OIL TREND IS EXTENDED TODAY

Chamber of Commerce Seeks Local Landing Field Site

COMMITTEE ON PROJECT WILL REPORT SOON

Planes Arriving Daily in Need of Well Marked Field

OIL COMPANIES TO COOPERATE

Pampa, as Center of the Panhandle Field, Must Act

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, in session yesterday afternoon considered plans for the establishment of an airport in Pampa, and appointed J. H. Lavender, Ivy Duncan, and Chas. Andrus to make a survey for site and probable costs.

Mr. Andrus, local flying enthusiast spoke at length on the need for an airport, and said that a five-year lease on a suitable site within three miles of the city would be desirable at once. He said many of the oil companies would erect hangars at the airport if given the opportunity. A report from the airport committee will be considered by the directors Monday afternoon. It was pointed out that planes are landing nearby daily, and immediate designation of a landing field is imperative. Great strides in aviation are expected to be made this summer, with the oil companies leading the way.

Mr. Still of the Still Jewelry of Electra and Pampa, arrived in Pampa this week in a new Waco biplane, stopped for the day and returned. He holds the agency for the Waco line of ship for the territory west of Fort Worth.

This was the third commercial ship to arrive in Pampa this week. Jimmy Baldrige of the firm of Baldrige Sherrin, and Clark of Dallas, oil operators of Dallas, having driven to Pampa in his new Travelair ship, a twin type ship with that used by Colonel Lindberg. Lieut. Parks, flying for the McIntyre airport of Tulsa, brought in Mr. Kotzebue of the Tulsa Boiler and Machinery company, of Tulsa, and a party of three, arrived here Monday in a new Stinson-Detroit six-passenger cabin monoplane equipped with a Wright Whirlwind motor. The party left Tulsa at 7 a. m., and arrived here at 10:30, leaving again at 2:30 and reaching Tulsa in time for dinner.

The Texas company's 12-passenger Ford-Stout, all-metal monoplane, equipped with three Wright Whirlwind motors, and is considered about the last word in aerial construction. It carries a crew of three men, a pilot, assistant-pilot and mechanic.

According to reports from the headquarters of some of the major companies, several oil company air-planes will be kept in this territory for business purposes by the major operators in this field, and Pampa bids fair to become quite a center for sport and commercial flying in the near future, several Pampans having planned to purchase planes during the coming season.

Today Is Limit For Getting Names on City Ballots

Tonight at midnight is the deadline for placing names of city candidates on the ballot for the election of April 3.

Several of those who have announced have not yet made applications on the prepared form, which requires fifteen signatures.

Interest is developing late in the election, and the line-up of candidates this morning was as follows:

For mayor—F. T. Mason, P. B. Carlson, D. W. Osborne.

For commissioner No. 1—J. E. Murree, Jr., Alex Schneider, Jr., For Commissioner No. 2—L. M. Ballow, Lynn Boyd.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Warren and Mrs. Phyllis and son of Panhandle had here yesterday.

THE WEATHER

EAST TEXAS: Tonight and Saturday partly cloudy, little change in temperature. Light to fresh southerly winds on the coast.

WEST TEXAS: Tonight and Saturday fair; cooler in north portion Saturday.

OKLAHOMA: Tonight and Saturday partly cloudy cooler in west and north portions Saturday.

Letters Read

Letters expressing love and jealousy which John Wesley Faison (above) wrote to Mrs. Elsie Holt Snipes, were read in the new trial of Faison, fornicator, Va., for the murder of the pretty school teacher. The defense held Mrs. Snipes shot herself. A former trial resulted in a hung jury.

Youth Is Held on Murder Charge Pending Analysis

FORT WORTH, March 23.—(P)—Preliminary examination of the viscera of Laura Mae Strickle, 17, Perrin school girl who was found dead early yesterday disclosed that complete analysis will not be completed until Monday. The viscera was brought here for analysis.

Pending a report from the laboratory, Robert E. Crow, Jr., 22, is held with murder charges against him. An inquest was held, but no findings announced.

Two physicians, questioned yesterday, said that the girl was about to become a mother. Dr. J. R. Woods, Perrin, declared he had received a telephone call at 1 a. m. yesterday from Crow. Met by Crow, he was conducted to the Perrin school house where the girl's body was found.

Calendar For Democrats Has Many Dates

With politics warming up for county district, and state offices, many people have asked for a political calendar to guide them. Here it is:

May 5—Precinct primaries to elect delegates to county conventions.

May 8—County conventions for national delegates.

May 22—State convention to select delegates to national convention.

June 4—Candidates for party nomination and state offices must file applications with state chairmen, and candidates for nomination for district offices must file applications with district chairmen.

June 11—State executive committee meeting to select place for state convention.

June 16—Last day to get name on official ballot for county and precinct nominations.

June 18—County executive committee meets to determine order of names on ballot and estimate the amount each candidate is to pay on ballot, and to transact other business.

June 25—Candidates must pay assessment to get name on ballot.

July 28—First state primary.

August 1—Returns made to county chairman.

August 4—County executive committee canvasses results.

August 20—State executive committee canvasses results.

August 25—Runoff primary; precinct conventions.

August 29—Returns are made to county chairmen.

September 11—State convention.

December 16—Results canvassed by state board.

Candidates for county and precinct offices will be especially interested in the date of Saturday, June 16. That is the final date that any candidate may file for county or precinct nominations.

DAM THOUGHT UNSAFE PRIOR TO DISASTER

Power House Foreman Told Survivor of His Fears

WARNINGS SENT DOWN VALLEY

Many Had Intended to Move "Tomorrow"; Too Late

LOS ANGELES, March 23.—(P)—The St. Francis dam disaster cast its shadow over the little settlement in San Francisco canyon for two days before the huge concrete wall collapsed but the warnings that were issued at a result lacked sufficient force and authority to cause immediate evacuation. The result was the loss of some 450 lives and untold property damage.

Such was the testimony revealed before a coroner's jury here in which several residents of the area immediately below the dam told their stories.

At least two men—L. Berry, power house foreman, who died in the deluge and Dave Matthews, a survivor, saw the warning shadow. Matthews, in testifying revealed that Berry and himself had inspected the Dam Saturday, March 9 (the break occurred just after midnight, 12:30 a. m.) and that Berry had said:

"Boys, the dam is not safe." Robert E. Almore, a rancher living above the dam, testified that he had sounded warnings up and down the valley to that effect.

On Monday, (the day before the break) William Mulholland, chief engineer of the Los Angeles water bureau and builder of the St. Francis dam, together with H. A. Van Norman his chief assistant, inspected the concrete structure, and while they found that everything was not as it should be, there were no indications of an immediate break. The tiny imbus of fear which had beset those in the shadow of the dam were quieted for the time. Some of them resolved to move "tomorrow."

Then when "tomorrow" was only a few minutes old, the big dam gave way and sent a deluge of water, destruction and death down the valley with little or no further warning.

Matthews testified that upon visiting the dam Saturday with Berry and the other men, the old road washed in the hillsides soaked with water and an extra large amount of water coming down the spillway. This indicated that the huge lake was seeping through the earth at one end of the structure.

Alex Schneider, Jr. Enters Name for Commissioner No. 1

Alex Schneider, Jr., after the solicitation of his many friends, has agreed to announce his candidacy for Commissioner Number 1 in the election of April 3.

Mr. Schneider's ideas and belief will be for a progressive, conservative and sound business administration, following and completing the plans that are now being formulated by the present commission.

He has a broad knowledge of civic affairs and his friends declare he is especially fitted to carry out the progressive and conservative program that would be the best for Pampa.

He has been active in all of Pampa's civic affairs for many years, and his progressiveness is witnessed by the fact that he has given to Pampa one of the greatest achievements that the new Pampa has known.

Therefore, it is pointed out, his ability and experience fit him for service in the city commission.

MANY VAGRANTS ARRESTED

Fourteen vagrants were "picked up" by officers of the sheriff's department last night, and all appeared in the Justice of the Peace court this morning with the exception of three who decided to leave town in a hurry.

Two were arrested for being drunk and disturbing the peace, while two men are in jail after having been caught with several gallons of liquor in their possession.

"Have a Dime on Me," Said Will

John D. Rockefeller, distributor of dimes, had the tables turned on him by Will Rogers, incorrigible humorist, when our photographer overtook them making the rounds of the Ormond Beach, Fla., golf course. "Have a dime on me," said Will, producing a shining new ten-cent piece which was promptly accepted. "But don't spend it all at once!"

DEATH ENDS REMARKABLE LIFE OF SENATOR FERRIS, MICHIGAN

WASHINGTON, March 23.—(P)—Senator Woodbridge N. Ferris, of Michigan, died here at 6:15 o'clock this morning from an attack of pneumonia.

The 75-year-old veteran of Michigan political battles succumbed after a little more than a week's illness which began with a heavy cold he could not shake off.

It had been planned to take him to Battle Creek as late as last Friday if his condition did not improve. That evening, however, he began to break rapidly. Then pneumonia set in, and the efforts of physicians to prolong his life proved futile.

Those at the bedside when the end came were Mrs. Ferris, two sons, Carleton and Phelps Ferris, Mrs. Ferris brother John McCloud, and Garri Masselink, vice-president of the Ferris institute and college mate of the senator.

Since last Saturday, little hope had been held for the recovery of the senator, who was known as the "Good Gray Governor" of Michigan and the man who broke through that state's normal Republican majority of 500,000 votes to be elected to the Senate in 1922 as a Democrat, something that had not been done for 70 years.

Records of County Are Now Stored in Fireproof Vault of New Quarters

One week ago today the county seat of Gray county was changed from LeFors to Pampa and the books, files, and staff were moved here. Temporary quarters were secured in the basement of the Baptist church, and Charles H. Sharp, local contractor, commenced remodeling the basement.

Today the large vault is completed and the valuable county records are placed in their fire-proof compartment. The basement of the church is fast beginning to look like a courthouse with the various offices becoming settled and activity beyond expectations.

Deputy Ray Wilson is at home in his new quarters, has his books in place, and is selling car and truck licenses. Car sales are numerous, the deputy reports.

County Judge T. M. Wolfe commenced getting his office cleaned out this morning and his books and records in place, while Sheriff E. S. Graves is planning to move his office early next week.

New telephones were installed today in the county clerk's office and the sheriff's office. The number in the clerk's office is 467, while that of the sheriff's office will remain 245.

M'CAULEY HAS 100 BARRELS IN SECTION 3

Extends Area Nearly a Mile Westward Along Trend on Morse Lease

TEST 170 FEET ABOVE THE SEA

Coming Activity Is Expected to Outline Better Production

Oil activities of the Pampa field are interesting in southeastern parts of the county, where McCauley et al's No. 1 Morse in section 3, block 26, is making 100 barrels a day from 2,402 feet or 170 feet above sea level.

This location is about five-eighths of a mile from the McCauley No. 1 in the same section which is making 100 barrels a day from 2,560 feet.

The Rensaul Petroleum company's No. 2 M. Huseley in the northeast corner of the southeast quarter of section 55, block 25, is being put on the pump today. It has been flowing 70 barrels a day natural, with very little gas. The oil is 41 gravity and is coming from 2,822 feet.

Cleaning out has commenced in the same company's No. 1 in the southeast corner of the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of the same section, which is spraying at 2,407 feet. It will be put on the pump and is expected to make 100 barrels a day.

The Shamrock Oil company's No. 1 Chapman in section 50, block 25, is spraying 25 barrels a day and rilling ahead at 2,950 feet. It is making 6,000,000 cubic feet of gas.

The Texas company plans to deepen its No. 1 Thut in section 1 E. and G. N. survey east of LeFors which has showed dry thus far.

The Texas company's No. 1 Cobb in section 202, block 3, Carson county has increased its flow of gas to 57,000,000 cubic feet at 2,585 feet.

Officers Confiscate Liquor and Arrest Several Persons

Officers of the sheriff's department, assisted by city officers Weds, made one arrest and confiscated 53 gallons of corn whiskey and six gallons of alcohol at a residence. The liquor was stored in the house.

Bond was set at $750 and was made this morning after the occupant of the house had waived an examining trial.

Officers of the sheriff's department also made a raid later in the evening making three arrests and capturing four gallons of whiskey.

Much Building Is Being Started Here

Pampa's spring building program goes on uninterrupted by weather conditions, removal of the courthouse or the signing of the new railroad and gives promise of being the greatest building year in the history of the city.

Alex Schneider has taken a permit to commence the erection of his third home in the Buckler addition. He plans to erect six houses on his lots there and sell them upon completion.

The new home with garage will cost $3,750 and is being built by H. V. Freeman, local building contractor.

S. E. Hunt is having a $2,000 home built on his lot in the North addition by Geo. O. Nolan, building contractor.

The contractor for the Pampa Lumber company is erecting a $3,000 home for J. M. Baxter in the Cook addition with large garage.

Officers Hunt Killer of Houston Man

HOUSTON, March 23.—(P)—Every available police officer Friday was searching for the slayer of William Leary, 26, who was shot down, apparently by a robber, in a residence section here Thursday night a short distance from his home. Conscious but unable to talk, he died in a hospital a little later.

Mrs. H. M. Lomax returned from a two-month trip during which she visited friends and relatives in Houston, Galveston, and Atlanta, Ga.

GIRL ALONE

ANNE AUSTIN AUTHOR OF "SAINT AND SINNER"

THIS HAS HAPPENED
Sally Ford, 16, is "farmed out" to Clem Carson for the summer and prepares to leave the state, orphanage which has been her home since she was four. Sally dislikes the farmer and recalls stories of drudgery and fatigued bodies, which the girls have told after a summer at the Carson farm.

When she leaves she begs Miss Pond, the orphanage's principal, to tell her mother that she is disappointed to learn that she is calling herself her mother. The orphanage when she returned to see if she had any children who were like her. She runs away with Clem and then with Mrs. Stone's help, she runs away from the farm. She is a good girl, but she is a little queer, different male beings who would want to "take liberties" with her.

DAILY RUN SHEET

far away from the "flivver" Mrs. Stone's flying warnings her mind; "mustn't let it with you" "g you ought to be a nurse" "nature" "er self, her v that she jht in as the want- ..d shrink again, too "s of life," as Mrs. Stone, blushing embarrassed had called the half-utts she had told Sally. She wanted to climb over the door of the car, drop into the hot dust of the road, and run like a dog-chased rabbit back into the safety of the Home. There were no men there—no queer, different male beings who would want to "take liberties" with her.

panicky feeling that, like such a dismembered limb, she would wither and die away from that big body of which she had been a part for so long. But it was pleasant to bump swiftly along the hot, dusty white road, fringed with odoriferous, flowering weeds. Houses became less and less frequent; fewer children ran barefoot along the road scurrying out of the path of the automobile. Occasionally a woman, with a baby sprawling on her hip, appeared in the doorway of a roadside shack and shaded her eyes with her hand as she squinted at the car.

As the miles sped away Carson seemed to feel the need of impressing upon her the fact that her summer was not to be one of unalloyed pleasure. He sketched the life of the farm, her own work upon it, as if to prepare her for the worst. "My wife's got the reputation of being a hard woman," he told her confidentially. "But she's a good woman, good clean through. She works her own fingers to the bone, and she can't abide a lazy trifling girl around the place. You work hard, Sally, and speak nice and respectable, and you two'll get on, I warrant."

"Well, Sally," he told her at last "here's your new home. This lane leads past the orchards—I got 10 acres in fruit trees, all of 'em bearing—and the gardens, then right up to the house. Pretty fine place, if I do say so myself. I got 280 acres in all, quite a sizeable farm for the middle west. Don't them orchards look pretty?"

Sally came out of her frightened reverie, forced her eyes to focus on the beautiful picture spread out on a giant canvas before her. Then she gave an involuntary exclamation of pleasure. Row after row of fruit trees, evenly spaced and trimmed to perfection stretched before her on the right. The child in her wanted to spring from the seat of the car, run ecstatically from tree to tree, to snatch sun-ripened fruit.

"You have a good fruit crop," she said firmly. "There's the house." The farmer pointed to the left. "Six rooms and a garret. My daughter, Pearl, dogged the life out of me until I had electric lights put in, and a fancy bathtub. She even made me get a radio, but if comes in right handy in the evenings specially in winter. My daughter, Pearl, can think of more ways for me to spend money than I can to earn it," he added with a chuckle, so that Sally knew he was proud of Pearl, proud of her urban tastes.

The car swept up to the front of the house; Clem Carson's hand on the horn summoned his women folks.

The house, which seemed small to Sally, accustomed to the big buildings of the orphanage, was further dwarfed by the huge red barns that towered at the rear. The house itself was white, not so recently painted as the lordly barns, but it was pleasant and home-like, the sort of house which Sally's chums at the orphanage had pictured as an ideal home, when they had let their imaginations run away with them.

Sally herself, born with a different picture of home in her mind, had romanced about a house which would have made this one look like servants quarters, but now that it was before her she felt a thrill of pleasure. At least it was a home, not an institution.

A woman, big, heavy-bosomed, sternly corseted beneath her snugly fitting starched blue chambray house dress appeared upon the front porch and stood shading her eyes against the western sun, which revealed the thinness of her iron-gray hair and the deep wrinkles in her tanned face.

"Why didn't you drive around to the back?" she called harshly. "This young-up ain't company, to be traipsin' through my front room. Did you bring them rubber rings for my fruit jars?"

"You betcha!" Clem Carson refused to be daunted in Sally's presence. "How's Pearl, Ma? Cold any better? I brought her some salve for her throat, and some candy."

"She's all right," Mrs. Carson shouted, as if the car were a hundred yards away. "And why you want to be throwin' your money away on patent medicine salves is more'n I can see! I can make a better salve any day outa kerosene and lard and turpentine. Reckon you didn't get my car-mels for me! Pearl's all you think of."

"Got you half a pound of car-mels," Carson shouted laughing. "I'll drive the new girl around back."

"Ma's got a sharp tongue, but she don't mean no harm," Carson chuckled, as he swung the car around the house.

When it shivered to a stop between the barns and the house, the farmer lifted out a few bundles which had crowded Sally's feet then threw up the cover of the hatch in the rear of the car, revealing more bundles. Carson was loading her arms with parcels when he saw a miracle wrought on her pale timid face.

"Lord! You look pretty enough to eat!" Clem Carson ejaculated, but he saw then that she was not even aware that he was speaking to her.

Carson's daughter, Pearl is not so friendly, as Sally learns in the next chapter.

THAT AIRPORT—"Pampa is in the heart of the Panhandle oil field. This might not have been true a year or more ago, but it is today as every oil man will tell you."

The speaker, with large oil interests, was speaking, without bias or sentiment, an established fact. And Pampa, as the Panhandle oil capital, is a transportation and communication center. Already apparent, this truth will be much more evident in the next few weeks and months.

Oil men are the largest users of airplane transportation. Theirs is a business in which time is highly important and expense is often a secondary factor. The success of aviation for commercial use is no longer debatable. Many of the big companies operating in the Pampa field will henceforth use planes to transport men and light materials whenever speed is desirable.

Pampa must be hospitable, and that means an airport. Action is vital, since air routes are being laid out and every designation of a city from a landing field standpoint means much publicity in the channels where it is most valuable. Pampa has talked of an airport for more than six years. The time has come for action. Let the word go out that the Queen City of the Plains has a nice smooth spot for air travelers. The task should not be extremely difficult; our horizon is level, welcoming winged visitors.

COURTESIES—Hospitality is a great thing. It is logical not to expect visitors to know traffic rules peculiar to a city, and to allow them to go their Gouging of visitors for the way after a courteous warning. fines is certainly not to be countenanced.

On the other hand, it should not be assumed by visitors that recklessness will be tolerated. Abuse of hospitality is a grave offense, and violation of ordinances in common use in a territory cannot be attributed wholly to ignorance. One occasionally sees examples of wanton recklessness by smart alec visitors out to attract attention. The safety of local citizens is a consideration to be ranked above hospitality as such.

Visitors should be very much treated according to their own spirit and intention. While courtesy must sometimes be demanded, officers should have a definite understanding of their duty in respect to visitors who abuse their privileges. The visitor is king—until he becomes a clown.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—When the fastest sprinter in a race slips in a mud puddle the next fast-runner often has a chance.

Thus, a school of thought has been growing up which holds that the Democratic party has a chance to elect a president next fall as a result of recent exposures of Republican methods of campaign financing, piled on top of previous exposures of the iniquities of certain Republicans in high office.

Some of the most prominent Democrats in the party were once fully as pessimistic about their November prospects as the most optimistic Republicans. Today, many Democrats are more optimistic, and many Republicans less so.

This supposes a purity of mind and a shockability on the part of the electorate which some of the more cynical fellows believe simply doesn't exist. For all the things that have been proved about ex-members and present members of the Harding-Coolidge cabinet, it may be difficult to convince the required millions of voters to believe that the Republican party deserves to be flung from the feed box.

And the same gents who have begun to admit that the other party has a fair chance add in the next breath that the Democrats are likely to heave away this chance in favor of a good old party fracas like that of 1924.

Governor Al Smith, who has much the best chance of being nominated, is the only one of the three principal candidates for nomination in his party who has not had a large part in exposure of Republican corruption of one sort or another. That is, Senators Reed and Walsh are the two Democrats best fitted to attack the G. O. P. in its weakest spot. Of course this has fallen within their line of duty; Smith hasn't been in a position to do it. He has a little sideshow of his own in the case of Mrs. Knapp, the former New York secretary of state, but one can't get far by simply attacking a weak woman, and Smith has more sense than to try it. It may be that Smith, if he is nominated, will be able to grab this issue of large scale corruption and use it for all it is worth, but he hasn't made the barest attempt to do so in the past.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: The early Ministry of Jesus.

Scripture Lesson: Matt. 3:1-6

1. Behold, I send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me; and the Lord, whom ye seek, will suddenly come to his temple; and the messenger of the covenant, whom ye desire, behold, he cometh, saith Jehovah of hosts.

2. But who may abide the day of his coming, and who shall stand when he appeareth? for he is like a refiner's fire, and like fuller's scribe.

3. And he shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver; and he shall purify the sons of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver, that they may offer unto the Lord an offering in righteousness.

4. Then shall the offering of Judah and Jerusalem be pleasant unto the Lord, as in the days of old, and as in former years.

5. And I will come near to you to judgment; and I will be a swift witness against the profane, and against the adulterers, and against false swearers, and against those that oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow, and the fatherless, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and fear not me, saith the Lord of hosts.

6. For I am the Lord, I change not; therefore ye sons of Jacob are not consumed.

Golden Text—And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of disease and all manner of sickness—Matt. 9:35.

Review Statement
All the lessons of this quarter have been taken from the book of Mark, beginning with the very first verses of the first chapter. These verses contain two Old Testament prophecies of the preaching of John the Baptist. One of the prophecies is taken from Malachi 3:1, and the other from Isaiah 40:3.

The lessons cover a period of a little more than two years of the public ministry of Jesus, extending from the date of his baptism in January, A. D. 27, until April or May, A. D. 29, when he performed his notable miracles of feeding the Five Thousand, followed immediately by an almost equally striking miracle when he walked on the surface of the storm tossed Sea of Galilee.

Mark's Gospel, so brief, so vivid, so picturesque, pulses with life in every sentence, and presents the story of the Christ with ruthless clearness, simplicity and force. Like in the Acts is the model historian, accurate, sympathetic, strong, wisely allowing the many characters of the narrative to speak for themselves. Paul in his Epistles is powerful and winsome, with all the eloquence and wisdom of a life filled with the Holy Spirit and directed by him to the most masterful of Christian enterprises.

The topics of the twelve lessons, the golden texts and some of the important points in the different lessons are as follows:

I. Jan. 1 John the Baptist and Jesus Mark 1:1-13. Golden Text: He must increase, but I must decrease.—John 3:30
The Gospel of Mark. His theme! Jesus Christ the Son of God. The preparation for Jesus. Old Testament references. John and his preaching. The baptism of Jesus. The Temptation.

II. Jan. 8. Jesus and the Sick. Mark 1:21-45. Golden Text: He hath done all things well; he maketh even the deaf to hear, and the dumb to speak.—Mark 7:37.

Jesus as a Healer, of body and soul Capernaum. The synagogue. Demon possession and unclean spirits. Religion and gospel's ministry to the mentally diseased. Peter's home, and his wife's mother. The healing of the hand Wonder deeds at eventide.

III. Jan. 15, Jesus and sinners. Mark 2:1-17. Golden Text: I came not to eat the wheat, but sinners. Mark 2:17. Jesus' fame at Capernaum. Where he lived there. The paralytic and his in-laws. The Christian and the law. Golden Text: Think not that I came to destroy the law or the prophets: I came not to destroy, but to fulfill.—Matt. 5:17.

IV. Jan. 22, Jesus and the Law. (Temperance Announcements.) Mark 2:18-3:6. Golden Text: Think not that I came to destroy the law or the prophets: I came not to destroy, but to fulfill.—Matt. 5:17.

Jesus and Judaism. Jesus and fasting. Jesus and the Sabbath. The divine meaning of the day. In the grain field. Human need. Saving life on the Sabbath. The Christian and the law. Golden Text: Think not that I came to destroy the law or the prophets: I came not to destroy, but to fulfill.—Matt. 5:17.

Two pictures. Jesus' Galilean popularity. His drawing power and the crowds. Hostility of the Jewish leaders. The testimony of demons. Jesus avoids open conflict with the Jews. The human need that could be avoided.

VI. Feb. 5, Jesus Misunderstood and Opposed. Mark 3:19b-35; 6:1-6. Golden Text: He came unto his own, and they that were his own received him not. But as many as received him, to them gave he the right to become children of God, even to them that believe on his name.—John 1:11-12.

Various attitudes toward Jesus. Jewish misconceptions of the Messiah. Lack of sympathy on the part of friends and kindred. An infamous charge, and Jesus' rejoinder. The unpardonable sin. The rejection at Nazareth, and Jesus' family.

VII. Feb. 12, Jesus pictures the Kingdom of God. Mark 1:14, 15; 4:1-34. Golden Text: Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, as in heaven, so on earth.—Matt. 6:10.

Parable of the Sower. Earth soils and heart soils. The teachings of the parable. The other parable: How the kingdom grows. Growth and the Christian. Much out of little in the church of Christ.

VIII. Feb. 19, Two Miracles of Power. Mark 4:35-5. Golden Text: Who then is this, that even the wind and the sea obey him?—Mark 4:41. Jesus stills the tempest. The human and the divine in the storm. Jesus' confidence and the concern of the disciples. He calms a "brain-storm." Jesus casts out a Legion of Devils. Gerasa Uncleanliness as the abode of evil. The appreciation of the man, and the selfish spirit of his countrymen.

IX. Feb. 26, Other Mighty Works of Jesus. Mark 5:22-43. Golden Text: Thy faith hath made thee whole.—Mark 5:34. Miracle within miracle. The appeal of an anxious father. Ruler of a synagogue. A shrinking faith and its victory. Medicine in Bible times. The added blessing. The why of Jesus' delays. Grief in the Pre-Christian world. The thoughtfulness of Jesus.

X. Mar. 4, Jesus and the Twelve. Mark 1:16-20; 2:13, 14; 3:13-19; 6:7-13. Golden Text: Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to the whole creation.—Mark 16:15. Circles of discipleship. The first call. The select of Jesus; three, twelve, seventy, all his following. Jesus' need of companionship, and of helpers. Why the Twelve? His method of selection. A typical mission. Instruction. "Two by two."

XI. Mar. 11, Jesus feeds the Multitudes. Mark 6:31-44; 8:1-10. Golden Text: I am the bread of life; he that cometh to me shall not hunger, and he that believeth on me shall never thirst.—John 6:35.

The crest of the Galilean popularity. Need of rest and relaxation. The compassion of Jesus. The exigency and the Twelve. "Give ye them to eat!" and its lessons for us. The miracle meal. The effects of the miracle. Nothing wasted.

XII. Mar. 18.—Jesus Teaches Sincerity. Mark 7:1-23. Golden Text—Keep thy heart with all diligence; For out of it are the issues of life.—Prov. 4:23. Pharisees and scribes. Their faults in Jesus' eyes. Use and abuse of commandments, regulations, and forms of worship. Wrong traditions of men before commandments of God. What soils the soul.

Six Are Killed When Burning Tree Hits Automobile

LEAF, Miss., March 23.—(P)—A huge Mississippi pine tree which had been set ablaze three days ago during a minor forest fire burned through yesterday and crashed across a roadway burying seven children and the driver of an automobile in which they were riding beneath its blazing mass.

David Goff, driver of the automobile, and his fourteen-year-old daughter, seated beside him, met instant death. At the same moment, Nettie and Gladis Goff, eleven-year-old twin daughters of William Goff, and Edna Goff, 14, and Eva Mizell, 12, suffered fatal injuries from the crash. Horace and Erastus Goff, 7 and 9 years old respectively, were seriously burned and suffered possible fractures, but escaped with their lives.

The bodies of the Elder Goff and the five girls whom he was taking to school were burned almost beyond recognition.

DIES OF HICCOUGHS

LOS ANGELES, Calif. March 23.—(P)—After four days of hiccoughing A. M. Chandler, a railway employe, died here last night.

Chandler began hiccoughing Monday morning and after all efforts to stop it proved futile he was taken to the hospital. Physicians said the hiccoughing was a result of highly nervous conditions and other factors brought about by several months' illness.

MINERS HURT IN CLASH

CADIZ, Ohio, March 20.—(P)—Several men were injured today in a clash between employed miners and alleged union adherents at the Wheeling township mine six miles east of here. The attackers, led by a woman, hurled stones and other missiles at about 30 workers as they prepared to enter the mine. The attackers numbered about 100 men and women.

EARTHQUAKE WAS SEVERE

MEXICO CITY, March 23.—(P)—Had Wednesday night's earthquake in Mexico City lasted a few minutes longer at least 50 per cent of the buildings in the city would have collapsed. In the opinion of Joaquin Gallo, head of the Tacubaya observatory.

The violence of the quake also was emphasized by Pedro Sanchez, chief of the geographical section of the department of agriculture, who said that the city's muddy subsoil, acting like a cushion, saved the day.

OFFICER STILL ALIVE

COLUMBIANA, Ala., March 23.—(P)—A special grand jury investigation was imminent and Police Chief H. F. Blake today lay with a thrust in the neck from a hunting knife because two grief stricken women had steadfastly refused to accept either his story of the formal pronouncement of a court of law about the death of Louise Montararo last November.
