BLAST CAUSES NEW FIGHTING NEAR MADRID

DYNAMITE IS USED TO BREAK DEADLOCK OF WEEKS

MADRID, March 4 (AP)—Human moles burrowed under the University City No-Man's Land today, carrying dynamite with which to break the deadlock of weeks of fighting. Insurgent sappers have made repeated subterranean thrusts at the government positions at the clinic hospital on the northwestern outskirts of Madrid and the government defenders have laid protective mines. A government mine was exploded last night, plunging the sector into another spasm of intense fighting—each side thought it was a signal for attack by the other. The insurgents apparently were digging a new tunnel toward the hospital when they hit a protective mine laid several weeks ago by government troops. Several insurgents were reported killed. The insurgents swarmed from their trenches at the detonation and opened a brisk rifle and machine gun fire. Madrid's defenders counter-attacked.

DISMANTLING TANK IS BEGUN ON MAG LEASE

Dismantling a huge steel tank is a job for an expert, declare Pampans who visited the scene of operation on the Magnolia Oil and Gas company lease west of LeFors where the City of Pampa's new water storage tank is being torn down for removal to Pampa. The tank, with a capacity of 80,000 barrels, was erected but never used by the oil company. The city purchased it and accepted the bid of the Panhandle Tank company of Kilgore for its removal. Yesterday Rex Stegall came to Pampa and got his men, 12 in number, and started on the job. Contracts for hauling, building, earthwork, etc., have been let locally. The tank will be rebuilt north of the water wells in northwest Pampa.

PROPER CONTAINERS FOR GARBAGE URGED

The city health department today issued a warning to Pampa residents who have no garbage containers or who are using containers without handles, with holes in them or which are otherwise unfit for use. "Get suitable containers for garbage and insure Pampa's continued good health," was the message of Dr. T. J. Worrell, assistant health officer. He pointed out that spilled garbage is a breeding place for flies, mosquitoes and other germ carrying insects and that the best way to combat disease is to eliminate its source. The city ordinance compels the use of proper containers, he pointed out.

Pampan's Father Killed by Truck Near Canadian

Clark Brown, 70, father of Mrs. Joe S. Stone of Pampa, died in a Canadian hospital after being struck by a truck Tuesday night. The accident happened about 8:30 o'clock north of the Canadian city limits. Jimmy Hartnett, Jr., driver of the truck, said he was unable to avoid hitting the victim although he applied his brakes and swung his truck to one side of the road. The victim was a resident of Woodward, Okla., but spent part of his time here. Burial will be in Woodward. Time had not been set for this morning. The body is at Canadian.

NAZIS' ADULTERY LAW

BERLIN, March 4 (AP)—Adultery under Germany's new penal code, will constitute "an attack on a state institution" instead of merely an offense against a marriage partner. Karl Doerner, ministerial counselor in the ministry of justice, explained today and will be punishable with imprisonment up to 10 years.

Americans Adore Me, Brags Shaw To Interviewer

LONDON, March 4 (AP)—Dramatist George Bernard Shaw conceded today he might be guilty of "swanking a little" because "a modest man is such a nuisance." "Americans adore me," he smiled in complacent answer to Professor Archibald Henderson of the University of North Carolina. "though I have insulted them for their own good as long as I have been writing." Dr. Henderson, author of such books as "Is Bernard Shaw a Dramatist?" and "Bernard Shaw, Playwright and Prophet," declared recently Shaw's "bofulness and egotism" resulted from "a split personality and an inferiority complex." The playwright nonchalantly admitted he had about 20 personalities on tap, but he was frankly puzzled by the inferiority complex. "There was one thing Henderson said about him, however, that Shaw agreed with completely—a description as 'the most distinguished dramatist in English literature since Shakespeare.'" "That," Shaw beamed, "is really quite sound."

RAINS BENEFIT TEXAS FARMS

PART OF WEST TEXAS SECTION GETS MOISTURE

(By The Associated Press) Beneficent rains soaked in Texas soil today to brighten grain crop forecasts and virtually save production in some regions where aridity had created serious conditions. The precipitation also served to clear skies of dust in portions of West Texas. Continued cloudy skies promised additional rains in the greater part of the state. Vernon reported a general fall over Wilbarger county brought promise of a good season of spring plowing and planting. Well over an inch of precipitation was recorded, the best since October and the first since January. Others reports: Fort Worth, more than an inch; Coleman, 51, accompanied by hail, thunder, and lightning and helping crops and range land; Wichita Falls, 8; Big Spring, 12, settling a dust storm and benefiting ranges; Lubbock, .05, clearing skies of dust; Texarkana, .80, aiding truck and grain crops. It was raining at El Paso and cloudy conditions prevailed at Brownsville.

Shelby Gantz, Clyde Fatheree, Carl Boston and Paul D. Hill. The band and trippers will leave from the city hall at 8:30 a. m. The band will participate in the morning parade and will play several concerts. Pampans are urged by the committee to visit Borger, the city which has worked hard in hand with Pampa in development of good roads and other friendly relations.

LINDY BLUSHES

CALCUTTA, India, March 4 (AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh blushed today when an Indian poetess compared his accomplishments with those of Buddha, Galileo and "other spiritual figures of the world." The poetess, Mrs. Sarojini Naidu, at the meeting of the parliament of religions, praised his achievements as "part of the world spirit of faith rendered into action."

NORRIS IRKED BECAUSE PACE IS NOT FASTER

BEGINS HIS 35TH YEAR IN CONGRESS TODAY

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—The Independent George W. Norris of Nebraska began his thirty-fifth year in Congress today by expressing faith in national progress, but impatience "because the pace is not faster." The veteran senator talked of bygone days as a house member as he walked hatless along the capitol concourse. "My most interesting time," he said, "was in the Cannon fight. That victory for a principle marked a turning point for the better. We can see the gains from it operating today." He referred to the parliamentary revolution he led in 1910, by which Speaker "Uncle Joe" Cannon was stripped of "rear" powers over house proceedings. "We are making headway for other important principles today," he said. "However this dispute over the courts' powers is settled, I believe it must and will be settled in a way to make possible a more equitable distribution of wealth." On March 4, 1917, he was recuperating from the strain of the historic filibuster which killed the "armed neutrality" bill of President Wilson. Again, four years ago the last of the "lame duck" congresses had just ended. The Norris amendment was responsible. Norris is planning now to support new amendments to curtail the power of the judiciary. A forecast of sunny, warm weather today made him comment, "I guess I'll have to think up some way to amend that weather."

SHIPPING LIST THIEF GETS 7-YEAR SENTENCE

BEAUMONT, March 4 (AP)—Curtis Thomas, New Orleans "shopping list" thief, had a seven-year penitentiary stretch ahead of him today. Just to be certain he wouldn't miss anything he needed, Tomas admitted to officers he had compiled a "shopping list" before entering the store. In his possession when arrested was the list of clothing that matched each written item. At the bottom of his penciled notations was the reminder: "And all the money I can fine."

Ex-Representative Seeking Clemency

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—Former Representative John J. Hoeppel of California sought clemency from President Roosevelt today after serving little more than three months of a year's sentence for conspiracy to sell a West Point appointment. Representative John Steven McGroarty of Tujunga, Calif., said Hoeppel's petition had the support of 17 members of Congress, including himself.

Pampa Girl Can't Hold Laughter And She Faints

"Opry House Days," a regular Wednesday evening broadcast feature of Station KPND, is so funny that even members of the cast can't take it. Miss Mary Adams, of Pampa, who had a leading role in yesterday evening's production at 5:30 o'clock, swooned and collapsed in front of the microphone in the middle of one of her lines. The cast of seven was presenting a burlesque "meller-drammer" of the days when celluloid collars were in full bloom. Miss Adams was cast in the title role of the "opry," titled "Magnolia of the Old Mansie, or a True Flower of the South." Miss Adams had just been advised in the script that she was about to be whisked away in kidnap fashion as a dastardly villain as ever stroked his waxed mustache before anybody's microphone. It happened in the second act. Progress of the "opry" first act had thrown most of the radio cast into near-convulsions. Miss Adams was doing her best to restrain a burst of laughter. So were other members of the cast. Anyone who ever has been in the trying position of stifling laughter on occasions which demand nothing less than guffaws, can appreciate Miss Adams' predicament. Particularly so it is necessary that nothing like that happen in the radio studio during the broadcast. The demand was too much for her. She led the middle of her line in which she was about to make her final plea for rescue by the handsome young hero—Miss Adams' voice died away. She collapsed and fell to the front of the microphone. KPND listeners of last evening will recall that the second act ended abruptly—but what happened was not in the script. The announcer pulled the situation out of the fire five minutes before the scheduled end of the program, and the mighty opry house symphony orchestra went into "Hearts and Flowers." Meanwhile other members of the cast were working over Miss Adams. She was revived, and today was back at her duties as downtown stenographer, suffering no ill-effects from the experience.

Sitdowner Seeks Alimony at Dry Cleaning Shop

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 4 (AP)—Rats are a minor concern to Mrs. Mildred E. Agness, 35-year-old alimony "sit-downer" who began a second-day siege of her husband's dry cleaning shop determined to remain if she had "to light tigers" to do it. Mrs. Agness prepared to sleep on a table despite the warning that the shop was "infested" with sewer rats at night. Mrs. Agness, mother of a four-year-old boy, started her sit-down yesterday to force her husband, Howard Agness, to pay $100 she claims due her for support of herself and her son under a separation order obtained Oct. 5, 1936.

DRILLING EQUIPMENT IS INVOLVED IN SUIT

A lawsuit for damages, alleged to have grown out of the rental of oil-drilling equipment, was filed in district court today by C. E. Deahl, of Carson county, who named H. H. and Mabel Alldredge and Mrs. N. K. Kinsey, Coloradoans, as the defendants. The petition seeks $1,800 claimed due for rental of tools and equipment to drill an oil and gas well on the J. E. Stephens place in Gray county. The lawsuit also seeks setting aside of the transfer of the lease from the defendant Alldredges, and a foreclosure of an attachment lien on the lease (N 1-2 of the SE 1-2 of Sec. 186) block B-2, H-GN RR Co. survey in Gray county.

BILL TO HIKE TRUCK LOAD LIMIT IS KILLED

AUSTIN, March 4 (AP)—The House of Representatives today killed the highly controversial bill to increase the load limit of trucks. More Cuckoo Hats Worn in America

NEW YORK, March 4 (AP)—More women wear "cuckoo" hats in America than in any other country. Miss Lillian Fischer, Hollywood fashion expert, said today. "In the old days they used to have 'cuckoo' hats in Paris, which no American woman would wear," she said. "Now the opposite is true. Paris is more conservative." She quoted an American milliner as saying, "I have made some terrible hats, but some women like terrible hats. If Paris says hats will be high, they want them still higher."

RACE REPEAL CONSIDERED IN TEXAS SENATE

MOVE BY PROPONENTS SURPRISES BILL'S OPPONENTS

AUSTIN, March 4 (AP)—The issue of repealing the law legalizing pari-mutuel wagering on horse racing in Texas came up in the Senate on a surprise move by proponents. The Senate was nearing adjournment at noon when a bill already passed by the House of Representatives requiring 90 per cent of race track employees, except jockeys and apprentices, be Texans was called, and an amendment to knock out pari-mutuel wagering was offered. The amendment by Senator G. H. Nelson of Lubbock was the bill recently passed by the House by an overwhelming majority to repeal the wagering legalization statute enacted in 1933 and about which controversy has swirled since. Senators leaped to their feet as a snarl of parliamentary maneuvering developed. Governor James V. Allred, who has urged repeal, came to the floor. The state Democratic platform also has called for repeal. Senator Frank Rawlings of Fort Worth, leader of forces opposing repeal, immediately raised a point of order that the amendment by Nelson was not germane, but Senator Grady Woodruff of Decatur, who was presiding, overruled him. A Senate committee had set a hearing on the House repeal measure for March 9. Nelson told the Senate there was not a member who had not made up his mind long ago how he would vote on the question. "The very thing this amendment seeks to do has been considered by the people for a long time," he said, "and I'm convinced that they want repeal." A Senator sought to recess the Senate so that a full hearing could be given, but Nelson insisted there be no recess "until dooms day" and not a single vote would be changed. The motion to recess lost 12 to 14. In the meantime, Rawlings sent up a substitute amendment which would put racing and wagering on a local option basis, and after Woodruff had overruled a point of order against the substitute, Rawlings launched a long argument in its favor.

COMMUNISTS SPEND MOST FOR BALLOTS

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—Senate Investigators disclosed today that the Communist party got the least result for its money during the 1936 election campaign. It spent $279,489, or $3.37 for every vote its presidential candidate received, the senate campaign expenditures committee reported. Republican expenditures averaged 85 cents for each ballot cast for Alfred M. Landon, while the average Democratic vote cost 33 cents. The lowest cost per vote was 11 cents, reported by the Union party.

Two Die, Many Are Injured In Tenement Fire

NEW YORK, March 4 (AP)—Flames roared through two five-story tenements in the teeming regions of New York's lower east side early today, killing at least two persons, driving 200 more into the streets, and injuring 11 men of the massed forces fighting the most spectacular tenement fire in years. Trying up the ruins in the heart of the ghetto, firemen found two bodies burned beyond recognition, and predicted that several more were in the shells of the ancient buildings. The fire was discovered by a girl returning from a party. Police ran through the narrow, darkened hallway, pounding on doors, driving the 200 families into the streets. Firemen carried dozens down ladders from upper floors. Four tenants were burned, or injured, as they scrambled down the fire escapes.

DRIVING A PRIVILEGE—NOT A RIGHT

It is high time we realized that the operation of a motor car on the public highways is a privilege—not a right. Every automobile is a potentially lethal weapon. Properly used, it is one of man's most desirable mechanical servants. Improperly used, it is a terrible menace to the lives, health and property of everyone in the area it travels.

Rigid training is necessary to obtain a license to pilot an airplane—yet the plane travels empty airways where, generally speaking, it cannot endanger others. Locomotive engineers must likewise undergo years of arduous experience, and must prove their physical and mental competence and responsibility before being entrusted with a train—yet a train operates on tracks, and has no traffic congestion problems.

It is an undeniable fact that a considerable percentage of the people now driving should either be denied that privilege or forced to undergo a period of training to make them able, safer car operators. Some of these people are physically incapable of driving properly. Many more are mentally incapable, congenitally incompetent, or reckless. And the toll is 35,000 lives a year.

We will never solve the accident problem until we adopt drivers' licensing regulations that will keep the incompetent and reckless driver off the public roads. No man has a "right" to drive until he can show definitely that he is worthy of the "privilege" bestowed upon him.

LEGALIZED SHAKEDOWNS

The $500,000 breach of promise suit which Peggy Garcia brought against Dave Rubinoff came to a sad end. Overnight the action was discontinued, while the trial judge invited the district attorney's office to examine the whole business, to see whether the general stench which had been created was anything that the law could help abate.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER WASHINGTON—Digging up records of long service on the Supreme Court bench is easy. Getting absolute data on the politics of the justices is hard. The books about them are sometimes silent on that point.

That was what Representative Ramsay, West Virginia Democrat, found when he set out to show to what extent party politics could be read into Supreme Court nominations. He had to do a bit of research, aided no doubt by the staff at the Library of Congress. He produced for the information of congress a compilation which he admitted might be subject to correction here and there.

"I leave to congress the privilege of determining the part politics has played in the past in appointments to the Supreme Court," Ramsay said in submitting his results. If his "conclusion" is as to politics of the justices are sound, it is not difficult to detect party politics in appointments from the start. There have been only eleven chief justices for instance, and four of those were Federalists, four Republicans and three Democrats in the Ramsay count. Among the associate justices he discovers 11 Federalists, 21 Democrats, 26 Republicans, six Democrat-Republicans, two Independents and one Independent-Whig.

Nobody but Federalists got on the supreme bench down to President Jefferson's time. He named all Democrat-Republicans, his own party, as did Madison and Monroe. Andrew Jackson named Democrats, as did Van Buren, Tyler and Polk. Fillmore named an Independent-Whig. Pierce and Buchanan relapsed to Democrats.

The interesting part of the story to moderns begins with Lincoln. He is credited with two Republicans, one Democrat and one independent appointee. Grant, the next President to appoint, went whole hog for his own party, naming three Republicans. Hayes, Garfield and Arthur carried on with Republicans. Cleveland shifted to Democrats for his two terms, naming three. Harrison contributed three Republicans and a Democrat.

McKinley's lone appointee was a Republican, as were the three Theodore Roosevelt selections. Taft picked two Democrats and three Republicans and Wilson three Democrats, two of whom still are on the bench. President Harding named three Republicans, two of whom are incumbents; President Coolidge a Republican. President Hoover split his choice with one Republican and one Democrat.

Which brings it down to date, pending Franklin Roosevelt's selection.

Yesteryear In Pampa

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY Saturday afternoon closing of the postoffice started here, and over the nation.

Mrs. Emma LeFors was honored on her birthday with a family dinner given by her daughter, Mrs. A. H. Doucette.

Approval was given for a WPA project for surfacing 16 blocks of streets in LeFors.

The fire department reported that it answered 18 calls in February, a record for one month. However, insured loss amounted to only $185.

Pines were assessed several motorists for driving at a speed above the city limit, 30 miles an hour. The war on speeders started following a traffic accident fatality.

CRIME PICTURE PUZZLE

Four numbered illustrations showing scenes related to crime: 1. A group of killers and habitual criminals brought to justice. 2. A group of law-abiding citizens victimized by those same criminals shortly afterward. 3. Picture of a jail showing that the bars were not broken and criminals did not make a forcible escape. 4. There are no clews except large stacks of pardons and paroles signed by various governors and parole boards.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—The other morning about 6 o'clock a gallant whose business is photography and art leaped out of bed and excitedly jangled the telephone. His apartment house was on fire.

He became aware of this when a lady in pajamas and a fur coat pounded on his door and yelled, "Get up! Get up!" Then she galloped off, like a modern Paul Revere, spreading the news from door to door.

Well, it wasn't much of a fire, as fires in New York go, because the flames were confined to a single apartment. But some extremely ludicrous and amusing things happened. It just goes to show you how people react to danger in New York.

Now back to the lad on the telephone. When the operator answered (he swears it seemed like several hours before she finally said, "Number, please") he yelled, "There is a fire, get the fire department!" To his stupefaction she sleepily replied, "What's the number? Don't you know the fire department's number? Why don't you look it up in the telephone book?"

"Great catfish!" he shrieked. "It's a fire! Don't you understand! Get me the fire station. Get ANY fire station!" "Oh!" cried the now startled operator. "Well, why didn't you say so?"

Having put through this call, our hero dragged on his brushes and plunged headlong down the stairs. For the moment, he says, he first knew the meaning of panic. The stairway was cluttered with rolling banks of smoke. He couldn't tell whether he was dashing into solid flame or fresh air.

Fortunately, it was air, and as he charged into the sweet ozone, a grinning fireman yelled, "Hey, Buddy, where do you think you're going—to a fire!" Brought back to his sanity by this calming influence, he decided to stand around and take in the sights.

People You Know

To the committee which will decide on the type of celebration to be held here this coming spring: Look in any direction from Pampa you want to and you will see a forest of derricks; the smoke you see on the horizon surrounding the Queen City of the Plains (so George Tyng who named Pampa called her) is from carbon black plants; the huge rumbling trucks you meet around midnight on the paved roads which shoot out of Pampa, are filled with gasoline; that string of box cars being shunted back and forth by a switch engine is filled with costly "soot" made in carbon black plants near your town, and gives jobs to thousands. That three-foot high stack of checks at the bank is only a small part of the oil industry's payroll. You know where most of the money that is spent in Pampa comes from!

Here is a family that has four young men and a father and every hour from 8 to 12 one of the men goes out on tower . . . If you will drive out on any road leading out of Pampa and stop your car your ears will be filled with the rhythical, chug-chugging of drilling wells, pumping wells, refineries; the landscape will be studded with derricks . . . In every other house in town there lives a family that is directly connected with the oil industry. The oil and gas were here before the Indians, before the pioneers, before the wheat, before the Pampa is in a position to do so . . . and when Pampa does may she see the beauty, the glamour, the romance in it.

Parents are apt to make heavy weather of teaching table manners to their children. They insist on too many arbitrary rules. Table manners vary according to time and place, and to local or even national customs to the young is a waste of time.

In some places it is proper to cut lettuce with a knife, in others it is a breach of etiquette. Whether to eat asparagus with a fork or lift it to the mouth with one's fingers, is a moot question. Corn on the cob never shift the fork from the left hand to the right as Americans do. Some people bite bread, others consider such behavior barbarous, and break it into mouthfuls.

Anyone can learn these superficialities of good table manners by observing the people about him, just as, by a little delay he can learn which fork or spoon to use next. There are only a few fundamental rules to teach children, and these are all based on consideration for others.

One eats with one's mouth closed and as silently as possible. It is not pleasant for one's table-mates to watch the processes of mastication. For the same reason, one does not talk with one's mouth full. No one wants to be poked by his neighbor's elbow; therefore a child must learn to keep his elbows close to his sides.

Grabbing food, taking the largest or the last piece on the dish, complaining of food or service are unsocial acts, and therefore illbred. Lolling on the table takes up more space than is allotted to a single individual; moreover, it is an unattractive attitude. Drinking before wiping the mouth leaves an unsightly smear on the glass.

How's Your Health?

Edited by DR. IAGO GALDSTON for the New York Academy of Medicine CONTROL OF CORPULENCE A "bay window" grows upon you—no pun is intended. There indeed is the rub. The sudden addition of weight is likely to bring the patient to the doctor, in the state of alarm.

When the waist line grows larger with the years, quarter inch by quarter inch, the individual is likely to look upon his increment as the unavoidable consequence of growing older. But it "ain't" so.

On the contrary, the normal consequence of growing older is loss of body weight. Corpulence, save in a very small percentage of cases, is the result not of age but of over-indulgence in food.

The control of corpulence should begin at the beginning. When the individual finds himself heavier by five pounds than he or she should be, then it is time to take stock. When the excess is 10 pounds, it is more than ripe time to do something. The greater the excess weight one carries, the more difficult it is to get rid of it. And the longer one indulges in "heavy eating," the harder it is to break away from the habit.

There is but one way of controlling corpulence, and that is to reduce the caloric content of the food eaten. Exercise helps to reduce body weight, but it is only of secondary importance. Incidentally, the middle aged man who attempts to reduce by way of the gym class, is inviting serious trouble. Not that exercise is bad. On the contrary, when taken out of doors and in moderation, it is a great tonic. Supplementing a reduced diet, exercise will speed the vanishing pounds.

But the gym enthusiast we have in mind is the man who wants to "work off" his bay window by a strenuous half hour of medicine ball and so forth, three times a week. Such "work" is likely to prove far too strenuous for his heart and circulation.

Before reducing, one should have a thoroughgoing medical examination. The examining physician can then prescribe a diet suitable to the individual. He can also indicate what type of exercise and how much should be taken by the overweight one.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN A reader can get the answer to any question of fact by writing The Pampa Daily News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C. Please enclose three (3) cents for reply. Q. Is it true that children become more excited over movies than adults? W. H. A. In tests made with a psychogalvanometer, children were found to become twice as excited over motion pictures as adults.

Q. Do the pink flamingos in Hialeah park in Miami raise any young? F. M. A. The females in this flock build nests, but with one exception they have never laid any eggs. Only one egg was laid, and it was not hatched. A great ado was made over the incident because it is said to be the only instance where a bird of this species ever laid an egg in North America.

Q. Is the seal of the United States affixed to documents—F. N. A. It is used only on documents which the President signs, and not on all of these. Q. When did the National Civil Service Act become a law? T. S. A. On January 16, 1883. Q. Is September 17 or June 21 the anniversary of the Constitution? B. S. A. September 17 is the anniversary of the day that the final draft of the Constitution was presented to the convention and signed by the delegates present. This, That and Everything

By JESS KELLEY The world now is in the midst of a terrible drouth. Obviously it is one of the most devastating of its kind ever experienced. This may sound pessimistic, yet it is true, and such conclusion is drawn from a careful study of modern human nature. I am talking about "moral conviction." The world is not suffering so much today from a lack of good ideals as it is from a lack of conviction necessary to push those ideals, which are in possession of many good and great truths, but these truths are accepted too mildly.

We often talk about the wonderful moral progress our civilization has made in the past, but we should never forget that every inch of progress made has come through a bold defense of firmly-believed principles. It has been much easier to conceive of the right thing to do than it has been to put the right thing to practice in the machinery of social life. Anyone who succeeds in elevating the standard of social custom and rule must be willing to follow an ideal at all cost. After all, what is the value of all the knowledge of what is right unless we have sufficient moral courage and conviction to do according to what our knowledge tell us is right? However badly our present generation needs more knowledge, I contend that our greater need is an adequate "conviction" resulting from such knowledge.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD—The young man was in a quandary. He represented an organization holding its convention in Los Angeles. Somebody had sent out invitations, then appointed the young man as the "entertainment committee."

The invitations had invited conventioners specifically (1) to meet and play with movie stars and (2) to dance with Ginger Rogers. All the young man had to do was (1) to assemble movie stars for the conventioners to meet and play with and (2) to get Ginger Rogers.

Now movie stars are notoriously not fond of meeting and playing with strangers, and Miss Rogers, after dancing all day with Fred Astaire, might be justified in turning down an invitation to dance with several hundred howling, rip-snorting convention visitors.

The last I saw of the young man he was still in a quandary. Conventions A Problem Hollywood (meaning the movie studios) is not so fond of conventions as it might be. It deals with them as tactfully and considerately as expediency permits, but it more frequently turns thumbs down cold. Convention delegates themselves, with a little reflection, would demand why. Making pictures is an industry, and two or three hundred visitors at a time—each goggle-eyed and, oh, so interested—can clutter up a set like a sit-down strike.

The usual procedure, when studio courtesies are in order, is to conduct a bus tour through the lot, denying the stages to the badge-wearers. Because the latter want to see movie stars in the raw, they rarely are satisfied with this. Nor are they satisfied generally and a hard-bitten veteran of many years (and with authority) with a look-see on a set or two. What they seem to want is to ogle a Dietrich love scene or one of Garbo's intimate moments.

Diplomacy Called For Failing to achieve this, not a few conventioners have left the studios in a pout. On one occasion, when diplomacy dictated some sort of concession, a studio assembled several stars for lunch in its dining room, had Al Jolson and other entertainers perform, and thought its guests would be happy. But they didn't get on the sound stages—and some of them spoke their minds about that. That's how trying to be nice makes enemies.

For "important" organizations which can pull strings, exceptions are made, and the studio resigns itself to being over-run a day or two. But Hollywood makes no exceptions—officially at least—for one rule. It will not, emphatically not, supply feminine beauty to convention parties.

well, near Beaumont, brought in and by whom? A. January 10, 1901, by Anthony F. Luchich, an Austrian, who had changed his name to Lucas, when he became a United States naturalized citizen in the late 1890's. Lucas was in search of sulphur and salt when slight oil indications first led him to hope for oil production. This gusher was the first big production in Texas. Q. At what price was the first oil from the Spindletop field sold? A. A co-partnership composed of John Galey, J. M. Guffey and A. F. Lucas, under the firm name of "J. M. Guffey Co.," on Feb. 16, 1901, contracted to sell from its discovery well or other sources a minimum of 150 barrels a day and a maximum of 2,500 barrels daily to the Gulf Company at 25 cents a barrel delivered on the Sabine and East Texas Railway at any point between Beaumont and Port Arthur. The oil to be 22 gravity. CRAYON PROJECTS IN TEXAS HISTORY It is easy to teach children history with colored outlines, pictures of historical events and colored crayons. HARVESTER INTER-SQUAD SCRIMMAGE WILL BE HELD TOMORROW AT 4:30

70 BOYS NOW WORKING OUT FOR FOOTBALL

MAJORITY WILL NOT WEIGH OVER 150 POUNDS

Harvester coaches plan to get a line on their prospects early this season and the best way is to look them over in a scrimmage. With that in mind, an inter-squad scrimmage session will be held tomorrow afternoon, about 4:30 o'clock, weather permitting.

Three hard practice sessions are already behind the prospects, that is, the 45 who received suits Monday reported Tuesday and yesterday a few more showed up for equipment. Bringing the squad to 70 members, the largest in many years.

As was the case last year, size was sadly missing. One of the group would weigh more than 200 pounds. No two or three would probably be over 180 pounds while the majority would have trouble passing 150 pounds.

Fight and determination, which carried the 1936 Harvester midgets to a successful season, not in games won but in popularity, is again apparent. Too, the few boys who saw play last season will be better and prospects coming up are showing a little more fundamental training.

Coaches would not name their starting eleven following a long practice yesterday afternoon which included about everything in the football book. The backs and ends worked on passing, punting and blocking under the eagle eye of Coach Odus Mitchell. Coach J. C. Prejean and Guerilla Coach Bob Curry sent the linemen through charging, blocking, tackling and running interference assignments. After all that preliminary, dummy scrimmage was in order for a solid hour while plays given Monday and Tuesday were reviewed. Yes, the Harvesters started out receiving plays on their first day in uniform instead of working altogether on uninteresting fundamentals, etc.

No definite information on the best looking prospect could be determined in the practice, from the "rail bird's" viewpoint, but coaches apparently got ideas, considering their whispered conversations among themselves.

Anyway, weather permitting, two elevens will be lined up tomorrow afternoon. Efforts will be made to give every boy in uniform a chance but because of the number out, it will be impossible to send all of them into the firing line. There will be more scrimmages, however, when they will get their chances.

A study of the newcomers and their possibilities will be made next week when they have had time to get used to the situation at hand.

Training Camp News

HAVANA—Having "started something" among the scribes when he said his New York Giants were a better club this year than last, Manager Bill Terry is now telling why he thinks so. The pitching is better, his outfield will be improved, and his infield, even if he doesn't turn himself, is a better one, claims Bill. He insists the improvement in reserve strength makes the inner defensive cordon higher powered than last year.

CLEARWATER, Fla.—The sum of $500 is assuming mountainous proportions in the Brooklyn Dodger training camp. Two of the top hold-outs, pitcher Van Mungo and first baseman Buddy Hassett, are shouting that only $500 separates each of them from coming to terms—but they're not signing until they get it.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—The dressing room scales are taking a beating in the New York Yankees' training camp. Two of the larger pitchers in baseball, Bump Hadley and "Old Blue" Malone have turned up weighing 210 and 201 respectively, while Hurler Monte Pearson brought more than 170 pounds with him, although he has already dropped to 163.

PASADENA—Manager Jimmy Dykes of Chicago's White Sox, a lot of third baseman in his own right, is wasting no time in testing the talents of his prospective successor, 19-year old Steve Mesner from Los

BRADDOCK-SCHMELING FIGHT IMPOSSIBLE, ASSERTS GOULD

NEW YORK, March 4 (AP)—The much mixed up heavyweight situation dropped back into the first calm in weeks today, broken only by Joe Gould handing out 35-cent cigars and telling one and all what a "great guy" is champion Jim Braddock.

Max Baer is on the high seas bound for London after playing hide-and-seek with Madison Square Garden's press servers; Max Schmeling is awaiting developments in New York, still confident he'll fight Braddock for the title, came June 5, and the Garden is considering legal moves.

If you listen to Gould, Braddock's manager, you get the definite idea there's as much chance of the Braddock-Schmeling fight as of elephants flying.

Rosemont Wins $100,000 Handicap

Coming from way behind in the back stretch, Rosemont, a sleek five-year-old, won the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap but it was a close finish, as this picture shows.

Rosemont, identified by the arrow, beat Seabiscuit to the pole only by a nose and the judges demanded a photograph before they would name the winner.

Rosemont, owned by William S. DuPont Jr., paid $9,500 for a $2 win ticket. Indian Broom was third. Fifty thousand fans saw the race at the Arcadia, Calif. track.

State Basketball Tourney To Open In Austin Friday

AUSTIN, March 4 (AP)—Eight crack high school basketball teams, the team of Texas' schoolboy eagles, will be here tomorrow to participate in the first round of the state championship tournament.

Several regional title-winning quintets were expected today to include in workouts on the Gregory gymnasium court, scenes of the University of Texas interscholastic league finals.

The first game, tomorrow at 2 p. m., will see Dublin, the Abilene representative, meet Carey, last year's fourth place team.

At 3:15, Harlingen of the grapefruit area is to tangle with Polytechnic of Fort Worth, one of the two "big city" aggregations in the tournament.

Gober, coming from the district that last year sent the state titlists, Cushing, will play the other "big city" five in the meet, the University of San Antonio, at 7:15 p. m.

The finale of the first round at 8:30 p. m. will be staged between Fort Stockton from the district which furnished the 1936 runner-up, El Paso, and Livingston, representing the region which sent last year's third place quint, Jeff Davis of Houston.

Semi-finals will be Saturday morning and the clash for third place honors and finals that night.

4 SCHOOLS TO SEND BOXERS TO WHEELER

WHEELER, Mar. 4—Four schools will send boxers to Wheeler Friday night to battle with Wheeler fighters in the first matches of the 1937 season. The first of the 15 matches will be called at 7:30 o'clock with admission 15 and 25 cents with reserve seats 10 cents extra.

Scrappers from Briscoe, Shamrock, Mobeetie, McLean and Wheeler will participate. Eleven weights will be represented in the fight. Wheeler will present nine boxers as follows:

The Cooper brothers, the Nations brothers, Jones, Robinson, Norman, Johnson, Tate and Harmon.

The Wheeler high school band will give a 30-minute concert beginning at 7:30 o'clock. An added attraction will be a robe fight between Bob Noah and Troy Shipman.

Wheeler's fighters are being handled by Assistant Coach Stina Cain. Head Coach Bob Clark will be master of ceremonies and promoter.

Angelo, Dykes gave the pitchers and catchers little attention in the opening drill yesterday, and concentrated in watching the youngster's fielding maneuvers.

TAMPA, Fla.—Limbering up exercises and batting practice were ahead today for the first contingent of Cincinnati Reds to arrive for spring training.

Baer slipped out of port yesterday, smiling to a shrieking crowd of women fans. The Garden, through matchmaker Jimmy Johnston, announced "we'll get him in London; we got lawyers everywhere."

The Garden wants Baer to fight Bob Pastor, Maxie decided to accept an offer for two fights in London.

Schmeling, arriving from Germany early yesterday, sat in at a conference with Garden heads and lawyers last night and was apprised of the whole situation. Afterward he said he wasn't worried.

HIGH-RANKING TEAMS TANGLE IN AAU MEET

DALLAS, March 4 (AP)—The high-ranked Gaylords of Bogalusa, La., and seven other teams, idle in opening night play, are paired in the second round of the Southwestern A. A. U. basketball tournament tonight.

The Louisianians tangle with Olive and Meyers of Dallas; Dr. Pepper of Dallas meets Sam Houston Teachers; Sulphur (La.) Mining Supply plays Hardin-Simmons university, and Canton (Tex.) Athletic Club meets the Slaton (Tex.) Chamber of Commerce.

Two Dallas clubs and the formidable Brown Paper Mills of Monroe, La., topped their first-round opponents last night. Brown Paper Mills trampled Simmons Beds, Dallas, 51 to 27; Jewish Community Center, Dallas, squeezed by Dallas Railway, 36 to 34, and Sammy's Place, Dallas, disposed of Mozelle Athletic Club, Coleman, Texas, 56 to 41.

LOU GEHRIG IS HEADACHE FOR COL. RUPPERT

NEW YORK, March 4 (AP)—Col. Jacob Ruppert, immaculate in a gayly checked suit and tie, sat in his oak paneled brewery office today and discussed the past, present and future of his New York Yankees.

In the past he recalled a lot of fun and strange deals. In the present, he has one throbbing headache named Henry Lou Gehrig. In the future—"Well, you get prepared for anything," he said. "But I plan to keep the Yankees as long as I'm well."

At 69, bachelor Ruppert is indeed well. And between beer and baseball, he is the "busiest man in town."

Every morning he is at his desk at eight. "I never break this habit," he said. "Baseball has been my diversion from this routine. I've had my headaches in this business, but the pleasure by far overshadows the trouble."

"I've never beaten down a ball player in my life," he said quietly. "When Lefty Gomez was in here, I told him I'd much rather pay him $25,000 a year than $12,500. If he were a $25,000 pitcher, he'd be a lot better investment." (Gomez signed his contract yesterday.)

He recalled that he tried to buy the New York Giants and was offered the Chicago Cubs, before buying the Yankees in 1915 for $400,000. Right now, the Yankees are valued at around $7,000,000.

but he hasn't been to a fight since the Dempsey-Pirpo affair back in the early 20's.

Fellow pros, who say he's red hot, have established Harry Cooper of Chicago to win the $3,000 Hollywood (Fla.) Open, which started yesterday. A few days ago Harry won a three-way play-off in the St. Peter Open. The man showing the most pepper in the Boston Bees camp these days is none other than Bob Smith, the old pitcher, on the roll as scout this season. Most nervous rookie so far is young Donaldson, Yankee catching recruit. He was so excited the first time they put him behind the platter, he fumbled the first six pitches Pat Malone shot over.

BUDGE AND WASHINGTON CREW DUE TO MOP UP DURING 1937

NOTE: This is the second of two stories showing how a group of the country's leading sports editors forecasts the outcome of this year's principal sports events. It covers the amateur half of the picture.

BY ALAN GOULD
NEW YORK, March 4 (AP)—The only thing red-headed Don Budge and the University of Washington's varsity crew have in common is that they are expected to mop up the competition, from west to east, in this year's sporting soiree.

They are the nearest to unanimous choices in a poll of the country's leading sports editors, taken by the Associated Press for a consensus forecast on 1937 events.

Exactly 42 out of 46 experts, representative of all shades of athletic thought, selected Budge to consolidate his No. 1 ranking this year by capturing the United States tennis championship. Forty of 44 named Washington to repeat in the four-mile varsity classic at Poughkeepsie.

Otherwise, on amateur fronts, sports editors pick the United States to regain the Davis cup, international tennis trophy; Harold S. Vanderbilt's Ranger to turn back the An-erica's cup challenge of Endeavor II in yachting; Johnny Goodman to displace Johnny Fischer as national amateur golf king, and Helen Jacobs to oust blond Alice Marble from the women's national tennis heights.

Sharp divisions of opinion reflected the uncertainty with which the outcome is regarded at several major points. Taken as a whole, the experts believe 1937 will be a bad year for champions. Two exceptions involve the events to be conducted on tidal waters, where Vanderbilt and Washington are the choices to repeat.

Only three out of 47 sports editors named England as likely to retain the Davis cup without Fred Perry. Budge, this country's main Davis cup hope, ran off with the balloting on the next singles champion. The Californian topped 42 out of 45 votes.

Goodman tops Fisher, the defending champion, for the national amateur golf championship, by the close margin of 17 to 16. Walter Emery of Oklahoma, runner-up to Lawson Little two years ago, and Seattle's Scotty Campbell, received three votes each. On the theory that anything can happen, Harry Givan, Charley Yates, George Dunlap and Gus

BY EDDIE BRIEZE

TAMPA, Fla., March 4 (AP)—Racing down here hits a new high for the season this week. The $500,000 Widener challenge cup, named for the owner of Hialeah park, is to be run at Miami, Saturday. Some of the best campaigners in the country are entered and it's too bad Roman Soldier pulled up lame and can't start. Old Rabbit Maraville, as spry as a colt, is around the baseball camps spinning yarns that make your hair stand up and looking for man power for his Montreal team. Babe Ruth definitely has decided not to make his annual Florida visit. Too many broadcasting engagements in the east.

Bill Harridge, president of the American league, is having such a good time at Miami he keeps staying and staying. So is young Horace Stoneham, president of the Giants. Sees his team as sure repeaters in the National. Bill McKechnie of the Bees is enthusiastic about several of his rookies who average about 35 years in age.

Joe Gould loudly announces that Jack Dempsey (in person) will help direct Jimmy Braddock's preparations for the Louis fight, at last reports still scheduled for Chicago on June 22. Eddie Collins, general manager of the Red Sox, has seen more than 8,000 baseball games.

Moreland each emerged with one backer.

STRIPES MARK WELL-DRESSED MAN OF TODAY

By WALTER C. PARKES
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK—In the Spring parade this year, the well-dressed beau will be known by his stripes. He'll have a new Easter bonnet, of course, and probably a suit, but both of these will lack 100 per cent dash unless they are highlighted with smart up-to-date shirts and neckties.

Color is king in the new shirting. Not blatant color just for its own sake, but smart sophisticated tones cleverly manipulated to accent the outfit rather than thrust a chromatic thump in the eye of the beholder. Style is lined up with stripes of every sort. But definitely outstanding are the striped stripes, groups of fine hairlines that club together to form one fairly wide panel. And when the clusters are lined on white, gray or very pale grounds, your shirt is unmistakably "Spring—1937".

Deep-tones Losing Favor
There is a marked retreat from the deep-tones of the past few years. In the solid color shirts, intensity of hue is on the ebb, with dusty-tones superseding deep-tones and the dusties slated to succumb eventually to pastel tints and a probable return of plain white to high style acclaim.

If stripes are the style captains in Easter parades, checks are scarcely more than second lieutenants. The new squared patterns are quite mild compared to their predecessors, whose lumberjack lustiness has been completely ceded to the field of sport.

Scarcely less interesting than the patterns are the new collars and cuffs that have been devised. Short point collars, both sharp and rounded, are considered smart. On the other hand, for those who want points as it points, there's a collar whose 3 1/2 inch ends extend under the vest. And new construction tricks have made collars more upstanding, more comfortable and longer lived.

The chap who has to dash off to a social affair right from the office has been booned with a new two-in-one shirt. Solid colored, it has two separate collars, one to match and the other white. The cuffs are reversible, one side matching the shirt and the other white. You wear the colored collar and show the colored cuff at the office and when you leave for your heavy date, merely don the white collar, turn the cuff to show the white side, and there you are.

Another cuff fastens with a spool shaped button and can be worn barrel style or as a French cuff. Quite novel also, is a cuff that closes with a strap on the bottom.

The new spring neckwear shows the full flower of the trend to extra large figures and wide-spaced all-over effects. Some figures are so large that only one or part of one shows between the knot and the vest top. Many of the figures are orthodox in origin, others the results of fancy into the primitive art of South Sea Islanders and our own modernists. Though the figures border on the surrealist, few of these splashy effects can truly be called loud, as color and design are skillfully blended to produce a pleasing effect. The visual impact of giant figures is modified by printing them in ancient madder tones and other soft effects.

The new bold figures, wide spaced designs and outsize stripes are just what the doctor ordered to set off the neat, fussy patterns of currently stylish shirtings.

HEARTS DON'T BEAT IN HAWAII—THEY HULA

HONOLULU (AP)—To most people the word "hula" means Hawaii's rhythmic dance, but to a Hawaiian language purist it may mean anything from a palpitating heart to raising something with a level.

So says Lella Holt, assistant territorial archivist, citing a 100-year-old Hawaiian dictionary as authority. The ancient volume, published in 1838, was discovered during a reclassification of the archives.

Hula, the dictionary says, means, among other things: a swelling; a protuberance under the arm; a twitching as of the eye; an involuntary muscular movement; to palpitate, as the heart; to throb, as an artery; to go through a solid substance; to expel or eject; and to raise with a level.

Locks have been used since earliest times. The ancient Egyptians used wooden locks of crude construction. Locks and keys of bronze and iron have been found in the ruins of Pompeii and Herculaneum.

It's Spring Style Time For Men, Too, At Tailor Show

BY WALTER C. PARKES,
NEA Service Staff Correspondent.

PHILADELPHIA.—While the gals are oo-ing and ah-ing over the spring collections of Parisian couturiers, the men folk, in their own quiet way, were having their own official opening of the spring glad-rag season here at the Ritz-Carlton hotel. It's the annual convention of the National Association of Merchant Tailors of America, and this year it was bigger and more enthusiastic than ever because it was the golden jubilee meeting of the organization founded 50 years ago.

This year the tailors are demonstrating a masculine wardrobe which they have decided is the irreducible minimum for any man who hopes to be well-dressed on all occasions. It contains 19 major items. Neckties and handkerchiefs don't count! The official wardrobe, with out which you are practically naked, contains lounge suits, overcoats (5), evening and special kits for yachting and riding.

It seems rather a large "minimum." So go ahead and look mildly agast. The wardrobe sponsors, however, merely smile and say: "Count what's in your own closet—your new suits, your second best well-dressed hats or overcoats. Don't forget your formal clothes, summer suits, odd jackets and slacks and sport togs, and see how near you come to this "minimum."

Oh well, if you look at it THAT way. But anyway it's a relief to know the tailors don't expect you to dash out and order 19 new suits. This year the merchant tailors seem to have had a slight touch of sanity when they created the convention display models. Those weird color combinations that in past years dismayed the publicity committee by creeping into the headlines are fewer in number and less surrealist in effect.

Most of the exhibits are quite conventional demonstrations of cutting skill and interesting fabrics. Only slightly off the beaten path of cut and color is the "directors' suit," with which the tailors hope to bring to the busy marts of trade some of that formality that ruled when the high-powered executives of the '30's wore frock coats to the office.

It is a dark blue single-breasted coat and double-breasted vest worn with blue and gray striped trousers. Noteworthy at the show also were the single-breasted lounge jacket that features double-breasted lapels, an idea imported from London. A very handsome new double-breasted evening topcoat with dull silk lapels, on the other hand, is 100 per cent American in conception. Trousers of all the suits shown used slide fasteners on the fronts, and it would seem that this mechanistic improvement, endorsed as it is by the Mr. Biggs of style, is a permanent contribution to sartorial smoothness.

Though conventionally seems a back in the style saddle, the show is not without its highlights of color. Ray Twyeffort, president of the association, contributed Solomonian glory. Color is camp of Mr. Twyeffort, who for years has been a one-man rescue mission, pulpiti-pounding his chromatic creed that "man should be a peacock and not a pea hen."

So the Twyeffort display includes all those symbols of his sartorial heaven—the pastel colored champagne tuxedos in canary, orange and Gulf Stream blue, with contrasting silk cummerbunds, the colonial blue cut-away suit, rainbow-hued silk vests and the midnight blue opera cape with maroon silk lining, a swashbuckling affair calculated to bring Hollywood into the home.

FLASHES OF LIFE
(By The Associated Press)
YOU'RE NEXT.
CAMBRIDGE, N. Y.—The mayorality race drew these comments: Mayor Robert Byrne: It may be a close shave but I'll win by a whisker.
Candidate William Robertson: I've had an itch to be mayor ever since I was a little shaver. This election is in the bag and I've got it tied with a barber shop cord.
Both men are barbers.

ATLANTIC COASTER.
WINCHESTER, Va.—In the absence of accommodation from nature, this one has Andrew Bell, chamber of commerce secretary, on a dilemma's horns:
Miss Arlene L. Leins, of New York, wrote for information on touring the Shenandoah valley by bicycle. Could she, queried Miss Leins, find routes enabling her to coast downhill both coming and going.

WOMAN'S PREROGATIVE.
CONNERSVILLE, Ind.—Mrs. Everett Ketchum's decision to change her mind was pretty disastrous. After filing charges of assault and battery against her husband, she testified in court her affidavit was false. Her husband was all right, she said. The court held her affidavit was not all right and sent her to jail on a perjury charge.

STOP, LOOK AND—
BELMONT, N. Y.—Yes, explained Willis Mcomber that red reflector light on the back of his overcoat was there for a purpose. He was just out of bed and still on the mend from injuries suffered when he was struck down by a car. "Tail light," said Mcomber.

AND MORE RECESSES.
SAN DIEGO, Calif.—Parents who oppose G. O. Akers' candidacy for a seat on the board of education are thankful their children can't vote. His platform: "No home work."

MARIO BRAGGIOTTI, socially prominent band leader, displays the correct fall dress suit.

Note the high-waisted effect and tails that come below the knees but above the calves. This suit was made in a coarse honey-comb weave worsted that is a little brighter than midnight blue. Dignity and dash are provided for the busy executive by the "director's suit" (left below), consisting of a dark blue coat, double-breasted waistcoat of soft diagonal weave lambs' wool and midnight-blue-and-gray striped worsted trousers. Note that the long roll front is worn open.

OF LONDON INSPIRATION is the new suit jacket (center below) which features peaked or double-breasted lapels on a three-button single-breasted front. The front has a soft drape, natural shoulders and sleeve-heads.

THE PROBLEM was one of the most complex in the history of New York courts. It was made so because the little old lady willed all her money to people who died before her death in March, 1932.

Degrees of kinship are expected to decide who gets how much of a hoard that goes back to the gold rush days and was estimated in 1936 at $877,598.22.

Benjamin Wood, the old lady's husband and owner of the old New York Daily News, won much of his wealth gambling. After he died, Mrs. Wood sold the newspaper for $340,000.

She was 93 when she entered the headlines again, in late 1931. She had been declared incompetent, and placed under the guardianship of a nephew, Otis F. Wood.

For several years she had refused to leave her hotel apartment, but visitors said she spent her time covering the parlor floor with $50 bills.

Forty trunks, unopened since the days of the California gold rush, yielded a treasure in securities, gems, laces, and silks before she died of pneumonia.

BIBLE TO TEACH.
EVANSTON, Ill., March 5 (AP)—Dana X. Bible, who recently moved from Nebraska to the University of Texas, will collaborate with Lynn Waldorf in teaching football at the Northwestern university summer coaching school this year. Athletic Director Kenneth L. (Big) Wilson announced today. The school will run from August 16 to 28.

Twenty-four boys signed for uniforms with most of the weight going to the newcomers. New recruits looking good are Ralph Wells, 208, tackle; Gullam, 160, halfback; Edward Cadra, 180, center; Floyd, 150, halfback; Ernest Burrow, 145, end.

Included in the group back from last season are: Wingo, tackle; Watson, back; Bogan, back; Braxton, back; Hiel, back; Humphreys, back; Hess, center; Overton, tackle; Norman, tackle; Barnes, guard.

ECCENTRIC'S WEALTH WILL BE ALLOTTED

NEW YORK, March 4 (AP)—The millions which Mrs. Ida Wood used to strew on the parlor floor to amuse herself were a little closer today to the pockets of her heirs—whenever they are.

Judge James A. Foley of surrogate's court was ready to begin sifting out the 1,107 claimants to the eccentric widow's wealth. Claims to the fortune Mrs. Wood carried around in paper bags will be entered until April 10.

THE FINANCIAL WHIRLIGIG

By LOUIS SCHNEIDER

FORECAST.
For its large clients bank institution prepared a confidential business report. It regards the outlook up to the end of June as good. Strikes which will depress some industries will benefit others. Current activity in the steel and coal industries is cited as an example.

The trend—it was found—is toward higher levels. Wages are expected to increase faster than business volume. Corporation income may run about 20 per cent above the like period of last year but due to increased taxation per share profit will be lower. International trade and war demands will help American industries.

The outlook for the last six months of the year isn't constructive. It will run a bit below that of the first six-month period. While the trend is toward inflation the report does not look to such a move during 1937.

The business improvement cycle is expected to carry 1938 when a sharp correction will be witnessed. Then further improvement will end in a crackup in 1940.

OFFSET.
National Supply's incoming business thus far this year is well above that of a year ago. It is attributed to increased oil drilling operations and fear of higher price levels. But because of the company's increased labor costs, tax payments and cost of raw materials, interests close to the management see income being restrained. It is doubted whether the organization will report a higher net for 1937 operations than it did for 1936 which is estimated at about $4,000,000.

MORE.
Westvaco Chemical acquired California Chemical through an exchange of shares. Of the 54,500 shares which Westvaco paid, United Chemical received 28,288. This brought United Chemical's Westvaco stock holdings up to 114,212 shares, with an open market value of over $3,000,000. In other words, United owns more than one share of Westvaco for each of its own shares outstanding.

CONFIRMED.
Several weeks ago your correspondent exclusively disclosed that industrial copper consumers planned to petition Congress to repeal the four-cent a pound import tax. This was officially confirmed last week. D. E. G. Palmer, president of the General Cable Corporation, started the drive by mailing letters to the chairman of the Senate finance committee and the chairman of the House ways and means committee.

As was stated here, the request is based on the facts that the tax produces no revenues; that there is no need for a protective tax on copper since the price was 5 cents per pound in 1932 and is now 15 cents per pound; that foreign trade would be stimulated; that the tax promotes copper fabricating monopoly; that the statistical position of the industry is dangerous; and that if the tax remained in effect a shortage of red metal in this country is likely.

In the same item Financial Whirligig states that foreign producers were preparing for the tax repeal move and that African producers were lifting output to near capacity levels. The increased output is now ready for shipment.

FACTS.
Since the bull market started 30 months ago the value of listed New York Stock Exchange issues has soared $31,000,000,000. Whiskey output is running twice as much as consumption. The world armament race acts as a stopper to a normal business recession—some $15,000,000,000 will be spent this year. 1936 production of boots, shoes and slippers was 415,200,000 pairs against 383,700,000 pairs for all of 1935. The British government isn't ready to discuss world trade conditions at a World Economic Conference. Metal prices continue to soar because of the speculative demand in Europe—Amsterdam expects the bubble to burst of its own accord. Reo Motors has a new air brake so enclosed that it will not be affected by mud, rain, snow, sand or slush.

SHOES.
Because of mounting raw material and labor costs shoe manufacturing organization profits have been low. To offset this—as previously disclosed by Financial Whirligig—shoe prices have been lifted. The increase ran from five to twenty-five cents per pair on wholesale quotations. Shoe trade insiders hope that corporate earnings will thus be increased. But it is admitted that due to buyers' resistance sales may dip a bit.

REPORTS ARE THAT:
Bad action of rail shares taken as a bearish signal by chart students. Barber—formerly General Asphalt—slated for favorable 1937 business results. Sulphur shares continue steady—despite increased taxes earnings are expanding. George W. Helme shares inactive because floating supply mostly held by investment accounts. For fiscal year ended last month Libby, McNeil & Libby will show well over $1 a share. On a price to earnings ratio United States Gypsum is adequately appraised. Those who accumulated Newport Industries in the low 20s are not liquidating holdings—rumors to contrary. New York Shipbuilding $7 preferred has a speculative following due to Navy contracts. Bohn Aluminum being switched into Nash-Kelvinator. Columbia Gas & Electric $5 preferred held for income. Banking interests like Marine Midland's long range possibilities—dividend increase likely. Speculative interests hint of lower prices for American Commercial Alcohol. Improved earnings bullish on Clark equipment. Commercial Solvents' earnings outlook taking turn for the better. Informed interests adding to holdings of Hercules Motors—company's sales expanding. And, that no matter how strong the price of lead may run St. Joseph Lead insiders can't see company showing better than $3.50 a share for this year—all based on peak production and prices of 1937.

HER NAME IN LIGHTS

Chapter VIII. Daphne came back to the living room ten minutes later. She wore her bright green tweed suit with a big collar of soft black fur.

"Mother," Larry was saying, "this is Daphne. This is the little girl in the portrait—the one with the black curls."

"I'm happy to know the mistress of Brett Hall," she said, taking both Daphne's hands in hers.

"You certainly are," Tuck said and pretended to shove her out the door. "She's really a child, Daphne."

"You're only a baby, Jennifer. I'm awfully sorry, Daph. I wouldn't have bargained if only I didn't know."

"You've fallen in love," she said pleasantly. Daphne said, "Idiot!"

"You can't fool me," Jennifer said. "You've had a bad gal at heart. I have bargained for it."

"Thank heavens for that," Jennifer said. "I told Daphne that I knew you were the kind of man who'd be the supreme host."

"I'm glad you told her that," he said and smiled down on her.

GREEN WARNS MEMBERS NOT TO AID LEWIS

AFL PRESIDENT HURLS NEW CHARGES AT CIO GROUP

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 4.—Forces of John L. Lewis broadened their industrial unionization campaign today in the face of a new American Federation of Labor threat against members who support Lewis' Committee for Industrial Organization.

Cheered by the agreement with the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation, Lewis' associates declared he would seek eventually to unionize all industrial workers in the United States.

Lewis was silent on his next move and on the demand of the federation that its participating organizations repudiate their loyalty.

Unions backing the Committee for Industrial Organization were suspended last year from the A. F. of L., whose officers favor organization of workers by separate crafts instead of by entire industries.

While President William Green was en route here from his Ohio home, the federation made public a letter to all member groups declaring the time has come "to draw a line and make a distinction between the American Federation of Labor and the Committee for Industrial Organization."

The letter, signed by Green, said the Committee for Industrial Organization had refused to arrange for a meeting with federation representatives to try to adjust their dispute and reunite organized labor.

The only possible interpretation of this refusal, Green said, is that the C. I. O. is persisting in trying "to impose the substitution of minority rule for majority control within the organized labor movement."

(Lewis declares, on the other hand, that the rank and file of federation members are behind him.)
The Lewis organization was going ahead with its efforts to set up industry-wide unions in disregard of the federation's policies.

Among Lewis' early endeavors, his supporters predicted, would be campaigns to organize employees in the oil and textile industries.

Houses "Divided" in Strike Protest

Dislike for the policies of John L. Lewis, leader of the CIO's sit-down strikers, has prevailed over the neighborliness of Mrs. Fleming Holland, leading to her announcement that she would not open her palatial house (top) in Alexandria, Va., for the annual tour of historic residences if Lewis' cottage (below) is included in the itinerary. Both houses are famous examples of colonial architecture and are furnished with antiques.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, March 4 (AP)—A flock of rumors as to his possible successor arose in Austin a few hours after the death in Washington of Rep. James P. Buchanan, veteran chairman of the national House appropriations committee.

Half a dozen men were mentioned as possible candidates, including former Governor James E. Ferguson, who has made his home in Austin, within Buchanan's district, a number of years.

The child labor amendment to the federal constitution had short shrift in the Texas legislature.

Hearings in a somewhat perfunctory manner, the usual arguments for and against ratification were made, the resolution was reported out favorably by both Senate and House committees, and then the Senate killed the proposition as dead as Hector insofar as this session is concerned.

After the Senate execution by a vote of 10 to 19 with one pair, Senator T. J. Holbrook of Galveston came into the capital press. He is one of the most inveterate opponents of ratification.

"What do you think of the result?" someone queried.
Holbrook made a motion of decapitation and laughed.

Senator Allan Shivers of Port Arthur, champion of ratification advocates, knew he was going to be licked on the issue and admitted it before the vote was taken.

Closing for proponents in the short debate, he said:
"I sometimes go to a funeral with bowed head, but I am not doing that today. I go with raised head, proud to say I cast my vote for what I believe to be the best interest of my country."

Few believe the ratification controversy is ended in Texas. The consensus is that as long as the matter is before the country the fight will be renewed before the legislature.
Few matters have been argued

FDR'S SPEECH TONIGHT WILL BE IMPORTANT

WILL REFER INDIRECTLY TO COURT PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—Administration officials emphasized today that President Roosevelt's speech this evening to Democratic "victory dinners" would be of major importance and would refer indirectly to his court reorganization program.

It will lay the ground work, these officials said, for a more detailed statement of his judiciary and other objectives in the "fireside chat" from the White House next Tuesday.

Mr. Roosevelt was understood to have given a rough outline of his dinner speech at a conference late yesterday with Vice President Garner, Speaker Bankhead, Senator Robinson (D., Ark.), and Rep. Rayburn (D., Tex.), Democratic congressional leaders.

Democrats conversant with the President's intentions said he would talk in terms of problems more than remedies, such as he did in his inaugural address.
He was represented by them as still believing as he said then, that "our greatest primary task is to put people to work."

Estimates of that day showed about 15,000,000 were unemployed. The American Federation of Labor recently numbered the idle at about 10,000,000.
The speech this evening will be broadcast at 10:30 p. m. Eastern Standard Time. The occasion will be one of frank Democratic celebration, designed to raise money to pay off the $430,000 party deficit.

Friedman reportedly do not expect the President to direct his address along strictly party lines.
There was speculation whether he would reiterate in effect his view that labor and agricultural problems can be met within the constitutional standards.

"Our Constitution is so simple and practical," he said at the first inauguration, "that it is possible to meet extraordinary needs by changes in emphasis and arrangement without loss of essential form."

longer or more vehemently in the legislative halls and at the end there were many still spoiling for additional argument.

Said one Representative: "The chief trouble is with the wording of the proposed amendment. When it gives Congress the power to regulate, limit, and prohibit the labor of children opponents have too much ammunition. The amendment ought to be re-written and re-submitted."

Now there will be plenty of shouting and loud talk emanating from the House of Representatives and one will not have to enter the House chamber to get the details.

The microphone connected to the loud speaker system, located at the press table in the center aisle and clipped by some vandal during a special session last year, has been reinstated. When a representative wants to argue with the speaker or a member at the main microphone at the reading clerk's stand all he has to do is amble up to the third "mike." Now he can't be drowned out.

It took a formal resolution to get the press table "mike" set up again. An element in the House thought the removal months ago an act of statecraft and opposed the return. The resolution was by Rep. Ross Hardin of Prairie Hill.

Liquor Crusader Is Near Death

Dr. Clarence True Wilson, above, Methodist temperance leader and one of the men largely responsible for the prohibition amendment, was reported to be near death in his Portland, Ore., home from cerebral hemorrhage. Secretary of the Methodist Prohibition Board, Dr. Wilson toured the country repeatedly, speaking in the dry cause.

cocked on newly-developing questions.
"What we are skeptical of is the banks' speculation in securities in the place of making profits from ordinary operations," he said. "Our examiners find evidence of that every single day."

He asserted the corporation would continue to keep a close watch on the situation.
Bank loans and discounts have climbed only slightly since the depression, Crowley said, and this is one factor channeling bank funds toward speculation.

SAME DOSE.
DENVER—A moocher, Dick Richards, 66, explained, is a man who mumbles, "gimme a dime for a cuppa coffee."
A panhandler is more delicate, saying: "Beautiful day. May I have a dime?"
Enlightened, Police Judge Philip B. Gilliam changed the charge from mooching to panhandling—and fined Richards $50.

DEMOS HOPE TO EAT PARTY, OUT OF RED

$7 CUP OF COFFEE AND $4 OLIVES ON MENU

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—Thousands of Democratic stalwarts from coast to coast will try tonight to eat the party out of the red.

State and national leaders hoped to attract enough diners to gobble up a $430,000 deficit at a single helping.

If price is any tip-off on the quality of the victuals, the $100-a-plate spread at the capital makes the rest of the feasts look like a ditchdigger's snack.
Like all professional dinners, however, the cover charge includes more than food. This one features a speech by President Roosevelt.

At another hotel here several hundred young Democrats will sit down to the tune of $10 a plate and a dance band and have Mrs. Roosevelt and members of Congress as guests.

In New York the diners will pay $50 a plate and get the soft music of an orchestra plus a talk by Vice-President Garner.
Democratic Treasurer W. Forbes Morgan announced hungry partisans were snapping up the $100 tickets.
Morgan says only $5 goes for food and $85 for democracy.

To make it easy on the eaters, however, the leaders are allowing payments on the installment plan, which means a man may come around next September and say: "How about the $7 for that cup of coffee you drank last March—and $4 for the olives?"

The department of agriculture says the income of farmers from marketing increased 18 per cent in December, 1935, reaching a mark of $725,000,000.

Carole Lombard says: "Advised by my singing coach, I changed to Luckies"

"In my new picture 'Swing High, Swing Low' I sing a song for the first time since I have been on the screen. To do this, I spent months taking singing lessons. And with this added strain, my throat was not in good shape. My singing coach suggested that when choosing cigarettes, I select a light smoke. And so I changed to Luckies. Since then I've found that a light smoke and my throat get along together just fine."

Carole Lombard

CURRENTLY STARRING IN PARAMOUNT PICTURES' "SWING HIGH, SWING LOW"

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Miss Lombard verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on the throat.
