Police Chief Stabbed After Being Acquitted By Jury

OFFICER WAS CHARGED WITH GIRL'S DEATH

Mother and Aunt Try to Kill Alleged Slayer

PISTOL SHOT FAILED TO HIT

Men Claimed Woman Killed Self After Being Arrested

COLUMBIANA, Ala., March 22.—(AP)—H. F. Calera chief of police, was fired at and then stabbed by a woman in circuit court here today just after he had been acquitted of the murder of their relative, Miss Louise Montebaro. Mrs. Mabel Montebaro, mother of the girl, fired a pistol from a distance of about five feet as Blake was being congratulated by his friends. The shot went wild, Miss Cecil Tubbs, an aunt of the girl, leaped at the police chief, drawing a knife as she flung herself toward him and stabbed him in the neck. Blake fell, the blood streaming from the wound.

The court room was in a turmoil in a moment and Charlie C. McCall state attorney general, who had personally prosecuted Blake, fainted from the excitement. Physicians said they could not tell from their first examination whether Blake's wound would be fatal. He had toppled into the jury box from which the men who freed him were slowly filing out. They assisted in picking him up and carrying him to a hospital.

Mr. McCall quickly recovered himself and ordered the two women taken into custody. Both were frantic from the strain of the trial and their deed and Mrs. Montebaro fought hysterically with court officers before she was subdued. She still tried to get to Blake as the bailiffs plied her.

Officers said the women had obtained the weapons from the box in which Montebaro's clothing was kept during the trial. The pistol used in today's shooting was one of those used by the state in expert testimony regarding the manner of the girl's death.

"Having had the experience in clerical work, I feel that I am capable of holding the office of county treasurer and if elected will endeavor to perform the duties of the office to the best of my ability," Miss Davis stated to the News.

The S-4 was rammed and sank three months before off Provincetown, Mass. After removal of the bodies the navy board of investigation was to inspect the hull to secure further evidence in its inquiry.

NEED FOR AIRPORT IN PAMPA IS ACUTE, LIONS ARE TOLD

"Within the next five years a town without an airport will not be in the running with respect to aviation, and Pampa, as the center of the Panhandle oil field, greatly needs an airport equipped with hangars now," Charis Andrews told the Lions club today.

While not a flier, Mr. Andrews is an aviation enthusiast and has spent many hours in the air. He pointed out that planes are landing in this vicinity daily as oil men and air tourists visit this section. Several planes will be purchased for use here, and unless Pampa acts at once, some company is going to establish a landing field on a lease and prevent development of aviation from a civic standpoint. One oil company is considering establishment of an airport at Skellytown.

Mr. Andrews urged local people to lease a suitable site and establish a $3000 hangar within the next three months. Operation then could be by lease to private individuals, he pointed out, if the city did not wish to take the responsibility.

The Lions enjoyed a stirring oration by Bob Mullen and a talk on the McNary-Haugen bill by Marjorie Jewell, both of Central high school. Visitors of the day included W. C. Upton, Prof. A. Meek, and W. H. Haynes, the latter of Hutchinson, Kansas. New Lions introduced were A. J. McAlister and Roy McMillen.

Governor Avoids Politics in Amarillo Speech

ALL OFFICERS ARE RE-ELECTED

Houston Gets Meeting for 1928—Others Start Bids

AMARILLO, March 22.—(AP)—The cattle business in Texas has set an object lesson for all other industries in co-operative and intelligent effort to improve its conditions, Governor Dan Moody said today in addressing the closing session of the Texas-Southwestern Cattle Raisers' association.

Avoiding politics, the governor said he had come here to pay his respects to "the sturdy men who set the pace in Texas development, and who are setting the pace for other industries in solving their own problems."

"By unity of effort and intelligent study of conditions, you cattlemen are making your business pay," the governor said. "You are organized and you give your time and effort to your business—that is one of the reasons the cattle industry is on a solid financial footing."

You don't expect legislative aid, but you do expect an even break with other industries.

Houston was chosen as the 1929 convention city without opposition and all officers were re-elected at the closing session.

Officers chosen were: R. M. Kieberg, Corpus Christi, president; T. D. Hobart, Pampa, first vice-president; C. C. Slaughter, Dallas, second vice-president; W. E. Connell, Fort Worth, treasurer; E. B. Spiller, Fort Worth, secretary-manager.

Dallas and Fort Worth filed their bids for the 1930 convention. Unalterable opposition to the Hoch-Capper bill was voiced in a resolution unanimously adopted. The resolution stated it was the opinion of the association that the bill as proposed would unnecessarily restrict the right to sell livestock.

The association also went on record as opposing the Box bill, which would extend the quota restrictions in the present immigration act to all countries in the western hemisphere.

Resolutions also were adopted urging the state to appropriate $25,000 to be used by Texas A. & M. college in testing the efficiency of Texas rations in the finishing or fattening of cattle; demanding a revision of the existing tariff which will afford due protection to the grower of cattle hides; asking advancement of the tariff on meat products so as to diminish the volume of imports from other countries endorsing the cooperative marketing firms; praising Secretary of Agriculture W. M. Jardine and the bureau of animal industry and other government agencies for the work done in the development of the livestock industry.

AMARILLO, March 22.—(AP)—The Texas Southwestern Cattle Raisers' association today entered its final convention sessions with a talk by Governor Dan Moody to be followed by the introduction of resolutions, election of officers and selection of the 1929 convention city.

The governor arrived last night, and was scheduled to be the first speaker today. Another address on today's program will be "finishing Texas cattle or Texas soil," by M. W. Holand, field editor, farm and Ranch magazine. The resolutions committee was in executive session all day yesterday, and is expected to have a complete report ready for presentation today.

About 30 persons were in the courtroom at the time. All rushed into the open.

Louise Montebaro, a sewing machine sales woman, was shot to death on the night of last November 14 after Blake and W. D. Farmer, another Calera policeman, had arrested her on the Montgomery highway. They swore she killed herself after her arrest for speeding, and while they had momentarily left the car to examine a bottle which they said she had flung from the machine when they hailed her.

Blake's trial had lasted a little over two weeks and the case had gone to the jury last night. The verdict was returned shortly after court was convened today. Farmer was indicted with Blake and his trial is pending.

Blake was taken to a hospital, where physicians said his wound was serious. The knife wound was about two inches long and two inches deep. After a preliminary examination an ambulance was called and he was started for a hospital in Birmingham.

DIGGEST PROBLEM—Those who are studying the question are frank in stating that the most serious problem before Pampa—and the only vital matter in her growth now—is her water supply. Not only is it a matter for the future, but of the present. Drilling of wells was adequate up to and slightly beyond a million gallons per day, but that maximum is demanded at the present time, and growth and the usual greater summer needs will soon bring about an acute problem. Something will have to be done very soon to prevent a summer shortage, and then the future supply must be obtained. Water is more important than a city hall, or even more paving. We can have the city hall should be postponed until the water supply is obtained. Water is absolutely prerequisite to an industrial Pampa. Drilling for water in the usual manner is too expensive in the first place, and in the second is not adequate in quantity. Pampa wells are exhausting the strata, and to drill more wells in the same vicinity largely adds expense and cuts down the total capacity of each well.

The new city administration, as soon as installed, began an intensive study of the water situation, and is completing a survey of the local plant and a study of the plants of other cities. Also very interesting is the Carter water project in the South Pampa oil field, where the Phillips company is developing a gigantic supply.

It is declared by engineers that there is an abundant supply of water underlying Pampa, but ordinary drilling is the most expensive and unsatisfactory method of tapping it. Pampa must develop a dependable supply of almost unlimited quantity. And while the present problem is difficult, there seems to be no reason for pessimism about the future.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

tinction between a statesman and a politician hard to determine, be that a statesman or the fellow who goes out and tackles a few issues while the politicians are all busy lining up votes, delegates and jobs in the next administration.

At the moment Senator William E. Borah is a towering figure because he is about the only big man of influence who is concentrating on issues instead of votes. For that reason he may exert an important effect on the forthcoming Republican convention and on the conduct—assuming it's Republican—of the next administration.

Idaho is booming Borah as a presidential candidate. He is much more than a mere favorite son, or he has a large number of supporters and followers over the country. He is not a likely nominee because he has always been an independent Republican, refusing to follow the politicians and standpatters except when he agreed with them. Borah knows as well as anyone that his course has cost him the support of the party politicians.

Borah, being a statesman, is disregarding many appeals from over the country that the campaign for nomination or feels he can do more good by keeping out of political fights and campaigning for what he considers issues that are vital. The principal Borah issues, as everyone knows, are law

He also expects to obtain a strong plank favoring the outlawing of war. Borah has had tremendous success with this issue. GIRL ALONE

COPYRIGHT 1928 BY NEA SERVICE

ANNE AUSTIN AUTHOR OF "SAINT AND SINNER"

THIS HAS HAPPENED
Sally Ford, 16, with a genius for acting, is selfishly kept at the orphanage, which has been her home since she was four, in spite of efforts to adopt her, because her sympathy and understanding with small children make her a valuable helper to the matron. However, when Clem Carson asks that Sally be "farmed out" to him for the summer, the matron tells the girl she must go. Sally dislikes the farmer, but long years of obedience to authority beat her lips against protesting when the matron says she must go and she leaves to pack her few clothes for the trip.

Sally encounters little Miss Pond, sentimental, sympathetic office helper. When Sally begs her to tell her something of her mother, Miss Pond promises to come to the locker room and tell her what she knows.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER III
Because she was leaving the orphanage for a temporary new home on the Carson farm, Sally was permitted to take her regular Saturday night bath that afternoon. In spite of her terror of the future, the girl who had never known any home but a state orphan asylum felt a thrill of adventure as she splashed in a painted tin tub, gloriously alone, unhurried by clamorous girls waiting just outside the little cubicle.

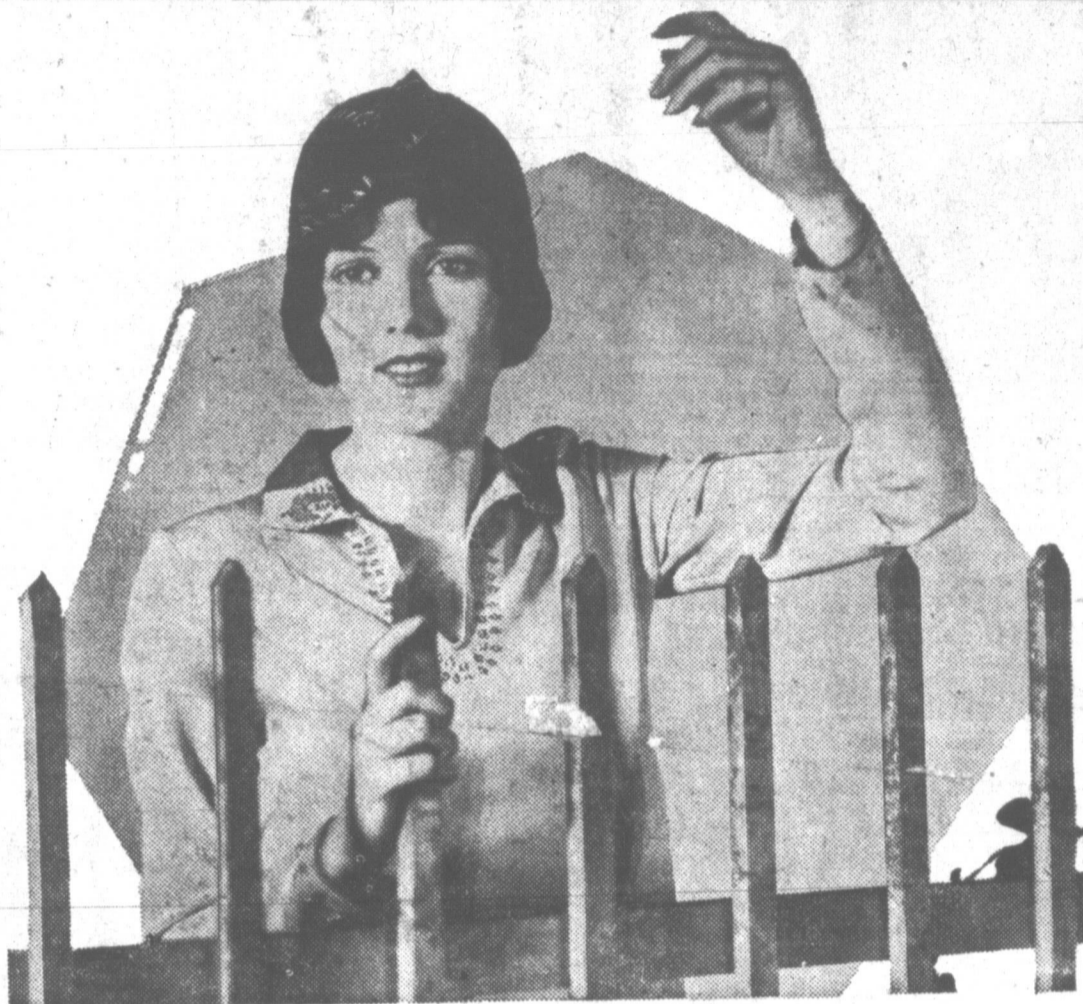

The cold water—there was no hot water for bathing from April first to October first—made her skin glow and tingle. As she dried herself on a ragged whisp of grayish-white Turkish toweling, Sally surveyed her slim, white body with shy pride. Shorn of the orphanage uniform she might have been any pretty young girl budding into womanhood, so slim and rounded and pinky-white she was.

"I guess I'm kinda pretty," Sally whispered to herself, as she thrust her face close to the small, wavy mirror that could not quite succeed in destroying her virginal loveliness. "Sweet sixteen and—never been kissed," she smiled to herself, then bent forward and gravely laid her pink, deliciously curved lips against the mirrored ones.

Then, in a panic lest she be too late to see kind Miss Pond, she jerked on the rest of her clothing.
"Dear Sally, how sweet you look!" Miss Pond clasped her hands in admiration as Sally slipped, breathless, into the locker-room that contained the clothes of all the girls of her dormitory.
"Did you bring the card that tells all about me—and my mother?" Sally brushed the compliment aside and demanded in an eager whisper.
"No, dearie; I was afraid Mrs. Stone might want it to make an entry about Mr. Carson's taking you for the summer, but I copied the data. You go ahead with your packing while I tell you what I found out," Miss Pond answered nervously, but her pale gray eyes were sparkling with pleasure in her mid little escapade.

Sally unlocked her own particular locker with the key that always hung on a string about her neck, but almost immediately she whirled upon Miss Pond, her eyes imploring. "I won't take me a minute to pack, Miss Pond. Please go right on and tell me."
"Well, Sally, I'm afraid there isn't much to tell," Miss Pond smothered a folded bit of paper apologetically. "The record says you were brought here May 9, 1912, just 12 years ago by a woman who said you were her daughter. She gave your birthday as June 2, 1908, and her name as Mrs. Nora Ford, a widow, aged 28—"
"Oh, she's young!" Sally breathed ecstatically. Then her face clouded, as her nimble brain did a quick sum in mental arithmetic. "But she'd be 40 now, wouldn't she? Forty seems awfully old—"

"Forty is comparatively young, Sally!" Miss Pond, who was looking regretfully back upon 40 herself, said rather tartly. "But let me hurry on. She gave poverty and illness as her reasons for asking the state to take care of you. She said your father was dead."
"Oh, poor mother!" A shadow flitted across Sally's delicate face; quick tears for the dead father and the ill poverty-stricken mother filmed her blue eyes.

"The state accepted you provisionally and shortly afterward sent an investigation to check up on her story," Miss Pond went on. "The investigation found that the woman, Mrs. Ford, had left the city—it was Stanton, 30 miles from here—and that no one knew where she had gone. From that day to this we have had no word from the woman who brought you here. She was a mystery in Stanton, and has remained a mystery until now. I'm sorry, Sally, that I can't tell you more."

"Oh!" Sally's sharp cry was charged with such pain and disappointment that Miss Pond took one of the little clenched fists between her own thin hands, not noticing that the slip of paper fluttered to the floor. "She didn't write to know how I was, didn't care whether I lived or died; I wish I hadn't asked! I thought maybe there was somebody, someone who loved me—"

"Remember she was sick and poor, Sally. Maybe she went to a hospital suddenly—and died. But there was no report in any papers of the state of her death," Miss Pond added conscientiously. "You mustn't grieve, Sally. You're nearly grown now. You'll be leaving us when you're 18, unless you want to stay on as an assistant matron or as a teacher—"

"Oh, no, no!" Sally cried. "I—I'll pack now, Miss Pond. And thank you a million times for telling me even if it did hurt."
In her distress Miss Pond trotted out of the locker-room without a thought for the bit of paper on which she had scribbled the memorandum of Sally's pitifully meager life history. But Sally had not forgotten it. She snatched it from the floor and pinned it to her "body waist," a vague resolution forming in her troubled heart.

When five o'clock came Sally Ford was waiting in the office for Clem Carson, her downcast eyes fixed steadily upon the small brown paper parcel in her lap, color staining her neck and cheeks and brow, for Mrs. Stone stiffly, awkwardly but conscientiously, was doing her institutional best to arm the state's charge for her first foray into the outside world.

"And so, Sally, I want you to remember to—to keep your body pure and your mind clean," Mrs. Stone summed up, her strong, heavy face almost as red as Sally's own. "You're too young to go out with young men, but you'll be meeting the hired hands on the farm. You—you mustn't let them take liberties of any kind with you. We try to give you girls in the Home a sound religious and moral training, and if—you're led astray it will be due to the evils in your own nature and not to lack of proper Christian training. You understand me, Sally?" she added severely.

"Yes, Mrs. Stone," Sally answered in a smothered voice.
Sally's hunted eyes glanced wildly about for a chance of escape and lighted upon the turning knob of the door in a moment Clem Carson was edging in, his brown-leather face slightly flushed, a tell-tale odor of whiskey and cloves on his breath.
"Little lady all ready to go?" he inquired with a suspiciously jovial laugh, which made Sally crouch lower in her chair. "Looking pretty as a picture, too! With two pretty girls in my house this summer, reckon I'll have to stand guard with a shotgun to keep the boys away."

Word had gone round that Sally Ford was leaving the Home for the summer, and as Clem Carson and his new unpaid hired girl walked together down the long cement walk to where his car was parked at the curb nearly 300 little girls, packed like a herd of sheep in the wirefenced playground, adjoining the front lawn, sang out good-bys and good wishes.

"Good-by, Sal-lee! Hope you have a

"Good-by, Sal-lee! Write me a letter, Sal-lee!" "Good-by, good-by!"
Sally, waving her Sunday handkerchief, craned her neck for a last sight of those blue-and-white-tinged little girls, the only playmates and friends she had in the world. There were tears in her eyes, and, queerly, for she thought she hated the Home, a stab of homesickness shooting through her heart. How safe they were, there in the playground pen! How simple and sheltered life was in the Home, after all! Suddenly she knew, somehow, that it was the last time she would ever see it, or the children.

Without a thought for the ironclad "Keep off the grass" rule, Sally turned and ran, fleetly, her little figure as graceful as a fawn's, over the thick velvet carpet of the lawn. When she reached the high fence that separated her from the other orphans, she spread her arms, as if she would take them all into her embrace.
"Don't forget me, kids!" she panted, her voice thick with tears. "I—I want to tell you I love you all, and I'm sorry for every mean thing I ever did to any of you, and I hope you all get adopted by rich papas and mamas and have ice cream every day! Good-by kids! Goodby!"

"Kiss me good-by, Sal-lee!" a little whining voice pleaded.
Sally stooped and pressed her lips through the fence opening, against the babyish mouth of little Eloise Durant, the newest and most forlorn orphan of them all.
"Me, too, Sal-lee! Me, too! We won't have nobody to play-act for us now!" Betsy wailed, pressing her tear-stained face against the wire.

A little later, when Sally was seated primly beside Clem Carson, jolting rapidly down the road that led past the orphanage toward the business district of the city, the farmer nudged her in the ribs and chuckled:
"You're quite a kissing-bug, ain't you, Sally? How about a little kiss for your new boss?"

Texas Sluggers Regain Their Batting Eyes

(By The Associated Press.)
In the heat of exhibition battles and routine practice games, Texas league players in training are developing batting eyes that for several weeks have seemed dimmed.

Casting aside the jinx which the tappers apparently held over them, the hitters of several clubs yesterday clouted balls to all corners of several lots and gave the pitchers a hectic day.

Manager Snyder's Houston Buffs acquired 15 safe blows in a contest with the Texas Aggies at College Station and tucked away a 12 to 1 victory.

At Wichita Falls, the Spudgers hammered the offerings of three Chicago White Sox hurlers for 11 hits, but were outslugged by the American leaguers and beaten 11 to 9.

At Lake Charles, the Beaumont Exporters chalked up eight husky swat swats in a game with the Kansas City Blues, but likewise were outhit and lost by a 13 to 4 score.

In a squad game at Dallas, the Steer regulars clouted two veteran pitchers Schuman and McColl, for 13 safeties and a 6 to 3 win, while the Yannigans registered eight hits.

San Antonio batsmen did not fare so well in a tilt with the Detroit Tigers at Fredericksburg that for seven innings was a pitchers battle. They could get but six hits, while the Tigers broke loose in the eighth, drove out several home runs and more safeties of a less damaging type, and capped the contest, 10 to 1.

At Shreveport, the Sports got away to a six-run lead in the first frame of a game with the House of David nine and held it despite a game comeback of the visitors to win, 8 to 2.

Routine practice occupied the other league clubs.

World Champs Break into the Win Column

ST PETERSBURG, Fla., March 22.—(AP)—Whether it was due to Waite Hoyt who made his first mound start of the year or other causes, the New York Yankees have won a ball game, at last.

Beaten in their first four games three times by Boston's pesky Braves the world's champions rose in their wrath yesterday and gave the Braves a beating.

Hoyt pitched the first four innings and allowed only two hits. In the absence of any hitting at all by Babe Ruth and Buster Gehrig, "Jumping Joe" Dugan hit a home run, a double and a single in three official trips to the platter. The homer was the first credited to any Yankee this season.

WRESTLE TO DRAW
LOS ANGELES, March 22.—(AP)—Jim Browning, Wichita, Kans., wrestled and Nick Lutze, Chicago, went two hours to a draw here last night. Each took one fall, Browning using a flying headlock and Lutze a jackknife arm scissors.

BROWNS ARE BLUE
WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 22.—(AP)—Gloom prevailed around the St. Louis Browns camp when it was learned that Earl Moneely, one of the three seasoned major league outfielders was on the shelf with a lame back.

UTILITY FIELDERS PICKED
TAMPA, Fla., March 22.—(AP)—With two of his doubtful positions filled—West, tentatively at least, in center-field, and Gillis in short, Manager Harris of the Washington Senators now has decided on Foster Ganzel and Emil Barnes as his utility outfielders for the coming season.

ONE OF THE FASTEST OUTFIELDS

In the major leagues this season, one of the fastest outfielders may be that of the Chicago White Sox. They have speed to burn in Carl Reynolds, Alex Metzler and Randy Moore, below, left to right. Reynolds, up from the Lone Star League, was a ten-second man in college. He batted 376 last season to lead his league. Metzler batted 311 for the Sox last season, and was considered one of the fastest outfielders in the league. Moore enjoyed a big year with the Waco club, Texas League champions, and was noted for his fleetness of foot. By a strange coincidence, all three players started their professional careers as infielders.

New Men Fail to Stop Yanks

ST PETERSBURG, Fla., March 22.—(AP)—Lester Bell, Cardinal third baseman, obtained by the Boston Braves for Andy High and an unannounced sum of money, may not have been the star of yesterday's Yank-Braves game, in which he wore a Boston uniform for the first time, but he did do his bit.

He had only on chance in the field and that he handled perfectly. His hitting was confined to a long double in the ninth. Roger Hornsby, the Braves' other ex-St. Louis star, drove in a tying run in the sixth that failed however, to keep the Yankees from romping away with the game 8-2.

BALL INJURES MANAGER
ORLANDO, Fla., March 22.—(AP)—Manager Jack Hendricks of the Cincinnati Reds was nursing an inflamed nose today, the result of being accidentally hit by a practice ball.

Outfielder Ethan Allen, whose shoulder was injured Monday, was again in shape today.

YOUNGSTERS SENT NORTH
BRADENTON, Fla., March 22.—(AP)—Seven Red Sox youngsters will start north Friday under direction of Johnny Collins to work out on the home grounds instead of accompanying the squad on its upward swing. They will land with the Pittsfield team at the start of the minor league season.

Marathon Field Now Reduced to 96—Several Fail

NAVAJO, Ariz., March 22.—(AP)—Arne Suominen of Detroit led in elapsed time again today at the runners in the Los Angeles to New York marathon lined up for a 33-mile jaunt to Lupton, Ariz.

Suominen covered the 41.8 miles from Holbrook to Navajo yesterday in 6 hours, forty-nine minutes and 55 seconds, to trail Ed Gardner, Seattle negro, by more than eight minutes.

Andrew Payne of Claremore, Okla., who relinquished the lead to Suominen Tuesday when he suffered an attack of tonsillitis, managed to retain second place at the end of the 651.2 mile route, but he required nearly eight hours for the trip from Holbrook.

Withdrawal Tuesday of Herbert Tiedoke, Hollywood, Cal.; Harry Chestham, Los Angeles, and Giacomo Clarizzo, Chicago, reduced the field to ninety-six.

THREE RECRUITS STICK

SAN ANTONIO, March 22.—(AP)—As the period approaches when the weeding out proceeds to begin, Manager Moriarty is reported to have decided definitely on retention of only three of the army Tiger recruits who reported at the opening of the training season. They are Paul Easterling, outfielder and Frank Emmer, and Bill Sweeney, infielders.

KREMER HAS COLD
SAN FRANCISCO, March 22.—(AP)—Manager Donie Bush of the Pittsburg Pirates announced that whether he started Ray Kremer, Pirate pitching ace in today's exhibition game would depend upon the weather.

If the cool spell continues, Bush said he would keep Kremer on the bench since the hurler has just recovered from a severe cold.

Hennessey Colorful in Beating Tilden in Singles Match

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 22.—(AP)—Johnny Hennessey, youthful Indianapolis tennis star who beat Bill Tilden yesterday, "pulled a fast one" when he came parading to the sidelines to start his match wearing a heavy tan coat well buttoned.

Doffing this, he revealed in a "baby blue" slip-over slightly louder than the other Davis cup candidates had displayed. After playing the first game he started removing this and a moment later stood revealed in a dazzling golden-hued jersey.

Tilden joined the roar of laughter from the galleries, but Hennessey, not nettled in the least, came back with a grin.

"Bill, this won't take your mind off the ball, will it?"

As the match ended, Johnny was playing in a sport blouse.

White Sox Blow Up, But Team Beats Texas Champions

WICHITA FALLS, March 22.—(AP)—With a determination worthy of a place in the regular season records, the Chicago White Sox repeated their victory over Wichita Falls, the Texas League champs, 11 to 9 yesterday in spite of some wild pitching and worse fielding.

"Speed" Luque, fresh from the sand lots of San Francisco, blew up hopelessly in the fourth inning, and Chalmer Cissell, the expensive shortstop, did the same. Luque worked fine the first three innings and then forgot where the plate was. Eventually, by rolling up 16 safeties, the Sox won.

Agriculture Boys Are Enjoying Work on Their Projects

Robert May, of the Vocational Agricultural 1 class, has recently purchased and received twenty-four hens and two roosters of the Thompson Ringlet Rock.

Robert is very proud of his chickens as shown by the expenditure of money and labor preparing in advance for the arrival of his flock. He built for them a nice house and fenced with poultry wire a plot of ground 140 by 170 feet. This will make it possible for Robert to keep his breeding pure, and in the near future will afford the opportunity for him to have as fine a flock of Rocks as may be found anywhere in this or any other state.

The Agricultural classes and Mr Lester have recently visited a large number of boys' home projects. They learned that Charles Thomas, M. D. Eagle, and Finley Barrett each have fine Polan-China gilts. Some of the other boys' gilts are good but these three are the best at present. Watch out, boys, Carles M. D. and Finley will beat you.

We found the wheat projects very satisfactory. Judging from appearances now, the boys with wheat projects will have a credit to their bank account this summer.

Howard Lane has built a splendid poultry house at his home, and has recently purchased several baby chicks to occupy it. He is having good success caring for his chicks so far.

Madam Editor, not only are these boys being stimulated to raise and keep better livestock, but their parents are getting the vision also. Out at Ernest Barrett's today, I found him with 1,000 standard bred baby chicks. Irwin Cole was selling to one person today 500 of his standard bred White Leghorn baby chicks. He told us that he had all his baby chicks sold several weeks ahead.

W. A. Taylor of our city has recently purchased a pure-bred high quality individual, Guernsey bull. This bull was purchased from an association of breeders in Wisconsin and shipped to Mr. Taylor at Pampa. This is merely a glimpse of what is to follow.

Pampa has the latent agricultural resources to become one of the greatest agriculture sections of this great agricultural state of ours.

Her people have now begun this development in the right way, and will continue the good work, I trust, until Pampa has her place agriculturally that she is bountifully intended by nature to have.

Harvester Club Enjoys Picnic in Lefors Friday

On March 9, 1928, the Harvester club and girls who were guests journeyed to Lefors for a picnic. A big time was enjoyed by all. We hope to have more members in the near future. There were several that didn't go, and a penalty of fifteen spots were given.

On March 13, 1928, we had another meeting which was a business meeting. The new members which were received into the club were Albert Bard Donald Tate, Robert Hollingsworth, and Bill Williams. These pledges are going through their initiation this week.

Our club has a fine spirit, and will have a better spirit before school is out. Our basketball boys are going to get sweaters. Those receiving sweaters are Troy Maness, Troy Stalks, Robert Kahl, Red Cash, Hugh Moore, and Archie "Lockhart" Walstad. We were glad when Mr. Dickey appointed Troy Maness our captain for another year.

SENIOR NOTES

Harvey Anderson is absent from school on account of illness.

Vivian Frasher, an active member of the senior class, is absent on account of the flu. We miss her greatly.

Katherine Harberson is ill with the flu. We hope she will soon be back in school again.

The members of the senior class wish to extend their feelings of sympathy to one of their members, Mildred Fahy, who is in the hospital following an operation for appendicitis. We wish her a speedy recovery and hope to see her in school soon.

Mary Maness was absent from school Friday of last week on account of illness.

Elizabeth Cravy was absent from school Thursday and Friday on account of illness. We missed her greatly and are glad to have her back again.

To all those who are absent from school on account of illness, we hope to see you in school soon.

De Vere Abersold made a visit to Amarillo last week.

Elizabeth Cravy and Cleora Stanard visited in Panhandle Monday night.

Sammie Henton, an excellent student and member of the senior class, is to represent our school in the extemporaneous speaking. We seniors are backing him and we wish him great success.

A senior class meeting was held Monday at noon and the speaker for commencement was discussed. Also plans for a party or some kind of entertainment were discussed. There was nothing definitely decided. There will be another meeting held, Wednesday and the questions will be decided up on.

A report from the entertainment committee will be given. We hope it will be a picnic.

The members of the Freshman class wish to express their sympathy for Max Marbough, a fellow student.

Editorials

ARE YOU AWAKE?

It won't be long now! Until what? Why, the Gray County Meet, to be sure. Didn't you know that we are planning another victory March 30 and 31 when the Gray county meet will be held in Pampa.

We won the new railroad and the courthouse by constant effort; so why shouldn't we win another victory? There is no reason why we should not if you, citizens of Pampa, will boost our students. The participants in the contests are certainly doing their part by practicing the events they have entered, so it is left up to you to boost our school for the sake of those students who have Pampa high school at heart, and who are striving to bring honors not only to themselves but to the whole school and town as well.

The students who have entered any event will never regret it because they will have gained training helpful to a leader. Some of us will meet defeat but if we are the right kind of sports we will be the stronger for it.

We are all out to win, so don't forget to meet your friends at the Gray county meet March 30, and 31. We are depending on you. Don't disappoint us.

PLEA FOR CHEWING GUM.

I used to be despised and rejected by all. No one would have anything to do with me. I was an outsider. I was wretched and blue. Why did Mr. Fisher have to interfere and spoil all of my fun? He passed a rule that any one chewing me would have to write a five hundred word theme. Every one was scared of me after that. Me, that had helped them out of many scrapes. Why even when they would take their exams I was faithful to them. I help them concentrate to get their lessons.

But Mr. Fisher thinks that I detract from their studies. But, don't tell a soul and I will tell you all a secret. I think that the teachers have forgotten what Mr. Fisher said, and I notice that many of my old friends have taken me back again. I really get to see the light once in a while when the chews chews rapidly. I save to-day that half of the students had some gum in their mouths. Oh, I hope that I get my old friends back again.

School Briefs

Get busy and beat McLean. The county meet will be held in Pampa, March 30 and 31.

The Harvester girls sell candy every Saturday.

Thursday afternoon and evening the Pampa debate team will debate with Miami in the Central high school auditorium. Those debating are Harold Holmes and Mary K. Martin, in the afternoon, and Lewis Fogleman and Marjorie Jewell in the evening.

The declamation and extemporaneous speaking contests will be held at 9 o'clock Friday morning in the high school auditorium. The first place winners in these two events will represent Pampa in the county meet.

The Baker school will give a program March 22 at the high school auditorium.

Supt. Campbell, Supt. J. T. Glass of the Alameda Schools, Coach Moore of McLean, Prof. Fisher and other officials of the Gray County interscholastic meet met in Supt. Campbell's office, March 9, for the purpose of making arrangements for the county contest.

Entry blanks and other information regarding the county meet are being sent to towns of the county by Prof. Fisher, secretary.

SOPHOMORE NOTES

Who says the Sophomores aren't full of pep, for who gave the most yell, and sang the most songs in our parade. Who yells longest and loudest in chapel?

However we "Sophs" as some call us, to call us can do more than we know we are busy using all the pep we can possibly secure to defeat McLean in the Interscholastic league contest.

Three fourths of the pupils who are trying to represent Pampa in the Latin contest at Childress are Sophomores. We also have contestants in the track contest and various other contests.

To help us in this contest we are glad to have Dora Bess Bettis who has recently returned from Walnut Springs, and Ruth Wakefield, a new student.

We are sorry to have lost Mary Bell Frasher, who returned to Houston.

Essay Winners Given Prizes in Chapel Program

The Wednesday morning assembly program consisted of declamations, a debate, and awarding of prizes to the winners of the essay contest.

Marjorie Jewell and Harold Holmes debated on the question of farm relief which is the state question for debates. Harold took the affirmative and Marjorie the negative. The question was: Resolved, that congress should enact legislation embodying the principles of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill.

Dorothy McKinney and Ralph Erwin gave declamations, on "Star Spangled Banner" and "I Am an American" respectively.

Lewis Fogleman and Dee Blythe were greatly surprised in chapel when they were called to the stage by Miss Whiteley, Lewis, the winner of the local essay contest, was given a pure leather bill-fold and a key-ring in a leather case. Dee, who won second place by the narrow score of 3 to 2, was awarded a handsome flashlight.

Both boys seemed pleased and considered their efforts in the contest well worth their while. They have worked with Miss Whiteley for some time studying the hundred subjects, and have held five elimination contests. The nature of the contest is this: there are a hundred subjects from which each boy draws. He has the choice of the subject he draws or any of the four following and must plan and write his essay within the next two hours. Lewis Fogleman will now work with Miss Whiteley in preparation for the county meet in which he will represent Pampa.

Pampa Drug No. 1 who awarded the prizes for first place, and Wades Variety store, who donated the flashlight are certainly doing their part toward the schools.

STUDENTS SPEAK AT LUNCHEON

Last Thursday, March 15, Harold Holmes and Sammie Henton delivered short speeches at the Lions club luncheon. Harold Holmes, a junior, explained the McNary-Haugen Bill, and Sammie Henton spoke extemporaneously on "The Influence of the Moving Picture Show," discussing both beneficial and harmful influences. Both speeches were entertaining and well-delivered. Harold is to help represent Pampa in debating in the Gray County Interscholastic League Meet. Sammie is "in the running" for the represent Pampa in extemporaneous speeches. The schools as a whole and their respective classes are proud of such students.

Baker School Notes

Miss Noble's room won first place in the contest for the King and Queen of Baker school. The contestants were Doris Maddux and Billie Stewart. They are both striking blonds.

The pupils of Mrs. Stowell's room wish to thank all the parents and friends for their hearty co-operation and support during the beauty contest. All the pupils have enjoyed working on the beauty contest and feel very proud that so much money has been made for the Baker P. T. A.

Tommy and Janie, our contestants were loyal workers during the entire race and we are sorry they lost but feel that they are rewarded for helping such a good cause.

This is what we say: "Though Tommy Bicknell and Janie Dwight
 Lost the race for king and Queen,
 They congratulate the winners
 And wish them a happy reign."
 They will be loyal subjects until the last school day. Glad they've had part in a noble cause.
 That of the P. T. A.

Miss Wilson's fourth grade won second place in the beauty contest, and Mrs. Irwin's fourth grade won third place. Mr. Meek has just announced to us that our reward would be a half holiday for a picnic and we are all happy as we look.

Mrs. L. E. Stout, teacher of English and penmanship at Baker school, is recovering rapidly from her recent operation. We shall be glad to have her with us again. The new pupils registered in the fourth grade this week.

Miss Anderson's third grade totaled 887 votes in the popular contest. Although our room did not come out victorious, we feel that we worked hard and did our part in making money for Baker P. T. A.

The total amount made for the Baker school P. T. A. was $280.27.

FRESHMAN CLASS MEETS

The freshman held a class meeting Wednesday morning immediately after chapel. A motto and class colors were chosen.

SENIOR CLASS MEETS

The seniors met after an enjoyable chapel Wednesday morning. Plans for the commencement exercises and Baccalaureate sermon were made and several committees were appointed. A picnic for Thursday evening was also decided on and the seniors are anticipating much fun. Thelma Qualls, vice-president, presided in the absence of our president, Edward Herlaeher.

Amusements

"Sunshine Alley," which comes to the Crescent theatre tonight is a heart throbbing drama although it is sprinkled with comedy. It contains a lesson for every mother, according to H. A. Gilliland, manager of the theatre. All mothers will be admitted free tonight to see the play.

William Boyd in "The Night Flyer" is showing on the screen.

"Beauty Shoppers" is the title of the picture at the Rex theatre today. Lillian Murray and Elmer Wright and their Hicksville Follies will be on the stage this afternoon and tonight. Specialty acts are being featured by the players.

MARRIES HER BUTLER

NEW YORK, March 22.—(AP)—Mrs. J. Piermont Edwards, wealthy 73-year old widow, was married here two weeks ago to John Burden, 43, who had been her butler, but the news did not become public until today.

Mrs. Edwards was the widow of a former United States consul general to Great Britain and is socially prominent. Burden served in the black watch of the British army during the world war.

Mrs. Edwards is an aunt of Larry and Monte Waterbury, leading polo players.

Mother of Mary Pickford Dies

LOS ANGELES, March 22.—(AP)—Mrs. Charlotte Pickford, 55, mother of Mary Pickford, famous screen star, died shortly after midnight today. She had been suffering from a lingering illness.

Miss Pickford and Jack and Lottie Pickford were at the bedside when she died. A cancerous growth was reported to have been the cause of her death. The mother of movieland's best known actress was born in Toronto, Canada, and was married there to John Smith, of that city, when she was 15 years old. All of her three children were born in the Canadian city.

Mrs. Pickford, generally known only as the mother of talented children had considerable stage experience herself. After the death of her husband she entered commercial life in Toronto, a short period but finally turned to the stage. The children all acted in Toronto and Mrs. Pickford played for some time with Chaucey Olcott.

After Mary became known as a screen actress her mother gave up her own career and devoted all of her own time to the interests of her children. It was she who handled their financial interests and gave them valued instructions as to their careers. They all admit that their mother was largely responsible for their successes.

The name Pickford was assumed when the father, Smith, died. It was Getting Up Nights

For Bladder Relief, a Nature's Danger Signal, Columbus Kingler's Wife Relates Experience.

Rev. W. H. Mitchell, 324 No. Park St., Columbus, Ohio, says in his own home paper, the Columbus Dispatch: "My wife was troubled seriously with bladder irritation until we used Lithiated Buchu (Keller Formula). She had to get up 6 to 8 times each night. Will gladly answer any letters."
 "Lithiated Buchu acts on the bladder as salts do on the bowels. Drives out foreign matter and decreases excessive acidity, thereby relieving irritation. The tablets cost 25¢ each at all drug stores, Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, Ohio. Locally at Fatheree Drug Co."

THE CITY

I'd always heard them calling,
Giant cities, like a dream,
With their noble buildings reaching
To the skies—like stars—aglean.

But in every ringing city,
There was something that I missed
The friendliness—you miss it
Where streams of people twist.

The country smiles a little,
Even on the dullest day
And country folk reflect it
When they meet at work or play.
