

TEXAS TOPICS

Today is a big day in district Kiwanis circles, with big-wigs of the club from many cities throughout the No. 5 division of the Texas-Oklahoma district gathered in Pampa for an all-day pow-wow and conference of club presidents and secretaries.

Key to the city was turned over to the visitors, headed by Lieutenant Governor R. Q. Silverthorne, of Plainview, and official Pampa and local Kiwanians were doing their utmost to make the stay of the delegates here an enjoyable one. And we hope they will come again soon.

Pa Pampa, laid up with the flu, was unable to get over to McLean for the big BCD meeting this week, but he has just received from Ma McLean a letter which gives all the inside dope on what took place over there. The letter:

"Dear Pa Pampa: You should have been at our BCD meeting the other evening. It was a howling success. Thurman, the toast master, started the howling by telling a joke which Mason King of Amarillo declared was in a book which he himself purchased the exclusive right to quote exactly 15 years ago. Seriously, Pa, Mason shouldn't have been so hard on Thurman, because he really did tell one new joke.

"The affair revealed the fact that Wit can really make a speech; that Carl can make promises which are not like pie crusts; that C. A. can really sit through a banquet without painting pictures; that Jesse can eat as much as a full-grown man; that Lee Wilson is only the assistant postmaster; that women can keep from talking; that Ann and her co-workers can really cook; that T. A. gives advice to the women; that Margaret, Vera and Symantha can sing like the birds; still; that Mrs. Sherman White is still 'Frankie Mae' when she comes back home.

"That Wilson is contemplating opening a shooting gallery at Mrs. Johnson's home in Pampa can really blush; that her husband is an entertainer worth hearing; that Binford Arney is one speaker who knows enough to stop when he's finished with his speech; that football is still the favorite sport in the Panhandle and the best of contention between its towns; that J. M. Collins, BCD president of Pampa, is what the ladies call a handsome man; that, unless Garnet Reeves changes his hair tone he is soon going to be as D. A. as our mayor; that Boyd Messinger is the back-bone of the local BCD; that Mrs. Joe Gordon is an attractive woman; that Bill Bogan does the work and the other BCD members the talking. And—

"That Mrs. Leech, wife of our tax collector, is a woman worth knowing and listening to and I suggest that your local radio station give her a period to speak on her hobby—English as it should be spoke; that Bill Gilstrap still has a number of good friends in McLean; that Blossom appears to be the favorite town to be from, at least to 'Dirty' Thurman and John Sturgeon; that Cecil has a new girl; that Vester, when sitting beside Sheriff Talley, can add dignity to any gathering; that Rev. Erwin is a good sport; that T. E. Johnson and Geo. Briggs represent the brains of Amarillo and Pampa; that McLean's business and professional men and women appreciate greatly the good fellowship and neighborly spirit shown by representatives from her two big sister towns in 'taking time out' and coming down to laugh and eat with her in her one big evening of the year.

"Yours for a prosperous year, 'MA McLEAN."

That's a nice letter, Ma, and we often wonder how you get so much inside dope. We've just about come to the conclusion that what Walter McLean is to Broadway, you are to McLean.

Some things we just learned. In Denmark, each egg sold has stamped upon it the date on which it was laid, the number of the farmer selling it, and the number of the co-operating society to which the farmer belongs.

Auditorium To Be Dedicated About Feb. 18

Structure Is Accepted From Various Builders

The beautiful new high school auditorium has been completed and only installation of stage equipment remains before the building is placed in use.

School board officials met yesterday and officially accepted the building from O. L. Boyington of Pampa, contractor; Rittenberry and Carter of Amarillo, architects; and W. T. Williamson, Works Progress Administration resident engineer and inspector.

The building was erected at a cost of $67,000, not including seats or stage equipment. Work started on the project last June. The Oklahoma City School scenic company has agreed to furnish the stage equipment which will be installed by Feb. 10.

Formal dedication of the auditorium had been tentatively set for Feb. 18. Sup. R. B. Fisher announced today. A prominent state official has been invited to speak at the dedication but his reply has not been received.

The new auditorium will be the largest in the city with a seating capacity of more than 1,200. It is of brick and stone and located north of the main high school building.

The attendance at morning and afternoon sessions was made up of Kiwanis officials and members from cities in Division 5 of the Texas-Oklahoma district, including Vega, Tulla, Plainview, Amarillo, Lubbock, San Jacinto Heights, LeFors, and other cities.

The session, first of its kind ever to be held in Pampa, was called by and was presided over by Lieutenant Governor R. Q. Silverthorne, of Plainview.

Following registration this morning and a short introductory program, visitors were welcomed to the auditorium by Fred Thompson, district governor. The response was given by Slim Kelly of Amarillo.

Discussions on five major Kiwanis activities occupied the delegates at the morning session. These were: "Club House," led by W. A. Williams of Vega; "Club Programs," led by E. H. Ezell, of Plainview; "Rural and Urban Relationship," led by Herb R. Duke, of Amarillo; "Vocational Guidance," led by Marian Sanford, of Lubbock; and "Unprivileged Children," led by Dr. C. L. Jackson, of Tulla.

Lee Waggoner, of Pampa, was in charge of the noonday program at which visitors joined with members of the Pampa club at their regular weekly luncheon.

12 PLANES FLY OVER OCEAN

BIG SHIPS OF NAVY ARRIVE IN HONOLULU

HONOLULU, Jan. 29 (AP)—Battling through thick weather in the last stages of their record-breaking flight, twelve high United States naval seaplanes completed the longest over-water mass flight in history at 3:50 a. m. today 8:20 a. m. (CST).

They officially covered the 2,553 miles from San Diego to Honolulu in 21 hours, 48 minutes elapsed time.

During the last 300 miles the squadron maneuvered between altitudes of 2,000 and 15,000 feet to escape what Lieut. Commander William H. McDade described as "very bad weather."

"They came out into bright moonlight, sparkling on the calm waters as they flew over the Pearl Harbor naval base in perfect formation, their flying lights twinkling.

The official takeoff time for San Diego was announced as 6:02 a. m., and the arrival at Pearl Harbor as 3:50 a. m. today.

The only previous mass trans-Pacific flight was three years ago when Lieut. Commander Knickerbocker led a squadron of six naval planes on another "routine" flight of 2,400 miles from San Francisco Bay. The elapsed time was 24 hours, 45 minutes, about three hours longer for the shorter distance.

Today Commander McDade led his squadron in circling the harbor for 20 minutes before the first plane swooped down to a perfect landing on the calm, flood-lighted channel. Only 150 spectators, mostly families of the 80 fliers, were on hand to watch the end of the spectacular demonstration of the precision of naval flying.

What Congress Is Doing

Routine business in Senate and House. Senate appropriations subcommittee continues study of $900,000,000 deficiency-relief bill.

Senate judiciary subcommittee resumes hearings on O'Mahoney industrial licensing bill.

House Interstate Commerce and agriculture committees continue hearings on modification of long and short haul orders and farm tenancy bill, respectively.

Radek To Pay With Head He Tells Court

WRITER ADMITS TREASONABLE ACTS IN MOSCOW TRIAL

MOSCOW, Jan. 29 (AP)—Karl Radek, once Russia's foremost newspaper commentator and now on trial for his life with 16 other confessed co-conspirators, defiantly predicted today "we shall pay for our crimes with our heads."

In varying moments of anger and abjection, Radek admitted treasonable acts against the Soviet government of Joseph Stalin but classed his crime as "political, nothing else."

"I admit the treason," he shouted. "I do not defend myself. There are no extenuating circumstances."

His "final words" directed to judges of the military collegium of the Supreme Court before they were to retire to consider a verdict, contrasted sharply with the dignified pleas for mercy from another defendant, Gregory Sokolnikoff, former ambassador to Great Britain.

"The confessions, the indictment and the evidence have buried us," Sokolnikoff declared. "However, I beg the court's mercy."

Radek sounded a warning to "all Trotskyists here in Spain, in France, everywhere in the world."

"Learn from our experience," he declared. "The simple truth is that Trotskyists are incendiaries of war."

Radek made no effort to shift the blame. His weird whiskers and dun-colored old blouse gave the writer the appearance of a farmer as he defiantly told the court.

"I cannot even say Trotsky misled me except to say that I warned Trotsky in 1934 to avoid foreign complications. He was silent for a day and then he revealed the full accomplice with Hitler."

"Everything he said about the restoration of capitalism was true."

River Keeping Within Levees As Crest Nears

Flood Invasion of Deep South Begins

(By The Associated Press) Flood waters of the north, unrelenting after a $400,000,000 scourge of the Ohio river valley, began a plundering invasion into the heart of the deep south today.

Scores of villages and countless farms along the 200-mile stretch from Cairo, Ill., to Memphis, Tenn., swam deep in the rising yellow tide of the Mississippi, fed at a rate of nearly 3,000,000 cubic feet per second by the falling Ohio.

The crest was still to come—now hovering just above Paducah, Ky. With rain and snow forecast, a pick-and-shovel army of 100,000 toiled like beavers to fortify the billion-dollar levee system, ranging southward from Cairo, that guards the rich cotton delta lands along the Mississippi.

United States coast guard cutters shuttled up and down the restive waters on "picket duty" to watch for weak spots or new breaks in the levees. Warned of impending danger, new hordes of refugees streamed from the low-lying marginal lands along the Mississippi.

Tent cities sprang up on highlands and ridges 30 miles from the river to house temporary "orphans of the flood." At Barton, near Helena, Ark., a single concentration camp received 15,000 refugees. Ten additional centers were spotted. Thousands of others were removed to east Arkansas cities and to Memphis.

And last night, in the darkness, around the red flaming campfires, voices lifted in prayerful, hysteria-touched song.

"River's Way From My Door" Every levee throughout the Mississippi system was holding today—and U. S. Army engineers predicted they would continue to hold, barring the unexpected.

In Little Rock, Ark., Gov. Carl E. Bailey declined eastern offers of help, declaring Arkansas wants to fight its own flood battle—with aid only from the U. S. Army and Red Cross—"until we are completely licked."

Memphis, safely perched on the Chickasaw bluffs, hummed with warlike activity today as more thousands of refugees streamed into the city.

38,500 DIE IN CAR ACCIDENTS IN LAST YEAR

39,000 ARE KILLED WITHIN THEIR HOMES

CHICAGO, Jan. 29 (AP)—Motor vehicle accident deaths reached an all time record total of 38,500 in 1936, the National Safety Council said today, exceeding the nation's previous mark of 37,000 in 1935.

Tornadoes, floods, excessive heat and increased employment helped push the 1936 total of accidental deaths from all causes to 111,000, wiping out the 1934 record of 101,139.

The council added accidents permanently disabled about 400,000 persons and temporarily disabled 10,300,000 others, the traffic engineers and the traffic educators has only begun.

"Growing death totals emphasize more than ever that the job of the traffic engineers, the traffic educators and the traffic educators has only begun."

Discussions of various club activities by district Kiwanis presidents and secretaries held the attention of delegates at a one-day divisional conference in Hotel Schneider here today.

The attendance at morning and afternoon sessions was made up of Kiwanis officials and members from cities in Division 5 of the Texas-Oklahoma district, including Vega, Tulla, Plainview, Amarillo, Lubbock, San Jacinto Heights, LeFors, and other cities.

The session, first of its kind ever to be held in Pampa, was called by and was presided over by Lieutenant Governor R. Q. Silverthorne, of Plainview.

Following registration this morning and a short introductory program, visitors were welcomed to the auditorium by Fred Thompson, district governor. The response was given by Slim Kelly of Amarillo.

Cross discussions were continued this afternoon with "Classification and Membership," led by Bo Sexton, of Lubbock; "Boys and Girls Work," led by E. B. Miller, of Plainview; and "Inter-Club Relations," led by William Q. Farsey, of Amarillo.

The afternoon session also was to be featured by an Open Forum discussion in which all members and delegates present were to take part.

The day's session was to be closed by a special conference for club presidents and secretaries.

CONTRIBUTIONS REACH $1,725 IN FLOOD FUND

Pampa's contributions to the Red Cross for use in flood stricken areas reached $1,725 today. It was announced from local Red Cross headquarters.

A stage show at the LaNora theater last night netted $47. Radio station KPND received $33 in contributions yesterday.

Contributions of clothing, bedding, etc., are also being received. Red Cross headquarters in the city hall is overflowing with donations and additional storage space will have to be secured.

P. C. Crown of the Crown theater returned yesterday from Oklahoma City and announced that on Tuesday night, beginning at 9 o'clock, he would give a free show with excellent local vaudeville attractions, and give full proceeds to the fund. Admission will be 10 and 25 cents.

The following additional contributions were announced from Red Cross headquarters today:

LATE NEWS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 (AP)—President Roosevelt announced today four high government officials would leave for Memphis Sunday to begin a clean up and sanitation drive from there northward to the Ohio river. The four are Harry L. Hopkins, Works Progress administrator; Major General Edwin M. Markham, chief of army engineers, Surgeon General Thomas Parran, Jr., of the public health service, and Colonel F. C. Harrington, army engineer now attached to the WPA.

ICE-COATED STREETS SPRINKLED WITH SAND

Pampans slipped to work early today as the city again was gripped by an ice storm which slickened the sidewalks and pavements and gave trees and shrubbery a frosty coat.

City workmen spread sand at downtown street intersections to enable motorists to stop for traffic signals. Bumper fenders and minor auto mishaps were common on the slippery streets.

Under a cloudy sky the mercury in Pampa remained slightly under the freezing point most of the forenoon and then began to climb a little after noon. The coldest last night was 24 degrees. It was 30 at 6 a. m. today and in four hours there had been a rise of only one degree.

Panhandle Will Be Colder Saturday Says Weather Man

DALLAS, Jan. 29 (AP)—Dr. J. L. Cline, meteorologist in charge of the United States weather bureau here, said today a threatened cold snap probably would not materialize in most of North Texas.

Dr. Cline said Oklahoma City had a minimum of 26 degrees last night and a misting rain was freezing today but the chill would probably stop short of Texas.

He said the panhandle would probably be colder Saturday and Saturday night.

THE SPIRIT OF THE PLAINS

An Editorial

Pampa is justified in being proud of its eleemosynary spirit.

But the battle to control the raging flood waters of the Ohio and Mississippi rivers is not yet won.

Within a short time after the city realized the true plight of flood-stricken cities in the Ohio valley, the citizenry has given $1,500 to the Red Cross to assist it in its work in eleven states. More was expected today. Clothing donations were also heavy.

This is the spirit of Americanism. It should be gratifying to the people of Gray county to know that the spirit of helpfulness is not decayed.

Premier Quits Post In Japan

TOKYO, Jan. 29 (AP)—Emperor Hirohito tonight delegated Gen. Gen. Senjuro Hayashi, former minister of war, to form a new government after negotiations by Gen. Kazashige Ugaki had succumbed to army opposition.

Gen. Hayashi, who received his instructions during a conference at the palace, accepted the order and began at once to negotiate for a new ministerial council.

The new premier designate was summoned to the emperor's presence after detailed conferences held by Kuranoh Yuasa, lord keeper of the privy seal, acting on the ruler's behalf.

Yuasa discussed the governmental crisis with Prince Saionji, last of the influential "elder statesmen," at Okitsu.

General Ugaki, as he broke off his negotiations, denounced the army for having brought the nation to the crossroads of Fascism or constitutionalism.

Ugaki, hailed as one of Japan's most brilliant administrators, apologized to the emperor for his life-long association with the army and dramatically announced resignation of his title of general "as an expression of my sorrow and disappointment at these conditions."

Informed quarters consider, however, the sudden development in Japan's week-old constitutional crisis might be preliminary to Ugaki's formation of an anti-military cabinet to purge the army of its extremist elements.

SHIP IN NO DANGER

NEW YORK, Jan. 29 (AP)—The Clyde Mallory liner Shawnee, with a fire in her No. 2 hold reported under control, apparently was in no immediate danger today as she raced toward Cape Henry, Va., from her position 60 miles at sea. The liner, with 500 passengers aboard, bound from Jacksonville for New York, where she was to dock at 11 o'clock tonight, reported to the coast guard radio station that she was "not in need of immediate assistance" but asked ships to stand by for eventualities.

SHEEPMEN ASK PROTECTION

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Jan. 29 (AP)—Sheep men of the far west, facing what some predict will be one of the brightest years in their history, called upon the federal government today to protect their stock from disease and their markets from foreign encroachment.

Mothers' Chorus Will Be Formed By P-TA

Council Sets Time for Meeting of Singers

Singing mothers to complete the musical program on which Pampa school pride themselves will organize a chorus soon under sponsorship of the City Parent-Teacher council, it was decided at the monthly council meeting yesterday afternoon.

A Mothersingers chorus will be formed at a meeting in the high school music room in the red brick building Feb. 10. Miss Helen Martin, high school music teacher, will be director. All members of Parent-Teacher units who sing are invited to join this chorus, which will start practice on songs for the district convention at Perryton.

All Parent-Teacher units of the city were represented at the council meeting. The group voted to give all adults' clothing now in the school thrift room to the Red Cross collection for flood victims; to start a P-TA shelf in the high school library; and to send a resolution to legislators endorsing the child labor amendment now pending.

Students Arrive Here on Vacation

Semester vacations in a number of colleges this week-end are bringing students to the city for short visits. Miss Janice Purviance, here from Southern Methodist University at Dallas, has her room-mate, Miss Billie Goodner of McKinney, as a guest in the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. Purviance. Miss Goodner is secretary of Zeta Tau Alpha at S. M. U.

Neighbors Could Hear Her Belching Spells! "I think so much of Van-Tage that I haven't the words to express it," said Mrs. Smith. "Ever since 1920 I had been a Great Sufferer. My stomach was horribly upset and I had the most terrible gas pains imaginable. The neighbors could hear me when I had attacks of belching, so you see this was no ordinary stomach trouble. I was afraid to leave our house, because I thought I might faint with dizziness in the street. I took medicines for 15 years, but nothing did me any good, but finally I found Van-Tage and it relieved my upset stomach and now I have no gas pains or belching. I also feel stronger than I have in 15 years. This medicine is nothing short of wonderful, and I gladly give my statement, hoping to help others."

ECONOMIC ASPECT OF DRINKING. Text: Proverbs 21:17; 23:20-21; Matthew 24:43-51; John 6:26, 27, 35. BY WM. E. GILROY, D. D. Editor of Advance

The problem of intoxicating liquor, as we are reminded by the Bible and every other book that comes out of the past, is a very old one. The deepest and most important aspect of that problem deals with what indulgence in alcohol does to human life and character.

The problem, both in relation to drink itself and to dealing with it in society, is primarily a moral one, because of the wrongfulness of doing that which debases character and lessens efficient living.

On the next plane is the social aspect, which, apart from the moral attitude of the individual, has to do with the effects of drinking. When it comes to a matter of law, the primary question is not the rightfulness or wrongfulness of the individual act of drinking, but the possible effect on an individual's drinking upon others or upon the community in which he lives.

For instance, the drinking man who drives an automobile in busy city streets provides an altogether different problem from that of the man who takes himself off to the woods and indulges in a lonely spree.

The lowest of all planes, and yet an important one, from which to consider the drink problem, is the economic plane. This is the particular phase that is stressed in the present lesson.

It is obvious that the economic aspect of drinking is not purely economic. When a man spends his wages on liquor, there is the moral effect upon himself, and the social effect upon the wife and the children for whom he provides inadequately.

Where the wife and mother spends for drink what ought to be spent for the home, there is not only an economic loss, but a loss in the welfare of those who depend upon her for the service and the help that a wife and mother should give. Every economic loss through drink is to some degree a moral and a social loss as well.

There has been an age-old debate between those who say that drink causes poverty and backache and myriads of other ills, and those who contend that poverty causes drink. Both claims are true.

The writer of Proverbs observed long ago that both the drunkard and the glutton are in the way of poverty; that a man who is lazy and incompetent, and of weak and bad habits will reap the result of his inefficiency. The writer of Proverbs put it very pointedly, "Drowsiness will clothe a man with rags."

Over against this lazy, inefficient, self-indulgent, gluttonous, and boozing

DANCERS LEARN 'NEW' STEPS AT COUNTRY CLUB

Old Favorites Are Revived For Party

Some dances new to the moderns but favorites of old-timers among Country Club members were added to the repertoire of dancers at the members' night party yesterday, when 33 couples were entertained at the club house.

The novices enthusiastically learned the steps of "New Shoes," "Pop Goes the Weasel," a schottische and a polka. The Virginia reel is becoming a favorite at these monthly parties, and at times last evening four and five sets were being danced at once.

Music was by the Guthrie orchestra, which played the old-time tunes that have entirely supplanted modern rhythms at the demand of Country club members who enjoy the parties.

Hostesses for the dance and the preceding dinner last evening were Mrs. I. B. Hughey, L. N. McCullough, Dan Gribbon, and Mark Heath.

Black-Draught High In Quality Without Being High in Price

Black-Draught is "easy to pay for" because it is so economically packaged and so reliable.

But as to quality, there's nothing "cheap" about it. For instance, its principal active ingredient is the leaves of a certain species of plant that are brought 10,000 miles from where they grow to the factory where the medicine is made. These leaves from far, far away, help to give Black-Draught its well-known "laxative reliability." They could not be left out, or substituted, without real loss of good medicinal quality.

For a good, purely vegetable laxative, insist on Black-Draught. About 25 doses in each 25-cent package.

PAMPA AND AMARILLO ARE RATED EVEN FOR BASKETBALL TILT TONIGHT

SANDIES BEAT PLAINVIEW IN CLOSE BATTLE

AMARILLO IS 'READY' AND IN TOP FORM FOR LOCALS

Amarillo's Golden Sandies cagers will be in top form tonight when they battle the Pampa Harvesters on their own court, according to Jerry Malin, Amarillo sports writer who knows what the Sandies will do before they know it themselves.

That announcement spells trouble tonight for the Pampa boys, especially in view of the fact that the Sandies appeared to be rounding into a formidable quintet after a slow start, as they nosed out the Plainview Bulldogs 26 to 25 on their first victory of the year. Pampa beat Plainview 8 points last Saturday.

The game tonight will be a Pampa-handle League affair. Pampa has won the title the last two years. Amarillo captured the crown the first year. The game will begin at 7:45 p. m. at the high school armory.

Statistics of the game indicate that Plainview was the better team. The Bulldogs lost one man because of four personal fouls and the Sandies lost one, but the Sandies were assessed 17 fouls compared with 8 for Plainview. Amarillo made 10 field goals and Plainview 11. The free shots won the game. The Sandies made six and Plainview three.

The Amarillo boys are ready for Pampa, they announced today. They are determined to beat Coach Oduis Mitchell's boys, who will relish the task of playing the Sandies, win or lose. The Harvesters are not favorites; the game last night rates the Pampa and Amarillo teams about even.

Yesterday Coach Mitchell held a long, grueling practice. They shot baskets and ran plays for an hour, and then played the second string and the Guerrillas for the next hour. The practice session revealed that Coach Bob Curry has the best Guerrilla squad the team has had in years. McDaniel was transferred to the Harvester squad after his fine showing in practice. Omer Hartzel, Foster, Junior Williams also looked good against the Guerrillas, who found they could easily beat them but could not loaf while doing it.

The coach this week has been trying out a new offense which he may or may not use tonight. It features a fast break with Ayer, Dewey and Heskell taking the center, the scoring zone, and Reynolds and Cox in the guard positions. Heskell and Reynolds have been used as guards since the first of the season.

BIDS MAILED. Invitations will be mailed Sunday to 29 teams to compete in the Southwestern Amateur Athletic Union open basketball tournament here March 3-6. Johnny Massenburg, basketball chairman, said the meet would be open also to any quintet with 250 miles of Dallas. First and second place winners will be certified to the National A. U. championship tournament at Denver, March 14-20.

Warren Wright, Chicago sportsman, is owner of two winners of the Preckness. They are Nellie Morse, who triumphed in the Maryland classic in 1924, and Bostonian, victor in 1927.

JOHNNY FISCHER IS PLAYING BASKETBALL TO KEEP FIT

Horses of Mrs. Denmark Take Florida Purses

NEW YORK, Jan. 29 (AP)—When Reigh Count splashed through a drenching rain to victory in the 1928 Kentucky derby, he kindled a fire that today is sweeping the Florida race tracks.

Mrs. John Herz's great three year old had no more than turned the finish line when a wife cursed her husband, and said: "Let's get out of the horse show business and into the running game."

Then and there was begun the racing stable of Mrs. Emil Denmark of Chicago—a stable that won more than $100,000 last year, accounted for half the feature races at Tropical Park and is setting the same dizzy pace with 13 victories at the current Hialeah Park meeting.

Mrs. Denmark's stable includes 34 horses. It was not until Bert Mitchell took over the string two and a half years ago that her horses became a real threat.

Mitchell, a burly Englishman, saddled Reigh Count for his derby victory. From the start, the Denmark-Mitchell combination clicked. Then they added jockey Charlie Kurtsinger, the "Flying Dutchman," to form the "big three" of the Florida turf. Mrs. Denmark was one of the seven owners in the nation to win more than $100,000 in 1936.

A track record set by Epithet in 1932 never will be broken. Epithet ran the Futurity course at the century-old Kentucky association track at Lexington that year in 1:08 3/5. The track no longer exists.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 29 (AP)—A tall, slender young man of 24, his blond hair forming a slightly disorderly mop atop his head, dribbled a basketball down a gymnasium floor. He took his tumbles in competition with other young Cincinnatians good naturedly, seemingly oblivious to anything but the task at hand—playing basketball to the best of his ability.

That's Johnny Fischer these wintry days when golf courses aren't in the best of shape. It's Johnny's way of keeping in physical trim for the time next summer when he will start the careful practice he hopes will carry him to his second successive United States amateur golf championship.

For Johnny, if he has made any new year's resolution, has resolved: "To do the best I can to win the amateur tournament again and to keep my golf at a pace that will win me a place on the 1938 United States Walker Cup team."

Johnny really has his heart set on that trip to England. Nevertheless golf has taken a secondary place of importance to Johnny's scheme of things because of first importance is his law school studies.

As a little fellow in his teens, Johnny had a hobby of collecting stamps but that suffered when his golf game developed into one of the finest in the nation.

Johnny hasn't tinkered much with his golf clubs. He has played only three 18-hole rounds since September and doesn't plan to play any to speak of until after final law examinations at the University of Cincinnati in June.

Jim Thomson Leads Golf Professionals At San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29 (AP)—Peace-setter Jim Thomson, with a sub-par round to his credit, led the field today as the country's barnstorming golf professionals teed off in the second half of a 36-hole qualifying tests for the $5,000 San Francisco match open tournament.

The burly links star from Shawnee, Pa., ranked with the longest drivers in the game, bombarded Ingleside's fairways and greens yesterday with an assortment of shots that put him to the front with a 67.

It cracked par by four strokes, gave Thomson a one-shot advantage over his closest rivals and established the stocky warrior of many a campaign as a serious contender, a role he had not occupied in recent tournaments.

Thomson's game was virtually flawless as he chalked up five birdies for a 33-34. Par for the 6,300 yard course is 36-35-71.

Setting off with first round scores of 68 were four of the front-line performers, Horton Smith, Orville White and Lawson Little, registered from Chicago; Henry Picard, Hershey, Pa., and Charles Congdon, Tacoma, Wash., newcomers to the big tournament wars.

CANADIAN, Jan. 29.—The Pampa handle's biggest basketball tournament got under way at Canadian today with 38 teams entered. Because of the large entry, it was found necessary to play games at both the city hall and the high school gymnasium with Frank Monroe of Pampa and Garrison Rush of Shamrock officiating.

Seven valuable trophies will be awarded to the winner and runner up in each division, to the teams showing the best sportsmanship during the tournament and to the team having the best appearance.

Play will be resumed tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock in the city hall gymnasium and will continue until night when champions will be declared.

Schedule for this afternoon and tonight follows:

City Hall Gymnasium

DALLAS, Jan. 29 (AP)—Square-jawed Jim Monroe, new general manager of the Epsom Downs racing plant at Houston, starts his spring meeting March 3 with a "no betting" rule for all employees. No official, large or small, will be permitted to patronize the mutual windows.

Monroe admits he has not placed a bet in 30 years—or just nine years after he entered the racing game. Monroe, who started as a jockey in 1898, also is assistant to the president and general manager of Suffolk Downs.

D. K. Bible and Blair Cherry, the new University of Texas coaching combination, have accepted invitations to fill with Associated Press member paper sports writers at a state-wide conference in Temple next Tuesday. Bible, Cherry and Leo (Dutch) Meyer, Texas Christian coach, will address the writers and also attend the banquet.

Centenary, long a Texas A. and M. rival foe, has been dropped from the Aggie schedule. The Farmers played to a disappointing crowd at Shreveport last season, and lost the game to boot. Doug Fessenden's Montana university eleven is expected to meet Hardin-Simmons at Abilene Oct. 9. A contract is in the making, agents report.

That Amarillo high coaching job, a national plum, drew hurried applications from Ohio, Alabama and Louisiana. Howard Lynch, elevated to line coach to best man after Blair Cherry's resignation, was a cinch from the start. Lynch is a former Centre college star of '22, '23 and '24. T. G. Hull, eight years coach of the Amarillo "Yanigan" team and business manager of athletics, was shoved up to the assistant's post.

That extra 30 feet on the Arlington Downs' one mile and sixteenth track, result of an architect's error, will be eliminated before the spring meet starts March 31. Reports say the Downs will install a photo-finish atop the judge's stand.

Resident Manager Trav Daniel said A. G. Vanderbilt, 23-year-old sportsman, will bring his string of stars to Texas for the first time.

Kirby Takes Walk As Constitution Is Discussed

BEAUMONT, Jan. 29 (AP)—John Henry Kirby of Houston, chairman of the Southern Committee to Uphold the Constitution, was the guest of a meeting of the Beaumont chamber of commerce last night when he objected to references to the constitution.

Speaking of "the changing order," John E. Owens, Dallas banker, said the constitution should be flexible and not held in some "hallowed sense."

Kirby said later he objected also to Owens' references to the Supreme Court.

He could not reply to Mr. Owens, he asserted, "because he had no more reverence for the constitution than he did for a deed of trust or a mortgage because I was only a guest. So the only thing for me to do was to get up and leave."

Sickle, imported thoroughbred sire, that topped the list of money-winning stallions in 1936, got off to a good start in 1937 when Templestuous, his 6-year-old son, won the Santa Anita New Year's stakes.

LIQUOR SALES BY DRINK WILL BE ADVOCATED

LEGISLATION WILL BE INTRODUCED IN LEGISLATURE

AUSTIN, Jan. 29 (AP)—Advocates of liquor sale by drink in the drink were determined today to push for legalization of such a dispensing system despite Governor Allred's condemnation.

Reps. R. Emmett Morse of Houston and Harold Hankamer of El Paso said the governor's opinion that a constitutional amendment would be necessary to legalize sale by the drink would not alter plans for legislation to liberalize the liquor control act.

In his second message, the governor asked for sale liquor by the drink and also for repeal of the 1933 act legalizing pari-mutuel wagering on horse racing.

His recommendation with regard to wagering drew tighter lines for a contest which may have its prelude in the governor's opinion that a constitutional amendment would be necessary to legalize sale by the drink would not alter plans for legislation to liberalize the liquor control act.

Meanwhile, members of both legislative branches continued to offer laws for committee consideration.

Rep. Bowen Bond's bill to establish ports of entry for out-of-state trucks was sent to the motor transportation committee. He estimated it would raise $1,000,000 annually through license and mileage fees.

Revised by Rep. Edgar S. Keefe of Palestine and others was a proposal to place certain state employees under civil service regulations. The state affairs committee placed it on the docket for hearing later.

The Senate awaited printing of the enabling acts to the constitutional amendments creating new courts of pardons and paroles and curtailing the governor's clemency powers. Two bills were reported favorably out of committee.

A resolution by Rep. Ben F. Cathey of Quitman to enlist the aid of county commissioners in investigating applications for old age pensions was reported favorably by the House state affairs committee.

A bill by Rep. B. E. Quinn of Beaumont authorizing A. & M. college to lease experimental station lands for oil development received a favorable report from the House public lands committee.

Sports Roundup

BY SCOTTY RESTON.
(Pinch-Hitting For Eddie Brietz.)
NEW YORK, Jan. 29 (AP)—Those Nebraska officials don't fool around. Dana Greig is the one who will captain their "Biff" Jones to coach their football team the next...

And they won't have to do any apologizing for that selection, either. Lawrence McConey Jones (and does he hate that handle) is probably the only one who can coach a football team... He was named captain after the 1916 season and went to war before the next campaign...

Here's the inside of his tiff with Huey Long; Jones' Louisiana State team was behind during an important game—Long came in during the half-time intermission and asked Biff if he could talk to the team... Jones said there was no time...

Huey pressed and Biff still refused... As Jones went into the locker room, Long said, "Well, you'd better walk over to Long and asked, "Senator, what did you mean by that remark?"... "I meant just that," Huey replied... "Well, win, lose or draw, I'm through after this," was Jones' comeback... And the man who has coached football with 19 1/2 years of active service, Jones will continue to draw around $160 a month from the U. S. army...

And despite that five-year Nebraska contract, he'll still be subject to army duty.

Devisus are the ways of ring worms. Dave Pastor fights Dom Rizzo, another lightweight, at St. Nick's here Monday... Placards advertising this "colossal" attraction are posted all over town right now... They read: "Dave Pastor, cousin of Bob Pastor, conqueror of Joe Louis," etc. Now all Bob has to do is "conquer" Louis in their fight tonight and everything will be okay.

Both Pastor And Louis Are Confident Of Win Tonight

BY SID FEDER.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29 (AP)—Before the season's largest fight crowd, which figures to see considerably less than the ten rounds paid for. Brown Bomber Joe Louis will make his first important start of the year tonight against Husky Bob Pastor in Madison Square Garden's ring.

On pre-fight calculations, some 18,000 of the faithful, paying as high as $16.50 each, probably won't be more than comfortably seated before the thing is over.

Each fighter has predicted a knockout victory for himself. The experts are almost unanimous in picking Louis for a kayo triumph. The betting odds, as high as 12 to 1 a few days ago, still are on Louis at about 5 to 1, for a quick finish.

This drop in the betting figures was the result of the ballhoo attending a training camp knockdown of Lotus Wednesday—a knockdown which boosted the ticket-purchasing pace that the gate promises to be within shouting distance of the $100,000 mark when the boys answer the bell about 10 p. m. (EST).

In making Louis the overwhelming favorite, the experts point out he is considerably more experienced than the former New York university footballer, and also will take a considerable weight edge into the ring. Joe probably will scale about 203 to his rival's 185.

However, remembering the 10 to 1 shot in the Max Schmeling fight last year, when a right hand exploded the Louis myth, those backing Joe tonight are leaving plenty of loopholes in their predictions.

Pastor's two most persistent selectors have been himself and Promoter Johnny Johnston of the Garden. Johnston insists the youngster, who, like Louis, came out of the Golden Glove amateur ranks, has the stuff to stop the Detroit.

BELL INTERESTED IN IOWA COACHING POST

DALLAS, Jan. 29 (AP)—Matty Bell, ring master of the Southern Methodist aerial circus, was "more interested than I thought I would be" today in the football coaching position at the University of Iowa.

The pass-minded Bell, who in 1935 brought the Southwest conference its first Rose Bowl bid, conferred yesterday with an unidentified representative from the Hawkeye school.

Admittedly "happy at Southern Methodist," Bell confided his interviewer, whom he declined to name, outlined an athletic set-up that "looked pretty good."

The Mustang mentor emphasized, however, no definite proposition was offered.

"The person I talked to was not in a position at the time to submit a definite offer," he said. "This conference merely was a contact. Iowa officials simply wanted to look me over."

Bitsy Grant is not the greatest tennis player in the world. As a matter of fact the No. 3 spot in the national rankings for 1936 is about as high as Grant is likely to go on the tennis ladder. But what fun the tiny Atlantian must have knocking off the No. 1 U. S. star each year.

Elsworth Vines, Frank Shields, Wilmer Allison—and now Don Budge—all have been humiliated by little Bitsy. Grant appears to deem it his mission in life to bring the No. 1 man down to earth at least once each year.

Bitsy lost no time in adding to his record as a giant killer in 1937. He battled his way to the finals of the Miami Biltmore tournament to face Budge. Budge, only a few days before, had learned that he had won the No. 1 spot in U. S. rankings. It was the ideal set-up for Bitsy. He downed Budge to score the first tennis upset of the year.

Encouraged by his success over Budge, Grant is likely to reconsider his decision to forego a try for the Davis cup team. His fond dream long has been to represent the United States in a cup challenge round. His excuse for wanting to retire has been that tennis takes too much time for business.

May Change Mind
Athletes very often "retire" in the off season. But when the "on" season rolls around they are like the old fire horse when he hears the bell—they crave action. So it is likely to be with Grant. The little fellow may prove a handy man to have around. At some time he has scored over just about every leading amateur tennis player except Fred Perry, now a pro.

Sports enthusiasts never fail to thrill at the sight of one of these pint-sized athletes outsmarting the big boys in the sports arena.

Some of the little gamecocks, like Bitsy Grant, have written brilliant chapters in sports history. Albee Booth of Yale, Monk Meyer of Army, and Tippy Dye of Ohio State—all real football players despite the fact that not one of them ever scaled as much as 150. They used speed and brains to outwit the giants on the gridiron. They were tough, too. They took jarring tackles with a grin and bounced up for more.

Notre Dame and Butler basketball teams have been meeting since 1909.

TWO THINGS TO LOOK FOR ON A WHISKEY LABEL

- The type of whiskey . . . blend or straight
- The "proof"

These statements on the label are dependable guides to the kind of whiskey you want.

If you want "all whiskey and all one kind of whiskey" just look for the words "straight whiskey" on the label. And, if you want a full measure of whiskey strength, look for the words, "100 proof."

You get all of that when you ask for Old Mr. Boston 100 Proof Straight Whiskey . . . and something more for your money. The extra proof gives you an extra measure of flowing smoothness, an extra richness of gusty whiskey flavor. That means you need less whiskey in every highball . . . you get more highballs from every bottle. Buy a bottle of Old Mr. Boston 100 Proof Straight Whiskey tonight and taste how much solid satisfaction you can buy for a very modest price.

THAT 'NEXT WAR' MAY ALREADY HAVE BEGUN

It is hard to pick up a magazine or a newspaper these days without finding in it a forecast about the outbreak of that "next war" in Europe.

Reading such forecasts, a nervous man is bound to shiver. He would probably shiver a good deal more if he realized that this war may already be under way.

For the science of war has been changing of late, and one of its most amazing changes lies in the fact that modern wars are not formally declared any more. They just begin.

Furthermore, they are not always fought in the old style, with invading armies and navies. It is simpler to stir up trouble in your enemy's back yard and let his own people do your fighting.

Spain, of course, is the greatest laboratory where this sort of thing is being worked out. And when you look at the experiments, you get a horrible glimpse of a world which is going to have neither war nor peace for the next generation, but a deadful compound of both.

It is not so much nations which are clashing nowadays as it is rival concepts of government. The idea of dictatorship is colliding with the idea of government by and for the common man—democracy.

But the clash is not head-on. It is a devious affair of plots and counter-plots, of subterranean devices masked by outward expressions of amity.

These two ideas are fighting bitterly in Spain. But is there any war on between the nations which support the rival parties? Far from it. Every effort is being made to prevent it. Nevertheless, the struggle goes on, as deadly and as destructive as anything a real war could show, with both sides deeply involved—by proxy.

Austria has had a taste of it. The revolts, attempted coups d'etat, and so on which have plagued that unhappy land in recent years have been part of the struggle. Tomorrow it will be some other nation's turn.

Suppose, for example, that Hitler decides to extend his influence over such a country as Rumania (to pick a nation at random). He would not dream of marching his troops, declaring war, and fighting it out in the old style.

Instead, money and organizers would slip into Rumania, a Fascist revolt would be started, and one-half of Rumania would be set to fighting the other half—with Germany surreptitiously aiding one side, Russia or someone else aiding the other, and a great international conflict being fought out on the soil of Rumania with the bodies of the Rumanians.

That is what war is nowadays. It has no clear-cut beginning and no clear-cut ending. It is fought under the surface, with trickery and deceit. Never was international politics more dark and confusing.

Dictatorship fights democracy today in Spain, and all Europe is involved. Yet the great dictatorships and the great democracies remain at peace. Is this the sort of thing we are going to have, on a steadily increasing scale, for the next decade or so? If it is, the future is indeed terrifying.

DEPRESSION CELIBACY

A surplus of bachelors and spinsters greater than the normal condition will continue for some time according to University of Chicago sociologists who cite 1932 as the year of America's lowest marriage rate of record. It is a foregone conclusion that more men can finance the marriage state in good years than in hard times; the survey made by the sociologists shows how business ups and downs affected the marriage records of the departing depression and suggests probable after effects. The theorem that two can live more cheaply than one most often is a fallacious statement of the belief that two in the marriage state can live more cheaply than the same two in celibacy, and even as amended the proof is difficult or embroidered with sacrifices.

Starting a decline even before the depression smote wedding hopes of many in 1929 and 1930, marriage records dropped until the six-year depression total amounted to a deficit of 750,000. The fact that 1935, with 1,327,000 weddings, set a new annual high for marriages indicates that many who delayed in the leanest years finally reached the altar with an upswing in business conditions but there is a big surplus of celibates, still waiting wedding bells or resigned to single living.

Editorial of the Day

EDMUND RANDOLPH (New York Times)

Edmund Randolph, whom Mr. Roosevelt quoted in his recent message, was a member of the continental congress, governor of Virginia, attorney general, and secretary of state of the United States. He is less well remembered than he deserves. He was the victim of long injustice. His accounts as a special envoy to England were questioned. Not till seventy-five years after his death was the carelessness of the treasury department in keeping those accounts on the books after they were settled disclosed. He is one of the men whose urgency induced Gen. Washington to go to the Annapolis convention.

In that convention he presented the Virginia plan, whose suggestions were so largely adopted. He opposed a unitary executive. It was "the foetus of monarchy." He wanted an executive of three men. He proposed that the national judiciary should have the power to invalidate a state law not merely for unconstitutionality but for its injustice to any individual in the state injured or oppressed. At this time it is curious to notice that among his objections to the constitution was its failure to make clear a dividing line between the powers of the states and the federal government and between the powers of the state and federal courts.

In spite of his opposition to some parts of the constitution, in the Virginia convention of 1788 he favored ratification. Eight states had ratified. To the convention the only question was "Union or no Union." A great Virginian, to whom fate has been a little unkind, in part, perhaps, because there have been so many great Virginians.

Washington Letter

By RODNEY DUTCHER WASHINGTON.—Vice President Jack Garner has given his public promise to keep silent on public questions for the next four years, so anyone who wasn't breathing easy about that may do so now.

Garner comes very close to being the only important public figure in the capital who, besides refraining from statements of all kinds, guards state secrets 100 per cent in his conversations with newspaper correspondents.

And yet in meetings of the cabinet and private sessions with groups of members of Congress, Garner is often the most voluble person present. Although the picturesqueness of his flow of language is somewhat hampered by the present of Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, the vice president often roars long and loud at the cabinet table when he is convinced of a proposal's impracticality.

The vice president usually addresses the president as "Cap," "Boss," "Chief," or "Old Top."

"When I address him as 'Mr. President,'" Garner once told an old friend, "he sits up and takes notice. Because then he knows I'm mad."

Serious consideration is being given to proposals that hereafter inaugurations of presidents be held in the spring, when there is likelihood of good weather. No one wants to go through another such day as the recent inauguration day, with its unspeakably vile weather.

The idea would be to have the president take the oath of office on Jan. 20 at simple indoor ceremonies and postpone the inaugural parade and other big doings until April or May, when the cherry blossoms are out and everybody can have fun and romp around in presumably balmy weather instead of getting soaked or frozen.

That is the way the British do it when they get a new king. The monarch takes the throne over at once, but coronation ceremonies are delayed for months, pending good weather.

Washington business men incline to like the idea, because most of them would profit more from large crowds and pleasant weather, to say nothing of the fact that they wouldn't be so likely to have to dig down and pay off such a deficit as was piled up this year. Many folks stayed away on account of the weather and those who came showed no great enthusiasm for the expensive open air seats in the specially built inaugural stands.

But whether or not the inauguration date is changed, the recent experience has made it much more likely that the $3,000,000 appropriated by Congress for a Thomas Jefferson memorial will be used by Congress for a huge federal auditorium, where such a performance as the inaugural ceremony might be staged.

Roosevelt is believed to favor this idea, first advanced by Secretary Ickes.

Although Roosevelt gaily declared he could "take it" and did, exposing himself to the elements more than he needed to, his health didn't suffer. But that doesn't mean that the country might not lose a president some day because of such exposure on inauguration day.

Yesteryear In Pampa

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY Seven members of the Hi-Y here, including Howard Lane, president, attended a state conference at Wichita Falls.

A group of "loafers" watched disconsolately while the rail surrounding grounds at the White Deer Land building, on which they were wont to while away sunny days, received a topping of sharp spikes.

Mrs. W. H. Davis received serious injuries to her spinal column in a crossing crash in the west part of Pampa.

ONE YEAR AGO TODAY Snow covered the county to a depth of three inches, and a minimum temperature of 10 degrees was recorded—coldest of the winter.

County commissioners announced a cash basis for fees to all county officers, including recording of instruments.

The Streams That Needs To Be Kept Flowing

HERBLOCK

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK.—Recently an artist, attending the games at Madison Square Garden, felt something leathery under his feet and was delighted to discover a well-filled wallet. It belonged to Clifford Shepherd, of the British consulate, and the finder immediately telephoned Mr. Shepherd's home.

When a very British servant answered, the artist suddenly hit upon a novel scheme. He said, "Wallet," thinking to communicate his important news at once.

There was a pause, and presently the servant was back on the wire. "But Mr. Shepherd knows no Mr. Wallet," declared the fellow.

About this time Mr. Shepherd himself came to the telephone. "Did you say Mr. Wallet?"

"No," declared the finder, "my name is Van Swearingen. Didn't you lose something today?"

"I've searched the consular official. 'Did I? I didn't know it. Was it an umbrella perhaps?'"

"It was money. A wallet—a pocketbook."

"Gracious," cried Mr. Shepherd, "wait until I run upstairs and look into my pockets."

Several minutes later he was back. He had indeed lost his wallet, a very important one filled with ship passes, visas, identification cards and money.

So Van Swearingen returned it by special messenger, leaving Mr. Shepherd happy to have his money back, happy that he hadn't lost his umbrella, happy in his faith in the honesty of Americans.

Celebrities, like European war refugees, go on and on, and right now New York is filled with both. A quick round-up of the after-dark bistros disclosed these names around and about:

Dr. Hugo Eckener, the great German dirigible master, greeting his old friend, J. O. Voit, the hotel impresario, at the Sherry-Netherland. . . Estelle and LeRoy, ballroom dancers, just back from a Caribbean cruise. . . James Cagney and Fredric March visiting Jimmy Durante backstage at "Red, Hot and Blue". . . Florence Chumbeccos, who used to dance with Fred Astaire, at the Lombardy. . . Dudley Digges reading news flashes from the Times building. . . Abe Lyman hurrying thru the lobby of the New Yorker. . . Maxwell Anderson climbing into a hack with Al Woods. . .

What are they doing? Dr. Eckener came over here to arrange some aviation matters at Washington. . . Estelle and LeRoy are plotting an advance on Hollywood. They have been asked to make a picture for Walter Wanger. . . Cagney is toying with the idea of a revival of "What Price Glory." He has been offered one of the two leading parts. . . Fredric March is just having fun. . . Dudley Digges came away from the west coast to play the Emperor Franz Josef in "The Mask of Kings". . . Abe Lyman is conducting a series of "celebrity parties" at one of the big hotels. . . When Florence Chumbeccos completes her engagement at one of the better cabarets, she will wed Harry Foster, the European director. . . Mr. Anderson is just marking time until the last of his three plays unfolds on Broadway.

HOW'S your HEALTH

Edited by DR. IAGO GALDSTON for the New York Academies of Medicine

THE PUBLIC AND ARTHRITIS In a recent paper on "What Can Be Done for Arthritis?" Dr. M. H. Dawson makes this plea:

"To all sufferers from rheumatoid arthritis, may I address a few words of warning which may save you money and protect you from false hopes and disappointments. Beware of drugs and patent medicines; beware of any highly advertised new treatments. There have been hundreds of these recommended extravagantly—fever therapy, gold salts, coloidal sulphur, milk injections, colonic irrigations, x-ray treatments, special diets and so on. There is no proof that any of these favorably influence the course of the disease and some are definitely dangerous.

"All over the country doctors and research workers are trying to discover treatments which will alleviate or cure. When such treatment is found, your family doctor will know of it and until then he can, in most cases, care and prescribe for you as well as the highest paid arthritic specialist.

"These are the different types of treatment which will give you relief if you are suffering from rheumatoid arthritis: REST, and lots of it. Good wholesome and nourishing food. Splints to prevent deformities. Baskings. Aspirin. A warm even climate, preferably in the tropics. And, above all, freedom from worries and anxieties.

"You who can afford these things under the direction of your own physician will undoubtedly improve. But what of the tragic thousands who can't afford these benefits—who can't afford to rest, who must work till they drop and suffer while they work?"

"Every year in the clinics of the great hospitals of this country we see thousands of such cases, their own means exhausted, their work-

Q. When was American sovereignty proclaimed over No Man's Land in Colorado? W. J. B. A. On August 9, 1936, at Breckenridge, Colo., Governor E. C. Johnson unfurled the United States flag and proclaimed American sovereignty over 1,300 square miles of mountain territory extending northward for nearly 70 miles. This had been called No Man's Land since the Louisiana Purchase from Napoleon in 1803 at 3 cents an acre.

Q. What organization awarded $5,000 to Edwin Markham? R. S. A. The Academy of American Poets awarded the poet $5,000 for his Man With the Hoe and other verse.

Q. How many licensed airplane pilots are there in Alaska? R. B. A. As of September 30, 1936, there were 69.

Q. Isn't the dictionary which says that Arkwright invented the spinning jenny in error on that point? S. D. A. It was in error, as is stated in a letter from G. & C. Merriam Co., publishers of Webster's New International, which has appeared in "The Saturday Review of Literature." The letter reads in part: "What Arkwright invented was the spinning frame, which is in fact quite a different spinning machine and one that could do more work than the spinning jenny. Hargreaves invented the spinning jenny about a year before Arkwright put his frame into use."

Q. What are some of the hardest words to spell? W. H. A. The following words are taken from a list of 40 words that constitute spelling problems to students, compiled by Teachers College, Columbia University: aborigines, antennae, anaesthetic, bourgeois, chrysanthemum, fluorescent, guerrilla, pyorrhea, intaglio, oleomargarine, ju-jitsu, revivify, saccharine, sub-poena, ukulele, ventriloquist, vertices, and yeomanry.

A New Kind of New Testament

A long time ago someone in England developed the idea of printing an edition of the New Testament with the sayings of the Saviour printed in red.

For a while this unusual volume had great vogue in both the old country and the United States, but there are not many of the present generation of religious-minded people in this country who have ever seen one of these volumes.

The Pampa Daily News has a similar edition of the New Testament ready for distribution to those of its subscribers who might be interested.

It contains 254 pages printed on thin Bible paper, and is bound in a flexible black cover. In the back of the book there is a special section that gives the names of the trees, waters, mountains, musical instruments, and birds that are mentioned in the Bible.

It is a decided novelty that will appeal to everyone interested in the Scriptures, and any reader can secure a copy for the mere cost and handling charge of 20 cents. Your copy is waiting for you if you write now.

100,000 WORK TO KEEP RIVER WITHIN LEVEES

FLOOD IS EXPECTED TO SURPASS ANYTHING IN HISTORY

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 29 (AP)—A pick and shovel army of 100,000 men fought along a 1,000-mile front today to hem in the Mississippi so tightly it will be unable to breach a single wall guarding the fertile valley.

From Cairo, Ill., to New Orleans, laborers strove continually to heighten and strengthen the levee system against the impact next week of crests expected to surpass any in history.

While the army directed defensive maneuvers, the Red Cross succored those already stricken by "preliminary" floods in the great river basin.

Memphis and other cities perched safely above any possible overflow, opened arms to the 150,000 homeless while federal, state and city forces joined hands against hunger and disease.

Mayor Watkins Overton said the closing of city schools appeared inevitable to provide space for 38,000 refugees on the way to join 12,000 already quartered here.

Every doctor in the city offered services to inoculate refugees against typhoid and smallpox. One out of every ten refugees suffered from pneumonia or influenza.

A score of minor villages are under water along the 200 miles of winding river from Cairo to Memphis, due to tributary breaks or Mississippi overflow. Forty deaths have been charged to the floods in Tennessee, Arkansas and Mississippi.

Every levee throughout the Mississippi system was holding but fate hung in delicate balance at New Madrid, Mo., Hickman, Ky., and Mellwood, Ark., 38 miles below Helena.

Nearly 4,000 men battled at Cairo against an oncoming Ohio river flood crest that threatened to engulf the city and spread destruction over the southeast Missouri "boot heel."

Hemmed in by the Mississippi on one side and the Ohio on the other, Cairo was practically deserted except for its levee defenders, and almost like a fort in military siege behind its 60-foot seawall.

United States coast guard cutters shuttled up and down the turbid rivers. Inside the walls government engineers directed new defenses to check the rising Ohio which they halted earlier this week by blasting open levee entrances into a 131,000-acre spillway on the Missouri side of the Mississippi.

Today this floodway was nearly full, with water two to 15 feet deep, and new openings had been dynamited to turn the sprawling current back into its regular channel and ease the burden on a setback levee at the lower end of the basin near New Madrid, Mo.

Tension was relieved somewhat at New Madrid. Evacuation of the vast farm acreage in the Mellwood, Ark., area virtually was complete.

The army high command stood

ADDITIONAL INCOME IS ASSURED AFTER RAISE

DALLAS, Jan. 29 (AP)—Texas producers were assured today of an estimated $126,000 additional income daily as major and independent oil companies fell in line with increased postings for crude oil.

The Humble Oil & Refining Co. started the ball rolling with a hike averaging 12 cents a barrel. Companies operating in Texas which met the advance included the Magnolia Petroleum Company, the Texas Company, the Sun Oil Company, the Tidewater Oil Company, and the Atlas Pipe Line Company.

W. M. Averill of the Pure Oil Co. said at Beaumont his company probably would meet the increase.

The general increase of 12 cents pushed the rate for crude in the vast East Texas field to $127 a barrel.

After meeting Georgia Tech in a post-season grid game December 26, California's Bear gridders traveled through the Pacific Southwest and Mexico, stopping three days in Mexico City.

WEST TEXAS PROTESTS HUMBLE'S LOW PRICE

SAN ANGELO, Jan. 29 (AP)—West Texas oil operators today protested the low base price of crude posted by the Humble Oil & Refining Co. effective Thursday. According to local figures, the increases amount to practically nothing in important West Texas fields.

The posted price in the Yates field for 29-30 gravity oil has been 85 cents a barrel. Under the new schedule, the price is 78 cents for 25 gravity and two cents for each point above 25, or 86 to 88 cents for 29-30 gravity Yates crude.

Yates crude is one of the best in West Texas, and many operators claim it has equal refining qualities to the so-called high gravity East Texas oil. Upton, Crane, Howard and Glasscock county crude is held to be out of line on the same basis.

The University of Texas and the public school fund will be two of the greater sufferers from the present schedule of prices. The attention of the attorney general's department is being called to the fact that state leases are written so that the state can demand the "true value of the oil."

FIRST NEWSPRINT MILL IN SOUTH IS PLANNED

DALLAS, Jan. 29 (AP)—Dallas and East Texas capitalists, bankers, lumbermen and timber land owners, meeting here yesterday, mapped plans for the construction of the first newsprint mill in the south.

Wirt Davis, Dallas banker, was authorized to appoint a committee on organization plans for a $5,000,000 plant to use East Texas pine. Texas mill No. 1 of the Southland Paper Mills, Inc., would be located at a site selected by engineers now at work in East Texas. The mill would have an initial capacity of 150 tons of newsprint daily.

Ted Dealey, president of the Texas Newspaper Publishers Association, announced Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana publishers had agreed to purchase a substantial output.

On the organization committee Davis named Nathan Adams and Fred F. Florence of Dallas, E. L. Kurth of Lufkin, Arthur Temple of Texarkana, P. B. Doty of Beaumont and W. W. Buffrum, treasurer and general manager of the Chemical Foundation, Inc. of New York.

Hubert M. Harrison, general manager of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, was secretary of the meeting.

facturers were forced to settle the strike.

Of course the settlement included a wage increase. Glass prices have not been increased. This results in a lower profit margin for glass manufacturing organizations. There's another case where stockholders stand to lose out as a result of labor difficulties.

LOST.

Automotive trade insiders say that the damage of the General Motors strike will be evident when the automobile industry's production figures for January are made public. It is reliably estimated that January production will total about 300,000 units. Had it not been for the GM strike the output might have run as high as 500,000. Thus General Motors loses the profits on some 200,000 units—to be offset to some degree by clearance of used car stocks.

Q. Who was Oliver Loving, and when and how was he killed? H. H. G.

A. He was the first Texan to drive cattle (in 1858) across the Indian Territory into Kansas. In June, 1867, he, Charles Goodnight and W. J. Wilson were driving cattle to New Mexico, when Loving and Wilson went ahead to arrange for delivery of the cattle at Ft. Sumner. They were attacked by Indians at Butterfield crossing on the Pecos and in desperate fighting Loving received wounds from which he died following severe exposure. Wilson escaped and found his way back to the herd.

Q. I saw a statement recently that Sarah Ann Cummins, born Dec. 29, 1828, who was married to A. C. Hunt and after his death to Chauncy A. Stone, was the first white child born in Austin's colony. Is that correct? K. L.

A. Nancy Burnam, daughter of Jesse Burnam, born Feb. 22, 1822, at the log cabin home on Clear Creek is believed to have been the first child born in Austin's colony. The first colonists, of whom Jesse Burnam was registered as number 13, having arrived in the Brazos settlement in the preceding November. The Burnams later moved to Independence and then to a place on the Colorado below La Grange that came to be known as Burnam's Crossing. In 1840 she married George Holman and was the mother of Jesse A. Holman, who settled in Comanche in 1882.

Q. How do you account for the high standard and fine character of most of Austin's colonists? K. F. A.

Austin felt a personal responsibility for the character of citizens he brought to Texas, as he explained in a letter of Jan. 20, 1824, to the Minister of Relations, in which he said: "I have made it a habit not to admit any settler who does not produce the most unequalled evidence of good moral character and industrious habits."

WAIT.

Labor troubles in the automobile and allied industries during the past month have stimulated buying in anticipation of strikes in other industries. There is a rush evident to increase inventory positions. There's difficulty in getting orders filled from some companies. This tends to hold manufacturing activity at a high rate.

The belief is current that present business activity is to some extent at the expense of the spring and summer demand. Moreover, the labor situation plus the legislative uncertainties of this session of Congress raise doubts about the profit margins for many companies. Taking these facts into consideration, large traders feel that better opportunities to buy stocks will be presented within the next four week.

OUTLOOK.

Experience shows that in settlement of most all strikes labor wins important concessions. Agreements always include a raise in wages. It results in increased production costs. Usually part is passed on to the finished product. But in the main corporate profits are reduced. This is why corporate earnings for the first three months of 1937 may not run as high as they did during the last three month period of 1936.

The steel industry is cited as an example. In 1936 some 530,000 employees were on the payrolls. The annual payroll is estimated at $936,000,000. For the year the industry is estimated to have earned around $150,000,000. Voluntarily, steel companies increased wages adding $75,000,000 in payroll costs. Prices were increased to offset to some extent.

On these figures statisticians show that first quarter steel company earnings will have to increase 30 per cent to show life earnings of the previous quarter. This is doubted since tonnage output isn't increasing as rapidly. The steel industry is used as a basis for arguing that corporate earning outlook isn't encouraging for common stockholders.

LOWER.

But that isn't the end. Despite the fact that steel employees are receiving higher wages the trade's insiders look for labor difficulties. Well founded reports are that John L. Lewis' CIO union has a foothold in the steel industry. The unionization drive is regarded as fairly successful. It is expected to pull the strike when he pulls one in the coal industry. Insiders of that industry set the time for this April.

It is quite possible that coal miners will cooperate with steel workers. A joint strike of this kind would tie up many industries. It is because of this threat that business activity continues. When these strikes are settled labor is again expected to receive wage increases. This again tends to increase production costs which in turn would mean a further lowering of corporate profit margins.

RESULTS.

How come the abrupt settlement of the glass manufacturing strike? Large supplies of finished glass were stored in warehouses scattered throughout the country. A month's supply of rough blanks was also stored. The strike wasn't expected to last very long. But it did.

Glass furnaces—once cooled—take some 30 days to get producing. The finished glass had been delivered to consuming interests. The delay in swinging into production again would be covered by reopening the grinding and finishing departments to work on the month's supply of rough blanks. And so glass manu-

Sen. E. M. Davis of Brownwood, who resides in a marginal oil district, had one of Governor Alford's campaign speeches of last summer placed in the Journal. In it the governor said he favored a "reasonable increase" in the oil tax.

Sen. Will Pace of Tyler concurred with Davis, saying he believed the governor's campaign speech stated the policy of his administration.

"I believe oil can be taxed more," Pace observed, "but I'm fearful we will be placed at a disadvantage with out-of-state competition if we put too great a levy on the producers."

The Texas gulf coast's deepest oil well—10,560 feet—is located north of Galveston. It soon will be drilled deeper.

CONFIDENTIAL REPORT

CRIME FILE ON BOLITHO BLANE

By Dennis Wheatley
© 1937 NEA Service, Inc.
William Morrow & Co.

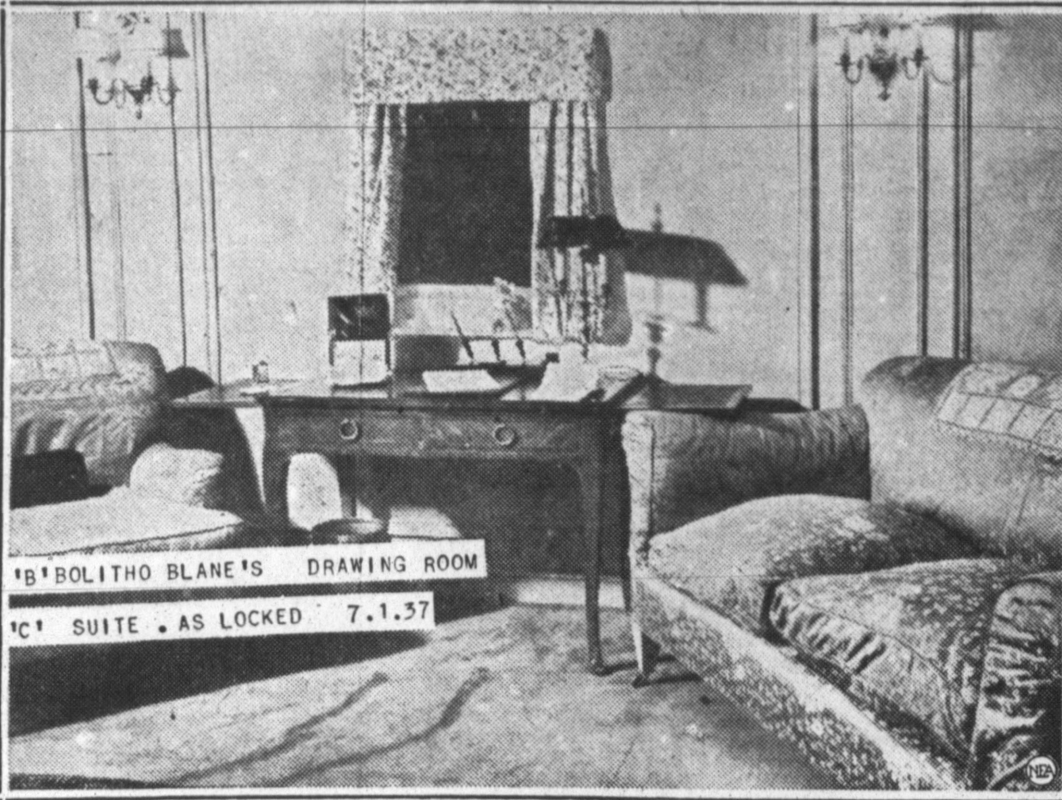

CONFIDENTIAL REPORT BEGIN HERE TODAY

BOLITHO BLANE, British financier, disappears from the yacht owned by his principal competitor, CARLTON ROCKSAVAGE, off Miami. A note found in Blane's cabin, addressed to his secretary NICHOLAS STODART, indicates suicide since he faced bankruptcy. A memo written by Stodart shows Blane's company stock, ARGUS Suda, closing at a new low that day.

Other passengers aboard the yacht Golden Gull are MISS FERRI ROCKSAVAGE, Rocksave's daughter; LADY WELTER; REGINALD JOCELYN, MRS. JOCELYN, Lady Welter's daughter and son-in-law; the BISHOP OF BUDE; COUNT LUIGI POSODINI, and INOSUKE HAYASHI.

Detective Officer KETTERING boards yacht at Miami for investigation, first examining Rocksave, Stodart and Ringbottom, cabin steward. Stodart suggests a clear case of suicide.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

Chapter III

Having taken statements from Captain Derringham, Mr. Rocksave, Mr. Stodart and the cabin steward, Ringbottom, I then proceeded to Suite C which had been allotted to Bolitho Blane. It consisted of a drawing room, a stateroom and private bathroom. On the other side of the drawing room there was a single stateroom which, I am told, had been allotted to Stodart in order that he might be near his employer.

A cursory examination of the suite showed nothing which called for special remark. Captain Derringham told me that he had had it locked up at 8:45 before ordering the ship back to Miami, so that nothing in it had been touched or disturbed since the steward, Ringbottom, discovered Blane to be missing.

I instructed Station Photographer Southwood to take the necessary shots of the suite and decided to postpone a detailed examination until morning. Soon after arriving on board I told Police Surgeon Jacket that, as the case was one of "man overboard," his presence was no longer required.

At 12:30 Station Photographer Southwood had completed his work, upon which I had Suite C relocked and placed Officer Gurdon on guard outside it. After which I went above and spoke to Captain Derringham and Mr. Rocksave. I told the latter that I did not think any useful purpose could be served by keeping his guests out of their beds longer, but that as a formality I should have to question them in the morning, so none of them is to be allowed ashore without permission.

In my view, at the moment, this looks like a plain case of suicide by a man in a financial jam. Blane's innumerable that Rocksave intended to do him in are discounted by the statements of the secretary, Stodart, who appears convinced that for some days past Blane was not of sound mind and suffering from a form of persecution mania.

Captain Derringham seems a fine, straightforward, if rather silent, fellow and certainly not the man to permit any monkey business upon a ship commanded by him.

Rocksave's manner is normal and he appears surprised and upset at the tragedy, although it should be noticed that he stated that this was only a pleasure trip, whereas it is made abundantly clear from Stodart's statement that its real objective was to cover a big business conference between Rocksave and Blane.

On the face of it, all the guests are apparently respectable people of some social standing, and Captain Derringham gives me his assurance that no new men have been brought in on the crew this trip, or employees of Rocksave, for any special purpose.

Apart, therefore, from Blane's innumerable there is no evidence at all to support any suggestion outside the known facts and, in my view, it is a plain case of suicide.

I am sending Station Photographer Southwood ashore in the yacht's launch and also Detective Officer Neame, who will deliver this report. I then propose to sleep the night on board in a spare cabin which Mr. Rocksave has placed at my disposal. Please instruct the coast guard stations to keep a lookout for the body in the unlikely event of its being washed ashore.

MEMO.

To Detective Officer Kettering:

First report on Bolitho Blane received. I note your view that there are no suspicious circumstances attached to the case. I agree that Blane's innumerable against Rocksave are apparently quite unfounded and due only to Blane's abnormal state of mind just before taking his own life.

Prints of the photographs taken by Southwood have just come to hand and are attached herewith. In print B, you will note two parallel lines across the carpet, running in a curve from the table to the porthole in the drawing room. Please make a close examination of these at once.

If, after examination of Blane's suite, you are satisfied that no circumstances point to his death having been framed you can give the occupants of the yacht a clear bill, but the Captain, Rocksave, Stodart and the steward, Ringbottom, should be warned that they will be required to give evidence at the inquest.

John Milton Schwab
Lieutenant,
Florida Police.

P.S. Sorry to get you out of bed so early, but if the marks on the carpet do mean anything you'll be in time to take special measures before the party are up and about. J.M.S.

suite on S. Y. Golden Gull I at once proceeded below in the company of Detective Officer Neame to make a thorough examination of Blane's suit in daylight.

I first examined the marks on the carpet, mentioned in Lieutenant Schwab's report, and apparent in Print B. These marks consist of a slight irregular roughing of the pile in the carpet running from the table to near the window. Owing to the light they are not observable from the inboard side of the cabin, but only from the outboard side, which explains my failure to notice them last night.

These marks might have been made by the two legs of a chair being dragged across the carpet. I found, however, at the table end of these roughly parallel tracks a very slight discolored patch upon the carpet, which would not have been visible in electric light.

I then proceeded to examine the porthole window and found upon the left hand curtain a smear of blood. Returning to the patch on the carpet it seemed to me probable that a small quantity of blood had been spilled here, too, and that someone had endeavored to get it out by rubbing the place with a wet sponge. If the person had done this imand I suggest that they were caused by the toes of a man's boots as he was dragged from the table to the porthole.

Taken in conjunction the wet patch, the boot tracks, and the smear of blood certainly definitely point to the fact that Bolitho Blane was murdered.

I send this report at once in order that full investigation may be made into the antecedents of all the passengers upon the yacht, who now come under suspicion.

I have given instructions that, as they leave their cabins for breakfast, each cabin is to be locked after them. I shall then be able to search all cabins before these have been tidied and will proceed to the examination of all parties concerned immediately they have breakfasted.

Detective Officer,

"SUFFERED SIX YEARS WITH CONSTIPATION"

"For six years I suffered with constipation, and I decided to try ALL-BRAN. I have been eating it once a day for about four years, and it has certainly done the work."
—Mrs. Herman Futrell, 905 W. Oak Ave., Jonesboro, Ark.

Tests prove that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is safe and effective for correcting common constipation.

Within the body, ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water, and gently exercises and cleanses the intestines. It also furnishes vitamin B to tone the intestines, and iron for the blood.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily, either as a cereal with milk or cream, or in cooked dishes. Three times daily in severe cases. You'll find this food far better than habit-forming pills and drugs. ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.
