Wave of Accidents Takes Heavy Death Toll Today

FIVE DIE WHEN FLORIDA TRAIN LEAVES RAILS

Two Explosions Fatal to Five Workmen Today

PLANE CRASH KILLS QUARTET

Storms in Louisiana and Texas Do Heavy Damage

TITUSVILLE, Fla., March 16.—(P)—Five train employees were killed today one mile north of here when Florida East Coast passenger train No. 37 south-bound, left the tracks when the outer rail of a curve gave way.

The dead: J. Clark, Jacksonville, Fla., engineer; Fireman Howard, negro. A white express messenger and two negro helpers, unidentified. As far as could be determined, no passengers were hurt. The train was a local, made up of several express cars and two day coaches. The engine and three express cars went into a ditch, overturning. First reports said the day coaches remained on the track.

NEW CASTLE, Wyo., March 16.—(P)—Three small children were burned to death early today, a mother and an aged man are expected to die, and three other children escaped with minor burns when fire destroyed the home of William Siegler here. The dead: Eva Siegler, age 2 years; Arma Siegler, 3; Margerite Siegler, 8. The injured: Mrs. William Siegler, not expected to live; Warren Eckenrode, 60, severely burned; Lola May Siegler, age 2 months; Roy Siegler, 15 years; Edith Siegler, 14. The fire was caused by an explosion from a stove, it was reported.

VALLEY FALLS, N. Y., March 16.—(P)—Four men were killed today when three mills of the Hercules Powder company exploded here. The dead are John Haynor of Schaghticoke, Victor Harry White, and Joseph Mitchell of Valley Falls.

BATON ROUGE, La., March 16.—(P)—One man was killed and several others seriously injured, one possibly fatally, in an explosion today at the refinery of the Standard Oil company of Louisiana here. Joe Dewitt, a world war veteran who has been employed by the company for 11 years, was killed, and Robert Penry was the most seriously injured.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 16.—(P)—An aerial crash, apparently caused by a mistake in carrying out orders, resulting in death for four Marine fliers, was under investigation here today. It was the second tragedy of its kind here in two weeks, the first ending in the death of five men when a home-made plane crashed.

The Marine accident occurred yesterday when three planes were flying in military formation. Lieut. Laurence R. De Wine, and Lieut. J. D. Swartwout, pilots of the two ill-starred planes, and H. C. Abiley and Corporal H. C. Chappelle, their mechanics, were the victims. Captain Harold D. Campbell, who was leading the three-plane formation, said he had signaled Lieut. De Wine to take the lead, and that Lieut. Swartwout, instead of remaining in position, moved forward as De Wine also pushed ahead to execute the order.

The De Wine and Swartwout planes collided and seemed to hang together for an instant. Then they plunged nose down. The silk parachutes of all four victims were found open after the two planes struck earth about 200 feet apart, but it appeared that none of

THE WEATHER

WEST TEXAS: Tonight mostly fair colder in extreme southeast, slightly warmer in extreme portion tonight, probably frost in south portion. Saturday fair, rising temperature. OKLAHOMA: Tonight fair, colder in southeast portion, temperature below freezing; Saturday fair, rising temperature.

Where the President Will Summer—Perhaps

President Coolidge is understood to be considering the offer of Philip S. Henry to use this place, "Zealandia," at Asheville, N. C., as a summer White House. It is atop Beaucatcher Mountain, 90 feet above Asheville, overlooking the picturesque Great Smoky Mountains of "the land of the sky." Its proximity to the Capitol is thought to be one of its chief attractions to the chief executive.

FOUNDATION OF DAM IS BLAMED

Charges Fly Today—Toll of Disaster Rising Now at 206

SANTA PAULA, Calif., March 16.—(P)—With the known dead toll standing at 206, several sets of investigators dug deeper into the available evidence today in an effort to unearth the cause of the St. Francis dam disaster.

Although two coroners' juries found yesterday that the victims came to their death by drowning as the result of the breaking of the dam, they did not attempt to fix the blame. From two official investigating sources, however, came reports that the foundation upon which the great structure was built was faulty. The report of state engineer Edward Hyatt, Jr., that "had the dam had a sufficiently strong foundation this great tragedy never would have happened," was echoed in a report by Ventura county engineer Charles Pettit.

And on the heels of these reports, Governor C. C. Young telephoned B. B. Meek, head of the department of public works at Sacramento, to select a group of competent engineers to examine the dam. The action, the governor said, was "not taken in a spirit of hostility toward anyone." He added that there were "three parties at interest—those afflicted by the disaster, the people of Los Angeles, and the California public at large.

A federal grant was given to another investigation of the disaster when Elwood Mead, director of the United States reclamation service, agreed to head a board of engineers to be selected from the membership of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

Forces of iron and steel—steam shovels and tractors—today came to the aid of men in searching the path of the runaway waters for the bodies of victims. The call for the machines came yesterday from the weary workers who declared they believed all of the bodies on the surface of the flood area had been found.

The last report showed the bodies of 206 of the dead recovered and the number of missing persons as 196, a total of 402 as the possible death toll of the flood.

In Congress

House approaches vote on naval building program as Senate considers interstate commerce commission nomination of John J. Esch in executive session and debates Norbeck migratory bird bill. Farm relief, muscle shoals, veterans, move to bar arms exportation to foreign belligerents and anti-lobbyist proposals before House committees. Senate committees continue with cotton rice inquiry, anti-injunction bill and military affairs.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Boyd have been visiting in Norman, Okla. County Attorney John Studer is confined to his home by illness.

Three Trustees to Be Chosen April 7 in District—Supt. Campbell Outlines Needs for Buildings and Instructors

Trustees of the Pampa Independent School district yesterday began making plans for next year, with recommendations from Supt. R. C. Campbell under consideration.

There will be an election of trustees April 7, when three places on the board—now held by C. C. Cook, R. S. McConnell, and C. P. Buckler—are to be filled. The election will be held in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium. The trustees are elected at large. A school census is being taken by the Baker P.-T. A., which will finish the work by April 1. Valuations in the district are to be changed very little, it is indicated.

A special meeting of the board will be held Tuesday. Supt. Campbell's recommendations follow:

Looking to the school for another year, I make the following recommendations and suggestions. As a matter of fact, you are aware of the school's needs, but it will not be amiss to repeat some of these needs here. You met the recommendations and suggestions of the state visitor of schools, as well as those of the local superintendent, to such an extent that the system has been improved and much credit has come to your school and to your town as well. Let me give you a short reminder before I take up the main topics of this letter. You have added to the science and laboratory equipment generally; you have increased your library facilities; you will have added four units to the school's standing with the state, as well as with the All-Southern group; you soon will have 34 affiliated credits, which will be second only to Amarillo of all the Panhandle west of Wichita Falls and North of the T. & P. railroad; you are one of the fifty best schools in Texas in the count of the five cardinal points in the number of dollars of assessed values back of each pupil; your athletics has done well this year and have been clean; 90 per cent of your pupils of last year's and this year's entrants in college are making good and they have not selected soft snap colleges; and, you are destined to have a better school next year.

Stresses Nine Points In order to improve our standing and to bring about better local education, I recommend the following: (1) The building of a ten-room, closed-quadrangle building on the East side of town; the building of a ten-room closed quadrangle on the West side of town; the building of a gymnasium and assembly hall as a west addition to Central high; the closing of the quadrangle at the Baker school so as to include an assembly room; the setting aside of the east and north cottages on the central campus for physical training of all pupils from the fifth to the seventh grades, inclusive; that open window callisthenics be taught in all of the pupils from the first to the fourth grades; that the west cottage be set aside for music and expression; that one of the cottages on the Baker campus be set aside for physical training for the fourth and fifth grades; and that callisthenics be given to all of the lower grades there with windows open, daily. The pupils from the fifth to seventh grades can quickly suit out and meet the physical trainer in the rooms thus set aside as a part of the day's schedule, so can the students of the high school meet their teacher of physical training in the gymnasium of the annex. Urges Physical Training (2) So much for buildings. I here repeat that we should look after the physical training of the pupils, as well as the mental. I have a good story to tell you on physical training exhibit that I saw in Boston. The old Greek idea of "A sound mind in a sound body"—still holds good, even in America. Besides this, rhythm of body and mind; grace of movement and health, will follow it well. Let me further recommend that you retain your nurse and that she articulate with the physical trainer in that good health might result.

(3) Music should be taught in all of the first seven grades. I recommended two lessons a week. Mrs. Sam Irwin is doing a good work now with the fourth and fifth grades in the Baker school. Music and physical training is compulsory in nearly all of the northeastern states. I have reference to vocal, not instrumental music. As to instrument, all music that is a matter that the patron must pay for.

May Add Courses (4) If you think well of the suggestion, I should put in mechanical drawing and such work in the school in conjunction with the vocational agriculture. We have had many calls for this kind of training; and there are some pupils that are not able to do the classical work who might make good mechanics, etc. (5) I should not make any other changes in the high school course of study, unless it be the adding of one year each in Latin and in Spanish. All college teachers know that those students that have had three years in these languages make better grades in those subjects and better grades in high school language. In this connection, I recommend the election of Miss Ann Estia Goerner of Dallas, Texas, who is now teaching in the Clearenden High School. If she measures up in personality to one-half of the height of her father, she will pass. Mrs. W. F. Campbell will not teach next year.

Judge Willis Denies the Petition of McLean for Injunction Here Today

Pampa is the new capital of Gray county. Judge Willis denied an injunction at 3:15 p. m. this afternoon which would have restrained removal of county records to Pampa.

Before the light fades into twilight today, the county seal and court records will repose within the confines of Pampa, the new county seat. The Baptist church has offered the use of its basement and auditorium until a more permanent place may be arranged.

An order declaring the removal of the Gray county seat from LeFors to Pampa was recorded by Judge T. M. Wolfe this afternoon, following canvassing of the returns of the election.

Objections and rulings developed rapidly in the injunction hearing this afternoon as attorneys opposing removal attacked the validity of the recent ruling.

That county records creating all precincts are faulty, and that a new precinct, No. 9, created out of No. 2 in 1926, was not designated in the election, were allegations raised in attacking validity of the vote.

The Pampa lawyers attacked the creation of Precinct No. 9, and held that all voters living therein voted legally at the local box.

Commissioner M. M. Newman testified briefly for the plaintiffs, and Sheriff E. S. Graves was called to the stand by them at press time.

Gray County Is Favorite for Oil Operations Now

TULSA, March 16.—Gray county oil development is summarized by the Oil and Gas Journal as follows:

Gray county was the chief spot of interest in the Panhandle last week and, incidentally is one of the most active counties in the state. It easily leads the Panhandle with 85 operations 49 of which are drilling wells.

Bowers pool in that county, the most recently discovered flush field in the Panhandle, was back in the spotlight early in the week. The Delaney Eslick and Rieger No. 6 Jackson in section 88, block B-2, penetrated on foot of granite wash pay topped at 2,965 feet and commenced to flow 140 barrels per hour. The well flowed 1,300 barrels the first fifteen hours.

The oil tested 51 gravity, corrected. Several tests scattered over the county reported showings of varying worth during the week. Only one completion was reported from Gray county, and that was a gas well of the Empire Gas and Fuel company.

Field work is generally showing an increase in the Panhandle due to the recent boost in prices of Panhandle crude. Gray county seems to be the favorite county among the operators at this time because of high gravity produced. Locations produced at the end of the week indicate a continuance of increased field activities.

Sixteen new locations were reported, ten of which were in Gray county and the remainder in the other counties.

Stock reports for February for the Panhandle show the storage situation in the field to be about the same, with 18,478,000 barrels in storage. The total storage capacity in the field is 24,300,000 barrels. No storage was erected during February.

Pipeline movements amounted to around 1,278,000 barrels through the three trunk lines running out of the Panhandle.

All the crude being shipped out of the field is not reaching the coast because 650,000 barrels of that crude along with West Texas crudes was reported being held in the Ranger field.

BAND MEN TO MEET

Pampa band men will meet at the Methodist church this evening for another practice. Every musician in Pampa who is interested in joining the organization is invited to attend. There are about 30 musicians lined up for work already. K. T. Vickers is the director.

SHRINERS TO MEET

The shriners of Pampa and territory are to meet at the Schneider hotel tonight for the purpose of organizing a shriners club here. There are hundreds of Shriners in Pampa, White Deer and Miami who, local Shriners believe, could organize a useful and pleasant club with headquarters here.

Postponed until mid-afternoon when muddy roads delayed the arrival of A. A. Ledbetter and Clayton Heare, attorneys for the plaintiffs, the injunction hearing on county seat removal was under way at press time today.

Judge Newton P. Willis was asked to grant an order to prevent removal of county seat records to Pampa, county seat-elect, and the local bar asked dismissal of the request. All ballot returns were delivered to Judge T. M. Wolfe, county judge, this morning, and the election result is expected to be recorded at once. An election contest is threatened by opponents of removal.

Opening the argument, Judge S. D. Stennis of Pampa asked for recording of the election result in order to give jurisdiction for the injunction. Mr. Heare objected, but Judge Willis held that declaration of the result would facilitate matters.

Judge Wolfe was then to be asked to declare and record the result of the election of March 10.

A general demurrer, with general and specific denials of the allegations of the petitions, was presented by the local bar, which is handling the matter for the defendants. These signing the answer to the petition are John F. Studer, county attorney, Chas. C. Cook, W. J. Smith, Carl McLynn, W. M. Lewright, Cary and Tracy, C. S. Wortman, Ben S. Baldwin, E. E. Florcy, C. L. Wakeman, Ivey E. Duncan, H. Otto Studer, and S. D. Stennis.

The answer set out that the petition was not sufficient in law to require an answer, and should be dismissed. It set forth specific replies as follows:

1. LeFors is more than five miles from a railroad, and Pampa is located on a railroad, acting as a common carrier.

2. The election judges were duly sworn, and instruction cards were posted as required by law.

3. It is denied that election officials permitted knowingly an illegal voting, and if there were illegal votes, the number would not be sufficient to invalidate the election.

4. The defendant denied that Sheriff Graves or his deputies entered into any conspiracy for the purpose of causing poll tax receipts to be issued to parties not entitled to vote.

5. So far as information and belief goes, there were no illegal votes cast in the Pampa box.

J. L. NOEL OUT FOR JUSTICE OF PEACE OFFICE

Upon the insistence of many friends J. L. Noel, local farmer and oil man, has announced his candidacy for the office of justice of the peace, subject to the Democratic primary, July 28. Mr. Noel has been a resident of Pampa for the last fourteen years and is well known throughout this district. He recently sponsored the founding of the townsite of Noelton in the oil pool northwest of here.

"If elected I will accept the office and discharge its duties in a fair and impartial manner," Mr. Noel stated.

CHAPTER LIII
 "Society unfortunately isn't ready for your nihilistic philosophy, just yet," said Markham. "And during the intervening transition human life must be protected."
 He rose resolutely, and going to the telephone, called up Heath.
 "Sergeant," he ordered, "get a John-Doe warrant and meet me immediately at the Stuyvesant Club. Bring a man with you—there's an arrest to be made."
 "At last law has evidence after its own heart," chirped Vance, as he lazily donned his top-coat and picked up his hat and stick. "What a grotesque affair your legal procedure is, Markham! Scientific knowledge—the facts of psychology—mean nothing to you learned Solons. But a photograph record—ah! There, now, something convincing, irrefragable, final, what?"
 On our way out Markham beckoned to the officer on guard.
 "Under no conditions," he said, "is any one to enter this apartment until I return—not even with a signed permit."
 When we had entered the taxi cab he directed the chauffeur to the club.
 "So the newspapers want action, do they? Well, they're going to get it. You've helped me out of a nasty hole old man."
 As he spoke, his eyes turned to Vance. And that look conveyed a profounder gratitude than any words could have expressed.
 (Tuesday, September 1; 3:30 p. m.)
 It was exactly half past three when we entered the rotunda of the Stuyvesant Club. Markham at once sent for the manager, and held a few words of private conversation with him. The manager then hastened away, and was gone about five minutes.

 "Mr. Spotswoode is in his rooms," he informed Markham, on returning. "I sent the electrician up to test the light bulbs. He reports that the gentleman is alone, writing at his desk."
 "And the room number?"
 "Three forty-one." The manager appeared perturbed. "There won't be any fuss, will there, Mr. Markham?"
 "I don't look for any." Markham's tone was chilly. "However, the present matter is considerably more important than your club."
 "What an exaggerated point of view!" sighed Vance when the manager had left us. "The arrest of Spotswoode I'd say, was the acme of futility. The man isn't a criminal, don't you know? He's what one might term a philosophic behaviorist."
 Markham grunted but did not answer. He began pacing up and down agitatedly, keeping his eyes expectantly on the main entrance. Vance sought a comfortable chair, and settled himself in it with placid unconcern.
 Ten minutes later Heath and Snitkin arrived. Markham at once led them into an alcove and briefly explained his reason for summoning them.
 "Spotswoode's up stairs now," he said. "I want the arrest made as quietly as possible."
 "Spotswoode!" Heath repeated the name in astonishment. "I don't see—"
 "You don't have to see—yet," Markham cut in sharply. "I'm taking all responsibility for the arrest. And you're getting the credit—if you want it. That suit you?"
 Heath shrugged his shoulders.
 "It's all right with me... anything you say, sir." He shook his head uncomprehendingly. "But what about Jessup?"

"We'll keep him locked up. Material witness."
 We ascended in the elevator and emerged at the third floor. Spotswoode's rooms were at the end of the hall, facing the Square. Markham, his face set grimly, led "he way."
 In answer to his knock Spotswoode opened the door and, greeting us pleasantly, stepped aside for us to enter.
 "Any news yet?" he asked, moving a chair forward.
 At this moment he got a clear view of Markham's face in the light, and at once he sensed the minatory nature of our visit. Though his expression did not alter, I saw his body suddenly go taut. His cold, indecipherable eyes moved slowly from Markham's face to Heath and Snitkin. Then his gaze fell on Vance and me, who were standing a little behind the others and he nodded stiffly.
 No one spoke; yet I felt that an entire tragedy was somewhere being enacted, and that each actor heard and understood every word.
 Markham remained standing, as if reluctant to proceed. Of all the duties of his office, I knew that the arrest of

Postponed Meet of Historical Society To Attract Many

(Special to the News)
 CANYON, March 16.—The Panhandle Historical Society has added a copy of the second birthday edition of the Borger Daily Herald to its collection through the courtesy of W. W. F. of Amarillo. This is a paper issued on the second anniversary of the opening of the Borger paper will be as valuable as the early Plains papers which are so eagerly sought by students of history.

Another recent gift to the Historical Society is a copy of "Early Days Upon the Plains of Texas," compiled by George M. Hunt. Mr. Hunt was a real West Texas pioneer. He was born on February 19, 1843, and was a member of the Quaker colony of Old Estacado. He died in Lubbock in March 1919. The book was the gift of A. G. Hunt, now of Lubbock.

Recently, workmen at the old T-Anchor ranch headquarters unearthed a leather knife of unusual design. The history of this is unknown, but it has been placed in the relics collection of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society.

The annual meeting of the Historical Society, which had to be postponed because of extremely inclement weather, will be held March 30. Indications are that the postponement will mean a larger attendance than was contemplated in February, when 165 tickets were reserved for the banquet, and people from very scattered points indicated that they would be on hand for the meeting. Officers of the Society state that additional reservations should be ready by March 26. Judge Jas. D. Hamlin of Farwell will be toastmaster. The president of the Society, T. D. Hobart of Pampa, will preside at the business meeting.

Name It

Pampa's Happy Celebration

City of the World

Borger was two years old and the people rejoiced in a fitting manner. Borger is today a city of possibly 20,000 persons. It has pavement, sewer system, good schools, public utilities pay rolls, and other things that make a substantial city. The increase in the price of oil should make conditions far better at Borger in 1928 than they were the last nine months of 1927.

Quitague has decided that it is good for business men to eat together occasionally. A business Men's luncheon club has been organized and meetings will be held twice a month. If the women of Quitague are like those of most communities, they will feel that they should be invited to the luncheons, especially as the meetings will be held in the evenings. Diversified farming is going to be stressed at Quitague and B. F. Bennett, assistant manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, has promised the support of his organization.

Rapid progress is being made on Hutchinson county's new $341,000 courthouse at Stinnett. This will be the finest courthouse in Northwest Texas and Potter county doubtless will envy Hutchinson's new building. The commodious building should enable Hutchinson county's affairs to be conducted with a greater degree of satisfaction. A visit to Stinnett's temporary courthouse makes one wonder how Hutchinson county can keep anything in efficient shape.

dictates centralization of that firm's activities. The new North Carson county millions have been spent by the Skelly Oil Co. in the last year and Skellytown and Roxton are not the only things thought about around an oil community is shown by the organization last week of a dramatic club at Skellytown.

Wheat looks mighty good in Castro county, reports Mrs. C. C. Reynolds. Dimmitt, Carson county is predicting a yield of two million bushels. Silverton says that section will have more wheat than in several years. Harvester firms ought to feel happy over the Panhandle-Plains.

We like to see a man enthusiastic about his community. Roy Arnold, secretary of the Panhandle Chamber of Commerce, believes that Panhandle should plan for the future. He sees oil development closing around the city. He believes in the dairy industry and has helped to make Panhandle a Guernsey center within only a few months. Panhandle suffered through the passing of oil workers to the field but the city is not discouraged and it is again getting on a substantial basis.

Al Simmons Suffers From Sore Back

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 16.—(AP)—Manager Connie Mack, of the Philadelphia Athletics, was a bit worried today over an ailment that has annoyed Al Simmons, one of his star sluggers for several days.

Last Tuesday Simmons was stricken with a soreness in his back that made it painful for him to run. The next day he had to leave the game with Buffalo after three innings because of the trouble.

He accompanied the squad to Augusta, Ga., for a game with the Giants today, but was under orders from Manager Mack to consult a physician and to go to the Philadelphia if the doctor thought it necessary.

Commissioner Landis Asked for Ticket

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 16.—(AP)—Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis, who has passed through the portals of the baseball parks throughout the country without questioning for years, at last has been asked for his ticket.

Arriving at the lot where the Robins and Senators were playing yesterday, he was unrecognized by a ticket collector who demanded the admission fee of a dollar.

While the commissioner was digging into his pockets, Secretary John Gorman of the Robins appeared and escorted him into the stands free of charge.

NOTHING PROVED—As this is written, the fate of the British plane Endeavor and crew appears sealed, but regardless of the outcome, the venture will be looked upon as unnecessarily dangerous.

As now constituted, such flying is purely gambling with death, and were it in a more common manner, the police would interfere. Experiment has its martyrs, but transocean flying can hardly be called an experiment, even when it is westward. Numerous endurance flights have come to grief lately, demonstrating the uncertainty of prolonged attempts.

When made practical, transocean flying will have routes well marked, provisioned, and organized for relief or rescue. Until that time is reached, at least partly, safe flying will depend upon ability to keep aloft for many hours. That ability is so erratic that flights like that of the Endeavor will cease to excite admiration and wholesome interest, and anxiety will be mingled with a feeling of the futility of it all. The regularity of such disasters is becoming annoying.

LOBBYING DEFENDED—A treatise reaches our desk and attracts attention because of its unusualness. It is in defense of lobbying.

On first thought, such would be taken as propaganda of big interests, yet such is not the case. Although commonly spoken of as the "third house" in modern government, the practice has its basis in necessity and nearly everyone who wishes action at Austin employs it. "We've got to send a delegation down to Austin to fight that..." is an expression often heard. Lobbying is odious when done by the "other fellow," and its abuse arises from the ability of organized opposition to influence unduly legislation affecting unorganized groups, such as constitute the public as a whole.

Lobbying as an institution at Austin is not as vicious as the general string-pulling on special issues as it affects the political fortunes of public men. Threats, unveiled and forceful, of political deaths were made in the recently held oil meeting before the railroad commission. Unfortunately, it is expensive to carry an issue to the people, and to obtain their intelligent support, whereas organized enemies of a candidate may ruin him by insinuation and criticism carefully directed by shrewd political manipulators.

Lobbying is abused, but it is an instrument for good as well as evil. It should not be confused with other kinds of political machinations.

YOU'RE INVITED—Hundreds have seen the Daily News' automatic telegraph men, Iron Mike and Ike, typing out state, national, and world news in the window of the office. Many have come inside and seen the "innards" of the electrical and mechanical marvels.

Within four minutes of the time word of a disaster in any part of the world reaches an Associated Press bureau, the news is flashed to Pampa through the printers, which signal the editor by means of a bell operated from Dallas. Less than four minutes after Lindbergh, then reported lost, landed in St. Louis from Havana, Iron Mike was typing off a graphic account of the landing.

So many have marveled at this metropolitan service device that we are moved to invite all to inspect Mike who desire, young or old, at any time between the hours of 7 a. m. and 3 p. m., except Saturdays, when the instruments work from 4 p. m. to 1 a. m.

A kindly reader who knows all the omens would have us ask: Breathes there the man with vanity so dead that he never gives a little inward smirk of satisfaction when it is his right ear that burns?

Biggs Horn To Have Demonstration of Tractor Work

Biggs Horn, local dealer for Hart-Parr tractors and Holt combined harvester-threshers, will give a plowing, harrowing, and drilling demonstration with the Hart-Parr tractors Tuesday. Two tractors, an 18-36 and a 28-50, will be used. The demonstration will be held on the Ed Wright farm, just north of the city baseball park, a mile and a half north of Pampa.

The demonstration will begin at 11 o'clock and a free lunch will be served at noon. "We intend to make a pleasant and profitable day of it and are extending invitations to all farmers we can reach to be there," said Mr. Horn in discussing the demonstration.

Two tractors will be used in the plowing and one 18-36 will be disassembled in order that anyone can examine its parts and see how it is put together.

The three models of the Holt combine will be on the field and a representative of the company from the factory will be on hand to point out the details and explain any features to those interested.

Plans are being made to entertain several hundred visitors Tuesday. Only bad weather will prevent it being held as scheduled.

Gasoline Expert Speaks to Agents of Ethyl Product

"Ethyl gasoline that knocks knocks," was the subject of T. E. Ronan of New York City, representing the Ethyl Gasoline Corporation of the United States to representatives of the Continental Oil company in this territory and their dealers in Conoco Ethyl gas from White Deer, Miami, Groom, Shamrock, McLean, and Pampa, at a banquet given at the Schneider hotel Wednesday evening.

More than 35 representatives were present to hear Mr. Ronan, who is an efficiency expert from the company laboratories in New York.

Mr. Ronan, by means of slides, carried the audience from low compression cars of 1898 to the present high compression cars, from plain gasoline to Ethyl treated gasoline, and through the series of experiments made to put a gasoline on the market that would not knock.

What was probably the most interesting point in Mr. Ronan's discussion was the definition of a knock in an engine. "The majority of motorists believe that retarding the spark will eliminate the knock. It will eliminate the knock so it cannot be heard but the knock is still there harming the engine. The knock is really caused by a high pressure due to the too rapid expanding of fuel in the cylinders causing an explosion instead of burning steadily and when the spark is retarded the burning ceases sooner than intended thus losing pulling power and causing a greater strain on the engine.

Following years of experimenting the Ethyl Gasoline corporation have produced Ethyl gasoline which contains an anti-knock substance and which is being used in racing cars and the Navy," Mr. Ronan stated.

"To prove my statement, Major Seagrave brought his racing car to the United States for a test of speed. The car was all British, even the fuel. His trial run was at a speed of 131 miles an hour. After being persuaded to use Ethyl gasoline, and without changing any part of his motor, he made his record of 203 miles per hour," Mr. Ronan further remarked.

After experimenting with 33,000 substances which would dissolve in gasoline 40 were found to contain anti-knock substances. Further experimenting showed that Tetra Ethyl Lead was found to be the best and cheapest substance to control fuel burning in a high compression motor and as a result Ethyl gasoline is knock proof.

The Continental Oil company markets Conoco products, including Ethyl gasoline, in fifteen central and western states. Headquarters for Texas with large refineries are located at Wichita Falls.

F. D. Klein is the Pampa representative for Conoco products and J. B. Dickey, the district superintendent. Mr. Dickey was chairman of last night's meeting and banquet.

Up to this time Mr. Ronan has traveled 9,000 miles on his tour of the Continental Oil company territory. He said that he was already a lover of the plains and that he was surprised at the size and accommodations in Pampa.

Local representatives attending the banquet were J. B. Dickey, district superintendent, F. D. Klein, local superintendent, A. W. Butler, E. C. Lewis, O. E. Lockridge, J. B. Saul, and Messrs. Cottrell, Bauer, Reid, Pitts, Beard, Barrus, Saunders and H. E. Kime.

Shamrock representatives were Messrs. McPherson, Zeigler, Weisman, Zeigler, Johnson, Graham and Rathford.

Miami representatives were Messrs. Russell, Meade, Pickins, Meade, Montgomery and Waggoner.

Elderly British Runner Out of Marathon Race

SELIGMAN, Ariz., March 16.—(A)—The hardships of the 3400-mile cross country marathon, the 13th lap of which was faced today by the one hundred-odd entrants remaining, have claimed one of the most interesting of the contestants.

Charles W. Hart, 63-year old British athlete, dropped out yesterday on the 38.3 mile stretch from Peach Springs to Seligman.

Through the first 11 laps of the transcontinental race from Los Angeles Hart jogged at a steady pace finishing nearly always near the top and beating scores less than half his age to the tape.

With Hart out, Arthur Newton, the 44-year old British runner entered from Rhodesia, South Africa, became the oldest of the race. The holder of the 100-mile English running championship has been setting the pace for the field in many of the laps run to date, and at the start today led the field by more than seven hours in total elapsed time taken to cover the 435.7 miles from Los Angeles. It has taken him 67 hours 10 minutes and 30 seconds.

Axe Is Falling Fast in Training Camps of Texas

(By The Associated Press.)
The sound of the managerial axe is reverberating in Texas league camps as the opening of the 1928 pennant chase draws near.

Following an initial trimming of squads at Fort Worth and Wichita Falls, Dallas, Thursday released two rookies, Lynn Harkey, infielder from Irving, and Forest Hanna, outfielder from Arlington.

Harkey and Hanna were the first to be cut from the Steer Roster, and were given unconditional releases, but other releases and player deals looking toward a strengthening of the club are expected.

Although rain interfered with workouts in most camps, several teams got in a few hours of hitting and fielding practice, Thursday.

At Shreveport, heavy rains caused cancellation of a game between the Sports and the Chicago White Sox and another schedule for Friday with Rochester of the International league.

Although wet grounds cut short a workout at Fort Worth, the Cats participated in a bit of hitting and fielding at the end of which Manager Atz announced his men were ready for Friday's invasion of Chicago.

Despite a morning shower, the Cats at Waco had a peppy workout, substituted for a contest with the Baylor Bears. Manager Pratt announced that a mixed lineup of veterans and rookies would go to College Station for a game Friday with the Texas Aggies.

In preparation for a game with the Minneapolis Millers Sunday, the San Antonio Bears at Fredericks indulged in three hours of routine training.

Teachers Enter Relays at Rice and Texas Soon

CANYON, March 16.—(A)—The West Texas State Teachers college track team will enter the Texas and Rice relays to be held in Austin and Houston on March 23 and 24 respectively. This was definitely decided a few days ago when Coach S. D. Burton announced that he would leave here Monday morning, March 10, for Austin with eight men for participation in the athletic contests.

Boasting a group of fine individual men, the Buffalo track men will enter the three relays of the college division, including the mile relay, the half-mile relay and the medley. In addition to the above-mentioned events Clifford "Red" Keith, widely known dash man of the Teachers College track team will be entered in the special 100-yard dash. Keith has an official time of 9.9 seconds on the century dash and holds a record of 22 seconds in the 220-yard dash. Ollie Dixon, premier hurdler, will be entered in the low hurdles race in the Rice relay carnival. Dixon ran the low barriers last year at the T. I. A. A. meet in Denton in the fast time of 25 seconds flat. Schlenker, diminutive freshman high jumper star, will compete in the special high jump in both meets. This lad is only 5 feet 7 inches tall but clears the bar at six feet with surprising regularity. He is a selfmade high jumper, having studied the Osborne roll from a book and learned it without assistance.

Last year the Buffalo team entered the relays without having had an opportunity to train, inlement West Texas weather keeping them off the track nearly all the time. This year the Teachers have had several weeks training and are in fair condition for the racing.

Three Boston Girl Athletes Bidding for Olympic Berths

Record performances by these track and field stars recently have made them stand out as Olympic prospects as well as leading contenders in the women's national indoor track championships in Boston, March 10. Mildred Wiley (upper left) excels in the high jump, Katherine Mearls (upper right) in the sprints and broad jump, and Rena MacDonald (lower) in the shot put.

BOSTON, (A)—Three girl athletes whose performances are of record calibre are being boomed in New England as worthy candidates to represent America in the women's events at the Olympic games.

The three, all of whom are to participate in the women's national indoor track championships in Boston on March 10, are Katherine Mearls, Rena MacDonald and Mildred Wiley. Little Miss Merls has gained so many medals, championships and records that it is hard to keep track of them all. There is scarcely room on her jersey to pin the medals she has captured, for she is an all-round performer, a sprinter, jumper and swimmer.

Only recently at a women's indoor meet in Boston she exceeded her own American indoor record for women in the standing broad jump with a leap of 8 feet 1-8 inches. A few days later in Buffalo she won the 100-yard women's breast stroke in the national A. U. swimming championships, defeating the champion, Agnes Geraghty of New York, who had remained unbeaten since she won her first championship.

Rena MacDonald, too, is a versatile performer, starring in track and field events. In the Boston indoor meet she malefactor was the most distasteful to him. He was a worldly man, with the worldly man's tolerance for the misfortunes of evil. Heath and Smitkin had stepped forward and now waited with passive alertness for the district attorney's order to serve the warrant.

CANARY MURDER---

Spotswoode's eyes were again on Markham.

"What can I do for you, sir?" His voice was calm and without the faintest quaver.

"You can accompany these officers, Mr. Spotswoode," Markham told him quietly, with a slight inclination of his head toward the two imperturbable figures at his side. "I arrest you for the murder of Margaret Odell."

"Ah!" Spotswoode's eyebrows lifted mildly. "Then you have discovered something?"

"The Beethoven Andante."

Not a muscle of Spotswoode's face moved; but after a short pause he made a barely perceptible gesture of resignation.

"I can't say that it was wholly unexpected," he said evenly, with the tragic suggestion of a smile; "especially as you thwarted every effort of mine to secure the record. But then, the fortunes of the game are always uncertain."

His smile faded, and his manner became grave. "You have acted generously toward me, Mr. Markham, in shielding me from the canaille; and because I appreciate that courtesy I should like you to know that the game I played was one in which I had no alternative."

"Your motive, however powerful," said Markham, "cannot extenuate your crime."

"Do you think I seek extenuation?" Spotswoode dismissed the imputation with a contemptuous gesture. "I'm not a schoolboy. I calculated the consequences of my course of action, and after weighing the various factors involved, decided to risk it."

News to Present Romantic Tale

Anne Austin has written a new story for the Pampa Daily News and allied papers. With Spring nearly here, of course it had to be of love and romance.

It is a realistic tale of an orphan girl's adventures into life, and the title is "Girl Alone." The first generous installment will follow the concluding of "The Canary Murder Case" early next week. Plan now to read the very first chapter and you will not miss any of the rest.

Anne Austin has won nationwide acclaim with such stories as "Saint and Sinner," "Daughters of Midas," and "The Penny Princess." Last fall she wrote a novel, "Jackson Street."

In "Girl Alone" there are Sally David, Pearl, and Clem Carson and a lot of other characters which will be real as only Anne Austin can make them in serial form. Watch for the new story.

"It was a gamble, to be sure; but it's not my habit to complain about the misfortunes of a deliberately planned risk. Furthermore, the choice was practically forced upon me. Had I not gambled in this instance, I stood to lose heavily nevertheless."

His face grew bitter.

"This woman, Mr. Markham, had demanded the impossible of me. Not content with bleeding me financially she demanded legal protection, position social prestige—such things as only my name could give her."

"She informed me I must divorce my wife and marry her. I wonder if you apprehend the enormity of that demand? . . . You see, Mr. Markham, I love my wife, and I have children whom I love. I will not insult your intelligence by explaining how, despite my conduct, such a thing is entirely possible. . . . And yet, this woman commanded me to wreck my life and crush utterly those I held dear, solely to gratify her petty, ridiculous ambition!

"When I refused, she threatened to expose our relations to my wife, to send her copies of the letters I had written, to sue me publicly—in fine, to create such a scandal that, in any event, my life would be ruined, my family disgraced, my home destroyed."

He paused and drew a deep inspiration.

"I have never been partial to half-way measures," he continued impassively. "I have no talent for compromise. Perhaps I am a victim of my heritage. But my instinct is to play out a hand to the last chip—to force whatever danger threatens."

"And for just five minutes, a week ago, I understand how the fanatics of old could, with a calm mind and a sense of righteousness, torture their enemies who threatened them with spiritual destruction. . . . I choose the only course which might save those I love from disgrace and suffering. It meant taking a desperate risk. But the blood within me was such that I did not hesitate, and I was fired by the agony of a tremendous hate. I staked my life against a living death, on the remote chance of attaining peace and I lost."

Again he smiled faintly.

"Yes—the fortunes of the game. . . . But don't think for a minute that I am complaining or seeking sympathy. I have lied to others perhaps, but not to myself. I detest a whiner—a self-excuser. I want you to understand that."

He reached to the table at his side and took up a small limp-leather volume.

"Only last night I was reading Wolde's 'De Profundis.' Had I been gifted with words, I might have made a similar confession. Let me show you what I mean so that, at least, you won't attribute to me the final inanity of cravenness."

A face powder that really stays on.
Nylotis Face Powder De Luxe goes on smoothly and stays on. It does not show in spots, but spreads evenly and blends invisibly with even the finest skin.
The powder is delightfully and lastingly perfumed. It is put up in an attractive round box, finished with a striking peacock design.

NEW ORLEANS, March 16.—(AP)—Property loss estimated above $50,000 one life lost, and an accommodation train wrecked, was the known toll today of a freakish windstorm that swept the oil fields of Northeast Texas and Louisiana.

Shreveport, Vivian, and Winnfield La., escaped the storm with damage consisting chiefly of the crashing of plate glass windows and minor unroofings, while Meridian and Vicksburg reported unroofing of homes and damage to automobiles and crops by a 40-mile an-hour gale and hail storm.

The one fatality was R. Chambers aged resident of Kellyville, Texas, who died of injuries sustained when the roof of his barn hurled through the air by the twister, landed on him.

Passengers on an accommodation train of the Texarkana-Shreveport branch of the Texas and Pacific railway probably were saved in injury by the fact that the passenger coaches were coupled on to the rear of the train which was wrecked when three freight cars jumped the track on an undetermined bed, near Dixie, La.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
Sunday school, 9:45.
Sermon, 11:00.
Subject, "The Modern Good Samaritan."
Training Services, 6:30.
Sermon, 7:30.
Subject: The "Life-Look." The sins of life which are the most dangerous to men and women are not those of violent acts which bring us into contact with the officers of society, but those unseen menaces to the highest forces of life. We recoil from the rattlesnake, but not from the poisons of evil habits.

We invite you to attend services with us Sunday, all our services last week were well attended, with eleven additions to the church, and giving a hearty welcome to all, to worship with us. Mr. Vaughn will furnish us with special music Sunday morning and evening.

D. H. Truhitte, Pastor.
Tom Ed Vaughn, Ed. Director.

these same colleges. This regulation should be observed and the junior colleges taboos as far as possible, for they are not standard and are not under such restrictions as will result in "A" standard work.

Approves Senior Colleges
In selecting the non-degree teachers, I again would give the approved senior colleges the preference; and then I should let scholarship and personality lead. Apart from this, in the grades the ability to control should be given second place.

(7) I would suggest $1,000 of well selected books for the lower grades (that is, from the first to the seventh); such graded books as will fit the needs of the several grades. A like amount should be set aside for the high school. This will thoroughly equip the school for the coming year if the increase is not too great. Five hundred dollars will purchase all of the needed apparatus and supplies for the high school sciences, and the Home Economics and Vocational Agriculture laboratories will need $125 each.

(8) Two or more standard trucks will be needed to transport the incoming children to school; and suitable sheds to house and care for the same.

(9) I recommend the immediate purchasing of sufficient forms and books that complete records of the work and grades of all pupils may be kept from the first to the eleventh grades inclusive. The high school records are now being kept in due form.
