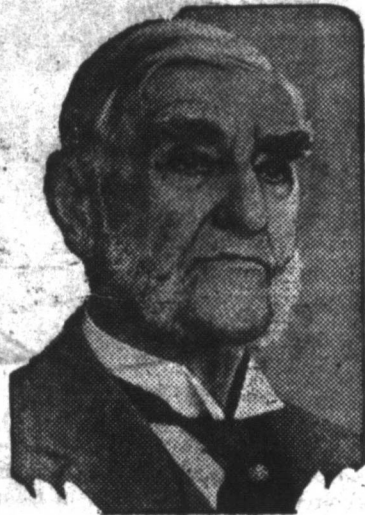

Considerable preparation is going on for the planting of winter wheat and heavy planting is expected throughout the county.

CHICAGO, Aug. 20. (AP)—Marvin Hughitt, former president of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, is 90 years old, but he rarely misses a day at his office.

He is chairman of the road's finance committee, and each morning may be seen walking erectly to the 8 o'clock train at Lake Forest to proceed to downtown Chicago.

Every month he attends a directors' meeting in New York and makes the journey from here alone.

Mr. Hughitt celebrated his ninetyeth birthday surrounded by four generations of his descendants at his Lake Forest estate.

He knew Lincoln well, and Jay Gould, Charles Francis, E. H. Harriman, Jim Hill and J. P. Morgan, the elder, were all acquaintances.

COTTON TAKES MARKET RISE

Advance of $3 Follows Report On Weevil Infestation

(By The Associated Press.) NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 20.—Cotton prices soared to new high records for the season here today on publication of the decidedly bullish boll weevil report.

The advance was around $3 a bale.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20. (AP)—The department of agriculture in its tenth boll weevil report issued today said that weevils are injurious in 46 Texas counties, with the average infestation ranging from 4.18 per cent at Waxahachie to 89.8 per cent in Fort Lavaca.

No. 2 J. M. Saunders Makes 490 Barrels First 24 Hours

The Gulf Production company's No. 2 Saunders, in section 40, block 3, an offset to the discovery well, made 490 barrels the first 24 hours after the bridge was cleared. The well was shot Wednesday, but bridged. The company is cleaning the hole and expects heavy production.

The St. Clair company's No. 1 Crews, in section 3, block 25, near Alanreed, is running the 6 5/8 inch casing after a shot last week. The hole will be cleared and a good producer is expected.

A shot was used in the Reginald Petroleum company's No. 1 Huselby, in section 55, block 25, Gray county, Friday, but was placed too low. Clearing out is in progress and another shot will be used this week.

Justice Morton Denies Pleas for Writ Of Habeas Corpus and Appeal—Holmes Is Implored

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Counsel for Sacco and Vanzetti were unable to file a petition for a review of their clients' conviction for murder today, because papers to have been presented to the supreme court were held to be not satisfactory in form, no records being presented.

Finding no justice of the supreme court present in Washington today, Michael Mammanno asserted that his associate, Arthur Hill of Massachusetts, would see Justice Holmes today for the purpose of asking for a stay of execution of the two men until the supreme court can pass upon two petitions for review when it meets in October.

BOSTON, Aug. 20. (AP)—Arthur Hill, chief counsel for Sacco and Vanzetti, said today he had been informed by Elias Field, associate counsel, that Justice James Morton of Federal district court had refused to grant a writ of habeas corpus, and also refused permission to appeal to the United States circuit court of appeals.

The monarch, who was enthroned ruler of Jammu and Kashmir in October, 1925, is 32. He was educated at Mayo College, in Rajputana, and as nephew of the Maharajah, Sir Pratap Singh, was chosen for reasons of state to succeed the throne. As heir he was Commander-in-Chief of the Kashmir Army.

Sir Hari is stated to be worth $60,000,000, with a revenue from the throne of more than $5,000,000 a year. He married in 1923 the daughter of the Maharajah of Dharampore.

Big Delegation Needed to Bring District Meeting of Chamber of Commerce to Pampa Next Session

Having arrived at the stage when entertainment of conventions is not only possible, but desirable, Pampa is going to seek the Panhandle-North Plains district session for the first meeting.

The district convention will be held in Wellington next Thursday. In order to bring the following meeting here, it will be necessary for Pampa to take a large delegation and make a determined fight for the honor.

Local people who will attend are urged to request to notify the Chamber of Commerce, and also state whether they can carry passengers to the meeting and return.

There will be an excellent program of interest to this section. A registration fee of $1 will entitle those attending to vote and attend the luncheon. Selection of the next meeting place will be just before adjournment.

WELLINGTON, Aug. 20.—Two towns of the Panhandle-North Plains district of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce have at this advanced date announced that they will be on hand for the regional convention to be held here August 25.

George Sager of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Carl Guin of the Quanah chamber have written that sizeable delegations from their respective cities are planning a big day at Wellington. Guy Hill of the Shamrock Chamber of Commerce is planning to attend with a number of boosters and with Shamrock's brass band. Numerous other towns of the section are making preparations to come to Wellington for the agricultural program and entertainment to be provided on the convention day.

Among featured speakers for the meeting will be R. E. Sheppard, the singing mayor of Wichita Falls. Sheppard is also secretary-manager of the Texas-Oklahoma Fair association to be held in Wichita Falls October 1 to 6 this year, and will make announcements of interest to the Panhandle region in regard to competitive exhibits at the annual show.

President Hill of the West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon, is another speaker on the program, and has written Manager Wade definitely that he will attend the meeting.

Indications are that the Wellington meeting will be one of the best district conventions of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to be held this year.

Interest Grows In Oil Exchange Plans for City

With every assurance that the building will be easily leased, and with $60,000 in stock already taken, those in charge of plans for the proposed seven-story Oil Exchange here feel sure that the project will be definitely under way before the end of the coming week.

Several of those expected to take big portions of stock will be heard from early next week and developments of the next few days will virtually guarantee completion and occupation of the fine building.

From several other Panhandle cities the word has come that district offices are either being moved or suspended owing to the quiet oil market, and when Pampa has the Oil exchange to offer as an inducement many companies are expected to establish sectional headquarters here.

Chas. H. Sharpe, local contractor, has floor plans, specifications, and financial arrangements in hand and may be seen at his office in the New Schneider hotel. He invites all interested to see him and discuss the plans.

Equipped with gas masks, and test lamps, Pile said they would remain in the cave until Sunday morning unless Ashly was found.

NAVAL VESSEL FAILS TO FIND 'DALLAS SPIRIT'

Day Ends With a Little Trace as From First

SEVEN LIVES LOST ON DEEP

Every Agency Bends Efforts to Locate Planes

(By The Associated Press.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—With renewed determination, inspired by fragmentary clues and prayers, official and private agencies of rescue along the west coast, near Hawaii, and on the sea, bent every effort tonight with the common purpose of retrieving from the ever-gaping maw of the Pacific the seven lives wagered against fame in the most romantic adventure of aviation.

The fate of the seven fliers was as much in doubt at the closing of the day as it has been at any time since they left the mainland in high spirits to mark new paths through the air to Honolulu. Not one word, so far as could be ascertained here, has been heard from either the "Miss Doran" or the "Golden Eagle" with five persons aboard, since they hopped off from Oakland Tuesday in the Dole race.

The "Dallas Spirit" is believed to have gone down in a tailspin Friday night about 612 miles from here. All commercial and naval vessels between the Pacific coast and the Hawaiian Islands are searching for possible traces of the missing fliers.

The Navy destroyer Hawlewood, after a futile search of the sea at the supposed position where the last message was sent from the "Dallas Spirit" manned by Captain William Erwin and Navigator Alvin Eichwaldt, returned late today to San Francisco to refuel.

(By The Associated Press.)

HONOLULU, Aug. 20.—The signal corps at Luke field today intercepted two messages said to be from an unidentified vessel saying that the Golden Eagle was found.

The messages were partly undecipherable. The signal corps has no idea as to whether the messages were authentic.

Severe Quake Rocks Buildings in California

(By The Associated Press.)

EUREKA, Calif. Aug. 20.—Eureka and other towns in Humboldt county were rocked shortly after noon today by the most severe earthquake felt here since 1906. The tremor lasted fifteen minutes and impaired the fire alarm system.

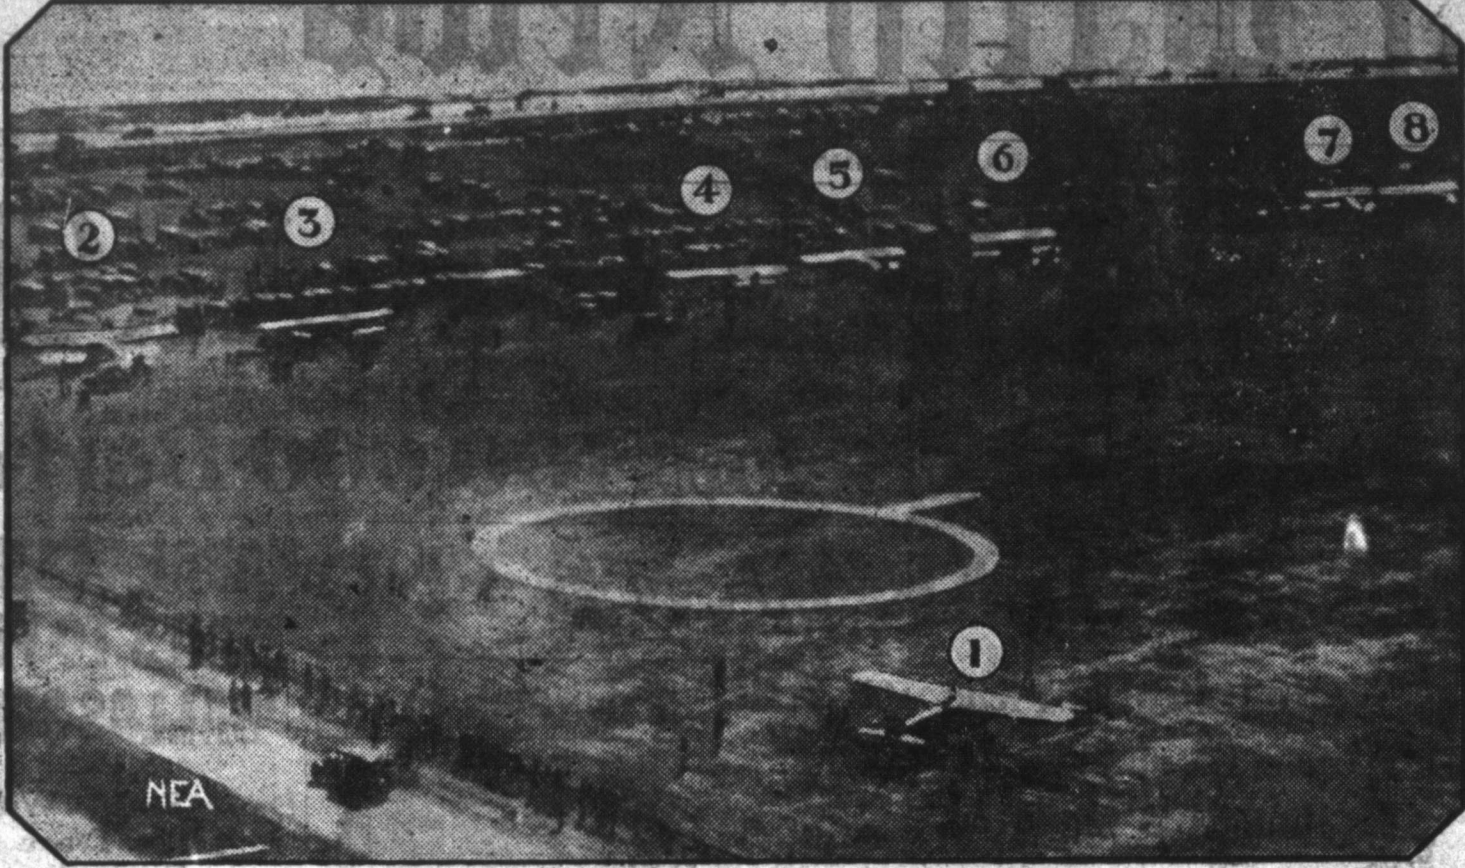

A hooty operator for the Humboldt Standard was slightly injured when his machine careened forward. Several women fainted in the downtown streets while buildings swayed, and the noise of toppling chimneys and breaking dishes could be heard. The plaster was knocked from many rooms.

When completed will cost approximately $55,000.

The renovating of the red school house is nearly completed. A new roof has been put on the building, new windows put in, and the entire interior redecorated.

Unsolved Brutality In Texas Annals Of Criminology

(By The Associated Press.)
 AUSTIN, Aug. 20.—The Engler triple murder mystery bids fair to go down in Texas criminal annals as an unsolved enigma of brutality.

Two years ago this month, Charles Engler, a crossing farmer, near here, his wife and their adopted daughter, 25, were slain at their home. The slayer or slayers never have been apprehended and officers are without tangible clues, despite investigation by three grand juries, numerous officers, rewards offered, by the county and state, questioning of a dozen suspects and administration of "truth serum" to one in jail.

Charles Engler was shot in his sleep and bore a wound through the right temple. Powder burns indicated he was shot at close range. Mrs. Engler was shot twice. She apparently raised up in bed when she heard the first shot, after which the assassin evidently turned on her. The first shot went through the back of her head. The second entered her mouth.

Emma Engler, an adopted daughter, apparently met her death only after a severe struggle. Hay in her hair indicated that she hid in the barn after the first disturbance and was murdered after the intruder sought her out and dragged her back into the house as she fought him off. She was killed with a lone shot at close range.

No plausible motive for the crime has been established.

Negro Spends 54 Years In Prison, But Now Is Out

(By The Associated Press.)
 HUNTSVILLE, Aug. 20.—Fifty-four years ago behind the walls of the Texas state penitentiary is a long time to stay at any one place, but that is how long one old weather-beaten negro served for the state of Texas, according to prison records.

Bill Johnson, 78 years old negro from Harris county made the record. Bill passed through the big steel gates of the "walls" for the first time January 18, 1873. He was only 24 years old. Bill's first "jolt to the pen" was a short term. But as it was during the reconstruction days in the south, Bill could not find any work and as the last resort he burglarized a house and was caught.

Before he had time to collect his thoughts he was again clothed in the regalia of a convict. Bill journeyed back and forth from the penitentiary on 11 different occasions. As soon as he would serve one term he would come back with another.

His last and eleventh trip to "do time" was for 10 years. He "put up" seven years of the 10, and on October 25, 1926 he was granted a pardon by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson.

Johnson said, when he was notified that he had received a pardon, "I have been in the pen so long that I don't know any thing else, but I am going to learn something this time and stay out. All you white folks think I'll soon be back, but I'm telling you that you had just might as well close dis heah joint down if you wait for me to come back. Boss I'm gone for good dis time. I have helped you all enough around here."

Bill Johnson, 78 years old negro from Harris county made the record. Bill passed through the big steel gates of the "walls" for the first time January 18, 1873. He was only 24 years old. Bill's first "jolt to the pen" was a short term. But as it was during the reconstruction days in the south, Bill could not find any work and as the last resort he burglarized a house and was caught.

I have helped you all enough around here."

So far he has kept his promise. Bill's white head is still missing. Bill was born in Alabama in 1848 and was one of a large slave family. After the negroes were set free Bill ran, away from home and drifted into Texas. He declared that he would never have been in the penitentiary if he had listened to his mother who tried to get him to stay at home.

According to prison officials Bill was a good prisoner, always a ready worker, obedient and humble. "I WEEDS—Recent rains have given all kinds of vegetation excellent growing conditions, including weeds. Various towns over the plains have realized this fact and have weed-cutting campaigns under way.

Campaigns are not always successful, but there ought to be something done about the weeds if Pampa is going to present a clean appearance this fall.

A few hours with hoe, scythe and rake will make Pampa a much more sightly city, and will remove the fire hazard which will later result when the weeds die.

CONVENTIONS — "In the life of every growing city there comes a time when that city feels that it is prepared to entertain conventions. That time has now come in the life of Pampa, and we want a bunch to go to Wellington next Thursday and railroad the convention into Pampa for the next meeting."

This extract from a letter from Manager Scott Barcus to the members of the Chamber of Commerce is notification of a new outlet for the energies of local boosters.

Pampa should aggressively seek conventions at regular intervals, and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce district convention is one of the most important of these.

SAD—Ship, submarine, airplane, radio, and every other agency have at this writing failed to find a trace of the missing fliers.

Disaster seems to have overtaken a flight which the country had looked upon as much safer than the Atlantic route.

It is sad to contemplate the anguish that is felt in many homes, but such is the price of pioneering.

THE U-BOAT — Back in 1888 John P. Holland went down in the submarine he had invented, and the thing wouldn't rise.

The submarine, a thing of violence during the last war, has been eclipsed by airplane development.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON. — These recurrent rumors that Governor Al Smith will not seek the Democratic presidential nomination probably are inspired by hope.

The truth seems to be that with William G. McAdoo pushed pretty well out of the picture, many Democrats—especially in the south—feel that their brethren who have supported Smith should also eliminate the governor in the interest of party harmony.

What happened was that the southern Democrats, realizing that no good would come out of a repetition of the Madison Square Garden mess of 1924, decided that the party must start with a clean slate.

The trouble was that the greater part of the McAdoo strength was enlisted in behalf of a cause, while the bulk of the Smith strength was attracted more by a personality.

The general result of the change in the Democratic lineup is that while a majority of the party may prefer someone other than Smith, the governor can command a much larger bloc of delegates at the next convention than any other candidate.

It will be much more difficult for the bone dry and anti-Smith people to organize behind any one candidate than if they had all decided to stick with McAdoo.

In a half dozen representative southern states the plan now is to elect uninstructed delegates. Several delegations may vote for favorite sons on the first two or three ballots.

Some wets are gentlemen, and some can't afford to have their brew delivered. That is, ultra wets.

Hear this, folks. The northeast part of the Panhandle has never had a convention center. Now is our chance to be "it."

So Mr. Coolidge didn't get that 10-gallon hat to throw in any ring at all!—The Twin-City Sentinel (Winston-Salem).

Harking back to the days when you read "The Conquest of Peru," you get a thrill out of the abortive revolt put on by the Incas of Bolivia.

The conquest of Bolivia was of a piece with that of Peru—Pizarro and his murderous crew wading through slaughter to a golden throne.

In this country, with a territory twice as large as Texas and a population only half as great, the fires of revolt have apparently been extinguished.

One fine thing about vacations is that occasionally a person returns from one too tired to tell his friends about the wonderful places he has seen.

Speaking of preparedness, the college football schedules for a year from next fall are already coming out.

American Trapshooters Meet In $20,000 Championship Event

DLTON, D., Aug. 20.—Trapshooters are wondering of Charles A. Young of Springfield, O., the farmer who set a world's record last year, can again blaze his way to the championship.
Young broke all of the 100 tags. This was the second time he made a perfect score in a national meet.
The record was made at Vandalia, 10 miles north of here, where the "clay busters" will gather August 22-27, for the twenty-eighth Grand American championship and handicap tournament of the Amateur Trapshooting association of America.
Prices for the event will total close to $20,000. The Grand American handicap purse alone is worth $10,525. It will be shot August 26.
They still talk about Charley Young's feat last year, as he stood there calmly "potting 'em," one after another, apparently as nerveless and steady as a machine.
The only other man who broke a hundred in the Grand American handicap was Riley Thompson shooting at Chicago in 1910, but he was four yards nearer the traps than Young.
Young's first perfect score was made at Peru, Ind. His record is unsurpassed in the history of trapshooting.

Women Compile State Records Of Underworld "Who's Who"

(By The Associated Press.)
ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 20.—Women are proving able assistants to the Sherlock Holmes of New York state.
The Bureau of Criminal Identification of the New York state department of correction is "manned" by women, and a woman is chief of the bureau. Miss Clara L. Parsons, head of the bureau since 1914, was at one time a clerk in the same department.
Under her supervision, women's hands keep classified more than 300,000 cards that tell all there is to know about the "Who's Who" of the underworld, and here women's eyes look through microscopes at the prints fingers make on clean paper.
Miss Parsons does not know why the bureau relies entirely on women to do its work; but she does know they are as capable as men.
She admits some phases of criminal investigation are best left to men. Proud of the efficient way in which her office assists police departments in checking up on criminals who are arrested in the Empire State, Miss Parsons says:
"Quite often criminals with records in other states try to cover up their delinquencies and evade severe punishments waiting for them as second, third and fourth offenders. But our check-up usually reveals their history."
Miss Parsons favors universal finger printing. This practice, she believes, would make it easy to identify anybody anywhere. The possibility of mistaken identity, she explains, is only one in 64 trillions.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic:—

God's Promise to David.

Scripture Lesson:—

1 Chronicles 17:1-12.

1. And it came to pass, when David dwelt in his house, that David said to Nathan the prophet, Lo, I dwell in a house of Cedar, but the ark of the covenant of Jehovah dwelleth under curtains.

2. And Nathan said unto David, Do all that is in thy heart; for God is with thee.

3. And it came to pass the same night, that the word of God came to Nathan, saying,

4. Go and tell David, my servant, Thus saith Jehovah, Thou shalt not build me a house to dwell in:

5. For I have not dwelt in a house since the day that I brought up Israel, unto this day, but have gone from tent to tent, and from tabernacle to another.

6. In all places whereof I have walked with all Israel, spake I a word with any of the judges of Israel, whom I command to be shepherd of my people, saying, Why have ye not built me a house of cedar?

7. Now therefore thus shalt thou say unto my servant David, Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, I took thee from the sheepcote, from following the sheep, that thou shouldst be prince over my people Israel:

8. And I have been with thee whithersoever thou hast gone, and have cut off all thine enemies from before thee; and I will make thee a name, like unto the name of the great ones that are in the earth.

9. And I will appoint a place for my people Israel, and will plant them, that they may dwell in their own place, and be moved no more; neither shall the children of wickedness waste them any more, as at the first.

10. And as from the day that I commanded judges to be over my people Israel; and I will subdue all thine enemies. Moreover I tell thee that Jehovah will build thee a house.

11. And it shall come to pass, when thy days are fulfilled that thou must go to be with thy fathers that I will set up thy seed after thee, who shall be of thy sons; and I will establish his kingdom.

12. He shall build me a house, and I will establish his throne forever.

Time:—David's desire to build the temple denied, B. C. 1041 (Becher).

Place:—Jerusalem, the new capital of the Jewish nation.

Golden Text:—Thy throne, O God, is forever and ever.

And the sceptre of uprightness is the sceptre of thy kingdom.—Heb. 1:8.

Introduction.

The building of David's palace is described in 2 Sam. 5:11, 12. It was reared in that part of Jerusalem called "the city of David," and was mainly constructed of that prince of woods, cedar. The immense cedar logs were cut from the forests of the Lebanon range, from there brought by sea to Jerusalem's seaport, Joppe, and thence hauled overland up the hills to Jerusalem. It was a severe, long-continued, and costly task, and the resulting edifice was probably one of the grandest on earth at the time. David was at peace then, the Lord having given him rest from the numerous wars with the surrounding heathen tribes which had attacked the new and untried king (2 Sam. 7:1). As he sat in his luxurious home, and looked about upon all the beautiful objects it contained, he might well have lifted to Jehovah one of the matchless psalms of thanksgiving, and have longed to do something to show to all men his gratitude for what the Lord had so abundantly and graciously done for him. It was the feeling that ought to come to all of us as we are prospered, but too often in our prosperity we forget our Father who has so richly blessed us.

Nathan the Prophet, v. 1.

This Nathan was one of the most eminent men in the Bible, but we have only occasional glimpses of his personality. He wrote a history of David's reign and of at least a part of Solomon's reign, a history which is probably incorporated in the six books of Samuel, Kings and Chronicles. It was he who had the courage to rebuke David after his terrible sin with Bathsheba, and to bring the king to repentance. It was he who taught the young Solomon and who was a leader in seating the young prince on his father's throne. He was evidently a man of keen, prophetic vision, an earnest and true-hearted man who kept in close touch with God. David showed his wisdom in choosing such a man for his associate. "Lo, I dwell in a house of cedar." Too few men recognize their blessings. Many of us are living in houses of cedar but are depressed and querulous as if we were living in mud dugouts or in dripping caves. It would be well for us often to make a list of our blessings, not merely reviewing them in our mind but setting them down on paper. The list would surely surprise us with its length.

David Purposes Building a Temple v. 2.

"And Nathan said unto David, Do all that is in thy heart." "The heart, according to Hebrew thought, is the seat of intention and purpose." David had not stated definitely his desire to build a temple for Jehovah, but that was the clear implication of what he had said, and Nathan, being a prophet and deeply interested in religion, would of course be in sympathy with such a purpose until the Lord, doubtless to the prophet's great surprise, forbade the enterprise. "For God is with thee." Nathan felt that David was living such a life that his impulses could be trusted as coming from God. He was to learn how necessary it is for even the most devout man to take every project to God in prayer, and not to trust to the general character and conduct of his life.

David Forbidden to Build the Temple, vs. 3, 4.

"Go and tell David my servant, Thus saith Jehovah." David was still recognized as the servant of Jehovah, though he was not allowed to serve Jehovah in the way he had marked out for himself. A servant is to do the will of his master, and not his own will. Many are quite ready to serve God if they can choose the service. "Thou shalt not build me a house to dwell in." If the prophet had had a foolish regard for consistency and for his reputation as a prophet he would have stuck to his first opinion and have continued to urge David to build the temple he designed, but no personal consideration had the slightest weight with him compared with getting God's will done in the world, and thus he proved himself to be a genuine prophet, speaking forth God's words rather than his own.

Heavenly Denials

In 1 Kings 5:3, 4 we learn another reason for God's refusal to allow David to build the temple: David was a man of war, and God's house should be erected by a man of peace. David's hands were stained with blood, and, though the blood was shed in a righteous cause, defence of God's people against their bitter and cruel foes, yet the rage and passion of war had not left David as it found him. He had been God's soldier, but God's soldier is not God's temple-builder, just as God's soldier is not God's soldier. To each his task. David should leave some glorious occupation to his successor. There is always a reason, an ample reason, and often more than one reason, for the heavenly denials.

David's Son to Build Temple, v. 12.

"He shall build me a house, and I will establish his throne for ever." It was as great a joy to David to know that his son would be honored

In building God's house as in receiving that honor himself. Every true father rejoices in his son's triumphs and happiness as in his own. Thus God was answering very directly David's desire to build the temple.

David's Petitions, vs. 23, 24.

Not until he came to the closing section of his prayer did David, as if half apologetically, include himself in it. Even then he asked for no new thing, but only that the Lord would establish the good fortune which he had already promised his servant. Even this petition has more of God in it than of David. It is more a prayer that God's "name be established and magnified forever" than that David's should. The Thanksgiving Habit

Our prayers should contain less of petition and more of praise. "If there is a grumbling habit, there is also a habit of thanksgiving. One gets into the latter as into the former, by practice. To the heart bent on thankfulness, there is always occasion for thanksgiving." Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch said she never could be thankful enough that she did not have a hare-lip. Most of us can do better than that. Ours is not a 'cabbage patch,' it is probably a garden; it is the garden of the Lord.

Special Lesson

We often wait long for the fulfillment of God's promises, but they always are fulfilled in the best time for us. Indeed, they are often being fulfilled without realizing it. "Ruskins said he had never known anything of what was most seriously happening to him till afterwards. Is not that true of all in a measure? What you called an accident has become the ruling factor in your lot; what you called a chance meeting has deposited the most permanent influence in your life; what you intended perhaps for your success has turned out a hindrance; what you thought was going to crush you into a final defeat has been the greatest blessing to you."

"The Lord has promised good to me,
His word my hope secures;
He will my shield and portion be,
As long as life endures."

"Brother Lloyd" Waner Clouts Way Into Upper Ten

RABBIT CALLED BEST STEALER

Averages of .400 Are Fast Disappearing In League

(By The Associated Press.)
 CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—The perfect ball player, in the opinion of Manager Donie Bush of the Pittsburgh Pirates, is Lloyd Waner, and Brother Lloyd, emulating Brother Paul, climbed today into the list of leading hitters of the National league. Lloyd's entrance, gave the Pirates half of the first ten hitters in the circuit, with the "three musketeers" of the Pirates still perched securely on top. Lloyd was the first National league batter to reach the century mark in runs, reaching 100 on Wednesday.

Frankie Frisch is making another threat at third place, being only two points behind Clyde Barnhart, the lowest of the Pittsburgh trio.

The hero of last fall's world's series, Grover Cleveland Alexander, who was sold down the river by the Cubs to the Cardinals for the walver price, is demonstrating that his efforts in landing the world's championship flag were not the final flash of form. "Big Pete" as his comrades of the Cubs used to call him, is within the first five flingers of the National league, in averages compiled today including Wednesday's games.

Alex Near Top
 Alex has won 16 and lost 7 this year for the Cards, and only two pitchers top him in victories. Old Jessie Haines of the Cards, with 19 wins is one of these and Charlie Root of the Cubs is the other with 22.

Cy Williams' home run bat has been idle at the 23 mark for a fortnight, and meanwhile Rogers Hornsby and Hack Wilson have climbed up to 30.

Frisch, while waiting for one of the three leading Pirate clouters, to slide down the ladder past him, was as active as usual on the paths, adding two more stolen bases to his string to reach 33.

Hellmann Real Champ
 The three time batting champion of the American league, Harry Hellmann of Detroit seems on his way to a fourth title. He is tied today for second place in the batting standings in games including Wednesday, with Lou Gehrig. Al Simmons of the Athletics still tops these two by fifteen points, but Al has not played for a month now.

Swinging from the heels, to keep ahead of Babe Ruth in the home run race, Behrig has dropped to .379 now, while Ruth is just twenty points lower. The Babe tied up the home run race Wednesday at 38, making his second homer in the Chicago White Sox series.

While the other batters are succumbing to shrinkage of the batting average, Tris Speaker is standing like a stone wall and the leaders have slid past him, all except three so that Tris ranks fourth with his .363.

Johnny Neun, the Detroit first sacker, gained one stolen base on George Sisler this week, and is but two behind Sisler's mark of 23 now. Whispering Bill Barrett of the Sox also picked off a couple and has a score now.

Yanks Pitching Good
 Like the Pirate trio holding the batting honors of the National league, the Yankees have a pitching trio atop the list of the junior circuit. Hoyt, Reuther and Pipgras, lead the league in that order, and Hoyt is within one victory now of Ted Lyons mark of 18.

Another heavy hitting record, the two-base hit mark, seems safe this year as George Burns, the title holder, has only 44 this year toward his high total of 64.

Leading American league batters are: Simmons, Philadelphia, .394; Gehrig, New York, .379; Hellmann, Detroit, .379; Speaker, Washington, .343; Ruth, New York, .359; Schanz, St. Louis, .359; Fothergill, Detroit, .353; Goslin, Washington, .348; Muesel, New York, .348; Coombs, New York, .346.

Russell Up Again
 In the shuffling which rearranged the ten leading batters of the American association, Red Russell bobbed up on top today, for the second time this season.

Otto Orvill, working hard to beat the Hamilton's hitting average, led the best work on the mound and stumped just enough with the hickory to drop to second place, and none too far ahead of Grimes of Toledo at that.

Earl Smith's bid for a place among the leaders fell short, and the Minneapolis fly chaser dropped back from 11th to 15th, in averages compiled today including Wednesday's games. He got but six hits in seven games, and the first ten remained undisturbed though there were considerable changing of chairs among them.

Palmero, the association's leading twirler, dropped his game this week, but his score of ten wins and two defeats was enough to keep him in first place, with Orwell next. Ossie won his turn on the hill. So did Sheehan of Kansas City, who now tops the association in victories with nineteen.

Emmer Falls
 Frank Emmer, the Millers heavy clouting short fielder, failed to hit any out of the park, Hanser of Kansas City is doing the major share of the home run hitting this week with three. This puts him into a tie with Earl Smith at 17, runner-up to Emmer's 20.

Dewitt Lebourveau picked off one stolen base to take his total to 20, but remained in 20th place among the hitters with only one point gain in percentage. McMillan of the Saints with 27 is far in the lead in the circuit in base stealing.

Leading batters of the American association are: Russell, Indianapolis, .391; Orwell, Milwaukee, .387; Grimes, Toledo, .385; Kirkham, Columbus, .371; Veach, Toledo, .369; Hauser, Kansas City, .366; Riconda, Milwaukee, .360; Duncan, Minneapolis, .358; J. Kelly, Toledo, .358; Lebourveau, Toledo, .354.

Averages Slumping
 The baseball world's only .400 average is in danger of disappearing. Pete Casey, the Tulsa slugger of the Western league, the holder of the mark, is back in the game again after a long lay-off from a "bean ball." But in two games he combed out a mere single, which brought his percentage down to .405.

Langford of Des Moines, the league leader among the regulars, was within five points of the famous figures a week ago, but slid back a bit this week and has .392 in averages compiled today including Wednesday's games.

With the mighty Casey's home run club idle, Munson of the Oilers has taken up the four base knocking burden, and drove out four this week. He now has 29, a margin of ten over his teammate on first base, Sturdy, and twelve better than Casey had achieved when he went out of the game six weeks ago.

Rabbitt Gets Another
 Joe Rabbitt of Omaha, the greatest base stealer in the game today, added another to reach 38, but his weekly home run effort fell short by one base, and he still has but sixteen. George Blasholder, the outstanding pitching star of the Western league, got bumped in his two starts, and one of them was charged against him as a defeat. His score now is 22 wins and 8 losses. Black, the Oiler flinger leading the circuit on a percentage basis, broke even in his two starts, and sustained the first setback of the season. He has ten victories.

Leading hitters of the Western league are: Langford, Des Moines, .392; Comorosky, Denver, .391; Munson, Tulsa, .388; Bennett, Tulsa, .379; Sturdy, Tulsa, .372; Cunningham, Des Moines, .358; Wingfield, Amarillo, .354; Reagan, Denver, .352; Rabbitt, Omaha, .349; Kress, Tulsa, .346.

A Brodie

With a dive of 125 feet from the St. Louis Municipal bridge to his credit, Ray Woods now has the bright idea of "doing a Steve Brodie" from Brooklyn bridge, New York, a distance of 139 feet. As a protection, Woods uses a helmet of sponge-rubber. He expects to be going 112 miles an hour when he hits the water, so he'll need it.

SPORT TALK

Many surprises have taken place in the major leagues the past week. The Detroit Tigers have had a winning streak of nine games and are still going strong. They are strong contenders for second honors in the American league. Then Chicago increased its lead on first place honors in the National league to five games over the Pirates, who are picked to win the league pennant. Tulsa is practically beyond reach in the Western league, while Wichita Falls is the same in the Texas league.

"Hook" Shaw, ex-Pampa catcher, is still behind the bat for the Beaumont Exporters and making a name for himself with that team. Since joining the Exporters not a base has been pilfered on the Pampa boy.

A good boxing bout is scheduled for tomorrow night at the Pampa Athletic club when Gonzales and Farrell will tangle to see who is the best. These boys boxed six rounds two weeks ago and there has been some debate as to who won, so the argument will be settled in a ten-round bout tomorrow night. Several good preliminaries are on the card.

The city league ball games are getting better every day. Last night one of the best battles of the season was played between the Magnolia team and the Oilers for the league leadership and the Magnolia nine went to the front.

BILLY EVANS Says

Second Guess Falls
 The second guess can very often raise havoc with managerial strategy, since so-called inside baseball is good or bad according to the results attained.

Injecting a pinch hitter into the game, thereby causing the removal of some pitcher who is going along well, is one of the tough spots for a manager, particularly if the succeeding pitcher or pitchers fail to deliver.

Recently in looking over the major league box scores, I noticed two such happenings on the same day, one in the American league, the other in the National. In each instance, the manager played proper baseball but the breaks went against him, making his strategy look bad.

It is a baseball axiom that a team cannot win a ball game no matter how good the pitching unless there is batting assistance. That is why a manager often is forced, late in the game, to remove a very effective pitcher in an effort to start a batting rally.

When a manager derrick a pitcher who is going great, he courts disaster if his strategy fails of its objective.

What Often Happens
 In a certain American league game of recent date, the home pitcher, despite a wild streak, was getting away in good style, due to his ability to pitch himself out of the holes.

In the eighth inning of the game with one down, the home pitcher walked the next two men. He had done the same thing twice earlier in the game, but managed to keep the opposition from scoring.

The score at the time was 2-2, so the manager of the home team decided this was the spot to yank the starting pitcher, a youngster. He sent in his best bet, a veteran star, to the rescue. A hit followed, scoring a run. In the ninth inning, the visitors staged a rally that netted three runs off the ace of the staff. This made the score 5-2. In the last of the ninth, the home team scored a run, making the final score 6-3.

That evening, no doubt, the manager was soundly toasted for the shift, it being argued that the worst home club would have been a 3-3 tie.

Results Tell Tale
 In the other game, a National league contest, two of the pennant contenders were in action. The home team started the game with the star of the staff doing the hurling.

The visiting club made two runs in the first inning, but were blanked in the next six sessions. Going into the last of the seventh with the score 2-0 in favor of the visitors, the home team, with the bases filled, discovered it was the pitcher's turn at bat. He was removed for a pinch hitter, who came through with a single.

At the close of the inning, the home team had made three runs and taken the lead 3-2. The manager had played proper baseball in removing the pitcher, regardless of his effectiveness, since there was a two-run handicap to be overcome.

He then substituted his next best bet to hold the one run margin, but he failed. Three other pitchers were rushed into the breach in an effort to check the opposition. Six runs resulted, the final result being 8-3 against the home team.

It is easy to imagine what the second guessers did to the home manager that evening, despite the fact that he played proper baseball. Managerial strategy is good or bad according to the results.

Magnolia Team Is Leading—Defeated The Oilers, 3 to 2

In a snappy game of ball Friday at Magnolia park the Magnolia team in the city league went into the lead with a sensational win over the Oilers, 3 to 2. It was a pitcher's battle between McLendon of the Oilers and Davis of the Magnolia.

Two double plays by the Oilers saved them from a bad defeat and the pitching and hitting of McLendon was the bright light in the Oiler loss.

Davis was airtight, and Mills was fielding and hitting well for the Magnolia team.

Question As To Superiority Will Be Settled Tomorrow

Tomorrow night at the Pampa Athletic club on South Cuyler street a fast boxing card will be presented. In the main event, Chief Gonzales of Old Mexico will go 10 rounds with Frankie Farrell of Hutchinson Kan.

Gonzales has age and experience on the Kansas boy, but the youngster has ability to slug and take punishment, and is fast on his feet. These two met two weeks ago at the club and there has been some doubt as to who was the better man.

The preliminaries will see some fast club boys in action, while the semi wind-up affair will be between Mickey Walker and Elmer Rigdon. Rigdon has done some fast boxing in El Dorado.

SEARCH

sels, no trace had been found of the missing Dole fliers in the planes Miss Doran, Golden Eagle, and Dallas Spirit.

Captain William Erwin and his navigator sent out an SOS last night after they hopped off from Oakland yesterday afternoon for Honolulu.

Approximately 25 ships cruised at full speed over great circular routes fliers are believed to have taken.

A mysterious red flare at midnight sent the steamer West Sequana to a spot approximately 250 miles west of San Francisco, but after cruising about the vicinity of the flare the steamer reported that it was unable to find any trace of the aviators.

The "Dallas Spirit", piloted by Captain Erwin with A. D. Eichwaldt of Alameda, Calif., as navigator, radioed two frantic SOS calls shortly after 9 o'clock last night, adding that the plane had gone into two successive tail spins. Then the plane's radio was silent.

United States destroyers and merchant vessels answered the call for help and steamed toward the "Dallas Spirit's" last known position, about 592 miles west of San Francisco.

The "Dallas Spirit" left Oakland Friday afternoon on a flight to search for two Dole planes now missing three days.

WEST COLLINGSWOOD, N. J., Aug. 20.—Mrs. Constance Erwin, wife of Captain William Erwin, expressed confidence today that her husband was able to maneuver his plane, and doubted that it had gone into a tail spin.

July Weather Was .2 of Degree Cooler Than Usual Figure

(By The Associated Press.)
HOUSTON, Aug. 20.—It might not previously be accepted as a fact, but July weather in Texas was .2 of a degree below the state normal, according to H. L. Daingerfield meteorologist, who has just finished computing average temperatures, rainfall and related matters in connection with his monthly weather report.

The monthly mean temperature, the record shows, was 82.7 degrees as indicated by figures at 127 recording stations. The highest monthly mean was 88.2 at Ft. McIntosh and the lowest was 75.6 at Dalhart. The warmest place on any one day in July was 110 degrees at Clarendon on July 19 and the lowest on any day in July was 52 degrees at Denton on the fourth.

The monthly range within the state was 58 degrees and the greatest daily range was 43 at Clarendon on the fourth. Precipitation, however, was .16 of an inch greater than the state normal and averaged 2.77 inches for the month at 216 reporting stations. The greatest monthly amount was 9.52 inches at Honey Grove while there was none at Floresville. Carrollton led in amount of rainfall in 24 hours with 6.52 inches on the fifteenth.

Fifteen days were clear, the weatherman found, 12 were partly cloudy and only four were cloudy while wind blew hardest at Dallas and at Houston where it attained a velocity of 54 miles per hour on the first and eighth, respectively.

Changes Cause Delay in White House Work

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON — Repairing the White House has turned out to be pretty much like repairing almost any house.

Minor contingencies which could not be foreseen when the specifications and estimates were made have delayed completion of the reconstruction of the third floor and roof, begun last March, and have added about $40,000 to the cost of the work.

Nevertheless, the heavy construction is expected to be finished early in August, with only the painters remaining on the job. They are not being hurried, since indications are that President Coolidge will not return to Washington before September.

Original plans called for all workmen to be out of the White House by July 16. The specifications worked out by Army Engineers for the work, however, were necessarily based to a large extent on assumptions. Details of the wooden trussing which supported the third floor and of the roof construction could not be examined until much of the ancient material had been removed. This could not be started until the Executive family moved out. When

Most Destructive Fruit Pest Must Be Fought Back

(By The Associated Press.)
HOUSTON, Aug. 20.—Texas citrus growers must prepare to marshal their protective force against a new enemy in the ranks of citrus pests in this country, according to George W. Allen, former secretary of the Mexican Gulf Coast Citrus Fruit association, an organization of fruit growers in Mexico.

The Trypeta Ludens, or Mexican orange fly, Mr. Allen says in the Southern Pacific Farm News, issued here, is the pest referred to and is considered the most destructive of any affecting the citrus fruit industry. He advocates immediate and thorough eradication methods. Meanwhile the government has placed an embargo against all Mexican citrus fruits, except the lime, which the fly does not bother.

Mr. Allen adds, however, that experiments connected with methods of controlling the pest in Mexico have demonstrated that it cannot live in low temperatures, hence it is natural to assume, he recites, that "there need be no danger of the fly getting further north than its present existence along the Rio Grande."

It has been found, Mr. Allen recites in recounting discoveries relating to the growth of the fly and to methods of control, that the insect has four cycles with each transitory period covering from a week to four it did become possible many surprises were encountered by the engineers and their plans had to be altered at many points.

Furthermore, since the object of remodeling the third floor was to make it as pleasant and habitable as possible, many details of arrangement and construction could be determined finally only on the basis of aesthetic considerations as the work proceeded, with frequent minor changes involving delay and additional expense.

weeks. "In other words," he says, "the female fly deposits her eggs by stinging partially or wholly ripened fruit through the skin, the eggs being deposited in the pulp cells. After one week the eggs hatch into small maggots which gradually eat toward the center of the fruit. There they remain eating gluttonously for two or three weeks and then start to move through the out side of the fruit, finally eating through the skin and dropping to the ground where they bury themselves in the soil one-half to three-fourths inches deep. They remain there in the pupa stage for three or four weeks when, through evolution, the pupa becomes a fly."

Coming down to methods of control, Mr. Allen gives results of experiences which he says has reduced losses as high as 25 per cent to negligible infection. It was brought about, he asserts, by rigid orchard inspection, cleaning, spraying and other methods.

He insists that all orchards should be kept clean of all dropped or rotten fruit. "Pick up daily," he advocated, "and bury deep with a sprinkling of quicklime. Under no circumstances allow fruit to lay on the ground over a 24-hour period. Spray trees thoroughly with a mixture of water, sugar and lead arsenate. It should be done in the heat of the day and after every rain. Cut down all fruiting cactus within 100 feet of an orchard, and all guava plants as well as papayas, both of which harbor the fly. Keep orchards clean of cover crops after August 1 and until fruit is harvested. Keep plenty of chickens, at least 100 to every 10 acres. They will pay for themselves as well as eat the orange fly. Pick all fruit as soon as ripened. This is very important. All fruits should be off the trees by January 15. Of course late Valencias would not ripen until March or April, but keep orchards well picked over."

"By a close observation of the above rules, you can stamp out the orange fly, but it cannot be done by slack methods. Eternal vigilance is the price of safety—hence all growers must work together in a co-operative way if the valley is to be expunged of the menace."

President Will Take Trip to Yellowstone

(By The Associated Press.)
RAPID CITY, S. D., Aug. 20.—Everything was ready tonight for President Coolidge's pleasure trip to Yellowstone National park, one of the few journeys distinctly for rest and recreation that the president has planned since entering the White House.

His special train is set at Custer for departure tomorrow evening after dinner. He plans six days within the boundaries of the park. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Coolidge and their son, John.

"Old Ironsides" Pictures On Sale

In order to meet Pampa's quota in the sale of pictures of "Old Ironsides," 25 of the paintings have been sent here to the Art and Gift shop in the Rex theatre building.

Mrs. R. J. Kiser, the proprietor, is managing the sale here on the usual non-profit basis, and would like for Pampa people to call for the pictures. The price is 25 cents each.

Several months ago a supply was sent here, but only half a dozen pictures were sold. Recently several local people have sent elsewhere for them. Now, however, they are obtainable at the gift shop. The "Old Ironsides" fund was authorized by Congress and will be used to rehabilitate the famous battleship.
