

Lawmakers Ask President To Explain U.S. Involvement In New War

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the United States sending ships and planes to Southeast Asia, 17 Senate and 34 House members have expressed concern to President Nixon over what they said "appears to be a major escalation of U.S. involvement in the war."

In a letter to the President they asked him for a full report on the size, purpose and cost of contemplated U.S. military action in Indochina. "If news reports are accurate, our country is now assembling in Southeast Asia one of the largest air armadas in military history," the Members of Congress for Peace Through Law told Nixon.

"The use of such a force would certainly add not only to the destruction our bombing has already brought to the people and land of Indochina, but also to the number of American casualties and prisoners of war."

"We believe," their letter said, "the American people should be fully informed if such a major new commitment of lives and resources is, in fact, being made in Southeast Asia."

The United States has sent more than 160 war planes to Southeast Asia in the past 10 days for the air counterattack against North Vietnam's spring offensive.

Two Navy carriers with about 100 more attack planes are en route but it will take weeks for them to reach positions off Vietnam where four other carriers already are stationed.

Most of the air reinforcements have flown from the United States while the remainder have been drawn from bases in Japan and Okinawa. Several more air squadrons reportedly are on standby alert in the United States, but Pentagon sources indicated they may not go.

The new buildup approved by President Nixon has boosted American strength in South Vietnam, Thailand, Guam and aboard carriers off Vietnam to about 700 heavy bombers, fighter-bombers and other attack planes.

This is about twice as many strike planes as were in the war zone before February when the first air and carrier reinforcements were dispatched in anticipation of the offensive. But the total is well short of the roughly 1,200 U.S. bombers and fighter-bombers committed to the air war at its peak in 1968.

Meanwhile, White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said President Nixon's decision on whether to continue U.S. troops' withdrawals from Vietnam will depend on circumstances immediately before May 1. On that date U.S. troop strength is scheduled to be 69,000.

"Our intent and our hope and our policy is to continue with troop withdrawals, but I'm not going to predict what decision the President might make," Ziegler said.

Ziegler also dropped a hint that the United States is seeking to break the stalemate in the Paris peace talks by going through private channels.

The "enemy knows full well what it takes to proceed to full negotiations," Ziegler said. "When the record is known, the U.S. will not be found wanting."

"Those will always rejoice in the evening, if they spend the day profitably."

President Nixon To Pay 40-Hour Visit To Canada

Meaningful Negotiation Unlikely

THURMONT, Md. (AP) — President Nixon, who embarks on a 40-hour visit to Canada tonight, was cloistered at nearby Camp David today to put the finishing touches on a speech that could mean the success or failure of the journey.

Few officials expect anything approaching meaningful negotiations during the three-day visit, which comes at a time when economic disagreements beset the two countries.

Barely two hours of private discussions between Nixon and Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau are scheduled, and they are expected to touch on differences only in broad terms.

Nixon faces a re-election test in November and Trudeau almost certainly will face an election by October, making meaningful negotiations even more difficult.

For Trudeau, more than Nixon, across-the-border relations are a major political issue, making major concessions before the elections virtually impossible.

In addition, Canadian officials have taken precautions designed to isolate Nixon from the crowds that normally would make for good election-year publicity back in the United States.

They are still wary following an assault on visiting Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin last October and expect anti-Nixon, anti-war and anti-American demonstrators to make their presence felt during Nixon's visit.

All of these factors mean that the success or failure of Nixon's visit may well hinge on what he says when he addresses Canada's Parliament Friday.

With this in mind, the chief executive flew to Camp David Wednesday night with speechwriter Lee Huebner and aide Alexander Butterfield to work on the address.

Army Brig. Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr., deputy assistant for national-security affairs, also made the brief helicopter flight to the presidential retreat.

But the White House said Haig went along only to brief Nixon on Vietnam, not to stay overnight.

City Board To Hold Hearing On '72 Tax Roll Assessment

Three men were appointed by city commissioners today to conduct hearings with city taxpayers and discuss property valuations for the purpose of preparing the 1972 city tax roll.

James McCune, 811 N. Frost, and R.M. Samples, 528 Red Deer, were reappointed to the City Tax Equalization Board. R.A. Baker, 2216 Charles, was appointed as a new member.

The new equalization board is expected to hold a public hearing in mid-May at which time it will hear evidence on valuations, compare values and finally set equalized values upon which the 1972 tax roll assessments will be made.

In other business at today's adjourned session of the city commission:

Results of the Tuesday April 4 city election were canvassed and Ward 2 Commissioner R.D. Wilkerson and Ward 4 Commissioner Arthur J. Rohde Sr., were sworn into office for two-year terms.

A public hearing was held on the removal of several buildings condemned as fire hazards and dangerous to human life. Continuance was granted on valuations located at 416-420 N. West and 309 W. Tuke after it was reported reasonable progress was being made by the owners in removing them.

Commissioners, however, approved a recommendation of the city manager that buildings at 925 Ripley and 321 N. Zimmers be demolished and removed by the city.

Approval was given to Tommie Nichols, 1821 N. Banks, to take over the Yellow Cab Co. taxicab permit from the current operator, Connie Lockhart.

May 9 was set as the date to receive bids for seal-coating city streets.

Second and final reading of ordinance providing for a no parking area on N. Hobart, 200 feet north of the Hobart-Francis intersection, and for a cost rate adjustment to Pioneer Natural Gas Co. amounting to an approximate 7 cents a month increase for the average residential consumer, were approved.

First reading of an ordinance to improve N. Sumner St. from Coronado Dr. to Kentucky St. was approved.

Other routine business included approval for payment of March bills in the amount of $107,572.42 and acceptance of routine salary changes for March.

Don't Forget To Send Entry For Contest

The entries continue to pile up in the City of Pampa Contest to name the banquet hall in the new civic auditorium.

If you haven't sent yours, mail it today. Tuesday, April 18 is the deadline. The entries will be judged Wednesday, April 19. The winner will be announced April 20.

City commissioners will be the judges. The person who submits the winning name will be awarded a $50 U.S. Savings Bond.

Mail your entry to the Auditorium Contest Editor, The Pampa News, Box 2196, Pampa.

The contest rules are simple. Only one name may be entered by each person. Only residents of Gray County will be eligible to enter the contest.

In event the same name is submitted by two or more persons, the entry bearing the earliest mail postmark will be judged winner.

Top O' Texans To Meet Friday

Members of the Chamber of Commerce Top O' Texas Club will act as greeters at the dedicatory program for the new civic auditorium Sunday, April 23.

Carlton Freeman, club president, today called a meeting of all club members for 11 a.m. tomorrow in the Chamber of Commerce conference room.

"It is urgent that all members attend," Freeman said. "This will be a briefing session for our members who will serve as ushers."

CELANESE CORPORATION had a net income of $12.2 million, equal to 81 cents per share of common stock, and sales totaling $332.1 million in the first quarter of 1972.

The announcement was made here Wednesday by John W. Brooks, president and chief executive officer, at the corporation's annual stockholders meeting in the Essex House Hotel.

Earnings per share were 12 per cent lower and sales were 16 per cent higher than in the first three months of 1971, when the corporation had a net income of $13.7 million, equal to 92 cents a share, and sales of $286.7 million.

The 1971 figures are restated to reflect the merger, effective last April, of Stein, Hall and Co., Inc., which was treated as a pooling of interests, and adoption of the equity method of accounting.

Brooks said that although earnings had continued at depressed levels from late 1971 into January and February this year, there was a business upturn in March.

As a result, last month's earnings were more than 50 per cent higher than the levels of January and February.

"Although the March results indicate a more favorable trend," Brooks said, "they were not sufficient to bring earnings for the first quarter as a whole to a satisfactory level."

"However, the recent improvement in sales and earnings would appear to indicate that the sharp downturn experienced during the three-month period of December through February was temporary."

Corporation directors also declared a dividend of 50 cents a share on the common stock, payable June 28 to shareholders of record on June 1.

All preferred stock dividends are payable July 1 to shareholders of record on June 1.

Youth Charged With Slaying Two San Benito School Girls

SAN BENITO, Tex. (AP) — A handsome Mexican-American youth who appears to be younger than his years was charged with murder Wednesday in the strangulation slaying of two San Benito high school girls.

Antonio Rios Zepeda Jr., 19, a San Benito youth who has recently been working in Ohio as a migrant laborer, was arraigned on two charges of murder by Justice of the Peace Romeo Garza. The arraignment took place in the San Benito police station as a crowd of relatives and friends of the victims, many of them visibly upset and filled with emotion, gathered outside.

Zepeda is accused of killing by strangulation Patricia Segura and Maria Norma Delgado, both 15-year-old freshmen at San Benito High School. The girls, who were last seen alive when they left the high school at noon Tuesday, were found floating in irrigation canals.

Garza ordered Zepeda held in the Cameron County jail at Brownsville without bond. Apparently mindful of the growing, angry crowd outside, Garza told the youth as he denied bond "there are several reasons for doing this and I think you know what they are."

Zepeda, dressed in a white T-shirt and blue checkered trousers, kept his head down and spoke in an almost whisper during the arraignment.

Saying he understood what Garza had read in explaining his constitutional rights, Zepeda quietly asked Garza to appoint a lawyer for him. "I can't afford one," he whispered.

The youth's father, dressed in a straw hat, white shirt and brown trousers, stood beside his son during the arraignment. He discussed the court-appointed lawyer with Garza in Spanish.

The elder Zepeda told newsmen he and his son were working in Ohio and returned to the Lower Rio Grande Valley only last weekend when someone burglarized their permanent home here. They had planned to return to Ohio late Wednesday or early Thursday.

San Benito Police Sgt. Edelmiro Lucio said the younger Zepeda is married, but said he does not know where his wife lives.

Texas Ranger Jack Dean of McAllen, who headed most of the investigation, agreed to allow Zepeda a chance to talk with his father before he was taken to the county jail.

As the time grew near for Zepeda to be taken from the police station to a waiting car for the 20-mile drive to Brownsville, the crowd grew.

Women and children stood in groups. Many of them wept openly and moaned as they waited. Suddenly, the front door opened and Zepeda, handcuffed and flanked by two deputies, was lead from the building.

One officer, thinking they were going to take the youth out a rear door, had moved the car to the rear of the building.

PHS Model Congress To Debate Various Bills

Students attending the Pampa High School Model Congress on April 22 will debate bills ranging from school busing to gun control, Jaycee Mike Holmgren, bills subcommittee chairman, announced today. The morning session will be devoted to writing bills and determining their order on the calendar of the afternoon session.

Participating in the event will be Republican Sen. John Tower and Congressman Graham Purcell and Bob Price. They will supervise the different sessions with the students.

"One of our bills would prohibit the use of the mails for the transportation or distribution of pornographic materials," Holmgren said. "The busing bill simply forbids signing students to schools on the basis of race, creed or color."

"Another bill would make medicare available to anyone who would pay the premiums regardless of his age. One of the more controversial bills will likely be the one which would require ballistic tests of all firearms to be placed on file with the F.B.I. This might be an aid to law enforcement officers in solving some crimes involving firearms, but I think gun owners generally are violently against any type of registration."

"Wire tapping, electronic surveillance devices and capital punishment would be abolished if the students pass the bills as

"We also will have an opportunity to get students' reaction to mercy killings and required sex education."

"The two most powerful committees will be the rules committees," Holmgren said. "The House rules committee is one of the most powerful committees in Congress. In order to give more students the opportunity of understanding the importance of this committee, we will also have a rules committee for the Senate, although in actual practice the Senate does not use such a committee."

General chairman John W. Warner said he expected the students to make extensive changes in the bills they pass in committee.

"This is what happened in most committees last fall when we had the Model Legislature on the state legislative process," Warner said. "The Jaycee-Ettes will re-type the bills during the lunch hour so all students may have a copy when the floor debates begin after lunch."

Mrs. Carol Stanley is the Jaycee-Ette chairman.

Howard Graham, the coordinator of the project at the high school, said Pampa students will have an opportunity to register for the Congress beginning Friday at the high school. Students from 26 area high schools have been invited to attend.

Bulletin

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation reported a Frontier Airlines 737 jet was skyjacked over New Mexico today by two men who said they wanted to go to Los Angeles.

The FBI and Phoenix police said two men were involved, and that the pilot had been ordered to land at Phoenix.

Neither agency knew how many passengers were aboard the twin-jet plane.

Frontier said the flight originated in Denver, with stops scheduled at Albuquerque, Tucson and Phoenix.

IRS Prepares To Battle Fraudulent Tax Returns

Internal Revenue Service has thrown 15,000 more of its people into the war against fraudulent tax return preparers. Beginning today, Internal Revenue Service Offices throughout the nation will be open as long as necessary and will be manned tomorrow to help taxpayers prepare their returns.

Said Ellis Campbell, Jr., IRS district director: "This is a major change in policy and it is most necessary. We have been limited before to advise and counsel—now, we can give the taxpayer complete tax return service and it is free."

The nationwide action was launched after Internal Revenue discovered in some instances up to 97 per cent of the commercial tax preparers were preparing grossly inaccurate or openly fraudulent returns for their customers.

Campbell said for the Dallas District, the percentage was 65 per cent but he added this was not a scientific sample.

"We aimed at preparers who were already suspect," Campbell added. "We felt that for sometime that things were not what they should be, as a result of several investigations completed sometime ago, we have secured indictments against two Dallas preparers, and one Fort Worth return preparer since January, 1972."

Campbell continued, "We were already offering extended telephone service to taxpayers at the Dallas and Fort Worth offices. Effective today, we have also extended the office hours to the Dallas and Fort Worth offices."

All IRS offices will be open from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. today, Friday, Saturday and Monday.

"We are not only going to help prepare returns, we will also help the taxpayers who may have been victimized by unscrupulous, so-called return preparers. If these taxpayers will come to us and tell us what happened, we will help them file a form 1040-X—that's a form on which they can correct their previous original return. It is a simple thing to do, and no one should hesitate. If they wait and they are audited, their situation may not be as simple," Campbell explained.

"Our efforts are aimed at the opportunist who uses false or misleading advertisement to attract customers. Such preparers often alter the number of dependents or deductions to illegally decrease the tax liability. They sometimes alter the addresses on tax returns so that the refunds will go to themselves instead of the taxpayer."

Long Road Of Rehabilitation Lies Ahead For Ex-President

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Former President Lyndon B. Johnson faces a long road of enforced peace and quiet as he recuperates from a major heart attack, but doctors indicate he may be able to return to a fairly active life.

"I expect him to recuperate and convalesce in a very satisfactory fashion and I am very optimistic about the outcome," his attending physician, Army Col. Robert L. North, said Wednesday.

Johnson, 63, flew to Brooke Army General Hospital early Wednesday after suffering his first heart attack since 1955 in Charlottesville, Va., six days ago.

The former president looked pale and strained when he arrived, but doctors said Wednesday that he was comfortable throughout his flight and had experienced no chest pains or other problems since being admitted to Brooke.

There was no indication when Johnson will be discharged. "We'll look at that from day to day," said Dr. J. Willis Hurst, Johnson's personal heart specialist.

Hurst accompanied Johnson here from Virginia. Hospital officials said he returned to his home in Atlanta later Wednesday, planning to keep in contact with Col. North.

Hurst said Johnson is in the midst of the second phase of rehabilitation. "It will be a process of gradual rehabilitation for the next several weeks," he told newsmen.

North, who has treated Johnson on his previous stays at Brooke, said the former chief executive's condition will be assessed constantly to determine the best level of activity.

"There's no reason at this point to believe that President Johnson is going to be severely limited as far as his physical capabilities are concerned," North said.

Mrs. Johnson, who flew to Texas with her husband, said she felt his recuperation this time "is better than it was in the 1955 attack. All signs, strictly from my standpoint, have been really reassuring."

Saying Johnson was "feeling great" Wednesday, Hurst noted that "from the time he was admitted, he—like many people—wanted to be as close to home as possible."

Modern medical equipment, including a portable heart monitor, made it possible to transfer him here, Hurst said. "Now we feel it's terribly important for him to have simply peace and quiet."

Brookie is only about 60 miles from the LBJ Ranch.

"It's mighty good to be this close to home," Mrs. Johnson said.

Although former President Lyndon B. Johnson apparently has suffered permanent damage to his heart, it doesn't necessarily mean severe consequences, one of his doctors says.

"My best judgment at this time is that there will be some permanent damage," Dr. J. Willis Hurst of Atlanta, Johnson's personal heart specialist, said here Wednesday.

He said the front part of Johnson's heart was affected by the heart attack he suffered.

U. S. House Unit Studies Complaints About Rep. Dowdy

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House committee was expected to rule today on a complaint that Rep. John Dowdy, D-Tex., has been using his franking free mail privilege to promote his wife's candidacy for the House.

The complaint was filed with the House Election Campaign Committee by State Sen. Charles Wilson of Lufkin, Tex., who also is running for Congress.

Mrs. Dowdy is seeking the Democratic nomination to succeed her husband, who recently was convicted on a bribery charge and chose not to seek reelection.

Wilson charged that Dowdy was franking political literature in behalf of Mrs. Dowdy's campaign and was allowing his press secretary, Gerald Yoes, to work in support of her candidacy.

Committee chairman Rep. Thomas P. O'Neill, D-Mass., said the committee had dropped two charges regarding the sending of franked mail to people outside Dowdy's district and Yoes' activities in support of Mrs. Dowdy's campaign.

TEXAS POLITICAL ROUNDUP

NTSU Willing To Provide Forum For Public Debate

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Students at North Texas State University have told Democratic gubernatorial nomination candidates that if they are really serious about a public debate they (the students) will be happy to provide the forum—the University's main auditorium.

A group of student journalists announced Wednesday night that NTSU officials have approved the use of the auditorium for a public debate among candidates.

Steve Monk, a junior from Gail, explained that telegrams have been sent to Gov. Preston Smith, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, Rep. Frances Farenthold and Uvalde rancher Dolph Briscoe.

Monk said that "the candidates have been saying as long as we can remember that they want to debate... so we thought we would take the initiative and offer them a platform from which to speak."

He stressed that Barnes once told him in an interview that he would "cancel any plans in order to debate the other candidates, and that Mrs. Farenthold also noted her willingness to participate in a debate."

In Amarillo, Mrs. Farenthold reiterated she is ready to take on her opponents, but added she is not sure the debate will ever take place.

"After all," she said, "it was the lieutenant governor who offered to debate in the first place. Now Barnes is hiding behind Briscoe and Briscoe is hiding behind the governor, and I agree with the governor that he never was a part of this thing in the first place."

In other developments in the political campaign:

—Barnes told a caller Wednesday night during a question and answer program over KTBC in Austin that he is not really a rich man and that most of his net worth consists of the value of a farm he and his father bought in 1963.

He told a caller who asked him how he had managed to amass a fortune while earning only $4,800 a year as Speaker of the House and Lieutenant Governor that his net worth was around $75,000.

"If you took away the farm," he added, "my net worth would be only about $15,000."

—In Austin a candidate for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor, Bill Jones, said that his opponents lack original ideas and are copying his own.

"They may not admit it," Jones stated, "but they have adopted large sections of my platform such as integrity in government, annual legislative sessions, career education, welfare reform and a host of others."

—Another candidate, Wayne Connolly, told Navasota voters he was not asking them to vote for him personally but to vote for "a return to honesty and integrity in state government."

Meanwhile another of Connolly's and Jones' opponents, Joe Christie, was telling a crowd in Tyler that he will support legislative measures to streamline Texas courts, and called the current system "expensive and cumbersome."

—In Parkana Gov. Smith reminded a local civic club of what he has done for Northeast Texas and in Abilene Briscoe charged that Barnes used state employees and equipment to send out campaign material.

—Republican politicians were active also. In Houston Dave Reagan reiterated he is the front runner for the nomination for governor and stated he is "the right type" of Republican who can defeat the Democrats in November.

He dismissed one of his opponents, Sen. Henry Grover, saying he has "ingrained negativism and favors only surface, cosmetic changes instead of reform."

—In Abilene another Republican hopeful, Tom McElroy, said the conviction on bribery/conspiracy charges of former House Speaker Gus Mutscher still leaves some doubts as to whether "the big fish are still swimming."

Marijuana Case

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A federal grand jury has given the case of three Columbus, Ga., women charged with smuggling about 200 pounds of marijuana from Mexico.

The three women were identified as Marie-Clair Cruz, 30.

Mrs. McClellan and Mrs. Cruz are in custody pending $30,000 bond apiece following their appearance at an examining trial before a U.S. Magistrate.

Mrs. Bechtold waived an examining trial last week after being released on $7,500 personal bond.

Local Boy, Perryton Girl Win Merit Scholarships

A Pampa boy and a Perryton girl are among approximately 1275 high school seniors across the nation named winners of four-year Merit Scholarships, announced today by Edward C. Smith, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corp.

The two winners are W. Laird Ellis, son of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Ellis, 921 N. Somerville, Pampa, and Karen E. Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Foster, 1110 S. Michigan, Perryton.

The Merit Scholarships awarded today provide between $400 and $600 for each winner ($100 to $1500 per year), depending upon the individual student's financial need.

The awards are underwritten by business and industrial firms, foundation, trusts, unions, professional groups and individuals who are sponsors of the National Merit Scholarship Program.

Ellis was awarded one of six Dreyfus Merit Scholarships given to children of employees of Celanese Corp. who plan to major in the physical sciences, engineering or mathematics.

At Pampa High School, Ellis has been a member of the National Honor Society, the Latin Club, the Spanish Club and the varsity tennis team. He is also an Eagle Scout.

Miss Foster was awarded a scholarship from the Standard Oil (Indiana) Foundation, given to children of employees of Standard Oil Co. (Indiana) and its subsidiary companies or retail dealers.

A senior at Perryton High School, she has been a member of student council, National Honor Society, Office Education Association, Quill and Scroll, the Latin Club, Social Studies Club, Nike Club and Press Club. She has also served on the newspaper staff and was selected as a cheerleader and track queen attendant.

The Merit Scholars named today were chosen from among a group of 14,400 qualified students who became finalists in the 1972 Merit Program. A total of 657,000 students entered the 1972 competition, which began with the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test in February, 1971.

All students honored through the Merit Program, including 15,000 semifinalists and some 35,000 Commended students (who scored just below the required level for semifinalists) were identified by NMSC to colleges, universities and other organizations offering financial aid.

McGovern Hopes To Win Massachusetts Primary

By Associated Press
Sen. George McGovern says he is an underdog in Massachusetts but hopes to improve his organization enough to defeat Sen. Edmund S. Muskie in the April 25 Democratic presidential primary.

McGovern, speaking to newsmen at Boston's Logan International Airport as he began his Massachusetts primary campaign Wednesday, said: "Our organization is not as strong as it should be at this point, but it is coming into place."

Muskie, meanwhile, told six Democratic state officials in Boston he will campaign "as much as is needed to win" in Massachusetts. The six officials are heading Muskie's delegate slate in the state.

Muskie's statement disputed that of a Muskie aide who had said the Maine senator would spend only three days in Massachusetts and depend heavily on a media campaign there while putting in most of the next 12 days in Pennsylvania, which holds its primary the same day.

Rep. Shirley Chisholm of New York also was in Boston Wednesday and told reporters she expects her campaign to pick up as she moves into primary states more conducive to her candidacy. She indicated she expected to do well in Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, New York and Michigan.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas arrived in Boston Wednesday night saying he expected a "good vote" in the primary. "I want to win," he added, "but I'm not kidding myself about it."

Meanwhile, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey flew from Pennsylvania to Maryland, where he

Store Reports Gloves Missing

Four baseball gloves totalling $118.50 in value were reported missing, evidently by shoplifters, from Pampa Hardware Co., 120 N. Cuyler.

Travis Lively Jr. told investigating officers that none of the store personnel could recall anyone in the store that day as a starting place for questioning.

Two of the gloves were valued at $13.25 each and two at $46. each.

Stuffed cabbage balls with tomato sauce wake up appetite.

Cabbage Delight

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

Stuffed cabbage balls offer a change of pace meal that is filling. The cabbage is stuffed with either ground pork, beef or lamb and rice, and cooked with a tomato sauce. The tangy combination is just right to wake up the taste buds. For those who like it, serve a dollop of dairy sour cream atop the cabbage balls.

STUFFED CABBAGE BALLS

- 1 head cabbage
- 4 slices bacon, diced
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1 cup cooked rice
- 1 pound ground pork, lamb or beef
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1/4 teaspoon poultry seasoning
- Salt and pepper
- 1 can (1 pound) stewed tomatoes
- 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
- Dairy sour cream, if desired

Cut core from cabbage. Invert head into a kettle of boiling water. Let stand 20 minutes. Remove. Gently separate leaves, drain on paper towels. Heat pressure cooker, add diced bacon. Saute onion. Turn into a bowl with rice, ground meat, egg and seasonings. Mix well. To make the balls, put a small leaf inside a large leaf, spoon 2 or 3 tablespoons filling in center. Place the filled leaves in center of a damp towel or napkin, bring leaf corners together and twist firmly. Repeat until filling is used up. Tie balls with a piece of soft string. Place stewed tomatoes and tomato sauce in pressure cooker.

Arrange the cabbage balls in the sauce. (Do not fill cooker over 2/3 full.) Close cover securely and cook 20 minutes. Cool cooker at once. Serve hot cabbage balls with sauce and topping of dairy sour cream, if desired. Makes 4 to 6 servings. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Early American Cooks Made Cranberry Pies

By Cecily Brownstone
Associated Press Food Editor

Early American cooks liked to use cranberries for pies and tarts. Recipes directed that sugar be added to taste and as one long-ago cookbook suggested, "Add spices till grateful."

The following recipe for cranberry pie leaves nothing to the imagination because modern cooks like to use exact quantities. And another change has been made: apples are added because now that combination usually pleases.

CRANBERRY APPLE PIE
Pastry for 2-crust 9-inch pie
2 1/2 cups fresh or frozen cranberries
3 medium cooking apples
1 1/4 cups sugar
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon butter

Prepare pastry for 2-crust 9-inch pie. Divide dough almost in half. Roll out larger half on a floured pastry cloth with a floured stockinet-covered rolling pin to 1 inch larger around than an inverted 9-inch pie plate. Fit pastry into pie plate. Trim off overhanging edges even with edge of plate. Roll out other part of dough for top crust large enough to extend 1 inch beyond edge of pan.

Rinse and drain cranberries; coarsely chop and place in large bowl. Peel apples, cut into quarters, remove cores and slice 1/2-inch thick — there should be 2 cups. Add apples to cranberries. Mix together the sugar, flour, salt and cinnamon and add; mix gently but well. Turn into pastry lined plate. Dot with butter.

Make several slits in top crust, near center, to allow steam to escape. Place top pastry over filling. Fold edge of top pastry under edge of bottom pastry; flute edge.

Bake in a preheated 425-degree oven until apples are tender and pastry is browned — 40 to 45 minutes.

SUNDAY BRUNCH PINEAPPLE BACON WAFFLES

A sweet-and-savory topping for waffles.
12 slices bacon
1 cup maple-blended syrup
6 pineapple slices
1 package (9 ounces) frozen waffles

Fry bacon until crisp; drain on absorbent paper. Heat syrup and pineapple slices. Prepare waffles in toaster or oven according to package directions. To assemble each serving, crisscross 2 bacon slices over 2 waffle sections. Top with a pineapple slice and surround with syrup. Makes 6 servings.

We've heard a tall tale or two about what beer does in bread-making. What is the truth of the matter?
Here is what an expert in bread-baking has to say: "The use of beer in baking bread gives the bread a rather subtle flavor. It especially enhances the flavor of rye bread. And it does give the bread a deliciously brown crust and helps it stay moist for a slightly longer period of time than usual. But beer does not shorten rising time."

After trying the following recipe for Beer Bread in our test kitchen we are inclined to agree with the above remarks.

BEER BREAD
4 1/2 to 5 1/2 cups unsifted flour
2 packages instant blend dry yeast

Beer Bread

1 can or bottle (12 ounces) beer
1/4 cup water
2 tablespoons shortening
2 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons salt
1 egg white, lightly beaten
Yellow or white cornmeal

Into a large mixer bowl turn 2 cups of the flour, and the yeast; stir well to mix.

Into a 1-quart saucepan turn the beer, water, shortening, sugar and salt. Heat until warm (120 to 130 degrees), stirring constantly. Pour into flour-yeast mixture. Beat 1/2 minute at low speed, scraping bowl. Beat 3 more minutes at high speed.

ally stir in enough more flour to form a fairly stiff dough. Turn out onto lightly floured smooth surface. Knead until smooth — 5 to 10 minutes. Place smooth side down in a greased bowl; turn over. Cover. Let rise in a warm draft-free place until doubled — about 1 hour. (Dent will be left when finger is pressed deep into side of dough.)

Punch down dough. Let rest 15 minutes.

Grease a large cookie sheet. Sprinkle with cornmeal. Divide dough into 2 even halves. Pat one-half of the dough into a 10 by 6 inch rectangle. Starting at 10-inch side, roll up tightly. Pinch edges of dough into roll, then turn to bottom. Taper ends by placing palms of hands on sides, then roll back and forth. Shape second half of dough the same way.

Place loaves well apart on the cornmeal covered cookie sheet. Let rise as previously for 15 minutes, then with a sharp knife or a razor blade make 3 or 4 diagonal slashes, 1/4-inch deep, on top of each loaf. Brush with egg white. Let rise until doubled — 20 to 30 minutes longer. (Dent will be left when finger is pressed lightly on side of dough.)

Just before baking, brush loaves again with egg white.

Bake in a preheated 400-degree oven until well browned — 25 to 35 minutes. Remove from pans to wire rack to cool. Makes 2 loaves.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

Irresponsible Agency

What good to produce products and services if producer and consumer cannot be brought together? What good to create jobs to employ the unemployed if employer and employee are unaware of each other's existence?

Advertising is the critical factor in the production-distribution-consumption chain which makes the market work like a well oiled and smoothly operating machine. Without advertising foods and fibers would rot in the fields, fruit on the trees. Without advertising unsold goods would pile up in warehouses and stagnate on store shelves. Without advertising workers would go without work and work would be undone.

Yet, despite these obvious truths, advertising today is under attack as never before; under attack by economically ignorant or envious college "consumerists," by vote-hunting politicians, and, paradoxically, by much of the press whose very life blood is provided.

"Even those who do not deliberately seek abolition of advertising as such," notes Yale Brozen, Professor of Business Economics at the Graduate School of Business, University of Chicago, "are vigorous and effective proponents for changes in its nature and function which are quite likely to result in its extinction."

Writing in the February 28 issue of Barron's, the National Business and Financial Weekly ("Advertising Has Come Under Dangerous and Unfair Attack"), Brozen warns that the assault against advertising has taken a particularly ominous turn with the stepped-up activity of the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) with its newly beefed up staff of "bright young lawyers full of evangelistic fervor."

That the FTC has declared war on the advertising industry and will be a force to be reckoned with increasingly in the days ahead was well demonstrated by the comment of Miles Kirkpatrick, FTC's new boss, upon assuming the position. He was quoted by Brozen as quipping: "The little ole lady of Pennsylvania Avenue (the FTC) has taken off her tennis shoes and put on cleats."

"Prime target of the cleats," observed Brozen, appears to be the "face advertising."

Making use of unsubstantiated charges, and resorting to the very deceptive tactics of which it accuses industry of using, the FTC, under Kirkpatrick, Brozen said, "has put dozens of ad cases into the hopper, using novel and imaginative legal twists that test and broaden FTC's powers." Savage penalties against industry are now being imposed, Brozen charged, "for doing what was previously legal and not regarded as deceptive."

"The FTC," continued Brozen, "has come up with the technique of unilaterally deciding what is deceptive, conducting a trial by press release, and demanding that the advertiser run ads admitting the deception. The burden of proving innocence is left to the advertiser, if he can survive the trial by accusation and publicity—a complete turn-about from our judicial system in which an accused is regarded as innocent until PROVED guilty."

Typical of the Star Chamber tactics used by the FTC—tactics repeated again and again—Brozen pointed out, are those used against the Zerex Corporation. The company was publicly maligned by the FTC for, as the federal agency charged, using deceptive illustrations of its product stopping a leak in a punctured can of Zerex. Then, after costing the company losses of sales estimated in the millions, when Zerex proved that its product did exactly what its advertising claimed, the FTC suddenly dropped its charges and admitted that the ads in question were NOT deceptive.

And, noted Brozen, although the Zerex Corporation was undoubtedly done incalculable damage by the FTC's malicious campaign, "The company can't even sue for damages. The FTC bears no responsibility for its irresponsible behavior."

New System Springing Up For Church School

By PAUL HARVEY
Most parochial schools are in financial trouble; many are closing.

But in Middletown, Ohio, a whole new system of church schools is taking root.

Most church schools complain that costs have soared, private donations have declined and they can't compete with tax-financed public schools.

Yet if public schools have greater financial resources, their administrators are frequently denied the authority necessary to maintain discipline.

And thus compared—the church school may have more to offer.

The big public school may have a more sophisticated laboratory, a larger library, more degrees on its faculty.

But if the tax-supported institutions cannot control narcotics, truancy, rebellion, violence—the smaller church school can dictate and enforce demeanor.

Whenever there is criticism of the quality of public education, politicians are prompt to propose their classic placebo for everything—more money.

This year the average per-pupil expenditure has reached an all-time high of almost $1,000.

Yet "quality" in education cannot be computed from numbers or determined by facilities.

Donald Barr, headmaster of the expensive private Dalton School in New York, says most public school educators are intimidated. "They're frightened, hypercautious. They don't want to take the rap for their own decisions or for anybody else's."

Thus, he says, the public school administrator is reduced to a kind of "nervous office boy, when what education needs right now and most desperately are administrators who will make decisions on their own, who will demand discipline and enforce rules."

He says the young political radicals have never experienced the reassurances and comfort of parental authority; that's what really makes them angry.

He says parents should stop demanding more federal money for public education when that money comes out of their own pockets and merely ends up paying for more noneducation and student strikes and teacher strikes and coed dorms reeking of narcotics.

The Grace Baptist Church of Middletown, Ohio, has created its own parochial school system called the "Middletown Christian Schools."

Distressed by the bitter fruits of permissiveness, administrators of these schools will demand high moral standards and dismiss dissenting students.

The Rev. Dr. Joe Lewis says, "We have found in working with young people in recent years that youth is looking for leadership they can trust."

From the "three R's" of "riot, revolution and revolt," these schools will revert to old-fashioned quality education based on faith in God, country and self—in that order.

The Ohio Department of Education has promised to accredit the new system if it meets all state requirements.

Tuition for kindergarten will be $20 per month, thereafter $40 a month.

The idea is not new, of course. In the beginnings of our nation all schools were church schools.

Then there was an era when Bible-school education was considered second-best.

Now, I don't know.

Considering the divorce rate, too many mistintertpret the meaning of a wedding "license."

Your Health

By Dr. Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—A friend of mine said that her husband had taken large doses of vitamin E and that it had brought on diabetes. Is this possible? I take 800 units daily for high cholesterol and feel fine.

Dear Reader—I am not a vitamin E enthusiast since its value in amounts greater than one should get in a sensible diet has not been proved. The American Medical Assn. has not endorsed the many claims for the benefits of additional vitamin E either. The recommended daily requirement does not exceed 30 units (well within the range of what you should get in a decent diet). For suspected vitamin E deficiency no more than five times the usual daily requirement is necessary. Hence the maximum dose needed in an adult would be less than 150 units.

There are no established cases of diabetes from taking vitamin E that I have ever seen or read about. And there is no good evidence that additional vitamin E in adults eating a good diet lowers cholesterol either. Cholesterol is lowered by decreasing your body fat, using a proper diet, and in some people other medicines.

Vitamin E is plentiful in the low-fat diets recommended for prevention of heart disease, because these diets include more polyunsaturated fats and foods rich in vitamin E. Salad oils, margarines, vegetables, fruit, and grain products are all good sources of vitamin E. The presence of abundant vitamin E in a wide variety of foods is one reason why vitamin E deficiency in humans is essentially unknown (except in premature infants).

I was amused to see a report that claimed that the large amounts of vitamin E in diets rich in polyunsaturated fat would cause cancer. Of course the report came from a person connected with a segment of the food industry that markets food low in polyunsaturated fat and high in saturated fat, which may explain his theory.

There is no acceptable evidence that reasonable amounts of vitamin E causes cancer, diabetes or other important disorders. The only danger is to your pocket book if you accept at face value a lot of claims that are not substantiated by good research.

By contrast, the poor are paying no more proportionately than a decade ago, and the rich are paying less.

These real figures are the hard rock in the average citizen's conviction that he is paying to help others while no one is helping him. Worse still, perhaps, he doesn't think government is even talking to him. That's where the disconcerting Gov. George Wallace comes in. Says that Muskieleide:

"It doesn't matter what Wallace says specifically. People know he is talking about them."

Millions of average folk, then, believe that most Democratic leaders, including some of this year's presidential contenders, have just gone away from their world. The bright young McGovern poll analyst, Pat Caddell, studying samples, finds alienation in the great middle far greater and politically significant than anywhere else. And O'Brien, a wise judge of national mood, strongly confirms it.

Democrats Face New Dilemma

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON (NEA)—The Democratic party, queuing after the presidency, is floundering badly in its effort to get at the issues and concerns troubling most Americans in 1972.

First off, the Democrats, of course, can't escape the indictment millions upon millions of voters are laying on all politicians—that they can't be trusted, that they wildly over-promise, that no matter who wins, not much will be done about urban chaos, inflation, taxes, school decay, crime, congestion, excessive public spending, depletion of resources, pollution.

But the Democrats have a special dilemma. Since New Deal days, they have been the avowed champions of the disadvantaged. Their self-image and their driving force compels them to continue this commitment.

Today, however, millions of those they championed in earlier times have risen to better ground economically, and moved from old poverty settings to the affluent city edges and suburbs.

Keeping their vows, liberal-leaning Democratic leaders now champion the new downtrodden in the nation's crumbling inner cities. Yet to help these people, mostly black and other minorities, demands raising billions of dollars and a strong focus of energy.

Quicker than most men, Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien saw the wrenching difficulty in this. The Democrats' great, broad labor constituency, the party's backbone, was being asked to pay a huge part of the cost of aiding the new disadvantaged. But they themselves felt no security at all on the lower rungs of middle-class affluence. Many saw themselves teetering on the brink.

O'Brien's foresight of 1967 is the reality of today. Says an aide to presidential contender Edmund Muskie:

"That the Democrats were for the progress of 20 per cent of the people (the black, the poor) was the big news of the 1960s. The average citizen got the idea he was paying for it and not getting a great deal for it."

This judgment was echoed by a top aide to a Muskie rival, Sen. George McGovern. The newly emergent middle-income citizen's feeling is compounded, says the McGovern man, by discovery that the "rewards of affluence aren't very good, either."

Incidentally, the belief of middle-income Americans that they are paying the freight is no myth. Last summer I reported on a Census Bureau study which shows that Americans in the middle-income brackets, who represent three-fifths of the U.S. taxpaying public, are paying about half of all taxes at federal, state and local levels. Moreover, in the 1960s, not only their taxes but their proportionate share of the total tax burden went up.

By contrast, the poor are paying no more proportionately than a decade ago, and the rich are paying less.

These real figures are the hard rock in the average citizen's conviction that he is paying to help others while no one is helping him. Worse still, perhaps, he doesn't think government is even talking to him. That's where the disconcerting Gov. George Wallace comes in. Says that Muskieleide:

"It doesn't matter what Wallace says specifically. People know he is talking about them."

Millions of average folk, then, believe that most Democratic leaders, including some of this year's presidential contenders, have just gone away from their world. The bright young McGovern poll analyst, Pat Caddell, studying samples, finds alienation in the great middle far greater and politically significant than anywhere else. And O'Brien, a wise judge of national mood, strongly confirms it.

Center Opens to Tourists: Looks to Congress for Aid

By ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON — Thousands of tourists are again swarming through the towering marble halls, lavish theaters and other ornate facilities of the huge Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts—but it's very iffy how long they will continue to do so.

It depends entirely on whether the House of Representatives will approve the $1,500,000 that Center authorities claim is necessary to maintain it as a tourist attraction.

Last December the House irately balked at putting up that money.

The Senate voted a bill for the demanded amount on the plea of Roger Stevens, haughty board chairman of the Center, that funds were not available to operate it for sightseers due to heavy deprecations, thefts, pillage and other damage. He warned that unless Congress forthwith provided $1,500,000 the immense marble structure on the Potomac would have to be closed to tourists.

But when the Senate—passed measure got to the House, it immediately ran into a buzz-saw of irate opposition.

Bi-partisan critics indignantly pointed out that taxpayers already had poured some $45,000,000 into the $64,000,000 project. Also that this money had been wheeled from Congress on repeated and emphatic assurances that another request would not be made.

Further, that the 30-member board of trustees was highhandedly dominated by the Kennedys, including Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., and other members of the family.

So extensive and vehement was this hostility that the Senate-approved bill was shelved.

Whereupon, as Rogers had truculently threatened, the Center was shut down for tourists. The three large and elaborate theaters continued to operate, but sightseers were excluded.

In the ensuing stormy controversy of charges and countercharges, it was disclosed that the Center owed some $5,000,000 in overdue construction bills, and that stage hands were getting as high as $1,500 in overtime pay.

A 60-page report by the General Accounting Office, that surfaced at this time, listed numerous costly blunders and wastes. Foremost among them were "unreasonable actions...that included hundreds of changes that either increased the scope of the work or corrected design errors, omissions and defects. Plans deemed 85 per cent complete were scrapped and new sets of plans ordered, which ultimately added millions to costs."

Not one word of this was known to Congress during the period it was being lobbied into voting around $45,000,000 of taxpayers' money for the Kennedy Center.

Circuitous Way Out

The Center remained closed to tourists throughout last winter and would still be but for an ingenious scheme by Rep. Kenneth Gray, D-Ill., chairman of the Subcommittee on Public Buildings and Grounds.

A snappy dresser, genial and ebullient, Gray is an ardent Kennedy partisan. Sorely disappointed when the House refused to fork over the requested $1,500,000, Gray set about concocting a formula to get the money in a round-about manner. After a series of subcommittee hearings, the enterprising Illinoisan proposed a novel compromise:

In effect, the Center would be divided into two components. One would be a "national monument" and as such be maintained and operated by the National Park Service—which would admit tourists. The other component would consist of the performing arts function of the Center and would remain under the control of the Kennedy-dominated board of trustees.

To finance the Park Service's management of the Center as a sightseeing attraction, Gray proposed that the long-sought $1,500,000 be granted for this purpose. And on the prayerful premise that the money will be forthcoming, the vast marble pile on the Potomac was reopened to the thousands of tourists that crowded the capital during the Easter season.

On one day alone, more than 10,000 sightseers were marched through the lofty halls and other attractions by watchful guides and guards. No pilfering or other incidents were reported.

Gray readily admits he and the Center are taking a chance in readmitting tourists before the House acts on the pending appropriation bill. With a twinkle in his eye, he even concedes that resuming sightseeing "might be an indirect way of putting some heat on the House to go along."

"All is fair in love and war," he chuckles gaily.

What the House does remains to be seen. One thing is certain: There will be a hectic battle over the issue. Gray, Roger Stevens and other Center partisans will know they have been through a mauling fight.

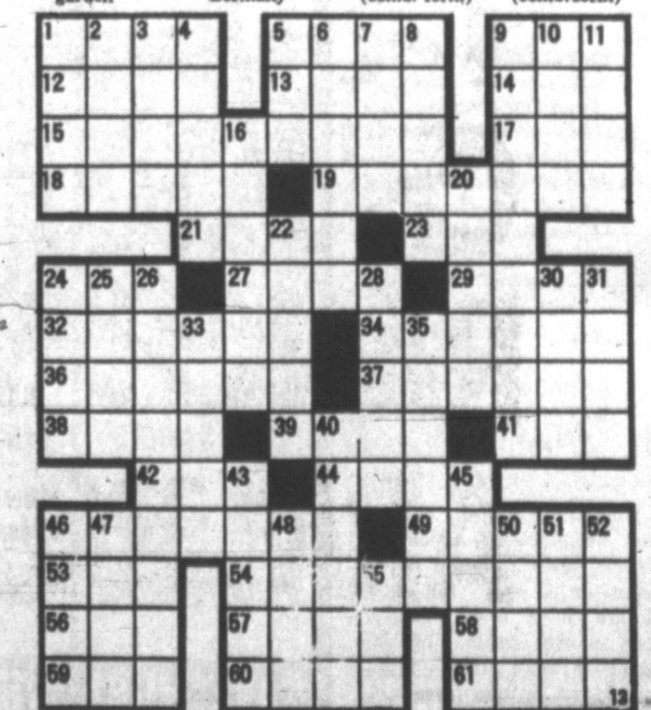

Says Rep. H.R. Gross, R-Iowa, longtime economy advocate and determined opponent of the $1,500,000 "handout": "Have no illusions about that, whatever it is called. It really amounts to a permanent Federal subsidy to this privately run entertainment business which we were repeatedly and solemnly assured would not cost taxpayers a cent. With this Treasury raid, a precedent will be set that in the end, in the not distant future, will lead to the whole Center's being unloaded on the public till. They are getting their foot in the Treasury door, and that will be the beginning of the end."

Gross should know. In his many years in Congress, he has seen it happen time and again.

FURR'S MEAT PRICES ARE DOWNS
We have not waited on government price talks to lower our meat prices! Look what has happened—March 16—our prices took a drop. March 20—Furr's prices were cut. For example: round steak, then $1.09 was lowered to 98¢; sirloin steak, then $1.09 was lowered to 98¢. Since March 20 Furr's has sold top quality beef for as low as 98¢ a pound on steak cuts, well under its local competition. It has not waited for the government to ask for lower prices. Furr's is proud to lead the way! It pledges a policy of dropping meat prices when the meat packer lowers its prices.

There is beef with which you must take the chance that it is not only tasteful but also tender. That element of chance is eliminated when you purchase Furr's Proten Beef for your table. The "difference" is in the choice of the beef and the treatment of it. You can depend on Furr's Proten Beef to be: (1) Tasteful (2) Tender every time (3) Trimmed of excess fat (4) be of heavy aged stock and (5) Fresh Dated for your assurance. Too, and this pleases every pocketbook,—it is priced right!

Local YES Office Urges Students To File Summer Job Applications

The local office of the Texas Employment Commission is getting ready to operate its Youth Employment Service as the time nears for students to begin seeking summer employment.

The YES program depends on the availability of the students, according to Bill Ragsdale, TEC manager.

Many students begin turning in their applications about a month before school is out. They are encouraged to have their applications in when they become available for employment, Ragsdale said.

About 400 to 500 students will apply for jobs, Ragsdale said, but only 200 to 300 will be employed, according to past records.

"There's always more kids than jobs," Ragsdale said.

The YES program is sponsored locally by the Kiwanis Club and the Pampa Key Club in cooperation with TEC. It was established several years ago to help school-aged children find summer employment.

A special file is kept separately on youth available for summer employment, Ragsdale explained. The other files are usually kept by occupation.

The students file is maintained differently mainly "because most youths have not yet obtained a skill that would limit the area of their employment," he added.

Students can be available for fulltime or part-time employment during the summer months under the program or on a day-to-day basis, depending on the type of work needed by the employer.

There are many jobs available that youth can do, Ragsdale noted. Students from 15 on up can do many jobs, while a few, because of the law, are limited to those over 18.

Boys usually can find jobs more easily than girls. At times the availability of boys in the file has run out but there are always more girls than jobs, Ragsdale said.

"Most of the girls are very capable of doing a very responsible job," he said.

Among the positions girls can fill are typist, general office clerk, sales clerk and occasionally a stenographer.

Among the general jobs available for youth are lawn mowing, yard work, clean up jobs, fence painting, repair work, baby sitting, car washing and polishing, farm work, cowboying, fence riding, delivery service and care of Pets.

Householders and other potential employers wanting to hire youth can call the YES program at 669-3385.

Pampa Youth Is Officer Of TCU Body

FORT WORTH — Raymond Moss Hampton of Pampa is among more than 50 students recently elected to Texas Christian University's House of Student Representatives for the 1972 spring and fall semesters.

The House of Student Representatives, governing body for TCU students, is composed of officers, activities council director and representatives from the various classes, colleges and dormitories within the University structure.

The House acts as a forum, debating and legislative society for students to voice their opinions. Action taken by the House is through the customary democratic procedure and is binding on students unless overruled by the University administration.

Hampton, a sophomore, is the son of Dr. and Mrs. R.M. Hampton of 1824 Mary Ellen. He is a graduate of Pampa High School.

Ag Department Backs Crop Report Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — A measure authorizing the government to issue cotton crop reports simultaneously with its general crop reports was backed Wednesday by the Agriculture Department.

Presently cotton reports are issued at 11 a.m. Washington time on the 8th of the month while the general crop report is released at 3 p.m. on the 10th except for weekends.

Bruce W. Kelly, the department witness, told a House agriculture subcommittee that combining the two reports would eliminate the requirement for separate security lockups on reporting days for those who compile the reports.

He said this would also enable the department to include cotton in the national and state releases with other crops, rather than issuing separate reports for cotton.

"Releasing cotton with crop production reports would bring cotton in the line with other speculative commodities which are now released after the close of the Chicago and New York commodity markets," he said.

F. Marion Rhodes, president of the New York Cotton Exchange, recommended passage of the measure.

Rhodes said the commodity market is closed for only 15 minutes when the cotton report is issued at 11 a.m. He said this is not an adequate time for people interested in the cotton market to receive, analyze and formulate new positions based on new information on crop acreage and production.

Raymond L. Schafer of the National Cotton Council said his association favors passage of the bill.

The witnesses also supported a proposal that would substitute January and February cotton ginnings reports for those now issued in mid-August and mid-September and change the release schedule for all ginnings reports to coincide with that of the Agriculture Department for the combination of cotton and the general crop reports.

U.S. Expresses Displeasure To France For Talk Demand

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is expressing formal displeasure to the French government Wednesday for the prompting from Paris that the Vietnam peace talks be resumed without delay.

French charge d'affaires Emmanuel de Margerie was called in by the undersecretary of State for political affairs, Alexis Johnson, to convey the Nixon administration's feelings that the French call was one-sided and made without notifying the U.S. in advance, a spokesman said.

Citizen Bank Man Named To SBADAC

Congressman Bob Price has been notified by the Small Business Administration that Jack E. Imel, vice president of the Citizens Bank & Trust Co., Pampa, and Glenn E. Lemon, president of the First Bank & Trust Co., Borger, have been appointed to the Small Business Administration District Advisory Council.

Press officer Robert J. McCloskey also said U.S. Ambassador William Porter will be flying back to Paris overnight but that the Thursday meeting demanded by North Vietnam and Viet Cong representatives will not be held.

McCloskey said the United States objected not only to the timing of the French government's statement but also to "what we judge is a one-sided statement because it picks up demands of the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong delegations to return immediately to the conference table."

The White House and the State Department have been emphasizing that the United States stands ready for serious negotiations but not under military pressure, McCloskey noted.

He said the Communist side also is aware of the U.S. views and knows how to communicate with this country.

The French government issued a statement following the Cabinet meeting presided over by President Georges Pompidou.

National Library Week Will Be Observed Here

Eleven million books in a single pile would make for a lot of reading. Although they're not in a single location, this pile of books is what the public libraries of Texas can offer to the citizen with a need for information or recreation.

National Library Week, April 16-22, can give an excuse to browse through your local segment of that enormous state book pile, so that you may see what your local library has to offer.

"You've Got a Right to Read," and "Reading Makes the World Go Round" are the dual themes of the National Library Week campaign, which has a state committee headed by U.S. Senator Lloyd Bentsen.

The Texas State Library's most recent public library statistics show that Texas public libraries own 11,421,146 books to serve the state's eleven million inhabitants.

The same report shows that the eleven and a half million books were checked out some 32,185,146 times. Each person in the state theoretically read almost 3 library books.

Actual per capita circulation varies over the state, with quite a few local factors influencing the circulation rates. Population characteristics, administration, program, location, book collection size and budget size all affect the success of a library's efforts to serve as an active information and educational resource.

Despite personnel and money shortages, Texas public libraries do succeed in getting books out to the citizen users. Service could be better, though since the state's per capita library income of $1.84 is only about half of the $3.50 per capita support level averaged by major city libraries across America.

Per Capita support for Lovett Memorial Library in Pampa is approximately $2.83 for the year 1971-72, according to Barbara Cockrell, librarian.

From the figures reported apparently quite a few Texans exercise their right to read, and library and book use do make their world go 'round a little smoother.

Lovett Memorial Library circulated 89,363 books last year. This represents an average of 3 books checked out for each citizen in Pampa and Gray County.

The educational and recreational value of a public library collection and building is hard to put a price on. The library must be judged according to the service it offers to the community.

An active library service program offers an interesting and varied collection of books and other materials, library-sponsored programs, and encourages good public relations.

Lovett Library, like many other libraries in Texas, is not limited to book materials in its collection. The total collector has a good mixture of different media, and offers phono-records, pamphlets, maps, periodicals and other materials in addition to books.

The most recent addition is a collection of art reproductions. This collection consists of 28 sculpture masterpieces and 24 "Mini-Masters," small framed paintings that may be checked out by children. Mrs. Cockrell said.

Profile Of Mattingly, Apollo 16 Astronaut

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Thomas K. Mattingly II, command module pilot on Apollo 16, will be in a race with the stork during his mission to the moon and back.

Mission launch is scheduled for Sunday and splashdown for April 28.

Friends say the wife of the 36-year-old astronaut is expecting a baby very soon and Mattingly hopes to get home before the baby does.

Mattingly, himself, is not talking about it, which is typical of the slightly balding, blue-eyed Navy lieutenant commander.

The astronaut will talk freely for hours about his job and about the space program, but he carefully shields his personal life from public view.

Mattingly and his wife have been married only two years.

Mrs. Mattingly is the former Elizabeth Dailey of Hollywood, Calif., a schoolteacher Mattingly met seven years ago and married after a five-year courtship.

The astronaut is known as one of the most dedicated of the pilots in the space corps.

He is the only son of an air-lines maintenance supervisor who taught the astronaut a love for flying at an early age.

Born in Chicago, Mattingly grew up in Hialeah, Fla., and boyhood friends remember him as a very active youth, full of imagination and drive.

One friend remembers the astronaut's relationship with his father was special.

"I don't think any of us had this kind of thing going with our fathers," says the friend. "Ken (a nickname the astronaut still uses) approached model airplanes on a scientific basis and his father knew how to explain it."

"When I was a little kid," recalls Mattingly, "the thing I wanted to do was to be a test pilot."

He started building model airplanes seriously at an early age and once set a world speed record at model competition in Detroit.

In school, Mattingly made consistently high grades and let his interest spill over into music and student politics.

He was elected student government president in junior high school and he took up the drums in high school. He was once kicked out of an orchestra rehearsal for sailing a model airplane over the musicians.

Mattingly turned down a music scholarship to attend Auburn under the Navy officer's training program. He was a dean's list honor student and student body president.

After graduation in 1958 with a aeronautical engineering degree, Mattingly was commissioned as an ensign and wrote: "I've found a home in the Navy."

He earned his wings, spent five years flying fighters from carrier decks and then attended the Air Force test pilot school at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. He was the top student in his class and was selected an astronaut a month before graduation.

Mattingly was the first of his astronaut class selected to fly, but he missed out on a space mission because of a disease he never caught.

He was the assigned command module pilot on Apollo 13 in April 1970 when one of the backup crewmen came down with German measles.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Thursday, April 13th, the 104th day of 1972. There are 262 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1598, King Henry IV of France signed the Edict of Nantes, granting a large measure of religious liberty to the Protestant Huguenots.

On this date: In 1366, King Richard II of England was born.

In 1743, the third American president and author of the Declaration of Independence, Thomas Jefferson, was born.

In 1776, Gen. George Washington arrived in New York to prepare the city's defense in the Revolutionary War.

In 1939, Britain and France pledged armed assistance to Greece and Romania.

In 1943, President Franklin D. Roosevelt dedicated the Jefferson Memorial in Washington.

In 1964, the Motion Picture Academy named Sidney Poitier best actor. He was the first black to win an Oscar in the top categories.

Ten years ago: Major U.S. steel companies rescinded a price increase under strong pressure from President John F. Kennedy.

Five years ago: President Lyndon B. Johnson, attending a Western Hemisphere summit meeting in Punta del Este, Uruguay, pledged U.S. support for a Latin American common market.

One year ago: Three armed robbers fled with $250,000 from a bank at a Brooklyn, N.Y., military base.

Today's birthdays: Former opera star Lily Pons is 88 years old. Former Minnesota Gov. Harold E. Stassen is 85. French writer Samuel Beckett is 86.

Thought for today: Society is a madhouse whose wardens are the officials and the police. August Strindberg, Swedish writer, 1849-1912.

In 1942 the former French liner, Normandie, burned and capsized at a New York pier.

Worry Clinic

By GEORGE W. CRANE, PH. D., M. D.

Try to answer Eileen's question before you read further! Which group of men is most vital to the future of our Republic and even the continuation of human life on this planet? Debate this in school. And cultivate your child's "horse sense."

CASET-552: Eileen P., aged 17, is a high school senior. "Dr. Crane," she began, "what is the most important field of endeavor here in America?"

"We are to have a debate next week, so I'd like to get some ideas to support my arguments. "Since I live on a farm and come to a city high school by bus, I think many of my classmates look-down on us rural students. "So I'd like to make them wake up."

WHO'S IMPORTANT? If all clothing manufacturers quit work, could we live for several years without serious disturbance to our health and comfort?

Probably so! For most of us have enough old clothes to suffice for years.

How about footwear? Well, the average American probably has access to at least a couple of pairs of shoes, even if one pair is rather shoddy.

And they would normally last for a year or more, wouldn't they?

What about physicians? For at least 10,000 years (maybe 100,000) on this planet Earth our ancestors got along pretty well without doctors.

Oh, they often consulted with doctors and herb women, but most of such treatment was psychological.

And sometimes more harmful than good!

For example, the physicians who treated George Washington in his final illness in 1799, actually speeded up his death!

For the medics of those days believed that fever was harmful.

Since Washington had pneumonia and a high fever, the physicians decided that the best way to lower the fever in the turnace was to take out the red hot coals.

Applied to medicine, this meant remove some of the blood, for they thought the blood was the fire of the body.

Those famous doctors (leaders in American medicine in 1799) thus repeatedly bled George Washington until they had extracted 1 1/2 pints!

That very likely killed the Father of our Country, for in lobar pneumonia, patients need MORE blood, not less!

So we could get along without all the physicians of America and still our population would zoom.

More babies would die in infancy and more oldsters might pass away, but the population would rise, even so.

Farmers, however, are the most crucial workers in any society, for without food, we'd all be dead inside of about 30 days.

Indeed, the city super markets would be cleaned out within a few days unless trucks and freight trains were constantly to refill their shelves.

Actually, the farmers carry ALL our other professions on their backs!

For none of us could have jobs and receive pay checks unless the farmers faithfully furnished our food supply!

America surpasses India, China, Russia et al., chiefly because of the superiority of our farmers!

Fishermen merit second place, for their addition to our meat supply is considerable.

But they alone couldn't carry society on their backs but farmers could do it all, if necessary!

Send for my "Vocational Guidance Booklet," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents, for it contains a "Test of Horse Sense."

(Always write to Dr. Crane, Hopkins Bldg, Mellet, Indiana 47558, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

People In The News

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's personal physician says the chief executive receives a muscle relaxant treatment from an osteopath about twice a month.

Dr. Walter R. Tkach emphasized Tuesday that the treatment was merely for muscle relaxation, that the President has no backache or other skeletal trouble.

The President does not like a massage as a muscle-relaxant, so the osteopathic manipulative technique is used instead, Tkach said. He identified the osteopath involved as Dr. W. Kenneth Riland of New York.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Charlie Chaplin's name, on a bronze star imbedded in Hollywood Boulevard, is under guard for a few days until Chaplin himself returns home to Switzerland.

The star was dedicated Monday, the same day the 82-year-old comedian accepted a special Oscar at the Academy Award ceremonies.

Since then it has been gouged and repaired, and the Chamber of Commerce hired guards to protect "around the clock."

"Yesterday someone threw ink all over it, and we've had threats," a chamber spokesman added.

Critics of Chaplin's politics, which they call pro-Communist, have used the sidewalk near the star to hand out derogatory leaflets.

LONDON (AP) — Queen Juliana of The Netherlands and her husband Prince Bernhard have arrived in Britain for a five-day state visit.

Queen Elizabeth II met the Dutch couple at the gates of Windsor Home Park on their arrival Tuesday and they drove together in a ceremonial carriage to Windsor Castle.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Gene Hackman had some laconic answers for questioners the day after receiving an Oscar as the best actor of 1971.

At Twentieth Century-Fox studios, where he was at work Tuesday on a new movie, a newsman asked if he could say what it meant to him to win an Academy Award. Hackman had a deadpan reply.

"No," he said. "I can't." In an interview later Hackman was asked if winning an Oscar had given him the chance to pick and choose roles.

"No," he replied. "In fact, I got turned down for one today." He didn't say what the part was.

TV And Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — A handsomely mounted special Tuesday night marked the Yellowstone National Park's centennial.

For the vacation minded, NBC also crammed the hour with a look at other national parks and historic sites, but the program also had a message: Our national parks are running into ecological and pollution problems and have trouble with litterbugs as more tourists flock into them each year.

It was an excellent program on the whole. There were some awkward moments with—to get a little pure entertainment into the hour—the singing Fifth Dimension performing in a boat. Worst was a comedy sketch by Jonathan Winters, playing a one-man ecological disaster and doing it very well until he was interrupted by disconcerting ghostly giggles from an unseen audience. It ruined the sketch.

The three major television networks seem even more reluctant to confide to viewers their summer plans than they were to come out with their plans for next fall.

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

FRIDAY, APRIL 14
Your birthday today: Increasing change and new interests are important. Whatever you have made of it before was mainly introductory to what you're trying to achieve now. Social and emotional factors are more important to you now. Today's natives are inclined to be restless, wary, and determined to go their own way despite all resistance.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: With determined effort you can increase your earnings and potential strength. People who don't usually hear you now listen.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: People you rarely see have a strong influence on your luck and morale today. You have more energy, so use it for the best.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Decide early what is your own best interest and pursue it persistently but without fanfare. Distractions must be resisted.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Practical ideas and people you get along with are within reach. Be on your own sunny side for best experience. Don't waste a minute on trivia.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Even the smallest deal at present means much leverage later—a watershed sort of day. Be diligent and graceful.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Your change of opinion may require revision of detailed plans. The sooner you start, the better. New facts must be considered.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Almost any move intended to improve future security now promises extra short-term results if vigorously pursued.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Being ready to change schedules or working conditions make possible gains. Unexpected travel is one possibility.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Nothing less than your full attention will do now. No just conclusions come unasked or unresearched. Health care is important.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: This somewhat mixed day turns out well if you persist and put in a coherent effort. Avoid haste and abrupt remarks.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Wind up your workweek with speed, clear the decks to improve your home and its surroundings. Family cooperation is needed early.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Movement enlivens your work day as your interest in your local community grows. Fresh viewpoints promise interest and entertainment.

Shop For Something New

COLLEGE STATION—The food store always offers something "new."

It may be new forms of the same old thing, or it may be a completely new division because of a processing method.

"Look for something new when you shop this week," said Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "This is one of the best ways to keep up with innovations in nutrition."

At retail meat counters, look for best beef values on chuck roasts and steaks, boneless cuts for pot roasting, round steaks, ground beef and beef liver.

Find pork values in some lines of bacon, fresh and smoked picnic roasts, Boston butt roasts and shoulder steaks. "Fryer chickens are an excellent protein and price choice. Grade 'A' large eggs offer the best combination of quality and economy for your egg money this week," the specialist noted.

"Abundant sources of vitamin C are now available in the markets at reasonable costs," Mrs. Clyatt said. "Oranges, grapefruit, tangelos, and lemons present good fruit buys."

KNOTTY RINGS
Macrame, the art of knotting, has had a great influence on jewelry making. Rings knotted from silver wire was perfect for making your own jewelry. And manufacturers caught on. Now macrame is being used with gold wedding rings to make intricate knotting patterns with accents of diamonds.

Mrs. Barbara Easley was crowned queen for the week with a loss of 5 lbs. The club lost a total of 8 1/2 lbs.

Mrs. Juanita Porter was crowned best loser for a loss of 11 1/4 lbs. She received a cash reward. Mrs. Cecile Grange was crowned three-months' queen for a loss of 18 lbs. She also received a cash award. Runner-up for three months' queen was Mrs. Pauline White with a loss of 14 lbs. There were five perfect-attendance records for three months. Each will receive a charm for their Tops bracelet. They are Mrs. Pat Young, Odell Hassler, Vastalee Hicks, Pauline White and Frances Stamps.

The club's books were audited by a committee composed of Mrs. Vastalee Hicks, Juanita Porter and Pat Young.

Attending were Mrs. Pat Young, Margaret Fox, Gladys Simmons, Juanita Porter, Cecile Grange, Pauline White, Francis Stamps, Fannie Coleman, Joy Henkel, Barbara Easley, Naomi Fox, Juanita McCarthy, Vastalee Hicks and Odell Hassler.

Meeting Held By Tops Club

Tops Club Chapter TX-149 met in the Central Baptist Church with 13 members present. Miss Organ Bright was welcomed as a guest.

The fruit basket was awarded to one of the club's pre-teen members. "No-no" foods for the week are hamburgers and fried potatoes. The "ha-ha" jar was won by Miss Anne Yanez.

The club reported a total loss of 31 lbs. for the week. A salad supper followed the meeting.

Knit Knacks

DEAR JUDY—I have made about eight sweaters but still don't know how to make one with more than one color. Would you please tell me how you join the different colors. Thank you.—Mrs. Pat Williams, Ontario, Calif.

DEAR PAT—Joining different colors really isn't that difficult. We'll have you knitting in all the colors of the rainbow in no time.

First of all, knit six sts. Break the wool and leave an end about three inches long attached to your work. Now you have two ends of wool, the end attached to your work and the end of the ball. If you're using four-ply wool, for example, when you unravel the ends you'll find that each end has four separate strands. Split the two ends and remove two strands on each of the two ends for about two inches, then lay the wools together, the two ends pointing in opposite directions, and knit a few sts. Then continue with the new thread of wool to the end of the row and cast off. Join wool at the beginning or end of rows, with a knot, whenever you can, thereby doing away with the need to darn in ends of wool which are joined in the middle of a row.

So get busy, with that multicolored sweater. Good luck.

—Judy Love

HELPING HANDS

Manufacturers are focusing their attention on women who've neglected their hands and nails for years. They've come up with gloves designed to either wear during the night or for a few hours during the day. The gloves are treated inside with special oils to help smooth dry hands and build up nail strength.

EYE CLEAR

Some quick sure-fire ways of getting rid of puffy eyelids and red eyes: compresses of skim milk, gauze saturated in fresh orange juice and warm tea bag compresses.

Expert South was in dummy and let a heart. East played the 10, another false card, and South successfully finessed his jack.

So far everything had been smooth sailing but East's nine and 10 plays had given South a real problem. East would have played exactly that way if he had started with K-10 of trumps and 10-9-2 of diamonds. That would have left him with six spades which was perfectly possible.

South could make his contract by ruffing his last diamond to get to dummy for a second trump finesse but South was only looking at his hand and looking. He finally decided that East had been telling the truth and laid down his ace of trumps.

Who should take care of mom?

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I would like to know who is responsible for the care and entertainment of an elderly mother who lives alone and has no hobbies or interests.

There are five of us children, all married and living in the area. I feel that the responsibility should be shared equally among the two sons and three daughters. My brothers feel that a mother is the responsibility of her daughters. What would you suggest I do about this situation?

TROUBLED DAUGHTER

DEAR TROUBLED: Who is "responsible?" You all are. What should you do about the situation? Exactly what I presume you have been doing. Giving your mother all the time and attention you can, and reminding your brothers that she is also their mother, and they ought to be ashamed of themselves for neglecting her.

DEAR ABBY: This concerns saying grace at the table. My husband and I never had said grace, however we do thank the Lord for our food, along with all our other blessings in our prayers at night.

When we invite a certain couple over for supper, they always say grace out loud at our table. Correct me if I am wrong, but I think this is very impolite. If they feel like saying grace, they should say it to themselves because by this time they know we don't say it.

If you agree with me, Abby, what would you suggest I say to these people?

QUIET AT MEALTIME

DEAR QUIET: It would be impolite of you to discourage your guests from saying grace aloud at your table if that is their custom. If you wish to remain silent, that's your privilege.

DEAR ABBY: My boss (a woman) invited me to a bridal shower for a coworker. I brought a shower gift to the party, which was a small buffet supper. My boss gave the bride a very nice clock radio.

The next morning at work I found a note on my desk from my boss. It said I owed her $1.50 for my share of the clock radio and $1.75 for the food at the shower.

When I was invited, nothing was said about chipping in for the food or the clock radio. And since I brought my own shower gift I didn't see why I should be expected to chip in for another one.

Never in my life have I gone to a party where I was later asked to chip in for the refreshments. I am only 17, and this is a lot of money for a working girl. If you were me, would you pay it and keep your mouth shut, or refuse to pay it and risk getting on the bad side of the boss?

HAD IN HARTFORD

DEAR HAD: [And you were.] If you're telling it like it is, and I believe you are, refuse to pay it.

DEAR ABBY: In response to the waitress who wonders why people will sit at a table with dirty dishes when there are clean tables:

I am one of the offenders. Often a particular table is better lighted, roomier or has a better view than the others. Also it can be out of the traffic, or quieter. (Why did the previous diners sit there?)

If a person is just grabbing a quick bite, he can sit anywhere, but if one intends to enjoy a lingering meal, he should have his choice of tables. Dirty dishes or not.

Fewer Tax Returns Audited Each Year

COLLEGE STATION—As the years go by, the Internal Revenue Service audits a smaller percentage of income tax returns.

The IRS examined only one out of every 56 individual income tax returns in the fiscal year 1971, compared with one in 48 during 1970," noted Mrs. Doris Myers, home management specialist at Texas A&M University. "A few years ago one in every 25 was audited."

"Don't think this will necessarily make for easier tax evasion," the specialist warned. Although 350,000 fewer returns were audited in 1971 than in 1970, the total of additional tax payments resulting from audits rose by $380 million to a total of $8.4 billion.

Party Honors Vicki Tollison

SKELLYTOWN (Sp.)—Miss Vicki Tollison was honored at the Skellytown Community Church with a birthday party recently.

The serving table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with a Spring bouquet. The white sheet cake was decorated with pink rosebuds, with "Happy Birthday, Vicki" in the center. Flavors were Easter eggs in baskets.

Serving the cake and punch were Misses Vicki Maddox, Peggy Cornelison, Kathy and Sarah Lynch.

Special guests were her uncle, Rev. Don McWorther and family from Hereford. Approximately 45 guests attended.

Honeycutt-Chapman Vows Repeated In Baptist Church

Nuptial vows were exchanged at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, April 1, by Miss LaFonda Sue Honeycutt of Pampa and Duane Lee Chapman of Commerce City, Colo.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Honeycutt, 1404 E. Browning, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley D. Chapman of Commerce City, Colo.

The Ceremony Rev. Carroll Ray officiated for the double-ring ceremony. Miss Karon Cross sang the theme from "Love Story," "We've Only Just Begun," and "The Wedding Prayer."

The church was decorated with candelabra and arrangements of white gladioli and blue carnations. Marty Cross, nephew of the bridegroom.

The Bride Given in marriage by her father, with the "her mother and I avowal," the bride was attired in a gown of bridal satin, trimmed with chantillylace and seed pearls.

The bodice was styled with a round neckline, long full sleeves gathered into wide cuffs at the wrists and an empire waistline, encircled with satin ribbon. The floor-length skirt, accented with bands of chantilly lace, was designed with a chapel train.

Her waist-length veil of illusion fell from a white satin crown, embroidered with seed-pearls. She carried a bouquet of blue and white baby carnations.

Attendants Mrs. Bonnie Cross, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Sharon Newman and Miss Veronica Sturgill, both cousins of the bride.

All wore blue satin, floor-length gowns, accented with white satin bows, and carried butterfly bouquets of blue and white carnations.

David Voshell, brother-in-law of the bridegroom served as best man, and groomsmen were Wendell Honeycutt, brother of the bride, and Maurice W. Cross, brother-in-law of the bride.

Ushers were Larry Edwards, cousin of the bride, and Timmy Thompson.

Sandy Honeycutt, sister of the bride, was flower girl and Marty Cross, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

Candlelighters were Miss Glenda Honeycutt, sister of the bride, and Mike Chapman, brother of the bridegroom.

Reception For the reception in the church parlor, the serving table was centered with the bride's bouquet. The three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with blue roses, was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

Miss Joene Chapman, sister of the bridegroom, presided at the punch bowl, and Mrs. Alice Appleton, sister of the bride, served the cake. Guests were registered by Mrs. Cheryl Free.

For the wedding trip to Colorado, the bride wore a baby-blue knit pant suit. Her corsage was of flowers from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will be at home at 6950 Olive, Commerce City, Colo.

Affiliations The bride, a 1971 graduate of Pampa High School, attended Miss Wade's Fashion, Modeling and Merchandising School in Dallas.

The bridegroom attended schools in Colorado and is employed by Western Computer Corporation in Commerce City, Colo.

Pre-Nuptial Events Pre-nuptial events included a shower hosted by Mrs. Cheryl Free; and the rehearsal dinner given by the parents of the bridegroom.

Out-Of-Town Guests Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Leland Cowell of Commerce City, grandparents of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. Wesley D. Chapman, Mike and Joene; David Voshell of Chicago, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Honeycutt of Shamrock, uncle and aunt of the bride; and Mrs. Virgie Heinen of Amarillo, aunt of the bride.

IRS Reports Widespread Fraud Found In Tax Returns Prepared By Firms

WASHINGTON (AP) — Internal Revenue Commissioner Johnnie M. Walters told senators Wednesday that widespread fraud, not just errors, has been found in income tax returns prepared by firms assisting taxpayers.

He promised criminal prosecutions not only of commercial tax preparers who submit fraudulent returns but also of individual taxpayers who collaborate with them.

As Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally recently disclosed, Walters said an IRS check of returns in the Southeast region prepared by commercial tax preparers showed that 97 per cent were fraudulent.

Walters told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee that the disclosure occurred in mid-March and the IRS immediately ordered a similar check conducted in all the other regions.

Sen. J. Caleb Boggs, R-Del., asked him if he were talking about errors or fraud.

"Fraud," Walters replied, adding the returns reflected deliberate claiming of deductions for which there was no basis, inflated deductions for which there was some basis, and claims of dependents for which there was no basis.

He testified that many commercial preparers base their fee on the amount of tax refund claimed and some of them use their own address on the returns so that the refund check is mailed directly to them.

Walters said 53 arrests have been made, 49 indictments returned, and 11 convictions obtained. In addition, he said 254 investigations now are in progress.

Any taxpayer who receives assistance from a commercial preparer and who feels he files a fraudulent return, Walters said, should immediately file an amended return.

He also said that before the April 17 deadline for filing returns, the IRS is making as many of its own people available as possible to assist taxpayers.

In an eight-state survey including Texas, IRS investigators found more than two out of three professional tax preparers cheated the government by at least $300 on undercover agents' returns. In the Southeast the percentage was even higher—96 per cent.

He said it would be inappropriate to comment on what recommendations he would make to that committee. But he did indicate the IRS would not back registering and licensing of commercial tax preparers by the Internal Revenue Service.

"We need all our manpower to audit returns and not to check on tax preparers," he said.

Walters warned, "A taxpayer should immediately file an amended return if he feels his return was fraudulent. It is the short form called 1040X."

Regional IRS officials in Dallas already have indicated they will audit all returns prepared by some 194 questionable tax preparers which their investigation turned up.

"Only in one place did we not find an overwhelming number of fraudulent returns," he said. "It was in Hawaii, where we only had one."

There was no immediate explanation as to why Hawaii was low, since it has no special regulations governing tax preparers.

Walters said the IRS was aware of the outstanding work of some attorneys, CPAs, enrolled agents and various commercial return preparers.

"We are not criticizing them," he said. "It is unfortunate that the fall-out from our investigations may cause them some discomfort; however, that is normal in such cases."

"In any case, he added, "the situation demands an intensive enforcement drive for everyone's best interest."

Ninety-six per cent of Americans pay income taxes voluntarily, he said, so it costs the nation only 51 cents to collect $100 in taxes.

"This is one reason we get tough. If you call arresting and indicting persons who cheat tough. We owe it to the law-abiding American to see everyone pays his share."

He added, "It is my opinion that anyone who willfully cheats on his income tax return should go to jail."

Woman Lawyer, 61, Marries 32-Year-Old Former Convict

HOUSTON (AP) — A 61-year-old woman lawyer who has represented many prison inmates in court has married a 32-year-old former convict and former client.

The marriage of Mrs. Frances T. Freeman Jalet and Fred Arispe Cruz was revealed Tuesday during proceedings before U.S. District Court Judge Carl O. Bue.

Cruz is expected to be a defense witness in the trial of a suit in which three prison inmates allege Mrs. Jalet conspired to cause a revolution among prisoners at the Huntsville State Prison.

Bue denied a defense request that because of the marriage Cruz be permitted to sit at the counsel table.

A Radcliffe graduate, Mrs. Jalet said she and Cruz were married Saturday in Mexico.

Cruz, a San Antonio resident with an eighth grade education, was convicted in 1961 of robbery by assault and sentenced to 15 years. With Mrs. Jalet as his attorney, Cruz won his freedom from prison last month when a San Antonio federal judge ruled Cruz had not been credited with time spent in county jails.

Witnesses summoned for the trial before Bue include 33 prison inmates.

The plaintiffs, inmates Robert Slayman, 27, Donald Lock, 25, and Freddie Dreyer, 34, want Mrs. Jalet barred from the 'prison. They allege she is teaching "revolutionary ideas and threatening prison security."

Mrs. Jalet contends prison officials are conspiring to prevent her conferring with her clients within the prison because of her court fights against solitary confinement and other alleged prison ills.

Muskie To Concentrate Campaign Efforts In Pennsylvania

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie is planning to concentrate his campaign efforts in Pennsylvania in the next two weeks in hopes of scoring a primary victory over Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey and putting himself back in the front row of Democratic presidential candidates.

Confirming this strategy, an aide said Muskie's current plans call for only limited time—today, Thursday and one day next week—in Massachusetts, where some Democratic regulars say the Maine senator's campaign is falling apart.

Sen. George McGovern is considered the man Muskie must beat in Massachusetts, which holds its presidential primary April 25, the same day as the Pennsylvania contest.

McGovern's Ohio campaign manager, meanwhile, said in an interview he is urging the South Dakota senator to step up his speaking schedule in Ohio in hopes of defeating both Humphrey and Muskie in the May 2 primary in that major industrial state.

Muskie's campaign in Ohio "is in a state of panic," said Robert McAlister, a Columbus attorney.

Muskie's office replied that the South Dakota senator's chief of staff has said openly he doesn't expect McGovern to win in either Michigan or Ohio.

In Boston, one Democratic party insider who asked not to be named said the Muskie camp there is so disorganized that "they don't know how to get their candidate from Logan Airport to downtown Boston."

The Maine senator's new coordinator in the state, Anthony Podesta, admitted that "we have a big organizational task ahead of us in the next two weeks." But other Democratic leaders told The Associated Press it's already too late for Muskie to significantly improve his position in the state.

Private polls reportedly show McGovern has a good chance of beating Muskie in Massachusetts.

McGovern also is on the ballot in Pennsylvania, as are Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, Sen. Henry M. Jackson and several other Democratic hopefuls; but even McGovern aides consider the main contest there to be between Humphrey and Muskie.

In other campaign activities: LIBERALS—A group of liberal Democrats, meeting as the northeast regional conference of the New Democratic Coalition, urged the party to adopt a platform to fight "the concentration of power and privilege." The NDC proposal is to be presented to Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien and the national platform committee's temporary chairman, Richard Neustadt.

CHISHOLM—Rep. Shirley Chisholm, D-N.Y., said in a campaign speech in Ann Arbor, Mich., that she "is not liked by white politicians because I represent the old, the young, the blacks and the women—all minorities." But she said she would stay in the race because many people are counting on her.

JACKSON—The Washington senator, opening a campaign in Omaha, Neb., told a news conference the race for the Democratic nomination is still wide open and he expects to win as a "progressive-center" candidate.

WHICH FOUR?—Four of this group of six quarter-milers will compose Pampa's mile-relay team this week-end at the 3-4A district meet in Amarillo. Coach Ed Lehnick's dilemma is that he cannot use all six and must make a choice. In the foreground are, left, Bobby Owen and Dennis Stowers. Back row from the left, Terry Riddle, Mike Reddell, Larry Marlar and Steve Mathis.

THE MINNESOTA INVADER Stockholders Purchase Car For Indianapolis 500 Race

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Three Minnesota men heard about people taking stock in world heavyweight boxing champion Joe Frazier and decided to try it with a 1971 Gurney Eagle race car.

If the newly named Minnesota Invader, which will be driven on the 1972 U.S. Auto Club circuit by Larry Dickson of Marietta, Ohio, wins the Indianapolis 500 next month, there won't be enough room in the winner's circle for all the owners.

This is the first time in the history of the Indy 500 that there's been a car owned by a public corporation consisting of many, many stockholders," said James C. Rogers, secretary-treasurer of Minnesota Invader, Inc.

Rogers, 40, owner of a St. Paul insurance agency, joined Dale Maloney, 37, official of a suburban retail trailer company, and Ronald C. Larson, 35, equipment supervisor for a suburban company in forming the corporation eight months ago.

Maloney serves as president. Larson as vice president.

"All the principal officers have been avid fans of auto racing for a number of years, more or less involved in sprint-car racing as fans and also as participants," said Rogers.

"We're very active in our businesses and very active in the financial community. And we found that Joe Frazier went public seven or eight years ago before his first pro fight.

"We decided that nobody has ever gone public with championship auto racing and auto racing is the No. 1 sport in the country."

Rogers said that, after a thorough investigation, the three men decided to purchase the Eagle from Dan Gurney of Santa Ana, Calif., for $50,000, including engine. Bobby Unser piloted the car last year.

"We picked Bobby Unser's car because of the many track records it set last year and because it was available for sale."

Minnesota Invader than chose Dickson to pilot the car and named Paul Leffert of St. Paul, Ind., as chief mechanic.

The car, now at Santa Ana, is being prepared for shipment next week to Indianapolis for the 500 time trials next month.

Because of Securities Exchange Commission regulations, Rogers said Minnesota Invader, Inc., isn't allowed to publicly tout its stock—for example, say how many shares are available and at what price.

But Rogers added, "Minnesota Invader is a public corporation composed of great numbers of Minnesota stockholders. The sale of stock is in the process of being completed.

Now that Minnesota Invader has stock, a machine and a driver, can it be competitive?"

"We feel we'll definitely qualify," said Rogers.

Lefors Wins 2-B Track

Lefors—The Lefors Pirates amassed 201 points Wednesday afternoon to capture the district-2-B track title.

Groom finished second in the team totals with 134. Booker was third with 94 points, followed by Follett 36, Mobeetie 12, Allison and Briscoe 6 apiece and Darrouzette 3.

The top two finishers in each event qualified for the regional meet to be held April 21 and 22 in Lubbock.

Results:

High jump—1. Sims, Lefors, 6'; 2. Weeber, Groom, 5'11".

Pole vault—1. Wautob, Booker, 13' 6"; 2. White, Lefors and McQuitty, Booker, 13'; (White advanced to regional meet by winning coin toss).

Broad jump—1. Gifford, Lefors, 20' 1/4"; 2. Morgan, Booker, 19' 5/8".

Discus—1. Goss, Booker, 131' 3"; 2. Robbins, Lefors, 126' 6".

Shot put—1. Robbins, Lefors, 47' 7/8"; 2. Bates, Lefors, 45' 6".

220-yard dash—1. Britten, Groom, 23.9; 2. Prestidge, Lefors, 24.3.

120-yard high hurdles—1. Robbins, Lefors, 16.1; 2. Marlar, Lefors, 16.8.

100-yard dash—1. Stafford, Follett, 18.5; 2. Clark, Groom, 18.8.

330-yard int. hurdles—1. Robinson, Booker, 43.9; 2. Ledwig, Groom, 43.9.

440 relay—1. Groom, 46.0; 2. Lefors, 46.5.

440-yard dash—1. Ollinger, Groom, 34.3; 2. Robinson, Follett, 35.6.

1 mile run—1. McQuitty, Booker, 4:50.4; 2. Ray, Lefors, 5:11.4.

880—1. Lehman, Booker, 2:06.1; 2. Major, Groom, 2:06.75.

Mile Relay—1. Lefors, 3:39.9; 2. Groom, 3:43.0.

Team totals in junior high competition were as follows:

Booker 41, Groom 26 1/2, Lefors 20 1/2, Allison 23, Darrouzette 11, Mobeetie and Follett 6 apiece.

Billie Jean Dissatisfied

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Billie Jean King gave Britain's Wimbledon tournament a backhand slap Wednesday and threatened to quit playing in the famed tennis tournament if prize money isn't increased.

"The top prize for women at Wimbledon is $3,000," said the 28-year-old pro, "yet they gross $1.3 million during the two-week event."

Mrs. King is in St. Petersburg for another stop on the Virginia Slims tour, from which she earned over $100,000 last year.

Billie Jean, a three-time Wimbledon winner, was upset last year by Australia's Evonne Goolagong. As a result, Miss Goolagong is now rated as the world's No. 1 woman tennis player.

"I go crazy when I'm introduced as the No. 2 player in the world," said Mrs. King. "I had my best year in 1971. How can they name a champion from only one tournament?"

Billie Jean, although singing out Wimbledon by name, lashed out at tennis in general.

"People have to realize that big business and sports are one and the same," she said. "The ones getting short-changed are the players. Tennis purses must go up."

Billie Jean hasn't been as successful this year. She hasn't won in the last four tournaments.

Tom Kite Leads Golf

HOUSTON (AP) — Texas' Tom Kite never looks a gift horse in the mouth, especially when it happens to be Lee Trevino and Gary Player.

Kite returned from last week's Masters tournament, where he was the No. 2 lower amateur, with some advice from Player and a putter given to him by Trevino and he certainly put it all together in the first round of the 18th All-America Intercollegiate golf tournament Wednesday.

Kite opened up on the last nine holes with a string of three straight birdies and an eagle on the last hole for a 7-under par 65 and a one-shot lead going into today's second round.

Kite needed the 10-foot eagle putt to gain the lead over Arizona State's Howard Twitty, who was one shot back at 66.

"I played a practice round with Lee at the Masters and he gave it to me," Kite said. "I had three putters in my bag this morning and I was a little reluctant to use it," Kite said.

Kite said he played with South Africa's Player on the first day of the Masters and got some good advice.

"He told me to keep my putter low," Kite said. "I kept it low today and it helped."

Kite was pleased with his 65, which tied the tournament championship record, for more than obvious reasons.

"The course we are playing now are just about as tough as those on the tour," Kite said. "So any time I can get under par, I feel I can make money on the tour."

Corker DeLoach of host University of Houston started today's round in third place with a first round 68. Three others were tied for fourth with 69s, including Jim Ahern and Jim Ihnet, both of Brigham Young and Andy North of Florida.

North, the defending champion, was in the same foursome with Kite, and was three under at the turn with Kite one shot behind. But Kite birdied 4, 5, and 6 to burst into the lead.

Arizona State took the first day lead in the team medal play championship by a one-stroke 287-288 margin over Brigham Young, Texas was third at 289 followed by New Mexico, 290. Houston, and Oklahoma State 291. Florida State 293 and Florida State at 62.

Lee Trevino, Archer Picks At Monsanto

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Tommy Aaron's got a good chance," the guy said, looking over the field for the $150,000 Monsanto Open Golf Tournament.

"A real good chance—just so long as he doesn't tie with George Archer."

Aaron has lost to Archer in playoffs two times this season after they had matched leading scores over the regulation 72 holes. Surprisingly, he doesn't feel he's playing that well.

"I haven't been at all consistent this year," the 35-year-old Aaron jibed.

Still, his two second place finishes, when he lost to Archer over 18 holes in the Glen Campbell-Los Angeles Open and again on the second hole of a sudden death playoff at Greensboro, have helped him win $43,844 this season.

Second is nothing new to Aaron. He's finished there numerous times and it got to be something of a burden until he won the 1969 Canadian Open and the 1970 Atlanta Classic for his only two tour titles.

He had the tag "Perennial Bridesmaid."

"But, you know, like I used to say: with the competition we have out here now, with all the good players, you have to play pretty good to finish second."

Players Strike Still On

NEW YORK (AP) — The continuing melodrama of baseball's stalled season shifted scenes to Chicago today where the 24 major league owners were to consider another proposal designed to end the player strike as it moved into its 13th day.

"We have worked out a new offer and we are closer to a settlement," reported Marvin Miller, executive director of the striking Players' Association, following two separate meetings Wednesday with John Gaherin, negotiator for the owners.

Miller scotched early reports that the strike had been settled but indicated the two sides were edging closer toward an agreement.

Gaherin, on his way to Chicago for the meeting of owners, said the only matter still in contention was the question of paying the players for any games postponed by the strike but made up later in the season. "Everything else is in place," Gaherin said.

The players reportedly have softened their rigid stand that they be paid their full salaries if they play a full 162-game schedule. One report said that Gaherin was carrying with him a player proposal quite similar to the last offer made by the owners and that the strike could end today.

"I'm very optimistic that it might be settled this week," said Tom Haller, player representative of the Detroit Tigers. Haller described Wednesday's meetings between Gaherin and Miller as "an inter-twining of the minds for a soluable solution."

Gaherin was more direct. "We didn't resolve it," he said.

The issue no longer is the pension question which touched off baseball's first general strike almost two weeks ago. That matter was settled by a compromise $500,000 contribution agreed to by the owners during marathon negotiations Tuesday.

Now, the players are questioning on what basis they will be paid when they go back to work.

"It's a simple proposition," said Gaherin. "We say, if we attempt to make up some or any of the games postponed so far and in so doing we create a situation where an admission will be charged for the games, we'll pay them. But if we bring it in as a single admission doubleheader, we owe them nothing additional."

A RUGGED SCHEDULE — COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — Bobby Richardson's South Carolina baseball team will play 48 games this spring, including seven in the sixth Riverside, Calif., tournament.

No 'Super'; No 'World'; Just Plain NBA Play-offs

Dr. James Naismith

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar

Abner Doubleday

By IRA BERKOW
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Of the three major team sports championships—the NBA is certainly the least pompous.

It has none of the super hyperbole of football, nor any of the worldly grandiosity of baseball.

There are no swirling controversies around whether it's the national pastime or not. The NBA has not—yet—devised any self-serving and self-paying polls with loaded questions to determine that it is indeed the greatest thing to happen to this country since traffic jams.

And the pro basketball championship may be closer to the heart of the land, today, than either of the others.

Basketball is the only team sport truly invented in the United States, by Dr. James Naismith in 1892 in Springfield, Mass.

Football came from English rugby. Baseball, as even the Hall of Fame officials in Cooperstown now admit, was a direct descendant of English rounders and not Abner Doubleday.

And more people play basketball in the United States than any other sport. Baseball and football are becoming esoteric, if not altogether extinct, from the rank and file.

Once, baseball was the game for the masses. Once, it was played in sandlots and cow pastures throughout the land. No more. The great bulk of our population is in the cities. And sandlots have magically become apartment complexes. While whatever cow pastures are left are owned by conglomerates.

There are baseball fields for kids, of course, but they have been usurped by the exclusivity of Little Leagues. Football was never really a game for everyone to play. Immediately, women were excluded, unlike baseball and basketball. For others, football was out if they had an aversion to violence or cold weather.

Basketball has the unusual advantages of being suitable for play outdoors or indoors. And for being enjoyable to be played alone or with two others or even nine others.

Try to play football or baseball by yourself and you will be dragged off to a padded cell.

So, a great attraction to the basketball championships is the ability for large pockets of our population to identify with the players, whether we view the games on television or in person.

Baseball people tell us that when we watch a Willie Mays at bat, we are really empathizing with a long-gone version of ourselves in sneakers at the bat-drawn plate in the dust. But that was so long ago.

Football is anxious for fans to become a part of the violent action and relieve workaday frustrations through indirect means. Yet for many of us, the thought of just putting on a helmet pinches our vicarious ears.

But basketball: Most of us can still go out to the garage or the alley hoop and, in an unguarded moment, loop in an Abdul-Jabbar hook.

Basketball alone, despite names such as baseball's "World Series" and football's "Super Bowl," has become worldwide. Baseball is played in Holland and Italy some, and Japan and Taiwan and Latin America a great deal. Little elsewhere.

Outside of the United States football is played almost solely in Canada. Most other countries view "American football" as, in the words of one British journalist, "a game for bloody madmen."

And more than baseball or football, basketball has a universal language. For example, not long ago a New Yorker played in a pickup basketball game in Puerto Rico. Afterward, one of the players asked him to compare a 3-on-3 game in New York to the one just played.

That was probably the most significant victory of the year for us," declared Los Angeles Laker Coach Bill Sharman following his club's 135-134 triumph which squared the playoff series with Milwaukee at one apiece.

But as the clubs headed for Milwaukee and Friday's game No. 3 in the best-of-seven National Basketball Association Western playoff finals, controversy still raged over the play that brought the final two Los Angeles points Wednesday night.

"Hairston traveled along the baseline," argued Buck Coach Larry Costello. "He ran at least 2 1/2 steps and never put the ball down."

Costello also asserted that official Manny Sokol was out of position when West lost control of the ball, which hit the official before West retrieved it.

In any event, Hairston's lay-up put the Lakers ahead 135-132. Before the buzzer, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar added the final two of his game production of 40 points for Milwaukee.

He was outscored, however, by the Lakers' Jim McMillian, who hit a career high of 42, including 17 in the third quarter when the Lakers built a 10-point lead.

Sharman commented, "When you lose the way we did on Sunday, it can really affect your confidence, but this game should help us get it back."

That's why he called it the most significant victory of a season during which the Lakers won a record 33 in a row and 69 overall for another NBA mark.

All told, the lead changed hands 14 times during the Forum struggle Wednesday before

Earl Monroe, although suffering from an injured ankle, probably will be in the Knicks' starting lineup in place of injured Dick Barnett, who is out with a back ailment.

The Nets have been the most surprising team of all those in the playoffs. New York finished third behind record-setting Kentucky, but brushed off the Colonels four games to two in the ABA's East semi.

Pampa Little Dribblers Journey To Lubbock

The locals have been working out since the end of the regular season under the tutelage of Jerry Pope. Coach Pope has a squad of 10 boys, all sixth graders.

The team consists of Tim Reddell, Gary Free, and Mark Coufal of Austin; Bobby Taylor and Jeff Cook of Wilson; Ricky Bunton and Jerry Fought of Lamar; Jim Rigsby of Houston, Gary Dumas of Mann and Tommy Albus of St. Vincent's.

The team is sponsored by the Optimist Club this year with the help of various school officials. Gym facilities were made available through the courtesy of Pampa athletic director Ed Lehnick.

Tommie Smith To Oberlin

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP)—Tommie Smith, who says he has been looking since the 1968 Olympics for a meaningful position, has been named head track coach and assistant athletic director at Oberlin College.

Smith set 11 world running records, more than any runner in history, but is probably best known for his black-gloved, raised fist salute during the playing of the Star Spangled Banner at the Olympics at Mexico City.

Jack Scott, who was recently named athletic director and chairman of Oberlin's department of physical education, appointed Smith. He said Smith visited Oberlin last week and "received tremendous response from students, faculty and administration."

"The fact that Tommie was never offered a meaningful position before now is appalling," said Scott, an author who has been an outspoken critic of sports and the alleged failure of the system to provide a dignified, meaningful experience for athletes.
