BUSBY NAMED TO TAKE WORK OF C. H. FISHER

Will Take Oath Of Office First Of Month

WATER LINES ARE TAKEN OVER

Cook and Lewright To Defend City In Suits

C. O. Busby, city tax assessor and collector, last night was appointed city secretary as well by the city council. He will take office September 1.

Busby will take the place of C. H. Fisher, who came here January 1, and has been city secretary since that time. Mr. Fisher decided to retire some time ago when the council decided to fix his salary at $150 per month instead of continuing the former plan, which involved the fee system.

Mr. Fisher has remained in office for several weeks at the request of the council, in order that his successor might be obtained. He likely will remain in Pampa, although he has oil and real estate interests in Wichita Falls and elsewhere.

The council also took further action toward taking over private water lines as a part of the municipal system now being extended.

The local law firm of Cook and Lewright was employed to take part in the damage suits brought against the city in connection with the accidental death here of Miss Mickey Todd, who died in an automobile accident. The cases are returnable to the October term of district court.

Carbon Black Plant May Not Make Smoke

Work will commence immediately on the erection of the carbon black plant of the General Atlas Chemical company on section 137, block 3, Gray county, about five miles west of Pampa. The oil and gas division of the railway commission granted the company permission to erect the plant at a hearing two weeks ago.

The contract reads that the company must have their plant completed within six months. That it can use 1,000,000 cubic feet of residue gas a day from the Empire Fuel and Gas company's No. 1 Helltholt, in section 152, block 3, and increase that amount until a maximum of 4,000,000 cubic feet is used.

A new process of manufacturing the carbon black will be used in the new plant. The new process to be experimented with will eliminate the black smoke which features the manufacture of carbon black.

The residue gas will be obtained from a small gasoline plant just north of the Helltholt well, owned and operated by the Empire Fuel and Gas company.

Man Is Severely Slashed In Affray At Holmes City; One In Jail Charged With the Offense

Bill Kane is in a local hospital suffering from a severe knife wound and Edward Bloss is in jail charged with assault and intent to murder in connection with an affray near here last night.

A companion of Bloss is also in jail charged with disturbing the peace. The affray took place at Holmes' City, south of Pampa, and the men are said to have been drinking before an argument arose.

Kane was brought to Pampa for treatment, and 38 stitches were necessary to close the deep wound, which extended half way around his stomach.

The men at first claimed they had been in an automobile accident, but an investigation revealed the facts.

Levine Pays His Contract Price To French Aviator

PARIS, Aug. 30.—Mrs. Charles Levine, acting for her husband, who flew his trans-Atlantic monoplane Columbia to London yesterday, today paid Maurice Drouhin the 100,000 francs due him under the terms of the contract by which he was to have piloted Levine across the Atlantic.

The aviator took the money, saying he accepted it because he did not have the courage to argue more.

CROYDON, Eng., Aug. 30.—Charles Levine announced today that Captain W. C. Hinchcliffe had been selected to pilot the trans-Atlantic monoplane Columbia back to the United States with Levine as his companion.

They would hop off, Levine added, as soon as the weather cleared.

FOOTBALL MEN WILL RECEIVE RIGID TRAINING

Stiff Program Outlined For Pampa High Harvesters

CAMP TO OPEN WEDNESDAY

Business Men Are Financing Boys' Trip

More than 30 men are expected to attend the training camp of the Pampa Harvesters, high school football team, on the Canadian river commencing tomorrow morning. Coach Verde Dickey has a strenuous two weeks' program laid out and intends to adhere to it strictly.

The boys will be camped on the Lockhart ranch in Roberts county about 30 miles north of Pampa. The camp will be on the river where a good swimming pool is located.

The training program laid out consists of a dip at 5:15 o'clock, then a 10 to 15 mile hike with breakfast at 8:30. From then until lunch at 12:30 the boys will be idle and at 2 o'clock skull practice is to commence. From 4 o'clock until 7:15 o'clock there will be field practice under Coach Dickey.

Assistant Coach Oscar Dial will be in charge of the kitchen duties and will give a specified menu, which will contain a regulation amount of calories for football training. Dial says that the food of a team is as important as the training, and he intends to have the boys in excellent condition for their opening game.

According to Coach Dickey, the Pampa high school team has the brightest outlook of a winning team that it has yet produced. The backfield promises to be light and fast, and the line heavy and sure.

Captain Ed Herlacher, weighing about 210 pounds, will play tackle. He is fast for his weight. Three men who will be out for tackle positions on the team average 185 pounds.

Local business men are aiding the boys financially in their trip.

Brabham Asserts Biggest Fool Fails To Think of Soul

In spite of the threatened rain, and the fact that Monday still is wash day in Pampa, a large crowd gathered at the First Methodist church last night to hear the Rev. Tom W. Brabham preach on "The Biggest Fool in Pampa."

The essence of the text was: "Thou fool! This night thy soul shall be required of thee."

The pastor brought out that "in the midst of life we are in the presence of death . . . The most uncertain thing in life is life itself. Just about the time we get our affairs fixed in this world so we can live in comfort, we are called away from this scene of action to give an account of our life's work."

Rev. Brabham stressed the vanity of piling up this world's goods, showing that life does not consist of the abundance of things possessed, but of building for eternity. He showed, that even accumulating wealth for one's children is not always the best thing, for an inheritance is often a curse to the heirs. The fact of being rich is not a curse, he said, but when one's sole ambition is the accumulation of wealth the victim of avarice is blinded to the necessity of taking care of his soul's salvation.

In conclusion, Rev. Brabham said that the biggest fool in Pampa is the man who is striving for self, and who puts all his trust in the things of this short life, leaving out of his plans all thoughts of eternity and the things of God. The pastor will speak tonight on the theme, "The Possibility of Apostasy," or "Losing What We Have Not."

MACHINE-GUN CHAMPION

NEW YORK (AP)—New facts about the picturesque career of Tommy Armour, modest Scotch-American who won the 1927 National Open golf championship at Oakmont, are constantly bobbing up.

The American Golfer finds an explanation for his remarkably calm and finished golf play in the fact that he won the reputation of being the fastest man behind a British machine gun during the war, a job that calls for the keenest co-ordination of hand and eye.

Dr. H. H. Hicks returned Tuesday morning from Dallas.

PRODUCT HAS BEEN A POWER FOR 30 DAYS

Market Rises Today Above Yesterday's Close

FARMERS HAVE BUYING ABILITY

Grain and Hay Are In Promising Growth Now

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 30.—A sharp decline in the cotton market, which sent prices about $5 below yesterday's figures on receipt of the government's weevil report, was checked today and the market again rose to levels 2 to 7 points above yesterday's close.

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Activities of the boll weevil in southern cotton fields was pictured today in a report of the agriculture department which showed the pest multiplying in some of the cotton growing areas.

Eastern Texas showed more boll weevil damage than usual. On the basis of reports from 59 counties in Central Texas there appears to be eight or 10 counties where boll weevils had not been abundant except in the wooded sections. The crops in this area seem little better than the average crop.

Western Arkansas reported heavier infestation than any year since 1923.

Mississippi reported weevils in that state broke all previous records.

DALLAS, Aug. 30. (AP)—The market rise in the price of cotton was over-shadowing development during the last 30 days, says a monthly report of the eleventh district Federal Reserve bank, made public today.

Grain, hay and forage crops promise a substantially larger yield than of 1926, and the indicated production of several minor crops is likewise above that of a year ago.

The increased value of the district's principal commodity will provide farmers with a large debt paying and purchasing power, the report says. The condition of the cotton crop is irregular, with some fields indicating the best yield in several years but with others promising only very small production.

INJUNCTION ON BORGER CITY HALL IS DENIED

BORGER, Aug. 30.—The injunction sought to break the contract for a city hall has been denied, and work is expected to proceed.

The contract was let to the Fox Rig and Lumber company, and was found by the court not to be exorbitant.

BROKE JAIL, BUT NOW GOES TO TRIAL

BORGER, Aug. 30.—Alvin Tontz slippery prisoner charged with robbing the Santa Fe station here, is on trial at Stinnett today.

Tontz broke the county jail after stealing the jailer's gun, but was recaptured in Oklahoma.

BRANDED FLAPPERS

RICHMOND, Va. — A "brand" about six inches above the knee is the latest fad of the flapper bathing beauty in the Old Dominion.

A few pieces of adhesive tape, a few idle hours on the beach or at the lake, and the girl wears the brand of her choice, usually that of some favored college Greek letter fraternity. The tape prevents sunburn and tanning, leaving the letters plainly visible.

ALABAMA vs. LOUISIANA
TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—The team which the Crimson Tide of the University of Alabama, Southern conference football champions must overcome this fall to retain its laurels will be the Louisiana State University Tigers, in the opinion of Coach Wallace Wade, of the titleholders. L. S. U., under the direction of the veteran coach Mike Donahue, has one of the strongest combinations his institution has sent out in years.

MAKES PITCHING RECORD
BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP)—Major league scouts have been keeping an eye on Ralph Judd, pitcher for the Peoria Tractors in the Three-Eye league. Judd has hung up a record of sixteen victories and only three defeats. He struck out 83 batters in the 173 innings he has pitched; allowed only 129 hits and 33 bases on balls.

SOUTHPAW GOLF CHAMP
EAST LIVERPOOL, O. (AP)—The golfing Wells family of East Liverpool has another champion in the family. Arthur A. Wells holds Ohio's left-handed golf title. Wichita again put Tulsa to the showers and won the series three out of four. Tulsa used three southpaws but to no avail.

After sixteen straight losses, the Beaumont Exporters stepped out yesterday and beat Shreveport. Robertson and Shaw were the batteries,

Whittington Bests Varner on Points in Fight Here

Freddy Whittington, Tulsa welterweight, surprised local boxing fans last night when he took a win over Walter Varner, Roxana favorite. The boys met at the new bowl of the Pampa Athletic club on West Foster avenue in the best bouts yet presented by the club.

The opening event of the evening was between two 60-pound club boys, who put up a classy exhibition. The kids were evenly matched and the referee called the bout a draw.

Frankie Farrell had the misfortune to run a nail in his foot yesterday afternoon, but went into the ring and took the decision over Allison, known as the Louisiana boy. Allison had the better of the argument in the first two rounds, but Farrell came back in the last two and piled up enough margin for a win.

When time for the semi-final came about, Rusty Cahill and Speedy Snow stepped into the ring, and it was all the Pampa boy could do to make the bout a draw. Snow was hitting hard and wore Cahill down until he was hanging onto the ropes, but Cahill's early advantage saved him. The Pampa welter was hitting often and hard the first three rounds, but seemed to tire toward the end. Snow took a lot of punishment early in the bout but weathered the storm and came back strong.

When Varner and Whittington entered the ring the packed arena rose to its feet and cheered the boys. Rex King, now of Borger, was introduced and challenged the winner of the main event.

Varner weighed in at 155 pounds while Whittington entered at 148 pounds. The bout opened with Varner playing with the Tulsa boy, but soon found out he had a tough opponent. Varner had Whittington missing frequently in the first three rounds but the lighter boy soon found Varner's style of boxing and commenced to hit him repeatedly in the face until he brought blood in the fifth.

Toward the end of the bout both men seemed to tire, but Whittington forced the fight and was getting the edge in each round. By clever boxing, Varner kept out of the way of a haymaker and tried to land one in return, but the footwork of the Tulsa boy proved too much and Varner couldn't get in his hard right.

The last round saw Varner trying for a K. O. but the lighter boy boxed himself out of some tight holes and landed some hard blows to the head.

All during the bout Whittington was playing to the head while Varner hit to the body and tried uppercuts for a knockout, but was unsuccessful. The footwork and science used by the two boys was the best yet seen in Pampa. They are clever and fast and can hit and take punishment. Varner has been out of the ring for some time and was not in the best of condition.

The bouts for Labor Day have not been announced by the club officials, but Rex King will head the card.

SPORT TALK

The Denver Tournament is under full swing and the Midland nine-conquerors of the Pampa Grays in the Panhandle tournament, won their first start 9 to 0. "Rube" Hale, whom Gober had signed up with the Grays, pitched the winning game.

When it comes to showing fight fans the scientific way of boxing, Walter Varner and Freddie Whittington are the boys that can do the trick. Varner is to be commended on the fight he put up last night. He was out of condition and couldn't judge his blows. But at that he was up against a boy who would be hard to beat at all times.

Lou Gehrig crept up on the Babe yesterday when one of his two hits went for a home run. The Yankees took their eighteenth straight win of the season from the Browns yesterday. Ruth went hitless.

The Giants stepped out yesterday and took both ends of a double-header from the league leading Cubs, and sent them down until they are just two games in the lead over the Cardinals. Alexander lost his start yesterday, but Jess Haines won a pitcher's battle from Clark and Elmer of the Pirates. Pittsburgh's tie game yesterday gives them an even break with the Cardinals in the league standing.

YOUTH AND AGE RIDE TOGETHER TO DEFEND AMERICAN POLO CUP

The "Big Four" in American polo, chosen to defend the International Polo Cup against the challenge of Britain's Army-in-India team, will meet the invading team at Meadow Brook, September 5. Devereux Milburn, polo's greatest back, stands at the left of the picture. Next to Milburn is J. Cheever Cowdin, No. 3 on the team, then Tommy Hitchcock, No. 2. Winston Guest, No. 1, stands at the right of the picture.

BILLY EVANS Says

Bush Praises Cubs
"There isn't a star on the ball club. It doesn't figure to win the pennant."

That is what a lot of folks, who know considerable baseball, say when the Chicago Cubs and the National league championship are under discussion.

One of the managers of a rival club, that is finding it a difficult job to wrest first place from the Cubs doesn't agree with what a lot of people think. Here is what Donie Bush, pilot of the Pittsburgh Pirates has to say:

"The Cubs have a real ball club. Anyone who says the team is lacking in stars is just trying to 'kid' himself as well as his listeners, provided he has any."

"I would call 'Gabby' Hartnett one of the best catchers in the league. Hal Carrison and Charley Root are two of the best pitchers in the majors. The outfield of Webb, Wilson and Stephenson may not be the most graceful trio in the game, but they go get 'em, and how they can hit. Take it from me, Mr. Grimm is quite a first sacker and this young English, at shortstop, has the makings of a real star."

If you are willing to take Donie Bush's word, and he knows his baseball, the Chicago Cubs haven't one, but, on the contrary, about six stars.

Art Fletcher Knows
Another angle to the Cubs, unquestionably an interesting team because of its insistence in hanging on as a pennant contender after not being considered in the running, came to me from Art Fletcher.

In his playing days, Fletcher was one of the best shortstops in the National league. He starred with McGraw's pennant winning clubs at New York. Fletcher was capable, aggressive and game.

When his days of stardom came to an end, Fletcher decided to take a whirl at managing. He got his chance at Philadelphia in the National, if it could be considered as such. Most people insist that managing the Phillies during the last seven or eight years has simply been a minor league berth.

Trying to play big league ball, with a lineup of mostly minor league players, was too much for Fletcher and he passed up the job to act as one of the New York Yankee coaches under Muller Huggins.

Since the Yanks look as good as in, Fletcher, in his first year in the American league, is to cut in on the world series after a number of lean years with the fall-end Philadelphia club.

Like 1914 Braves
Fletcher knows the National league even better than the American, so when I asked him if the Cubs were not a better team than credit, I knew I would get a wise answer.

"The Cubs of this year are the Boston Braves of 1914 all over again," he replied. "On the whole it is a better club than most people think, although I must admit its lineup isn't impressive."

"I would say the two best features of the Cubs are a better than average pitching staff and great spirit. I have never seen a National league club play with more fight than the Cubs. You must give Manager McCarthy much credit for that. He's a fighter and his players must be the same sort.

"The infield is just fair. The outfield can hit. The team has good catching. However, the two things that have kept it in the running is its spirit and pitching. The Cubs fight for every ball game and are winning a lot by that system that otherwise might slip away."

Should the Cubs win in the National league, it's going to be a tough team to beat in the world series. The spirit that Fletcher described and good pitching is a winning combination.

BY ALAN J. GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, Aug. 30. (AP)—America will depend on an unusual combination of youth and age in defending the classic International Polo Cup against the challenge of Britain's Army-in-India team in the series at Meadow Brook, starting September 5.

Dashing youth will bear the brunt of the American attack with the 21-year-old Winston Guest, English-born Yale star, at No. 1, and the brilliant Tommy Hitchcock, 27, at the pivotal No. 2 position. On the defense, J. Cheever Cowdin, just coming to fame at 39, is at No. 3, with the famous Devereux Milburn, 46 years old and veteran of six previous cup contests, directing the play from his position as back.

Guest and Cowdin, newcomers to international competition, displaced Watson Webb and Malcolm Stevenson, members of the 1924 team, in the make-up of this year's American "Big Four." It was a drastic shift that completely upset earlier expect-tations, but the play of both has warranted their selection. Guest, like Hitchcock before him, has jumped to fame before casting his first vote. Although born in London and the son of one of England's foremost polo figures, Capt. Frederick E. Guest learned his polo in the United States, where he has lived since 1919 and has established citizenship. Literally and figuratively—for he stands six feet, four inches—Guest towered above all other players in college ranks as captain this year of Yale's championship team. Hitchcock, with all the daring and dash of youth, also has the seasoning of a veteran. This is his third cup campaign. He is the central figure in the American plan of attack.

More than three hundred watermelons were shipped recently from Weatherford, Tex., to famous men throughout the United States, following an annual custom. Coolidge will be the recipient of the choicest specimen of the group, a ninety-two pounder of perfect proportion.

The Story of a Man Who Had Little Money and Wanted to Get as Much Advertising as Possible for it—

Such a story would be short if the details were left out. To hundreds of people in Pampa and Gray county the story would be familiar for they could easily see themselves as the man in the story.

This man was a small property owner, having a house and apartment to keep rented and later wanted to sell part of his small holdings. In checking up on his property, both real and personal, he found that there were several items which he could get along without.

He also found that, to carry on his labors, there were two or three tools which he could use if he could find cheaply enough.

He resorted to the use of Daily News Classified Advertising and found that he could keep his house and apartment rented at a cost of less than 1 per cent of the income. Then he became a user of the little "Want Ads" for all his wants and received the same results.

This is a story of hundreds of users of Classified Advertising. They know the results and always come back. You, too, will become a regular customer if you try them once.

He finished high school when 17, took his A. B. degree last spring, and has studied most of the summer at the University of Texas. He is probably the youngest college graduate in Texas history. Coming from a cultured family and having been reared in the environment to which he apparently is devoting his life, young Morelock is doubtless efficient in his subject and able to guide the humble Freshman, who, if they cannot revere his years, can learn from one who has recently experienced the difficulties they face. FUNDAMENTAL—An Oklahoma sheriff is under $5,000 bond to answer a charge of aiding his father, a federal prisoner, to escape from jail. "Any man who hasn't nerve enough to keep his father out of jail hasn't nerve enough to be sheriff," the officer tersely explained. His is the logic by which the average man would excuse himself or his relatives and friends who come afoul of the law. Law enforcement is a wonderful thing—when the "other fellow" is involved. It is something else when preachment of enforcing the letter of the law comes home to roost.

The average person will say the sheriff was wrong; that he should not have acted in behalf of a relative any more than for any other person. Is not the law perfectly plain on office holding and relatives? True enough, but everyone would like to be an exception when the hand of the law falls on his shoulder. Don't condemn the sheriff until it is remembered that officers are frequently asked to make exceptions in favor of friends or relatives of another. Impartial enforcement is a good speech topic, but it does not

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON.— If the friends of the farmer adopt the slogan "McNary-Haugen or bust" they probably will go bust insofar as the Seventieth Congress is concerned. It seems more certain than ever that President Coolidge will veto the McNary-Haugen bill if Congress passes it again and as this certainty grows, some of the more thoughtful members of the farm bloc are looking around for a rose under another name which will smell just as sweet.

Whether the scheme finally chosen will actually be a compromise or a little sister of McNary-Haugen is likely to depend on whether the administration feels compelled to take the agricultural discontent seriously, but the farm bloc does not now show any strong disposition to give up any of its principles. Considerable attention is now being paid to the "Vrooman Bill," a piece of proposed legislation submitted by Carl S. Vrooman, of Bloomington, Ill., a former assistant secretary of agriculture. Some of those who have been fighting for the McNary-Haugen bill observe that they would get just as much out of the Vrooman plan as the McNary-Haugen scheme if the president could be persuaded to sign it.

The most serious opposition to the Vrooman plan will center upon its proposal to pay bounties on export farm crops whenever an emergency occurs in which the farmer doesn't get a "fair price." As in the McNary-Haugen bill, this pro-mix well with politics and human beings. That is not the fault of the theory, but of men, who should be better sports—or citizens—when the officers take a legitimate step "near home."

vision is designed to give the farmer the benefit of the tariff which he cannot derive so long as he raises a surplus and thus has to meet foreign low-price competition.

Instead of the McNary-Haugen equalization fee, Vrooman would square things with the farmer by having the government pay a bounty on all exported surplus when an emergency was officially declared. The money would actually come out of the treasury, for it is proposed that a system of export debentures be created up to the amount of the tariff on the particular crop and three cents a pound, by special proviso, for cotton. These debentures, or bounty

PRESS FORUM

THE CHURCHES

"Church membership has fallen off so in the last decade that the researchers are reluctant to issue actual figures, believing they would be too alarming," remarks the Breckenridge American editorially.

Let's see, now. The World Almanac for 1927 presents church membership figures for the last available year, 1925. These figures show the increases over the preceding year. In 1925 the grand total for the United States was 46,883,756, or a gain over the year before of 807,256. The gain of 1924 over 1923 was 621,630.

Getting down to denominations, we find some figures showing increases far from discouraging. The Catholics gained 203,990 in 1925 over 1924, the Methodists (15 bodies) gained 220,183, the Baptists (14 bodies) gained 104,396, the Presbyterians (9 bodies) gained 61,520, the Lutherians (18 bodies) gained 42,485, the Disciples of Christ (2 bodies) gained 90,493, the Protestant-Episcopal gained 25,719.

That doesn't look like the churches are losing out on memberships, does it?

You hear a lot about how the churches are failing to live up to their obligations to society, how they are failing to attract and hold young people, and their steadily declining moral hold upon the people. But it isn't so.

The wonder is that the churches have not only been able to hold their own in the midst of present-day madness, but have actually managed to score very decided gains in memberships.

The church hasn't fallen down. On the contrary, its progress and achievements during the last decade will compare favorably with the advancements that have been

Sheep and Goat Raisers To Meet At San Saba Soon

SAN SABA, Aug. 29.—Goatmen and sheep raisers of the Hills Country District of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will meet in conference here September 22, either preceding or following the regional convention of the West Texas Chamber to be held in San Saba on that date, according to tentative plans.

Col. C. C. French of the Fort Worth Stockyards Company, in cooperation with W. A. Wilson, secretary of the San Saba Chamber of Commerce, has issued invitation to stockmen of the Hills Country territory requesting their presence for discussion of the various phases and problems of their work. At least twenty counties are expected to send representatives to this conference.

Arrangements are underway for securing prominent agricultural and commercial leaders of the West to appear on the district convention program proper. Governor Dan Moody, and Mrs. Moody, "Sweetheart of the West", have been invited to attend.

Betty Nuthall Intends To Change Her Service

NEW YORK—Betty Nuthall, 16-year-old English schoolgirl, was good enough on the tennis courts to win from Helen Jacobs of California in the women's matches for the Wightman cup at Forest Hills. Those who saw her agreed, however, that she cannot hope to challenge the best tennis players of her sex until she abandons the underarm service upon which she relies.

Miss Nuthall told friends at Forest Hills that she intends to develop an orthodox service before next season, thus rounding out a game already brilliant for accurate placing and a strong backhand stroke.

A DIFFICULT GAME

PARIS (AP)—"Pelote Basque," the big sport of the Basque country in southwestern France, is winning the hearts of French sport-lovers, although the difficulty of the game limits its spread.

Pelote is somewhat like handball. The most popular form of it, however, is played with long, hooked, wicker, glove-like baskets strapped to the hand. With the "chistera" the hide-covered, rubber ball is thrown with tremendous speed and force against a high wall at one end of a long court. The ball must be caught in the air or on the first bounce by an opposing player.

WARSAW, Poland—No ardor for Lucy Stone's tenets, but pride in her father's achievements encourage Sophy Nalkowski to keep her maiden name despite two marriages.

Prof. Wacław Nalkowski, renowned scientist, is known as the "father of Polish geography." His daughter Sophy is achieving personal fame however as one of the most brilliant of the younger Polish authors. She began writing poetry at 12 and today her novels and poems are translated into many languages.

Sophy was born in Leipzig, where her father studied geography after completing his mathematical course at the Polytechnic school of Petrograd and the University of Krakow. After he was graduated from the university of Leipzig, Professor Nalkowski settled in Warsaw. He devoted all his time to scientific and social work, although it was difficult for Polish scientists to study under Russian supervision.

Her father struggled to spread an interest in the geography of Poland, but Russian censors mutilated his books. In this environment of struggle for intellectual freedom, Sophy spent her entire childhood.

She had not entered her teens when her first poem was published in a Warsaw weekly.

She was embarrassed when she received an invitation from the editor to visit his office to arrange terms.

She disguised herself in one of her mother's frocks but the editor saw through the trick. Her precocity was unusual. Her first book "Kobiety" meaning Women, appeared when she was 18, and "The Prince" when she was 20. Because of these two novels she was called a "child writing for grown-ups." She now publishes at least one book a year.

She was married twice, first to a young poet Rygiel when she was 18, and later to Colonel Gzuchowski, an intimate friend of Marshal Piłsudski.

Even Sails Are Wood In Tiny Ship Model

SEATTLE — With a pocket knife and a piece of glass, Mowritz Peterson of Portland, Ore., has carved a model of the frigate Constitution that is all wood, even to its 37 sails.

Each sail was carved and shaved down to a thickness of an eighth of an inch, from a block of wood three inches thick. It took an average of four days to make each sail and a year to finish the boat.

The hull was made of western red cedar and the sails of Idaho white pine. Two other woods, Port Oxford cedar and California sugar pine were used for the smaller parts.

The Livestock Situation

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30.—During the past several months a great deal of comment has resulted from packers purchasing hogs direct from the country rather than through central markets. This fact has been paraded as a forerunner of the breaking down of the principle of centralized livestock marketing.

However, to the close observer who has studied the movement of livestock of all classes this situation hasn't indicated anything alarming or prophetic of a change in the system of livestock marketing through central points which has proven itself so sound from an economical standpoint. Unquestionably this situation has been brought about by the smaller number of hogs available to meet requirements.

The number of hogs in the country has decreased from 74 1-2 million in 1919 to 51 million in 1926. It is interesting to note that in the face of this sharp curtailment of hog production the per capita consumption of pork increased from 68 pounds in 1919 to 77 pounds in 1926 and the consumption totalled nearly nine billion pounds in 1926 as compared with slightly over seven billion pounds in 1919. This decreased production and increased consumption is accounted for by the marketing of breeding herds, in many cases, attracted by high price levels. These figures indicate an extraordinary situation with decreasing supplies and increasing consumption and in this we find the answer to country buying.

Experience in the past has proven that when hog supplies become scarce buyers generally have gotten closer to the source of production, thus making more sure a supply. In these periods the tendency has always been to go to the smaller marketing centers and concentration points. The opposite to this is true when sufficient hog supplies are available and I believe this is aptly summed up by one of the large packers:

"When sufficient hog supplies are available it is not necessary for the packer to carry the added expense of direct buying and he, therefore, increases his purchases at the central markets. However, during the short supplies there is a direct effect on institutions at central markets, shipping associations, etc., and we find the question is brought up as to whether there is a movement adverse to buying through the central markets.

"Unquestionably the increase in direct purchase has nothing to do with the support or non-support of central markets as the necessity and economical value of central markets is recognized, where receipts and values can be recorded, a diversity of the supply made available to the purchaser at the least possible purchasing expense (reverting to the benefit of the producer) and added to this is the highly trained selling service made available to the producer."

Briefly, country hog buying is the direct result of under supplies and is a natural temporary condition due to this, and as soon as production reaches the point where the movement may return to its normal function, the volume will again be handled through the central markets simply repeating what has happened many times before when production became subnormal, forcing the buyers as near as possible to the points of production in securing their supplies with economies both for producer and buyer temporarily thrust aside to meet temporary conditions.

Mid-West Gets Big Grid Games

(By The Associated Press.)

Utah, Denver and Montana State are the western invaders. Denver is scheduled to play Iowa, Montana State will play Purdue and Utah faces Northwestern.

On the opening day of the season, Indiana journeys to Kentucky and Oklahoma University comes to face the Stagmen at the University of Chicago. The Oklahoma Aggies, champions of the Missouri Valley Conference, will play the University of Minnesota.

More than 150 state forests are open to public recreation. They contain 1,690,000 of "unimproved" land.

HUMAN STORAGE BATTERIES

THE battery refused to turn the engine over. The wiring was found to be in first-class condition, all contacts were properly made, and yet the engine would not start. Of course not; the battery had run down. One thing about an electric storage battery—you can get out of it only what you put into it.

Some persons start the venture in life with the idea that all depends upon luck and chance. If one succeeds in life's undertakings it is because favorable circumstances created opportunities. Failure is due to the absence of a chance; and that chance is a matter of sheer luck.

Those who have succeeded in life know the folly of this argument. Their experience has taught them that opportunities are not created for people so much as people create their own opportunities. The man who sits down and waits for something to turn up soon finds failure staring him in the face.

The person who succeeds in life is the one who is prepared to seize the opportunity after he creates it. Many persons have splendid chances but they lack the ability to take advantage of them. The successful man is the ready man, ready with the necessary materials at his hand.

Fifteen minutes of time have decided the fate of many an adventurer. Opportunities come on the wing, in the flash of the moment, sometimes only after a long period of time spent in creating them. He is a wise man who is able to recognize an opportunity even after he has succeeded in creating it.

Whatever is worth having, in this world costs something. The most expensive price one can pay for life's success lies not in creating an opportunity but in preparation for it. There is no short cut to the shining goal of success. This preparation consists not only in becoming conversant with the principles of our chosen profession and how to apply them, but in making human contacts. In order to succeed with people we must first know them. Much time is given to the study of arts and sciences, but too little to the study of personality or which some call the human soul. This is a basic value, for upon it everything else depends. We get out of life no more than we put into it.

Chess Prodigy In Title Quest

(By The Associated Press.)
KALAMAZOO, Mich.—Samuel Reshevsky, 16, the Detroit school boy who blazed a brilliant path in chess circles when he was thirteen, is ready to make a determined quest for the world's chess championship. Reshevsky will make his first appearance in three years in competitive playing at the annual tournament of the National Chess Federation of America in Kalamazoo, Aug. 25 to Sept. 5.

Three years ago, Reshevsky made a triumphant journey of chess playing in this country and in Europe. Then he gave up the game in order to devote his full time to school work. He was sent to his books by his manager, who said he believed a return to the game in a few years would assure the Polish prodigy the world's championship. The youth remained dutifully at his studies. He has made only one recent public appearance. That was at Cincinnati, where he engaged 19 players and easily defeated all of them.

Reshevsky will match wits here against such stars as Frank J. Marshall, United States champion, and Jackson Showalter of Louisville, former champion.

A "living chess game" will be one of the features of the tournament. The 32 pieces will be represented by persons, appropriately costumed. Reshevsky and Samuel Factor, Illinois champion, will be at opposite sides of the "board." The game will be played in the open.

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Yale University has a new golf course whose par of 70 is yet to be equalled.

In real and mental hazards, many players claim, these eighteen holes are unsurpassed in this country. The course was recently covered in 71, but many a nationally known player has been many strokes above that figure.

If one drives straight down the narrow fairways and, at the right time, gets plenty of distance into his shots, all goes well. But a dub in a tee drive or a fizzle with the irons may mean a day's wage in lost balls as the golfer wanders from trap to hazard or into the dense woods roundabout.

There are six water holes. A water hazard with a width of a hundred yards, lies in front of the first tee and is just one of the hazards on this 410 yard, par four hole.

A persevering Yale faculty member kept slashing away on another difficult hole—another par four—and succeeded at last in making it, in 32 strokes.

BROTHER AND SISTER REUNITED
CAMDEN, Ark.—After having lived within 100 miles of each other—a fact unknown to them—a brother and sister who had not met in 43 years have been reunited here. They are John Ledbetter, 64 of Dodson, and Mrs. S. V. Merritt, 79, of Camden.

Women Police Have Proven Their Value

(By The Associated Press.)
LOS ANGELES—The years elapsing since the woman policeman was an innovation have proved their usefulness, believes Alice Stebbins Wells, recognized as the first female police officer in the United States.

Mrs. Wells, now attached to Los Angeles "finest", declares experience has shown that "women are absolutely necessary in the problems of the dance halls, the safeguarding of children in large cities and in the prevention of criminal and immoral acts among adolescent girls."

Advocating the appointment of women to the police forces of all large cities, she also believes in the establishment of preventative agencies for reducing moral and legal infractions. She advocates the interpretation of laws of each state to an assembled group in factories, industrial organizations, clubs and night schools.

Desire to see the Dempsey-Tunney fight in Chicago is believed to have caused Wallace Hodson, 13-year-old Kansas City boy to run away from home.

Mother's Cook Book

The happy state of mind so rarely possessed in which we can say "I have enough," is the highest attainment of philosophy. Happiness consists not in possessing much, but in being content with what we possess. He who wants little, always has enough.—Zimmerman.

WORTH REMEMBERING

THERE is nothing more important to a household than the health of the mother. When going upstairs place the whole foot on the stair, keeping the body erect; this manner of climbing stairs will not strain any muscle unduly.

When it is necessary to clean upholstered furniture in the house, cover with a dampened cloth and beat, unless you are fortunate enough to have a vacuum cleaner.

When raisins and prunes stick to the paper or carton, steam slightly for a moment over the teakettle.

An infant, no matter how young, should be given frequent drinks of pure water. A bottle is the best way to give it until the child is old enough to drink from a cup or spoon.

Orange and tomato juice (strained) for babies is a most wholesome and refreshing drink; begin when the child is three months old to serve it every day. For an older child who needs a laxative the following is one that any mother need not fear to administer and the child will enjoy taking it: Grind through a meat grinder one pound each of prunes (softened), figs, dates and raisins, and keep in a cool place. For a child a piece the size of a pecan will be sufficient for an adult, a larger piece. This is a good laxative to take with one on a journey; it is agreeable and easy to take.

Citron melon if grated then preserved may be used for many dishes which call for the dried citron. It is especially good for garnishes, for ice cream and puddings; dried slightly and sugared, may be used for confections and cake decorations. In the mince meat it is a great addition, its delicate flavor adding much to the taste of the time-honored pie filling.

One may boil a pudding in a double boiler, saving time and trouble. Line the upper part of the double boiler with oiled paper and turn in the pudding to be steamed. When done it will come out in good form.

Ha! Ha! Laughs the Democratic Donkey!

It's a safe bet the Republican elephant bore the brunt of the joke United States Senator "Cyarter" Glass of Virginia is telling to two equally prominent Democrats here—William G. McAduo (left) and Governor Albert Ritchie, or Maryland (right, hat in hand). They got together at the institute of public affairs at the University of Virginia, at Charlottesville.

PENCIL-WOOD IN TURKESTAN
SAMARKLND, Turkestan.—Pencil-wood enough to overcome illiteracy not only in Russia but in the whole world has been discovered in the Zaaminsk district in Turkestan, according to explorers just returned. There are said to be 50,000 acres of "archa" forests, a timber suitable for manufacture of pencils.

Social Aspirants Learn To Amuse

(By The Associated Press.)
LONDON—The good old days are gone when a blue-ribboned pedigree was enough to "crash the gate" on London society.

To get through the sacred portals of Belgravia one must now be amusing.

That eliminates a lot of the old dowagers. It also weeds out a number of American hostesses who came over this season with a bank book in one hand and an invitation list in the other. At the climax of the social season, now in sight, many hostesses are weighing their bank balances against the salver of visiting cards collected during the last three months, wondering whether it was worth while.

The barricades of London society can now only be stormed, they have discovered, not by social impeccability, but by one's ability to amuse.

If one can raise the flicker of a smile on the faces of tired Belgravia hostesses one's social fortune is made. Persons who have spent small fortunes on charity balls and entertainments and who have meandered through the whole lugubrious length of them have not yet been able to turn the magic wheel that spins on with society.

Yet people with reputations of being merely young and amusing, like Edyth Baker, the American pianist, entertainer, Fred and Adele Astaire, who entertained Prince George in their hotel suite, and Florence Mills, negro show girl of New York, entertain the best society. People come to their parties who would not bother even to answer invitations from persons in the social register.

MAGAZINE FOR ROYALTY

TOKYO—The princes and princesses of Japan, an exclusive set upon whom the common people look as of divine origin, have taken up journalism. They will publish a monthly magazine, containing poems and stories of travel and history—but it will be only for the royal families.

AN IDEAL INVESTMENT

From the above standpoint the Nunn-Warren Publishing Co., Inc., 7 Percent Cumulative, Participating Preferred Stock makes an ideal investment.

It is not usual that investors have the opportunity of buying stock in successful, local institutions—they are most generally "closed corporations," but the management of your "home town" newspaper believes that a wholesome effect will be created in having some of its Preferred Stock in the hands of numerous investors throughout the Panhandle.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT
By F. A. WALKER

FIGHTING — RETREATING

A GOOD many battles have been lost because the commanding general in learning how to fight, neglected to learn how to retreat. In the battle of life it is quite as necessary to know how to extricate yourself from a difficulty as it is to know the principles of getting ahead. The man who continues to attempt what has proved impossible of accomplishment may have admirable courage but very poor judgment. The one thing that a good general does when he is retreating is to KEEP FIGHTING. If you keep fighting hard enough the retreat itself may be the means of eventual victory.

A young man who has chosen the wrong occupation, who has undertaken a job for which he is not fitted, will gain in the end if he retreats and gets into a new and better position. Most of us are best fitted for one thing. If we try to be more than that or other than that we sacrifice results, and results are the only things that count.

There are very few Michaelangelos who can be equal successes as sculptors and painters and architects. It is only once in ages that there is a man like Leonardo Da Vinci, who was perhaps the wisest man that ever lived. He attained eminence as an artist whose masterpieces "The Last Supper" and "Mona Lisa," have been reproduced more than any other two pictures ever painted. He was a great engineer, a wonderful inventor, a musician of merit, a botanist, a chemist, an astronomer, a geologist, an explorer and geographer and on all of these subjects he was a voluminous and entertaining writer. He was one general in a million—he never had occasion to retreat.

Conduct your retreat in an orderly manner. Cyrus the Great, who won many victories to have his head cut off by the woman, Queen Tomyris, to whom he lost the last battle he fought, said of retreating: "When an army must retreat, let the retreat be managed in the safest manner and not in the quickest." Don't be in a hurry about changing your work. Don't be impetuous and throwing down your tools, or your books or whatever you work with, walk out with a "to h—l with that job." Conduct your retreat in a safe, sane way, fighting as you go, fighting to find the right thing and the right place where you will be worth most to yourself and therefore most to everybody else.

The one thing is to be sure you are doing something. Either go ahead or retreat. Don't try to be a stand-still soldier. There is often quoted a truism that a rolling stone gathers no moss. But moss is not a very valuable asset and nobody need count himself a great failure if he dies without ever having possessed any. A well-polished diamond is the most valuable of the mineral family, and the value comes to that only after a good deal of rough contact with things harder than itself which shape and brighten it. Go ahead all the time if you can. But if you cannot go any further ahead on the line you have chosen don't be afraid to "back up" and try another road to success.

The Pity of It
"My objection to real life," says the heroine of a Scotch novel, "is that it isn't true to the moving pictures."

ALAMOSO, Colo., Aug. 30. (AP)—Parking, the bane of motorists, has at last invaded the ranks of the broncos, the pintos and "rarin' cayuses" of the plains. In the center of the San Luis valley, cowboys and cowgirls daily may be seen putting their pintos through the antics made familiar through the parking of motor cars. Having been crowded out of their "parking" spaces because of the automobile, resourceful range riders are training their mounts to lie down while they transact their business. As a result it is not an uncommon sight to see a cowgirl wheel her horse into a vacant space between parked automobiles, "drop" the animal to the pavement and leave it there a la automobile.

Miss "Sammy" Traveller, daughter of Colorado's Cowboy Preacher, the Rev. Gil Traveller, has become so adept in parking her pinto, that she now can leave her mount in a space that would stump the hardest motorist. Miss Traveller is considered one of the most expert horsewomen in the entire San Luis valley.

She Can Run

or tongue, cooked peas, a few pickles or cucumbers chopped fine, and salad dressing. Celery, dates and apples, all chopped fine makes a good stuffing. Cottage or cream cheese, with chipped nuts may be used. Serve on lettuce leaf, or shredded lettuce. Pass mayonnaise salad dressing, or put spoonful on each tomato.

CREAM DRESSING

Whipped cream dressing is especially good with cabbage salad, but it may be used for any summer salad desired. To make it, beat a half pint of heavy whipping cream until it is stiff, add 4-1/2 tablespoons lemon juice, 2 tablespoons fresh grated horseradish, a grating of onion, a few drops of tabasco, and salt to taste.

A dash of cayenne pepper may be used instead of tabasco. If the horseradish is in vinegar, use only 2 tablespoons of lemon.

PRE-COOKED CEREAL

The idea that cereals must be cooked for several hours to make them digestible has been abandoned. Scientific experiments have shown that even raw starch is easily assimilated.

Starch, however, which is one of the chief food materials in cereals, does not taste good unless it is well cooked. For this reason it is advisable to cook any cereal until the grains are soft and palatable.

Some of the pre-cooked cereals on the market may be prepared with very short cooking in a double boiler.

AMERICANS BLAMED FOR MONEY DISPLAY

PARIS, Aug. 30. (AP)—The growing practice of cramming crumpled banknotes into one's pocket has aroused criticism here. Americans are blamed for setting the example.

This apparent contempt for money, says one objector, is becoming too common and the blandly rich and those who would be thought so "pull out handfuls of bills in which thousand-franc notes are mixed with five franc bills. This grand gesture is often intended as a play to the gallery."

Although Americans are accused of originating the habit, the French who have adopted the practice get the bulk of the blame.

FRENCH SHOW GIRLS WON'T JOIN CHORUS

PARIS, Aug. 30. (AP)—French show girls won't perform in the chorus, and Paris music halls have to employ English troupes that get five times the salary.

It is the French girl's spirit of independence, theatre managers say that keeps her out of the long rows, all costumed alike, that dance and kick in unison.

The English chorus girl costs a Parisian theatre 125 francs a day. The French girl, in minor roles, gets 25 francs.

French managers tried in the past to train French choruses, but the girls would not stand the discipline of daily exercise. They balked at being chaperoned and at going to bed at a certain hour.

The English troupes that come here are trained in boarding school, getting their music and dancing along with their reading and writing, from the age of 12, on. Half their salaries are paid directly to their parents.

BLAMES FRENCH TAX FOR BUILDING SLUMP

PARIS, Aug. 30. (AP)—"Formidable" unemployment in France within a year is foreseen by President Largier of the National Chamber of Real Estate Agents.

Largier says over-taxation is throttling building. He says building has dropped off about a third and that all industry will soon show the effects of this. He calls upon the government to act immediately to avoid a "social and financial peril."

A tax of 25 per cent is levied on real estate transfers. This, he says has proved to be a fatal mistake. He shows that the government is receiving less and less revenues from this tax.

PARIS BUSES AND CARS HAVE NEW FARE SYSTEM

PARIS, Aug. 30. (AP)—A new ticket system and fare-registering machines are to be used on all Paris omnibuses and street cars.

Tickets are to be sold in strips of 20, each ticket to be good for a section of the ride. They are to be placed in a slot of the machine and the turn of a handle will stamp on each ticket the route, trip number, the bus number and the section paid for.

Yellowstone, Presidential Host Since 1883, Still Virgin Scene

(By The Associated Press.)

YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK—Three chief executives of the United States before President Coolidge have visited Yellowstone National Park, yet with the exception of a 200-mile road system, the hotels and the camps, the region is exactly the same as when President Arthur entered it on horseback 44 years ago.

President Roosevelt, when he visited Yellowstone in 1903, laid the cornerstone of the huge arch at the north entrance, describing the park as "For the Benefit and Enjoyment of the People," and following these tenets, laid down in the Congressional Act of 1872 creating the park, the government has exercised unceasing vigilance in preserving the wilderness unspoiled.

Four years ago President Harding enroute to Alaska, devoted two days to a trip through Yellowstone. The rapid motor ride he enjoyed here was not available to preceding presidents, for the park was not opened to motor travel until 1915. Prior to that time, horse-drawn stage coaches transported visitors over the road. Today approximately 50,000 private motor cars come to the park each year, and a fleet of more than 200 busses provide for those who come by rail.

The park is at a much higher altitude than the summer white house in the Black Hills. This land of steam vents, geysers and boiling pools is 7,500 feet above the sea, ringed about with mountains rising to the height of two miles. Lake Yellowstone is the highest in North America for its size, 139 square miles. In the lake, and in Yellowstone river is a new species of trout, the cut-throat, a game Western fighter. Down the river beyond the rim of the 1,200 foot deep canyon, with its falls twice as high as Niagara, new altitudes by motor are attainable at the summit of Mt. Washburn, 10,317 feet. Near Tower Falls, where President Roosevelt once camped, roam many antelope, Bears abound, among them the cub that so delighted President Harding, now full grown. Big horn sheep frequent the slopes of Mt. Washburn. Deer, moose and elk browse in the park in numbers as great and as unafraid as when man first came to the region. The only active Indian fighting in Yellowstone took place just 50 years ago this summer, when Nez Perces eluded the pursuit of General O. O. Howard, crossing the park. Several luckless tourists were killed. Rope burns on the trees where a cumbersome army wagon was let down a steep slope near Yellowstone Falls have left their marks in the bark today.

In traveling along the park roads the visitor twice crosses the Continental divide between the geysers region at Old Faithful and Lake Yellowstone. Most distinctive among the features of the park are its geysers, chief among them Old Faithful, which spouts every 65 minutes to a height of 150 to 200 feet.
